

AUSTIN, Oct. 21 (UP) — PMA Daugherty, Austin, former secretary to Gov. Dan Moody and Ross Sterling, was confirmed today by the senate as chairman of the state liquor control board.

INDIGESTION— GET QUICK RELIEF

Millions of men and women are suffering from disturbances of their digestive systems, due to acidity, and this is often the real cause of ill health, tired-out, run-down feeling, loss of "pep" and zest for living. If you are suffering from indigestion, atonic dyspepsia, sour stomach, gas pains, "raw stomach," inflammation of the intestines (enteritis), gastric acidity and sick headaches, you can't afford to ignore these warning signs. Take Gasa Tablets, the Doctor's Prescription, which are intended to soothe the raw, inflamed lining of the "acid stomach," and to help convert the starchy foods into dextrose, which is so essential to energy of the body, and preservation of life. For only a few cents a day you may have the benefits of this Doctor's Prescription which so many sufferers say has been a blessing to them. Because of its remarkable success in many cases of acidity and digestive troubles resulting from acid conditions, Gasa Tablets are offered to sufferers under a guarantee that the first bottle must produce results or money back. Ask your druggist for Gasa Tablets today. Enjoy the relief that so many other sufferers say they have received from this quick-acting, soothing, antacid preparation. At Jack Frost Pharmacy.—adv.

Mrs. Ellis and Mr. Beale High Scorers At Bridge Benefit

Mrs. H. L. Ellis and Jimmy Beale were high scorers at the bridge benefit given at the Country Club Wednesday evening when fourteen tables of bridge players gathered for games.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Williamson were awarded consolation gifts for their low score while Mrs. Charles Koberg and Vivian Nichols were big winners. Mrs. F. H. Liberty won the smoking stand donated by Barrow Furniture company.

Merchandise auctioned at the affair was donated by Flew's Service Stations, Modern Cleaners, Elton Taylor's Electric Shop, Tom Ashley, Harry Lester, Auto Supply, Cunningham and Phillips and Allen and Ogden.

Bridge prizes were received through the courtesy of Elmo Wason's Men's store, La Mode, Barrow Furniture company, J. and W. Fisher and Mellinger's.

The committee offers their appreciation to those who were responsible for making the affair one of success.

Man Is Held For Slaying Of Pair

BRENSHAM, Oct. 22 (UP)—W. A. Lumkin was held on murder charges here today in connection with the slaying of W. L. Bolton, his landlord, and Thomas Flanagan, negro, at the Lumkin home near here Saturday.

Lumkin's bond in the two cases totaled $7,000. The amount in the Bolton shooting was set at $5,000.

Fairview News

Farmers in this community have been making the most favorable weather for cotton picking, and most of them are catching up on their harvesting. The gin is still busy day and night.

Fall gardens are not in such good condition. Rust is affecting the beans and peas, because of the cool spell following the heavy rains.

There was good attendance at Sunday school last Sunday. This Saturday night and Sunday will be regular preaching days and everyone is urged to attend. Arrangements are made to have the church building comfortable in case of cold weather.

Peggy Ann Bowen has been ill with tonsillitis.

Miss Bird and her mother of Westbrook were in Fairview last week to visit Mrs. Bailey. They went on to Tahoka and Amarillo to visit relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thomas and children visited Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Creighton near Big Spring Sunday.

NON-POISONOUS FUEL GAS USED BY CALIFORNIA

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 22 (UP)—Exhaustive tests made by scientists at the University of Southern California reveal that natural gas used by companies of California is non-poisonous and harmless.

For the past six months, secret tests have been made by the scientists on themselves, also on rats and monkeys. Under the direction of Dr. D. R. Drury, professor of medicine, subjects remained in a virtually air-tight chamber filled with natural gas for two hours without ill effects.

They played cards, read and lounged about as in their own living rooms, doing "most everything but smoking." "The only danger from this type of gas," Dr. Drury explained, "results when in concentrations difficult to obtain, a person is threatened with suffocation through lack of air. The accumulation of carbon monoxide in a closed room caused by unvented heaters or faulty furnaces has been the cause of danger."

More severe tests were made with monkeys and rats. Except for a slight loss in weight, the latter were found to be normal after a 31-day test in atmosphere with 30 per cent concentration of natural gas. Rats kept in the same chamber for 31 days mated and gave birth to normal offspring. All but one gained weight during the test.

and $2,000 in the Flanagan slaying at a preliminary hearing yesterday.

Witnesses said Bolton and Lumkin had disputed last week. Bolton went to Graball Saturday on business and visited Lumkin. An argument arose and the shooting occurred as Bolton and Flanagan sat in an automobile.

The negro was killed instantly by a shotgun charge. Bolton, resident of Grimes county, was wounded and died in a hospital in Navasota Sunday.

Lumkin pleaded not guilty to both murder charges.

Mary Ellis Starred In Mystery Romance Showing At Ritz

MARY ELLIS

A certain singer with whom it is certain death to fall in love is the characterization portrayed by Mary Ellis in "Fatal Lady," Paramount production playing Thursday at the Ritz theater.

In the course of the story of "Fatal Lady," death strikes each of the men who fall in love with a beautiful Metropolitan Opera star. Innocent of any part in the crimes, as puzzled as the authorities, she is forced to flee from country to country.

A young American falls desperately in love with her when he finds her singing in a Paris Apache dive. In an attempt on his life, the real culprit is captured. Encouraged by her new love, she again reaches the heights of operatic success.

Walter Pidgeon, star of the stage and screen, is seen in the leading romantic role opposite the star John Halliday, Alan Mowbray, Ruth Donnelly, Guy Bates Post, Samuel Hinds, Norman Fisher and Irene Franklin are in the supporting cast.

Sec'y Hull Is Proud Of His Trade Pacts

Sees International Trade As Means Of Maintaining Peace

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (UP)—Whatever monuments Secretary of State Hull may have erected for himself, he quite evidently looks upon the reciprocal trade program as his finest.

Long before the campaign began the treaties were taken under fire by critics and Hull began defending them. Senator Vandenberg of Michigan was among the most severe in citing instances in which imports of agricultural products increased under the treaties.

Mr. Hull conceded there were increases in 1935 and again this year. Much of the increase, he said, was in commodities not covered in the reciprocal treaties, but which came in over the Smoot-Hawley tariff wall to supply the drought shortage.

No Quarrel With Purpose Hull undoubtedly feels he has holes in his armor. In answering Governor Landon he seemed to skip lightly over mention of sugar, on the grounds it was only partly controlled in reciprocal treaties, but largely controlled by quota agreements with the nearby island and Philippine producers.

However harshly Hull's critics may deal with his methods, they rarely fire at his larger purpose of stirring up international trade. To him, international trade spells peace. Lack of it spells war. So often has he said that in and about Washington that in the capital it no longer ranks as news. He stressed it in replying to Governor Landon.

He calls the pacts "treaties of commercial peace." Those close to him suspect he believes them more powerful than battleships and regiments in "boring from within" to upset troublesome dictatorships.

Morgenthau Takes Lead But if the world wide "economic log-jam" is giving way, as Hull says, it seems to many observers that another man is capturing the big log drive in recent weeks.

By two quick steps toward what he describes as ultimate currency stabilization, Secretary Morgenthau of the treasury has seized from Hull the headline place in international negotiation.

Tariff duties were trimmed wholesale in certain countries following the British-French-United States agreement to steady currencies during the French readjustment. Morgenthau negotiated that. Hull may recover part of the glory a few weeks hence when he leads the American delegation to the Buenos Aires conference. There he will try to blanket the Americas with a neutrally policy he helped shape for the United States as a sort of "back stop" in event the "treaties of commercial peace" failed.

Ferguson Favors Five Amendments

James E. Ferguson in a statement made public yesterday declared his views on the six constitutional amendments to be submitted in the Nov. 3 general election and said he would vote for all except one.

The amendment providing for the establishment of a state liquor monopoly is the one which meets his disapproval. He said he does not think "the State ought to go into the liquor business, exclusive or otherwise, and I think such a law would bring general corruption in official circles and would result in increased violation of the law."

Ferguson said he favors amendments providing for a teacher retirement system; workmen's compensation insurance for state employees; establishment of a board of pardons and paroles; increasing the salaries of the governor, the attorney general and several other offices; and limitation on the number of legislators that can be elected from any one county.

His statement ends with a warning to voters on making of their ballots.

Safeway's New 'Super Food Store' Will Open Friday

Establishment Is Featured By Modern Fixtures, Designing

Special Specifications, Decorations Followed In Building At 207 Runnels Street; Complete Stocks Displayed

Residents of Big Spring and its trade territory Friday will get their first glimpse of the newest in "super food stores" when the new Safeway Store at 207 Runnels street opens its doors to the public for the first time.

The building, 50 by 100 feet, was constructed to meet the specifications of Safeway design, and its interior is arranged in accordance with the high standards set by the company's own engineers.

"This new store," said M. V. Witbeck, district Safeway manager who has been here directing final preparations for the store opening, "is of the finest design and has all the newest fixtures for handling foods in a sanitary method that have been developed in recent years. The store was designed by Safeway engineers and constructed by local contractors to meet our own requirements."

Local labor was employed on the project, and local materials wherever possible.

Features

Outstanding features of the Safeway establishment include the equipment which has been installed for handling fresh fruits and vegetables. A large section of the store has been set aside for this purpose, and the latest type electrical refrigeration case has been installed. This case controls the humidity as well as the temperature and retains the natural freshness of perishable items.

Also a Safeway feature is the new type step-down shelving, an arrangement which provides easy shopping for customers. The shelving is so designed to keep merchandise off the floor, in plain sight and in easy reach.

Another outstanding device is the employment of departmental signs designating the different departments. Location of any food article desired is made simple by these signs which are placed at the top of the shelving.

All Items Priced
The front window of the store is designed to display dry products, such as potatoes, onions, lemons and oranges. The low shelving lines both side walls, with merchandise arranged in groups. In the center of the store, behind the checking counter which is at the entrance, are display tables and shelving carrying other groups of staple and fancy foods.

All items in the store are plainly marked.
"In designing this store, which ranks with the best in our system," Witbeck said, "Safeway engineers had in mind the primary thought of making shopping easy and pleasant. We believe we have achieved those purposes with our store arrangement and decoration."

Market Department
At the rear of the store is the market department. It is thoroughly modern and equipped with the newest fixtures for the proper care of meats. A modern refrigerator display case permits cuts of meats—ready for the customer—to be seen at all times. Adjoining this case is a steam table where various cooked meats are kept hot for those who wish the delicatessen style of service.

Vegetable and dairy products cases are of the self-service type. Aisles in the store are wide, providing adequate room for many shoppers without crowding. Items for the convenience of the customer include a drinking fountain with cold water, plenty of fans to get good circulation, and a myriad of electric lights to assure clear vision in every corner.

The new store is the 17th to be opened in the West Texas district, of which Witbeck is in charge and which has headquarters in Abilene. Clarence Staples, a Safeway man of several years' experience, is manager of Big Spring's newest food concern. Glen Arthur is manager of the market.

Glen Arthur, a former Big Spring resident, comes here from Breckenridge to assume management of the market.

inspect the new establishment, asserted that the Big Spring unit is one of the finest in the Safeway organization. "It is a far cry from the old 'cracker barrel' style stores," he said, "and there are many fixtures and features of the latest style. We will be glad to demonstrate these and explain their operation and use to anyone interested."

Natl. Brands Are Featured

Full Assortment Of All Lines Of Merchandise At Safeway

The new Safeway store in Big Spring follows the organization's policy of maintaining full lines of nationally advertised brands of merchandise of every variety. These well known brands will be featured, as well as the popular lists of locally-made items.

The store will keep a full assortment of fancy fruits and vegetables, these being displayed in modern refrigerated cases. On hand in the market division will be complete stores of meat, prepared foods and dairy products.

Assortments of staples are complete, coming in attractive packages, wrapped and marked for the customer's selection. There are counters for confections and tobaccos.

Compartment for fruits will be easily accessible, with standard fruits and seasonal articles on display.

Thorough Check Is Provided On All Purchases At Store

Shoppers at Safeway will have a double check on all purchases against errors in addition.

The store is equipped with two new National cash registers which effect a strip of adding machine tape with each item put into the machine while checking.

Not only is the shopper able to check the number of items accounted for on the tape and the total as well, but he may check the prices

Decorations Of New Store Outstanding

Safeway's Nile Green Predominates In Interior Color Scheme

In layout and decorative scheme, the new Safeway store opening Friday is one of the most attractive establishments of its kind to be found in this section. Safeway district officials have combined all features to make it rank with the finest in the organization.

Exterior of the brick building is finished in black, with a large expanse of plate glass.

Interior is decorated throughout in Safeway's own Nile green, with black and silver trimmings. Floors are finished in red oak and the ceiling is of light shade to enhance the lighting.

Topping the wall shelves at regular intervals are small pot palms. These give a lively border to break the wall space above the shelving. Also graining the shelving are L-shaped black, gold-lettered departmental signs designating the different groupings of merchandise.

There are several especially designed Neon signs adding to the brightness of the interior.

The building is lighted with a profusion of late-type "Hollophane" fixtures which are attractive as well as highly efficient.

TALBOTS RETURN

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Talbot have returned from Dallas where they visited the Centennial attractions with their daughter, Mrs. M. A. Cook and her family of Arkadelphia, Ark.

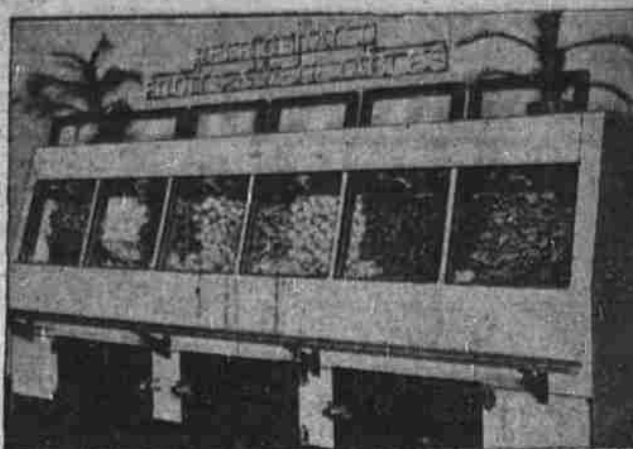

Mr. and Mrs. Cook met the Talbots in Dallas and the two families spent some time in McKinney where they were the guests of Mr. Cook's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cook.

SON IS BORN

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Underwood are the parents of a son born Friday evening. He has been named James Lee.

listed against those carried on the things purchased. Safeway insures this safeguard by marking the price on every single piece of merchandise.

MODERN REFRIGERATED CASES

Picture above are two of the modern refrigerated display cases installed as part of the fixtures in the new Safeway store opening here Friday. Top is a 12-foot self-service vegetable display case, made by Koch and refrigerated by the latest type Baker system with thermostat control which assures correct temperature and humidity to retain the natural freshness of perishable items. Customers may obtain their own items through sliding glass panels. Below is a 16-foot refrigerated meat display case—also made by Koch and using the Baker system—which provides the proper temperature and humidity for the preservation of meats. It contains a four-foot compartment for fish and poultry.

north of Big Spring, Lamesa reporting .72 inch. It was still misting there early in the afternoon. Ackerly had a light rain. Stanton reported a steady downpour throughout the morning. Cosboma also had a steady rain, and the fall was about the same at Vincent. Both Forsan and Garden City, to the south, reported general rains. It was estimated that at least an inch had fallen at each place.

Temperatures Tumble Sharply In Southwest

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 22 (UP)—A cold wave sweeping down from the Rocky Mountains sent temperatures tumbling more than 40 degrees in sections of the South-west today. Chill winds brought the coldest weather since early last spring to many areas. Nebraska, Missouri and Kansas experienced the cold wave. Parts of Oklahoma and Texas were affected. The wall of cold air was expected to make further inroads in both the latter states today.

Snow was reported at several points in Nebraska. O'Neill had a 3-degree temperature and snow flurries in Nebraska were reported at Valentine and Sidney. Scattered snow fell in the northwest corner of Kansas.

The temperature dipped to 42 degrees at Kansas City. Sharp temperature declines also were reported by the following cities: Topeka, 52-38; Wichita, 80-38; Oklahoma City, 52-46; Omaha, 73-34; Dodge City, 76-32; and Columbia, Mo., 32-44.

Weather observers said snow which blanketed parts of Colorado might extend into the western tier of Kansas counties today. The chill weather is expected to continue for several days.

"Time To Do Our Duty" "The present tax bill as it passed either house cannot possibly take care of the demands of the 150,000 people who are eligible under the present law. * * Unless the law is changed so as to cut down the demands upon the public treasury, the taxpayers are faced with a picture so dark it can hardly be painted in words. * *

"It seems to me the time has come for us as patriots to do our duty irrespective of political consequences. It has always been my experience that in the long run doing the right thing was the best politics. We have a golden opportunity to stem the tide of state paternalism. Unless it is done, the tendency will in time develop into a settled policy, and, in my judgment, bankrupt the state."

FEDERALS MAY AID IN HUNT FOR YOUTH

AUSTIN, Oct. 22 (AP)—Parents of 12-year-old Dwight Saunders, University of Texas sophomore, who disappeared last week, have appealed to the department of justice to find their son.

James E. Saunders of Fort Worth the youth's father, said he had telephoned department of justice headquarters in Washington, and his appeal "was received favorably."

The case remained cloaked in mystery as a labor organizer said he had "telegraphed to a place where I think Saunders is." This was the assertion of W. B. Sherman, international representative of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, in Austin in connection with picketing activities. Friends said Saunders appeared voluntarily as a picket at a cleaning shop here.

WAS TERRIBLY BLOATED AND COULD NOT EAT WITHOUT GREAT PAIN

"Relieved of Suffering From Bad Headaches For Last Seven Years," Says Wife of Prominent Wichita Decorator

So many people are complaining of feeling "worn out" and "run down." They can't eat naturally, and food ferments in their stomach and doesn't pass naturally through the body. Such sufferers will be greatly interested in the remarkable testimony of Mrs. Roy E. Mefford, Route 4, Wichita Falls. She says:

"For the past seven years I have been terribly bothered with headaches; could not eat many foods without pain and heartburn. I frequently had sleepy spells after eating and was short of breath, and I could not even drink a glass of water in the morning without it nauseating me. "I heard of Williams S.L.K. Formula at our druggist's here and decided to take a bottle. Now I sleep well and really enjoy eating anything just the same as if I had never been bothered in any way. That awful bloating is gone, and my headaches have disappeared. The relief S.L.K. has given me has been wonderful." Unusual Trial Plan If you are suffering, try this remarkable prescription of an ex-army doctor, Williams S.L.K. Formula has been used by thousands of sufferers from sluggish stomach, kidneys and bowels with sensation-ally successful results and is now available in this city at the Jack Frost Pharmacy.

Come in today and get a bottle of Williams S.L.K. Formula, and if results are not everything you expect your money will be refunded without question. The trial won't cost you one cent!—adv.

Need Million To Man Polls

More Voting Boxes Set Up For General Election This Year

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—More than 1,000,000 officials and party watchers probably will be required to man the election machinery in about 125,000 voting precincts when the nation marches to the polls Nov. 3 to choose a president.

With estimates of the vote running from 4,000,000 to 48,000,000, there are about 2,300 more voting districts than two years ago.

No exact tabulation of the number of officials needed to see that the votes are cast and counted legally has been made. But experts said the total probably would run well beyond 1,000,000 persons.

Many of the 122,350 voting districts include several polling places, each of which requires a full staff of judges, clerks and watchers. Thousands of other party workers will be busy rounding up the voters and transporting them to the polls.

Local election officials are already dusting off and polishing up the old ballot boxes and voting machines. They also are busy checking and rechecking the official voting lists and setting up the complicated machinery through which the nation will choose its president, vice-president, members of congress, governors and other state officials.

Most states divide into precincts as units for voting purposes, but others designate their units as district or vote by counties, by cities or by towns.

BEAVERS GIVE HINT TO CCC IN DAM WORK

BISMARCK, N. D., Oct. 22 (UP)—It remained for several families of beavers to instruct a company of CCC boys in the art of dam building and maintenance.

This announcement didn't come from the beavers, either; it came from A. D. McKinnon, chief of CCC water conservation activities.

McKinnon, who has directed construction of more dams than any other man in North Dakota, believes the "great engineers of nature are the best dam maintainers in the world."

Qualifying his statement, he mentioned an instance east of Bismarck where a group of CCC workers started building a dam on Apple Creek. Beavers already had built a dam at the best site, so a hole was chopped in the structure to let the water out. When the boys returned to their shovels the next morning the hole was tight and the water was as high as ever.

Another hole was chopped and the same thing occurred again. Then one night a foreman decided to stand guard to scare nature's dam builders away. No beavers were seen but the next morning the bewildered CCC boys found that a new dam was well on its way toward completion below the original site.

Both dams had to be wrecked before the beavers would give up the competition.

Navy Flier, Husband Of R'Spring Woman, Is Killed In Crash

Mrs. Charles T. Arden left Wednesday afternoon for Brownwood, home of her parents, after receiving word of the death of her husband, Lieut. Charles T. Arden, who was killed Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock in a crash in Washington, D. C.

Lieutenant Arden, connected with the naval flying corps, was en route to Big Spring to visit his wife before leaving for the South Sea Islands where he had been summoned for duty.

Mrs. Arden is the former Miss Nedra Pitts and was married to the lieutenant in San Angelo on May 31 of this year. She has been employed in the McDowell beauty shop here since coming from Brownwood last February.

Lieutenant Arden was graduated from Annapolis in 1930 and was sent to Samoa, South Sea Islands soon afterwards. Later he was transferred to Washington, D. C., where he has been stationed until his death. The body is being sent to Christfield, Md., his former home, for burial.

Checks Prepared For Payments On Soil Conservation

TEXAS GETS ONE IN 10 OF GRADE PROJECTS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (UP)—The first block of 1936 farm benefit checks was rushed through the government's huge check-writing machines today for farmers in a dozen states who have cooperated with the administration's soil conservation program.

The checks, totaling almost $9,000,000, are expected to be mailed to farmers before the end of the month. They represent only about two per cent of the total payments to be made under the $470,000,000 appropriated for the program by the 1936 congress.

Agricultural adjustment administration officials, who are administering the program, said payments to farmers in other states will be made from time to time, as rapidly as applications for benefits are received and approved. Ultimately, at least 6,000,000 farmers are expected to share in the benefits.

Howard Co. Girl Claimed By Death

Joye Novella, 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Ford, residing about fifteen miles southwest of Big Spring, succumbed to a long illness at the home of her parents at 5 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Funeral services were held at 3 p. m. Thursday from Eberly Funeral Home chapel, with Forrest Waldrop, minister of the Church of Christ, in charge. Interment followed in New Mount Olive cemetery by the grave of a sister, who died last year.

Besides her parents, Joye Novella is survived by a brother, L. A. Ford, Jr., three sisters, Mrs. Roy Bates, Mrs. Loyd Fiek and Miss DeAlva and grandparents and several uncles and aunts. Deceased was born in Howard county June 10, 1929.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backaches quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or steady passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 million of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

SAN ANGELO football fans are discounting reports from Brownwood that James Thomason is injured as so much pre-game propaganda. Thomason is the main cog in the Lion machine and according to those who witnessed the Abilene-Brownwood game last Friday afternoon, Thomason looked like an all-star all during the contest. According to stories from Brownwood, Thomason was supposed to have been injured in the Eagle game.

LONGHORNS CRIPPLED FOR FRACAS WITH BULLDOGS

Gophers Near New Football Win Record

Southern California, With 25 Straight Victories, Heads List

By BERNIE BIERMAN, Minnesota's Head Coach. MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 22.—A question that fairly gives me the jitters is: "Isn't this long winning streak quite a strain on the boys, and what is the reaction?"

Minnesota football teams have won 20 straight games and have gone through 26 without a defeat. The Gophers have equalled the 20 in a row compiled by Notre Dame, when the Irish, coached by the great Knute Rockne, were unbeaten in 1929 and '30, and repulsed

DON GIBSON GOES OUT OF LINE-UP

By HANK HART. With injuries stowing up members of the Big Spring Steer grid crew with startling regularity, and game time for the Ranger affair less than 48 hours away, local mentors are hoping to break away from that injury jinx in time to whip an eleven into shape to subdue a weak but battling Bulldogs team. The Bulldogs invade Steer Stadium Friday night.

Ranger has been on the short end of the scores all this year, but Brown and Brandon are not taking the game as a set-up and are doing their best to tighten the creaky Steer machine.

More Injuries. Wednesday's practice session was brief but not brief enough. As Brown sounded the call for the end of practice another hopeful fall by the wayside, Donald Gibson was the unfortunate victim this time. Gib's injury runs the hospital list to nine, which represents nearly half the squad. Of the 22 men on the club, only 13 are in good shape to play.

Already on the injured list are Charles Ray Settles and Nelson Henninger, who were banged up at Breckenridge last week, Weldon Bigony and Stix Wood, regular backs, and Doug Rayburn, Chuck Smith, Cliff Trainer and Robert Hildreth, all linemen.

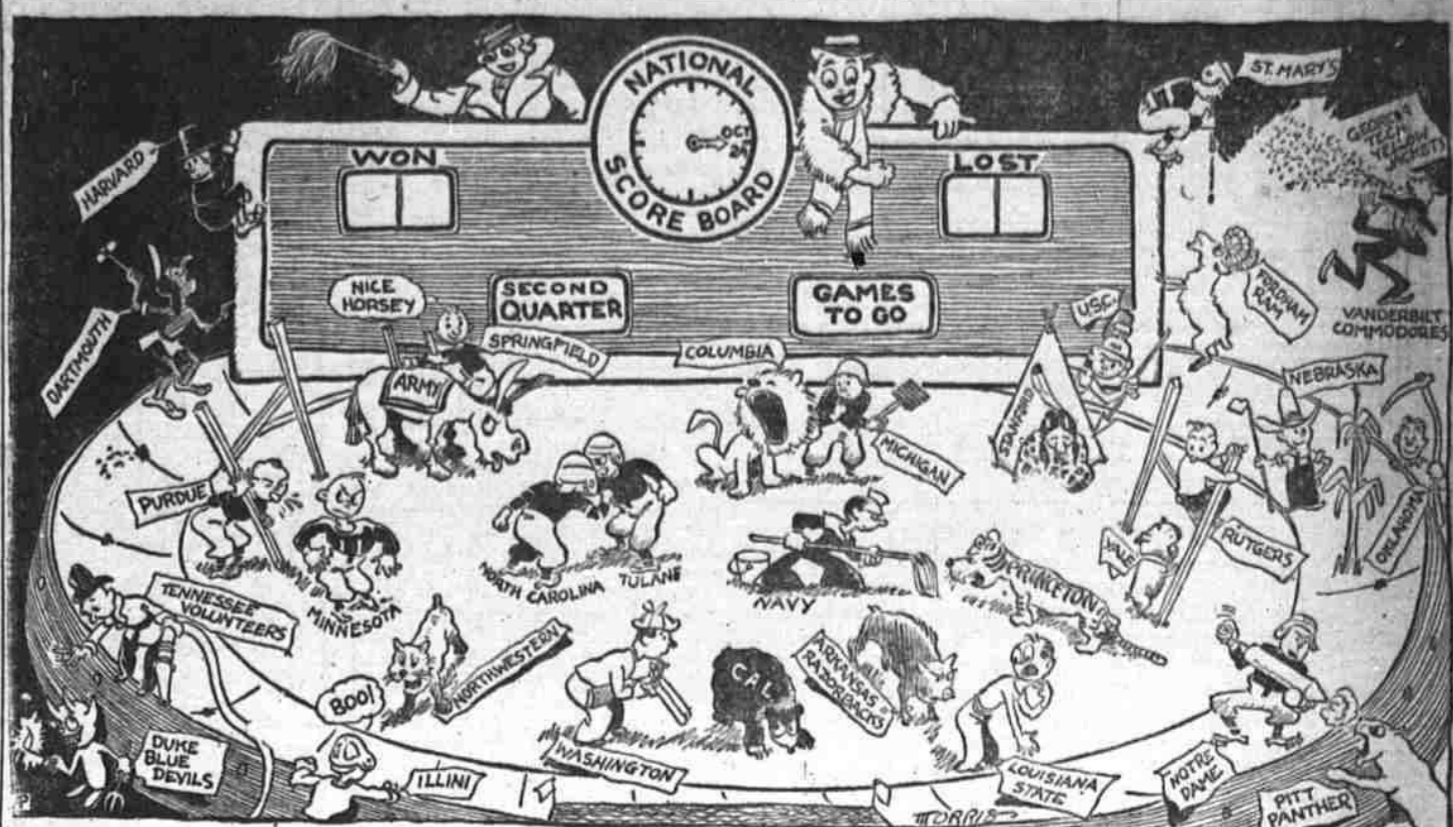

Rayburn is still bothered with a knee as a result of the Eastland game. Smith has a bad kidney, Trainer a troublesome ankle, Wood a trick knee, and Hildreth a swollen shoulder.

Settles and Henninger will not suit out for the Ranger game. Both were battered in the Buc game last Friday, Settles receiving a broken arm.

However, the Steer outlook is not altogether dark. Louis Madison has been improving since his hand was removed from the cast, and the pass snagging ability of young

Midland, Wink Clash In Crucial Class B Game

Coahoma Bulldogs Go Against Dunn Tomorrow

District 7B football interest will be centered in Midland Friday night when the largest crowd to witness a Class B game in several years is expected to fill the Midland stands for the Midland-Bulldogs-Wink Wildcat game. The teams are tied for the circuit lead and the encounter is expected to go a long way toward settling the final outcome of the flag chase. The Odessa Broncos take on Monahans, a club that has lost only one game.

District 7-B

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Odessa	3	0	1.000
Midland	3	0	1.000
Wink	2	0	1.000
Pecos	1	1	.500
Monahans	1	1	.500
Kermit	1	3	.250
Crane	0	3	.000
Stanton	0	3	.000

Schedule

Wink at Midland.
Kermit at Pecos.
Monahans at Odessa.
Stanton at Crane.

Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes continue their efforts to recoup gridiron fortunes lost to Slaton last year when they meet the ambitious Cubs of Brownfield Friday night at Lamesa in the outstanding Class B game of District 5.

The Coahoma Bulldogs, defeated last week by the Stanton Bulldogs, will be out to break into the win column again this weekend when they play Dunn at Coahoma Friday afternoon.

Wachel, regular Coahoma guard, suffered an ankle injury in the Stanton game and will not play against Dunn, Coach Devan reported.

Romani Trains For Mile Mark

EMPORIA, Kan., Oct. 22.—When Jack Lovelock loped to a new world record in the Olympic 1,500-meter race at Berlin, he didn't realize he was paving the way for his own defeat in the mile race run at Princeton October 3.

Among the athletes who ate the New Zealander's dust in Berlin was Archie San Romani, a slim, dark-eyed, 24-year-old student of music at Emporia Teachers college.

Studying Lovelock's style, San Romani noticed the close approach to complete relaxation. He pirated the idea and turned the tables on his Olympic conqueror when they met at Princeton.

Advised by Cunningham. Besides the relaxing business, the Emporia runner, who has been something of a shadow to Glenn Cunningham, Gene Yonke and other better-knowns, also analyzed the Olympic champion's pace as he barged to the tape in fourth place at Berlin.

Cunningham, with whom San Romani bunked in the Olympic village, told him Lovelock could sprint better than any middle-distance runner for 250 yards or so—but after that he was through.

Consequently, San Romani planned to sprint the last 500 yards at Princeton, in which Cunningham also ran (pun intended). Cunningham advised his fellow Kansan not to pay any attention to him, Curvingham. "I'm not in good shape," Glenn advised his protege and companion. "The thing for you to do is watch Lovelock."

San Romani, therefore, passed Cunningham and hung on Lovelock's heels until the final 500 yards. Whipping into his sprint, he discovered Cunningham's tip was straight; that Lovelock had to give up his "kick" and settle back into stride before the tape was reached.

"I really believe I can do better," he says. "Cunningham has given me fine advice, I learned a lot from that Olympic race, and I believe that studying Lovelock's style has done me some good. Lovelock and I are about the same build and height, so I have tried to adapt my style to his."

The new mile sensation, who was not regarded as a serious threat until the Olympic trials despite the fact he was 1935 national collegiate mile champion, plans to keep in shape until next February when he will open his campaign to beat the mile record indoors.

He'll run considerably through out next season, then rest. Two years before the 1940 Olympics in Japan, Archie will start conditioning again.

"I'd like to win the Olympic 1,500 meter race before retiring," he says.

AGS FAVORED OVER BAYLOR

DALLAS, Oct. 22.—Before one of the largest crowds ever to see a game in Waco, the Baylor Bears and Homer Norton's Aggies of Texas A&M will battle Friday in a game that should go a long way in deciding the conference champion or 1936.

Both teams have a long way to travel and the Bruins have already met defeat once, but should they beat their Saturday opponents, they will be playing in the favored spot. The Ags have been victorious in all their encounters thus far and will be favorites when they take the field against the Cubs but it's homecoming in Waco and Lloyd Russell and company may outshine anything Dick Todd and the rest can do.

The Ag-Bear battle overshadows other games in this sector but the Mississippi State-TCU affair will come in for its share of play and the Rice-Texas game is not to be overlooked, even though both have been defeated in conference play.

The 26 Frongies are only a shadow of the team that played in the Sugar Bowl last New Year's Day but Major Sasse's boys may be in for an uncomfortable afternoon if Sammy Bugh is able to play.

Still dazed by the last minute rush of the Bears last week, Texas will go out a little more careful against the Owls, who have had an in-and-out season all year.

In a continuation of their series which has extended over more than 50 years, LSU and Arkansas will get together in Baton Rouge with the

Cosden Cagers Look Classy

Tommy Hutto To Be Key Man Of Fast Refinery Quintet
The first team took shape in the Cosden Oilers' initial basketball practice of the season Tuesday night and the quintet began to hit the basket in promising fashion in intersquad scrimmages.

Tommy Hutto was hitting the hoop consistently with his off court shots, bringing back the same style of play which made him the 53-point single offensive threat on the Cosden roster last year, and Jack Smith, Jake Morgan, Horace Wallin and "Steets" West were all looking good under fire.

West was placed at his old position at center but Morgan was switched to guard when Ray Groseclose failed to appear and displayed good form at that position along with Wallin.

Manager Henninger used all the men who reported including newcomers Smitty Jones, Jack Webb, Virgil Watley and "Rat" Ramsey.

Tech Fresh Play With Flowers On Sideline

LUBBOCK, Oct. 22.—Coach Bert Huffman's Texas Tech freshmen are priming this week for the Cameron Aggies, whom they face at Lawton, Okla., Friday.

The frosh overpowered West Texas Teachers' first-year gridders last week, running up a total of 27 points, while the Calves failed to tally. Calhoun and Boswell led the Picador attack from the backfield, while heavyweight tackle Bill Davis from Grapevine plugged two extra points with his well-trained toe.

With a heavy line and a speedy backfield, recovering from the recent injury of E-to Flowers, all-district back from Big Spring, the Picadors have a tough schedule after the Cameron game. They are to face Allus (Ola.) and East, a New Mexico Junior colleges in their last two games.

MORE NEWS IS COMING—

During the past year, many startling and vitally important events have occurred. Not since the World War has The Herald been filled with so much interesting news. But there is still more big news coming. Never before have the activities of the national government so greatly affected the life of every individual—every farmer—as they do today. There is a presidential election in November, and whether the Democrats are elected or the Republicans, there will probably be some radical changes in the government. What about the pensions? Will the state pay them in full. There will likely be some changes in the relief set-up in the coming year. What will these changes be? All of these matters are vitally important and concern YOU. And The Herald will keep you posted on all of them.

PRICES ARE RISING DAILY—

Commodity prices are rising daily...cotton is bringing the best price in several years...live-stock is up. Nevertheless The Herald is opening its fall campaign for subscriptions at only $3.50 Daily and Sunday. Take advantage of this offer now and mail your order in today.

YOUR HERALD AS AN INVESTMENT—

Perhaps it has never occurred to you, but your Herald is an investment. It pays big dividends in pleasure—entertainment—education—AND IN MONEY. The family that tries to get along for even a week without The Herald loses far more in happiness than the small cost of your subscription, which is slightly less than 1c per day. There isn't a bigger value on the market today than The Herald. Think of it...and you'll send in your subscription today.

HOURS AHEAD—

When you subscribe to The Herald you get the news while it is still NEWS. Because The Herald goes to press hours later than other papers, it is able to bring you news hours ahead of any paper in West Texas. So far this year The Herald has scored several big scoops over all other papers, and there is seldom a day that it doesn't bring stories that are not carried in other papers.

LOCAL ART—

The Herald maintains its own photographic staff and engraving plant. Thus it is prepared to give you news pictures of all important local events.

The Wrong Murderer

By RUGH CLEVELY

Chapter Eight
KENNEDY ARRIVES
 Mahony went through the front doorway with a rush, and put all his force into a right-hand punch that fairly lifted the unsuspecting policeman off the door step and knocked him out flat on the pavement.

While the policeman was still falling he lashed out again with his left in a punch that sent Lawson staggering, and followed it up with another right that put Lawson out for the count beside the policeman.

He sprang quickly across the pavement, stepped into the car which he had taken from the kidnapers, and drove off. He had little fear of immediate pursuit, for he knew that neither the policeman nor Lawson would be in any condition to follow him for several seconds, and by that time he would be well out of sight.

After Mahony's sudden exit, Elsa stared for a moment at the doorway through which he had gone. Then she ran after him. Her idea was not to pursue him, but to get help. She heard the smack, smack of his punches as he knocked out the policeman and Lawson, and reached the front door just in time to see his car disappear down the street.

Two inanimate figures were lying on the pavement; by the light of a nearby street lamp she recognized one of them as Lawson. The sight terrified her, halting her abruptly in the doorway; she thought the two men were dead.

Then she conquered her terror and went forward quickly, and bent over Lawson. He stirred, opened his eyes, and muttered a word which cannot be printed. Then he slowly raised himself on one elbow.

"What the—?" he began.
 "Mr. Lawson! Mr. Lawson!" interrupted Elsa. She shook his shoulder slightly.

Lawson blinked. But his brain was clearing now, and he recollected all that had happened. He had a part to play, and he played it. "Elsa..." he exclaimed in a tone of the utmost astonishment.

"Who was that fellow? How long have you been here? When did you get home?" But Elsa was in no state of mind to answer questions at that moment. She gripped his sleeve and tugged at it, trying to induce him to rise.

"My uncle—please come quickly—he's been murdered," she gasped. "What's that? Your uncle murdered!" exclaimed Lawson in a startled tone.

At this moment the policeman stirred and began to sit up. Lawson took charge of the situation. He helped the policeman to his feet. Together they followed Elsa back into the house.

Lawson was kind and efficient. He took Elsa to the kitchen and insisted on making coffee for her, while the policeman dealt with the murder. The policeman did not waste time looking for clues or asking questions. When he was sure that Mr. Little was dead, he simply locked the room in which the murder had been committed and telephoned to his superiors.

Twenty minutes later another car drove up to the house containing two detectives, a camera-man, and a police doctor. The leader of the detectives introduced himself as Inspector Kennedy of Scotland Yard.

He was obviously one of the new, public-school type of detectives. In appearance he was a tall, lean man of 34 or 35, dressed by a good tailor.

His features were regular and good-looking, his dark eyes were a little sleepy, his hands were well cared for.

There was nothing brusque or bullying in his methods; his manner was civil and his voice well modulated. There was about him rather the appearance of an army man on leave. That appearance did not altogether belie him.

To begin with he obtained Lawson's story, which, on the face of it, appeared to be quite simple and straightforward. Lawson stated that Elsa had been misled from the Albert Hall when the firm stars were due to be introduced; that he had made inquiries for her and learnt that she had last been seen being carried toward the door by a party of black monks; that he had rung up Mr. Little, and that Mr. Little had announced his intention of calling in the police.

He had then driven to Mr. Little's house in his car, and had seen a constable on the door-step. He had been about to join the constable, when the door had suddenly opened and a man dressed in monk's costume had emerged and attacked him.

Taken by surprise, he had been knocked out before he had time to defend himself. He had recovered consciousness to find Elsa standing over him. He and the constable and Elsa had entered the house and he had seen Mr. Little's body lying on the floor of the study with a knife near it. That was all he knew.

The inspector's assistant took down this story in a note book. The inspector turned to Elsa.

"I'd like to have your story now, Miss Little," he said.

Elsa was looking pale and ill. The shock of her uncle's death, on top of the effects of the drug which had been given to her at the Albert Hall, had left her dazed and hardly able to concentrate. The contrast between her gay Queen of Hearts costume and pale face and sad eyes made her look extremely helpless and pathetic. Inspector Kennedy felt very sorry for her. But he had his duty to do.

"I'm afraid I can't tell you much," she answered. "A lot of monks started dancing around me at the Albert Hall. One of them picked me up, and then something pricked my arm and I lost consciousness. When I came to I was lying on a sofa in here, and a man dressed as a monk was standing by the window. Then the doorbell rang, and I turned my head and saw Uncle Vincent."

She blinked. A tear trickled slowly down her nose and dropped down on to the front of her dress. Crying did not make her look ugly; it only made her look helpless and child-like. Inspector Kennedy felt very sorry for her indeed.

"And then, Miss Little?" he asked sympathetically.

"I—I think I was going to scream, but the monk caught hold of my and shook me and said: 'You are not to say anything like that. I said, 'You've killed him,' and he said, 'No, I haven't.' Then he picked up the knife and wiped it, and ran out of the room. I ran out of the room too, to try to get help for my uncle, and saw Mr. Lawson and the policeman lying on the pavement."

"I suppose you've no idea who this monk was?" asked the inspector.

She hesitated, putting her hand to her head as if it pained her.

"No. At least... no, I don't know who he was. But... somehow, his voice did seem a bit familiar," she answered.

"Oh! You knew the man's voice vaguely, but can't give a name to him?" said the inspector abruptly.

"That seems to suggest that it was somebody you've met but don't know very well. Think hard, Miss Little. Try to remember. Whose voice was it?"

There was a long pause. Elsa sat in a rather huddled position staring at nothing. Occasionally a tear ran down her face and trickled on to her dress. She did not want to think. She wanted to cry. She could imagine no greater luxury than simply being alone and crying to her heart's content.

She wished these people wouldn't make her think. Perhaps if she could think of the man's name quickly they would leave her alone. One after another the names of men she knew passed through her mind, but that voice did not seem to fit any of them.

"Think of all the men you know whose names begin with A. Then think of those beginning with B, and so on through the alphabet," suggested the inspector.

Again there was a pause. Adamson, Arlington, Ainsworth, Barrington, Barton, Borisoff—a host of names passed one after the other through Elsa's mind. Every now and then, in the midst of the G's or J's she would think of another C or E; it was amazing the number of people she knew. Lawson, Lavertree, Lee-Ramsden, Lesing... Mackintosh, Maddershaw... Her expression changed suddenly.

Mahony has, tomorrow, an important inspiration.

Minor Crime In 1904 Casts Shadow, Citizenship Lost, Deportation Faced

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 22 (UP)—Tommaso Maugeri, 50-year-old modern Jean Valjean, faces deportation to his native Italy because of a minor crime committed 32 years ago.

Papers which have been sent to the department of labor in Washington charged that Maugeri violated the immigration act of 1917. In the action, his citizenship was revoked and deportation asked because he allegedly committed perjury.

Maugeri, now the father of nine children and the successful proprietor of a gasoline station here, was convicted of assault and battery in 1904. His attorney contended he was attacked by railroad men and merely fought in self defense.

After serving a year's jail sentence, Maugeri returned to Italy and married. When he re-entered the United States in 1924 he brought his family with him. His papers, filed with immigration authorities, did not mention the previous conviction, leading to the charge of perjury.

EDDIE CANTOR HIRES BODYGUARD AFTER THREATS RECEIVED

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 22 (UP)—Eddie Cantor has employed a bodyguard to protect himself from threats sent to him as result of his hostility toward nazism.

The comedian made this assertion last night in an address to 7,000 persons at Shrine auditorium who heard speeches arranged by the Hollywood Anti-Nazi League for the Defense of American Democracy. Cantor is prominently identified with the anti-nazi league.

He said the threats warned him of injury or death if he continued his onslaught against nazism. He concluded his talk by demanding: "What are you going to do about it? Are you for Hitlerism in America?"

August, and convictions rose from 100 to 178. Dismissals were fewer, 25 to August's 33; acquittals were three to four in August; and 12 were given jail sentences in September to 8 in August.

Number of stills seized increased from 21 in August to 43 in September. During September 275 cases were filed, compared with 254 filed in

Wage Differences May Be Settled To Avert Strike

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 22 (UP)—Labor leaders indicated today that differences between the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company and 7,000 employees might be settled without recourse to strike, threatened yesterday by a union wage committee which seeks increased pay.

Glass W. McCabe, of Columbus, president of the Federation of Flat Glass Workers of America, said there was a possibility a new wage agreement might be reached "sometime this afternoon."

As preliminary negotiations ended at noon, McCabe said two officials representing Pittsburgh Plate management had conferred with the wage committee and left to report the discussions to the company.

The company officials were R. L. Clause, vice president, and Fred Keightly. They planned to confer with President H. S. Wherrett.

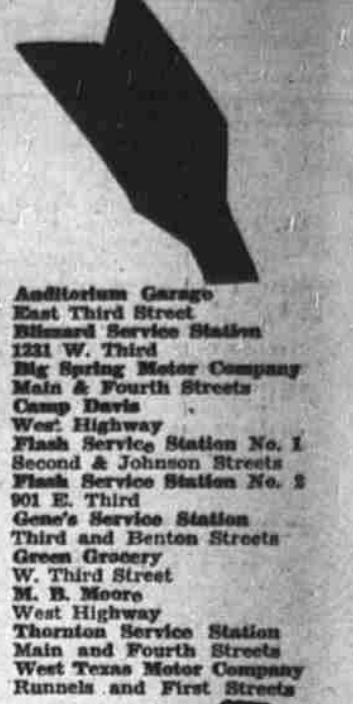

Earlier, McCabe revoked a strike call issued yesterday that would have affected the company's workers in Creighton and Ford City, Pa., Barber, O., Clarkburg, W. Va., and Henryetta and Crystal City, Okla.

STUDEBAKER SALES 68 PCT. OVER 1935

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 22.—Studebaker sales for 1936 to date are 68% ahead of 1935, according to Paul G. Hoffman, president of the Studebaker Corporation. He reports sales for the first ten days of October as 2951 compared with 513 last year. This brings total sales of passenger cars and trucks from January 1 to October 10 to 67,260 compared with 40,090 in the corresponding period of 1935.

Indiana in their first contest under Hunk Anderson in '31.

Southern California captured 25 consecutive engagements after being turned back by Saint Mary's in its opener of '31. That is the most protracted winning streak in modern major football.

But, while the Trojans repelled some very fine varieties, including Notre Dame, Pittsburgh, and one of the strongest clubs that I coached at Tulane, their schedules included some comparative breathers.

Southern California's assignments weak in and weak out fell a bit shy of being as tough as those tackled by Notre Dame in its triumphant march and those faced by Minnenote in its current drive.

In failure to say boys, I must admit that I believe they have been called upon to do more than were those remarkable Notre Dame outfits.

Football is stepped up a bit each fall. The advent of the lateral pass alone created a multiple of new situations.

Rooters Feel Strain More Than Players

There were several phenomenal consecutive game records in the olden days.

Yale and Harvard set dizzy paces in streaks. Fielding H. Yost's point-a-minute Michigan machines captured 29 consecutive contests starting in 1901. Then, when the Wolverines were tied by Minnesota in 1903, they avenged right into another unbroken string of 28.

Clintworth Double accounted for 30 in succession at the University of Washington from 1904 to 1914.

Yale and Harvard practically had a corner on football when they were cutting fancy capers, however, and the balance of power was in the east when the immortal Willie Heston and the revered Dan McGugin and their mates compiled tremendous scores and also established consecutive game records in the matter of Michigan being unscathed on Washington's opposition in the Pacific northwest was none too robust.

The present Minnesota winning streak isn't the first that I have been in. In my last two years at Tulane, the Green Wave knocked off 17 straight before we were repulsed by Southern California in the Rose Bowl on New Year's day of 1932.

Most football followers whose favorites are on such triumphant sprees as the one the Gophers now are enjoying will be surprised to know that they show the effects of the strain far more than the players who really are on the spot from week to week. At least, that has been my experience with Minnesota varieties that so successfully have launched their fourth consecutive season without a licking.

Minnesota players this season for example, never as much as mention the winning streak when they get together among themselves informally.

I have taken particular pains to get the lowdown on this angle because I know what they are thinking about I can change my methods to handle such a situation. But I have yet to hear the slightest chatter about their feats or notice the slightest sign of worry among the boys as to a possible defeat in any one game.

Minnesota Takes All Opponents in Stride

There are drawbacks to winning runs. When the same boys go through game after game, some of them through their entire college career without tasting defeat, there is a tendency to take things a little too easy. They get the idea that they are invincible and that they don't have to give their best in every game to finish on top.

I'd say that one of my biggest jobs has been to knock the slightest sign of overconfidence out of the Gophers. Naturally, I watch this closer now than I would under ordinary conditions when one of my teams takes it on the chin now and then.

My boys have assumed the attitude of playing one game at a time. They never key themselves for any one contest. This tends to make them steadier through the campaign rather than unnerve them.

It's a different story with the erstwhile quarter-backs. They constantly talk along this line: "The Gophers can't go on forever without getting beat. Wonder which team will be first to upset them?"

In the Twin Cities as well as in other sectors where our team appears, old grads and Minnesota well wishers always are talking about

Probable Lineup

Into the game may go a lineup something like this:—Ray McCullough and Burrus at ends, Woodrow Harris and Arthur Kasch at tackles, Jack Wilson and Robert Hildreth at the guard posts, Chock Smith at center, Louie Madison at quarter, Stix Wood and Raymond Williams at halves, and Weldon Bigony at full.

The Ranger Bulldogs will be trying for their third touchdown and their first win of the year. The Bulldogs have scored against Strawn and Eastland but have gone down against both teams, losing to the Class B team, 13-6 and to Eastland, 25-6.

Boston University Team Gets Home Arrangement

BOSTON, Oct. 22.—Boston university's home field, 12 miles from the city, is so inconveniently located that players would have to commute daily during the season for practice and home games.

Athletic officials, however, have taken care of that situation. They have built a duplex clubhouse for the players on the athletic field. Gridders commute to class after breakfast, return in the afternoon, work out, then dine, study, and retire in dormitory fashion.
