Five lions left Pampa last night sorely disappointed, we suspect. Unforeseen circumstances prevented the skipper of this space from getting out to the circus last night and giving them a look at him, as suggested the other day by R. B. B. of Pampa.

The circus last night was quite an event, they tell me. . . It was good, what there was of it—but, we understand there wasn't enough of it.

In the first place, the Robbins boys didn't figure on such a big crowd. . . Between 3,000 and 4,000 persons, circus-hungry Pampans, went out there and found no place to sit down.

So instead of using all three of their rings the Robbins Brothers turned two of them over to the crowd. . . Two rings were occupied by ringside spectators and the show went on in the one ring that was left.

Along about the end of the proceedings, Mr. Robbins brought out his five lions to give them a look at the crowd. . . The lions seemed to enjoy it immensely, as did the lone elephant, the star of the show.

Judging from last night's crowd, the circus boys should not figure on Pampa as a spot for a small show. . . This ought to be virgin territory next season for Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey.

R. B. B. it appears, has gone back in his shell since we put a chip on our shoulder and asked him to come out in the open and shoot it out at 40 paces or something. His letter was published here in spite of the fact he said it wouldn't be. . . The least he could do is to fire away again, from behind those anonymous initials.

A news dispatch from Roanoke, Va., tells about a jealous swain touching off a dynamite blast in the rear yard of a home to scare a rival in a love affair. . . In old Virginia, apparently, they say it with blowers instead of flowers.

In New York the state superintendent of police advised criminal investigators not to wash the hands of suspects lest they wash away valuable clues. . . In the case of a small Pampa boy we know, it probably would be all right to remove the first three layers.

One day last week Chicagoans dining in roof gardens found grasshoppers in their soup. . . If the patrons complained, think of what the grasshoppers had to put up with—being strangled to death by a noodle.

Teach children to dance if you want to cure them of the idea for sucking a nail. . . If the instructor. . . What about teaching them to suck their thumbs; as a cure for the dancing itch?

Louis Van Every has written a book called "Joe Louis: Superfighter," a volume which evidences that written before Louis bumped into Max Schmeling. . . If the book possibly has another edition, Mr. Van Every had better amend the title to read: "Joe Louis, Superfighter—But a Sucker for a Stiff Right."

Note on the complexities of farming is recorded by the Drayton (Ont.) Advocate:

William Taylor, farmer of near Stratford, uncorked a new idea for building a haystack elsewhere on the horse, he rode around on top of the stack as it was built up, load after load. This, he discovered, was an easy way of tramping down the hay. Then came quitting time and a new problem cropped up: How to get the horse off the haystack?

Farmers who were present scratched their heads and several plans were suggested. Finally a half load of hay was drawn alongside of the stack and the horse stepped down on it. Getting a scale in from the wagon to the ground was managed like this: The wagon was drawn into the river and the horse waded ashore.

The idea isn't new, as the story infers. It's been done for years in Ontario and elsewhere. . . The farmer is supposed to leave a place for the horse to get down when the stack is nearly finished.

We have been trying hard to keep from getting into the poetry business on too large a scale in this column, but every now and then we get a contribution and break down the fences. Here's one a reader has sent in with the request that it be printed here:

In speaking of another's faults, Pray don't forget your own; Remember, those in homes of glass Should never throw a stone. If we have nothing else to do But talk of those who sin, 'Tis better we commence at home And from that point begin.

We have no right to judge a man Until he's fairly tried;

YEAR STARTED FOR P-TA AT HORACE MANN

Faculty and Parents Are Introduced Yesterday

New members, both parents and teachers, were introduced at the initial meeting of Horace Mann Parent-Teacher association for the season yesterday afternoon.

Supr. E. B. Fisher was the speaker, on cooperation. Misunderstanding is at the bottom of most trouble between school and home, he said.

Entertainment included a trombone solo, 'Sometime Somewhere Somewhere', by Lloyd Harner; a piano solo, 'Caprice Viennois', by Miss Laticia Quattlebaum.

The invocation was by the Rev. L. Burney Shell.

Miss Josephine Thomas, principal, introduced the parents and the following teachers: Misses Llewellyn Shelby and Louise Malaise, health directors; Miss Mary Reeve, Mrs. George R. Clark, Mrs. T. A. Cox, Mrs. Kate Zachary, Miss Clara Brown, Miss Jimmie Searcy, Miss Margaret Baldwin, Miss Lema Jane Butcher, Mrs. M. K. Griffith, Miss Frances McCue, Mr. Harner, Carroll Killbrew, and Miss Quattlebaum.

She announced that the Lions club has given the school two pieces of playground equipment for which the association voted appreciation.

Mrs. Burl Graham, membership chairman, spoke briefly and announced that the following room mothers have been selected: Mrs. Clyde Oswalt for Mrs. Cox's room; Mrs. Earl Powell, Ernest Anderson, and C. D. Hunter for Miss Butcher's room; Misses Longacre, Lindsey and Castka for Miss Baldwin's room; Mrs. E. L. Husband and M. B. Boynton for Miss Brown's room; Mrs. M. C. Adams and Mrs. Ralph Amos for Mrs. Clark's room; Mrs. Moot for Miss Reeve's room.

In a social hour, Mrs. Emery Nollitt received the prize in a hand-shaking game planned to acquaint the members. The attendance award went to Mrs. Cox's room. Refreshments were served by the hospitality committee.

Mrs. C. B. Haney, club hostess, presided over the meeting.

IF PEGGY HAS A SWEETHEART-- THAT SECRET'S HERS ALONE!

By NEA Service TOPEKA, Kan., Sept. 10.—Peggy Anne Landon, co-ed daughter of Governor Landon will be a good candidate for a diplomatic post if her father enters the White House next winter. She's so good at keeping a secret.

Has she a sweetheart? And, if so, who is he? Wouldnt the Kansas reporters and photographers like to know!

And do they find out? Not so you could notice it! Peggy Landon, as her friends call her on the Kansas University campus at Lawrence, discarding the middle name "Anne," keeps her own counsel about boy friends.

If she has a "steady" boy friend, not even her roommates at the Pi Beta Phi sorority house, Betty Jane Campbell and Mary Jane Haines, have been able to find it out.

Peggy Anne hasn't "dated" anyone with enough consistency to justify even rumors of a romance. Some time ago she "was keeping company with Leigh Fisher, a second-year law student from Amarillo, Tex., and a member of Delta Upsilon. But by the time columnists were printing rumors about romance, the dating ceased.

Next came Hazel Steiger, a sophomore from Topeka. For a while the gossips pinned their faith to Steiger. And when Peggy attended with him the annual costume party of his Phi-Gamma Delta fraternity, the pair being attired as Mr. and Mrs. Tarzan, the campus buzzed. Rumors of real romance floated into print again.

But Peggy knocked the gossips for a row of new guesses. At the Leap Year Varsity, an annual party where co-eds not only invite the young men of their choice, but foot the bill for the evening as well, Peggy surprised them all by dating George Guernsey, campus social lion, a fraternity brother of Steiger, and the regular squire of Jane Heffer, Peggy's sorority sister.

With school out, there came news of a regular caller at 801 Buchanan street, the governor's mansion. Nobody even found out who that was.

But it was forgotten, anyway, when dispatches from the far-off Estes Park, Colo., indicated that Peggy was dating a young man out there with considerable regularity during the Landon family summer vacation.

Thus the vivacious daughter of Governor Landon has kept them all guessing, from campus to columnists, a shrewd and circumspect co-ed who knows so well how to keep a secret that nobody can even be sure there is any secret.

And further than that secrecy cannot go!

Peggy Anne Landon... If she has a "steady," the columnists and the campus gossips can't find out who the lucky lad is.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN advertisement with logo.

By NEA Service If, as argued, there are a thousand ways of preparing eggs, there must be at least half that many methods of cooking potatoes. Boiled, mashed and baked potatoes appear over and over on menus and really it's a pity because there are so many other ways of serving them.

Perhaps these recipes will be helpful.

Baked Potato Balls You need the special little scoop made for preparing balls. Use the largest potatoes and cut out uniform balls. Drop them in cold water as soon as they are made.

Allow about 8 to 10 balls per person.

Boil 15 minutes, until tender but not broken.

Place them on a large, well-greased baking tin.

Pour melted butter to which chopped parsley, salt and pepper have been added over them and let them brown under the broiler flame until ready. You must turn the balls frequently so they will brown evenly.

With any meat that has a nice gravy, potato pancakes are delicious, prepared as follows:

Potato Pancakes for Four Grate 4 large potatoes and place the pulp in a sieve to drain off excess water. When they are quite dry add the yolks of 3 eggs, 1 tablespoon of flour, a dash of ground nutmeg and 1-4 teaspoon salt.

Mold this mixture into small flat pancakes and fry them in fat (bacon fat is perfect for this) just long enough to brown them well. One large potato will make 2 pancakes. These pancakes are very light and delicate.

Another favorite potato recipe is Long Branch Potatoes. This method is excellent if the meat course has no gravy as these potatoes are moist.

Long Branch Potatoes for Four Six large, cold boiled potatoes, 2 tablespoons butter, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon chopped parsley, 1-2 cup thin cream, 1-4 cup onion chopped, 1-8 teaspoon pepper.

Cut the cold, boiled potatoes very fine as you would chop them for hash.

Fry the chopped onions in butter or fat until they are golden brown.

Place the chopped potatoes in a saucpan, add the cream, and cook very slowly until all the cream is absorbed. Top milk will do for this purpose.

You will find that it takes only a few minutes to absorb the cream.

Then add the 2 tablespoons of butter, salt, pepper and chopped parsley.

Transfer the potatoes to a flat baking dish, spread the onions on top and then brown the dish under the broiler flame. Serve directly from the baking dish.

If you prefer, the onions may be omitted.

Tomorrow's Menu BREAKFAST: Steved prunes and apricots, bacon, rolls, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Grapefruit and tomato salad on lettuce with mayonnaise, hot rolls, rice custard, fruit cookies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Ham croquettes, Long Branch potatoes, buttered broccoli, lettuce with Russian dressing, chocolate ice box cake, coffee.

Couple Is at Home In This City Now

The marriage of Miss Oletha Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed W. Jones of 609 N. Somerville, and Roy A. Ward has just been announced to friends. The ring ceremony was read on August 15 by the Rev. Mr. Harell of Panhandle in his home.

Miss Jones wore a light blue frock with navy trim. The wedding was witnessed by Max Leder of Pampa. Mr. and Mrs. Ward are at home now in the Brunon apartments.

The bride is a popular young business woman here. She was graduated from Pampa high school, attended business college in Abilene, and has recently been employed by the Pampa Credit Bureau. Mr. Ward, son of Mrs. E. C. Ward of Teague, attended school there and is with the Finley Drilling company here.

Telephoned in advance to Mrs. J. M. McDonald.

PICNIC AT PALO DURO CANYON ENJOYED BY SKELLYTOWN CLUB

SKELLYTOWN, Sept. 11.—Palo Duro Canyon was the scene of a gala occasion Wednesday when the Sunshine Home Demonstration club of Skellytown went there for a picnic. Members met at the post office here at 8 o'clock, and arrived at the canyon at 11.

A picnic lunch was spread at noon. Horseback riding, swimming, and games were enjoyed during the afternoon, interrupted when ice cream and cake were served. Games were resumed and continued until late in the day.

The eventful day ended with a theater party, and a supper of sandwiches and soda pop.

Those enjoying the trip were Mmes. A. B. Corley, W. S. Boyd, J. R. Stansell, M. L. Roberts, E. R. Hawkins, B. L. Barnes, L. Feigen-span, and W. W. Hughes.

Pleasant Hour Club. Pleasant Hour club met last Friday in the home of Mrs. W. S. Boyd. After a short business meeting, an hour was spent in conversation. Losers in a recent contest served ice cream and cake for the winners.

These present were Mmes. Jack Tomlin, D. Bowsher, E. L. Barnes, S. A. Satterfield, J. R. Stansell, M. L. Roberts, Stafford, W. W. Hughes, and Boyd. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Hughes Sept. 15 at 2 p. m.

Mrs. Summers and Mrs. Ike Hughes attended the races at Panhandle Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harlan are opening a dry goods store in the building formerly occupied by Harry Brandt.

Mrs. Bill Harlan returned Sunday from a visit with her brother in Denver.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Jarvis are spending a vacation in Arkansas.

Arthur Bowsher left Monday for Tulsa, Okla., to enroll in Tulsa university.

Young People of Churches Gather

About 75 young people from the Methodist churches of Wheeler, McLean, LeFors and Pampa were present last evening when the Grays Wheel union met at First Methodist church here.

Wheeler representatives were in charge of the devotional program, and Miss Jessie Marie Gilbert, union president, presided for the business session. Afterward the group went to the church basement where the Pampa members were hosts for games and refreshments.

Mrs. Joe Berry is to be vice-president, Mrs. M. S. Jenkins secretary, Mrs. A. A. Timmann assistant secretary, Mrs. W. R. Lynn and Miss Josephine Thomas, assistant teachers, Mrs. J. M. Sowers pianist, Mrs. O. N. Frazier reporter, and Mrs. Roy McMillen treasurer.

CARBON BLACK IS ONE OF MAJOR SHIPMENTS ON SANTA FE

EXPORTS HOLD OWN DESPITE SHORT CROPS

MORE PASSENGERS ARE RIDING FASTER ON COOLER TRAINS

BY DAILY NEWS STAFF WRITER

Before there was anything in Pampa, there was Old John Santa Fe—the railroad. It was built through here in 1887, and the late Tom Lane, first resident, also became the first Santa Fe agent, as well as the first postmaster.

Since then the character of shipments—by which one judges the wealth and prosperity of a community—has undergone a striking metamorphosis. First there were only cattle to ship; then after about 20 years they began to ship out wheat. Less than a dozen years ago, a third type of major shipment was way-laid from Pampa. It included products which resulted from development of the petroleum industry in this section.

The oil development in Pampa spells the difference between Pampa and White Deer, Pampa and Miami. A dozen or so years ago, Pampans felt like they were going to town when they went to Miami. Of course, the petroleum industry gave Pampa a good start, and because the town has become a trading center of a large territory it could survive regardless of the petroleum industry.

Wheat Failures Hit Road

But take away the major part of the petroleum industry and Pampa, as far as shipping is concerned, would lapse into a class with her smaller neighbors, according to O. T. Hendrix, Santa Fe agent. During the drought, Santa Fe shipments have not decreased, due to the petroleum industry. There was a time when 1,000 cars of wheat were shipped from Pampa, but not so in the last three years. Those thousand cars represented shipments which are now divided up by the elevators along the railroad from Heaton to Kingsmill. Now, it is estimated, Pampa would ship out about 400 cars in a year when the wheat crop is good.

Interstate Commerce Commission rulings forbid publication of railroad earnings, but it is well-known that carbon black provides a major part of local shipments, and that the carbon black industry furnishes a major part of the payroll of this community. Pampa should and does zealously guard this industry from any sort of legislation that would tend to result in removal of the plants or crippling of the plants' operations. The sour gas law resulted in development of the carbon black industry in Moore county, with subsequent benefit for Amarillo, and in curtailing to some extent of operations here. But shipments were not adversely affected. Pampans as a whole do not wish to see any law passed or enforced that would cripple the huge carbon black industry here, thereby decreasing the payroll.

Has Large Payroll

The Santa Fe has always been one of the town's biggest taxpayers. Few people know that it has 60 persons on the payroll which is one of the largest in the city. This includes workers on the two lines, the Panhandle Santa Fe and the Clinton and Oklahoma Western.

Shipments in the last three years have not declined and this year's will likely be a little larger than last year's. Gasoline and carbon black are the two big export items. There was a time when crude oil was shipped by cars, but now trucks and pipelines carry both gasoline and crude oil. Another carrier is gas pipelines which carry billions of feet of gas to northern cities.

There is one railway "export" which has increased almost miraculously in the last three years and that is the human cargo that is taken on passenger trains. Everyone knows now that riding on the railroad has become popular again, and the comeback of the passenger trains is largely due to the two-cent-a-mile rate, increased speed, stream-lined trains, and air-conditioned cars. However, the lower rate has had more to do with the increase in passengers than any other factor, it is believed.

Trains Much Faster

When "the train comes in" now one might be led to believe that the old days when everybody went down to the depot to see the train come in were here again. Automobiles almost fill the parking space near the station and scores of people board the train and alight from it. The Panhandle line has no stream-lined trains yet, but most observers believe that the day is coming when zephyrs will slide like lightning across old John's tracks.

The speed of the local passenger trains has been raised several times in the last few years. Recently, the run from Pampa to White Deer, a little over 13 miles, was timed, and it was found that the train made that distance in nine minutes. The average speed of passenger trains from Waynoka to Pampa is around 50 miles an hour, counting the many stops, although the trains maintain a between-stop speed of about 85 miles an hour—just try to keep up with one on a clear stretch in your car!

It should be mentioned that all chair cars on local Santa Fe passenger trains are air-conditioned.

BUSINESS REPORT

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—Some division of trade fell out of step with the forward march of general business this week, Dun & Bradstreet reported today in its weekly review.

"A moderate contraction occurred in wholesale volume," the review stated, "as retailers awaited a more definite appraisal of consumers' preferences before adding further to their inventories."

"Featured by the active demand incident to school reopenings, retail sales in some districts, on the other hand, were the heaviest of the year. There was little change in the daily average of industrial operations, but production for the week was curtailed by Labor Day suspensions.

The agency estimated retail sales for the country as a whole were 3 to 8 per cent over last week, and the increase in many districts ranged up to 25 per cent. Although five days this year were compared with six last year, due to the lateness of Labor Day, retail sales were estimated at 12 to 20 per cent over the 1935 comparative week.

Percentage increases for the major geographical regions over a year ago follow: New England 12 to 18; eastern 15 to 20; middle west 17 to 20; northwest 15 to 21; southwest 15 to 30; southern 15 to 20; Pacific coast 18 to 25.

Blindfolded, W. N. Kendall of Lufkin recently played eight games of chess simultaneously at the Texas Centennial exposition. He won four of the games, lost two and drew two.

Conquering Heroines Return

A screaming welcome, climaxed by a parade down Broadway to the City Hall after the New York tradition for greeting heroes, was accorded the largest contingent of United States Olympic team athletes to yet return from Germany. Happy to be home, a bevy of women stars waves from the car in which they were paraded among the skyscrapers.

GOAT RANCHER IS CHARGED IN BURNET DEATH

SELF-DEFENSE CLAIMED IN SHOOTING OF NEIGHBOR

AUSTIN, Sept. 11 (AP)—R. B. Norwood, Burnet goat rancher, accused of killing Calvin Word, Jr., a neighbor, remained in jail here today pending a habeas corpus hearing tomorrow.

The shooting occurred yesterday in front of the postoffice at Burnet. Norwood said he fired in self-defense after a difficulty over some goats. He drove to Austin and surrendered.

R. D. Anderson of Spicewood, a bystander, was struck by the bullet after it hit Word but was not seriously wounded.

Burnet officers had intended to return Norwood today but the filing of a habeas corpus application by the rancher's counsel prevented that.

Norwood's attorneys said they would seek to obtain bail for their client.

Norwood asked to be permitted to sleep in the same cell with H. P. Opp, operator of ranches in Menard and Burnet counties, who is awaiting the outcome of an appeal from a 30-year conviction on a murder charge.

HOLY SOULS CATHOLIC CHURCH SERVICES FOR SATURDAY, SUNDAY ARE ANNOUNCED BY REV. SMITH

CLOSING EXERCISES TO BE HELD SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Announcement will be made tonight at the mission services in the Holy Souls Catholic church in Pampa of the order of the exercises for the Saturday and Sunday routine. The missionary, Father Ambrose Smith, the Dominican from Houston, "because of the kindness of The Pampa Daily NEWS," has especially released the schedule to The NEWS' readers before announcing it in the church.

Saturday, there will be masses at 6 and 8 o'clock. At the 8 o'clock mass the children will receive their mission communion and after the blessing of the Holy Father Pope Pius XI will be given to them. Benediction will close the evening service. The children will be served breakfast by the women of the parish in the parish annex at the close of the morning services. Confessions will be heard by the missionary from 5 until 5:45 o'clock in the afternoon, from 7 until 8 and from 9 until 10 o'clock in the evening. From 8 to 9 on Saturday night there will be the Hour of Adoration during which Father Smith will preach to the congregation of adults.

Sunday, there will be mass at 8 o'clock, at which there will be a general communion service for the parish. All of the Catholic men, women and children of Holy Souls Parish are expected to respond to the urgings from Father Smith to receive the Blessed Eucharist at the 8 o'clock mass on Sunday. The missionary priest will explain the Forty Hours Devotion which will open at the first mass on Sunday. There will be also a mass at 10 on Sunday morning in the Pampa church after the sermon at Pampa Sunday morning. Father Smith will go to Canadian to open the mission at Sacred Heart church in that place at 10 o'clock.

The closing exercises of the Pampa mission will take place on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock and they will last about an hour to consist of the Rosary, blessing of religious articles, a brief pointed sermon, the papal blessing and benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. The plenary indulgence attached to the papal blessing may be gained by all who have made the mission in whole or in part. Although the mission will have closed in the afternoon of Sunday, Father Smith will preach again on Sunday evening as he conducts the Eucharistic Hour from 8 to 9 and again on Monday evening conducting the same service for all people desiring to attend at the same hour, 8 o'clock.

"COLD CASH" TAKEN

HOUSTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Burglars who entered a downtown cafe early today evidently gained nothing but "cold cash." They took $25 which had been hidden in an ice box.

LARGE BUILDINGS ARE FIRED BY GOVERNMENT

MADRID, Sept. 11 (AP)—Large buildings, including a Carmelite convent were set afire today in Oviedo, a government source reported, by an intense bombardment of the northern city.

Government bombers, they said, destroyed the civil guards and civil governors buildings in a rain of shells which scattered building blazes through the city.

Rebels, the report said, attempted to flee the city, but were barred by socialist guns.

Oviedo was said to have lacked water since Sept. 5.

(The advices from Oviedo conflicted with a broadcast from the rebel radio station at Seville which said the insurgent garrison at Oviedo had driven back government militiamen in battle.)

The government, despite its operations in the north, was reported dumping more and more troops into Toledo province in an effort to drive the rebels back toward Extremadura, Huelva and Seville, further south and west of the capital.

MRS. HAUPTMANN IS BARRED FROM CANADA

ROUSE POINT, N. Y., Sept. 11 (AP)—Mrs. Anna Hauptmann, barred from Canada because she could not prove United States citizenship, looked to the Dominion government today to over-ride immigration inspectors and allow her to continue to Montreal.

Inspector Emile Levin of the United States immigration service, who questioned Mrs. Hauptmann and a companion on their return from an unsuccessful effort to gain admission to Canada at Catic, Que., expressed belief the widow of the convicted kidnaper-murderer was "staying somewhere in the vicinity incognito," pending action upon her appeal.

Mrs. Hauptmann's companion, who said he was her attorney but did not otherwise identify himself, told Canadian officials the widow of the Bronx carpenter was on the way to Montreal to check information on the Lindbergh kidnaping. He said she was still trying to prove Bruno Richard Hauptmann innocent of the crime for which he was put to death last April 3.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

As fall approaches, optimism is still the dominating note in the business reports and forecasts. Many quarters feel certain that during the next few months business will reach the highest level since 1930—and, possibly, since 1929.

Interesting "Scorecard of Fall Prospects" was recently published by Business Week. According to this authority, there are twelve major plus signs now in evidence. These include such factors as the following: Business inventories are generally low and need replenishing; money is "easy"; much of the bonus money is still in the hands of veterans, will be spent this fall; automobile makers are now at work on new models, which will be introduced beginning in September; stock market activity is up; it is believed that utilities and railroads will soon do heavy buying; building contracts are mounting; in the field of foreign affairs, world trade expansion more than counterbalances the chaotic European situation.

The magazine finds five minus signs to set against its plus signs. First, the drought is causing poor distribution of farm income. Second, the Revenue Act of 1936 may restrict new construction. Third, the employment picture is still dark. Fourth, threats of strikes in major industries are a disturbing factor. Fifth, Presidential campaigns create "psychological disturbance."

A survey of other business publications finds them in agreement with this, generally speaking. So far as industrial production indices are concerned, there is hardly a gloomy note. Automobile production recently fell off—but that was to be expected, as preparations are made for the new season. Steel ingot production also dropped temporarily—but are mills are well booked with orders at last report. And corporate net profits are rising in every field, a fact which is naturally reflected in better dividend payments.

There are two factors, outside the production field, which are highly disturbing. One is wages, which are tending upward, but very slowly, and are not keeping pace with production. The other is that worst bogey of all, unemployment. It is generally believed that the unemployed rolls are declining, but at a conservative estimate, some eight million men are still out of work.

Another interesting aspect of the business situation is covered in a late issue of the scholarly Annalist, in a table comparing consumer expenditures in the six months ended in June, 1936, with the same period in 1935. This table shows that more of the consumer's dollar is being expended for durable goods and less for perishable articles—a trend that is highly important, in that the durable goods industries took the worst lacing during depression and are the biggest element in the nation's industrial set-up. Thus, where in the 1936 period consumers spent 4.6 per cent more for food than in the 1935 period, they spent 22.3 per cent more for cars. Where they spent 9.6 per cent more in restaurants, they spent 24.8 per cent more for lumber, building and hardware. Where they spent 9.6 per cent more on general merchandise, they spent 19.3 per cent more on furniture and other household equipment.

Consumer expenditures for the 1936 period marked a 12.1 per cent increase over the 1935 period—totaling $17,470,000,000 as against $15,580,000,000.

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

By Rodney Dutcher

NEW YORK.—The political impact of the death of Gov. Floyd B. Olson of Minnesota has been felt across the country.

Militant eastern labor leaders share with liberal and radical politicians in the northwestern states the belief that a hard blow has been dealt to their movement for a new third party in 1940.

That movement will not slow down, however. One clear effect of Olson's death is to put Senator Robert M. LaFollette Jr., of Wisconsin right out in the forefront as a likely candidate of the third party group.

Outside of Minnesota, it appears, Olson's death will have little effect on the Roosevelt-Landon contest.

Olson, a pro-labor, hard-headed master of politics, who once announced "I am as radical as hell," and who surprised the country by using militia to protect the rights of strikers instead of to shoot them, declared vigorously for Roosevelt's election a few days before his death.

Olson will not be there now to throw his power behind Roosevelt. Lesser men presumably will take over the job. And that's a handicap in a very doubtful state.

Bill Lemke, probably stronger in Minnesota now than in any other state except his own of North Dakota, may gain considerably as a result of Olson's passing. Yet, it seems to be conceded by most politicians that Lemke will pull away at least as many votes from Landon as from Roosevelt and perhaps more in Minnesota.

The Minnesota Farmer-Labor party has chosen Congressmen Ernest Lundeen to replace Olson on the ticket. Until recently, at least, Lundeen had little use for Roosevelt and was friendly to Lemke. His party's state committee, however, is understood to have insisted that he support Roosevelt in the campaign.

It is not improbable that the Democratic senatorial candidate, Patrick Delaney, will withdraw in favor of Lundeen if the dominant Democratic faction in the state receives assurances that Lundeen will support Roosevelt vigorously.

Nomination of Lundeen preserves the radical character of the Farmer-Labor ticket. He is author of the advanced social security bill which has been espoused by the Communist party and various other radical groups.

There are two Democratic factions in Minnesota. One, headed by ex-National Committeeman Joe Wolff, has been friendly with Olson. The other, the so-called Ryan-Moonan group, is regarded by New Dealers and others as a "pro-Al Smith" faction, inimical to Roosevelt.

The two factions sent contesting delegations to the Philadelphia convention and each was seated, on a half-a-vote-per-delegate basis.

The Wolff group was triumphant in Democratic primaries when it achieved the nomination of Delaney over the Ryan-Moonan candidate.

There are many eyes on Minnesota. For this is one of the key states in the development of plans of "radicals" for a third party in 1940.

Regardless of whether Landon or Roosevelt wins the presidential election, this writer predicts that the movement for that party will begin to coagulate publicly soon after election day.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD By William Ferguson. IF A PIECE OF MEAT IS HUNG NEAR THE CARNIVOROUS SUNDEW PLANT, THE STEM WILL BEND OVER TO ALLOW THE PLANT TO REACH THE MEAT. THERE IS NO SPOT ON EARTH WHERE MOISTURE (EITHER RAIN OR SNOW) DOES NOT FALL.

FREQUENTLY one reads of certain "rainless" areas. But such areas do not exist, except at the earth's poles, and here the moisture is supplied in the form of snow. In the driest part of the Sahara, between Dakhel and Kufra, the explorer Robiliis encountered a three-day drenching rain in 1874.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK.—Notes on the middle cruise jotted down after the future admiral's anchored off 125th street in the Hudson and poured ashore for 48 hours leave:

Capt. C. H. Hinkamp, of the U. S. S. Wyoming, runs up kites and shoots them with an automatic rifle. Once the ship gets into the open Atlantic he retires to the forecastle and gets in his target practice. He likes to send up box kites in the salt breeze and, drawing a bead, imagine them to be enemy planes. His constant companions are two Scotties, Jock and Pat, who wear two service stripes and are seldom more than two hops from their master's heels.

Most of the midshipmen were fascinated with Sweden, but didn't have much to say for England. In Sweden the girls were friendly and beautiful. Purchases in most foreign countries were also a revelation. In the public schools there, the girls manifested genuine disappointment when the gobs couldn't reciprocate in the Scandinavian.

Limes in Portsmouth, where the sailors first went ashore, have to drink their beer warm or not at all. Ice isn't to be had on the wholesale scale in this country. But in Portsmouth nobody seems to mind. The girls were an especial disappointment. Midshipman James Eblom, of Evanston, Ill., declares the first four young women he encountered were "a total of three teeth."

Off the Spanish coast they caught the rumble of guns... the vast savings on purchases in most foreign countries were also a revelation. One of the lads bought himself confirmed smokers among the corps find delight in the tariff-less checkers where the ship stores. Cigarettes cost only 5c cents a package... The bad feature of touring on a battleship is that there's so much brass to polish. In the navy you scrub decks and shine plate by the hour, not by the cubic foot... As one of the lads put it, "After a night in its warty hotel bed, I waded in at 5:30 a. m. and leaped out of bed looking for a swabbing brush. It was some time before I realized I wasn't aboard ship."

With the sailors were half a dozen West Point cadets, who came along on deck where they could get a swab. They traveled like gentlemen on a pleasure cruise. To get this cruise, they gave up their annual summer leave.

Now the midshipmen return to the States. After that they come back to get ready for football.

HOW'S your HEALTH

Arteriosclerosis: A Survey of the Problem. An interesting contribution on this score was recently made by Dr. Nils P. Dungal, who is professor of pathology at the University of Reykjavik, Iceland. Working as a pathologist, Dr. Dungal was much impressed by the absence of thyroid disturbances and thyroid enlargements among the Icelanders. He also observed the comparative rarity among the Icelanders of degenerative changes of an arteriosclerotic nature in important blood vessels. In explanation of these conditions, Dr. Dungal offers the theory that they may be credited to the abundance of iodine in the food consumed by the Icelanders. From a study of iodine, which is their principal article of diet. Also, the air in that region contains free iodine.

Historically, iodine is probably the oldest and most widely used drug for treating arteriosclerosis. Precisely why it has been so used is a puzzle. It is not improbable that certain sub-optimum diets, taken for years or even generations, may be factors to induce arteriosclerosis. The occurrence of sub-optimum diets is frequent in all parts of the world, and as Longchamps, among other students of the subject, has noted, the average American diet is often defective in the quantity of protective foods. Such diets are believed to be responsible for certain degenerative conditions, and it is possible that they favor ar-are afraid of seeming uninformed or sentimental unless they can appear superior and show their wisdom by finding fault or sneering.

Time was when young people at least could be expected to wonder and admire, but today that privilege of youth is gone. The popular attitude to assume is either one of cynical amusement or bored indifference.

The worst feature of the situation is the parents' unconcerned acceptance of the youngsters' attitude, their weak yielding to the cheap mockery. Mrs. Smith's enthusiasm over a concert is greeted with the remark, "Aw, be your age, Mother." Instead of reproving the child for his senseless and rude remark, she takes it to heart however much it hurts, and can be heard later telling her friends that children today are better informed than they used to be, and so refreshingly frank.

It is to be hoped that these same children will one day grow up to a realization that, however well-informed and cultured they may think themselves, there is a vast realm of beauty and idealism of which they have no conception beyond their mere technical knowledge, and that without an appreciation of it life is an arid and unprofitable existence.

The papers are full of accounts of these young super-men and women, who consider themselves far beyond the rules and regulations of ordinary humans. They know so little that they cannot judge of their own ignorance. Their parents and the schools largely are to blame for their unenviable feeling of superiority.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

By Frederic J. Haskin

A reader can get the answer to any question of fact by writing The Pampa Daily News' Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C. Please enclose three (3) cents for reply.

Q. Is there a road on the top of Mount Carmel so that one could ride close to Elijah's place of sacrifice? I. T.

A. There is a road to the Carmelite Monastery on Mt. Carmel not very far from the supposed site of Elijah's sacrifice and tomb. It is possible to ride to this point. Mt. Carmel is included in the reforestation scheme of the Palestine government.

Q. When were United States Senators first elected by popular vote? J. M. T.

A. They were elected by vote of the people for the first time in November, 1914.

Q. Are welders unemployed as much as other tradesmen? W. S.

A. Electrical welding is one of the growing industries. It is applicable to all metal working and fabricating industries. It is one of the few industries that continued its upward curve throughout the depression.

Q. How is it possible to protect rose buds from beetles? J. G.

A. Small cellophane bags for that purpose may be purchased. These are slipped on over the buds and afford protection.

Q. When was the practice abolished in India of a woman cremating herself on the funeral pyre of her husband? E. G.

A. The custom of suttee was made illegal by the British government in 1829.

Q. Is there an instance of an author's or poet's having dreamed of a subject before he wrote of it? A. Coleridge is said to have composed the poem, Kubla Khan, in a dream immediately after reading a description of Kubla Khan's palace in Purchas's Pilgrimage.

Q. Has William Randolph Hearst bought the Philadelphia Inquirer? If so, how much did he pay for it? E. J. H.

A. The paper was recently purchased by Moses L. Annenberg for $15,000,000.

Q. Where is the oldest farm in the United States? J. S.

A. Texas claims it. This farm near Ysleta has been worked continuously since 1540, when it was established by the Franciscan Fathers who came to this country with Coronado.

Q. Has Mussolini blue or dark eyes? S. E.

A. His eyes are dark.

Q. What state leads in railroad mileage? E. F.

A. Texas leads in railroad mileage with 16,892 in 1934.

Q. When was the Bureau of Navigation of the Navy Department established? F. G.

A. It was created by the act of July 5, 1862.

So Much for Love

"Peter, to me there's nothing you could do that would seem foolish," Helena told him.

Chapter IV No sooner had Fain Sutter voiced his fear than he plunged into the lake. With foreboding doubt clutching them, the rest rushed toward the water's edge.

"He's clowning," Helena heard Sandra say. "He's staying down to frighten us—but I don't think it's very funny." Helena realized that there was no belief in Sandra's voice. She was only trying to convince herself.

Fain's dark head appeared, and he shouted, "It's hard to see down there..." As Fain propelled himself beneath the surface again, Jack Gose struck out into the lake, followed by Reiter and Blair Lowell.

To Helena it seemed hours, but it was in reality only a matter of seconds until Fain struggled to the surface, clutching desperately at a Peter Henderson who was limp and helpless. In sudden panic, Helena saw the water streaming from his blood hair—and then the quick flow of blood from an ugly gash.

Hardly realizing what she did, she waded out to help Fain. But the three men were there before her, and together they brought Peter up to the beach.

"You three get him to the lodge," Blair said. "I'll get the caretaker's car and go for the doctor."

"There are a lot of submerged stumps at the bottom," Sutter said bitterly. "We should have thought of that before we let him dive from that height."

Hysterical, Helena rushed toward them. "He'll be all right? ... Peter, are you—all right?"

But it was Fain who answered, and not Peter Henderson. "Knocked himself unconscious. But he'll be out of it in a minute or two." They bore Henderson up to the lodge. All dead weight now, all pale and quiet, through the confused mending of her brain, Helena heard the roar of the caretaker's car as Blair backed it out of the garage.

"Shouldn't Blair take him right to the doctor?" Sandra faltered as the men struggled into the lodge with their dripping burden.

Jack Gose shook his head. "It's better not to move him too much—especially if—" He glanced guardedly at Helena. "Especially if there's a concussion."

"How far is it to the nearest town?" Helena whispered to Sandra. "Thirty-five miles," the Leigh girl answered. "Blair ought to make it back here in a little over an hour."

Helena's heart sank. What might happen in an hour? Why... an hour was a year when life hung in the balance. At last Peter and Sandra, uncontrolled sobs and dropped to the davenport. Sandra Leigh held her arms about her. "There, darling, He'll be all right. I—I can feel it."

In the end, it was the caretaker and his wife, and the justice who had been called to the scene, who stayed on to visit with the caretaker, who were of the most help. Older and less confused, they met the emergency with a calm which none of the rest seemed to possess. Dimly, in the midst of her panic, Helena saw why this "gang"—young and impetuous but nervously competent—sought refuge for pleasure. The wedding had further increased the degree of their camaraderie and excitement. When fate had struck suddenly, seemingly without reason, they were all too bewildered to meet the situation. After Peter and Sandra brought to the lodge they could only stand stunned, thinking, "This isn't right. This couldn't happen—not to us."

So they huddled around the big fireplace, while the caretaker and his wife, and the justice, stayed inside Peter's room. Smoking endless cigarettes and avoiding one another's gaze, they listened for the sound of the car which Blair Lowell was driving and which would bring the doctor from the town.

Finally the caretaker's wife, her arms folded nervously within her apron, walked into the room. They all looked up, expectantly, fearfully. But the good woman came toward Helena.

"Judge Simmons has managed to bring him out of it," she said slowly. "There's no water in Peter's lungs, the judge said. But the concussion?" She looked down at Helena with troubled eyes. "He's asking for you."

"Feeling as if she were in a dream, Helena got up from the davenport and went toward Peter's room. Inside were the minister and the caretaker, but they left when Helena entered. A crazy, irrelevant thought sped through her brain. "Isn't it queer that I should be the one he calls for—when only day before yesterday I meant nothing to him?"

Then suddenly, fearfully, "If Peter dies I'll be a widow. Peter Henderson's widow." Unable to control herself, she flung herself down by the side of the bed and cried, "Peter!

"Peter, you've got to be all right! You're going to be!" His hand crept out weakly from the covers, seeking Helena's soft cheek. "Sure, darling. I—I'm going to be all right." She was frightened at the sound of his voice. His words issued as if with great effort. "The Simmons person says I shouldn't talk too much, but there are some things I want you to do for me."

"You'd better keep quiet, Peter. Blair is bringing the doctor—and after he's been here you can talk." Peter's head moved against the pillow. "That was a foolish thing I did, wasn't it, Helena? But then I'm always doing foolish things. That was something you didn't know yet."

"Peter, to me there's nothing you could do that would seem foolish," Helena told him. "Of course you'll make it right, Peter." Gently she withdrew from his arms, returned his kiss. Then with uncertain steps she found her way into the big main room where every eye watched her entrance.

"Peter wants me to make a long distance call," she said. "He—he seems to be all right." Fain Sutter turned from the window. "There's a car coming up the road. It looks like Blair and the doctor, too!"

Glad for the slightest excuse to break their vigil, the others crowded to the window—but Helena, mindful of Peter's orders, remained in the hallway where the telephone was connected. It was a matter of only a few moments until she was listening to the clear, well-modulated voice of John Courtney.

"Yes, I'm Peter Henderson's attorney. What's the news?" "Mr. Henderson is at Great Mountain Lodge. He—he's been injured, and won't be able to get away for a few days. He wants you to take the plane immediately."

"Injured? The plane?" repeated Courtney. "What's the cause?" "And he asked me to say that you should bring Leah along."

"There was a silence at the other end of the wire. Then: "Yes, yes. Who is this speaking?" "I'm... Mrs. Peter Henderson," Helena said. "How queer it sounded!" "Mrs. Peter Henderson?" "Of course, Peter. Whatever you want."

"And..." he seemed to hesitate just the fraction of a second. "Tell him to bring Leah with him." Peter

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

By ROBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—After two years of Hollywood-Fredde Bartholomew has become completely one of the gang, and as nearly "Americanized" as any English boy could be.

Some say it was working with that young "toughie," Mickey Rooney, and that equal "audacious fellow," Jackie Cooper, in a picture called "The Devil is a Sissy."

Others insist, like his Aunt Mylliecent and his teacher, Miss Mary Murphy, that it is merely the result of Freddie's aptitude for quick adjustments.

Fight Made Him

But mostly the completion of this Americanization process is attributed to Freddie's famous fist fight, his first in Hollywood—and his last of record.

When Freddie came here to make "David Copperfield" he was the proverbial stranger in a strange land—and he was 10 years old besides. He came with a scholarly background and an ability to sling multi-syllabled words in his clipped English accent, or talk like a grown-up when occasion arose, or to play like a kid at every opportunity.

He was decidedly "crieked"—but he was different. He was a little gentleman in an Eton collar, a curly-haired tyke entirely surrounded by American slang, American skyscrapers, strange American sports, and numerous other American phenomena, including children.

Quick On Pickup

Ray Sperry, his stand-in, took care of initiating the newcomer into baseball, football and chewing gum. And on the set with Mickey Rooney, Jackie Cooper, and a hundred other youngsters, Freddie was a ringleader in the goings-on.

By then he had been around quite a bit—had gone to soccer and ice-hockey games, gone on the school-room tour of "points of interest," met Shirley Temple, Jane Withers, Jackie Searl and other film juveniles and was quite a fellow. His teacher used English and American textbooks side by side, giving him the new point of view while retaining the old. And Freddie was, as Aunt Mylliecent says, very quick at adjustment.

But then came the fight. It seems there was a boy who used to yell taunts over the Bartholomew wall, including, "You're a sap!" Freddie felt a fight coming on—and combat was arranged for next day.

Here After 5 Rounds

Miss Murphy thought a fight would do him good, would "get it out of his system," and so did Aunt Mylliecent. They raised no objections. At the appointed hour, Freddie and adversary repaired to the vacant lot. The carnage lasted 25 minutes, or five three-minute rounds with two-minute rest intervals, before the enemy decided Freddie was no longer a sap. They are friends now, but—

Ray Sperry, who was referee, lost no time in getting back to the studio to spread the word around the set, so Freddie was a hero when he arrived back in person.

"Well, you see," as Freddie told his erstwhile opponent, "you should have known that I've been taking boxing lessons every day from Jackie Fields. Jackie's the former world's welterweight champ, you know."

THREE McLEAN BOYS SUFFER POWDER BURNS

McLEAN, Sept. 10—While playing with some explosive powder Wednesday, Von Smith, age 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith; Worley Pugh, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pugh, and Mutt Lee were burned.

The Smith boy was the most severely burned and was carried to a Pampa hospital where he was treated and returned to his home that night. Worley was also burned about the arms and back, but not so severely. The Lee boy was burned only slightly.

OMAHA—When Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Conklin were married in 1886, they stored their wedding cake away in a box as a memento.

When their golden anniversary arrived, they softened the aged pastry by putting fresh lemons in the container and served it.

Pronounced Mrs. Carrie Morse Norton, sister of Mrs. Conklin: "It tasted as fresh as if baked last week."

Giants Beaten By Reds As Cardinals Wallop Bees 3-2

Leaders Now Only 3 And Half Games Ahead

BY SID FEDER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

The pitching problem, which has been the biggest kind of a nightmare to Frankie Frisch all season, finally has caught up with Bill Terry.

And now the pilot of the pace-setting Giants, whose hurling was the envy of the league for weeks, is in just as much of a hole as his closest rival for the National loop flag—Frisch and his Gas House Gang of Cardinals.

This hurling collapse, in which only Carl Hubbell and Freddy Fitzsimmons seem able to hold their own, has made anything but a song and dance out of the Giants' current home stand.

The pitching passed out again in the late innings yesterday and the pesky Reds made it twice straight out of the Giants with a 7-2 decision off Gabbo Gabler. The Cards pulled out their second close one in a row over the troublesome Boston Bees, 3-2, with a 2-run rally in the ninth, and the still dangerous Cubs nosed out the Pirates with an 11-5 win, behind Stan Hack's eighth-inning homer.

This left the Giants only 3 1/2 games in front of the Cards.

When Gabler was belted out in the eighth inning yesterday, it marked the eleventh time in their last 18 games that Giant pitching has failed to go the route.

The Pirates finished their season's series at Brooklyn with an 11-5 win, behind Bill Swift's effective pitching.

In the American league, even though the Yanks have sewed up the pennant, the warfare remained plenty hot in the battling for second and third place. The second-place White Sox were idle, while the Tigers moved up into a third place tie with Washington by bowing over the Senators 5-2, as Tommy Bridges chalked up his twelfth win of the season with a five-hit performance.

Hal Trosky came through with a game-winning homer in the ninth to give the Indians a 5-4 win over the Yankees.

SUTHERLAND MOULDING MIGHTY GRIDIRON CLUB

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 11 (AP)—Dr. John Bain Sutherland is moulding another mighty University of Pittsburgh football machine from a big field of candidates, most of them husky youngsters from the smoke-belching steel and iron towns of western Pennsylvania.

The Panther coach will lead his team through a nine-game schedule with the opener against Ohio Wesleyan on the only "soft spot."

Last year the "Silent Spot" had a top-heavy turnout of sophomores, but these seniors are coming back this year as veterans. There are 18 letters on the squad, and a wealth of reserve material.

Pitt's graduation losses were slight, although Sutherland will have to fill the gaps left by the departure of such stars as Ed Baker, Bob Randour and Captain Nick Klisky.

But early indications are that he will have a powerful backfield, and an experienced line with the center job his only worry.

The halfback standouts are Robert Lurie of Cranberry, Pa., who set a 75-yard run helped rout the Army in 1935; Leo Malurkey, fleet 170-pounder from McDonald, Pa., and John Wood of New Martinsville, W. Va.

Sutherland may find it a problem to fill the center post. The most likely looking prospect is Donald Hensley of Huntington, Pa.

TYLER NEEDS GAME TO REACH FINAL ROUND

(By The Associated Press)

The Tyler Trojans needed only one victory to gain the final round of the playoffs for the East Texas league title. The Gladewater Bruins led the Longview Cannibals two games to one in the other leg of the first round playoff series.

Tyler made it three in a row over Jacksonville last night by turning back the Jax 6 to 3 in a 10-inning game. After the Jax had scored three runs in the first the Trojans tied up the score and went on to win with a three-run spurge in the tenth.

The Bruins defeated Longview 5 to 1 for their second straight win. The winners nipped Uble and Klierer for nine safeties and coasted in behind the effective hurling of Vanorad.

Jacksonville plays at Tyler tonight and Longview at Gladewater.

NINETY TEAMS ENROLLED IN GRID LEAGUE

DISTRICTS CHANGED UP IN NEW DIVISIONS BY HENDERSON

(By The Associated Press)

More than ninety teams battle for the football championship of the Texas Interscholastic League this year.

Roy B. Henderson, athletic director, today announced rosters of the sixteen Class A districts, showing marked changes in a number of sections, different arrangements for bi-district playoffs in others and a substantial increase in teams enrolled.

The largest district is that taking in the strictly West Texas area. Nine teams comprise the made-over Old Belt, always a hot-bed of interclassistic football.

Roughly speaking West and North Texas teams comprise what is known as the northern bracket of districts. East and South Texas make up the others.

The rosters of the districts which may be changed some, though that is not likely, before entries close next Tuesday, follow:

District 1—Amarillo, Borger, Lubbock, Pampa, Plainview.
District 2—Childress, Electra, Graham, Olney, Quanah, Vernon, Wichita Falls.
District 3—Abilene, Big Spring, Breckenridge, Brownwood, Cisco, Eastland, Ranger, San Angelo, and Sweetwater.

District 4—Austin (El Paso), Bowie (El Paso), El Paso high, Fabens, Ysleta.
District 5—Bonham, Denison, Gainesville, Paris, Sherman.
District 6—Denton, Greenville, Highland Park (Dallas), McKinney, Sulphur Springs.

District 7—Port Worth senior high schools, Masonic Home (Ft. Worth), Mineral Wells.
District 8—Dallas senior high schools.
District 9—Gladewater, Kilgore, Longview, Marshall, Texarkana, Tyler.

District 10—Athens, Henderson, Jacksonville, Lufkin, Mexia, Nacogdoches, Palestine.
District 11—Bryan, Cleburne, Corsicana, Hillsboro, Temple, Waco, Waxahachie.

District 12—Austin, Harlandale (San Antonio), Kerrville, San Antonio senior high schools.
District 13—Conroe, Houston senior high schools.
District 14—Beaumont, Galveston, Goose Creek, Port Arthur, South Park (Beaumont).

District 15—Corpus Christi, Kingsville, Laredo, Robstown, Victoria.
District 16—Brownsville, Edinburg, Harlingen, McAllen, Pharr-San Juan, San Benito, Weslaco.

'SCOTTY' CAMPBELL IS FAVORITE IN TOURNEY

GARDEN CITY, N. Y., Sept. 11 (AP)—Pick Albert "Scotty" Campbell of Seattle over Johnny Goodman as the man to beat in the National Amateur Golf championship starting Monday.

"The extremes of Campbell's game are unusually sound, and if you can drive and putt here you'll be hard to beat."

This from Jock McLean, the whisky salesman from Glasgow who with Hector Thompson, the British amateur champion, is conceded the best chance among the players from the other side.

Despite their inglorious showing in the cup matches, the British players have taken heart at the sight of the Garden City course. Here the wind is high, and the greens firm and fast. Furthermore, the greens are generally on the level of the fairway and are excellent targets for the favorite British pitch and run shot.

"We feel more at home here," said Dr. William Tweddell, the British captain. "The turf has some of that seaside spring we know at home. The greens are solid and demand a good touch."

BARBERS HILL WINS

HOUSTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Barbers Hill was the semi-pro baseball champion of the state today by virtue of a 3 to 0 victory over the Thompson Gulf Oilers in the Houston Post tournament last night. Barbers Hill won six games and lost none in the tournament.

WELL QUALIFIED

JOHNNY FISCHER
CINCINNATI BOY AND FORMER MICHIGAN STAR BECAME A DISTINCT THREAT TO AMATEUR BASEBALL TROUPE AT GARDEN CITY, L. I., SEPT. 14-19. FISCHER'S 137 QUALIFYING SCORE AT BROOKLYNE, MASS., TOPPED THE FIELD OF NEARLY 1000 SIMON PURES.

He is going around with a lame back after a hand injury that makes him wince at every ball he stops—and a first baseman stops them often and hard.

Despite his ailments, however, he continues near the big league hitting leadership. He's a leader in run-scoring, runs-batted-in, and home-run hammering.

Coupled with this performance record, is the fact that he is the field captain of Murderers' Row, which means that next to manager Joe McCarthy, he's boss to the boys. And in some ways his leadership means more in a tight spot in the ball game than does McCarthy's from the bench.

With Lou as the spark plug, the Yankee machine has been posted at odds of 1-4 to take the pennant—odds that stood up even during a recent hitting slump and the rush of the Cleveland Indians and Chicago White Sox.

Gehrig, the aging but still agile Tony Lazzeri, the young Frank Crosetti at shortstop, make a team near tops in the American league as a double-play combination.

At third is Red Rolfe, who isn't up to the rest of the infield, nor does he approach Joe Dugan, his predecessor in the Miller Huggins-Babe Ruth era, but he's still plenty good. And, as is the case with the rest of the homicide squad, any errors he does pull are more than made up for by his hitting.

Lou and Lazzeri are the sole survivors of the Ruthian era. They also were the infield mainstays of the last Yankee pennant machine, back in 1932, when the Chicago Cubs were beaten in four straight games in the World Series.

Team Rebuilt

The holes that have developed since then have been plugged up light by farm-system developments and expensive purchases of classy baseball ivory from other sources.

There was considerable rebuilding to do after the last championship combination packed its bats. Babe Ruth was aging. So was Earl Combs. Joe Sewell wasn't altogether satisfactory at third base. Ben Chapman was becoming dissatisfied with the way he was being treated. Most of the pitching staff had seen their best days.

So owner Jake Ruppert and Manager McCarthy put their heads together, began bringing up youngsters from the No. 1 Yankee farm, Newark's International league Bears, and trading or buying others. The final gear in the machine was installed when Joe Di Maggio, easily the 1936 rookie sensation, was bought from San Francisco for $75,000 or more.

COUNTERFEITING LAID TO BORGAN IN CHARGE

BORGES, Sept. 11—Bond of $2,000 had not been made this morning by Roy Hooker, charged here yesterday for illegal possession of chemicals and material used in counterfeiting bills.

Arrested here Saturday by officers of the sheriff's department, Hooker faced preliminary hearing yesterday afternoon before Justice E. L. Butts and is held for action in the next grand jury. Officers found that he is under $4,000 bond on a federal charge of the same nature at Dallas.

A companion arrested with Hooker was assessed a fine for vagrancy but was not connected with the other charges. Both were transients.

SHOT AT CENTENNIAL

DALLAS, Sept. 11 (AP)—A bullet in the temple critically wounded John Pope, 17, of Birmingham, in front of a shooting gallery at the Texas Centennial central exposition here today. The gun, a .22 caliber rifle, was in Pep's hands, the concession operator said.

'LARRUPIN' LOU' MARCHES ON AS KEY MAN OF YANK DEFENSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Credit Iron Horse Lou Gehrig with the No. 1 part in making the 1936 Yankee homicide squad the shortest of short odd shots to take a pennant in baseball history.

When Babe Ruth was the terror of pitchers in the American league, there was a saying on the diamond—"as Ruth goes, so go the Yankees."

The Babe is gone now, but the Little Bambino has taken his place as the inspiration and leader of as rollicking a crew of ball-batters as Ruth headed in the old days.

Sluggo Lou has played nearly 1,800 successive games. He's played with injuries that would have put most baseball men on a hospital cot.

Right now he is going around with a lame back after a hand injury that makes him wince at every ball he stops—and a first baseman stops them often and hard.

Despite his ailments, however, he continues near the big league hitting leadership. He's a leader in run-scoring, runs-batted-in, and home-run hammering.

Bearded Beauties to Play Road Runners

The opening gun of the final week of baseball in Pampa will be fired tomorrow night at 8:15 o'clock at Road Runner park when the popular H-use of David bearded beauties come here for a single game.

Next week Pampa will be the scene of four great games when the Kansas City Monarchs, near champions, and the Negro National league All Stars with Satchel Paige, "Cool Papa" Bell, and a host of other great players come here for four games. The 1936 season will wind up on Sept. 22 when Buck Lay and his Hawaiian All Stars play the Road Runners.

Old and young make up the House of David team. The oldsters are Doc Talley, who has been with the team more than 20 years, John Tucker, with 15 years experience with the team, and Andy Anderson, a veteran of 10 years.

Leading the youngsters are Sam Scaling, former Danziger Road Runner star, former sensational shortstop, Hutson, slugging outfielder, Flynn, a steady catcher and Marlowe and Frantz, new infielders. Pitchers include Daisy, who lost a thumb in a fight with the pitcher of the Indians, and a veteran first baseman, Dacus, a lefthander who started the season with Amarillo, and Henry, a new speedball right-hander.

Manager Sam Hale will start either Daney or Carl Stewart against the Indians. The Indian right-hander held the slugging Davids to nine hits when they passed through here in the spring. Scaling collected two of the singles on his last trips to the plate. This time, Scaling will be in center field instead of in left field, which is now patrolled by Anderson, who in turn has been replaced at third by Marlowe, a newcomer. Hanson, veteran second baseman, has also been replaced. Frantz, a youngster, is his successor.

All Summer, Road Runner second baseman, is scheduled to play for tomorrow night's game. He has been in Oklahoma for two weeks, being called there when his wife was injured in an automobile accident near Stroud.

The famous House of David pep game, always a crowd pleaser, will be staged again, this time with more tricks than ever. A large Saturday night crowd is expected to attend.

Advance sale of tickets for the All Star games is brisk. Duets will be heard in the box office at Road Runner park tomorrow night.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By The Associated Press)

Paul Derringer, Reds—Stopped Giants with seven hits.

Hal Trosky, Indians—his ninth-inning homer with mate on base beat Yankees 5-4.

Stan Hack, Cubs—hit homer in eighth for winning run against Phillies.

Tommy Bridges, Tigers—limited Senators to five hits.

Frankie Frisch, Cardinals—hit homer with two on against Bruins.

Frankie Frisch, Cardinals—his single struck winning rally against Bees.

Paul Waner, Pirates—his two singles drove in three runs against Dodgers.

WHEELER MUSTANGS TO PLAY MIAMI WARRIORS

WHEELER, Sept. 11—The Wheeler Mustangs of Coach Bob Clark will open the 1936 football season tonight against the Miami Warriors. Game time will be 8 o'clock.

It will be the rubber game of a three game series. In 1934, Miami defeated the Mustangs, 6 to 0. Last year Wheeler downed the Warriors by the same score. Who will win tonight?

Miami has one of the best punters in this section in Locke, brother of the former Miami coach, Ellis Locke. His educated toe is expected to offset Wheeler's size and passing.

STATE'S RIGHTS ISSUE PROJECTED INTO CAMPAIGN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—President Roosevelt returned to the capital today to address the third world power conference, attended by representatives of three score nations, after a declared speech in which he declared the existence of "a practical prosperity."

He set to work at the White House on the finishing touches of his power address. Yesterday he projected a new deal "prosperity" and state's rights issue before a rain drenched outdoor audience in Charlotte, N. C.

In his speech at the seven state "Green Pastures" rally the President posed several questions which his reelection managers have said would figure prominently in the presidential campaign.

He spoke of having turned that "now historic corner," the depression; of a "definite upturn" in business; of "better condition" on the farm and in factories and homes; of "back in the black" and of record-breaking low interest rates on borrowings.

All of this, he asserted, had been attained without endangering "individual liberties" or invading the "inherent rights of the sovereign states."

He did not refer to the Supreme Court by name, but he drew applause as he spoke highly of the NRA and AAA, and added: "It was obvious, of course, because of the economic unity of the entire country that no group of individuals and no individual states could by themselves, take the action necessary to restore the purchasing power of the nation."

MARKET BEEFS

NEW YORK, Sept. 11. (AP)—Stocks were off balance during the greater part of today's market session but an assortment of leaders rallied in the final hour under the leadership of aircraft, amusements and specialties. Minor signs were still plentiful, however, as the close. Transfers approximated 1,400,000 shares.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 11. (AP)—Sharp bulges in prices carrying all Winnipeg wheat futures to above $1.00 a bushel gave persistent buoyancy today to the Chicago wheat market.
Late estimates were that more than 1,500,000 bushels of Canadian wheat had been bought today for overseas. Reports of a bumper crop in Argentina were received from Argentina.
Wheat closed strong, 1 cent to 1 1/2 above yesterday's finish. Sept. 1.12 1/2, Dec. 1.11 1/2-1.12, corn 1/4-1/4 up, Sept. 1.12 1/4-1/4, Dec. 95-95 1/4, oats 1/4-1/4 advanced, and provisions varying from 2 cents lower to a raise of 10 cents.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 11. (AP)—Prices slipped a few points from the early highs, but managed to keep above the previous closing levels during the morning. More bidding appeared and there was little trade and speculative buying to absorb it.
Oct. sold at 12.08, compared with an early top of 12.17, Dec. at 12.12, March at 11.98 and May at 11.99 were from 2 to 5 points higher.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Sept. 11. (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow: "Following the holiday, the market has rallied rather slowly, sales have been made in some quarters in a fair way but no large turnover is reported, while prices keep steady."
Interest is turning naturally to the opening of the London colonial auctions, Tuesday, especially since this country is now at import parity. Bradford top prices indicate that in Yorkshire that London will hold fairly steady. Australia has shown little net change for the week.
"New business at the mills is slow. Deliveries on old contracts continues fair."
In the west, there has been less buying of wool, but something over a million pounds of the new fall clip of mohair was sold at 54 and 55 cents for adults and a dime more for the kids.
The Bulletin will publish the following quotations:
Texas: Fine 12 months (selected) 87-89; fine short twelve months 85-87; fine 8 months 82-83; fall 78-80.
Mohair: Domestic, good original bag, Texas spring 60-61; cents; Texas kid 75-78; Arizona and New Mexican, 55-56, Oregon 57-58.

400 WARPLANES FOLLOW HITLER TO CONVENTION

Anti-Soviet Campaign Given Background At Nurnberg

BY WADE WARNER (Copyright, 1936, By The Associated Press) NURNBERG, Germany, Sept. 11.—The throbbing motors of 400 warplanes gave a military background today to Nazi Germany's anti-Soviet campaign—a crusade which observers believed was approaching announcement of practical steps against Bolshevism.

The planes, trimotored bombers flying in formation, pursuit planes and craft of other types, awakened delegates and visitors in this Nazi convention city at dawn. Finally, approximately 400 planes were assembled at airports around Nurnberg in preparation for demonstrations scheduled Monday.

At the congress itself, German departmental leaders took up the anti-Bolshevist campaign where Adolf Hitler, Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, Dr. Alfred Rosenberg and Rudolf Hess had left off.

Hermann Reischle, Nazi agricultural leader, in a speech contrasted "the ruthless exploitation of Soviet Russian peasants for the benefit of a clique of Jewish parasites" with what he said were the German fuhrer's constructive efforts on behalf of German farmers.

The anti-Bolshevist campaign appeared to be leading so systematically and practically and that it was believed widely some definite step was imminent. Some persons have suggested this might take the form of withdrawal of the German Ambassador to Moscow.

had come to see wild animals, trained animals.
Children Shunted About.
The rather small tent was packed to circus rings. Hundreds of children were called out of the stands by circus attendants to sit on the ground around the tent where they had in order to make room for adults. During the performance, these children were shifted from one side to the other to make room for acts. The show was the second circus disappointment in a row for Pampa the past year. Last year they packed Seal Brothers circus as they did the Robbins show last night, and came away frustrated and chagrined. However, the Seal Brothers circus was far superior to the Robbins collection. Seal Brothers at least had a menagerie for the children. The dog act which opened the show was the best act of the program. After the lone elephant performed, the show was a Sahara, a desert of boredom.

So, it seems, circuses are necessary, and since local residents are determined to go to the circus, even if it is a bad one, it behooves all of us to see to it that the next circus that stops here is a good one, and that we pay our good money for both quality and quantity. It doesn't pay to continuously disappoint the children. Pampa has proved itself to be a good circus town and circus fans here deserve a good circus.

M'LEAN POLO TEAM TO PLAY ROUGH RIDERS NEXT SUNDAY

NO. 3 — (Continued From Page 1)

Polo, which has been dormant because of the terrific heat and powdery playing field, will be brought to life here again Sunday afternoon when the McLean Mounted Tigers play the Pampa Rough Riders at 3:30 o'clock on the North Hobart street field, a half mile west of Harvester field. Admission will be 25 cents for adults, with school pupils admitted free.

The Pampans, still minus their captain, M. C. Overton, have been practicing steadily for the past month. They have been showing better team play and more accuracy in hitting the ball than at any time since polo was first introduced to Pampa.

McLean's riders were organized a few months ago by Arthur Dwyer, veteran player from the east. He took a bunch of cowboys, mounted them on fast rodeo horses, and in no time had a crack team. In a game played last month, McLean held the Pampans to a 3 to 2 score in a well-played game.

Probable starting lineups will be: Pampa—Bill Harwell, No. 1; Joe Bowers, No. 2; Hub Burrow, No. 3; Jack Cooper, No. 4, Otto Studer, alternate.
McLean—Ed Clifton, No. 1; Arthur Dwyer, No. 2; George Saye, No. 3; Jack Heffner, No. 4; Edwin Howard and Turner Kirby, alternates.

CREDIT GROUPS WILL MEET HERE ON SUNDAY

Pampa merchants and professional men doing credit business are invited to attend the annual conference of credit bureau managers, credit grantors and bureau secretaries in the Schneider Hotel Sunday, beginning at 9 o'clock.
Walter Daugherty, manager of the Pampa Credit association, said this morning that every member of the local organization, and non-members doing credit business, should be present at the meeting.

The morning session will be a joint gathering of all present. At noon a dinner will be served in the Schneider hotel. The price will be 75 cents.
The afternoon will be given over to divisional meetings, the credit grantors session in charge of J. A. Hazelwood of Amarillo, president, and the bureau managers and secretaries meeting being under direction of R. E. Townsend of Amarillo, president.

Two addresses will feature the morning session when Reno Stinson of Pampa and Sol Morgenstein of Borger will be the speakers. Afternoon meetings will be largely round table discussion under competent leaders.

SCOUTMASTERS TO MEET

A scoutmasters' round-table meeting will be held at Scout Headquarters in the city hall, Monday night, Sept. 14, at 7:30 o'clock. Of the meeting, the president, Walter F. G. Stein said, "We want to coordinate plans for the fall program and adjust all matters that have come up during the vacation months. Please be there and bring others with you."

LATE NEWS

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 11 (AP)—Donald Budge, the chief American contender, defeated Frank Parker of Spring Lake, N. J., 6-4, 6-3, 6-3, today and gained the final round of the U. S. H was by far the best showing Budge has made on American Turf this summer and heartened the hopes of his supporters that he will preserve the championship for the United States against the dangerous challenge from Fred Perry, English winner of the title.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Sept. 11 (AP)—A small fire, "undoubtedly deliberate" was discovered aboard the U. S. Indianapolis on August 25 while it was undergoing routine overhaul in the Brooklyn navy yard, Captain C. A. Dunn, manager of the yard, said today. Captain Dunn said in a statement, that the fire was due to a short circuit in some of the auxiliary power cables and that damage was confined to the cables.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 11 (AP)—Helen Jacobs of Berkeley, Calif., vanquished Kay Stammers, British southpaw, 6-4, 6-3, and advanced to the finals of the U. S. singles tennis championship in her bid for her fifth straight title.

FOOD, DRINK HANDLERS LEAGUE PUSHED HERE

A movement to organize a Pampa local of the Hotel and Restaurant Employees' International Alliance and Bartenders' International League of America was launched here today by Morris G. Drapkin, international representative of the organization which has headquarters in Cincinnati, O.

Drapkin said his plans call for establishing a local branch of the culinary workers and bartenders, comprising a membership of waiters, waitresses, cooks and bartenders. "The purpose of the organization," Drapkin stated, "is to elevate the standard of living, and to foster legislation that will keep the restaurant industry in the restaurant business."

Drapkin said he will be in Pampa long enough to establish the union.

TEACHERS ARE SCARCER THAN IN LONG TIME

UTAH NEEDS ELEMENTARY GRADE SCHOOL TEACHERS

By BESS FURMAN Associated Press Staff Writer WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Things are looking up for the school ma'am.
Educational experts said today that after being seriously curtailed in the depths of the depression, employment opportunities for teachers are improving.

This marks a reversal of a trend of several years.
Now comes the state of Utah with a report of a "comparative scarcity of elementary grade school teachers" because of "better times and marriage," a report not surprising to the National Education Association.

Starting with 1934, officials there said today, teachers' opportunities have been getting better.
"Courses that were cut from the curriculum because of the depression are being restored," said Belmont Farley, NEA official. "Such subjects as domestic science, manual training, and physical education, which had won a real place for themselves in the schools are again being demanded, and their restoration will mean more teachers."

J. Ross Tennant of Pentress, W. Va., is visiting here with his nephews, Glenn and Earl Pentress.
Mrs. Harry E. Hoare, Mrs. Louie Behrens and Mrs. Mary Dugger visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Dugger in Amarillo today.

and to call a series of meetings where plans of the organization will be outlined to those interested.
Employers' cooperation, he stated, is one of the aims of the organization. Drapkin said he had just completed organizing a local of 100 members at Amarillo.

"HOME OF QUALITY MERCHANDISE"

THIS IS NO GAG!

We're Selling Suits BELOW COST To Make A Profit!

Perhaps you've heard the old vaudeville gag about the merchant who tearfully claimed that he was losing money on every suit—but he was selling thousands of them.

It sounds funny—but to us it's a serious matter, because it's exactly what we're doing, and here's the net of it: We are going to sell Curlee Suits for $7.50! At this price we are offering you a standard brand quality clothing, which, under ordinary conditions we COULDN'T POSSIBLY AFFORD TO SELL FOR LESS THAN $25! In order to arrive at the $7.50 price, we HAD TO FIGURE OUR TOTAL STORE SALES ON A BASIS GREATLY IN EXCESS OF OUR NORMAL VOLUME!

Here is how we expect it to work out for us: We'll gain new customers and increased good will for our store with this unusual offer. YOUR good will is a valuable asset to us and we'll find it profitable in the future! Furthermore, the extra sales on other merchandise will increase our total store sales to a volume which will more than offset the loss on the suits.

IT IS a gamble. If we get the additional volume, well and good. We make a modest profit. In the meanwhile, every suit we sell is actually sold at a loss.

All that we ask is that you inspect this clothing. You'll be amazed to see how much fine clothes fabric, needlework, and authentic styling $7.50 will really buy for you!

One Assortment $25 Suits $7.50

One Assortment of Year-'round Gray Curlee Suits $15.50

SOUTHWEST TO OPEN SEASON IN NINE DAYS

TWO-DAY DRILLS IN SCORCHING HEAT UNDER WAY

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT Associated Press Sports Writer
Toasted by finally won "believers" the nation over last fall, the Southwest conference suited up Thursday for the kickoff of a football season which could bring a letdown or swing into the smooth stride of 1935.

Two-day drills started in scorching heat as coaches hurriedly prepared for opening combats, which, in the cases of Texas Christian and Rice Institute, come only nine days hence.

Stripped of its biggest names—Bobby Wilson, Darrell Lester, Bill Wallace, John McCauley, Harry Shuford, Truman Spain and many others—the conference, which boasted Rose and Sugar Bowl teams last year, will lean heavily on heralded sophomores and juniors.

Broken by graduation but quickly bolstered by sophomores and squadmen, the Southern Methodist aerial circus hoisted its tent and started work with Coach Matty Bell making no rash promises. Nucleus of the team lies in three veterans of the Rose Bowl—Bob Finley and Johnnie Sprague, backs, and Paschal Scottino, a guard.

"Slingin' Sam" Baugh and 16 lettermen made the picture brighter at Texas Christian. The Sugar Bowl champions have their bullet passer and four veteran wingmen—Willie Walls, Walter Roach, L. D. Meyer and Charlie Neesham—almost a football team for an air-minded bunch. At least one veteran from last year's squad will be available at every post.

Pre-season tipsters have almost planted the trophy in Texas A. and M.'s possession. Not since the days of Joel Hunt and Co., back in 1927, have prospects been so encouraging. Aggie backers claim they have a "Moses" in Dick Todd, brilliant sophomore triple-threat, who will lead a floundering team out of the wilderness. Rich sophomore material in the line, plus 16 lettermen, make the tipsters look almost like experts.

Veteran coaches sound a warning about Baylor's Golden Bears. The crack backfield of Lloyd Russell, Carl Brazell, Bob Masters and "Bubba" Gernand, which played regularly last year, is back, as well as four veterans in the line and hefty sophomore material.

The sophomore team which ranged for University of Arkansas last year, giving everyone trouble and never losing by more than a touchdown, has gained in experience. To lead them, Coach Fred Thomson has Jack Robbins, whom he terms "the finest of all Southwest backs." Robbins is a brilliant passer, kicker and slippery-hipped runner.

A veteran backfield is the pride of Coach Chevigny at the University of Texas. Arnold, Pitzer, Wolfe, Sheridan, Sands, and Atchison—the latter two a pair of fleet broken field runners—make his ball carrying department equal to anything in the conference. The veteran Clint Small will be back to head a line of unknown quality.

Coach Jimmy Kitts at Rice Institute must start all over. He lost 15 men, most of them regulars, by graduation. He has three great backs in Co-Captain Buck Friedman, Roy Royall and Johnny Neece, but the line was shattered.

BEN BERNIE AND LADS WILL PLAY AT GENERAL MOTORS AT CENTENNIAL

DALLAS, Sept. 11—The opening of Ben Bernie, the old Maestro, and his famous radio and dance orchestra, in the General Motors auditorium at the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas, will be a highlight of General Motors day at the exposition on September 11. Bernie and his band will be presented in free afternoon and evening concerts in the General Motors Auditorium for a twelve-day engagement starting on the 11th of September.

cultives will arrive in Dallas on the morning of the eleventh to visit the Dallas exposition.

In the party will be Richard H. Grant, vice-president in charge of sales; William S. Knudsen, executive vice-president in charge of all car, truck, body and accessory operations of General Motors; Lawrence P. Fisher, vice-president in charge of styling development; J. W. Dineen, sales director, and Paul W. Garrett, public relations director.

Officials of both the Dallas and Port Worth expositions will be hosts to the General Motors executives at luncheons to be attended by outstanding civic and business leaders of the cities.

Several hundred dealers of General Motors products in this region will visit the Dallas and Fort Worth expositions with the executives.

NEW SOIL PROGRAM TO AID LIVESTOCK GROUP

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—The new soil conservation program embracing the western livestock industry was hailed by agricultural adjustment officials today as the basis for a "broad range improvement program" next year if stockmen want it.

Moving swiftly to put into operation the new program, which is effective for the remaining four months of this year, officials said they expected it to be the foundation for a larger program if it met with favor.

The new program, announced by Secretary Wallace Wednesday, will permit stockmen in 13 western states—Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Kansas, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oregon, Utah, Washington, and Wyoming—to receive benefit payments for certain range-building practices.

Payments will be made from the $470,000,000 available for distribution this year under the soil conservation act.

The agriculture department announced the range program would apply to private owned or controlled land and would be available to any stockman. It is to be operated on a voluntary basis.

JOHN GARNER SPENDS MUCH TIME LOOKING AFTER HIS SQUIRRELS

UVALDE, Sept. 11 (AP)—Vice President John Nance Garner discovered recently that nine squirrels living in the pecan trees on his eight-acre place here do not need the subsidy of ear corn he placed each morning on the fence back of his home. He turned it over to the squirrels. Then he observed the rodents were putting away eight nuts for every two they ate. He resolved to withdraw the corn subsidy but learned that some ten or twelve baby squirrels are on the way and concluded the parents needed some reserve.

Mr. Garner is enjoying his vacation. He goes to bed at 9 p. m. and awakens at 6 o'clock each morning. He drinks one cup of coffee upon arising but smokes several cigars without removing the bands. His uniform of the day usually is a pair of old trousers which reach to about two inches above the ankle, a pair of comfortable shoes and a white shirt open at the neck. He has a small den at the south side of the residence containing a rug from a panther killed by himself. His mail averages more than 50 letters daily.

For awhile he sat on the front porch and waved at tourists who came by, but the number became so large he retired to the kingdom of his back yard.

Last week he moved into town his flock of geese and ducks from his 70-acre ranch. Water runs into drinking reservoirs for them. There is a wild-turkey hen with a brood of one that engages his attention most of all. She hides out with her brood in the weeds and he sees her infrequently.

Recently Mr. Garner advertised for bantam hens and got about 60 from the children of Uvalde. He says the bantam hen is the best of mothers and sets them on Rhode Island Red and duck eggs. One of Mr. Garner's chickens he believes is the ugliest on earth. It is an African with white feathers. Under the grape arbor are five lambs the vice president is treating for screw worms. In the barbecue pit are signs of a recent barbecue done by the vice presidential hands.

Sheep are kept on the place to eat the live oak sprouts rising from the roots of the big trees in the yard. Sitting in a box is a bantam hen from Maine hatching out some pheasant eggs. Mr. Garner's interest in horticulture is shown by an avocado tree he has just grafted.

Mr. Garner does a lot of fishing and visiting at his ranch in the country. He also has found time for reading and describes "My Country and My People," by Lin Yutang, the best book he has read in several years.

Q. What is the largest tributary of the Brazos river? E. F. B. Waco.

A. Little river, which is formed by the Leon and Lampasas, is the largest and most dangerous of the many streams flowing into the Brazos.

Q. Where was Fort Mason and when was it occupied? T. H. Meridian.

A. It was erected about 1856 by the Federal government at Mason, about one half mile from the courthouse, and for a time was commanded by Gen. Robert E. Lee. No battles were fought there and it was abandoned in 1868, only a few stones remaining to show its location.

Q. For what purpose is the monument to be erected near LaGrange? R. M. Gorman.

A. To commemorate the decimation of the Mer expedition victims and the Dawson massacre, the Texas Centennial commission is erecting a tall shaft to cost $10,000 at the spot where the bones of the victims lie buried in a stone-lined vault. The monument will overlook for miles the part of the Colorado valley where the victims had lived—both undertakers.

MAN JAILED, DEMANDS LUPE FOR HIS SQUAW

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 11 (AP)—Skeptical police held for mental observation today Frank Joseph Wittman, 31, of Milwaukee, who stood on a Hollywood street corner near the home of Lupe Velez and shouted: "Hi-yi-yi hi-yi-yi! I'm a chief of the Creek tribe and Lupe's my squaw. Where is she, you pale-faces?"

Without an answer to his question, Wittman was escorted to jail yesterday by Officers L. Baraba and Ed Correll on suspicion of disturbing the peace.

Elaborating on his story, punctuated by whoops, Wittman said: "Lupe Velez is a Chickasaw princess. At a tribal council she was given to me, and I'm here to claim her. I've sent word to Johnny Weismuller, who's been looking after her for me, that I'm going to exercise my tribal right as soon as I've found her tepee."

STORE-KEEPER IS SHOT TWICE BY HI-JACKER

MASON, Sept. 11 (AP)—N. J. Johnson, 58, found two hours after he had been shot twice by a man attempting to rob him at his store at Erma, 18 miles west of here, was sent to a hospital in Brady this morning in critical condition. He has bullet wounds in a leg and a lung.

Johnson said a stranger had entered the store, made a purchase and then attempted to hold him up and had shot at him five or six times. Menard, Kimble and Mason officers had found no trace of the bandit. Marvin Eckert and Fritz Mogford found Johnson.

When President Opened Span Honoring Mark Twain

Climaxing the ceremony of dedicating the $750,000 Mark Twain Memorial bridge across the Mississippi river at Hannibal, Mo., President Roosevelt is shown as he held his scissors ready to cut the ribbon held by Gov. Guy B. Park of Missouri, left. Speaking to a throng that packed the vicinity of the bridge for blocks, the president declared that the span stands symbolic of what can be done by co-operation of federal and local governments. In his address, he paid a glowing tribute to the life and works of the famed author whom the bridge honors.

McLEAN SCHOOLS ENROL 689 AS TERM ACTIVITIES START

McLEAN, Sept. 11.—With the second week of school well under way, enrollment has reached 689, including 285 in high school. Several new faces are seen among faculty members. Marcus Graham of Quitaque is teaching in high school and assisting Bill Allen in coaching. Miss Sarah Truett is teaching science in the high school. Grade school has the following new instructors: Principal Sam Branch, Joe Dotson, arithmetic teacher; Miss Ima Nell Still, geography and history in fourth and fifth grades; Mrs. Marie Vogel, primary; Miss Helen Welch of Canyon, English.

New Bus Ordered School children in the group who have been riding a cattle truck in order to reach school here believe that there is a Santa Claus after the Board of City Development announced Wednesday that it will make a down payment on a modern bus for their transportation. Private subscriptions are being made to finance the purchase.

Pep Squad Organized In loyal support of the McLean Tigers, the girls' Pep Squad organized for the year, Tuesday, Julia McCarty was elected president; Wilma Sue West, secretary-treasurer; reporter, Margaret Kennedy; social committee, Jesse Mae Lynch, Shirley Johnston, Melita Turman, leaders; Marietta Young and Eula Faye Foster; sponsor, Miss Elizabeth Kennedy. Other members of the pep squad are: Seniors: Goldie Finley, Veta Lankford, Lois Bowen, Hazel Dyer, Mary Alice Patterson, May Belle Grogan, Louise Higgins; Juniors: Letta Mae Phillips, Frankie Roth, Mary Louise Bralley, Eva Dowell, Juanita Hancock; Sophomores: Velma Mann, Ruth Thacker, Dorothy Sitter, Mabel Back, Willie Louelle Cobb, Marquetta Payne, Naomi Gunn, Georgia Colebank, Vada Applegate, Josie Lee Lane; Freshmen: Cleo Ledbetter, Lois Bradstreet, Gwendolyn Koen, Gail Harris.

Library Course Offered For the first time in the history of McLean high school, a course in library science is being taught. Miss Lillian Abbott is the teacher and the following students have enrolled: Wilbur Lee Wilson, Howard Burr, Zoelena Lankford, Chloe Haynes, Ramah Lou Rippey, Lydia Moore, Perry Masterson, Lawrence Jones, Norma Lee Rickard, Marquetta Payne, Fleet Cunningham, Maxine Duret, Wilma Holmes, Frances Petty, Arlene Pienn, Paul Sullivan, Theopolis Henly, Irene Pettit, May Bell Grogan, Morris Turner, and Jeff Coffey. Classes Organized That most students are glad vacation time is over is evident by the enthusiasm with which class organization has gone forward the first few days of school. Miss Jewell Cousins has been elected sponsor of the seniors who have 41 enrolled in their class. Avonril Christian is president; Eula Faye Foster, sec-treas.

ARTIFICIAL MALE SEX HORMONES ANNOUNCED

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Sept. 11 (AP)—New artificial male sex hormones with "approximately five times the activity" of the natural substance were announced today at the Harvard tercentenary by Dr. Leopold Ruzicka, Swiss chemist from Zurich. He suggested the artificial hormones might be improvements on nature, but said it would be years before any uses for man would likely be found. Dr. Ruzicka a year ago made the first artificial male sex hormone. This chemical "synthesis" was important because natural sources have not yielded enough of the hormone for experiment. The artificial hormone acted on animals the same as the natural one. The deduction from experiments is that the male sex hormone reacts with other chemicals in the body, and that its specific effect on any part of the body depends partly on the chemicals it finds there.

REBELS CLAIM 2,000 FOES DIE IN BATTLE (Copyright, 1936, By The Associated Press) BURGOS, Spain, Sept. 11.—The rebel "nationalist" junta announced today that more than 2,000 Spanish government troops had been killed in an ill-fated attack on the island of Mallorca. The attack occurred Sept. 4, the junta announced. A government column of 6,000 men participated, and the insurgents said only about 4,000 were able to retreat by ship to Valencia. A dozen cannon, 21 machine guns, 600,000 cartridges and 200 hand grenades were reported taken by the rebels. The newspaper Diario de Burgos, at the same time said a "final" attack on San Sebastian, in the north, was imminent and that negotiations for surrender of that city had failed because the government defenders demanded unmoistened removal of "red" militiamen to Bilbao to aid the defense there.

LAW SUIT IS FILED TO HOLD COUNTY CAPITAL MERTZON, Sept. 11 (AP)—A lawsuit was filed in 51st district court of Irion county yesterday in which Sherwood citizens ask for an injunction to prevent the final removal of the Irion county courthouse from Sherwood to Mertzton, Judge John P. Sution of San Angelo set next Wednesday for a hearing, which may be the first case tried in Irion's third courthouse. The Mertzton building has not been officially designated as the place in which to hold all court sessions, but the officials all have moved there and they took the courtroom fixtures with them. Designation of the courthouse is expected at Monday's regular meeting of the commissioners. Sherwood, the county seat since organization of the county in 1889, alleges that the required 10 years had not elapsed since the last Irion county seat removal election April 2, 1927.

RING BARED DUNKIRK, N. Y.—Because he left a "ring" around a bathtub Harry Evans was in the city jail tonight. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Kusher spied the "ring" when they returned home from an evening at the county fair and started looking for an intruder. Kusher found Evans hiding in a clothes closet. Pleading guilty to entering, Evans told Judge Anthony Johnson he needed a job and thought he also needed a bath before applying for one. He got ten days.

SIAMESE TWINS FILE SUIT TO VOID NUPTIALS

Couple Married for 'Pecuniary Advantages'

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 11 (AP)—Violet Hilton, of the Siamese twins, and James Moore, her husband and dancing partner, today professed still to be friends in spite of a joint suit for annulment of their marriage filed here Wednesday.

The suit claimed the young couple had never been in love and that they were married "for pecuniary advantage" as a publicity stunt in the Cotton Bowl stadium at the Texas Centennial on July 18.

Annulment was asked by both because they had never given their free consent to "a legal and binding marriage," were not in love and had never lived together as man and wife.

Officials of the Texas Centennial said they had no connection with the marriage of the couple except that they leased the "Cotton Bowl" where the wedding took place.

Asked whether she had any intention of marrying again, Violet replied "not any time soon."

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Sept. 11 (AP)—More than 20 years ago, C. V. Terrell, member of the Railroad Commission, helped a debate in which Gov. Allred participated. He recalled the event recently.

"I was a state senator and T. P. Walker, now a clerk in the state department of education and then superintendent of schools at Bowie, asked me to judge a high school debate," Terrell said.

"Three boys and a girl were entered and the three judges voted for the girl and boy team. When Jimmie Allred became attorney general he reminded me he was on the losing side. Jimmie made a good speech, but not as good as that girl's."

Experts in the treasurer's and comptroller's departments say the deficits in the general revenue and Confederate pension funds should cause no alarm. Instead, they direct attention to the excellent condition of several other important funds and the record-breaking income from gasoline, cigarette and gross production oil taxes.

"Any big business would be tickled to have debts no larger than those of Texas if it could have Texas' resources and income," an expert said.

A preliminary check at the end of the fiscal year, August 31, showed the general revenue and pension funds more than $14,000,000 in the red, but cash balances of more than $8,000,000, $6,000,000 and $1,000,000 in the highway, road bond assumption, and available school funds. There also were other balances.

Revenue from the gasoline tax was $41,194,142; from the cigarette tax, $5,434,450, and from the oil production levy, $8,467,328.

Someone estimated that if assets and liabilities in all the state funds were offset, the state would have a substantial cash balance, or that the total so-called deficit could be wiped out in 30 days if all the state's revenue was devoted to that end.

A Democratic official defends parties against accusations that their platforms frequently are vague as to declarations and recommendations. As far as Texas is concerned, says he, blame the law.

The law provides that no party shall place in its platform or resolutions any demand for specific legislation unless the matter is first submitted to a vote of the people and is endorsed by a majority. The executive committee is instructed to submit any question at the primary preceding the state convention when 10 per cent of the party members request it.

However, the law has been evaded occasionally and platforms have contained recommendations on specific legislation.

JAPS HELD FOR TAKING SNAPSHOT OF ARSENAL

DAVENPORT, Ia., Sept. 11 (AP)—Chief of Police Sam Kelly said today he would hold Nobuzana Tsunura and Miss Yonnye Yanari, Japanese couple arrested after taking pictures near the Rock Island Hill arsenal, "until I get a report on what the pictures show."

Tsunura's camera and film were in the hands of federal officials.

Tsunura and Miss Yanari, taken into custody by police Wednesday, said he stopped the car and she posed for a picture beside the Mississippi river with the arsenal island and a sailboat in the background.

FALSE ALARM

CLEVELAND, O.—Elmer Hoopengartner called police to see what could be done about the "man with a gun" peering through his dining room window.

The officers arrived in time to see a gray squirrel scamper from its perch on the window sill.

A LESSON—TO GRANDMA

CHICAGO—Because Elsie Nevillier, 4, wouldn't eat his breakfast cereal like a good boy, he was locked in a closet by his grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Nevillier.

When she tried to open the door after a repentance period, it wouldn't budge.

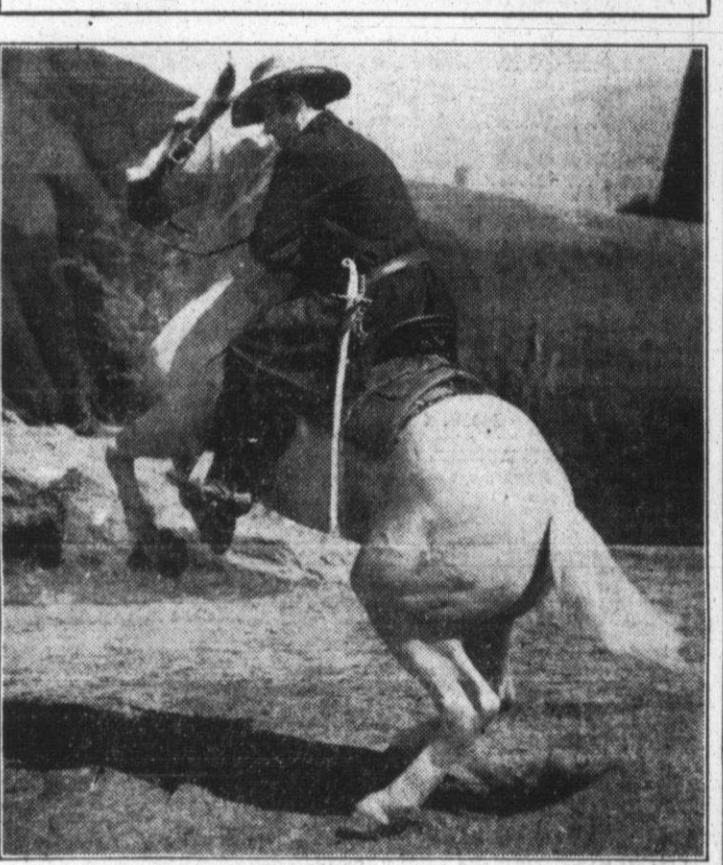

She called the police and Rice was rescued by removing the door panel.

As Coughlin Denied 'Crack Down'

A mere speck of clerical black outlined against the speaker's platform, the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin is indicated by the arrow as he addressed an estimated 100,000 persons in Chicago's Riverview Park. The radio priest labeled as "infernal lies" Vatican reports of his being criticized by the Holy See.

OCHILTREE COUNTY PRODUCTS TO BE EXHIBITED AT TRI-STATE FAIR

PERRYTON, Sept. 10 — Prize products of Perryton and Ochiltree county are being gathered now for display at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo, September 21-26.

Best of the entries in a home demonstration exhibit held here a few days ago will be included in the display at the fourteenth annual exposition in Amarillo. Marie Ludwick, home demonstration agent, will have charge of that display.

J. T. Stovall, county agent, also is collecting entries for a county exhibit.

Meanwhile extensive preparations are being made to send a large Perryton delegation to the fair on the day designated by association officials.

Mayor W. C. Bryan will head the delegation, which will include Perryton's band of 35 pieces under the direction of W. I. Byron.

The band last year purchased new red and white uniforms for a trip to the fair.

Charles Whipps, Sam Hergert and W. B. Irvin, school superintendent, will be among those in the delegation, which is expected to total nearly 500.

"The Perryton delegation will go to the fair in a motor caravan," announced Addison Cutler, chamber of commerce official.

Perryton schools will not be dismissed for the trip to Amarillo, but pupils who will go will not be given an absence mark.

POPULATION ON FARMS HAS NOT CHANGED MUCH

Fifth of Farmers in 1935 Living on Plains

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—A government population study showed today that repeated drouths, dust storms, grasshopper plagues and other adversities in the great plains states had failed to reduce the number of persons on farms there in recent years.

"The popular impression that there has been considerable depopulation is not correct," said Dr. Conrad Taeuber of the division of farm population and rural life, who made the study.

"Taken as a whole the farm population of the ten plains states has remained almost stationary since the World War," Taeuber said.

One-fifth of the entire farm population of this country was living in the plains states on January 1, 1935, he said. These included the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado and New Mexico.

However, the increase of farm population in the ten states between 1910 and 1935 was placed at only 45,000, or less than one-half the number of children born to farm women there in any one of the recent years.

Taeuber noted that the census of agriculture taken last year, immediately after the 1934 drouth, showed the population "had been changed less than one-tenth of one per cent between 1930 and 1935."

Taeuber said another mistaken popular impression was that relief loads had been heaviest in dry-land areas of the plains states.

He said a chart of relief areas showed most of them were "well to the eastward of the dust bowl."

DROUGHT COUNTIES ADDED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Fourteen more counties in four states were added to the emergency drouth list yesterday by the agriculture department drouth committee. The counties, which brought the national total to 1,321 counties in 24 states, included: Texas—Borden, Dickens, Fisher, King, Randall, Stonewall and Throckmorton.
