Pampa educators prepare for textbook selection

Groups of Pampa teachers will soon be reviewing textbooks for the school district's use.

Pampa ISD school trustees recently named the district's Textbook Selection Committee for 1999-2000.

The state approved books and/or resource materials in the stated subject area will be sent to the committee members for study and consideration.

In Austin, however, a textbook tussle over textbooks for kindergarten and grades one through three is brewing with the State Board of Education.

In September, one of the state board members requested changes be made in elementary textbooks to include more phonics instruction. Textbook publishers complain the changes would cost them millions.

The State Board of Education is expected this week to vote on $90.6 million in reading and language arts textbooks for kindergarten through third grade. The board begins meeting Wednesday, with the general session scheduled for Friday in Austin.

Pampa school officials said they would be watching the selection process closely.

Members of the Pampa committee from elementary are Vicki Velez, Austin Elementary, English Language Arts and grades K-1; reading grades K-1, Cheryl Lewis, Lamar Elementary; reading, grades 2-3, Janie Street, Travis; and science in grades 1-5, Loretta Flaherty, Wilson Elementary.

Middle School and high school representatives are Mary Sturgeon, PHS, literature for grades 9-12.

Secondary textbook selection committee members are either departmental coordinators or serve on a school site based decision making committee. Textbook advisors are all teachers of the subject area.

Dr. Dawson Orr, superintendent, is committee chairman. Other members are Jane Steele, assistant superintendent; John Kendall, Pampa High School principal; Tim Powers, Pampa Middle School; Ron Warren, principal at Austin Elementary; Cay Warner, principal at Lamar Elementary; Tommy Lindsey, principal at Wilson Elementary; and Doug Rapstine, principal at Travis Elementary.

LEFORS -- Hair today, gone tomorrow is the theme for Lefors school officials, but it's all for a good cause.

The Lefors School Board and Superintendent Allen Law challenged the Lefors student body earlier this school year. If the students could bring 1,000 cans of food for the Lefors Senior Citizens Center, all the male board members and Law would get their heads shaved by the students.

Over about a two week period, the 193 students at Lefors managed to bring in over 1,100 cans. The third grade was the most productive class, bringing in 238 cans.

Superintendent Law and the school board were as good as their word, and at the school

Halloween Party Saturday night the seven men lined up on stage as each student got a chance to run the clippers along their choice of victims.

A profession stylist, Stephanie Brooks, was on hand to help and to clean up the job when the students were through. Law said he was proud of the students for helping contribute to such a good cause.

Amarillo student killed in car wreck

By JEFF WEST
Staff Writer

An Amarillo student is dead after she rolled her car early Saturday morning just west of Clarendon.

April-Rene Gardner, 19, was traveling east on U.S. Highway 287 about 10 miles west of Clarendon about 1:44 a.m. Saturday when she apparently fell asleep, according to Department of Public Safety officers.

Her 1993 Hyundai drifted off the road to the right, troopers said today. Gardner then apparently over corrected crossing both east bound lanes and the center median, flipping her car into the west bound lanes of U.S. 287.

Gardner was ejected from the vehicle, although DPS Trooper Chad Simpson, who investigated the accident with assistance from Sgt. Richard Gribble and Cpl. Chad Grange from Claude, reported she was wearing her seat belt. Gardner landed in the inside west bound lane of the divided highway where a west bound semi tractor struck her.

Donley County Justice of the Peace Jimmy Johnson declared her dead at the scene and ordered an autopsy. Officials said the autopsy will be performed in Lubbock.

County approves courthouse security

By NANCY YOUNG
Managing Editor

Gray County Commissioners voted unanimously this morning to purchase a security system for county-wide offices.

Cost of the project will be $15,000 and the system will be available in all county offices.

Commissioners could have chosen to spend only $10,000 and have the system in 13 locations. With the larger system up to 26 locations can be served.

Judge Richard Peet said not all 26 will be needed, but it does make several available if there is expansion.

He said the Justice of the Peace office in McLean will also have the system. He said she had indicated she would like to have a direct connection to law enforcement. Peet said the JP's office is just off I-40 and has a lot of traffic.

Sheriff Don Copeland said deputies could reach her office much faster with the security system installed if she needed them.

Copeland said he contacted Moore County Sheriff Ted Montgomery about the system as Moore County has it. He said Montgomery said they have been very pleased with it and are considering expanding the system.

If the Commission members hadn't voted for the larger system the county treasurer's office as well as other offices would not have had the system. Peet pointed out that the treasurer's office is located in close proximity to the adult probation office, which will have two system locations, and he expressed concern about the treasurer's office not having the system.

All Commissioners, Joe Wheeley, Jim Greene, Gerald Wright and James Hefley, voted in favor.

The Commissioners this morning heard a request from the Pampa Economic Development Corp. to meet with the City of Pampa concerning an Enterprise Zone.

The Gray County Commission and Pampa City Council will hold a public meeting Nov. 23 to discuss the establishment of an Enterprise Zone.

The Commission also discussed advertising for bids for a road grader for precinct three. Bids will be accepted Nov. 15. The Commission was expected to take other matters this afternoon.

The Commission will review bids by health insurance companies this afternoon.

The bids were submitted this morning. The county auditor's office was analyzing the bids at noon today and was to present their findings to the Commission this afternoon.

County employees have indicated that they wanted to change the insurance carrier. Employees complained that they were unhappy with the present carrier, according to a survey conducted in October.

Pampa band and choir trips approved by school board

By NANCY YOUNG
Managing Editor

Pampa band and choir students will soon begin fund-raising for trips they plan next spring.

Pampa school trustees recently approved spring trips for the band and choir.

The Pampa High School band will travel to South Padre Island near Brownsville April 17 through May 1 to perform in the Tropic of Texas Festival which will be held at Lopez High School.

This festival includes adjudication by university directors and composers and a clinic/workshop with one of the judges over the music that the band will perform.

Other educational opportunities will include sight-seeing in Brownsville, including the port, Spanish missions, last Confederate battle sight, Gladys-Porter Zoo, beach and swimming activities and a dolphin watch boat excursion, Collins said.

Cost of the trip will be $375 per student, according to Bruce Collins, band director. It will include chartered bus transportation, three nights lodging, all meals and activities.

The students will miss one day of school, unless the snow make-up day scheduled for May 1 is used. They could then miss two days.

Collins said this will be a new experience for the students. They have never been to South

Padre Island before, he said. Band members have been to Corpus Christi and San Antonio in the past.

The Pampa High Concert Choir will be going to Galveston and Houston to compete in the Houston Directors' Choice Choral Festival, April 28 through May 1st.

Choir students will miss one day of school. The choir will stay in Galveston and tour historical sites and visit the new Mary Moody Gardens.

Students will sing for the Houston Astros and possibly visit NASA. Tentative plans are for the students to sing at the state capitol in Austin.

Cost for the trip would be $350 per student which would include all expenses. Fund raising projects are being offered that would enable students to raise the full cost of the trip.

Accompanying the students will be Fred Mays, choir director; Jennifer Scoggin, parent sponsor and one administrator.

Court to review some no-warrant searches

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today agreed to decide whether police without a warrant can stop and search someone for a gun based on an anonymous tip accurately describing the person's location and clothing.

The justices said they will hear Florida prosecutors' argument that such a tip provides enough "reasonable suspicion" to justify a warrantless search.

Also today, the court:

—Refused to invoke an international treaty and block the executions of death row inmates who were not yet 18 when they committed their crimes. The justices rejected the appeal of a convicted Nevada killer, Michael Domingues, who said his execution would violate the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, a treaty the United States ratified in 1992. Domingues was 16 at the time he murdered a woman and her 4-year-old son.

—Turned away lawsuits involving newspapers in Ohio and Louisiana. The justices let stand rulings that threw out the case against The Blade, of Toledo, Ohio, by eight Toledo police officers and the widows of two dead policemen. The suit alleged libel and invasion-of-privacy lawsuit over a 1990 series of articles about alleged police misconduct.

The justices refused to spare two Louisiana newspapers from having to defend themselves at trial against a lawsuit for reporting details of an illegally recorded telephone conversation after the tape was played at a news conference. The suit was filed against Central Newspapers Inc., which publishes the Alexandria Daily Town Talk, and Avoyelles Publishing Co., publisher of the weekly Avoyelles Journal.

—Without comment, the court turned away arguments said that Fort Lauderdale, Fla., had imposed a panhandling ban that was too broad. A group of homeless people sued, claiming they had a free-speech right to beg for handouts at the city beach. A 1993 regulation prohibits "soliciting, begging or panhandling" on a five-mile strip of Fort Lauderdale's city beach and the sidewalks on each side of an adjacent street.

The firearms case involves a juvenile identified in court papers as "J.L." who was stopped and frisked by a Miami police officer in 1995. Police had received an anonymous tip that three young blacks were standing in front of a pawn shop, and that the one in the plaid shirt was carrying a concealed firearm.

Officers frisked all three youths and saw the butt of a gun in the pants pocket of the one wearing the plaid shirt. He was arrested and charged with unlawfully carrying a concealed firearm and possession of a firearm by a minor.

West Texas contamination site slated for Superfund cleanup

LEVELLAND, Texas (AP) — Federal regulators say an aquifer near this West Texas town is contaminated with toxic chemicals, possibly threatening the city's water supply.

As a result, a mile-wide swath, or plume, of the Ogallala Aquifer has been added to the Superfund priority list for hazardous waste cleanup.

The Environmental Protection Agency and Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission proposed the listing in July after officials found contaminants in a public water supply well. Levelland, about 30 miles west of Lubbock, pumps about a third of its drinking water from the Ogallala.

The Superfund status was announced Friday and means the site qualifies for federal money, although no dollar amount has been determined, the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal reported.

EPA officials said the TNRCC will take the lead role in the cleanup. Toxic chemicals turned up, either singularly or in combination, in 30 groundwater wells near Levelland.

"Because the city's water wells are down gradient from the contaminated plume, they are considered at risk for contamination," an EPA statement said.

Regulators have yet to say what may have caused the contamination.

Texas now has 35 Superfund sites.

Traditional holiday kept alive in South Texas

BROWNSVILLE (AP) — While many South Texans spent the weekend dressing up in Halloween costumes and going trick-or-treating, some of their neighbors were busy preparing for a spiritual holiday they consider much more important.

In accordance with Mexican tradition, Guadalupe Noguez and many others collected flowers and decorated altars in anticipation of Dia de los Muertos, or the Day of the Dead. The ancient indigenous holiday, which is celebrated annually on Nov. 2, is a time for many Hispanics to honor and communicate with deceased ancestors.

Noguez, a social worker at the Catholic parish of San Felipe de Jesus in Cameron Park, told the (Harlingen) Valley Morning Star that the religious custom is much different than the American Halloween holiday to which it is often compared.

"It concerns me that people may not be able to distinguish between the two, that the reason for the celebration to honor the dead will be forgotten," Noguez said.

Sociologists say that the tradition is often misunderstood because it is mainly kept alive by Mexican immigrants. As American popular culture embraces some of the holiday's symbols, such as skeletons, and Dia de los Muertos soon becomes intertwined with Halloween.

Eventually, the spirituality of the Mexican customs and the frivolity of the American holiday begin to blend together.

"They're two different traditions, but people are finding ways to bring them together," said Rev. Virgil Elizondo, director of programming for Catholic Television of San Antonio. "Its becoming more of a party thing, instead of a spiritual thing."

As later generations of Hispanics who never lived in Mexico are becoming increasingly unfamiliar with Dia de los Muertos, some people in the Rio Grande Valley are making efforts to educate people about the intricacies of the tradition.

Weather focus

PAMPA — It should be mostly sunny today. The high will be in the mid-60s early today, turning colder later today as another front moves through.

Winds will be from the north-northwest at 10 to 20 mph. Tonight will be clear and cold with a low in the lower 30 degree range.

Tuesday will be mostly sunny with cooler temperatures. The high Tuesday should be in the mid-50s.

Wednesday's high should be in the mid-60s. Sunday's high was 65. The overnight low was 40 degrees.

STATEWIDE — Rainfall from a cold front that soaked much of North and East Texas was sweeping out of the state today, leaving only light precipitation and fog in its wake.

Fog with isolated small areas of light rain extended east of a line from Wichita Falls through Abilene and College Station to Victoria. The soaking included the Hill Country.

Early-morning temperatures ranged from the mid-30s and 40s in West Texas to 50s elsewhere.

A strong upper-level low was expected across North Texas by tonight. The system should return partly cloudy skies to the northern parts of South Texas by tonight, with a slight chance of rain.

Winds statewide were light and variable from the west and northwest at less than 10 mph. The front that moved across South Texas on Sunday brought much cooler temperatures, including 40s and 50s.

Readings today ranged from 36 at Dalhart, Wink and Marfa to 43 at San Marcos. It was 58 at Dryden and 60 at both Brownsville and Port Isabel.

Through midweek, daytime highs should remain in the 60s and 70s in the Hill Country, returning to the 80s in deep South Texas. In the west, highs should range from 50s in the Panhandle to 70s in the Big Bend.

Stronger southwest winds were expected through the mountain passes of West Texas.

Overnight lows should range from the 20s in the north and mountains to the low 40s in the Big Bend valleys.

Father-daughter duo to entertain at Knife and Fork Club meeting

Wayne and Kimberly Hengler

Top O' Texas Knife and Fork Club will meet at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 9 at Pampa Country Club. Special guests will be Wayne and Kimberly Jane Hengler, a father-daughter team who will perform a musical show. The title of the Henglers' program will be "Together Again."

Wayne Hengler began performing at the age of 14 as the lead singer with "Long Island Sound." Kimberly Jane first appeared as a solo act at the age of 2 when she appeared singing and dancing in upstate New York in the "Scott Family Revue."

The duo has been entertaining audiences for years, from New York to Florida to the Rocky Mountains.

Wayne plays the acoustical guitar, bass guitar and keyboards. He has appeared with such groups as "Off the Record," "The Neon Rainbow" and "The Lake Shore Four." Today he operates his own entertainment business known as Pied Piper Productions.

Kimberly Jane was a finalist in the Miss Teen All American New York state competition. She has appeared at Disney World Florida. Singing, dancing, acting, teaching and performing with "Dad" are her main interests. She co-owns and operates "You Can Sing," an established school for voice.

Tickets are available for members at Dunlaps Department Store in Coronado Center. Reservations are encouraged.

Locket With Picture of Baby Brings Pain for Rape Victim

DEAR ABBY: A pregnant 18-year-old wrote to you because her husband was having a hard time accepting the fact that she wears a locket with a photo of the baby boy she gave up for adoption three years before. You advised her that you thought it was because the necklace "served as a constant reminder that he wasn't the first man in her life."

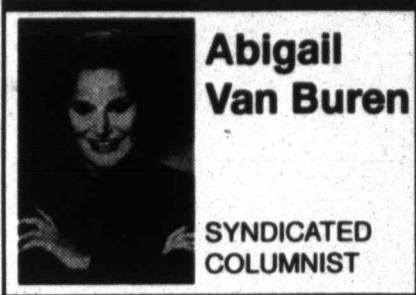

Abby, that girl told you she had been raped and the baby she gave up was a result of a crime committed against her. How can you even insinuate that the heartless coward who fathered this child was "a man in her life?"

I can assure you that a rapist, and the experience of being raped, becomes a permanent part of your life. However, when a child is raped, that rapist does not become the "first man in her life."

I hope you will print this letter along with an apology for offending all victims of rape.

TAMIE IN MARIETTA, GA.

DEAR TAMIE: After an editor expressed concern about my terminology after that letter and answer were sent to my newspapers, I issued a correction. However, not all of them used my alternative wording. If you or anyone else was offended by my language, I apologize. "First man in your life" was not intended to imply that the baby was the result of consensual sex. Read on:

Abigail Van Buren

SYNDICATED COLUMNIST

DEAR ABBY: In response to the young wife whose husband wants her to remove the locket containing the picture of the baby she gave up for adoption, my next question would be: How dare he? What does he want her to give up next — her friends and family? If he can't see that the locket is important to her, he may never see anything that is important to her.

My feeling is that he's using this as emotional blackmail because he is insecure in himself. I have had three children, and never loved any of them less than the others. Is this husband an only child? If not, have him ask his mother if she loved any of her children less because she already had one. A parent's heart is too big for something that petty, and "Too Young" has already proven how big her heart is.

This young woman should hold her head up proudly, because her daughter will, too — and so will her son. She has already proven what a terrific parent she is. She did not blame her unborn child and gave him the greatest possible gift, life!

Keep your locket, dear lady; you earned it.
INSULTED PARENT OF FOUR, PHOENIX

DEAR INSULTED PARENT: I second the motion. Read on:

DEAR ABBY: Most lockets have room for two pictures. I think she should add the daughter's photograph to the one of her son. Or, even better — the husband should buy a new locket and put the pictures of both children in it.

DIANE D., LAKELAND, FLA.

DEAR DIANE D.: That's a wonderful idea. Read on:

DEAR ABBY: That young woman's husband should applaud and support her for getting through the terrible ordeal of rape in such a mature and responsible way. As for her loving her new daughter as much as her son, I'm sure she will discover that a mother's love is like no other — and can be equally distributed to all her children. Her insight and thoughtfulness prove that she is already well-suited for the job.

DANIELLE M., FAIRLESS HILLS, PA.

for help. Others will pitch in, but they will also give you their opinions, whether you like it or not! Communication stimulates creativity. Tonight: Go along with an assertive friend's plan.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)

*** Increasing financial options doesn't include taking risks. If you have been taking any, you might see the folly of your ways. Evaluate ideas carefully, perhaps running them by a respected family member. You could be driven at work; this is all the better for now!

Tonight: Don't make a big deal out of dinner plans.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

**** Another clashes with you, simply wanting it his way. Is there a rationale to his thinking? Don't negate that possibility just yet. Creative brainstorming brings powerful ideas and solutions. Communication flourishes. Don't hold back. Tonight: Do exactly what you want.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)

** Sometimes you cannot be as dominant as you would like. Take a back seat; follow through on what you know is important to you. Communication is stilted at best. Review a decision, but remain sure of yourself. Build on established ground. Tonight: Take a break from it all.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

***** Aim for what you want. However, get to the bottom of a tendency to sabotage yourself and needlessly cause problems. Schedule a meeting or network with others; great ideas come from the multitude rather than from individuals. Take action on what you have been putting off. Tonight: Where the

*** You could cause yourself a problem at work when you least intend to. Hold up the mirror and take a look at your behavior. If you were witnessing it, how would you react? Intuition is on your side, helping you navigate through work issues. A boss will respond to your get-up-and-go. Tonight: Get organized!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

**** Your drive carries you far, but sometimes blind ambition causes you to sabotage yourself. Deal with internal issues that prevent you from getting what you want. Seek out experts to help you pinpoint and solve problems. You find wonderful solutions. Tonight: Relax with a movie.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)

**** A friend lets you down. Getting the whole picture takes talent and a lot of imagination. A key talk with a dear friend helps you understand what is happening here. Discussions involve money, partners and your self-expression. Tonight: With a favorite person.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)

**** Others seek you out, as greater popularity becomes your earmark. Understanding a boss's needs remains critical to making a project work for you. Do needed research before you form a conclusion. Check in with one who has more expertise. Tonight: Out.

Pampa gymnasts take top honors at Lubbock

FOOTBALL

LEFORS — Groom clinched the District 1-A six-man title as the 45-point rule kicked in to close the game against the Lefors Pirates in the third quarter Friday night.

Groom, which has won eight consecutive games and is ranked 6th in the state, ran its district record to 4-0 and an overall 8-1 record. Lefors falls to 0-4 in district play.

Garret Britten scored touchdown runs of 16, 32 and 32 yards to lead Groom to victory. Wade Ritter had scoring runs of 1 and 39 yards.

Lefors' only score was a 59-yard run by Caleb Barnes in the third quarter.

HONOLULU (AP) — It's the kind of turnover that can make or break a season.

Trailing 14-6, Hawaii was driving for the tying score late in the third period when quarterback Dan Robinson's pass to the end zone was tipped and intercepted by Texas Christian defensive back Russell Gary, who returned it to the Rainbow Warrior 48.

On the next play, TCU quarterback Casey Printers connected with Mike Scarborough for a 48-yard touchdown that served as the knockout blow for Hawaii, and the Horned Frogs went on to a 34-14 win Saturday.

With that interception went a chance for Hawaii (5-3, 3-2) to grab a tie for the lead in the Western Athletic Conference. Instead, the win pulled TCU (4-4, 3-2) into a tie for second with Hawaii.

"It took the wind out of us," Rainbow Warrior coach June Jones said.

TCU was able to overcome the loss of running back LaDainian Tomlinson, who entered the game as the nation's leading rusher but played sparingly after spraining his left ankle midway through the first quarter.

The Horned Frogs rushed for 237 yards, including 99 yards and a touchdown from Andrew Hayes-Stoker. Tomlinson had 51 yards on eight carries.

TCU's defense did the rest, holding Hawaii to 295 yards, 115 below their average. Relentless pressure from the defensive line and blanket coverage by the secondary led to three sacks and 10 hurries of Robinson, the interception and two fumble recoveries, including one in the third quarter on the Horned Frog 35.

Robinson finished 25 of 55 for 237 yards and one touchdown, having to unload throws early to avoid sacks.

"We did a good job of taking away his first and second reads," TCU defensive coordinator Gary Patterson said. "He didn't have anywhere to go with it."

On their next series after the touchdown from Printers to Scarborough, TCU struck again, this time with Patrick Batteaux hitting Scarborough for a 40-yard score to make it 28-6 lead with 12:06 to play.

Hawaii pulled within 28-14 with 9:51 left on a 5-yard run and two-point conversion by Avion Weaver, but TCU controlled the ball for the next 7:49, with Batteaux capping a 14-play, 92-yard drive with an 8-yard run.

VOLLEYBALL

PLAINVIEW — The Wayland Baptist University Lady Pioneers lost to John Brown University 15-6, 9-15, 15-5, 15-11 last weekend at Hutcherson Physical Education Center.

Serenity King had 19 kills and 11 digs to lead the Lady Pioneers in the losing effort.

WBU (14-16) drops to 1-4 in the Sooner Athletic Conference, while the Lady Golden Eagles (19-12) are 2-2 and clinched a second-place finish in the SAC.

The Lady Pioneers will close out the regular season Thursday night at home against Lubbock Christian University.

LUBBOCK — Once again, the Gymnastics of Pampa Level 5 Team won top honors in the team competition at a District 1 Qualifying Meet. The meet, held in Lubbock, also had teams entered from Lubbock, Amarillo, Abilene, Big Spring, Midland, San Angelo, Odessa and El Paso.

Team Pampa relied on excellent performances by Lacie Long and Cortnee White to take the team title for the third time this season. The team competition is based on the top three scores from each event of each team. All of Long's individual scores counted toward the team title.

Lacie Long led Team Pampa yet again with gold medal performances on all four events and All Around. She had the highest scores of the meet on floor exercise and All Around. Lacie won gold in the 11 year old vault 9.0, uneven bars 9.2, balance beam 9.2, floor exercise 9.5 and All Around 36.9. Lacie is undefeated in district competitions this season.

Cortnee White is also undefeated in the 12 year and older Level 5 Division. White had a personal best score on vault of 9.25 for the gold medal and she won the gold in the All Around with a 36.15 score. She also won silver medals on floor exercise 9.1 and beam 9.0 and fifth place on bars 8.8.

Morgan Meharg, Pampa's only Level 5 competitor, improved her All Around score to a 34.25 for the silver medal. Level 6 was the highest division at the meet. Morgan won gold on vault with an improved 8.85 score. She finished with a silver medal on beam 8.15, and bronze medals on bars 8.4 and floor 8.85.

Kendall Stokes had a personal best score in All Around 34.35 for fourth place. She also had personal bests on bars 9.15, for a gold medal and vault 8.55 for fifth place. Kendall placed fifth on beam 8.2 and eighth on floor 8.45. She competes in the 12 year and older division.

In Level 5, 10 year old competition, Brittany Warminski and Michaela Scroggins came away with the silver and bronze medals in All Around, respectively. Brittany improved her All Around score from the last meet to a 34.2 and Michaela had a personal best score of a 33.7.

On the events, Brittany won the gold on balance beam 9.0, the silver on floor exercise 9.0, fifth on bars 8.2, and eighth on vault 8.0.

Michaela had a gold medal performance on bars with an 8.95. She also scored 8.3 on beam for a silver, 8.45 on floor for fifth place and 8.0 on vault for ninth place.

Improving her scores on three events, Lacie Thompson took fifth place on vault 8.25, 10th place on floor exercise 8.15 and 11th place on bars 7.55. Lacie was competing in the 10 year old Level 5 division.

Team Pampa's Level 4 gymnasts won second place team at the Lubbock meet. Kelby Doughty led the team with solid performances on all four events and a much-improved beam routine.

Kelby earned blue ribbons on all four events and in the All Around. She scored a 9.1 on beam 8.1 on floor 8.0 on vault 8.0 on bars and 33.2 on All Around. All of Kelby's scores counted toward the team total.

Also having all four event scores counting toward the team total was Brittany Klein. Klein earned blue ribbons on beam 9.0, floor 8.45, bars 8.0 and All Around 32.9. She received a red ribbon for vault 7.45. Klein had personal best performances on beam, floor, vault and All Around.

Danielle Brown's personal best floor score of 9.2 earned a blue ribbon. She also earned blue for bars 8.3, vault 8.0 and All Around 32.9. Her 7.4 on beam received a red ribbon.

Brandi Holden received a blue ribbon for her beam performance, where she scored an 8.4. She received red ribbons for her personal best vault 7.4, bars 7.75 and floor 7.5. Her 31.05 in All Around earned another red ribbon.

All of the Pampa Level 4's are first-year competitors.

Cowboys fall to Colts

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Chad Bratzke is giving the Indianapolis Colts a rapid return on the six-year, $30 million contract he signed this year.

Bratzke, who was signed as an unrestricted free agent, had two sacks Sunday — increasing his total to seven in as many games this season — to help the Colts defeat the Dallas Cowboys 34-24.

His first sack of Troy Aikman was unusual and set up an Indianapolis touchdown that put the Colts ahead for the first time. Bratzke had a sack, a forced fumble, a fumble recovery and a fumble on the play that gave the Colts a first-and-goal at the Dallas one in the third quarter.

"We work on it every day, especially on stripping the ball," said Bratzke, who smacked into Troy Aikman to knock the ball loose. "You have to go for the football. A sack is great. But if you can get the ball out, that's much better."

Aikman was sacked for a 7-yard loss at the Dallas 12. Bratzke grabbed at the ball and batted in toward the goal line, where it was tapped backwards by Dallas lineman Eric Williams. It popped right into Bratzke's hands and he eventually carried it to the 1-yard line, where he fumbled it. Indianapolis linebacker Michael Barber recovered for the Colts and on the next play, Edgerrin James scored.

"Troy kind of had hold of me. I didn't feel I could get to the football. I felt a lot of guys around me and I wasn't sure if they were my guys, or their guys, so I wanted to get the ball close to the end zone," Bratzke said.

Follett downs Fort Elliott

FOLLETT — Follett defeated Fort Elliott 76-39 in a District 1 six-man game last weekend.

Follett is 3-1 in district action and 7-2 for the season. Fort Elliott falls to 1-3 and 6-2.

Follett's Josh Robertson threw for seven touchdowns to spark his team. Clint Montgomery caught three of Robertson's passes for scores.

Fort Elliott quarterback Curt Smith also turned in a solid passing performance with 293 yards through the air. Receiver Nathan Hefley had 10 catches for 139 yards and two touchdowns. C.J. Bryant also caught a TD pass from Smith.

Bryant also ran for two scores. Smith also rushed for a TD.

Follett led 32-18 at halftime. Follett had 618 yards of total offense while Fort Elliott had 382. Fort Elliott had six turnovers and Follett four.

Fort Elliott hosts Lefors Friday night in a final regular-season game. Follett can beat Miami on Friday night to grab a playoff spot.

Fort Elliott had beaten Higgins the week before 58-14.

Cougars' quarterback Curt Smith threw for 326 yards and seven touchdowns.

Nathan Hefley caught four TD passes and Hefley also threw a TD pass to Smith. Clay Zybach caught three TD passes. Richard Rowe had a TD catch.

Larry Lee Horn scored on a 2-yard run, which was the only rushing touchdown for the Cougars.

Bi-district leader

Pampa High senior Tandis Morton (13) led the Lady Harvesters with 12 kills in the bi-district volleyball win over Canyon last week. Pampa hosts El Paso Bowie at 7:30 Tuesday night in the Area round of the playoffs.

Big 12 national title hopes rest with K-State — again

By DOUG ALDEN
Associated Press Writer

Kansas State has been down this road before — recently, too.

The No. 6-ranked Wildcats are once again the Big 12 hopeful for a national championship, just as they were a year ago headed into November.

In order to secure a spot in the Sugar Bowl, the national title game, the Wildcats will need to win their remaining three games, the Big 12 championship and get a little help from a few teams in front of them in the Bowl Championship Series ratings. They'll also be crossing their fingers, hoping a lackluster non-conference schedule doesn't cost them.

Sound familiar? It's a whole lot like last year, when K-State was fourth in the early BCS ratings. With non-conference wins against (Division I-AA) Indiana State, Northern Illinois and Northeast Louisiana, the Wildcats' strength of schedule wasn't going to allow them to pass up top-ranked Tennessee or UCLA, which was second. It stopped mattering in the Big 12 Championship, when Texas A&M upset K-State 36-33 in two overtimes.

K-State was fifth last week in the first BCS ratings, behind Florida State, Penn State, Virginia Tech and Tennessee. And once again, it's the Wildcats' schedule that isn't doing them any favors. Wins over Temple, Texas-El Paso and Utah State haven't impressed voters enough to move K-State into the top five in the AP Top 25 or USA Today/ESPN coaches poll. Some close calls aren't helping, either. The Wildcats had to rally from 21-point deficits in wins over Oklahoma State and Iowa State, two teams that are scrapping to avoid another losing season.

K-State seemed to be back on track Saturday in a 42-7 win over Baylor (1-7, 0-5). But with Colorado coming to Manhattan on Saturday and a visit to No. 9 Nebraska on Nov. 13, K-State is far from a lock to go undefeated. The Buffaloes are coming off a 38-24 win over Oklahoma and Nebraska is still seething about last year, when K-State broke a 29-game losing streak in the series.

The Wildcats aren't overlooking Colorado, but know what could be at stake in Lincoln.

"We're making a lot of progress," wide receiver Quincy Morgan said. "We've got to be ready to play Colorado first but if we can beat Colorado, I think we'll be able to beat Nebraska, too."

Lady Harvesters claim District 3-4A cross country title

CANYON — For the second consecutive year, the Pampa High girls are the District 3-4A cross country champions.

The Lady Harvesters simply had too much overall talent for the rest of the field. Pampa placed first with 25 points while Hereford was a distant second at 44 points. Borger was third with 78 points.

For the Lady Harvesters, everything went as planned.

"We did what we were supposed to do. All seven of our runners were in before Hereford got five in," said PH5 coach Mark Elms.

Beth Lee and Samantha Hurst finished second and third, respectively, for the Pampa girls. Rebecca Fatheree was fifth, T'Andra Holmes sixth, Amanda White ninth, Vanessa Orr 10th, and Anna Resendiz 12th. The Lady Harvesters will compete in the regional meet at 11 a.m. Saturday in Lubbock.

Pampa's Javier Solis will also be going to regional after qualifying seventh in the boys' division. Solis will be running at 11:30 a.m. Saturday.

Also competing for Pampa at the district meet were Jay Gerber 13th, Matthew Crow 16th and Chad Platt 27th.

Palo Duro defeated Dumas 33-63 to win the boys' title.

In the girls' junior varsity division, Pampa's Andrea Lee won first-place individual honors. Marci Hansen placed fourth, Jamie Clay 19th and Kimberly Porter was 22nd.

The district meet was held at the West Texas A&M Horse Center.

Seminoles stay No. 1

By The Associated Press

Notre Dame's back — in the Top 25, that is.

The Fighting Irish, with a last-minute 28-24 win over Navy, returned to The Associated Press' Top 25, at No. 24, for the first time since Sept. 13.

At 5-3, the Irish are one of five three-loss teams in this week's AP poll.

The others are No. 17 Purdue (6-3), No. 20 Ohio State (6-3) No. 22 Miami (4-3) and No. 25 Southern Mississippi (5-3).

When 20 of the top 25 teams win — two did not play — there's not much chance of change, so for the seventh consecutive week, Florida State and Penn State were 1-2. Virginia Tech was a solid No. 3 for the second week in a row.

The Seminoles (9-0) beat Virginia 35-10 Saturday and collected 55 first-place votes and 1,732 points Sunday from the 70 sports writers and broadcasters on the AP panel.

Penn State (9-0), a 27-7 winner over Illinois, had nine first-place votes and 1,683 points, while Virginia Tech (7-0) — 30-17 winners over Pittsburgh — had six first-place votes and 1,607 points.

Tennessee (6-1), the defending national champions, remained No. 4 after a 30-7 win over South Carolina, followed by No. 5 Florida, No. 6 Kansas State, No. 7 Georgia Tech, No. 8 Mississippi State, No. 9 Nebraska and No. 10 Wisconsin.

Texas, which needed a last-play field goal to beat Iowa State 44-41, was No. 11, followed by No. 12 Alabama, No. 13 Marshall, No. 14 Georgia, No. 15 BYU, No. 16 Michigan, No. 17 Purdue, No. 18 East Carolina, No. 19 Michigan State and No. 20 Ohio State.

Georgia, a 30-14 loser to Florida, fell four spots to No. 14.

Texas A&M was No. 21, followed by No. 22 Miami, No. 23 Mississippi, No. 24 Notre Dame and No. 25 Southern Mississippi.

Oklahoma, a 38-24 loser to Colorado, fell out of the Top 25.

In the USA Today/ESPN coaches' poll, the top five were Florida State, Penn State, Virginia Tech, Tennessee and Florida.

Woods' win, Stewart's memory share center stage in Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — From a distance, Stuart Appleby looked no different than Payne Stewart with the knickers, tam o'shanter cap — the whole outfit carefully chosen from Stewart's closet on the night before a memorial service for the U.S. Open champion.

From far or near, Tiger Woods looked like himself — the best player in the world, winning with shocking regularity.

A week that began with news that Stewart had been killed in a plane crash ended with a stylish tribute as several players donned the knickers that made him one of the most recognizable figures in golf.

It also ended in another fashion — Woods winning.

Woods never led by fewer than two strokes as he cruised to victory Sunday in the Tour Championship, closing with a 2-under 69 for a four-stroke victory over Davis Love III.

"I'm thankful this week is over," Woods said.

Some victory speech.

Then again, this was a pretty hollow victory.

It was the seventh of the season for Woods, making him the most successful player on the PGA Tour in 25 years. But if there was any indication that this week was like no other, it came at the end of the final round.

Before Woods rapped in a short par putt on the 18th hole, he looked behind the green and saw a portrait of Stewart leaning against a table on which sat the Tour Championship trophy.

The crystal never looked so ordinary.

"It went from an exclusive golf tournament to no big deal," Appleby said. "There's only one thing that could do that — and it happened earlier in the week."

Stewart was killed a week ago today when his Learjet crashed into a field in South Dakota. Throughout the week, players honored him by wearing black ribbons, the WWJD bracelet (What Would Jesus Do) that Stewart wore when he won the U.S. Open in June.

"There are constant reminders everywhere," Justin Leonard said.

All anyone had to do was look around Champions for proof of that. Tom Lehman ordered a pair of knickers for everyone who felt comfortable wearing them.

"It's like walking in his shoes for one day," said Appleby, who got permission from Stewart's widow to wear his clothes. "I felt like him for one day, even though my swing wasn't as fluent as his and I didn't putt as good."

Right now, no one can imitate Woods.

Woods, who finished at 15-under 269, won for the seventh time in his last 10 tournaments including a victory in Europe, and the $900,000 pushed him over $5.6 million for the year — nearly as much as Jack Nicklaus won in his entire career.

"Tracey gave me a lot of strength," Woods said, referring to the powerful eulogy Stewart's widow gave during a memorial service in Orlando, Fla., on Friday. "If she can have that type of resolve after what's transpired, why can't I?"

Woods has played like he doesn't need any inspiration at all. By winning Sunday, he wrapped up the money title, even though $1 million is at stake next week in the World Golf Championship event in Spain.

A victory there — guess who's the favorite — would equal the eight victories Johnny Miller recorded in 1974.

"To accomplish what I've accomplished since May speaks volumes," Woods said. "I've been on a great run."

Love played 27 holes with Woods on Saturday and knew what to expect.

"As long as he doesn't hit too many rocks, he's going to be good for a long, long time," Love said. "We're all going to have to get used to it."

Woods smashed through a baseball-sized rock on Thursday and left the course with a pinched nerve. That healed quickly, and no one had much of a chance.

Chris Perry got within two strokes of Woods with a 30-foot birdie putt on the first hole, but he had to take an unplayable lie two holes later and was never again a factor.

Brent Geiberger had a 69 and was third at 274. Perry bogeyed the last hole for a 72 and was another stroke back.

It was the 11th straight time Woods has had at least a share of the lead going into the final round and gone on to win.

A more stunning streak is how often he has been in contention — and winning. Dating to the Deutsche Bank-SAP Open in Germany in May, Woods has won seven times in 10 tournaments and finished lower than seventh only once.

"That's just a staggering statistic," Phil Mickelson said. "What I have a hard time believing is what a high level he has played at. Normally of all the guys in the field, a couple will get hot and go low. And it's been Tiger every single week."

WHITE DEER — White Deer captured their second District 6-2A win in a tight game against Wellington on Friday night.

The Bucks used a 37-yard first-quarter field goal by Justin Freeman and a 27-yard run by Aaron McKean in the second period to push them to a 9-7 victory over the Skyrocks.

The Skyrocks dominated the stat sheet, gaining 218 total yards compared to only 56 for White Deer. Wellington also had the advantage in first downs, 17-4, but fumbled the ball three times.

White Deer fumbled once, providing Wellington's only points when the Skyrocks Ryan Roberson pounced on the loose ball in the end zone.

White Deer was able to overcome the score and hold on for the win despite only gaining 56 yards all night.

Michael Luna led the way for Wellington, carrying the ball 36 times for 176 yards.

The Bucks brought their record to 2-7 for the season and 2-2 in district play. The Skyrocks fell to 1-8 and 0-4.

Aggies defense turns potent

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — No. 21 Texas A&M's Wrecking Crew defense is proud once again.

The Aggies (6-2, 3-2 in Big 12) were embarrassed after giving up 552 yards in a 51-6 loss to Oklahoma Oct. 23. They rebounded by rolling to a 21-3 victory over Oklahoma State (3-4, 1-3) on Saturday, holding the Cowboys to 260 total yards.

"I saw some people with 'Wrecking Crew' caps at the end of the game, and this week I've got to say that I was pretty proud," linebacker Brian Gamble said. "We played with great emotion."

The best the Cowboys' offense could muster was a 36-yard field goal by Tim Snydes with 14:49 left in the game.

"Last week was a shot to our pride," Aggie cornerback Sedrick Curry said. "We just had to put the Oklahoma game behind us. Coach (Mike) Hankowitz did a good job of making us focus on this game."

The emotion spread to the offensive side. The Aggies have had trouble with their running game but managed 152 yards against the Cowboys.

"I think just the display of emotion after this game shows the character of this team," fullback Ja'Mar Toombs said. "We got our pride taken from us last week, but we got our feet back on the ground today (Saturday)."

Quarterback Randy McCown played with as much heart as anyone. Despite a separated left shoulder on his non-throwing side, McCown had touchdown passes of 11 and 14 yards to Matt Bumgardner and his passing also set up D'Andre Hardeman's one-yard touchdown run.

"There was some pain but all I had to do was look in these guys' eyes and I couldn't let them down," McCown said. "I could have broken my back and not cared. It means a lot to me to see everybody come together like we did."

The Aggies became the 17th NCAA Division I-A school to win 600 games and the victory also gave Slocum his 100th coaching victory.

Cowboys quarterback Tony Lindsay missed four games with a knee injury but returned to lead an early assault on Kansas State on Oct. 23. He didn't play against the Aggies because of a shoulder injury from the Kansas State game.

"During the course of the week his shoulder had been bothering him," Oklahoma State coach Bob Simmons said. "He could throw the short route but not the long one."

Driver's death overshadows race

FONTANA, Calif. (AP) — Victories and championships didn't seem very important.

Greg Moore, the 24-year-old Canadian driver and one of the budding stars of the CART FedEx Series, was killed in a devastating crash early in Sunday's season-ending Marlboro 500 at California Speedway.

The race went on, with Adrian Fernandez winning with a fuel gamble and rookie Juan Montoya coming from behind to win the points championship he led most of the season.

But the aftermath of the race was a wash in tears instead of the traditional victory champagne, with most of the drivers learning of Moore's death only after the checkered flag had been waved.

Fernandez, whose first of five CART victories came in July 1996, in Toronto in a race in which driver Jeff Krosnowski was killed, gambled on making it to the end on a waning fuel load and made it, beating runnerup Max Papis to the finish line by 7.634 seconds.

The Mexican driver pumped his fists from the open cockpit as he circled the track slowly on his victory lap. But, after getting out of his Reynard-Ford and being told of Moore's death, Fernandez broke into tears.

He went into seclusion briefly. Later, his voice choked with tears, he said haltingly, "It's so hard. Greg was such a good friend of ours. We've been racing for a while and shared so many good moments on and off the track."

"This is a tragedy for all of us. The win doesn't matter anything. My heart goes out to his family."

Moore, whose father, step-mother and girlfriend were at the track, died from massive head and internal injuries after his car went off the two-mile oval at more than 220 mph and slammed into a concrete retaining wall.

The accident occurred during a restart on the 10th lap of the 250-lap event.

Moore lost control of his car coming off turn two. It skidded onto the infield grass, became airborne and crashed hard into a retaining wall before breaking into pieces. It appeared Moore's helmet came in contact with the concrete wall.

The race continued as Moore was removed from the remains of his Reynard-Mercedes and airlifted by helicopter to Loma Linda Medical Center.

Just win, baby, is the war cry for top collegiate football teams

By RICHARD ROSENBLATT
AP Football Writer

As the college football season heads to the homestretch, the top teams aren't worried about winning pretty, or winning pretty convincingly.

Just win, baby, is the war cry.

"It scares me, but as long as they end up like they ended up, I can survive, I guess," coach Bobby Bowden said after No. 1 Florida State rallied for four second-half touchdowns and a 35-10 win over Virginia on Saturday.

"It's funny. You look at the score and you say, 'Yeah, boy, they're number one.' But gosh, you look at the first half and you say 'Gee, I don't know whether they are number one or not.'"

Like the Seminoles (9-0, 7-0 ACC), No. 2 Penn State (9-0, 5-0 Big Ten) got off to a slow start before winning at Illinois 27-7.

"The 'W' is all that matters. I don't care if we win by 51 or 1," Nittany Lions linebacker Brandon Short, who had 13 tackles, said. "A win is a good game."

Florida State and Penn State also are ranked 1-2 in the Bowl Championship Series standings, which decide who plays in the BCS' designated national title game — this year it's the Sugar Bowl on Jan. 4.

The Seminoles are off next Saturday, then play Maryland at home Nov. 13 and Florida on the road Nov. 20. The Nittany Lions play Minnesota and Michigan at home the next two weeks, followed by Michigan State on the road Nov. 20.

Virginia Tech (7-0, 3-0 Big East), third in the polls and BCS standings, didn't have it all that easy either in beating Pittsburgh 30-17. The Hokies' top-ranked defense sacked David Priestley eight times, but Priestley also threw for 407 yards as Pitt outscored Tech in the second half, 10-3.

"Yes, we did give him kind of a beating," Tech coach Frank Beamer said. "But he gave us a beating, too. We feel like there is a lot for us to look at and learn from and improve on the rest of the season."

Tech quarterback Michael Vick threw for 170 yards and a TD and also ran 46 yards for another score.

Even on the Big 12 Conference title level, any win is a big win.

Kris Stockton's 18-yard field goal as time expired lifted No. 11 Texas (7-2, 4-1) to a 44-41 victory against upstart Iowa State (4-4, 1-4) in Ames. Three more wins and the Longhorns are Big 12 South champs and play in the league's title game.

"To win a championship, you've got to win some ugly ones on the road," Texas coach Mack Brown said. "You don't get style points. You just get Ws or Ls, and that was our only objective."

At Charlottesville, Va., the Seminoles sputtered in the first half, trailing 10-7, but Chris Weinke shook off three interceptions and threw for 297 yards and three TDs — one a 50-yarder to Peter Warrick.

At Champaign, Ill., the Nittany Lions led pesky Illinois by three points late in the third period, but Rashard Casey replaced Kevin Thompson and within 69 seconds he had a TD pass and a TD run and Penn State won going away.

Some other Top 25 teams were lucky, too.

Bobby Newcombe returned a punt 86 yards for a TD and then caught a 49-yard scoring pass from Eric Crouch with 3:24 left to give No. 9 Nebraska (7-1, 4-1 Big 12) a 24-17 come-from-behind road win over Kansas (3-6, 1-4).

Hayden Epstein kicked a 20-yard field goal with 18 seconds left to give No. 16 Michigan (6-2, 3-2 Big Ten) a 34-31 win over Indiana (4-5, 3-3) at Bloomington.

And then there was Notre Dame.

The 24th-ranked Fighting Irish (5-3) extended their NCAA-record winning streak over Navy (2-6) to 36 in a row, but needed Jarious Jackson's 16-yard TD pass to Jay Johnson with 36 seconds left to eke out a 28-24 win.

"We've got no excuses. We just didn't play well," Irish coach Bob Davie said of his team that was penalized 13 times for 130 yards — most for a Notre Dame squad in 38 years. "We got discomfuted in the game."

Only three Top 25 teams lost Saturday. Two, Georgia and Southern Mississippi were beaten by other ranked teams — No. 5 Florida defeated the 14th-ranked Bulldogs 30-14. No. 12 Alabama beat the 25th-ranked Golden Eagles 35-14, and Colorado beat former No. 24 Oklahoma 38-24.

In other games, it was: No. 4

Tennessee 30, South Carolina 7; No. 6 Kansas State 48, Baylor 7; No. 7 Georgia Tech 48, North Carolina State 21; No. 10 Wisconsin 35, Northwestern 19; No. 13 Marshall 41, Northern Illinois 9; No. 15 BYU 27, Air Force 20; No. 17 Purdue 33, Minnesota 28; No. 18 East Carolina 19, Houston 3; No. 20 Ohio State 41, Iowa 11; No. 21 Texas A&M 21, Oklahoma State 3; No. 22 Miami 28, West Virginia 20; and No. 23 Mississippi 42, LSU 23.

No. 8 Mississippi State and No. 19 Michigan State did not play Saturday.

No. 4 Tennessee 30, South Carolina 7

At Knoxville, Tenn., Jamal Lewis ran 70 yards for a TD and finished with 146 yards as the Vols (6-1, 4-1 SEC) handed the Gamecocks (0-9, 0-7) their 19th consecutive loss — the nation's longest major college losing streak.

No. 5 Florida 30, No. 14 Georgia 14

At Jacksonville, Fla. Bo Carroll had a 30-yard second-half TD to give the Gators (7-1, 5-1 SEC) breathing room and the defense held the Bulldogs (6-2, 4-2) scoreless over the final 30 minutes.

The win, coach Steve Spurrier's 100th at Florida, means the Gators need wins over Vanderbilt and South Carolina to reach the league's title game on Dec. 4.

No. 6 Kansas St. 48, Baylor 7

At Manhattan, Kan., David Allen ran for two TDs and caught a scoring pass and the Wildcats (8-0, 5-0 Big 12) held the Bears to seven first downs and 119 yards.

No. 7 Georgia Tech 48, North Carolina St. 21

At Atlanta, Joe Hamilton threw for 212 yards and three TDs and ran for 83 yards as the Yellow Jackets (6-1, 4-1 ACC) won their fifth straight.

No. 10 Wisconsin 35, Northwestern 19

At Evanston, Ill., Ron Dayne ran for 162 yards and two TDs, and Jamar Fletcher had a 93-yard interception return for a score to lead the Badgers (7-2, 5-1 Big Ten).

Dayne needs 321 yards in Wisconsin's final two games against Purdue and Iowa to break Ricky Williams' major college career rushing record.

West Texas A&M University to host annual student research conference

CANYON — College and university students from seven states will present results of their academic research at West Texas A&M University's Sixth Annual Student Research Conference Friday, Nov. 5 on the WTAMU campus.

One hundred ten graduate and undergraduate students from 21 colleges and universities in Texas, Kansas, Oklahoma, Colorado, Ohio, Maryland and Illinois, will participate in the conference proceedings which will include 15-20 minute oral presentations of students' original work.

The conference features 10 categories in which students can compete: agriculture; business and management; communication; computer science; education; fine arts; literature and languages; social and behavioral sciences; and natural and physical sciences.

The conference is being sponsored by WTAMU, Amarillo National Resource Center for Plutonium, Plains National Bank and Killgore Research Center.

"The support of undergraduate research at the university by these sponsors greatly enhances the development of future researchers that will contribute to our ever increasing world of knowledge," said Dr. Terri Giddens, chairman of the Student Research Conference Committee and associate professor of computer information systems.

"The exponential growth of scientific knowledge has created many opportunities for research efforts."

The public is invited to attend the presentations, which are grouped in 90-minute time periods beginning at 9 a.m., 12 noon, 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. in the Jack B. Kelley Student Center and the Classroom Center.

Presentations will be judged, and winners in each of the categories will be presented cash prizes for first, second and third places in the amounts of $200, $100 and $50, respectively. Winners will be announced at an awards banquet that evening.

Dr. J.G. "Jerry" Hunt will deliver the keynote address at the banquet. Hunt is a Paul Whitfield Horn professor of management, professor of health organization management, and director of the Institute for Leadership Research at Texas Tech University, as well as author of various published articles, papers and book chapters.

The conference attracted 67 students representing 21 colleges and universities from four states in 1994, its inaugural year.

Those interested in attending who need more information may contact Giddens at (806) 651-2439.

The tentative conference program may be accessed at: <http://www.wtamu.edu/research/cfpapers>.

Kids Q&A

Q: Is raw milk better for my family?

A: Unpasteurized milk is the beverage of choice for young calves, lambs and kid goats, but choosing it for your family could be a "raw deal," say nutritionists at the USDA/ARS Children's Nutrition Research Center at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

There is no scientific evidence that the living organisms in raw goat's or cow's milk make it nutritionally superior to pasteurized milk or that they enhance human resistance to disease. But, what is well-documented are the numerous cases of food-borne illness linked to raw milk consumption each year.

Milk is a perfect food for growing e. coli, salmonella, listeria, and other bacteria that can make milk-loving humans ill. Even buying raw milk from certified producers is no guarantee it's free from contamination.

Another concern is whether the rabies virus can be transmitted to humans through unpasteurized milk products. Because the answer to this is unknown, Massachusetts health officials have taken the precautionary measure of giving rabies inoculations to humans who have recently consumed raw milk from cows found to have this deadly disease.

So for safety's sake, stick with pasteurized milk products when feeding young children, pregnant women, the chronically ill, and the elderly, who are all particularly at risk for serious food-borne illness. Also, caution children to avoid drinking raw milk that might be offered to them during visits to petting zoos and farms.

Q: How can I be sure my toddler is getting enough calcium?

A: The first step is knowing your child's calcium requirements, says Becky Gorham, a registered dietitian with the USDA/ARS Children's Nutrition Research Center at Baylor College of Medicine. Children between the ages of 1 and 3 need 500 milligrams each day, or the equivalent of one and two-thirds cups of milk, while those between the ages of 4 and 8 need 800 milligrams. During the peak bone-building period, 9 to 18 years of age, the recommendations jump to 1,300 milligrams a day.

Next, read food labels to become familiar with the calcium content of the foods your child eats. Because the percent daily value for calcium listed on food labels is based on 1,000 milligrams, multiplying the percent DV by 10 will give you the number of milligrams per serving. For example, a one-cup serving of milk has a percent DV for calcium of 30, which means it provides 10 x 30, or 300 milligrams, of calcium. A quick label check shows that one and one-half ounces of cheese, one cup of yogurt and one cup of calcium-fortified orange juice each have about the same amount of calcium as a cup of milk.

It's also a good idea to look for the words "high in calcium" or "an excellent source of calcium" on the packaged foods you buy. Labeling laws require that food products making these claims provide at least 200 milligrams of calcium per serving.

Finally, be aware that vegetables like collard greens, kale, Chinese cabbage and broccoli contain significant amounts of calcium as do calcium-fortified ready-to-eat cereals.

Q: How nutritious are potatoes?

A: The nutritional content of America's favorite vegetable can vary greatly depending on how it's prepared, say nutritionists at the USDA/ARS Children's Nutrition Research Center at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

A plain, seven-ounce baked potato eaten with the skin provides nearly 50 percent of vitamins C and B6 recommended for adults each day, as well as plenty of potassium and nearly 5 grams of fiber — all for only 220 calories and zero grams of fat.

But, because fat provides 43 percent of the calories in French fries, a small, 2.5-ounce bag provides the same number of calories. If potato chips are your choice, the portion size shrinks to just 1.5 ounces. In terms of nutrient content, the baked potato wins hands-down, providing at least twice the amount of vitamin C, B6 and fiber per calorie.

To help keep potato-based dishes from becoming nutritionally challenged:

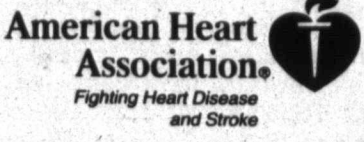

—Cook "from scratch," which lets you control nutrient losses and added calories. Tip: Use fresh potatoes and leave the peeler in the drawer.

—Choose low-fat cooking techniques, such as steaming, baking or microwaving. Tip: Prepare oven-fries as a lower-fat alternative to French fries.

—Bring the water to a boil before adding potatoes to shorten cooking time and preserve vitamin C.

—Limit the fat and saturated fat content of ingredients used in potato-based dishes. Tip: Use olive oil in dressings for potato salad, top baked potatoes with fat-free sour cream and low-fat cheeses and adjust recipes to eliminate or limit the use of butter, stick margarine and cream.

Help Your Heart Recipes

This recipe is intended to be part of an overall healthful eating plan. Total fat intake should be less than 30 percent of your total calories for a day — not for each food or recipe.

Sesame Chicken

Vegetable oil spray 1/4 cup all-purpose flour 1/4 teaspoon pepper 2 1/2 to 3-pound chicken, cut into serving pieces, skinned, all visible fat removed	Vegetable oil spray 1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice 1/4 cup sesame seeds, divided use 3 tablespoons minced green onions (1 to 2 medium) 1/2 cup dry white wine (regular or nonalcoholic) (plus more as needed)
--	--

Preheat oven to 375° F. Spray a 13 x 9 x 2-inch baking pan with vegetable oil spray. Set aside.
Put flour in a shallow bowl and stir in pepper.
Rinse chicken and pat dry with paper towels. Dredge chicken pieces in flour, shaking off excess. Lightly spray meatier side of each chicken piece with vegetable oil spray.
Arrange meatier side down in baking pan so pieces don't touch. Lightly spray top side of chicken pieces. Sprinkle with lemon juice and half the sesame seeds.
Bake for 30 minutes, or until lightly browned. Turn chicken over and sprinkle with remaining sesame seeds and green onions. Pour wine around chicken. Bake for 30 to 45 minutes, basting occasionally, until done.
Serves 4.

Congestive Heart Failure

The American Heart Association says congestive heart failure (CHF) starts with the inability of the heart to pump out all of the blood that returns to it.

- CHF is the most frequent cause of hospitalization for people 65 and older
- About 400,000 new cases of CHF occur each year
- From 1979 to 1996, CHF deaths increased almost 120 percent

Vaccine tricks immune system

BALTIMORE (AP) — Researchers say they have found a way to trick the human immune system into attacking prostate cancer, the second-leading cancer killer of U.S. men.

Researchers induced the immune system into recognizing cancerous prostate cells as foreign invaders by genetically engineering patients' own cells and injecting them back into the body.

"This same concept could be applied to breast cancer or other cancers," said Jonathan Simons, who led the study done by researchers at the Johns Hopkins Oncology Center. "This is not a cure, but this is a whole new door to walk through to get to curing prostate cancer using the immune system."

The study is reported in a recent issue of Cancer Research. While the approach has been tried before, the researchers said they were able for the first time to activate the body's entire immune system to fight prostate cancer.

"The immune system is like armed forces with different branches," Simons said Wednesday. "Some vaccines have activated the Army, for example, but not the Navy. In this case, all arms of the services were turned on."

Researchers used a gene, called GM-CSF, that activates the immune system, attached it to a common virus and implanted it inside cancerous cells of 11 prostate organs surgically removed from patients.

Study: Mutant genes protect against adult leukemia

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Adults who have certain mutant genes are far less likely to develop a form of leukemia than those with normal genes, according to new research published today.

The mutant genes metabolize folic acid and apparently pump higher-than-normal amounts of the vitamin into DNA production, according to the study published in the journal Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences.

Acute lymphocytic leukemia, which destroys bone marrow, is often fatal and accounts for 10 percent of adult leukemia.

Researchers found that people with two mutant genes were more than five times less likely to develop the leukemia. Even those with only one of the mutant genes were three to four times less likely to get the cancer, the study found.

The study also suggests that even people who do not have the mutant genes can reduce their risk of cancer by getting enough folic acid in their diet, said Martyn Smith, a toxicology professor at the University of California, Berkeley, who led the study.

"What it tells us is that folate is important in preventing this type of leukemia," said Smith. "In the absence of this genetic protection, it's important to get our folate."

Acute lymphocytic leukemia is most common form of childhood leukemia. The study released Monday does not address the mutant genes' possible effect on children. Another study is underway to investigate that issue.

An estimated one-third of adults have both mutant genes, which help produce the enzyme 5,10-methylenetetrahydrofolate reductase, or MTHFR.

Earlier studies have shown that people with one of the mutant genes have half the colorectal cancer risk of people without it.

About 300 participants in the study had either acute lymphocytic leukemia or acute myeloid leukemia. Nearly 500 were healthy. Researchers working in England found no correlation between mutant genes and development of acute myeloid leukemia.

Folic acid, one of the chemicals in the vitamin B complex, is found in liver, oranges and green vegetables such as spinach. People with the mutant genes who don't get enough folic acid may not receive the same protective benefits, Smith said.

About 28,000 adults and 5,000 children in the United States are diagnosed with acute lymphocytic leukemia annually.

Researchers found that people with two mutant genes were more than five times less likely to develop the leukemia.
