Landowners win Canadian River case

A spokesman for the General Land office said today that it is doubtful a Texas Supreme Court ruling on a Canadian River land dispute would be appealed to the federal level.

Mary Jane Wardlow said attorneys at the General Land Office were poring over a state Supreme Court ruling issued Thursday giving landowners along a 37-mile stretch of the Canadian River more than 14,000 acres.

She said early indications are there is no federal issue involved, and therefore, the case could not be appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Federal law, she said, leaves property disputes mostly to the states.

In a unanimous decision, the Texas Supreme Court ruled for landowners in the Texas Panhandle who sued to estab-

"It think the Supreme Court has done an injustice to the people of the panhandle and to the people of the State of Texas," Sportsman Jimmy Jones of Borger said today. "It's a real travesty. That land's gone now, and we're not ever going to get it back."

lish boundaries between their land and the state's ownership of the Canadian River bed.

The dispute arose after Sanford Dam was built in 1965 to form Lake Meredith. Because of the dam, the downstream riverbed was narrowed.

Land grants in the 1800s gave owners rights to the land bordered by the river.

Osler McCarthy, a spokesman for the Supreme Court of Texas, said the court's decision relied in part on U.S. Supreme Court decisions.

Those decisions, he said, hold that water flow determines new property borders along a river when the river changes because of an artificial structure so long as the property owners did not contribute to the change.

The decision was immediately attacked by local sportsmen groups.

"It think the Supreme Court has done an injustice to the people of the panhandle and to the people of the State of Texas," Jimmy Jones of Borger said today. "It's a real travesty. That land's gone now, and we're not ever going to get it back."

Jones is one of several area sportsmen who have watched the case closely. As state-owned property, the river bed was a popular hunting and recreation area for area residence.

The ruling cut the state's ownership of land around the river from 14,000-plus acres to 138 acres.

The court said the landowners' survey of the land, which reflects the present bed of the river, was valid, while the state's survey which relied on the natural bed of the river was not. The decision ends a 13-year tug-of-war over the land.

Gray County Republican Chairman Tom Mechler greets State Rep. David Swinford, State Rep. Warren Chisum and State Sen. Teel Bivins as they arrived in Pampa during a whirlwind tour of the panhandle to announce re-election bids by the two House members.

Lawmakers hold fly-in to reveal re-election bid

By DAVID BOWSER

Warren Chisum's hat is in the ring today. Pampa's State Representative flew into Perry Lefors Air Field with the panhandle's political delegation to announce his intentions to run for the Texas House of Representatives next year.

Chisum, joined by Rep. David Swinford of Dumas and State Sen. Teel Bivins of Amarillo, made his re-election bid known at a stop over at Pampa's airport shortly before 2 p.m. Thursday.

The travel show started in Dumas at noon with Swinford announcing his re-election bid at a Lion's Club meeting. It was supposed to continue to Hereford so Rep. John Smithce could announce his re-election bid at 3 p.m., but Smithce, an Amarillo lawyer, was to appear before the Texas Supreme Court in Austin.

The trio, instead, toured newly opened dairies near Pampa.

"Mr. Swinford and I are going to run again," Chisum said. "The intent is to keep the panhandle team together so we be effective in Austin."

Bivins, who will not face a re-election bid for two more years, said this was particularly important since the next legislature will redi-

White Deer man dies in collision

By NANCY YOUNG
Managing Editor

Services are Sunday for a 25-year-old White Deer man who died instantly Thursday morning when his 1987 Chevrolet pickup was struck in the back left corner by a 1995 Dodge pickup.

Brandon Kade Hefner, a trucking company owner, was pronounced dead at the scene by Carson County Justice of the Peace Phyllis Tyler. A passenger in his pickup, Lynn Stark, 45, also of White Deer was airlifted by LifeStar to Amarillo's Northwest Texas Hospital. Stark, a White Deer area farmer, remained in fair condition this morning.

The Dodge was westbound on County Road 13 as Hefner was southbound on FM 294 three and one-half miles south of White Deer.

Neither man in the Chevrolet pickup was wearing a seat belt, said Amarillo DPS Safety Officer L. B. Snider. He said the trooper's report indicated Stark's injuries would have probably not been as severe if he had been wearing his seat belt.

Driver of the westbound Dodge pickup was Danny Lynn Franklin (no age available) of Panhandle. Franklin apparently failed to yield at a stop sign, striking the Chevrolet causing it to overturn and land on its top, according to Snider. He said the Dodge struck a telephone pole located nearby.

Franklin was taken to Pampa Regional Medical Center where he was treated and released.

Hefner's body was taken to Lubbock for an autopsy. The DPS Trooper investigating the collision is Bobby Tyler of Groom. Ambulances from White Deer and Skellytown responded to the accident scene.

United Way's Katrina Bigham said the total includes $116,000 in pledges and matching funds from Celanese and their employees. The schools' gifts total $18,055 which is up $1,400 from last year.

FirstBank Southwest came in with 100 percent participation and others reporting included First American Bank, Duncan, Fraser & Bridges Insurance, and H.R. Thompson.

Williams Energy Services is offering $2 tickets for sale to the general public and their employees for two tickets to the Denver Broncos-Kansas City Chiefs game and also for two tickets to the Cowboys-Packers game. Each package includes one night's lodging and a $50 gift certificate. Williams Energy is matching dollar for dollar the ticket revenue for a United Way gift. Call Brenda Amador at 848-2602 if you want to buy a chance.

Next week's check in will be at noon Thursday in the Genesis House Activity Building, 409 N. West Street. They will serve Mexican Pile-On. Thursday's meeting was at the Community Building and was sponsored by The Salvation Army, Amarillo Council on Alcohol and Drug Abuse and Gray County Child Protective Services.

Dope growing charge leveled Week's second HEAT raid

A Pampa couple was in Gray County jail today in lieu of bond in connection with their garden.

Terry Allan Helm, 38, and Leslie Edna Helm, 38, were arrested shortly before noon Thursday after officers found marijuana growing in their garden.

Armed with a search warrant, Pampa police officers swept down on the couple's home at 733 N. Nelson, where they found marijuana plants growing in the couple's backyard.

Officers said about 26 pounds of marijuana was confiscated.

The police investigation began when clerk Treva Lackey received an anonymous call Wednesday morning reporting the plants in the Helms' backyard. Wednesday afternoon,

River

"Because the doctrines of riparian ownership may apply to changes in a river's course due to artificial as well as natural causes," according to Justice Deborah Hankinson, who wrote the unanimous decision, "we hold that changes brought about or influenced by an artificial structure, such as a dam, must be considered in marking the gradient boundary of a river, so long as the riparian does not cause or contribute to the artificial influence."
 Michael Powell, an attorney for the landowners group that includes E.H. Brainard II, the Morrison Cattle Company, oilman Boone Pickens and Amarillo's powerful Whittenburg family, said the ruling was a landmark decision because it kills the state's artificial change theory.

The theory holds that the boundary between state and private land does not change with man-made changes to waterways so surveyors do not need to take damming into account when determining public lands. State law dictates that waterways, such as rivers and creeks, and the land underneath them are state-owned public property. The outcome could affect other drainage systems in the state where the natural flow of a stream has been dammed, he said.

"The thirty land owners have carried on this litigation against the state since the early 1980s and the Texas Supreme Court has unanimously confirmed today that they have always been right," said Jody Sheets, an attorney for the landowners.

 The General Land Office has not determined the effect the ruling will have on other state-owned land on riverbanks, Wardlow said.

"We don't know where the decision goes," she said, "but we haven't found another place in the state that meets these facts."
 Land Commissioner David Dewhurst said he supported the court's decision because it resolves the discord among property owners in the panhandle.

The state's survey of the land was based on the gradient bank of the river, not the actual flow of the water. The state's survey described the river, wider than the Mississippi River at some points with an average width between its banks of about 3,400 feet, and with the narrowest point of 1,608 feet.

Using the natural banks of the river as a basis, the state said it owned more than 14,000 acres.

The landowners survey, which the court approved Thursday, says that the riverbed ranges from 17 feet to 30 feet wide.

In 1990, then-Land Commissioner Garry Mauro warned that a ruling in favor of the land owners would cut into the state's Permanent School Fund, which earns $4 million to $5 million annually from riverbeds around the state. The $19 billion Permanent School Fund, which provides money for public schools in Texas, makes money from leasing mineral, oil and gas rights on state lands and the lands themselves.

Dope

Shana Clark, another clerk in the police department's records section received a second call about the plants.

Officers investigated, got a search warrant and, shortly before noon, eight of them converged on the home.

Lt. Terry Young, who led the raid, said seven to eight marijuana plants were found in the couple's backyard.

"The plants ranged from four-to-five-foot tall," Young said, "and evidence indicated that they had been tended to while growing."

The marijuana was growing in a row along the privacy fence. The backyard was filled with careless weeds almost as tall as the marijuana.

Young said several marijuana buds that were drying were found intertwined in green bedsprings in their garage. He said no dollar amount has been established on the marijuana. It will have to be dried, weighed and analyzed.

Officers said today the marijuana had been sent to the Department of Public Safety lab in Amarillo.

Gray County Justice of the Peace Kurt Curfman set bond on each of the Helms at $5,000 on charges of possession of marijuana over five pounds and under 50 pounds.

In addition to Young, the police department's Hazardous Entry and Arrest Team includes Corey Powell, Fawnsa Burrows, Connie Lockridge, Beverly Chace, David Conner, Bo Lake and David Wild.

This was the second drug raid this week by the team.

Cornel Evans, 21, and Tashia Wilson, 20, were arrested Tuesday night after officers raided their home at 1164 Varnon and confiscated crack cocaine and $200 cash.

The following are letters from victims who have received services from Tralee Crisis Center:

What do I think about Tralee Crisis Center? I think you're safe from your mom's abuser and from the harm he put you through. Also, it's fun there because you are safe from harm and the bad people who you know well and you have more freedom.

They don't push you around nor hit you if you do something wrong. Me and my mom have been there for two days, actually three days, because my stepdad was beating her because she wouldn't clean the house and do everything for his kids and him, not just for me or her, just him and them. I think the crisis center is cool because you don't have to worry about men beating on you at all. (15-year-old female)

I like it there because I feel safe at night. I sleep very good there because I know no one can hurt me. I think it's one of the best places anyone can go because they help you when you need it. And I think people need to come out there if they have a problem. When we went out there, they helped us so much and I know it's a job but I'm glad they help us and I hope they keep helping us and other people that need it. That's what I think of Tralee. (14-year-old female)

If I could just take a minute of your time, I'd like to tell you about a place that is very dear to my heart and I think every woman in the world needs to know about it.

Women have the wrong idea what a shelter is. It's not what you are already experiencing in your relationship, that being sheltered, when you can't leave the house or when you've went to the store and you hear "What took you so long?" You know what I'm talking about?

My daughter and I thought of it more as a safe haven. You'll find that you are protected from your abuser.

The rules are there so everyone can live in a happy and safe environment and when you feel like the rules are dragging you down, just think — you're not begin hurt anymore and you're on the right path to your freedom, which is yours' and you deserve it.

But you have to be determined that's what you want and go after it.

The people at Tralee are the most understanding people I've ever met. I've known the people at Tralee since 1989 and they are still helping me. I'm really learning how to stay out of bad relationships — they have the most wonderful counseling services and support groups. You might think you don't need counseling. I didn't think I did and I found it to be really helpful. I'd already been away from my abuser for a year and the support group really helped me. They have been helping me to define the simple signs of an abuser which will help me if I decide to date again.

We're so busy taking care of everyone around us that we don't take very good care of ourselves. We need to find out who we are and what makes us happy. If we're happy with ourselves, it shows and everyone around us will be happier so I really do recommend the support groups and counseling.

Tralee knows the resources and can help you get back on your feet. They helped me get my divorce in 1989 through West Texas Legal Aide. They helped me get on HUD twice and I'm enjoying my house and my children without violence or abuse. My children are a lot happier and so am I.

I went up to Texas Rehabilitation Commission and they're going to try to help me with my teeth which I lost through abuse. Tralee helped me get a protective order on my abuser. They even went to court with me for moral support. I really am thankful to them for that.

They gave us a roof over our heads. They fed me and my children, helped me get on food stamps and Medicaid for my children and myself and get on what used to be AFDC.

There is a program called Texas Crime Victims that will help you relocate and help you with doctors if that is your need. Tralee provided transportation for me and my children. I don't even know all the resources available. These are a few that have helped me. We all have different situations but yet we're all in the same boat when it comes to the abuse. A dear friend of mine said it's like a movie; it's the same movie just different actors.

I am moving into my new house that HUD helped me to get and am short for time because I could go on forever about how wonderful Tralee is.

The Lord showed me how to live in peace with myself and others and I think if we don't have peace from within we don't have anything. God bless you all. (Adult female)

HEBREWS 13:8

Minister's musings

"And he trembling and astonished said, Lord, what will you have me to do?" (Acts 9:6)

Blinded! Knocked from his horse by a bright light. On his knees in the dust of the road with the hot Syrian sun beating down on him, a man named Saul of Tarsus heard Jesus speak from Heaven.

Like a ravening wolf, Saul had imprisoned and killed followers of Jesus — mistakenly believing he was doing God a service. Now, when the wolf comes to savage the flock at Damascus, the Shepherd stands athwart the Damascus road. He will challenge the wolf. The encounter will change the wolf himself into a shepherd.

The conversion of the man who became the apostle Paul is one of the greatest events of history. He'd spent his life, up to that point, doing what he thought was right. He'd spend the rest of it doing what he knew was right.

In his conversion experience, Paul learned that Jesus, whom he'd persecuted, was the Son of God and savior of the world. He surrendered his entire life to the lordship of Christ and asked, "Lord, what will you have me to do?"

There were three matters about which Paul needed to know what he should do:

ABOUT JESUS: Paul hadn't believed that God had a son. To him, the concept bordered on idolatry or blasphemy. He hated the name of Jesus and vowed to erase it from the earth. He had held the coats of those who stoned the first Christian martyr to death. "Breathing out threatening," and "persecuting the saints unto distant cities," characterized his activities. He who had blasphemed the name of Jesus and slaughtered his saints, now came to know what he should do about Jesus. Now he would seek His will and accept His guidance. To love, obey and serve Him would forever be what Paul did about Jesus.

By Rev. Albert Maggard

ABOUT HIMSELF: We view ourselves in a new light when Christ convicts us. He comes into our lives, not to decorate our sinfulness, but to deliver us from sin and sinning. He changed Paul from persecutor to preacher. Even so, he seeks to make a radical change in us.

The term "sinning Christian" is an oxymoron. There's no such creature. When the blood of Jesus is applied to our hearts, sin dies. The life is changed. The things we once loved, we now hate. We become a "new creation" in Jesus. Old things pass away and our lives become brand new. We see ourselves differently — because we are different.

ABOUT OTHERS: Paul needed to know what the Lord would have him do about others. When it becomes clear what Jesus wants us to do about Him, and about ourselves, He then gives an awareness of what we should do about others.

The poet said, "No man is an island unto himself." All of us live our lives in relation to other people. What does God want us to do about others? As a child of God, what should be my attitude toward those living around me?

The complete answer to those questions came over a lifetime. "It shall be told you what you must do," the Lord told Paul. Step by step he was led and God's plan for his life was revealed. Always it involved sharing Christ with others. Leading lost men to the Savior became his mission in life. It's ours as well.

When we come into relationship with Jesus, all life's other relations are clarified. To know and do God's will puts us right with Him, with ourselves and with others.

First Baptist Church has new minister

First Baptist Church has a new minister — Randy White was called last Sunday to lead the congregation at 203 N. West.

Rev. Randy White

White is coming to Pampa from Kaufman, Texas where he has been the pastor at First Baptist Church.

He is a graduate of Hardin-Simmons University and has earned a Master of Divinity degree from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth.

White is continuing his education and is working on his Doctor of Divinity Degree from Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary.

The new minister and his wife, Shelley, and children will move to Pampa within the next few weeks.

First Baptist Sunday activities begin with Sunday School at 9:45 a.m. followed by worship at 11 a.m.

Sunday evening discipleship courses are offered at 5 p.m. along with a full program for children and youth.

Evening worship is at 6:30 p.m.

Further information about the church programs can be obtained by calling the church office at 669-1155.

Reward in the willingness ...

To discuss God in abstract philosophical terms, to beat your arms against His chest when you don't understand Him, is a dangerous pursuit. One might end up saying aloud what his gut believes when his head forbids the same. In other words, Sunday school answers might take a beating.

To wrestle with God requires the wrestler to be a demanding, foot-stomping creature not paralytically frightened by the spectre of challenging the God of the universe. It requires a questioner whose need to know or his anger or his crisis of faith drives him harder than his desire for docile compliance. It requires an honesty which can be frightening.

Look at Jacob in the 32nd chapter of Genesis. He sent his family away and for a night wrestled with the Angel of the Lord seeking both blessings and answers. Whether

From the Back Pew...

By Cheryl Berzanskis

Jacob received his answers is not clear, but that he was abundantly blessed is definitive.

According to the text, the Angel acknowledges Jacob prevailed in the contest and as his reward, Jacob became Israel — "he who strives with God" — reflecting the valor of the match. God further promised him abundant and powerful descendants who would inhabit the land of Abraham and Isaac.

Jacob paid a physical price for his wrestling match. The Angel of the Lord, touched Jacob's thigh, moving it out of joint, marking him with a lifelong limp. Whether Jacob was punished or simply marked is not explained. We only know the what not why of the occurrence.

That Jacob saw God through the angel and that he was rewarded for his willingness to wrestle for answers encourages the striver in me. When I feel compelled to demand answers, turn the questions in my mind or debate the what ifs, I will not be afraid because of Jacob's example. I will remember that for his efforts he became Israel.

Eggerts New Life Assembly of God pastors

The Rev. Harold P. Eggert and his wife Wendy assumed the pastorate at New Life Assembly of God Sunday, July 4.

The Eggerts moved to Pampa from Ruston, La., where they were on the staff at New Life Assembly of God. The Rev. Eggert served as associate pastor and Mrs. Eggert was minister of music.

Rev. Eggert taught full time at Northeast Louisiana University and Mrs. Eggert was an office administrator for an air conditioning/heating business.

The Reverend received a bachelor of arts degree in religion from Southwestern Assemblies of God University and a master of arts from Louisiana Tech University in Ruston. Mrs. Eggert received a bachelor of science in music from SAGU.

The Reverend has lived in 11 states. Mrs. Eggert was reared in Albuquerque, N.M.

Rev. Eggert worked for Motorola, Inc., from 1992-95 as a technical writer. He has served in various part-time and full-time ministries from 1990-98.

Mrs. Eggert has taught advanced flute

Rev. Harold and Wendy Eggert technique, private lessons in fundamentals of voice and theory, and has been the pianist for the Methodist Children's Home in Ruston. According to Pastor Eggert, there are three catalysts that will ensure that the church is structured on a biblical foundation. These are a well-rounded Sunday school, a powerful worship service and a strong pulpit ministry from a caring pastor.

Mrs. Eggert's philosophy of music ministry is reflected in these statements. A church's music department will touch more people when it aspires to minister rather than perform. Three different factors can help a music department function to its fullest potential. First, education informs and teaches the people of the importance of worship. Secondly, the worship experience allows the congregation to fully encounter communing with God through music. Finally, when the music department works together to incorporate many different ideas, the music can minister to many different people and their needs.

The congregation at New Life Assembly of God, located at the corner of Randy Matson and Sumner, extends an invitation to all those interested in hearing the full gospel message.

Franklin Graham coming to Amarillo

AMARILLO — The Billy Graham Evangelistic Association recently announced that Franklin Graham, along with hundreds of local church and civic leaders, will hold "Texas Panhandle Festival 2000" Aug. 18-20, 2000, at the Dick Bivins Stadium.

"It is my prayer that God will use the time leading up to the Festival to draw the churches of the Texas Panhandle together," said Franklin Graham, "so that we can have an impact for Christ like never before." Graham recently accepted local church leaders' invitation to preach the Texas Panhandle Festival.

More than 150 clergy and lay leaders from the Texas Panhandle area attended the Festival 2000 announcement meeting, Tuesday, September 28, at the Ambassador Hotel. Local attorney Bob Sanders, of Sanders and Baker, was named chairman of the General Festival Committee and will oversee the 11-month Festival preparation process.

"Franklin Graham will have a positive and definite impact on the spiritual health of the communities in our area," said Sanders. "This will be true not only in our churches but in our government and other vital institutions because as the lives of people change so will they." The General Festival Committee, comprised of volunteers from the Panhandle area, will assist in the planning and operation of Festival 2000. "We are very excited that Franklin Graham is coming to Amarillo," said Monsignor Joe Tash of St. Thomas the Apostle Catholic Church. "It will be a wonderful opportunity for people of all faiths to join together in prayer." For the last several months, pastors and church leaders in the Texas Panhandle area have urged Franklin Graham to conduct a festival in their region.

Let's Talk Real Estate
by Jim Davidson Realtor PREAPPROVAL
While a lender's prequalification is merely a calculation of whether a prospective borrower's income fits the standard debt-to-income ratios (principal-and-interest payment equal to 28% of borrower's gross income), preapproval entails the lender having checked the prospective borrower's credit and verified his or her income and other financial references. The latter comes with a document that indicates that the lender will be willing to lend up to a specific mortgage amount, as long as the home appraisal justifies the price. Thus, those who receive preapproval letters practically become cash buyers. This means that they can dispense with the financing contingency in the purchase contract, enabling them to possibly gain the advantage over other buyers who put in slightly higher-bids - but must still apply for loans.
Today there are many creative mortgages that have become available to attract a wider range of people at various income levels. It makes sense to work with professionals who have the experience and knowledge to help you get the most house for your money. Accountant Locks Partners Out of His Office and Books

DEAR ABBY: I hope you can help me, although it's my husband who needs help. "John" is a wonderful husband and father. I love him dearly. When he was in high school, he was always picked on by the jocks. (We all know that story.) Well, John carried this on into his adult life and his business.

My husband has two partners. "Gene" is a "nerd" like John. The other one, "Don," is the "jock." The company is 10 years old. They made about $5 million last year. All three have equal shares of this company.

Don handles all of the accounting. He keeps his door locked at all times when he's not there, as he should because of all the checks, etc. But does he leave an extra key for Gene or John? No! He leaves it with the secretary, and she takes it home with her. Don gets very upset if John or Gene goes into his office without his permission.

The way Don has his accounting program set up, John and Gene cannot access any financial information on the company. They have to go through him first. I strongly suspect Don is embezzling.

They have never had an audit done. John and Gene wouldn't dare insist on one, because Don would get furious if they did. Don gets upset over the most minor things. Gene and my husband are afraid of Don. They've caught him in several lies. He treats everybody like dirt. They fight and argue on a daily basis. It's a terrible atmosphere. Yet they won't do anything about it.

Any suggestions? DEPRESSED IN TEXAS

DEAR DEPRESSED: The three partners should get together and agree to have an independent C.P.A. (selected by all three) set up their accounting system so that all three partners can understand what's happening financially, and the necessary security is preserved. If Don refuses to agree to it, then Gene and John should consult a lawyer.

DEAR ABBY: Today, 14 days short of his 56th birthday, we buried my beloved younger brother. He died by his own hand two days before his first scheduled appointment with a psychiatrist. He had been referred by the general practitioners who had been treating him for the past two months.

Bipolar or manic depressive disorder has ravaged my family for many generations. It is, indeed, an inherited genetic disorder. But there is a wonderful treatment for it — in the form of lithium carbonate. I can attest to this. I am a diagnosed manic depressive and, thanks to lithium, I have led a normal, productive life for the past 12 years.

If only I had realized how ill my brother was, perhaps I could have gotten him to treatment in time. If only the GPs had realized this was beyond their expertise, perhaps they could have referred him to a psychiatrist earlier and this tragedy could have been averted. If only, if only.

Nothing will bring back my younger brother, but maybe our experience can help someone else. Thank you for letting me vent, Abby.

GRIEVING BROTHER, TAYLORS, S.C.

DEAR GRIEVING: Please accept my deepest sympathy for the tragic loss of your beloved brother, but take heart in the thought that your letter may save the lives of countless others. People who know there is a history of bipolar disorder in the family should alert their doctors to it. Also, those who are experiencing mood swings should seek a referral to a psychiatrist who can help them restore the balance in their brain chemistry.

BY JACQUELINE BIGAR

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)

 Getting together with others promotes excesses of all types. There is no holding back. Another is full of surprises. You're sure to go overboard, whether by living the good life, spending or eating more than usual. You'll love what goes on. Tonight: There is no stopping you now.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)

 Another swings into high gear and seeks you for company. You socialize and enjoy yourself all too easily. Friends remark about this tendency to go hog-wild. You feel good, and your attitude encourages others to let loose, too. Tonight: Say yes to a partner's idea or plans.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)

 Pace yourself. Think carefully when you receive news from a distance. Express your caring; don't let confusion get to you. You might reveal much more than you intend. Lie low. Talk to friends; share with those in your day-to-day life. Good will surround you. Tonight: Get a head start on tomorrow.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)

 Allow more joy into your life. A partner or friend coerces you to go along with others. Let go of your cares; join friends and communicate what is going on with you. If you choose gentler tones, others will respond. A good time is had by all. Tonight: Add more naughtiness to your life.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)

 Partners seek you out, though you might not be completely clear about what their agendas are. Enjoy the day; get into festivities; bring others together. Think about new ways to beautify your home or perhaps spruce up an outdoor garden. A partner lets you know how much you mean to him. Tonight: Why stop?

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

 What you hear delights you. It is no longer necessary to take a back seat or pick and choose your words. Clearly, you are cared for. Listen to feedback from a loved one or friend at a distance. You could be vague about plans. Be clearer about your communication and listen more carefully to another's request. Tonight: Talking up a storm.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)

 You might let go of common sense and then regret it at a later date. Finances get way out of control. Establish limits, with an eye to potential repercussions. A partner encourages you to take a risk, but be careful. Remember, there could be problems. Tonight: Use your instincts.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

 Your actions energize others. A partner could be challenged, but he clearly adores you. A family member might be confused by a recent discussion; attempting to clarify the talk might make the situation worse! Maintain a sense of humor. Tonight: Do whatever pleases you!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)

 A lot goes on behind the scenes. Make sound choices, remaining sure of yourself. A project needs extra time. Put some extra effort into it, and it will bloom. You'll like what you accomplish. A respected friend or boss admires what you have done. Tonight: Take some personal time.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

 You know what you want, which inspires others. Friends seem to descend upon you. Together, you accomplish much more than you thought possible. Consider scheduling a group weekend away to see the turning leaves, or perhaps get into some early winter activities. Tonight: Where your friends are.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)

 Sometimes, all that is happening overwhelms you. In some ways, you could be running in all directions simultaneously. Opportunity strikes on the homefront; check out one particular real estate investment. Someone you put on a pedestal could use some of your time. Tonight: Be extra gentle with a partner.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)

 Take off spontaneously to explore a favorite flea market or take in an art show. You could be overwhelmed by how many options are presented. Keep them open, if possible. Consider new ways to relate to a partner or friend more effectively. Tonight: Dinner in a new spot.

HOCKEY

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas Stars center Mike Modano, who suffered strained neck ligaments after being sent head first into the boards last week, said Thursday the NHL is growing increasingly violent and if it doesn't change, he'll leave the game.

Modano, who also broke his nose and had a mild concussion after Anaheim defenseman Ruslan Salei cross-checked him from behind in Saturday's game, admits he's nervous about playing again and taking another hit.

"It was a scary incident," said Modano, who was knocked unconscious and remembers waking to find doctors and trainers hovering over and yelling at him to try to move his arms and legs.

"To see it on replay ... and to see how close (the hit) could've been to hampering me or from keeping me from playing ever again ... it makes you wonder whether it's worth it to play in this game and in sports in general," said Modano, the bridge of his nose bruised and scraped.

Meeting with reporters after a light workout, the team's best offensive player said he still feels like he's "in a bit of a fog." Recent neurological tests showed he was recovering well, but Modano said he's not sure when he'll play again.

If the career-ending or life-threatening violence doesn't stop, Modano said he will get off the ice for good.

Harvesters seek third consecutive victory

PAMPA — Caprock is finding victories hard to come by this season, but quarterback Tanner Craven and receiver Jay Fields are putting up some impressive numbers.

Craven leads District 3-4A in completions (72), passing yards (1,055) and TD passes (9) going into the Pampa-Caprock game at 1 p.m. Saturday at Dick Bivins Stadium in Amarillo.

"Craven is very adept at getting the pass off. He's extremely quick and hard to trap in the backfield," said PHS head coach Dennis Cavalier.

Fields is second in the district in three categories: receiving (31 for 511 yards), rushing-receiving (559 yards) and scoring (30 points). He's tied with Pampa's Ryan Nash for first in punt returns (1-12.0 yards).

"Fields is one of the top receivers in the district and he's just a junior," Cavalier said. "He's big (6-3, 170) and very mobile."

Caprock is averaging 212 passing yards per game, which is tops among the six district teams. The Longhorns' main problem is defense — where they rank last in the district — allowing almost 400 yards per game. Caprock has a 1-4 record with its only win a 28-20 decision over River Road.

"For the last couple of years Caprock has been known mainly for its passing game," Cavalier said. "We don't want to just concentrate on stopping their passing game and disregard their ground game. Caprock does run a lot of quarterback draws."

Pampa's offense, which is averaging 17.2 points per game, is starting to get into a rhythm. Junior fullback Thomas Long has rushed for 360 yards and two touchdowns while senior quarterback Kaleb Snelgroes has passed for 524 yards and a touchdown. Senior tight end Justin Barnes leads the receivers with 11 catches and two touchdowns.

Senior Ramon Martinez gave

Pampa a boost in the backfield last weekend. Filling in for the injured Terrance Lemons at tailback, Martinez rushed for 118 yards and a touchdown in the 27-14 win over Randall.

Pampa's defense, which has allowed 21.0 points per game, is tough when the going gets tough.

Sophomore safety Orlando Madrid is the district leader in assisted tackles (43) and is third in total tackles (54). Linebackers Jason Burklow and Nathan Arnn are right up there among the district leaders in tackles. Burklow has 53 stops and Arnn 47 to rank fourth and fifth, respectively. Cornerback J.J.

Roark is second in interceptions with three. Up front, end Andy Schroeder has 24 tackles and noseguard Tyson Curtis has 20.

Pampa (3-2) will be looking for its third consecutive win Saturday and its fourth win in the last five meetings with Caprock. Pampa won 17-0 a year ago.

OSU hopes to use Texas Tech as springboard

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Last year's Texas Tech game continued a downward spiral for Oklahoma State. Leading 10-0 early, the Cowboys lost 24-17 in the second game of a stretch that saw them lose five out of six.

Oklahoma State would like to use Saturday night's game against the Red Raiders as a springboard, not a high dive.

The Cowboys (2-2, 0-1 Big 12) have lost two straight and looked bad doing it. They committed eight turnovers in a loss to Mississippi State, then got steamrolled in the first half of a 38-14 loss to Nebraska.

A season that began with high hopes appears to be teetering. The offensive line hasn't jelled as well as coach Bob Simmons would have hoped. His two young quarterbacks, B.J. Tiger and Ben Bowling, have struggled since being pressed into action after an injury to Tony Lindsay. And the defense and special teams were suspect against Nebraska.

Because of concerns about Tiger and Bowling, Simmons used a conservative game plan against Nebraska, particularly in the first half when they repeatedly ran the ball between the tackles.

While Cowboy fans and even the players might prefer more variety, Simmons would prefer that his team properly execute the plays that are called.

"What this team has got to realize is that we have to do the correct things to win. Those are things that you talk about a coach," he said.

"Does it play into their psyche? I think that it plays into any team's psyche. We just flat out have to execute better and get things done the way we want to as a football team."

9th graders down Dumas

DUMAS — Pampa's freshmen football team stretched its unbeaten streak to 6-0 with a 25-15 win over Dumas Thursday night.

Derrick Williams scored two touchdowns for Pampa on runs of 55 and 4 yards.

Curtis Pritchett and Jered Snelgroes each scored on 1-yard TD runs. Tim Kettering kicked a conversion point.

Brian Watts had an outstanding game on defense for the Pampa 9th graders. Jordan Klaus had a pass interception and also played well at running back.

Pampa plays at Palo Duro next Thursday with the game starting at 4:30 p.m. Pampa's next home game is Oct. 28 against Tascosa Red.

Yankees trim Rangers, 3-1

NEW YORK (AP) — The Texas Rangers needed just one key hit to put themselves in position to tie their AL playoff series.

But they were not going to get it on this night, either. Not against the New York Yankees. Not against Andy Pettitte.

Pettitte, pitching every bit up to manager Joe Torre's expectations, stopped Texas at every tight spot Thursday night in a 3-1 victory that gave the Yankees a 2-0 edge.

"I've seen Andy do it before. When you need to count on him, he doesn't disappoint," Torre said. "He makes big plays, he makes big pitches."

The Yankees won their ninth straight postseason game and sent Texas to its eighth playoff loss in a row. New York can complete a three-game sweep Saturday night at Texas when Roger Clemens starts against Esteban Loaiza.

It was Torre who helped convince owner George Steinbrenner not to send the shaky Pettitte to Philadelphia at the July 31 trading deadline. Pettitte was sharp down the stretch and rewarded his manager's confidence with another top effort in October.

"It seems like every year I struggle and they talk about trading me, and then somebody stands up for me, like Joe," Pettitte said. "I had a tough year, a lot of people doubting me."

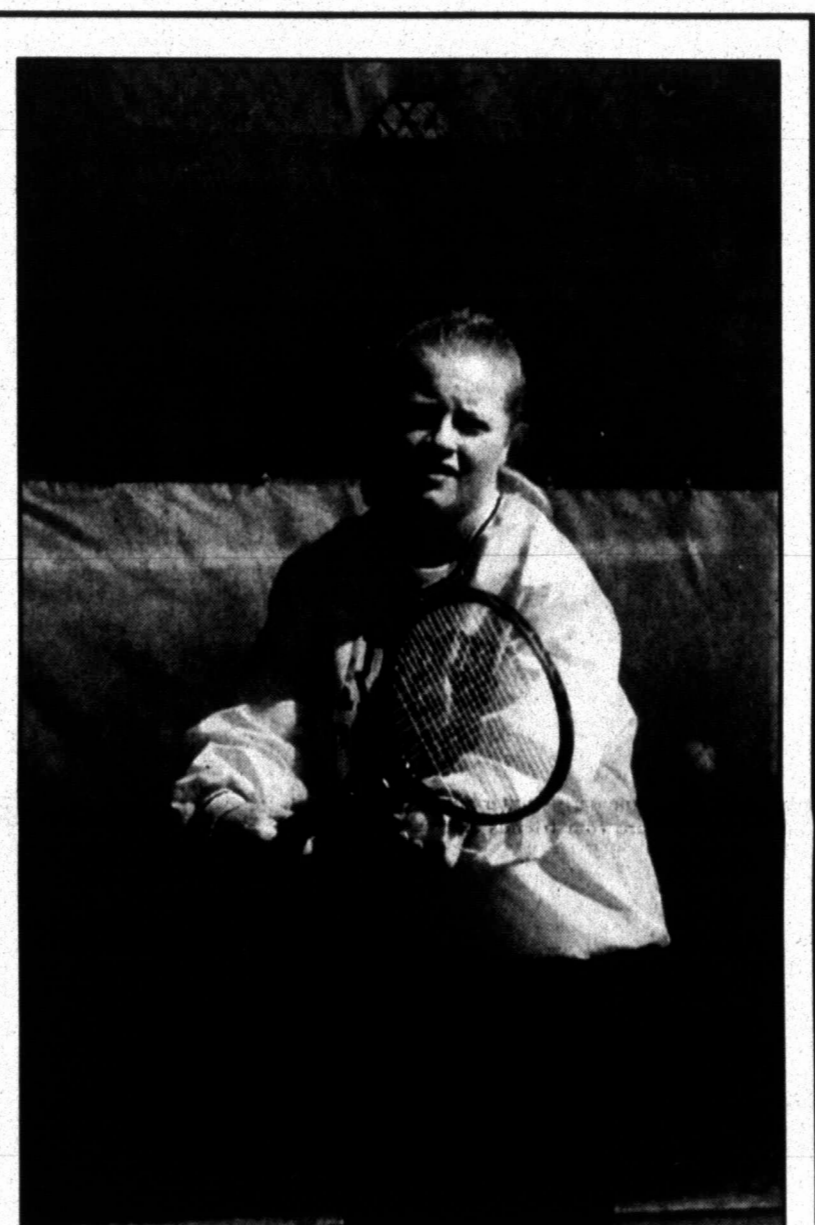

Against Texas, he looked every bit as focused as the pitcher who won the clinching Game 4 of last year's World Series and the crucial Game 5 of the 1996 Series against Atlanta.

After the game, Steinbrenner personally complimented Pettitte for a "courageous performance."

Juan Gonzalez homered in the fourth, ending the Rangers' postseason scoreless streak at 25 innings. But that was all they managed in 7-1-3 innings against Pettitte.

"I really put a lot of weight on the games that count the most," Torre said. "He has not backed off."

And this is the task Texas faces: In 56 best-of-5 postseason series, only four times has a team overcome a 0-2 deficit.

Pampa High senior Emily Waters has a 12-5 record from her No. 1 singles spot on the girls' tennis squad this fall. Waters and her teammates will compete in a district playoff match against Dumas on Oct. 23 in Amarillo.

Rams haven't beaten 49ers since 1990

By DAVE GOLDBERG
AP Football Writer

Sunday can be payback time a decade removed for San Francisco, even if Steve Young and Jerry Rice are the only 49ers who remember what the payback is for.

The Niners, with Young a maybe because of his latest concussion, arrive in St. Louis with a 17-game winning streak over the Rams, who last beat them 28-17 on Nov. 25, 1990.

That was the first loss after 10 wins for San Francisco that season.

So this year the Niners can not only run their winning streak over the Rams to 18, but end St. Louis' unbeaten run, albeit a modest 3-0 against three of the NFL's lesser teams: the Ravens, Falcons and Bengals.

There is no line on this game because of Young's injury.

He was cleared to practice by his neurologist earlier this week, although Steve Mariucci may not decide until gametime whether Young or Jeff Garcia starts. Garcia, a former Canadian Leaguer making his first start, was the quarterback as San Francisco beat Tennessee 24-22 last week.

Pro Picks

But the line might be less important than three videotapes of the games in which former Arena Leaguer Kurt Warner has thrown nine touchdown passes and run up an outlandish 125 rating. Most defensive coaches believe that once they have three tapes on a young quarterback, they can find his weaknesses.

There's another "three" that comes into play: average teams that start 3-0 rarely win the fourth.

Indians rout Red Sox

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Indians don't need any help scoring runs, thank you very much. They scored 1,009 during the regular season, the highest total in 49 years.

But if a team wants to give the Indians more than 27 outs and put them on base without making them swing their bats, that team could find itself in big trouble.

And that's where the Boston Red Sox are.

"If the pitcher is not having a good day and makes mistakes, chances are he's going to pay for it," Indians third baseman Travis Fryman said.

The Red Sox paid dearly for their generosity as Cleveland's offense unleashed a two-inning attack that sent the Indians to an 11-1 rout and a 2-0 lead over Boston in the AL playoffs.

Jim Thome hit an historic grand slam, Harold Baines added a three-run shot and Charles Nagy pitched seven solid innings Thursday as Cleveland moved within a win of sweeping Boston and advancing to the ALCS for the third straight year.

The Indians, the first team since 1950 to score more than 1,000 runs during the regular season, looked the part in Game 2.

Baines' homer capped a six-run third inning against an uncharacteristically wild Bret Saberhagen, and Thome's second career postseason slam iced a five-run fourth off John Wasdin as Cleveland's high-octane offense shifted into demolition mode.

And the Indians did all their damage without much help from Manny Ramirez, who drove in 165 runs this season, but none so far in this series.

"We're in a groove now," shortstop Omar Vizquel said. "We got everybody swinging the bats, and we're feeding off one another."

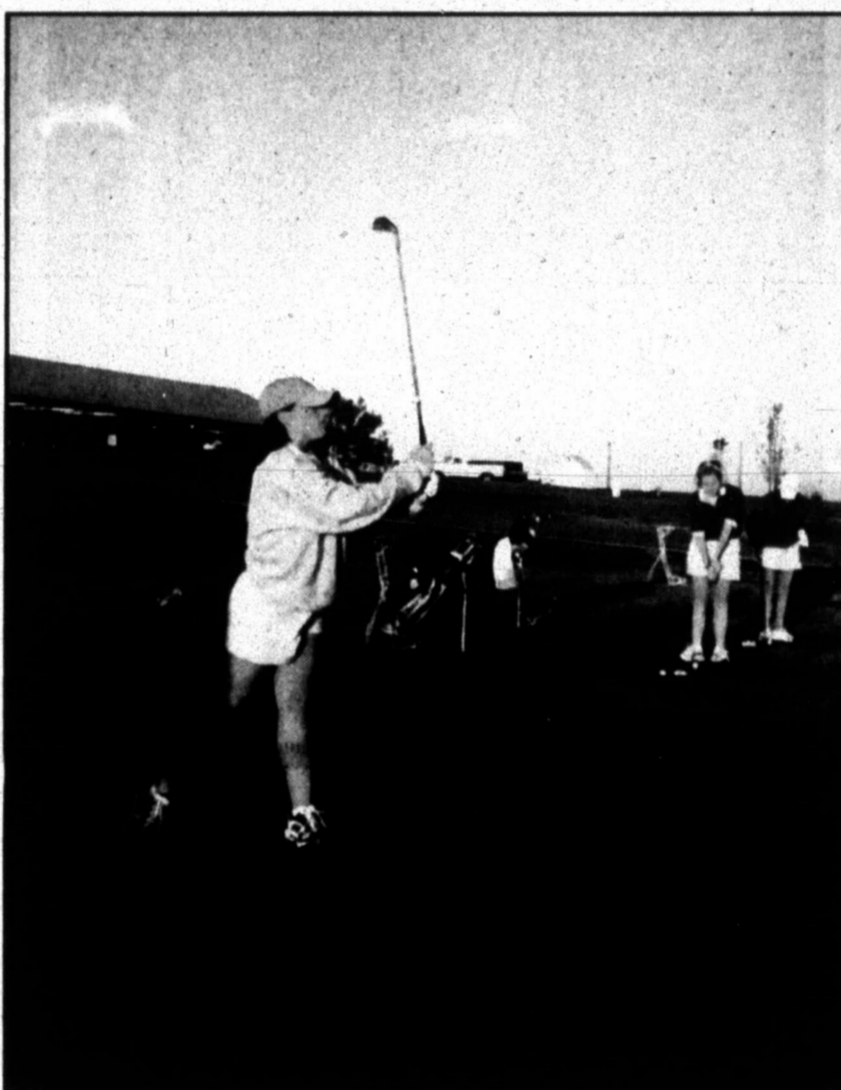

The Red Sox need help — quickly. Boston, which beat the Cleveland eight times during the regular season, has now lost five straight in the playoffs to the Indians the past two years.

Moreover, Boston dropped to 1-18 since Bill Buckner's infamous error in Game 6 of the 1986 World Series.

Boston manager Jimmy Williams kidded that it might be time for desperate measures. Maybe even a seance.

"Maybe I'll get a hold of George Herman (Babe Ruth)," Williams said.

The Red Sox, who lost Pedro Martinez to a back injury in Game 1 and maybe for the series, will turn to another Martinez, Pedro's brother, Ramon, to save their season in Game 3 Saturday at Fenway Park. Dave Burba, a postseason hero for the Indians pitching out of the bullpen last year, starts for Cleveland.

Annie Sims, a member of the Pampa High School girls golf team, tees off at the driving range during a recent practice session at Hidden Hills. The Pampa girls are entered in the Hereford Invitational this weekend.

Pampa girls entered in tournament at Hereford

PAMPA — The Pampa High girls golf team is entered in the Hereford Tournament this weekend. The Pampa boys team has an open date.

Both teams competed in fall tournaments at Plainview and Hereford last weekend.

"We had some bad weather. The girls at Plainview played okay, shooting a 367. We could have played a little better, but we did okay considering the weather," said Pampa coach Frank McCullough.

Cortnie Allison led the way with an 82, followed by Maggie Cowan 86, Annie Sims 99. Stefanie Harwood 100 and Cortney Lockname 104.

"The boys also had a bad day for golf," McCullough added.

The Harvesters shot a 332 at Hereford. Pampa scores were Daniel Heuston 80, Matt Heasley 81, Cory Fowler 84, Ryan Black 87 and Anthony Tiedt.

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP) — Notah Begay made a name for himself the last time he played as a professional in Virginia, shooting a record-tying 59 in the second round of a Nike Tour event in Richmond.

Now that Begay is playing on the PGA Tour and back in Virginia for the first time, he's trying to show that he belongs on the course with golf's best.

A victory six weeks ago in the Reno-Tahoe Open went a long way toward making the point, and Thursday's first round of the Michelob Championship didn't hurt.

Playing in whipping wind and 50-degree temperatures, Begay shot a 4-under-par 67 that earned him a share of the lead with Corey Pavin and Robin Freeman on a day when only 33 others managed to match par.

"I only made one bogey, which was on the 18th hole, and looking back, that's a great day when conditions are as unpredictable as they were today," Begay said.

Begay played with 1996 PGA Championship winner Mark Brooks and Michael Bradley, and said winning in late August has helped him improve.

"You start getting paired with other winners, and major winners," the 32-year-old American Indian said. "The last few weeks I played with guys that have won like Steve Elkington and Nick Faldo and Curtis Strange. That elevates your game because you know you've earned the right to be there."

Michigan and Michigan State play for the state's bragging rights

By The Associated Press

Before either team can think about a national championship, Michigan and Michigan State must decide who's No. 1 in the state.

That issue will be settled Saturday in East Lansing, when the No. 3 Wolverines meet the No. 11 Spartans in a Big Ten showdown. Both teams are 5-0 overall and 2-0 in the league.

"Back home, this is all everybody is talking about," said Shawn Thompson, the Michigan tight end from Saginaw. "In my town, it's about split between Michigan and Michigan State fans, so I get an earful both ways when I'm home."

Michigan leads the series 60-26-5, including 6-3 in the 1990s.

"I've always believed that we can have two top programs in this state," Michigan State coach Nick Saban said. "They do it in Florida with Florida and Florida State. I don't think it would hurt either program for both of us to be powers. It would just mean one great game every season."

Michigan and Michigan State have met every year since 1910 except 1943 and 1944, when the game was suspended because of World War II. The Wolverines have a 16-9-2 record at East Lansing and have beaten the Spartans the past three years.

"We have to beat Michigan this year," Michigan State receiver Gari Scott said. "We haven't done it since I got here, so we need this one bad. We can't let them come into our house and beat us again."

This is just the 12th time the intrastate rivals have met when both were ranked in the AP poll. The higher ranked team has won nine of the 11 games, going 9-1-1. The only upset came in 1950 when Michigan State won 14-7 in the first game of the season.

Michigan nose tackle Rob Renes hopes there is no upset this time.

"I plan on living here the rest of my life," Renes said. "That's not something I want to tell my children or grandchildren."

In other Top 25 games, it's No. 19 Miami at No. 1 Florida State; No. 2 Penn State at Iowa; Iowa State at No. 4 Nebraska; No. 5 Virginia Tech at Rutgers; No. 10 Georgia at No. 6 Tennessee; North Carolina at No. 7 Georgia Tech; No. 8 Florida at LSU; Kansas at No. 9 Kansas State; Baylor at No. 13 Texas A&M; No. 14 Mississippi State at Auburn; Southern Mississippi at No. 16 East Carolina; No. 17 Purdue at No. 21 Ohio State; No. 20 Wisconsin at No. 25 Minnesota; No. 22 Southern California at Arizona; Oklahoma at No. 23 Texas; and California at No. 24 BYU.

On Thursday night, No. 18 Syracuse beat Pittsburgh 24-17, and Army defeated Louisville 59-52 in double overtime.

At Tallahassee, Fla., the Miami-Florida State game will be missing one of its featured attractions.

Florida State receiver Peter Warrick, a top contender for the Heisman Trophy, won't play when the Seminoles try to extend their 44-game home unbeaten streak. Warrick was indefinitely suspended and receiver Laveranues Coles was kicked off the team after they were arrested Thursday on charges they were allowed to underpay for clothes at a department store.

"I told the kids no matter what distractions are out there, we want our full concentration on the University of Miami," coach Bobby Bowden said.

The Seminoles (5-0) have not lost at home since Miami's 17-16 victory in 1991. That was the third time in five years that the Hurricanes ruined Florida State's bid for a national championship.

"Miami has beaten us when everything was riding on it," Bowden said. "They won the national championship when we could have won it."

Florida State has dominated the series in recent years, winning four straight over the Hurricanes. But Bowden thinks Miami coach Butch Davis has returned the Hurricanes to their old form.

"They're back," Bowden said. "To me, Miami is a 4-0 club. They are so close to being undefeated."

Miami (2-2) opened the season with victories over Ohio

State and Florida A&M before losing to No. 2 Penn State and No. 16 East Carolina, both by scores of 27-23.

No. 18 Syracuse 24, Pittsburgh 17

Troy Nunes threw three TD passes in the first half, including a desperation heave on a botched field-goal attempt, as Syracuse (5-1, 2-0 Big East) won at Pittsburgh (3-2, 1-1).

Nunes didn't start, but came in and threw his scoring passes in less than a quarter to give Syracuse a 21-0 halftime lead. The Orangemen increased their lead to 24-0 on Nate Trout's 28-yard field goal before Pittsburgh (3-2, 1-1) rallied behind backup quarterback David Priestley for two touchdowns and a field goal in the final 15 1/2 minutes.

Syracuse beat Pitt for the ninth straight time under coach Paul Pasqualoni.

Army 59, Louisville 52, 2OT

Quarterback Joe Gerena scored on a 7-yard run in the second overtime, and Michael Wallace rushed for a school-record 269 yards and four touchdowns as Army beat Louisville, in the first OT game for either school.

Louisville (3-3, 0-1 Conference USA) overcame a 45-17 halftime deficit at West Point, but came up short against Army (2-3, 1-2) in the second extra period.

After Gerena scored in the second OT, Louisville started from the Army 25 and gained a first down at the 12. But the drive stalled and, on a fourth-and-7 from the 8, Chris Redman's pass was dropped by Lavell Boyd near the back of the end zone.

changed a whole lot over the course of the last few years. I know these guys and I know what I'm trying to do."

Then again, career records are much like mutual funds: past performance is no guarantee of future success. The Astros proved that in Game 1 by beating Greg Maddux, who had a 19-9 mark against Houston.

"All of that is in the past and out the window," Carl Everett said. "Those things don't mean a thing now."

For Game 3, the Killer B's will be reunited with another of their original members, Derek Bell, making his first appearance of the series in right field. Also, Matt Mieseke will start in left, providing two more right-handed bats against the left-handed Glavine.

"It's a good feeling to be back in there," said Bell, who struggled through an injury-plagued season.

After Millwood's gem, Braves are very much alive

HOUSTON (AP) — For the Houston Astros, it comes down to the good, the bad and the ugly.

The good: Mike Hampton (22-4) pitches in Game 3 of their opening-round series against Atlanta, while one-hit maestro Kevin Millwood won't be on the mound for the Braves.

The bad: Houston must face Tom Glavine, who was only 14-11 during the regular season, but hasn't lost to the Astros in more than eight years.

The ugly: The Killer B's — Jeff Bagwell and Craig Biggio — are mired in a perpetual playoff slump.

With the best-of-5 series tied at a game apiece, Houston manager Larry Dierker can't think of anyone he'd rather have pitching such a critical game than Hampton, one of the favorites for the Cy Young Award.

"Well, maybe Bob Gibson in his prime," Dierker said. "(Hampton) is the most likely guy to be on the mound when we've won."

After winning the Cy Young a year ago, Glavine has struggled through an up-and-down season, with his highest ERA (4.12) since 1990. While it's highly unlikely he'll match Millwood's performance in Game 2 — "I'm not even going to try," Glavine said — the Braves have the right pitcher on the mound under the circumstances.

After losing his first eight career decisions to the Astros, Glavine has gone 8-0 with a 1.30 ERA in his last 10 regular-season trips to the mound against them. His most recent loss against Houston came on June 25, 1991, by a score of 1-0.

"I have a comfort zone here," Glavine said, gazing around the spacious Astrodome after a light workout Thursday, an off day. "Also, their lineup hasn't tract the state. West Texas will begin the next session with 16 members but will end it with only 14 because of population shifts from rural parts of the state to urban areas.

"I am traveling with these guys," Bivins said, "because I want the team to stay together."

Swinford said Bivins had established the precedent of hosting a weekly meeting with the panhandle delegation in Austin.

"Teel gets us focused," Swinford said. "We have to give him credit."

"Our delegation is unique," Bivins said. "Not only do we work well together, we like each other."

The trio was to end their tour of the panhandle with a press conference at 5:30 p.m. Thursday at the Big Texan Steak Ranch in Amarillo.

"The Republican team is something this area should be proud of," said Tom Mechler, chairman of the Gray County Republican Party, at the re-election announcement.

Bivens talks about interest in Lt. Governor's position

Pampa's state senator is interested in moving up the political ladder.

Texas Sen. Teel Bivins said Thursday during a campaign stop over for State Rep. Warren Chisum that he would be interested in being the next lieutenant governor for the Lone Star State.

With Gov. George W. Bush running for President, Lt. Gov. Rick Perry would become governor if Bush wins the national election for the White House. The Texas Senate would then select one of their number to replace Perry as the presiding officer of the senate.

Recent polls, Bivins admitted, indicated that his name was one of those most often mentioned by his fellow senators for the position.

"You can't serve in the Texas Senate," Bivins said, "without wanting to be lieutenant governor."

The lieutenant governor's position as the president of the senate is arguably the most powerful elected office in state government. It will be particularly important during the next legislative session, scheduled for 2001, because the state's electoral boundaries will be redrawn.

"I think there is a chance that could happen," Bivins said.

While he said he is not actively pursuing the lieutenant governor's job, he said that he may be in the right place at the right time.

Which ever senator that is selected by his peers to be the presiding officer of the upper chamber would serve until the next general election.

Bivins indicated that if he were named to head the senate, he would consider running for lieutenant governor in 2002.

While he did not rule out running for governor, Bivins did say that it was likely that if Bush were elected president and Rick Perry moved into the governor's mansion, Perry would most likely run for governor in 2002.

"I would not run against Rick Perry," Bivins said.

Countdown clocks pulled

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — Time flies, and that can be a bad thing for postal customers.

Watching digital clocks at post offices ticking off the days, hours, minutes and seconds to Jan. 1, 2000 in big red numbers has been a source of complaints to customer service counters.

"We had a few people saying that it bothers them — that they see their life going before them," Jackie Beall, postmaster at the U.S. Postal Service station in Colleyville, told the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. "They were in a hurry anyway. They didn't need the reminder."

So officials wasted no time giving the order to remove the clocks after they were linked to a decline in customer satisfaction as measured in surveys, said Stephen Seewoester, a Fort Worth district spokesman.

The removals began about three weeks ago at about 100 post offices in North Texas.

David Fatheree visits with State Sen. Teel Bivins Thursday afternoon at Pampa's air terminal. Bivins, who was in town for Warren Chisum's re-election bid announcement, said he would like to be lieutenant governor.

Parents thought arrests would never come

AUSTIN (AP) — Relieved of arrests after an eight-year murder investigation, parents of the four girls slain in the city's notorious yogurt shop killings say.

they are cautiously optimistic that the case is drawing to a close.

"We don't want to have the wrong people. We don't want anybody railroaded," said Barbara Ayres, mother of two of the girls killed.

The victims' parents told reporters Thursday that in the years after the Dec. 6, 1991 killings, they started to believe the crimes would never be solved.

"One day, whoever did it would probably have to answer for it but we wouldn't know about it," said Pam Ayers, whose 13-year-old daughter, Amy, was among the victims.

"I don't think it will be real to me until we actually see the men and have an indictment in the case."

After chasing thousands of leads for years, police arrested four suspects Wednesday.

All have been charged with capital murder in the deaths of Miss Ayers; Eliza Hope Thomas, 17; and sisters Jennifer Harbison, 17, and Sarah Harbison, 15.

Each girl was shot in the head at the I Can't Believe It's Yogurt! store where Miss Thomas and Jennifer Harbison worked. Afterward, the store was set on fire.

Threats prompt tight security at singer's trial

UVALDE, Texas (AP) — Texas Rangers and Uvalde County sheriff's deputies are, keeping security tight at the courthouse where country singer Johnny Rodriguez is on trial for murder.

Extra safety measures were planned anyway. But officers have been especially careful after an alleged death threat to Rodriguez by a man connected to the case, Uvalde County Sheriff Beaumont Watkins said Thursday.

"He said he felt like Johnny was probably going to walk on this deal, that he would take Johnny's life," Watkins said.

The man is an uncle of Israel "Bosco" Borrego, the man shot to death Aug. 29, 1998, at the home of Rodriguez's mother in nearby Sabinal, the sheriff said.

Rodriguez, 47, is on trial for Borrego's murder and could face life in prison if convicted.
