Lodge Gathers Information On The Government

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge set up shop today as President-elect Eisenhower's liaison man with the Truman administration and emphasized that his job is to gather information—no to give it out.

"There is no prospect whatever of any news out of me until after Eisenhower has come and gone," Lodge said.

Lodge arrived in Washington last night. He said today he had notified John R. Steelman, assistant to President Truman, that he was on hand to begin the liaison work.

Lodge told reporters at Washington Airport last night he might have a confidential report ready for the Eisenhower-Truman conference.

Lodge also was asked whether Eisenhower ever had considered making such a trip as President-elect or President.

"I haven't heard of anything (along that line) at any time," Hagerty replied.

When he was campaigning, Eisenhower said he would go anywhere to see anybody if he thought it would help win world peace.

Another key Eisenhower supporter during the campaign, Seattle businessman Walter Williams, said in New York last night he also was flying to the general's vacation retreat today.

Williams served as chairman of the Citizens for Eisenhower Committee. There has been talk he might get a major job in the new administration.

Dewey said last week he intended to stay on as governor for the two remaining years of his term. But reports persist that Eisenhower may ask him to be either secretary of state or secretary of defense.

At Eisenhower's request, Dewey was stopping over at Augusta for about five hours on his way to Miami, Fla., for a vacation.

After his conference with Dewey, the general planned a private dinner party at the Augusta National Golf Club for Mrs. Eisenhower, whose birthday is today. She is 56.

The party tonight was arranged for the family. Here with the President-elect and Mrs. Eisenhower are her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud, their daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Eisenhower, and their three grandchildren.

Out of today's Eisenhower-Dewey conference may come a decision on when the general will leave for Korea. He promised during the campaign that if elected he would go to the battle zone in the hope of finding some way to end the war.

James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, said yesterday he knew of no plans for the general to visit Moscow as well. He made the statement when asked for comment on a New York dispatch to a Paris newspaper, France Soir, that Eisenhower would go to Russia if preliminary contacts with the Soviet Union turned out satisfactorily.

Hagerty also was asked whether Eisenhower ever had considered making such a trip as President-elect or President.

Katyn Forest Probe Calls Former Intelligence Chief

Seek To Determine If Report Withheld

By RUSSELL BRINES

WASHINGTON (AP)—A former top wartime intelligence officer was summoned by House investigators today to tell whether he suppressed an official wartime report charging the Russians with the murder of 15,000 Polish officers.

Maj. Gen. Clayton Bissell, one-time head of G-2, faces questioning by a special House committee investigating the massacre in Katyn Forest, Western Russia, during World War II.

The general's testimony is expected to conclude week-long hearings to determine whether American officials withheld news of Russia's connection with the massacre to avoid endangering relations with the Soviets during the war.

Bissell handled a special report made by Lt. Col. John H. Van Vliet Jr., who, as a German war prisoner, was taken to Katyn in early 1943 when the Nazis announced finding mass graves of thousands of Poles.

Van Vliet reported in May, 1945, he was convinced by his visit that the Russians committed the murders. Although Moscow blamed the Germans, the report subsequently disappeared.

The committee has reported its investigation proves the Russians slaughtered the Polish leaders to make way for a Communist Poland.

Arthur Bliss Lane, former ambassador to Poland, testified yesterday he understood the Voice of America at first had refused to include in its world-wide broadcasts the findings of the American Committee to Investigate the Katyn Massacre. Lane headed the committee, formed in 1943, which charged the Russians with the killings.

Alan Cranston, a wartime official of the Office of War Information, was recalled for further testimony on his role in what committee members called efforts to censor Polish language radio broadcasts for anti-Russian comments on Katyn.

During the week the committee has heard some top-level wartime diplomats deny there was any suppression of reports on Katyn. But they agreed that United States military officials feared that Russia might conclude a separate peace with Germany.

George H. Earle, former governor of Pennsylvania and once President Roosevelt's special emissary to Turkey, testified yesterday he showed the President Bulgarian and Romanian documents in May, 1944, proving Russian guilt at Katyn.

Earle said Roosevelt was convinced the Germans had committed the killings.

When he proposed publishing a full report about Katyn, Earle said, the President forbade him. He produced a letter from Roosevelt which said it would be a "betrayal" for a presidential envoy to make public "your unfavorable opinion of one of our allies at the very time when such a publication might do irreparable harm to our war effort."

A collector offered $1,500 for the letter, Earle added. He said he tried to warn the President before the Normandy landing in 1944 that "Russia was a greater menace than Germany." The President replied, he added, that Russia's various races would "fly to pieces" when the war ended.

Tennessee Vols Named To Play In Cotton Bowl

DALLAS, Nov. 14 (AP)—Tennessee today was selected to play in the Cotton Bowl.

The once-defeated Volunteers will meet the Southwest Conference champion in the Dallas New Year's Day football classic.

It will be the second time for Tennessee in the Cotton Bowl in three years. In 1951, the Vols beat Texas, 28-14.

Gen. Bob Neyland, the Texas who coaches Tennessee, quickly accepted the invitation. He said, "We are happy to play in the Cotton Bowl. It is a real pleasure to return."

Neyland, also athletic director at Tennessee, was invited by telephone by Howard Grubbs, a member of the Cotton Bowl Selection Committee.

Grubbs extended the invitation after Tennessee was okayed by all members of the Southwest Conference members having a chance at the championship. The Southwest Conference champion automatically becomes host team in the New Year's Day game.

Grubbs said Tennessee rated high among the bowl choices at the very start.

Tennessee is a real veteran of the bowls. The Vols first played in one in 1939, meeting Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl. They were in the Rose Bowl in 1940 and again in 1945, played in the Sugar Bowl in 1941 and 1943 and returned to the Orange Bowl in 1947.

Tennessee's only loss this season has been to Duke which beat the Vols, 7-0. Tennessee plays Florida tomorrow and then has Kentucky and Vanderbilt on the schedule.

Texas could clinch the host Cotton Bowl spot tomorrow. Texas Christian at Fort Worth and by beating TCU would become host team.

Tax Scandal Probe Is Due To Continue

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—Congressional tax scandal investigations appeared today to be slated for at least another year's run under Republican management.

Rep. Robert W. Keane, New Jersey, ranking Republican on the House Ways and Means Subcommittee investigating the Internal Revenue Bureau for the past year and a half, said he thought the inquiry would continue at least through 1953.

Keane, as senior Republican, is in line to succeed Rep. Cecil King (D-Calif.) as chairman of the tax scandal investigating group whose findings rocked the Treasury Department and led to reorganization of the Revenue Bureau.

At the same time it became known that the committee expects to conduct hearings early next month into a 20-million-dollar tax case involving Universal Pictures Corp., which resulted eventually in a 2½-million-dollar excess profits tax refund.

LIE VS. McCARRAN

UN Aide's Suicide Opens Controversy

NEW YORK (AP)—The death of Abraham H. Feller set off controversy between U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie and the McCarran subcommittee, probing the loyalty of American employees of the world organization.

The 47-year-old Feller tore himself from his wife's arms yesterday and leaped to death from their 12th floor apartment.

Lie, who announced his resignation from his U. N. post Monday, said Feller killed himself because said Feller "has worked day and night under my direction to uphold due process of law and justice in the investigations against the indiscriminate smears and exaggerated charges."

"Although the investigation is prolonged and serious strain," Lie said. "The terrible tragedy of his death is the result."

Morris' statement reads: "The statement of Trygve Lie is on its face irresponsible. This subcommittee is charged with the duty of determining whether any United States citizen working at the United Nations poses a threat to our national security."

"Although the investigation is barely under way, we have seen a parade of United Nations officials refuse to deny membership in the Communist party and in some cases refuse to answer whether they have been involved in espionage against this country."

"The shocking aspect of these hearings has been not so much the evidence presented as the refusal of these officials of the United Nations to deny under oath their participation in the Communist conspiracy on the ground that their answers might incriminate them. These witnesses have been discredited by their own behavior on the witness stand."

"We fully intend to continue our investigation in the interest of the security of the United States."

On shipboard bound for South America yesterday, McCarran said, "Mr. Feller was not before me while I was in the committee. I don't know if his death will interfere with the investigation. I've never talked to the man."

In Philadelphia last night, Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, director of the U.N.'s Department of Trusteeship and Information on Non-Self-Governing Territories, said the United Nations "has been called upon for a maturity far beyond its (seven) years."

"American pressures on the United Nations have come from many directions, including the investigation into the alleged subversive associations of certain American members of the staff. ... I feel duty-bound to say that there can be no doubt in any degree of the complete loyalty to their country of all but a very few of the close to 2,000 American employees."

Robert Morris, counsel for the Senate subcommittee, said Feller himself was not a target of the investigation. In a statement in behalf of three members of the subcommittee—Senators James Eastland (D-Miss.), Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.) and Willis Smith (D-NC)—Morris termed Lie's assertion "irresponsible."

Feller was an $18,000-a-year general counsel and principal director of the U. N. Legal Department since 1946. He was credited with writing some of the most important statements of Lie.

Associates said Feller had been a close friend of Alger Hiss, former State Department aide convicted of lying to a grand jury when he denied passing official secrets to Whittaker Chambers, self-admitted courier for a pre-war Soviet spy ring.

Lie, in a statement of newsmen, twice Friday to Webb personnel urging them to donate blood.

"Part of the blood donated by you people will probably be airlifted to Korea," he said. "There's no substitute for blood and only the human body can manufacture it. We hope those of you who can will donate."

Lt. William Casey, wing headquarters squadron adjutant, gave rules for donating. Cards were distributed to Webb personnel who wish to have a part.

Wilson To Seek Quick State Tides Measure

DALLAS, Nov. 14 (AP)—Rep. J. Frank Wilson says he will press for quick action on a bill for state ownership of the tidelands.

The Dallas member of Congress is a member of the House Judiciary Committee which will handle the bill in its initial stages.

"I hope we can get the bill out of committee without delay and on the agenda," Wilson said.

Construction probably will start late this month or early in December on the six-story office building at Second and Scurry, a Chamber of Commerce official said on announcing today that bids are being received for electrical and mechanical phases of the work.

Gus M. Cooley and Associates of Fort Worth, who will finance the building and handle general contracting, have asked for possession of the site for the structure on Monday. Construction equipment probably will be moved in next week, said Loyd Wooten, projects manager for the Chamber.

The new office building is to be erected on land secured from the Chamber by the Cooley group. It will be known as the Permal Building and completion is scheduled for June 30, 1953.

Plans and specifications for electrical work, plumbing, heating, air conditioning, and elevator installation are expected to reach the Chamber of Commerce Plan Room from Architect David S. Castle, Abilene, either Saturday or Monday, said Wooten.

Bids on those phases of the work will be received in Castle's office until 10 a.m. Nov. 28.

Rain Possible Over Week End

By The Associated Press A low pressure area off the Northwest Coast of the United States may give the southern and eastern parts of Texas rainfall over the week end, the Weather Bureau said Friday.

The low, off the coast of Washington and Oregon, was described as "good and deep" and as it moves eastward is expected to accelerate the build-up of humidity in Texas.

The forecast of rain Sunday is for South, Central and East Texas. So far, there is insufficient humidity in view to bring any moisture to West Texas, the Weather Bureau said.

Skies were generally clear over the state Friday but early morning fogs at Lufkin, Del Rio, Cotulla and other points indicated the increasing humidity.

At only one point in the state did the mercury dip below freezing Friday morning. That was at Dalt where the reading was 31 degrees. The high minimum during the night was at Brownsville where the mercury did not go below 68.

People began to respond in sizeable numbers Thursday to appeals to be blood donors when the Red Cross Bloodmobile comes here next week.

The number doubled during the day and reached 157 by mid-morning Friday.

Response gratifying found the new response gratifying, but they renewed appeals for more and more donors. Around 400 to 450 pledges

For men only? Not on your life! The Red Cross blood program for our fighting men can take a big assist from women.

A number of women have volunteered as donors, but some others appear to have the mistaken idea only men can be accepted.

Sex has nothing to do with it. The need is for human blood, and there's no substitute for it.

Ike Awaits Dewey For Policy Talks

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President-elect Eisenhower awaited the arrival here today of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey for a policy conference dealing with Korea and other problems facing the new Republican administration.

The New York governor, mentioned as a possible choice for a Cabinet post, was scheduled to arrive by plane to talk over the general's forthcoming trip to the Korean War zone and to explore matters likely to come up for discussion when Eisenhower confers with President Truman next Tuesday.

Another key Eisenhower supporter during the campaign, Seattle businessman Walter Williams, said in New York last night he also was flying to the general's vacation retreat today. But the announced callers' list for the day showed only Dewey.

Williams served as chairman of the Citizens for Eisenhower Committee. There has been talk he might get a major job in the new administration.

Dewey said last week he intended to stay on as governor for the two remaining years of his term. But reports persist that Eisenhower may ask him to be either secretary of state or secretary of defense.

At Eisenhower's request, Dewey was stopping over at Augusta for about five hours on his way to Miami, Fla., for a vacation.

After his conference with Dewey, the general planned a private dinner party at the Augusta National Golf Club for Mrs. Eisenhower, whose birthday is today. She is 56.

The party tonight was arranged for the family. Here with the President-elect and Mrs. Eisenhower are her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud, their daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Eisenhower, and their three grandchildren.

Out of today's Eisenhower-Dewey conference may come a decision on when the general will leave for Korea. He promised during the campaign that if elected he would go to the battle zone in the hope of finding some way to end the war.

Cut Ordered In December Oil Allowable

AUSTIN, Nov. 14 (AP)—A slight cut of 68,204 barrels per day in the Texas oil allowable for December was ordered today by the Texas Railroad Commission. It set total permissive production at 3,304,531 barrels daily.

The reduction followed a state-wide prorating hearing at which purchasers made no requests for an increase and six witnesses called for even sharper cutbacks than the one ordered.

The curtailment will result from a continuation of the 23-day state-wide producing schedule in the 31-day month of December. The big East Texas Field will have one more day of production at 19 days, the increase being granted because of a pressure increase of 6.85 pounds per square inch during October.

There was little debate on how much the total allowable should be. Ralph Dietler, Tulsa, board chairman of Stanolind Oil Purchasing Co., renewed his plea of the past several months that production is excessive.

Dietler said even 20 days' state-wide flow would be too much in December and said his company still believes there is an excess of crude and refined products in storage.

"Our concern has been not to be short of heating oil this winter," commented Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson.

Dietler said he thought that need could be filled because plenty of heating oil is available in his opinion.

E. H. Foster, Phillips Petroleum Co., urged an increase in producing days for the 14 West Texas fields connected to Phillips' Goldsmith Gasoline Plant, but the commission said it would delay consideration until uniform flow schedules are brought in at the next hearings, Dec. 18.

Companies recommending 23 state-wide producing days were Sinclair and Sun. Humble, Magnolia and Cities Service suggested 22, Shell and Gulf 21.

1 More Day 'Til Christmas for some loved one or friend in Korea. Unless you shop and mail by Saturday, he may not be remembered by Christmas.

Five Dead When Navy Transport Hits Oil Tanker

NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 14 (AP)—A fast Navy attack transport engaged in amphibious warfare maneuvers and the Texas Co. tanker Washington collided 50 miles east of Cape Henry today with a toll placed by the Navy at five dead and six injured.

The Navy said all casualties were among Army personnel aboard the transport Ruchamkin. There were no injuries reported among the Ruchamkin's crew or aboard the 10,000-ton Washington. The tanker continued to Philadelphia.

The dead and injured were transferred from the Ruchamkin to the USS Fremont, flagship of Capt. C. M. Day, attack force commander, and were taken to the Norfolk Naval Base.

Naval spokesmen said the five were killed and six injured were attached to the Intelligence and 27th Infantry Regiment Combat Team, formerly a Tennessee National Guard outfit.

The Navy did not know how many Army men were aboard the Ruchamkin, but only the dead and injured were removed, spokesmen said. The transport was taken in tow shortly before 7 a. m. CST to be towed to Norfolk. Cause of the collision was not reported.

The Ruchamkin is one of 26 naval ships engaged in Operation Sea Sweep, a two-week training exercise which was nearing its climax today. Final exercises, an amphibious assault landing, were postponed until tomorrow because of the collision.

The 1,000-ton Ruchamkin, which has a normal naval complement of 10 officers and 170 men, was rammed amidship on the port side at about 2 a. m. (CST), naval spokesmen said. The vessel's No. 2 engine room and two of her compartments were flooded by two feet of water pouring through a 20-foot hole. The ship was reported in no danger.

The tanker Washington's bow was stove in for 15 feet.

Jesse Due To Be Thanked Anyway

HILLSBORO, O. (AP)—Mrs. Golda M. Marlatt hasn't been postmistress at nearby Sugartree Ridge for 23 years. She doesn't recall ever having had a key ring name plate made. She never has been in Colorado.

In spite of that, she said today, she has received a key ring name plate from Jesse Garcia of Pueblo, Colo. It bore the notation that it found to return it to "Mrs. Golda Marlatt, post master, Sugartree Ridge."

Jesse's accompanying note said he was "just a schoolboy" and found it while playing on a school yard.

Mrs. Marlatt said she intends to write Jesse a "thank you" note. But, she added, "he probably wouldn't know where it (the name plate) came from either."

AF Surgeon Chief Visits

Brig. Gen. Clyde L. Brothers, new air surgeon for the Air Training Command, made his first visit to Webb Air Force Base Thursday to familiarize himself and his staff with the base medical facilities. Upon arriving in his B-25, the general was greeted by Capt. Frank E. Hesse, wing surgeon at Webb, left—Air Force Photo.

Danish Cadet Escapes As Jet Crashes, Then Burns

A Danish aviation cadet received head injuries Thursday afternoon in a T-33 jet-plane landing accident at Webb Air Force Base.

The cadet, Folmer Christoffersen, of Skanderborg, Denmark, was maneuvering his jet plane for a routine landing at the base when the ship hit the runway too hard, collapsing its landing wheels. Webb authorities said that Cadet Christoffersen got out of the crashed plane without assistance, just before the ship caught fire and burned.

The air base crash crew soon extinguished the blaze and removed the plane from the runway. Flying operations were interrupted only for a few minutes.

Christoffersen suffered a laceration of the forehead and possible concussion. Webb authorities said that his condition apparently is not critical, but he is being held in the base hospital for observation.

The cadet is in the United States as an aviation student under the Mutual Defense Assistance Pact.

144 New Casualties

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—The Defense Department today identified 144 casualties of the Korean War. The new list named 47 killed in action, 85 wounded, two injured in accidents and 10 missing.

Survivors, in addition to her parents, include two sisters, Doris Jeslene and Sharon Nell; a brother, Jimmy Leon; the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. S. U. Burnett, Levelland; and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Merrworth (ct) of Midland.

Average Of Monthly Rent In Dallas Tops
 DALLAS, Nov. 14 (AP)—A Census Bureau report shows that Dallas has the highest average monthly housing rent of any city in the Southwest.
 Dallas' average rent, including all types of dwelling units, was $49.31. Houston was second with $47.63 and Amarillo third with $46.63.
 Other Texas cities in a list of 19 released yesterday included: Austin $44.62, Fort Worth $44.24, Corpus Christi $41.85, Galveston $38.57, Beaumont $37.94, El Paso $36.52, Waco $34.36, Port Arthur $36.41.

Officers Worry About Visit To Seoul By Ike

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
 SEOUL, Nov. 14 (AP)—Many Americans are worrying about the dangers President-elect Eisenhower will face if he goes to the Korean battle front.

That's not what's bothering authorities here. They are worrying about the dangers Eisenhower will meet if he comes to Seoul—and almost certainly he will.

This is a burned, battered city with a struggling, poverty-stricken population of about 800,000.

Filtering among these thousands are spies, Communists and malcontents, some known but most unknown. There's simply no way to keep them out.

Military regulations require a valid reason for a civilian to enter Seoul but as a military policeman said today: "There's no way to keep Koreans out if they really want to come in. They sneak across the Han River in boats at night—sometimes we catch them—and they sneak in by land. When they get into town, how do you tell a North Korean Communist from a South Korean ally. You can't tell by looking. Anyway I can't."

Pfc. Carl R. Davis of the 558th Military Police Company in Seoul, from Tahlequah, Okla., put it this way: "There are Communist guerrillas still left in this part of the country and it really would be a feather in their caps to pick off Gen. Eisenhower. Communists are here with us. We have a line on most of the important ones. But a lot of the areas around this town just aren't what you call healthy for Americans."

Criminally Insane To Be Moved To Rusk Hospital

AUSTIN, Nov. 14 (AP)—All the state's criminally insane will be moved to Rusk State Hospital as soon as three isolated buildings there can be made escape proof.

Plans for the transfer were told yesterday by state hospitals Director Larry O. Cox.

Cox said the Hospitals Board allocated $110,000 at its Monday meeting at Wichita Falls to ready the buildings. He estimated it would take four or five months before transfers would begin.

The Hospitals Board long has sought a separate facility for its criminally insane. Early this year it worked with the Prison Board and numerous representatives of other state agencies to solve the problem but the project finally was abandoned.

About 216 patients presently classified as criminally insane—either charged with a crime or showing criminal tendencies—are scattered throughout the hospital system.

MARTIN SEES LITTLE TROUBLE

Democratic Aid Is Expected To Help Gain GOP Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans say they expect a lot of help from Democrats in shoving President-elect Eisenhower's legislative program through the new Congress.

And, while they look for ways to cut taxes in their new role as majority-holders, they talk of a prospective new drain on federal revenues: a 54-billion-dollar tide of maturing defense bonds.

Rep. Martin of Massachusetts, slated to be speaker of the House in the 83rd Congress convening Jan.

3, said he doubts the Eisenhower program will encounter much difficulty in Capitol Hill.

Martin, speaker in the Republican-controlled 80th Congress of 1947-48 and since GOP floor leader, told his first post-election news conference in Washington yesterday: "I am very confident the program will get large Democratic support. Who's going to vote against a program designed to bring peace and prosperity?"

He said there is no way to appraise how many bonds coming due in 1953 actually will be cashed. But he said the government must be in a position to cash all those offered for redemption.

Bondholders have an option of holding the securities to collect more interest.

Sen. Sparkman of Alabama, the Democrats' unsuccessful nominee for vice president, said meanwhile he found GOP post-election statements seemed to be hedging on earlier forecasts of drastic budget cuts, tax reduction and other changes.

At Sea Island, Ga., where he is resting, Sparkman told a reporter a budget of at least $2 billion dollars will be needed next fiscal year starting July 1 if fixed Treasury and defense obligations are to be met.

The government's tax revenues are estimated now at about $68,700,000,000 a year, which lags behind spending estimated total about 79 billions. Eisenhower has promised economies aimed at bringing the spending rate down to 60 billions a year by 1956.

Bridges announced he and others will sponsor a bill in the Senate to create a special commission to propose economies in military spending and taxes.

Bridges said the bi-partisan group could include representatives of business, labor unions and science and former military men.

Coon Causes Power Failure At Austin

AUSTIN, Nov. 14 (AP)—This capital city's first electric power failure since 1935 may have been caused by a ring-tail coon.

Some areas of the city were without power last night for an hour and a half after the coon crawled into a transformer at Marshall Ford Dam.

Department Store Sales Said Better

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board said today department store sales in September were slightly better than a year ago.

Department store stocks were lower than the year before. Using average monthly sales in 1941 to equal 100, the index of total sales in main stores this September stood at 213. In September, 1952, they were 215, but in September, 1950, during the buying rush after fighting broke out in Korea, sales stood at 230.

West Texas Area Still Is Parched

AUSTIN, Nov. 14 (AP)—Prospects for growing crops in East, North Central and Coastal Plains areas are improved from recent rains, the U. S. Department of Agriculture said Thursday.

But everywhere else in Texas the small amounts of moisture served only to raise hopes that were quickly shattered. Central, western and northwestern areas remained parched.

Dry range and pasture feed reserves were growing progressively shorter over most of the state. Winter weeds, clovers and rescue grass will start growing soon but will need much moisture to help relieve the critical feed situation.

In eastern and southeastern counties where substantial rain fell last week end, farmers will hurry to plant oats and winter legumes. Flax in South Texas will go into the ground to what the USDA called ideal conditions. Mid-September rains provided adequate soil moisture, and the new precipitation was plenty to germinate seeds in that area.

Commercial vegetable prospects in the lower Rio Grande Valley were helped by good rains. The quality of growing vegetables should be improved and planting resumed for later harvesting.

Seven More Bodies Sought In Air Crash

SHELTON, Wash. (AP)—The charred and tangled wreckage of a Navy plane which exploded against a hillside Wednesday night with 11 men aboard has yielded four broken bodies and the remainder are being sought today.

The wreckage, scattered over a wide area of the forested Olympic Mountains foothill 15 miles northwest of here, was found by search parties last night.

They had been directed to the scene by residents of the area who saw the Seattle-based, four-engine plane pass low overhead and then crash with a roar, and blinding flash into the 2,200-foot hill.

The plane was found at the 1,800-foot level. The bodies were burned beyond recognition and the Navy said there was "no reason to believe there had been any survivors."

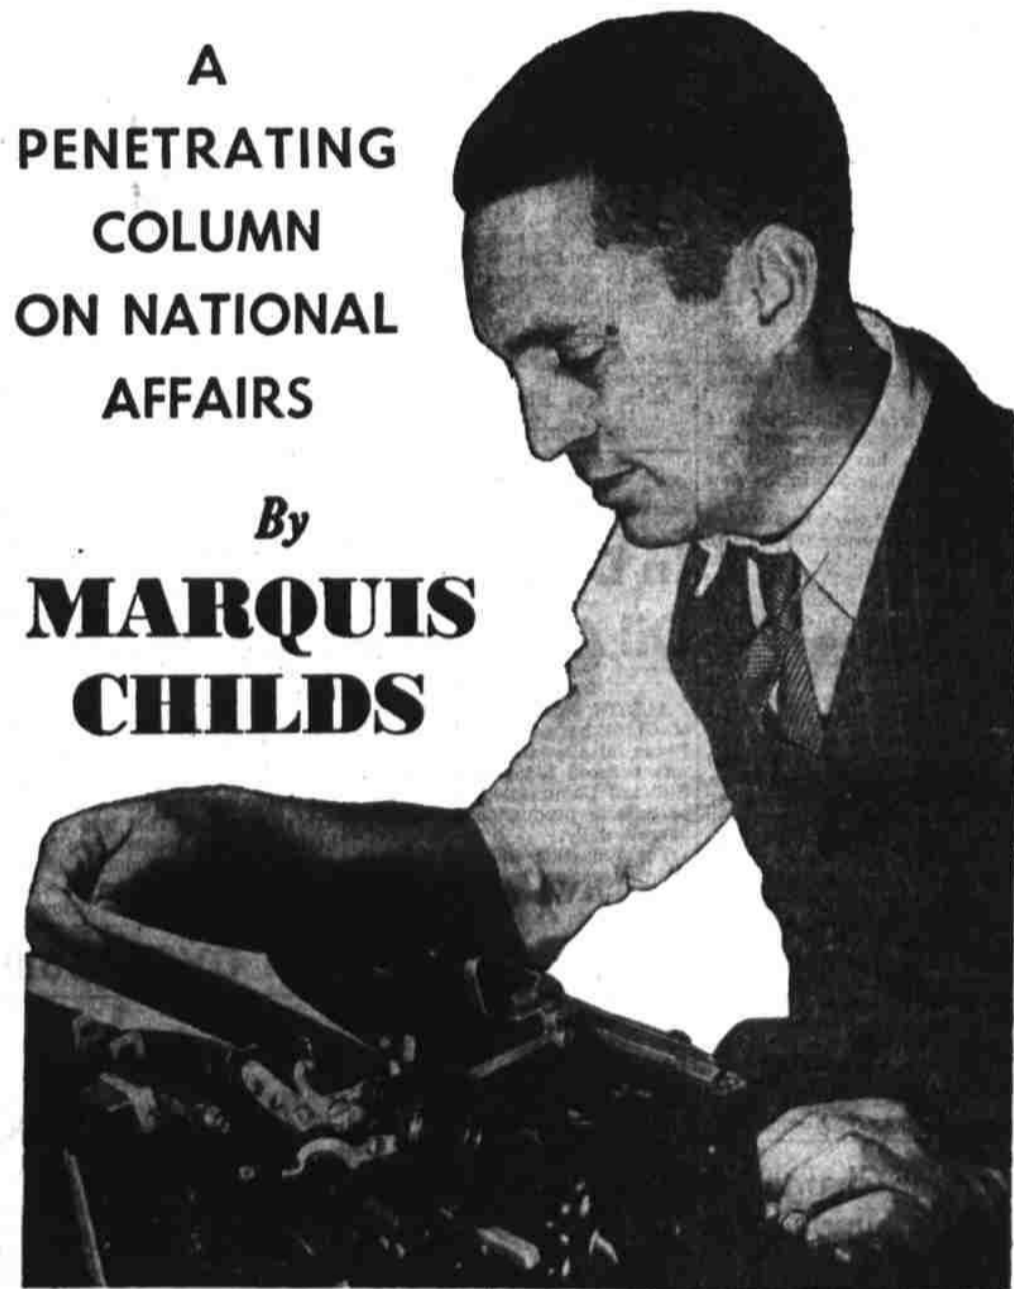

Included among those lost in the accident was Capt. G. R. Dyson, 48, commander of Fleet Air Wing Four, who had gone along as an observer. The plane, on a training mission, was from a patrol squadron at Sand Point Naval Air Station, Seattle.

Talks Open On Flying Of Polar Route To Europe

By VERN HAUGLAND
WASHINGTON (U)—The airlines and the federal government started talks this week about North Polar air routes to Europe and who should fly them.

Representatives of the Air Transport Association—the airlines' organization—and several individual airlines including Pan American and Western, met with members of the Civil Aeronautics Board. Further and more detailed discussions are in prospect.

Much in the foreground of the discussions are the plans of Scandinavian Airlines System (SAS). SAS plans to ferry one of its new DC6B airplanes next week from the factory at Santa Monica, Calif., by way of Canada and Thule, Greenland, to Scandinavia. A second plane is to be similarly ferried later this year.

The airline hopes with these two trips to "prove" a new route from the U. S. West Coast to Northern Europe some 10 hours shorter than the existing route by way of New York City.

Denmark, Norway and Sweden have filed separate notes within the past six weeks asking the State Department for consultations on the amendment of existing bi-lateral air transport agreements. The State Department plans soon to reply that it will be happy to take part in such consultations.

Before the meetings, however, the State Department and the CAB want to sound out the plans and wishes of U. S. airlines regarding polar travel.

Pan American already has authority to operate a route from the United States to Moscow. For obvious reasons, this route never has been actually established.

There also are reports that Western and Northwest Airlines are interested in the possibility of extending their routes to the north. To date, however, the following are the only requests for polar routes on file with the CAB:

1. Alaska Airlines: A proposal filed in October, 1951, for a route from Fairbanks to Paris by way of Oslo and London.

2. Weir Alaska Airlines: A proposal filed early this year for a route from Fairbanks to Oslo, Oslo, Stockholm, Copenhagen, London, Paris and Berlin.

Aging 'Boy Wonder' Takes Adlai's Spot

By FRANK CORMIER
CHICAGO (U)—William G. Stratton, aging "boy wonder" of Illinois politics, still can lay claim to being the state's youngest governor-elect since 1883.

Stratton, 38, brought a long political record into his successful campaign against Lt. Gov. Sherwood Dixon who was Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson's personal choice for the office.

In 1940, at 26, Stratton was labeled the "boy wonder" when elected congressman-at-large. He stood then with the Republican non-interventionists. Today he remains close to the conservative wing of the GOP.

Now state treasurer, Stratton says he has "a number of bills in mind" for presentation to the next legislature, meeting in January but isn't ready to disclose a detailed program.

He makes one promise: "definitely, there will be no tax increases." Stratton, incidentally, will receive an annual salary of $25,000—more than twice the amount received by Stevenson. The increase, effective in January, was voted by the 1951 legislature.

Stratton's father, the late William J. Stratton, was a GOP leader and served as Illinois secretary of state from 1928 to 1932. Stratton twice sought the office once held by his father but lost each time—once in the party primary. These were his only defeats in races for state-wide office.

In 1946, he won his second term as congressman-at-large, defeating the Democratic incumbent by 365,000 plurality. During World War II Stratton served in the Pacific as a Navy lieutenant.

Stratton has been married twice. He claimed desertion in divorcing his first wife in 1949. He had married her in 1934 after his graduation from the University of Arizona. He married again 18 months later.

He and his 28-year-old wife, Shirley, have two homes—a small apartment near the state capitol in Springfield, and a nine-room, white stucco Victorian mansion in Morris, a Northern Illinois city of 9,000. Living with them are his two teenage daughters by his first wife.

Champ Husker Comments On Europe Farms

PARIS (U)—World corn-husking champion Elmer Carlson left for the United States today with the parting observation that the governments of some European countries are "just plain stupid" about helping their farmers.

Elmer, a strapping, 43-year-old Audubon, Iowa, farmer, said European governments are "taking the easy way out. They put high taxes on gasoline, automobiles and farm machinery. The results are that European farmers are years behind the times in mechanized farming methods—they cannot afford to run them once they had them."

Elmer was brought to Europe in mid-September by the Mutual Security Agency to demonstrate to farmers of France, Holland and Italy how to shuck corn with a husking hook—a hand tool used by American farmers to speed the job of ripping the dried husks from ears of corn.

MSA hopes to persuade European farmers to adopt the hook method, enabling them to husk more in less time and thus cut costs.

The Iowa farmer said he was astonished to find husking hooks were not used in Europe, though they've been a common tool in America for half a century.

Sub Attendant To Queen Seeks To Gain Divorce

LONDON (U)—A substitute attendant at Queen Elizabeth's court is seeking a divorce from the wife he married 11 years ago—something that would have cost him his post in Victoria's day.

Formerly strict royal tradition barred from court both innocent and guilty parties in a divorce action. Recently the taboos have slackened a bit.

The suit was filed by RAF group Capt. Peter Townsend, credited with the first German plane shot down over Britain in 1940. Townsend, 37, is an extra equestrian-in-waiting to the Queen. In this unpaid job he acts as an attendant on the young monarch at official functions when the regular equestrians are unable to be present.

Townsend charged his wife, Rosemary, committed adultery. The suit was not defended.

A Bible Thought For Today—

But some enemies conceal their enmity. They pose as innocent friends. Rotten philosophy, corrupt ideals, sensual friends. "Let them be confounded and consumed that are adversaries of my soul." — Ps. 109:29.

Only Half Of Voters Voted On Amendments And They Both Win

Only about half of the more than two million Texans who voted in last week's general election voted on the two constitutional amendments which appeared on the bottom of the outside ballot. Probably they just overlooked them entirely.

To everybody's surprise, both amendments carried, at least on unofficial tabulations. The amendment authorizing the Legislature to set up a system of educating young doctors in return for a promise to practice in rural areas finally went ahead, 531,548 to 527,329, when late returns from Harris County tipped the balance.

You wouldn't think Houston, the biggest city in the South, would be interested in an amendment of this kind, would you? That is just one of the contradictory things about the survival of these two amendments: for in Taylor County at least, the people in the rural boxes who could be expected to be most interested in this proposition voted against it heavily for the most part.

The other amendment passed by a wider margin. It would authorize the Legislature to write a workmen's compensation law for city employees.

A Dallas News bureau man in Austin says the adoption of these two amendments threatens to touch off a fight in the next Legislature. The medical education provision was denounced by some legislators as socialistic, while the author of the workmen's compensation amendment, young Maury Maverick Jr. of San Antonio, is quoted as saying he will not try to get legislation passed making insurance compulsory. Most cities carry some form of protection to employees anyhow.

If the legislators are upset and uncertain what to do about effectuating these two amendments, they have only themselves to blame. Why did they vote to submit them in the first place?

The case with which amendments to the Constitution get on primary, general and special election ballots is something to wonder at. It takes a two-thirds affirmative vote of all members in both houses to submit an amendment. At least one-third of the members seem to sleep through the proceedings leading up to submission.

Adequate Provision Being Made For Traditional Days Of Feast

The Defense Department has bought 1,600 tons of turkey for the men and women of the armed services. More than two million pounds has been shipped overseas by the Army and Air Force, and another million pounds will be served to Army-Air Force personnel in this country. About two-thirds of the Navy's share will be served aboard ship or at overseas bases. Army-Air Force chefs have been handed a master menu which will include a chilled fruit cup or shrimp cocktail, white and sweet potatoes, beans, corn, sage dressing with giblet gravy, cranberry sauce, celery hearts, olives, pickles, carrot sticks, rolls, pumpkin pie, fruitcake and assorted fruits, nuts and candies. Mobile kitchens will carry the Turkey Day dinner piping hot right up to the men in the front lines, it says here...

It is a little inconvenient to have two great feast days like Thanksgiving and Christmas come so close together, but the last time anybody tried to do anything about it a cloud of controversy arose, mostly directed at Franklin D. Roosevelt. FDR was sucked into that one by mercantile associations who argued that a late Thanksgiving did not allow sufficient time to promote Christmas sales, and of course it was a valid argument, but you would have thought any tampering with the date of Thanksgiving, which had no legal standing in the first place, was equivalent to burning down an orphan's asylum. Anyway, Thanksgiving falls on November 27, the fourth Thursday in the month, and a Christmas comes on Thursday, December 25. Eat hearty.

Nothing Is Changed When Star Goes Looking For A New Show

NEW YORK — Sometimes an actor comes into stage and screen stardom by the front door instead of the usual back door. True, it is that there are many actors and actresses who later became successful and control producers and playwrights they had once envied when they had gone around the Broadway offices looking for jobs.

And permit me to tell you, that there isn't a tougher project that a human being faces than the necessity of going to producers' offices, looking for a new play and a new part, just after this actor or actress has closed in a role and play which may have been highly successful.

Uta Hagan is a darling in the starring role of the George Abbott comedy, "In Any Language," at the moment. But if that delightful piece should close tomorrow, Miss Hagan would have to go looking for another role just as she has been doing since she first attracted attention in some Theatre Guild shows. Nothing would be changed for her despite the fact that she is now a star.

Now Kurt Kasnar is doing all this somewhat in a reverse fashion. Kasnar was a producer and author of a number of Broadway stage plays. Then he decided he wanted to be an actor himself.

He won cheers for the several times that he played the role of Uncle Louis in the Broadway stage hit, "The Happy Time." Then he won further acclaim for his performance in the role of Nuri Bey in the movie, "Anything Can Happen."

Kasnar explained that life has been much easier since he became an actor. What he gets from being a performer compensates for the headaches he got from being a producer and author.

"Now I don't have to worry so much," he explained. "If I produced or wrote a failure on the stage, I had to take the blame. Now as an actor I get the applause and cheers. If the show isn't a success, I can always permit the producer and author to take the blame."

Kasnar's situation is not an unusual one. The theatre has been changing in the last few years wherein stars and playwrights have become complete stage productions in themselves. Katharine Cornell, Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne, Helen Hayes and others now no longer merely appear in a new play brought to them. They produce the plays, frequently direct them, as well as play the leading roles and, I feel sure, count up the box office receipts.

Made St. Louis Paper A Success

Joseph Pulitzer was about 25 years old when he became homesick and made a trip to Europe. Money for this purpose, and much more, came into his hands when he sold his share of a German language newspaper in St. Louis. His profit on the sale was handsome, and he felt that he could afford the trip very well. It was a joy to him to go to Hungary and see his mother again, also a younger brother. This was the first of many European trips which he was to make during his lifetime.

After getting back from his first tour, he found that a different German language newspaper was for sale at a low price.

Truman And Eisenhower Making Best Of Awkward Situation On Leadership

By ARTHUR EDSON
(For JAMES MARLOW)

WASHINGTON (AP)—We are in a curious period of U. S. history. Harry S. Truman is President of the United States even though 33 million voters have said they want a change. And he will continue to be President, with full authority and responsibility, until Dwight D. Eisenhower takes over on Jan. 20.

It's an awkward situation. And Cabinet officer or other administrator who makes a decision or issues a statement knows he does so on borrowed time. Any diplomat abroad realizes he is speaking for an administration which has had a no-confidence vote by the people.

Fortunately, Truman and Eisenhower appear to be making the best of it.

At Truman's invitation, Eisenhower has named a couple of go-betweens, and doubtless will name more. The transition should be as painless as possible.

In the past the problem has been more acute, for two reasons. First, until the 20th Amendment to the Constitution advanced the inauguration date from March 4, the time lag was greater.

Second, not all outgoing presidents and presidents-elect have displayed such willingness to cooperate as have Truman and Eisenhower.

Herbert Hoover says in his memoirs that he begged Franklin D. Roosevelt to cooperate and that Roosevelt wouldn't. Hoover thinks this helped accelerate the slide into the depression.

Undoubtedly the most critical presidential switch came in 1860 when Lincoln took over from Buchanan.

The South was seceding, a nation was crumbling. The head of the Army, Gen. Winfield Scott, said fearfully:

"A dog fight now might cause the gutters to run with blood."

Buchanan seemed to be going in circles. He thought no state had the right to secede, but also that the government had no right to keep it from seceding.

He therefore did little or nothing. Lincoln didn't help him. Buchanan had invited Lincoln to come to Washington if he wanted to, but Lincoln stayed home in Springfield, Ill.

Some historians feel this period of indecision may have prolonged the Civil War.

There's not much chance that the time lag between election and inauguration will be shortened soon. The dates can be changed only by another constitutional amendment.

Americans Build Their Art Into Daily Lives They Live

EN ROUTE FROM EUROPE, Nov. 14 (AP)—Notes from a travel diary:

Going through Europe builds you down and tears you up. It confuses an out-of-towner.

As a visitor, your duty is always to go and loyally inspect the famous local ruins, shake your head and ponder aloud how such a wonderful civilization could perish.

The next thing is to admire the local art works.

For some reason beyond his own actual desires the tourist is supposed to be panting to creak his neck upward at the famous top-of-the-wall drawings of Michelangelo and his students.

The brave fact, of course, is that most visitors are more interested in the present day-to-day life of Europeans than in inspecting some mothy paintings of centuries ago they have already had to study since they quit chasing fireflies.

Culture is a grand thing, and heaven knows we all admire it, but there is no particular reason except tradition for a visiting American to think the faded grandeur of a Renaissance wall is superior to the cleaner splendor of a utilitarian Rockefeller Center skyscraper.

To me, no matter how many guide books I study, the Sistine Chapel is no more inspiring than the cathedral reach of the Empire State Building at dawn or dusk.

They have their inferiority complexes about us and we have ours about them. I say our towering group art, just because it reflects a group genius, isn't therefore less worthy than the lofty group of individual genius that they admire.

Take the painting of "The Last Supper," a famous relic from the brush of Leonardo da Vinci that was fortunately spared—and accidentally crumbled three convent walls around it.

Time has been less kind to the efforts of the old and wistful brush of long ago. An Italian friend said:

"Go and see it—The Last Supper. All that is left is crumbs." I went. They were trying to restore the flaking strokes of the vanished master. Throughout Europe you find this often—the attempt to restore a fading color opus of some heralded maestro of the brush.

But in many cases the reproductions we studied in childhood are better than the remnants left. Sometimes to see them in being is a sad shock, like leaving your mother young and fair and returning in later years to find her bent and old. Such was the feeling I had on actually viewing "The Last Supper" on a wall in Milan.

Mark Twain once bitterly remarked that anything was immortal that was remembered 100 years. Well, I feel culture is only the nucleus you cling to of all the things you are exposed to, the central bulk with meaning and feeling.

And after being exposed to all the antique art of Europe, I like to feel that a hundred years from now I could come home on a Long Island train at twilight and see the swordfish tower of the Chrysler Building stand a dying sky and still know a sense of warmth and belonging that I think is the effect of true art.

The thing about most American art is that we have, in a larger measure than any people before us, built our art so deeply into our daily lives that we, as well as the rest of the world, sometimes miss its spaciousness.

Can't you just visualize a visitor from Mars, studying his guide book and saying to a friend:

"Well, we have only a few hours left on earth. What do you want to see—Times Square, the Pyramids or a painting by that fellow Raphael in Rome?"

And don't you know the answer any honest tourist would give?

Around The Rim—The Herald Staff

Fights Over Politics In Words; Other Battles End In Violence

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note.

A couple of weeks ago, a person not familiar with American habits probably would have thought that the casualty list in the general election would have included a heavy score in physical injuries.

Despite all of the harsh words, charges and counter-charges, however, probably no other event in history with over 55 million participating ever reached its climax with less violence.

That is a credit to American people in all parts of the nation. Naturally there were some cases where strong feeling prevailed for fleeting moments. There were a few isolated fist fights reported here and there, some in Texas, and possibly there were some cases of election-inspired violence which were not brought to the attention of the public. Nevertheless, the calm that prevailed generally might be confusing to some people.

Fortunately, American people for the most part are content to fight their political battles with words. This, of course, is effective in that field, regardless of whether the words are spoken or written.

Unfortunately, some Americans are unable to curb their impulses outside of politics. It seems that many still prefer the course of violence in some cases when well chosen words would serve them far better and at the same time society would be spared many a blight.

While election reports were still the chief topic of the day in most places a youngster admitted killing his parents because they argued. In another part of the country, a man killed three people because his trousers were shrunk in a cleaning establishment.

Although they are not everyday occurrences, these cases are not exactly unusual. These and others like them could indicate that diplomacy is rapidly becoming a lost art on the American scene, and that such a trend is stemming from the grass roots.

—WACIL McNAIR

These Days—George Sokolsky

Americans Can Progress More When Issues Strongly Debated

The genius of the American people is progress through differences. It has been the constant interplay of individual responses to the challenges of problems that has made it possible for our people to achieve so much in the atmosphere of freedom.

Tyrants demand unity of thought and attitude, and when they achieve it, as Hitler and Stalin did, they reduce a people to physical or spiritual slavery, or both. Unity is the antithesis of liberty. It can only produce an intellectual smog.

We are now witnessing a not unusual phenomenon for our country of a strong effort on the part of New Dealers, professional internationalists, gay do-gooders and even Communists masquerading in the Republican Party. Their cry is for unity. Let all the smart boys who made the mistake that wrecked us in Asia and lost for us a war we had won in Europe, continue to have a good time despoiling the United States and all in the name of unity!

Even if it were possible that the Eisenhower victory could be twisted into nothing more serious than a toned-down Achesonism, it would be harmful to the country to lessen debate, to avoid investigations into the errors made over a 20-year period and their causes. The temper of the country would not permit a pall of orchids over the nice people who have caused such confusion. Nice people can do frightful mischief sometimes as, for instance, the activities of Alger Hiss, to say nothing of Frederick Vanierbilt Field, who is the nicest of them all.

The opposite of unity, politically in America, is not disunity. It is intellectual and spiritual freedom; it is difference of opinion, constantly expressed; it is the investigation of cause and effect in public affairs. The opposite of unity is the two-party system, a wholesome political mechanism which prevents the "ins" from becoming flaccid and corrupt and proud of place; and keeps the "outs" hammering away at the facts of life, not only in search for the truth, but as a justification for throwing the "ins" out.

When the Republicans were eating thistles in the desert for 20 years, they were ardent supporters of the two-party system, making a fetish of it. Already some of them are shouting, unity! And by that they mean that everybody should get behind them blindly and should criticize nothing. In the intoxication of a long-delayed victory, they are not thinking clearly.

I have been a Republican for these 20 luckless years, believing ardently in the two-party system, recognizing the great advantage of free criticism of government. Victory cannot dispel a fundamental principle: success can only strengthen the correctness of an ideal.

The current outcry for unity seems to be most articulate, even vehement, among the internationalists who hope that the policies of American support for the economies of Great Britain and the western European countries will be continued without even the slightest reappraisal of the past and without any adjustment to the economy of our country. They are stand-patters. Their orthodoxy in international relations narrows their vision so that while they can gaze at the world, they do not see the United States of America.

Their greatest fear is that any new look at world affairs will establish the bankruptcy of both the Marshall Plan concept of European Aid and the containment policy in Europe while giving the Russians a free hand in Asia. When they insist upon unity, they do not mean behind Eisenhower but in support of the Acheson appeasement of Soviet Russia while giving the appearance of bellicose intentions.

These internationalists object to Eisenhower's concern over Korea. They would have him forget Korea and the 123,000 American casualties there and to devote himself rather to Anthony Eden and the forthcoming British request for aid but calling it something else.

These internationalists do not read the election returns correctly. General Eisenhower was chosen, among other reasons, on the Korean issue. When Eisenhower said that he would go to Korea personally if he won the election, it is not that such a trip will solve any problem; it was rather that every mother felt that here was a man who could be trusted to look after her boy.

That confidence in General Eisenhower should not be dispelled by any shouting by New Dealers for unity.

Today And Tomorrow—Walter Lippman

Ike Should Not Make Decisions Before He Has Studied Problems

The disadvantages of having to wait three months before the new President and his appointees take over are so many and so obvious that Gen. Eisenhower already is under very considerable pressure to do something to lessen them. There is the budget, which is now being prepared by the outgoing administration, though in fact the next budget goes into effect about six months after President Eisenhower's inauguration. There is the present session of the General Assembly of the United Nations in New York, which has on its agenda a series of momentous problems coming, beginning with the Korean War; not much can be settled unless the position of the Eisenhower administration is known.

Why, then, it is often said, should not the President-elect appoint his Cabinet at once, and in effect proceed with them to Washington sitting in with the President and the outgoing officials, consulting and conferring with them on all important matters? It sounds so sensible that it seems strange that nothing like this has, as a matter of fact, ever been done when a different party (not merely a new President of the administration party) was coming into office. It has never been done because the President-elect, once he considers the matter, is compelled to realize that he does not and cannot have the facilities for making important decisions so long as he is not actually in office. To make decisions, therefore, while he is still a private citizen is to accept responsibility before he has the power to judge efficiently and responsibly.

The rule is especially important for Gen. Eisenhower in the situation which he faces. He is going to have to make new decisions about the Korean War, about the fundamental strategy of the Atlantic Alliance, about the relations between the dollar and the non-dollar areas if the free world. He should not allow himself to be hurried in deciding these grave and complicated matters. Rather he should remember his mascot and how an elephant crosses his bridges. He should reach his decisions with great deliberation, determined to be thorough, fully informed, sure of his own mind and of the men who must administer the decisions.

The problems now looming up before him are of a kind with which he cannot afford to be wrong. He should not be expected, therefore, to go beyond inquiry and study, as for example during his trip to Korea. He should not be asked to make decisions before he is in a position to make them. That will not be until his administration is organized and has been installed in office for some reasonable period of time.

interregnum during a war. Invariably they have refused to change horses while crossing the stream.

One can imagine emergencies of comparable gravity in this time of cold war, or in connection with the Korean campaign — emergencies which would make it imperative for the President-elect to come forward and participate in the decisions, and accept a joint responsibility. A situation like that which existed at the time of the Berlin blockade and air lift or at the time of the outbreak of the Korean War itself would be of this kind.

But there is no such emergency at the present time. The rule itself is so important that public opinion should protect Gen. Eisenhower against pressures to treat what is only awkward and inconvenient as if it were critical and imperative.

The rule is especially important for Gen. Eisenhower in the situation which he faces. He is going to have to make new decisions about the Korean War, about the fundamental strategy of the Atlantic Alliance, about the relations between the dollar and the non-dollar areas if the free world. He should not allow himself to be hurried in deciding these grave and complicated matters. Rather he should remember his mascot and how an elephant crosses his bridges. He should reach his decisions with great deliberation, determined to be thorough, fully informed, sure of his own mind and of the men who must administer the decisions.

The problems now looming up before him are of a kind with which he cannot afford to be wrong. He should not be expected, therefore, to go beyond inquiry and study, as for example during his trip to Korea. He should not be asked to make decisions before he is in a position to make them. That will not be until his administration is organized and has been installed in office for some reasonable period of time.

New Anti-Malarial Compound Reported

GALVESTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—Promising results in the use of a new anti-malarial compound were reported today by scientists of the National Institute of Health.

The report was prepared for the annual meeting of the American Society of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene and the American Academy of Tropical Medicine in joint session here.

The meeting opened yesterday with some 400 doctors.

The new compound is a pyrimethamine drug known as daraprim. Tests on its effectiveness against relapsing vivax malaria (where fever occurs every other day) were made on prisoner volunteers at the U. S. Federal Prison in Atlanta, Ga.

Three groups of four prisoners each were bitten by infected mosquitoes from the same lot. One group received dosages of chloroquine; another, chloroquine. Both these groups came down with malaria.

The third group received dosages of daraprim on the same schedule as the other two drugs and has shown no evidence of malaria a year after being injected.

Present supplies of daraprim are available only to investigators for experimental use.

Tests on its effects are the work of Drs. G. Robert Coatsy, Albert V. Myatt, Thomas Hernandez, Geoffrey M. Jeffery and W. Clark Cooper, all of the National Microbiological Institute.

The same team also played an important role in the development of primaquine, the drug now in current use for the cure of relapsing vivax malaria.

Primaquine now is given to returning Korean veterans while they still are aboard ship on the voyage home.

Dr. Coatsy reported in a paper prepared for yesterday's session that one of every four Korean veterans returning home is known to have vivax malaria.

He said that shots given over a 14-day period cured the infection, based on results of a year's study on 204 federal prisoners in Atlanta.

Dead Fish Are Seen On Beaches Due To Red Tide

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 14 (AP)—A red tide is killing fish by the untold thousands in the Gulf of Mexico off the Florida West Coast, and a few dead fish are beginning to wash up on the beaches.

A U. S. sea-life expert flew over the affected area yesterday and reported the cause apparently was the same red tide which left dead fish by the millions in 1947 and ruined the summer vacation season at numerous resorts.

John F. Howell, biologist of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, planned to go out in a Coast Guard boat today and pick up fish and water samples for a closer look at the new plague.

"My observation from the air indicates that the dead fish being killed in the same manner that they were killed in 1947-48," said Howell.

The red tide of 1947 got its name from patches of reddish-brown water wherever batches of dead fish were found. The same rusty patches are present this year.

Officials of Fort Myers prepared today to take precautions against a heavy shoreward movement of dead fish such as occurred five years ago.

Howell flew into Fort Myers from Galveston, Tex., where masses of dead fish began appearing off the southwest coast, stirring speculation that the deadly red tide was back.

More scientists are on the way to the area. Eight marine life experts with full research equipment left Galveston Thursday on the laboratory ship Alaska and are expected in Sarasota tomorrow.

The dead fish extend in patches from Boca Grande south to a point about 20 miles off Naples, about 40 miles.

The red tide, scientists say, is millions of tiny marine organisms, known as dinoflagellates. How they kill is not known. Some think they give off a poison; others believe they clog the gills and strangle the fish.

Application Flood Is Seen For N.M. Oil, Gas Leases

SANTA FE, N. M., Nov. 14 (AP)—Personnel in the New Mexico Land Office expect a flood of applications today for oil and gas leases on 278,000 acres of land recently opened to leasing by application.

The land, located in Lincoln and Chaves Counties in Southeastern New Mexico, was removed from the restricted list because of lack of interest on the part of buyers.

Oil and gas men say that to date the land has tested out as worthless. Land on the restricted list is leased only by competitive bidding.

Land Commissioner Guy Shepard said unexpected nationwide interest has been shown in obtaining leases on the land and he may have to return it to the restricted list.

The land will be leased for 10 years at a minimum rental of 10 cents an acre in Lincoln County and 25 cents an acre in Chaves. A minimum of $100 is set per application. The rent doubles after five years.

The 84-year-old motorist is Curtis M. Van Brimer of Toledo, police said.

Largest Draft Call Is Due By Local Board

Largest draft call since reactivation of Selective Service at the start of the Korean War will be issued by the local draft board in December.

The local board's December quota is 39 men, officials announced today. The registrants will be ordered to report for induction on Dec. 9.

Only 10 local board registrants will be sent for induction in November. Their induction date is Nov. 24.

The December call is No. 31 for the Howard-Martin-Mitchell Selective Service Board since outbreak of the Korean conflict. The largest previous call was in September, 1950, when 35 men were inducted from the three counties, examination quotas also face the three-county draft board in both November and December. Sixty-nine men will be sent for physicals on Nov. 25-26, and 70 will be ordered to take examinations Dec. 9-10.

The Howard-Martin-Mitchell Board at present has 59 registrants examined and acceptable for military service.

Bankers School Is Due To Close Today

FORT WORTH, Nov. 14 (AP)—A week-long school for investment bankers was set to close today after hearing a talk by Dr. M. E. Sadler, president of Texas Christian University.

A panel discussion on "Management of the Bank's Own Bond Account" was set for the afternoon.

The group yesterday heard Dr. Ellis M. Sowell, Dean of the school of business at Texas Christian, rank the Fort Worth-Dallas industrial development of the Southwest. He ranked the rapidly growing two-city area 15th in the nation.

Dr. Sowell, in a lecture on industrial development of the Southwest, said Houston ranks second behind the Tarrant-Dallas community, and that New Orleans is third.

The business professor told the bankers that deposits in banks of the five southwestern states—Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma, and Texas—jumped from $2,284,000,000 in 1940 to 12 and one-quarter billion dollars in 1950, a hike of 328 per cent.

During the same period, he pointed out, bank deposits in the entire country increased only 147 per cent. But the Texas increases, he said, topped even the high Southwest average with a phenomenal jump of 367 per cent.

The economy of the Southwest,

Dr. Sowell told the bankers, is based on a three-legged stool with the legs representing petroleum products, farm commodities and manufactured goods.

"This is a healthy situation for any economy," Dr. Sowell pointed out, and listed five reasons for exceptional growth in the Southwest during the last decade.

1. Rich natural resources.
2. Good transportation facilities via land, sea and air.
3. Mild climate.
4. Rich farm land favorable to mechanization.
5. Adequate supply of intelligent labor.

The good supply of intelligent labor, however, is offset by a scarcity of skilled labor, Dr. Sowell said.

Ex-AF Personnel Can Be Assigned To Strategic Command

Former Air Force personnel with previous experience as maintenance technicians on large aircraft can go back into the service and be assigned to a Strategic Air Command base.

Sgt. A. M. Burt, local recruiter, said that people going into the service here under such conditions would probably be assigned to Biggs AFB at El Paso or at Carswell AFB at Fort Worth.

The technicians must have had experience on B-29, B-50, KC-97, B-47 or B-36 aircraft. Burt said he would be happy to give additional information to qualified technicians at the Big Spring recruiting station on Monday or Wednesday.

more milk from roughage

When You Feed RED CHAIN DAIRY FEEDS

Tests have very definitely shown that a variety of the right kind of ingredients in a supplement increases the percentage of digestibility of roughage in ruminant animals. With dairy cattle this means a greater amount of nutritional elements to make milk and keep the cow in condition. RED CHAIN Dairy Feeds provide a variety of protein ingredients along with vitamin D and molasses for improved palatability as well as an aid to the digestive processes. That is why dairymen have found that RED CHAIN Dairy Feeds aid cows to "shell out" more milk.

RED CHAIN Dairy Feeds are available in 16%, 18% and 24% protein, so as to economically balance, good, average or poor roughage. For dairymen having plenty of home grains, RED CHAIN 34% Protein Dairy Supplement provides the base for dairy feeds of any desired protein content. See us today for a supply of RED CHAIN.

WINGLESS PLANE
SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP)—A wingless plane that made a forced landing in a plowed field on its maiden flight yesterday, is going to be tried again after its builder, William E. Horton, does some redesigning. "Back to the drawing board," Horton quipped to newsmen. "I'm convinced the design is sound, but it needs a lot more improvements—a lot more development."

The strange-looking craft took off from Orange County Airport yesterday, flew low over the ground for about a mile, dipped dangerously near high tension lines, but landed without damage in an open field.

Horton, who has worked almost alone for the last 18 months on the experimental plane, had planned to be in the air for about an hour on the flight. Instead, he was aloft only two minutes. The plane has stubby eight-foot control flaps on either side, is 26 feet wide and 40 feet long. The fuselage is virtually a wing in itself.

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP)—Billy Rupp Jr., 18, Yorga Linda, beekeeper, has been convicted of first degree murder in the Aug. 8 slaying of 15-year-old baby sitter Ruby Ann Payne.

A jury of eight women and four men returned its verdict last night after 2½ hours of deliberation. It made no recommendation, which means that if Rupp is found sane in his sanity trial next week he must die in the San Quentin Prison gas chamber.

Mother, Eight Kids Perish During Fire

WESTPORT, Mass. (AP)—A mother and eight children perished early today in a fire at their home while the only two survivors of the family, the father and a son, were away at work. Mrs. Mary T. Audette, 44, and her children were suffocated by smoke and intense heat carried to their upstairs bedrooms from a fire in the kitchen. The children ranged in age from 3 to 17. The bodies of four of the younger children were found on the floor as though they tried to escape before being overcome. The mother and three children were dead in their beds.

The children's father, Aladdin, 47, and an older brother, Daniel, 19, were at work on the overnight shift at the Berkshire Fine Spinning Mill in adjacent Fall River. The heat in the upstairs bedrooms, although not heavily damaged by the flames, was so intense that firemen had to water down the rooms for 15 minutes before they could get to the bodies from ladders. Police Chief Charles Dean estimated the fire burned for about a half hour before being spotted by neighbors. News of the tragedy was telephoned to the father at his place of work by neighbors. Manuel Rego, Audette's co-worker, said he took the call and summoned Audette to the telephone. "He didn't say a word," Rego said. "He was so completely stunned for several seconds that he couldn't say anything." Then he handed me the 'ools he had in his hand and ran out of the plant."

AP Must Report On Russia, Satellites

By CHARLES T. BURNS

BOSTON (AP)—Factual news coverage of Russia and the Iron Curtain countries is one of the most important duties of The Associated Press despite the many obstacles thrown up by the Reds. That was the gist of a report submitted to the annual meeting of The Associated Press Managing Editors Association today by Everett Norlander of the Chicago Daily News, chairman of the APME Committee on Foreign News. "It must be admitted," Norlander said, "that few, if any readers of AP newspapers know what life is like in Russia. ... Undoubtedly the average newspaper reader believes that Russia is a formidable nation."

Because of barriers against direct reporting in Communist countries, he said, U. S. newspapers must depend on radio and publication pickups, speculation, rumor and reports of returning visitors or refugees. Norlander pointed out that withdrawal of AP correspondents from

Enlistments Here Pick Up In Past Week

Enlistments at the local recruiting station picked up again this week, Sgt. A. M. Burt, recruiter, reported that five men had enlisted. Four enlisted for service in the regular Army, and the fifth joined the Air Force. Eugene Smith of Sterling City joined the Air Force. Army enlistees were Robert Creech, Stanton; Harold G. Hancock, Lamessa; Vernon Duggan, Seagraves; Leroy Dale Moore, Seagraves. Creech, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Creech of Stanton, enlisted for three years. He took his physical examination at Abilene and was sent to Fort Sill, Okla. Smith, son of Mrs. Lois Smith of Sterling City, is at Lackland taking his basic training. His wife will make her home in Sterling City while he is away.

Duggan enlisted for two years, but is in hopes of extending enlistment so he may attend some of the longer courses in Army Technical schools, Burt said. His wife will live in Seagraves. Moore, who was employed by the Columbia Carbon Company as a welder, enlisted for three years. Hancock, former Gulf Oil Company employee, hopes to go into intelligence work in the Army.

Medics Puzzled By Girl Who Has Not Eaten In 6 Months

MADRAS, India (AP)—Medical men puzzled today over a pretty 17-year-old girl who says she has taken neither food nor water for the past six months and hasn't lost an ounce of weight. The girl, whose name is Dhanalakshmi, has been under medical observation in a hospital in Mercara, capital of the Southwest Indian state of Coorg, for the past two weeks. The state's health minister told newsmen: "Her case is astonishing. While we wait for an answer, Dhanalakshmi lives gay and vivacious as ever." The girl reportedly developed an aversion to food and water in 1949 and six months ago began refusing to take any at all.

MANAGERS SEEM HAPPY Business Outlook Is Seen As Good

By STERLING GREEN
SEA ISLAND, Ga. (AP)—Managers of the nation's business, consulting each other on the business outlook today, reportedly have found it good—for the next six or nine months at least. Some members of the Commerce Department's Business Advisory Council, holding a four-day, closed-door session here, acknowledged that the Republican election sweep heightened their optimism. None of the representatives, with the exception of Gen. Lucius D. Clay, chairman of Continental Can Company, would tell reporters anything for publication yesterday. Clay waved a hand toward the hotel's assembly room where the council was holding its meeting and observed: "They all seem very happy to me."

Others individually had voiced belief that high rates of sales, production and employment are assured at least until government defense spending levels off sometime after mid-1953. The belief was widespread that the GOP election sweep means a friendlier attitude toward business both in the White House and Congress, and that this may mean a greater willingness to build, invest and expand business. The members made a point of mentioning, however, that the council, made up of about 100 of the country's leading figures in industry and finance, is non-political and still is advisory to a Democratic administration. The industrialists here, about half of whom have served in key government jobs at one time or another, were asked yesterday to accept duties in the new administration if President-elect Eisenhower asks them to serve. At least three members—Clay; Charles E. Wilson; Paul G. Hoffman, head of the Ford Foundation—have been mentioned as possible Cabinet choices in unconfirmed Washington speculation.

Jesus Commissions the Twelve

HE GAVE THEM POWER TO HEAL AND PREACH

Scripture—Matthew 10:1-11:1.
By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
MANY BOOKS and magazine articles are printed telling us how to get along successfully with other people; how to look for jobs, how to get what we aspire to or how to get the best out of life, etc. Some of them may prove helpful. When Jesus called His 12 disciples together to tell them what He had planned for them, He did not tell them they were to go out into the world and make everyone their friend, or how to make people love them. He did not speak of the wealth they would earn or the fame. Far from it. He told them that their mission in life was to preach to people who were antagonistic; of the enemies they would make and the persecutions they would suffer. Would His words entice the men and women of this generation to do His bidding? Not many, but some do take the Master's words, spoken so long ago, and follow in His steps and those of His disciples—and many meet what they met—persecution, scourging, torture and death.

MEMORY VERSE

"He that findeth his life shall lose it; and he that loseth his life for My sake shall find it."—Matthew 10:39.

Jesus called His disciples to Him and instructed them in the work He wanted them to do. Their names were Simon Peter, Andrew, his brother; James, son of Zebedee; and John, his brother; Philip and Bartholomew; Thomas and Matthew, the publican; Alphaeus and Thaddeus; Simon the Cananean; and Judas Iscariot. He first gave them the power to cure all diseases and to cast out evil spirits. He then commanded them to go out and preach to the lost sheep of Israel. They were not to go to the Samaritans—only to Israelites—and to preach, saying, "The kingdom of heaven is at hand." "Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils: freely ye have received, freely give." They were to take no money with them, "neither two coats, neither shoes, nor yet staves: for the workman is worthy of his meat." They were to depend for food and other necessities on the charity of other disciples in the towns through which they passed. "And when ye come into an house, salute it. And if the house be worthy, let your peace come upon it: but if it be not worthy, let your peace return to you. And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words, when ye depart out of that house

Plucky Dog Has A Wild Plane Ride

SEATTLE (AP)—It was a nice routine flight for pilot Roy Aitchison as he gunned his seaplane along at 2,000 feet until he looked out a window. Then he nearly froze with fright.

What he saw was the Aitchison family's pet cocker spaniel pup, Curley, clinging desperately to a pontoon. The dog's tail was toward the front and his fur was blowing like crazy.

Aitchison thought it was hopeless, he related here yesterday, but he throttled the plane down to 60 miles an hour. Then, making a slow, flat turn, he flew back to nearby Lake Sammamish with Curley still hanging on.

And then the tears of Bill, 4, and Mrs. Aitchison, who had seen the takeoff but couldn't warn her husband, turned to cheers. And all joined in giving Curley a good rubdown.

Several other miscellaneous items of equipment, all of it budgeted for this year, were approved. Dr. Hunt also was authorized to proceed with negotiations for the purchase of some fire extinguishers, which were recommended following a recent inspection by the city fire marshal.

TRUSTEES MEET

JC Capital Funds Up, Report Shows

Howard County Junior College trustees heard a detailed report on the annual audit of the college at their meeting last night in the administration building.

The audit, which was made by N. G. Hilliard, covers the fiscal year which ended Aug. 31, 1952. It includes a complete inventory of college properties and equipment, and Hilliard advised the board the total value of the college plant has been pegged at $888,131.98.

Assets carried under capital funds have been increased by $73,749.54, while liabilities under the same funds have decreased by $14,000 for a net gain in capital funds of $87,749.54.

The decrease in surplus and reserves resulted from an inventory of equipment accounts, which were reduced by $18,098.48. This decrease came about by a routine elimination of certain expendable materials and equipment which were previously listed but which have been expensed.

The net decrease in surplus and reserves is $4,627.21. Hilliard said that all funds and equipment were accounted for, and that records were being kept in a satisfactory manner at the time of the report. Some changes in system of records had been recommended, but the board was informed that most of these had

Justice Seeks Information On Graft Receipts

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—The Justice Department is trying to find out if some public officials have been reporting graft receipts in their income tax returns—aware that such information is regarded as confidential.

A spokesman for the department said today Atty.-Gen. McGranery has asked Treasury Secretary Snyder for reports of tax investigators involving pay-offs and graft, wherever there is an indication federal laws may have been violated.

The spokesman said in answer to a query that McGranery wrote Snyder asking for the reports Oct. 30, but has received no reply. Snyder is out of town. Other Treasury officials refused to comment.

McGranery's letter, the spokesman said, stemmed from disclosures by the Revenue Bureau Oct. 1 that its tax fraud sleuths had investigated 414 suspected cases of pay-offs and graft, virtually all involving public officials.

The Revenue Bureau reports said that in 206 cases, its investigators recommended additional taxes and penalties amounting to $1,645,830. The additional assessments were for failure to pay taxes on income—graft, pay-offs or otherwise.

Unitization Hearing Recessed As Sunray Aide Backs Program

AUSTIN, Nov. 14 (AP)—Hearing on Unitization of the Canyon Reef Pool of the Kelly-Snyder and Diamond M. Fields in Severy County was recessed yesterday until 1:30 p. m. Monday after seven hours of testimony and cross-examination.

William L. Horner, Tulsa, vice-president and manager of Sunray Oil Corp.'s reservoir engineering division, spent all afternoon on the witness stand explaining and defending the unitization program sought by his company, Magnolia Oil Co. and others.

He said studies of the past two years convinced the engineering committee of SACROC, Severy area Canyon Reef Operators Committee, that a secondary recovery program under a unitization plan would pull an extra 720 million barrels out of the reservoir.

Termining this a conservative estimate, Horner said 720 million barrels of oil would be worth more than 1 1/2 billion dollars at present prices. Cost of the secondary recovery program he estimated at 60 million dollars, including a 20 per cent cushion to meet "unforeseeable contingencies."

He itemized the costs of his "idea program" as follows: Plant, lines and well work, $9 million dollars; gas injection experiments, one million; water purchase, $3 million; water injection expense, $550,000; additional lifting cost, $17,550,000; and contingent expenses, 11 million.

Attorneys for W. A. Moncrief and Associates, Joe A. Humphrey and Associates, and Superior Oil Co., bitterly opposed the application.

They said the formula for the basis of participation would knock out the present proration formula determined by the commission and would give more oil to the promoters of this unitization plan, less oil to those opposing it.

Horner said some of the operators urging unitization stand to take a cut in their immediate allowances if the program is inaugurated but are willing to do so because their ultimate total oil recovery will be greater.

Opponents of the plan pictured it in their cross-examination of Magnolia and Sunray witnesses, as compelling operators and royalty owners to join the agreement for economic self-protection even though Texas law says unitization must be on a voluntary basis.

The bishops' action followed the resignation of eight university faculty members last month in protest against a ruling by trustees last June that admission of Negroes "at this time" is not feasible.

Another Witness Heard In Treason Trial Of Provo

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—A government witness at the federal treason trial testified yesterday he found "deplorable conditions" in a compound where U. S. prisoners of war were held by the Japanese on Corregidor during World War II.

The witness was Lt. Col. William N. Donovan of the Army Medical Corps.

He testified at the trial of former Sgt. John David Provo, 35, charged with going over to the Japanese headquarters to plead for improvements. Donovan said he had been told that Provo was acting as an interpreter and that he asked Provo to intercede.

Donovan said Provo refused to intercede, and the witness added: "When I asked him why, he said, 'It doesn't suit my purposes.'"

Vietminh Is Halted

HANOI, Nov. 14 (AP)—French military authorities announced today they had beaten off attempts by Communist Vietminh battalions which are trying to drive on the city of Phat Diem.

School Trustees To Talk Negro Entrance

ATLANTA, Nov. 14 (AP)—The question of admitting Negroes to the Theology School at the University of the South has brought a proposal for a special meeting of trustees to discuss the issue.

Thirteen bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church, meeting here yesterday, proposed that the meeting be held during the first week of February. Their request for the conference was directed to the university's chancellor, Bishop R. Blank Mitchell of Arkansas. The university is at Sewanee, Tenn.

The bishops' action followed the resignation of eight university faculty members last month in protest against a ruling by trustees last June that admission of Negroes "at this time" is not feasible.

IN NEUTRAL CORRIDOR

UN Protests Killing Of A Medical Aide

MUNSAN, Nov. 14 (AP)—U. N. liaison officers today took Communist officers behind Allied lines to investigate the killing of an American Navy medical corpsman in a neutral "no fire" corridor along a road leading to the Panmunjom truce site.

In an official protest, the U. N. labeled the killing "wanton." Allied spokesmen said the bullet which killed the medic while he was standing in a tent was the kind used by Communist troops.

And, they argued during the 2 1/2-hour investigation, the bullet's line of flight showed it had come from Communist territory. A companion said the bullet pierced the man's armored vest.

When Communist officers started walking toward the indicated area, the way was barred by a ring of armed U. S. Marines. It was the first time the Communists had been taken behind Allied lines.

They got a peek, but a very small peek, at U. N. territory. The Marine ring had a radius of less than 50 yards around the tent.

The medic, whose name was not released, was killed two days ago, Marine T. Sgt. Jess W. Condon, Newport, R. I., told the investigators he was standing beside the corpsman inside the tent when there was a "ping."

He said the corpsman keeled over and murmured, "I think I am shot."

Condon said he went for aid, but the man died within 20 minutes. The U. N. officers took the Communists to the tent area after first making a "strong protest" at the truce-talk site at Panmunjom.

The U. N. protest touched off a 2 1/2 hour wrangle between Allied and Red negotiators, during which the Reds lodged two protests of their own—on an alleged neutral zone violation by American planes and the other on a prisoner of war death the Allies had reported as a suicide.

The medic was killed within 100 yards of the Panmunjom road and about a mile from the Panmunjom neutral circle itself.

Big Crop Of Deer, Turkey Awaiting Texas Hunters

AUSTIN, Nov. 14 (AP)—A good crop of deer and turkey is the prospect for the big game season opening Sunday.

Deer in the Hill Country, despite the drought, are well fed and fat because there were plenty of acorns and persimmons this year. Turkey are plentiful because the nesting season was favorable. Executive Secretary Howard Dodgen of the Game Commission said.

Deer and turkey season in all Texas east of the Pecos runs from Nov. 16-Dec. 31. West of the Pecos the season is from Dec. 20-Dec. 25. The bag limit east of the Pecos is two bucks and three turkey toms, except where special laws apply. Hunters were urged to check up on local game regulations. They also were asked to be extra careful of fire this year because of the drought and to adopt safety measures against hunting accidents. Four hunters already have been killed by gunshot and one drowned this season.

South Texas deer were reported fat on mesquite beans. There was a growing supply of deer in East Texas.

Olympic Athletes Will Be Honored

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 14 (AP)—The four Texas A&M College athletes who have participated in the Olympic Games will be honored in halftime ceremonies at the Texas A&M-Rice football game tomorrow.

They are Jack Mahan, who was sixth in the javelin in the 1920 games; Art Harnden, who ran on the United States champion 1,600-meter relay team in 1948, and Walter Davis, first-place winner in the high jump, and Darrow Hooper, second-place winner in the shot put, in this year's games. Hooper will be playing in the Aggie-Rice football game.

With Tommy Hart

Here's why the Dallas Texans have to draw 24,000 paid admissions to each of their home games in order to break even: The visiting club has to be guaranteed $20,000 and the weekly payroll amounts to about the same thing.

Dr. Virgil Sanders, who played center for Big Spring High School back in the '30s, says the quick kick has all but disappeared from football. That's especially true in high school, where punting isn't the art it once was.

And when was the last time you saw a good drop kicker? Jake Morgan was about the last one of note around here. He was also in school here in the early '30s.

FLOWER GROVE BACK IS ONE OF THE BEST

One of the best of the six-man football backs in this area is Charles Nance, a Flower Grove lad who has swivel hips and speed to burn. Charles, who incidentally, is a nephew to Winslett Nance, a guard on the Big Spring High School team of the late '30s, is a junior. He'll be back to haunt opposing teams in this area in 1953.

Bud McFadin, the former University of Texas guard, is supposed to join the Los Angeles Rams in 1953 but he may pass up pro ball to manage a dude ranch.

Don Zimmer, and not Bill Hunter, gets the chance to try and fill Pee Wee Reese's shoes with the Brooklyn Dodgers because he doesn't have to straighten up to throw to first base after fielding a ground ball. So said a big league scout, while visiting in this area last season.

Outside of that one thing, there's little to choose between Zimmer and Hunter, according to the scout. Zimmer spent the 1952 season in the Southern Association. Hunter was with Fort Worth but was sold to the St. Louis Browns.

The Midland baseball mercenaries will probably hold spring drills in the Fredericksburg area. The Indians trained last spring in Louisiana.

Only two victories Mariano captured in his first ten Cuban Winter League starts were pitched by Mike Fornieles, the Big Spring ex.

If the current Coahoma High School football team isn't the highest scoring Bulldogs outfit in history, it'll come close to it.

The 1952 Bulldogs have tallied 270 points in nine games, averaging 30 points an outing.

Loraine, which the Bulldogs beat last Friday, was the only team to hold the Coahomans to one touchdown.

Fred Salling's outfit should win about as it chooses against Ira tonight.

WILL ASK PAY BOOST

Shantz Winner Of MVP Prize

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK (AP)—Pint-sized Bobby Shantz, fortified by the American League's Most Valuable Player Award for 1952, is going to demand a giant-sized increase in his pay check when he sits across the table from General Manager Art Ehlert of the Philadelphia Athletics Monday.

The wee left-hander is expected to ask for $35,000, an increase of almost 200 per cent over what he received during the past season for winning 24 games while dropping only seven for the fourth place Athletics.

Shantz's 1952 salary was only $12,000 as he topped the American League pitchers in games won and finished high up in the earned-run average column.

Bobby sought to talk contract with Ehlert last week but the A's general manager told the little hurler:

"Let's not talk contract now. I've got to see X-rays of your broken wrist first. I don't want to sign a pitcher without an arm."

Shantz fractured a left wrist bone in the final week of the past season.

Ehlert's refusal to talk contract at that time probably will cost the Athletics several thousand dollars. For since then the 27-year-old southpaw has received the league's highest honor—the first time a non-championship club player has won the award since Ted Williams of Boston in 1949. The last Philadelphia to be honored was Jimmy Foxx in 1933.

Shantz received 16 of the possible 24 first place votes cast by two dozen members of the Baseball Writers Association of America. He rolled up a total of 280 votes for a wide margin over Allie Reynolds, ace of the New York Yankees' pitching staff.

Reynolds, third last year, polled 183 points. He was followed by two of his teammates — Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra. Early Wynn of Cleveland, Ferris Fain of the Athletics, Nery Fox of Chicago and a trio of Cleveland players—Bob Lemon, Mike Garcia and Al Rosen—round out the first 10.

"I don't want to be unreasonable but I think I am entitled to a pretty good increase," said Shantz. "I realize that the Athletics don't draw as many people as, for instance, the Yankees and Indians, and probably can't afford to pay as much money as I feel I am worth. But taking everything into consideration I don't think I am asking for too much."

Bobby said his arm feels sound again and he is certain he can pick up where he left off when he was hit by a ball thrown by Walt Masterson of Washington while at bat.

Shantz expects the A's to be in the thick of the 1953 pennant race and predicted the Yankees again will be the team to beat.

Tyler JC Licks Paris, 34-13

By The Associated Press
Tyler beat Paris, 34-13, and Wharton licked Victoria, 14-11, in Texas junior college football last night.

Tyler remained undefeated in the Big Six Conference race. Wharton's decision over Victoria left Del Mar of Corpus Christi the only unbeaten team in the South Texas Conference.

Tyler clinched at least a tie for the title of the Big Six Conference. Jimmy Diekey passed for two of the touchdowns as Tyler straggled its old foe, Paris.

A 68-yard sprint by Neil Goodman featured Wharton's touchdown output in the conquest of Victoria.

Texas, Ponies And Rice Are Apt To Win

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Texas lashes at Texas Christian tomorrow in what could be the last big game of the Southwest Conference football race.

Texas can gain a certain tie for the title and the hot spot in the Cotton Bowl by knocking down its bitter enemy in the week's feature at Fort Worth.

For Texas Christian it's the last stand. The Horned Frogs must win or that'll be all. But a TCU victory could do a lot of things. It might even put Texas Christian in the Cotton Bowl.

As Texas and TCU settle their annual gridiron feud, Southern Methodist will be fighting to stay in the championship running. The Methodists will be playing vengeful Arkansas at Fayetteville. SMU, loser of one game, might wind up in a tie for the title but can't afford to drop another one along the way to do it.

Texas A&M and Rice, already out of the championship race, get together in what should be a steady touchdown exchange at College Station. Rice will be fighting to stay out of the cellar, a place reserved for Arkansas if the Razorbacks lose to SMU as expected. But Rice could tie the Porkers for last place if it didn't win any more games.

Texas Christian over the years has been a pain in the neck to Texas, mainly because of the Horned Frogs' fierce determination to beat the Longhorns above all other teams. There have been times when it was doubly painful to Texas in being knocked out of a championship by the Frogs.

Texas will be a seven-point favorite but feeling none too comfortable about it. The Longhorns became ninth in the nation this week. That's another thing TCU would enjoy removing.

SMU fears the Arkansas fury on homecoming in the Ozarks. Also, SMU can realize the feelings of a Razorback team that took a 47-7 drubbing at Dallas last season. It all adds up to trouble aplenty for the Methodists.

Rice hasn't lost a game to A&M since 1944 but is an underdog although the Aggies will be without the services of their great quarterback, Ray Graves. Graves won't get into the game except as a senior. Graves is still nursing an injury received against Southern Methodist last week.

The Rice running game finally has hit its peak and that means the Aggies will have to score often if they expect to win.

Baylor, out of the championship race, plays University of Houston, a Missouri Valley Conference member, at Houston. This game appears to be a tossup but the Bears are likely to puncture the ironbound Houston defense several times. One thing about the Baylor: You may beat them but they'll make a lot of points.

A crowd of 45,000 is expected for this game, the biggest of the day. Texas-TCU is due to draw 33,000 with 20,000 at Fayetteville and

LITTLE SPORT

KATE MORRISON CITY CHAMPION

It took a heap of doing but the Kate Morrison football team, coached by Jesse Mendoza, has won the 1952 championship of the War School League.

The Maroons entered the throne room at Steer Stadium last night by defeating a hard-fighting West Ward team, 23-7.

A fourth-quarter pass from Ysabel Lara to Henry Guzman, which covered about 35 yards, did the trick.

Earlier, David Ahreo had rammed over for the first Kate Morrison score and Lara had added the extra point on a plunge. That occurred early in the second period and that's the way the score stood at half time, 7-0.

Right after the fourth period got underway, Jimmy Harrison broke loose on a 50-yard dash up the sidelines to give West Ward its first touchdown and Daniel Robbins had tied the count by sweeping right end for the extra point.

Both teams offered other threats. Robbins dashed 40 yards later on in the fourth, going deep into Kate Morrison territory, only to fumble. The win was the eighth of the season without a loss for Kate Morrison and gave the Maroons their first city title in history.

In other games, North Ward decided Airport, 13-0; Park Hill thrashed Washington Place, 27-0; and Central Ward turned back College Heights, 33-0.

In the North Ward-Airport game, Alfred Munoz intercepted an Airport pass and sped 30 yards to pay dirt. Later in the contest, he counted again on a 30-yard run. Jesus Molino added the extra point.

Jerry Graham scored all four touchdowns for Park Hill in the game against Washington Place. Donnie Everett added the three extra points.

Central had a field day against College Heights. Bobby Hodges scored one touchdown for Central. Jerry Joe Howerton added two. Jerry White got another and Don Masters accounted for still another.

White flipped a long pass to Masters for one of the six-pointers. Masters caught it in the end zone. Masters, White and Howerton also counted extra points.

Saitta Named MU Mentor

WICHITA FALLS, Nov. 14 (AP)—Joe Saitta, former Notre Dame football player and coach, signed a three-year contract yesterday as head football coach and athletic director at Midwestern University.

He replaces Dixie White, who with Paul Brotherton, assistant football coach and head basketball coach, resigned to enter the sporting goods business.

Saitta, 34, is a 1940 graduate of Notre Dame where he earned three letters under Elmer Layden. He spent a year as assistant under Frank Leahy. He formerly coached at South Bend Catholic High School and for the past three years at Oxnard, Calif. In 1951 he was voted California's coach of the year.

Bowl Pictures Should Be Clearer Shortly

Spartan-Irish Go Is Feature

By RIP WATSON
NEW YORK (AP)—The 1952 college football season, an extravagant production from the opening curtain, moves toward the closing scenes tomorrow with the current bowl game contenders in supporting roles and two non-bowl teams taking over the center of the stage.

Conference crowns and roles in the Jan. 1 bowl extravaganzas will be awarded the winners of several key games, but all must give way to Notre Dame-Michigan State clash at East Lansing, Mich., as the day's top attraction. Notre Dame pulled the upset of the week last Saturday in toppling Oklahoma, and the big question now is can the Fighting Irish do it again against the nation's No. 1 team.

Knocking off the nation's best and ending a 22-game winning streak are not the only incentives for Notre Dame, however. State's hard-running stable of backs ran up a 35-0 score on the Irish last year, and that's the worst drubbing ever handed a Frank Leahy team. Notre Dame could skyrocket its present sixth-ranking with a victory.

For the second straight week, football fans who like to watch from their living room instead of a stadium seat will see a top-notch contest. After watching Notre Dame and Oklahoma last week, the stay-at-homes will see Sugar Bowl-bound Georgia Tech against Alabama, "Bama," the last team to defeat Georgia Tech, 22 games ago in 1950, has not been in a bowl game since 1948, but a victory over the nation's second-ranked team would give the team something to do next New Year's Day.

Two other games that have a direct bearing on the eventual bowl line-up are slated for the Southland. Maryland, No. 3 in the country, meets an undefeated but twice-tied Mississippi team anxious to become the school's first bowl representative since 1936. Maryland, barred from the bowls by a Southern Conference edict, is a two-touchdown favorite. Tennessee, No. 7 in the AP poll, takes on Florida, which has never been in a New Year's Day game. Tennessee is talked of as a favorite for the Cotton Bowl and Florida would be a natural for the Orange Bowl.

Out on the Pacific Coast, Southern California must get by Washington to keep its record perfect for the big clash next week with UCLA. If Southern Cal lives up to its fifth place ranking tomorrow, the game with fourth-rated UCLA will determine the Coast entry in the Rose Bowl grand-daddy of the bowl classics. UCLA has an open date tomorrow.

COTTON BOWL LINEUP TO BE KNOWN SOON

DALLAS, Nov. 14 (AP)—The team to meet the Southwest Conference champion in the Cotton Bowl here New Year's Day is expected to be named over the week end.

Cotton Bowl officials wouldn't say so but they obviously are waiting for some results tomorrow before making the choice.

The list of prime eligibles has been trimmed to four—Tennessee, Pittsburgh, Mississippi and Alabama—with Tennessee considered the leader.

Mississippi, unbeaten but twice tied, plays Maryland tomorrow. Tennessee, once defeated, engages Florida. Pittsburgh, twice beaten but conqueror of Notre Dame, takes on North Carolina State. Alabama battles Georgia Tech, already 1-1 the Sugar Bowl.

The Southwest Conference representative may be known tomorrow.

If Texas beats Texas Christian at Fort Worth it will clinch the host spot in the Cotton Bowl although it still will have a game to play and could be tied for the conference championship. Put the team that could tie it—Southern Methodist—was beaten by Texas in regular season play. Precedent would give the Cotton Bowl spot to Texas.

Howard Grubbs, secretary of the Cotton Bowl, wouldn't say exactly when the announcement would be made. "It might come in a day or so," he said, "and then again, it might be some time next week."

The signing of Tennessee probably would mean a rematch of the 1951 Cotton Bowl teams—Texas and Tennessee. Tennessee won that game 20-14.

The Big Seven Conference's decision to stick with its ban on post-season games eliminated any chance of either Kansas or Oklahoma playing in the New Year's Day classic here.

Christoval ruled as a slight favorite to topple Foran in their important six-man football game here this evening. Christoval is unbeaten in District Seven play. Foran has lost only once—to Garden City.

The Buffs from Howard County are still crippled but their coach, Bob Honeycutt, has expressed confidence his club can come home in front.

One ray of sunshine brightens Honeycutt's outlook. His star back, Harold Hicks, is returning to action.

The other entry likely will be determined tomorrow at Ann Arbor, Mich., where Purdue, No. 10 in the poll, invades Michigan in the Big 10's climax game. Purdue is 3-0 in the conference and Michigan 3-1. Wisconsin, also 3-1, is heavily favored over Indiana.

The Cotton Bowl host, an automatic reservation for the Southwest Conference champion, will be Texas if the league leaders can get past old rival Texas Christian. But TCU has beaten Texas in upsets before and could do it again. Texas is No. 9 in the poll.

Another conference championship due to be settled, although the winner won't be eligible for bowls, is that in the Big Seven. Missouri, which has won four league games in a row, is a three-touchdown underdog to vengeful Oklahoma, winner of three straight conference games after an opening loss to Colorado. Oklahoma is No. 8 in the poll.

Last Game For These Bulldogs

When the Coahoma Bulldogs play Ira in Ira tonight, these Bulldogs will be playing their final football game for Coahoma High School. They are, kneeling, left to right, Don Stroder and Garry Hoover. Standing, Billy Joe Cramer, John Wilson, Johnny Bob Turner and Bill Read.

SEEK NINTH WIN

Coahomans End Grid Campaign Tonight

COAHOMA—Winners in all but one of their nine starts to date, the Coahoma Bulldogs are heavy favorites to add Ira to their list when they journey to Ira tonight for a District 5-B game.

The game terminates the season for the Bulldogs, who have already clinched second place in conference standings. Their only loss was at the hands of Hermleigh, which will represent the loop in bi-district play.

Six of the Coahoma players will be playing their final grid game in the uniform of the Bulldogs. They are Bill Read, Billy Joe Cramer, Gary Hoover, Johnny Bob Turner, Johnny Wilson and Don Stroder.

Ira is winless and is not due to provide too much competition for the Bulldogs. Coach Fred Salling has warned his players such an as-ignment can usually prove tough for any team, however.

Though winning the district crown, this has proved to be one of the most successful seasons in history for the Bulldogs. They scored league wins over Divide, Bronco, Trent, Hobbs, Robert Lee and Loraine and topped Stanton and Grandfalls in non-conference games.

Basketball practice will get underway at Coahoma Monday.

Kats Favorites Over Eagles

GARDEN CITY—The Garden City Bearkats enter their game with Sterling City here tonight as slight favorite to topple the Eagles.

This is the season's last football game for Garden City, unless Forsan should topple Christoval and throw the battle for first place in a three-way tie.

Garden City has won four of its five conference starts. Sterling's district efforts show only one win in five assignments.

The Garden City football queen, identity of whom will not be made known until game time, will be crowned.

It will also be Fathers' Night at the game. A special place will be reserved for the dads near the players.

Five of the Garden City players are seniors. They are Wilbur Bodnar Bryant Harris, Larry Calverley, Bobby Frizzell and L. T. Nelson.

Dogies Defeated By Odessa Bees

ODESSA — Odessa won its second game of the season from the Big Spring B team here Thursday afternoon, 28-7.

The Bees had all they could handle for three quarters but added two touchdowns and a safety in the final period.

Odessa scored twice in the first period and watched Big Spring get one in the second.

Ronnie Wooten and Bobby Blum powered a Shorthorn drive that went 70 yards to a score in the second. Tommy McAdams bootlegged it across and Freddy Blalack added the extra point.

In the fourth, a Big Spring fumble set up the third Odessa tally. Odessa got its safety with less than 30 seconds to play.

Jimmy Boyter and Ray Shaw played fine ball for Big Spring in the line while Wooten and Blum dazzled in the backfield.

The game wound up the season for Big Spring.

Mac Moore Out For New Record

HUNTSVILLE, Nov. 14 (AP)—Mac Moore, Sam Huston State halfback, will be out to set a new Lone Star Conference scoring record when the Bearkats end the 1952 season against the Stephen F. Austin Lumberjacks here tomorrow night.

Big Spring Seeks Second Loop Victory In Vernon

| BIG SPRING | VERNON |

A team whose chant has been 'go-go-go' in recent games runs smack into a club with an impregnable defense on the Vernon's greensward at 8 o'clock this evening.

It's the offense-minded Big Spring Steers against Spot Colliers' rugged Vernon Lions in a District 1-AAA donkeybrook.

Big Spring's chances for a conference crown will either be enhanced or jettisoned for once and for all in that one.

The Longhorns have broken even in two league starts. They got off to a rough start, when Lamesa's Tornadoes laced them, 26-14. Undaunted, they bounced back against Plainview to win, 33-0.

Vernon, a team that has been showing improvement each week, has notched two 1-AAA wins in as many starts and is certainly in top contention for any titles that might be passed around.

Fact is, the Lions haven't been scored on in their two league starts. They bruised past Snyder, 25-0, and then spilled Sweetwater in a massive upset, 6-0.

Like the Steers, the Lions were idle last week, so they should be ready to go all out.

Dale Dillingham and Ramon Tow are the top hands in the Vernon backfield. Dillingham is a 174-pound quarterback. Towry is a 145-pounder. He's heavyweight in performance and endurance, however.

Dillingham and Towry are assisted in the Vernon secondary by Dan Borchardt and Robert Namin.

The Lions aren't very heavy up front. From end to end, they average 163.5 pounds. The Steers hold a decided edge in the weights but, oddly enough, the lighter teams have given them the most trouble this season.

All the Big Spring hands are ready, with the exception of Halfback Doyle Maynard, and he'll see some action. Maynard has a gimpy leg.

This is the final road game of the season for Big Spring. The Steers play Snyder here a week from tonight and then close out against Sweetwater Thanksgiving Day.

Probable Starters (with weights in parentheses):

VERNON—Ken Hines (155) and Jim Sharpe (170), ends; Don Bowen (160) and Tommy Neely (175), tackles; Jack Bird (160) and Jim Herald (165), guards; Jack Bolton (140), center; Dale Dillingham (174), Ramon Towry (145), Dan Borchardt (145) and Robert Namin (170), backs.

BIG SPRING—Raymond Gilstrap (170) and Wayne Medlin (165) or Jimmy Porter (155), ends; Jim-

Coyotes Seek District Title In Tyler Go

Wichita Falls plays Tyler and Temple meets Lufkin in feature games of Texas schoolboy football tonight.

Wichita Falls, rated in many quarters as the No. 1 team in Class AAAA, can virtually sew up its district championship if it beats Tyler at Tyler.

Temple, the top-rated eleven in Class AAA, and Lufkin will be booking up in a District 5 game at Temple but the contest is more important than that—it matches unbeaten teams. Temple is undefeated and untied. Lufkin is unbeaten but has been tied.

All through the four divisions of schoolboy football district championships will be determined this week end. Thirteen already have been crowned in the lower classes—AA and A.

Tomorrow night, Austin and Reagan clash for the Houston district title of Class AAAA. Tonight, McAllen plays Edinburg needing to win to clinch the District 8 championship in Class AAA.

Last night saw Edison of San Antonio continue among the undefeated, untied teams and advance within whispering distance of the District 7 championship in Class AAA. Edison straddled Alamo Heights of San Antonio, 28-0.

Kerrville, the only other team with a chance to beat out Edison, plays Victoria tonight. If Kerrville loses Edison will be champion. Otherwise the Edison - Kerrville game next week will be for the title.

Only a smattering of games was played over the state last night. In Class AAAA North Side (Fort Worth) beat Fort Worth Tech, 32-0. North Dallas downed Forest (Dallas), 39-12. And San Jacinto (Houston) edged Milby (Houston), 14-13.

In Class A Benavides whipped the Miller (Corpus Christi) B team 32-7.

Moore has rolled up 92 points on 14 touchdowns and eight extra points—just 10 behind the record held currently by Marvin Brown of East Texas State.

The hammering 185-pounder failed to score last week in Sam Houston's 35 to 27 loss to Southwest Texas State. However, he played only briefly following an attack of influenza earlier in the week.

Queen, Hubby Spend Birthday With Son

By ROBERT S. F. JONES
LONDON (AP)—All Britain said happy birthday today to a small citizen with a long handle—His Royal Highness the Duke of Cornwall, Duke of Rothesay, Earl of Carrick, Barron Renfrew, Lord of the Isles and Prince and Great Steward of Scotland.

In other words — chubby-faced Prince Charles, heir to the throne of his mother Queen Elizabeth II — 4 today.

For one thing, he's heir to the British throne now—grandfather King George VI died last Feb. 6. Consequently special flags were flown atop Buckingham Palace and government buildings, and booming guns saluted him from the Tower of London. The national an-

Officer Admits Memory Lapse In Liner Loss

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP)—A chief officer who admitted his memory lapse led to the loss of a luxury liner on rocks in Alaskan waters Sept. 7 has been beached for six months.

He is Charles W. Savage, who was chief officer aboard the Princess Kathleen when it grounded and later sank near Juneau. There were 300 passengers aboard the ship but all escaped. The vessel before it slipped from the rocks into a watery grave.

Justice Sidney Smith yesterday ordered Savage's master's license suspended for one year but recommended that he be given a ticket as a chief officer again after six months. Savage had a master's license at the time of the mishap but was acting as chief officer of the Princess Kathleen.

The seaman admitted through counsel that he was on watch on the bridge at the time of the accident. He admitted he had ordered the quartermaster to alter to a starboard course about 10 minutes before the lookout sighted land close at hand.

Then, he informed the justice, forgetting his previous order he ordered "hard to starboard" a few seconds before the ship slid high upon a rock.

Savage was commended by the government attorney for his candor.

Servicemen Families Can Obtain Decals

Red, white and blue decals with the inscription "We Are Serving" can now be obtained by servicemen's families.

Sgt. A. M. Burt, local recruiter, said that if a family has a son or daughter in the Army or Air Force, that family can receive the decals on request.

The requests should be mailed to Room 204, 1114 Commerce Street Dallas, 2, Texas. The decals are suitable for car windshields or window display, he said.

Riding THE GRUB LINE With Franklin Reynolds

The Martin County Junior Livestock Show will be a two-day affair this season, it has been jointly announced by Ray Hastings, county agent, and Elbert Steele, FFA instructor in the Stanton High School.

The dates are Friday and Saturday, January 23 and 24, and it will be held in the Martin County Show Barn at Stanton. All entries will have to be placed Friday morning. The capons, broilers and sheep will be judged that afternoon, and the steers and swine will be judged Saturday morning and sold that afternoon.

The sheep entries will be (one wool lambs only, and only two lambs will go through the sale, the grand and reserve champions. No steers will be sold.

There will be classes for broilers for the first time; for both light and heavy fat barrows; light and heavy fat gilts, and a class for breeding gilts.

This annual show and sale is sponsored by the Stanton Lions Club but this year it will be run by the 4-H Club and FFA Chapter boys themselves and not by adults.

The general superintendents of the show will be Bobby Carlisle, Gordon Stone and Norman Blocker, with Owen Kelly as adult adviser.

Superintendents of the steer department will be Benny Joe Blisard and Archie Butler, with J. C. Sale as adult adviser.

Superintendents of the swine department will be Malcolm Tunnell and Chalmer Wren Jr., with S. J. Foreman as adviser.

for years has put on such outstanding shows as the Calgary Stampede, Cheyenne's Frontier Days and others. He operates two rodeo stock ranches, one near Plattville, Colorado and the other near Fort Worth.

The Beutlers recently bought another 150 roping calves for the Fort Worth show.
