HINDENBURG IS GRACIOUS HOST TO U. S. FLIERS

German President Says Trip Should Help Relations

GIVES PHOTOS TO BOTH MEN

Lindbergh Is More Than Half-Way Home

(By The Associated Press.)

BERLIN, June 8.—Germany's veteran president, former Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, received Clarence Chamberlin and Charles Levine at the executive mansion today and congratulated them on their achievement in spanning the Atlantic by Air from New York to Germany.

In an interview which lasted 18 minutes, the president handed each of his visitors a fine framed autographed portrait of himself.

After questioning the Americans as to the details of their flight, he expressed hope that it would contribute toward bringing the American and German peoples into closer communion.

The stars and stripes were displayed all about the business section in Berlin, often in clusters with the German national colors and the Prussian state flag.

Lindbergh Rests

ABOARD U. S. S. MEMPHIS, June 8 (AP) (By Wireless).—Journeying homeward from a triumphal welcome in Paris, Brussels, and London, Capt. Lindbergh has passed the half-way mark.

Knowing full well of the round of greetings he will have to undergo after he steps ashore on his native soil, the flier is still resting as much as possible.

He reclined much of the daytime, and had another good rest last night.

Teachers Employed For Most Places In Pampa Schools

With a few exceptions, the faculty members for the next term of Pampa high school have been employed.

Remaining positions, which include the principalship, teacher of commercial subjects, and a few grade instructors, will be employed soon after the return of Supt. R. C. Campbell, who is expected home in the next few days.

Fraser Taylor of Oklahoma City has been elected teacher of history. He is a University of Oklahoma man, has specialized in political science, and has written several pamphlets on his research at the university.

Addie Lee Smith, Canyon Teachers college graduate, has been made assistant in English. Among the new teachers for the grades are Julia Mae Barnhart and Wilma Chapman, Pampa girls who have had teacher training work at Canyon.

Center and Double Parking Will Be Stopped Hereafter

The city ordinance on parking is to be enforced by local officers on a motion by the city council. The motion reads that all center and double parking must be discontinued at once or a fine will be imposed. A sign has been placed in the center of the intersection of Cuyler street and Foster avenue, "No Center or Double Parking."

Several motorists report having fenders on their cars damaged by motorists backing out from the curb and center of the streets. The practice also held up traffic because when a car backed out all the cars on the street had to stop while the car maneuvered from the curb and started on the straight-away.

START OF HOP ACROSS ATLANTIC

This shows Clarence Chamberlin and Charles Levine just before they hopped off from Roosevelt Field, N. Y., in a dash across the Atlantic. Levine, whose announcements he would go came as a last minute surprise, is shown at the right. He is owner of the monoplane Columbia, in which the hop was made.

Archer Well Explodes Killing Tool Dresser

COOLIDGE WILL CALL SPECIAL SESSION TO MEET IN OCTOBER

(By The Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Congress will be called into special session in October, Sen. Smoot of Utah declared today, after a conference with President Coolidge.

Upon leaving the White House, Senator Smoot represented the president as being convinced of the wisdom of the session.

The senator declared that the deficiency appropriation bill, tax reduction, and settlement of election contests were problems which must be taken up at an early date, along with flood control measures.

Earl Lee Masters, tool dresser, was burned to death about 2 o'clock this afternoon when the Empire No. 1 W. C. Archer, located about 5 1/2 miles northwest of Pampa, sec-174, caught fire. The well is still burning, shooting flames about 25 feet high.

Masters had been agitating the well, and was changing the tools when the well exploded, and burned the rig down. His body, at press time, is at a farm house. His father is said to live in Berger.

The Empire well came in about 10 days ago for 200 barrels, after being drilled deeper from 3,302 feet. It is in the southwest corner of the northeast of the section.

Criminal Docket of District Court Will Be Opened Monday

With about 90 civil suits on the docket for this week, district court is trying to settle as many cases as possible before the end of the week.

A number of settlements have been made out of court, and a few others have been compromised before going to the jury. Most of the suits are on notes or titles.

The criminal docket, also heavy, will be opened Monday. Judge Newton P. Willis is expected to relieve Judge C. C. Small by that time.

The grand jury, now out, has returned four indictments, but no arrests had been made yesterday afternoon. The body, still in session, is composed of S. W. Brown, P. B. Farley, J. M. Noel, J. G. Wears, G. C. Walstad, D. M. Davis, Earl Lewis, A. A. Tieman, E. A. Shackleton, I. B. Hughey, G. H. Brown and R. B. Thompson. Mr. Hughey is foreman.

Mrs. Jack McKay has been granted a divorce and her maiden name of Crystal Burris has been restored.

Paving Company To Move Soon Unless Given More Work

The Stuckey Construction company expects to finish its contract in Pampa by June 30, and unless an extension of contract is made by the city for more paving the company will move its equipment to another job, which will probably be in Dalhart.

Curbing on Foster avenue is being placed and grading operations are going forward. With just three blocks to complete, the company is rushing its work. Several petitions for additional paving have been handed the city council.

Fire Truck Makes First Run—Siren Sounds First Time

Pampa's new fire truck, called into action by the initial sound of the newly installed siren, made its first run at about 2:25 p. m.

An automobile, blazing in front of the City laundry, caused the fire call, but the blaze was extinguished before the firemen arrived. The truck made a good run, working well but compelled to make a long detour to avoid streets blocked by paving operations.

The old truck, as usual, failed to get under way for several minutes and was blocks behind the screaming red monster just purchased.

Two Kimes Gang Members Arrested

(By The Associated Press.)

NOWATA, Okla., June 8.—Danny Daniels and Howard Lansdon, reputed members of the Kimes bandit gang, were arrested at Nowata late Monday after a gun battle. Daniels was shot in the leg.

The men were arrested by Chief of Police H. B. Lowery and Rupert Lemon, a policeman. Daniels was identified by officers as first as Elmer Inman, notorious bandit and gunman and told officers that he was Inman. Later, Sheriff Gillespie looked at the prisoner and stated definitely that he is not Inman.

Seven hundred and sixty-one Lynn County, Massachusetts, Jay-walkers are summoned into court for disregarding automatic signal lights.

Earl Carroll Is At Prison Today To Start Sentence

(By The Associated Press.)

ATLANTA, June 8.—Earl Carroll, in the aftermath of whose bath tub party was a jail sentence for the New York theatrical producer, arrived here today to begin serving a year and a day in the federal penitentiary.

He was convicted on a charge of perjury.

Carroll was brought to Atlanta from Greenville, N. C., where he had received medical attention at a hospital following his collapse aboard a train enroute to prison recently.

NEW FLOOD IS ROUTING MANY

Eleven Hundred Persons Are In One Arkansas Camp

(By The Associated Press.)

NEW ORLEANS, June 8.—Rising waters of sections in Arkansas, Missouri, and Illinois drove hundreds of persons to levees and refuge camps today, disaster headquarters of the Red Cross were informed.

Eleven hundred persons are in a refuge camp in Marianna, Ark. Hundreds of refugees were pouring out of the St. Francis valley and vicinity today. Forest City was threatened.

Maytag Company To Open Shop In Pampa Soon

G. S. Hamnett, district manager of the Maytag Washing Machine Company, with headquarters at Dallas, arrived in Pampa Tuesday and is negotiating for a building in which to open an exclusive electric washing machine store here, to be known as the Maytag shop.

This will be the fourteenth store to be opened by the company in Texas since February. George P. Woodbury, who is now associated with the company at Amarillo, has been named local manager and is expected to arrive in Pampa today.

Mr. Hamnett states that he hopes to announce the location in the next day or two and that the store will open for business some time next week. The Maytag company is the largest manufacturer of electric washing machines in the world and according to Mr. Hamnett actually makes one-half of the machine manufactured in the United States, the other half being made by about 166 other companies. Aside from the inherent worth of the product, Mr. Hamnett says he believes that a great part of the success of the Maytag company is due to the fact that it is the seventh largest newspaper advertiser in the country.

Kiwanis Clubs Pass 100,000 Membership

(By The Associated Press.)

MEMPHIS, Tenn., June 8.—Kiwanis clubs of the United States and Canada now number 1,640, with 100,150 members, Fred C. W. Parker of Chicago, international secretary, told the eleventh annual convention of Kiwanis International today.

A hundred and ten clubs have been admitted in a year, adding 3,755 members.

Two accomplishments of Kiwanis were cited in reports. Kiwanians of the Indiana district, Clar E. Endicott of Andrews, Ind., said, have made notable progress toward building a $150,000 wing to the Riley Memorial hospital at Indianapolis, for the care of crippled children. Albert Sneider of Wheeling, W. Va., reported activity of West Virginia Kiwanians in behalf of a $50,000,000 state road program in that state.

Seattle, Detroit, Kansas City, Atlantic City and Tampa are contestants for the 1928 convention.

AMERICANS ARRESTED IN CHINA TODAY

SHANGHAI, June 8. (AP)—An American lawyer, W. Worthington, and another American, Samuel Chalet, with an Italian were arrested today by the chief of the international settlement for alleged illegal dealing in arms.

Oxford students have adopted the fad of "Collegiate Cars" for this spring.

YEGGMEN DIG THROUGH WALL 2 FEET THICK

Robbers Escape While Night Watchman Is After Help

MANY FINGER PRINTS TAKEN

Money Was Outside Safe, Which Was Not Opened

Another chapter in the history of Panhandle bank robberies was added early this morning when the Groom State National bank was the victim of yeggmen.

Approximately $1,200 was obtained by persons who pried open a window with a pick and crow bar and dug their way into the vault.

Sheriffs from Pampa, Panhandle, and Amarillo made an investigation, and suspects were arrested in Panhandle this morning.

The Groom night watchman saw a light in the bank about 20 minutes before 4 o'clock this morning, and, on investigating saw men inside working on a big hole they were cutting or had already made into the vault. He aroused several persons and then went back to the bank. When he arrived no one was in sight. Many Groom citizens, armed with the weapons most quickly obtainable, joined the watchman and the bank was guarded until daylight in the belief that the robbers might be inside the vault.

Officers who went inside proved that the intruders had escaped while the watchman had gone for help. A finger-print expert of Amarillo took many prints today. The robbers obtained the haul after digging through a concrete wall 2 feet thick. They made the aperture near the door, and although they did not set into the safe, they found $1,200 in coin trays, representing funds taken in after the safe was locked.

The yeggmen left a bar and a pick behind. They stole these from a railroad section house earlier in the evening.

According to I. C. Ensell, bank cashier, in a telephone conversation with the Pampa Daily News, suspicious characters are recalled to have been seen in Groom a few days ago.

No possums were formed, but officers in neighboring towns were notified. Groom is a small town about 30 miles south-west of Pampa.

Hopkins Well To Be Drilled Past String of Casing

Remaining joints of casing in the Riley-Heck No. 1 Mrs. J. M. Hopkins well, section 66, block 3, has been sidetracked and the company is ready to run the 6-inch casing.

At a depth of 3,020 feet, the well is spraying considerable oil and the men are working under difficulties. The casing should be placed sometime tomorrow and drilling around the lost casing is expected to commence immediately.

Wilcox Oil and Gas company No. 27 Mrs. Phoebe Worley, section 62, block 3, came in yesterday with a steady flow of 50 barrels an hour. Pay was reached at 2,939 feet in the usual formation of the Wilcox field which is a fine sandy lime.

The LeFors Petroleum company, with a location about five blocks east from the court house, is rigging up and expects to commence drilling operations within the week.

Bombs Injure 26 As Communist Club Debates In Meeting

(By The Associated Press.)

MOSCOW, June 8.—Twenty-six persons were seriously injured when two bombs were thrown into a business club at Leningrad last night.

Members were debating on Communist questions at the time, it has been learned. The building was badly damaged.

IT'S THE SAME OLD WORLD, BUT NEW MAN

"Changing world" is a favorite expression, but not an accurate one. Man is changing, slowly but surely, and insofar as individuals are concerned they are re-making their universe.

Scientists, whose world is a big, not thoroughly understood formula, tell us that June is to be a month of solar interest, with an eclipse and a fine comet. They go further, telling us how many seconds the eclipse will be complete, from several angles. And they will be accurate—more exact than would be the prediction of a train schedule. For the old world doesn't beat the schedule, and is rarely a fractional second behind.

Long ago—and not so long, either—cocks crowed and cattle bellowed at demonstrations of nature. Today the animals still tremble, but men peer with feverish interest through glass and telescope. In the passing of a few seconds, delicate instruments will measure distance, test gases millions of miles away, take temperatures, and perform other miracles too complex for the lay mind to grasp. Yet it is all relatively simple—to those who know how.

Man is rebuilding the world of his perception. He not only gets out of things what he puts into them, but, more accurately, takes out according to his ability to comprehend. Truly, mankind is not measured by height and width, but by breadth and depth.

T-ANCHOR BUILDING WILL BE PRESERVED

Old residents of the Panhandle will be pleased to know that the West Texas State Teachers college has taken over the T-Anchor ranch, one of the time-honored institutions of this section.

The log houses will be put into good condition and from the museum of the Panhandle-Plains Historical society furnishings typical of the old days will be provided. The land about the buildings, situated in the valley of Palo Duro creek, will be made into a park for the use of the students and faculty members of the college. The T-Anchor cowhands will have their annual reunions there.

A history of the J. A. Ranch has been compiled and will be published. Professor L. F. Sheffy, himself an early resident, is compiling data for a comprehensive history of the Panhandle region. The Historical society, now headed by T. D. Hobart of Pampa, is making much of this work possible.

Insufficient funds has been the greatest handicap in attempts to gather and preserve the records which can only be obtained from pioneers fast passing away. The state historical body is bidding for the services of the field secretary of the Panhandle society. No better gift could be made by someone interested in the work than to endow the Panhandle-Plains Historical society or contribute a substantial sum to its perpetuity.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON.—The territory of Alaska would like to become the forty-ninth state and she will apply for statehood when her population becomes large enough to warrant such action.

Alaska's trouble is that her population is not increasing. Dan Sutherland, the territorial delegate elected to represent Alaskans here in Washington, is responsible for the statement that this apparent stagnation of territorial growth is due principally to "the unfair, unjust and un-American administration of our fisheries by the Department of Commerce."

Sutherland is hostile to Hoover policies and referred to the regulation of Alaskan fisheries as "the blight on Alaska," in a bitter address to the last House of Representatives.

Everything Hoover does in Alaska, Sutherland charges, favors the great canning interests at the expense of the small, independent fisherman. The result is, he says, that the commerce secretary has virtually wrecked the independent industry, on which some 10,000 of the 57,000 Alaskans depend for livelihood.

"Hoover originally tried to parcel out the fishing grounds to the canners after the president had assumed the right to set aside certain reservations," Sutherland says. "But Congress passed a law in 1924 which, while it gave Hoover power to regulate the fisheries, forbade him to grant exclusive rights to any particular interest."

"In spite of this, Hoover and his subordinates have upheld and maintained in part the monopoly which was their original objective."

"While the cannery proprietors and stockholders spent the winter in the states rejoicing in their prosperity, many of the Alaskan fishing population were in poverty and distress as a result of Hoover's policy in regulating the salmon fishery solely for the benefit of the Chicago, San Francisco, Portland and Seattle investors, and in discrimination against Alaskan residents."

Sutherland says the Alaskan fishermen have been impoverished in the face of a $50,000,000 catch for 1926, the second greatest salmon year Alaska has ever known. Some Alaskans, he says, have even been driven into British Columbia waters to find fair conditions under Canadian regulations.

America is a country where a censor can always see a good movie.—Muskogee Phoenix.

PRESS FORUM

"The sucker public is wrong ninety times out of a hundred." That, according to Edward M. Fuller, confessed operator of a bucketshop, is what makes bucketteering profitable. Mr. Fuller has given us a good picture of the inside workings of a bucket-shop, and the methods, as he describes them, look amazingly simple. Unlike the high-wayman, the bucketteer runs no risk of forcible resistance from his victim or of falling into the arms of a policeman around the corner as he makes off with the loot. His victims actually seek him out and put their money into his hands; he not only uses it against them in the market but he charges them interest and a commission for doing so. The wonder is not that we have had bucket-shops, but that more get-rich-quick artists have not turned their talents in this direction.

The reason why the "sucker public" is so often wrong is that it cannot keep abreast of market developments. It is victim of what some students of the stock market call the "psychological lag;" that is, it appears that a certain stock is a "good buy" just when the time to buy is passing. It loads up with overvalued securities while the professional traders are selling and taking their profits. Because of this propensity bucket-shops have flourished. Instead of buying stocks with their customers' money, they use their margins to trade against them and to force them to take a loss, which goes into the bucketteer's pockets. Nothing is really bought or sold for the customers; their cash is merely "bucketted." According to Fuller's testimony, 65 to 70 per cent of the orders placed with his firm were handled in this manner.

Easy as all this appears, there are times when even bucket-shops have hard sledding. The Fuller concern ran into trouble in 1922 and collapsed. The bucketteer's great bigaboo is a broad and prolonged bull market. His customers are invariably bullish, and unless the market is sometimes bearish it is difficult to trade successfully against them. When stocks rallied vigorously in 1920-23 many bucket-shops besides Fuller's went to the wall. Since then there has been much house-cleaning downtown and bucketing is not what it used to be.—New York World.

Yes, we are going far when news stories relate how the Chicago fascistas did their stuff. Have we a place in the United States for this sort of doing? Why do not our ardent anti-klaners get busy and denounce the fascistas thing?—Henryetta Free-Lance.

Goats Play Games By Coolidge Lodge

(By The Associated Press.)
RAPID CITY, S. D., June 8. — From the veranda of his vacation home, President Coolidge can watch mountain goats play tag on summer evenings.

The broad stone porch of the state game lodge in the Black Hills, where the president and his family will spend the summer, looks out across green lawns to a rocky bluff some 500 yards away which forms the eastern wall of Squaw creek canyon, in which the lodge is located.

Along the jutting rocks of the bluff the mountain goats disport on every pleasant evening. Three or four of them stand at the top, and suddenly one bunts another off the edge. The bunted goat grabs adeptly at the side of the cliff, gets a footing, and climbs back up to the top to play a similar prank on another of his fellows.

A. & M.'s Baseball Men Are Making National Records

(By The Associated Press.)
COLLEGE STATION, June 8.—Eight former members of Texas A. and M. baseball teams are making good with clubs in the American, International, Texas, Western, and Lone Star leagues. The ex-Aggies pastime in professional baseball are Warren (Rip) Collins of the Detroit Tigers, Emory (Topper) Rigney of the Washington Senators, Butler Henderson of Jack Dunn's Baltimore Orioles, Hollis Tucker of the Beaumont Exporters, Pat Olson of the Amarillo team of the Western league, Jim Kendrick, manager of the Mexia Gushers, Judd Lewis of Tyler, and W. O. Schow of Paris, also in the Lone Star league.

H. A. Hillin of Mount Calm, who finished his career at Aggie land recently with a 3 to 0 victory over the University of Texas Longhorns, is expected to sign with Dallas or some other club of the Texas league in the near future. Punk Baker, Aggie third baseman of the past three seasons, has received several offers and may take one of them.

Rip Collins, generally regarded as the greatest punter the Southwestern conference has produced, is also A. and M.'s leading baseball celebrity. He has the best average of any Detroit hurler with five victories and three defeats. He began his career with Dallas in 1919, and made his debut in the American league with the New York Yanks in 1920. He won 14 games and lost only 8 in his first season under the big tent. That season he pitched a one-hit game against the Boston Red Sox. In 1921 he won 11 and lost 5 games, and pitched in one game in the world's series. In 1922 he was with the Boston Red Sox, and with a tall-end club he became one of the most consistent hurlers in the league. In the latter part of the season he successfully defeated each of the other seven clubs, a feat without parallel since he has been in the American league. In the winter of 1923 he and Del Pratt, now manager of the Waco Cubs, were traded to Detroit in exchange for Howard Ehmke, now with the Philadelphia Athletics. Last year Collins finished third in the American league in effectiveness, and this season he seems destined to enjoy his greatest year.

Topper Rigney also began his career with Dallas, but at the end of his first season he was traded to Fort Worth. Under Jakey Atz he developed rapidly, and improved both as a hitter and fielder. In 1925 he was sold to Detroit. In 1925 he was traded to the Boston Red Sox, and a few weeks ago he was sent to Washington in exchange for Buddy Myer, the former Mississippi A. and M. shortstop. With Detroit Rigney was considered a dangerous hitter but an erratic fielder, and it is known that Rigney and Manager Ty Cobb had many differences. He did not seem to fit in well at Boston, but with Washington he seems to have hit his stride, his fielding, especially, having shown improvement. Rigney is a native of Leonard, Texas.

Butler Henderson, who was the Aggies' righthanded pitching ace in 1922, played with Mexia and Marshall, and later was sold to the Cleveland Indians. For the past two years he has been with Jack Dunn at Baltimore, and is regarded as one of the most promising hurlers in the International league.

Hollis Tucker, who was captain of the A. and M. team during the past season, is making good with Jim Galloway's Beaumont Oilers. "The kid ball player," as he is known in Beaumont, is filling the shortstop position in a highly acceptable manner. Tucker has been hitting better in the Texas league than he did in the Southwestern conference. He is a steady infielder, and his pep and aggressiveness have made him popular with Beaumont fans. His home is in Houston.

Pat Olson, who used to share pitching honors with Butler Henderson, is on the reserve list of the Amarillo team of the Western league, and may join that club soon. Last year he hurled in the Eastern league, and since September he has been on the faculty of A. and M. college. Three years ago he hung up such a good record with Omaha in the Western League that he was purchased by the New York Yankees for $20,000.

Jim Kendrick, a member of the A. and M. football team in 1915 when Rip Collins punted the Aggies to one of their most notable victories over the Longhorns, recently was appointed manager of the Mexia team of the Lone Star league to succeed Drap Haues. Kendrick was with Austin in the Texas association a few years ago, and most of his playing has been confined to Class D and semi-pro teams in Texas.

Judd Lewis, who left A. and M. in 1920, is now covering the hot corner for the Tyler team of the Lone Star league. Lewis has played with teams in the East Texas league and Texas association for a number of years.

E. O. Schow of Clifton, who left the Aggies in mid-season, is making a good record with Paris in the Lone Star league. He was the leading hitter on the A. and M. team this year, and has kept up his hitting proclivities with Paris.

AIR-BUBBLE BREAKWATER
 PRINCETON, N. J., June 8. (AP)—Philip Brasher, a Princeton engineer, has perfected a device which he says will break the force of the highest waves that pound the Atlantic coast. Brasher's breakwater consists of a low-pressure air compressor which feeds a flexible, perforated pipe on the ocean bed. Bubbles rising from the pipe break the force of the waves. The inventor reports that various tests and the continued use of the device to protect a pier in California have shown it to be infallible.

Texans Lose To Tulsa On Errors

AMARILLO, June 8.—A bunch of hard-trying Texans lost control of their thoughts and fingers here yesterday, contributing six errors to Tulsa's 12 to 9 victory.

The locals, urged by a crowd of 1,500 howling fans, slugged out 17 hits, but loose playing and poor judgment in the field lost the game.

There were plenty of fluke hits, caused by failure of the fielders to agree on the handling of the ball.

The box score:

SPORT TALK

The Grays will play at home Sunday with a team not yet named, while the re-organized Oilers go to McLean for a battle. The Oilers have Robertson ready to pitch, and expect to reap their first victory Sunday.

The Lions club, Rotary club, Chamber of Commerce and the American legion are discussing the baseball situation in Pampa and may get behind the Grays to see a winning team supported.

The return ball game between the fats and leans is scheduled for next week but the day has not been set. This one will be better than the last game, as the fats have dug up some extra players for the fray.

The Amarillo Texans are still on a losing streak and all the pitchers they have can't win ball games when their assistants make six errors. That baseball is worse than much dished up by a small town team.

Shreveport seems to have hung

A SNAKE YARN

RAYMONDVILLE, June 8. (AP)—A rattle snake weighing 113 pounds and having 24 rattles was recently killed on the Missouri Pacific right-of-way near Randolph, in Kennedy county, by section workers, according to Will Reeves, foreman of the gang that killed the reptile. Reeves said the snake measured 11 feet in length and was four inches across the head.

A jinx on the Dallas and Fort Worth clubs. It is an easy job for the Shreveport nine to win a ball game when in steer or cow town.

WOMAN PAINTER SAYS U. S. ART SCHOOLS BEST

PARIS—American art schools are better French, and American art students should perfect their technique on the home side of the Atlantic before studying abroad, in the opinion of Frances Lea, one of the Americans exhibiting at the spring salon here. Her work has been hung at important Paris exhibitions before. The canvas at the National Society of Fine Arts shows her two daughters playing the violin and cello.

In private life Frances Lea is the wife of Stuart Moroney, a Paris journalist. Her family have been book publishers in Philadelphia for a century.

Frances Lea laughs at the theory that artists cannot have their work admitted at the spring salon without influence. She also scoffs at the idea that women's work is more favored than men's at this year's salon. She does her painting at her home in La Varenne, overlooking the Marne.

NEW FIRST LADY OF GEORGIA REVIVES OLD SOCIAL CUSTOM

ATLANTA (AP)—When Mrs. L. G. Hardman, Georgia's first-lady-elect, moves into the executive mansion late in June, she will revive an old Southern custom of making the mansion the center of social activity in the state. Although she is an active club woman, she believes a wife's first duty is to make her home so attractive that it is always the center of family entertainment. Her one restriction is that there shall be no dancing at the gubernatorial mansion.

"We will have afternoon 'at homes' each week, receptions and open house. During the winter we plan to have some of Atlanta's university students as our guests."

Josephine Hardman, 16, the eldest of three daughters, who was the Governor-elect's chauffeur during many of his campaign trips, will assist her mother. In addition to knowing how to cook and sew, Josephine designs her own clothes.

Dr. Hardman, who is a physician, will be the first "millionaire governor" to hold office in Georgia in many years.

Second Division Won 40 Per Cent Of War Crosses

(By The Associated Press.)

SAN ANTONIO, June 8.—Compliments of citations and war crosses awarded members of the A. E. F. for their services during the war show the second division of infantry, which celebrated the anniversary of its first fighting orders June 2, received 40 per cent of all of the Croix de Guerre awarded and more decorations than any other outfit.

The second division is the only division, every member in which was awarded the Fourragere of the Croix de Guerre. Most of the first division also wears the decoration, but several of the minor units of the division did not receive the reward. This decoration, given by the French Government signifies a blanket award of Croix de Guerres to every member of the company, battalion or division and become an official part of the outfit's uniform. A few soldiers are entitled to wear two of these decorations, one for the Croix de Guerre and another for the Legion of Honor.

Decorations won by the second division in the war include:

- American: Medals of Honor, 7; Distinguished service crosses, 708; distinguished service medals, 22; Oak Leaf Clusters, 13.
- French: Legion D'Honneur, 55; Order of the Black Star, 5; Medaille Militaire, 51; Croix de Guerre, 3,665.
