Alanreed Began As An Indian Trading Post 50 Years Ago

ALANREED.—The picturesque little town of Alanreed is located on the Rock Island railway and on the Postal Highway, 72 almost due east of Amarillo, in the southern part of Gray county. The town was founded in early days by F. B. McCracken, a hunter, who first pitched camp here because of the beautiful lake known as Spring Tank located here. The town was a trading point for early settlers and the Indians during the '50's and '60's, and is still a fine trading point for the farmers and ranchmen in this section of the state. The original name of the town was Eldridge, but when the Rock Island built thru here the name of the town was changed to Alanreed in honor of two contractors of the railway named Allan and Reed respectively. Until the railroad built, the post-office was located several miles from the present site of the town.

Alanreed is located in the famed apple belt of the Panhandle. The L. I. Palmer apple orchard is among the better known commercial orchards here. However, the Palmer orchard is but one of a number of good orchards. L. F. Castleberry has a fine orchard as has J. H. Hill. The Bruce Nurseries are also located here because of the marvelous productive sub-irrigated soil of this section. The strawberry, peach and grape thrive here as profitably as the apple, and the shallow water permits the growth of alfalfa without irrigation which is as fine as the best grown in the irrigated sections of the southwest. Apples produced at Alanreed have won the first premiums at several state fairs and the orchardists here realize wonderful financial returns from the crop.

mercantile establishments, one bank, a cotton gin which will gin 2,500 bales this year. A fine Masonic temple, a beautiful white brick school building which houses 120 pupils, and two fine church buildings speak for the civic pride of the citizens here. That the town is a great shipping point for cattle is proven by the commodious cattle shipping pens which flank the railway line.

Alanreed owes its prosperity to the splendid production of the farming country here. Like McLean, Alanreed draws both from the plains and the "below cap rock" country. The splendid vine crops under the cap rock, the bubbling springs which gurgle from the cap rock, the sub-irrigated lands, the grape vineyards, the truck crops and the great yields of cotton, faize and wheat all make for prosperity for this little town.

Alanreed is a live community. The town does not have a chamber of commerce in name, but the Community League of the community serves in the place of a commercial chamber. This league looks after the civic welfare of the community as well as looking after the commercial interests. Plenty of entertainment is provided for the people of the community by this league. The people of the community endeavor to follow the precepts of the Golden Rule in their relations with their neighbors and nowhere is found a more peaceful and law-abiding community than Alanreed. The town carries affiliation with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and upon the recent visit here of B. M. Whitaker, exhibit manager of the organization, arrangements were made to send products of Alanreed to Philadelphia where they will be displayed at the exhibit of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in maintaining at the Sesqui Centennial. Alanreed has 100 sections of good land waiting for the settler. This land may be purchased at an astonishing low price compared to lands in other portions of Texas.

Alanreed offers to the settler the most healthful country in existence and a real West Texas welcome to the newcomer.—West Texas Today.

"INSIDE INFORMATION"

A thick slice of ham, with raw sliced potatoes spread over it, and baked in milk for about an hour and a half, is unusually good. Sprinkle the potatoes with flour when you put them in the dish.

Milk soups and milk puddings contribute to the total amount of milk the children take, as do milk sauces and flavored milk drinks. Sometimes a drug store straw will help in persuading a finicky child to try one of these milk drinks.

The only way to be sure that a piece of colored goods won't run is to take a sample home and wash it. If you think it might fade, cover part of it and expose the rest to sunlight for at least a week. Household methods of setting colors are useless.

Keep bread in a ventilated box, crackers in tight cans.

Red Cross Life-Saving Service Is Nation-Wide

Scarcity of water apparently has no effect on interest in water rescue. Arizona, popularly associated with wide desert stretches and cactus, has gone in with enthusiasm for the Red Cross Life-Saving program.

The building of new irrigation dams is rapidly transforming Arizona into a swimming State despite popular conception of that country.

In more than 800 swimming institutes conducted by the Red Cross the last summer, life-saving instruction was given by the Red Cross.

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1926, 7,145 men, 4,408 women, and 16,713 juniors passed the rigid tests of the Red Cross Life-Saving Service, and were awarded insignia. The total for the year of 28,266 represents an increase of 6,374 over the previous year. The total membership of this corps at the close of the year was 102,076.

The Tenth Annual Roll Call from November 11 to 25 is an opportunity to encourage these efforts through membership in the Red Cross.

The Tenth Annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross is held this year from November 11 to 25. It is an invitation to you to endorse with your membership its wide reaching service to humanity.

Bland, Sweet, Savory, Tart
Serve a vegetable dinner, similar to the restaurant combination known as "vegetable plate," once in a while. To be satisfying it must contain enough protein to make it substantial. To be appetizing, it must have a variety of flavors, the bland, the sweet, the savory, and the tart. There must be contrast of texture also, such as the soft, the hard, the rich, and the crisp. Here are a few good combinations: Cream ed potatoes, buttered string beans, beets or beet greens with vinegar or lemon juice, raw celery; cabbage scalloped with cheese, carrots, and fried potatoes; baked sweet potatoes in season, spinach with hard-boiled egg, raw cucumbers, scalloped corn, steamed carrots, Swiss chard, raw sliced tomatoes; baked eggplant, buttered lima beans, water cress; fried tomatoes, mashed turnips or squash, baked potatoes, raw celery.

Tree Planting Is Being Encouraged

ALPINE.—Majestic Silver Leaf Poplar will vie with the sturdy Arizona Ash, the sweet-scented locust, and the spreading pecan for popularity in a tree planting campaign for reforestation of Alpine, sponsored by the Brewster County Chamber of Commerce. The ultimate aim of the movement is to call attention throughout the state to this little highland city made more attractive by streets and avenues overhung with boughs of many trees.

A wide-awake committee has already been appointed to visit all property owners within the city limits of the town in an effort to secure their cooperation with the movement. It is believed that from 15,000 to 2,000 trees will be set out this fall. Some Alpine people have already signed for as many as 50 trees, and a large number have requested from 25 to 35. More than 100 home owners are expected to set out from 10 to 15 shade or fruit trees. With the opening of the fall planting season, actual work of setting out will begin on all avenues and in Alpine yards.

Among the most popular shade trees being ordered are: Arizona ash, silver leaf poplar, locust pecan and others. A number of fruit trees will be set out in yards also.—West Texas Today.

PARENTS DUTY PERFORMED

Duty to our country, duty to one another, duty to ourselves, and the duty of a parent to a child. This week two small boys, one 12 years old and the other 13 years old were sentenced to the training school at Gatesville.

Tears fell from the eyes of a father and tears fell from the eyes of a mother, but each was confident that they were doing their duty. They had tried to control their children, but without success. Undoubtedly they took the last recourse, that of sending their children to a school where specialists would endeavor to make men of them.

The mother and father each felt the sorrow that only a parent can know, but they will be proud of their boys when they return as men, rather than to remain as they were.

MY DEAR KITTY

The cat must have a place to sleep, but she cannot sleep everywhere and anywhere she chooses. If she refuses to sleep in proper places someone should spank her and put the cat outside.

One place that one poor kitty seems determined to sleep in is on a pile of paper napkins in a restaurant. Now kitty we wouldn't object to that if you were going to use the napkins until they were discarded, but we are going to use them also, so if it is possible won't you move to a different place. If you must sleep in the napkin box, won't you see if your master won't move it out of sight so that we won't know the difference.

CUSTARD

A soft custard should be cooked slowly in a double boiler and stirred almost constantly. If a custard is cooked in this way at a temperature lower than boiling a longer time is required but the custard is smooth and velvety. When it coats the spoon the custard is done and should be removed at once from the heat and cooled rapidly. Setting it in a pan of cold water will stop the cooking and prevent the custard from curdling. An overcooked soft custard that has curdled can be made smooth by beating with a Dover egg beater.

Screams Of Parrot Give First Warning Of A Big Hotel Fire

Screams of a parrot gave the first warning of a fire which broke out in the Palm Hotel in Dallas last week. Two persons were injured in the fire and damage to the building fixtures was estimated at $20,000.

The parrot was in a restaurant nearby when the fire broke out, and it was not until the people were attracted by the screams that the fire was discovered. Another parrot which was in the hotel building was burned to death.

Propagation Farm To Supply Reserve Is Being Planned

CISCO—Again the rugged buffalo, again the slender deer and graceful antelope will roam the hills and ravines around Cisco, and mother quails with broods of many little ones, and pheasants, and other native birds of the state will stalk thru the sturdy oaks and lacy mesquites of this section unmolested as a result of the acceptance by the state of a 800-acre tract of land to be used as a game propagation farm here.

The tract just donated to Texas is located between Lake Cisco and the city itself, and is bisected by a deep canyon out of which great rocks form natural caves, and recesses for the lair of wild beasts and birds. The donated section is to be converted into a farm on which all kinds of wild life are to be raised for the stocking of the various state game preserves designated by the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission.

The primitive state of the wild beasts and birds to be propagated will be maintained through reconstruction of their natural haunts. More trees are to be planted in the tract pecans, persimons, hawks, and others to furnish food for the wild life. A fence of strong wire will enclose the entire farm, with smaller divisions to separate those animals which might prey upon other game. At the lake end of the propagation farm a state fish hatchery will be maintained on land furnished by the Cisco chamber of commerce.

A road through the heart of the game farm is planned by the state to open up the beauties of the canyon and the interest of the wild life to tourists and nature lovers. The opportunity to see Texas wild life in its original and primitive state will make Cisco a Mecca for many Texas naturalists it is thought.

Construction work on the state wild life propagation farm will soon be started, according to the column story telling of these facts which appeared in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram recently.—West Texas Today.

Brown Brothers Tell How To Raise Wheat

HEREFORD—Wheat farming in the Panhandle of Texas, if the summer fallow system is followed, is one of the most profitable industries for the section, according to four Brown brothers who have been particularly successful in this field.

The Brown boys, J. W. Brown, C. N. Brown, W. T. Brown and J. M. Brown, raise wheat in Deaf Smith County, Texas, and in Quay and Curry Counties, New Mexico. Their crops pay expenses and around one and a half times the cost of land.

On a three thousand acre tract of land, a yield averaging 35 bushels was obtained. A great part of the acreage averaged 40 bushels and tested 82 pounds. Five combines and ten trucks were run by the Brown brothers this year to care for their big crop, and they marketed daily about 1,000 bushels of wheat at Hereford.

The secret of success claimed by the Brown brothers in raising wheat is attributed to the summer fallow system. They prepare the soil in the spring of the year, and till the soil through the summer preparatory to wheat sowing in the fall.

The brothers hold seven sections of land, a large part of which was purchased from syndicate people five years ago. This year's crop of wheat alone paid all expenses and netted the boys one and a half times the cost of the land.

Though the Brown brothers have as their chief industry wheat farming, they also practice stock farming. Two of the boys keep pure bred Durham cattle and Poland China hogs while the others handle grade stuff. The combination of wheat and stock farming proves quite successful in the Panhandle country, according to their verdict based on actual practice.—West Texas Today.

INSTRUCTION IN RED CROSS FIRST AID SAFETY FACTOR

Its Industrial and Educational Service Spreads Throughout the United States.

Signs that the United States is awake to the menace of its increasing accident toll are apparent in the growing interest in first aid instruction as offered by experts of the American Red Cross.

Approximately 30,000 juniors and seniors completed the first aid course during the fiscal year, passed rigid examinations and received Red Cross first aid certificates. This represents an increase of 1,500 over the preceding year, and this gain is attributed to the emphasis on health education by various state bodies including not alone the American Red Cross and Government, but also, but life and accident insurance companies, and athletic and recreational clubs.

In Dallas, Texas, playground supervisors are required to hold first aid certificates. In many high schools the subject is included in the regular curriculum. In order to assist in training instructors for this phase of the work, special courses have been conducted in the summer schools of such leading institutions as the University of Maryland and the University of Virginia. Instruction was continued during the year at Loyola University, New Orleans; University of California, San Francisco; University of Kentucky; Temple University, Philadelphia; Pennsylvania Teachers College and similar educational centers.

Work with the public utilities group has shown an exceptional increase during the year. Classes conducted by fourteen of the associated Bell Telephone companies were continued with increased interest and a number of the companies sponsored intensive courses in first aid for instructors.

The first aid instruction car of the Red Cross was busy throughout the year. In the 125 cities visited by the car 500 meetings were held with an aggregate attendance of 91,000 persons.

Membership of the people in the American Red Cross makes such services possible, the annual opportunity of pledging support through membership being offered in the Roll Call from November 11 to 25 this year.

Educators Give Junior Red Cross High Praise

Growing recognition by leading educators all over the world has been an achievement of the Junior Red Cross in the last fiscal year.

Included in those which have taken especially favorable cognizance of Junior Red Cross efforts are the World Federation of Education Associations at Edinburgh, Scotland, in 1925, the Department of Superintendence of the National Education Association, at Washington, 1926, and the National Education Association in Philadelphia, June, 1926. Various state educational bodies have confirmed this approval, the report adds.

As a phase of their work, the Juniors have developed contacts through exchange of correspondence, with similar Junior organizations in virtually every part of the world, and through the development of this medium many leaders see a better chance for world peace in future.

An especially notable development of Junior organization has occurred in Porto Rico, with an enrollment of 137,000, and the Philippines, with 912,000.

More than 5,000,000 American Juniors are at work in this organization of the American Red Cross. Their example is held out by the American Red Cross during the Tenth Annual Roll Call for membership, as one for all Americans to endorse by joining the parent organization during the period November 11 to 25 this year.

War Over, But Red Cross Nurses Are Ever On Duty

Was the romantic picture of the Red Cross Nurse faded with the war days? It has been more than 12 years since that first contingent of brave women to go to the war zone called from America to make an unending record of service behind every battle front.

For an answer to their whereabouts today, it is only necessary to refer to any large theater of recent years in which the Red Cross rendered relief. Wherever there was injury and suffering the Red Cross nurse will be found to have been on active duty.

These nurses are enrolled under the American Red Cross as a reserve of the Army, Navy and U. S. Public Health Service, at all times ready to serve in war or peace. This reserve of Red Cross nurses aggregates 43,500 women who have met the highest standard in the nursing profession.

The Roll Call for membership in the Red Cross this year is November 11 to 25, when the American people identify themselves with the broad services of the organization by joining its ranks.

Plot of Land Sinks 30 Ft. Near Mobeetie

MOBETTIE.—Something a little out of the ordinary happened the other day when a portion of old Mother Earth decided to lower its relative position. Near the south side of W. J. Jeffus' lower farm where Mr. Harris lives, a plot of land about 50 yards long and 25 or 30 yards wide sank down about 25 or 30 feet then slid toward the creek nearby. This piece of ground was almost egg shape with the smaller part near the creek, and the walls left by the sinking are almost perpendicular.

The sinking of the land was probably caused by water draining from a nearby field into the creek, thereby undermining it. It differs from the common cave-in inasmuch as the walls left are almost perpendicular, and the bottom is almost level, having a slight slope toward the creek. Little streams of water are draining into the creek from the sides and the bottom of the pit. Mobeetie News.

Students Keep Cows to Help Pay Expenses

LUBBOCK.—Keep cows at college and make her help defray expenses of education, that's one of the latest schemes tried out successfully at Texas Technological College.

The student dairy of Texas Tech, organized last spring with six members, is composed of students operating a dairy business through keeping their fine cows at the college dairy barn. Part of the barn was placed at the disposal of students, with certain regulations, since the Tech herd did not occupy all available space.

To become a member of the student dairy association, permission and indorsement must be furnished by the student from the Dean of Agriculture. Cows admitted to the barn must have been tested for tuberculosis and must give an extra grade and supply of milk.

With the success of the six charter members of the student Dairy it is expected by college authorities that quite a number of other student will join the organization during the 1926-27 session to help pay their way through school. West Texas Today.

Hogs Won't Have to Reduce

HOGS won't have to go on a reducing diet. They will have plenty of corn to eat, in spite of a prospective short crop, which will amount to about 2,698,000,000 bushels this year, according to the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation. Last year the crop was 2,905,000,000 bushels, considerably larger than the five-year average crop of 2,649,000,000 bushels. This year's crop was grown on 101,774,000 acres and is rated to yield 26.7 bushels per acre. More than 80 per cent of the corn crop is fed to live stock, and hogs consume more than 40 per cent of the crop. This year hogs have been scarce and have not eaten as much from last year's crop as normally. The corn year begins November 1. A year ago the carry-over from 1924 was only 61,000,000 bushels, but because of the shortage of hogs and other live stock the carry-over on November 1 from the 1925 crop will be more than 500,000,000 bushels. This, with the present crop, will be ample to meet all needs, the Foundation estimates, so the hogs and other live stock will not have to go hungry.

Mrs. H. W. Johns entertained with a bridge party in honor of Mrs. Paul F. Stewart, Mrs. P. O. Sanders and Miss Dee Breeding Tuesday evening.

FLORIDA LEADS RELIEF RECORDS

Holds Major Disasters of 1928. Red Cross Active in 62 Emergencies in Year.

ALSO SERVES FOREIGN LANDS

Preparedness to Cope with Great Disturbances Gives Good Results in Action.

Facing one of the largest rehabilitation efforts of its whole history, as a result of the Florida hurricane, the American Red Cross already had behind it a record of service in 62 disasters at home, up to the close of the fiscal year, June 30, 1928.

When the hurricane struck Florida with such devastation and loss of life, the Red Cross National Headquarters was just congratulating itself that a year had passed without a major disaster within the borders of the country. The destruction in Florida has been tentatively estimated by Director of Disaster Relief Henry L. Baker, of the American Red Cross, in terms of relief work ahead of the organization. This takes into account all sufferers who must be cared for.

Careful surveys by experienced authorities place the injured at 4,000, exclusive of the stricken Gulf Coast cities of Moorehaven and Clewiston. Of the 1,200 injured sent to Miami hospitals, 800 were suffering with major fractures. In two other east coast communities the injured numbered nearly 1,000. The homeless were conservatively estimated at 50,000. Such figures sketch only vaguely the human and material problem which the American Red Cross is still doing its utmost to solve.

For comparison the other outstanding recent disaster, the Midwest tornado of March 18, 1925, can be described in more detail. In that catastrophe the final check showed 800 dead, 3,000 injured and 6,347 families of approximately 30,000 men, women and children rendered homeless. The final relief operations of the Red Cross were brought to a close March 18, 1925, exactly a year from the day the tornado struck five states.

So terrible did the death and destruction impress itself on the experienced Red Cross forces rushed into Florida that Chairman John Barton Payne did not hesitate to call for a relief fund from the whole country of $5,000,000. The Red Cross concentrated every resource in trained personnel on the stricken region.

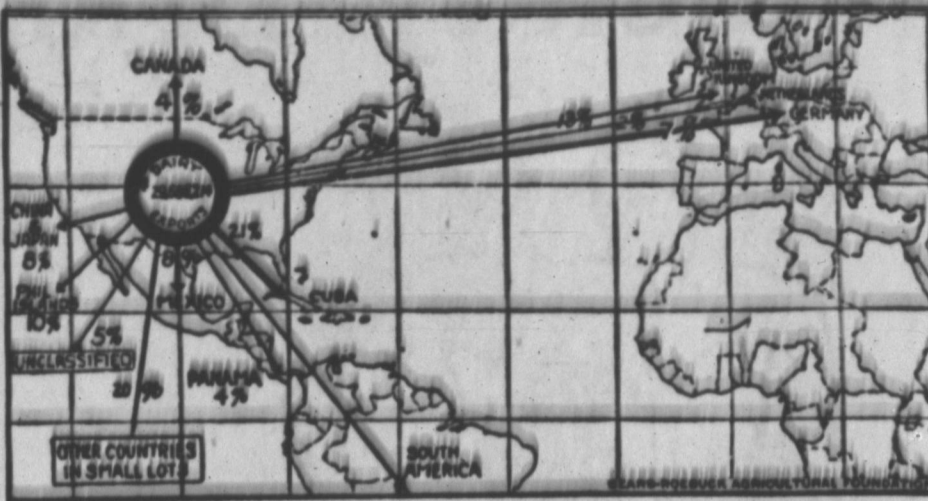

The New Jersey munitions explosion, in July, while terrible as a spectacle, could not compare with either of these other two disasters in final destructiveness. It gave the Red Cross an opportunity for service in which Red Cross nurses treated 35 injured, and during the height of the emergency fed between 700 and 800 people driven from their homes. More than 400 cases were registered with the Red Cross after the explosion for assistance in regaining their hold on life through rehabilitation work. This latter is a regular part of the Red Cross relief operations in all disasters, and means a task continued long after the country has ceased to think of the occurrence itself.

The year has seen a new measure of disaster relief preparedness inaugurated by the Red Cross, under which a trained reserve of medical and other relief experts is constantly on call for any service. This preparedness justified itself in both the New Jersey explosion, and in the Florida hurricane. In the latter the Red Cross had at call more than 300 experienced disaster workers with a network of prepared Chapters all over the country. This preparedness, constantly demonstrated, is cited as material assurance that the country is better protected today than ever before from the suffering such misfortunes engender.

Had so were domestic disasters in both the last fiscal year and recent months, some of those abroad in the same time have been comparable, especially a flood in Mexico. Altogether the American Red Cross served in the name of the American people in more than 15 foreign catastrophes.

The Tenth Annual Roll Call for membership to maintain such activities will be held from November 11 to 25, and is an opportunity for all to serve themselves in the American Red Cross.

$29,686,214 in Dairy Products and Eggs Shipped Out of U. S.

Dairy products and eggs valued at $29,686,214 were exported from the United States in the year ending June 30, 1928, according to a statement on the export situation issued by the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation. Canned milk topped the list, with eggs second, cheese third and butter fourth. The principal export market for these products proved to be Cuba, which took two-fifths of the eggs shipped abroad and was next to the United Kingdom as a buyer of canned milk. Great Britain was the second largest customer for these products, with the Philippine Islands in third position. Mexico, Germany, China and Japan, Panama and Canada were the other markets which bought the surpluses of these products.

Tenth Annual Roll Call Of Red Cross November 11 To 25

St. Louis.—A popular misconception of the relation of Christmas seals to the American Red Cross has occasioned a statement from National Headquarters which was given out to the Midwestern Area of the United States recently by William M. Baxter, Jr., Assistant to the Vice-Chairman of the American National Red Cross, in charge of the 17 states comprising this area.

Originally, Baxter said, the Christmas seals were issued by the American Red Cross and called Red Cross Christmas seals and were furnished by the Red Cross to the National Tuberculosis Association for distribution to its affiliated organizations in the United States. As the distribution of these little health stickers became more widespread, and the work of the Tuberculosis Association enlarged, an agreement was reached between the Red Cross and the National Tuberculosis Association whereby the Red Cross gave up all concern in the seals and turned over the whole matter to the National Tuberculosis Association. Since then, the Christmas seal sale has been carried on absolutely independent of the Red Cross and is not at present in any way related to the Red Cross Annual Roll Call, Baxter says. The Tenth Annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross will be held from Armistice Day, November 11th, to Thanksgiving Day, November 25th. Every person living in the United States during that period will be offered the privilege of joining the American Red Cross, or renewing his membership for another year. SOCIETY NOTES

Miss Dorothy Doucette Hostess To Classmates

Dorothy Doucette entertained a number of her classmates at her home, Friday evening, October 29th, with a Halloween party. Each guest came in costume and mask and upon entering was made to pass down a dark hall full of Many Troubles. Screams and laughter told the tale of Halloween fun.

The house was appropriately decorated in orange and black. Many games and ghost stories furnished the amusement for the evening. A dainty buffet lunch was served to Dorothy Dood, Louise Waistead, Francis Finley, Francis Campbell, Theo Post, Pauline Barnard, Francis Olson, Harold Farrell, Conrad Graham, H. L. Ladrick, Silar Faulkner, Lawrence McMurtry, Jr., Walter Herd, George Burgee, Berton and Letors Doucette.

Mrs. H. J. Osborn Entertains Sunday School Class

An enjoyable time was spent by Mrs. H. J. Osborn's Sunday School Class at the M. E. Church Friday evening, October 29th, in the form of a masked Halloween party.

The church was beautifully decorated in perfect Halloween style. As the guests entered they were given numbers each person to guess the one held by each other, then escorted through the straight and narrow way which had many stumbles, and thrills.

Many games and contests were enjoyed. Roger McConnell won the apple eating contest by eating "apple, hair pin, string and all."

Bob Campbell had his fortune told and the tipay told him he had been married one time already.

Mr. Loftus held high scores by eating hot tamales, being six ahead when the hot tamales gave out.

A business meeting was held and the class reorganized.

The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. G. J. Cornelia; Vice-President, Roger McConnell; Sec. Treasurer, Mrs. Edune, S. Vicars.

Delicious refreshments were served to those present.

L. L. Club Organized By Girls Here.

October 14th Misses Mabel Davis, Bernice Chapman, Nina Clift, Margaret Schmidt, Wilma Behrens, Millie Bird Ritchey, Rena Bell Smith, Eunice Barnard, Anna Harard and Jewell Finnegan met at the home of Miss Margaret Schmidt and organized the L. L. Club. The club meets every Wednesday, with a social meeting at the home of one of the members one week and a luncheon downtown the next week.

Miss Wilma Behrens entertained the Club on Wednesday, October 20th, at the home of Mrs. H. F. Barshart. After a short business and social meeting refreshments were served to the members of the Club.

Wednesday, October 27th, the Club had a luncheon at Hotel Pampa.

On Wednesday, November 3rd, Miss Bernice Chapman entertained at her home on West Foster Avenue. The evening was spent in a very enjoyable manner, after which refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. McMurtry Give Halloween Party

One of the most delightful affairs of the season was given at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. McMurtry on Saturday night, October 30th. The house was elaborately decorated in Halloween and Autumn colors, appropriate to the occasion.

Each guest was asked to come masked, which added greatly to the fun. They were met at the door by the hostess who repeated a verse in warning to the one who dared to enter without jumping the broom stick. They were then directed by a strange figure to the Witches Lair where by the light of a fire under a Pot of Fortune, a Witch stirred the kinking objects with a spoon, and fished out a number, directing each guest to find a corresponding one attached to a yellow balloon, representing a pumpkin, hung about the different rooms. Under a green leaf fortunes were concealed.

The guests were then led down a dark stairs where another Witch read the palms. Further fortune contests were carried out and masks were removed. Each was requested to register in the Guest Book.

The rest of the evening was spent in most enjoyable entertainment. At a late hour refreshments in keeping with the occasion were served to the following guests: Misses May Hohart, Moleta Lefors, Mae Morrison, Louise Durrenberger, Ruby Cook, Harriett Rieves, Gladys Carter, Velora Red, Josephine Carleker, Mary Nail, Wilma Pyron, Nan Berry, Millie Bird Ritchey and Matabelle

The Outlook For Competition In Cotton Growing

The United States of North America has been, since 1793, when the cotton gin was invented, in the lead of all other countries in cotton production and with diligence may hold this lead indefinitely, notwithstanding the fact that there are industries at work in promotion of cotton production in other countries having soils and climates fully as well adapted to cotton growing as our own, but American cotton growers cannot afford to ignore the possibilities of competition and should proceed intelligently so as to produce neither so little cotton as to induce increased acreages in foreign countries nor so much to impoverish not only themselves, but the growers of every land, and above all, if American supremacy is to be maintained, our cotton must be produced efficiently of the outlook for cotton production in the United States, but it is nevertheless heartening when considered in the light of an intimate discussion of the subject by Dr. B. Youngblood, director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment station in Bulletin No. 345 which has just come from the press and is entitled, "The Possibilities of Brazil as a Competitor of the United States in Cotton Growing."

Doctor Youngblood has for some time been directing his thoughts to the economic phases of the cotton industry and during his visit to Brazil in 1922 he made copious notes upon the geography of that wonderful country and upon the stages of agricultural development and the general possibilities of the population. He reports fully in his bulletin many interesting features which he found in Brazil that have important bearings upon the future of the American Cotton Industry and which cotton producers of the United States will read with profit.

Proper Training Of High School Athletes Urged

Austin, Texas.—Because it is often charged that too many coaches of high school football overwork the members of their teams, Roy Henderson, athletic director of the Interscholastic League of the University of Texas, has called their attention to this matter.

"This proper training of a high school football squad is a science," Henderson stated. "It should not be entrusted to one incapable of dealing with the many problems that arise, or to one who will sacrifice the physical interests of the boys in his efforts to turn out a winner. It has been my observation that the most successful coaches are those who bring their boys along slowly, never forcing them through a daily grind that leaves them physically and mentally exhausted and less eager to play the game."

"The harm is not done," Henderson continued, "in playing a game once every seven days. In many cases the day of the game is the lightest day of the week from the standpoint of his workout. The damage is done by the coach, who, in his eagerness to win his district championship, puts his boys through a long, daily, grueling practice, losing sight entirely of the fact that he is doing the very thing that hurts his chances most."

"Undoubtedly the present tendency is to do too much, to overtrain the high school boy when the best results can be secured through a policy of 'too little rather than too much.'"

"Some schools are allowing their teams to go on the field without ever having had the players examined by a physician. This is a dangerous practice and an unnecessary risk that no school man should be willing to take. In every town there is a physician who will be glad to give the boys a physical examination without charge. This is a 'safety first' measure that should not be overlooked."

C. B. Barnard has remodeled a part of the interior of his store. A semi-floor has been put in the rear for a ladies ready-to-wear department.

New Gasoline To Be On The Market Soon

The general headquarters of the Marland Refining Company at Ponca City, Oklahoma, announced today that the company will soon market a new gasoline. This new motor fuel is the result of many months of scientific research on the part of a corps of chemists, process and refining engineers at the refinery at Ponca City. This gasoline is manufactured under a new method, and has the approval of the leading scientists of the petroleum industry.

The Marland chemists claim it is absolutely a no-knock motor fuel as the gasoline is all taken from the crude, there being no injurious chemicals used in its manufacture. The Marland refinery is located in the heart of the Mid-Continent oil fields. Ponca City, the home of Marland Oil, is half way between the famous Tonkawa field and the Burbank field in Osage county. The Tonkawa field has long been known as the greatest light oil field in the world. In addition to the tremendous supply of Mid-Continent crude available at the door of the refinery, the company has large holdings in the new Amarillo, Texas, fields. More than a hundred tank cars of this Texas crude are received daily at the Ponca City refinery.

This new Marland gasoline will be marketed directly through the Marland owned and operated service stations. There are at present more than four hundred of these stations in Oklahoma, Kansas, New Mexico, Colorado, Missouri, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky and Nebraska.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Dr. L. J. Mins, Stewardship Secretary of Texas Baptists, preached both hours last Sunday at the Baptist Church. He is one of our great preachers, and our people were highly pleased with his messages. At present he is working in the interest of Wayland College. We are happy to have had him on our field.

The pastor returned Monday after closing a two weeks meeting at Higgins. There were ten conversions and ten additions to the church. At the close of the meeting the Higgins Church voted to go to full time preaching.

We shall have our regular services Sunday. Many new people are lining up in the Sunday School. The pastor will appreciate a good audience at both hours. Sunday School begins at 10:00 a. m., Preaching at 11:00 a. m., and 7:30 a. m., B. Y. P. U. at 6:30 p. m., W. M. U. Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. and Prayer Meeting at 7:00. You will find a hearty welcome with us.

Grain Company Pays $26,555 To One Man

WHITE DEER.—What is perhaps the largest sale made this season from any farm in the trade territory was closed Tuesday when Henry Schafer finished delivering 21,244 bushels of wheat to the U. S. Strader Grain Company. The grain was paid for in single check which amounted to $26,555.00 and Mr. Lawyer, local manager of the elevator company, stated that it was the largest check he had ever given any one farmer for his grain crop.

The grain was raised on the Henry Schafer ranch which is located just north of White Deer, and like the greatest portion of the past year's harvest, tested well.—The White Deer Review.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Gilliland left for Oklahoma City Thursday where they intend to visit friends. From there they are going to Norman, Oklahoma where their son, Alfred, is attending the University. They plan to witness the homecoming game between the Missouri champions and Oklahoma University.

Game Warden Says He Finds No Trace of Poison in Ducks

For the past few weeks there has been a report that the wild ducks were dying by the hundreds from poison. E. R. Thurman, special deputy state game warden, says that he has investigated thoroughly, and that as far as he can determine there have been no ducks dying from poison. He says that he has found several dead birds, but that they were crippled and no doubt died from injuries.

"I have had several calls from various parts of the county inquiring as to the truth of the propaganda that the wild ducks were dying from poison. I don't believe that the people need to worry about using the ducks for eating. About the only poison the hunters need to fear is that of violating the game laws," says Thurman.

Miss Betty Blue, formerly of Santa Anna, came to Pampa last week and took charge of the Office of the Pampa Gas Co. She was formerly employed by W. L. Woodward, manager of the gas company here, when he was in Santa Anna.

Gas Company Completes Second Line Into City

The Pampa Gas Co. now has two pipe lines into the city and is able to furnish thirty million cubic feet of gas a day. At present there are only 700 meters installed, but if there were 1000 meters and a maximum amount of gas was used, the city would only consume one million cubic feet a day. Officials of the gas company say that they have the second line so that there will be an adequate supply at all times, and so that they can always care for any unusual increase in consumption.

The second line is run from the Bradford well nine miles south of town.
