FLAGMAN IS RUN DOWN BY AUTO

Wage Increases Are Denied Train Crews

RATE HIKE IS ASKED BY MEN OF 55 ROADS

Dr. Splawn Signs Refusal Affecting 65,000

YARDMEN GET SMALL RAISE

It Is Held That Pay Already Is Above Some Places

(By The Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, June 25.—A wage increase was denied nearly 65,000 conductors and train men on 55 western railroads by the board of arbitration today.

They asked an advance of a dollar in pay per day.

Yardmen were granted a 7 1-2 per cent increase. In denying the increase to conductors and other trainmen, the board held that the men are now receiving higher wages than are paid in other sections.

Dr. W. M. Splawn, president of the University of Texas, was the member of the board to sign the order.

Niagara Cities Welcome Texans on Special Trip

(By The Associated Press.)
BUFFALO, June 25.—Ideal weather aided the Niagara frontier cities, Buffalo and Niagara Falls, today in extending a cordial welcome to Governor Moody and his fellow travelers on the All-Texas special train.

The party was greeted by city officials, and representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, and were given a breakfast at a hotel.

Later in the morning there was a continuous round of sight seeing, and receptions made up the remainder of the day.

District and County Clerks Will Meet Next in Abilene

(By The Associated Press.)
CORPUS CHRISTI, June 25.—Abilene was selected for the next meeting place of the District and County Clerks' association in the closing session of their convention here today.

Roy Cliff of Corpus Christi was elected president.

Pola Negri is on her way back to Hollywood, accompanied by her husband, Prince Mdivani, and will begin work soon on a new picture.

Little Ad—But Result Is Large

HELP WANTED—White woman to do house work. Must have fair education. See Mrs. J. E. Murfee at Murfee's Dry Goods store.

Not a big ad, that, but it got results.

"It looks like half of Pampa are housekeepers, to judge by the number which appeared as a result of this ad," Mrs. Murfee told the News.

This is just one of the many examples of how the News wants to render satisfactory service. Let one of the little ads work for you, too, and read the column daily for items of interest.

CREATOR OF SUN COMPASS CHARTS BYRD'S TRANS-ATLANTIC COURSE

Albert H. Bumstead, chief cartographer of the National Geographic Society, and Commander Richard E. Byrd inspecting the automatic sun compass made by Bumstead. This device takes the place of magnetic compasses.

WASHINGTON, (AP)—In planning his flight to Paris, Lieutenant Commander Richard E. Byrd once more is receiving the assistance of a retiring, modest man whose workshop is on the top floor of the National Geographic Society building.

He is Albert H. Bumstead, chief cartographer of the society, who created the sun compass which, Byrd said, enabled him to make the first flight by airplane across the North Pole. For the Paris flight, Bumstead has chartered a course designed to save the flier every mile possible and at the same time carry him within sight of as many recognizable landmarks as feasible.

The distance figured out for the course is 3,637 miles from New York to Paris, which is only 15 or 20 miles longer than the "air line" of the "great circle" arc between those points. It is plotted so that he may follow magnetic degrees of longitude part of the way and true degrees elsewhere, taking him from New York to the lighthouse at the entrance of St. Johns Harbor, Newfoundland, thence on his 1,900 mile hop across the Atlantic along the 108th magnetic degree to the coast of Ireland, and on to Paris with six landmarks to help him along the remaining 594 miles. Byrd is understood to have furnished Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh a copy of the chart before the latter started on his heroic flight.

Bumstead was born at Minneapolis, July 18, 1875, the son of one of the founders of Atlanta University. In 1912, he became chief topographer of the Peruvian expedition of the National Geographic Society which was headed by Hiram Bingham, now senator from Connecticut and which discovered and explored the remarkable ruins of the Incas high in the Andes. He invented the Bumstead map projector for the United States Geological Survey, several of which he was called upon to make for General Pershing in 1917, and the Bumstead tripod for the same government agency.

President of Texas Press Association Dies Saturday

(By The Associated Press.)
SWEETWATER, June 25.—George Neu, publisher of the Brenham Banner, who was recently elected president of the Texas Press association, died in a hospital here today.

The funeral will be held in Brenham Monday.

Neu was stricken June 14 while enroute to the convention of the State Press association at El Paso.

Weather Still Delays Flight of Byrd to France

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, June 25.—A mid-morning report of the weather bureau today set Monday as the first date when there seemed likelihood of favorable conditions for a take-off for France by the monoplane America, but there remained a possibility that the flight might be started tonight or Sunday.

BIG RATTLER KILLED
QUITAQUE, June 25.—A rattlesnake 10 inches in diameter and having fifteen rattles was killed here this week, and is declared by oldtimers to be the largest ever seen in this county.

'ROSETIME' IS NEARLY READY FOR STAGING

Large Cast of Home People Promises Well

CHORUSES HAVE MANY COSTUMES

C. of C. Production to Be Given Monday and Tuesday

Rehearsals for the home talent play, "Rosetime", to be presented at the High school auditorium Monday and Tuesday nights, are drawing to a close and the cast will be prepared for the opening performance tomorrow night.

Although staged by amateur talent the play is a professional production and is expected to delight the audiences. It is a musical comedy replete with lively songs, dances, and witty humor. The choruses are clever and the costumes chic.

The cast is supported by 24 of Pampa's most attractive young women, beautifully costumed and well trained.

The characters in the production are: Pa Perkins, Nathan Jones, Ma Perkins, Gene Oakley, Rose Perkins, Pauline Davis, Jerry Hunter, Harry Hoare, Squint Smith, W. C. (Red) Upton.

J. Dillingham Jones, Scott Barcus, Props O'Reilly, Gordon Baime, Babe Burnette, Grace Balthrope, Mlle. Jacqueline Deauville, Helen Jones.

Percy Peabody, F. C. Conwell, French Maid, Gene Oakley, Sally Brown, Martella Lange, Julia Jones, Nettie Holt.

Mrs. V. S. Keahey Dies Saturday

Mrs. Ella Constance Keahey, wife of V. S. Keahey, died at 3:30 a. m. Saturday after a short illness, which was a recurrence of an old malady.

The funeral will be held at the First Christian church at 3 o'clock today, with the Rev. James Todd, Jr., her pastor, in charge.

Mrs. Keahey was one of the older residents of the city, having come here in December of 1908. She was born Nov. 10, 1883 at Melissa, Texas, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Mallow, survived her. Two sisters are Mrs. C. F. Cobb of Grandview and Mrs. Earl Apperson of Dallas, the three brothers are M. L. Mallow of Fasco, L. F. Mallow of Laguna Beach, Ca., and L. E. Mallow of Dallas. Besides the husband, two children, George and Mary, survive her.

She was operated upon in January at Amarillo, and another operation became necessary here Friday. Physicians at Pampa hospital found her condition such that death was inevitable.

Mrs. Keahey was a faithful member of the Christian church since youth. She taught in the Pampa school three years, beginning in 1908.

LEGION DRIVE ENDS

Saturday was the last day of the American Legion membership drive. The Kerley-Crossman post of this city now boasts of 200 members. It is competing with several other posts of the Panhandle, the prize for the greatest percentage of increase in members being a free trip for one of the Legionnaires to the convention in Paris, France. The Pampa post is thought to be ahead in the contest.

WOMAN WILL HANG OCT. 21

Two Others Also Get Sentences in Murder Case

(By The Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, June 25.—Mrs. Catherine Cassler of Crown Point, Ind., today was sentenced to be hanged October 21 for the murder of William Lindstrom.

Mrs. Lillian Fraser, known as Lindstrom's wife, and Loren Patrick, who confessed their parts in the plot to kill Lindstrom for the collection of $7,500 in insurance, were sentenced to life imprisonment.

Action Taken to Keep Trains From Blocking Streets

City officials have taken steps to stop the blocking of crossings by trains, and it is believed that this annoyance will be reduced to a minimum.

Part of the difficulty arises, it is said, from the necessity of using the yards for a passing track. Furthermore, when long trains are cut apart several minutes must pass before the air brake system can be connected and put into running order. A passing track outside of the city is needed.

However, when the double track is completed, it may be used to relieve part of the trouble, and in those cases when short trains block the streets longer than is legal, officers will, if necessary, take steps to prosecute the offending conductors.

San Antonio Men Are Directors of New Branch Bank

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, June 25.—The Federal Reserve board today announced the appointment of M. H. Rogers, Reagan Houston, and F. E. Scobey, all of San Antonio, as directors of the San Antonio branch of the Federal Reserve bank which will open July 5.

The institution will be a branch of the Dallas bank.

J. S. SHELTON IS STRUCK BY BOWERS' CAR

Arm and Leg Are Fractured in Crash Saturday

ARREST IS MADE AFTER ACCIDENT

Chrysler Also Hit, and Mrs. Keehn Much Bruised

Struck by a big Hudson sedan running out of control at the Cuyler street crossing, J. S. Shelton, railroad flagman, was run down late yesterday afternoon and severely injured.

At the Pampa hospital it was said last night that Shelton had suffered a broken arm, broken leg, and many bruises. He is 64 years old.

Following the accident, county officers arrested Joe Bowers, Sr., driver of the car, and placed him in jail. It is alleged that he was under the influence of liquor.

Bowers' car was being driven southward on Cuyler street, when it crashed into the side of a Chrysler roadster driven by Fred Keehn, who was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Theresia Keehn, 75 years old. She was considerably bruised and shaken by the impact, but Mr. Keehn escaped injury.

The sedan swerved away from the roadster and ran down the flagman, who was standing at his post. Then the big machine, turned down the railroad tracks and is said to have struck an engine before coming to a halt.

Liquor Cases Are Reversed by Appeals Court

(By The Associated Press.)
AUSTIN, June 25.—Four liquor convictions were reversed and remanded by the Court of Criminal Appeals today on the strength of its opinion of last Wednesday, holding the affidavit clause of the search and seizure law invalid.

Sunday Baseball Is Now Illegal in Pennsylvania

(By The Associated Press.)
PHILADELPHIA, June 25.—The state Supreme Court today decided that Sunday baseball is illegal in Pennsylvania.

Reading Matter Needed At Hospital

With the men's ward full and the rooms crowded to the limit of equipment, Pampa hospital has a big family of patients.

Many of them are from other towns, and all have idle moments in which reading matter is much desired.

Local people who have many magazines and books to discard may render a real public service by sending them to the hospital for the patients.

The institution has a standing need for reading matter and the patients will greatly appreciate contributions. And those who have home flowers may brighten up the rooms of the patients by sending bouquets. The nurses are glad to place the flowers.

Frank Frisch Passes Hornsby's Mark in Saint Louis

SHANG ALSO HITTING WELL

Pitchers Have Hard Week in Western League

(By The Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, June 25.—It may ere long be safe for Sam Bredon to walk the streets of St. Louis again, and perhaps remark "I told you so" for Frankie Frisch, the erstwhile Giant who went to St. Louis in a trade for the favorite Rogers Hornsby, has finally passed Hornsby in the batting averages. Figures compiled today, including Wednesday's games give Frisch .381 and Hornsby .376.

They have played in the same number of games and Frisch has lined out nine more hits, even though many of them did not travel quite so far as those which bounded off Hornsby's club.

Frisch's effort shave taken some of the spotlight beams away from the Pirate trio who still dominate the National league's list of premier hitters—Clyde Barnhart, Joe Harris and Paul Waner.

Harris Slips

They are in that order this week, Harris slumping a bit more than Barnhart in the past week. Even the redoubtable Harris could not stick for long at abating mark of .451 though he is still above .400. Tied with Waner for third place is Mueller of the Giants, who takes the week's batting honors with nine hits in three games, raising his figures from .281 to .391.

The other newcomer in today's big ten in the National League is Bill Southworth of the Cardinals. Freddie Lindstrom of the Giants found the pace a bit too swift and dropped back. Mueller's performance edged out Glenn Wright of Pittsburgh, although the Pirate shortstop's figures remained unchanged at .340.

Specs Meadows of Pittsburgh is the leading pitcher today, with a row of ten victories to one loss. Jess Haines of St. Louis has 11 wins and Charley Root of the Cubs 12, but with several defeats. Crowding these two is old Grover Alexander, who pitched out of turn Wednesday to down his old team, the Cubs, for his ninth.

Leading hitters in the National league: Barnhart, Pittsburgh, .417; P. Waner, Pittsburgh, .391; Mueller, New York, .391; Frisch, St. Louis, .381; Hornsby, New York, .376; Farrel, Boston, .375; Harper, New York, .353; Southworth, St. Louis, .351; Traynor, Pittsburgh, .345.

Yankee Catcher Good

Although the Yankees seem hardly in need of batting strength behind the plate, it is there if the wrecking crew shows signs of faltering. Pat Collins is the slugging backstop, and his average of two hits per game this week has landed him today among the first ten hitters of the American league, in averages compiled today including Wednesday's games.

Even better than that is the performance of Wally Schang, wearing shinguards for the St. Louis Browns, he gathered two hits per game, too, and jumped back to the top of the heap. His collection of swats included two homers.

Harry Hellman of Detroit makes his 1927 debut among the top ten today, a group he has adorned for many years. This year, however, he seemed to be waiting for some hot weather pitching. Collins and Hellmann crowded out Goslin of Washington and Shulte of St. Louis. Babe Ruth passed three more stick experts in his slow but steady climb toward the top, landing in twelfth place today.

Ruth on Wednesday had 24 homers, leaving Lou Gehrig's 18 far behind. Lou, however, might try for George Burns' two base hit record, also 59. Gehrig has 22 doubles to 23 for Burns.

Hoyt Is Climbing

With such a heavy socking group back of him, Waite Hoyt may soon catch the White Sox pair of fingers in victories. Hoyt of the Yankees has 10, Thomas 11, and Lyons 12. Lyons leads the trio in hard work with the equivalent of more than 15 full games. Hoyt and Lyons have each been sunk three times, and Thomas five times.

Goose Goslin's slump at bat has also spread to his base running, though his total of 10 is still two ahead of a group of fleet footed pursuers. In team batting, only the Cleveland Indians bettered their figures of a week ago, gaining three points while all the other dropped back a bit.

Leading hitters in the American league: Schang, St. Louis, .418; Gehrig, New York, .384; Dykes, Philadelphia, .378; Meusel, New York, .377; Cobb, Philadelphia, .365; E.

RACE TO HONOLULU ATTRACTS FOUR AIRMEN FROM THE SOUTH

Routes of the early proposed trans-Pacific flights from San Francisco to Tokyo and Manila. Left to right are Lieut. Jess Windham; Lieut. Ben Stern; Lieut. Douglas Davis, and Paul Redfern. Lieutenants Windham and Stern plan also to continue to Guam or Tokyo and thence to Manila, a total of 6,000 miles.

ATLANTA, (AP)—Four Southerners in three planes intend to enter the proposed air race across the Pacific from San Francisco to Honolulu.

The objective of Lieutenants Jess Windham and Ben Stern of Memphis, Tenn., who plan to hop off from San Francisco on the morning of July 3, eventually will be Manila.

The flight will be financed by Memphis capital. The plane, an Eaglerock, will be equipped with the same type of motor that Colonel Charles Lindbergh used in his hop across the Atlantic.

The itinerary of the flight as mapped out by Windham and Stern will be to Honolulu on the first leg, thence to Guam or Tokyo, and ultimately to Manila, P. I., a total distance of 6,000 miles.

Paul Redfern, Savannah, Ga., aviator, plans to have his airplane ready to start from Atlanta August 1 for San Francisco, where he will enter the Honolulu flight.

Redfern has a record of approximately 1,840 hours in the air and during his several years service with the United States customs office here has gained experience which is expected to be of value to him on his Pacific flight.

He says he will make only one stop between Atlanta and San Francisco.

Like Colonel Lindbergh in his trans-Atlantic flight, Lieutenant Douglas Davis, of Atlanta, plans to do his own navigating and to fly alone.

He will use a monoplane, the construction of which he will superintend, capable of a speed of 125 miles an hour with a load of 500 gallons of gasoline.

Lieutenant Davis is 25 years old and began flying when 18, enlisting in the army air corps and receiving his training at Maxwell Field, Montgomery, Ala., and at Arcadia, Fla. He was made an instructor and since his discharge in 1920 has been flying continuously.

Miller, St. Louis, .354; P. Collins, New York, .362; Fothergill, Detroit .358; Hellmann, Detroit, .358.

Tucker Is a Clouter

At last there seems to have been found some one in the American Association to give Dewitt Lebourveau a race for the batting honors. The newcomer is Tucker. Mike Kelley's new outfielder for the Millers, and his clouting must be as manna to the Millers as their heavy hitters, Earl Smith and Kelly are in a slump, with no more homers and few knocks off and other ran producing description.

Tucker's mark of .435 for 16 games leads Lebourveau by some 32 points, but the Toledo Babe Ruth is still above the .400 mark, which is more than the rest of the Association batters can boast. Rutherford, Louisville's new third sacker, is another late comer whose hitting will bear watching. In 16 games he has hit .370.

Toledo and St. Paul made the only appreciable gains in team batting this week, the Mudhens being only one point back of Kansas City, while the Saints polished up their willows and started for the .300 class. The Saints lack membership in the first ten in the association, in averages released today, including Wednesday's games, but they climbed from last place to sixth this week with a mark of .287.

Wilson Pushing Ahead

Wilson, Milwaukee fly chaser, is the week's newcomer in fast company moving up from .335 to .354 for ninth place in the standings. He pushed out 15 hits in eight games.

Eddleman, the Brewers star slinger, is the circuit's leading pitcher today, with only one setback to ten victories. Moon of Minneapolis has 10 victories, but he has been beaten seven times. Zinn of Kansas City is on the heels of this pair with a record of nine and four.

Hauser of the Blues poled one of the infrequent homers of the Association, tying Smith of Minneapolis at nine. They are one behind Kelley of the Millers.

Leading hitters of the association: Lebourveau, Toledo, .493; Orwill, Milwaukee, .382; Grimes, Toledo, .379; Russell, Indianapolis, .372; Kirkham, Columbus, .372; Hauser, Kansas City, .362; Heving, Toledo, .359; Lear, Milwaukee, .356; F. Wilson, Milwaukee, .354; Duncan, Minneapolis, .351.

Casey Still Out

All the Western Leaguers near the top of the batting parade gained on the pitchers this week, in averages released today including Wednesday's games. Bill Cunningham, Des Moines' new outfielder, raised his mark to the phenomenal position of .493 for 21 games. He garnered 13 hits in his last six games, passing the mark of Casey, the Tulsa slugger, who is still out from the effects of a bean ball.

Joe Rabbit, the Omaha speed king on the paths, after a week of idleness in the base stealing racket, grabbed three this week besides a flock of safe hits which moved him up among the first ten for the first time this season.

Comorosky, the Wichita fly chaser who has a string to him leading back to Pittsburgh, made on of the largest gains of the week, going from .379 to .391.

Few Home Runs

The home run business was dull, probably out of sympathy for the mighty Casey. He and his teammate Munson are still tied for the lead with 17 and no one seriously threatening their joint ownership of the lead in this specialty.

George Blaholder of Tulsa won one and lost one on the hill, giving him seven victories to two defeats. C. Davenport of Des Moines ranks him slightly in percentage with nine wins and but one defeat.

Lincoln has temporarily taken the leadership in team fielding away from Tulsa, with a mark of .966, one point ahead of the Oilers, but none is close to Tulsa's team batting mark of .336.

Leading hitters in the Western League: Cunningham, Des Moines, .493; Casey, Tulsa, .424; Wingfield, Tulsa, .419; Langford, Des Moines, .397; Comorosky, Wichita, .391; Bennett, Tulsa, .376; Porter, Tulsa, .374; F. Griffin, Des Moines, .373; Rabbit, Omaha, .364; Munson, Tulsa, .356.

SPORT TALK

Sam Scaling, star third baseman on the Pampa Grays, left Friday night for his home in Plainview. Before leaving, Scaling said he would return to play ball with the Grays if he could get work.

The Oilers will go to Claude today for a return game with the small town crew. The games stand at one each and today's battle should be a fast affair.

Local ball fans got a real kick out of the negro ball game yesterday afternoon. The teams were evenly matched and put up a snappy brand of baseball and comedy.

Wouldn't be a bit surprised if the Texans have hit their stride at last and are out to win some ball games. This Lyons looks like a real pitcher and Neuffer at second is a ground coverer. And they only had one error, verily, and I say to you things are improving.

Miller, home-run king of the Texas league and Dallas pet, has had two perfect days at bat and has hit 21 homers. Slim Love is still winning games and so is the boy McColl. Shreveport is still on the winning streak and Fort Worth won two in a row.

ROGER CONNER FIRST "GIANT"

(By The Associated Press.)

WATERBURY, Conn.—One of the big reasons why the New York National league baseball team is known as the "Giants" is "Dear Old Roger" Conner, of this city, the first man to knock a home run in both the old and the new Polo grounds. Conner stood six feet two inches in his stocking feet and weighed 210 pounds. The team on which he played third base came to be known as the "Giants".

It was on September 11, 1886, that Conner performed the unprecedented feat of knocking a ball over the eightfoot wall, surmounted by a 16-foot fence, around the old Polo grounds. He still carries the $500 hunting case watch presented him by members of the stock exchange who saw the feat.

On the other end of Conner's watch chain is the medal presented him by the New York Evening World when, on July 10, 1889, he treated the new Polo grounds to their first circuit clout.

Born here in 1856, Conner retired from baseball in 1902. After varied experience with team all over Connecticut, in New Bedford and Holyoke, Mass., and in Troy, N. Y., he went to the Giants in 1881. He played with both the New York and the St. Louis Nationals. His last two years in active baseball he spent with Springfield, as playing manager, and, although he had to wear glasses, he managed to bat for a .320 average.

Irish Team's Club Celebrates Jubilee

DUBLIN (AP)—This year the Fitzwilliam Lawn Tennis Club, founded by ten Dublin men in 1877, celebrates its Jubilee. The Irish Open Championships which have been held under its auspices since 1879 have been granted international status in honor of the occasion. Among those who will challenge for the title, held by the French player, H. Landry, is Gerald Patterson, the famous Australian player.

As a social event of Dublin life, the Fitzwilliam tournaments rival the Horse Show.

Trapped Bonaparte With Bit of Lace

NEW YORK (AP)—How an American woman trapped Jerome Bonaparte for a husband with a bit of lace, thus bringing the Napoleonic strain to America, is an almost forgotten legend resurrected in Baltimore by the Woman's Home Companion.

Jerome, Napoleon's youngest brother, sought refuge in America from British pursuers on the high seas in 1803. Not without intention, it is believed, the rare old lace on the gown of Elizabeth Patterson became entangled on a button of his coat when she met him at a New York reception just before his return to France. Jerome was married with great pomp to Miss Patterson, the beautiful daughter of a Baltimore merchant.

The young wife, following her husband to France, was not allowed to land. She went to England, where their child was born. In the meantime Napoleon annulled the marriage and placed the former husband on the throne of Westphalia and forced him to marry a German princess.

The Pope subsequently attested the validity of the marriage, but Elizabeth Patterson Bonaparte never saw her husband again.

Works While Fearing Approach of Death

(By The Associated Press.) NEW YORK—Miss Alice Tisdale Hobart is one of the few persons who have been faced by the question "What would you do if you had only one month to live?"

Mrs. Hobart is the wife of the manager of the Standard Oil plant in Nanking. She was one of the American refugees who escaped from the besieged city under a barrage from American gun boats. For months she lived under the menace of the advancing Cantonese army, never knowing whether she would be alive the next week.

"I used to wonder," she writes in her diary, published in the July issue of Harper's Magazine, "how anyone would behave if he had only a month to live. Now I know. He'd go about doing all the dear, nice, every-day things of life, clinging to them as ballast or as something to keep him sane and courageous."

Mrs. Hobart worked in her garden every day while she was under the shadow of the advancing army.

Insects and Flowers Oldest Cooperators

(By The Associated Press.) WASHINGTON—One of the oldest profit sharing types of cooperation on record, says Dr. Frederic E. Clements of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, is that engaged in by the flowers and insects.

It is an arrangement whereby the flower gives the bee and butterfly nectar in payment for pollen which these insects transfer from blossom to blossom. For the plant this transfer is vital to the production of seeds while for certain of the insects, flowers are the sole source of food supply.

"Flowers and insects existed," Dr. Clements writes, "before they mastered the secrets of cooperation, but their great successes were made after they learned to depend upon each other."

"The flowers of a hundred million years ago must have possessed little color or nectar; probably it was chiefly the pollen that attracted the insects then. The latter were unspecialized and inefficient. Once the mutual relation had been established, however, evolution and the advancement of the two went forward rapidly, step by step. "As flowers began to store and protect their nectar, greater intelligence and skill were demanded of insects. As nectar pits became deeper, tongues became longer, landing platforms were erected, and guide lines marked out. Flower and insect acted and reacted upon each other until today the highest types of both have reached a level of efficiency in which they are indispensable to each other."

ENGLAND TRAINS WRESTLERS

LONDON (AP)—Great Britain will make a determined effort to gain wrestling honors in the forthcoming Olympic games. The British National Amateur Wrestling association is forming centers all over England, which will be divided into sub-centers of four representatives for each of the seven weights. Once a month these centers will hold a series of trials, at which amateur wrestlers will be eligible.

The culmination of this effort will be an Olympic trial competition in 1928, at which the best wrestlers produced in the trials will compete, and from the winners the Olympic team will be selected.

FEATURES FROM OTHER LANDS

PARISIAN LAWYERS TO HANG OUT SIGNS

PARIS (AP)—Paris lawyers are going to advertise in a modest way. The governing committee of the bar association recently authorized attorneys to put at the street entrance to their quarters plates bearing their names and their professions. For generations that has been forbidden by professional ethics, but times are hard and business is business.

This puts the lawyers on a par with doctors and dentists so far as publicity is concerned. Many professional men, however, never have had even their names on their doors some because they felt any form of advertising to be undignified and others because many building proprietors forbid signs. Most of them have offices in apartment buildings and more often than not in their own living quarters.

BULGARIANS EXPECT BORIS TO CHOOSE QUEEN SOON

PARIS (AP)—Boris, bachelor King of Bulgaria, plans a two weeks' trip early in July to Paris, London and Rome. He is expected to spend three days in each capital as the official guest of the various governments.

Much political significance is attached to the visits, which are to be made at the earnest insistence of the Bulgarian government. This will be the King's first official trip since he took the throne nearly eight years ago.

International gossip has long busied itself with picking a wife for Boris. He himself hasn't shown any great enthusiasm for marriage, although he has not opposed the idea of his statesmen that sooner or later he must, to satisfy his people and dynastic needs, find a queen.

FIVE-STORY STREETS AS TRAFFIC SOLUTION

PARIS (AP)—Five new streets, one above the other, are suggested as a solution of the traffic problem here by Dr. John Harris, of the New York City traffic commission. His plan has been presented to Paris authorities, and many see in it possible remedy.

Dr. Harris' scheme would give one way arteries for different kinds of automobiles, omnibuses, trucks, taxis and pleasure cars, separating the fast from slow. Three great advantages would be freedom from accidents, shelter in bad weather and economy. Dr. Harris believes accidents would be reduced to less than a third of present casualties.

STANLEY'S CONGO BOAT TO BE PUT IN MUSEUM

PARIS (AP)—A small boat, forty feet long, which Henry M. Stanley used in his explorations on the Upper Congo is to be bought by the French government as a museum relic.

Stanley used this boat when he was representative of the International African Association, from 1879 to 1884. The association was formed to further discoveries in Africa long after Stanley's famous trip to find Livingstone.

The boat will be shown first in the Colonial Exposition soon to open at Ostend.

SAYS AMERICA EXCELS IN CHILDREN'S BOOKS

PARIS (AP)—Good books for children, and service to the public, are the two points of American supremacy in the book field, according to Edouard Champion, a Frenchman of wide literary and publishing knowledge, just back from the United States.

M. Champion compares French children's books with American to his country's great disadvantage. He thinks American writers have comprehended the child's mind and have learned to give the child the best in text and illustration. He has hard words for the French writers.

As for the service to the public in the distribution of books, he praises the American methods without stint. He contrasts the dark, unattractive book-shops of Paris with the light, cheerful, well-arranged shops in the United States.

In literature in general and in the making of de luxe books M. Champion thinks France sets the pace.

FRENCH INVENTORS AIDED BY NEW LAW

PARIS (AP)—French patent laws are being overhauled for the benefit of the inventor. Parliament seems likely to accept, in general, a much discussed plan to extend patent rights from 15 to 20 years, to grant patents to foreigners and to give employees full rights to their own ideas. The old French principle, established in 1844, of not guaranteeing the inventor that his idea is original or exclusive is maintained in the new bill. The infringer, however, must bear the burden of proof of his right to use an idea.

In view of those facts and the danger of losing his voice, his big fees for singing are not unreasonable, Chalopin declared.

PLAINS DEVELOPMENT TROUBLES HISTORIANS

Texas histories are very much behind the times from the standpoint of up-to-date, accurate information about several sections, especially West Texas.

Recent published articles written by members of the Daily News staff for state papers have attracted the attention of men working on textbooks, and the News has been asked to provide much late information concerning Pampa and surrounding territory. This the News is very glad to do, and the Chamber of Commerce will be enlisted in the task of properly informing the historians, and through them the people of other parts of the state.

Histories have in the past dealt very inadequately, and often incorrectly, with the Panhandle region. President J. A. Hill of Canyon Teachers college is the only Panhandle man to write a history used throughout the state, and his book has gone out of use for lack of revision. The chances are, therefore, that West Texas facts have less possibility of being fully presented than those of other sections, with which the writers are more familiar.

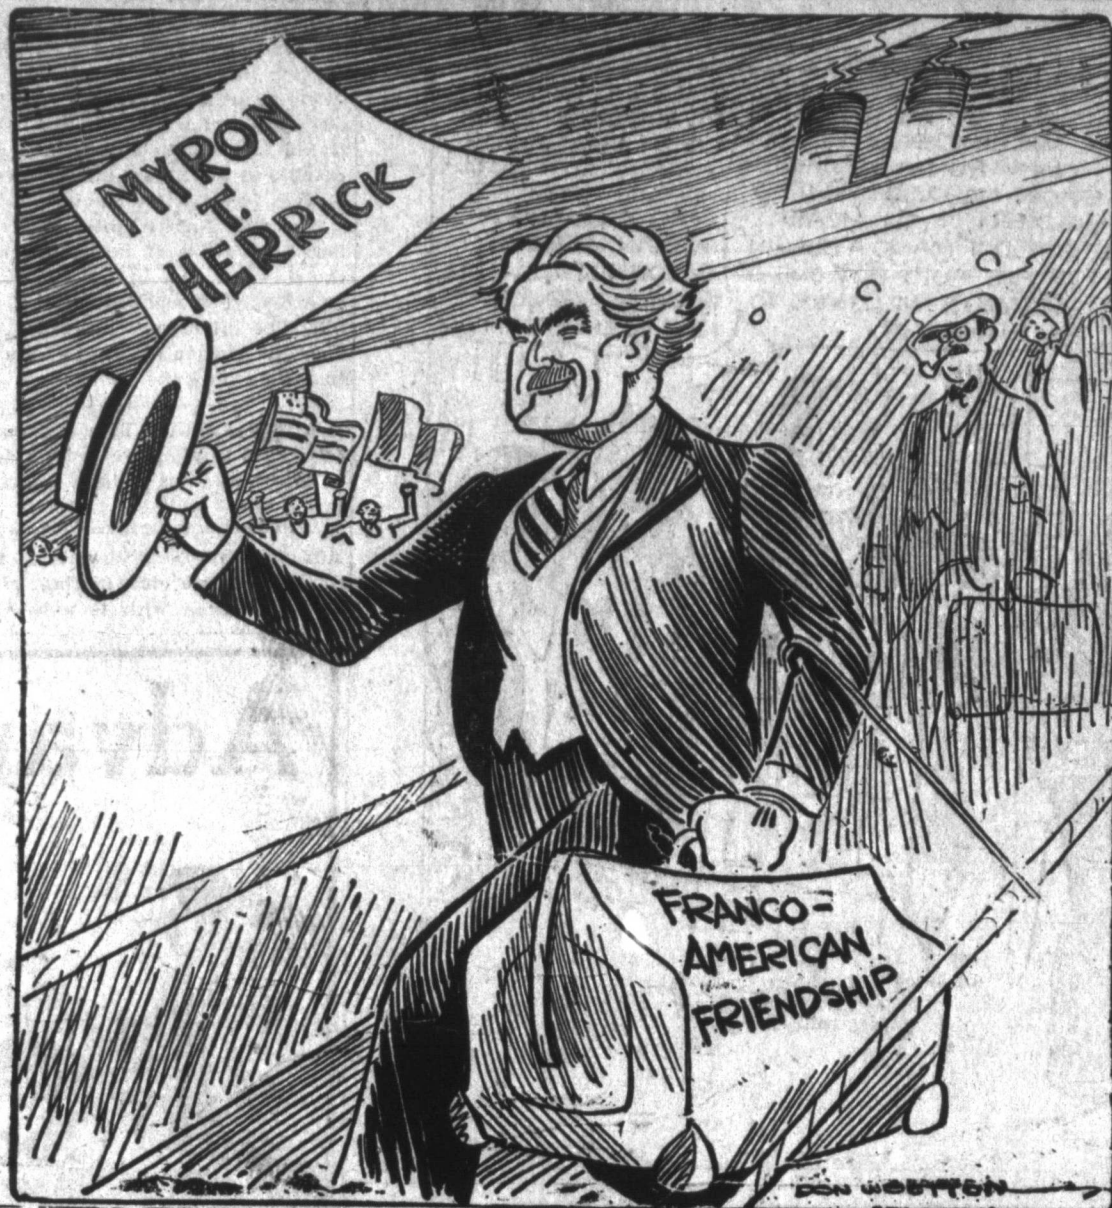

History, as written by busy textbook writers, who often spare time for the effort, are not always efficiently compiled. The information, like the old-fashion yeast, has a way of accumulating by piecemeal addition and expansion. One historian feeds off the labors of another, and many times wrong conclusions are drawn. Overworked professors cannot sit in Austin and properly represent West Texas from incomplete data. It is gratifying to know that historical writers recognize the lack of published information and are going to individuals, rather than old textbooks, for West Texas facts.

Any deliberate attempts to minimize the importance of this section are ill advised at this time; the entire nation has learned to speak well of West Texas since the oil movement began.

Furthermore, publishers of textbooks know the storm apt to arise over misrepresentations, and manuscripts submitted to them for publication are closely scrutinized.

Now maybe Cal will confine his fish stories to fishing, and not include them in his politics.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON.—The Republican railroad's Third Term Limited is tearing along the tracks with Calvin Coolidge in the cab.

Most folks seem to think that it will arrive at its destination on time, but there's curves in them thar mountains and one of these days, around the bend, the engineer is likely to sight a large rock right plop across the ties.

This engineer is too cautious a veteran to try to smash through that thar rock, and it may be that the train will come to a dead stop, in which case most of the passengers may be expected to get out, run to the next station and catch another.

Most of the Republican politicians have announced publicly that they would support Mr. Coolidge for another term. And so they will if they have to. But one is advised on excellent authority that the majority of them would jump fast, if they see any chance of the Third Term Limited being wrecked.

These wise gentlemen are seldom willing to admit this, even in confidence. But the one or two exceptions mentioned, the only ones your correspondent has been able to doff their false faces for a moment, express the belief that there will be a real fight at the convention.

Of course, in the light of the present situation, this at first sounds like somebody's wild dream. But closer scrutiny suggests that there may be something in it.

One thing which seems generally agreed to is that Mr. Coolidge will not try to obtain renomination if he has to fight for it. Therefore, the present conviction that he will be renominated is based on the thought that no one is going to make him fight. By the

PRESS FORUM

The United States and France are to engage in diplomatic conversation looking to the negotiation of a treaty to carry out a suggestion originally made by M. Briand, on the tenth anniversary of America's entrance into the world War, to outlaw war, between the two nations. The treaty, if made, won't outlaw, because specific reservations will be made by each nation of causes, involving sovereign right, that would lead to war in the last resort no matter what treaties might say.

That being understood, and the understanding written into the treaty, there is no reason why the two power, which have no inherent conflicts of policy, should not agree to settle peacefully any question arising between them that neither sees any necessity for fighting over. That is about what such a treaty would amount to and no more. It would be merely a formal declaration of what already and always has inhered in every national policy. Its tersest expression would be in the form, "We agree not to fight unless we have to."

If that is to outlaw war, the United States and France are about as well situated as any two nations could be to outlaw it. Their relations almost always have been friendly, their policies never have and are not likely to come in sharp conflict and their contacts are not provocative; where the United States is the stronger on the same reasoning, then, it can be said that anyone who gives Coolidge a fight can expect to see the president withdraw. Whether this will hold good is no certainty, of course. But you can bet your Aunt Kate's diamond-studded side comb that there are a dozen or more victims of the president hornet who will quickly seize the opportunity if they feel Mr. Coolidge can be scared away by merely jumping in front of him and shouting "Boo!"

sea—France makes no claim to supremacy, and where France is the stronger—on the land and in another hemisphere—the United States asserts none.

Between nations that have no cause to go to war, war can be outlawed within the compass indicated. What cannot be outlawed are the causes of war, and these are the identical things that will be specifically reserved from the proposed treaty to outlaw war. Each nation will reserve liberty of action in case, for example, it should be attacked by the other. Very promptly, of course. Each will reserve the right to defend its own domestic institutions and everything — which makes for a pretty wide field — on which the preservation of those institutions depends. All other questions — which are minor questions that no two otherwise friendly nations would be disposed to fight about anyway—they agree not to fight about; to settle by arbitration negotiation or some stipulated judicial process.

That is what the proposed treaty will say, if made. And if said formally the declaration will be more binding than the substance of it has been as a policy, then that is reason enough to declare it formally. But the point will not be readily gained. Friendly powers do not need treaties to outlaw war, and unfriendly powers won't make them. Nor is the tendency to refer to the proposed treaty as "a Locarno" particularly reassuring. Locarno was cited by Mussolini as one reason why Italy should be able to mobilize five million men. If American and France distrust each other so much that they deem it necessary to sign a formal treaty not to fight, then it follows, we are afraid, that no such treaty could possibly be effective to prevent them fighting.

Happily, there is no such distrust, no conflicts of nationalistic interests and no provocative contracts between them anywhere in either hemisphere. But if amiable souls here and in France want such a treaty we suggest it be negotiated by Colonel Lindbergh and M. Bleriot.—Kansas City Star.

LATEST ADORNMENTS ON CARS ARE HUMANS, BUT HEAR REST OF IT

EVEN A STYLE KING MIGHT SAY THE AUTO DOODADS ARE A BIT OVER DONE

OH JOHN! LET'S BUY ONE OF THOSE SILLY SIXES WITH ALL THOSE DOODADS ON 'EM.

MAYBE THIS IS THE REASON

Half the cars you meet are full inside, but the King of Style still has a lot to think of in the way of autodoodads, as per above.

By MR. EGO

The latest adornments on these family institutions called cars will perhaps continue to be people, as I remarked to myself the other night. Rattling softly down the road in the wee hours of the morning — as the things will do sometimes when hitting on four ancient cylinders — was one of Mr. Ford's 1914—divers, and that Ford was adorned as J. M. Carlisle's big six-something was with stickers when he got back from Colorado this week.

Usually the latest thing on a fender is a dent, but in this case it was an offspring, lodged in the crack between the fender and the hood—fast asleep, or at least fast.

The writer should perhaps explain that this discourse is intentionally elastic, hence the first person, which is out of style with the editor, who appends the above nom de plume to satisfy the rules of the game, so to speak.

This is vacation time, and what is more elastic than vacationing, especially the stories that are brought back from 'em. There's our mayor, for instance, who between wondering when all the council will arrive for meetings lets his mind wander to thoughts of his Canadian woods, and streams, and Cal has nothing on him as he sees himself bent over like this:

And motoring—

Fishing yarns are bad enough, say I, but you should hear some of the tales of our gasoline hawks. One of the local citizens started to Amarillo the other night—and he says—his lights went out and he drove by moonshine the rest of the way. Nothing unusual about driving that way, of course, but this gent tried to avoid those far-famed Amarillo traffic cops, dodged down a side-street, tore up half a mile of paving base, got chased out of town, headed toward a neighboring city, lost his (mental) bearings, and wore out his powers of speech on finding the road he had got off on led back into the "oil capital without an oil well."

Another Pampan left at dusk for the City of Clarendon, a little place located on a main highway, plainly marked coming and going. This driver and his party left the neighboring town and drove all night, proving to themselves that the nearest way between desired two points is not always a straight line. Toward dawn an inhabited point was reached and the ancient night watchman of Groom answered emphatically that his town is not Pampa and that it is "somewhere," not so many miles from that imagined location. And it came to pass that the rising sun revealed Pampa and home to the wanderers, whose wonder is how they got off the main highway, but whom no one cares to question as to the bottom truth.

Speed seems to be a subject as popular as the golf scores, and good eyesight is nearly as rare as arithmetical accuracy. As Solemn Sadie back home writes to her cousin spending the summer here, said Sadie is sure "hitting the ball" this summer, and having the mostest fun, more than likely like this:

But I was speaking of motoring, no wonder my thoughts wandered. You have to do little looking here to see General Motors, Anti-General Motors, Ford, and the rest of the products go purring by. And like as not—you won't see this democratic Aristocrat anywhere else than in an oil field—you will see a Cadillac sport roadster slipping along with an oil field special rear, all set for carrying tools, and its not a rumble seat, but a rattle, in most cases. But there is one thing we aren't troubled with much, and that's the collegiate flivver. Reason, perhaps, is that one of our oil field bumps eliminates everything about 'em but the motto, and they sell that to Roy Sinor for the movie titles. Little bumps don't seem to eliminate the college boys, who make fine rig builders when they're fresh off the gridiron.

But most I really know is what I read in the papers, as Mat Kimes said the other day when Will Himself was sick abed with his well known gall petrified. But since Will may be softened up enough to get into some of the contemporaries of the day, we, that is, I, will leave the rest of the mental vacationing to him.

FIRST FLOOR ALREADY FULL

Staff Is Striving to Give Every Service to Patrons

With other institutions in this territory closed down for lack of business, Pampa Hospital, Inc., is being crowded to the capacity of its limited equipment and indications are that immediate steps must be taken to obtain more and better room accommodations.

Patients are coming from a radius of more than one hundred miles. The first floor is all in use, and the men's ward is full. As soon as a patient leaves, the furnishings of that room are prepared for another patient.

Furniture has been borrowed from a score of sources, enabling the institution to open its doors, and the insistent demand is forcing the superintendent, Mrs. Beverly Barker, and her big staff of trained nurses to take more patients than are desired with the temporary equipment.

But despite the difficulties, the staff is working overtime to provide the utmost in comforts, and the patients appear well pleased with the service. The well prepared food, which is provided in conformity with best health rules, is quickly establishing a reputation for unusual quantity and quality. Nurses are ready at the call of patients.

Only the completion of the building and installation of the modern hospital furniture is needed to make the institution the largest in the oil fields, but the best fitted to care for the people of this territory.

Pampa Hospital Opens Doors Today That Local People May Inspect the Remarkable Plant

Pampa Hospital, Inc., built here by local capital on a scale which is an impressive example of the faith in the community, will open its doors for public inspection today of its many fine appointments.

Designed by W. L. McAtee, architect, and the Chas. H. Sharp Construction company, both of Pampa, it is a plant which will reveal the finer points of hospital construction to the visitors. More than $40,000 has been paid in and very cent put into the building. Twenty-five thousand dollars more must be subscribed at once to enable the hospital to care for the heavy demands which are being made upon it.

A meeting of the stock holders was called Friday evening, but the absence of several principal subscribers, some of whom were out of the city made a postponement necessary.

Officers of the corporation are: W. Purviance; president; A. Cole, vice-president and treasurer; M. A. Turner, secretary.

SOCIETY

Missionary Society
To Plan Work

An interesting meeting of the Women's Missionary society of the Methodist church was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. E. Ward, who was assisted by Mrs. Fred Cary and Mrs. Davis.

Mrs. W. Purviance led the Scripture lesson, which was taken from Hebrew 10:36. The thought was stressed that impatience is one of the major sins of our present-day life.

During the business session the society voted to buy a $50 lot at the Methodist camp grounds, in the Palo Duro canyons.

A committee of the society plans to meet at the church Monday afternoon to pack a box of goods used for clothing for a Dallas charitable institution supervised by state organization.

Next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock the executive officers will meet at the church to make out their reports for the quarter ending July 1.

All officers are urged to be present to help plan the work for the next quarter.

Following Wednesday's meeting, delicious refreshments of punch, ice cream and cake were served to the 30 visitors and guests present.

Mrs. J. M. Smith
Honors Visitors

Mrs. Joe M. Smith was hostess Friday afternoon to a number of friends honoring Mrs. Lester Chiles of Lake Charles, La., and Miss Marguerite McDonald of Fort Smith, Ark., who are guests of Mrs. Maurice Finney of this city.

All afternoon hours were spent with bridge, high score prize going to Miss Ruth Ann Mitchell, and consolation being won by Mrs. Henry Thut, Jr. Mrs. Chiles and Miss McDonald were presented with guest prizes. The color scheme of apricot and white was carried out in the ice course which was served to the following guests: Mesdames Maurice Finney, Lester Chiles, L. N. McCullough, S. S. Thomas, W. W. Meriton, Edwin S. Vears, Henry Thut, Raymond Harrah, G. C. Walstad, H. C. Dahl and Misses Ruth Ann Mitchell and Marguerite McDonald.

Mrs. Holloway
Is Hostess

Mrs. G. A. Holloway was the charming hostess Friday to the members of the Thirteen bridge club, and several guests with a bridge luncheon at the Adams hotel.

The color scheme was carried out in pastel shades. Mrs. Mac Graham was winner of the high club prize, and Mrs. Twiford low. High guest prize was awarded to Mrs. T. A. Ashby.

Mrs. Lester Chiles and Miss Marguerite McDonald were also presented with guest prizes.

Club members present included Mrs. Clyde Fatheree, Miss Mary Hobart, Miss Mabel Davis, Mrs. Geo Gill, Mrs. Mac Graham, Mrs. L. Twiford, Mrs. H. Oakley and Mrs. O. K. Baker.

Guests were Mesdames James Engstin, Maurice Finney, Neal McCullough, T. A. Ashby, Don Davis, C. T. Goling, W. A. Thomas, Lester, Chiles, and Miss Marguerite McDonald.

Mrs. Darlington
Gives Party

Mrs. Walter Darlington entertained with a week-end house party this week honoring her sister, Miss Bertha Hammer and cousin, Miss Clarice Ross of Norway, Kans.

Those enjoying the occasion were Misses Thelma and Esther Gill, Elizabeth Dial, and Winifred Carr, all of Miami.

SAYS BUSINESS MEN
OVER EXERT SELVES

LONDON (AP)—Lord Dawson of Penn, King George's physician, believes lots of British business men exert themselves too much during their week-ends.

Lord Dawson thinks that men who work five and one-half days a week in offices often need rest more than golf or other vigorous exercise on Saturday afternoons. He suggests that many office men might do well to ride home Saturday afternoon, take a good rest, and delay their golf playing until Sunday.

"Too much physical effort after continued mental effort produces dyspepsia and headache," says Lord Dawson of Penn. "Rest and light food do more to keep a business man in trim than too vigorous exercise."

Mrs. Delbert Hughes and little son of Amarillo are the guests of Mrs. Hughes' parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Shackleton, east of town.

Mrs. L. J. Martain and son of Amarillo, are visiting Mrs. B. E. Finley and family.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Dahl were Amarillo and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Dawson and family, and Chas Mullen and family, were Berger visitors Friday.

Mrs. T. D. Hobart has returned from a few days' visit with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hobart at Canadian.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Darlington, Jr., of this city have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Hammer, Miss Bertha Hammer, Miss Clarice Ross and Norman Hammer, all of Norway, Kan.

Mrs. R. I. Watkins of Amarillo spent Thursday and Friday with Mrs. E. M. Osborne and Mrs. T. V. Lane of this city.

Mrs. George Inman and little daughter of Sherman will arrive soon for a visit with Mrs. Inman's father, Jud Wilson, and other relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Stone of the Rio Grande valley are the guests of Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Mitchell and daughter, Miss Ruth Ann.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Ford and little son of Amarillo will spend Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Vicars. Mrs. Ford is a sister of Mr. Vivars.

Attired in a frock of Betty Blue chiffon, patterned with pink flower sprays and delicate traceries of foliage, and wearing a large black hat, the Princess sold brocaded cushions and curtains, little silver articles, boxes of rosewood and polished walnut, dainty handbags, and woolly toys.

A little shy at first, she soon proved herself an expert, and was busily engaged with customers who thronged to buy at her stall. Numerous other British society women were selling in the same room.

FRENCH TOWN HONORS
YOUNG DRESSMAKER

NANTERRE, France. (AP)—Miss Germaine Dubois, a 20 year old dressmaker, has been selected by this town as the outstanding example of what a young woman ought to be.

She was recently presented with a purse of money by the mayor and members of the municipal board. The "crown of the Rosiere" was placed upon her in a little ceremony.

Several French towns maintain the quaint custom of each year choosing the wearer of the rosiers. Mlle. Dubois is the support of a widowed mother and younger brother.

MAHARANE VOWS SHE WILL NOT WED AGAIN

LONDON (AP)—One of the latest arrivals from India is the Maharane of Cooch-Bihar, who came here with her small child.

Known as "the beautiful Maharane," and still young, she says she will never marry again, indeed her religion does not allow it.

Dancing, however is permitted to widows in India, and the Maharane frequently takes the floor at a num-

LADY ASQUITH TO WRITE ABOUT DUCHESS OF YORK

LONDON (AP)—Lady Cynthia Asquith has received authority to write the life of the Duchess of York. The duchess is on her way home from Australia with the duke, King George's second son, who represented his father at the opening of the new capitol at Canberra.

Special references are to be made to the duchess' experience during the Australian and New Zealand tour which occupied nearly six months.

Lady Cynthia is one of the busiest titled persons in London. In addition to looking after her three sons, she is secretary for Sir James Barrie. She also has been doing much writing herself for some years past.

BLIND WOMAN EXCELLS
AS COFFEE TASTER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Coffee tasting is the profession of Miss Emma Mast, who has been blind for years. She is employed by large manufacturers of coffee and tea because they believe in the theory that the deprivation of one sense enhances the value of the others.

Through her keenness of taste of the coffee roasted in its "green state" Miss Mast is relied upon to keep the blend up to its standard.

Miss Mast is credited with being the only blind person employed as a coffee taster.

Local Women
Entertain Friends

Mrs. L. J. Williams and Mrs. J. Lavender were joint hostesses at the home of the former Friday night, when they entertained a number of friends at bridge.

High score for the ladies was won by Mrs. F. D. Seal of Denver, Col., and for the men by Henry Lemons. Low score went to Mrs. L. H. Webb and Dr. Elliff.

At a late hour, a salad and ice course was served to the following guests: Messrs and Mesdames J. Furkey, F. D. Seals, Dr. L. H. Webb, Dr. Elliff, J. Lavender, L. J. Williams, H. Lemons, and Laverne Lavender.

Bridge Party
At Smith Home

Mrs. Joe M. Smith entertained three tables of bridge Friday evening. High score for the ladies was awarded to Mrs. J. D. Sugg, and for the gentlemen W. M. Craven was the winner.

After playing of several progressive games, an ice course was served the following guests: Messrs and Mesdames Siler Faulkner, J. D. Sugg, W. M. Craven, H. C. Dahl, and Mrs. I. B. Hughey and Mrs. A. H. Doucette.

Dinner-Dance Given
At the Adams

Mr. and Mrs. Don Davis and Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Holloway entertained with a dinner dance at the Adams hotel Saturday night, honoring Sam Harper of Mexico, and Miss Marguerite McDonald of Little Rock, Ark.

The guests included, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Finney, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Martin of Borger, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Thomas and Chas. Bartlett.

NOTICE!

To all DeMolays, ex-DeMolays, and Masons. Tickets for the DeMolay dance to be held Wednesday, June 29, at the new Danceland hall, can be obtained at the H. & K. Drug store or the Pampa Daily News office. 93-11c

The Rev. Z. R. See, pastor of the Truett Memorial church of Lufkin, with Mrs. Fee and baby, have been visiting Mr. Fee's sister, Mrs. Elmer Luttrell. They will return to their home this afternoon.

PLAIDS REAPPEAR
AMONG GINGHAMS

After an absence of several seasons plaids are again among the gingham on the cotton-goods counter.

The old-fashioned patterns of Scotch and Tartan origin predominate because of their bright but dignified color combinations. The well covered background does not show so easily.

In the new plaids the raw materials are dyed before spun or woven to insure fast colors.

Farm Relief Issue
For Next Congress

(By The Associated Press.)

SAN FRANCISCO—Farm relief and lower taxes loom as the major issues of the next congress, believes Representative Florence P. Kahn of California, who summarized congressional prospects by saying:

"We'll face an agitation stronger than ever for prohibition modification. Further reduction in federal taxes is quiet certain. An intelligent farm relief measure can be expected. Colorado river legislation can be expected, provided there is a closer cooperation between the present conflicting interests."

London Peeress Runs
Dressmaking Business

(By The Associated Press.)

LONDON—Lady Clanmorris, one of the most energetic London peeresses, has become a director of a dressmaking establishment in Mayfair. Lady Clanmorris is also interested in the business.

Lady Clanmorris keeps regular hours, taking her duties as seriously as her employees. At the salon every morning at 9 o'clock she advises on clothing and takes orders for hats and gowns. She is also a director in a decorating business in Soho and still finds much time for social activity.

Women Help Restore
200-Year-old Fort

(By The Associated Press.)

YOUNGSTOWN, N. Y.—The Abigail Fillmore chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution will furnish the new entrance hall of the 200 year old Fort Niagara, now being restored. The furniture will be of the Colonial period.

Other patriotic organizations are expected to restore the other rooms. Congress has appropriated $15,000 for exterior repairs to be made by the War Department cooperating with the present authorities of Fort Niagara.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic: Peter's Life and Work. Quarterly Review.
 Scripture Lesson: I Peter 5:1-11.
 1. The elders therefore among you I exhort, who are a fellow-elder, and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, who am also a partaker in the glory that shall be revealed.
 2. Tend the flock of God which is among you, exercising the oversight, not of constraint, but willingly, according to the will of God; nor yet for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind;
 3. Neither as lording it over the charge allotted to you, but making yourselves examples of the flock.
 4. And when the chief Shepherd shall be manifested, ye shall receive the crown of glory that fadeth not away.
 5. Likewise, ye younger, be subject unto the elder. Ye, all of you gird yourselves with humility to serve one another; for God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace to the humble.
 6. Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time;
 7. Casing all your anxiety upon him, because he careth for you.
 8. Be sober, be watchful; your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walking about, seeking whom he may devour.
 9. Whom withstand steadfast in your faith, knowing that the same sufferings are accomplished in your brethren who are in the world.
 10. An dthe God of all grace, who called you unto his eternal glory in Christ, after that ye have suffered a little while, shall himself perfect, establish, strengthen you.
 11. To him be the dominion for ever and ever, Amen.
 Golden Text: Come ye after me, and I will make you fishers of men.—Matt. 4:19.
Peter's History an Inspiration and Source of Comfort to All Christians
 "Surely the history of Peter and his actions has abundant comfort and sustaining hope for yourselves. Our lives may be very ordinary and commonplace; the events may succeed one another in the most matter-of-fact style; there may seem in them nothing at all worthy of the attention of a Divine Ruler; and yet those ordinary lives are just as much planned and guided by supernatural wisdom as the careers of men about whom all the world is talking. Only let us take care to follow Peter's example. He yielded himself completely to the Divine guidance, trusted himself entirely to Divine love and wisdom and then found in such trust not only life and safety, but what is far better, perfect peace and sweetest calm."
The Twelve Lessons of the Past Quarter and the Golden Texts
 1. Topic: Peter Becomes a Disciple of Jesus. Mark 1:14-18, 29-31.
 Golden Text: Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men.—Mark 1:17.
 2. Topic: Peter's Lesson in Trust. Matt. 14:22-23.
 Golden Text: Be of good cheer; it is I; be not afraid.—Matt. 14:27.
 3. Topic: Peter's Great Confession.—Matt. 10:13-24.
 Golden Text: Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God.—Matt. 16:16.
 4. Topic: Peter at the Transfiguration. Mark 9:2-10; 2 Pet. 1:16-18.
 Golden Text: There came a voice out of the cloud, This is my beloved Son; hear ye him.—Mark 9:7.
 5. Topic: Peter's Denial and Repentance. Mark 14:53, 54, 66-71; Luke 22:61, 62.
 Golden Text: Let him that thinketh he standeth, take heed lest he fall. I Cor. 10:12.
 6. Topic: Peter and the Risen Lord. John 20:1-10; 21:1-23.
 Golden Text: Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who according to his great mercy begat us again unto a living hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead. 1 Pet. 1:3.
 7. Topic: Peter at Pentecost. Acts 2.
 Golden Text: Repent ye, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ unto the remission of your sins; and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit.—Acts. 2:38.
 8. Topic: Peter Heals the Lame Man.—Acts 3:1; 4:31.
 Golden Text: In none other is there salvation; for neither is there any other name under heaven, that is given among men, wherein we must be saved.—Acts 4:12.
 9. Topic: Peter Undaunted by Persecution.—Acts 5:17-42.
 Golden Text: We must obey God rather than men.—Acts 5:29.
 10. Topic: Peter preaching to Gentiles.—Acts, Chaps. 10 and 11.
 Golden Text: There is no distinction between Jew and Greek, for the same Lord is Lord of all, and is rich unto all that call upon him.—Rom. 10:12.
 11. Topic: Peter Delivered from Prison.—Acts. 12:1-17.
 Golden Text: Many are the afflictions of the righteous: But Jehovah delivereth him out of them all.—Ps. 34:19.
