Important Questions Before C. of C. Directors Tonight

PLANS FOR BIG OIL EXCHANGE TO BE SHOWN

Attitude Evidenced To Be Vital Part Of Progress

CONVENTION WILL BE DISCUSSED

City Must Find Way To Improve Session At Wellington

At least two big projects will come before the directors of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce in a meeting called by President C. C. Cook for 8 o'clock this evening. Plans must be made for the campaign to bring to Pampa the 1928 meeting of the Panhandle-North Plains district of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. The 1927 session will be held Thursday at Wellington, and a big delegation must be sent there to ask for the following convention. News from Wellington is that Panhandle cities will have large delegations present, and the selection for the next meeting may develop into a spirited fight. The directors also will be shown a large drawing of the proposed seven-story Oil Exchange, and the plans will be fully explained. Action of the directors is expected to have a distinct bearing upon the progress of the efforts. Mayor F. P. Reid, one of those urging erection of the big building, will lead the discussion.

No Traces Found of University Bank Robbers Today

(By The Associated Press.) AUSTIN, Aug. 23.—An all-night search for three robbers who looted the University bank here yesterday was reported fruitless today by National guardsmen and officers who returned from the brushy hill country northwest of Austin. The loot was revealed yesterday to be more than $26,000 when a late check showed that the haul included $10,000 in non-negotiable bonds and $10,000 in signed Bankers association checks, besides $1,600 in cash and $5,000 in Liberty bonds.

Presbyterians Will Have Services By Chillicothe Man

The Rev. Lee H. Smith of Chillicothe will preach at 8:30 p. m. on Wednesday and Thursday evenings at the local Presbyterian church, it was announced by the Rev. W. M. Baker, minister in charge, today. Rev. Smith, who is a singer of ability, will by request give a number of solos. It is hoped that every Presbyterian will be present and all local people are invited.

Storm Warnings Posted On Atlantic

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—A tropical disturbance which began in the East Bahamas and North Turks Island is recurring to the northward and now is of great intensity and attended by hurricane winds near its center, the weather bureau reported today. Storm warnings were displayed today on the Atlantic coast from Wilmington, N. C. to Boston.

Amarillo Newspaper Man First to Buy Nunn-Warren Stock

Norris Ewing, business manager of the News-Globe Publishing company of Amarillo, was the first person to be issued a receipt on the purchase of Nunn-Warren Publishing Company, Inc., preferred stock. Paul I. Odor, advertising manager for the company, went to the Amarillo newspaper office last week to place an advertisement announcing the issue of the stock and Mr. Ewing immediately expressed his interest in the stock and said that he would like to have the privilege of buying the first share issued. He immediately signed an application.

Mr. Ewing is one of the outstanding newspaper men of Texas. He was connected with a Houston paper before coming to Amarillo about three years ago. Mr. Odor, who will be in charge of the sale of stock, feels that it is a distinct compliment to the Nunn-Warren stock when a newspaper man of Mr. Ewing's knowledge and experience is eager to buy it.

Mr. Ewing expressed the hope that he would be in a position to buy a large block of the stock before it was taken off the market. He not only believes in the possibilities of a chain newspaper enterprise and the honesty and efficiency of the Nunn-Warren management, but he is a firm believer in the great future prospects of the Texas Panhandle and the towns served by Nunn-Warren publications.

Father of Local Men Is a Victim Of Tragic Accident

L. F. Malone, father of G. C. and J. Porter Malone of Pampa, died at 5 p. m. Monday at his home in Hillsboro. His sons left here Thursday night to be at his side. Death was caused by arsenic poisoning. Mr. Malone had been suffering from a severe cold, and when taking what he thought was cough medicine picked up an arsenic solution by mistake. Besides his wife and sons, Mr. Malone leaves five sisters. The funeral services was to be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock, followed by burial at the Malone plot of the Hillsboro cemetery.

Interior New City Hall Nearly Ready to Occupy

Interior work on the new city hall is nearing completion and before the end of the week the city officials will be installed in their offices. The interior of the fire hall should also be finished by the end of the week, when the exterior work will commence.

The outside of the city hall will be of white stucco. There will be four offices, council room, firemen's room and the jail in the new building.

Moody Requests Mexican Charged In Texas Slaying

(By The Associated Press.) AUSTIN, Aug. 23.—Governor Moody today issued a requisition on the president of Mexico for Euguino Bianqueina, wanted in San Antonio. Bianqueina escaped into Mexico in 1924 after he is alleged to have killed an officer, J. T. Holloway, while enroute to San Antonio from Eagle Pass. The man is said to be in Coahuila. The Lindbergh reception cost New York $70,000.

NAVAL SEARCH NOW EXTENDED

More Vessels Ordered To Probe Every Expanse

(By The Associated Press.) HONOLULU, Aug. 23.—Acting under orders from Washington, the navy's search for the missing Dole fliers was extended today to cover various small bits of Hawaiian waters which had not been closely inspected during the larger and more general operations. Rear Admiral John McDonald, commander of the fourteenth district of the navy, declared he is still hopeful that the aviators may be found. Fifteen destroyers and one light cruiser under the command of Rear Admiral McNamee was ordered today to join in the search for the missing fliers.

Extension of Boso Gas Franchise Is Denied by City Council, and Agreement Expired at Midnight

By a vote of 3 to 2, the city council last night declined to extend for six months the gas franchise obtained here by Dr. Boso and associates of Tulsa. The franchise expired at midnight owing to the failure to lay four miles of main line pipe within the stipulated time. About a mile of pipe had been laid, part of it under the paving. Yesterday Dr. Boso opened negotiations with W. R. Crusoe of Kansas City and Amarillo, a high official of the Gibson Oil company, in an effort to save the local franchise. Mr. Crusoe and his attorneys appeared before the city council last night and asked for a six-month extension. He promised, if the extension should be granted, that he would take over the franchise and immediately start work on laying

The Pampa Daily News presents above a drawing of the special road district outlined by A. H. Doucette, local engineer. The heavy black lines within the district boundaries show at a glance where every foot of the proposed paving would be placed if the $400,000 road bond election of September 10 carries by the necessary two-thirds majority. The program calls for the hard-surfacing of approximately 42 miles of roads, which traverse the district in six principal directions. The paving on Highway No. 33 would join the Carson county paving now starting construction, and would connect an unbroken stretch from Pampa to Canyon.

British Aviator Will Hop Off To U. S. Tonight

(By The Associated Press.) SOUTHAMPTON, Aug. 23.—Captain Frank Courtney, British aviator, is planning to start his proposed flight to the United States by way of the Azores tonight.

NO TRADE DAY SESSION TODAY

Many Local Merchants Out of Pampa Now

Local merchants who have joined the Trade Day organization will not meet tonight as planned, on account of the absence from the city of a large number. Another date will be announced in a few days. September 7 has been set as the time for the first big day in Pampa.

Empire Company Is Host Today On Inspection Trip

City officials, county officials, bankers, and newspaper men of four counties are guests of the Empire Gas and Fuel company today on an inspection tour of the big gas line being built from Pampa to Kansas City. A big barbecue, prepared by a former Pullman chef, was presented at the J. B. Williams ranch in Hemphill county at noon. Following the meal, the party was to start toward Pampa along the line and inspect the methods and equipment which is rapidly pushing construction toward Kansas. The master of ceremonies is B. S. Via, resident agent of the Empire company, who planned the event and is acting as host and escort. Gray, Hemphill, Roberts, and Wheeler county citizens are in the party.

Big Planing Mill Burns In Nacogdoches

NACOGDOCHES, Aug. 23.—Fire of undetermined origin today swept the J. E. Stone Lumber company's planing mill here, causing an estimated loss of more than $100,000.

WINDOWS ARE BROKEN TODAY BY ANARCHISTS

Water Used In Geneva To Scatter Mob Of 2,000

U. S. SITUATION QUIET, HOWEVER

Bodies of Sacco And Vanzetti Will Be Displayed

(By The Associated Press.) NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Demonstrations in behalf of Sacco and Vanzetti were staged in various European and South American cities after publication of their execution. The most serious outbreak occurred at Geneva, where a mob, after marching on the United States consulate and being beaten off by police, broke windows in the great hall of the library of the League of Nations palace. In the United States, announcement of the executions was received quietly, according to reports reaching here.

BOSTON, Aug. 23. (AP)—The bodies of Sacco and Vanzetti are to be taken in specially constructed caskets through cities of the east, it was announced by the Sacco-Vanzetti defense committee today.

GENEVA, Aug. 23. (AP) — About 2,000 manifestants assembled before the American consulate today in protest against the Sacco-Vanzetti executions were drenched and dispersed today with water by firemen who were called to the scene.

BOSTON, Aug. 23. (AP)—Nicola Sacco and Bartolemeo Vanzetti, radicals in whose behalf there has been world-wide agitation, today paid with their lives for the murder of which they were convicted six years ago.

They died calmly shortly after midnight in the electric chair at Charleston state prison, protesting their innocence of crime, affirming their belief in anarchy and refusing benefits of religion. Celestino Madeiros, sentenced for the murder of a bank cashier, preceded to the chair by a few minutes Sacco and Vanzetti. The seven-year struggle to save the lives of Sacco and Vanzetti had continued up to the hour of execution.

Needed Paving Is Ordered by Council

An order for 2-1/2 blocks of additional paving was passed by the city council at its meeting last night. The West Foster paving will be extended 1-1/2 blocks to cover one of the muddiest portions of the city streets. Russell street will be paved between Foster and Kingsmill avenues, completing the paving around the city square and preventing cars from dragging much mud upon the brick. Work on this paving will commence after the completion of the present program.

Cotton Ginning Is Higher This Year

(By The Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Cotton of this year's crop, ginned prior to August 16, totaled 447,031 running bales as compared with 192,356 bales of that date last year, the census bureau announced today.

Last View of Missing Girl and Plane

This is the last picture of the Pedlar-Doran plane, taken just before the plane sped out of sight over the Pacific. It was taken by an... Service photographer from a specially chartered plane. Arrow points to Miss Doran at the window.

Cheese Factories To Be Established At Texas Points

GOLDTHWAITE, Aug. 22.—The first unit of a series of contemplated cheese factories to be established in Texas is under construction here. Ground has already been broken on the factory site, which was donated by the city, and work is being rushed to completion. The plant is being built by the Texas Cheese and Butter company of Fort Worth, at the cost of $4,500. The factory will perform all the operations necessary for making common cheese, except the churning process which requires 90 days and which will be done at a central storage plant at Brownwood. The project is expected to be worth millions of dollars to stock farmers of Mills county. The section is already on the road to successful diversification, and with a cheese factory located here, it is thought more attention than ever before will be devoted to dairying. The plant will be in operation within from 40 to 60 days.

Antelope Will Be Restored to Plains

KERRVILLE, Aug. 23.—Twenty fleet-footed antelope are now being caught on the wild ranges of an Calgary, Alberta, Canada, ranch to be shipped to the Schreiner estate near this city early in October. The animals, thousands of which once roamed over the vast expanses of West Texas prairies, will be given an opportunity to "come back" in the hill country here. They are to be liberated on L. A. Schreiner's 3000 acre ranch and game preserve near Kerrville. There they will mingle in a rugged haunt already inhabited by other wild game life, including four buffalo, purchased last fall from the Colbert ranch at Stamford; a flock of pheasants, and numerous deer and wild turkeys. Preserving wild animal life is a hobby with Schreiner Kerrville banker and capitalist. His estate is protected so that no shooting is allowed and every encouragement is given to propagation of wild game life, both native and introduced.

Looks Toward Orient For Her Inspiration

(By The Associated Press.) PARIS—Oriental thought has solved many problems with which the western world has wrestled in vain, believes E. Barrington, English novelist. She is resting in Paris, which provided the back ground for her latest novel, "The Thunderer", based on the life of Napoleon. "I was much in touch with the Oriental side of things, besides which the interest of the governing races pales," she said. "For contemporary heroes and heroines of romance I should go to Asia," she says. In real life the author is Mrs. L. Adams Beck. Her home is in Victoria, British Columbia, where she will live after a trip to Ceylon. DOVER, Eng. (AP)—E. H. Temme, 22 an insurance clerk of London, is the first swimmer of the season to negotiate the tricky stretch of water that separates England from France. Temme took off from Cape Gris Nez, France and landed near Dover 14 hours and 30 minutes later.

Jinx Has Followed Defenders In Recent Chicago Title Bouts

If sliced ham is very salty, soak it in buttermilk or sour milk before cooking. Whether you are building a new home, remodeling an old one, or merely rearranging your kitchen equipment, you will find Farmers' Bulletin 1513-F, "Convenient Kitchens," helpful. Cottage cheese is high in food value. It contains all the constituents of milk except the cream. Like milk, cottage cheese is a source of protein, which is used to build and repair body tissues. After carefully washing it cook rice in a large quantity of actively boiling salted water until it is done through but not soft. Drain in a colander and set over hot water, covered with a cloth, so each grain will swell and remain separate.

You can have shortcakes whatever the season. When fresh peaches are over, bananas are always available, and the dried fruits, such as apricots, prunes, figs, and dates, are excellent when made into a thick sauce and served on biscuit dough with whipped cream. Celery, or knob celery, is available in summer time and is very acceptable when stalk celery is hard to get. It is pared and sliced, like turnips or carrots, cooked in a small quantity of water and seasoned with butter or cream. It also makes an excellent addition to potato salad. Caramel flavor is easy to make and may be kept on hand. Put half a cup of granulated sugar over the fire and allow it to melt and become brown without scorching. Add half a cup of hot water and cook about five minutes. Use according to taste in flavoring puddings, cake icing and ice cream. There are any number of suitable garnishes and flavorings for iced tea. Slices of lemon, orange, or lime are good. A spray of mint is attractive. Candied oranges or lemon peel and candied pineapple may be used. Some people like whole cloves, a stick of cinnamon, crystallized ginger, or rose geranium leaves with iced tea. Oranges are a rich source of vitamins and minerals. Children need a constant and abundant supply of these things in their food to help them grow and develop normally. Oranges also have the advantage that they can be given between meals without spoiling the appetite for other foods at the regular meal times.

Watermelons Sent To Famous Men WEATHERFORD, Aug. 23.—Over 300 huge watermelons were shipped from this city this week to famous men throughout the United States, following an annual custom observed here. A clever cartoon labled each melon. President Coolidge will be the recipient of the most choice specimen of the group, a 22 pounder of perfect proportion. Officials of the federal government sportsmen, and other outstanding men of the country are slated to receive famous Weatherford melons.

They Admit It

Norma Shearer, beautiful Hollywood screen star, appeared at the studio the other day wearing a large marquise diamond. Rumors started the rounds and finally she and Irving Thalberg admitted they are engaged.

Gertrude Olmsted, the "movie" star, who has been seen to the satisfaction of thousands of admirers in countless motion pictures, has been in theatricals practically all her life. During her earlier days she participated in school theatricals, and was preparing to attend a dramatic school when she was induced to enter a beauty contest she won. Later she was offered a contract by a motion picture producer, and her success is known to all.

For Meditation By LEONARD A. BARRETT

DETACHMENT RUSKIN wrote, "If you cut one square inch out of any of Turner's skies, you have an insight into the infinite; but if you stand at a distance of an inch from any of Turner's skies, you will find you have only daubs of paint." Daily struggles with a very real world bear the same testimony. Studying problems in a mood of calm detachment has saved many a mistake. When you are impelled to write a letter, your best wisdom tells you not to write; write it anyway, but do not mail it. Separate yourself from the harassing conditions involved. Look at the problem from a distance; and tomorrow you will throw the letter into the waste basket and be the better for it. Frequently a problem seems unsolvable because we are too near it. This nearness makes it impossible for us to study it from an all-around point of view. Acting upon the impulse of the moment many times results disastrously. Problems somehow have a way of suggesting their own solutions. In these days when we are trying to live 24 hours in 12, it seems necessary that time be taken for one to become acquainted with himself. An inventory of our own sources of strength and weakness may surprise us. He is a wise man who knows his own limitations. If every day we could see our inner selves reflected in a mirror we would learn some important lessons. Moments of detachment spent in becoming acquainted with one's self are never spent in vain. In a life of seventy years, a man sleeps twenty-three years, works twenty years and plays twenty-seven years. The efficiency of the twenty years of work depends upon the way we spend the other fifty years. If some of this time is given to hours of detachment when we see visions and dream dreams, hours in which ideals are born and ambition kindles the fires of enthusiasm, then we shall have gone a long way toward reaching our goal in life. Mountain tops are not inhabited. We climb them for the benefit of the point of view. So with hours of detachment in a daily life of toll and strain.

ARE THEY? NEW YORK (AP)—Are women smarter than men? "I would undertake to convince a class of men of nearly anything, merely by repeating many times it was so," answers Bernard de Voto, Northwestern University teacher in the September Harper's magazine. "One does not teach women in that way. It may be the devilish obstinacy of the sex. One painstakingly examines all the facts, and in every way prepares oneself for intelligent opposition." Gunplay Ruffles Monte Carlo Quiet

(By The Associated Press.)
MONTE CARLO—A threat of fire some pistol shots and a suicide recently spoiled the studiously subdued quiet of the great gambling room that has made Monte Carlo famous.
 Kostich Radomild, a Jugoslav, apparently angered over play on the roulette tables, suddenly poured a bottle of alcohol on the green-topped gaming table and made as if to touch off the inflammable liquid with his cigar lighter. The strong-armed, vigilant guards, always hovering near, stopped him, but the man drew a pistol and fired wildly about. His shots went wild, but he broke through the guards, jumped through the window, and died soon afterwards.
 Monte Carlo has many tragedies, but seldom do they become so spectacular. It is often said that every heavy loser is well watched so that there may be as few suicides as possible to dampen the spirits of the gambling crowd or to ruffle the dignity of the pace. The depressed are expected to carry their troubles across the Monaco border.

NICHOLAS PARTY SAW TRAGIC ACCIDENT OCCUR

Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Nicholas returned yesterday from a three weeks vacation through Colorado, Nebraska, and New Mexico. They were accompanied on their trip by Mrs. Thut Lee and Mrs. Spicer and daughter, who stopped off at Colorado Springs.
 While motoring near Denver the party witnessed a tragic accident at Death Curve where four years ago a member of the president's party was killed in an accident. A car containing two girls and a young man hit a corner too fast and one of the young ladies was killed. The other two members of the party were seriously injured. Dr. Nicholas' car was just behind the car which overturned.
 During their stay in Denver, Mrs. Nicholas attended a school where a course in hair treatment was held. She also purchased an Arnold Steamer, used for permanent wave and scalp treatment. A course was given by the inventor. Mrs. Nicholas purchased several hundred dollars worth of equipment and medicines for her shop.

Duster Got Name From Climate

COMANCHE, Aug. 23.—Sand whipping over the ridge upon which a group of frame buildings stood as a nucleus of a Comanche county village gave to that place its name. When the little town was undergoing the throes of early development, the postoffice department was exacting in its demand for a suitable name.
 Three times titles were submitted, only to be rejected upon each occasion. Finally the department wrote to a hardy pioneer of the struggling village and he, recalling the sting of sand billowing over the mound upon which the infant town stood, suggested the appropriate appellation of "Duster." And so it is today that Duster is listed as one of the rising communities of Comanche county.

Shanghai Thieves Like Radiator Caps

(By The Associated Press.)
SHANGHAI—The ornate and statuesque radiator cap, in vogue as an automobile accessory, has brought a new crime problem to the Shanghai police.
 Since the caps made their appearance here on motor cars there has been an epidemic of radiator cap thefts, and although police in the French and international settlements have tried to protect car owners, only one thief has been caught.
 He was a lowly coolie, jobless, who had a large number of the caps in his possession. He had sold 15, he said, for the equivalent of $1.20. They were valued at more than $100. Many Chinese, it is thought, are pilfering the metal "statuary" for ornaments.

Detroit Invites G. O. P. Convention

(By The Associated Press.)
DETROIT—Detroit has entered the list of cities seeking the 1928 Republican national convention. It offers the Olympia arena, nearing completion, as a convention hall. The structure will seat 18,000.
 There are more than 25,000 hotel rooms in the city, offering adequate housing facilities, civic leaders say.
 No Republican national conventions have been held in Michigan since the birth of the party "under the oaks at Jackson" in 1855.

When Your Ship Comes In

By EVELYN GAGE BROWNE

YOU'VE heard folks say—"I'll just do that
 When my ship comes in some day"—
 Then they sit around and watch and wait
 While time is slipping away.
 But how can a ship come sailing in
 With all we care most about—
 If we haven't worked and done our best
 To send a dream ship out?
 If we haven't had a certain goal
 And kept the goal in view,
 Believing in it and in our power
 To make our dream come true!
 We haven't any right to expect
 That somebody else—or fate,
 Is going to do our work for us
 While we sit down and wait.
 We can't get anything worth the while
 Or that we'll be proud to win,
 Unless we pitch in and do our part
 To make that ship come in.
 For only by giving the best you have
 Will your highest dreams come true,
 And for every ship you're sending out
 A ship will "come in" for you.

WHEN I WAS TWENTY-ONE

BY JOSEPH KAYE

At Twenty-one—Avery Hopwood Achieved a Miracle.

AT THIS time I was in the University of Michigan and I came across an article which the late Louis Defoe, dramatic critic of the New York World, had written for our college magazine, pointing out the golden rewards which might possibly await such of them as turned to playwrighting. I was particularly interested in his account of how Clyde Fitch had, by way of his pen, so to speak, created for himself town houses and automobiles and country places with penstocks and swimming pools. I didn't care much for the penstocks, but my soul did yearn for the swimming pools—with a country house or two attached.

So I took to playwrighting. I hit upon a theme for a comedy—the influence of clothes upon feminine morals—but it was not until after my graduation that I found time to write this, my first play, "Clothes." I evolved it in Cleveland, typed six copies of it and descended upon New York.

I left the six copies with six different managers. Four weeks later I heard from one of these managerial firms—Wagenhale & Kemper—who accepted the piece and paid me advance royalty upon it. I later revised the play with the assistance of Channing Pollock and it was successfully produced with Miss Grace George in the leading role.—Avery Hopwood.

TODAY.—Mr. Hopwood beats Clyde Fitch from the point of view of earnings. He is renowned as one who is the greatest benefactor of the government in the matter of income tax of any playwright in the country. Mr. Hopwood's heavy money began to roll in when he started writing the so-called "bedroom farces" for Al Woods, the producer, but the golden—or is it greenbacked?—climax was reached with his co-authorship with Mrs. Rinehart in "The Bat." Mr. Hopwood is also famed as master technician of playwrighting.

 HER that flirts and runs away might have to flirt another day.

You always bump into a bruised elbow, a friend you had a fight with and the tailor, when you owe him a bill.

FOR THE GANDER—
 There's three kinds of wives—the mother type—the mistress type, and the more-like-a-pala.

And a guy that marries a girl that ain't all three, is leavin' an unprotected flank along which some other Jane can hit like an ambitious cyclone.

Two people that's interested in the same life work might quarrel. But two that finds the same things funny has got a fair chance of stickin' together.

NEW ARMY TRAINING PLANE CUTS BROOKS FIELD FATALITIES

(By The Associated Press.)
SAN ANTONIO—Flying has become almost as safe as any other means of transportation at Brooks Field here since the present type of primary training plane was adopted by the U. S. Army. Records show only two fatal accidents have occurred in approximately 65,000 hours of flying with this plane. This is equivalent of a trip of about 5,000,000 miles.
 Before the present plane PT-1, was adopted, instructors expected that they would lose one, and usually more, of the members of each class through fatal accidents.

A board of flying officers selected the PT-1 as the most desirable training plane in September, 1925. The plane they selected made three radical changes from the former type.

In the first place all of the wood used in earlier planes was discarded for steel tubing. This strengthened the plane and at the same time did away with splinters, the cause of many injuries. The old instrument board in the cockpit, against which many a flier had crushed his skull, was taken out and all of the instruments placed outside of the cockpit. The cockpit itself, which often collapsed upon the flier in a crack-up, was reinforced and heavy crash pads placed at the front and rear to protect the flier's head.

As a result of these precautions the first three classes to be trained after the plane's adoption went through without a fatal accident. Many planes were damaged, but the pilot would crawl from the wreckage, scratched and bruised, but would be ready to fly again the next day.

The plane is as nearly fool proof as possible, but much credit is due the instructors, officers say, who take every possible precaution to insure safety and prevent carelessness.

One instructor at the post put in more than 1,000 hours in the air in one year and more than 2,000 in three years without a fatal accident. Other instructors have flown 900 hours a year without a bad crack up.

Field officers point out that this record is all the more unusual when it is considered that the greater part of this flying is done with a novice under instruction at the controls.

Craftsmen Use Feet To Fashion Trinkets

(By The Associated Press.)
CONSTANTINOPLE—Craftsmen who fashion trinkets with their hands and feet still thrive in and around the "Great Bazar," a little tomb-like city of its own on one of the seven hills of Stamboul.

Copper and iron smiths hammer out their wares in small recesses along the miles of arcades in the great irregular stone building that is dark, smelly and dusty with the dust of centuries.

Woodworkers in booths around this building use a bare foot and hand to hold their cutting chisel in turning objects on small lathes.

University Wishes Minute Histories Of All Counties

AUSTIN, Aug. 23.—In order to obtain minute histories of each of the 252 counties in the state of Texas, the history department of the University of Texas is offering work on such histories as thesis material for master of arts degrees. It is hoped by the department, according to W. P. Webb, acting chairman, to have not less than 125 such histories written by 1936, or at the time of the Texas Centennial.

The histories of Smith and Archer counties have already been written and students are at work on the histories of Matagorda and Presidio counties.

Veteran to Manage Texas League Nine

(By The Associated Press.)
SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Aug. 23.—Bob Couchman, newly appointed manager of the San Antonio club in the Texas League, is one of the oldest active players in the league. Since Couchman began pitching in 1909 he has missed only one season, the year he spent in the army.

Couchman was born in Urbana, O., in 1890. He played his first professional baseball in 1909. The next year he joined the Pirates and remained with them until 1911. In 1912 he played with Los Angeles and in 1913 joined Akron in the inter-state league. He went back to the majors in the middle of the season, joining Cincinnati and sticking there until the middle of the 1914 season when he went to Montreal.

Couchman disliked the Canadian climate and signed with Little Rock in the Southern association in 1916. From Little Rock, he went to Galveston of the Texas League in 1917, rejoining the same club in 1919 after the war. He came to San Antonio in 1921, and has been here since, winning games regularly.

JUDGE SPEAKS — Judge Bishop, Amarillo, said some sharp things about the law and its uses in speaking to a grand jury this week. Like the negro who couldn't be put in jail but was there, a lot of things are done in this country that are not in the statutes.

And look into this, also—an officer has no right to dispose of a case himself. It is improper and illegal for him to accept a fine, or take a bond—it is improper and illegal, and it leaves the way open to crookedness.

AT HOME — Two Amarillo creameries paid out $3,675,000 during the last year to dairy farmers in this territory. The number of farmers who profited thereby could easily be crowded into the Pampa vicinity, giving a community income worth more than the wheat crop.

BLINDING — Motoring at night, a delightful pastime in the Panhandle climate, has grave dangers, one of which is the blinding headlight glare.

Paved roads are narrow at best, and the blinded driver cannot safely make any speed while meeting cars with glaring lights. There is a state law which is supposed to regulate the lights, but its effectiveness is not exemplary.

SINISTER — In connection with the Sacco-Vanzetti case, a Paris, France dispatch gives a note of warning to American Legion officials who have charge of arrangements abroad. A Red organ in Paris makes itself plain that the Sacco-Vanzetti case, which it terms persecution, will be avenged on the American delegates in the second A. E. F.

NO HUNTING — With Hemphill and Lipscomb counties comprising the best prairie chicken area not closed this season, hunters will learn with alarm that property owners of these two counties are determined to curb shooting there.

Last year, according to citizens of the counties mentioned, scores of hunters invaded private property, overrunning farms and ranches and tearing down fences. Moreover, the Izaak Walton leagues are encouraging opposition to the shooting of the birds.

Friendships in the northeastern counties, therefore, will be renewed with much eagerness by followers of the rod and gun. Unfortunately, not every being who carries a gun is a sportsman, and the

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON — The old tradition that America is an asylum for political refugees seems to be the bunk.

Most European and South American nations offer a much safer haven for the foreigner who has a price on his head for political activities at home.

Investigation reveals that the blame for this situation rests, if anywhere, on Congress and the Department of State.

The Bureau of Immigration of the Department of Labor, instead of being the cruel ogre which sends fugitives back home to execution or imprisonment, seems to deserve the credit for retaining for America whatever attitude of leniency toward such exiles she still can boast.

There is not a line in the immigration law providing preferred treatment for political refugees. But the immigration authorities have stretched points to save them, have allowed many of them to remain within the United States rather than deport them to uncertain fates and have even vainly recommended to Congress that special provisions be made to facilitate the entry of this class inside our borders when otherwise desirable.

Congress, which made it vastly more difficult for the political refugees to enter by passing its restricted immigration laws, has never done anything about their case for the simple reason that such persons have no votes.

Meanwhile, under the Kellogg policies, political exiles are constantly being barred by our consuls abroad because of influx of irresponsible hunters is going to work a hardship on everyone this year.

their political beliefs and their political records. Prominent instances were those of the Karolysis, Saklatvala and Mme. Kollontai. None of these were anarchists—the only political class especially barred by the law.

'ALL WORK AND NO PLAY'

Why don't the schools keep on the job the year 'round instead of closing their doors for three months each summer? And why don't they observe a full 6-day week like the average business, instead of running only five days and with shorter hours than is usual in most work, at that?

These questions naturally may occur to many persons and now and then they are brought up by educational leaders. Here and there attempts have been made to place the schools, so far as the time of operation is concerned, on a basis similar to that of business institutions. In a few cities the schools have been kept open throughout the summer. While the arrangement has proved convenient to some pupils who wished to make up work and has been desirable on certain other grounds, it has not as a whole justified itself.

There seem to be good reasons for this practice. It is just as likely, if it is to be varied in the future, that the change will be toward shorter rather than longer school hours, especially for small children. The question has been looked into many times and the conclusions reached are fairly in accord. The mind particularly the immature mind, must have frequent rest or change. The requirements of the mind are even more exacting in this respect than those of the body. One of the latest studies in this field, by Dr. James Frederick Rogers, chief of the physical education and school hygiene division of the federal bureau of education, emphasizes the point that long school hours may be injurious to the health of the child. The idea that "the more we school a child the better educated he is" is held to be as fallacious as the idea that the more a child is fed "the bigger he will grow."

A self-made man may brag a lot, but he is preferable to the kind of fellow who blames other people for not making him.

Boosting would be better if it would tear down a little more efficiently as well.

Chivalry is not dead in Berger, where a man defended his dog with a shotgun.

tensive investigations, notably those of Prof. L. M. Terman in his "Genetic Studies of Genius," have shown that intelligence and mental achievement are "totally uncorrelated with the length of school attendance." There is seen to be the possibility of actual benefit in the part-time school system that is forced in some cities because of crowded school conditions. What seems to be needed, principally, is not a shortening of the school day or period as it now stands, but increasingly varied use of the time, with a maximum of fresh air, sunlight and outdoor activities for the pupil.

A closer linking up of the work of supervised playgrounds in the summer with the program of the schools is seen to be desirable. It is this type of activity that may make the educational process continuous through the year.—Kansas City Star.

DINNER—Salisbury steak with baked bananas, potatoes au gratin, jellied cabbage salad, bran bread, huckleberry pie, milk, coffee.

Whenever peaches are used in a pie or puddings care should be taken that the fruit is perfectly ripe. Under-ripe fruit requires a longer time for cooking this ripe fruit and will often be found to be underdone when the rest of the pudding is cooked.

Peach Dumplings

Four large peaches, 1 1/2 cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1/8 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons butter, 1/2 cup sugar, milk.

Mix and sift flour, salt and baking powder. Rub in butter and put in milk to make dough soft. Roll on a floured molding board into a sheet about 1/4 inch thick. Cut in squares large enough to completely cover a peach. Pare peaches and remove stones. Fill cavities with sugar and a bit of butter. Fit peaches together like whole fruit and place one in center of each square of dough. Sprinkle with sugar and dot with butter. Bring four corners together and pinch firmly. Place in a buttered baking dish and prick twice with a steel fork. Bake 30 minutes in a moderately hot oven. Baste after 15 minutes with 1/2 cup boiling water.

NOTES ON FARMING

Hogs multiply very rapidly. By keeping one good sow and her pigs and breeding them regularly one can produce more than 300 hogs in 3 years. In view of this rapid increase the producer can afford to pay a liberal price for a good sow.

One of the most practical ways of getting good cows is to use a proved sire in the herd. Some sires have caused an annual increase of 100 pounds in butterfat production of each daughter, as compared to the production of the daughters' dam.

If calves are dropped in the fall they may be weaned the following spring and put on pasture, where they should do well in the pasture is good. Make the change gradually. Those inclined to be unthrifty should get a little grain, but the more vigorous ones will probably not need any additional feed.

The pecan is the largest growing nut tree under orchard cultivation. The average spread of the ordinarily big pecan tree, 50 or more years old, favorably located, is probably from 100 to 125 feet, although trees of materially greater range are not unusual. This is three or four times the usual size of normally large apple trees and from four to six times that of the peach.

It is not an uncommon practice to start feeding silage immediately after the silo is filled. If a sufficient amount is fed off daily this will lessen if not entirely eliminate the usual waste from spoiled silage that is

U. S. Government Exhibit Will Be Shown In Amarillo

AMARILLO, Aug. 23.—The greatest agricultural exhibit of them all, owned by the United States government, and occupying a space 100x 12 feet, will be displayed in the agricultural hall at the Tri-State Exposition, which is to be held from September 11-17, inclusive.

Col. Harve H. Haines, manager of the Board of City Development of Amarillo, secured this exhibit after making a personal trip to Washington, D. C. In addition to the agricultural exhibit, Col. Haines also secured the treasury department's permission to exhibit the government's collection of all the coins minted, and paper money printed since the inception of the nation.

Thus the visitors to the Tri-State Exposition will find presented for their approval two of the outstanding exhibits that graced the Sesquicentennial at Philadelphia last year.

The agricultural exhibit alone, according to Bob Emmett, secretary-manager of the exposition, is worth traveling 200 miles to see. In it will be shown everything grown in the United States, from the grains and fruits of the semi-tropics of Florida, to the hardier grains and fruits of the northern states.

The value of the display of coins and paper money is said to be at least a quarter of a million dollars. The treasury department sends a heavy detail of secret service men to watch over the coins. Numismatists declare it is an entire education in itself to spend an hour viewing these coins.

Thirteen Fees Have Been Eliminated At The University

AUSTIN, Aug. 23.—A re-arrangement of the fees and deposits to be paid by the students of the University of Texas beginning this fall has been announced by the administrative authorities of the institution. These changes were made in order to conform with the provisions of a recent statute regulating the charges at state educational institutions which was passed by the legislature.

In making the changes, the University authorities point out that thirteen different fees have been eliminated for the coming year. These are the following: Matriculation fee, medical fee, library fee, service and maintenance fee, condition examination fee, degree card fee, diploma fee, delayed registration fee, record of work fee, receipt fee, change fee, unpaid check fee, and gymnastium fee.

A registration fee of $30 will be required of all students registering in any of the colleges and schools of the main university, in the medical branch of the university at Galveston and in the College of mines and metallurgy at El Paso.

There will also be laboratory fees which will vary as to the length of courses. For each laboratory course of three semester hours or less a fee of $3 shall be charged and for each such course of four semester hours or more the fee will be $4. Deposits against breakage will be required in all laboratory courses. There will also be a library deposit of $6 subject to fines assessed against the depositor for books lost or injured.

A visitor's fee, allowing persons not regularly registered in the University to visit one or more classes, was retained. This fee amounts to $5. In accordance with these rulings, during the long session of the University this year, all scholarships awarded by the university shall carry exemption from the registration fee.

The Sandman Story by Martha Martin

ABOUT OWLS

"I've promised to tell you something of owls this evening," said the Sandman, "and I think perhaps I'll choose the Great-Horned Owl and the Barn Owl as the ones to talk about. The Great-Horned Owl is the first bird of the year when it comes to nesting, but I don't know that I can say very much else for him.

"He is a very cruel creature—going after rabbits and other small animals. 'Oh yes, he hunts and frightens little animals almost out of their wits and eats them. He hunts at night and, how afraid the little rabbits are of him.

"Old Horned-Owl, as they call him, is their enemy and their little hearts beat with fear if they think he is anywhere around. 'How many of their little hearts has stopped beating altogether! 'He doesn't even mind Mr. Skunk and his family and he thinks it's a fine sight to see a Mother Skunk walking along at night, followed by her small children, each walking one by one as though engaged in a drift. "The Skunk family sleeps during the very coldest part of the winter, but the rest of the time they are awake, which rejoices old Horned-Owl's heart—if he can be said to have a heart.

"The poor Skunk family would like to be sociable, but no one wants to be sociable with them except old Horned-Owl, and they do not care for his kind of sociability!

"Old Horned Owl has tufts upon his ears so that he can be told from other owls, and then he is very big and very strong.

"He gives a terrible shriek and a mournful call and the little animals tremble.

"He doesn't bother about building himself a home, but he tries to find a nest that has been vacant and has out a bird's 'To Let' sign.

"That sign in the bird world is simply an empty nest.

"And when a nest is 'To Let' or 'For Rent,' no one need do anything but move in—if it is a suitable place.

"Now the Barn Owl is quite different. The Barn Owl is far more gentlemanly in appearance, for Old Horned-Owl is a dangerous-looking creature, too!

"He has soft feathers of gray and brown and yellowish white, with speckled decorations.

"He hasn't any tufts over his ears such as the Great-Horned Owl has.

"He has little brown eyes and long legs, and he likes to have his nest in the hollow of a tree as sometimes the Great-Horned Owl does, too, or under a roof of a barn.

"Mrs. Barn-Owl lays six beautiful white eggs in the nest and she thinks no other eggs would do!

"The Barn-Owl is one of the latest of the Owls to nest and in many ways is very different from the Great-Horned Owl.

"The Barn-Owl is rather shy and isn't often seen, but they do a great deal of good work, destroying bad insects and brown rats that would do a great deal of harm.

"Yes, I cannot say that I have very much that is good to say about Old Horned-Owl, but I have a great deal that is good to say about the useful Barn-Owl and so I told about Horned-Owl first and Barn-Owl last, saving the better owl for the last!

"That is the way it should be when one is telling about these two Owl families."

PRAYING ENGINEER SITS AT THROTTLE OF LIMITED TRAIN

A praying, preaching engineer is David J. Fant of Atlanta. Before every run he offers an invocation for the safety of his passengers.

ATLANTA, Aug. 23. (AP)—As the giant engine of a fast New York-New Orleans train burns the rails on the lap between Charlotte, N. C., and Atlanta, it carries at the throttle a preaching, praying engineer.

David J. Fant is his name, and he has never had a serious accident. On every run for many years, before mounting the cabin to send his engine, dashing through dark-ness or bright sunlight, storms or fair weather, he has prayed for the safety of his passengers.

Before he was assigned to the fast train, Fant had an engine the emblem of which was an open Bible, with the inscription "Thy Word is Truth" engraved across its open face.

He began preaching several years ago, and although not an ordained minister has filled pulpits in virtually every southern state and in

Miss Gleitze set out early one morning to swim by stages from Westminster to Dover. When she reached Wapping, adjoining Limehouse, she was caught by a treacherous current and drawn under a row of barges. After what seemed to her companions a very long time, she came up on the other side of the barges feet first. She continued her swim, despite the pleas of those who were accompanying her in a boat.

THE WHY of SUPERSTITIONS By H. IRVING KING

OPALS THE superstitions with regard to the opal—that it is an unlucky gem—appears to be of northern origin. In the East the opal has always been regarded as rather a lucky stone. But in Norse mythology we find the probable genesis of the superstition common among English-speaking people today. In the "Edda," that famous collection of Scandinavian mythology, it is stated that Volour, the Scandinavian vulcan, fashioned out of the eyes of children a gem called yarkstein in which was, apparently, the opal. And it was a common belief in the Middle Ages that by looking into the pupil of the eye the figure of a boy or a girl could be seen.

Do You Know That??...

THE expression "Sour Grapes" had its origin from Aesop's fable of the fox and the grapes. A fox stole into a vineyard where he saw some lovely grapes growing upon a high trellis. He made many a spring after the tempting prize, but all in vain. Leaving in despair he muttered to himself, "Well, it does not matter. Those grapes are sour."

How It Started By JEAN NEWTON

THE STAGE THINKING back for the origin of any theatrical performance, our minds naturally revert first to Shakespeare and his Globe theater. Some of us would go back a little farther, and many of us would choose Moliere—the plays he wrote and staged, often in the open, for the mad Louie, and then, in his own theater, where, for a while, he was the rage of France. But these were only steps in the evolution of the theater and the play. For the origin of all dramatic representation, we must go back to the days of idol worship when many gods were thought to rule the destinies of man.

BILLY EVANS Says

Babe Has Habit of Pleasing
Babe Ruth has the pleasing habit of rising to the occasion.

When the Yanks play an exhibition game, the fans come out in large numbers in the hope that Babe will hit one for them. He seldom fails. Sometimes he hits two.

Recently when New York and Washington met in what was regarded as a "crucial" series, even though the Yanks were about eleven games ahead at the time, the Babe made his presence felt.

In baseball circles, the impression prevails that the team to win the first game of an important series has a distinct advantage. It usually works that way. Prior to the Yanks versus Nationals series, Ruth had gone hitless in three consecutive games.

New York won the first game 4-3 and all the Babe did was drive in all four runs. He scored the first run with a single and later hit a home run with two on.

Washington had been playing great ball and hoped to make a clean sweep of the series, but New York won three out of four and increased its lead by two games. Ruth was the big reason for the Yank's triumph.

Gets First Homer in New Park
At the close of last season, Owner Comiskey of the Chicago White Sox rebuilt his ball park, so it would seat 50,000 instead of 35,000. In order to provide the extra seating capacity, it was necessary to double deck the park all the way round.

When it was finished, the architects, baseball fans by the way, pointed to the right field section and said, "there is a barrier Babe Ruth will never clear with one of his drives."

During the second trip of the Yankees to Chicago, Ruth in batting practice, hit one far over the double deck stands in right field. The all-bi was that the pitcher was grooving the fast one for Ruth, that he would never turn the trick in a regular game.

Recently, in the first game of the third trip of New York to Chicago, Ruth performed the feat that was termed impossible. No pitcher in the American league throws a speedier ball than Thomas of the White Sox. Ruth converted one of his offerings into his longest Chicago home run.

Yes, sir! The Babe has a habit of rising to the occasion and doing the seemingly impossible. He's just full of those tricks.

Schedule Favors Lou Gehrig
Babe's record-breaking Chicago home run lessened the gap between him and Gehrig to a single circuit drive. The following day he broke up an eleven-inning game with a homer to tie Gehrig. It also proved that the best of architects can make mistakes in computing stress and distance where baseball is concerned.

The struggle between Ruth and Gehrig has added considerable zest to what has been a rather dull race in the American league. Everybody seems to enjoy the hectic struggle for supremacy, American league pitchers excepted.

Since Ruth has been far more successful on the road than Gehrig in making home runs it would occasion no great surprise if the champion passed the challenger before the New York club gets back to the Yankee Stadium.

Gehrig has done his best slugging at home. The Yankee Stadium seems to be made to order for him. The schedule calls for a majority of the remaining games to be played at home. If "Larruping Lou" continues to run true to form this will be in his favor.

Knowing Ruth's penchant for delivering in the crisis, he still is better than even money to retain his crown.

Al Simmons Has Chance To Win Batting Laurels of His League

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK—It begins to look as if the American league may produce another champion batter out of its crop of right-handed clubbers this season. Al Simmons of the Athletics is the fellow in question.

Since 1905, when Larry Lajoie of the old Cleveland Naps topped the field, Harry Hellmann stands as the only right-handed hitter to win the junior loop crown in batting. Hellmann led the pack in 1921, 1923, and 1925, gaining the title of "odd year king" by his every-other season success. Harry, accordingly is due again this campaign, and has been gaining rapidly of late on the leaders after a poor start.

From 1906 to 1920 inclusive, left-handed batters ruled the American league roost. George Stone of the Browns started it, to be followed by Ty Cobb in 1907. Cobb stepped through nine consecutive campaigns as the clouting czar. In 1916 Tris Speaker ended the Cobbian dynasty, but only for a single year.

Cobb came back in 1917 to regain his laurels, turning the trick again the next two seasons. In 1920 and 1922 George Sisler was monarch and in 1923 Babe Ruth showed the way. Last season Heinie Manush was champ.

Simmons got off to a good start this season and has hit close to the 400 mark right along. Injuries put him out of the game for a while during the latter part of July. His greatest rival appears to be Lou Gehrig, the junior member in the home run firm of Ruth and Gehrig.

Should Simmons clout his way to the league's swatting toga, he will have given many of the experts a veritable bust on their collective beezers. For when Al broke in with the Athletics in 1923 he was the subject of much unfavorable comment because of one of baseball's most peculiar batting stances.

Simmons looked like anything but a hitter at the plate. His stance was awkward, his left foot being placed as far as he could put it away from the plate. He seemed to fall off balance. All of which immediately earned Simmons the sobriquet of "foot-in-the-water-bucket Al."

Simmons then stepped out to give the dopsters a slap by hitting .308, a fair average for a 21-year old youngster in his first major league season. The next campaign Al collected 253 safeties, hitting .386. Last year he batted .343.

Cleveland again defeated the Yankees, getting nineteen hits off three pitchers.

WOMEN ATHLETES OF AMERICA TRAINING FOR NATIONAL MEET

ELIZABETH STINE

HELEN FILKEY

ELTA CARTWRIGHT

EUREKA, Cal., Aug. 23. (AP)— America's best women athletes meet here September 3 in the national track and field championships for women. Fifty contestants are training for the classic.

Chief interest centers around a trio that has dominated meets the past two years, Helen Filkey of Chicago, Lillian Copeland of Pasadena and Elta Cartwright of Eureka.

Miss Filkey, one of four who will represent the Illinois Women's Athletic club, is 60-yard hurdle champion. Two years ago at Pasadena she captured three national titles—hurdles, broad jump and 50-yard dash.

Miss Copeland, one of the heaviest and most consistent point winners in the country, will defend three national titles, the shot put, discus throw and javelin throw.

Miss Cartwright, 50-yard dash title holder, is expected to make a strong bid for the broad jump, an event in which she has an unofficial mark of 17 feet, 7 inches.

Other national champions invited are Frances Keddie, San Francisco, 220-yard dash; Rosa Grosse, Toronto, Can., 100-yard dash; Catherine Maguire, St. Louis, high jump; Nellie Todd, Chicago, broad jump.

The imposing entry list also includes Vivian Hartwick of San Francisco, world's record holder in the baseball throw, and Ann Harrington of San Francisco, former national champion in the same event; Margaret Jenkins of Santa Clara, who recently tied the American mark in the javelin; Elizabeth Nelson of Pasadena, joint holder of the 220-yard dash record; Elizabeth Stine of New York, former broad jump champion, and Alta Huber of Eureka and Hazel Kirk of Newark, N. J., both hurdlers.

The Pasadena Athletic club has won the meet for the past two years. It will be held in the new Albee Stadium, which seats 6,000.

SPORT TALK

Last night's boxing card at the Pampa Athletic club was enjoyed by a large crowd. The boys participating put up some excellent exhibitions of the manly art.

The Amarillo Texans succeeded in splitting the series with the Tulsa sluggers during their stay in Texan land. This is the first time the Amarillo club has gotten an even break with the Oilers.

The Grays will probably play ball on the home lot this Sunday. The opposing team has not yet been named. Plans are also being completed for the big games with Lubbock or Lone Wolf over Labor Day.

The Detroit Tigers continued their winning streak yesterday when they took both ends of a double-header from the Senators and cleaned the series. The wins yesterday made the Detroit wins thirteen straight.

The mighty king o' swat, Babe Ruth, went into the lead in the race for long distance clouts yesterday when he poked out his 40th. The Yankees lost the game though.

Mrs. G. Cravy and daughters, Elizabeth and Evelyn, are visiting in Temple and Rockdale. Miss Sadie, now at Huntsville, will return with them about September 1.

Gonzales Goes To Draw With Farrell At Athletic Club

For the second time within a month, Chief Gonzales and Frankie Farrell went to a draw last night at the Pampa Athletic club.

Gonzales and Farrell boxed two rounds to a popular draw. The first few rounds were tame, but towards the end the two stood up and slugged.

The slugging match of the evening was between Toughy Graham and Elmer Rigdon. Graham substituted for Micky Walker, who did not arrive in time for the bout. Graham can take all kinds of punishment and can slug. Rigdon is a more finished boxer and was on the offensive most of the time.

Two 60-pound club boys put up an excellent exhibition and were applauded for their work. The kids slugged all through their bout.

The curtain rose on the main event with both boys boxing carefully and afraid to mix. After a few rounds of feeling out, Farrell started the fireworks with a right to the head and from then on the boys attended strictly to business. They are evenly matched and put up a good exhibition for a large crowd.

The club building will be moved this week to a lot on West Foster avenue at the end of the pavement. It will be enlarged.

Next Monday night the best bout of the season will be staged. Walter Varner, Pampa boxer with 72 knock-outs to his credit, will meet Freddie Whittington, the boy who knocked out "Rusty" Cahill.

Jess Haines won a game yesterday on four hits, while Philadelphia was getting eight and no runs. The score was 1 to 0.

In two games against Fort Worth the Beaumont Exporters made eight errors and got seven hits. "Hook" Shaw caught the second game.

AN IDEAL INVESTMENT

From the above standpoint the Nunn-Warren Publishing Co., Inc., 7 Percent Cumulative, Participating Preferred Stock makes an ideal investment.

It is not usual that investors have the opportunity of buying stock in successful, local institutions—they are most generally "closed corporations," but the management of your "home town" newspaper believes that a wholesome effect will be created in having some of its Preferred Stock in the hands of numerous investors throughout the Panhandle.

START OF HUNT FOR MISSING FLYERS

Here is an airplane view of the navy's huge airplane carrier Langley now rushing from San Diego to mid-Pacific to join the hunt for the missing planes in the Frisco-Honolulu hop. The Langley has a complement of 28 navy planes which can take off from and land on the long runway on top of the queer looking craft. The carrier's airplanes can be seen on the runway. In the background is one of the destroyers aiding in the hunt.

Soviet Peasants Hoard Salt As War Scare Sweeps Union

(By The Associated Press.) MOSCOW—The Union of Socialist Soviet Republics is in the grip of a "war scare," and the peasants have begun to hoard salt, sugar, tea and coffee. M. Budenny, a former Cossack who is supreme commander of the Soviet Cavalry, is a popular figure, and receives ovations everywhere he goes from the populace, which now thinks the spectacle of war is looming over the Russian frontiers. The intensive campaign for defense of the Union "against imperialist countries" led by the official Soviet press in connection with the rupture of relations with Great Britain and Volko's murder in Warsaw, has precipitated a wave of "military feasts," "weeks of defense," "days of aviation," and "sham fights" of all sorts, on a large and country-wide scale. Workers, peasants and government employees are recommended to make "voluntary" contributions out of their meager salaries and sources of income for the construction of war planes, to bear identifying names such as "Young Communist," "Red Metallist," "Red Doctor," "Baku Worker." The capital of the Russian oil fields, Baku, is typical. There, during one week, the so-called "Week of Defense," over 60,000 rubles ($30,000) were collected among a 240,000 population, not counting much larger sums contributed by state and professional groups. Ten thousand new members have joined the ranks of the "Ossoaviakim" or Society of Defense, Aviation, and Chemical Research, and fifteen rifle ranges have been opened for workers. Moscow today looks as though the country might be on the eve of mobilization. On Sundays numerous detachments of workers, red scouts, young communists, and boys and girls, preceded by brass bands playing bellicose tunes, march into the open country to carry on maneuvers and military games. Posters and placards are displayed everywhere, announcing lectures on aviation, military technique or means of gas protection, and appealing for recruits for the "Ossoaviakim." Films showing the life and strength of the Red Army and foreign military scenes predominate in the moving picture theatres. Shooting as a sport is widely encouraged and large sums are being assigned for the purchase of target rifles and ammunition. The name of Sir Austin Chamberlain, British foreign minister, is a by-word everywhere, and a huge cardboard effigy of him, with his famous monocle as a target, is displayed in the show window of one of Moscow's leading dailies.

Foxes Pentiful In England; Hunters Ready for Gay Season

(By The Associated Press.) MELTON MOBAY, Eng.—Since the close of last season, vixens in the neighborhood of this famed hunting center have done away with 15,000 head of chickens and ducks. Three noted hunt committees have had to dig way into the pockets of their buff riding trousers to appease irate farmers who still regard foxes and foxhunting as pesky nuisances. Reports from all parts of the Quorn, Belvoir and Cottesmore countries state that there are litters of strong, healthy fox cubs in virtually every covert and woodland. Indications are that this year Melton Mowbray will see the gayest, most fashionable gathering since the world war. Royalty, society and wealthy Americans will see to that. The Prince of Wales' neat and plainly furnished flat at Craven Lodge has undergone a thorough cleaning and there is great activity at the Royal Stables. Mowbray Lodge, an old-world hunting box that might have been lifted bodily from the pages of some medieval romance, has been leased by Colonel Hugh Ashton, a popular sporting rider, and a number of his bachelor friends. They have erected large blocks of stables and much attention is being paid to the ball room. Lord and Lady Furness, the Duchess of Westminster, Lady Ravensdale, Lord Beatty and his son, Lord Boro-dals, Lord and Lady Adare, have completed arrangements to be present this season.

Movie Men Scan Censor's Acts, List Casualties In Card Index

(By The Associated Press.) HOLLYWOOD, Cal.—A casualty list of motion pictures which have had subtitles shot away, emotional scenes amputated or plots taken apart by censors in various states, cities and foreign countries is being compiled at the Hollywood office of Will H. Hayes, head of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America. Jason Joy, contact man and censorship expert of the Hays organization, who is organizing the card index of casualties, stresses the fact that the number of reels snipped by the censors' shears is extremely small in comparison with the thousands of reels passed without change. Nevertheless, instances collected since January 1, when he began indexing the expurgations, are very interesting. The index segregates the expurgations under such heads as crime, abduction, cruelty, fire gambling, poison, hanging, robbery, profanity, gun play, dancing, kissing and lack of clothes. If a scene is eliminated by New York state board of censors, for instance, because it shows all the details of a shooting, a card goes into the index under gun play, with the name of the picture, the reel number, a description of the matter eliminated and the name of the eliminating board.

Young Star

Here is Johnny Doeg, Santa Monica, Cal., youngster whose play in eastern tennis meets has bordered on the sensational. He has been named an alternate on the United States' Davis cup team.

Under the head of kissing is filed a particularly interesting group of expurgations. For some reason most of the kisses banished from the screen this year have been kisses on the neck. Dancing also yields an interesting sheaf of cards to the index, and subtitles seem to be favorite targets for the censor. Several producers recently had the list of fallen titles read to them, thinking the recital might result in suggestions as to how to raise the level of screen humor. They laughed so hard the conference was abandoned.

May Leave Record for all Time

MELROSE, Mass., Aug. 23. (AP)—A marathon record that may endure for future generations is now in the making. Clarence DeMar, like the brook in the poem, "goes on forever." Already DeMar's distance running record is unequalled by any other living athlete. Since he is running today as well as he ever did, observers predict that when he finally puts away his running shoes he will leave a record that will stand for all time. DeMar has been running marathon races more than 16 years. He has run approximately 7,500 miles in practice and competition—more than a quarter of the way around the world. In 20 great races he has won more than half his starts. In the others he has usually finished high among the leaders. This summer DeMar entered his 40th year. In spite of his slight and apparently frail physique he is still setting the pace for other marathons. He is national marathon champion for the second consecutive year. He triumphed this year in two outstanding classics. Under a broiling sun that made racing conditions anything but favorable he won the annual American Marathon at Boston for the fifth time—a record in itself which sports writers predict may never again be approached. DeMar followed up his Boston triumph over runners of international note by winning the Laurel, Mr., marathon for the second successive year. This year, as in other seasons, he has competed in various lesser races and modified marathons. DeMar has remained a real amateur. There are no "gates" for marathon runners, and he has declined to use his reputation to further his interests financially. He works daily in a printing shop and does his training morning and evening by running the distance between the shop and his home. When it was suggested that he go into vaudeville he wondered, naively, why anyone would want to see him, or rather tired of hearing about him. The annual track and field meet of the New England association of the Amateur Athletic Union was held in Melrose in his honor this summer and the day set apart as "DeMar Day."

Proclamation On Clean-up Period Is Made By Mayor

Mayor F. P. Reid today issued a formal proclamation setting aside a clean-up period here and especially urging the cutting of weeds. Debris and trash will be removed free of charge to citizens who bunch the material in the alleys and then phone the city secretary to have the city wagons call. The mayor's proclamation follows: "I, F. P. Reid, Mayor of the City of Pampa, hereby designate the period of August 24 to September 3 as a clean up period, and urge local citizens to take proper steps in observance thereof. "Especially attention is called to the need for cutting and burning the weeds which have grown so rapidly since the recent rains. Let us improve the appearance of our city and remove fire and health hazards by having a result-getting clean-up period. "Signed: F. P. REID, Mayor."

Rare Records Lost In Vienna Rioting

(By The Associated Press.) VIENNA, Aug. 23.—Ownership of property, validity of marriages and divorces, financial settlements and many court cases are doubtfully by the wholesale destruction of records in the burning of the Palace of Justice during the July socialist rioting. Nearly half of the abstracts of title to Vienna property were burned. Records of many regularization of irregular marriages are gone. All trace of many debt arrangements is gone. The loss of the records, it is said, will affect seriously thousands of firms and individuals. For Job Finding—Call the News.
