SMITH FORCED DOWN ON WATER

Three-Year-Old Child Is Struck by an Automobile Here

LITTLE GIRL IS TAKEN TO HER HOME TODAY

Laurene Squires Was In Street When Hit By Car

MAN STRUCK ACROSS LEGS

Frank Erwin Was On Car Going To Hospital

Little Laurene, 3-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Squires of South Cuyler street, received severe bruises and cuts when she was hit by a motor car last night. The accident was in front of the G. C. Malone company warehouse.

The girl was taken to Pampa hospital by a passing motorist. She received treatment, and was able to be taken to her home this morning.

The little tot was attempting to cross the street when a Chevrolet touring car driven by M. L. Harbison, oil worker with the Texas company, struck and threw her to the ground. Luckily the wheels did not pass over her body.

While riding on the running board of the car taking the little girl to the hospital, Frank Erwin of the Herley Meter company was injured by the fender of a passing car, which struck and badly bruised his legs. He, too, was treated at the hospital and later taken to the New Schneider hotel, where he is staying. He was unable to walk today.

San Antonio Man Dies Accidentally

SAN ANTONIO, July 15.—H. A. Long, prominent San Antonio physician, was found dead in an apartment here today with a bullet wound through his thigh. He had bled to death, apparently.

Police held a woman who occupies the apartment, and her three daughters. They were later released when a verdict of accidental shooting was rendered.

Ready to Fly

Here's the proper garb for ocean-hoppers this season. The model is Miss Mildred Doran, school teacher of Flint, Mich., who is to accompany Augie Fedlar on an attempted flight from Flint to Honolulu.

Absentee Votes Are Cast Here

Local taxpayers who are leaving the city may first cast their voter in the city bond election of July 19, next Tuesday. A number already have done so.

Affidavit forms are available at the city hall, where the city secretary will direct the voter how to cast his ballot on the absentee basis.

Ballots have been printed and are available for absentee voting. The latest to vote are Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Buckler, who are leaving to spend a month in the Northwestern part of the United States.

MEERS WELL FLOWING GOOD

Makes 200 Barrels and 40 Million Feet Of Gas

As the result of a shot yesterday afternoon the Empire Fuel and Gas company's No. 1 J. F. Meers, in section 107, block 3, is making 200 barrels a day at 3,125 feet with about 40,000,000 feet of gas.

The shot of 150 quarts of nitro was placed from 3,098 to 3,125 feet, and, combined with the large amount of gas made early indications of a large well, but the flow decreased.

The Phillips Petroleum company will drill its No. 1 S. B. Burnett, in King county as a wildcat test.

The Texas company will shoot their No. 1 C. R. Garner, in section 104, block 4, Carson county, this afternoon. They expect a good well. They have had a showing for some time.

Gray county still leads the Panhandle in wildcat and semi-wildcat work. The Gladys-Gray Oil company's No. 1 Colebank-Morse, section 65, block 25, is making 25 barrels from the granite wash at 2,429-2,504 feet, and it extends the Nabob area more than two miles.

About two miles to the southeast's Rensaul Petroleum company's No. 1 Mark Huseby, which, although not completed, is making about 30 barrels daily. About the same distance, also, is Travis and associates' No. 1 Back, which came in sensationally but has declined.

The Saunders area is still in the limelight, although the Atlantic test, No. 1 Coombs-Worley, failed to come through on a shot.

North of Kingsmill, the Empire No. 1 Wall has been completed as a 20,000,000-foot gasser.

One of the largest of recent completions was the Empire company's No. 1 Fee, section 31, block 4, Carson county. It made 1,100 initial.

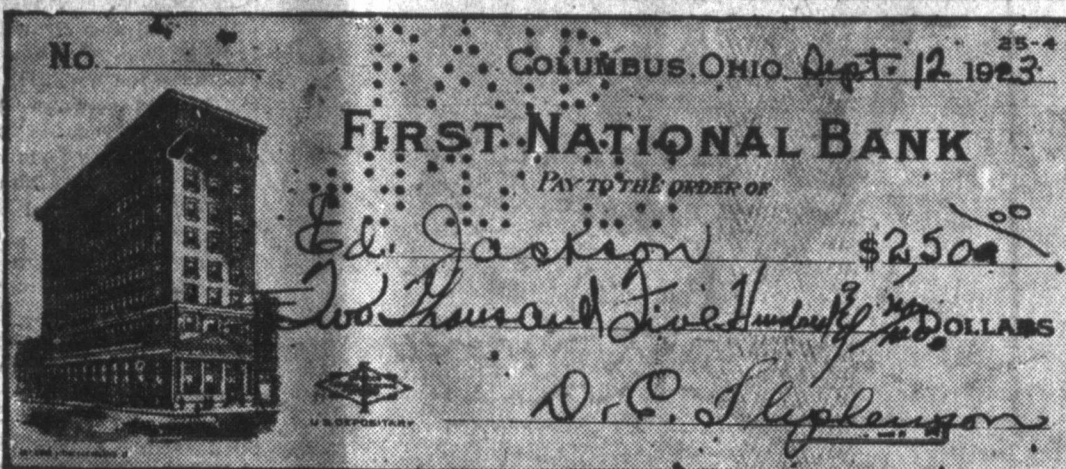

Movement of crude oil from the Panhandle is steadily increasing, now totaling 100,000 barrels or more daily. Three more Panhandle wells have been added to the list which have produced more than 500,000 barrels of oil. These are the Phillips No. 4 Johnson, section 63, block 46, Hutchinson county; the Gulf No. 6 Dial and the Mellroy No. 1 Cockrell, all in Hutchinson county. Their total production is 557,000, 595,000 and 520,000 barrels, respectively.

Gambling Causes A Shake-up Of Houston Police

HOUSTON, July 15.—Gambling in the police station was given as the reason for the shake up, announced last night, which resulted in six police officers, some with long service records, leaving the Houston police force.

Two were discharged, three indefinitely suspended, and one resigned.

This Check Stirred Indiana

This is the check that, when published in the Indianapolis Times exclusively, turned Indiana politics upside down. It is the first evidence offered from the long-sought "little black box" of D. C. Stephenson, former Indiana klan leader, who is now serving a prison life sentence term for the murder of Madge Oberholzer. Stephenson's petition for clemency recently was denied, and this was followed by the threat to expose alleged crookedness in state politics.

Catholic Leaders Ordered Released By President Calles

MEXICO CITY, July 15.—President Calles has ordered the release of all Catholic lay leaders now in prison on charges of sedition.

They number 28 and were officers and leaders in league for the defense of religious liberty.

The president accompanied his orders with the explanation that the attempted religious revolt had failed and therefore the conspirators are no longer a menace.

Clark Is Here—First Practice To Be Held Today

Men are at work on the Grays' baseball diamond today to have it in good condition for the game Sunday. The park has not been used for several weeks and is rough but will be very fast for the big game Sunday afternoon, when the home club meets the Claude Mustangs.

Bob Clarke arrived in the city this morning and is receiving a hearty welcome from home-town friends. He says he is in great condition but needs some practice to get his spitter working again. He couldn't use the special in the Western league but will be all set in the tournament.

Manager Ed Gober will have his warriors out for their first practice this afternoon at the ball park. Even Johnnie Weeks says he will be out and will be in the game at Amarillo. He will have to fight for his position.

B. E. Finley Tells Lions of His Trip

A talk by B. E. Finley about his trip with the All-Texas Special was a feature of the Lions club luncheon yesterday.

Mr. Finley sketched the events of the trip, and stressed especially beauties seen on the trip, including fine parks, buildings, and other public improvements.

Visitors for the luncheon included W. F. Causey of Houston, Sherrin Ousley of Dallas, Irvin Kearns of Amarillo, and C. C. Dodd of Pampa.

The Rev. Tom W. Brabham, T. Ashby, and Jimmie Eastland were pointed to investigate the advisability of erecting "Go Slow" signs at the schools and Pampa hospital.

M'LEAN ROAD BOND ELECTION UP TOMORROW

The Proposal To Vote $250,000 Expected To Carry

BRIDGES ARE BIG PROJECTS

Balloting Called Without Protests From Any Quarter

Voters in the McLean special road district will go to the polls tomorrow to cast their ballots on a proposed $250,000 bond issue.

In a telephone conversation with the Daily News this morning, O. H. Foster, manager of the McLean Chamber of Commerce, stated that passage of the issue is expected, there being no concerted opposition and only a few scattered individuals known to be fighting the proposition.

Voting will be done at McLean and Alanreed. The bond issue calls for the expenditure of $250,000, of which $160,000 would be used to pave 16 miles of Highway 66, $6,000 for a bridge across McClellan creek at the Palmer crossing, $22,500 for a bridge on McClellan creek at the Beaver Dam crossing, $25,000 for a bridge on the LeFors road north of McLean, $10,000 for road machinery for the precinct, and $25,500 for improvement of lateral roads in the precinct.

A two-thirds majority is required to vote road bonds, and only resident property tax payers will be allowed to vote.

The district election is being held without protest of any kind, to the

HENRY WHITE DIES TODAY

Had Been 30 Years a Diplomat For His Country

PITTSBURGH, Mass., July 15.—Henry White, formerly ambassador to France and Italy and a delegate to the Paris Peace conference, died at Lenox today.

He underwent an operation three years ago, and had been in ill health much since then.

Mr. White was born in Baltimore, Md., on March 29, 1850, and was educated in the United States and in France. He came from an old and distinguished Maryland family. In 1879 he married Miss Margaret Stuyvesant Rutherford of New York, a sister-in-law of William K. Vanderbilt. Mrs. White died in Lenox, Mass., in 1916. Their daughter, Margaret, is the Countess de Thoss, wife of an officer of the Prussian Cuirassiers whose father was formerly associated with the former Emperor of Germany. Mrs. White died in November, 1920.

Mr. White entered the diplomatic service as Secretary of the United States Legation at Vienna, going to London as First Secretary, and then again assuming the post under President McKinley.

He held until 1905 when he was appointed Ambassador to Italy. He was later appointed representative of the United States at the International Conference on Moroccan Affairs at Algiers. In 1916 Ambassador White took part in that historic parliament of which, it was said,

SHIPS RUSHING IN ANSWER TO SOS MESSAGES

Plane Is Still 400 Miles From Land, With Little Fuel

HAD BEEN IN AIR 21 HOURS

Provisions Carried For 10 Days—Raft Available

HONOLULU, July 15.—The steamer Wilhelmina reported by wireless that the monoplane, City of Oakland, landed in the sea at 5:15 today, Honolulu time, after running out of gasoline, and was summoned steamships to her aid by timely use of her radio.

According to computations received here, the plane had been in the air 21 hours and had covered a distance of 1,800 miles. She was presumably more than 400 miles from nearest land.

Equipped with provisions enough to last ten days, pneumatic life raft, and facilities for distilling water, the fliers had the consolation that they might remain adrift if they could make a safe landing.

HONOLULU, July 15. (AP)—More than 400 miles from land and their fuel nearly exhausted, Ernest Smith, civilian aviator, and Emory Bronte, his navigator, faced an undetermined fate today while three ships dashed to rescue the trans-Pacific monoplane City of Oakland.

Whether the fliers were still afloat still in the air, or struggling in the sea, was left undetermined when all radio stations on the western half of the Pacific were silenced that they might hear the frantic SOS call which Bronte was sending out.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15. (AP)—A message received by the navy here intercepted from the monoplane City of Oakland said it was landing in the water. The message said the plane was 500 miles northeast of Pala Maui and asked for help.

Miami Boy Dies Of Internal Injuries

Death from internal injuries came to Lewis McCuiston, Miami boy run over by a plow Saturday, late Wednesday, and the body was taken to Miami for burial yesterday.

Amputation of a leg was necessary Sunday morning. The boy stood the operation well, but internal injuries led to his death.

Vienna Stirred By Work of Mob

ST. JOHNS, N. F., July 15.—The spark of hope kindled yesterday, when two hunters reported wreckage in the interior which was believed to be the remains of the plane flown by Nungesser and Goll, was virtually extinguished today when Major Sidney Cotton, after talking with the two men, discredited their story.

Sunday's Game Will Boast Of Many Veterans

Sunday afternoon will see two great mound artists tangle when Bob Clarke of the Pampa Grays opposes "Os" Eckhardt, new manager of the Claude nine, at the Grays park. The game called for 3 o'clock.

Allred, the big pitcher secured from the Breckenridge club, will likely be seen in action and Ketchum with the Oklahoma City team in the Western league in 1926 and part of this season, is expected here tomorrow.

In the infield Babe Ruth, the Berger flash, will probably be seen at short, with the old veteran Ed Gober traveling around the hot corner. Brother Jack Gober will hold down the initial sack and he is faster than the manager himself.

Behind the bat will be "Hook" Shaw in case Sam Douglas, the 240-pound catcher from Eric, Okla., doesn't arrive for the game. Tom Clayton is drawing down a salary in Shamrock but might be persuaded to come over and catch Bob Clarke.

Eckhardt has a bunch of veterans on his team and also has brought to Claude some of his Canyon wonders and is said to be looking towards the big money in the Amarillo tournament.

Fans are urged to come out to the Grays park Sunday afternoon and see the team that is out to bring glory to Pampa in the Amarillo tournament, and show Bob Clark a big welcome.

The Grays will probably line up as follows: Jack Gober, 1b; Weeks, 2b; Ruth, ss; Ed Gober, 3b; Watson, lf; Shaw, cf; Rowe, rf; Douglas, c; Clark and Allred, pitchers.

Magnolia Team Defeats Washrites

In a game featured by arguments on the part of the Magnolia team, the oil company men yesterday won their first game from the Washrites by a 7 to 5 score. All the arguments possible in a ball game were aired last night and Umpire Jack Gober had his hands full handing out decisions.

The laundry crew didn't have much luck hitting Sadler's curves. "Rusty" Cahill got a double and two singles, while "Hook" Shaw helped himself to two singles. Cahill was also the pick of the fielders with Kennedy, who also made some great catches in the garden.

Sadler not only pitched a nice game but was good at bat, gathering two singles off Hust's delivery. Austin also had a good day at bat and caught a great game. Mack at second base covered a world of ground and came up with balls that were labeled sure hits.

Batteries: Magnolia—Sadler and Austin; Washrites—Hust and Shaw.

SPORT TALK

What a ball game that should be Sunday afternoon! Manager Ed Gober is all set to have his boys practicing today in preparation for the game Sunday, the Amarillo tournament, and the big money.

Pampa ball fans and those not interested in baseball but who want to see Pampa on the map are contributing to the fund to defray the expenses of the trip to the Amarillo tournament. If the boys collecting have missed you, send your check to J. M. Dodson or to the Pampa Daily News office.

All the Texans in Amarillo's land of baseball could gather yesterday were three safe blows and no runs. Morgan pitched a great game for the home lotter but his teammates couldn't get the necessary hits for runs.

The New York Yankees got into a batting and fielding slump yesterday. Ruth and Gehrig went hitless and the team had five errors chalked up against them. Miller pitched just six balls to fan the two home run kings.

Cincinnati Reds didn't do a thing yesterday but take both ends of a double header from the Giants. Hornsby got only one hit during the day, which is something unusual for the big Roger. He can usually hit three in two games.

Four teams have sent in their money to the Amarillo Athletic club to enter the tournament, and more was expected this morning. The Pampa Grays are second on the list and have been accepted along with Eckhardt's nine. The Metros are also entered with a strong team.

Can Dempsey Come Back?

Jack Dempsey, who lost his championship to Gene Tunney last year at the Sesqui stadium, thinks he can come back. The ex-champ meets Jack Sharkey in New York soon for the right to face Tunney in a title bout.

NEW MEXICO HONORS WOMAN STUNT FLYER

SANTA FE N. M., July 15. (AP) —Katherine Stinson, first woman aviatix to demonstrate night flying and skywriting, has been brought out of her retirement to receive new honors.

Gov. Richard C. Dillon of New Mexico chose her to represent the state at the meeting of the Association for the Development of Commercial Aviation, held at St. Joseph, Mo. Miss Stinson was the only woman delegate.

Long before the world war, Miss Stinson made exhibition tours which took her over the world. Many medals were bestowed upon her in Europe and the Orient.

WORKING GIRL RULES PARIS SUMMER FETE

PARIS, July 15. (AP) —Mlle. Aline Lesage was the central figure in the recent Spring Fete which ushered in Paris' summer season. She rode in a Cinderella coach of white and gold drawn by six white horses from the Bois de Boulogne to the Hotel de Ville.

On that occasion she was called "Parisette Premiere" and represented the working girls of Paris. She works in a wineshop run by her father and is proud to be called a barmaid.

Like the average French girl, "Parisette" makes many of her own clothes. She knows fashions better than vintages and considers it a woman's first duty to always look her best.

HOUSTON'S DESCENDANT UNVEILS HIS MEMORIAL

TIMBER RIDGE, Va., July 13. (AP)—Unveiling memorials to General Sam Houston is almost a "steady job" for Charlotte Gwynne Williams, of Houston, Texas.

She is the great granddaughter of the man who was the hero of San Jacinto, governor of Tennessee and record, for he has "the finest pair of eyes in baseball," is a hard worker and always in condition. But to do it he must participate in every contest from now to the middle of the 1930 season. He is one of the three Sewell brothers in the major leagues, all from the University of Alabama.

Chicago and Pittsburgh are battling it out for the league leadership, with both teams consistently winning. Take a guess who slips first.

LADY ASTOR RESTS BY PLAYING TENNIS

TAPLOW, England, July 15. (AP) —Lady Astor, the American born member of Britain's parliament, finds a hard game of tennis affords great relaxation from her political duties.

At her country seat, Cliveden, Taplow, Buckinghamshire, she has two excellent hard courts, set in ideal sylvan surroundings, in which her residence is situated. She is an exceptionally good player, and prefers the hard surface to grass, which is not fast enough for her.

ATHLETES GET CERTIFICATES

COLLEGE STATION, July 15. (AP)—The 420 former "T" men of A. and M. college are being sent certificates by the Aggie Athletic department, showing in what years the athletes made letters, and the sports in which they participated. The certificates are signed by Dean Charles E. Friley, chairman of the athletic department, and D. X. Bible, director.

Business Manager James Sullivan is sending each former athlete who made a letter here a "T" card, which entitles him to attend all athletic games played at College Station during the season of 1927-28.

It cost the government, the Southern Pacific Railroad and the American Railway Express company $500,000 to bring to justice the three Autremont brothers.

WATERWORKS PAYING

SAN ANTONIO, July 15. (AP)—Municipal ownership seems to be paying as far as the San Antonio waterworks are concerned a report recently prepared on operations for the last year show.

The report indicates that the city made many improvements in service, served more customers and cut the rates materially and at the same time earned profit of $107,332.64 an increase of more than 300 per cent over the earnings for the previous year, which was the first year of municipal ownership. The increase was ascribed to increased operating efficiency.

TOWER WARNING OF VOTE

LONDON, July 15. (AP)—A red or green light will hereafter shine in the Clock Tower of the House of Commons when the House is about to vote, if the petition of 320 members of Parliament is granted.

It will then be possible for members to take strolls in St. James' Park or to visit the neighboring political clubs while speeches are being made, without fear of losing their vote at division time.

A white light now shines in the Clock Tower while Commons is in session, but frequently members have returned to find the light out and the night's session over.

Commons still adjourns each night with cries of members to one another, asking which way they intend to go. In the old days when London streets were infested with thugs, members traveled to their homes in groups for self-protection.

Freshened Ranges Improve Livestock Conditions In Texas

(By The Associated Press.)
HOUSTON, July 15.—Central and East Texas is the particularly bright spot just now in the cattle business, according to H. H. Schutz, government statistician here.

He points out that "added moisture has improved the already excellent range by freshening grass with many fattened ready for market. Practically 75 per cent of the cake and grass fed steers have moved out. Many pastures are considerably understocked. Spring calves have turned out well, which with the superabundance of feed, should make rapid growth. Prices of all classes of stock continue firm with few for sale."

Offsets, Mr. Schutz finds, are that "there are considerable infestations of worms but losses have not been serious. Ticks in the eastern counties are still bad and a few cases of blackleg have been reported in unvaccinated calves."

In the Plains district the range needs more rain and to fill water holes but as a rule, cattle are holding up well.

In West Central Texas general rains promise an abundance of feed, except in scattered localities. Cattle generally are in excellent condition but screw worms are causing considerable infestation which seems earlier and of more consequence than usual. Calves are numerous and in good condition. Young steers have been slow.

West Texas ranges are reported very dry but so far cattle have not suffered greatly. In South Texas rains broke a drought and cattle have begun to mend but the rains also brought screw worms. "Little trading is being done," the report recites, "as offerings are scarce but the general feeling is one of optimism."

Along the coast the range continues unusually good, cattle are reported in excellent condition but there is marked scarcity of stock cattle, especially steers, and as a consequence more cows are being held than usual. All classes of cattle are in strong demand at the highest prices in the past few years but sales are few. The calf crop is the largest in many seasons. A few cases of loin disease have been reported.

As a result of the freshened range in Central Texas, sheep and goats are improving. In a few localities the range is still dry but stock is holding up well. From these sections, however, it is reported that lambs are somewhat stunted and may not attain their usual weight by fall. In the more favored regions they are doing well. Screw worms have been very numerous this spring and have caused considerable loss in young stock. All mohair and wool have been shipped out.

Texas Playground Experts to Speak Before Congress

(By The Associated Press.)
MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 15.—Texas playground experts are to have a prominent part in the 14th National Recreation Congress here October 3-7. The congress is under auspices of the Playground and Recreation association of America and this will be its second meeting in Dixie in three years.

W. F. Jacoby, director of parks and recreation in Dallas, will be one of the principal speakers, according to the preliminary program. He will discuss methods of teaching a knowledge of animals, birds and plants in public parks.

L. H. Weir, who has made surveys of recreation in Houston, Fort Worth, Dallas and San Antonio, will give a report on his two-year national survey of municipal parks and forests.

Dr. A. K. Browne, director of physical education, Peabody college, Nashville, Tenn.; John A. Lapp, retiring president of the National conference of Social Work; Mrs. Chas. Sewell of Chicago, a member of the Department of Home and Community, American Farm Bureau Federation; and George Hjelt, director of recreation, Los Angeles, are other speakers. Herbert May of New York, who is completing a study of recreation in France, Germany, England, Denmark, Czechoslovakia, and Austria will summarize his findings for the delegates. Joseph Lee of Boston, president of the Playground and Recreation Association of America, will preside.

The kind of recreation girls want, municipal golf, play programs for small children, and swimming pools, are some of the topics on the program.

Demonstrations of games, dramatics and music, and an exhibit of handicrafts, apparatus, material and literature used in successful work in many cities, will be features of the Congress.

One thousand delegates are expected, according to Robert O'Brien, di-

FEATURES FROM OTHER LANDS

BLUE MONDAY IN BERLIN WHEN NO FLIERS ARRIVE

BERLIN (AP)—A Sunday may be counted as lost unless somebody arrives from overseas in an airplane, according to the cartoonist in "Der Blaue Montag" (Blue Monday), the comic section of the "Montag Morgen."

The cartoonist depicts four men with their families sitting in the grass by an aerodrome and playing cards. The expression on their faces is clearly one of boredom. One of the card sharks breaks the silence by saying disgustedly, "Already the second week, and no new ocean flier has arrived." The caption of the cartoon is "A Quiet Sunday."

WURTEMBERG-AND BADEN IN SUIT OVER RIVER WATER

BERLIN (AP)—Wurttemberg and Baden, next to Bavaria the most important of southern states in the German Reich, are calling each other thieves in the supreme court at Leipzig. Each maintains that the other is stealing river water.

Wurttemberg claims that the Badenese are maliciously and deliberately drawing off waters from the Danube, to the detriment of Suabian industry.

Baden hotly denies that this is not true. The Badenese admit that their River Aach every year gathers up a lot of water from the Danube. But this, they contend, is the work of nature. They say Wurttemberg is stealing.

BERLIN SCHOOL GIRLS ADDICTED TO COSMETICS

BERLIN (AP)—Twelve out of 32 school girls 15 and 16 years old were recently found to be users of lipsticks, and fifteen carried powder puffs, in a typical Berlin secondary school class.

This fact came out when a teacher, in order to control the tidiness of the girls' school bags, ordered a display of the contents.

The Berlin press is inclined to take this isolated case as typical of Berlin school girls generally.

"Cosmetic preparations as this incident shows," observes one editor, "have become the uniform for the face, which is put on by all who want to be in style. They no longer have the function of merely making the lady look more youthful."

WOMAN PIANIST HONORED BY CITY OF BONN

BERLIN (AP)—Elly Ney, Germany's best known woman pianist and wife of the American orchestra conductor, Willem van Hoogstraten, has been accorded the distinction of honorary citizenship by her native city of Bonn. She is the first woman thus to be honored.

Miss Ney was a soloist at the Beethoven centennial celebrations in Bonn recently. The honorary citizen-

SHIP WAS CONFERRED "IN RECOGNITION OF HER SERVICES FOR THE DEVELOPMENT OF MUSICAL LIFE IN HER NATIVE CITY."

Miss Ney has frequently toured the United States. Her husband is conductor of the summer stadium concerts of New York by the Philharmonic Orchestra, and of the symphony orchestra at Portland, Ore.

GERMAN TASTE IN READING SHOWS EFFECT OF WAR

BERLIN (AP)—The world war has materially altered the German reading public's choice of books, according to the director of Berlin's largest circulating library.

Works on philosophy, religious questions and occultism are in great demand. An unprecedented interest in astrology, spiritualism and theosophy is noticeable. In works of fiction the older generation is inclined to be conservative and stick to their old-time favorites. The younger people in their modern desire to familiarize themselves with the psychology and viewpoints of their nations, show a marked predilection for foreign authors.

Books of travel and adventure, however appeal to the young and old alike. Detective stories are popular with both.

RUHR INDUSTRIAL TOWN HOLDS SHAKESPEARE WEEK

BERLIN (AP)—Shakespearean plays draw capacity houses even in a mining and industrial city like Bochum. Bochum is a Westphalian town of 150,000 in the heart of the Ruhr coal district. Ambassador Jacob Gould Schurman learned this to his surprise when he was recently invited to attend the annual Shakespeare week.

This yearly event usually takes place at Weimar, the idyllic, almost dreamy Thuringian capital famous for its memories of Goethe, Schiller, and Liszt. To show that an industrial community also has appreciation of such things the Shakespeare week was successfully transferred to Bochum.

"It is a great thing," Ambassador Schurman said, "for a commercial and industrial city like Bochum to make possible a Shakespeare week. Nowhere on earth is there anything like it. Nowhere else did anybody think of placing the works of the great poet right amidst the hard labors of everyday life—a symbol, as it were of the close connection existing between the practical and spiritual life of humanity. That Shakespeare's works should experience a modern resurrection in Bochum is a sign of the high culture of Germany."

College Boys Make Good Harvest Hands

FORT WORTH—The college boy, contrary to belief in some circles, is a hard worker when turned loose in a cut over wheatfield with a pitchfork and a bundle wagon as inspiration. C. W. Woodman, assistant director of the United States Farm Labor Bureau here, believes.

Woodman draws his opinion from the fact he has annually with some 2,400 college men to appear at his office in the spring seeking employment in harvest fields.

"Most of the boys are athletes who want to work in the harvest fields to harden their muscles", Woodman said. "They throw themselves into harvest work with the same enthusiasm with which they play their games, and are popular with farmers and thresher bosses as a result. As a rule, they do not burn out as quickly as the supposedly hardened men."

This year, however, college men were warned away from Texas because of the general labor depression existing in the southwestern wheat fields, late and uncertain season, the influx of refugees from the Mississippi river region, and the growing use of the combine.

Studies made by the Bureau of Dairy Industry on more than 100,000 records of individual cows in cow-testing associations show that cows producing 4,000 pounds of milk per year yielded an income of $50.55 over costs of feed, whereas those producing 7,000 pounds per year yielded an average income of $89.96 over cost of feed. It required 16 to increase the feed for higher producing cows, but this $16 investment returned an additional increase of $39.41 in income over feed.

"TREELESS PLAINS" NOT NECESSARILY TREELESS

Geographies of only a few years ago spoke of the Panhandle-Plains area as a treeless territory, adapted to grazing but, it was implied, of little use for anything else.

The pictures chosen to illustrate the subject matter were convincing evidence—showing barren ranch scenes with a few cattle scattered about. Later books are including farm scenes, especially of the type showing grain crops.

But it is true that the days of trees on the Plains proper are hundreds, perhaps thousands of years past. The oil, which is of animal and plant origin, is buried virtually to the level of the original inland sea which was this region.

Trees are not desirable, necessarily, as timber or perhaps as wood lots, but from the standpoint of beautifying Plains cities there is no substitute. Pampa needs a tree-planting campaign and it is not too early to begin plans for one.

Those who made the All-Texas Special tour have reported their astonishment at the immense sums being used to keep up and develop parks. Millions are thus being used, and the "keep off the grass" signs are going out of style; the grass is placed to enjoy.

Within a few years Pampa expects to develop the admirably located city block upon which the new city hall will be located. That should be designated as a landscape which will be the principal beauty spot of the business district.

Let's begin an all-city beautification program by not only cleaning and painting up, but by planting trees for the beauty of the future Pampa.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON.—The new crop of prohibition enforcers may be a crew fired by holy zeal for the cause of arid righteousness.

Nineteen thousand citizens have applied for the 2,500 enforcement jobs which Congress threw open to the public and among the applicants are many who have assured the Civil Service Commission that they are all burning up with eagerness to put the bootleggers in prison and make the country safe for the eighteenth amendment and the wives and kiddies.

Officials of the Civil Service believe that much of this sentiment on the part of the applicants is genuine and they admit that it will be taken into consideration, despite the fact that no man is discriminated against in case he doesn't favor prohibition as a national policy.

Butchers, bakers and candlestick makers are all after the prohibition jobs, which pay from $1,140 a year for warehouse watchman to $6,000 a year for the assistant commissioner and administrators.

Oyster boat captains, lumber camp managers, army and navy officers, small manufacturers, real estate dealers, government officials, railroad superintendents, several editors and scores of other varieties of men who have been "bosses" are out after the administrative jobs.

For the mere agent jobs, applicants have come from every walk of life — from sewer-scouring to teaching and preaching. Many private detectives want jobs as agents and investigators.

Up to $3,000, the jobs require written examinations. Above that, candidates must pass through oral tests.

Examiners test applicants for the better jobs as to personality, dress, poise, posture, speech, tone of voice, judgment, resourcefulness, physical fitness, energy and what not. They test them to determine whether they are executive or subordinate types and to determine whether they would be loyal to their employers.

The falling-down point for most of the higher-up applicants has been a lack of qualifying experience. In the case of administrative jobs, the candidate must have had four to six years experience handling large operations and numerous subordinates. Under $3,000, experience is not required on the theory that any intelligent man can be made a good prohibition agent, although senior investigators at $3,800 must have had considerable investigating experience.

A candidate, having passed his oral or written exam—or both, is then subjected to a careful character investigation. He is checked up in his own neighborhood and his previous sites of employment. Results of the experience test, examination are then combined for rating.

Last of all, he is fingerprinted and the finger prints compared with the records in the Department of Justice. By this method, it is hoped to keep the prohibition service from being loaded with known criminals.

Some automobile accidents are unavoidable, and are due to no carelessness upon the part of drivers, but the majority of them are perpetrated by some brainless idiot, who is chuck full of corn liquor and possessed of the mad illusion that he is about the most daring thing turned loose.—Collinsville News.

Investigate Health of Poultry Before Buying—Provide Sanitary Conditions, and Ventilate Well

With poultry raising taking the interest of many farmers in the Pampa district, the Daily News has been asked to convey to its readers information concerning poultry diseases and the dangers of buying infected birds. The following article is by Prof. J. L. Lester, professor of vocational agriculture in Pampa high school.

Disease in and among his flock is the greatest cause of discouragement and failure that the poultry keeper has to confront.

Generally this loss may be simply and easily prevented. Disease thrives in filthy, damp, and poorly ventilated houses, unclean yards, and where poor feeding methods are used.

Preventing disease in the poultry industry is a great deal easier than the cure, and cleanliness and sanitation are vital factors.

General Precautions — Provide clean, dry, well ventilated quarters for the flock. Clean and disinfect the houses thoroughly every two to four weeks, depending upon the weather and the number of birds kept in each house. Clean and plow the yards at least every four to six months, of tetter would be better if it did not interfere with grazing crops.

Put the feed into feeding devices that will prevent the feed becoming contaminated by birds' feet or where the droppings will have no chance to enter the feed.

Feed the grain on clean yards or in clean litter, if chickens are kept in pens.

Avoid giving tonics and medicine as far as possible.

The following simple treatments are recommended for diseases in the poultry flock:

Sore Head or Chicken Pox

Causes—Sore head or chicken pox, caused by a very small organism which cannot be seen without the aid of a microscope, is aided by dampness, drafts, and a general run down condition.

Symptoms—Scaly, wart-like knots or lumps appear on the comb, wattles, ear-lobes and about the neck. There vary in size from a pin-head to a pea. Sometimes pieces of hard, cheesy material or canker appear in the mouth and throat, and sometimes the eyes are affected.

Treatment—Clean and spray the house with a solution of carbolic acid using five teaspoonfuls to a pint of water. See that the house is dry and properly ventilated, also that the birds are not overcrowded. Kill and burn badly infected birds, remove other sick birds to a comfortable, well ventilated place and treat the scabs, first softening them with carbolated vaseline, castor oil or glycerine and paint with iodine or dip the head in a solution of carbolic acid, using 3 1/2 teaspoonfuls to a pint of water.

Vaccination has also proved very successful, both as a preventative and a cure. It should be used within the prescribed time however, since it does not retain its immunizing value very long. The vaccine may be obtained from the Department of Veterinary Science, A. and M. college of Texas, College Station, Texas.

Colds

Cause—Colds are caused by drafts, lack of ventilation and general run down condition, due to lice, mites and other insect pests, also intestinal parasites and poor feeding methods.

Symptoms — Watery discharges from eyes and nose, wheezing, rattling in the throat and difficult breathing. Birds are sluggish and have an unthrifty appearance. They do not have the foul odor that birds have with roup. Long continued colds usually terminate in roup.

Treatment—Remove the cause as far as possible. Give the birds Epsom salts at the rate of 1 pound per 100 100 birds. Put 1/3 teaspoon of potassium permanganate to one gallon of water in the drinking water, and thoroughly clean and disinfect the house. Change drinking water every day. Prevention is the best and cheapest cure.

Roup

Cause—Roup is caused by bacteria that attacks the tissue surrounding the eye, the sacs beneath the eye, the nostrils, and the eye. Usually infection is by new birds being brought into the flock, wild birds, pigeons, and birds in the flock that have partially recovered.

It is spread through drinking water and feeding troughs. Cold, dampness and drafts aid development of roup.

Symptoms — Thin, watery discharge from the nose and eyes which often, after two or three weeks becomes thick and has an offensive odor; eyes become swollen and soon close; the nostrils become closed with mucus, and the bird becomes dull and listless and sits around with head under the wing. Birds cannot see food and soon become very light in weight.

Treatment—Kill badly infected birds unless very valuable. Remove sick birds to comfortable and well ventilated quarters.

When treating birds, first wash eyes, mouth and nostrils with warm water containing one teaspoonful of common salt to a quart of water or 6 teaspoonfuls of boric acid to a quart of water. Remove all secretions. Then drop one or two drops of 15 per cent Argrol in each eye or submerge head of birds in a solution of potassium permanganate using two teaspoonfuls to a pint of water.

Keep houses clean and dry and free from drafts and disinfect frequently.

Dissolve 1/3 teaspoonful of potassium permanganate to a gallon of water and keep in drinking water until trouble disappears.

Limber Neck (Ptomaine Poisoning)

Cause—Eating decayed meat, maggots and spoiled feeds.

Symptoms—A paralysis of neck muscles. Birds cannot stand, finally becoming completely paralyzed and die within 12 to 48 hours.

Treatment—As soon as possible give each bird two teaspoonfuls of castor oil.

Bacillary White Diarrhea

There are several forms of diarrhoea that affects baby chicks. These should not be confused with Bacillary White Diarrhoea. Bacillary White Diarrhoea is caused by a specific bacteria.

Symptoms—Chicks are usually affected during the first few days of their life. After seven to ten days they are usually able to resist infection. Those affected may remain stunted for several weeks. At first they huddle close together, are stupid, listless and sleepy. The plumage loses luster, the wings droop and the characteristic white discharge from the vent appears. This usually clings to the down and causes "pasting up."

Treatment—Prevention is much easier than cure. Keeping everything scrupulously clean and giving the chicks all the buttermilk they will consume has always given excellent results in preventing diseases. Secure stock, or buy eggs or baby chicks only from birds that are free from infection.

Coccidiosis (Bloody Diarrhoea)

This disease attacks chicks two weeks to four months of age. It affects the blind pouches of the large intestine, and sometimes the rest of the digestive tract.

Symptoms—The symptoms are very similar to Bacillary White Diarrhoea. It is best to make a post-mortem examination. Chicks having White Diarrhoea will have spots on the liver, while those affected with Coccidiosis will have bloody material in the caeca or blind pouches of the intestine. It is often known as bloody diarrhoea.

Treatment—Keep powdered Catechu at the rate of 1/3 teaspoonful to a gallon of water before the birds all the time. Give Epsom salts to the chicks at the rate of 1/2 pound to 100 chicks in mash every 10 days while Catechu is being used. Plenty of sour or buttermilk is also good. Also keep the chicks dry and keep everything else clean.

Investigate Before Buying

In closing, I would caution the beginner in the poultry game to be careful of introducing disease into his flock. Before ordering birds to add to your flock, either males or females, or eggs for incubator, one cannot be too careful in investigating the health of the flock from which he proposes to purchase birds or eggs. The wise poultryman will show the length of his cranium by avoiding the introduction of disease into his flock in every way possible, for, as already suggested in this article, it is much easier to prevent poultry diseases than to cure them after the birds are affected.

My final and concluding advice to the poultry keeper is to know personally if at all possible, the breeder from whom he proposes to purchase either breeding stock or eggs for incubation. Be as certain as possible that the breeder to whom you propose to give your business is reliable and trustworthy, that he will always give you a square deal.

CHURCHES

Methodist Church
 Sunday school, 9:45 a. m.
 Preaching services at 11 a. m. and 8:30 p. m. The Rev. Tom W. Brabham, pastor, will speak at both hours.

The morning theme will be "The Cost of Salvation". Some people have the conception that salvation does not cost anything. See if you are not mistaken about this Sunday morning.

The theme for the evening hour will be "Repentance: Is it Necessary for People to Repent Today?"

Should repentance be preached? Why is it that preachers do not preach repentance as they once did? These are some of the questions that will be answered Sunday night.

Our invitation: To all who mourn and need comfort; to all who are weary and need rest; to all who are friendless and want friendship; to all who are homeless and want sheltering love; to all who pray and to all who do not, but ought; to all who sin and need a Savior, and to whosoever will, this church opens wide the door and makes a free place in the name of Jesus. The Lord says WELCOME.

TOM W. BRABHAM,
 Pastor.

Why Not Go to Church?

Few people think things through. The American people are a peculiar people in many respects. The larger percent of us allow the other fellow to do our thinking. A private in the American army during the world war was asked to give an explanation as to why he did a certain thing during one of the battles while under fire. He answered: "Because I thought it best."

His commanding officer replied: "I am paid to do your thinking; from here out do as you are told, not as you think." Seemingly, this practice or custom has come down to us and we still are doing as we are told, not as we think.

If every person in Pampa would reason on the matter of the church, and go to a logical conclusion, there would not be many vacant pews, and a wide-spread demand for more churches would speedily arise.

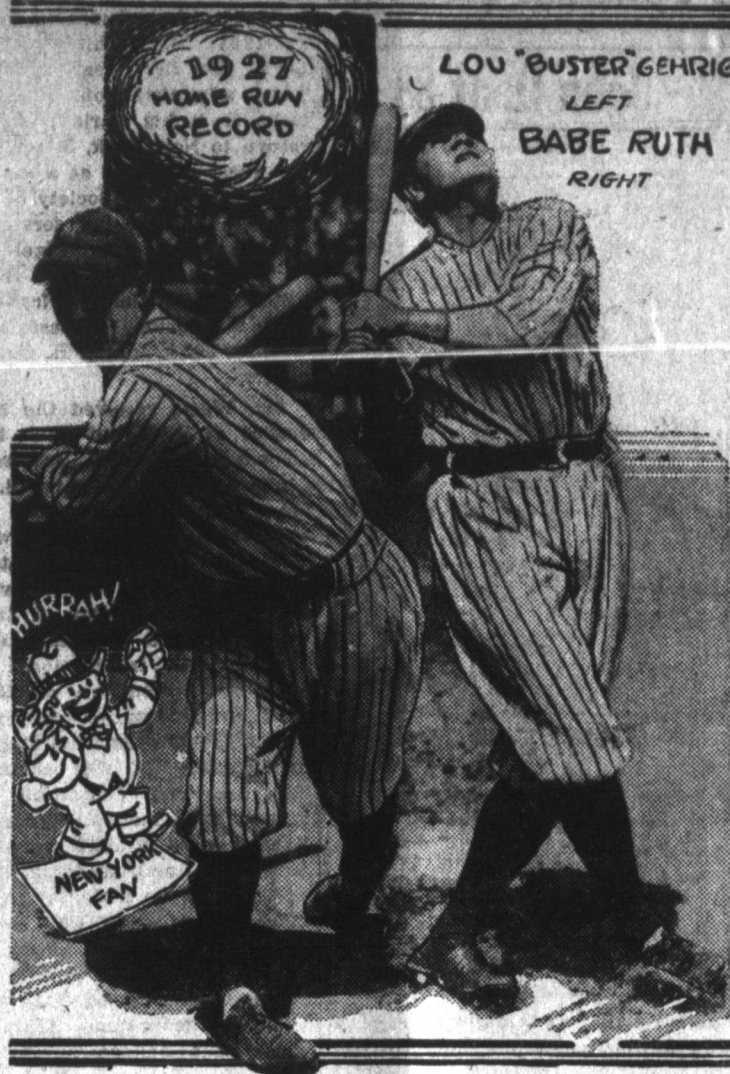

The reason is simple: People do not stay away from church because they are opposed to religion or the church. Far from it. Nearly everybody believes that the Christian religion and the Christian church are necessary to our civilization. If the existence of either were threatened, the great mass of the people would fight for it.

But by some curious kink in their mental processes many non-church goers fail to perceive that if everybody else followed their example—and every honest person grants others the right to do as he deems—the churches would quickly pass out of existence. This leads us to say that every non-attendant upon religious services virtually votes for the elimination of the institution from society.

If a person believes that Pampa needs the church, that this great nation of ours needs the church, he has but one clear, unmistakable and unanswerable way of stating his position. That is by regular church attendance. The man who goes to church stands for an indispensable institution, even as a good citizen stands by the state by voting. Absenteeism from the ballot box and absenteeism from the church are kindred failures in duty to society.

Of course, that is not the best reason for church attendance. We go to church primarily to express our belief in God and to do Him reverence. The loftiest truth about man is that he is made in the image of the Divine, and has a capacity for fellowship with the Infinite. Worship is the highest function of which human nature is capable.

The world does not know much about creeds and cares less; but when it sees a person attending Divine worship it understands him to say, by his action: "I believe in God. I believe in the church, and I am giv-

NEW YORK, July 15. (AP)—Baseball's home run duel between Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig of the Yankees is literally a "battle of giants."

The twin Titans of the Huggins team who are fighting it out against each other and against Ruth's record of 59 homers in 1921 total 430 pounds in weight and 12 feet three inches in height. Of this Ruth has 210 pounds and 6 feet, two inches—Slightly more than his share.

Sharply contrasting environments produced the two mammoths. Lou comes from Columbia university and Babe from "the college of hard knocks" after a boyhood in an orphan's home in Baltimore. Yet the two are firm friends. When Gehrig passed Ruth at one stage of their home run race, the Babe was on base. He wagged his head admiringly as he trotted across the plate, ing my time and talents to help save the world to the God of the universe."

Thoughtful persons stand for the church, also, because the church stands for the best things. The church-goer lines up with the forces which make for righteousness. He is on the side of the people who wish to live the noblest lives themselves, and who are trying to help this needy world to do the same.

The most efficient agency for human service on the earth is the Church of the Living God. The churchman is the sharer in all the worldwide beneficence of the organization. They who would make their lives count should be counted among those upon whom the church may depend.

Why not go to church and help make Pampa a better place in which to live?—the Rev. Tom W. Brabham.

Christian Church

"The Devil's Boat" will be the subject Sunday evening. The song service begins promptly at 8:30 and the service lasts but one hour. Come and hear this subject. It will be of interest to all. A timely subject will also be discussed at the morning service.

The Men's Bible class meets in the Crescent theatre at 10 a. m. and classes are held for all members of the family in the Bible school annex and church auditorium.

The three young people's meetings in the Bible school annex begin at 7:30 p. m. All of the young people of the community not attending elsewhere are urgently invited to meet with the young people of the church Sunday evening.

JAMES TODD, Jr., Minister.

To Open Negro Church

The corner stone of the new negro Baptist church will be laid Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock by the local minister, C. W. Williams, who has done much work to establish a church here.

Many local ministers will be present at the dedication service.

The services will be conducted in front of the newly erected building and an opening address will be made by Missionary M. W. Jenkins of Abilene, Texas.

BERNARD SHAW QUITS ADELPHI TERRACE

LONDON, July 15. (AP)—Adelphi Terrace is disconsolate. George Bernard Shaw, who occupied No. 10 for the last 20 years, is to take a flat in Whitehall Court, which was formerly in the possession of the Countess Russell, author of "Elizabeth and her German Garden."

Although Shaw will leave Sir James M. Barrie on Adelphi Terrace, he will have literary celebrities as near neighbors in his new flat. Among them are St. John Irvine, H. G. Wells, Sir Gilbert Parker and Sir Owen Seaman, Editor of "Punch."

ANCIENT FETTER LANE CHAPEL IS DEMOLISHED

LONDON, July 15. (AP)—Another link with ancient London has disappeared. The old chapel of the Scottish Corporation in Fleur-de-lys Court, Fetter Lane, has been demolished.

The Scottish Corporation was a charitable institution founded in 1613 to give help to London Scots temporarily "down and out." It received its charter during the great plague of 1665. The chapel was the part of the original building left after fire destroyed the major portion of the premises 50 years ago.

MUSEUM GETS DICKENS'S DESK

LONDON, July 15. (AP)—There's Charles Dickens was a junior clerk for a stroll in the park must now be miniature editions of their parent, according to a new Mayfair fad. One mother and her three-year-old daughter seen in Hyde Park were dressed in a knee-length, sleeveless frocks of the same material and cut, identical loose coats, silk stockings, shoes, gloves and hats. The child carried a little green silk sunshade and bag, which were copies of her mother's. To make the effect the child was kept close to its mother.

The desk has no legs and is of the lift-up table type. Cut into the broken lid are many initials, the figure of an angel the the signature "Charles Dickens."

HINTS FOR FARM and HOME

THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

The use of ear tags is one of the popular methods of marking cattle that are purebred. When the ears are light in color the tattoo method is also popular. A combination of the two is more satisfactory. Notching the ears disfigures the animal and should never be practiced.

Ordinarily corn should be harvested for the silo about a week or ten days before it would be cut for shocking; that is when about 90 per cent of the kernels are dented and, at least 75 percent of the kernels are hardened so that no milk can be squeezed out. At that time the lower leaves on the stalk are turning to brown and contain about 65 or 70 per cent of moisture, which is sufficient for silage.

The silage made from corn containing moisture enough for preservation is more palatable than that made from corn so mature as to require the addition of water.

Have you ever made good on one job.. for 39 years?

THE extra mileage you get from Dunlop tires starts with the fact that Dunlop has had thirty-nine years of tire-building experience—more than any other tire-maker.

Each part of each Dunlop is built right. Dunlop owns its own cotton mills to spin selected long-fibre cotton into the special Dunlop cable-twist cords.

These cords mean extra strength—an added factor of safety against constant load and pounding of roads—longer life and greater mileage.

They mean extra "stretch"—so the tire carcass will give under blows, and come back to its original shape without the slightest injury.

Every Dunlop you buy has extra miles built into it because Dunlop knows each part of its job. That is why we recommend you put Dunlops on your car.

WALKING AROUND LADDERS PROVES DISASTROUS
LONDON, July 15. — When something "dead wrong" with the old superstition against walking under a ladder. Two events here in the last three days have proved that it is "all the bunk."

At the corner of the Strand and Essex street an immaculately dressed man paused at a ladder and then proceeded to walk around it. But a painter above upset a pot of black paint. It knocked over a pot of white paint and the combination fell on the unfortunate pedestrian. Had he walked under the ladder he would have escaped.

Two days later a man stepped into the gutter in order to walk around a ladder and was knocked down by an automobile.

LIKES ALLIGATORS
DALLAS, (AP)—W. D. Williams, veteran Dallas policeman, has shaken down many a beer joint and booze cache, but he spends most of his spare time playing around with alligators at his home.

Williams has four alligators in a tank, parrots, ducks, and other fowls and "gets a lot of pleasure out of his pets."

He intends to enlarge his collection.

HAREM'S CHAMBERS OF FEAR TO BECOME TURKISH MUSEUM

(By The Associated Press.)
CONTANTINOPLE — Walls that shrouded secret fears of harem captives are to be penetrated by the public.

The settings of tragic mysteries will be opened to view here when the imperial palace of the Turkish sultans is transformed within a few months into a museum.

Fear seems to have pervaded the harem labyrinth in the days of the Ottoman empire. It lurked in secret stairways behind swinging walls, in heavy walls and great iron bolts that separate room from room, even in the innermost parts of the harem, in countless little cubbyholes with doors, where saucers of oil with floating wicks, the only means of illumination, were placed so that no corner of the harem would ever be strongly lighted.

There was fear, too, in the huge chimneys, with their pointed witches' hats of bronze. Up one of these chimneys the boy sultan Mahmud climbed to escape rebellious Janissaries while a girl servant threw embers from the brazier which stood below into the faces of her master's assailants. This servant, Djevri Kadin later became the favorite of the monarch whose life she had saved.

A group of particularly gloomy low-ceilinged rooms bear the name of the "Cage," and it was there that many a crown prince was strangled and many a sultan kept captive by some usurping relative. It was there in the 17th century that Sultan Murad IV had his two younger brothers beheaded in the presence of his oldest brother, Ibrahim, who went mad at the sight and remained mad during the years of his imprisonment in "The Cage," and the years of his reign as sultan after the death of Murad.

Another tale is connected with a woman of the 16th century, Kersem Sultana, "Body of the Moon," the most famous woman of Ottoman history. This beautiful and powerful mother of the mad Ibrahim, Kersem Sultana, at the age of 62 was strangled at midnight with the cord of the curtain which shrouded her bed by the eunuchs. Her assailants were partisans of her daughter-in-law, who had discovered Kersem's plot to murder the heir to the throne that same night, in order that she and her Janissary supporters might rule the empire undisturbed.

The prayer chamber of the women of the harem is situated in the uppermost floor of the meandering building. Half of one side of the wall swings out disclosing a deep closet which still smells faintly of many mingled incenses sent from sacred Mecca.

On a high shelf is a great chest, empty now, which till the day of the last sultan contained buried within hundreds of gorgeous wrappings a tiny bottle. In that bottle lay one hair of the beard of the prophet. On the 15th day of the sacred fasting month of Ramazan every year the wives of the sultan unwound the countless wrappings, solemnly kissed the bottle and then reverently laid it away again. Only the fingers of sultanas could touch those royal wrappings and only their royal lips might press the holy relic.

The bottle, together with the prophetic mantle, is now in another sealed room of the palace outside the harem, a room which will be the only portion of the palace still barred to the public when the harem itself is thrown open.

The Zion Evangelical church at Millstade, Ill., celebrated its ninetieth birthday recently.

John D. at 88

Eighty-eight, and mighty happy in his smiling contemplation of living to be at least 100—that is John D. Rockefeller Sr., as you see him here. The extraordinarily fine photo of one of the world's most famous citizens was made as Rockefeller left the Tarrytown Baptist church at Tarrytown, N. Y., the first Sunday after his 88th birthday. He had motored to church from his estate at Pocantico Hills.

Slayers of Warden
Are Hanged Today
On Same Gallows

(By The Associated Press.)
JOLIET, July 15.—Three of the seven men who slew Deputy Warden Peter Klein in a break from the penitentiary a year ago were hanged, heavily girded, in Joliet jail yard today.

The men, Robert Torrez, Walter Stalesky, and Charles Duchowski, were all sent to their death simultaneously on a triple trap gallows.

JOLIET, Ill. (AP)—Roberto Torrez, Walter Stalesky and Charles Duchowski, three of Illinois' most desperate criminals were left of seven who slew Peter Klein, deputy warden and escaped from the new "break-proof" state penitentiary at Stateville, near here, on May 5, 1926.

They were recaptured only to participate in two more daring attempts in escape. Torrez was a Mexican, Stalesky and Duchowski, Americans.

In the first break, James Price made good his bid for freedom and its still at large. With the three finally doomed to hang, three other—Bernard Roa, and Gregario Rizo, Mexicans, and Charles Shader, American and youngest of the lot—were recaptured quickly and sentenced to death.

The case of the six was pending before the state supreme court when on March 12 last, the three Mexicans sawed their way out of their cells and shot their path to liberty.

Real, a gigantic man, got clear despite lameness of some 21 bullet wounds inflicted in his recapture after his first escape. Rizo and Torrez, the latter wounded were retaken on the outskirts of Chicago after they had shot two policemen.

Special guards were assigned, but four of the five remaining convicts again tried for liberty a month ago, while their case was still pending before the supreme court. Stalesky and Duchowski got no further than the jail yard, where in a fight centering about the scaffold built for their execution they were recaptured. Shader triple slayer at 21, escaped. Rizo was killed with a bullet fired by a police man from the very gallows upon which he was to have been hanged. Torrez refused to try for liberty in that break.

A few days ago the supreme court affirmed the convictions of the three survivors.

It is not established that May 5 was decided upon for the first prison break for any other reason than that plans were matured on that date. But nevertheless that is the "Cinco de Mayo" one of Mexico's most popular military holidays. Likewise July 15 is another that stands out in Mexico's history, for upon July 15, Benito Juarez reentered the capital after the public execution of Emperor Maximilian, heralding the rise of the new republic.

DIPLOMAT—

Appointed Ambassador to France in 1907, Mr. White resigned in 1909, the first year of President Taft's administration. Upon retirement from his Paris post and his return to New York, Mr. White was the guest of honor at a dinner tendered him by the Society of the Pilgrims at which his services were eulogized by John Bigelow, who represented the United States in France at the time of Napoleon III, Levi P. Morton, Ambassador from 1881 to 1885, Joseph H. Choate and others.

Mr. White received the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws from St. Andrew's university (Scotland) and Johns Hopkins and Harvard. Among his diplomatic services, besides those already mentioned, were the following: He represented the United States at the International Conference in London in 1887 and 1888, for the abolition of sugar bounties; the International Conference on Agriculture at Rome in 1905 which resulted in the founding of the International Institute of Agriculture; he was chairman of the American delegation to the Fourth Pan-American Conference in Buenos Aires in 1910 and the same year special ambassador of the United States to the centenary of Chilean independence. He was a member of 11 clubs in New York, London, Paris, Washington and Baltimore and a trustee of several important scientific geographic, philanthropic and educational institutions.

BRITISH SOCIETY BUYS IN NO HURRY TO WED

LONDON, July 15. (AP)—There spite statistics which show British girls are marrying younger than formerly, there are indications that society buds are in no hurry to take on the responsibilities of matrimony.

There are more pretty unmarried girls who have been officially "out" in society three or four seasons than ever before. Many of these are said to have received three or four offers of marriage since they were presented at Court.

One reason for this tendency to remain single is that the present-day society miss has developed rather expensive habits which the average man cannot keep up with. She is having a good time through the various seasons and prefers to dine out and dance four or five times a week while she has the opportunity.

Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, daughter of William Jennings Bryan, says woman's entrance into public life is secondary to her duty to home and children.

For sheer audacity the original break from the Stateville prison is unparalleled in Illinois. The seven convicts made their way to the office of Deputy Warden Klein and beat and stabbed him to death. A guard captain, slashed across the hand, was forced to march at the head of the seven convicts for a quarter of a mile across the prison enclosure and out of the big gates as if they were members of an outside working party.

Then the captain was forced to telephone for his automobile and in it the convicts escaped, taking the captain along. They chained him to a tree and continued across country until their automobile skidded into a ditch. It was nearly two hours before the slaying of Klein was discovered and an alarm sounded. Meanwhile the convicts fled far, committing few depredations to obtain firearms and clothing.

Two were recaptured the same night, two the next morning and Shader a few days later. Duchowski got to Mexico but was lured back across the international line and rearrested.

At the time of his first long escape Stalesky was eligible for parole. All the others faced long prison terms for robbery or murder.

KINGS BENCH JUSTICE IS REAL "BIGWIG"

LONDON, July 15. (AP)—Deare few positions of greater dignity in England than that of Justice of the King's Bench. When on circuit the Justice is treated with the ceremony usually accorded to royalty. He is deemed the first man in the country, and the bells of the circuit town ring, and a bugle announces the opening of his assize court.

Yet the Justice's salary has been at the same figure for nearly two centuries. When it was first set in the eighteenth century at 5,000 lbs. a year, it was deemed a princely recompense, but with the decrease in the value of money and the present British income tax it is considered not so generous. Many barristers, in giving up their position at the bar to become justices, give up incomes much larger than their judicial salary.
