Fate Is Sealed As Governor Fuller Denies Italians' Plea

FULLER SAYS VANZETTI AND SACCO GUILTY

Reprieve On Death Sentence Expires On August 10

LAST DEFENSE RESORT FAILS

Decision Apparently Is End of Case Which Stirs Globe

(By The Associated Press.)
BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 4.—Governor Alvan T. Fuller has refused executive clemency to Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, sentenced to death for the murder of a shoe factory paymaster and his guard in South Braintree on April 15, 1920. Their reprieve expires on August 10.

"I believe with the jury that these men, Sacco and Vanzetti, were guilty and that they had a fair trial. I furthermore believe that there was no justifiable reason for giving them a new trial," the governor said.

BOSTON, Aug. 4. (AP)—Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti showed no outward signs of dismay when informed today of Governor Fuller's decision not to interfere in their case. The men, now in the death house at Charleston state prison, were informed of the governor's action by William Thompson, chief counsel for the defense.

Thompson was accompanied on his visit to the condemned men by Mrs. Rose Sacco, wife of the former shoe worker, and spent more than an hour with the two men. He would have something to say later in the day, but gave no intimation as to what course the defense would take.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4. (AP)—A special guard has been detailed to patrol the corridor outside the office of Secretary Kellogg following Governor Fuller's decision in the Sacco-Vanzetti case. The state department has informed all American embassies, legations and consuls abroad that the final decision had been rendered by the governor so that (See GUILTY—Page 3, Column 2.)

Oldtime Cowboys To Have Reunion At Canyon Soon

CANYON, Aug. 4.—Invitations have been issued to all cow punchers of the Panhandle who punched cattle for themselves or somebody else before and including 1899, to attend the round-up which is to be held on August 25 at the old roundup grounds at W. C. Baird park, a half mile north of the Santa Fe station at Canyon.

There will be a barbecue, of course, prepared by John Snider, who is known to all Panhandle cattlemen for the excellence of his cooking. And there will be more and better son-of-a-gun stew than the forty gallons consumed by the cow punchers and their families at the round-up last fall. More sweetbreads and less liver will help to give it the old-time tang, says John Turner.

"Skillet Bill" Johnson was the leading spirit in story-telling around the camp fire last year. The invitations state that this year "he means the big day to be merely the morning after the night before," when compared with his night of story-telling.

Preparations for the round-up are under the direction of John Arnot, president of the organization, and Miss Laura V. Hamner, secretary.

Wales and Baldwin In Canada

The prime minister of England and the heir apparent to the British throne are in Canada now, attending ceremonies in connection with the dominion's diamond jubilee. Here are photos showing them on their arrival in Quebec. Above the Prince of Wales is shown in a car with Governor General Perceval of Quebec; at the left is Premier Stanley Baldwin. Wales is to visit his ranch in the west and may tour the United States before returning to England.

Lowden Not Running From Presidency He Indicates Today

(By The Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—Frank Lowden, former Governor of Illinois and widely mentioned as Republican presidential material, came to Chicago today to discuss politics with a group of friends in response to a telegram sent him at his summer home at Alexandria Bay, New York.

"No man has ever run away from presidency," reiterated Lowden as he arrived.

FIVE KILLED IN WRECK
KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 4. (AP) Miles Williams and four children were killed when a southern railway train, known as the Memphis special, demolished his automobile at a crossing west of Knoxville. Mrs. Williams was seriously injured.

Naval Conference Adjourns Without Reaching Agreement After Seven Weeks of Work

(By The Associated Press.)
GENEVA, Aug. 4.—The tripartite naval conference came to an unsuccessful end today after nearly seven weeks of discussion, when delegates of the United States, Great Britain and Japan found themselves unable to reach an agreement on the limitation of cruisers, destroyers and submarines, which was the object of the conference.

The end came after Hugh Gibson, chief of the American delegation, had made a final address to the session, the conference adopting the joint declaration of adjourning sine die. The immediate adjournment came after a vote of thanks had been adopted for Gibson, the vote being made by W. C. Bridgman, chief of the British delegation.

GOOD MARKET SEEN FOR NEW WHEAT CROP

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4. (AP)—Despite the increase in stocks on hand and a larger crop forecast than last year, government officials see a wheat market situation as favorable for farmers this season as a year ago.

The domestic winter wheat crop, reports indicate, will be nearly 50,000,000 bushels below last year's harvest, but the spring wheat crop will be almost 70,000,000 bushels larger. Possibility of smaller surpluses available for export from other large exporting countries and continued active demand from Europe are cited as strengthening factors in the market situation.

Three More Bodies Found In Mine

(By The Associated Press.)
GLAY, Ky., Aug. 4.—Three unidentified bodies were found today by rescue workers in No. 7 mine of the West Kentucky Coal company, where an explosion occurred yesterday.

The total number known dead was seven with nine men still missing.

GENEVA, Aug. 4. (AP)—A last-moment attempt was made by Great Britain today to rescue something from the wreckage of the naval conference, when W. C. Bridgman, chief British delegate, proposed an agreement restricted to destroyers and submarines.

Hugh Gibson, head of the American delegation, declined to entertain the suggestion on the grounds that the United States considers the limitation of cruisers and destroyers and submarines as one indivisible whole.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4. (AP)—It is the hope of the Washington government that efforts for further naval limitations, which failed today at Geneva, can be resumed at an early date, it was indicated in a formal statement issued today by Secretary Kellogg.

LOCAL CAR IS USED BY PAIR IN A ROBBERY

Recovered In Perryton Following Hi-Jacking In Canadian

HOTEL LOSES $100 DOLLARS

Prisoners May Have Escaped In Local Jail Break

A Chevrolet coupe owned by J. E. Hamilton and left parked in front of the White House cafe Tuesday night about 9 o'clock was stolen and later used by two men in a hold-up in Canadian.

Men giving their names as Walter Dean and Ernie Spears were captured near Perryton early yesterday morning in connection with the robbery of the Moody hotel in Canadian the night before. The pair entered the hotel, hi-jacked the clerk, and escaped with approximately $100 in silver and currency, officers say.

In a running gun fight with Sheriff Sid Tatley and City Marshall Frank Caradine, the men threw about $70 of the stolen money into nearby fields at regular intervals of about 50 yards. They were driving a car which was later identified as the one stolen from Pampa.

The two men were identified by the hotel clerk, according to arresting officers, and were taken to Canadian by Sheriff Johnson of Hemphill county. They will be brought to Pampa today, for identification as their description fits two of the men who broke jail here Sunday night.

Charter Body Will Hear Spence Before Taking More Steps

The first meeting of the charter commission chosen by the city council was held last night in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, with 11 of the 15 members present. T. D. Hobart was chosen chairman and Scott Barcus secretary.

Various forms of city government were discussed and several city charters looked over. It was agreed not to come to a decision until after E. V. Spence, city manager of San Angelo, speaks at the Chamber of Commerce dinner Tuesday night.

Another meeting will be called soon after the visit of Mr. Spence.

Those present at last night's meeting were T. D. Hobart, M. K. Brown, Chas. C. Cook, Ike Lewis, A. A. Tisman, B. E. Finley, Lynn Boyd, Baker Saulsbury, Scott Barcus, J. E. Murfee and Tom H. Lane.

Boys' Institute Will Open Here At 8 P. M. Today

Tonight at 8 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce rooms the first meeting of the Community Boys' Institute will be held. The chief speaker of the evening will be Rev. R. Thompson of Amarillo.

Tom Nelson, chief executive of the Panhandle council, will attend the meeting and will speak on Boy Scout work.

The meeting is open to all interested in boys' work and anyone wishing to attend and get an insight into the Boy Scout organization will be welcome.

No. 1 Campbell Drilling Rapidly In City Limits

The Pampa Oil company's No. 1 W. R. Campbell in section 90, block 3, in the Wilcox addition, is drilling ahead at record speed and is now at 2,350 feet in red bed. The eight-inch casing has been set and the average drilling per day is 165 feet.

Much interest is being taken in this well. It is within the city limits and is being drilled in the interest of local men. Several shut-downs have been necessary and the rig has been skidded once. Developments are looked for within the next two weeks.

The Majestic Oil company's No. 6 Bowers in section 93, block B-2, has a good showing at 2,907 feet and is drilling in today.

The Mid-West Exploration company has made a location for its No. 1 J. A. Hood in section 33, block 3.

The H. F. Wilcox Oil and Gas company has made a location for its No. 2 Phoebe in section 40, block 3.

The Texas Oil company has made a new location on the J. E. McConnell property, in section 185, block 3, Carson county.

The Texas Oil company's No. 2 Cottrell, in section 1, block Y, Hutchinson county came in Sunday with 400 barrels.

The Atlantic Oil company's C-I, Coombs-Worley, in section 29, block 3, is drilling at 3,165 feet and going deeper. The well was shot two weeks ago but with only a small flow which ceased.

Heavy Earthquake At Los Angeles

(By The Associated Press.)
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 4.—A heavy earthquake shook Los Angeles and suburbs at 4:23 this morning.

The tremor was sharp in downtown office buildings, being a double shake with about ten seconds from start to finish.

Santa Monica, on the shore, reported a similar one, and Pasadena and Hollywood felt the quake, newspaper men reporting having been awakened.

METHODISTS IN MASS MEETING ADOPT PLANS

Will Spend $60,000 To Build Auditorium And Plant

BAPTISTS WILL ERECT STRUCTURE

To Place Big Sunday School Annex East Of Lots

Pampa Methodists and Baptists in mass meetings last night decided simultaneously to enlarge their church plants, and authorized their building committees to start the work as soon as possible.

The Methodists voted to erect a fine building "not to cost more than $60,000," upon their present large foundation. The Baptists decided to erect a $20,000 Sunday school annex of brick and tile construction.

An auditorium to seat 800, and a Sunday school plant to house the B-type departmentalized work will be provided in the Methodist plant. The present foundation is 76 by 78 feet in size, and has been used for services for several months. Upon this base the large, beautiful brick church will be constructed. Furthermore, at the rear the foundation will be extended 22 feet and the Sunday school rooms will be built, including basement and two stories. There will be about a dozen large rooms, the pastor's study, and the church offices in this part of the building. The Sunday school department will accommodate about 750 pupils.

Plans Being Drawn.
The building committee, composed of J. N. Duncan, Bob Campbell, W. Mullinax, W. W. Harrah, J. G. Noel, E. E. Reynolds and J. M. Dodson, was instructed to obtain architects' drawings, plan the finance drive and prepare to get the work under way within as soon as possible. Architects are now preparing plans to submit to the committee. A church plant of the most modern type is desired. The auditorium will extend from wall to wall, lighted in daytime by large windows. Natural Gas Is Dispatched Similiar To Train Movements

One of the important problems of the natural gas pipe line business is the telegraphic and telephone dispatching of the fuel. The line illustrated today constructed from Pampa to Ponca City, along the route of the new Pampa natural gas pipeline will be, when completed, approximately 300 miles long, the longest individual line of the 3,000 miles comprising the Empire system.

In most cases the line follows the principal highways, the general route being from Ponca City west, through Tonkawa, Lamont, Pond Creek, Nash, Jet, Lambert, Carmen, Waynoka, Midway Station, near Mooreland, Woodward, Shattuck, Goodwin, Glazier, Canadian, Miami, Codman, Hoover and Pampa. At the various compressor and pipeline stations along the line, telephone operators will be stationed, so that hourly reports of line pressure may be obtained, just as is now done on the main system, for dispatching natural gas is very similar to dispatching the transportation of a railway.

About 100 men are engaged in this construction work which it is expected will be ready for service the latter part of October, 1927.

FEATURES FROM OTHER LANDS

GAMBLING IN FRANCE IS GROWING INDUSTRY

PARIS, Aug. 4. (AP)—Gambling is becoming a bigger industry in France every year.

The big winnings—and big losses—that Deauville talked about last summer are likely to seem like small change when that luxurious resort reaches the height of its season late in the summer.

Deauville doesn't get well started until midsummer, when the millionaires and would-be millionaires pour in from North and South America. Other beaches, nearer England, such as Le Touquet, being raking in the pounds and francs at Easter.

This year all the casinos on the Channel coast witnessed more gambling on a big scale at Easter than last. At Pentecost—or Whitsuntide, as the English call it—the Easter receipts were made to seem like pretty small takings. Games of chemin de fer went on all night at Le Touquet, some players staying until 8 a. m. A year ago the casino there was seldom open until dawn. Banks of $10,000 were not uncommon, and the winning or losing of a million francs at a sitting was no rare sight.

FRENCH STILL TROUBLED BY CONFEDERATE MONEY

PARIS, Aug. 4. (AP)—Confederate money still passes at par in many towns of France.

Those who have made a living by circulating the obsolete banknotes seldom bother Paris merchants, but now and then comes a report of a flood of $50 and $100 bills. In Versailles recently a woman had a number of the almost worthless bills exchanged for good French money.

Americans frequently offer their own money in payment at hotels and large stores, and French merchants see nothing unusual in the offer of such currency. Gradually, however, they are coming to know regular United States money through seeing it in the windows of Foreign Exchange banks.

SMOKE AND GAS BUILDINGS OF PARIS

PARIS, Aug. 4. (AP)—The smoke and fumes of this industrial age are putting blemishes on the face of Paris.

Smoke has not only begun to blacken the once grey walls of Notre Dame, but the poisonous particles from factories and automobile exhaust pipes are gnawing at the delicately carved stone-work. Already several pieces have fallen from Notre Dame, from the Palace of Justice and from other celebrated buildings. Even the Madeleine, the classic nineteenth century church at the head of the Rue Royale, had to be repaired and cleaned from steps to roof this year.

The City of Paris has appointed a commission to see what can be done about it.

ANNULS OLD DECREE TO SAVE LIBRARIAN

PARIS, Aug. 4. (AP)—An old forgotten decree had to be set aside by President Doumergue to legalize the appointment of Roland Marcel, librarian of the National Library. Marcel was about to be ousted on a technicality after three years' service.

A clause in an order issued in 1846 provides that at least one in three of the chiefs of the library be a graduate of the government school at Chartres. Marcel is not from Chartres, nor were two predecessors. Two rivals discovered the old rule, and the Council of State ordered the appointment cancelled.

Edouard Herriot, Minister of Public Instruction and Fine Arts, solved the problem by asking President Doumergue to annul the old decree and reappoint Marcel.

GRAND PRIZE OFFERED FOR BEST PARIS GOWN

PARIS, Aug. 4. (AP)—The well-known "Parisienne" now has an annual 50,000-franc Grand Prize of Elegance. Leonard Rosenthal, the pearl merchant, put up the money, with the understanding that the 50,000-franc notes would be given by the winner to fifty little, hard-working midinettes in the dressmaking shop that made the prize gown.

"Other countries, larger than ours, have massiveness and strength," says the announcement of the prize. "They are the roots of the world. France is the flower," it goes on modestly. "Her mission is to produce, in every line, the rare and the exquisite, whether an ocean liner, a woman's dress, a rose or a perfume. The Parisienne is the supreme expression of this bohemian culture which will not flourish alone. It must be helped a little."

Bills of sale for transfer of automobiles can be secured at the Pampa Daily News office.

LIFE GROWING EASIER FOR FRENCH SOLDIERS

PARIS, Aug. 4. (AP)—The soldier's life is growing easier in France as elsewhere.

Not only has the period of service been reduced for the youth of France from three years to 18 months, but the pack the poilu carries is to be lightened.

Henceforth the French soldier will have two sacks. On the march the principal sack, carrying all that he really needs, will be carried by the soldier himself. The supplementary sack will be brought along by motor truck.

BLOOM ON PEACHES PUT ON WITH BRUSH

PARIS, Aug. 4. (AP)—"Gilding the lily" has been applied to peaches as a commercial proposition. It took the public some time to discover that the beautiful bloom on a great deal of fine looking fruit here was put on with a brush. Complaints were made to the police, but the police unofficially replied that their eyes weren't any better than those of customers who buy the fruit. The fraud squad has been instructed to stop the practice.

Half of Amarillo Teachers Trained In Canyon College

CANYON, Aug. 4.—Daily evidence of the widespread service which the West Texas State Teachers college gives to Northwest Texas may be found by studying the faculties of Panhandle schools.

A list of the 220 teachers who will make up the teaching force of the Amarillo public schools, under the administration of Supt. W. A. McIntosh, reveals that more than 50 per cent of that force have received all or part of their college training at the Teachers college at Canyon.

Amarillo's list is not peculiar in having this high percent of Teachers college students. Other schools all over this section show a high percentage of these specifically prepared teachers from their own West Texas institution. Some of the smaller schools show 100 per cent.

The tendency toward preference of teachers who are definitely prepared to teach, each in his own particular field, is constantly gaining favor with administrators in the work of education.

WILL C. EDWARDS

Will C. Edwards of Denton, editor of the Denton Record-Chronicle and widely known in Texas newspaper circles, left for Washington, D. C., last week to become publisher on August 1 of the Washington Herald, morning and Sunday newspaper. Starting with the Denton paper 22 years ago, Mr. Edwards has built it up from a weekly to one of the best small city dailies in Texas. He also has been intimately connected with the upbuilding of the newspaper profession in the state having served as president of the Texas Press association, and was one of the founders and the first president of the Texas Daily Press League.

In addition to this newspaper work, Mr. Edwards has taken an active interest in Rotary club work, and only recently ended a term as Rotary governor of the West Texas district. He attended the International Convention of Rotary at Ostend, Belgium, in June and had charge of the publicity of the convention for North America.

Mr. Edwards served in the Thirty-Eighth Legislature from Denton county and was in the run-off for Lieutenant Governor three years ago.

GALVESTON, Aug. 4. (AP)—The Norwegian steamer, Havo, sailed from here the past week-end with 14,200 bales of cotton for Murmansk, Russia. She was the second ship to clear during the week with a cotton cargo for Russia. The German vessel, Kersten Miles, led with 22,000 bales.

CHICAGO WOMEN HAVE SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

CHICAGO, Aug. 4. (AP)—The Chicago Women's Symphony Orchestra, one of three in the country, will enter its second concert season with the support of a formal association behind it.

A little more than a year old, the orchestra made such a success in its first season that the Woman's Symphony Orchestra association was formed to back it up. The association members include Mrs. A. J. Ochsner, Mrs. James A. Patton, Mrs. Arthur Meeker, George O. Lytton, J. E. Greenbaum and other well known Chicagoans.

The orchestra has 70 players and the repertoire includes six standard symphonies. The first concert was given in May, 1925, under the baton of Richard Czerwonky, conductor and violinist of Chicago.

The only other women symphony orchestras in the country are in Los Angeles and Boston.

An unconfirmed report from Ahmedabad, Bombay Presidency, British India, states that 1,000 deaths occurred in the native state of Baroda when a reservoir, 15 square miles in area, burst its banks.

How to Protect the Throat When Smoking

What 9651* Doctors say on this subject

The signed statements of intelligent men and women whose voices are to them what the hands of the day laborer are to him—the means indispensable to livelihood or success in life—are convincing. Actors and actresses, great singers, men conspicuous in public life, radio announcers, testify that they like LUCKY STRIKE cigarettes because of their finer flavor and because they do not irritate the throat.

Before such statements by laymen were published, questions had been addressed to a number of physicians in various sections of the United States—many of them leading physicians—and some replies had been received. The following is the result of the questionnaire:

Q1—In your judgment is the heat treatment or toasting process applied to tobaccos previously aged and cured, likely to free the cigarette from irritation to the throat?

9651 doctors answered this question "YES".

Q2—Do you think from your experience with LUCKY STRIKE cigarettes that they are less irritating to sensitive or tender throats than other cigarettes, whatever the reason?

11,105 doctors answered this question "YES".

"It's toasted"

No Throat Irritation—No Cough.

FOR EASY LIFE, HAVE QUADRUPLETS, SAYS MOTHER OF ONLY DOUBLE TWINS

FOUR DAUGHTERS OF THE KEYES FAMILY WERE HARD TO BRING UP, BUT NOW THEY DO ALL THE HOUSE WORK

The Keyes quartet of Hollis, Okla.—The only quadruplet daughters in the world. They just celebrated their twelfth birthday with four cakes and are shown above as they are today. Below are the double twins at six years of age. You'll always find them in the same order—Robert, Mona, Mary, Leola.

Tech College Is Preparing for Big Fall Enrollment

LUBBOCK, Aug. 4.—Anticipating an enrollment of between 1,500 and 2,000 students for the coming fall term, officials of the Texas Technological college are making preparations to provide for the increase. Every available inch of space will be utilized, officials say, whether it be for an office, reading room, or class room.

The buzz of the saw and the sound of the hammer now resounds from the buildings of the college as workmen prepare for the new rooms which are being built out of offices, reading rooms and even the halls of the buildings.

Four new class rooms are being completed this week in the east end of the stock judging pavilion. These class rooms, unharmed by the arena of the pavilion, will be used for the lecture classes of the school of agriculture and will accommodate 100 additional students.

Most of the congestion of the school of agriculture will be relieved with the construction of the new temporary agriculture building. The school of home economics will be benefited likewise.

The college book store will be moved within the next few weeks to quarters of its own near the entrance of the campus, making an additional large class room for the home economics school.

Receiving the largest number of new faculty members will be the school of engineering. Offices for these men must be provided and they are being built here and there over the present textile building awaiting the completion of the next building about the middle of the second term.

The administration building is to go under the partitioning plan also. The large reading room on the third floor will be partitioned off into offices and class rooms for the new faculty members. The lobbies of the first floor will be utilized for reading rooms for the students. The library needs more additional space than any other unit as practically the entire student body spends a greater part of their idle time there. Shelving space is being planned for the new books which are being received and more room for reading is being made.

With the addition of the new rooms, administrative officials say that every class room will be used throughout the entire day. Even the gym will be taxed for time and from early morning until late at night classes in physical education will be held.

The increase in the enrollment can be well taken care of, officials say, when the new rooms and buildings are completed. Contracts for the new buildings are to be let next week and work will start immediately following.

HOLLIS, Okla. Aug. 4.—Nearly one quarter of a million persons journey yearly to a little one-street town out here in Oklahoma for the purpose of seeing the only four quadruplet daughters in the world. They are Roberta, Mona, Mary and Leola Keyes, quadruplet daughters of a family who gracefully permit the crowd to come and stare, but who have firmly refused any sort of exploitation for their girls for long years.

Only a little while ago the Keyes turned down a $52,000 a year vaudeville offer.

"I'd have to stop living the lazy life if my girls went on the stage," says their mother, Mrs. Jane Keyes, explaining that the entire management of the home is budgeted among the four daughters, while she herself sits and rocks and reads and bosses and thanks a kind providence which sent her the only four quadruplet daughters in the world.

The Keyes girls had their twelfth birthday party a very long ago—a party with four cakes frosted in pink and blue and blazing candles atop each cake, and four girls as alike as the proverbial peas in a pod, blowing out the candles with one mighty puff.

Twelve years ago when a startled father first beheld his four daughters and frantically attempted to figure out a way to tell them apart, he decided that they must always be put to bed or seated at table in the same order. Roberta on the outside, then Mona, then Mary, then Leola.

Time has changed many things in the Keyes household, but never that sitting and standing and sleeping arrangement.

When the quadruplets go to school or church or to the movies, it's Roberta outside, then Mona, Mary and Leola.

"It's worked," says Dad Keyes, "I've almost got 'em learned by now."

At table, in an auto, at the movies at a party, or, waiting turns to be spanked, it's Roberta, Mona, Mary and Leola.

Even fun-loving girls that they are, the quadruplets have never dared try "kidding Dad and Mom" by forming in reverse or biggedy-piggledy. That has been made the arch crime, the unforgivable sin, of the family.

Twelve years ago Ma Keyes winced a little at the job of rearing four all-of-a-size daughters. She was in the market for sympathy.

Today, surveying four healthy, happy, sweeping and dusting and baking and dish-washing daughters, she tells other mothers that if they want an easy life, the thing to do is acquire quadruplet daughters.

Two Are Exactly Alike.

Although all four girls look so much alike that even their parents can not tell one from the other, two of them, Mona and Roberta, look so much alike that they can't tell themselves apart.

Once upon a time in a "palace of mirrors" at an amusement park, Roberta walked smack into a mirror, thinking she was meeting Mona. Health for their daughters has been the main concern of the girls' parents, and education, with special attention to music and dancing, came next.

They have high marks in school, love to dance and cook and swim and play with dolls, and, in short, are just as normal as any girls who have no doubles and don't have to walk first or second from the right in order to keep from being mixed up.

Terracing Returns
Greatest Returns
Of Farm Operations

Terracing returns a greater amount for the labor and money expended than any other farm operation. Based upon estimates compiled, from the statements of many farmers over the state, it has been found that the average cost of terracing is between $2 and $2.50 per acre. From the same source it is found that the average annual increase revenue per acre amounts to more than three dollars, while in many instances, it amounts to as much as $10 per acre. Few, if any, farm operations will bring so great annual returns.

It is estimated that Texas has some 15,000,000 acres of farm land that needs terracing. Using the low estimate furnished by the farmers, this land properly terraced would bring $45,000,000 increased wealth annually to the farmers of the state, this in turn would increase trade a like amount.

In addition to the land that actually needs terracing to prevent erosion, terraces have been found to be the greatest known factor in the conservation of soil water in the sections of the state where moisture is the limiting factor in production. Reports from the western sections show conclusively that terracing, and running contour lines, have increased the yield very materially on land that is practically level. On all land where water runs off, except the drainage districts, terraces will be a benefit to the land. On all land where the water flow is sufficient to wash the land, terraces are a necessity.

It has been found that there is 20 times as much plant food leached from the soil on rolling land than is used by crops. As the slope of land increases, the velocity of the water increases. When the velocity of water is doubled, it increases its soil erosion capacity 32 times. Terraces will prevent the rolling land from washing into gullies, will prevent the top soil from washing away. They will prevent the washing away of vegetable matter and fertilizer. They will prevent the leaching out of plant food. They will prevent the hillside sand from covering the bottom land, and filling ditches and streams. Terraces will insure crop stand. They will insure a greater absorption of rainfall in the western section of the state.

"Lethargy of the public" is ascribed by Dan Moody as the reason for the defeat of the constitutional amendments. That, perhaps, is open for debate.

A writer in the Denton Record-Chronicle wonders why 1,500 students from all parts of the state choose to gather at the Teachers college in Canyon every summer.

President Coolidge does not "c-o-o-s-e" to run for re-nomina-tion. He, say some of the political sleuths, he wants the country to choose for him and he has his ear to the ground.

PAMPA IS SITTING PRETTY, THANK YOU

Operators in the greater Seminole oil field will begin tomorrow pinching back production to 450,000 barrels daily. The agreement is tentative, more like an experiment than anything else.

Waiting

ervation. It will mean much to the Seminole people and help regulate market conditions if the oil pools are not run dry in one huge flood.

The Panhandle has no reason to regret the low production of the area at this time. Nature's storage is better than man's, and with even Hutchinson county not half drilled and the rich area running southeastward through Wheeler county hardly touched, the future of this section from an oil standpoint promises more than has the past.

The immense size of the Panhandle field assures long life under ordinary activity. It is well. And if the other fields are held down that will mean greater ultimate oil recovery, more stable markets, and better prices.

To come nearer home, Gray county is peculiarly situated to make the best of any condition. Our oil is of high gravity, free from sulphur. The price is such that drilling is encouraged beyond the point of wildcatting.

The new Gulf-Saunders pool about eight miles southeast of Pampa is looking like the richest discovery of Gray county. The discovery well, No. 1 J. M. Saunders, is still good for 1,200 barrels daily.

Wildcats are bringing in extensions almost weekly, and the south part of the county appears to be in the good pay.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON.—The great "wet and dry" war has come to resemble the state of affairs which prevailed so long on the western front.

The Anti-Saloon League army, after pushing forward to brilliant victory, has dug itself in and is on the defensive, seeking and expecting to hold its advantage.

The attack is disorganized, but there is plenty of it. While the dries insist that their position is impregnable, the wets insist that the tide has begun to turn.

This picture of the situation it might be well to point out, is given by an official of the league who does not contend that the organization is at this moment marching on to fresh victories.

What has happened is that the dries, although they pressed on after the passage of the Eighteenth Amendment and other gains, have had to stop to prepare for counter-attacks.

Their great object right now is to prevent a possible stampede in the Democratic party for the nomination of Al Smith. They don't want a wet presidential candidate in either party and they are making a heroic stand against that possibility.

Oil has at last been found south of the granite ridge, with the result that Alareed is prospering. There is nothing wrong with Gray county's oil industry. It is recognized as the most stable in the Panhandle field, and Pampa is rightly looked upon as the city with unusual promise.

are 100 per cent certain to lose if they nominate Smith. The league is non-secretarian and only interested in law enforcement, but it realizes that the anti-Tammany feeling and the anti-Catholic feeling in some sections would react against Smith.

"The defense position is always the hardest. The wets come at us like so many mosquitos and it's difficult to swat them all at once, even though they make no headway. Dry fanatics are among our worst enemies. Our 'lunatic fringe,' outside the league is constantly making absurd statements which are good targets for the other side and which we can't go out of our way to disprove."

The league, our informant continued, laughed at the rumormore that Republican politicians had decided to let up on prohibition enforcement. On the contrary, it is sure the party will travel the "high and moral road" in 1928 because, frankly, it dares to do nothing else.

PRESS FORUM

THE "THIRD DEGREE" AND LAW ENFORCEMENT

Up in Wichita a city scandal has broken over the alleged practice of "third degree" methods by the city police. In Youngstown, Ohio, two city officials have been ordered before the governor to explain similar charges. These are but two instances of many that have arisen of late to indicate the growing displeasure with methods that savor of the dark ages.

Doubtless there are times when stringent methods are necessary, particularly with hardened criminals. But that the methods commonly classified in the public mind under the heading "third degree" are ordinarily necessary, especially in dealing with the lesser criminal, the public is coming to doubt.

The job of enforcing the law, of obtaining convictions even in cases where guilt is apparent, and of reducing the prevalent crime wave is no easy one; and the conscientious officer is often harassed to find means of combating the spread of crime within his jurisdiction. Yet the public does not want convictions at the expense of justice.

On the one hand are the professional critics, crying to high Heaven for stricter law enforcement; on the other hand are the super-sentimentalists, who find an excuse for every criminal, however low. Somewhere between sentiment and malevolence and outside the "third degree" lies a treatment of suspects both just to society and humane to the subject. It is not the least important of the modern officer's jobs to find and to follow this road.—Enid Eagle.

PRISON REVOLVER BATTLE FAILS TO SHAKE COURAGE OF PHONE GIRL

Pistol shots do not frighten Mary E. Sullivan any more than crossed wires on the switchboard she operates at Maryland Penitentiary where she frustrated a "get-away" by screaming for help.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 4. (AP)—Being caught in the cross fire of pistols during an attempted escape of two prisoners from the Maryland penitentiary "was nothing" to Mary E. Sullivan, prison telephone operator.

Miss Sullivan said that the experience was no more exciting than being caught between a barrage of angry voices at the switchboard. Charles P. (Country) Carey, a "lifer," and Benjamin F. Spragins, convicted burglar, were headed for escape when they encountered two guards not far from her switchboard.

Insects Always Lose to Humans In Food War, Entomologists Find

(By The Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—In the eternal struggle between man and insect, human inventive genius will always win.

With the terse climax Dr. A. L. Quaintance, acting chief of the U. S. Bureau of Entomology, summarizes science's constant battle to offset nature's power of reproduction.

"Had it not been for entomology," Dr. Quaintance declares, "humanity might have perished and left behind giant insects, armored creatures not unlike our prehistoric monsters."

"All down the ages man has won self-preservation by defending the food he ate. His natural enemies have been the insects, destructive organisms that attacked his crops and livestock. While none has absolutely disappeared, man has beaten back the insects one by one.

"In recent years we had a definite example. Hessian fly, introduced in Revolutionary days, threatened our entire winter wheat production. Entomologists learned their habits. It was found late seeding robbed the young of food supply. Today the pest is thoroughly controlled.

"Similarly it was learned that calcium arsenate destroyed the boll weevil, tenacious enemy of the cotton crop. It still is dangerous, but the grower can control it.

"When civilization spread to Rocky Mountain regions, it found the potato beetle. Instantly that insect left the Nightshade, its native food, and followed a trail of potatoes east. The bugs multiplied to ravenous hordes. Imminent danger brought Paris green into the picture, and today the farmer has a weapon of defense.

"The same is true of San Jose scale, caused by tiny insects. It developed in Virginia and New Jersey nursery stock as early as 1890. Fruit trees died by thousands, and the scale swept on. Science gave the orchardist lime-sulphur wash. Scale now thrives through negligence or inefficient treatment."

Among newer battles are those against the European corn borer, the peach borer, the Japanese beetle and the oriental peach moth.

The latter is a serious insect pest, spreading rapidly and threatening to become an important problem. Its larvae feed on twigs and fruit. Dr. Quaintance discovered it in fruit from Arlington county, Virginia.

Paradichlorobenzene, a war-discovered chemical, poured around the base of infested trees will kill the peach borer, once a limiting factor in peach production. The borer girdles the tree at the ground and once causes $15,000,000 damage annually.

It is claimed that by intensive effort 95 per cent of the European corn borers in the United States have been destroyed.

Quarantine has been established east of Wilmington, Del., to control the Japanese beetle which flies far in search of food during late July and August. It has spread through the east, feeding on almost every grain, vegetable and fruit crop. Coated arsenate of lead is being tried for extermination. Two natural parasites, a fly and a wasp specie, have been imported from Japan to counteract prolific reproduction.

Outlook for Cotton Concerns Observers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4. (AP)—Department of Agriculture officials are concerned over the immediate future demand for United States cotton in continental Europe.

Government reports indicate that foreign textile industries are catching up with the demand. The French Spinners' association says that present activity can be maintained only at a loss. Italian cotton goods exports have been virtually cut off, and stocks are accumulating at the mills.

In Central Europe, however, particularly in Germany, consumer demands for cotton continues strong with no indication of an oversupply. Government observers here say there is no definite information on the amount of American cotton held in Europe, or whether the new crop will find a ready market abroad. It promises to be stronger than at first anticipated and is following the greatest single year of production in United States history.

Curtailed demand from foreign countries and a strong new crop added to last year's surplus may result in a future price reduction, authorities say.

Cattle Are Slightly Lower in Market At Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, Aug. 4.—Cattle receipts were light Tuesday, with only 2,100 cattle and 800 calves on sale and prices ruling steady with yesterday, or about fifteen cents lower for the week.

All classes of butcher cows are fully steady with the close of last week, choice fat cows selling from $6 to $6.50, with strictly fat kinds up to $6.75. Good kinds, $5.50 to $6, medium cows, $4.75 to $5.25; cutters, $4.25 to $4.75; canners, $3.75 to $4. Best white face stock cows, $5 to $5.40; red and aged white face stock cows, $4.50 to $5. Heifers are fully 25 cents higher than last week, both fat and stocker kinds. A good many suckling yearlings, on the baby beef order, have sold this week from $8.50 to $9.25. No choice grain fed baby beef here, but this kind would sell up to $11.00. Bulk of white face stocker heifers selling from $7.25 to $7.65, while fat heifers, of the same quality, sell from $8 to $8.50. Fat red heifers, $6.50 to $7.50; stocker kinds around $6. Common and Jersey kinds, $5 to $5.50.

Heavy and medium weight calves are about 25 cents lower than the close of last week, while veals are about steady. Best heavy and medium weight calves selling from $8.25 to $8.75, with choice veals up to $11. Bulk of the good veals selling from $10.50 to $10.75. Fat beef bulls up to $6.

Hog receipts very light, market today ruling five to ten cents lower. Top today was $10.85, the bulk of the best butcher hogs selling from $10.60 to $10.80.

Sheep steady. Best aged mutton quotable from $7.50 to $7.75; strictly fat yearlings, $10 to $10.50, with fleshy kinds, $9 to $9.50. Feeder yearlings, $8 to $8.50.

Deer Conquer Fear To Obtain Alfalfa

(By The Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Hunger is nature's common denominator. It tames the wildest deer and brings the stately elk to feed on man-made hay.

In the Kalbarh reservation 50,000 deer dart from man's approach in summer, for Montana grass is green, and their appetites are appeased. Yellowstone's 16,000 elk stamp in regal fright when the national park is verdant.

But winter comes, and with it forage is curtailed. Starvation stalks the herds. Deer overreach the Kalbarh food supply, nor can they move out, for the Grand Canyon halts them on one side and a desert on the other. The wild state wavers, and the deer turn to human friends.

All summer Uncle Sam has moved alfalfa for his hungry wards. They come to it for food and survive the winter.

St. Louis Browns To Clean House, Manager Ball Says

When Phil Ball, owner of the St. Louis Browns, expresses an opinion, he doesn't mean maybe, Mr. Ball is always very much in earnest when he speaks.

The other day the owner of the Browns, disappointed and disgusted at the showing of his club, announced that he would immediately start to scrap the entire club with very few exceptions. Said Phil Ball:

"The St. Louis club is full of players who have had every chance to make good in the majors and have failed. Also, there are several disturbers on the club, who haven't helped. The dead ones, as far as St. Louis is concerned, must go.

"Only four players of the 25 on the payroll are worth while and George Sisler isn't among them. He is still a great player but would do better elsewhere."

Mr. Ball admits the club has lost about $200,000 in the last two years. Of course that isn't very pleasant. However, that sum of money doesn't mean a great deal, as baseball is a mere sideline with him. What he wants is a winner.

May Keep These Two

It looks very much as if the St. Louis club would finish seventh this year. That is its position at present and the announcement by Mr. Ball that there are only four players worth retaining won't help the morale of the club or improve its play.

I am inclined to think that there is a guessing contest on among the players as to which four are certain as to their whereabouts for next season.

Looking over the personnel of the club, I am sure I can cut the four to two, by naming Harry Rice and Fred Shulte as two players certain to be held over for 1928.

Shulte is the young man who cost the Browns $100,000 last fall. He was just begging to prove he was worth that amount when he crashed into the concrete wall at the St. Louis park, suffering injuries that put him out of the game for the rest of the season.

Few outfielders in the majors have more natural ability than Harry Rice. He appears ripe to cash in on his assets.

Manager Dan Howley has, in Rice and Shulte, the basis for a really great outfield. Both of these players do everything well and are young in years.

Sisler May Go Away

Sisler is certain to be traded. Early this year three American clubs were dickering for him. The Browns should get some good material in return.

It is unfortunate that illness may end the career of Oscar Melillo. Few better infield prospects have ever broken into the majors than Melillo. He may beat his illness, pronounced as Bright's disease, and deliver.

Of the pitching staff, Milton Gaston will be much sought after should he be placed on the market. I wouldn't be surprised if he were one of the four to be retained.

Frank O'Rourke at third has been one of the most valuable players on the Browns. Secured for utility roles, he has more than made good. He seems certain of retention in that role if not as a regular.

While Wally Schang and Steve O'Neill are veteran catchers, both still have several years of good service in them.

On the surface it looks like an entire new infield for the Browns next season, one new man in the outfield and an entirely rejuvenated corps of pitchers, with some youthful material added to the catching staff.

New faces for a time at least will serve as a tonic to renew interest in American League baseball in St. Louis, which at present it at low ebb.

GRAIN CO-OPS INCREASE

There are more than 3,300 cooperative grain elevators in the United States, the department of agriculture estimates. Most of them are operated in Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, North Dakota, Minnesota, South Dakota, Ohio and Missouri. The total business handled by all cooperative grain marketing organizations in 1925 was $750,000,000, transacted for 520,000 members.

"LEACH" SALT DEPOSITS

"Leaching" has solved the alkali problem for irrigated lands, federal experts say. Irrigation water always contains salts, systematically deposited in the root zone by evaporation, as plants use the water. Application of more water than is needed, they say, leaches the salt from the root zone and carries it below the danger point.

An exploring expedition has discovered sets of dice and other gambling devices used six thousand years ago in Mesopotamia.

Jack Dempsey showed his self-possession and his ability to think quickly, outside of the ring as well as in, when he made an impromptu radio talk from his train at Atlanta, Ga. Jack was on his way to California after his victory over Jack Sharkey. He is shown here before the "mike." At the right he is welcoming Governor Hardman of Georgia to his car.

ATLANTA, Aug. 4. (AP)—Jack Dempsey may be a difficult person in the ring, but before the microphone he is easier to handle than the average 90-pound soprano.

Against the confusion of reporters, cameramen, railroad officials, confidential advisers and a great crowd of supporters, the former heavy-weight champion, enroute to California, went through an impromptu broadcast with the utmost good humor, poise and thoughtfulness when his train stopped in Atlanta.

Dempsey was riding the Crescent Limited from the scene of his victory over Jack Sharkey when WSB intercepted him with a telegram inviting him to greet the radio audience. A telephone at the Atlanta terminal station was to relay his voice to WSB's broadcasting studio.

Pandemonium swamped the observation car when he arrived—the kind of confusion and excitement which would confuse the ordinary artist. But Dempsey kept his head without effort.

"He turned down a mighty good speech I had written for him," said Lambdin Kay, director of WSB, "and said he would feel more natural talking for himself." He welcomed to his car the governor of Georgia, who was present to greet him, and plunged into his brief talk before the microphone without the least bit of radio-fright.

"When I asked him if he planned to retire after his battle with Tunney, he came back with the statement he had no other plans at present than to regain his old title. He said he whipped Sharkey fairly and expected to beat Tunney. He added that just then he was more interested in meeting Mrs. Dempsey than Mr. Tunney.

"Almost boyish in his eagerness to please, yet totally self-possessed, Dempsey was easy to handle before the microphone. I told him when he got through fighting I would give him a job as a radio announcer."

SPORT TALK

Manager Ed Gober of the Grays had a phone call from Hollis, Okla., wanting to know if the local team was going to enter in the Denver tournament as two of the boys on the Hollis team wish to sign with the Grays. Also, one of the Texas boys would come to Pampa, but funds are not available to enter the team.

The first money guarantee in the Denver tournament is $5,000 and barnstorming games can be played on the way to and from Denver. Homer Pace of Berger is after the Grays to enter from Berger and cop the money.

One of the best fight cards that has ever been presented by the Pampa Athletic club will be staged Monday night when some of the fastest boys in the country will be matched. "Rusty" Cahill will head the list with Freddy Whittington as the second man in the ring.

Lou Gehrig is now undisputed home run king of all leagues. He drove out two yesterday and now leads Babe Ruth by three.

The veteran Jess Haines won his sixteenth game of the season yesterday when he defeated Brooklyn 4 to 0. Paul Waner helped his Pittsburgh nine defeat Philadelphia with a long home run with two on.

When the Philadelphia Athletics took both ends of a double header from Cleveland yesterday, Ty Cobb found his batting eye again and hit four out of seven.

Miss Lilla Cabot Grew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Clark Grew of Washington, was married at Hancock, N. H., recently to Jay Pierrepont Moffat, first secretary of the United States Legation at Ottawa.

SKIRTS NOW CREAMED LIKE MEN'S TROUSERS
 LONDON, Aug. 4. (AP)—Trousers creases are the latest among the fair sex of London's smart set.
 The creases are ironed into the skirts of gray-flannel suits now popular with British society women, and run from waist to hem on each side. Despite the "trouser creases," however, dressmakers say there is nothing masculine about the suit.
 A gray felt hat, worn with the outfit, has a wide brim and is ornamented with a silver hatpin.

GUILTY

they may take precautions against possible anti-American acts.

A criminal case which has echoed through the world began when Frederick A. Parmenter, paymaster at the shoe factory of the Slater and Morrill company in South Braintree, Mass., and his guard, Alexander Berardelli, were shot to death at the door of the factory on April 15, 1920. Bandits who had driven to the factory in an automobile seized the factory payroll of several thousand dollars which Parmenter had brought from a bank and escaped.
 Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti entered the case with their arrest on charges of murder on May 5, 1920. Almost immediately there started the efforts to bring about their liberation, which spread over more than seven years and extended to Europe, Central and South America.

Mistaken identity was the claim set forth by the supporters of the two men. Even before they were brought to trial, it became known that Sacco, a Stroughton shoe worker, and Vanzetti, a Plymouth fish dealer, had radical affiliations.

They were indicted on September 11, 1920, and at their trial which started at Dedham on May 31, 1921, both admitted that they were radicals. When the jury on July 14, 1921, brought in a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree, the Sacco-Vanzetti defense committee which had been organized to finance their defense asserted that the jurors had convicted the men because they were radicals and not because the evidence had shown that they had committed the murders.

Judge Webster Thayer of the superior court, whose home is in Worcester, presided at the trial. Fred H. Moore of San Francisco was chief counsel for the defense. Sentence was stayed pending motions for a new trial.

On December 24, 1921, Judge Thayer denied the first of these motions. At about the same time there occurred the first of a series of demonstrations in foreign countries by sympathizers with Sacco and Vanzetti, in the form of a protest by a labor committee at Milan, Italy.

In the years that the case dragged along there were Sacco-Vanzetti demonstrations, some of them accompanied by the placing of bombs, in the vicinity of the American embassies at Paris and Buenos Aires, the American legation at Montevideo and other places in Europe, Mexico and South America.

Lengthy Arguments
 Several supplementary motions for a new trial were filed from time to time. In March, 1923, Arthur Hill, one of Sacco's counsel, said that Judge Thayer was in no way responsible for the delays in the case. Lengthy arguments on the motions were made in October and November, 1923 and in October, 1924. Judge Thayer refused all motions.

Meanwhile Vanzetti was in the state prison. Before his indictment for murder he had been convicted of the attempted robbery of a shoe factory paymaster in Bridgewater earlier in the same year and sentenced to a term of 12 to 15 years. Judge Thayer presided at that trial also.

Sacco had been held in the Norfolk county jail at Dedham. There in February and March, 1923, he conducted a month's hunger strike. Finally three alienists were called in to examine him and on their report he was removed to the Psychopathic hospital in Boston. There he was forcibly fed once, then abandoned the strike from which he appeared to have suffered no serious effects.

While in the Boston institution Sacco attempted suicide by striking his head against a piece of furniture. Only a slight wound was inflicted. The alienists on March 27, 1923, declared him sane and he was recommitted to the Dedham jail.

In December, 1924, the question of Vanzetti's sanity was brought up. In January, 1925, he was taken to the Bridgewater state hospital for observation. He was found sane in April of that year and was returned to the state prison.

Moore withdrew as counsel for the two men in November, 1924, and Thomas F. and N. J. McAnarney, who had been associated with him, withdrew a month later. William G. Thompson of Boston was engaged as counsel to argue before the Massachusetts supreme court an appeal from Judge Thayer's refusal of a new trial.

Celestino Madeiros entered the case in January, 1926. Madeiros was in the state prison, under sentence of death for the murder of James E. Carpenter, a Wrentham bank cashier, in November, 1924. In a lengthy statement he asserted that members of the "Morelli gang" of Providence, R. I., with which he had been associated, committed the South Braintree murders and that Sacco and Vanzetti had nothing to do with the shooting.

Motions Denied
 On the basis of this statement defense counsel filed further motions for a new trial, which were denied by Judge Thayer in October, 1926. On the representation that he might be needed as a witness, Madeiros thrice was granted respites before the Massachusetts supreme court, which previously had overruled exceptions to Judge Thayer's refusal to grant a new trial on other grounds, finally on April 5, 1927, upheld his decision on the Madeiros motions.

On April 5, Sacco and Vanzetti were taken to the Dedham court-house and sentenced by Judge Thayer to die in the electric chair at the state prison in the week of July 10. In the courtroom both made dramatic pleas, asserting their innocence. They openly accused the judge of prejudice and of influencing the jury against them.

Then Governor Alvan T. Fuller became the center of interest in the case. His office was deluged with letters, telegrams and cablegrams from all parts of the world. The majority of these communications, which came from persons of all classes including many clergymen and college professors, urged the governor either to pardon the two men, commute their sentences or appoint a committee of citizens to make an impartial investigation into the whole case. Some of them, however, asked him not to interfere with the court's decree. Occasionally there came a threat of violence.

Asked For Justice
 In due course, counsel for the condemned men carried petitions to the governor, asking for his intervention. In a long, written plea, Vanzetti asked not for a "pardon" but for "justice." Sacco refused to sign the petition in his behalf and Mr. Thompson, in filing the plea for clemency, explained that he felt that the long nervous strain had brought about a mental attitude for which Sacco was not altogether responsible. An alienist indicated that he found Sacco abnormal in certain respects, and the governor was asked to consider the plea, even if Sacco had refused to sign it.

Accompanying the petition of the counsel for the defense were five affidavits by newspaper writers who had been assigned to the trial, and others, who affirmed that Judge Thayer, during the trial, had spoken outside the court room in language that showed he was prejudiced against the defendants.

The Governor began a personal investigation into the case. On June 1 he announced that he had appointed an advisory committee to make a separate investigation. This committee was composed of President A. Lawrence Lowell of Harvard University, President Samuel W. Stratton of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and former Judge Robert Grant of the probate court, who also was widely known as an author.

Respite Is Granted
 June 29, with the approval of the executive council, Governor Fuller granted a respite to Sacco, Vanzetti and Madeiros "to and including August 10." In a statement he said this completed, the plant, with the parsonage, will represent an expenditure of more than $75,000.

The Baptist plans call for the immediate erection of a two-story Sunday school building just east of the present structure. The congregation instructed its building committee, composed of Charlie Barrett, Tom Rose, Wilson Hatcher, O. H. Gilstrap and F. T. Mason, to have plans prepared to care for the finances and let the contract.

The building will be of brick and tile, 40 by 96 feet in size. The front will be of beautiful design, and will harmonize with whatever later structure is built. The first floor will be constructed for and leased to the Malone Furniture and Undertaking company. It will be used exclusively for a funeral home. There will be a stock room, show room, lavatory, rest rooms, office and parlor 22 by 30 feet in size.

Modern S. S. Plant.
 The second story will be for Sunday school use. The entrance will be by stairway on the west side. About 2 1/2 Sunday school rooms will be provided, in addition to two large assembly rooms. Every facility desirable in the modern Sunday school plant will be provided. Later, when an auditorium is built, the Sunday school annex will be directly connected. Moreover, should the first floor ever be used by the church, it will be conveniently adaptable to Sunday school use.

Tentative plans were discussed and approved last night, and according to the Rev. D. H. Truhitte, pastor, work should begin at an early date.

These large church projects will go far toward meeting the great need of Pampa congregations. Local Catholics will start a $15,000 building soon. The Assembly of God and the Presbyterian Church have completed new plants.

was done "for the reason that the task of reviewing the evidence and record (approximately 7,000 pages) and interviewing witnesses (nearly 200) cannot well be completed by July 10."

The separate investigations proceeded, a large number of witnesses being called before the governor and the advisory committee.

The governor's advisory committee invited counsel for the government and the defense to call witnesses who had not testified during the trial. This action was construed as opening to the defense lines of evidence that were barred under technicalities in the court procedure.

On July 17 Sacco and Vanzetti began a hunger strike. They refused food for a week. Then Vanzetti partook of a single meal and thereafter rejoined Sacco in his refusal to accept food.

Governor Fuller visited the state prison on July 22 and interviewed Sacco, Vanzetti, and Madeiros. Vanzetti, the last of the three to be brought into the warden's office, talked with the governor for an hour. Afterward the governor announced that he would make a second visit to the prison.

The advisory committee completed its hearing of witnesses on July 21. It heard arguments on July 25 by Attorney Thompson, Herbert G. Ehrmann, associate defense counsel, and Dudley P. Ranney, assistant district attorney of Norfolk county, and then was ready to draw up its report.

Lions Will Erect "Drive Slow" Signs Near High School

"Drive Slow" signs will be erected adjacent to the high school grounds, it was decided by the Pampa Lions at their luncheon today. Plans for erection of the signs were announced by the Rev. Tom W. Brabham.

The club pledged its support to the Harvesters, high school athletes. Coach Verde Dickie told the club the prospects for a winning football team are very good.

Rev. Utton, who is visiting his son, W. C. Upton, told of the remarkable progress of Arizona. Phoenix, he said, is the most rapidly growing city in the nation. He also called attention to church building in Pampa, and urged wholehearted support of construction projects.

Compromise Is Effected In Parker Case Early Today

The civil case of Parker vs. Parker was settled by compromise out of court early today after testimony had been virtually completed in a night session yesterday.

A forgery case was started this morning and it is expected to be completed today.

Trial of Ranger Jack DeGraftenreid on a charge of assaulting a Hutchinson county deputy sheriff with intent to murder will be begun at 9 o'clock tomorrow.

HOUSEHOLD HELPS

Several times a year, or whenever the waste water runs away slowly from the kitchen sink, washbub, or other plumbing, the pipes should be well flushed with boiling water to cut the grease. That should be followed by a strong solution of caustic potash (lye) or caustic soda. Half an hour later the pipes should be flushed again with clear, boiling water.

Mock duck is a palatable, inexpensive, baked meat. It really is a flank steak stuffed with a bread crumb dressing, rolled, tied and baked. The meat is rolled lengthwise so that in carving it is cut across the muscle.

Milk, vegetables and fruit are most helpful in increasing what physicians call alkaline reserve in the human system. Most of these are acid when eaten, but this acid is in a form which is burned in the body and releases the alkaline substances held in combination. Bananas are especially valuable for increasing the alkaline reserve.

So-called household methods for "setting" the colors in fabrics are largely a waste of time and material. No successful household methods of setting the colors in dyed fabrics are known. Manufacturers, however, have been steadily improving the processes of dyeing fabrics, so that most colored goods are fast in washing. The best way is to try a small sample before buying, both for sun fading and water fading.

Pressure cookers make it possible to prepare whole wheat grains for a breakfast food. The wheat grains are covered with 1 1/2 times as much water by measure, soaked over night and cooked under 20 to 25 pounds of pressure for one hour, or longer if very soft grains are desired.

Egg yolk usually is rich in iron. Prunes, raisins, orange juice, green vegetables, especially spinach, also are valuable sources of iron. Liver has been shown to be an excellent source of this important constituent.

Chocolate that appears white on the outside has been kept in an over-warm place, so that some of the fat has melted and come to the surface. It is not injured in any way for use.

To cook string beans deliciously, shred them finely and give them a short, quick cooking in a comparatively small amount of lightly salted water. Remove the tips, ends and strings and cut the beans lengthwise into long, thin shreds, using a pair of scissors.
