HEAVY SHOT IS PUT TODAY IN ATLANTIC TEST

840 Quarts Placed in Coombs-Worley Near Saunders

THIS WILL BE SECOND BLAST

Campbell Well Now Is Drilling in City Limits

At 6 o'clock today Jimmie King, shooter for the Barton Torpedo company, will use a shot of 840 quarts of nitro in the Atlantic Oil company's No. 1 Coombs-Worley in section 89, block 8.

The well was shot with 340 quarts from 2,047 to 2,052 feet about two weeks ago, but without result, so the company drilled deeper and now has a heavy showing of oil at two levels. This shot will be one of the heaviest used in the Pampa field for several months.

The Pampa Oil company's No. 1 W. E. Campbell in section 90, block 8 within the city limits, has recommenced drilling after being shut down for two weeks waiting for eight-inch pipe.

The are drilling in salt at 1,400 feet today and the well is logging with the Gulf No. 1 Saunders.

Hameed's Buick Is Ruined and Then Left Near Hedley

A large Master Six Buick sedan stolen from F. S. Hameed Monday night was recovered yesterday near Hedley, but was so badly damaged that it will be of no further use. The car had been left in front of Mr. Hameed's store and was quietly taken during business hours.

When found the car was facing Pampa and abandoned in a ditch. The body had not been damaged, but the engine was completely ruined. It had been driven 1,500 miles, without oil, since being stolen and the bearings were burned out, the block cracked, and the car so badly damaged that it is nearly worthless.

It is thought by officers that the car had been stolen by bootleggers and then abandoned after a load had been delivered. Mr. Hameed had the car partly covered by insurance.

I. C. C. Experts In Favor of Readjusted Rates on Cotton

(By The Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, July 27.—After an investigation of proposals of certain Southwestern railroads to readjust rates on cotton to Eastern trunk line territory, experts today recommended that railroads concerned should be generally permitted to make changes desired.

The railroads concerned are those operating through the southwest on more circuitous lines than competitors.

Dry Head Killed From Ambush By Moonshiners Today

(By The Associated Press.) HAGERSTOWN, Md., July 27.—Ambushed by moonshiners last night, E. Stoller, 52 years old, of Keyser, W. Va., head of the dry agents in Washington, Allegheny, and Garrett counties, was shot to death today.

His companion, R. E. Walters of Hagerstown, another dry investigator, escaped and notified authorities here.

Fuller Pitches Brilliantly As Grays Eliminate Laundrymen From Amarillo Baseball Tourney, 7-3

AMARILLO, July 27.—Efty Fuller, Pampa Grays' brilliant hurler, struck out 12 Panhandle Laundry players here yesterday afternoon and eliminated the Amarilloans from the 1927 Panhandle baseball tournament, 7 to 3. It was one of the best exhibitions of the tourney and marked the beginning of the sifting process.

The left-hander from Borger had his low drop working well and the Amarillo boys couldn't get the ball out of the dirt. It was an improved Laundry team which faced the locals, and Edwards forced the Grays to connect solidly to get hits.

Today two former winners, Lone Wolf and Hollis, are expected to put up a great battle, and Midland is out to defeat Austin Drug company. Texon, in defeating Shamrock 17 to 4, yesterday looked like a strong championship contender.

Amarillo Took Lead.
The Panhandle Laundrymen took the lead from the Grays in early innings yesterday, but in the fourth Pampa came from behind with two safe blows and tied the score. In the sixth they cinched the game when Gaither and Gober scored.

Red Gaither was the big noise in the Grays' victory. The red-thatched boy got a double and two singles in yesterday's contest, while Narrein helped himself to a triple and a single, "Hook" Shaw, so far picked as the best catcher in the tournament, was on his toes every minute and bids fair to get the prize for the most valuable player, so Charlie Hall says.

Skeet Gibson and Red Hamilton were the only members of the Laundry team who could hit Fuller's curves, and they got four of the seven blows collected. Nicklaus was by far the best man on the Amarillo team.

Ruth and Powers were everywhere after balls yesterday and Big Chief Tracey of the Texans is said to be ready to get the Pampa shortstop's signature on the dotted line after the tournament.

The Grays will likely face their rivals, Claude, tomorrow afternoon, and the fur should fly. Eckhardt will likely be on the mound for Claude, and Ketchum for the Grays.

First Inning.
Pampa—Powers flied out to Westbrook. Hines fanned. Narrein was safe on Lassiter's error. Gaither popped to third. No runs, no hits, one error.

Panhandle Laundry — Nicklaus was out, Hines to Clarke. Rigney walked, but Shaw caught him trying to steal. Lassiter flied out to Narrein. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Second Inning.
Pampa—Clarke fanned on a disputed ball above his head. Gober fanned. Ruth tripled to the left field fence. Shaw walked. On an attempted double-steal Ruth, was

British Delegates Return To Naval Conference Today

(By The Associated Press.) LONDON, July 27.—W. C. Bridgeman, first lord of the British admiralty, and Viscount Cecil left for Geneva today to participate in the resumption of the naval conference.

They had been in London a week, having come from Geneva to place before the cabinet a report on the status of the naval parity, and to obtain further instructions for their continuance.

LONDON, July 27.—Sir Austen Chamberlain, foreign secretary, in a statement regarding the naval conference today, said in his opinion the government there should find no difficulty in arriving at a temporary arrangement regarding the immediate future of cruiser building.

He added, however, that the British empire could not be asked to give to any such temporary arrangement the appearance of an immutable principle, which might be treated as a precedent.

Prominent Solons At Variance On Tax Reduction

(By The Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, July 27.—While in accord with the feeling that there is no necessity in tax reduction, Republican and Democratic leading members of the house ways and means committee, Representatives Green of Iowa, its chairman, and Garner of Texas, ranking minority member, in published views today show a divergence of opinion on the amount and methods of cutting levies.

The representatives in an article in the Nation's Business magazine concurred that the corporation tax should be reduced but Green believed an important cut should be for incomes under $500,000 while Garner stressed the repeal nuisance and automobile levies.

Lynn Boyd Tells Rotarians Pampa Is Known Far and Near

Owing to the absence of president C. C. Cook of the local Rotary club, Lynn Boyd was in the chair today. He made a talk to the club members and their guests on the opinions held of Pampa in various sections of the country. He said Pampa is in the eyes of the people of Oklahoma and many other states.

M. K. Brown told of the progress being made in the Boy Scout movement in Pampa and A. H. Doucette explained the Community Boys institute to be held August 4 and 5.

Father M. G. French, in charge of the Catholic church of White Deer and Pampa, pledged his support to the city.

Bill Ellis, Panhandle Rotarian, complimented Pampa on the local Rotary club.

Visiting Rotarians were R. F. Surratt, D. C. Stone, Bill EMis, and J. H. Walker, all of Panhandle.

Other visitors were N. Carpenter, Oklahoma City; W. M. Lewright, Pampa; and Father French, White Deer.

Pastor's Wife Is Found Dead Today In Home Bathroom

(By The Associated Press.) MEMPHIS, July 27.—Mrs. Ella Armstrong, wife of the Rev. W. W. Armstrong, pastor of the Galloway Memorial Methodist church, was found dead in her gas filled bathroom in her home today.

The pastor, who was beside her, was taken to a hospital and is in a serious condition.

Police are reported to have listed her death as suicide, and to have said the minister was overcome trying to drag her from the room.

Slayer of Denton County Farmer Is Pleading Guilty

DENTON, July 27.—Willie Robinson, alias Jesse Brinkley, a negro, entered a plea of guilty here today when he went on trial for murder in connection with the shooting of J. C. Terrill, Denton county farmer, at Justin.

It was expected that the expected penalty will be imposed upon the negro late today.

NEGRO SHOTS ANOTHER SHINER, July 27. (AP)—Eljah Johnson was shot and killed instantly here today, and George Holt, surrendered to officers. Both men were negroes.

Cal and Hoover Talk Flood

Recommending federal aid in the levee reconstruction program throughout the Mississippi valley, Secretary Herbert Hoover is shown here after his conference in the Black Hills with President Coolidge. Hoover told the president state legislatures were unable to bear the entire burden of the cost.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY HINTS VALUED BY WORKMEN LAYING EMPIRE GAS LINE TO KANSAS

METHODIST MASS MEETING IS POSTPONED ONE WEEK

Mr. and Mrs. Tom W. Brabham left today for Rusk, Texas, to attend the funeral of Mrs. Brabham's aunt, who died this morning. They will return Friday.

Because of the pastor's absence, the mass meeting to have been held by the First Methodist church tonight has been postponed one week.

Queen Marie Will Visit This Country As Private Person

(By The Associated Press.) BUCHAREST, July 27.—Queen Marie has decided to visit the United States again.

She hopes to start soon after the period of mourning for King Ferdinand is over, she told the Associated Press today.

In a conversation with a correspondent, the queen said she wished to travel next time as a private person, so she could go where she pleased and do as she wished without being a burden to state and municipal authorities. She also said she would avoid quarrels among her followers.

Road House Man Killed in Chicago

(By The Associated Press.) CHICAGO, July 27.—Frank Hitchcock, owner of a road house in the Burnham suburb, was found shot to death today.

His body was in the south part of the city, and he had been shot in the back of the head.

EX-DE MOLAY DANCE WILL BE TONIGHT

The regular semi-monthly ex-De Molay dance, postponed from last night because of conflicting dates, will be held tonight at Danceland hall, in the basement of the Brunow building.

The organization has secured Frank Walkers Coloradoans to furnish music for the dance. This orchestra is among the best known in the Southwest, having just completed an engagement at Medicine Park and being on route to Albuquerque, N. M. Dancing will start at 9 o'clock.

Anyway the pessimist doesn't engage you by looking on the bright side when you are having a good time being a martyr.

D'GRAFFENREID WILL DECLARE SELF DEFENSE

Captain Hamer And Calhoun On Way To Trial

BORGER MEN NOW IN AUSTIN

Rev. Tillson Declares Reputation of City Unjustified

The trial of Ranger Jack DeGraffenreid on a charge of assault with intent to murder has been moved up to tomorrow, instead of Monday, it was learned at Stinnett last night.

DeGraffenreid, a local man, left here this morning for Amarillo, where he was to meet Ranger Captain Frank Hamer, Assistant Attorney-General Calhoun, and possibly other Rangers. Captain Hamer and Calhoun are expected to advise DeGraffenreid's defense. It is understood that the state administration believes the Ranger was justified and will support him in the trial.

According to DeGraffenreid, the deputy sheriff made the first move and then pulled a pistol, which was shot from his hand. Reports from Borger are at variance.

Ass Ramsey, Borger banker, and his committee are now in Austin with a big petition asking the removal of all Rangers at the oil town. They argue that the trouble between Rangers and county officers is a personal one, and that it is no evidence that the Rangers are needed.

The general belief in Borger is that the state has not produced sufficient evidence to justify the attitude now held. Cited today was the report of the Rev. L. N. Tillson, Congregationalist field worker, who has been making a religious survey of the city. Rev. Tillson stated that in his careful survey he found reports about Borger greatly exaggerated. While he found some conditions which good citizens would desire to have corrected, the whole city, he declared, is very orderly and little deserves the reputation attributed to it. He recently took a survey here.

Pop Plans Polar Dash

Many a hardy explorer has gone into the polar wastes and never returned. Starvation and cold have written more last chapters in the lives of explorers than the explorers ever lived to write in words.

But danger is the very thing that has induced Pop Gunn, of the "Mom 'n' Pop" comic strip, to sign up for a dash to the south pole. He's determined to show Mom that he is no apriltless milkop, even if he has to trek through hundreds of miles of ice floes to prove it.

Follow the story every day on the comic page of The Daily News. Even on these hot days, it will make you shiver just to think about the adventure Pop and the captain are planning.

Former War Scribe Found Dead Today

(By The Associated Press.) CHICAGO, July 27.—Christian Hagerty, newspaper man and former war correspondent, was found shot to death in the Commonwealth hotel today.

He had been an invalid for several years.

AMBASSADOR INSTALLED DUBLIN, July 27. (AP)—Frederick Sterling was formally installed today as first American minister to the Irish Free State.

Gober Out of Baseball With a Sprained Ankle

The chances of the Pampa Grays to get in the big money at the Amarillo tournament look brighter, as the boys have been hitting the ball and fielding exceptionally well. In two hard-fought games they have a team batting average of .357 and a fielding average of .975. They are first in fielding and second in batting of the teams entered in the tournament. Texon, with two easy games under its belt, is batting .382.

Manager Ed Gober severely sprained his right ankle yesterday afternoon in the game with Panhandle Laundry and had to have it placed in a plaster cast this morning. He will be out of the game for the balance of the tournament.

The accident occurred in the fourth inning when Gober stole second and Gibson fell on his leg. Gober scored on the play and continued the game, but dropped after the ninth inning and had to be carried to his car. Stockman or Reynolds will be in right field for the balance of the series.

PANHANDLE WELL WILL BE DRILLED BY AGERS

Refuting reports to the contrary, W. A. Agers, drilling contractor, said today that he will complete the Dees well at Panhandle.

Drilling, he said, has been delayed while awaiting for casing.

Texans Open Denver Series With Easy Win Over Bears

DENVER, July 27.—Sixteen hits off one Denver pitcher were amassed by the Texans here yesterday in defeating the Bears, 7 to 5.

Lyons was sent to the showers in the eighth by a barrage of Denver hits, which resulted in four runs. This single rally was the Bears' only serious threat.

Swansboro, Nufer, and Gonsales were the big hitters, and Stormy Davis got a homer.

SPORT TALK

When the management of the Amarillo Tournament started to pick their umpires they must have gone all over the states and picked the worst. Everyone knows McNally is as blind as a bat. He is crude in his decisions and it is a crime that ball teams should have to play with such umpiring.

When it came to hitting, Galther and Narrein were slugging the ball yesterday and Shaw is in third place in the batting order of the tournament. Ruth had a triple yesterday to keep up his average.

Lefty Fuller showed the boys from Amarillo what good pitching really is in yesterday's game. It is admitted in Amarillo that Pampa has the best pitching of any team in the tournament. Fuller had 12 strikeouts yesterday and could have had more, but he didn't exert himself.

Grandstander Skeet Gibson covered himself with glory yesterday. He would look at the grandstand to see that the fans were looking and then go after impossible balls. He was lucky, missing only one in his long rampages.

This Texon ball club is the team to beat for first money and all the teams left are hoping they don't draw the oil town team till after they are in the money. But they may not look too good against good pitching. They have been slugging amateur pitching all along and will get a surprise later.

It took 12-innings for Dallas to defeat Wichita Falls yesterday, but they finally succeeded, 5 to 4. Fort Worth is still traveling, and with Joe Pate back is apt to win some games. They are too far behind first place to get there this season, however.

Ruth and Gehrig celebrated yesterday with home runs galore. The hambino got two and Gehrig one to place the Babe one in the lead. Ruth had seven safe blows in eight times at bat.

Rumania Puts Babe On Throne

Infant King Michael of Roumania

BUCHAREST, Rumania, July 27. (AP)—At the age when most youngsters are learning to put their blocks together to spell words, five-year-old Michael of Rumania has been made the ruler of his people.

The lad is the youngest king a European nation has had in recent history, but for the present the duties of the crown will not call him from his toys, for a regency council has been chosen to guide the nation until the infant King Michael is 18.

Michael is a grandson of the late King Ferdinand, whom he succeeds, and Queen Marie. His father is Prince Carol, who forfeited the crown by deserting his royal wife, Princess Helene of Greece, Michael's mother, to wed a commoner.

The life of a king promises to be an unusual one for Rumania's infant ruler, just as his life thus far has been unusual—for it had been virtually determined for many months that Michael would ascend to the throne on the death of Ferdinand. Young though he is, the boy speaks English and French as well as the language of his native land, and he is guarded by three nurses, from as many lands.

Henceforth he must lead an even more cloistered life, in training for active assumption of the kingship. Already, the Rumanian people say, there is a hint of sadness in his blue eyes.

Always Wins More Than He Loses

GROVER CLEVELAND ALEXANDER

ST. LOUIS, July 27. (AP)—Grover Cleveland Alexander, dean of National league hurlers and the fellow who did more than a little to bring the Cardinals their first championship and world title last year, is the proud owner of at least one record seldom attained by a major circuit gunner.

Big Alex, now in his seventeenth big time campaign, has never finished a season without winning more games than he has lost. The feat is all the more noteworthy, considering the fact that the veteran pitcher has been on but two pennant winners and for the most part performed with clubs far removed from the top.

Alexander made his major league debut with the Phillies in 1911. His start was auspicious, winning 25 games and losing 13. He stayed with the Phillies until 1918 when he was traded to the Cubs along with his battery-mate, Bill Killefer, for $55,000 and players, Dillhoefer and Prendergast.

In the middle of the 1926 campaign, the Cubs, figuring they could get along without Alex, asked waivers on him. The Cards immediately grabbed him. Alexander, given a new lease on life, turned out to be the ace in the Hornsby deck. Alex has won 20 or more games on eight occasions. Three times he passed or reached the 30-victory class. Oddy enough, he turned them in in consecutive seasons, getting 31 in 1915, 33 in 1916 and 30 in 1917.

The nearest he came to spoiling his record of chalking up more wins than losses during a season was in 1918 when he took part in but three games, winning two and losing one. In 1915 he hung up a mark of 1.22 earned runs per game, one of the best ever compiled in the old circuit. Three other times he allowed less than two earned tallies to the fringes.

Remarkable control has long been one of Alexander's biggest assets. He's been uncanny in his ability to shoot the ball over the plate just where he wants it.

In 1925 Grover issued but 30 passes in 39 games, pitching 395 innings. Twice in the last three seasons he has dished out less than 30 walks to the campaign, though not being in as many frays as in 1923 when he established his premier performance.

Alexander has been in two world series, winning and losing one game while hurling for the Phillies against

Prairie Dogs And Rabbits Hurt Wheat

Grassy pasture ranges are the natural feeding grounds of prairie dogs. In eating the most nutritious grasses the compete with the domestic livestock for which pasturage is provided and destroy from 50 to 85 percent of the more palatable grasses. Prairie dogs in a pasture adjacent to a wheat field, however, cause still greater damage, because they will invade the wheat field at fall sowing and will mow down all vegetation near their burrows whether needed for food or not. During the spring and winter they nibble at the tender leaves, and when the stem shoots up they like the joints of the stem and at one bite break it down. After the wheat reaches the dough stage they prefer the head and so literally mow down the wheat to get at the heads. Sometimes this cutting is as definite and clear as if a man had cut out a swath with a scythe. Prairie dogs will also feed on other grain crops near their colonies, but their damage to wheat is tremendous.

Jack rabbits, also, have their natural feeding grounds on pasture and grass ranges six or seven jack rabbits consume as much forage daily as one sheep. In wheat fields the damage they do is comparable to that of prairie dogs. Other crops suffer too, because of the variety of plant food rabbits will eat. The Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture is furnishing in cooperative control campaigns in States where these rodents have become pests, in order to eradicate them entirely from crop areas. The cooperation of all counties concerned is enlisted, and poisoned baits are prepared and distributed at cost. Instructions are given on the best method of covering the acreage involved so that the days of the prairie dog there shall be numbered, and the jack rabbit population limited to what is desirable from the point of view of game.

AN HONEST DRIVER

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 27. — W. A. Dearing, haled into police headquarters for violating a parking ordinance, told the lieutenant he had to go into a store to collect a bill and simply took a chance on getting arrested.

"There's at least one honest automobile driver," the lieutenant said, and tore up the ticket.

the Boston Rex Sox in 1915 and gaining two victories in the Cardinals' unexpected triumph over the Yankees last fall. He also saved the final game in the 1926 classic, striking out Lazzari with the bases full after taking the mound in a relief role.

Alexander is 40 and has been playing professionally since 1909. He made his pro debut with Galveston in the Illinois-Missouri league.

CALIFORNIA COACH AGAINST SHIFT RULE

BERKELEY, Cal. (AP)—Peering around the bend into the 1927 football season, Coach C. M. 'Nip' Price of the University of California can see only confusion as the result of the enforcement of the "one second stop" shift rule.

The newest regulation was designed to bring players to a complete halt between the shift and the snapping of the ball into play. Price argues that the officials will be so occupied in timing a halt that they are apt to overlook far more important fouls. He thinks also those in charge will hesitate in inflicting the provided 15-yard penalty because of its severity. That the team carrying the ball will be favored when there is doubt as to the length of the stop and many times the foul will not be called. He believes the rule is likely to be revoked after a season's trial.

EUROPEAN GOLF TAKES

TURN TOWARD FREAKISH

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP)—The ancient conservative game of golf on this side of what Ohio tourists call the "mill pond" has taken a turn toward the freakish. Instead of the old conventional game of driving and putting a ball around an eighteen-hole course, golfers have taken themselves to side-issues.

Some time ago seven archers shot over a golf course at marks the size of a golf hole, against seven golfers who played in the usual way, the archers won by 4 1/4 to 2 1/2.

At Le Touquet attempt was made to play golf out of airplanes, the balls being dropped by passengers as near the holes as possible.

HELEN WILLS STANDS FOR AMATEUR SPORT

"If I were as poor as a church mouse I should not become a professional. I cannot quite understand how anyone can play such a good game when he or she knows that the prize will be received whether the game is won or lost."

The speaker was Helen Wills, the little "poker face" of the tennis world, and her words will not make her any less popular among the lovers of her favorite game.

Tennis was not popular with the general public until a few years ago, but its enthusiasts were very jealous of the reputation of their game and their propaganda had a good effect.

When tennis was proven to be a game worthy of the best skill of man or woman, and Big Bill Tilden started his unbroken string of victories, the sporting public started congregating en masse. It began to pay to see Tilden on the stage. Vincent Richards found the call of the professional career too strong, and Mlle. Lenglen took a liking to our dollars.

The cynic will say that Miss Wills is foolish now, but will come around to a final understanding of the game before she loses her appeal. This may be doubted, for there is something in the girl's temperament that makes her opinions stick and inspires them in the first place.

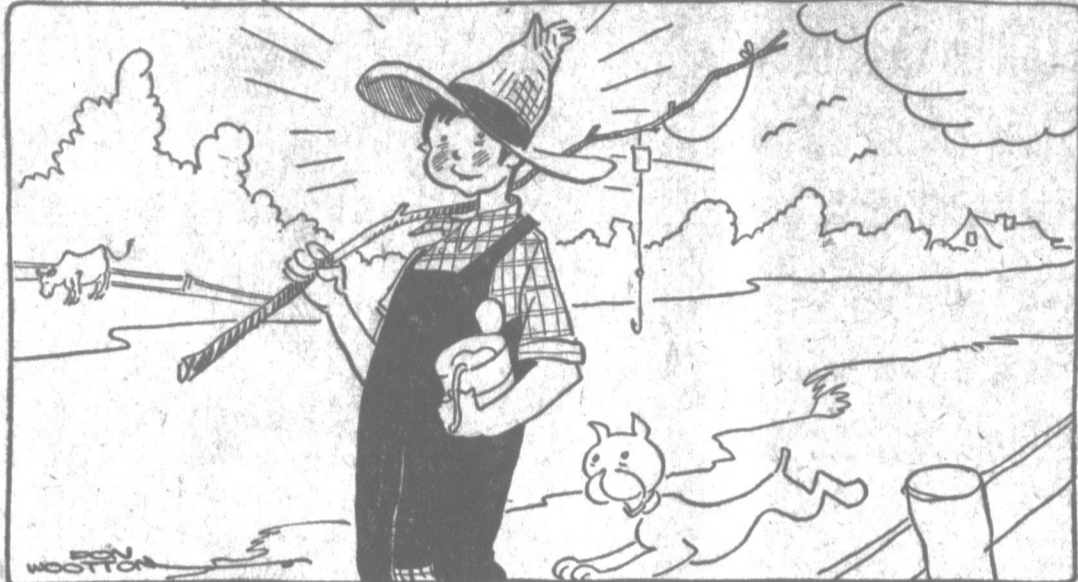

Yet tennis as a career does not offer much remuneration unless it is professional. Amateur athletics is not a vocation and should not be so considered. Professional athletics, for those who can earn a good living, should not be too strongly criticized. But the two phases of sports should be strongly differentiated.

The deplorable part of professionalism is that it tends to injure amateur sports. People like to see extraordinary skill, and the professional has the best opportunity to obtain and exhibit that excellence. But the love of the public for clean and wholesome sport for sport's sake should preserve the standing of amateur athletes.

Sometimes it looks like there is really nothing worthy of praise but willingness to work and even that good trait can be misapplied.

More coal is being mined here right now than any mid-summer for many years. — Henryetta Free-Lance.

Which Is The Real King

HANDLING A BOOM DIFFICULT PROBLEM

Midland and Odessa are in the midst of building booms analogous to that Pampa enjoyed during the last year.

Midland has a slogan: "Everyone build a house for rent."

The inevitable shacks will no doubt appear in the two cities named, and they will serve their purpose well. But in the main, shacks are for the first flush of a boom and the building of substantial residences should be encouraged from the start. It requires only a little faith in the future of a community to start on the way for permanency.

Nothing is greater asset to a community than general belief in its future. Pampa is building well along this line, and far and near one hears people expressing faith in this community. Fortunately the most active drilling at this time is in Gray county, this territory is producing from expanding proven structures, and the people through their votes are erecting white ways, building schools, extending water and sewer mains, and paving the streets.

Last week the Associated Press carried the bond election news filed here, and within a few hours a great daily downstate wired a member of the Pampa Daily News staff for a detailed story on the bonds. This story appeared in a Monday edition under a large "top" head. Many other stories are appearing from time to time, some of them in editions which do not circulate in this section, but in others where they reach desirable audiences.

Pampa is an example of an oil community that is building along the best approved lines.

Ain't she sweet? Why, that sugar drop of 20 cents per hundredweight.

CHILDREN SHOULD BE KEPT OUT OF TRAFFIC

Placing of stop-signs on Cuyler street and Foster avenue and installation of turn markers direct attention to traffic problems in Pampa.

Officers report that the signs are being regarded by most motorists, although some violations are seen. Pampa is one of the busiest cities in West Texas from the traffic standpoint, as visitors are quick to note.

The motorists, however, are not the only persons who have responsibility for preventing accidents. It is said that many accidents are narrowly averted daily because children are playing in the streets. No practice can hardly be more dangerous, especially since some streets are obstructed and drivers must often look for clear passage ways.

It is the parents' responsibility. They should warn their children of the danger and give them explicit instructions not to cross a street without watching for cars. Chasing a ball into a street is one of the most prolific causes of bad accidents.

Children too small to comprehend the danger should be kept well back from the traffic. The price of a young life is too great to allow unrestrained carelessness. And motorists should not have to dodge groups of children in certain residential sections.

Note for dog lovers: Health officers in Kansas City have decreed that grocers must not have cats.

A well-known Pampa man admits he is very fond of "Westerns" in movie and story but even he isn't an admirer of the man Kimes.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON. — Senator J. Boomboom McWhorter regards with a certain good-humored tolerance the current crop of tattooed paper hangers, one-eyed vegetarians and sex-starved elephant scrubbers who are daily enrolling themselves among the national immortals by setting new endurance records for flagpole perching, curbstone sitting, chair rocking and introspection.

"Back in my old district," says McWhorter, "they'll tell you that maybe I didn't hold all the records, but I held most of 'em. Those were the days when they used to go in for those things and a man who could stand on one leg longer than anyone else in the county was rewarded as he deserved."

It was with great reluctance that the modest McWhorter was finally prevailed upon to describe some of his feats and then only because it was pointed out to him that his words might be an inspiration for the country's youth.

"When I was a boy of 10," began the senator, "I was only old enough for a few of the contests and was forced to gaze with envy at the champion oyster eaters, mirror readers, pin savers and candle chowers as they strutted around the streets of our town. I made up my mind that I, too, would get my name into the weekly paper.

"Despite the scoffing of my friends and family, I finally began in a small way by entering a skootching tournament. I skootched down and stood up 4,558 successive times — taking the championship away from a grown man who had held it in those parts for six years. The erstwhile scoffers carried me around on their shoulders and my parents ad-

DEBATE FORUM

Delaware has a new law, which bars newspaper reporters from divorce courts, the purpose being, of course, to permit divorces to be secured with the minimum amount of publicity for the principals. It is an imitation of the English press muzzling law and establishes a censorship which from every point of view seems vicious.

It sets up a gag precedent which is un-American. It offers the worst kind of divorce seeker — the kind that asks separation on the slightest whim and without just complaint — an opportunity to operate under a guaranteed mask. It encourages rather than discourages divorce, and that at a time when the great need of society is a reduction in the number of divorces.

No upright man or woman needs fear the limit of publicity when there is just cause for separation. Indeed, such publicity is a protection to the innocent; lack of it is a shield for the guilty. Loose principled persons who seek to hide their social and moral irregularities will be strong for the Delaware divorce trial gag law. — Blackwell Tribune.

mitted for the first time that I might some day amount to something.

"The next year I had the nerve to try to rob my Aunt Fanny of what was known as the strip-cutting championship. This sport, open for both sexes, was to see who could cut out the most full-length strips from a newspaper page. I was counted out in the championship contest because some of my strips were so thin the committee couldn't quite discover them, so that my aunt Fanny held the title as long as she lived, along with the string-saving championship, which I never tried to take away from her.

Hog Prices Up Fifth Consecutive Time On Market

KANSAS CITY Stock Yards, July 27.—Hog prices were quoted up 15 to 25 cents, making the fifth consecutive Monday that the market has advanced. Since the first week in June, prices have risen about $2, and the market is in a firm position, indicating a probably further rise. Lambs were 15 to 25 cents higher and sheep steady. Western lambs sold up to $14, and ewes up to $6.50. Cattle prices were mostly steady. Some of the fairly good steers were weak. Fed steers were scarce. Grassers predominated and will continue in fairly liberal supply.

Receipts Monday were 20,000 cattle, 7,000 hogs, and 7,000 sheep, compared with 15,500 cattle, 7,500 hogs, and 8,000 sheep a week ago and 18,600 cattle, 9,500 hogs and 9,450 sheep a year ago.

Cattle receipts were the largest this year. The bulk of the supply came from Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, and was made up of grassers and stockers and feeders. Comparatively few fed or wintered cattle arrived. The better grades, both grassers and fed steers were fully steady. Some of the common and medium kinds were weak. However demand showed liberal volume and the offerings were cared for easily. The few steers that showed any material amount of feed brought $12.50 to $13.25. Wintered Kansas steers sold at $10.50 to $12.25 and grass fat steers $6.75 to $10.50. Those below $8.25 were of plain quality. Grass fat cows and heifers were quoted weak. Fed grades were fully steady. Canners and cutters brought $4.25 to $5.25, and grass cows $5.50 to $7. Fed cows sold up to $8.50 and heifers up to $11.75. Veal calves were steady.

Choice stockers and feeders remained in active demand at firm prices. The other grades were weak to 25 cents lower. This decline in connection with larger supplies added increased demand. There will be a broad inquiry from now on.

Demand for hogs was active and prices rose 15 to 25 cents. Both packers and shippers paid to top price, $10.60, on medium and light weight grades. The advance took the market into the highest position since late in April and $2 above the low point in June. Indications are that prices will go still higher as receipts are light and demand is showing urgency. Today 140 to 240 pound hogs sold at $10.35 to $10.60; 240 to 260 pounds $10 to $10.35; 260 to 325

Headed by Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont of New York, president of the party since its organization six years ago, the list of officers includes some of the best known and most active feminists in the country. Women identified with the suffrage amendment activities also are prominently identified with the equal rights campaign.

Allice Paul, called the "do and dare" type of suffragist now is advisory chairman of the party. However, Mrs. Clarence M. Smith of New York will have the heavy work of the next two years. She will be assisted by Mabel Vernon of Delaware, Gail Laughlin of Maine, Florence Bay-Hilles of Delaware and Anita Pollitzer of South Carolina.

Miss Maud Younger, will direct the legislative campaign for the Equal Rights amendment.

Taking their cue from the male political leaders, the feminists are seeking the support of the farm vote. Within the next few weeks, farm women of the country will be organized preparatory to the national and congressional elections next year. At the same time a drive to enlist support in Congress is planned for December.

Mrs. Isaac Dixon and Mrs. Harry Williams, both of Maryland and both "dirt farmers," will "round up" the farm women.

Mrs. Dixon operates a number of large eastern farms. Mrs. Williams, for years a farmer's wife, and a member of the Maryland State Grange, is convinced that on the women, of the farms rests the future of the women of the country.

"The advent of the labor saving devices, now in use on many farms," declared Mrs. Williams, "has completely changed the viewpoint of the American farm woman toward her sex. She has tasted freedom and her craving is for more. As the wife of the mainstay of American life she is in a position to wield a powerful influence in our campaign for equal rights. Organization of the farm women behind our banners will mean success for our movement."

Wins School's Highest Honors

HAZEL CLARKE JACKSON

DEATSVILLE, Ala., July 27. (AP)—Hazel Clarke Jackson wears a boyish bob and at the State Secondary Agriculture school, at Wetumpka, is referred to as the typical girl.

Here's why: At the annual oratorical contest, she triumphed over boy and girl students alike and the judges were unanimous in giving her first prize. Then she was graduated with the highest honors in the history of the school.

She was represented in virtually every activity in the school and was a star basketball player.

More than 100 members of the Baptist church motored out to Mrs. Green's pasture Tuesday evening, carrying plenty of "eats" and having a very enjoyable evening.

Boys Max Work Way Through School At Arlington College

Arrangements are being made whereby 100 boys can work their way through the North Texas Agricultural college at Arlington during the scholastic year. Three vocational courses will be placed on this basis: general electricity, auto mechanics and agriculture. The boys taking these courses will alternate between work and study. For a period of six weeks they will be in the classroom at the college, receiving instruction in the principles and theories lying at the foundation of the courses they pursue. That is to be followed by another period of six weeks in industry where each boy will be assigned a job at which he may work for pay. The jobs, for the most part, will be in the electrical industries, with the automobile dealers and well equipped garages, on the up-to-date farms, and at the well-appointed commercial dairies in the vicinities of Arlington, Fort Worth and Dallas.

In general, the boys will receive enough money while on the job for six weeks, if they are economical, to pay most of their expenses while in school the following six weeks. However, earning one's expenses while in school, or working one's way through school, worthy as that may be, is not the main object of the co-operative plan. That is a mere incident to it. The chief thing in view is its educational value—the proper union of theory and practice.

College education is often criticized and even reviled for being impractical. Graduates are denounced as helpless—helpless because they have read about and been told about so many more things than they have ever had an opportunity to touch, handle and master in a practical way. It is just this weakness, so universally recognized in the American system of education, that the part-time, co-operative plan seeks to alleviate. Boys of limited financial means who desire to take advantage of this plan should apply at once to Mr. D. A. Bickel, registrar of the North Texas Agricultural college, at Arlington, Texas.

Two Cities Survive Inside of Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—Contrary to widespread belief, more than half of the automobiles that are "made in Detroit" are really not made there at all.

It is a matter of boundary lines involving two unique municipalities, Hamtrac and Highland Park. Although both are entirely surrounded by Detroit, they have steadfastly refused to be annexed. Cities within a city, they have maintained their entity while Detroit has moved out to them, around them, and far beyond them.

Within these two "island suburbs" are located large automobile plants. Highland Park is the original home of the Ford Motor company, from the tax payments of which its largest revenue comes, and Hamtrac has its Dodge Brothers' factories.

Neither suburb is more than a 20-minute cab ride from downtown Detroit. Detroit street cars run through each without extra charge to passengers, and strangers rarely learn that they have traveled from one city to another and then back to the first all in one continuous straight-ahead journey.

Hamtrac, though its light is concealed under Detroit's bushel, is Michigan's fourth largest city, with a population of more than 70,000. Highland Park's 62,000 inhabitants entitle it to seventh ranking among cities of the state.

BATTLESHIP GRAY WORN AT GENEVA

GENEVA, July 27. (AP)—Battle-ship gray is the uniform hue of the suits worn by the Japanese delegation to the naval limitation conference here.

With the single exception of Admiral Saito, the tint of pained steel is the favorite, even among the newspaper men accompanying the delegates.

Only one of the Japanese has appeared in plus fours. He is Mr. Siburi, official of the Tokyo foreign office, and an indefatigable "secret gofer." Every morning at eight finds him up and away to the local course, safe from the eyes of the British and American devotees of the links.

WYOMING THRILLED AS RIDERS SPEED INVITATION TO COOLIDGE

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 27. (AP)—The spirit of daring and adventure typified by the pony express is still in the saddle in Wyoming.

This state has seldom thrilled in years as it did to the revival of this the speediest mode of transportation of the 60's. Twenty-seven volunteers with spurs, saddles and horses carried the invitation from Gov. Frank C. Emerson to President Coolidge asking him to visit Wyoming and particularly to be in Cheyenne during its Frontier Days celebration.

Farmers and ranchmen lined the roads along which the express riders sped and cheers greeted them as they dashed through towns enroute to the Black Hills, the route once followed by the Cheyennes Deadwood stage coaches.

FEATURES FROM OTHER LANDS

HINDENBURG HAS MANY DOCTORS' DEGREES

BERLIN (AP)—President von Hindenburg is not only a soldier and a statesman, but also a doctor of laws, medicine, theology, philosophy, engineering and even of veterinary science.

His latest doctoral scalp came from the University of Graz, in Austria, where Hindenburg was made honorary doctor of political science. His honorary veterinary degree was awarded by the Veterinary College at Hanover, and that of doctor of engineering by all of the polytechnical institutes in Germany.

The University of Koenigsberg in Eastern Prussia, outdid all other universities by making the soldier-president "honorary doctor in all faculties" soon after his successful campaigns in the East during the world war. Bonn University made him honorary doctor of political science, the degree being conferred both by the law and the philosophical faculties. At Goettingen, Jena and Cologne he holds the title of "honorary citizen."

STRESEMANN MAKES CIGAR HIS DEPUTY

BERLIN (AP)—Newspaper correspondents from 35 nations who attend the weekly five-o'clock tea given by the press division of the German Foreign Office find Foreign Minister Stresemann always with them in smokes even if he cannot be there in person.

On days on which engagements keep Dr. Stresemann from meeting the correspondents, the uniformed lackey who attends to the material part of the entertainment, passes around a cigar which the enterprising firm dispensing it has named "Stresemann." Witnessing a foreign minister "go up in smoke" is an experience as novel as it is unique.

FINDS GERMAN FILMS TOO HEAVY FOR AMERICA

BERLIN (AP)—German films are inclined to be too ponderous and involved for the American market, Ernst Lubitsch declared on his return from four and one-half years' film producing activity in Hollywood. American films, the master picture producers believe, are generally more lucid and more to the point, in creating "atmosphere" and scenery.

"The meat isn't everything in a roast. Much of it depends on how it is served," Mr. Lubitsch declared.

The more fortunate selection of film artists in the States he attributes to the American method of being on the look-out for distinct types rather than for good actors and actresses, as is the European custom.

WAGNER AND STRAUSS IN MUSIC FESTIVAL

BERLIN (AP)—Wagner and Strauss figure prominently in the operatic festival arranged at Frankfurt in connection with the international exposition of "Music in the Life of the Nations" opened this month. "Rheingold," "Valkyrie," "Biegfried," "Götterdämmerung" and the "Meistersinger" are being given by all-star German casts. Richard

Strauss will personally conduct six of his operas in August—"Salome," "Rosenkavalier," "Elektra," "Intermezzo," "Ariadne" and the "Woman Without a Shadow."

CHAMBERLAIN LIBRARY GOES TO BAYREUTH

BERLIN (AP)—The late Houston Stewart Chamberlain, son-in-law of Frau Cosima Wagner, has bequeathed his entire library of more than 7,000 volumes, as well as a marble bust of himself, to the Bayreuth municipality. He stipulates that the books are to be placed in the city's library in which the bust is also to be placed. The town council has accepted the bequest.

GERMAN RAILWAYS WANT JAZZY NAMES FOR TRAINS

BERLIN (AP)—Under the slogan "Eight Trains in Search of a Name," the German Railway Administration has started a prize contest for the names for the principal express trains between Berlin and Frankfurt, Hamburg, Cologne, and Munich.

German officials decided upon this innovation after observing how much more effective picturesque names have been in the United States.

The jury for the prize contest is made up of prominent newspaper men and railway officials. A further application of railway nomenclature is planned for express trains connecting Berlin with Holland, and Munich with Basel.

BERLIN, GEOGRAPHICALLY IS WORLD'S LARGEST CITY

BERLIN (AP)—Berlin covers more ground than any city in the world and its population is exceeded only by that of New York and London. According to the somewhat heterogeneous statistics published by the Berlin Statistical Bureau, the city has 6,000 streets with 445 bridges, and 90,000 buildings with 1,500,000 apartments, besides 51,370 acres of forests.

The population numbers 38,000 infants under one year. There are 54 per cent more women than men. Of the city's inhabitants, 3,000,000 are Protestants, 400,000 Catholics, and 172,000 Jews. Approximately 2,200,000 persons have employment of some kind or another and every year more than 32,000 marriages are contracted.

FERRY DOESN'T COUNT

OAKLAND, Cal., July 27.—A highway puzzle that has long troubled motorists was solved when Oakland boosters objected to official road signs showing San Francisco as only one mile west of Oakland. Four miles of salt water separate the two cities. Oaklanders were informed that since three miles of the trip are made by ferry, the official distance is given to accord with speedometer readings.

Bacterial Wilt Is Death On Alfalfa

Many alfalfa growers have complained to the United States Department of Agriculture during the past three years that their stands of alfalfa now die out in three, four or five years where they once lived much longer. These complaints have come from many places, especially from the central and southern Mississippi Valley, and also from some irrigated districts.

It is not always possible to name the specific cause of alfalfa dying out; in fact, there often more than one cause operating. But as a result of the attention which these complaints have focused upon the alfalfa crop, one fact has become plainly apparent. There is in the United States a bacterial wilt disease of alfalfa which was not previously recognized. This disease, according to Fred R. Jones, pathologist of the department, is responsible for a great deal, if not for the larger part of the trouble that growers have experienced. Moreover, it appears that bacterial wilt, which now occurs in at least every alfalfa growing district of the United States, may easily become more thoroughly disseminated that at present and thus in some districts develop into the most serious disease with which alfalfa culture must contend.

The organism causing the disease enters the plant through wounds and passes downward through the taproot and upward through the stems. At length the entire plant may wilt suddenly on a hot day. Later in the summer some of the affected plants may produce short pale-colored spindling shoots with small, narrow leaves. When the taproot of such a plant is cut across the woody portion of the root is found yellow and discolored close beneath the bark. When the bark is stripped back the root is yellow or brown, altogether unlike the white wood of healthy plants. This discolored wood distinguishes the disease from winter injury and other troubles.

The bacterial wilt disease is now being studied by the department and State experiment stations to determine its distribution, how it is carried from field to field, when and through what kinds of wounds it most frequently enters the plants, and whether there is varietal resistance to the disease.

Social position is relative. It depends on living in a town where people are less important than yourself.

NEW U. S. MINISTER TO IRELAND OCCUPIES FORMER RULER'S HOME

A palatial residence has been turned over to the U. S. government for its new ministry to the Saorstat, shown above. Lower left is Frederick A. Sterling, now U. S. Minister, and right, Mrs. Sterling.

DUBLIN, July 27. (AP)—A palatial residence, formerly occupied by the under-secretaries for Ireland who were the real rulers of the country, has been turned over to the United States government for its new ministry to the Saorstat.

Frederick A. Sterling, the new minister, took up his duties in July. The lodge, situated in the center of Phoenix Park, is comfortable, with most domestic conveniences yet without grandeur, and is easy to keep up.

BLACKBIRD A MARTYR

HAGERSTOWN, Md., July 27.—If blackbirds honored martyrs they should have a warm spot in their hearts for one whose death has made life safer for them here. Farmers in this region no longer shoot blackbirds, because one which

First Petroleum In America Found About Spring In Dutch Lands of Old New York; Seneca Indians Owned It

Peace hath her victories and celebrations as well as war. King Petroleum was accorded due honor in Saturday, July 23. For did not his majesty have much to do in winning the world war to make the world "Safe for Democracy?" The three-hundredth anniversary of the discovery of petroleum by a white man was celebrated in Cuba, a village of 1,000 population in southwestern New York, Saturday. In the center of a mile square, owned by the Seneca Indians, is located the spring, surrounded by a primordial wilderness, where in July, 1627, Father Joseph De La Roche, a Franciscan monk, discovered the Seneca Indian oil spring. Authentic records have established the discovery. It is this discovery that was celebrated Saturday. On account of the international character of the event the people of western New York invited representatives of five nations to participate in the ceremonies, the host the Seneca Indians, the United States, Great Britain, Holland, and France. The region around the old oil spring is historic in character. On its heights, valleys, and occasional level spaces many tragic scenes were staged in Colonial times. The state of New York when the surface of the waters of the old spring were covered with petroleum was owned by the kings of Holland and the Knickerbockers, and their doughty wives and rosy cheeked daughters, drove their milch cows home from the pasture in Central park, while the Battery was used as a playground for the little Dutch boys. It was only a few years since Hendrik Hudson had sailed up the broad river that was given his name. Later Alexander Hamilton and Aaron Burr fought a duel at Weehauken. Settlers from England and the Scandinavian empire settled the valleys, and cleared the lands of trees and made the fine farms around the Seneca reservation, a few miles distant from the Indian spring. Society Upset A tea party in Boston disturbed the social world and wrecked society. The disturbance spread along the eastern Atlantic coast. Benedict Arnold betrayed his country, but Washington's soldiers caught Major Andre, a British spy who paid the penalty with his wife at the end of a rope. The British redcoats were driven out of New York, the final surrender came at Yorktown. American independence was won. The republic was established, and a long and distinguished line of presidents have been elected and earned the republic safety and wisely. The War of 1812, the Mexican war, the Civil war, the Spanish-American and the late World war have passed into history. But the old Indian spring yet remains, the first shrine to the discovery of petroleum by a white man, in the midst of a wild and impenetrable forest the surroundings are as primitive as the virgin woods seen by the members of Christopher Columbus' crews of his three small vessels at San Salvadore. One Indian family lives there in order to hold the mile square of land on which the spring is located, in a cabin on the land, which is separate and apart from the Seneca Indian reservation. John Hosack of Blackwell, president of the Hosack Oil company, has visited the village of Cuba and made trips to the old Indian spring on numerous occasions within the last twenty years. Olean, a city of 20,000 population, the largest city near Cuba. It is twelve miles to the southwest. It is the headquarters for an oil pool with supply houses and district offices of producing companies. Bolivar, a town of 1,100 population thirteen miles southeast of Cuba, is another oil town. While Henry's Switch is another town supported by oil workers. Cuba was located on one of the early built New York state railroads. It was called the "Peg Leg" because of one large wooden wheel being used on a large wooden rail, covered by a thin strip of corrugated iron. Oklahoma is taking a prominent part in the celebration at Cuba. Robert H. Bartless, president of the Braden company, with headquarters in Tulsa, but who owns a home in Cuba, is chairman of the celebration committee. WASHINGTON PORTRAIT HARTFORD, Conn., July 27. — Connecticut takes pride in owning a $100,000 Stuart portrait of George Washington today because it was willing to accept a painting rejected by another state. When the great artist, commissioned by South Carolina to paint the picture turned it in it was a portrait of President Washington. South Carolina wanted one of General Washington or none. Connecticut bought the picture for $1,000. President Cosgrave recently introduced special legislation in the Dail to meet the situation created by the assassination of Vice-President Kevin O'Higgins.

PARIS DOGS, CATS MAY RIDE IN BUS

PARIS, July 27. (AP)—Dogs and cats, if they are not more than 16 inches long, now may travel in the motor buses of Paris, when accompanied by their owners. Transportation authorities have drawn up regulations for the travel of pets and it is expected that street cars and subways will be open to them if the bus experiment succeeds. The regulations require that the animals must be carried in baskets not more than 17 inches long. The basket must remain in the lap of the animal's owner and not discommode any other passenger. The owner, moreover, must pay a full additional fare for the pet.

Noted Foreigners Are Speaking To Students At Canyon

CANYON, July 27.—Syud Hosain, internationally known for his lectures and his authorship, being editor of the New Orient, a magazine devoted to problems of the Orient and world civilization, spoke before a packed audience at the chapel hour this week at the West Texas State Teachers college. Hosain came to the Teachers college directly from San Francisco and, after leaving Canyon will go to Seattle. He has traveled a great deal in the United States as well as in the Orient. The speaker stated that he was an internationalist by conviction and believed that one of the greatest needs, or perhaps the pre-eminent need of the time is that everyone, whether east or west, individuals or nations, should be making more human contacts with one another. He said: "For the first time, it is possible to talk of a world civilization. Humanity has become a unit. The barriers of national divisions have been annihilated." President J. A. Hill has secured a second internationally known speaker in the person of Tien Lai Huang, who is a native of China and has been educated both in China and the United States. He will appear at the Teachers college, August 9. BOSTON BEANS RIVALLED CHICAGO—Restaurants are advertising Michigan beans, but not in depreciation of the more famous Boston baked beans. The beans themselves are superior, restaurateurs explain, while the fame of the Boston bean rests on the recipe for its cooking.

Denver Woman
Died of Natural Causes In Berger

(Special to The News.)
BERGER, July 27.—The body of Mrs. Marie C. Murray, prominent Denver woman found dead here Monday is being prepared today for sending to her home city for burial. She disappeared July 4, and was not heard of by relatives until after her death. The coroner's inquest was from natural causes. Mrs. Murray, sister-in-law of Billy Murray, Victor singer, was found unconscious by a negro and cared for was not held, officers deciding death several days. She is said to have declared she had been unconscious a week after registering at a local hotel. Unsolved mystery surrounds her disappearance and the reasons for her actions.

That 1,743-word sentence written in an annual report by Nicholas Murray Butler is even more wonderful than was at first supposed. It makes no mention of the weather, baseball scandals or prohibition.
