Only One Man Held Out for Conviction, Says Report

WIFE ADMITS BAD RELATIONS

Big Crowds Hear The Testimony Given At Panhandle

(Special to The News.)
PANHANDLE, Aug. 26.—Archie Parker, charged with murder in connection with the killing of Charles Blair of Roxana, June 19, was acquitted today in 84th district court. The jury took the case at 10:30 p. m. yesterday and returned a verdict of not guilty at 11:50 o'clock today. It was learned unofficially that one man held up a verdict for several hours when the ballots showed one for conviction and 11 for acquittal.

The trial was one of the most sensational in Carson county history, and attracted large crowds throughout the sessions. Parker, a machine shop operator in the McIlroy pool, killed Blair, an oil well driller, at Roxana. The two men had business relations when Blair brought work to the shop. Mrs. Parker kept the books at the shop. She became acquainted with Blair, and according to various testimony, including her own, had improper relations with him. The killing resulted, and Parker in his defense claimed self defense and mentioned the unwritten law.

Divorce proceedings between Mr. and Mrs. Parker were instituted in Amarillo before the shooting.

Pampa Boy Scouts Taking Tenderfoot Work Near Claude

Fifteen Boy Scouts, members of the Methodist church troop, are having a great time at the Warner camp near Claude. They were taken to the camp yesterday afternoon, and will be brought back tomorrow, probably by the Rotary club.

The camp is classified as a local one, and is especially for Pampa boys. Edmonds Knittle, field executive of the Panhandle council, is in charge.

The boys are Joe Kahl, Buck Monday, W. L. Ledrick, Wayne Kinnison, Chester Nicholson, Lawrence McMurry, Connie Moore, Laverne Twiford, Eldred Pierce, Vernon Lawrence, Wiley Reynolds, and Albert Doucette.

A Claude troop of Boy Scouts also are in camp. The regular tenderfoot training is being given.

Indian Jim Has Done Fast Work On Pampa Paving

On the morning of April 23, at 3 a. m. Indian Jim began to lay bricks on the streets of Pampa. He commenced at the corner of Cayler street and Francis avenue before hundreds of interested citizens of Pampa.

With a speed almost unbelievable, he completed to the corner of Kingsmill avenue in two days. Since that time fifteen blocks of paving has been laid in the city and Indian Jim has laid nearly every brick.

By the time the last of the present program is completed, 26 blocks in the city will be out of the mud.

Proposed New Methodist Church

Above is an architect's illustration of the fine new Methodist Church building for which a contract will be let soon. The building committee is now working on financial arrangements, and plans are being drawn in detail by W. C. Townes of Amarillo. The main auditorium will be the superstructure of the present large foundation. An extension of the foundation will support a large Sunday School plant especially designed for that use. The structure will be of brick in the beautiful design above pictured.

Rose Urges Business Men To Take Part In Work of Association

Twenty-five members of the Pampa Business men's association were present at a luncheon meeting of the organization held at the new Schneider hotel today. J. P. York occupied the chair.

This meeting was the first the association had held since its organization. Tom Rose, president of the association, gave an interesting talk on what the association stands for, what its work consists of, and the protection given to its members. Some of the members have not been using the privileges their membership gives them, and Mr. Rose urged all to get the benefit of the association.

A discussion on credits and collections was indulged in by the members present. This first meeting was a get-together occasion and a getting acquainted gathering.

At the close of the luncheon it was decided to hold a luncheon meeting once a month, the date to be set later. The Pampa Business Men's association has 57 members, the majority of whom use the association and receive benefits from being affiliated with it.

Masters Purchases White House Cafe And Closes It

W. P. Masters, owner of Masters' Cafe, yesterday purchased the equipment at the White House cafe, which was closed last night. The equipment will be moved by Mr. Masters to some Central or West Texas point, where a restaurant will be opened.

The White House cafe, after being closed for several months, was opened again two months ago by W. H. Haskin of the Zahner Manufacturing company. A store probably will occupy the building soon.

Mr. Masters plans to move the equipment from his Borgor restaurant, recently closed, to Odessa.

Aviator Holding Well To Course At About 2,000 Feet

(By The Associated Press.)
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Aug. 26. A radio message from a station at Nassau was picked up here today by a financial journal's wireless station, stating that the Port of Brunswick, piloted by Paul Redfern, was sighted 300 miles off the East British Bahamas by a steamer.

It was reported that the plane on its nonstop flight to Brazil was flying at an altitude of about 2,000 feet, and was headed in a southerly direction.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Aug. 26 (AP)—If Paul Redfern passed over Porto Rico on his way to Rio de Janeiro last night his plane was unobserved so far as any reports received here today.

BRUNSWICK, Geo. Aug. 26 (AP)—A wireless report from a steamer at Nassau that Paul Redfern's plane had been seen 300 miles west of the Bahamas yesterday indicated that the aviator was holding to his course. The flier took off from here yesterday at noon in an attempt to reach Rio de Janeiro.

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—Texas secretaries attending the National school at Evanston, Ill., traveled a total of 43,000 miles to get to the school, according to figures compiled by Myron Ward of Fort Worth having approximately fifteen per cent of the commercial secretaries in attendance. The total enrollment is 225 of whom about fifty are trade organization secretaries.

An interesting by-feature of the school is the special stunt put on by a state group at the noon lunches each day. Paul T. Vickers of Midland is chairman of the Texas program committee. Other members of the committee are: Roy Christian, Corsicana; Miss Georgia Lewis, Texarkana; A. B. Davis, Lubbock; Russell Rhodes, Tyler, Chas. Graham, Jr., Denison; Carl Blaisig, Brady.

The selection was then made unanimous on motion of Panhandle delegates. The invitation to Pampa was made by Charles C. Cook, and Mayor F. P. Reid urged acceptance. The local delegates arrived early and worked continuously to align towns of the district in favor of Pampa.

Search For Fliers Is Greatly Extended By Navy Department

(By The Associated Press.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26.—A spot in the Pacific more than 600 miles northwest of the chief battle spot has been fixed as the furthermost point in the navy's sea hunt for Mildred Doran and six other lost Dole fliers.

Only the first hundred miles of this stretch of water has been searched.

Reid Presides. In the absence of Judge C. C. Small, who was detained at court, Mayor F. P. Reid, vice-president of the organization, presided at the meeting.

The convention opened with a monster parade which included floats, decorated cars, "Rough Riders," who were young ladies of Wellington, and bands from nearby cities. Practically every merchant in Wellington had a large float in the parade.

The morning session of the convention was held in the Rialto theatre. S. R. Pinkston, president of the Chamber of Commerce at Wellington, delivered the address of welcome which was responded to by Jerry Debenport of the Children's Chamber of Commerce.

Col. C. C. French of the Fort Worth Stockyards company, discussed the hog raising industry in Texas.

B. M. Whitaker, agricultural manager of the W. T. C. C., outlined the purpose of the convention.

"Industries," was the subject of an address by Judge J. Y. Welch, of Quanah. He stated that Texas, and especially West Texas, needs industries to manufacture her raw material.

A luncheon was served at the Pigg-Alley motor company by the women of Wellington. Entertainment was given by bands from Shamrock, Clarendon and Memphis, and Mayor K. E. Shepherd of Wichita Falls and quartettes sang several songs.

Homer D. Wade, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, was toastmaster at the luncheon and chairman of the afternoon session. In a short address he thanked Wellington for its hospitality and congratulated the organization on its showing.

Short talks were made on the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo and the Texas-Oklahoma Fair at Wichita Falls. Several representatives from smaller cities told of their fares and invited all to attend.

Work On Baptist Church Is Rushed Toward Completion

Practically all the brick work on the first floor of the new Baptist church building is done and workmen are rushing the building to completion. The bottom floor of the building will be occupied by the G. C. Malone company. The top floor will be used as Sunday school rooms for the Baptist church.

All the churches in Pampa have had extensive building programs this year. The Presbyterians erected a new building. The Organized Church of Christ also erected a new building. The Baptist church extension is under way at the present time.

The Methodists have plans completed for the completion of their new building and the Christian church will be built immediately. Also a Catholic church is planned for Pampa.

Police Seek Son Of Woman Whose Murder Is Suspected

(By The Associated Press.)
STREATOR, Ill., Aug. 26.—Police today continued the search for Harry Hill, son of Mrs. H. C. Hill, wealthy estranged wife of the prominent Streator occultist, whose body was found buried in the basement of her home yesterday.
The son disappeared soon after the body was found with a bullet wound in the head.

London Glass House Has 25-Acre Roof

(By The Associated Press.)
LONDON—Luckily no one lives in London's glass house, the Crystal Palace. So the old saw about throwing stone does not hold.
The Crystal Palace, one of the largest amusement halls in the world, is famous for its roof with 25 acres of glass. Two hundred feet above the ground, it contains thousands of panes. When the Palace was reopened in 1920, $400,000 was spent in reconditioning the roof. Since then workmen have all but lived on the roof, keeping it in condition. Wire-netting is stretched under most of it.
During the war the Crystal Palace was a favorite target for raiding German airplanes. All the glaziers were at work on the roof when one such raid was announced. One of the glaziers slid down the railing of a circular staircase so fast that he burned out the seat of his trousers and was so dizzy when he reached the bottom that he fell to the ground unable to move.
The building was designed by Sir Joseph Paxton and was constructed originally in 1854 largely from materials of the hall set up in Hyde Park for the exhibition of 1851.

Channel Isle Swim Is First In History

GUERNSEY, Channel Islands (AP)—For the first time in history a man has swum from Guernsey to Sark, two of the Channel Islands, a distance of ten miles.
The feat was accomplished by J. R. Heyward, who is 39 years old. It was a notable swim, since swift currents sweep like rapids between and around the islands.

CHURCH HAS INVISIBLE CLOCK
TALLAHASSEE, Fla.—Tallahassee has a clock which is heard but not seen. Years ago the clock was placed in the tower of the First Presbyterian church, built during territorial days. For some reason, the hands were never connected. Finally the whole mechanism was enclosed. As long as older residents can recall, however, the clock has struck the hours.

ORDER OF BANANA
MARINETTE, Wis.—The Grand Order of the Banana has been founded here. It is an auxiliary of the Wisconsin American Legion and was inspired by the remark of an ex-dough-boy that "only a slippery banana peel could drop a fellow as quickly as the mud of France."

Peggy O'Neil, an American actress, was fined forty shillings for failing to register a change of address as is required of aliens.

STATESMEN PAY TRIBUTE TO WOMEN AT INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION

The Marchioness of Aberdeen and Temair (upper left) is president of the International Council of Women; Dr. Elizabeth B. Thalberg of Vassar, shown with her grandchild, (center) is convener of its public health committee; Lady Tata (right) is president of the council's branch in India. Below—Mrs. Walter MacNab Miller, American delegate to the last convention.

GENEVA, Aug. 26. (AP)—Statesmen of all lands are giving increasing public recognition to the role women are playing in international affairs.

Even the League of Nations pays official tribute to the cooperation of women in its work. This was demonstrated at the annual session here of the International Council of Women, attended by delegates from 40 National Councils including that of the United States.

A committee of the League of Nations council was appointed to attend the dinner held at the closing of the women's convention.

Headed by Sir Austen Chamberlain, secretary of state for foreign affairs of Great Britain, the delegation included M. Paul Boncour of France; M. Benes, foreign minister of Czechoslovakia; M. Zaleski, foreign minister of Poland; M. Villegas of Chile, and M. Urrutia of Columbia.

The Marchioness of Aberdeen and Temair, of England, President of the International Council, welcomed the male guests. She emphasized the help that organized women could give to the league, telling how women pioneer workers who drew up the constitution of the International Council of Women in 1888 had in many points anticipated the covenant of the League of Nations.

"We, the mothers of the world, who are as deeply concerned in the protection and maintenance of life as in its creation," said Lady Aberdeen, "are beginning to see our visions being realized. We see a world in which our children's children may grow up in peace and security with facilities for their full physical, moral and spiritual development."

"A great international force has been released by the facilities now given women in most countries to work alongside of men."
In behalf of the women assembled

she pledged support to the men of the League of Nations. She urged the women to spread information and arouse enthusiasm for the objects and work of the league in their respective lands.

Some of the American women members of the International Council of Women are Mrs. Walter MacNab Miller, an official of the General Federation of Women's clubs. Mrs. Miller was a delegate to the convention in place of Dr. Elizabeth Thalberg of Vassar college.

Dr. Thalberg, president of the Medical Women's National association, is convener of the public health committee of the International Council of Women. Miss Marian P. Whitney of Vassar college, who attended the meeting is convener of the education committee.

QUEER GRAPEVINE
ALPINE, Aug. 26. (AP)—One grapevine in Alpine probably has the record production for the state. The vine is in the yard of City Clerk W. A. Daugherty, and this year supplied two families with eating grapes for the summer. In addition to this, 46 quarts of jelly and 33 quarts of grape juice were made from the fruit of this one vine.

Daugherty says that the vine is a cross between the Mustang and another grape and is a prolific bearer each year. The grapes are very sweet and delicious.

POLICE FOR OLYMPIAD
AMSTERDAM, Holland (AP)—The Dutch authorities have detached

250 picked policemen and are putting them through a special course of training for next year's Olympiad.

Special attention is being given to methods of handling crowds. Courses in English, French, German, and other languages are being given, so foreign visitors will be assured of every courtesy and consideration.

A cheap tube can cost you 10 times its price.....

THIRTY-NINE YEARS of tube building experience has proved to Dunlop that "cheap tubes" do not pay.

That is why Dunlop tubes are made casing shaped. It costs a little more than to build them on a straight pole, as cheap tubes are built.

But a casing-shaped Dunlop tube is strong everywhere. The outside edge is not weakened by excess stretch. The side next to the rim has no wrinkles to crack with age and blow out. A Dunlop tube protects your casing, because it fits. And your casing is worth ten times the cost of the tube.

We strongly recommend a Dunlop tube for every casing

GOOD WORK—The Pampa Chamber of Commerce should be congratulated for having impressed the Panhandle-North Plains district of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce with the desirability of coming here for the 1928 meeting.

The New Pampa is a phrase and reality which strikes the imagination and arouses the curiosity. It implies real growth and worthwhile progress. It is composed of the true blue elements of the Pampa that was with the best elements of the present Pampa, fused and correlated by various influences to produce a real city.

When the big district convention comes here a year from now it will see institutions truly representative of a city, such as fine hotels, paving, daily newspaper, clubs, hospitals, and many others. Moreover, when a city obtains a district convention of the W. T. C. C. it drafts the big publicity machine of the West Texas organization. Such meetings can be made very worthwhile to all concerned.

SAFETY — Recent years have brought the safety movement to a high state of publicity, but its efficiency has been somewhat doubted as accidents and accidental deaths continued to mount in number.

It is encouraging, therefore, to know that safety work among children is apparently responsible for a decrease of 20 per cent. in juvenile accidents. The schools do well to give a part of their time to imparting such vital information. Children grasp ideas rapidly if properly presented. While their application of the information may take time for adjustment, pictorial illustration enables them to grasp the essentials quickly.

The school teacher is not doing his duty if he does not impart to his charges the types of information which will make actual living more safe and enjoyable. It has been necessary for the Boy Scout movement to teach boys many things that the schools have not recognized.

NEWS PURITY — Those who read of a resolution by the convention of world press agencies condemning the principle of property rights in news should know that in some countries information from governmental sources is more or less exclusive. Official or semi-official news services are common in the Orient. This week for the first time have all of the news agencies of the world agreed that there should be no property right in news.

Human Nature Is a Funny Thing

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer.

Importance of the purity of news is recognized. The average person does most of his thinking in terms of what he reads in the newspapers. If his information emanates from a news agency which is dominated by a branch of the government, it may be prejudiced by inference, fact, or omission. And if that news source is exclusive to a single agency, the public has no protection.

The news agency is entitled to full copyright protection on the form in which its news appears, and its news beats are supposed to be free from pilfering, although this freedom is questionable in actual practice. The principle for which all newspaper men are fighting is the right of each to obtain news from every source on an equal basis. The duty of every public official to provide an unfettered stream of news from his department is outlined by law. Those officials who try to enforce opinions of their own and withhold news to which the newspaper is entitled are gradually being brought to an understanding of their error. It is the duty of an official to give out the news as it exists in his records and his activities, and it is the duty of the newspaper to weigh that news and present it in the proper form at the proper time. The latter responsibility is not that of the office holders.

Many public officials have a fine sense of their duty to the public, and keep their records absolutely accurate and open. Others sometimes take extra legal authority to try to keep news of their office out of print.

How about fixing the president's famous 10-word announcement up in the form of a round robin or something, and getting some others to sign.—The Detroit News.

WASHINGTON — Government licenses to pilot airplanes are obtained from the Department of Commerce. If you want a pilot's license, write the department here and it will send you application blanks along with information about the examinations. The first thing to do, however, is to find out what sort of a license you require. You must have a plane at your disposal, for the examination includes practical flying tests. Anyone over 16 and physically fit does not require a license if he merely intends to fly for pleasure, although his plane must carry visible identification marks. Whenever one intends to enter commercial flying which will take him over a state line, that is, to fly for pay—he must have a license. He must pass mental test, physical test and practical flying test. This is because all planes engaged in interstate commerce must be licensed and flown by licensed pilots. The classes of pilot licenses are, "Transport," for pilots who may carry passengers or freight wherever they desire; "Limited Commercial," for pilots carrying passengers only from one designated field; "Industrial," for non-passenger carrying commercial pilots and "Private or Student."

The requirements for a "transport pilot" license are the stiffest, of course. The transport pilot must have had 200 hours of solo flying. The examination requires him to glide from an altitude of 1500 feet to a spot on the ground within 300 feet of a designated line, and he must glide, with the option of using his motor when necessary, to within 100 feet of a mark, to prove first that he can function properly if his motor goes dead and second that he can land properly under normal conditions. At 800 feet he must make five figure eights over two marks 1500 feet apart and must perform such emergency maneuvers as spirals, side-slips and stalls to show that he knows how to get out of them. To show his ability at landing in strange fields, he must fly a triangular or rectangular course of at least 100 miles within a given time and make two landings en route.

PRESS FORUM

OILIFEROUS.—Pampa Daily News: You can put it in the records that nothing can rush along the call of progress like oil. Consider Crane County, last of the Texas areas without an organized county government. There were no more records of humans than of jackrabbits there until an humble wildcatter drilled a hole and tapped oil. Now Crane will get into the headlines by having a county seat fight.

Olin Hinkle does not overuse his superlatives. All he says about oil and more can be subscribed to without an editorial blush. Sub. S. P.'s blusher has been getting out of practice since sitting in for the elegant and absent El Magnus, but it still knows what it ought to work on and what not. Oil has gold backed off the map as a rapid prosperity producer. Oil can make communities arise over night where the prairie dog romped yesterday in playful solitude. Oil can not only form communities, it can make States. Aforetime it has made and unmade Presidents in countries to the South of us. It has played its part in creating "self-determination for little peoples" that thought they were self-determining when all that was happening was that they were being corralled into a workable oil field. The Lord giveth, the Lord taketh away, said the psalmist. Oil works the same way, but apparently without divine wisdom, and frequently, in the opinion of its acquaintances, with inspiration acquired at the other end of the celestial scheme. Oil that makes a town today can leave it deadlier than it found it. That is true now when oil reclamation is not 100 per cent perfect. But it will be equally true when reclamation has been developed to its highest efficiency. Once the sands have been milked of the last drop of petroleum, there will be no further reason for the town to stick around. Oil is a recruiter of the individual bank account. It is not a community builder. It brings an onrush of adventurers. It ex-

News dispatches tell of a big cowboy reunion without a horse present. That is better than some of them which have no cowboys present.

Despite the huge amount of reading we moderns do, it is comparatively easy to dig up an old manuscript and pass it for new among many of the so-called intellectuals.

Here's real speed: The Kingston bank robbers were captured on the day of the haul last week; they pleaded guilty Tuesday in district court; the judge gave them 25 years; and Oklahoma has a record to shoot at in methods of entertaining imitators of Kimes.

LEADS WOMEN IN PLANTING OF FOREST TRACT

YORK, Pa. (AP)—Not only in the home but in the woodlands of their state, women have become interested in conserving resources.

A tract of 100 acres in forest land on the Lincoln Highway has been purchased by the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs. It will be dedicated and marked for Myra Lloyd Dock, pioneer among women in American reforestation.

This purchase together with the 100,000 trees planted by the clubwomen of the state under the direction of Mrs. John B. Hamme of York is part of the program of conservation, forestry and reforestation of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Grid Team Has Record Of 24 Straight Games

Flyers Honor Mme. Nungesser Still Hoping for Son's Return

PARIS. (AP)—For the son she lost fate has sent some compensation to Madame Nungesser, the mother of Charles Nungesser, who with Coll and the White Bird disappeared into the unknown, martyrs of scientific aviation.

Aviators have made a sort of unofficial mother of Madame Nungesser. Her Paris apartment has become a haven of inspiration for flyers of the world. Parisians regard her simple home as a sort of shrine, a place as sacred to aviation in its way as the tomb of the unknown soldier under the Arc de Triomphe, is to soldiers of the Great War.

Madame Nungesser was badly affected by the news of her son's disappearance coming on top of the false news of his successful arrival in the United States. But the comfort of this adoption by the sympathetic world has done much to rebuild her health.

The honors which Lindbergh, Chamberlin and Byrd and his companions shared with her by calling upon her in the first flush of their triumph were only a beginning of the tribute. Hardly a week goes by without some aviation society or delegation asking to call to express sympathy and admiration of her courage. Private citizens leave flowers and messages at her door.

One of the recent delegations was a committee from the American Legion which conveyed the sympathy and respect of the ex-soldiers' organization. A 14 year old girl flyer came with the loving sympathy of a group of American women aviators.

France has done everything in its power to make up to Charles Nungesser's mother, for the loss of her son.

Despite the cumulative evidence that Nungesser and Coll have perished Madame Nungesser continues to hope.

Poultry Profits Are Increased By Elimination of Slacker Hen

Trained by extension agents, many farm women are increasing their poultry income by eliminating non-layers.

"There are many parts in the body of a hen," experts explain, "that indicate egg-laying abilities, such as the distribution of fat, width of abdomen and closely allied anatomical features.

"As most farm women who keep chickens wish to make a profit from their eggs, it is greatly to their advantage to know how to select those which are good producers and get rid of others which do not pay for their feed and care. Frequently half the flock may be culled and the remainder lay as many eggs as were reared before, with a corresponding reduction in cost for feed."

"Until there is positive proof I must hope on" are her words. Any mother would do the same."

Texas Youth Hailed As Exceptional Find As Baritone Singer

(By The Associated Press.)

BRYAN, Aug. 26.—In George Griffin, Jr., Bryan's 20-year old singing prodigy, Texas may have another Reinold Werrenrheh, considered America's leading baritone singer. "Nina," an Italian love song, and "On the Road to Mandalay," are two records recently made by Griffin in Kansas City.

Young Griffin first attracted attention as a baritone soloist in Victoria three years ago when he was a senior in high school there. After finishing school, he studied for a year and a half under George Campion, musical director of the Christian Episcopal church in Houston.

Last year he was a student at Bethany college at Lindsborg, Kan., and he intends to return there next month to continue his studies.

While singing over radio at Milford, Kans., last winter, Arthur Uhe, a noted artist, happened to hear him and was so enthusiastic over his voice he arranged for his opportunity to make records.

Young Griffin was born in Bryan and except for a few years when his parents lived in Victoria, he has made his home here.

Athletic Committee Plan at Bryan Has Official Approval

BRYAN, Aug. 26.—The Citizen's high school athletic committee of Bryan, which is endorsed by Roy B. Henderson of Austin, director of the interscholastic league of Texas, is one of the most unique boards in the state.

This body which is organized to promote high school athletics here, is composed of two members from the Lions club, two members from the Rotary club, a member of the school board, one citizen at large and the superintendent of schools. It is in charge of the sale of tickets, the buying of athletic equipment, and general business management of high school sports.

ESKIMO MAIDS SERVE ARCTIC EXPLORERS IN FAR NORTH CAFE

Molly Berryman, Eskimo restaurateur, (left) is teaching her daughters, Esther (center) aged 9 and Mabel (right) aged 10, how to gain tips from Arctic explorers upon whom they wait in her "farthest north" restaurant.

NOME, Alaska, Aug. 26. (AP)—Educational and vocational tastes vary not only with temperament and riches, but also with race and the latitude of one's home.

While the little girls of the temperate zone grow far into their teens merely playing at work and taking school seriously, many children of the polar regions must choose work as their education while they are still quite young.

Up in the marge of the Arctic ice pack, an Eskimo woman is teaching her two very young daughters to run her business.

Molly Berryman is owner of an eating place famed as the "farthest north restaurant." Situated at Kotzebue, nearly 200 miles north of Nome, this restaurant has furnished scores of Arctic explorers and travelers with their last "square meal" before pushing into the little known barrens toward the pole.

The Eskimo woman has watched the ice pack come and go for more seasons than she can remember. Her daughters, Mabel and Esther are reaching the age, she thinks, at which good little Eskimo girls should become useful.

Last year, they started helping their mother by waiting on the table. This year they are learning the more elementary details of the art of Eskimo cooking. Their "education," the mother estimates will be completed in another five years.

Shutout Games This Pitcher's Specialty

STEPHENVILLE, Aug. 26.—Leslie Cox of Stephenville, former University of Texas pitcher, recently participated in one of the most unusual pitching feats in the history of baseball. Cox, who was purchased last summer from Palestine by the Chicago White Sox, is hurling for Petersburg of the Virginia league under option.

On August 8, Perritt, pitching for Petersburg, defeated Wilson, 1 to 0; on August, Ash, hurling for Petersburg, won over Wilson, 7 to 0; on August 10 Skillings of Petersburg blanked Wilson, 4 to 0; on August 1, Wealke Cox of Petersburg shut out the league leading Portsmouth team, 5 to 0.

A pitching staff hurling four consecutive shutout games is perhaps without parallel in baseball.

Injury and Illness Beset Path Of Veterinarian In Day's Work

(By The Associated Press.)
 WASHINGTON—Post mortem examination of diseased animals is the chief factor contributing to injury and illness among government veterinarians, of whom an average of 125 suffer in some form annually. Statistics show that 50 per cent of these injuries are followed by disability. An autopsy performed on the carcass of a dead hog subjects the veterinarian to infection from the disease itself, or to nasal and other attacks from forced breathing of dust-laden atmosphere in the pen. Illness may result from the compulsory wearing of rubber clothing the year round, in fighting foot and mouth disease; veterinarians plunging into the vitals of slaughtered animals from rampages of refractory animals. Injury always lurks in vaccination processes.

The Bureau of Animal Industry does not attempt to say whether it is

Pledges In Madrid Pawnshops Decrease

(By The Associated Press.)
 MADRID, Spain—Pledges in the Madrid pawnshop, which is run as a city monopoly, showed a decrease of 54,255 items during the last fiscal year but the municipality managed to earn 612,767 pesetas on the business.

Jewelry formed the larger part of the pledges while clothing was second.

The annual public auction of unredeemed pledges brought in 1,912,127 pesetas on articles upon which only 1,299,360 pesetas had been lent. Pawnshops are municipal monopolies throughout Spain.

the danger, lack of interest, or the relatively low pay that has caused a dearth of veterinarians. There will be but 115 graduated from accredited school this year, scarcely enough to fill the quota of 100 called each year by the government alone. Civil and military units regularly employ approximately 1,300 veterinarians.

(By The Associated Press.)
 CHARLOTTE, N. C.—Nancy Alexander spurned her parent's plans for her future when she decided to leave college and launch her craft into the stormy waters of business. She started out as a stenographer two years ago. Today, at the age of 21, she is in charge of a large Northwestern lumber company branch here, with control of the business in North Carolina, Georgia, Florida and Alabama. Not only is she a full-fledged business woman, but she is an exponent of the idea a business office need not be in an office building. She has moved the company's office to her residence.

tion on the co-operation of one town to the other. "It is necessary that there be a closer spirit of co-operation between our towns and cities," Dr. Hill said. "Diversification, Rotation and Cultivation," will be a slogan suggested to the parent organization for adoption. This suggestion was made by the resolution committee composed of Chas. C. Cook, Pampa; H. E. Hoover, Canadian; W. A. Palmer, Amarillo; Harry Koch, Quanah; J. Claude Wells, Memphis, and Frank M. Tatum, Dalhart. Resolutions were also adopted praising the work of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and urging the improvement of certain highways in West Texas. Teachers College Praised. The work of the West Texas State Teachers college with Dr. Hill as president, was lauded, and especially the work of Dr. Hill. By a rising vote, the delegates expressed thanks to Wellington for entertaining the convention. The little town of Ashtola was the first to enter the ring as a contestant for the 1928 convention and was closely followed by Pampa. Mayor F. P. Reid, and Chas. C. Cook, represented Pampa in her bid for honors. W. R. Arnold expressed the wish of Panhandle for next year's meeting.

After several spirited talks, Ashtola withdrew from the race, leaving Pampa and Panhandle. The first ballot gave Pampa a 38 to 4 vote over her neighbor city. Made Unanimous. After the result of the first vote was announced, Panhandle moved to make the nomination of Pampa unanimous.

Including delegates from Wellington and 20 other cities 421 delegates registered at the convention. The Pampa delegation included Mayor F. P. Reid, Chas. C. Cook, J. M. Dodson, E. E. Finley, W. R. She has joined the Board of National United Laundries and will try to establish the perfect laundry. "Only a woman can realize the full possibilities of laundry reform," she said. "It is as an experienced laundry client who has done her fair share of grumbling in the past that I am entering laundry life. "I shall look after the interests of the woman in the home. More than 50 per cent of laundry work consists of feminine garments. A good deal of the remainder is made up of household materials under charge of the mistress of the house." Lady Ossulston is putting into effect a new system which will eliminate all laundry marks on personal linen and valuable household materials.
