QUESTION: Do you believe in prayer in space?

Mrs. Ralph Holm, 2229 Navajo Rd.; "Yes. Prayer helps get us up there, so why not pray while there."

Roscoe Sealy, 601 Lowry; "Yes. Every person should have the right to say what they want to. It's up to their personal preference."

Chester Pass, 1161 Neel Rd.; "Yes. I'm for it anywhere. If I was out there I'd want to pray bad."

Larry Allen, 2224 Dogwood; "Yes. I know if I was in space I would be praying. I would hate to have someone tell me I couldn't."

Bob Stephens, 1914 Grinnell Dr., Perryton; "Yes. I think it's a wonderful thing. I don't think we have enough prayer anywhere."

Wives Seek Fate Of Servicemen

PARIS (UPI)—Four women married to U.S. airmen shot down over Vietnam today sought a meeting with North Vietnamese officials to find out "if we are wives or widows." The four arrived Sunday night from Dallas, Tex. They said they had applied for a private meeting with officials of the Hanoi delegation to the Vietnam talks.

"Each of us hopes that our husband is still alive and we hope and pray that the North Vietnamese delegates will tell us where they can be found and if they are in good health," said Mrs. Bonnie Singleton, wife of Capt. Jerry Singleton. The other three were Mrs. Joy Jeffrey, wife of Capt. Robert Jeffrey; Mrs. Sandy McElhanon, wife of Maj. Michael McElhanon; and Mrs. Paula Hartness, wife of Capt. Gregg Hartness, all from Dallas.

"Our husbands have been missing from eight months to four years and we are hopeful North Vietnamese representatives will tell us if we are wives or widows," the four said in a statement. "If we are wives and each of us believes our husband is still alive—we hope and pray North Vietnamese spokesmen will tell us where our husbands are, and if they are in good health," they said. "We are also hopeful the North Vietnamese spokesman will explain why we have not received any replies to the many letters we have written to our husbands."

The four women said they planned to stay in Paris for up to a week to see a member of the North Vietnamese delegation. The North Vietnamese were not available for comment. Saturday at the 33rd session of the talks, Ha Van Lau, the deputy North Vietnamese negotiator, said American prisoners were "war criminals" who did not benefit from the Geneva Convention agreements on prisoners because Hanoi had made reservations on the agreement. "North Vietnam has repeatedly refused to respond to U.S. requests for a list of American prisoners. About 1,400 men are listed as missing in action in Vietnam or as prisoners; but it has been estimated that only about 600 of these are alive."

SS Manhattan Concludes Voyage To Northwest

NEW YORK (UPI)—The tanker Manhattan radioed word today that it had achieved its goal of becoming the first commercial ship to complete the legendary Northwest Passage.

A spokesman for Humble Oil & Refining Co., sponsor of the $39 million research voyage, said the tanker arrived at Sachs Harbour, Canada, at midnight Sunday for a champagne celebration. Today, after taking on mail and supplies and transferring passengers, the Manhattan was pressing on through the Beaufort Sea to the rich oil fields of Alaska. The tanker's next stop was to be at Barter Island on Thursday.

The arrival of the 1,002-foot ship, reinforced and remodeled with an extra-heavy bow, at Sachs Harbour on southwestern Banks Island fulfilled a 500-year-old dream of mariners: that a top-of-the-world route is feasible for commerce. For the oil companies, the goal was to prove oil tankers like the Manhattan will be able to ply the icy, floe-filled Arctic waters of the Canadian archipelago on a regular schedule between the East Coast and Europe and Alaska. The advantages of such a link to the rich oil fields now being developed in Alaska are estimated at more than $1 billion a day.

Draft Evasion Once Minor, Now Large Problem

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Draft evasion, once a relatively minor problem for the Selective Service, has increased so rapidly in the past four years that previously soft-hearted judges have taken a hard line with violators. Although the draft call has tripled in the past four years, the number of young Americans charged with "criminal violation" of the draft has increased about 10 times. Recent Justice Department figures indicate the number of draft defendants — in years when 300,000 men are drafted each year—is nearly the same as in 1945, when nearly a million civilians were called and 4,287 refused to serve. Although court figures for fiscal 1969 are not complete, the Justice Department said it had filed 3,455 draft "cases" during the past year, double the number filed in the previous year. Some of the "cases" include more than one defendant and some are appeals, but the department said charges against 3,118 were pending July 31.

In 1965, when inductions began their dramatic increase, there were 341 draft defendants. In 1966 the draft shot up to above 300,000 and the defendants increased to 316. In 1967 there were 996 defendants and 1,192 in 1968. In 1965 the average sentence meted out to draft violators was 21 months, although a maximum sentence of five years is allowed. Last year the average sentence was 37.3 months.

One Justice Department attorney attributed the increase in sentence length to some judges who previously had been very lenient on draft evaders but began cracking down when the number of cases increased. The remaining reformists will be purged from government and party offices at a Communist Party central committee meeting "within the coming weeks," a high Communist Party official said Sunday. Stefan Sadovsky, a member of the Czechoslovak Communist Party's powerful presidium and Slovak Party first secretary, confirmed the expected purge was in the offing and appealed to Czechoslovaks in the West to return to their homeland. "Those who fail to take advantage of the amnesty risk return after today. Their apartments will be confiscated and they will lose their social security privileges."

Czechs' Amnesty Expires Tonight

PRAGUE (UPI)—Amnesty expires at midnight for tens of thousands of Czechoslovaks who have left for the west since the Warsaw Pact invasion that ended the "Prague Spring" period of reform. The remaining reformists will be purged from government and party offices at a Communist Party central committee meeting "within the coming weeks," a high Communist Party official said Sunday. Stefan Sadovsky, a member of the Czechoslovak Communist Party's powerful presidium and Slovak Party first secretary, confirmed the expected purge was in the offing and appealed to Czechoslovaks in the West to return to their homeland. "Those who fail to take advantage of the amnesty risk return after today. Their apartments will be confiscated and they will lose their social security privileges."

Congress On Evangelism May Spur Fundamentalists To Involvement

By WESLEY G. PIPPERT
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—The U.S. Congress on Evangelism may have spurred the Fundamentalists to greater involvement on social problems—especially racism. This seems true for two reasons:—The Fundamentalists' own basic beliefs, particularly the Bible. —They have gotten "the message from within their own ranks." In all 93 denominations were represented at the congress last week. Most of the 4,700 delegates came from the smaller, evangelically oriented denominations, which have always preached the necessity of personal salvation. This is what evangelism is about. But during the week there was increasing attention paid to the fact there is what Billy Graham's brother-in-law, Ligon Ford, called "a racial revolution" and it may have something to do with evangelism, too. Evangelical Protestants have a tendency to be conservative or

U.S. Command Says North Viet Unit Present In Mekong Delta

SAIGON (UPI)—The U.S. Military Command announced today that for the first time it has confirmed the presence of a regular North Vietnamese Army unit in the Mekong Delta south of Saigon. Behind a mortar and rocket attack, the Hanoi troops tried to over-run a South Vietnamese army training center near Tri Ton, 110 miles southwest of Saigon and within 10 miles of Cambodia. The announcement said the government defenders, mostly recruits, drove off the attackers, killing 83, but lost four killed and 19 wounded themselves. The fight was Thursday, with no reason given for the delay in reporting it. "An element of the North Vietnamese Army 18B Regiment was identified as participating in the attack," the U.S. Command said. "This conflict is the first confirmation in the history of the war of a regular North Vietnamese Army unit operating in the IV Corps Tactical Zone (the Mekong Delta)."

South Vietnamese helicopter gunships and artillery helped break up the ground attack in the seven-hour battle, military spokesmen said. The 18B Regiment was identified either from prisoners or from documents found on the bodies of slain North Vietnamese soldiers. Last reports of that unit had in Binh Long Province northwest of Saigon June 20. It portended a possible new Communist drive in the Mekong Delta, where U.S. and South Vietnamese officials have reported major progress in the effort to put vast areas under control of the Saigon government. Ever since 1968, North Vietnamese troops had been reported infiltrating into the delta as replacements for Viet Cong units who had lost too many soldiers to replace with local recruits. In another development, the command announced the beginning of a 3,500-man offensive by U.S. and South Korean marines on an island along the northern coast of South Vietnam. Since it began last week, the operation has killed 190 Communist troops. Military spokesmen said the number of U.S. troops in Vietnam dropped by 1,800 last week to an 18-month low of 508,000. To the north, American guns bombarded North Vietnam's half of the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) Sunday for the 14th time since the United States called off the bombing of the North Nov. 1. The salvo Sunday silenced North Vietnamese ground gunners who had opened fire on a U.S. spotter plane, and knocked out one guerrilla bunker 300 yards north of the Ben Hai River, the announcement said. "Elsewhere, the intensity of guerrilla shelling tapered off overnight, with 12 allied towns and bases coming under attack. Communiques said three long-range rockets hit Hue, South Vietnam's third largest city, wounding two Vietnamese civilians.

Ky Makes Statement Following Conference

SAIGON (UPI)—Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky said today 40,500 American troops will be withdrawn from South Vietnam by the end of November and that as many as 200,000 may be withdrawn by the end of 1970. Ky made the statement to newsmen following a series of high-level conferences between American and South Vietnamese officials. The U.S. Command had no immediate comment but Ky said the withdrawal would be announced in a joint communique Tuesday. Washington reports have said President Nixon wanted to withdraw as many as 100,000 of the 508,000 American troops in Vietnam by the end of the year. Ky said it was expected a total of 150,000 to 200,000 would be withdrawn this year and that 200,000 was the more likely figure. Ky said there was no disagreement between the United States over the 40,500 figure, which he said includes U.S. marines, paratroopers and other Army combat forces. He said the withdrawal announcement would not be coupled with any new peace initiatives. "We have made enough concessions."

Evans' Officers Say Skipper Was Competent, Fair

SUBIC BAY, Philippines (UPI)—Three officers from the USS Frank E. Evans praised their skipper as "competent, fair man today on the first day of his court-martial on charges of negligence and dereliction of duty. The trial started 10 minutes after the skipper, Cmdr. Albert S. McLemore, 40, of Vallejo, Calif., pleaded innocent to all charges stemming from the collision of his ship June 3 with an Australian aircraft carrier.

"He is prudent and careful and highly qualified as a commanding officer," testified McLemore's executive officer, Lt. Cmdr. George L. McMichael, 34, of Fountain Valley, Calif. McMichael was among the first witnesses to appear as the prosecutor, Lt. Cmdr. David A. Mario, 36, of Los Angeles, opened his case, trying to prove McLemore's negligence in the collision that killed 74 Evans crewmen. Mario told the court in an opening statement that McLemore had not instructed his bridge to awaken him when the close-quarters maneuvers began that led to the collision of the South China Sea. He said other "certain necessary actions" had not been taken by the destroyer's captain to prevent the collision. "It would be the second American troop withdrawal. The first was the pullout of 25,000 troops which was completed last month. It apparently was part of Nixon's reported hopes to withdraw as many as 100,000 Americans by the end of the year. Whether the U.S. troop withdrawal had full South Vietnamese support was not known. Abrams held a series of conferences with President Nguyen Van Thieu and Thieu called an emergency meeting of his National Security Council. Ky made the disclosure at a handful of correspondents at a reception for a Vietnamese painter, held at a French cultural center in Saigon. He said the news of the withdrawal would be announced simultaneously in Washington and Saigon on Tuesday. At time of the first withdrawal—announced at Midway Island after a meeting of Nixon and Thieu—the allies agreed that South Vietnamese troops would take over American combat duties in the field.

Victims Of Holy War Die Mysteriously

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—The violence of northern Ireland is a holy war where a young soldier dies mysteriously in a clump of grass or an elderly woman wants a wall built between her and her neighbor. The tragedy of any war is its helpless victims—the ones fate or destiny put in the wrong place at the wrong time. Christopher Edgar was such a victim. He made himself one inadvertently, one summer's day a year ago when at the age of 17 he volunteered in the British Army. Edgar, a native of Surrey, England, had few fears. His country was at war with no one, and "this was one way he told he could fulfill an obligation," a friend said. The decision a month ago to send him and some 6,500 of his fellow soldiers into Ulster to restore peace was just another job, and not a particularly dangerous one at that. Today, Chris Edgar's body is on its way back to England. He was found a little before dawn Sunday, in a bed of two-foot high grass near a Belfast stadium, his head crushed or blown to pieces. Police at first said he had been beaten to death. Later they said he apparently had died of a self-inflicted wound. Officially, he was "accidentally" dead. Edgar had been sent to Ulster to stop violence. Mrs. Annie Keown, a 79-year-old widow, was a victim of that violence, a woman who after three quarters of a century, would not talk to her neighbors because their religions were different. Mrs. Keown is a Roman Catholic. Next door is a Protestant family. For years, she at number 87, they at number 89 Dover Street, had lived side-by-side cordially. Today, an eight-foot wall divides them as it divides (See VICTIMS, Page 3)

DO YOU have the lights-out jitters? Are you reasonably sure the minute you snap the switch, the long brown line of cockroaches goes in formation across your kitchen floor, onto counters and up the walls? Do you suspect the ant army has broken and is planning a sneak attack? Well, you can win this battle — with a war hero — veteran of many a fray... winner of all Johnston's No-Roach.

Johnston's No-Roach Appreciates Love Letters From Customers

The letter reprinted below is not exactly a love letter — but the makers of Johnston's No-Roach love receiving them.

"This is the first letter I have ever written to any company but I do want to tell you that I think very highly of your product 'No-Roach.' I recently moved into an apartment that was infested with roaches. It was the first time I ever had any. I went frantic trying every product advertised on TV or what neighbors told me about. One day I was in (store name deleted) and saw 'No-Roach.' Thought I would give it a try. Well it really worked wonders. Since I have used your product I have never seen a roach, and I will continue using it as long as I dwell in this apartment house or have the need for it."

MRS. K. P. Yes! No-Roach is effective against all crawling insects: cockroaches; ants; spiders; silverfish. One application stays effective for months. It's clean and easy to use; harmless to pets.

To keep ants out of the house, brush colorless No-Roach across window and door sills. Ants will not cross the coating. Use No-Roach with confidence.

"No-Roach" is available in Pampa at Ward's, Ideal, Piggly Wiggly, Gibson's and all food stores.

Cable Produces Good TV For Subscribers

Poor television reception can no longer be blamed on antennas for 13 million cable TV subscribers.

This figure includes approximately 2,500 Pampans who subscribe to the service through Pampa Cable TV, 1421 N. Hobart.

The community antenna system uses a large master antenna which picks up signals from many television stations, amplifies and filters them and then distributes them throughout the city through a network of cables.

A small wire similar to a telephone wire is run from the cable into the homes of subscribers. The outlet location is chosen by the owner.

Since the television set is connected directly to the cable, there is no longer any need for an antenna.

Besides improved reception, the lack of dependence on the antenna adds several benefits itself, such as eliminating damage problems from wind and lightning and making the home of the subscriber look more attractive.

Cable TV greatly improves reception on black and white television. And it does wonders for color TV.

But improved television reception is only part of the cable TV story.

Residents who have not been able to use their FM radios previously can pick up a total of six stations from Amarillo, Spearman, Dalhart and Dumas through their cable outlet.

Cable subscribers can pick up more television stations than they once could.

Pampa Cable TV Manager, Al Williams, has applied for programs from Dallas and Ft. Worth, and eventually hopes to get a station from Los Angeles.

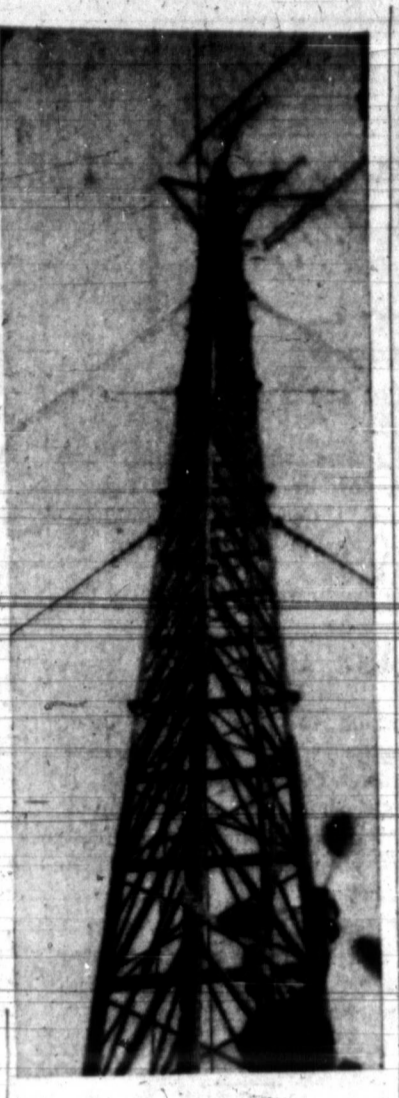

A new movie station, which will continually present movies or cartoons is in the planning stages now and is expected to be ready for use in approximately six weeks.

Community service programs can be broadcast locally. Already Pampa subscribers can monitor the weather and read community bulletins on station 122.

On August 4, a 24-hour all electronic news service, including vital local notices was added to the cable service. It is enabling subscribers to receive up-to-the-minute news prepared by United Press International.

The possibilities for cable TV are unlimited. All the services are offered for a monthly service charge of $5.50, for one primary outlet. Additional outlets may be added to the house for $1 per month each.

Call Pampa Cable TV at 665-2381, or drive by 421 N. Hobart, and forget your antenna problems forever.

THIS 250 FOOT reception tower enables over 2,500 Pampans to receive clear pictures on their TV's. The tower, located one and one-half miles west of Highland General Hospital, is equipped to catch signals from Amarillo and produce them for cable TV subscribers. The tower is also equipped with weather instruments.

Adams said that if the commission hasn't formally requested Congress for the authority which it says the commission has, he and other congressmen will introduce their own bills making the authority clear.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks are developing a reputation for being "unprofitable servants" and gradual disillusionment, rather than forced liquidation is causing broad price erosion, observes W.E. Hutton & Co. Eventually some good bargains will appear, the firm says, but, at least in a conventional bear market, there is usually a fairly long period of undervaluation. The transition from a bear to a bull market "involves a healing process in which activity is restricted, pessimism is general and public interest in stock stagnates."

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: That letter from "LIKES COPS" in Wayne, N.J., made police officers sound like playboys who have nothing better to do while on duty than make time with flirting females.

As the wife of a devoted patrolman, I doubt very much if many policemen are willing to strike up "friendships" with cheap pick-ups who boldly announce that cops "turn them on."

Suburban police duties may vary, but in the big city of Cleveland there isn't much time for those officers to fool around. They are too busy doing their jobs. Thank You!

MRS. PATROLMAN, CLEVELAND, O.

DEAR ABBY: For all the girls who like cops: Most cops have wives who are fed up to the ears with girls who "like cops."

Also, don't get the idea that all you have to do is ride around and "smile" at a policeman in a squad car, and he is going to follow you home. Most policemen in squad cars are looking for trouble, but not the kind you're offering them.

COP'S WIFE, BOSTON

DEAR ABBY: Please tell "LIKES COPS" that if she wants to get anywhere with a policeman, she shouldn't call him a "cop." He likes to be called "police officer," or "Sir."

I ought to know, I married one, and my children don't know what the word "fuzz" or "cop" means. They are proud that their daddy is a policeman.

WIFE OF AN "L. A. P. O."

DEAR ABBY: TO "LIKE COPS": Get a job at City Hall.

I did and I married a policeman.

He has since changed jobs and now he works in a funeral home. I don't mind though as long as he doesn't bring his work home with him.

"HAPPY" IN KEYSER, W.VA. DEAR ABBY: Maybe some day "LIKES COPS" will be married to a cop who "turns her on," and they will live happily ever after, if he is strong enough to turn down all the propositions he gets from other females who are also "turned on" by cops.

It is for that reason that I am the former wife of a police officer, and my children no longer have a full time father.

ALONE IN ANNANDALE, VA.

DEAR ABBY: This is in reference to the letter from the girl who "LIKES COPS." Here in Washington, D.C., such girls are called "road runners." Their tactics are fine if they don't mind dating married men because at least 95 per cent of the cops I know are married. And I know plenty.

COP'S WIFE, SILVER SPRING, MD.

DEAR ABBY: This is for the gal who says cops "turn her on."

When a cop is out of uniform he is just like any other man. No better. No worse. And any man who has ever worn a uniform can tell in a minute when he's met a uniform-happy dame. I am married to a police officer (please, not "cop") and it couldn't have been his brass buttons that turned me on because I met him in a bowling alley when he was out of uniform.

White House Decorator Combines Patriotic Color Scheme For Nixon

By GAY PAULEY UPI Women's Editor NEW YORK (UPI)—"Always remember to pay just as much attention to an order for a slipcover as to an order to do a whole house. You never know where it will lead."

The words were those of a rug salesman to Sarah Jackson Doyle when she first started a decorating career. She headed and eventually the advice led her to the White House.

Mrs. Doyle for the past several months has been commuting between her New York office and Washington where she helped Mrs. Richard M. Nixon decorate the family rooms of the Executive Mansion. And while the first family was in San Clemente, she redid the President's Oval Office in the White House. Just what new decor awaited Mr. Nixon when he returned hasn't been announced. Mrs. Doyle leaves such matters to presidential press secretaries.

But what she did for the family quarters is known—such as a red, white and blue scheme for President Nixon's bedroom.

It was just accidental that the scheme was so patriotic in feeling. Mrs. Doyle said the President likes blues, so she put in a cornflower blue carpet, the bedspread has a white background with red and blue figures, the walls are white, a red rep wing chair sits in front of the fireplace.

Mrs. Nixon did very little change in the color scheme, mostly yellow, that Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson had used in her bedroom. She did bring along from the Fifth Avenue apartment in New York some small French chairs and personal mementoes — "she leans to things French, to clear colors and pastels," Mrs. Doyle said.

As for Tricia's bedroom, it's in her favorite pinks and white. One of the items added of which Mrs. Doyle is most proud is the new gold synthetic carpeting, 340 yards of it covering the rooms on the second floor, and another 200 square yards in deep red plush for the "red carpet treatment."

Sturgeon Speaks To ABWA Group

American Business Women's Association members heard Ben Sturgeon, a Pampa attorney, speak recently on the pending City Sales Tax and special city election slated Sept. 24.

Members met for a dinner program at Furr's Cafeteria as Sturgeon outlined the city's financial plan and the need for additional revenue.

Mrs. Fred Richmond, vice president, was presiding officer as reports were submitted by committees. The Tea Chairman announced the Friendship Tea will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 21 in the Hospitality Room of Citizens Bank and Trust Co.

During the meeting, Mrs. Jackie Hollingsworth, who is employed part time at a Pampa department store, gave the vocational talk.

Those attending were Meses. Fred Richmond, Eugene Franklin, Danny Malone, Allen Buske, H. Hollingsworth, John Killian, John King, James Culpepper, Norma Quick, Vernon Graham, Ted Mastin, Harry Paul, Travis Winegeart Sr., Fred Niemeier, Maudie Voyle, Eunice Maddox, and Maxine Nabors. Guests introduced were City Manager Charles Hill, Mrs. Frank Scott and Pam Thomas.

DAR Chapter Has Luncheon Program

Las Pampas Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution met for lunch at Furr's Cafeteria, recently. Mrs. Henry Merrick, regent, presided over the business meeting as plans were made for the observance of "Constitution Week" Sept. 17-23. Chapter members have been invited by the Ester McCrory chapter of Amarillo to join them in a Constitution Day luncheon at noon today in the Amarillo Club.

Mrs. D. C. Gassaway gave the message of Mrs. Erwin Frees Seimes, president general of the National Society DAR. Mrs. Seimes, in recalling the remarkable feat of the astronaut, Armstrong, Aldrin and Collins, said that "we, as a free people must continue to produce citizens such as these. We must be vigilant to preserve the American way of life. Take an active part in local school affairs to assure that our children are receiving the best possible education to prepare them for life in a universe."

In the Defense Committee report, Mrs. John Skelly pointed out that "no military challenge facing the United States is likely to prove more serious than that presented by Russia's rapidly growing, highly mobile naval force. The Soviet undersea fleet has grown fast since the end of World War II. It is this force which poses the greatest threat to the Free World. The halt in United States ballistic missile submarine construction, while the Soviet Union continues to build this type of water craft in quantity exposes us to considerable peril."

Mrs. Vernon Hobbs gave the program on the Constitution which William Gladstone, the British statesman and prime minister once described as the "most wonderful work ever struck off at a given time by a brain and purpose of man". Mrs. Hobbs continued, "certainly the American Constitution has withstood the most decisive of all tests—that of time. The charter drafted at Philadelphia in 1787 is oldest written constitution in the world. It has survived the trials of practical politics, the holocaust of civil war and the immense relentless tide of social and economic change induced by industrial revolution."

"The Constitution has become a symbol of American patriotism and nationality," she said.

Ellis, Maxwell Post Win In Odessa Tournament

ODESSA, Tex. (UPI)—Billy Maxwell, 40, was all smiles. He and amateur Richard Ellis of Pampa, a senior at Texas A&M, had just won Sunday's 21st annual Odessa Pro-Am golf tournament.

They fired a final round 66 to finish with a two-stroke 262 win over three teams deadlocked at 264.

In the runner-up positions were the teams of Jim Grant of Atlanta, Ga., and Bill Hafvey of Greensboro, N. C.; Rik Massengale of Jacksonville and Allen Miller of Pensacola, Fla., and Terry Dill and Bill Penn of Austin. All three teams shot 66s after starting the final round tied with Maxwell and Ellis for the 54-hole lead at 196.

Another stroke back in fifth place were the team of Grier Jones and Jamie Thompson of Wichita, Kan., with a 72-hole total 266.

Maxwell's best official winnings on the PGA tour was $31,834 in 1962 before being named to the U.S. Ryder Cup team in 1963. However, playing his best golf of many years, Maxwell has won $25,000 on the tour this year and with the $8,000 first-place purse Sunday has boosted his total winnings to their best ever for one season.

"I hadn't won a championship since the 1962 Dallas Open," Maxwell said. "I just hope this (the Odessa Pro-Am) is a preview of the coming attraction."

Before Sunday's victory, Maxwell's highest finish this year was second at the Phoenix Open. However, without having won a major tournament, Maxwell said his game wasn't too bad.

"This was the second largest check I ever got as a professional," Maxwell said. "I sure hope to see more of them."

Maxwell had never before played with Ellis, a member of the winning Southwest Conference golf team at A&M last year. He had played with Bill "Red" Roden of Midland over the years. Roden wasn't able to make it last year and Maxwell sat out the tourney only the second time to miss it over the years.

Teams With Ellis
This year when Roden said he couldn't play, Maxwell teamed with Ellis through connection he had at the host Odessa Country club, where he started as a pro 15 years ago. He now plays out of Indianopolis, Ind.

Winners are never tired. Maxwell said after finishing the 72 holes in four days. "I had a good partner, and we decided to keep it close all the way."

The twosome didn't have a boggy over the 72 holes. They got eight birdies on the opening round, and finished with six each the three following days.

"Billy had a great tournament," Ellis said. "He played them all just like the last one—just great."

Finishing at 267 and tied for sixth were U.S. Open-golf World Series champion Orville Moody of Killeen and his brother Lloyd Moody of Bethany, Okla. They shot a 267 total to tie with Jack Montgomery and Gary Jarmon of Norman, Okla.

Dumas Next In Line For Pampa In Non-League

Pampa will try to continue its solid running, blocking and passing, here Friday night, and shake off its bad case of "mistakeitis" when Dumas comes to town for a non-conference football game.

The Harvesters will join Dumas itself, Tascosa, Caprock, and Lubbock Coronado in seeking victory No. 1 of the young football season.

All District 3-4A football teams opened the prep season last weekend and the district won six of 10 games played against outside opposition. In fact AAA teams gave the district the most trouble with Pampa and Caprock losing to AAA teams.

Pampa was bounced by Hereford, 13-9 and Caprock was shutout by Vernon, 27-0. Other district teams losing were Coronado, 10-3 to Wichita Falls and Tascosa, 27-12 to Odessa Permian.

Pampa will try to continue to put the skids on Dumas, a whopping 4-27 loser to Palo Duro, who just could be the next AAAA state champ.

The Demons returned 15 starters overall from a 5-5 season last year but were never able to get untracked against the powerful Dons.

Elsewhere around the league Plainview, a 27-12 winner over Clovis, plays at Hereford; Palo Duro, plays at El Paso Irving. Monterey, a 6-0 surprise winner over Elgin Spr., hosts Wichita Falls Rider; Saturday, Lubbock, another surprise winner, 27-26 over Midland-Lee, plays at Odessa Ector; Andrews hosts Lubbock Coronado, Caprock, a 27-0 loser to Vernon, hosts El Paso Coronado; Tascosa, a 27-12 loser to Odessa, hosts Borger in a non-zone game; Amarillo a 21-7 winner over Odessa plays at Wichita Falls and the Sandies have served notice along with Borger they are the class of the north zone.

Borger had no trouble downing Perryton, 35-6.

Pampa came out of the Hereford tilt with nothing hurt but their pride.

The Harvesters fumbled away one scoring chance, another fumble caused them to punt and the ball traveled only 25 yards.

Staubach Has Troubles In Loss To Baltimore

DALLAS (UPI)—Dallas Cowboys Coach Tom Landry said his rookie quarterback, Roger Staubach, had trouble reading the Baltimore Colts defenses trying to pass, but Jolly Roger didn't have too much trouble with his reading when he decided to run.

The National Football League champion Colts finished their pre-season scheduled with a 23-7 conquest of the Cowboys (4-2), but that fact seemed rather incidental to a national television audience and 58,975 fans in the Cotton Bowl Sunday night.

It was Staubach who was the star of the show as he darted through holes in his collapsing pass pocket time again to ramble downfield in crazy running patterns that left would-be Colt tacklers stumbling and grabbing at thin air.

When it was all over, the 27-year-old rookie, who was starting his first game in relief of injured Craig Merton, scrambled 11 times for 118 yards and a 10.7-yard average—the best of any back on the field.

That's strictly against the code by which Landry and other NFL coaches teach their quarterbacks. They shudder to think about it. As far as the coaches are concerned a scrambling quarterback does not win.

The Colts-Cowboys game bore that out because Staubach managed to hit only six of the 21 passes he tried to throw, had four of those intercepted and on five occasions was dumped for 37 yards in losses.

"It was hard for Roger to read the Colts zone defense," Landry said. "He was not directed specifically to not run with the ball or to stay in the pocket. It would have been a handicap to just let him stand there."

But, Landry in as many words told next week's NFL season-opening foe, the St. Louis Cardinals, not to bank too much on what they saw of Staubach against the Colts.

"We will be much more ready next Sunday (against the Cardinals)," Landry said. "Roger learned quite a bit. We think he will be much better prepared."

Staubach, who seems almost certain to start again since Landry said it is "doubtful" that Merton would recover sufficiently from his dislocated finger.

And, Staubach had a few words about the same vein. "I should have stayed in the pocket more, but I saw openings and I tried to get some yards," he said. "I probably learned more (against the Colts) than, ever, because I was playing against the best defense."

The Colts fashioned a 13-0 lead and never were headed. Jerry Logan ran a sliced Dallas punt back 42 yards for the first score and Tom Matte trotted one yard for another after Johnny Unitas had passed the Colts down close.

Staubach passed and ran the Cowboys down close enough for Walt Garrison to lunge one yard for Dallas' only touchdown.

White Deer, Groom, Wheeler Eye Wins

White Deer, Wheeler and Groom will all be out to extend one game winning streaks Friday night while Lefors, McLean, Miami, Canadian and Perryton hope to win their first games of the season.

In District 1-A White Deer (1-0) hosts Clarendon (11-0), Canadian (0-1) plays at Spearman (1-0), Sunray (1-0) hosts Booker (1-0), Gruver (1-0) hosts Memphis (0-1) and Stratford (0-0) is host to Dalhart (1-0).

District 2-A's Wheeler (1-0) is at Wellington (1-0), McLean (0-1) hosts Lefors (0-1), Claude (0-1) hosts Groom (1-0), Turkey (0-1) hosts Silverton (0-1), Clarendon and White Deer tangle and Happy (1-0) plays at Bovina (1-0).

In other games Miami (0-0) hosts Gate, Okla. (1-0).

White Deer made it very plain Friday night they will be a serious contender in District 1-A by whipping a good 2-A Silverton club, 35-0. The Bucks step up in competition a bit this week against Clarendon who had no trouble pulverizing Memphis, 41-20. The Bronchos are the District 2-A favorites.

Canadian was shocked Friday by class B Booker and the Wildcats never did get its offense untracked. They put up quite a defensive battle until the fourth quarter when the Kiowas scored twice.

The Wildcats will find Spearman, a 14-7 loser to Sunray, double tough with lots of speed.

Wheeler came up with a fine defensive effort against a young but fast Lefors team Friday and

Jets, Kansas City Open AFL Season With Close Wins

The Cincinnati Bengals couldn't have delivered a more fitting epitaph to linebacker Frank Buncom.

The Bengals, who learned only hours before their game with the Miami Dolphins Sunday that Buncom had died of a heart attack at the age of 29, went out and stunned the Miami Dolphins 27-21 and dramatically opened the American Football League's 10th season.

In other action, the New York Jets opened defense of their AFL title by whipping the Buffalo Bills 33-19, Oakland edged Houston 21-17, Kansas City topped San Diego 27-9 and Denver routed Boston 35-7.

Daryle Lamonica hit Warren Wells with a 64-yard scoring pass late in the fourth period to provide the Raiders with their winning touchdown. The Oilers had taken a 17-14 lead with 6:25 remaining on a 15-yard pass from Pete Beathard to Jerry Levis, but two plays after the ensuing kickoff Lamonica hit Wells for the winning score.

The Mustangs showed a pretty good offense in a 19-0 shutout of the class B Pirates.

But they are liable to run into a buzzsaw this week when they meet Wellington on the Bobcats home field. Wellington downed a very good Hollis, Okla., team, 22-19.

McLean, a 25-9 loser to tough Shamrock, seeks to get back on the winning track in what should prove to be an interesting game against Lefors in McLean.

Both teams are young but Lefors has a slight edge in experience although the Tigers probably have the better defense.

District 5-B's Groom will be taking on another class A foe when the Tigers journey to Claude. But Groom had no trouble downing Vega, 27-12, and should get by Claude, a 38-8 loser to Panhandle, by about the same margin.

Miami will get the eight-man football season started at home this week by hosting Gate, Okla. The Warriors led victory No. 1 slip by them last week on a blocked punt and had to settle for a 12-12 tie against Forgan.

In AAA football this week, while Pampa is hosting Dumas, Hereford, a 13-9 winner over the Harvesters, plays Plainview in Hereford Canyon, an upset winner over Phillips, hosts Olton and Tulia plays at Dalhart.

The Oilers had taken a 17-14 lead with 6:25 remaining on a 13-yard pass from Pete Beathard to Jerry LeVias, but two plays after the ensuing kickoff Lamonica hit Wells for the winning score.

Staubach Has Troubles In Loss To Baltimore
 DALLAS (UPI)—Dallas Cowboys Coach Tom Landry said his rookie quarterback, Roger Staubach, had trouble reading the Baltimore Colts defenses trying to pass, but Jolly Roger didn't have too much trouble with his reading when he decided to run.

The National Football League champion Colts finished their pre-season schedule with a 23-7 conquest of the Cowboys (4-2), but that fact seemed rather incidental to a national television audience and 58,975 fans in the Cotton Bowl Sunday night.

It was Staubach who was the star of the show as he darted through holes in his collapsing pass pocket time and again to ramble downfield in crazy running patterns that left would-be Colt tacklers stumbling and grabbing at thin air.

When it was all over, the 27-year-old rookie, who was starting his first game in relief of injured Craig Morton, scrambled 11 times for 118 yards and a 10.7-yard average—the best of any back on the field.

That's strictly against the code by which Landry and other NFL coaches teach their quarterbacks. They shudder to think about it. As far as the coaches are concerned a scrambling quarterback does not win.

The Colts-Cowboys game bore that out. Because Staubach managed to hit only six of the 21 passes he did throw, had four of those intercepted and on five occasions was dumped for 37 yards in losses.

"It was hard for Roger to read the Colts zone" defense," Landry said. "He was not directed specifically to not run with the ball or to stay in the pocket. It would have been a handicap to just let him stand there."

But, Landry in as many words told next week's NFL season-opening foe, the St. Louis Cardinals, not to bank 100 much on what they saw of Staubach against the Colts.

"We will be much more ready next Sunday against the Cardinals," Landry said. "Roger learned quite a bit. We think he will be much better prepared."

Staubach, who seems almost certain to start again since Landry said it is "doubtful" that Morton would recover sufficiently from his dislocated finger.

And, Staubach had a few words about the same vein.

"I should have stayed in the pocket more, but I saw openings and I tried to get some yards," he said. "I probably learned more (against the Colts) than ever, because I was playing against the best defense."

The Colts fashioned a 13-0 lead and never were headed. Jerry Logan ran a sliced Dallas punt back 42 yards for the first score and Tom Matte trotted one yard for another after Johnny Unitas had passed the Colts down close.

Staubach passed and ran the Cowboys down close enough for Walt Garrison to lunge one yard for Dallas' only touchdown.

Ellis, Maxwell Post Win In Odessa Tournament
 ODESSA, Tex. (UPI)—Billy Maxwell, 40, was all smiles. He and amateur Richard Ellis of Pampa, a senior at Texas A&M, had just won Sunday's 21st annual Odessa Pro-Am golf tournament.

They fired a final round 66 to finish with a two-stroke 262 win over three teams deadlocked at 264.

In the runner-up positions were the teams of Jim Grant of Atlanta, Ga., and Bill Harvey of Greensboro, N. C.; Rik Mensingale of Jacksboro and Allen Miller of Pensacola, Fla., and Terry Dill and Bill Penn of Austin. All three teams shot 68s after starting the final round tied with Maxwell and Ellis for the 54-hole lead at 196.

Another stroke back in fifth place were the team of Grier Jones and Jamie Thompson of Wichita, Kan., with a 72-hole total 266.

Maxwell's best official winnings on the PGA-tour was $31,834 in 1962 before being named to the U.S. Ryder Cup team in 1963. However, playing his best golf of many years, Maxwell has won $25,000 on the tour this year and with the $8,000 first-prize purse Sunday has boosted his total winnings to their best ever for one season.

"I hadn't won a championship since the 1962 Dallas Open," Maxwell said. "I just hope this (the Odessa Pro-Am) is a preview of the coming attraction."

Before Sunday's victory, Maxwell's highest finish this year was second at the Phoenix Open. However, without having won a major tournament, Maxwell said his game wasn't too bad.

"This was the second largest check I ever got as a professional," Maxwell said. "I sure hope to see more of them."

Maxwell had never before played with Ellis, a member of the winning Southwest Conference golf team at A&M last year. He had played with Bill "Red" Roden of Midland over the years but Roden wasn't able to make it last year and Maxwell sat out the tourney—only the second time to miss it over the years.

Teams With Ellis
 This year when Roden said he couldn't play, Maxwell teamed with Ellis through connection he had at the host Odessa Country club, where he started as a pro 15 years ago. He now plays out of Indianapolis, Ind.

"Winners are never tired," Maxwell said after finishing the 72 holes in four days. "I had a good partner, and we decided to keep it close all the way."

The twosome didn't have a boggy over the 72 holes. They got eight birdies on the opening round, and finished with six each the three following days.

"Billy had a great tournament," Ellis said. "He played them all just like the last one—just great."

Finishing at 267 and tied for sixth were U.S. Open-golf World Series champion Orville Moody of Killeen and his brother Lloyd Moody of Bethany, Okla. They shot a 267 total to tie with Jack Montgomery and Gary Jarmon of Norman, Okla.

Pampa's Shockers seek their second-straight win by playing host to Berger's Junior Varsity at 7:30 p.m. on Harvester Field. Lee-Ninth plays Berger Houston in Berger at 7:30 p.m. Pampa is idle.

Who's To Plunder Whom?

"This question of legal plunder," wrote Frederic Bastiat, the 19th Century French economist, in his plain-spoken little classic, "The Law," "must be settled once and for all, and there are only three ways to settle it:

1. The few plunder the many.
2. Everybody plunders everybody.
3. Nobody plunders anybody."

We must make our choice, Bastiat said (and he was speaking, not only to the French people, but to the world at large), between these three; between limited legal plunder, universal legal plunder, or no legal plunder.

Limited legal plunder, the few plundering the many, prevailed, he explained, when the politically-bestowed voting ballot was restricted to the privileged few. Those politically-favored few voted in measures and programs designed to legally rob their less fortunate neighbors. Some of a "conservative" stripe favor, even today, a return to the system of limited legal plunder as a means of "combating socialism." They forget or never learned, that "legal plunder IS socialism."

Universal legal plunder, everybody plundering everybody, will come upon us, Bastiat continued, at the same rate that the voting privilege is universally bestowed. Under this system, he explained, everybody attempts to use the coercion and force of the law for his own benefit to the detriment of everyone else. "The newly franchised majority" decides under this system, he said, "to formulate law on the same principle of legal plunder that was used by their predecessors where the vote was limited." Already,

COUNTABLE BLESSINGS

Many of us take for granted the blessings which are ours simply because we are Americans. Most of us have never known any other countries. Our parents knew nothing of life in other lands.

We have never lived where we had to be in mortal fear of the secret police, where our neighbor or close friend might be a government spy.

We have not had a government which censored the news and permitted newspapers to publish only what the ruling party desired. We have never lived in a land where propaganda had supplanted news as the principal content of newspapers.

We live in a country where it is lawful to hold peaceful assemblies and to worship God as we believe proper. We have never been subject to unreasonable search or seizure.

It is noteworthy that people who have experienced totalitarian rule mostly have a far greater appreciation of America than those of us who have always lived here. People who have at some time been deprived of freedom, or who have lived where freedom did not exist, have a greater understanding of the blessings of America than the rest of us. They are not ashamed to be patriotic. They say, and mean it from the heart, "It's great to be an American!"

The rest of us can profit from their example. An answer to the often-repeated question, "What can I, one person, do?" is for every patriot to let his patriotism show. Freely voiced expressions of love for freedom will inspire others.

U.S. Hopes Red Giants Keep Their Fight To Themselves

(Chicago Tribune)

Evidently the Sino-Soviet agreement on navigation in boundary rivers separating the two communist giants was more limited in scope and intent than its announcement by Moscow and Peking indicated. With the link barely dry on the navigation agreement, signed in Khabarovsk on Aug. 8, Russian and Chinese troops fought a border battle Aug. 13 less than 500 miles north of the Chinese nuclear testing center in Sinkiang province.

Each side accused the other of provoking the battle, which apparently was the most serious border clash since March, when Russian and Chinese troops fought two bloody engagements on Damansky Island in the Ussuri river, 2,500 miles east of the latest incident. The radio said a Soviet task force, supported by tanks, armored cars, and helicopters, crossed the border and killed and wounded an undisclosed number of Chinese troops. Moscow counter-charged that Chinese troops invaded Soviet Kazakhstan and then attempted to bring up reinforcements of about 700 men. It said there were dead and wounded on both sides.

The angry exchange of accusations by Moscow and Peking made it clear that the new agreement on navigation in the eastern boundary rivers will not dampen the malevolent and apparently irreconcilable Sino-Soviet feud, which is compounded of historic grievances, national rivalry, racial hatred, and contempt, as well as ideological differences.

Although the possibility of war between the Red giants is inherent in such an explosive situation, the Chinese probably will be restrained from going too far by knowledge or fear that they would be no match for the Russians.

Recently the Chinese Communists permitted a sympathetic Australian writer on religion to visit their nuclear installations and impressed him with boasts that they are producing hydrogen bombs by methods more advanced than their enemies realize and soon will test a missile delivery vehicle with a range of 6,000 miles. A possible motive for this H-bomb juggling in the presence of a foreigner was the effect it might have on the Russians. The Chinese must be well aware, however, that all their nuclear installations, which are concentrated in western China, mainly in Sinkiang, could be destroyed by the Russians in a single nuclear strike. Actually a nuclear strike against 51 key targets would destroy virtually all of Red China's industry, according to nuclear strategists.

Our own national security and the face of the world will best be served if the Red Giants continue their violent feud but don't let it explode in war. So long as they are defying each other and occasionally skirmishing on their 4,500 mile frontier they will be less tempted to menace the free world.

The Doctor Says

By DR. W. G. BRANSTADT

EKG Is Valuable In Heart Diagnosis

Q—My doctor says that a small artery in the back wall of my heart ruptured and caused pain in my arms, chest and between my shoulder blades. After five hours the pain left as suddenly as it came. Was this a heart attack?

A—It had all the earmarks of a myocardial infarction (one type of heart attack) except for the speed of your recovery. Angina pectoris must also be considered. The diagnosis could have been established by getting an electrocardiogram.

Q—Mrs. Evers and Williamson in Alabama have found sodium edetate to be about 90 per cent effective in treating hardening of the arteries and preventing heart attacks. Is this drug available to the general public?

A—This use of this drug is still experimental but good results have been reported from several sources. It is a prescription drug and should be taken only under medical supervision.

Q—I have frequent attacks of angina pectoris. They are relieved by nitroglycerine tablets, but is there any way to prevent them?

A—If you have not already done so, you should quit smoking, keep your weight a little below the recommended average for your height, have your doctor treat your high blood pressure, if any, and get your exercise done regularly every day rather than once or twice a week.

Q—in a recent answer you told a mother whose son was born with hypospadias, a urethral opening that falls short of the end of the penis, that two operations in early childhood would correct the defect. My son, 39, was born with that defect and our doctor told us no operation was needed. He is now married and has a family. Could he have trouble later because no operation was done?

A—The abnormally placed opening may be located anywhere from near the scrotum to just short of the head of the penis. The nearer it is to the normal location, the less the need for surgical correction. If your son has gotten along for 39 years without an operation he surely doesn't need one now.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstad, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstad cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

BILL KENNEDY SAYS:

Lower Voting Age? No, But Let's Raise Driving Age

Lower the voting age to 18? Not for me, Buddy. I'm for raising the driving age instead. Dangerous as it might prove to be if we let the youngsters vote, giving them two tons of steel packed with horsepower to throw around has already proved to be more dangerous.

I am scared for this generation to start voting even after they get 21. The only kind of trouble they have known when they get that age in most cases is the kind the old man can get them out of. They have experience at spending money, but none whatsoever at making any other experience they've had is running a university. I would feel a lot safer if the voting age were 30 and the driving age 21.

Our society doesn't really make sense very often. The most deadly weapon around today is the automobile. It kills more people than guns—the guns of warfare included. Yet we freely and proudly turn this destructive weapon over to our children in their middle teens; and nobody thinks to say a word. There are those here and abroad who would have us turn in to the government the guns with which we protect our homes, and stop making toys for the kiddies; but nobody has suggested turning in all our automobiles—or even keeping them out of the reach of children. Instead we license to drive before they are old enough to shave. (Somebody wants it to be unsafe for us both at home and on the road.)

Accident! That's the worst word ever invented, or the most misused. The dictionary says an accident is something unexpected. Auto deaths are not unexpected; they are expected. The National Safety Council can tell you with uncanny accuracy how many auto-deaths they expect over any given period. This is not to say that there are not innocent victims (the girl Ted Kennedy killed may have been one); but in almost every case there was something the killer could have done, or not done, to avoid the automobile death. Maybe he got drunk. Maybe he didn't have his car repaired. But in many cases the thing that was "done" was to let a child or other unqualified driver use the car in the first place.

Of course, there is always the argument that keeping the teenage drivers off the streets and highways would leave a lot of other fools and drunks driving. True! But not for long if the laws were enforced. As I understand it, the term manslaughter applies when a person kills somebody he didn't intend to kill. That's what most auto deaths are. If they were treated as such, the drunks, idiots and just plain careless drivers—including senators—would be thinned out much faster than is now the case. A six-month suspension of a driver's license doesn't prevent a second offense; it just postpones it.

When a criminal commits manslaughter with a gun the courts don't hand him another gun six months later (even Earl Warren never insisted on it); he has to go out and steal it again. It should be the same in the case of manslaughter by automobile.

But it absolutely makes no sense to let a child run such risk, before he is even legally responsible for the damage he might do.

A lot of sane and sensible young people are going to say I am just an "old fogey," and I think according to their definition they are right. So I would like to suggest a compromise: Let's don't base either driving or voting privileges on age alone. I would agree to let teen-agers vote who have earned the money to buy some property of their own. I would also agree to let teen-agers drive after they have earned the money to buy their own automobile. (If this last applied to everybody it would really thin out the traffic.)

Now what's wrong with that? Ain't that progressive enough for you?

BILL KENNEDY

Question Box

(We invite questions on economic and the proper function of government which will not injure anyone.)

QUESTION:— What is going to happen to the millions of people who are trying to live on fixed incomes, as the price of everything keeps going up and the dollar gets cheaper as we have more and more inflation?

ANSWER:— We doubt if anyone can predict specifically what will happen in the future. We note, however, there is an increasing pessimism among economists about whether inflation will be halted by any of the present steps which have been taken.

However, the plight of individuals on fixed incomes, such as pensions, interest from bonds and insurance, will grow worse with a continuation of inflation and rising prices. The higher prices are a reflection of inflation and of increasing cost principally from wage increases which are not the result of increased or improved production.

Inflation has been accurately labeled as the most cruel tax of all, since it destroys the value of the money of those least able to afford it. When government spends more than it takes in and approves credit expansion, it adds to the amount of money in circulation, which reduces the value of all money, including that held by those of fixed incomes. They are being robbed of their savings little by little by the money expanders.

Wit And Whimsy

Dad: "Did you have the car out last night?"

Junior: "Yes, Dad; I took some of the boys for a run around."

Dad: "Well, tell them I've found two of their lipstick!"

Old Lady: "Little Boy, why aren't you in school instead of at the movies?"

Little Boy: "I've got the measles."

It was the first day of school and the teacher was explaining to the kindergarten class that if any one had to go to the restroom he should hold up two fingers.

After a moment's thought, a little girl near the back of the room inquired, "How's that gonna help?"

Sara: "Our dog is just like one of the family."

Clara: "Really? Which one?"

Memorial To Senators

The recent tragic death of a young woman in the automobile accident involving Senator Edward Kennedy is just one more development in the rapid decline in the prestige of the Kennedy name and image. It was just seven years ago that President John F. Kennedy was in the White House; Robert was in firm control at the Justice Department as Attorney General; and young Ted was the junior senator from Massachusetts.

In those seven years two of the brothers have been assassinated by deranged persons, the president's widow has made an unpopular second marriage and books continue to appear that cut away at the image so carefully built over the years.

The latest Kennedy incident will not be easy to forget. Too many important questions still remain unanswered and the Massachusetts senator has stated flatly that he will allow them to remain so. This attitude has simplified congressional opposition to attempts in the Capitol to subsidize a memorial to the late Senator Robert Kennedy.

Plans call for an impressive granite wall and reflecting pool in Arlington Cemetery, costing over $600,000. The Kennedy family would contribute $420,000 and the taxpayers would supply the balance of about $258,000. President Johnson attempted to finance a larger share of the cost ($431,000) by including the figure in his budget request as an unspecified contingency, but the Nixon economists ferreted out the expense and removed it in an economy move.

The memorial to the late Robert Taft, which is located near the U.S. Capitol building, cost a million dollars, but not a penny of this was government subsidized. The structure was paid for with voluntary contributions by people who admired the senator. And now, a memorial to the late Senator Everett Dirksen will be considered.

Opponents of the Kennedy memorial have grounds other than fiscal for this opposition to the memorial. Arlington Cemetery with its rows of simple white headstones is in danger of being filled. Even now there are restrictions as to who may be interred on its slopes. One wonders why so many acres should be dedicated to one man at the expense of others. Are men who gave equal devotion to the cause of freedom to be turned away from Arlington? Why not a privately financed memorial elsewhere?

Quick, The Pliers

The idea, as a supplement to the current practice, seems so logical one wonders why it wasn't thought of before—to have the automobile repairman visit an auto car right in the family garage just like doctors visit or used to visit—ailing people in their homes.

Instead of a little black bag, however, the auto doctor comes with a trunk filled with more than $4,000 worth of electronic testing devices, special tools, parts and lubricants.

Each mobile service van, as well-equipped as the service department of most small dealerships, is capable of performing a complete 6,000-mile check on new cars and can repair most minor ills right in the driveway.

The innovation is expected to help relieve the crush on dealer service facilities caused by the swelling automobile population.

WIT AND WHIMSY

Young girl: "The man I marry must shine in company, be musical, tell jokes, sing, dance, and stay home nights."

Married friend: "You don't want a husband, you want a television set."

I have been giving some thought to the imponderables in this country concerning publishers and what they do to torture themselves.

For instance—a literary agent has said that at least six American publishers are bidding for U.S. rights to "The Fire" by Soviet writer—Natalia Kuznetsov. Any defect to London so he could sell his book.

He said he could not stand repression and censorship and wrote about defecting the Iron Curtain and about a metalworks town in Russia. Now all these publishers are bidding for the book. How do they know its any good when it ain't translated yet? I know where they could get a version closer to home.

I know of a book that deals with the defecting of an Indian from the "Iron Moocasin." It tells about two Indians who defected from the reservation that held lead and zinc mines because they couldn't stand repression in their homeland.

Do you think six publishers would bid on this book? Of course not. That's because it don't need to be translated. But some publisher will wake up and bid on it and make a fortune.

In the meantime I will just wait until "The Fire" gets translated and rush to the bookstore with burning fingers to grasp the all-consuming epic.

Union-Forced Wage Boosts Hike Prices

Some of the arithmetic of high and rising prices was recently explained with dramatic clarity by Gerry Pratt, business Editor of the Portland Oregonian.

Pratt first took national figures showing average earnings of retail chain food stores at 3.1 per cent net profit on sales. Then he described the effect of a more or less typical new wage contract signed with a grocery workers union that will add 24.5 per cent to retail wage costs over a three-year period—not unusual in the light of current contracts.

Incidentally, it should be emphasized at this point that what we are talking about here is price increases caused by union wage demands unmatched by increased production, and not price increases caused by monetary inflation. (The two have the same effect on prices; however, they are not the same thing.)

The Oregonian business editor then translated this increased cost of doing business, caused by the union, forced wage increases, into the amount of additional sales required to get the 1.1 per cent profit margin, to make up the difference. The figure, according to Pratt runs about $50 per hour, or $3.60 per day, per check out stand in a cash register.

THE MANION FORUM

Efforts To Halt Spread Of Crime Start At Local Level

By MARILYN MANION

Crime is like the weather. We all talk about it, but very few of us do anything about it.

While many nationwide factors affect the crime rate—Supreme Court decisions, a breakdown of traditional morality, and such misconceptions as "Poverty causes crime"—there is only one place to start stopping lawlessness. That place is home.

Seven years ago, 30 women in Indianapolis, Ind., gathered for lunch and decided to do something about the crime rate in their community. They formed the Anti-Crime Crusade. Today, more than 50,000 Indianapolis women are active in the organization, and similar groups have been formed in 400 cities and towns across the country.

One of the founders of the Anti-Crime Crusade is Indianapolis newspaper-woman Margaret Moore. She recently co-authored a book with her son-in-law, M. Stanton Evans, titled "The Lawbreakers." ($5.95 from the Manion Forum, South Bend, Ind.)

Mrs. Moore, speaking over the Manion Forum radio program, detailed some of the work of the crusade. Some examples:

This is a very simple program. You can do it without tax funds. We have 14 areas in which we work, including working with police and public officials, among others. We have a pattern that takes no money; it just takes good volunteer effort. Every city in the country should be at this, because it is only at a local level that we can combat crime, that we can have cities where law enforcement and crime prevention prevail.

In our city, a teen-ager was convicted of murdering a 90-year-old schoolteacher. We took a look at the young person who is now serving a life term for murder. We found he was a school dropout, he had been in and out of juvenile court, he had been in Correctional institutions—all these things that we should have done something about, we had not.

So we took a look, and we thought, there must be many dropouts! We found there were many, and we decided to do something to get these kids back in school. We have a stay-in-school program in which, working with one woman with on youth, without tax funds, we have been able to get back in school more than 2,000 dropouts.

We find that young people want to help with crime prevention. For instance, some of them talked with judges and found that youths who volunteer for service seldom get into trouble. But the kids said, "How can we volunteer?" In the yellow pages of the phone directories it doesn't say "Volunteer here."

So they prepared a directory for teenaged volunteers. They made a survey, contacting people at the hospitals, clinics, day nurseries—every place where volunteers are needed. They then made up their own directory, simply and inexpensively. We found after the first edition of this book that more than 3,000 young people who never before had volunteered had offered their service to the city in some manner.

"We have a program of how to stop shoplifting. This is run with the cooperation of the police and Chamber of Commerce and Merchants Association. We have cities showing merchants how to stop shoplifting and what to do about it. We are now getting 87 per cent convictions. So it is a much greater risk to shoplift, and this has cut down some of the police work as well."
