

Press Run 1800
Percentage of Adv.
30%

Marked
Copy

Disp 285 $113.42
Class 4 - 8.15
Totals 289 - $121.57

The Newspaper of the New Pampa

Pampa Daily News

VOL. 1, NO. 232.

(P)—Associated Press PAMPA, GRAY COUNTY, TEXAS, TUESDAY EVENING, DEC. 6, 1927.

(NEA Service)

PRICE FIVE CENTS

RED CROSS OFFICERS ELECTED

Operators No. 1 Jackson Flowing 80 Barrels Hourly

BIG PAY FOUND AT 2,987 FEET NEAR DANCIGER

Increased Production Is Expected in This Well

PHILLIPS TEST TO BE DEEPENED

Big Bayshore Gasser Being Drilled for Oil

The Operators Oil company's No. 1 Jackson in section 88, block B-2, is flowing 80 barrels an hour natural. Big pay was reached at 2,978 feet with about 2,000,000 cubic feet of gas.

This well is situated about a half mile east of the Danciger gusher and is the first well east of the Delaney and Danciger wells to be brought in. Oil experts state that it is one of the best drilled wells in the Panhandle, and increased production is looked for.

The Phillips Petroleum company's No. 1 A. Riley in section 88, block B-2, swabbed 50 barrels an hour last night and is flowing about 40 barrels an hour natural this morning.

Big pay was reached at 2,970 feet after reaching first pay 45 feet higher than expected. The well will be drilled in this afternoon and a gusher is expected.

Drilling has commenced on the Bayshore Oil company's No. 1 Bradford in section 148, block B-2, which has been abandoned for several months. Drilling ceased at 2,970 feet after shutting off more than 100,000,000 feet of gas.

This well has been watched with interest as it is probably flowed the most gas of any well in the territory. Two men were killed while attempting to case the gas before the well was abandoned. Production is expected about 3,100 feet.

The Camel Oil company's No. 1 Harrah in section 163, block 3, is cleaning out following a shot. The well is flowing 150 barrels a day natural through the dirt in the hole.

The Guernsey Oil company's No. 1 McKinney in section 163, block 3, is drilling ahead at 2,450 feet while the water well for the Guernsey Oil company's No. 2 in the same section has almost been completed.

Dr. I. C. Strayner of Lima, Ohio, has moved to Pampa and will assist Dr. J. C. McKean.

16 SHOPPING DAYS TILL CHRISTMAS

What relief when you are sure that not a soul's been missed. And you can rest the last few days, with cleaned up shopping list.

On Your Marks—Go!

Representative Nicholas Longworth of Ohio, is shown as he took up the gavel to open formally the Seventieth Congress, as speaker of the House of Representatives.

MacNider Would Pre-Determine War Needs of Nation

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Recommendation that the President be requested to appoint a board to determine the war time munition needs of the nation was made by Assistant Secretary MacNider, of the War Department, in his annual report.

This board also would prepare a project for placing the Army into such a state of material preparedness that the Assistant Secretary of War would be able to make adequate plans for meeting needs.

Study of industrial mobilization possibilities disclosed conditions which brought about definite recommendations last February for modification of General Staff plans as to the rate of man-power mobilization in the event of war Mr. MacNider declared.

"The General Staff has already instituted a restudy of the mobilization plan from the viewpoint of the present legal authorization of reserves so that its possibility from a supply standpoint can be investigated," the report said. "The point has now been reached where initial requirements can be made to conform with figures in keeping with reserves authorized by Congress and the production possibilities of the country." Pointing out that the law charges him with the duty of making assurance of adequate provision for the mobilization of material and industrial organizations essential to war-time needs and that army purchases during the war reached the staggering total of $14,000,000,000, MacNider said that in order to make such

(See McNIDER pg. 8)

Big Title Suit in Hutchinson May Be Much Enlarged

(By the Associated Press.)
AUSTIN, Dec. 6.—The State's attempt to prove that certain valuable lands in Hutchinson county, on which the Phillips Petroleum company is operating, are vacant of title and consequently belong to the state may be broadened to include several other companies as co-defendants, C. W. Trueheart, assistant attorney-general, said today.

The original suit is pending in district court here against the Phillips organization. If Trueheart carries out his tentative plans, millions of dollars probably will have become involved.

Eight Persons Die As Boarding House Burns in W. Va.

(By Associated Press)
WILLIAMSON, W. Va., Dec. 6.—Eight persons met death in a fire which destroyed a boarding house here today.

Six of the victims were residents of Mingo county who had come here to testify in a murder trial.

TRIAL TO CONTINUE

(By Associated Press)
SHERMAN, Dec. 6.—The second trial of Yancey Storey, charged with robbing a bank at Krum, will continue in spite of the plea of his physical condition and the lack of important witnesses will hamper his defense Judge Hare ruled today.

In the first trial Storey was given a 99 year sentence.

MERCHANT SHIP PROGRAM LAGS REPORT SHOWS

Other Countries Forge Ahead in Building Vessels

SHIPPING BOARD DISCLOSES LOSSES

Only Government Line Reports Profit This Year

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—For every first class merchant ship built in the United States since 1921 Great Britain has built 41, Germany 12, Italy 5 and France and Japan approximately four each.

These figures were continued in the annual report of the Shipping Board made public today, which also showed that its operating loss for the year ended last June 30 was $16,000,000 as against $19,000,000 the year before, although the United States Lines, which the board operates had a profit of $371,000.

The United States liners are the Leviathan, the George Washington the Republic, the President Harding and the President Roosevelt. They lost $962,000 the year before.

Tendency Toward Speed — Foreign building, the report said, provide foreign competitors not only with more ships but also with faster ones, for the modern trend of operation due to the use of up-to-date machinery.

"We are thus being outclassed not only in tonnage, but also in the character of the service rendered the shipper," the report continued. "More and more are we likely to get less desirable classes of cargo—the commodities invariably handled by slow ships and with low freight rates."

The board possessed 800 ships, 307 in active operation and 516 laid up, at the end of the year. Since 1921 it has sold to American citizens 1,134 ships, representing 4,993,346 tons, for $84,411,923.39, including nine established ship line services disposed of on a basis of guaranteed operation for a fixed number of years.

If Congress wants the merchant marine turned over immediately to private ownership, substantial government aid will be required, the report said. After holding hearings in 33 cities it found opinion unanimous that the United States should have an adequate merchant marine for national defense and commerce. With almost equal unanimity it was held that this merchant marine should be privately owned. Until it is possible for private interests to successfully own and operate an American marine, the federal government must continue to do so, the board concluded.

Steamship Builders Assisted — Among the important functions of the board was the encouragement of ship building. From the construction loan fund the board has paid out $10,467,500 to assist steamship companies in the construction of new bottoms. The fund now totals $72,552,652.26. From the beginning of the administration of the fund, it was emphasized, there has not been a default in connection with any of the loans in the payment either of the interest or of installments on the principal.

Cost of maintaining cargo lines, while materially reduced, continued to show a loss, although a number of vessels were sold to private interests during the year. The board pointed out that while the operating

(See MERCHANT, pg. 8)

Held as Slayers

Roy Wenrich (top) and his 19-year-old brother, Robert, of West Brownsville, Pa., are held as the slayers of Louis O. Knapp and Paul R. Fox, coal and iron policemen, when the officers endeavored to arrest occupants of two bootleg automobiles. Authorities charge the two men headed a gang that distributed liquor in three states.

Oklahoma Solons Will Meet No Resistance Today

(By Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 6.—Members of the Oklahoma legislature will meet with no resistance when they gather in an attempted investigation session this afternoon it was announced by Gus Wollard chairman of the state board of affairs which has charge of the capitol.

Willard is a close personal friend of Governor Johnston, who will be the focal point of the attempted investigation.

(By Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 6.—Eighty members answered the roll call in the Oklahoma House of Representatives today, thus convening the Legislature in its purported extraordinary session.

Dallas Man Killed by Another, Who Flings Charges

(By Associated Press)
DALLAS, Dec. 6.—J. N. Whaley, 41 years old, shot and fatally wounded at a busy downtown intersection today as he stepped from an automobile. He died 30 minutes later in a hospital.

Charges of murder have been filed against C. H. Hart who surrendered to police following the shooting. Police said Hart accused Whaley of breaking up his home.

DEMAND IS DENIED

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The Senate Republicans in conference failed to accede to the demand of the five western Independents that assurance would be given them for a vote on their legislative program at this session.

REV. BRABHAM CHAIRMAN OF THE DIRECTORS

Charity Work Will Be Combined With Nursing

OLD FUND IS NOW AVAILABLE

School Board Likely To Help Employ Worker

Reorganization of the local Red Cross chapter, with provision for employing a Red Cross nurse to care for school work, charity cases, and general community social service was effected at a luncheon at the New Schneider hotel today.

The following officers were elected: Chairman, the Rev. Tom W. Brabham; vice-chairman, Mrs. Joe Smith; secretary, Olin E. Hinkle; treasurer, J. O. Gilliam. Additional members of the executive board, appointed by the chairman on recommendation of the group present today, are Dr. A. Cole, Carson Loftus, Scott Barcus, Otto Studer, C. C. Cook, the Rev. W. L. Evans, the Rev. D. H. Truhitte, the Rev. James Todd, Jr., Lynn Boyd, Mrs. A. R. Sawyer, Mrs. C. T. Hunkapillar, Mrs. J. M. McDonald, Mrs. H. H. Isbell, and Mrs. Tom Rose.

Representative Speaks — Rev. Brabham, chairman of the Red Cross-Associated Charities drive, was in charge of today's meeting. He introduced Miss Ruby Lanier, field representative of the American National Red Cross, who explained how in a city of this size it will be possible to combine bedside nursing, maternity nursing, pre-school clinics, school nursing, communicable disease control, general health education, and charity work in the one office.

The cost will include the salary of about $150 a month, an office—which, it was said, might be obtained free—a car, residence telephone, and office supplies. The churches are to help assemble nursing supplies.

There remains $405 in the old Red Cross local fund, and about $200 additional is available through memberships recently taken out.

Drive to Continue — During the Associated Charities drive now under way about $2,200 has been raised, and this fund is expected to reach $3,500. Combined, these funds will be ample to employ a nurse and handle all charity cases eligible to receive aid from this source.

In minor charity cases, the nurse likely will be empowered to write out orders, or recommendations, to the chairman and treasurer of the executive board, which will serve both for the Red Cross and the charity work. In more serious cases, the entire executive board may be called upon to decide.

The Red Cross will recommend several nurses from whom the executive committee will choose one. Thereafter the nursing field representative for this area will help to plan the local program. The local chairman will appoint sub-chairmen on aiding disabled veterans and on disaster relief.

School Board to Help — The city government and the schools will be asked to contribute to the support of the combined program.

Supt. R. C. Campbell, C. C. Cook, and Joe Smith of the school board spoke highly of the school nursing work now under way and expressed

(See RED CROSS Page 8.)

The Blazing Horizon

COPYRIGHT 1927 by NEA SERVICE

by ERNEST LYNN

THE STORY THUS FAR

Tony Harrison, 13, is orphaned when Jeff Harrison, his father, is shot in poker game in Caldwell, Kas. He is befriended by Gordon Lillie, a restaurant waiter, by

Joe Craig, foreman of the Bar K ranch, who takes Tony to the Bar K to live, and by

Colonel Titus Moore, owner of the ranch, which is in the Cherokee Strip.

There the shy little boy meets Rita tomboy daughter of Titus Moore.

The year is 1880, and Gordon Lillie is thinking of joining David Payne, who is agitating for the opening of the Indian territory lands, when he gets an offer of a teaching post in the Indian school in Pawnee.

There he lets his hair grow long and becomes known as Pawnee Bill. After a fight with the school superintendent, he is charged with attempted murder and flees the territory. He stops off at the Bar K long enough to throw Joe Craig in a wrestling match.

CHAPTER XIII

Heck Sherman called caustically from the sidelines; "Well, that's $5 you cost me, Joe Craig. He put you down and no mistakes."

Craig grinned ruefully and scrambled to his feet. "I know he did. I didn't think it was in him. Doggone it, Bill, that was downright neat."

"You see, Lafe," Colonel Moore explained triumphantly to Whitney, "the boy had a trick or two up his sleeve after all. It was simple: all he did was to apply the principle of a lever and fulcrum."

Craig came forward to shake Pawnee Bill's hand. "There's no hard feelings," he told his victorious opponent, "and you did it fair and square. I guess you caught me a thing or two—but, and he grinned once more, "you couldn't do it again."

"I wouldn't even think of trying it," Pawnee Bill answered him. "A trick like that wouldn't work twice against you. I said I could throw you any day in the week, but that was a lie."

"Bill," said Titus Moore. "I'm right obliged to you. You won me $20, which means $20 less for these boys of mine to squander on liquor and stud poker. In a way you're a reformer."

He departed, with a genial wave of his hand, and made for the barn, where he remained for some time talking to his prize mare, Fancy, and stroking her sleek, beautiful head. The colonel was a firm believer in the intelligence of horses and he staunchly maintained that Fancy could understand every word he said to her.

The next morning Pawnee Bill saddled his horse before sunup and headed for Kansas and Wellington. It was the middle of summer before Craig saw him again. Then he encountered him one day in Caldwell. "How's the fugitive from justice?" Craig asked him.

Lillie answered that the trouble had about blown over. "I could go back to Pawnee now, but I've developed higher ambitions than being an Indian school teacher. I might go back to it for a while if I have to, but I've got other ideas at present."

"And how about your friend the superintendent?" "Oh, he's left. Some of those charges he was so free with bounced back at him."

"And what other ideas have you got in mind? I can give it to you." "No, thank you. I'm aiming to accumulate a fortune and I'm about to take the first step."

"I sure admire your ambition. You're not going to rob a bank, are you?"

"I don't think I have the necessary qualifications. No, I'm thinking of buying some cattle and selling them. I've got together with a few Kansas farmers and we've got it all worked out. They've had a bad draught down in Texas and cattle can be bought cheap. We'll ride down there and get them and drive them back up the Trail to Kansas. Then I'll winter mine, maybe this year and the next, and sell them off at a nice profit."

Craig looked at him admiringly. "I wish I could figure things out that far ahead, but I can't see my farther than pay day. Besides, I owe my carefree disposition to my lack of riches. Figuring out how to take care of my money would more than likely break down my health. You can winter your stock, if you want to, on the Bar K."

"I'll have a proof ready when you come back," he told Craig and shook hands heartily.

"I'm counting on wintering them at my father's place near Wellington. There's a nice range over near Medicine Lodge that I can get, too."

"How many head are you counting on buying?"

"I've got a little over six hundred dollars saved up and I'm going to invest it all."

Craig looked off down the street. Then he turned to the other, frowning. "There's lots of ways of making money," he said. "If the person who is now approaching us would care to talk, I believe he could tell you one that would beat your plan forty ways."

Pawnee Bill turned his head to look. "I've seen him some place before, Joe. Where was it?"

"Was it in the Oasis saloon?"

"Come to think of it, it was."

"Well, that's Shafer. He owns the Oasis. He used to be marshal of Caldwell. He held the job about six months, during which time he arrested a couple of dozen assorted drunken cowboys, everyone of which had such a skinful of liquor in him at the time that he couldn't have put up any more resistance than a roped calf. There was about 18 killings in Caldwell while he was the town's representative of law and order, and nothing was ever done about them. Along about the time that the leading citizens were thinking of going to him and asking for his resignation, he quit. A little less than a year ago he opened the Oasis."

"He didn't save enough money from his pay as marshal to open any saloon," said Pawnee Bill. "Where did he get it?"

Craig yawned. "As I said before, if the gent only cared to talk, he could probably tell you a few things about making money and making it quick. I'm sure I can't even imagine how he made it. I'm so simple-minded when it comes to high finance that it's a downright shame."

He lowered his voice carefully as the object of their conversation approached within earshot. He nodded to Shafer as their eyes met. The other paused to issue an invitation.

"How does it come, Craig," he said, "that I never see you or any of the Bar K boys in the Oasis? It's the first time you come in I'll be real glad to let the house do the buying."

"I'm obliged to you," Craig replied, "but the way John Blake's been writing about the Oasis in his newspaper I'm almost afraid to go inside. Have you been reading those editorials, Bill?" he asked his companion.

"I sure have," Pawnee Bill answered smoothly. "I got the impression that the Oasis was the hang-out of some of the toughest characters on the border. I sort of inferred that alongside of the Oasis Max Woods ran a kindergarten."

Shafer reddened angrily. "That fellow Blake will go too far with that damned newspaper, of his."

self. I don't think anybody in there will bite you."

The veiled insult was not lost on Craig. "If they did," he pronounced calmly, "I might be tempted to pull some teeth. I'll be in—real soon." He nodded again as Shafer, smiling satisfiedly, walked away.

When he had gone Craig turned once more to Pawnee Bill. "How soon," he asked, "are you aiming to leave for Texas on that cattle-buying expedition of yours?"

"Oh, it will be a week or more. Why?"

"You been counting on remaining a while in Caldwell?"

"Not in particular. I'd thought of going right back to Wellington, but there's no real hurry. Anything you had in mind?"

"Plenty. I'm starting back to the Bar K in about an hour, but I'm coming back to Caldwell tomorrow. If you can transact whatever business is most pressing in an hour, I'd like to have you ride along with me. If you can't, I'll meet you here tomorrow."

"I'll be ready to go along with you. Shall I look for you right here?"

"This is as good a place as any."

Craig walked rapidly toward the ramshackle building that housed John Blake's newspaper, the Tribune. He sought out the editor and engaged him in earnest conversation for the better part of an hour. When he left, Blake was smiling grimly. "I'll have a proof ready for you when you come back," he told Craig, and shook hands heartily.

On the way back to the Bar K Craig told Pawnee Bill of a real estate deal he had transacted a few weeks before.

"Remember the little cabin that Tony Harrison and his father lived in?" he asked. "Well, I've bought it."

Pawnee Bill shook his head and chuckled. "For a man that has so much trouble keeping his dollars from stampeding away from him, that's not so bad. You're exhibiting all the symptoms of becoming a solid citizen."

"Wait till you hear it all. I didn't buy it with my own money. I'm trustee for a bank account belonging to Tony Harrison. The purchase was made on the advice of the assistant cashier of the Stock Exchange

An Arsenal That Went Astray

Following information from Cleveland, O., police of San Francisco uncovered a huge store of arms and ammunition in the home of John Mannerston, head of the Pacific Arms Corporation. The arms, it is alleged, were for distribution among Ohio gangsters. An officer is shown checking up on the "arsenal," which included even machine guns.

bank, Johnny Nye. Tony himself was for it on account of sentimental reasons, but it's a good investment in the bargain.

"Anyway, that little cabin is where you and I are going to stay when we go back to Caldwell. It's right convenient; it saves us paying out good money for a room in a hotel or boarding house. . . . The next issue of the Caldwell Tribune is going to carry an editorial that might interest you."

"I sort of gathered that it might," remarked Pawnee Bill. "Something told me you were going to whisper in John Blake's ear."

Craig flashed his every-ready grin. "How did you guess it?" He said nothing more about his plans, but rode most of the remaining distance to the ranch in thoughtful silence.

As soon as he had dismounted he sought out Titus Moore. "Colonel," he said, "I've come to ask you for that little leave of absence I mentioned some time back."

(To Be Continued)

In the next chapter: An editorial in the Caldwell Tribune.

G. C. MALONE, Ambulance Service, Phone 181.

C. O. Stucker, and Mr. Benton of Amarillo transacted business in Pampa Monday.

Gordon Chumney of Panhandle is a business visitor in Pampa today.

FRASER & UPTON
THE INSURANCE MEN
Bonds, City and Farm Loans
Phone 272

Batteries are like humans—you've got to keep them in good condition for long life.

Let Us Care For Your Battery

FLOYD BATTERY COMPANY

Phone 472 Phone
Just West Marland Service Station

Chesterfield
smokers don't change with the moon...
but watch how other smokers are changing to Chesterfield!

FOR THE BEST OF GOOD REASONS BETTER TASTE!

MONSTER REORGANIZATION

Store Closed Wednesday

In order that we can rearrange the stock for quick and fast selling and mark down the prices, we will close all day Wednesday. At 9 o'clock Thursday morning our doors will open for the greatest price-slashing sale that this company or any other company or individual has ever held. BE HERE!

SALE

DON'T BE MISLEAD

This is the sale that your friends are talking about. While other stores are holding so-called "sales," and are reaping profits, we are holding a "SALE WITH A PURPOSE." In order to reorganize we must clear our stock and start in the new year under a new name, with a new stock, with a new store. REMEMBER THE PEOPLES STORE IS THE STORE WITH THE BIG SALE.

Peoples Store Sale Starts Thursday, Dec. 8th!

LOOK LADIES Be Here Early

To the first 50 Customers entering our Doors Thursday Morning, December the 8th, 9 a. m., we will sell 3 yards of 36-inch fast color Gingham for—

5c

Get a Dress for a Nickel

FREE!—$50 In Gold—FREE!

To the person or persons who suggests a new name and slogan for the present Peoples Store. Name and slogan not to comprise more than six words. Contest opens the morning of the Re-Organization Sale, Thursday, Dec. 8th. Make as many suggestions as you wish. All names and slogans must be written plainly and coupon below filled out in full, otherwise suggestions will not be accepted by judges. Kindly mail or bring in person your suggestion to the Peoples Store, Pampa, Texas. In case of a tie the prize will be divided equally. No one connected with the firm eligible.

COUPON

Name of Sender _____
P. O. Box or Street _____
City _____ State _____

Cut this out and Mail at Once!

CREPE DE CHINE

39-inch Crepe de Chine, a special purchase for this sale event. Wonderful underwear shades of pink, blue, jade, orchid, and white. This is your opportunity to make your Christmas gifts at a saving; per yard—

99c

Suits

Look fellows, at this wonderful value in Men's Suits. 50 Men's Suits, especially purchased for this sale event—

$14.99

Little Gent's All Wool Suits, sizes 2 to 6; Reorganization sale—

$1.99

Ladies Dresses

250 Dresses purchased by our New York buyer, in Satins, Crepes, etc., in all the new colors, blacks, blues, rust, in fact, most all colors. Dresses up to $19.50 value, smart in every line—

$7.99

Two for $15.00
BRING A FRIEND!
Ladies' Finer Silk Dresses, all $25 Dresses to go at—

$11.99

Ladies Coats

In Buckskins, Suedes and Venetia Cloth all Fur Trimmed
Grouped in three fast selling groups

Group No. One, values to $16.50; sale price—

$8.99

Group No. Two, values to $25.00; sale price—

$17.99

Group No. Three, values up to $37.50; sale price—

$24.99

One Big Lot Ladies' Slippers On the Table

This is our outstanding Shoe Value. These Shoes are wonderful values, broken lots of our $6.50 and $7.50 Shoes. Come and pick them out; Reorganization Sale, your choice

$1.99

TIES!

Men's cut Silk Ties four-and-hand, regular $1.50 value; choice

99c

Give a Tie for Xmas

Men's good weight ribbed Unions, our regular $1.45 value; sizes 36 to 46; sale price—

99c

Outstanding Values in MEN'S HOSE

An Appreciative Gift for Christmas—Men's pure Thread Silk Hose, solid colors or fancies. Every pair guaranteed; per pair—

49c

Piece Goods

36-inch heavy Outing, dark and light colors, at, per yard

11c

Genuine fast color Indian Head Linen, all colors, per yard

29c

Cotton Challies, 32-inch wide, per yard

9c

Piece Goods

Blue Shirting Chevots, 30-in. wide, per yard

16c

Size 42x36 Pillow Cases, free from starch, each

19c

Fruit of the Loom Bleached Muslin, 36-inch, per yard

19c

LADIES' HOSE

Hosiery suggestions for Christmas Gifts. Genuine Humming Birds, full fashioned, regular $1.98 value, silk from toe to top; reorganization sale price, a pair

$1.59

Ladies' fancy heel Hose, per pair

$1.79

Ladies' Silk Hose, silk from toe to top, semi-fashioned, all the wanted colors, per pair

49c

Ladies' Corduroy Robes

$2.99

WOMEN'S FELT HOUSE SLIPPERS

All colors and all sizes, per pair—

39c

One big table of

CHILDREN'S SHOES AND OXFORDS

All Sizes

99c to $2.99

MEN'S WORK SHOES

Guaranteed Solid Leather—

$1.69

THE PEOPLES STORE

Pampa, Texas

"Where Most People Trade"

Pampa Daily News

Published every evening except Saturday, and on Sunday morning by the Mann-Warren Publishing Company, Inc., at 145 West Foster avenue.

The only newspaper adequately covering Pampa and Gray county events and the Pampa oil field.

PHILIP E. POND
Manager
OLIN E. HINKLE
Editor

Entered as second-class matter March 25, 1917 at the post office at Pampa, Texas, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper, and also the local news published herein.

All rights of republication of special dispatches herein also are reserved.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
By Carrier in Pampa
One Year $4.00
Six Months $2.25
Three Months $1.25
One Month .50
By Mail
One Year $5.00
Six Months $2.75
Three Months $1.40
One Month .50
Weekly Pampa News $1.00 per year to Daily News subscribers.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC
Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing, or reputation of any individual, firm, concern, or corporation that may appear in the columns of the Pampa Daily News will be gladly corrected when called to the attention of the editor. It is not the intention of this newspaper to injure any individual, firm, or corporation, and corrections will be made, when warranted, as promptly as was the wrongfully published reference or article.

Telephone 100, all departments.

DAILY NEWS' 1928 PROGRAM FOR PAMPA

- One or more new railroads.
New city hall-auditorium.
County agricultural agent.
Additional street paving.
Oil Exchange building.
Expedite road paving work.
Encourage existing industries.
Invite new industries.
Complete water, sewer systems.
More and better homes.
Extend Pampa trade territory.
Develop dairying industry.
Municipal band.
Municipal airport.
Pampa Fair.
Associated Charities.
County home demonstration agent.
High school gymnasium.

AVERAGE GIRL—A few weeks ago the "average man" was picked. His likes and dislikes started a lot of discussion. That average American has a number of sound virtues, and the usual amount of beliefs not followed with enthusiastic work in their behalf. Patriotic? Sure, even if he could not remember the second stanza of the national anthem.

Now comes the student body—of girls—of the College of Industrial Arts, with the selection of the "Average College Girl." Perhaps she is not quite the average at that, for in the Southwest at least that girl does not attend a girls' school. But the C. I. A. average girl is interesting never-the-less.

She is Miss Lillian Goodnight of Abilene, which means that she has had more than ordinary contact with education. She is a sophomore, is studying home economics, takes a moderate interest in athletics, likes social life, and takes delight in poetry, stories, and humor with a box of sweets on the side. Physically, she is attractive but not unusual, she is 5 feet five inches tall, and weighs 119 pounds. Perhaps it is well that she is neither blonde nor brunette, but a little of both. Hers is a No. 5 shoe and clothing after the prevailing mode. Beyond the frank desire "to know how to cook" is her interest in English as a subject.

You will find this girl everywhere, with minor differences corresponding to environmental conditions. Her kind inspires many of the talks and sermons in defense of modern youth. A higher spirit than perhaps dominated her mother may surprise her grandmother, but not those who really understand her. Beneath the gay spirit is something solid, bolstered by knowledge rightly possessed, that may be seldom expressed—the average young person avoids preachments—but it is there. For ability and the desire to know what is what and why, the average youth of today is best known.

Go beyond the average in any direction and many different things may be found, but the average dominates the mass. The outer fringe leads to many good things as well as bad. The original flapper generation has vindicated itself, and the present one is feeling the firm direction of young parents who know life in its fullness. There will be a limit to tendencies, and the grown-up flapper set is well able to set that line and hold the "average" near it.

MASTER FARMER—What is a good farmer? In this age of diversification the arguments over the question are apt to be endless. Yet ten states are conferring the title and farm papers the "degree." "The Master Farmer idea," says a rural paper, "has aided dignity to agriculture." Dignity is apropos in this age, for farming is a business and so classed even by the civic clubs.

Both tenants and ownership farmers have won the honors. The business men and the industrial and commercial leaders are recognizing the master farmer, so he must be an individual worth knowing.

"The Master Farmer recognition" it is explained. "A number of the successful candidates this year are men who have been working toward this honor. They, like other men, have been encouraged to do a better job of farming, of home-making, have become better citizens, and are taking a deeper interest in their families than ever before. They see in agriculture the same chance to gain national recognition that it available in other lines of activity. Instead of just hard work, they feel that honor will be theirs when due them."

Anything which helps to break down the line of differences between city and rural citizenship is worthwhile. All-round service, a full life in a community, and an intelligent understanding of national problems is especially desirable in the large farmer class. Good roads, automobiles, rural free delivery of newspapers and magazines, and the radio have destroyed rural isolation.

The Master Farmer will take a place beside the civic leader in terms of professional skill and community service. The fact, if not the name, is spreading throughout the nation. And modern agriculture, demanding the full measure of intelligence on the farm and in the market, will rise with this source of right thinking.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON — Calvin Coolidge will be everything or nothing in the next Republican convention, and the game these days is to guess which.

The president's continued refusal to make his position clear beyond all doubt is making life miserable for various other candidates for the nomination and their families and friends, for thousands of federal job-holders and, last and no doubt least for hundreds of newspaper correspondents.

He's Changed His Name

In the last month or two, it has driven many politicians back to the White House steps, if only for the simple reason that they dared not scurry elsewhere. This now seems to be the most important of all political developments this fall.

The other two important developments affecting the presidential situation are the growing strength of Governor Al Smith in the Democratic party and the steady increase of favorable talk about Vice President Dawes.

The sub-surface Dawes boom is likely to mean very little unless the expansion of the revived Coolidge boom is checked in one way or another, but, leaving the president out of it, the opinion of the majority seems to be that Dawes, for all his sudden emulation of the violet, is out in front. This means that most politicians at this moment are not taking Lowden's chances of winning the nomination very seriously and that they will only let Hoover grab it from over their prostrate corpses.

On the other hand, there is a new tendency to suspect that Lowden will enter the convention with more delegates than has been commonly supposed, to whom Dawes will eventually fall heir.

Unless artificial respiration is applied to the Hughes boom, Hughes can be considered out of the picture. So can most of the dark horses.

In looking at Hoover, Dawes and Lowden, it is interesting or significant or both to recall that these three gentlemen have fought for Republican convention votes before, notably in 1924.

Hoover entered the scene in 1920, although five months before the convention he did not know his political affiliation. Hoover failed to carry any state in the primaries and Lowden only picked up Illinois. But Hoover's peak strength was only 9 1/2 votes and Lowden once led the field, his peak being 311 1/2. In other words, no one paid any attention to Hoover. Now the politicians must reckon with him, but they all recall the time when Hoover didn't know whether he was Republican or Democrat.

Lowden's stock has since gone down and Hoover's up. In 1924 all they could fight for was the vice presidency. Hoover wanted it and couldn't get it. Lowden got it and announced he didn't want it. (Their friends, of course, did the fighting.) Hoover didn't enter the voting until the third ballot, after Lowden had turned down the honor, and it was on that ballot that Dawes ran away with the show.

Much the same thing may happen to the presidential nomination in 1928, except that no one who gets it will turn it down. The same old crowd will be there to pick its man. Assuming that Lowden finally drops out without being nominated, as he did after being nominated in 1924, and that Dawes becomes his legatee, Dawes and Hoover will fight it out.

TWINKLES

Old Man Santa Fe is happy over the general prosperity in the Southwest. We can agree with him that "a Santa Fe state is a good place in which to live."

When the flapper bandit robbed a bank a lot of people thought it was rather cute, but times have changed, dead robbers are in demand, and the prosecution may ask the death penalty—a request that would have been considered absurd a few months ago.

Lindbergh has had another "narrow escape." Pretty soon he will take rank with the Prince of Wales, though in a different way.

Three generations were injured by the same accidentally discharged bullet at Clarendon. Maybe that is a revised, modern version of the ancient "unto the third generation" maxim.

"Red Hot Mama" songs are driving modern youth to crime, says a Los Angeles woman. And we thought they were merely driving the older listeners to crime.

The latest flood is of words from Washington, but aside from being political palaver, high comedy, bunk, and some constructive ideas thrown in, we will have to accept it as natural phenomena in this great democracy. Yes, we have freedom of speech.

Pampa's Business, Professional and Commercial Directory

Directory listing for Pampa, Texas, including sections for Lawyers (Studer, Stennis & Studer, H. E. Florey, W. M. Lewright), Physicians and Surgeons (Archie Cole, M. D., Dr. C. D. Hunter, Dr. Roy A. Webb, Dr. W. Purviance, W. B. Wild, M. D., Dr. J. C. Higginbotham), Dentists (Dr. H. H. Hicks, Dr. W. F. Nicholas, Dr. T. M. Montgomery), Eye Specialist (Dr. T. M. Montgomery), and Miscellaneous (Pampa Lodge No. 966 A. F. and A. M., Meeting held 7:30 P. M. second floor, White Deer Land Building Main street, Office of Secretary first floor).

FRECKLES and His FRIENDS
The Best in the School
By BLOSSOM

I BET LINDY IS GETTING HUNGRY FOR HIS BREAKFAST. I'LL GIVE HIM AN EXTRA EAR OF CORN THIS MORNING AND A LOT OF NICE JAY!

LINDY'S GONE!

WAS HE WASN'T THERE ALL NIGHT BECAUSE HIS STRAW WASN'T EVEN SLEPT ON--

WHAT!! I'LL SPREAD THE ALARM!

EXTRA TASSY PONY LINDY HAS MYSTERIOUSLY DISAPPEARED!! CAN IT BE THAT SOMEONE HAS STOLEN LINDY?

SOCIAL NEWS

BY MISS LEORA MAY

PHONE 100

Mrs. Floyd McConnell Honors Guests From Groom Saturday

Mrs. Floyd McConnell was hostess at a bridge party Saturday afternoon complimenting her house guests, Miss Beulah Hall, and Miss Winnie Sealbach of Groom.

Smart Christmas favors were presented to the guests and a beautifully arranged plate luncheon was served to those present. The personnel of this lovely party included Miss Mattie Ruth Stalls, Miss Wilma Pyron, Miss Mary Nell, Miss Josephine Cariker, Mrs. Ivey Duncan, Mrs. Tom Eller, and the honor guest, Miss Beulah Hall, and Miss Winnie Sealbach.

C. P. Buckler left yesterday for Waco, where he will represent the Pampa Masonic lodge at the annual session of the grand Lodge of Texas this week. He will be gone a week, spending part of the time with his daughter, Miss Margaret, in Dallas.

The Rev. James Todd Jr., spent yesterday in Claude.

Sid Stone of Amarillo transacted business here yesterday.

Miss Ruby Cook of McLean visited friends here yesterday.

C. C. Julien, from the head office of the Empire Fuel and Gas company at Bartlesville, Okla., and L. W. Lowe, of the land department of the Empire Fuel and Gas company with offices in Amarillo, were here yesterday transacting business.

D. M. Cloud was a business visitor here yesterday.

Alex Schneider, Jr., has taken out a city permit to construct a $4,000 residence on lot 10, block 15, of the North addition. H. V. Fredman is the contractor.

Social Calendar

The Amusu Bridge club will meet with Mrs. J. M. McDonald Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church will meet Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. T. D. Hobart, with Mrs. Hobart as leader.

The Ladies' Missionary Society of the Christian church will hold the regular meeting Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Lee Banks, with Mrs. Banks and Mrs. Charles Tignor as joint hostesses. Mrs. Charles Thomas will be leader of the subject.

The Ladies' Missionary Society of the Methodist church will meet in the church Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. Irvin Cole leader. Every interesting program has been arranged.

The Circles of the W. M. U. of the Baptist church will meet as follows Wednesday afternoon: Circle One, Mrs. Katie Liebmann, Circle Two, Mrs. Tracy Willie, Circle Three, Mrs. G. D. Holmes, and Circle Four, Mrs. Charles Barrett.

The Coterie club will meet Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Walter McConnell.

The Chautauqua Literary and Scientific circle of LeFors will meet with Miss Mettie Pine Thursday afternoon, taking up their new study book, "Stories in Stone," by Willis T. Lee.

All Eastern Star members who are planning to go to the social in Miami Thursday evening must be at the Masonic hall at 6 o'clock Thursday evening.

Patricia Sawyer, little daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. R. Sawyer, is seriously ill in the Pampa hospital.

Mrs. Grace Higgins left this morning for Fort Worth where she will undergo a minor operation. She will not return to Pampa until after the New Year.

New Name Wished By Peoples Store

The Peoples store has announced a novel contest designed to obtain a new name and slogan for the firm.

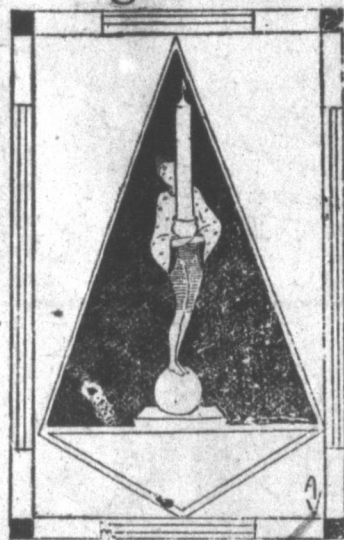

The contest will open Thursday and close Christmas eve. A prize of $50 will be awarded to the person suggesting the best name and slogan for the store. In case of a tie, the award will be divided. Suggestions may be mailed or taken to the store in person.

WARD OF THANKS

We want to thank our loyal friends and neighbors of the O. O. F. and local union No. 114, U. B. Q. C. & J. for their service and friendship during the loss of our dearly beloved husband and father.

Mrs. B. M. Nellie Carnes and son, Mrs. Sarah Carnes, Mrs. L. S. Howell.

Light Role

A colorful, amusing clown adds another meaning to his usual role when he becomes a useful bearer of light.

Texas University Department Offers Aid in English

AUSTIN, Dec. 6.—In order to encourage better teaching of English which will result in higher standards of written English in state high schools, members of the University of Texas faculty committee on student use of English are hoping to become more closely connected with teachers of English and principals of schools, according to Dr. D. L. Clark, member of the committee.

The committee stands ready at any time to aid teachers and principals and give to them any advice in regard to teaching that they are able to give, said Dr. Clark.

Out of recent uniform examinations covering spelling, punctuation, grammar and sentence structure which were given to 1201 freshman students in the University, there only 21 students who were able to make a grade of 90 per cent or better, according to Dr. Clark. One-third, or 409, of the students failed to make a passing mark. Only four State high schools represented in the group of freshmen escaped with no failures. These schools were Lovelock, Wichita Falls, New Braunfels and Fredericksburg. Four of the schools represented had as high as fifty per cent and more who failed to pass the examinations.

In order to aid the falling students with their difficulties, special non-credit classes have been organized in the University. The classes are made up of no more than twenty students each and through drill is given in the fundamentals of English.

SUPT. CAMPBELL INJURED

Supt. R. C. Campbell, of the Pampa Independent school district received severe cuts on his right hand while cranking his car Sunday. He is able to be out, but the cuts have proved painful.

DITCH DIGGING RAPID

More than 500 feet of ditch for the 15-inch sewer line from the new disposal plant was dug yesterday and 200 feet of pipe laid. The ditcher is continuing its work and will soon have to deepen the ditch on account of the elevation.

Material is being hauled to the location by truck from Amarillo, but it is thought that some of the pipe will be sent by train so as not to hold up the work.

Menus for the Family

BY SISTER MARY

BREAKFAST — Coddled apple with rolled oats, cream, crisp bacon, cornmeal pancakes, strup, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON — Veal timbales, creamed carrots, pop-overs, marmalade, canned cherries, vanilla wafers, milk, tea.

DINNER — Casserole of rabbit, brown rice, buttered parsnips, sliced Spanish onions, canned green gage plums, eggless cake, milk, coffee.

Rabbit is usually an inexpensive meat and since it is in season only during the winter months it pays the housekeeper to serve it quite frequently while she may. If the family do not like the wild, gamey flavor, the simple trick of parboiling the rabbit, after disjointsing, with an uncut onion in the water does much to relieve the dislike taste.

Eggless Cake

One and one-half cups brown sugar, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 cups flour, 1 cup sour milk, 1 teaspoon soda, 3-4 cup chopped raisins, 1-2 cup chopped nut meats, 1 tablespoon cocoa, 1-2 tablespoon cinnamon, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Mix flour and sugar and rub in butter. Dissolve soda in sour milk and add at once to mixture. Beat well an add remaining ingredients. Turned into an oiled and floured dripping pan and bake 40 minutes in a slow oven. Cover with frosting without removing from pan.

White Frosting

One cup granulated sugar, 1-2 cup milk, 1 tablespoon flour, 1 teaspoon butter, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla.

Cook sugar and milk until a soft ball is formed when a few drops are tried in cold water. Add butter. Put flour in a bowl and add a little sirup. Beat smooth and slowly add remaining sirup, beating constantly. Beat until cool add vanilla and spread on cool cake.

G. C. MALONE Ambulance Service. Phone 181.

Our Healthiest Youths

These two young folks were chosen as the healthiest girl and boy in the United States in a national contest of the Boys' and Girls' 4-E clubs held in connection with the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago. The girl is Marie Antrim, 15, of Kingman, Kan., and the boy is J. Fred Christensen, 18, of College Springs, Ia.

NEWS WANT ADS GET RESULTS

Advertisement for Pampa Daily News featuring a cartoon of Santa Claus with a sack of papers, the text 'Let Christmas Bring the News For the Year 1928 Give A Subscription to the PAMPA DAILY NEWS', and subscription rates: 'By Carrier $4.00 By Mail $3.00 Offer expires Dec. 30th'.

Advertisement for Calumet Baking Powder featuring a can of Calumet, the text 'LESS THAN 1¢ PER BAKING', 'DOUBLE ACTING MAKES BAKING EASIER', and 'CALUMET THE WORLD'S GREATEST BAKING POWDER SALES 2 1/2 TIMES THOSE OF ANY OTHER BRAND'.

Comic strip titled 'MOM'N POP' by Taylor, consisting of five panels with dialogue about a party line, a phone call, and a safe.

Vertical text on the far left edge of the page, including fragments like 'th the', 'g may', 'dential', 'except', 'it will', 'me old', 'pick its', 'lowden', 'out be', 'id after', '24, and', 'his le', 'ver will', 'happy', 'erity in', 'n agree', 'n Fe', 'which', 'bandit', 'people', 'cute', 'd, dead', 'id, and', 'ask the', 'est that', 'sidere l', 'ago.', 'another', 'ity soon', 'with the', 'gh in a', 'were in', 'dentally', 'Claren', 'revised', 'ancient', 'eration"', 'songs', 'outh to', 'Angeles', 'gh the', 'he older', 'of words', 'it aside', 'palaver', 'nd some', 'own in', 'pt it as', 'n this', 'es, we', 'ch.', 'nal', 'CS', 'NESIA', 'one 77-W', 'IN BLDG.', 'DLAS', 'ST', 'MERY', 'st', 'uesday', 'g Store', 'F, M. D.', 'Ear, Nose', 'ING', 'US', 'and A. M.', 'floor White', 'et. Office of', 'MEETINGS', '29. Work in', 'g. Tuesday', 'rk in E. A.', 'ay, Dec. 13.', 'A. Des.', 'ec. 29. Work', 'eg Saturday', 'Buckler, Soc.', 'TRA', 'S POAY', 'NDYK', 'LAS', 'ERIOUSLY', 'PEARED !!', 'NIT BE', 'HAT', 'NEONE', 'LAS', 'OLEAN', 'NDY', '?'.

EAST, WEST AND SOUTH SHARE ALL-AMERICAN

1927 ALL-AMERICAN

Dixie is Given Two Places as Game in Section Booms; West Gets Five, East Four

By Alan J. Gould, Associated Press Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—The fleeting star of All-American football fame, after following a Westward course for the last few years, shifts toward the South this season to brighten up a new gridiron constellation.

East and West, where the pace usually is swifter, share the major All-American honors for 1927, from a numerical standpoint, but the contributions of the South to the all-star array, greater than ever before, form the most striking feature of the third annual consensus, compiled by The Associated Press from the opinions of more than 200 qualified observers—coaches, officials, sports editors and staff experts who covered every sector of the battlefield.

On the first team, an eleven so All-American in character that no college has more than one representative, the East captures four places, the Middle West three, the South and Far West each two.

The All-American squad, 33 players altogether, including the shock troops of the second and third teams, reveal the East and Middle West tied, with ten places each while the South, including the Southwestern area, grabs eight and the Far West five. Twenty-three universities and colleges are represented in this galaxy.

To get an idea of how the South has progressed it is only necessary to note that it contributed only three to the All-American squad last year, including one first team nomination, and four in 1925. Thus this season the South inserts more stars into the picture than it has in two previous years combined.

GEORGIA BULLDOGS PLACE FOUR MEN ON THREE TEAMS

This University of Georgia is the chief contributor; in fact the Bulldogs lead all other colleges by gaining four places on the mythical line-ups. Minnesota has three while Michigan, Army, Pennsylvania, Southern California and Dartmouth have two each.

The Georgia phalanx is led by Captain "Chick" Shiver, a first team choice at end, along with the South's other representative, Captain Bill Spears of Vanderbilt at quarterback. Herdis McCrary, crack Georgia fullback, gains a post on the second eleven, while Tom Nash, Shiver's running mate on the Georgia flanks, and Gene Smith, guard, are on the third team.

Not since Little Centre College leaped to national fame some years ago, placing two of its stars, Weaver and McMillin, on Walter Camp's 1919 All-American team and another, Red Roberts, on the 1921 mythical list, has the South had as much to cheer about as it has had this year with Georgia, Centenary and other teams leading a touchdown parade. Such teams as Georgia Tech, Alabama, Vanderbilt and Tulane have "done their bit" for the South but this year marks a new high watermark for the brand of football played below the Mason and Dixon line.

This prominence of the South, as well as the broad spaces of the Southwest, has added to one of the merriest whirls of All-American selection increasing the difficulty of picking any eleven men from a host of closely-matched and "ballyhooed" talent in every section.

SPRAGUE AND JOESTING OF '26 ELEVEN SURVIVE

The two survivors of the 1926 Associated Press all-star team, Captain-elect Mortimer Sprague of the Army at tackle and Captain Herb Joesting of Minnesota at fullback, retain their places while Bonnie Oosterbaan, Michigan captain and end, returns to the wing job he held down on the 1925 mythical array.

Joesting was a decisive choice among experts for the fullback berth again, although he did not quite measure up to his 1925 brilliance, but the battle of ballots was hot and heavy insofar as the rest of the backfield was concerned.

Morley Drury, Southern California captain and ball-carrying ace, was as close to being a unanimous selection as any star but he is shifted to halfbacks, his natural position, from quarterback, in order to make room on the first team for Bill Spears, Vanderbilt's triple threat and one of the greatest backs the South has ever produced. Gibby Welch, hard-running Pittsburgh ace, gains the other halfback position.

Many critics found it difficult to omit from the first teams such stars as Al Marsters, Dartmouth sophomore, who passed, kicked and ran to fame; Glenn Preenell, Nebraska's battling-ram; Keener Cagle, fleet Army back; Flanagan, of Notre Dame; Gilbert, of Michigan, and Carroll of Washington, in the Southwest, two of the year's greatest quarterbacks, Joel Hunt of Texas Aggies and Gerald Mann of Southern Methodist, were the keenest of rivals. To most unbiased observers, Hunt earned the palm and is placed on the second All-American team, as a result, but there was little to choose between them.

INELIGIBILITY DEPRIVES CALDWELL OF OPPORTUNITY

But for being declared ineligible for the Princeton and Harvard games, Bruce Caldwell of Yale probably would have been a certain first team selection. As it was, many observers accorded him a first team place, on the basis of what he did against Brown, Army and Dartmouth, technical status of ineligibility, sufficient to prevent his being picked in the top flight.

Oosterbaan and Shiver, a big majority agreed, were without peers in the end positions but there were many close contests for the other line positions, particularly among the tackles. The giant Sprague, Army's captain, and stocky Ed Hake, Pennsylvania leader, gained the tackle position by some none too comfortable margins over such other stars as Jesse Hibbs of Southern California, John Smith of Pennsylvania, rated close to a par with his teammate, Raskowski of Ohio State, No-wack of Illinois and Perry of the Army.

Bill Webster, Yale leader, stood out conspicuously among the guards and was a general choice but John Smith, Notre Dame, the other selection, had strong rivals in Hanson of Minnesota, Baer of Michigan, Barahill of Tennessee and Gene Smith of Georgia. The Smith family was unusually conspicuous in the list of candidates.

It was a merry battle, too, for the

BILLY EVANS Says

Memorable Battle

"The Yale-Princeton game of this year was one of the greatest I have ever seen," was my greeting to Coach Tad Jones of Yale as I bumped into him at the Notre Dame-Southern California game at Chicago.

"I can get that viewpoint now," remarked Jones, "but it didn't strike me that way until about the last 10 minutes of play, for up to that time Princeton was leading 6-0.

"Princeton and Yale put two remarkable teams on the field that day. Seldom, if ever, have I seen two as great lines with both elevens possessing a variety of stars in the backfield.

"I recall it was a wonderful game now. Had that feeling one minute after the crack of the gun announcing the close of the game, but for three periods all I could see was the mistakes we were making and the opportunities we were passing up."

Jones refused to comment on the possibility of his reconsidering his decision to retire as head coach at Yale. I am inclined to think he will continue in that capacity for another year at least.

High Opinion of Caldwell. Jones has a mighty high opinion of Bruce Caldwell, Yale star who was declared ineligible just prior to the Princeton game, being lost to the Blue in that important game as well as Harvard.

Not given to openly expressing his enthusiasm, the superlatives that Jones used relative to Caldwell made it apparent he thought mighty well of the barred Eli back.

"Caldwell is one of the greatest backfield stars Yale has ever boasted," said Jones. "As far as I could discover, he hasn't a weakness.

"A great broken field runner, a wonder at crashing the line, highly proficient in passing, fast of foot and hard to tackle, Caldwell is a wonder at offense. Usually such stars have a weakness on defense, but not Caldwell.

center berth but Larry Bettencourt, versatile pivot of St. Mary's eleven, of San Francisco, got the call over Claude Grigsby of Georgetown, Dud Charlesworth of Yale, Ken Rouse of Chicago and Bob Reitsch of Illinois. Bettencourt, among his more enthusiastic admirers, has been compared to such famous centers as Peck of Pittsburgh and Schuls of Michigan.

"Since we beat both Harvard and Princeton," what I am about to say will not be construed as an alibi, but I really believe we would have beaten both teams from two to four touchdowns more had Caldwell been in the game."

Much of Yale's offense, particularly the forward passing, had Caldwell the main cog, doing the passing. With him out of the lineup Yale was seriously handicapped.

Incidentally, I got the lowdown on a play that has had me guessing since the finish of the Yale-Princeton clash. It was the play that really decided the game, the pass, Hoben to Fishwick, that resulted in a touchdown, evening the count at 6-6, Yale eventually winning, 14-6.

"If it isn't revealing any Yale secrets, was the Hoben to Fishwick pass a scoring play held in reserve for that particular critical moment?" I asked Jones.

My reason for so doing was prompted by the fact that in the first three periods of play Scott, the other Yale end, had been doing practically all the receiving.

"Yes, that was a play we held in reserve as a needed scoring weapon," replied Jones. "It carried considerable deception, since Fishwick had to sift through both teams from his position at right end to the sidelines on the left side. Of course we got the break in that it was perfectly executed. That is the gamble one must take."

Jones then reiterated that had Caldwell been in the lineup Princeton would have been at lot of far more intricate forward passing.

TO START CAMPAIGN FOR TEXAS MEMORIALS

AUSTIN, Dec. 6.—In order to raise the approximate $500,000 necessary as their part in financing the building of three student memorial buildings on the University of Texas, the Ex-Students' Association of the University will begin a campaign for shortly after January 1, according to T. W. Gregory of Houston, president of the Ex-Students' Association and former United States attorney general.

The entire building plan will involve the expenditure of probably one million dollars. Of this amount, the Board of Regents of the University have agreed to appropriate $600,000.

Mills Tough, and Monte Fails To Knock Him Out

A tougher boy than Jimmie Carter was seen in action last night at the Pampa Athletic Club boxing card when Wildcat Monte won an easy decision from Tex Mills.

Monte hit Mills with everything he had but failed to knock the Texan off his feet. The first round was a draw with Monte taking the other nine in easy style although Mills landed some solid blows when Monte was trying for a knockout.

The Wildcat injured his right hand in the eighth round and had to rely on his left the rest of the fight. Mills is clever and can take more punishment than any boy seen at the Athletic club since its organization.

At times the two boys would stand toe-to-toe and slug for a k. o., but both failed. Mills is a hard hitter and only Monte's footwork saved him from some haymakers.

The semi-final between Battling Walker and Babe Ruth was stopped in the middle of the second round by matchmakers and the Legionboys. The two 160-pounders went into the ring and stalled around for a round and a half, when the fight was stopped.

Neither boys were given a purse as the motto of the Pampa Athletic club is "no fight, no money." The club believes in giving its patrons the best that can be secured in the way of boxing events and when two fighters stall the match is off.

Three blows in the first round ended the special event when the Fighting Dutchman took the count. He met a right to the jaw as he stepped from his corner and took a count of eight. In the next exchange Burke landed two to the jaw and one to the stomach and Hust failed to come up.

Bill Barnett, the fighting newsboy, gave Clayton Wardrobe fifteen pounds and beat him so badly in the first round that the referee stopped the fight. So far, no one has stepped into the 100-pound class who can stand up with the fighting newsboy. J. O. The Midget gave ten pounds and fought his big opponent to a draw. The kid is the best crowd pleaser in the ring.

Next Monday night Fred Whittington who needs no introduction to a Pampa audience will meet Walter Page of Dodge City, Kas., in the main event. It has been with great difficulty that the local matchmakers has matched these two boys and the best fight of the season is expected.

ELECT FOURTEEN WOMEN MAYORS IN CITIES OF ENGLAND AND WALES

Being the mayor is fast becoming women's prerogative in England and Wales where there are now 14 women mayors among whom are: Miss Margaret Beavan (left) Lord Mayor of Liverpool; Mrs. Foster Welch (center) Mayor of Southampton; Lady Edward Hulse (upper right) Mayor of Salisbury; and Mrs. E. M. Drapper, Mayor of Deptford.

LONDON—Cities and towns of England and Wales today have fourteen women mayors, one of them a lord mayor, as the outcome of the elections in more than 300 cities and boroughs. Each is in office for the ensuing municipal year.

The only woman lord mayor elected was Miss Margaret Beavan, in Liverpool.

The provincial boroughs with women mayors are Bury St. Edmunds, Pudsey, Tenby, West Bromwich, Wrexham, Chesterfield, Eastbourne, Merthyr Tydfil, Whitehaven and Lichfield, Deptford, London, also elected a woman, Mrs. E. M. Drapper, whose husband serves under her direction on the city council.

American celebrities who decided to land at Southampton, England's big passenger steamer port, will hereafter be welcomed by a woman chief executive, for Southampton, too, for the first time in the history of the city, has elected a woman, Mrs. Foster Welch, to be mayor.

Salisbury, which recently celebrated the 700th anniversary of the granting of its charter, has its first mayor also. She is the Hon. Lady Hulse, only daughter of the first Baron Burnham, and widow of Sir Edward Henry Hulse, Bt. Lady Hulse came into the public eye eight years ago when first elected to the town council as a Conservative.

Her selection attracted much attention among the nobility, those witnessing the ceremony being Viscount and Viscountess Burnham, the Hon. Mrs. Pleydell-Bouverie, Sir Hamilton Hulse, Bt. Lieute.-Colonel the Hon. W. Lawson, General Sir Alexander Godley, commander-in-chief of the Southern division of the army, and Lady Godley. In addition Lady Hulse is a justice of the peace for Hampshire.

Analysis of the lord mayors and mayors chosen in the provinces shows there are 165 Conservatives, 99 Liberals, 35 Labor, 30 Independents and one of the Co-operative party, while in 15 instances the political party is not given. In the London boroughs 16 mayors are municipal reformers, 7 Labor, 2 Progressive, 1 Coalitionist, and 1 Independent, and in one case no statements was made as to party.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Shultz, manager of the local district of the Maryland Oils, passed through Pampa Sunday enroute from St. Joseph, Mo. to Amarillo.

G. C. MALONE Ambulance Service. Phone 181.

USED CARS
Why wait when you can buy a good used car at these prices:

- 1926 Standard Studebaker touring $675
- 1926 Big Six Studebaker roadster $875
- 1926 Standard Studebaker sedan $675
- 1926 Essex coach $225

The Studebaker 30-day guarantee goes with all used cars.

THUT-SAUNDERS
IMPORTERS

Labor Conditions Good Except in Coal Industry, Secretary Davis Says in Annual Report

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5—In prosperity and happiness the "American people so stand as to be the subject of admiration and study the world over," Secretary Davis declared today in the annual report of the Labor Department. He called for maintenance of high wages and welfare, for control of immigration, and for modification of anti-trust laws to allow the condition he described to be maintained.

"While we take into account the splendid life of plenty and peace we enjoy," the Labor Secretary said, "we must not suppose that all is perfect with us. The distribution of our national wealth is good, but it is not perfect.

"No matter on what plea or excuse, reduction of wages is bad business and worse economics. The time has passed when any industry or employer who seeks to break down wage scales will be looked upon by the community as shrewd or clever in industry. It is the mutual willingness of the worker to produce and the employer to pay for production that accounts in large measure for our present prosperity. It has crowded the home market with millions of ready consumers and buyers; it has stocked that market with an infinite variety of goods for improving their standard of living."

Mr. Davis declared that the "simple secret of the national prosperity" in the maintenance of high production and high wages had resulted in cessation of strike activity, and predicted that this condition would continue.

"Never before in the history of American industry has the country witnessed such a degree of general harmony between worker and employer," he said. "This attitude of mutual respect, good will and partnership is growing in the country."

The Labor department head mentioned the bituminous coal mining industry "as one industry that lags behind others in living up to American standards of organization and business administration," remarking on protracted strikes in coal production, and suggested that one way that industry's difficulties might be the alleviation of anti-trust law pressure against consolidation.

Whole State Eager to Know Meaning of 25 Cents in Bid

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6—Twenty-five cents won't buy much these days, and the sum is not large enough to be of any importance, but sometimes 25 cents can arouse lots of curiosity.

Recently it was announced that a contract had been let to Ramsey Brothers of Waxahachie, to build a gymnasium at Trinity University and the price named was $37,000.25.

Immediately persons in all sections of the state began wondering what the $.25 was for.

"That's the contractor's profits," one student suggested.

"No, that's to pay for the nails that will be lost in building the structure," replied another.

Several persons became so curious that they wrote the contractors to see why they did not make their bid an even $37,000.

"We didn't put the two-bits on our bid," Cal Ramsey, contractor said. "It must have come in the plumbing and lighting bids, and as the total came to $37,000.25, that was the sum that was announced."

Work on the building is progressing rapidly and cement for the foundation will be poured soon.

HERE TO STAY!

FRASER, UPTON AND DOWNS

M. P. Downs

M. P. Downs is an insurance specialist with 15 years experience. He came to Pampa to make Pampa his home, and in the future will devote all of his time and interests to the building and growth of Pampa.

LET US SERVE YOU

Your interests are ours. When you are thinking of insurance, bonds or city and farm loans, come to our office and discuss your problem. Call phone 272 and a representative will call on you. We want to know every man, woman and child in the Panhandle.

Fraser, Upton and Downs

"THE INSURANCE MEN"

Bonds, City and Farm Loans

Phone 272

Sharpe-Reynolds Building

YOUR $$$

Will Do Double Duty at

Gordon Stores Co. BIG XMAS SALE

Combined with

Rice Brothers' Stock

Nothing Reserved—$40,000 worth of merchandise to be sold at give away prices. Sale opens Thursday, Dec. 8th.

LADIES DRESSES

Values up to $15.00—

$5.85

One lot of LADIES SHOES

Broken sizes

$1.49

HEAVY COTTON BLANKETS

Double 66x80; regular $2.75 value; sale price

$1.69

We bought the stock of Rice Bros., consisting of Mens and Boys Furnishings and Shoes to be sold at give away prices.

FREE FREE FREE

EVERY DAY OF THIS BIG SALE WE ARE GOING TO GIVE FREE A BEAUTIFUL $15.00 DINNER SET—32 PIECES

—A TICKET WITH EVERY DOLLAR PURCHASE. DISHES GIVEN AWAY EVERY NIGHT AT 8:15.

Heavy Flannel

Shirts

79c

Ladies

Beautiful Coats

values up to $20; sale price—

$7.85

CHILDREN'S UNDERWEAR

Heavy weight, taped or plain; sizes 2 to 16

59c

KOTEX

3 boxes for

89c

Mens Sheep Lined 4-Pocket

COATS

36-inches long; sale price

$6.95

Heavy Mens Underwear, a bargain at

76c

GORDON STORES CO.

1001 Bargains

REX TODAY

IS A WOMAN ALWAYS A WOMAN

See THE CRYSTAL CUP

TACKY DANCE
Friday Night, Dec. 9
DANCELAND
Black Aces 10-Piece Band

Amusements

Merchant---
loss was lowered $3,000,000 trade in Shipping Board vessels expanded materially, placing the American flag in every important port in the world for the first time in 75 years.

The board declared that while every means available was being used for the expansion of American trade in American ships, the country's merchant fleet was being out-classed by foreign competitors, and that government aid was the only logical method to overcome the lead being taken by other countries.

MacNider---
assurance "there must be definite determination of war time needs."
The cost of maintaining adequate reserves in time of peace would be "prohibitive," the Assistant Secretary said, and the only solution is to plan out the production and procurement on a scale which will reduce the amount of reserves which must be kept on hand.

Three Jurors Are Selected in Trial of Flapper Bandit
(By Associated Press)
LA GRANGE, Dec. 6.—The number of jurors selected in the Rebecca Bradley Rogers bank robbery case stood at three at noon today.
No new jurymen were added to those selected yesterday. Both the State and the defense today emphasized the insanity feature in investigating prospective jurors.

"ACES" TO PLAY
The Black Aces ten-piece band will furnish music for the "tacky" dance to be given at Danceland Friday night. A prize will be given by Mrs. Mattie McDonald, manager of the dance, to the couple wearing the tackiest clothes.
A similar dance given by Mrs. McDonald soon after the new Danceland was opened proved to be a great success. Many of the attendants came to the dance in clothes so tacky that the winner was hard to pick.

OPENS NEW STUDIO
High grade portraiture is the specialty of W. T. McIvor, who has opened the Talley Addition studio here. He has wide experience in Oklahoma and Missouri and invites local people to visit his shop and look at samples of his work.

MEETING IN PROGRESS
S. G. Shields of Amarillo has opened a revival meeting here at the Assembly of God, and will continue to hold services at 7:30 o'clock each evening until December 18.

REV. EVANS TO SPEAK AT CENTRAL HIGH CHAPEL
"The young man worth while" will be the subject of an address by the Rev. W. L. Evans at chapel tomorrow morning in the high school auditorium. The Rev. Evans has a very interesting talk prepared for the pupils on that subject.
Music by the school orchestra and pupils also will feature the chapel program.

CALL OF THANKS
We wish to thank our many friends for their floral offerings and messages of kindness shown us in every way during the illness and death of our dear father and brother.
Mr. and Mrs. Roy J. Wilson.
Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Behringer.
Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Inman.
Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Wilson.
Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Wilson.
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Long.
Misses Ethel, Pearl and La Vera Wilson.
Mrs. Fred Hines of Chapman, Kan.
Mrs. Georgia Sease of Junction City, Kan.

ball coach and, incidentally, with the girl friend of one of the pals. It is quite a clever little plot but, of course, the right boys get the right girls before it is all done and the grand climax comes before the spectacular background of a cheering, raving mob of students yelling for a final "touchdown."

Six Hurt When Derailed Gasoline Tank Cars Burn
(By Associated Press)
ATLANTA, Dec. 6.—Six men were seriously injured, one probably fatally, when a locomotive and twelve cars of an Atlanta, Birmingham, and Coast freight train left the tracks near here today, starting a blaze from derailed gasoline tank cars that for a time threatened to destroy the entire train.
T. Byers, engineer, is not expected to live.

Brother of Kimes Pleads Guilty—Gets 50 Years
ENID, Okla., Dec. 6.—Pleading guilty to the charge of robbing the bank at Covington, Okla., last year George Kimes, brother of Mathew Kimes notorious young Oklahoma outlaw, was sentenced today to 50 years in the penitentiary.

Severe Blizzard Roars Southward
DENVER, Dec. 6.—The first severe blizzard of the season roared southward from Canada today to cripple traffic and leave more than a score of persons trapped on the prairies of Central Montana.
The storm is the worst experienced in several years.

MUSIC MEMORY BULLETIN READY FOR SCHOOLS
AUSTIN, Dec. 6.—As an aid to teachers and pupils of schools entered in the State Memory contest sponsored by the Interscholastic League of the University of Texas, a third annual bulletin has been issued by the University. The pamphlet, entitled "Music Heard in Many Lands," contains stories relating to the new selections in the 1927-1928 memory list. The bulletin was edited by Mrs. Lota Spell.

Candidates For City Manager Are Being Investigated
Routine business was transacted last night in the regular meeting of the new city commission.
C. C. Cook and associates were designated to handle the legal affairs of the city, inasmuch as they already had charge of civil suits to be heard in the next term of district court.

The Phillips Petroleum company asked the city's attitude on the building of a gasoline loading rack south of the Santa Fe "Y," and the matter was taken under advisement.
The commission has several applications from prospective city managers, and is investigating credentials this week. Another meeting will be held Thursday evening, but probably only routine business will be considered at that time.

Talkative Juror Again Main Topic
(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Edward Kidwell, known as the talkative juror in the Fall-Sinclair oil trial, again was brought into the Sinclair contempt proceedings today when E. C. Brandenburg, counsel for Sheldon Clark, asserted that the real reason for the oil mistrial was the approaching of Kidwell by two persons.
No action has been taken against these persons, he said.

Local Rotarians Off to Borger
A number of the Pampa Rotary club left for Borger this afternoon to attend the presentation of the Rotary charter to the Borger club this evening. The Borger Rotary club was organized in August and has 25 members.
Ellis Boyd of Fort Worth governor of Rotary International in this district will present the charter.

5000 Persons See New Ford Auto
More than 5,000 persons viewed the new Ford car on display at the Rose Motor company yesterday. At 10 o'clock yesterday morning the show room was full of expectant sightseers and when the covering was removed from the model silence reigned as the majority of people were spellbound with the beauty of the new Ford.
Last evening a string orchestra furnished music for the huge crowd that filled the showroom until nearly midnight. Again this morning crowds of people filled the room.
More than 50 orders have been placed with the firm.

BIG TAX BILL SUBMITTED
WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The first major piece of legislation from the new Congress, the new $236,000,000 tax reduction bill, today was introduced in the House.
BANDIT GETS 99 YEARS
DALLAS, Dec. 6.—Jim Jorton, charged with robbing the Irving bank near here in 1926, was found guilty today and sentenced to 99 years in the penitentiary.
The jury was out less than 5 minutes.

Red Cross---
the opinion that the board probably could contribute $50 monthly in return for the part-time work of the Red Cross nurse. In pointing out some of the findings of Miss Lovelace, the local nurse, he declared that the money thus used was perhaps the most wisely spent of any funds used this year.
Others present endorsed the work, and the plan to combine nursing and charity work under the direction of the large local executive committee. Regular meetings will be held, and it is planned to start the work early in the coming year.

Make It An Electrical Christmas

The wizard of Electricity takes many wonderful forms. Watch him in our window where he becomes in turn:

- Electric Irons
- Percolators
- Toasters
- Electric Heaters
- Waffle Irons
- Heating Pads
- Electric Grills
- Curling Irons
- Table Stoves
- Floor Lamps
- Table Lamps
- Bed Lamps

Packed in Appropriate Gift Boxes

Southwestern PUBLIC SERVICE Company
Day & Zimmermann, Inc., Management

When in Amarillo Park Your Car at Corner 7th and Tyler St. Heart of shopping District. T. & W. FILING & PARKING STATION H. N. Traddell, F. A. Dimick & Roger Wilkinson

FOR TRADE
Nice modern five-room home in Lubbock—Van home in Pampa.
BYKE CULLUM
Hodge Dealer

GLASS
For Store Fronts, Windows, Lenses
CONWAY GLASS WORKS
Rear First National Bank

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING
Rates: Two cents per word per insertion; three insertions for five cents per word; minimum, twenty-five cents per insertion. All classified ad cash in advance.

WANTED
WANTED—Experienced cook at Unique Lunch Shop, north of Mahan Drug. 22-3p
WANTED—To rent small unfurnished apartment or house; must be reasonable. Call 207-1. 22-3p
WANTED—To buy good clean lard pails and buckets. Ward's Wholesale, Phone 9012-F-2. 22-3p
WANTED—Refined white woman to keep house. See Mrs. [Name] at J. H. Meade Dry Goods Co. 27-4f
WANTED—Royalties on leases. Have some buyers. Prices must be right. F. P. Reid & Co. 28-3p

FOR RENT
PAMPA BUNGALETTE COURT—Conveniently arranged, prices reasonable. 22-3p
FOR RENT—Two-room cottages with garage. Cross railroad at Shepherd Hotel. Joe to first street west go south to end of Sommerville. Latham Cottages. 11-30p
FOR RENT—Housekeeping rooms, furnished, $4.50 per week. Highway Service Station, Amarillo road. 28-3p
FOR RENT—4-room house, unfurnished, gas, lights and sewer rent $20.00 including water. Pampa Electric Co. Phone 231. 28-3p
FOR RENT—House, furnished or unfurnished. See Mrs. [Name] at [Address]. 28-3p
FOR RENT—Two room modern furnished apt. Mrs. [Name] at [Address]. 28-3p
FOR RENT—Elegant furnished house, furnished, Pampa Electric Co. Phone 231. 28-3p
FOR RENT—Furnished apartment over Coca-Cola Bottling Co. 28-3p
FOR RENT—Sleeping room in modern home. Third house north Pampa Laundry. 28-3p

FOR SALE
BARGAINS IN HOUSES—Four rooms, $1200. Five-room modern, $1500. Bargain. Easy terms. Pampa Electric Co. Phone 231. 28-3p
FOR SALE—Dressed logs two miles east on highway 53. No cash accepted. R. B. Mitchell. 28-49p
FOR SALE at once—Eight-room modern duplex in Pampa. Good location, close in. Excellent for rental or living purposes. Price $4500. $5000 cash balance $40 per month. Ruby Pennington, Shamrock, Texas. 28-49p
FOR SALE—One good Durco Jersey service horse, 16 months old. Right miles southwest of Pampa. John Bell, Jr. 27-6p
FOR SALE—Young bull, H. B. Lovett, Pampa, Texas. breeder of thoroughbred cattle. 19-55p
FOR SALE—Furniture, Tennessee Red, $2.25 per bushel. Will deliver in Pampa Saturday. John Love, Milledale. 28-3p
FOR SALE—Three-room house and lot, lot size 50x150. $200. terms, best buy in town. Inquire White Phone Station, seven blocks south James S. 28-3p
FOR SALE AT PUBLIC AUCTION—Saturday, December 10, at MILLER TOOL HOUSE, Pampa, Texas, two boilers, three engines, 14 drilling stems, 20 bits, two undergrounds, and various other drilling and fishing tools. Sale starts two o'clock sharp. J. G. MERRILL. 28-49p

LOST AND FOUND
STRAYED—One black horse, weight 1600; one bay horse, weight 1250, one sorrel mare, weight about 1000, branded 4T on left shoulder. Reward for return, Wylie N. K. Richardson, Borger, Texas. 28-3p
LOST—4 Jersey Heifer yearlings. Small oval low fork out of ear. Notify W. A. Taylor. 28-4p
FOUND—Gents watch. Owner can have same by paying for ad and proving ownership. Box 372 Kismet. 28-6p
LOST—Black traveling bag on Foster or Cuyler streets Sunday night. Reward for return to Pampa Daily News. 28-3p

MISCELLANEOUS
BUTCHER ATTENTION—Butcher with small equipment can rent space in newly opened grocery store in Skellytown, Texas. Electric lights, gas water and water in store. For further information see Frank McMullen, Draper-Ryan Produce, Pampa, Texas. 28-3p
PERSONAL
O. L.—O. K. to write to [Address]. Call for your mail. E. M. 28-3p