In addition to a love for hamburger sandwiches, we go for juicy steaks, done to a medium and embellished by French fried. . . But, it is not often that we get steaks the like of which Otto Studer provided for Sunday evening dinner.

Mr. Studer, lawyer, hunter and outdoor sportsman in general was responsible for us sitting down to venison from wild deer. . . Prepared by a downtown chef and delivered steaming to our back-door quarters. . . Assistance in making these deer steaks disappear was ably given by Clifford Braly, the lawyer, and Jim Lyons, Fourth Estater.

SCOUTS TO 'RUN' CITY OFFICES FEBRUARY 13

City commissioners last night officially declared the week of Feb. 8 as Boy Scout week in Pampa. On Saturday, Feb. 13, between 11 and 12 a. m., Boy Scouts will "run" the city.

Mayor W. A. Bratton was out of town last night, attending the Santa Fe railroad banquet in Amarillo. The commissioners also named Jim Bob Johnson to have care of city tools at the fair park project during the day. A night watchman will relieve him. It was also voted to fence the entire park property along U. S. Highway 60 and no admission will be allowed after dark until work has been completed.

The dam being erected for the city lake is nearing completion, City Manager C. L. Stine reported.

Pampans today trying to decide what the supreme court's ruling on the gas rate taking law meant. They were largely agreed that the court ruling against the state means that "if you have a gas well connected by pipeline or some other method of taking gas and I have a gas well across the fence, there is no law forcing anyone to take my gas. That means that your well will drain the gas from under my land and you get paid for it."

Type Of New Houses Being Built Here

Still more new homes being erected in Pampa are pictured above. An unusual winter building campaign is in progress with permits for January reaching the peak of $16,000. At the top is the framework for the Ewing Williams home on North Russell street west of the Cook-Adams addition. The home will cost $5,500 when completed. P. O. Anderson's new home appears in the center picture. It is at 520 North Gray street and was erected at a cost of $4,500. Wilson Hatcher was the contractor. The beautiful B. O. Lilly home in Cook-Adams heights is shown in the lower picture. It was designed and erected by J. King at a cost of $8,500. Many more residences are under construction or contracts awarded in various parts of the city.

'CHANGE' FOR CROP IN 'DUST BOWL' IS FAIR

BY PAUL D. SHOEMAKER, Associated Press Farm Editor.

GUYMON, Okla., Feb. 2.—These are tensely expectant days in the "dust bowl" because there is a "chance" for a crop—if sufficient precipitation comes within the month.

Already this year, however, farmers have seen the dust spectre swirling dust has visited the south-west even on days when flood waters were devastating cities less than a thousand miles away. But agriculturists say there is more moisture in the subsoil, even though the topsoil is dry, than there has been at this season for several years.

The farmers, and business men, too, feel that nature owes the area a lot of precipitation and it surely will come soon. They hope the

'Chuck Lamps Shadow

GOBBLER'S KNOB, Punxsutawney, Pa., Feb. 2 (AP)—The weather scouts of Punxsutawney climbed high into the hills at dawn today seeking the "official forecast by Brother Groundhog" and found a "sit-down strike" at the national weather works.

The venerable old "chuck refused to come out of his hole; wouldn't even peek at the sunny skies, until, said emissaries of the scouts: "We drove out an unwelcome intruder, either a polecat or the Quarryville pretender, who hands out those unofficial predictions over in the east of the state."

Then, said a messenger who sped from the hills, brother "chuck—the only real seer of seers able to tell the weather for the next six weeks, emerged, rubbed his eyes, exhaled deeply, looked at his shadow and predicted:

"Sissy weather is over. In the next six weeks, maybe two months, you're going to see more real weather than you ever dreamed of. No more buds peeking through the ground. Just plain, cold, blizzard weather with plenty of skating, skiing and sledding."

CLOTHING PLEA DISCONTINUED BY RED CROSS

Notice was received here today from divisional Red Cross headquarters in St. Louis to discontinue the appeal for clothing and supplies for flood sufferers in the Ohio and Mississippi river valleys.

W. M. Baxter, manager of the St. Louis office of the Red Cross, wrote to Mrs. W. H. Davis, secretary of the local chapter, stating that contributions of clothing throughout the nation has been adequate to meet the needs for the time being and that there is no further need for an appeal for clothing and supplies until further notice.

All chapters in the nation are receiving the same notice, Mr. Baxter advised. Pampa already has shipped more than 3,000 pounds of clothing to the flood zone. Under the new order received today no more clothing will be shipped and contributions on hand here which have not been shipped will be used for local relief.

PRICES OF GASOLINE ARE RAISED ONE CENT

Pampa motorists "took it on the chin" yesterday when they were greeted at local service stations with the announcement that the price of gasoline had gone up one cent a gallon.

That made the highest grade gasoline 21 cents a gallon with the white or cheaper brand 18 cents a gallon. Market demand, diminished storage and the hike in the price of crude oil were cited as reasons for the one-cent raise.

SIT-DOWNERS ARE LOSERS IN COURT RULING

CHEVROLET PLANT IS OCCUPIED; MORE INJURED

FLINT, Mich., Feb. 2 (AP)—Circuit Judge Paul Gadola granted an injunction this afternoon restraining strikers from occupying two General Motor plants. The injunction also restrained the strikers from picketing and ordered the men to evacuate the plants within 24 hours.

After citing numerous Michigan court decisions, mostly regarding the legality of picketing and on property rights, Judge Gadola said: "This court cannot take the mandate of 1936 as a guide but must follow the law of the state."

"We therefore must grant the relief asked by the plaintiff."

He ordered Sheriff Thomas W. Wolcott to serve notice on the sit-down strikers in Fisher plants Nos. 1 and 2 immediately and said that a reading of the notice to them would be considered by him as sufficient legal service.

Judge Gadola pointed out the only issue involved in the evacuation was the question of "possession of property," specifically whether the employees had any right to occupy property of General Motors.

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGER

There is a man in town (this particular man—there are many others like him) whom Speed has fascinated, and all his friends and acquaintances talk about how fast he drives, and kids love to go with him because they like to go fast. His speedometer is 90 part of the time, never less than 75 on a smooth stretch of pavement. The young who ride in his car grumble when they ride with someone else who does not drive fast. He rails at motorists who do not observe every traffic rule and says, "Watch me run him off in the ditch!" He gently condescendingly pities those who drive only 50, and he brags about his speed. Then the other night he was skimming along about 70 and came to an upgrade curve. One of the passengers said, "Here is the place where," and called a name, "ran into the rear of a wagon and was killed," and the speed maniac, fear in his heart for the moment, involuntarily lifted his foot off the gas, then set his jaw and floorboarded it.

Scout Program For Girls To Be Explained

Girls' parents and friends will be informed of the Girl Scout program at an open meeting this evening in high school cafeteria. It will begin with a covered dish supper at 7, and leaders emphasized that men as well as women are expected to be present.

The Kiwanis club, Council of Women's clubs, and Parent-Teacher associations are sponsoring the meeting, to create interest in a comprehensive Girl Scout program here. Although a training course for Girl Scout leaders will follow this meeting, it was emphasized that attendance tonight is by no means limited to those who will take the course. Parents of early 'teen-aged girls are especially invited.

R. A. Selby, head of the Kiwanis club Girl Scout committee, will act as toastmaster for the informal program this evening. Girl Scout leaders from Amarillo will be the leading participants. Mrs. J. Roy Cullum, a national Girl Scout committee woman, will speak on Scouting.

Miss Elizabeth Sampson, Girl Scout director in Amarillo; Mrs. E. C. Will of Amarillo, former Pampa; Mrs. J. M. Turner, leader of Girl Scout troop 6 here, and Mel Marshall of the KPND staff will present a mock broadcast that will emphasize Scout work.

Mrs. Bill Gilstrap of Amarillo, a former Girl Scout director, will lead group songs. The two local Girl Scout troops will assist on the program, troop 6 with songs by Joyce Turner, Myra Aberson, and Nina Rose McCarty, and troop 1 with another musical number.

The visitors from Amarillo, all leaders in the Girl Scout council there, will be introduced before supper, and will be available through the evening to answer questions and discuss the work with those interested. In addition to visitors on program, Mrs. W. R. Klingensmith and Mrs. Dyke Cullum are expected to be here.

Officials Mum Over Victory Of Texoma Co.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 (AP)—A Supreme Court decision sent Texas natural gas resources on a new hunt today for an effective legal method of stopping waste in the prolific Panhandle field.

The court told the state railroad commission, which regulates the oil and gas industries, that it could prohibit production to prevent waste or undue drainage from any tract, but held unconstitutional the application of a commission order of 13 months ago to the Texoma Natural Gas Company.

The company contended successfully it was not producing gas in a wasteful manner and therefore was not required to curtail its production. It argued the real purpose was to force it to share its pipeline outlets and markets with producers who had no such facilities, a view supported by the decision.

The court said in a lengthy opinion which related only to "sweet gas."

"The sole purpose of the limitation (the company's) production is to compel those who may legally produce because they have market outlets for permitted uses, to purchase gas from potential producers whom the statute prohibits from producing because they lack such a market for the possible products. (The company's) operations are neither causing nor threatening any overground or underground waste. Every owner in the field is free to produce the

VICTORY STILL NOT CLAIMED BY DEFENDERS

OHIO REMAINS SAME FOR 12 CONSECUTIVE HOURS

(By The Associated Press)

Dread "sand boils," bursting up in the heart of beleaguered Cairo, Ill., warned workers of deeply-undermined barriers guarding the flood-sieged city today.

Emergency squads rushed to the danger spots, dumping hundreds of sandbags on the miniature "geysers," boiling through the thin strata of protective surface over the city's foundation of sand.

Major R. D. Burdick, U. S. army engineer, estimated there were about 50 "boils" scattered throughout the city.

The eruptions, he explained, sprang from the terrific pressure of the flooded Ohio river waters, slowly eating their way beneath the man-guarded levees and seeping under the city to make it—in time—a virtual "floating island."

In the mounting emergency, forty additional coast guard boats arrived to evacuate the city's army of 6,000 defenders if the river breaks through. In all, 55 vessels and nine barges were tied up at the river wall.

Huge waves, lashed by a freezing north wind, swept against the city's reinforced defenses.

CAIRO, Ill., Feb. 2 (AP)—Weary levee workers, wise to the inevitable ways of the river, held back claims of victory today, although the swollen Ohio river at Cairo had remained stationary for 12 consecutive hours.

They waited, with a patience that neared the breaking-point, for the official pronouncement of veteran Government Forecaster W. E. Barren and the river experts in the United States army engineers' office.

At 59.50 feet, six inches below the top of the city's concrete seawall, but 3 feet 6 inches below its surrounding emergency bulkhead, the river had stirred restlessly since 9 o'clock last night.

"For all practical purposes, this is the crest," said Wallace Gore, member of the city's coordinating committee and a flood-fighter for 50 years.

The waves dashed with rising fury against the 3-foot emergency bulkhead—a mud-boxed barricade 18 inches thick—which surmounts the 60 foot concrete seawall.

The Ohio itself, slowly nearing a crest, crept within a hand's breadth of 60 feet, shifting the

4 MILLION DOLLARS WORTH OF LAND GOES TO OKLAHOMA '89ERS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 2 (AP)—Four million dollars worth of land—a strip 100 feet wide in downtown Oklahoma City—was awarded today to homesteading '89ers and their heirs by the state supreme court.

The decision, written by Chief Justice Monroe O'Connor, awarded the land to the Rock Island. The Choctaw paid one of the '89ers, the late Dr. Robert W. Higgins, $400 for his portion of the land.

The Choctaw acquired the land for a railroad right-of-way not long after the "run" of 1889, and later turned the land to the Rock Island.

Surprised Oklahoma City officials said they were not positive whether the decision would affect land at the West End Civic Center on which the city is erecting $3,500,000 worth of civic buildings.

They said they feared it might include about six feet of a tract of land on which a new civic auditorium has been built.

The decision, climaxing nearly eight years of litigation, was based on a reversion clause in the deed to the old Choctaw company.

The clause provided for return of the land to the original owners should the tract cease to be used for a railroad.

HUMBLE SCOUT FROM MIDLAND COMING HERE

Tex N. Crawford of Midland will arrive in Pampa Monday to take over the duties of line man and scout for the Humble Oil & Refining Company. Mrs. Crawford and three children will follow him within a week.

Mr. Crawford will replace Johnny Bricker, who will go to Midland. Mr. Bricker has been with the company here for three years, coming to Pampa from Midland.

Questions That
Some Folks Ask

About Cardui
BENEFIT FOR MAL-NUTRITION
Thousands of women testify Cardui has helped them to overcome mal-nutrition and to ease many of the functional pains of menstruation.

"What is meant by 'helping to overcome mal-nutrition'?"
Cardui contains extracts of two plants which are classified among the "bitter" in medicine because they are known to increase the flow of digestive juices—to improve digestion—so there is a craving for sufficient food for the body's needs, and by their action more energy (or strength) is obtained from the food eaten. The food, of course, brings the additional strength, but Cardui serves as the means to this end by its good influence on the digestive system.

Modern Menus

By Mrs. Gaynor Maddox
NEA Service Staff Writer

To begin with, there's a fresh vegetable soup made so rapidly you'll wonder why you never thought of it before.

Quick Vegetable Soup
(4 to 6 servings)

Two carrots, 3 stalks of celery, 1 small onion, 1 small potato, 1 spring parsley, 2 large green lettuce leaves, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 2 teaspoon olive oil, 2 bouillon cubes, salt, pepper, cayenne.

In a large pot, place carrot and other vegetables cleaned and cut into coarse pieces. Over them pour 1 quart boiling water. Cover and cook rapidly until vegetables are tender. Remove vegetables, chop, return to stock. Season. Remove from fire, add lemon juice and 2 bouillon cubes. It has a garden taste in the turn to fire for 2 minutes. Serve in cups. It has a garden taste in the middle of winter.

Next comes the main dish, smothered steak to please everyone.

Smothered Steak
(4 to 6 servings)

Two and one-half pounds round steak, 2 tablespoons flour, 1-2 teaspoon mustard, 2 cups canned tomatoes, 1 Bermuda onion, salt and pepper.

Have steak cut at least 1 inch thick. Crisscross with sharp knife. Into cuts rub the flour and mustard mixed together. Season with salt and pepper. Melt small amount of fat in large iron pan. Brown steak first on one side, then on the other. Slice the onion and arrange slices over the top of the steak. Pour on the tomato. Bake in very low oven (275 degrees F.) for about 2-1/2 hours, until tender.

A low cost vegetable—try those small green squash. Cut in half, steam until tender. Then scoop out most of the squash but leave a little on the shell. Mix the scooped out part with butter, milk and 1 beaten egg and seasoning in the amounts preferred by your family. Sprinkle top with bread crumbs and grated cheese and brown in oven.

A good buxom salad should go with this. Try cold slaw. And for dessert, better serve canned fruit and small cakes or else cold fresh fruit in a bowl.

Cost Of Living
As Christian Is
Sermon Subject

"A lot of people want to find an easy way to become a Christian," said the evangelist, Marshall Masterson, last night at the First Christian church. "If we could just let down the bars, the churches would fill up rapidly. The Christian life costs something. You have to exchange something for it."

"When you come to the end of your life, you will have exchanged your life for something. You'd better be careful about your ability to exchange and look pretty carefully at the thing you are exchanging it for. You'd better develop a good sense of values."

"What about a Christian home?" A man and woman cannot have a Christian home and not be identified with a church. It takes a lot of time and trouble to make a Christian home. Are you exchanging that time and trouble for a Christian home?

"What about your Sundays? What are you exchanging them for?"

A male quartet sang and there will be music on the vibraphone and a crayon picture by Howard House.

Class Officers

Office vacancies were filled when the Susannah Wesley class of First Methodist church met with Mrs. C. E. Ward last week. Mrs. J. E. Ward was elected secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Susie Porter recreation chairman. Mrs. Z. H. Mundy and Mrs. Porter a social committee.

Clarence Kennedy, general chairman of the local committee, has issued a call for all ticket sellers to check with the finance committee immediately so that his committee can turn the money over to the proper authorities.

The $10 prize offered to the club selling the most tickets in advance went to the J. C. D. club with the Business and Professional Women's club a close second. The J. C. D. club members also worked hard in holding the dances.

Elbows 'Out' As Substitute For
Spine At Table

By JOAN DURHAM

The gentle art of dining has a number of fine points you really ought to clear up before you're invited out again.

That elbow on the table business for instance—should it or shouldn't it be done? And what about cutting salad with a knife? Or eating bacon with your fingers?

There are numerous etiquette minutiae that we all check mentally every time we set foot in our friend's dining-rooms. But somehow they always manage to slip our minds afterwards—until the next time we dine out.

Watch Your Elbows

About the elbows... You may put them on the table for a moment or so—if you're leaning forward to speak to someone. But don't use them as a substitute for your spinal column. The minute you discover you're a permanent loll it's time to call a halt.

Although it's permissible to cut your salad with a knife—if there's something in it that can't be cut with a fork—be careful to choose a silver-bladed knife. (Never use a steel-bladed steak knife.)

Now about fingers instead of forks. Your first concern is not to get your hands greasy or dirty. For that reason you'll have to use a fork most of the time. Olives, most canapés, and crisply fried bacon, however, may nearly always be picked up in your fingers. Just use your common sense. And as a double-check watch your hostess—if you can.

Don't Comment On Food

Wait until your hostess starts eating before you do. As the various dishes are passed—unless there are so many you can't sample them all you should take a bit of each. You don't have to eat everything on your plate. If you don't like what you have just sampled it and let it alone—without any comment.

In deciding what silver to pick up next—remember the old rule about beginning outside and working in toward the plate.

Sharp-bladed knives are meant for cutting—so don't spread cheese with them. And when you put your knife back on your plate turn the sharp edge inward. If you're finished and your plate is about to be removed put your knife and fork together—far enough from the edge of your plate so they can't slide off.

And (faux pas of all faux pas) never leave your spoon in your coffee cup.

All-Church Hour
Starts Saturday
On Station KPND

Churches of the city will join in presenting a weekly all-church radio program from station KPND on Saturday at 6:30 p. m., beginning this week. Plans were approved by the Ministerial Alliance in a meeting yesterday.

During the half-hour, announcements of Sunday services and programs of the coming week will be made from various churches. Between the announcements, sacred music will be heard, principally favorite hymns sung by soloists or ensembles from church choirs. Hymns requested by listeners will be included.

The program will be directed by Lester Aldrich, who will have the assistance of various church members. The public is invited to listen to the first program Saturday evening, and to the succeeding weekly broadcasts.

Sports Roundup

By SCOTTY RESTON
(Pinch-hitting for Eddie Brietz)

NEW YORK, Feb. 2 (AP)—Joe Gould, being about as subtle as a punch in the nose, is shaking his fist across town at Mr. James Joy Johnston.

Other things that J. J. J. has ruined boxing in New York, an amusing and somewhat impossible accomplishment.

He bases this on Johnston's alleged instructions that Joe Pastor go in and run away from Joe Louis.

He also says Johnston is going around saying heavy-weight champion Jimmy Braddock is too old to fight.

Paradox of this situation is that Johnston works for Madison Square Garden, which is staging the tottering Schmeling-Braddock fight in June.

Gould's point in the argument is clear enough. He wants to get Braddock out of the Schmeling fight and into the proposed Joe Louis bout in Chicago.

He may do it, but he'll have to out-wit James Joy Johnston, and out-wit John Reed Kilpatrick's "600 millionaires," and gentlemen, that is a winter's task, even for the voluble and ungrammatical Mr. Gould.

There is an undercurrent of resentment by a Nebraska minority against Dana X. Bible for quitting out there but our dose is Bible landed "Biff" Jones as his successor.

Street scene: Sam Langford, whom many still consider the greatest fighter of the ring, tapping blindly through Harlem selling pictures of Joe Louis.

The boxing writers' dinner in memory of the late Joe Humphreys last created a problem. Receipts from the dinner were to put a stone above the beloved announcer's grave.

After the money was collected, they discovered his body lay in a Moravian grave, where only the smallest of head stones may be placed.

Soon now he will be spaced up and carried off to another plot in a weird posthumous ceremony.

KEPT HOME FIRES BURNING.
SAN ANGELO—Fuel was scarce in the H. M. Barnes home during a cold spell. So Barnes chopped up the porch of his house into stove wood.

Pastor Running Away From Louis

Here's a sample of the terphichorean pugilism performed before a huge crowd which saw Detroit's Joe Louis forced to content himself with a victory-by-decision instead of an expected knockout in his 10-round bout with young Bob Pastor of New York in Madison Square Garden. This picture was snapped in the final round as Pastor (right) danced away from Louis' menacing gloves.

Harvester Exes Will Play Phillips Oilers Tonight

Former Harvesters tonight will tread the hardwood at the local high school gymnasium when the Pampa Independents meet the Phillips Oilers from the South Pampa field in a charity game, beginning at 8 o'clock, with admission 10 cents for students and 25 cents and over for adults. All proceeds will go to the flood relief fund.

Of the 10 players on the Independent's roster, eight formerly played with the Pampa Harvesters—Orville Helskell, Patton, Pinnell, Wayne Kelley, Jack Bailey, Bob Bailey, Elmer Irving and Junior Strickland. Seon and Morrison round out the squad.

A Pampa high school "professor," Frank Monroe, will be wearing the Phillips colors. Francis Smith, LeFors high school "prof," will also be a Phillips man. The Window brothers, Tip and Slim, who used to deal the Harvesters misery when with McLean and Spearman high school teams, will be on the firing line for the visitors along with Jack Bacus, brother of the well known Whitey Bacus, Christian, the Dewey brothers, brothers of James Dewey of the Harvesters, and Laycock and Gibson.

Phillips is undefeated this season. The nearest they came to tasting defeat was in a game with the Pampa Independents.

DROWNING OF 6 LEVEE WORKERS IS PROBED

NEW MADRID, Mo., Feb. 2 (AP)—An official investigation of the floodway barge sinking that cost the lives of at least six levee workers Saturday night was ordered by army engineers today while searchers dragged the catch-basin for more bodies.

Twenty-eight men were unaccounted for.

More than 100 men plunged into the icy water at the end of a day's work at heightening the set-back levee that protects thousands of southeast Missouri acres from water in the purposefully-flooded Birds Point-New Madrid floodway.

Col. E. C. Kelton, of the U. S. Army engineers' office here, said that although six bodies had been found, only five were recovered.

The barge sank about 40 feet from shore, Wiley I. Mitchell, 36, one who escaped said it struck an obstruction, tossed fore, then aft, then sideways and sank.

"I don't know how many were on there but there were plenty," Mitchell said.

"I went under and when I came up I grabbed a pole about four or five inches thick that was floating around. I was lucky because you couldn't see anything."

MEYER RECEIVES FEELER
FORT WORTH, Feb. 2 (AP)—The Star-Telegram said today Coach Leo (Dutch) Meyer of T. C. U. has received a "feeler" from the University of Iowa. The contact, made two or three days ago, was entirely unofficial, the paper reported. It was believed a prominent alumnus of the school talked at length with the coach and asked if he would be interested, a strong recommendation he be considered as wired Iowa officials, the Star-Telegram said.

Drive Slowly In City Traffic

It hardly seems necessary to warn of the danger of too much speed in city driving, yet the traffic court records—and also the coroner's records—testify most eloquently to the fact that a great many drivers do hurry along much too fast in the urban districts. Control that impulse. Obey the speed laws. Much better to waste a minute and save a life than to save a minute and lose a life.

FLASHES OF LIFE

(By The Associated Press.)

CASE OF CONFUSION.
COLUMBIA, S. C.—Attorney T. P. Taylor was called to recorder's court to defend a negro.

Arriving just as a prisoner charged with drunkenness went on trail, Taylor pitched into action. The charge was dismissed.

When the next case was called the attorney heard the name and realized he had defended the wrong man. His real client was found guilty.

BRADDOCK MAY BATTLE LOUIS IN CHI RING

GARDEN WILL FIGHT FOR SCHMELING BOUT

CHICAGO, Feb. 2 (AP)—Chicago had the welcome sign and cash out today for a world's heavyweight championship bout between James J. Braddock, the titleholder, and challenger Joe Louis.

A $500,000 offer made by Sheldon Clark, wealthy Chicago sportsman, to Braddock and accepted by the champion's manager, Joe Gould, called for the 15-round match June 15 at spacious Soldier Field. The proposition had the enthusiastic backing of the state athletic commission, Gov. Henry Horner and Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago.

But things were not so peaceful along the New York heavyweight fight sector.

Madison Square Garden, holding a contract for a title bout between Braddock and Max Schmeling of Germany for June 3, apparently will battle to the last ditch.

And while Gould was accusing Jimmy Johnston, Garden boxing director, of "fleeing" fight fans by approving Bob Pastor's strategy in the latter's bout with Louis last Friday, Johnston was terming the Chicago proposition "the beat of a manager trying to get some publicity and restore Louis' lost prestige."

"There's nothing definitely settled," said Mike Jacobs, who holds exclusive rights to Louis' services, as he headed back to New York after conferring with Clark.

Joseph A. Triner, chairman of the Illinois athletic commission, said Otto Kerner, Illinois attorney general, has ruled a Louis-Braddock bout here would be strictly in accordance with state laws.

Triner said Gould, along with Julian Black and John Roxborough, co-managers of Louis, would appear here within two weeks to sign articles.

BUDGE AND GRANT IN MARCH TOWARD FINALS

SURFSIDE, Fla., Feb. 2 (AP)—Don Budge had to play twice today baring upset, to catch up with his diminutive southern rival, Bryan Grant, in the brackets of the Surf Club invitational tennis tournament.

All seeded players except Budge, top ranked of nation and tournament, and number 2, Harris of Palm Beach, seeded third, skipped first round play with byes.

The Oakland, Calif., flame top defeated Dr. Philip B. Hawk of New York 6-1, 6-2, in the preliminary round and faced young Bill Hardie of Miami Beach in today's first match.

If it goes well, Budge will tackle Vernon Marcum of Lakeland, Fla., later in the afternoon.

Twice before this winter, in the Miami Biltmore and at Tampa, Budge and Grant have met in the final, and each time Atlanta's pint-sized racketeer has won.

Both men seem to be stroking the ball well and another meeting is deemed virtually certain.

5,000 CLUBS TO PLAY IN SANDLOT TOURNEYS

NEW YORK, Feb. 2 (AP)—More than 5,000 clubs will be represented in the nationwide sandlot baseball championship tournaments next July with five great major league stars of the past assisting in the arrangements, President Raymond Dumont of the National Semi-Pro Baseball Congress, disclosed today.

J. Honus Wagner, Walter Johnson and Tris Speaker, who have won places in baseball's permanent hall of fame at Cooperstown, N. Y., will aid in the 48 state tournaments. George Sisler and Lew Fonseca, professional director of the American league, also will assist in the big sandlot baseball show.

Wagner, high commissioner of the congress, has called a meeting of all commissioners at Chicago next Sunday.

In each state tournament, Dumont said, all teams will receive a mileage allowance regardless of how they finish. Leading teams also will share in the prize money.

SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 2 (AP)—The San Antonio board of education sought a solution today of a strike by junior college students which had reduced registration from 300 to 18.

Students protesting a hike in tuition rates from $12 to $15 a course, or about $30 a year for an average schedule, picketed the school with banners reading "don't register" and "down with tuition hike."

The Parent-Teacher association protested the increase at a mass meeting last night.

Members of the board suggested students be permitted to sign one-year personal notes for the added tuition. The students made no comment.

Blood-Poisoning Will Keep Ayer From Playing Tonight

Biff Back As Husker

FORCED BY ARMY RULING TO ABROGATE OKLAHOMA CONTRACT
MAJ. BIFF JONES
SUCCEEDS DANA X. BIBLE AS NEBRASKA'S HEAD FOOTBALL COACH AND ATHLETIC DIRECTOR

Blood poisoning, which started from a small injured place on the hand, will keep Albert Ayer, Harvester basketball center, out of the game at Whittensburg tonight.

Yesterday afternoon, Ayer complained that a kernel under his arm was giving him pain. He went to a doctor who immediately diagnosed it as blood poisoning. Treatment was begun immediately and continued throughout the night.

This morning, most of the dangerous red streaks running up his arm had disappeared.

The veteran center continued to attend school, and may go with the team tonight to Berger. Belief that the regular starter will have recovered from the infection in a week was expressed by the physician. It is not likely that he will be able to play Thursday night against Tulsa, or against Lubbock Friday or Plainview Saturday on the Harvesters' annual road trip.

He is under doctor's orders and will not play until he has his permission. If the poisoning is successfully combated, Ayer should be able to play in the district tournament.

The Harvesters have already won one game from Whittensburg, and should win tonight, despite Ayer's absence. Coach Odus Mitchell may send Claude Helskell to center.

Claude can outjump any man on the team except Ayer and McDaniel. Kilgore will fill a guard position. However, Coach Mitchell may call upon McDaniel, recently recruited from the Guerrillas to control the tip-off. If McDaniel plays, the lineup would include Dewey and Cox, forwards; McDaniel, center; Helskell and Reynolds, guards.

FOOD SOURD! STOMACH WAS FULL OF GAS!

Texas Lady Victim of Awful Indigestion; Weak Kidneys Caused Night Rising; Ankles, Feet Swelled Up; But Now Van-Tage Has Relieved Her!

Some of the Leading Druggists of Pampa, and throughout this section now frankly say that have never seen anything like the way Widely-Known Local Residents continue to come forward day after day and publicly endorse the "Amazing New Medicine" known as VAN-TAGE, which is now being introduced to the public daily at Cretney Drug Store. These are all truthful, sincere testimonials, given by men and women who wish to help others who are suffering as they used to. For instance, just recently, Mrs. M. L. Moses, of 2924 1/2 South Blvd., Dallas, Tex., endorsed Van-Tage. This Prominent Lady says:

"My stomach was all upset and my food would turn sour inside of me and I would fill with gas. I also had weak, sluggish kidneys and had to keep rising with them at night; and I had sharp pains in my back over my kidneys. My feet and ankles swelled up from the contamination in my system and the pains I had in my feet and ankles were just terrible. Nothing helped me. So I was badly discouraged. Then, recently, I found Van-Tage. And it began to drive the poison from my body and every day I felt better. Now my gassy, sour stomach is relieved. I can go to bed and sleep. My pains are relieved and I just feel like a new woman. I can't say enough for Van-Tage."

WHO KNOWS

Who can reckon the power of prayer? Many days ago, millions of the Catholic faith the world over, prayed individually and concertedly for the speedy recovery of Pope Pius XI.

Prayer, of course, may be abused the same as any other spiritual inclination. We mean this in the sense that, sad as it may seem, there are persons who would pray for a new automobile and expect to get it!

So long as prayer is kept in its spiritual sphere, it can always be useful to humanity. It is a source of great comfort and power, and this cannot be contradicted successfully.

Some time ago, we ran across an article which would have us believe that human minds were constantly emanating vibrations, and messages, like a radio transmitter. And also, that other human minds were so synchronized as to be capable of tuning in on those mental transmissions.

Whether the receptive human mind was soothed or disturbed, we were told, depended entirely upon the true manner that the sender would affect the receiver if the two were to meet face to face.

Now, many of us are aware of the fact that we often believe in, or say we do, "first impressions." Either this, or that there was some sort of electrical spark that passed between us and the person we happened to meet. This has been called, at one time or another, "love at first sight," and has been known to have been the inspiration for the exclamation: "I hate that man!"

Whatever it is, we cannot get away from the fact that such things exist. Therefore, since this is purely mental reaction and reception, and, admitting for the moment, that prayer is a mental power to be reckoned with, who can say that concentrated mental effort of a spiritual nature has not brought Pope Pius XI from the shadow of death?

MATTER OF JUDGEMENT

The other day we read an interesting tale of a search of ancient records for "Centre Lane," which was believed to be a street of colonial Dover, Del., and the key to cryptic directions for finding gold worth $250,000.

In short, it was the typical "treasure hunting" story, to which Americans are so susceptible. We agree that perhaps scores of persons will have a lot of fun and adventure looking for lost gold. The gold may be there, but we doubt it.

The unfortunate truth is that in most cases of treasure hunting for gold, the case simply is that of the "grass looking greener on the other side of the fence."

If we but only knew, and fully realized, the greatest treasure lies within us—in our hearts, in our minds, and in our souls. But how often we look afar for buried gold! We can use gold; we can misuse gold! We can lose it or keep it; and we cannot take it with us when we are gone! But we can take with us (through the memory behind us of the deeds we performed) the things we develop within ourselves. And everyone knows we can use those things while we are here.

So, why search for buried gold? Why a "goose chase" that wastes time and breeds shiftlessness? Why not introspection, with the thought of developing the treasure that is our mind, our body, and our soul?

"BATTLE" SHIPS

What are battleships for if not for warfare, of protection against other warring nations, as the name implies? We are only wondering why the United States is building two ships, valued at the staggering figure of $50,000,000 each, yet with speed of three or four knots per hour less than those of several other nations.

Secretary of the Navy Claude A. Swanson says the money is being staked on the power of superior guns and heavier armament, rather than upon speed. Such statement doesn't enthuse. What is a "battle" ship for if not to protect us? We don't believe in warfare. We don't think nations should organize to harm other nations. We think warfare is what Sherman said it was.

If we be attacked by another nation, how can our Navy chase that other nation's ships successfully if they can do 30 knots per hour and we can do 26 or 27? We don't want to chase ships but who can say we won't be forced to do so sometime? In case of war are our ships to be capable only of defensive tactics, leaving other nations to out-manuever us through superior speed?

THRIFT IS NOT OLD-FASHIONED

We recently came in contact with a part of the life story of George A. Tomlinson, who, on the death of O. P. Van Sweringen, emerged as a co-owner of the Midamerica Corporation, top holding company of the Van Sweringen empire.

Tomlinson was, in spectacular succession, a cowboy, a newspaper editor, operator of the largest freighter fleet on the Great Lakes. Now he is one of the key men in the vast Van Sweringen system of rails and real estate.

He is the man whose almost legendary career drew from James Oliver Curwood the comment: "He has developed from the typical adventurer of fortune into one of the great men of the lakes."

We are leading up to this point, a part of the story of Tomlinson's life: "... He married, and on $2,500 HE HAD SAVED, went to Duluth as a vessel agent, and a short time later built his first ship, the start of the large Tomlinson fleet."

The life of Tomlinson is certainly not without thousands of parallels among our rich and successful men in America today. Most of the "old-timers" were rich with the wisdom of thrift. Perhaps "pioneering," in the strict sense of the word, does not offer the same opportunities today that it did in days gone by, but thrift does. It pays to save toward the time when the opportunity comes along to get a start toward the bigger things.

We gather from that farmyard party in New York that the people liked the animals, but the animals didn't care for the people.

Washington Letter

By RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON — Anyone who knows the New Deal inside out realizes that one of its most praiseworthy aims has been to keep the United States on the middle road of democracy, and away from the forks which lead to Fascism and Communism.

Stalin, Hitler, Mussolini, and their satellites are still saying it can't be done. Events in Europe, however, have intensified the determination of Roosevelt and his most thoughtful associates.

The administration continues to be attacked from both the right and the left, and it has been called both "Communist" and "Fascist" by persons who usually knew better, but it will bend itself more forcefully, as arising circumstances require, to maintain a liberal democracy.

All of which is more than a few pious remarks. At least a couple of cabinet members are understood to lie awake nights occasionally, worrying about the menace of Fascism. Some of the most "radical" brain-trusters have been almost fatalistically dependent in the belief that Fascism is on the way.

There are many in the government who favor one extreme system or the other, and many more who believe a choice between the philosophy of Moscow and that of Berlin cannot for many years be escaped.

And there are still many others who insist that no effort should be spared to avoid the choice. In fact, the issue has become a lugubrious but persistent topic of conversation, and the election hasn't caused it to subside.

Roosevelt will continue to preach democracy. His pointed remarks in the direction of Nazis and Facisti have been more than rhetoric, and he expressed what to him is fundamental philosophy when he spoke of "those whose instinctive faith in humanity made them want to believe that, in the long run, democracy would prove superior to more extreme forms of government as a process of getting action when action was wisdom, without the spiritual sacrifices which those other forms of government exact."

The many persons in the New Deal who have been sympathetic—or at least open-minded—toward the Communist experiment in Russia have been for the most part dazed by the second batch of trials of Trotskyists, with the amazing confessions from "old bolsheviks" now doomed to death.

The net effect is to convince many liberals, who heretofore have been willing to defend Russia, that something is rotten in the U. S. S. R. and that, consequently, it all the more behooves them to battle for preservation of our own type of government subject to reforms.

There is more worry in high places about Fascism than about Communism because it's generally believed that Communism is making no headway in this country, because it's suspected that some powerful interests in America lean toward Fascism as an ideal, because Fascism is on the aggressive throughout most of the world, because nearly everyone has taken the Nazi-Fascist invasion of Spain with equanimity, and because of other factors.

It may be, of course, that the various estimable officials who worry are merely "seeing things under the bed."

Even so, it seems worth reporting that there is this great deal of genuine concern in Washington over the American citizen's right to think, talk, write, and move around as he darn well pleases.

Yesteryear In Pampa

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

The one-year residence rule, adopted by the Texas Interscholastic League, was being hotly discussed by high schools sports fans here, most of whom disapproved.

A survey of high school students showed that slightly less than half of them attended Sunday school, Supt. R. B. Fisher reported.

ONE YEAR AGO TODAY

Groundhog day was generally clear here, with a temperature high enough to melt snow left from the previous week.

Daily potential production in the Panhandle oil field reached an all-time peak: 603,381 barrels daily from 2,675 wells.

MARVELOUS!

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—"Quiet is requested for the benefit of those who have retired," growled intoned Russell Crouse on his last day as boss press representative for the Theater Guild.

He stared bemused at the untideliest desk on Broadway, swung around in his swivel chair, began slowly to cram some papers in his pockets.

"I'm going to sleep for two weeks," he mumbled, meaning it. "I'm going to sleep for two whole, solid, complete weeks."

He was leaving the Guild to have more time for his own writings, those satiric commentaries on American life expressed in terms of music and dialog, such as, well, "Red, Hot and Blue." He was saying goodbye to Theresa Helburn, and the most successful subscription theatrical group in the world. He was getting out of 52nd street.

What then, Mr. Crouse?

His eyes drifted across those faded placards of old Guild successes which stagger across all Guild walls, framed testimonials they are of bygone greatness in the theater—"Caprice," "The Apple Cart," "Strange Interlude"—one could name a dozen others.

"Well," he said, reaching for galley proofs of the new program describing Katharine Hepburn in "Jane Ayers," "well, I may go to Quebec, I like Quebec, but I like it warm, so I may go to Florida. Maybe I'll go to Hollywood, if the deal I want goes through. I had a couple of offers to go after 'Red, Hot and Blue' got going, but I couldn't accept. I don't know. The only thing definite is that Howard Lindsay and I shall have two shows ready by fall."

Lindsay is Crouse's collaborator, and together they have contributed many successful moments to the general hilarity of Broadway. They meet twice each week, these two, usually at Lindsay's house, to talk shop and plan their plays.

"But we won't get down to actual dialogue until April," says Crouse. "Now, we just weigh ideas."

"Drama with music or revues?" "Musical comedies. I guess you'd call them book shows. I don't go in for revues much."

Wherefore and with such a prodigious yawn that it hurt even me, this pride of Findlay, O. went on to say.

"One will be completely American. The other will have something to do with a part of Europe that never has been touched in musical comedy."

"However, at the moment that isn't important. Sleep is. Did I remember to tell you that I'm going home now to sleep for a couple of weeks?"

HOW'S your HEALTH

Edited by DR. IAGO GALDSTON

GASTRIC ULCER

Why doesn't the stomach digest itself? John Hunter, the famous anatomist, asked this question more than 150 years ago. A variety of answers have been offered.

Some have maintained that the cells of the lining mucosa of the gastro-intestinal tract, notably of the stomach, possess an undefined "vital" principle which protects them against the effects of the digestive enzymes. Others have argued that the gastric mucus serves to protect the lining cells. Still others have held that the alkaline blood in the minute blood vessels of the mucosa protects the gastric lining against the acid secreted.

Recent experiments seem to offer a simpler answer. It has been shown that gastric juice is not sufficiently concentrated to injure the living cells of the stomach membranes. Experiments have further shown that when the acidity of the gastric juice rises above normal levels, damage may be done to the mucosa of the lower portion of the esophagus, the stomach, and the first part of the duodenum.

These facts have been established by a series of ingenious animal experiments. Artificial stomach pouches were created, in which only gastric juice could be secreted, and into which no foods could gain entrance. Again, artificial connections were made between the stomach and the small intestine, shunting across the duodenum. The duodenum is that portion of gut into which are normally poured the alkaline, and hence acid neutralizing, secretions of the liver and the sweetbread or pancreas.

The normal acid secretions of the stomach are substantially diluted when they are mixed with food. When the acid gastric juice and the foods eaten pass from the stomach into the small intestine they are further neutralized by the addition of the secretions of the liver and the pancreas. When thus kept within the limits of normal acidity (expressed as 0.1 to 0.15 per cent) the mucosa of the gastro-intestinal tract is not injured by the gastric juices. But when the acidity of the gastric contents rises above this percentage, there is danger of mucosa in-

LOVE OF POETRY

By Brooke Peters Church

In the life of nearly every child there is a period when he craves poetry. As a rule the taste is more marked in girls than in boys, but this may be because it is generally taken for granted that poetry is essentially a feminine taste. But the greatest poets almost without exception have been men, and usually not soft or effeminate men.

Love of poetry is natural at some period of every child's development, and should be accepted and satisfied like any other natural phase of growth. Every home should contain a few volumes of the world's best poems—perhaps a complete Shakespeare and a couple of large anthologies of poems both ancient and modern. Of course Milton, Tennyson, Keats, Shelly, Browning and Wordsworth would be valuable, and they can all be had in cheap and compact form.

Just to have the books lying about, however, may not be enough. Reading poetry aloud to children is important if they are to develop a feeling for rhythm and beauty of language. For the rhythm and rhyme are what appeal to them first, and these are best sensed through the ear. Poetry was meant to be recited and heard, not seen.

Narrative poems generally make the strongest appeal to the little child. The story holds his attention, and the beat and repetition of sound add to the motion and interest of the tale. Many children never go beyond the narrative stage. Others

It calls for federal confiscation of illegal petroleum traded across a state line and authorizes the President to lift the prohibition of interstate movement of contraband petroleum whenever he finds that the amount of petroleum products moving in interstate commerce is so limited as to be the cause of a lack of parity between supply and consumptive demand resulting in an undue burden on or restriction of interstate commerce in petroleum and its products.

Q. What are chiggers? H. N. A. Chiggers, or red bugs, are the larval stage of large red mites which are harmless when mature. They cause great discomfort to human beings. A light application of kerosene or a dusting of the body with sulphur before going into infested places is good protection against bites.

Feb. 22 Has Been Set For Deadline

Senior pictures for the annual were mailed to the engravers yesterday. Those seniors who did not take advantage of the offer made them last November for having their pictures taken will not be included in the book, the senior section having been closed, says Mrs. Hol Wagner, faculty advisor to the yearbook staff.

Feb. 22 has been set as the final date for sale of annuals. Students who do not make their deposits before that date will be unable to secure yearbooks.

A prize has been offered by the student council to the home room which buys the largest number of annuals. This will be determined on a percentage basis.

Group pictures of the juniors and sophomores and various organizations and extracurricular activities will be made during the week immediately following the dedication of the new auditorium, some of the new stage settings being used for backgrounds.

Plans for the yearbook are gradually taking shape, under the direction of Mrs. Wagner; Bob Curry, business manager; Fred Vanderburg, editor-in-chief; Betty Jo Townsend, sales manager; Dan Buzzard, assistant sales manager; Bob Kilgore, senior editor; Jim Brown, junior editor; and Jimmie Moseley, sophomore editor.

Senior pictures were made by Wirsching studio. Group photography will be by W. F. Fletcher. Photo-engraving is being done by A. Zeese Engraving company of Dallas. Printing will be done by the commercial printing department of the Pampa Daily News. No definite decision has been reached yet with regard to the bindings. The staff has promised a greatly improved book this year.

Meeting Discusses Labor Amendment

Situations of importance to all parents were discussed at the meeting of the city council of Parent and Teachers, composed of representatives of the local P.-T. A.'s. Minutes were read by Mrs. F. W. Shewell, secretary.

During the discussion period the president, Mrs. J. M. Turner, was in charge. Supt. R. B. Fisher was unable to be present but sent a letter from Eugene Worley, the representative from this district, concerning the child labor amendment. It was decided the council would support the amendment, though the problem is not a pressing one at the moment in Texas, it will protect Texas children. Sending singers to the district Parent-Teacher meet in Perryton was considered and the council decided to sponsor it. The crowded condition in Pampa school system due to increasing growth of the city was mentioned. A motion was carried for the president to appoint a committee to suggest to the school board that an official survey be made of the situation in Pampa.

LEDRIK ELECTED PRESIDENT, VANDERBURG VICE PRESIDENT FOR NEW STUDENT'S COUNCIL

Home Room Officials Are Elected And Given Oath

The student body last Wednesday morning elected as their president and vice-president of the new student council Mickey Ledrick and Fred Vanderburg respectively. Each home room elected a member to represent them in the council. Those elected were: Freda Bellows, Betty Blythe, Albert Kemp, Roy Lee Jones, Jeanne Eiden, Howard Snow, J. Lee Jarvis, Jack Johnson, Arvo Goddard, Ruth Clay, Teresa Campbell, Ruby Mullinax, Claude Heiskell, Jimmy Mosley, Jean Dodson, Dan Buzzard, Oowala Lawson, Carrie Ann Elkins, Betty Elkins, Noble Lane, Claudine Sivils, Betty Snyneck, Bill Stiles and Mildred Snow. Before the election took place each home room teacher read the following: "We can do a great deal to make our Council a success, if during the next few days we impress on the home room students that there must be no jealousy or envy toward the Council members. Impress on the students the fact that their representatives are of their own choice and will represent their likes and dislikes as far as is reasonable. Try to build up the attitude that the council is no playing, but is an important and responsible organization in which they all have a part. See that the home representative reports regularly to his room and asks for suggestions as to the work of the Council. He or she would profit by your advice and guidance."

The members of the Council were given the oath of office by Supt. R. B. Fisher during the Assembly hour Thursday morning.

Harvester Staff To Press Meeting

Members of the Little Harvester staff and vice-president Hampton Stennis, accompanied by members of the journalism classes, will go to Amarillo Feb. 5-6 to attend the Panhandle High School Press conference. Mrs. Ruth Midyette, instructor in journalism, will lead a round table discussion on News Writing.

In 1935 the conference met in Pampa, in 1936 in Panhandle and this year in Amarillo. Some members of the conference are: Wheeler, Borge, White Deer, Panhandle, Perry, Lubbock, Dumas, Plainview, Stinnett, Dalhart, Amarillo Canyon, Spearman, Claude and Tulsa.

Officers of the conference are Mary Collins of Canyon, president, Hampton Stennis of Pampa, vice-president, and Herbert Foster, Amarillo, secretary.

Speakers on the program will be John McCarty, associate publisher of Amarillo News-Globe, Clyde Warwick, editor of Canyon Daily News, and Wes Lizard, production manager of radio station KGNC.

The purpose of the P. H. S. P. A. as stated by the Sandstons is "to promote friendship and cooperation among high-school editors and to elevate high school journalism in the Panhandle of Texas."

Midyette To Speak To Writer's Club

Mrs. Ruth Midyette, journalism and English instructor, will be guest speaker at the meeting of the Creative Writers Club Thursday evening at 7:30 at the home of the sponsor, Mrs. Hol Wagner, 221 N. Gillespie street.

Mrs. Midyette's observations as a journalist should prove interesting to prospective writers. The Creative Writers club is primarily for boys and girls who are interested in writing for pleasure such literary types as stories, poems, plays, informal essays, etc., through students whose chief interests are journalistic are also welcome. The "W" club is intended primarily for those interested in newspaper writing.

LEADERSHIP TAUGHT IN GIRLS GYM CLASSES

Miss Kathleen Milam, physical education teacher, is using a unit system this semester. Her object is to teach the girls leadership. Every girl in the class is supposed to pick out and direct two games on the day on which they are assigned. They are graded on material, personality in teaching, and general presentation of the games. The girls keep records of these games. So when a suggestion is needed for a game the girls will be prepared. The game can be used for mixed groups. Miss Milam says that her classes have almost doubled since she came to Pampa, and not because it is a state requirement.

15 BOYS OUT FOR TRACK.

About 15 boys interested in track went out last week. The boys showed plenty of enthusiasm says Coach Prejean. The only letter man left over from last year is Albert Ayers. The boys were out in their shorts and the weather was not much above freezing. That should show that they are interested.

Our Faculty:

In Mason county, West Virginia, where the Ohio river makes a horseshoe bend and log rolling used to be a great sport, it was a grand experience for a boy to get to come to town about every six months. You would not have recognized the superintendent of the Pampa schools, R. B. Fisher as a lad, as he stumbles over the curb while staring at the wonders of the city offered.

Since that time Mr. Fisher has been granted two degrees, one, a Bachelor of Arts from Northwestern State Teachers College at Alva, Oklahoma, and one, a Master of Arts from Columbia University, New York City. All of Mr. Fisher's college education was obtained during the summer because he has taught school every year since graduating from high school. His first experience in teaching was in a little country high school. From there he went to take the position of principal of a three-teacher school. Then as superintendent of a five-teacher school he built the system until it accommodated ten instructors. Mr. Fisher came here from Cherokee, Okla., where he was the principal of county seat high school. Since coming here he has been principal of high school two years, and superintendent of the Pampa school system for eight years. He has taught five summers at North, Okla., and one at St. Louis, Mo. He plans to teach there again next summer.

Mr. Fisher's travels include a trip to Europe which he took two summers ago. Only a select group of educators were selected to go on this tour through England, Scotland, Russia, Poland, Germany, and France to gain credit towards their doctor's degree.

Mr. Fisher has attended two national educational conventions, one at Cleveland and one at St. Louis. He expects to attend one in New Orleans during the last of February. Although our superintendent has received an excellent education he has had to work for it ever since he entered high school. He has held positions in the railroad depot, worked on farms doing all kinds of jobs from milking the cow to handling threshing machines, chopping ice from the river and delivering it, and laboring in a grocery store.

The civic, educational associations, and scholastic fraternities to which Mr. Fisher belongs include the Lions, Masonic order, chamber of commerce, Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Beta Sigma, National Educational Association, and numerous other educational organizations.

Music plays an important part in his life. For his hobby is singing, and he has directed the choir of the Methodist church for the last eight years. Mrs. Fisher shares the interest of her husband, in the educational world, having been a teacher at the time of their marriage.

A large portion of Mr. Fisher's interest centers in his son, Brent.

Former Graduates Visit Alma Mater

Janice Purviance and Billie Goodner, her roommate, visited in P. H. S. last Thursday afternoon. Janice is attending S. M. U. at Dallas. They were visiting between semesters. They have just finished their semester exams.

Mary Price, Ann Sweetman, Nellie Meers, Mattie Lee Clay, Tom Sweetman, Roy Webb, Elzey and Everett Vanderburg, Bill Bratton, and Bob Suratt were also home between semesters. They are all attending Texas Tech at Lubbock.

Others who were at home are Lawrence McBee and Jim Arndt from W. T. S. T. C., Flora Dean and Warren Finley from O. U., and Paul Schneider from T. U.

Debate Teams Win Matches In Lubbock

The debate team under the direction of Doyle F. Osborne went to Lubbock Friday and remained until Saturday. Beryl and Margaret Tignor won the debates for the girls while the boys, Don Taylor and Dan Buzzard, lost one match out of four. The girls debated against Lubbock only. The boys had two debates with Lubbock and two with Big Springs.

MOOCHING

Go to class prepared for anything the instructor wishes for you to do. Don't borrow paper, pen, and ink every day, it gets very tiresome.

Some teachers have made it a rule in their classes not to let a student remain in his class unless he is prepared with pen, ink, paper, and pencil.

Why not try to "round up" your materials before going to class? It will save a lot of trouble, and people will like you better.

Some students in Pampa High school have a terrible habit of "bumming" everything they use in school. Don't you get that habit!

Get your own materials.

LET'S BECOME SAFETY CONSCIOUS

One of the largest problems that Pampa High school has to contend with is one of Safety. The student body as a whole should take it upon themselves to observe and cooperate with the faculty and local officers in enforcing the safety rules.

The lack of campus room in front of the school has caused the students of P. H. S. to go into the streets and thereby making themselves targets for reckless drivers. Not speaking for those who insist on going into the street to stand, but for those coming and going from school, their safety is the basic cause for the thought.

A light has been suggested to be put in front of the school and one at the corner of Browning and Frost. These lights would operate before school, at noon, and after school, thereby protecting students from danger of being run down by some careless drivers.

The cars parked in front of the school should be moved. Not in the words of beautification of school ground but in the words of safety. In case of fire students would be forced to run around them and these cars might be the death of some student.

A suggestion that rates consideration is one of making the street running perpendicular to the school, Russell, a one way street and turning all the traffic south. This has been suggested by some of the best authorities on safety in the State.

A walk is to be put in running across and in front of the school and to the opposite side. The students will be expected to use these. The School Authorities are appealing to you, the students of P. H. S., to give your most able support in fulfilling the safety program for P. H. S.

AUDITORIUM TO BE DEDICATED ABOUT FEB. 18

Structure Is Accepted
From Various Builders

When the new $67,000 school auditorium stage and equipment arrives the building will be groomed for its formal presentation to the school body, which will be between Feb. 10 to the date of the completion of the auditorium, to be held on Feb. 18, tentative date for dedication.

School board officials accepted the building from O. L. Boyington, of Pampa, contractor; Rittenburg and Carter of Amarillo, architects; and W. T. Williamson, WPA resident engineer and inspector.

Twelve hundred will be the seating capacity of the auditorium, the largest in the city. It is of brick and stone, a large stage projection room, and a large balcony. A state official has been asked to attend and speak at the dedication, but no reply has been received to date.

DESIGN FOR CLUB PIN CHOSEN BY LADY LITS

Design of the club pin was chosen when the Lady Lits met at the home of Mrs. Hol Wagner last Tuesday evening. Orders may be placed with the sponsor during the next two weeks.

The pin will be gold plated with black and white enamel modernistic designs and lettering. The guard will bear the letter "P" rather than a year. Cost will be approximately 75 cents.

Two new members, Audrey Bray and Geraldine Mitchell, were welcomed. Dorothy Jane Day, as president, and proa mleader, gave a sketch of the day of Grace Noll Crowell, poet laureate of Texas. Each person present then read one of Mrs. Crowell's poems.

Dramatist Eugene O'Neill, recent winner of the Nobel prize for literature and three winner of the Pulitzer prize, will be the author studied at the Feb. 8 meeting. The club will meet every other Monday evening during the remainder of the school year.

Following the program, refreshments of cocoa and cookies were served to the following members: Wilma Willis, Dorothy Jane Day, Elaine Crout, Alta Marie Terrell, Audrey Bray, Geraldine Mitchell, Annabelle Holloway, and the hostess.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS VICTIMS ARE HELPED

The people of Pampa and Gray county have been showing that they are true Americans by their actions in getting money for the flood relief. Their latest was to work on the infantile paralysis fund. A large group of Boy Scouts and four high school girls volunteered their services to solicit 25 cent signatures to sign a telegram to send to the president. The high school girls who helped were Pauline Gregory, Albert Schulkey, Leona Hurst, and Helen Draper. The group worked under a local committee headed by Ely Fonville.

C. V. SEABURN SPEAKS ABOUT CARELESSNESS

Facts And Statistics Were Quoted To Audience

High school assembly was held in the city hall auditorium Thursday morning.

E. N. Dennard, assistant principal, began the program by calling for announcements.

After Mrs. Hol Wagner had announced the dead line for annual sales, to be February 20, R. B. Fisher, superintendent of schools, made a short talk in which he set forth certain points necessary for a successful independent school district.

Mr. Fisher then administered the oath of office to the president, Mickey Ledrick, and to the vice-president, Fred Vanderburg, and the other student council members.

Roy McMillen, financial manager of Pampa independent school district, was then introduced. He, in turn, introduced the principal speaker, C. V. Seaburn, of the Santa Fe railroad. Mr. Seaburn quoted facts and statistics, in order to impress upon the audience the tremendous amount of pain, permanent injury, and death incurred by carelessness or indifference in obeying traffic rules.

Home Room Time To Be Used With Greater Caution

One of the things the faculty discussed in the teachers' meeting Wednesday morning in room 205 was the editorial, "Lost," which appeared in last week's Little Harvester. Many favorable comments are made and Supt. R. B. Fisher asked all the teachers to cooperate in making use of the valuable 15 minutes of home room.

The teachers were given the questionnaire on current events, which was also given to the students in their home rooms last Friday.

A check-up was made and home room teachers were given the names of pupils who were skipping some English courses. It was found that some students were entering English classes a semester too soon. They were doing this by either flunking the course and not taking it over, or entirely skipping the course.

The student council was another subject of discussion.

ADDISON GOES TO WHEELER
Miss Bernice Addison, who came to Pampa early in October to teach English and journalism and was forced to resign because of ill health, has now accepted her old position in Wheeler.

Miss Addison came to Pampa from Wheeler. After being ill, Miss Addison was not expected to teach school again this year, but she has recovered sufficiently to go back to Wheeler to take the place of Robert Mayne, who resigned. Mr. Mayne has been teaching in Wheeler for the past two years.

MASSA, FULFILLING SPEAK
J. B. Massa and Archer Fullingim spoke to the fifth hour journalism class regarding the city-wide safety program which is being carried on under the direction of the Kiwanis club. PEP SQUAD AND BAND ARE GIVEN BANQUET FRIDAY

250 Students Are Entertained As Dinner Guests

Merriment and plenty of noise seemed to reign at the annual band and pep squad banquet held in the high school cafeteria Friday evening from 6:30 to 8:30. There were around 250 members of the two organizations present.

Ernest Caba as master of ceremonies, started the evening off with plenty of laughter by telling embarrassing moments of some of the guests present. Mrs. John Hesse, president of the Band Mothers club, read a welcoming Valentine verse with Betty Blythe responding.

Music for the evening was furnished by the Little Orchestra with a loud accompaniment of silver against water-filled glasses. A number of songs were sung by a trio, Jean Gillespie, Inez Hawkins, and Gene Finkbeiner.

An imitation of the high school band was given by a number of the pep squad girls led by Wanda Lee Dunlap. The band retaliated with an imitation of the pep squad, with five members and 15 leaders. From the looks of the gum chewing, hair combing, and waving at friends done by the pep imitators, it would seem the band had been watching that particular group of girls.

A Valentine theme was carried on in the decoration of the tables. The band and pep squad wish to take this means of expressing their appreciation to the High School Parent-Teacher association and the athletic association who made this banquet possible.

NOOKS OF BOOKS

By The Book-Worm

People who live in the modern civilized nations of the world have nothing on the shelves who live in Africa, for these black Romeos call their "dream girls" cute, fancy names also. An example of this is the case of Nyasazi and Shebani, two young "Snake" lovers. Shebani's pet name for his lady-love is "Rabbit-eyes."

In the United States, also, there have been several instances of women, who, in jealous fits, poison their lovers. So, also, are there women of this kind in Wakoloka, the empire of the Snake-People of Tanganyika.

These queer people are even immune to the bite of snakes, because they prepare "kings" and shoot it into their bodies. Even the bites of the most poisonous snakes show no effect upon them. While physicians everywhere are searching for a way to immunize people against the bite of a snake, this secret lies hidden among the most savage, and yet the most civilized of all people, in Africa.

Snake-People have more strict marriage and divorce laws than any state in the United States, yet they are said to be uncivilized.

Their many queer traits could be extolled in no short length of time, to be sure, so this "Book-Worm" invites you to read "The Empire of the Snakes," by Fred G. Carnochan, noted explorer and ethnologist, and learn them all.

In this book are many secrets that surgeons and doctors have been searching to find the answer to for many years, but have failed. Some primitive natives have these secrets hidden and refuse to tell any man other than Mr. Carnochan their origin and contents, yet you will surely enjoy reading of his adventures.

NEGRO LYNCHED

HEADLAND, Ala., Feb. 2 (P)—The body of Wes Johnson, 18-year old negro farm hand, whom officers charged with an attack on a white girl, was found hanging in a woods near Headland today, a few hours after he was seized in jail.

A group of armed men took him from the custody of authorities at Abbeville, Ala., last night.

FORMER HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS ARE DOING GOOD WORK AT TEXAS

Miss Margaret Jones, English instructor, has been investigating the record of graduates of Pampa High School who are attending the University of Texas, Austin. Some of the reports are as follows:

Clifton Evans is now in his first year in the School of Business Administration and will receive the B. A. degree in June, 1938. His record throughout has been consistently good, above the average.

Miss Yedda Stein is a candidate for the B. A. degree this June. Although earning her expenses, she is making a good record. In her Freshman year, she held the Williams L. Frather scholarship, and this year she holds a Charles Irwin Travell Scholarship.

Smith Wise is a sophomore engineer and is doing excellently. Miss Opal Stenson is an exceptionally strong student and a very capable girl. She also is earning her expenses and making an excellent record. She is now in her junior year.

"We are glad to have the graduates of Pampa High School come to the University, especially those making good records. Those who work hard and make good records in high school generally do the same thing in the University," says Registrar E. J. Matthews.

A. E. FRAZIER STARTS NEW LIVESTOCK CLASS

A new class has been added to the high school curriculum. It is a sixth hour class instructed by Mr. A. E. Frazier. This class was designed for training agriculture students in both correct methods of parliamentary procedure and present standards for judging various types of livestock.

The boys composing this class were selected from the five agriculture classes taught last semester. This class is divided into two distinct groups when studying or making field trips. One group is specializing on dairy cattle, the other group is studying general livestock judging.

The officers in the dairy cattle section are: Jiggs McDonald, president, and Dudley West, vice president.

The officers in the livestock section are: Elmer "Red" Watkins, president, and Harold Wisely, vice-president.

CRIME FILE ON BOLITHO BLANE

Chapter VI
Detective Officer Neame's shorthand notes of Detective Officer Kettering's examination of Miss Ferri Rocksavage.

K. Good morning, Miss Rocksavage. Come right in.

F. R. Good morning.

K. Come and sit down. There are just a few questions I want to ask you about this unfortunate business last night.

F. R. Certainly; anything I can do.

K. Would you just tell me, Miss Rocksavage, what you were doing, and where you were, from the time the yacht sailed until you went in to dinner.

F. R. When the ship left Miami I was sitting on the port deck with Mr. Jocelyn.

K. Did you see Mr. Blane come aboard?

F. R. No. We were on the port side of the ship; that is, we were facing out to sea. We sat there until about 7:15, and then we both went below to our cabins. I got interested in a book, so I was a little late in changing and I didn't get up to the lounge until about 8:40. The other guests were all there, except Mr. Bolitho Blane and his secretary, neither of whom I had met, and I was just looking round for my father when the steward came up with a message from him. He said to me, "Mr. Rocksavage says, Miss, would you please take everybody in to dinner."

K. And what happened then?

F. R. I did as my father had asked me to and I didn't know anything about what really happened until father told us all after we had anchored off Miami again just a few minutes before the police came on board.

K. Did you know of any special reason for this trip?

F. R. No.

K. Are you certain of that?

F. R. Well, it's just a pleasure trip, like lots of others we've had on the yacht, but as there were several strangers on board I naturally assumed that some big business deal would be discussed during the time we were at sea. Father often uses these trips to entertain people with whom, as he has seen ashore, comment might be aroused which would affect the markets.

K. I see. Thank you, Miss Rocksavage. That'll be all for the moment.

Detective Officer Neame's shorthand notes of Detective Officer Kettering's examination of the Honorable Reginald Jocelyn.

K. Good morning, Mr. Jocelyn. Now, I'd just like you to tell me anything you can about this unfortunate affair last night.

J. I'm afraid I can't tell you anything.

K. Well, let's hear what you were doing between the time of the ship's sailing and your going in to dinner.

J. When the ship sailed I was sitting on deck with Miss Rocksavage. We stayed there until the ship was out to sea and somewhere about 7:30 we went down to our cabins to change for dinner. I came up to the lounge at 8:30 and Mr. Rocksavage arrived soon after. A steward spoke to him and he went below, then a message came up that Mr. Blane was ill, so we were returning to Miami. After that we went in to dinner.

K. Do you always take an hour to change your clothes?

J. Sometimes an hour, and sometimes two if I feel like it.

K. No need to get fresh now. Were you changing all that time?

J. I don't see what the devil it's got to do with you but, if you must know, I spent a long time lying in my bath.

K. Thanks. Now, this trip. You were in on the object of it, weren't you?

J. I don't understand what you mean.

K. Oh, yes, you do. Bolitho Blane and Carlton Rocksavage were using this as a meeting ground to patch up a truce in the commercial war they've been waging.

J. Oh, that. Yes.

K. That, yes! And how much more did you know about it?

J. Nothing, except that Lady Welter, my mother-in-law, has very large holdings in the Rocksavage companies, and that she always likes me to stand by so that I can advise her where her business interests are concerned.

K. Right. That'll do for the moment, Mr. Jocelyn.

Detective Officer Neame's shorthand notes of Detective Officer Kettering's examination of the Honorable Mrs. Reginald Jocelyn.

K. Good morning, Mrs. Jocelyn. Sit down, won't you?

P. J.: Thank you.

K. Now, just what can you tell me about this unfortunate affair last night?

P. J. Nothing at all, I'm afraid.

K. It would help me to check up on things if you wouldn't mind giving me your movements from the time the ship sailed until you went in to dinner.

P. J. I'm afraid that's not going to help you much and, after all, it's quite clear that Mr. Blane took his own life, isn't it?

K. Sure. Sure, Mrs. Jocelyn. It's all a matter of routine procedure that I have to bother everybody like this. Just where did you happen to be when the yacht left Miami?

P. J. I was in the lounge with Count Posodini.

K. Anyone else there?

P. J. No, not until Mr. Rocksavage arrived.

K. What happened then?

P. J. We had more drinks and talked for a bit, then Mr. Blane's secretary came in and was introduced to us. There was some talk about his sending a message down to Mr. Blane, and just after that I said that I must go down and change for dinner. Count Posodini said that he thought he would, too, so we went below together.

K. What time would that be?

P. J. About ten minutes to eight.

K. And then?

RETAKE, PAMELA JOCELYN . 8.1.37

FERRI ROCKSAVAGE. RETAKE . 8.1.37

R. JOCELYN. RETAKE 8.1.37

the police would be coming on board in a few moments.

K. Good. Now, did you regard this just as a pleasure trip?

P. J. Not altogether. I know that my mother has a big interest in the Rocksavage companies and, as Bolitho Blane was expected to join us at Miami, I thought that there must be something in the wind. Any one would, who knew that Blane and Rocksavage were the two soap kings, but I wasn't particularly interested, because it's not really anything to do with me.

K. Your husband advises your mother, though, where her financial interests are concerned, doesn't he?

P. J. Yes, but we go about with mother quite a lot on social parties, where no business comes under discussion at all.

K. Thank you, Mrs. Jocelyn, that'll do for the present.

3 HELD IN 3-YEAR OLD O'CONNELL KIDNAPING

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 2 (AP)—Information gleaned in part from the chance remark of a 5-year old girl drew the law's net today on the last of 10 men indicted for the kidnaping of John J. O'Connell and ended a three-year, nationwide hunt.

As a result three men—John O'Connell, Percy "Angel-face" Geary and Harold "Red" Crowley—faced arraignment today in a Brooklyn federal court on charges of violating the Lindbergh kidnap law.

They were arrested in surprise raids on Brooklyn apartments yesterday.

Meanwhile Francis Oley, a brother of John, was jailed in Denver when he could not raise the $50,000 bond demanded after he pleaded innocent to a similar charge.

O'Connell, young national guard lieutenant and member of a politically powerful Albany family, was seized in the summer of 1933. Authorities charge he was held 23 days in a Hoboken, N. J., hideout until a $40,000 ransom was paid by his uncles, Daniel and Edward O'Connell, democratic leaders.

Francis Oley was arrested in Denver with his wife recently. District Attorney John A. Carroll of Denver said that while investigators were searching the home, their 5-year old daughter remarked that "Mommy keeps letters upstairs under my pillow." Federal authorities said the letters, signed "John and Aggie," contained information that led to the arrests of Geary, John Oley and Crowley.

Both houses will reconvene tomorrow but it was considered likely an immediate adjournment would be taken for ten days to permit the new government to come to a decision regarding disqualification.

The army attitude was reported to be watchful waiting with support to be given only if the army program is supported.

The diet has been suspended since the fight between the army and the political leaders broke into the open.

FAKE DOCTOR SENTENCED.

GEORGETOWN, Feb. 2 (AP)—Ed-die Conner, alias Dr. J. A. Pierce, was under a 10-year sentence today for theft of $1,500 from an aged couple here. The prosecution charged he swindled aged persons in Texas and other states by performing fake operations on their eyes.

He previously had been sentenced at Quannah to 10 years and at Waco to three years.

Suffering effects of an appendectomy, Paul Nowak, Notre Dame basketball center, scored only 11 points in four games. Shaking off the effects, he rang the bell for 40 markers in his next four appearances.

ADMINISTRATRIX NAMED FOR DOTSON ESTATE

Mrs. Marie Carter of Pampa was named administratrix yesterday afternoon for the estate of Susie Dotson, of Pampa, who was killed last Dec. 22 in an automobile accident near LeFors.

Mrs. Carter was appointed at a probate hearing held in County Judge Sherman White's court.

A compromise administrator was appointed two weeks ago for the estate of Oscar Dotson, who died of injuries received in the same accident.

subsoil moisture will keep wheat alive meantime and that the wind won't blow too hard. Otherwise, without rain, 1937 will bring a repetition of 1934-5 and 36, and wheat fields, some already a bit sickly looking, will be denuded.

Earl Wall of the Hardesty vicinity, had decided he had about all the "vitamin" or dust-laden air, that he needed and was preparing to move to Polo, Mo. January snow left 28 inches of moisture on his 350 acres of wheat so he changed his mind and will see it through.

Texas county's agricultural agent, H. C. Hyer, judges the wheat crop now as nearly normal for the first time at this season since 1933. Plenty of moisture is needed from now on, he declared.

In the "dust bowl" section of Texas, P. D. Hanna, extension district agent, said conditions reflect a material improvement in comparison with the 1936 picture. Approximately one and one-half million acres in the Texas Panhandle have been terraced or contoured during the last year to catch and hold moisture, Hanna said.

Least hopeful of all the "dust bowl" area is southwestern Colorado, where precipitation is badly needed.

unless further word is received from the Red Cross to make additional shipments, it was stated.

It was announced from local Red Cross headquarters that Pampa's total of cash contributions for the flood refugees had reached $2,052.91 today.

"Dig out the heaves, boys, it's tough from here in."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2. (AP)—That highly erratic weather prophet, Professor M. M. Groundhog, staged his annual outdoor dance today to the rasping crescendo of a governmental Bronx cheer.

The bare mention of his name is boring, snorted Joseph B. Kinney, of the weather bureau. "It's putting it mildly to say we're getting sick of that gentleman up here."

Not only did the weather chiefs ignore candelmas—the day of worldwide climatic forecasting, Feb. 2—but their telephone operators threatened to hang up on the next groundhog inquiry.

From the Bureau of Biological Survey came this: "If anyone actually sees a groundhog trying to see his shadow," said Colonel H. P. Sheldon, "our advice is—nab him. He's a pest."

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Feb. 2. (AP)—Stocks lurched forward in today's market, many reaching new high recovery territory with advances of fractions to 4 points. A few were up much more. Gains were widely distributed at the close.

HODGES UNDER INDICTMENT IN HOIST THEFTS

Another indictment was returned by the Gray county grand jury yesterday afternoon against Jim Hodges, of Borger, charged several weeks ago in the alleged theft of oil well hoists in Gray and Hutchinson counties.

Hodges is under bond awaiting trial on four similar charges, two in Borger and two in Pampa, court records show.

The new indictment brought against Hodges here yesterday specifically charges him with receiving and concealing stolen property, the accusation growing out of the alleged theft of a chain hoist from Lon Blansett, of Pampa.

When arraigned before Special Judge B. S. Via shortly before noon today, Hodges' bond on the new count was fixed at $2,500.

Hodges was arrested by Gray county authorities in Borger several weeks ago as he posted bond on two charges filed in Hutchinson county.

He was brought to Pampa and similarly charged. Bond on the first two Gray county charges amounted to $4,000.

Upwards of $5,000 worth of chain hoists stolen from Gray and Hutchinson county oil fields last fall and later recovered from a Dallas junk dealer, are being held in the court house here pending disposition of the cases against Hodges.

With selection of a jury in district court yesterday, trial of the compensation lawsuit of the Traders and General Insurance Co. vs Bill Durbin was continued until Wednesday.

Court attaches stated today the case would be resumed tomorrow morning. The following jurors were selected:

Paul Green, Jim White, F. A. Peek, W. H. Davis, Oscar Johnson, Fred L. Dittmore, C. F. Howlett, C. L. Pettie, Oad Gatlin, S. G. Surratt, M. S. Wise, and H. C. Schumaker.

Frank Murphy said that if an investigation on behalf of the executive showed the "sit-downers" were employed by the Chevrolet department when they began their strike, food-bearers would be permitted to pass the guard patrol.

FLINT, Mich., Feb. 2.—More than 1,200 national guardsmen controlled the "trouble spot" of General Motors strikes today with a ring of bayonets and guns drawn so taut that food-bearers were forbidden to pass the military lines.

Inside the patrol which stretched about an 80-acre area containing the huge Chevrolet Motor company plants, were several hundred members of the United Automobile Workers of America who after a series of disorders, last night started Flint's third sit-down strike, occupying the "key" motor assembly department.

"When the men get hungry they can go out and eat," Col. Joseph H. Lewis, national guard commander, said. "Nobody is keeping them from going out."

Troops patrolling the area were instructed to let no one enter through the lines, thus preventing strikers who leave, from returning.

Across the street from the Chevrolet factory, union strikers who have held Fisher Body company plant No. 2 since Dec. 30, their occupation blocking all efforts to settle the nation-wide strikes, awaited at 1 p. m. (C. S. T.) the decision of a circuit court judge on General Motors' petition for an injunction to evacuate them.

Despite a union organizer's claim that seven separate "sit-downs" were started in Chevrolet departments yesterday in protest against alleged company discrimination in the rehiring of union employees, the motor assembly plant No. 4 was the only strike-held division this morning.

At Detroit, Richard T. Frankenstein, U. A. W. A. organizer, said the Chevrolet gear and axle plant was "occupied" by way of 120 men protesting discharge of a worker.

He said the men told him company guards stretched fire hose and displayed rifles, ordering them from the plant without permitting them to get their hats and coats from a locker room.

Additional concentration of national guardsmen in Flint was ordered today.

Major George Ely, chief of staff, said that would increase the guard's strength here from 2,300 to more than 3,500.

Fisher Body plant No. 1, scene of another month-long "stay-in" strike, is outside the military patrolled area.

James F. Dewey, federal labor conciliator, came to Flint from Washington at the direction of Secretary Frances Perkins.

About 200 union pickets booed Alfred P. Sloan Jr., president of General Motors, as he left his New York office last evening and leaders said the demonstrations outside the building would continue daily during the strikes.
