That's Gold Among Them Bricks!

This, pard, ain't nothin' but Philadelphia's own little gold rush! Yes, sir, it started when house wreckers struck a vein of sure 'nough five and twenty-buck gold coins on the site of an old building dating back to Civil War days. And when the news spread—how they stampeded to stake out claims and comb the pay dirt, as pictured here.

Nature Plants Big Crop of Volunteer Wheat In State

TOPEKA, Sept. 6.—Nature has planted much of the 1928 wheat crop after rains have prevented farmers from doing the work themselves, the state board of agriculture reported today. MORE PAVING IS ORDERED BY CITY COUNCIL

New Contract Let On Two Half Blocks On Tyng

GAS RATES PUT INTO FRANCHISE

Policy of Company Is Outlined By Woodward

Another block of paving was contracted for by the city council in last night's meeting.

This is to be in the form of two half-blocks, one on each side of Cuyler street at the intersection of Tyng and Cuyler, the paving being on Tyng street just south of the railroad crossing.

Stuckey Construction company received the contract at the same price of the other paving. The same firm will also pave Russell street between Foster and Kingsmill avenue.

W. L. Woodward of Pampa Gas company presented an amendment to the firm's original charter, embodying the present low rate schedule, and the city council adopted the amendment. The rates are for the length of the franchise, or 23 years, unless changed with the consent of the council.

Mr. Woodward, who is district manager of the Federal Public Utilities company, of which Pampa Gas company is a part, assured the council of his corporation's desire to render the best service possible. He presented a long telegram from the parent organization, outlining the policy of the company and calling attention to the efficient management and financial stability of the big firm.

City Marshall In Extended Search; Pet Pig Escapes

City Marshall John Andrews and friends have been busy today in an extensive search of a missing porker which escaped from the city marshall's pen during the night. The missing pig is not only valuable, but is a gift to Mr. Andrews.

Jack DeGraffenreid has received a shipment of hogs which are causing much comment in the city because of their strange breeding. They are a cross between a Duroc Jersey and a Hampshire. The hogs are a bright red with a white band around the middle.

The city marshall liked the hogs and Mr. Graffenreid made the officer a gift of one. The pet was lodged in a pen, which Mr. Andrews said would hold even a rat, but lo, when feeding time arrived this morning the prize hog had disappeared.

Up to this time the missing porker has eluded all search, but hope is held for its recovery.

All-City Tennis Tournay Proceeds

Three more matches were played in the all-city tennis tournament over the holiday.

Quite a number of matches, most of them closely contested, are yet to be played on account of the necessity of two losses to eliminate a player.

Solomon defeated Hinkle, 6-2 and 7-5.

Jameson defeated Groves, 9-7, 4-6 and 3-6.

McCray, after serving three years in Atlanta penitentiary, is shown on his return to his Indianapolis home, greeting his grand children, Barbara Jane and Billy Evans. McCray's son-in-law, William P. Evans, gave up what promised to be a brilliant political career when McCray was indicted for using the mails to defraud. Evans at the time resigned as Marion county prosecutor.

HEARING HELD ON NEW ROAD

I. C. C. Man To Take Evidence on Ardmore-Lubbock Route

FORT WORTH, Sept. 6.—Representatives of a dozen Texas and Oklahoma towns along the proposed route of the Ardmore-Vernon and Lubbock railroad are here today for a hearing before Charles Mehaffy of Washington, director of the finance bureau of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Officers and stockholders of the company will present evidence which they claim will show the acute need for railroad facilities in West Texas and Southern Oklahoma.

The hearing late today was postponed indefinitely, however, on account of the absence of witnesses.

Meeting On Road Election Called Here Tonight

Plans for promoting the passage of the road bond issue to be voted on Saturday will be discussed at an open meeting at the Chamber of Commerce tonight.

The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock. All persons interested in good roads are urged to be present. Since much time is required to perfect plans for road construction after an election turns out favorably, it is held imperative that the issue shall pass Saturday in the Pampa special road district.

Miss Myrtle White left yesterday for Wichita, Kans., with Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Jackson of White Deer.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Starkey were Amarillo visitors Monday.

RECOVERY OF HUGE PROFITS NOW SOUGHT

Phillips Company And Seventeen Others Are Cited

TITLE TO 74.9 ACRES SOUGHT

Millions Involved In Case Filed In Austin

(By The Associated Press.)
AUSTIN, Sept. 6.—Suit for title to 74.9 acres of Hutchinson county land in the Panhandle oil field and for recovery of the $4,500,000 in production receipts for oil produced since November 1, 1925, as 200,000 from production of natural gas was filed in district court here today by the State of Texas against the Phillips Petroleum company and seventeen other defendants.

This is another of the series of suits prepared by the State to recover oil profits or royalties.

The suit involves land in the Mary Whitley survey of the Roxana pool near Borger.

The suit is to determine whether the northern line of the Whitley survey is closed entirely up to the S. and T. C. block of river surveys in the north section involved.

The action was brought partly to determine the validity of claims of Burt Hinkley of Brownsville and E. B. Trigg and Robert O'Keefe, both of Amarillo.

Hinkley and O'Keefe are claiming they acquired rights to all oil permits covering the land involved upon application to the state land office.

Trigg claims he has purchased the land outright from the state.

Trinity Tigers Face Hard Task In Early Games

(By The Associated Press.)
WAXAHACHE, Sept. 6.—With five of the 11 regulars of 1926 missing, Coach Barry Holton of the Trinity Tigers faces the task of developing a football team that will give A. and M. Baylor and Texas close games during the first three weeks of the season. Sixteen lettermen will report to the Tiger camp September 10, but several of these played in only a few games last season.

Houston Allen, a 200-pound tackle from Whitesboro, will take care of the vacancy in one of the tackles as he was a regular lineman in 1926 and 1925. Herman Kozelski, Yorktown product who started several games last year, will handle the guard played by Boggs last year, and Pete Allen of Whitesboro, will be depended upon to play left end in the place of J. Smith of Corsicana, who received his degree last June. Smith was injured last season, and Allen gained considerable experience at end.

Veteran material is not plentiful in the backfield, Rocky Ryan, former Waco high school flash, and Bennie Pettit of Maypearl, will fight it out for the quarterback position with Ryan having the advantage. General Whitaker, who will be playing his fourth year on the team, will be at one half, with Berl Huffman, a reserve of the 1926 team, at the other half. Several reserves of 1926 will try to fill places left vacant by the graduation of Bryan Schley, voted most valuable man in the Texas conference last year.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Gregg of Parsons, Kans., spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Riebow. They were accompanied by Harley Riebow, who had been their guest at Parsons.

SWEeper NEEDED — Although Pampa will need much more paving in the next few years, the summer program has gone forward almost without a break and completion of the present plans will run the work well into the winter season. The major demands for modern streets will then have been met.
 Pampa's paving is something to be proud of, and nothing could have been done to have given both home folk and visitors a better opinion of the New Pampa.
 But paving of more than two dozen blocks will have brought about a necessity, which, although minor, is nevertheless important. Muddy paving does not affect the motorists to any great extent, but the pedestrians — which includes nearly everyone in the average American city — are still "in the mud" when the streets are not swept. The motorist now may park his car on solid brick, and yet step out into a muddy crossing. Furthermore, Panhandle breezes lift the fine dust in a very annoying manner on dry days.
 A street sweeper is, therefore, one of the big necessities of the present. If necessary, the streets should be cleared at a late hour each night to permit unobstructed sweeping. The financial angle to purchase of a machine is not a difficult one, as long-time payments may easily be obtained.
 Pampa people desire the paving swept frequently in order that the fine, wide streets may be enjoyed in the fullest manner.

surplus in the North Central area, particularly in Iowa, North and South Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan, Ohio and Pennsylvania.
 While the situation is so unsatisfactory in the above states that the quota basis is desired for Mexico, there is danger to Texas if Congress should too greatly restrict Mexican immigration. This section often has need for seasonal workers, and some provision should be made for provisional importation of labor.
 Diplomatic difficulties arise when blanket measures are passed, since Canada on the north is apt to be equally restricted, although that people is classified as very desirable. Texas Congressman must be very alert when the immigration question arises.
SAPIRO MOVES — Several years ago an earnest young man made a tour of the Panhandle and told the story of cooperative marketing. It was Aaron Sapiro, since then a man much in the headlines. Whether Sapiro was right or wrong in his major contentions is not the question of this article.
 Sapiro has taken up a new field of labor, and there is interest in the fact, regardless of one's attitude toward the man. Sapiro is leaving the agricultural field in a measure and taking up work in the industrial realm. He has closed his Chicago office and moved to New York. Concerning the move, he recently said:
 "The period of pioneer work (in agricultural work with cooperatives) is over. In 40 states we have secured new laws legalizing and protecting this form of cooperative effort, and the organizations themselves have proved their efficiency. The legal work is running smoothly and can be handled far more efficiently by local men."
 Sapiro now proposes to work on methods of coordinating industry, continuing the type of work I have been doing for agriculture." He prob-

WASHINGTON LETTER
 BY RODNEY DUTCHER
 NEA Service Writer.
WASHINGTON.—In order to be good it must be imported.
 That seems to be the situation, as far as liquors dispensed by sundry agencies in the United States are concerned.
 But federal prohibition officials, recently calling upon the Canadians to help enforce our prohibition law by halting the smuggler in his tracks, got the surprise of their lives.
 For it seems that for every quart of Canadian liquor smuggled into the States, there is a quart of liquor from the United States smuggled into Canada.
 People just won't say things at home any more.
 Secretary of the Interior Hubert W. Work, who estimates that overproduction of petroleum "approximates a million barrels a day," has a plan that he wants the next Congress to hear about.
 Dr. Work recently addressed the American Bar association at Buffalo, N. Y. There he proposed a committee of nine members to draft a bill for conservation.
 The committee would be composed of three members of the American Bar association, three petroleum engineers and three representatives of the government. As chairman of the Federal Oil Conservation Board, Dr. Work would have final re-checking of the measure.
 Production in this field, it appears, has been speeded too well.
 It may come to a point where he who would fly over oceans must first prove all the required buttons are there.

Government officials have joined with the National Aeronautic association in recommending that restrictions as to personnel and equipment should be imposed before sanction is given flights designed to establish new records.
 Pilot and members of the crew should be examined to insure they are qualified mentally, physically and by training and experience, it was agreed at the conference.

PRESS FORUM
PRECAUTIONAL
 Pampa Daily News: A Texas man got married last week on a hot check. Such as he must expect the worst, and therefore might be satisfied with whatever resulted. Some happiness is like that.
 Of course there is always the overlooked possibility that the check the minister got back marked "insufficient funds" was due to error. If a man can't get flustered when he is about to commit matrimony, when can he? About 90 per cent of us withdraw everything we have in the account to finance the voyage to those uncharted seas where the clearance is always in a liner with first-class accommodations that sometimes queerly before the journey's end seems to have been transformed into a freighter with awfully slow going through heavy seas. Anybody can make an error at a time like that, and the small-town minister should see about the check before definitely deciding it is not as good as it is written. Otherwise, however, the bridegroom must be given credit as one of the most precautionary gentlemen of history. Marriage is something of a lottery. You never know how it is going to turn out, and a torrid check, as the location goes, may have been tossed out in the matter of an anchor to windward. It offers a chance to exchange married life for a jail. But there is an interesting legal argument as to whether a law has been violated. The minister of course was paid for his services, but they are services that, however valuable, have never had a definite scale of prices. They can't. If the marriage is happy, no minister could possibly be paid all the job is worth. If it isn't, anything he gets is too much. You can't exchange the goods at the counter where you bought them.—State Press in Dallas News.

Opens Barber Shop For Chinese Women
 (By The Associated Press.)
 SHANGHAI, Sept. 6.—A barber shop for Chinese women, the first of its kind in Shanghai, has been opened under the auspices of the Chinese Y. W. C. A.
 According to the announcement of the opening of the new "shop," it has been made necessary "to meet the increasing demand on the part of Chinese women who have bobbed hair for women barbers."
 Two men barbers were retained when the shop first opened to train the women barbers. They have since been replaced by women.
 Not only are Chinese women patronizing the shop, but foreign women are finding it an excellent place to obtain barber service.

Erick Again Beats Grays As Errors Let In Runs; 6-3

Marcum came back yesterday and pitched the Erick team to its second win over the Pampa Grays by a score of 6 to 3. Gaither pitched great ball for the home club, but his support was had in places and he gave way to Fuller in the seventh.

Cherry on second, and Mills at short, played great games for the home club, each making some nice saves and working a double play that saved three scores. Gaither, Mills, and Hust, were the big noises with the timber, each getting two blows. Fuller and Hust hit triples in the ninth and Gaither had one in the first.

Anthony was the busiest man on the Erick club. He had nineteen put-outs on first base. Seeds on short was covering worlds of ground and getting everything. Stubbs on second was even better, having six assists. Seeds and Marcum hit safely twice.

The Grays put one over in the first after Hines had gone out at third. He sprained his ankle and had to leave the game. Mills singled and Gaither's triple scored him, but Martin fled out.

Another was added in the third when Hust singled, advanced on Gober's out, and scored on a single by Cherry.

The last tally came in the ninth on triples by Fuller and Hust up against the left field fence after two were out.

Erick put across three in the second when Hartman walked and advanced on Cornellison's single. Anthony scored both men and later scored on a single by Litson on a misjudged ball.

They added one in the third on Seeds' double, an out and a sacrifice bunt.

Number five came in the fifth on singles by Bryant, Hartman, and Dollar.

The final run crossed the plate in the ninth on a walk to Stubbs, a passed ball and a single by Seeds.

The line-ups:

Pampa Grays—Hines, 3b; Gober, 3b, 1b; Cherry, 2b; Mills, ss; Gaither, p, c; Martin, lf; Cahill, c, 3b; Hunter, cf; Fuller, 1b, p; Hust, rf.

Erick, Okla.—Stubbs, 2b; Seeds, ss; Bryant, lf; Hartman, 3b; Dollar, cf; Cornellison, rf; Anthony, 1b;

Whittington Beats Shelby As Terrific Body Blows Land

Two rights under the heart, a right to the solar plexus, and a left to the jaw in quick succession gave Whittington a technical knockout over Shelby in the sixth round of the main boxing event last night.

The card was held at the Pampa Athletic club on West Foster avenue. Shelby claimed a foul, but the referee declared all blows were above the belt.

Two 98-pounders provided the curtain raiser, which went three rounds to a draw. Sherrod was a little the heavier, but Voss the more aggressive. Blows were freely exchanged and on the whole it was an interesting affair.

The last preliminary was a battle between Chief Gonzales and Frankie Farrell. It went six rounds to a draw. The boys seemed afraid to mix and there was no round where a decision could be given. Both boys did considerable shadow boxing, but were not afraid to step in and take a few blows. Gonzales took a heavy one to the eye and gave a left to the nose in return for the hardest blows of the bout.

Rusty Cahill, 142, stepped into the ring with Duff Stanley, 145, of Amarillo, and had to step the first two rounds, but a right under the heart in the third slowed up the Amarillo boy. From then on Cahill had a decided advantage, but could not fight on account of Duff's clinching and hanging on.

In the fifth Cahill rocked the Amarillo boy and again in the sixth, but the latter hung on until the gong at the end of the sixth.

Whittington of Tulsa received a great ovation as he entered the ring as did the stocky Shelby, from Wichita, Kans. Whittington weighed in at 148 and Shelby at 155 pounds. K. E. Peebles was the third man in the ring.

Whittington led off with two rights to the face but took a left to the body. Shelby was taking punishment to get close in and landed several to the body.

The second was a repetition of the first except that Whittington was landing clean and more often than his stocky opponent. Whittington was using his superior reach, but was taking a few as Shelby bored in.

Whittington played on the body with long rights in the third, which gave him a slight margin. Shelby landed two to the head which Whittington shook off.

The fourth was the only round where Shelby had an advantage. He was boring in and hitting hard to the head in the clinches, but Whittington was working on the sides.

Whittington had Shelby groggy at the end of the fifth with three rights to the head and two lefts to the body. He took a hard left to the jaw, but wasn't hurt.

The end came in the sixth after Shelby had started out with two solid blows to the body. Whittington came in close and landed two hard rights to the heart and then another to the solar plexus, followed by a light left to the jaw as Shelby went down. The bell saved him at the count of two, but he was unable to come out for the seventh round.

A challenge was received from Duke Trammell to meet the winner of last night's bout.

On Friday night Bobbie Chick and Teddy Walters will meet at the Athletic club in a finish match.

A 70-year-old woman was severely burned in Prague, Czechoslovakia by peasants who believed her a witch. She was rescued by a hunting party.

Fordham Ushers Football in Early

SPORT TALK

The management of the Pampa Athletic club is trying to sign Roy King and Fred Whittington for Monday night in the main event. Duke Trammell also wants to come up from Fort Worth and box Whittington.

The Amarillo Texans took two bad drubbings yesterday in Tulsa and dropped into sixth place. The Tulsa crew got 39 hits off five Amarillo pitchers.

Lou Gehrig yesterday tied the Babe in home runs when he hit one over the fence in Boston. The game went eighteen innings before the lowly Braves came through with the winning run.

The only Texas entry in the Denver tournament was eliminated yesterday. Midland won her first four starts, but lost the last two, 5 to 4 and 11 to 2. Midland got in the money however.

Wrestling will be on the card at the Athletic club for Friday night. Bobbie Chick will meet Teddy Walters in a finish match, two falls out of three. Walters was knocked out last week in Berger, but claimed a foul and thinks he can beat Chick.

French customs officers failing to recognize Queen Elena and Prince Humbert of Italy, compelled them to leave the train at Nice to submit the passport formalities.

BILLY EVANS Says

Hornsbly Was Right

Don't count those Giants out in the hectic struggle now being waged for the National league pennant. McGraw's club has come with a rush that is going to be hard to deny.

"I managed a pennant winner and world champions in the St. Louis Cardinals last year, but I think New York is a better ball club and feel we should win," was the way Rogers Hornsbly expressed himself to be at Sarasota, Fla., training camp of the Giants, last spring.

"We have a mighty good team. Give us pretty good pitching and we will be tough to beat. And please don't forget, we have John McGraw as our manager."

For a couple of months it seemed as if Rogers Hornsbly had been entirely too optimistic in his hope on the Giants, even though I realized New York was one of the clubs that had to be beaten in the pennant chase.

Injuries and pitching that was a trifle erratic caused New York to be slow in getting full speed ahead.

A month ago the Giants were about ten games out of first place and even the most ardent fan held but little hope for his favorites. However, the club never once quit, but kept plugging away.

Great Spurt in August

The break in the race the Giants had been looking for, came with about two-thirds of the schedule completed. The three other contenders, had temporary slumps, while New York struck its fastest gait of the year.

During the month of August, New York won 23 out of 30 games, to stage the best late season rally in the National league.

While New York may not win the pennant in the senior circuit, much of the keen interest in the race must be credited to the Giants for the creditable showing they have made, after most of the critics were ready to count the fatal 10 on the club.

True, on form, New York faces the toughest going, since the club will be on the road practically the rest of the season. But playing away from home is no longer considered such a handicap, with the umpires calling them as they see 'em.

McGraw's club has plenty of poise and just the proper number of old heads to give it balance and courage, which may be the deciding factor in a close race.

Cubs After Extra Cash

These pennant races make for many a case of "nerves", since the world series stakes have reached mighty fat figures.

I am told that Owner Wrigley of the Chicago Cubs, who would prefer a pennant to the amount the club coffers would be enriched by the world series gate, has offered the club's end of the receipts to the players in case the Cubs get into the series.

Last year the winning players received close to $6,000 each. Each club's share was around $150,000, which, divided among say 27 ball players, would make about $5,000 more for each man.

Thus, for the Chicago Cubs to win the pennant and world series this year, would mean that each player would profit to the extent of about $11,000.

Rumor has it that Mr. Wrigley in conference with his team, made the offer just before the club left on their last eastern trip. The Cubs then proceeded to let their fairly comfortable lead slip away.

No doubt to many of the Chicago athletes the baseball is covered with dollar marks as it comes his way, whether from the pitcher to the batter or in the field. The dollar mark sometimes proves to be quite elusive.

If Mr. Wrigley did make the proposition, it may not turn out as he hoped it would, since it may unnerv the team because of the big stakes for which it is gambling, rather than supplying the confidence as he had hoped.

Choice of Referee and Judges Remaining Problem of Big Fight

(By The Associated Press.)

CHICAGO—Who will be the referee when Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey crawl through the ropes in Soldier Field to battle for the world's heavyweight championship Sept. 22? This is the biggest remaining problem in connection with the big fight. A referee and two judges must be chosen.

The selection of judges and the referee lies solely with the Illinois State Athletic Commission, and the identities of the three men will not be known until they show up at the ringside.

A dozen names stand out among those who have officiated in Chicago rings since boxing was legalized in Illinois last year, but the impression prevails that the commission may spring a last minute surprise and name a man not at present identified with the sport.

Among those who have officiated in championship bouts and other important bouts are Joe Choyanski, the old time heavyweight, Dave Barry, a former lightweight boxer, Phil Collins, referee of the Mandell-Kansas lightweight championship battle, and Jimmie Gardner, a one-time welterweight champion and Davy Miller.

Choyanski, now 58 years old, is the "ace" of the commission's list of referees. He has handled more wind-ups in Chicago than any other official. Although grey-haired, Choyanski remains lithe and limber and steps about with the agility of a youngster. His decisions have met with popular approval.

The task of the third man in the ring has been simplified somewhat since the commission started this year with a system of appointing two judges to vote with the referee on decisions. The referee has only one voice, but he has the power to decide fouls and technical knockout without considering the vote of the judges.

John G. Righelmer, chairman of the commission, has succeeded in interesting men prominent in business or professional lines to act as judges of ring contests. Judges of the municipal and superior courts have been drafted for duty.

The business of selecting a referee is no passing job for the world's

Novice Writes Book In Only Nine Weeks

(By The Associated Press.)

NEW YORK—Sending rejection slips to aspiring authors is the best way to avoid getting one yourself, believes 26-year-old Edith M. Stern. Her first novel, "Purse Strings," was written in only nine weeks after she had spent several years as a manuscript reader for the publishing house which is now bringing out her book.

"I think I unconsciously absorbed the technique of novel writing," says Mrs. Stern, a novice in the writing world, "by helping to pass judgement on some 5,000 stories in manuscript form." This experience, she feels, combined with a voracious appetite for current literature gave her the equivalent of actual training in writing.

The scene of "Purse Strings" is New York of the 1880's. It shows the development of character in a conventional girl of that period and in her dilettante husband as they struggle to "keep up appearances," emulating the wealthy household in which she was reared.
