BRITISH FLIERS REPORTED SEEN

Rain and Snow Fall Throughout Southwestern Region

PRECIPITATION HERE IS OVER HALF AN INCH

Electrical Displays Are Reported at Many Places

FREEZE WILL REACH DALLAS

Wheat Areas Are Once More Benefited by Moisture

Rainfall amounting to .40 of an inch fell here last night and intermittent drizzles attended by mist a little snow and an overcast sky, fell this morning to increase the precipitation to about half an inch.

WICHITA FALLS, March 15.—(P)—Rain averaging better than a half inch and accompanied by a slight drop in temperature drenched the entire Wichita Falls territory Wednesday night.

The Fort Worth and Denver reported rain from Texline to Fort Worth. The Missouri-Kansas-Texas reported rain all along the line to Morgan. The Wichita Falls and Southern reported rain to Dublin.

BROWNWOOD, March 15.—(P)—A driving rain accompanied by light hail struck here at 4 o'clock this morning. Skies were clearing four hours later after one inch of rain had fallen.

CHILDRESS, March 15.—(P)—A hard rain with a vivid display of lightning covered the Lower Panhandle last night. Although the wind was strong for several hours and some hail fell, no damage was reported.

CORSICANA, March 15.—(P)—A heavy rain, which started at 7 a. m. today, soon flooded streets here. An electrical storm accompanied the rain.

CANYON, March 15.—(P)—Half an inch of rain had fallen here within the last 12 hours at 9 a. m. today.

KANSAS CITY, March 15.—(P)—A snow-storm moving eastward across Kansas and dipping southward into Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle was hailed with joy today by wheat growers and other farmers.

The western and central portions of Kansas were blanketed and the weather bureau predicted that snow would fly in the eastern part of the state by night. Rain preceded the snow.

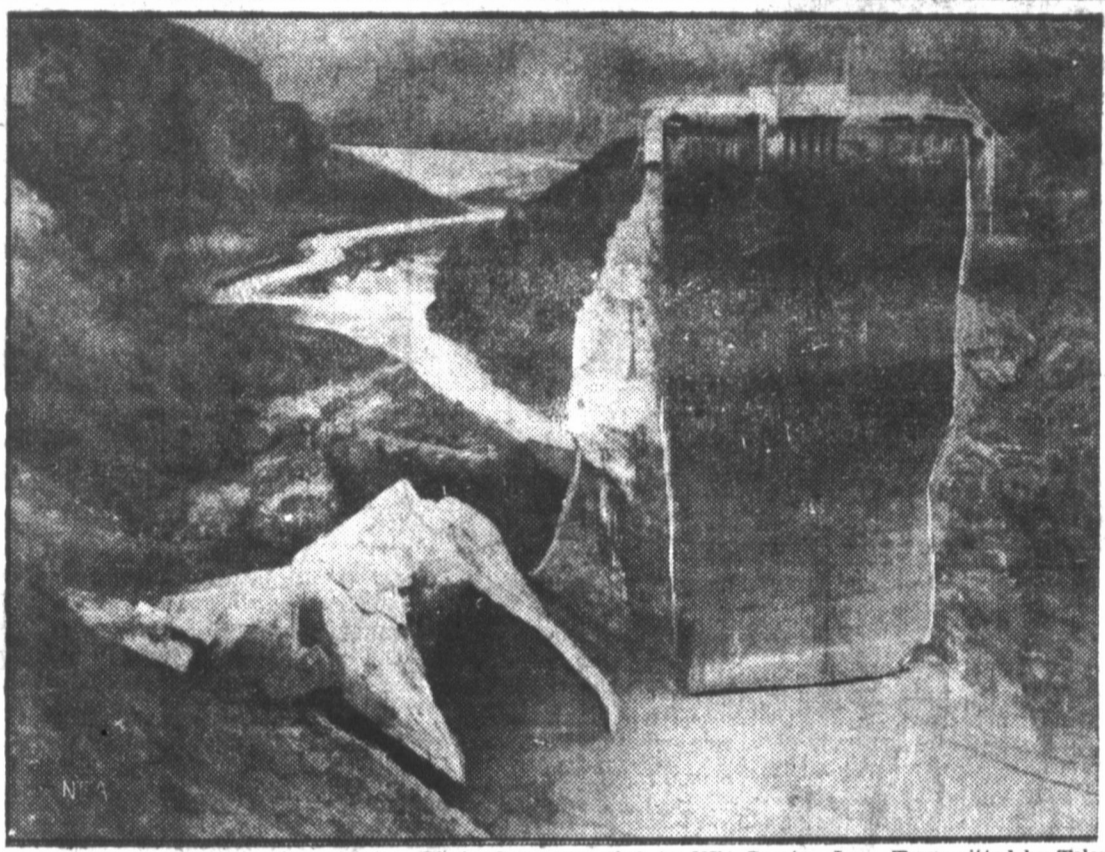

Inquest of Dam Victims Held for 285 Bodies Today

LOS ANGELES, March 15.—(P)—Testimony produced at the first inquest of the St. Francis dam flood victims, held at Moorpark today, indicated that a total of 285 bodies had been recovered in Los Angeles and Ventura counties, where all the deaths occurred. This figure, clashing with previous estimates, caused a sharp upward jump in the death toll.

THE WEATHER

EAST TEXAS: Tonight, partly cloudy, rain in northeast portion, colder; Friday, partly cloudy, colder.

THE WRECKED DAM

—Photo Copyright, 1928, by NEA Service, Inc. Transmitted by Telephoto.

This photograph, transmitted over telephoto wires for the Pampa Daily News by NEA Service, shows the wreckage of the St. Francis dam, 45 miles north of Los Angeles, just after the gigantic reservoir had spent its force in the valley below, where at least 200 persons were believed to have been drowned. The dam was a massive concrete structure, 185 feet high, built across San Francisco canyon. Under normal conditions it backed up a lake of water containing more than twelve billion gallons of water. A cloudburst in the mountains sent such a torrent against the dam that it collapsed, almost without warning. The picture shows the center section still standing, but both ends of the dam, which was 1,200 feet long, were washed away.

SCOTT BARCUS HAS RESIGNED

Hearing on Injunction Petition to Be Public at 10 O'Clock Tomorrow

The hearing before Judge Newton P. Willis on the petition for an injunction to prohibit removal of the county records to Pampa, new county seat-elect, will be public, it was said here today.

Rev. Evans to Give Special Sermon for Legion Men Sunday

The Rev. W. L. Evans, pastor of the Presbyterian church, will preach a special sermon to the members of the local post of the American Legion Pampa Athletic club, and the Pampa Athletic and Amusement club Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Presbyterian church.

Colonel Stewart Resigns Office in Dixie Oil Company

SHREVEPORT, La., March 15.—(P)—Colonel Robert W. Stewart has resigned as chairman of the board of the Dixie Oil company, a subsidiary of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, officials of the company announced here today. No reason for the resignation was given.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—(P)—Senator Borah is prepared to raise the $160,000 to repay Harry F. Sinclair, oil operator and lessee of Teapot Dome for his contribution to the Republican party if the Republican National committee declines to act on his suggestion for such a move.

BRUNSWICK, Ga., March 15.—(P)—Charles A. Levine, in his trans-Atlantic monoplane Columbia, was forced down on St. Simon's Island at 11:30 a. m., today by a dense fog which prevailed off the Georgia coast. He had started from Jacksonville, Fla., to Charleston, S. C., en route to New York.

Will Represent Trust Company in This Area, With Pampa as Headquarters for His New Work—Resignation Is Accepted With Regrets.

Scott Barcus, for the last year secretary of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, tendered his resignation to the directors yesterday afternoon with the statement that he will become a regional representative of the Fidelity Trust company of Fort Worth.

After discussing the resignation with Mr. Barcus, the directors accepted it with regrets. Under the agreement made with the secretary when he was employed, he is to give 30 days notice before retiring, but he expressed a desire to be relieved as soon as possible. His successor will be sought at once by the directors.

Mr. Barcus became secretary of the local organization on March 10, 1927 coming here from Sweetwater, where he had been secretary of the Board of City Development. He took over the work of M. A. Turner, and entered upon a strenuous year of activities which have brought the various elements of the city into co-operation.

The work of the Chamber of Commerce, in recognition of the needs of the New Pampa, has centered upon organization—a kind of work for which the secretary was especially prepared. Many bodies, civic and private, trace their beginning back to the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Barcus has believed in the committee method of work and hundreds of business and professional men have had a part in the C. of C. activities during the year. Under the new city charter, which was sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, the work will be organized soon under the Board of City Development plan, and after this year will be tax supported.

Mr. Barcus will make his headquarters in Pampa and will spend much of his time here.

STOLEN CAR DAMAGED

A Chevrolet cabriolet belonging to Floyd Walton of LePors, stolen last Friday from the county seat, was found yesterday in White Deer with the bearings burned out. The license plates had been changed, the ones on the car being taken off a Ford sedan. No arrests have been made.

COMPLETES CITY MAP

A. H. Doucette, city engineer, has completed a revised map of the city of Pampa showing the original town site, city limits, and the 58 additions within the city limits. He has a number on hand for sale purposes.

NEW FORDS EXPECTED

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sewell are in Oklahoma City this week. Mr. Sewell, an employe of the Rose Motor company here, is attending the Goodyear Tire school being conducted this week. They will drive a new Ford back, which will be the first to be delivered from the Pampa agency.

In Congress

Senate debates Tyson emergency of officers retirement bill. Coal and cotton inquiries continue before Senate Interstate commerce and agriculture committees.

SANDINO ASKS FOR FREEDOM

Journalist Brings Note to Senate From Rebel

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, March 15.—(P)—American Marines today were under orders of their commander to make stringent efforts to wipe out the Sandino revolt.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—(P)—The occasional pleas in Congress for withdrawal from Nicaragua of the American Marines now hunting down "General" Sandino in an effort to restore peace have been added to by one from Sandino himself.

In a message indirectly delivered to the Senate, the Nicaraguan leader declares that unless the Marines are taken away he could "not be responsible for the safety of any North American official resident in Nicaraguan territory."

Replacement of Adolfo Diaz, now president of Nicaragua, by some Nicaraguan not a candidate for the office and supervision of the coming elections in that country by Latin-American representatives instead of the Marines are two other conditions for peace laid down by Sandino.

His message, together with correspondence between himself and Rear Admiral David F. Sellers, commander of the American special service squadron in Nicaraguan waters, relating to peace negotiations, were made public after their submission to Chairman Borah of the Senate foreign relations committee by Lewis S. Gannett, associate editor of The Nation. Borah had no comment to make on the documents, which were brought to this country for Sandino by Carlisle Beals, special correspondent of the magazine.

Signed, "for the fatherland and liberty, A. C. Sandino," the message addressed to the senate said: "In the name of the Nicaraguan people I protest against the continued barbarism of your forces in my country, such as the recent total destruction of the town of Quilali. I shall never recognize a government imposed by a foreign power. I demand the immediate withdrawal of the invading troops."

First Air Mail for Mexico City Leaves Houston

HOUSTON, March 15.—(P)—The Fairchild cabin monoplane left the Houston airport today carrying the first air passenger from New York to Mexico City.

The plane landed at the airport here yesterday. It was piloted by C. J. Robinson, former air mail flyer and friend of Lindbergh. The passenger is Carroll H. Wegemann, chief geologist for the Pan-American Petroleum company.

BROWNSVILLE, March 15.—(P)—After battling a headwind all the way from Galveston, F. Trubee Davison, assistant secretary of war in charge of aviation, and Maj. Gen. James E. Fehert, chief of the army air corps, landed at Isabel, at 10 a. m. today, on their trip by airplane to Panama.

OBJECTS OFF MAINE COAST INVESTIGATED

Missing Plane Is Now Long Overdue in New York

MOTOR BOAT IS OFF TO ISLAND

Unverified Reports Tell of Hearing Noise of Motor

BIDDEFORD, Maine, March 15.—(P)—A motor boat started from the Fletcher's neck coast guard station at Biddeford pool shortly before 2 o'clock this afternoon for Stratton's Island to investigate a report that two persons and an object resembling an airplane, of a yellowish color, had been seen through glasses trained on the island from Old Orchard beach.

NEW YORK, March 15.—(P)—Despite widespread but unconfirmed reports of planes winging through the night fear increased today that a Viscount's daughter had followed a private to death in the latest attempt to fly the perilous western air line of the North Atlantic.

There was still hope that the Honorable Elsie MacKay and Captain Walter Hinchliffe, British war ace, had somehow escaped the fate met last summer by the Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim and her two pilots, and by Nungesser and Gohl, but it was the hope of desperation.

Miss Mackay and Hinchliffe took off in England at 3:40 o'clock Eastern Standard time Tuesday morning and by the most optimistic computation their gasoline could only have kept them aloft until dawn today. But hours after that no definite word had been received of them and aviators generally feared that the North Atlantic never yet crossed by air in the westerly direction, had increased the number of its victims by two.

American representatives of Hinchliffe admitted that the situation was of the utmost gravity but they refused to abandon hope. They called Mrs. Hinchliffe they felt there was a reasonable chance that the gold and black plane Endeavour had landed on the ice of the frozen north, in some inaccessible portion of New Foundland or Nova Scotia, or had been picked up at sea by some small vessel unequipped with wireless. They assured her that everything possible would be done to run down every rumor and exhaust every possibility of rescue.

Fifful hope was kept alive in some quarters by almost countless reports of persons who had heard or seen planes scudding through the skies on the air course from New Foundland to Boston or New York or Philadelphia. But all of these reports were vague. None of the planes seen or heard was identified as the Endeavour and as the hours passed and it became a certainty that Miss MacKay and Hinchliffe were no longer aloft no definite word of their fate developed.

CITY BEAUTIFICATION

Home Beautiful and similar campaigns will be held in many Panhandle cities this spring and summer. Pampa should be one of those which gives special attention to the appearance of public, business, and home property.

Because hundreds of Pampa's homes are new, it is not advisable to have the same kind of contest as drives here that are in places where trees and shrubs have several years' growth. But Pampa can clean up and paint up, and plant trees, flowers, and shrubs for the work wonders with barren future. A little care will work wonders with barren lawns, for, given water and cultivation, many varieties do well in this section.

Garden clubs are being formed now in many cities of the Plains. The name may include culture of any kind of shrub, tree and flower—suiting action to the needs and opportunities. Blocks or resi-

The economic meaning of this condition, in building and manufacture, is serious. Yet, foresters tell us, "the same wonderfully productive climate, the same deep fertile soil are just as favorable to rapid tree growth now as in the past."

tree must be promoted a productive factory, and e of beauty as well. We begin at home, on our ns, and trace the signifi- ce of even a single tree. The wood lot is a great asset right here in Gray county, as the federal farm census recently showed.

There is no civic substitute for leafy green.

IN THE NEWS—Every well known candidate or prospective candidate is in hot water these days, nationally. The way of politics is strange—any rival of your favorite is necessarily the scum of the earth or at least too dangerous to place in public office. In short, a man of ability is apt to be knocked into oblivion because of his very talents, and some "dark horse" without much brains or record may be rushed in as a compromise. The country demands a real leader, but it may have to develop one in the White House, which is not especially suited to kindergarten work in statesmanship.

Speaking of trees, we might take a lesson from England, which has acquired 300,000 acres of land since the war in her reforestation program. This does not seem a large figure as measured in terms of our expenses, but England is reforesting at the rate of 23,000 acres a year as a definite national policy. Many men are being given employment, and thousands of feet of valuable timber will be available in a few years.

Cities are built. Fifty years ago Cairo and Galena, Ill., were looked upon as big cities of the future. Chicago had less than 30,000 inhabitants in 1850. Look at them now, with the Windy City second in the country, Galena exceeded in population by 91 other cities of Illinois, and Cairo with 15,000 people. Chicago was located in a level prairie country. Any metropolis yields to the influence of progressive citizens, and many a proud boast of the sluggard has been ridiculed by passing time. Progress means work and sacrifice.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—The Senate lately has been the butt of wisecracks from persons who have implied that it was making itself ridiculous by proposing so many investigations. It has been widely asserted that the duties of the upper house were to legislate and not to investigate, and that the Senate was developing an inquisitorial mania.

Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana undertook to answer this sort-of attack in defending his resolution to investigate the electric light and power industry. He said:

"I challenge any member of this body to rise now and point to any investigation which has been had by the Senate in the past and to say in the light of subsequent disclosures which such investigations produced that they should not have been had."

Nobody rose and Walsh went on to mention the oil, Veterans' Bureau and slush funds investigations.

Seymour Lowman is assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of prohibition enforcement. One of the latest worries has concerned the serving of cracked ice, ginger ale and other ingredients of alcoholic drinks. It was called to his attention that Washington drug and delicatessen stores were delivering cracked ice to dwelling houses.

Was that a law violation? Lowman said it wasn't—that the treasury ruling on cracked ice and ginger ale applied to night clubs, restaurants and cafes where the proprietor knew that the stuff was to be used to illegal purposes.

A damsel who lives in the same large and extraordinarily exclusive apartment hotel where Lowman lives reports that it's a standing joke there that Lowman returns from his office regularly in the midst of the cocktail hour and is forced to listen to a serenade of clinking ice and ginger ale bottles being toted through the halls by bell boys to the various rooms. Everyone has wondered what Lowman's thoughts were, but he never has expressed them publicly.

Another current Washington joke concerns Governor Fuller of Massachusetts. Fuller not long ago proposed a Republican ticket of Hoover and Lindbergh, despite the fact that, under the constitution, Lindbergh is many years too young to be vice president. For several weeks it had been reported here that Fuller had been reported here that Fuller had vice presidential ambitions himself. Now it is being suggested that Fuller, knowing both his constitution and Lindbergh's age, was trying to keep the second-place berth open by putting up an ineligible. He is supposed to have meant "Hoover and Fuller."

TWINKLES

Paint is such a wonderful thing that we don't think it should be confined to the flapper this spring.

It is reported that Pampa could land some conventions pretty soon if she tried. Let's try a few folks, but remember, a convention delegate wants to be entertained—just like you do when you are away from home.

Some people are awfully bad, and some are so bad that Darrow will defend them.

A lot of people are so constituted that they abhor petty meanness, but have something of half-admiration for excellence of criminality.

We would appreciate these movies, of the North more if the nearest thing we have to snow were not mud.

It looks like we will soon know more about South American elections than we do about our own.

We have good wheat prospects, but wheat never built a city. Remember that, regardless of the size of the crop this year.

CANDY SALES BRING $50

Miss Carter and the members of the Girls Athletic association have realized $50 from the candy sales. Through the faithful leadership of Miss Carter, the girls hope to raise another $50 to complete the necessary funds for the purchase of sweaters for the girls who have earned the required number of points for sweaters. True sportsmanship can be seen in the spirit of this organization. The girls and their enthusiastic coach through their faith in girls athletics have almost accomplished the seemingly impossible. Fertile seeds are being sown for a fruitful athletic association next fall. Let's boost the girls and Miss Carter.

Team Work

It's all very well to have courage and skill. And it's fine to be counted a star. But the single deed with its touch of thrill Doesn't tell us the man you are; For there's no lone hand in the game we play. We must work to a bigger scheme. And the thing that counts in the world to-day Is, how do you pull with the team? They may sound your praise and call you great. They may single you out for fame. But you must work with your running mate. Or you'll never win the game; For never the work of life is done By the man with a selfish dream. For the battle is lost or the battle is won By the spirit of the team.

You may think it fine to be praised for skill. But a greater thing to do Is to set your mind and set your will On the goal that's just in view; It's helping your fellowman to score When his chances hopeless seem; It's forgetting self till the game is o'er. And fighting for the team. —Edgar A. Guest.

Announcements

Marathon Runners Will Spend Night at Texans' Park

PEACH SPRING, Ariz., March 15.—(AP)—When the more than 100 foot racers remaining in the Los Angeles to New York marathon lined up today for the twelfth lap of the 3400-mile course Arthur Newton, 44-year old British endurance marvel, topped the list by the comfortable margin of nearly eight hours in elapsed time.

For the 397.4 miles covered since the start March 4, the sinewy entrant from Rhodesia, South Africa, had a total time of 61 hours 23 minutes. He came in first yesterday on the 51.7 mile lap between Kingman and Peach Spring to add 1:05:30 to his lead over Andrew Payne of Claremore, Okla., second in elapsed time standings. Payne checked in fourth yesterday and his total time today read 69:07:02.

The route today led to Seligman, 35 miles eastward, bringing the racers into higher country. C. C. Pyle's Marathon which is being run from Los Angeles to New York over Highway 66 will be an added attraction for the baseball fans of Amarillo and the whole Panhandle. The Amarillo Baseball club has arranged with Cash and Carry Pyle to run his sore feet artists into Texan park when they pass through Amarillo. Each day is an individual race. The runners are all started at the same time in the morning and the officials follow them all day so that none of them can catch rides. When the next controlling point is reached that evening, the men are all locked in and when they arrive at New York, the man coming in last may win the race if he has the best time during the entire run. Pyle carries his own kitchen and also his own doctors to soothe the bunions, without any cost to the runners. The night cold

Cash's army camp in Amarillo they will pitch their tents at Texan park. The runners are due in Amarillo on March 27 and will arrive from a point about 50 miles west that day, which should bring them in town about 3:30 p. m. The St. Paul American Association Ball Club is scheduled to play the Amarillo Broncs on March 27, so the fans of the Panhandle will have the opportunity of witnessing a real ball game, while at the same time they can view the only race of its kind ever attempted. As the runners arrive at Texan Park they will be brought in front of the Grand stand and introduced by either C. C. Pyle or Red Grange, famous football star who is one of the officials of the race. Grange or Pyle will explain to the fans who each man is and what time he has for the first half of the Marathon.

New "Wife Savers" Has the Two Boys Mountaineering

Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton, in their fifth joint appearance in "Wife Savers," return to the American army uniform in which they made their debut as a comedy team. "Behind the Front" was the picture that introduced this pair, now recognized as the greatest duet of laugh provokers the world has ever enjoyed. The army uniform is quickly doffed by Beery in this opus.

The war sequence concerns only the Armistice and Beery is left behind in France, at the Swiss border, to work out a debt as an Alpine guide and yodeler and to protect the girl of his traditional enemy, Raymond Hatton, who is seen as a second lieutenant, in the same army unit in which Beery is a private. The opening of the story finds Beery and Hatton as waiters in a Brooklyn restaurant. Beery is the head waiter and Hatton is just a plain waiter.

CHAPTER LII

After a short silence, during which the three of us remained speechless, the same feminine voice said in a loud, distinct tone: "No; nothing is the matter. I'm sorry. Everything is all right. Please go home, and don't worry."

The needle had come to the end of the record. There was a slight click, and the automatic device shut off the motor. The almost terrifying silence that followed was broken by a sardonic chuckle from Vance.

"Well, old dear," he remarked languidly, as he strolled back into the living-room, "so much for your irrefutable facts!"

There came a loud knocking on the door and the officer on duty outside looked in with a startled face.

"It's all right," Markham informed him in a husky voice. "I'll call you when I want you."

Vance lay down on the davenport and took out another cigaret. Having lighted it, he stretched his arms far over his head and extended his legs, like a man in whom a powerful physical tension had suddenly relaxed.

"Pan my soul, Markham, we've all been babes in the woods," he drawled. "An incontrovertible alibi—my word! If the law supposes that, as Mr. Bumble said, the law is a ass, an idiot—Oh Sammy, Sammy, you won't there a alibi! . . . Markham, I wish to admit it, but it's you and I who's been the unutterable asses."

Markham had been standing by the instrument like a man dazed, his eyes riveted hypnotically on the tell-tale record. Slowly he came into the room and threw himself wearily into a chair.

"Those precious facts of yours!" continued Vance. "Stripped of their carefully disguised appearance, what are they?—Spotswoode prepared a phonographic record—a simple enough task. Every one makes 'em nowadays—"

"Yes. He told me he had a workshop at this home on Long Island where he tinkered a bit."

"He really didn't need it, y' know. But it facilitated things, no doubt. The voice on the record is merely his own in fableto—better for the purpose than a woman's for it's stronger and more penetrating."

"As for the label, he simply soaked it off an ord'nry record, and pasted it on his own. He brought the lady several new records that night, and concealed this one among them."

"After the theatre he enacted his gruesome little drama and then carefully set the stage so that the police would think it was a typical burglar's performance. When this had been done, he placed the record on the machine set it going, and calmly walked out. He had placed the prayer-rug and bronze fowl on the cabinet of the machine to give the impression that the phonograph was rarely used.

"And the precaution worked, for no one thought of looking into it. Why should they? . . . Then he asked Jessup to call a taxicab—everything quite natural, y' see. While he was waiting for the car the needle reached the recorded screams. They were heard plainly; it was night, and the sounds carried distinctly. Moreover, being filtered through a wooden door, their phonographic timbre was well disguised. And, if you'll note, the enclosed horn is directed toward the door, not three feet away."

"But the synchronization of his questions and the answers on the record. . . ?"

"The simplest part of it. You remember Jessup told us that Spotswoode was standing with one arm on the switchboard when the screams were heard."

"He merely had his eye on his wrist-watch. The moment he heard the cry, he calculated the intermission on the record, and put his question to the imaginary lady at just the right moment to receive the record's response."

"It was all carefully figured out beforehand; he no doubt rehearsed it in his laboratory. It was deuced simple, and practically proof against failure. The record is a large one—twelve-inch diameter, I should say—and it requires about five minutes for the needle to traverse it."

"By putting the screams at the end, he allowed himself ample time to get out and order a taxicab. When the car at last came, he rode direct to the Stuyvesant Club where he met Judge Redfern and played poker till three. If he hadn't met the Judge, rest assured he would have impressed his presence on some one else so as to have established an alibi."

Markham shook his head gravely. "Good God! No wonder he imperturbed me on every possible occasion to let him visit this apartment again. Such a damning piece of evidence as that record must have kept him awake at night."

"Still, I rather fancy that if I hadn't discovered it, he would have succeeded in getting possession of it as your sergeant-de-ville was removed."

"It was annoyin' to be unexpectedly barred from the apartment, but I doubt if it worried him much. He would have been on hand when the Canary's aunt took possession, and the retrieving of the record would have been comparatively easy. Of course the record constituted a hazard, but Spotswoode isn't the type who'd shy at a low bunker of that kind. No; the thing was planned scientifically enough. He was defeated by sheer accident."

"And Skeel?"

"He was another unfortunate circumstance. He was hiding in the closet there when Spotswoode and the lady came in at eleven. It was Spotswoode whom he saw strangle his erstwhile amourseuse and rifle the apartment."

"Then, when Spotswoode went out, he came forth from hiding. He was probably looking down at the girl when the phonograph emitted its blood-chilling wails. . . My word! Fancy being in a cold funk, gazing at a murdered woman, and then hearing piercing screams behind you! It was a bit too much even for the hardened Tony."

"I don't wonder he forgot all caution and put his hand on the table to steady himself. And then came Spotswoode's voice through the door, and the record's answer. This must have puzzled Skeel. I imagine he thought for a moment he'd lost his reason."

"But pretty soon the significance of it dawned on him; and I can see him grinning to himself. Obviously he knew who the murderer was—it would not have been in keeping with his character had he failed to learn the identities of the Canary's admirers."

"And now there had fallen into his lap, like manna from heaven, the most perfect opportunity for blackmail that any such charmin' young gentleman could desire. He doubtless indulged himself with roseeate visions of a life of opulence and ease at Spotswoode's expense. When Cleaver phoned a few minutes late, he merely said the lady was out, and then set to work planning his own departure."

"But I don't see why he didn't take the record with him."

"And remove from the scene of the crime the one piece of unanswerable evidence? . . . Bad strategy, Markham. If he himself had produced the record later, Spotswoode would simply have denied all knowledge of it, and accused the blackmailer of a plot."

"Oh, no; Skeel's only course was to leave it, and apply for an enormous settlement from Spotswoode at once. And I imagine that's what he did. Spotswoode no doubt gave him something on account and promised him the rest anon, hoping in the meantime to retrieve the record."

"When he failed to pay, Skeel phoned you and threatened to tell everything, thinking to spur Spotswoode to action. . . Well, he spurred him—but not to the action desired. Spotswoode probably met him by appointment last Saturday night, ostensibly to hand over the money, but, instead, throttled the chap. Quite in keeping with his nature, don't y' know. . . Stout falls Spotswoode."

"The whole thing. . . it's amazing."

"I shouldn't say that, now Spotswoode had an unpleasant task to perform, and he set about it in a cool, logical, forthright, businesslike manner. He had decided that his little Canary must die for his peace of mind; she'd probably made herself most annoyin'. So he arranged the date—like any judge passing sentence on a prisoner at the bar—and then proceeded to fabricate an alibi."

"Being something of a mechanic, he arranged a mechanical alibi. The device he chose was simple and obvious enough—no tortuosities or complications. And it would have succeeded but for what the insurance companies piously call an act of God."

"No one can foresee accidents. Markham; they wouldn't be accidental if one could. But Spotswoode certainly took every precaution that was humanly possible. It never occurred to him that you would thwart every effort to return here and confiscate the record; and he couldn't anticipate my taste in music, nor know that I would seek solace in the tonal art."

"Furthermore, when one calls on a lady, one doesn't expect that another suitor is going to hide himself in the clothes-press. It isn't done, don't y' know. . . All in all, the poor Johnny was beaten by a run of abominable luck."

"You overlook the fiendishness of the crime," Markham reproached him tartly.

"Don't be so confounded moral, old thing. Every one's a murderer at heart. The person who has never felt a passionate hankering to kill some one is without ethics or theology that stays the average person from homicide? Dear, no! It's lack of courage—the fear of being found out, or haunted, or cursed with remorse.

"Observe with what delight the people en masse—to wit, the state—put men to death, and then gloat over it in the newspapers. Nations declare war against one another on the slightest provocation, so they can, with immunity, vent their lust for slaughter. Spotswoode, I'd say, is merely a rational animal with the courage of his convictions."

HOW IS THIS?

Statistics show that two billion dollars a year are spent in the United States for public education, on which the future prosperity depends. This amount is less than twenty dollars per capita. And, by the way, it costs less than half the money spent on cigarettes.

The last is an encouraging fact. It proves that when the people really want a thing they get it, somehow or other. Just now, they want the best cigarettes. Some day they will decide that they want the best possible education. Then they will spend ten billions and more a year for it instead of two billion.

-By J.L. LESTER.

THE BIG PARADE

Usually the schools continually urge the school district to support and boost the schools, but this was not true last Friday, the day that the county vote was moved to Pampa by popular vote. This time the schools boosted Pampa or rather urged the citizens of Pampa to boost themselves.

At pre-arranged, the students of the Central high school and the Central ward school left the buildings at 11 a. m. to participate in the school parade. Preceded by the Clarendon municipal band, the students proceeded down North Cuyler street to the First National bank in double file, thence up East Foster street to Barnes street, giving yells at intervals all the way. Although detained by a train at the Barnes Street crossing, we arrived in due time at the Baker school, where the students of that school joined in the parade. Thus, giving yells and with banners flying, we marched west to South Cuyler street, where we turned north. When we reached the Gray County State bank we turned up Foster street. Here we gathered four abreast and gave all our yells. After walking four blocks up Foster, we turned north one block to Francis street then back to school. The pupils of the Baker school walked back to their school. All school children in Pampa were dismissed for a day. However, we earned this vacation, for we walked nearly two miles in all.

The students of the Pampa Schools are 100 per cent for Pampa. This is a logical reason why Pampa should support its schools.

CONFIDENTIALLY I ASK YOU "HAVE THEY?"

15. Kate A. and Golda J. "made-up"?
16. Mr. Fisher ever put his students back in algebra?
17. Leona May known her Dials very long?
18. Mr. Campbell forgotten his Boston tea party?
19. Mr. Fisher ever failed to put over anything he has undertaken to do?
20. Miss Campbell ever been to dances at the Schneider?

DO THEY?

1. Does Tommie Robinson ever talk in biology?
2. Does De Vere Abersold keep late hours?
3. Does Cleora Stanard ever have dates?
4. Does Vivian Frasier like chewing gum?

Eliminations in extemporaneous speaking, essay, and declamation are being held.

Mrs. Arthur Kirby substituted for Miss Campbell while the latter was ill Wednesday.

Sammie Henton Wins Elimination Contest Monday

The local elimination contest for extemporaneous speakers was held at Central high school Monday morning. Sammie Henton won first place, George Eldridge won second, and Retha Lester won third. Others who entered the contest were Harvey Anderson, Sam Keith, and Ralph Irwin. One of the students who won first, second, and third places will be selected at a later date to represent Pampa in the county meet. The judges for the occasion were P. M. Bailey, Mrs. A. B. Kirby, and Mrs. M. P. Downs.

Wit and Humor

Bargain for only 5c-1c down and 1c a week. For sale: Freshman. Slightly used. Genuine black head with generous supply of rouge. References: expert gum chewer and paper wad shooter. Will consider wheelbarrow or 1915 model Ford in trade. See Freshman sponsors.

Don Z. (singing): Someone is losin' Suzan. Suzan is in choosin' me, Lewis F.: How could she?

Senior: Did you ever hear the story of the Window-pane. Fish: No. What is it? Senior: It's too dirty. I'm afraid you can't see through it.

Ruby Brown: Does skating require any particular application? Don Saulsbury: No. Arnica or horse liniment—one's as good as the other.

Don S.: I'm working hard so I can get ahead (a head). Mr. Dickey: You certainly need it.

Ruby B: Which is the most important? A man's wife or his trousers? Mary eBille F. Well, there are lots of places a man can go without his wife.

Lucille: You deceived me before I married you. You told me you were well off. Mr. Dickey: I was, but I didn't know it.

La Velle Meyer and Cintia Spurlock are so dumb they went to the stock yard Saturday trying to find the Saturday Evening Post to hitch their horses to.

Margaret Logan: How do you make a stove pipe? Ruth Weir: Take a hole and wrap a piece of tin around it.

The high school students may be bad, but they are not as bad as Mr. Campbell and the rest of men and women that went to Boston. Mr. Andrews has never had to stop them on the street as they go in a restaurant playing train.

Lamar School Notes

With the county meet only weeks away, the students who have entered contests in the Lamar school are beginning to round out their training for both athletic and literary events. A few students have been out of school for the past two or three weeks on account of sickness. Lamar school is 100 per cent for the court house removal to Pampa. We're also pulling for the new railroad. Quite a few pupils attended the play, "Les Miserables," at the Rex theatre Friday evening.

NOW BEAT McLEAN

Thus far, March has been a lucky month in the history of Pampa—a new Kell-Railroad and the Gray county seat! The Pampa schools have an opportunity to add another victory which is the Gray county championship. It is a well known fact that the McLean forces are being well-trained for the final clash, March 30 and 31. Their recent loss in the courthouse election has only aroused a stronger determination for victory. If we beat McLean, we must set our individual responsibility enough to take part in the fight. Remember, only trained men deserve to be victorious. Help put Pampa on the map! Let's beat McLean!

Rev. Evans Speaks Inspiringly on Power of Right Thinking

Rev. Evans of the Presbyterian church entertained the student body at chapel with a very helpful and inspiring talk. His subject was "The Power of Right Thinking." Some of the things he tried to impress were "as a man thinketh in his heart so is he." A character can not make a bright and successful career unless he concentrates and thinks deeply on the thing or course in life that he is going to choose. We must think to know which way we must lead our thoughts. Evil thinking is the wrong way to good living. He emphasized the need of concentration. The great men of today began to think and to concentrate when they were small boys upon the thing or profession they wished to follow. A person has to think to overcome difficulties. Thomas A. Edison, Charles Lindbergh, and many others succeeded by deep concentration. The whole of discontent is due to wrong thinking and a lack of ambition. The lower rounds are crowded but there is always room at the top. He closed his talk with these lines: "Think on the things that are clean pure, wholesome, and full of virtue! Mr. Fisher rendered two beautiful songs to the student body. "Out of the Dust to You," and "Sunrise and You."

PLAY IS SELECTED

The one-act play for the Interscholastic League Contest has been selected by Miss VeLora Reed, who is coach. The play is entitled "Grandma Pulls the String." The students chosen for the cast are: Mildred Fahy, Bob Kahl, Francis Campbell, Lucille Mooney, Lottie Schafer and Susie Bell Smalling.

SPANISH CLUB GROWS

The Spanish club met last Wednesday evening in the "Modern Tongues" room of the high school. Several members were pledged into the club. Those were Sam Keith, Evelyn Carter, Louise Smith, LeFors Doucette, Jewel Cox, Virginia McMillan and a few others.

Baker School Notes

B is for the beauty of our school, A is what we make if we don't fool. K means kind, and kind our teachers all are; if we try and try we get a star. E means every one of us keeps working. R means right we'll be if we don't shirk. Put them all together they spell Baker. The school that means the world to us. —Mrs. C. C. Cockerill.

Mrs. Cockerill's third grade is very busy making money for votes for our king, Victor Wade and queen, Evelyn Bicknell. They are making cook books and selling them for ten cents. Several children have returned after a long illness. They are welcomed back with great enthusiasm. Scott Mullins is back after an absence of two months.

The mothers of the first grade children are co-operating with the teachers of Baker school by helping to make the beautiful costumes that will be used in the coronation of the Baker school Queen on the night of March 22 in the high school auditorium. The teachers are very grateful for this help.

L. C. Bally, Jr., has returned to school and we are glad to see him back.

The Jitney Jungle Twins, Everett and Evelyn Woodward, are representing Mrs. Irwin's fourth grade as King and Queen.

If fourth grade children should ask you, For a vote, or two, or three, Please don't hesitate a minute; But empty your purse you see.

Just now we're coming towards the front, And all your help we need. Your money will not go astray, In Baker P. T. A. it'll stay.

Evelyn is a pretty girl, Everett is her twin, If we can place them on the throne, A holiday we'll win.

Mrs. W. M. Gould Now Is Head of Home Ec. Work

Mrs. W. M. Gould has succeeded Miss Harriet Rieves as the head of the Home Economics Department. It is believed that Mrs. Gould will be very competent if she does not let her home duties interfere with her school work. Mrs. Gould is very similar to Miss Rieves. The main feature of the similarity is that both have bright golden hair. In fact, they look decidedly alike and have very similar methods of teaching. Except for the fact that Mrs. Gould has a preoccupied and grown-up air, they are, indeed, very similar. In fact, they are one and the same, although their names are different.

Miss Harriet Rieves was married to W. M. Gould last Saturday at Weatherford, where the parents of the former Miss Rieves reside. They had a church wedding with all the trimmings—bridesmaids, flower girls, a best man. Miss Rieves left Pampa for Weatherford on Tuesday, March 6. She returned last Sunday, in time to resume teaching at the high school Monday.

more exciting every day. Some of the rooms are boasting of 1,800 votes already, and are expecting to sell tickets for the program to be given March 22 and get many more votes. The contest will close Monday, March 19, at four o'clock. If the children come to you with tickets, be sure to buy them before 4 o'clock Monday as it will count on the votes for the queen.

And don't forget that the queen will be crowned with a beautiful program in the high school auditorium March 22. Admission is 35c. Buy your ticket soon from the children of Baker school. The three rooms leading in the beauty contest are:

Miss Helen Anderson (Third Grade) 1,770. Mrs. Sam Irwin (Fourth Grade) 1,537. Miss Lucy Noble (First Grade) 1,526.

The Baker teachers and fourth and fifth grade pupils have missed Mrs. Stout for a long time. She is in the Pampa hospital recuperating from a major operation.

Rev. Joseph Strother, educational director of the Methodist church is assisting with the school work of Baker school during Mrs. Stout's absence.

At a faculty meeting of Baker teachers last week, red and white were decided upon as Baker colors.

Miss Marie Croft, head of the music department of Ginn and Co., Dallas, Texas, visited music classes of Baker school Monday morning.

Dee Blythe and Lewis Fogleman in Essay Contest Tie

The fifth essay contest was conducted Wednesday morning. Up to now, Dee Blythe and Lewis Fogleman have tied with a score of 2 and 2. The decision if the last contest will determine the Pampa representative in the Gray county meet, March 30. Both boys have put up a brave fight; and with the decision of each contest they have shown added interest and determination to win. Both boys rank high in scholarship in Central high. The Junior class is proud of two such members.

Central Ward News

The children in the first four grades enjoyed their Tuesday morning chapel period, March 13. "America" was sung, followed by prayer by Mr. Campbell, after which the children in Mrs. Daniels' room rendered a health song, dedicated to Mrs. Hicks, our health instructor. Mrs. Loftus delighted the children with three readings, and Mr. Campbell told, in an interesting way, many things about his Boston trip; and the little folks are still talking about the things he saw there.

The children repeated in concert the poem, "Who Has Seen the Wind?" The children and teachers, including Mr. Campbell, wish to thank the many kind friends who helped make this chapel period a "pleasure period" as well as an "instructive period" for us. At our last meeting, Mrs. Hughey read a wonderful fairy story to the children which they enjoyed very much. Mrs. Hicks takes charge of the children after the programs close and gives the health lessons in various forms. Little hands applaud as soon as she steps upon the stage. The order throughout it wonderful and one would think these little folks were real "grown ups," conducting their chapel exercises as such.

MANY THANKS

The girls wish to thank Henry Reynolds and Earl McConnell for putting the volley ball court in order. Mr. Lester and his boys are always ready to look after the needs of all student activities.

Mrs. Gould, formerly Miss Harriet Rieves, was absent last week, preparatory to her wedding, March 10.

Tobaccos..... Blend..... Taste..... ALWAYS THE SAME! CHESTERFIELD CIGARETTES. WE STATE it as our honest belief that the tobaccos used in Chesterfield cigarettes are of finer quality and hence of better taste than in any other cigarette at the price. They're MILD. CHESTERFIELD CIGARETTES and yet they SATISFY.

GIRL ASKS SPANKING
KANSAS CITY, March 15—(AP)—Lo-rene Jones got another spanking. It was with the palm of her mother's hand this time, and there were no hard feelings. In fact, Lorene said, she deserved it.

Lorene, 16-year-old high school girl returned home last night after a week of absence, during which the omther Mrs. Christine Woodside, 34, former carnival snake charmer and lion tamer, was prosecuted for whipping Lorene with a wooden coat hanger and spent a night in jail for refusal to pay a $100 fine.

The girl and her mother were in agreement over the latest spanking.

COLUMBIA, Mo., March 15—(AP)—John D. Johnson, 22, of Marshall a law student in the University of Missouri died here today of injuries suffered last Thursday night when he thrust Miss Jo Bettis of Chickasha, Okla., from the path of a truck which struck him. He was a son of R. D. Johnson, prosecuting attorney of Sate county.

PARIS—(AP)—Yachting inspires many of the prettiest sport clothes of spring, resulting in frequent blue and white costumes. This navy blue jacket and white silk dress bound with navy blue, are from Molyneux's collection.

Amusements

"WIFE SAVERS."

An entire French village as constructed by Paramount for exterior scenes of "Wife Savers," the Wallace Beery-Raymond Hatton comedy at the Rex Theatre tomorrow.

Springing up under the saws and hammers of an army of workmen, the village at the Paramount ranch in North Hollywood included residences, shops, an inn, a ruined chateau, a military encampment and a railroad station.

Raugh Oedar directed the production and the supporting cast includes Ford Sterling, ZaSu Pitts, Sally Blane, Tom Kennedy, August Tollaie and George Harvey.

"VERY CONFIDENTIAL."

James Tinling, a new director for Fox Films, has contributed one of the best pictures of the year in "Very Confidential," starring Madge Bellamy at the Crescent Theatre today. Miss Bellamy fairly sparkles in this comedy-drama by James K. McGuinness and Randall H. Faye. She wears magnificent costumes and her rare beauty has never been seen here to better advantage. The camera effects are striking. The story is full of laughs and thrills. On the whole, a very deserving vehicle, and one that will please mother, father and all the children.

The comparatively short route across the "top of the world" from America to Europe is the course to be flown by Bert Hassell (right), of Rockford Ill. Some time in June he is to take off from his home town on a one-stop flight to Stockholm, Sweden. He will fly across Ontario, pass the tip of the Hudson Bay, thence to Greenland, where he will land. The second hop will be across Iceland and on to the Scandinavian peninsula. Aeronautical authorities say the trip is not hazardous since the longest of the three ocean jumps will be only 528 miles. Hassell's course is traced on the map at the top. The University of Michigan's Greenland expedition now in the arctic has made arrangements for his landing and refueling there.

New Grocery to Have Opening on March 16 and 17

Barnes and Hastings, successors to Woodward-Lane Grocery company, will officially celebrate the opening of their new branch store in Pampa Friday and Saturday. The local store is in charge of J. W. Brumley, who has been connected with the Woodward-Lane company for many years.

The staff formerly with the original owners will be retained. V. L. Tveer will also continue to operate the butcher shop in connection with the grocery business.

A feature of the new store is the unique window display of vegetables and fruits, the first of its kind to be introduced in Pampa. It was planned and built by Ben White, who has been connected with the Woodward-Lane company for many years.

New fixtures, floors, and equipment were installed during the remodeling of the store. The work was done by W. G. Martin, local building contractor.

THE SMILE IN YOUR VOICE
 Keep the smile in your voice As the day wears through. For others have problems As well as do you. It may be their worries Have caused their upset, Keep the smile in your voice, And you'll never regret.
 Keep the smile in your voice Though the world looks awry, And it seems all the storm clouds Have massed in your sky.
 Make your own silver lining To lighten the gloom; Keep the smile in your voice, And 'twill brighten your room.
 Keep the smile in your voice: See the grouches you kill With a soft word and cheerful, Brought out by your will. In atmosphere cheering, The grouches won't live. Keep the smile in your voice! Watch the pleasure you give.

Altar Society of Catholic Church Meets Wednesday

The Altar Society of the Catholic church met Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. A. R. Sawyer, with Mrs. J. Fry as hostess. In the absence of Mrs. A. B. Zahn and Mrs. Lynn Boyd, Mrs. H. G. Myers, and Mrs. G. E. Wolfe, presided as president and secretary.

A general meeting was conducted Mrs. C. E. Oswald, and Mrs. W. J. Smith of Pampa, and Miss Betty Reynolds and Mrs. N. J. Warminski of White Deer were guests of the society.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. A. R. Sawyer, with Mrs. W. T. West, as hostess.

Baptist Circles Continue Study of "The Life Beautiful"

Circle two of the Baptist W. M. U met Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Homer Taylor with ten members and one visitor present. A devotional was led by Mrs. H. Phillips who used the fifth chapter of first Corinthians. A lesson in "Life Beautiful" was the subject of discussion. A special offering was taken for the benefit of the home-missionary. During the social hour, a delicious refreshment course was served.

Circle Three met in the home of Mrs. Gilbert with twelve members and one visitor present, in a study of the sixth chapter of the "Life Beautiful." Delicious refreshments were enjoyed during the hour.

All the circles will meet next Wednesday in the regular general meeting at the church.

Baker School P.-T. A. Meets Tuesday Eve With Large Attendance

The Baker P.-T. A. met Tuesday evening at the Baker school with a large attendance of fathers and mothers. The business session consisted of talks about the trees for Baker campus, census taking and the Beauty contest.

After the business session, the king and queen from each room was presented in a novel way. Much interest was shown in the beauty contest, many buying their tickets before they left.

All the children of Baker school are selling tickets for their program of March 22. As these tickets will apply to votes, each room is eager to sell the most.

First Meeting of Royal Neighbors Is Held Tuesday

The first meeting of Royal Neighbors of America, a fraternal order, was held Tuesday evening in the I. O. O. F. hall with several members present. An election of officers was held and a motion carried for a called meeting to be held on next Tuesday evening, March 20. At this time the full membership of the camp is desired.

This is by no means a new organization in Pampa, as the charter dates back to 1910 and several of the charter members are taking an active part in its reorganization. "Forward" is in-pa's new slogan. "Forward" has inspired even the lodges to come forward, and keep the pace. The purpose of this lodge is to build up a camp here that will be an honor to the city.

W. M. Blake, and C. Gotschall of Amarillo, insurance men, are here today making arrangements to open a local office.
