Wage Increase of From 10 to 18 Per Cent Being Asked

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 14.—(P)—Sectional meetings were called today to distribute strike ballots to approximately 70,000 employes of western railroads. Wage disputes between the roads and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors precipitated the action.

A. P. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said the ballots would be distributed today by 90 general chairmen of the two brotherhoods meeting with their committees throughout the West. The election will be announced September 2.

About 80 railroads owning approximately 98 per cent of the mileage west of Chicago are involved. Wage differences have been settled by arbitration in the East and South.

As a result of failure of recent efforts to settle the wage question by arbitration in the western states, the balloting will be on the original demands of the unions for increases ranging from 10 per cent for yardmen to 18 per cent for trainmen and conductors, Whitney said.

The labor organizations recently rejected an offer of a 7-1-2 per cent increase because the union insisted on retaining existing working rules which the western roads wished to abolish. Among the rules in dispute were those governing the restrictions on the use of two locomotives and the number of cars to be pulled by two engines.

The 7-1-2 per cent offer was made following conferences at Chicago between representatives of the union, the roads and John Williams of the federal board of mediation. This increase was satisfactory to the labor organizations, but they contended the working conditions were more important and negotiations were dropped.

Among the more important of the 80 western roads involved are the Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Atchinson, Topeka and Santa Fe, Rock Island, Chicago and Northwestern, Burlington, Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, Denver and Rio Grande, Great Northern, Northern Pacific and the St. Louis and San Francisco.

Manager of Filling Station at Houston Is Shot to Death

HOUSTON, Aug. 14.—(P)—A. C. Hough, 70, filling station manager, was shot and killed here early today. Hough's body was found in a chair at the station. The man had been shot once.

C. Fosse, night watchman in the vicinity, heard a single shot and ran to the filling station. He found Hough in the chair, and called police Fosse told officers that just before he reached the filling station he saw two youths rush out of the place.

The officers theory was that Hough was shot when he resisted the youths as they attempted to rob him.

Cary Appointed Justice in Place of I. S. Jameson

The county commissioners in regular session at the court house yesterday afternoon accepted the resignation of I. S. Jameson as justice of the peace. C. E. Cary, successful candidate in the recent Democratic primary over the retiring office holder and J. L. Noel, was appointed to take the office.

The duly appointed officer took over his duties this morning and dispensed with a small docket of county cases.

C. E. Cary has been a resident of this city for more than 23 years and is well known over the county. In former years he was manager of the Pampa Grain company and later was connected with a hardware and implement company here.

Before moving to Pampa the new justice of the peace taught school in different institutions in Texas, New Mexico and Louisiana. He taught three years in the Philippines and is a charter member of the American Legion and 40 and 8.

The retired office holder has been a resident of Pampa for the last seventeen years. He filled the office of justice of the peace for the last four years. Mr. Jameson, better known as "Colonel", is one of the best known auctioneers in this part of the Panhandle.

He is now connected with the Thut-Saunders Studebaker company as chief general salesman.

CONFESSES WHEN HE SEES GUNS

Evanston Jail Guarded As Big Crowd Gathers

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—(P)—Evanston police today wrote "solved" across the case of Jennie Meta Constance, slain near Northwestern university campus last Tuesday night.

David Shanks, young Negro bootblack was held as the slayer of the 42-year-old English teacher. Police said he had made a confession.

Robbery was the motive Shanks gave when police asked him why he had struck down Miss Constance shortly after she started down a dark street from the University library.

"All I get for shining shoes is tips," he told officers, "and that's about $2 a week. That ain't enough, and that's why I set out to rob some woman last Tuesday night. I guess it wasn't worth while, for all I got was a wrist watch that I sold for $1.19"

It was the watch that led the police to Shanks. A jeweler notified police a wrist watch had been brought to him for removal of the initials "J. M. C." Officers were waiting last night when Lebart Bastian, a youth whose father operates an Evanston shoe shine parlor, called for the timepiece. Bastian told of buying the watch for $1.19 from Shanks, whom his father employed.

Shanks was arrested as he was polishing a customer's boots.

"Where did you get this watch?" one of the officers demanded, while others covered Shanks with revolvers.

"Don't shoot," the negro cried. "I done it. I killed her."

Following the negro's arrest and statement, he was taken secretly from the North Side suburb but later brought back after a strong guard had been placed about the Evanston jail. A threatening crowd of about 1,300 persons had gathered about the jail earlier in the evening.

Sign Boards Must Be Removed From Streets and Walks

A city ordinance, forbidding the maintenance or erection of sign boards on the placing of signs on any street, avenue or alley in the city of Pampa, was passed last night at a regular meeting of the city commission.

This will mean that all sign boards now placed on the sidewalks will have to be removed. The commission in taking steps to pass the ordinance considered the increased business activity on the main streets of the city and also the disorderly appearance the signs gave the streets.

PAMPA LINES IN BUS HEARING

Railroad Commission to Have Busy Week In Amarillo

AUSTIN, Aug. 14.—(P)—Nine motor bus regulation cases set today for hearing at Amarillo September 3, will cause a busy week in that city for the state railroad commission.

On September 4, the commission will hold a hearing on the question of whether the Fort Worth and Denver railroad division shops shall be moved to Amarillo.

After a hearing the next day, September 5, on about two dozen clearance law cases arising at various Panhandle points on the Santa Fe railroad, the commission will go into conference September 6 with commissions, motor bus directors, and but line operators of six other states on means of regulating interstate bus traffic in the absence of federal laws, and on a program of federal legislation to be recommended to congressional representatives.

The Texline shop question is one of long-standing. A ruling some time ago from the attorney general department held that the railroad must get permission from the commission.

Some effort may be made to work out a system of reciprocity between adjacent states in the granting or denial of permits covering their respective intrastate portions of interstate lines. Under court rulings, a state cannot refuse a permit for purely interstate business, but a bus line would come under jurisdiction of any state or states in which it proposed to do intrastate business.

States besides Texas in the conference will be Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, Colorado, New Mexico, and Arizona. The Texas commission called the conference Monday after correspondence with the other commissions.

Three of the nine bus cases set for September 3 at Amarillo involve new applications for permits to operate as follows:

J. W. Chamberlin, from McLean to Pampa; W. C. Bird, from Pampa to Wheeler; Wheeler and Shamrock into Oklahoma; Ed January, from Amarillo interstate into Oklahoma.

The cases are resetting of postponed cases as follows: Ed C. Abbott to operate from Idalou to Floydada; G. C. Abbott to extend a run from Levelland to Roswell; N. M., John H. Prince to buy Frank Varner's interest in the Safety First Stage Lines; the Safety First to buy out C. W. Abbott's run from Amarillo to Spearman by way of

Veteran Campaigner Says State Group Is Not Consistent

DALLAS, Aug. 14.—(P)—State Senator Thomas E. Love of Dallas today announced his withdrawal from the race for Lieutenant-governor of Texas. In announcing his withdrawal he said that he believed it impossible that he could overcome the substantial lead of his opponent, Lieutenant Governor Barry E. Miller, and obtain a majority of votes in the run-off primary.

An avowed opponent of Governor Alfred E. Smith the Democratic presidential nominee, Senator Love had been the storm center of a political row for several months as the result of the action of six counties in the state removing his name from the ballot in the first Democratic primary. Senator Love's statement, in part, follows:

"Because I believe that I can best serve the cause of good government in Texas by following that course, I have withdrawn my name as a candidate for DALLAS, Aug. 14.—(P)—Lieut. Governor Barry Miller declined today to comment upon the withdrawal of State Senator Thomas B. Love as his opponent in the second Democratic primary.

"I have not seen Senator Love's statement," he said. "I have nothing to say at this time and probably will not have."

Lieutenant-governor. Looking squarely at all phases of the situation I do believe it most improbable that I can overcome the substantial lead of my opponent and obtain a majority of the votes in the run-off primary, that would further continue the contest, would serve no useful purpose but would result in a waste of time and effort and zeal on the part of my friends throughout the state, which ought to be conserved and utilized in defeating Al Smith in November. I want to see all the forces of good government consolidated and concentrated on this objective as effectively and as speedily as possible."

"The grounds upon which my view of the situation is based are as follows:

"The Democratic state executive committee yesterday changed the rules in the middle of the game. For a quarter of a century the law of Texas, and the Democratic practice has provided, as it still provides, that a qualified voter taking the statutory pledge can vote in a Democratic primary election for state and local officers without pledging himself to support the Democratic presidential nominee. This law passed in the legislature of 1907 was designed to permit those unwilling to support Democratic presidential candidates to vote in Democratic primaries for state and local officers, as E. G. Senter, who wrote the law, has publicly stated and as those of us who were in the legislature and helped to pass it will recall.

"It is also the intent and effect of this law, and has been the practice, that each voter in a Democratic primary election taking the pledge should construe the pledge for himself, in the light of his own conscience. Our appellate courts have held this to be the law. Yet, on Monday the state executive committee undertook to construe

Seminole Gains But West Texas Is In Large Decline

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 14.—(P)—Seminole has stopped its decline and returned to the gain column, and the St. Louis-Pearson fields of Oklahoma had a substantial gain during the week ending August 11. Losses in the West Texas, California, and other fields offset these gains with the result that estimated daily average production of crude oil in the United States decreased 14,291 barrels during the week, according to the current issue of the Oil and Gas Journal.

Total daily production in Oklahoma during the week increased from 592,180 barrels to 604,825 barrels. The bulk of this gain was in the St. Louis-Pearson area, which registered an increase of nearly 11,000 barrels. Seminole production increased about 3,000 barrels but other state fields either suffered declines or remained steady.

Both the Hendricks and Yates areas, leading centers of production in the West Texas fields, slumped during the week. The total decline in this area was about 18,000 barrels.

Gulf coast production dropped off about 3,000 barrels and California production of light crude was off about 4,000 barrels. Most of the other fields of the nation remained practically steady, the production in a few of them varying more than a few hundred barrels either way.

Plains Ginners Are Opposed to Pending Bill in Congress

LUBBOCK, Aug. 14.—(P)—A resolution strongly opposing passage of a bill in Congress which would require ginners to mark the net and tare weight on bales of cotton was passed at the meeting of the Plains Ginners' association here yesterday. Other ginners over the country are fighting the bill which, they say would necessitate a higher ginning cost.

More than 200 ginners from 17 south plains counties attended the meeting. The program consisted of talks regarding the ginning business.

Merit Is Noticed

Before leaving after the Legion closed, many visitors called at The News office and asked this newspaper to convey their appreciation and congratulations to Pampa as an entertainer.

It was not the expenditure of big sums that impressed the visitors, but the evident genuineness of the welcome they received here. Their first impression of Pampa was that for its size it outranked anything ever seen in the completeness of decorations. Next copies of The News placed in the hands of each delegate reflected interest in and cooperation with the Legion on the part of The Newspaper of the New Pampa.

The Legion has achieved a place as a civic influence. Its purposes and activities do not differ widely from the Lions, Rotary, and similar clubs, and its inter-relationships and international connections provide power for big deeds.

The New Pampa has made a fine start as a convention city. We must continue to show the genuineness of our welcome and the spontaneity of our handshakes.

Movies by radio can be enjoyed at home in the near future, says a Westinghouse expert. At least somebody has found the solution for the man who reads the subtitles out loud.

Service by Merger

Mounting production costs are affecting the newspaper equally as strongly as other business institutions. Overhead expenses in the publishing business are unusually great. A skilled profession, it demands payrolls well above that of the average business.

To maintain duplicate plants doing the same type of work is not economically sound, and, furthermore, tends to cut down the quality of output to below that which a single plant, with better facilities, could achieve.

Newspaper consolidations are taking place over the country to the betterment of the communities served. Recently the Childress Index and Post were merged and now the Daily Index is giving Childress and territory a newspaper such as they did not realize could exist there.

The latest merger is at a nearby city, Memphis, where the Democrat has purchased the Hall County Herald. The Herald had been in Memphis 40 years, but modern conditions made it imperative to eliminate double plants and corresponding increased costs.

Earl C. Johnson, in his farewell to Hall County people, said in The Herald:

"We have for some time felt that the field for two papers was limited in this city, so, when the opportunity presented itself to enter a new and growing field, we took advantage of the opportunity to dispose of our interests here to the new owners."

The new owners, the well known J. C. and Deskins Wells, said in comment upon the purchase:

"The merger not only brings two growing newspapers under one management, but makes it possible for Memphis to have semi-weekly news service. Heretofore, both papers have been issued on Thursday and duplication of news to a great extent was inevitable."

CAPITOL News

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14—Herbert Hoover's speech of acceptance, addressed to the American people, may be epitomized in a few words which give the essence of the Republican appeal for votes this year and indicate the nature of the appeal to be made by the Democrats.

It was a conservative speech, eminently safe and sane. It had to be, Hoover was congratulating the voters on their judgment in the election of 1920. His was the voice of the party—the voice of the poker player who has nearly all the chips in front of him and is content to make no large rash bets.

"After eight years of Republicanism," he said in effect, "you are happy and prosperous. The farmer isn't as prosperous as the rest of us, but we'll take care of him all right. The next Republican administration is going to be bigger and better than ever and we're all going to be happier and more prosperous. You know you can trust us. Don't listen to those Democrats. You can't trust them as you can trust us."

Assuming that there is no wide discontent among us and assuming that the hope of adding a glass of beer to the other blessings enumerated by Mr. Hoover does not sway an unexpectedly large section of the electorate, it becomes obvious that the G. O. P. position is strong. Perhaps the Democrats would have made just as good a record and we would all have had jobs and made just as much money, but where is a really cogent argument for a change? It simply must be produced if Smith is to reduce the odds against him. How to convince us that we will, in some way or other, be better off under the Democracy?

Two issues, after Hoover's speech, continue to stand out importantly: farm relief and prohibition. On these two issues, each party is divided. On neither can either candidate point to an impressive record. Here again enters the offensive and defensive strategy forced respectively on Democrats and Republicans. Both Smith and Hoover can make promises, but Smith is also in a position to attack.

As for prohibition, Hoover promises honest enforcement; Smith promises to try to obtain modification of the law. On agriculture, both promise better times for the farmers, but it is up to Smith to make the more alluring promises. In both cases, however, Smith is able to attack the opposition party on the basis of its record.

Whether Hoover might consent to some mild sort of Volstead Act modification is still not quite clear. "Grave abuses have occurred which must be remedied," he said. Whether he meant abuse in the law's enforcement or abuse of the law through violation may be a point of argument. But the most that any wet can wring from his speech is the possibility that Hoover might not object to a more liberal

Interpretation of "intoxicating" than is contained in the present half-of-one-per cent limit of alcohol in beverages. There is no nourishment for the wets in the fact that he pointed out that the Constitution might be altered in the constitutional way. A small minority can block that.

One hardly expected to find unusual frankness in such a speech, but Hoover displayed a certain straightforwardness that is not to be found among the Fesses, Smoots and Bingham of his party. He admitted that there had been corruption—in both parties. He attributed our economic progress in the last eight years to his party more by implication than by inference.

Cardinals Call For Farmed Out Pitching Material

(By The Associated Press)

Following the example set by the New York Yankees, their prospective world's series rivals, the St. Louis Cardinals, in a slump and well aware of that fact, have sent out a call for assistance.

The Yanks, after a disastrous western trip, recovered their normal winning form almost simultaneously with the arrival of Fred Heimach, pitcher from St. Paul.

Now the Cardinals plan to bring new faces into their lineup in an effort to protect the slim two and a half game lead they hold over the New York Giants. Club officials, including president Sam Breadon and Manager Bill McKechnie, announced yesterday that outstanding players on Cardinal "farms" in the minors would be recalled.

Only one game was played in the National circuit, Kremer, pitching the Pirates to an easy victory over the slipping Brooklyn Dodgers.

In the American league the idle Yankees saw Philadelphia shave another half game off their lead when Grove beat the Tigers, 7 to 1.

In the only other major league conflict of the day Ed Morris registered his 15th triumph of the season when he pitched the Boston Red Sox to a 2 to 0 win over the Cleveland Indians.

Fourth Hurricane Force as It Moves Toward Florida

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 14.—(P)—The fourth tropical disturbance within a week was gathering force in the Caribbean today as it swept toward Cuba while the Florida people grappled with the destruction and dangers left in the wake of its predecessors.

The west coast of the state was recovering from effects of a gale which swept by northward last night although the fate of two or more vessels whose distress flares were sighted at St. Petersburg was not determined.

On the east coast, the Lake Okechobee region, west of Palm Beach, was sending out calls to the national Red Cross for aid in caring for several hundred persons left destitute by the flood aftermath of the first hurricane which roared in from the Atlantic a week ago today.

Victory of English Nobleman Was a Popular One

TOM HEENEY AND HIS BRIDE

In this corner, ladies and gentlemen, we have Mr. and Mrs. Tom Heene. You may remember Tom as the Australian "Hard Rock" who cracked under the fistfuls of Champion Gene Tunney at Yankee Stadium. But there were no spectators, nor even a radio hook-up when the knockout came in the Cupid-Heeney bout. Tom and Miss Marion Dunn, of Port Washington, Long Island, were secretly married, and this picture shows them in a New York hotel when they first consented to pose for photographers.

Exultant Spudders Defeat Houston by 11 to 2 Score

Mighty bats in hands of a team exultant with a six-game lead over the Texas league baseball beat Houston, 11 to 2, yesterday.

As the Spuds took their fifteenth straight contest, and swept the four-game series with the Buffs, speculation arose as to whether St. Louis' announced call to win deprive Houston of any of its aces.

Whether the shadow cast over the Buffalos will deepen into certain ill fortune for its pennant hopes remained uncertain but belief was that if anybody has to go it will be Pitcher Hallman.

Turo, pitching for Waco, strangled the Dallas Steers and the Cubs won, 7 to 0.

Beaumont beat Fort Worth, 7 to 4, after the Panther hurler Goff, was driven out in the fourth.

In only one inning did Sheumann, working for the Bears, escape without a lot of hard hitting meeting his stuff the boys of Shreveport, who won 5 to 2.

Smith's Speech, Now Complete, to Touch All Major Issues

ALBANY, Aug. 14.—(P)—Governor Smith had at least one important campaign task off his mind today—completion of his speech of acceptance to be delivered a week from tomorrow.

After winding up a long conference farm leaders, the Democratic presidential nominee last night put the finishing touches on the address, and cleared the way for a series of conferences today with party leaders, two of whom were pre-convention opponents.

Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, who had an important part in drawing up the law enforcement plank, heads the list of prominent Democrats Smith has invited here to talk over the situation. He was due in Albany today, Josephus Daniels will arrive tomorrow, to be followed by Senator George of Georgia of Thursday and Senator Walsh of Montana on Friday. All are avowed drys.

Clean-Cut Issue Between Japan and China Now Exist

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Aug. 14.—(P)—The present controversy over Manchuria between Japan and the Nationalist government of China eventually will mean a reopening of Sino-Japanese relations since 1896, C. Bronson Rea, publisher of the Far Eastern Review of Shanghai, told a round table group at the Institute of Politics today.

"The Manchurian problem is simply this," Mr. Rea said, "China insists that the 1915 treaties are invalid because they were extracted and signed under duress. The question was fully threshed out at the Washington conference, where Japan refused to admit the Chinese contention and China reserved to herself the right to reopen the issue on all future appropriate occasions. On the expiration of the original Liaotung lease in 1923, China officially notified Japan to get out and early this year she again protested against the proposed Morgan loan to the South Manchuria railway on the ground that the 1915 treaty was invalid. A very clear cut issue therefore exists.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Davis and daughter, Miss Mabel, returned Saturday night from a two-week vacation trip to New Mexico.

Brooklyn Baseball Fans Would Oust Wilbert Robinson

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—(P)—Over Brooklyn-way, they're gunning for Wilbert Robinson, portly manager of the Brooklyn Robins for the last 14 years.

A well-developed move to oust Robinson from the pilot-seat at the end of the 1929 season when his contract expires, is under way and behind the move, according to reliable authority, is Stephen W. McKeever, vice-president and treasurer of the club.

McKeever says his effort to remove Robinson is being made as a result of a deluge of letters from Brooklyn fans protesting against Uncle Wilbert's handling of the Robins this year.

32 Women Paired For Chicago Golf

INDIAN HILL CLUB, Chicago, Aug. 14.—(P)—Safely past the qualifying barrier, which always takes its toll of one or two golfing geniuses, 32 women continued their quest for the annual women's western golf championship over the heavily wooded and trapped Hill course today. Today's play was programmed for the 18-hole match variety with most of the favorites paired with normally easy but at times sensational players.

Heading the list of qualifiers was Miss Dorothy Page of Madison, Wis., who captured medalist honors yesterday with a 77 or four under par for the 6,420-yard course.

Many Persons of India in Path of Hugh Water Fall

LONDON, Aug. 14.—(P)—Loosed by the bursting of a glacial dam in Kashmir, India, 17,000 feet above the sea, twenty million tons of water is rushing upon the valley of the Indus. Bonfires blazed on the peaks in that "land of the sky" gave warning to those in the path of the torrent when the glacier, which had been storing up waters for two years, gave way. Cannon were also fired by men posted along the gorges to signal the flood as it approached. British officials, however, have grave anxiety for the safety of the people despite these elaborate preparations.

Labor Bureau Is Preparing to Direct 400,000 Pickers

FORT WORTH, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Preparations for handling 400,000 cotton pickers in Texas fields were made Tuesday by C. W. Woodman, assistant director of the farm division of the United States department of Labor, with headquarters here.

Only two counties north of San Antonio have issued calls for pickers, but with present weather conditions prevailing, Woodman expects that Central Texas fields will be ready soon. One thousand workers are needed at once in Tusk and Kaufman counties.

Lower counties of West Texas probably will be ready soon for picking and northern counties of that section about October 14, Woodman believes.

Bloodshed Follows Yugoslav Session

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Aug. 14.—(AP)—Two important incidents marked the past day's events in Yugoslavia.

Bloodshed followed the choosing of a successor to Stefan Raditch, noted Croat leader, and parliament accepted the Nettuno convention which in the past has been the occasion of violent anti-Italian demonstrations.

Meetings in Zagreb with their Democratic allies, the Croats decided that Raditch would be continued as president of the party despite his death with Dr. Vlacko Matehek as his active proxy. Dr. Matehek belongs to the school favoring complete autonomy for Croatia and is an irreconcilable enemy of the recently formed government headed by Father Anton Korosech.

Rev. Straton Charges Liquor Interests in Plot Against Him

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—(AP)—A dispatch to the New York Evening Post from Greenwood Lake, N. Y., today quoted the Rev. John Roach Straton as saying that "liquor interests" seeking to embarrass him in his controversy with Governor Smith may have been back of the reported sale of liquor in a hotel recently acquired by the minister.

"The liquor interests may have put the proprietor of the hotel up to this because of my discussion with Governor Smith," the pastor of Calvary church was quoted.

"If this is so, it is a clever conspiracy."

Alabama To Decide If World Of Infidel Is Good in Court

By NEA Service
DECATUR, Ala., Aug. 14.—Is the lack of faith in a Divine Being sufficient grounds on which to determine whether or not a man's evidence in a court of law is to be believed?

This novel question has been raised by J. N. Powell, Morgan county attorney and member of the Methodist church, in an appeal to the Alabama supreme court from the conviction of Mrs. Emma Marshall on a charge of murdering her husband, Thomas Marshall.

At the trial, the state produced evidence tending to show that Marshall, when he was found by neighbors at his home, suffering from a pistol wound in his abdomen, accused Mrs. Marshall of having shot him.

In addition to attacking the admissibility of this evidence on the grounds that Marshall, being asleep at the time, the defense attempted to impeach his statement by declaring he was an infidel.

The Morgan county circuit court, however, declined to admit the introduction of the religious issue and the counsel for the defense now has incorporated that phase of the case into the appeal to the supreme court.

Attorney Powell, in appealing the case, declared that the law permits the accused to show, by way of impeachment, that the declarant "was without an enlightened conscience, or a deep sense of accountability to his Maker." The defense counsel further claims that in the absence of fear of final retribution, that it cannot be said that solemnity of the occasion surrounding a dying statement cannot be called the equivalent of an oath.

A person without belief in God possibly would as soon make an untrue statement on the eve of death as upon any other occasion, the defense contends.

OUSTED DELEGATE MAKES ATTACK ON AL SMITH

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 14.—(AP)—The Rev. J. C. Everett of San Antonio, who was removed from the state Democratic executive committee because he would not promise to vote for Governor Alfred E. At the conclusion of his address that body passed a strong resolution endorsing the Republican nominee.
