NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC
Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing, or reputation of any individual, firm, concern, or corporation that may appear in the columns of the Pampa Daily News will be gladly corrected when called to the attention of the editor. It is not the intention of this newspaper to induce any libelous, defamatory, or otherwise unwarranted statements to be made, when warranted, as prominently as was the wrongfully published reference or article.

HOW BIG can the Pampa fair be made during the first year of its revival?

Fairs grow, of course, especially in patronage of the territories they serve. But there is no reason why the Pampa fair cannot, this year, rank well with the other small fairs of the state.

It appears to The News that an industrial fair in connection would be both interesting and highly instructive. The manufactures of the Panhandle are surprising in quantity and variety.

Let's get behind the fair and help the committee in every way possible.

For Old Fort Elliott

Within an hour's drive of Pampa is the point of origin of things Panhandle. We refer to Mobeetie and Old Fort Elliott. On June 6 and 7 the annual Fort Elliott picnic and barbecue will be held.

Two types of people get much pleasure out of this celebration—those who are themselves pioneers, and those who are interested in the oddities and their work. This celebration should become one of the outstanding reunion events of West Texas, and in the near future the site of the old fort should be fittingly marked.

Are Taxes Worthwhile?

Taxes, as investments in government—much of which is education—are not the bugaboos some people imagine. Many spend more for tobacco, or other minor essentials, than for taxes. It is not so much that taxes are high, but that incomes are so low.

Texas have been too much on property values and too little on the more lucrative enterprises. The straight ad valorem tax falls wide of the mark, but it is easily collected and falls hardest upon those who are least able to fight for something different.

Much is heard of California taxation. Yet California is seeking still better methods. The California Tax Commission is collecting and coordinating data on every phase. The final report will be the basis for any changes to be made by the 1929 Legislature. California's method is peculiar in that nearly all taxes levied directly upon the individual go toward the support of municipal and county governments, and the state government is almost wholly supported by taxes upon the gross receipts of public utilities.

Texas, whose divergent sections have individual problems, has not yet even broken the ground for the tax reforms which must be brought about.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—Stories having been written about what the Senate looked like in all-night filibuster session, one suspects it may also be interesting to describe its appearance in the daytime toward the close of the session.

Senator William Cabell Bruce is speaking as your correspondent, in the role of tourist, enters the press gallery. Senator Bruce doesn't exactly speak. He sputters, with a pause between every two or three words. It is as if he feels that having lost valuable time on each pause it's up to him to get out the next couple words rapidly to make up.

One's eye soon spots Tom Heflin of Alabama because Tom is wearing a yellow cream summer suit, with yellow shoes. The other day, after one of his daily anti-Catholic speeches a correspondent wrote that he had appeared wearing the papal colors with his face a cardinal red! He seems sunburned. Big flat black bow tie, nose glasses on a long shoestring and a masonic emblem are part of his makeup. His desk is piled a foot high with letters and papers.

Toward the rear is another voluble, Cole Blease, sometimes called Coal Blaze, of South Carolina, who always wears a pearl gray suit matching his hair, mustache and bow tie. His creamy shirt shows to his belt line.

Jim Reed of Missouri, listening to Bruce attack his Mississippi barge proposals, sits cross-legged, wedged back into a corner of his chair and an arm over the back of it. Rather sad and serious, Jir looks. Beneath his silvery hair are his ruddy face, a baby blue tie and shirt of like color, but a white soft collar. As usual, he wears a gray tweed suit—and chews tobacco.

Senators Swanson and Glass of Virginia sit side by side, chinning Swanson, with gold-rimmed nose glasses, large watch chain across his tummy and drooping mustachios resembles a middle-aged horse doctor. He has reputation among his brethren of knowing more about what's going on and what's coming off than any other man on Capitol Hill.

Glass, who acts, looks and talks like a peppery little gamecock, is nearly always dressed in black. His hair is white. His face always indicates pain except when he chuckles.

Transferring attention from the Democratic to the Republican side, one notices a number of bald heads en route. None of them extraordinary distinguished heads. Just senators—Fess, Shortridge, Hayden, Harris and Metcalf. . . . Freddie Hale of Maine is losing his hair, one observes, but still has some.

Capper of Kansas is gliding about, thin almost to the point of emaciation, but with a youthful expression which goes with a large capacity for work. Most senators appear to be wearing various shades of gray. The nattiest are in blue serge or worsted.

TWINKLES

Robbers stole a truck load of cigars, but the reporter failed to mention whether the clues pointed to vocalists.

A fireplug is an ingenious device designed to let the motorist help swell the city's revenues.

Farm powder and dynamite are good for the farm, but a few blasts from the farmers, if they could get together, might get even better results.

Congress adjourned after a heavy session, and the members can spend the next five months reading all the bills they passed during the term.

Labor Unions are making war on canned music at the theatres. As to some of it, we favor war on the canners as well.

Uniforms from pro agents have been decreed. It has been difficult for an honest agent to compete with the beau brummels of the bootlegging profession.

According to the Kansas City Star, an Oregon paper omitted the name of a bridegroom in a wedding story. Probably the paper expects to use the name at his next wedding.

Harvard University will offer a course in mountain climbing this year. Something for the apartment dweller?

A New York policeman, chosen as a member of a debating team for the City College of New York, won a debate the other night. More policemen ought to go in for this work, and we'll wager a police traffic squad could defeat any college in the country.

Manufacturers' statistics show Nevada first and Montana second in candy consumption per capita. Nothing like a nice lollypop to brace you up between killings.

What do you suppose was the nationality of the man who advertised: "Purse lost, containing $20 bill valued as keepsake"?

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

GENERAL TOPIC: Jesus facing the Betrayal and Death.
SCRIPTURE LESSON: Mark 4:17-24
 17. And when it was evening he cometh with the twelve
 18. And as they sat and were eating, Jesus said, Verily I say unto you, One of you shall betray me, even he that eateth with me.
 19. And he said unto them, It is one of the twelve, he that dipeth with me in the dish.
 20. For the Son of man goeth, even as it is written of him; but woe unto that man through whom the Son of man is betrayed: good were it for that man if he had not been born.
 21. And as they were eating, he took bread and when he had blessed, he brake it, and gave it to them, and said, Take ye: this my body.
 22. And he took a cup, and when he had given thanks, he gave to them; and they all drank of it.
 23. And he said unto them, This is my blood of the covenant, which is poured out for many.
 24. Verily I say unto you, I shall no more drink of the fruit of the vine, until that day when I drink it new in the kingdom of God.
 25. And they come unto a place which was named Gethsemane: and he saith unto his disciples, sit ye here while I pray.
 26. And he taketh with him Peter and James and John, and began to be greatly amazed, and sore troubled.
 27. And he saith unto them, My soul is exceeding sorrowful even unto death: abide ye here, and watch.
 28. And he went forward a little and fell on the ground, and prayed that, if it were possible, the hour might pass away from him.
 29. And he said, Abba, Father, all things are possible unto thee; remove this cup from me: howbeit not what I will, but thou wilt.
TIME: Jesus in retirement at Bethany on Wednesday, April 5, A.D. 30. On the evening of the following day, in the upper room and the Garden.
PLACE: Jerusalem and the western slope of Mount of Olives.
GOLDEN TEXT: Not what I will, but what thou wilt.—Mark 14:36.
Introduction
 Christ's triumphal entry convinced the members of the Sanhedrin that influence with the people was gone unless they put him out of the way. At any seed of disloyalty, any unsuspected cowardice. That is the way every Christian should be toward Christ.

The Lord's Supper Instituted. vs. 22-25
 "And as they were eating, he took bread." One of the small passover cakes, a pile of which was placed before him as the head of the family and presiding simplest, least expensive, and most universal element, that it might be observed readily everywhere. "And when he had blessed." Christ's habit of giving thanks at meals is evident throughout the Gospels. "He brake it, and gave to them." "The bread represents his body, and reminds us that the Son of God took upon himself a true human body that he might as our substitute suffer for our sins. The breaking of the bread represents his being wounded for our transgressions by the nails and spear." "And said Take ye: this is my body." The saviour, after the feeding of the five thousand, had in a memorable discourse declared himself to be the Bread of Life Bread, "the staff of life," is the most digestible and nutritious of common foods, and, with butter spread upon it, contains all the elements needed by the body. Thus Christ is our strength, and supplies us with all that we need for usefulness on earth and endless bliss in heaven.
The "Blood of the Covenant." v. 24.
 "And he said unto them, This is my blood of the covenant, which is poured out for many." The blood was the new covenant. (Luke 22:20) or testament, whence the title, The New Testament." It was poured out "unto remission of sins," the ancient sacrifice of the passover lamb. God's blood covenant with his people. Even as the blood sprinkled on the doorstep and the lintel caused the death angel to pass over the homes of the Israelites, so the blood of Jesus Christ, accepted by us in faith, causes God to pass over our sins, and remember them no more against us forever. Here we reach the very heart of the gospel. "Take the bible, and my capital is gone and I've got to take to something else besides the doctrine of the blood out of my preaching."—D. L. Moody
Gethsemane. v. 32.
 "And they come unto a place which was called Gethsemane." Passing thru one of the gates in the great wall of Jerusalem, which was open on pass-over night, Christ and the disciples went down the steep grade of the valley of the Kidron east of the city, crossed a bridge, and thence up the western slope of the Olivet to a place where Jesus often went, an olive orchard ("garden") called Gethsemane, which means the oil-press"—doubtless so called because a press was there to extract the oil from the olives. The traditional site is preserved with pious care to this day, and with its flowers and its very ancient olive trees,

"An Easier Washday" ~With A Difference!

"An easier washday" of course—that is what a woman looks for from her washer. But the woman of today who takes pride in doing things well wants that and more—she is only content with an easier washday when it means whiter clothes—a whiter washing. A lot to expect from a washer, perhaps—but there is one that proves up to this test—the Zenith Washer.

The Zenith Washer Gives

"An Easier Washday"

—With a Difference

BECAUSE—

It washes clothes cleaner; it washes clothes quicker; it cannot harm clothes; it keeps clothes spread out so they can't bunch or tangle; it's soft rubber fingers force the hot, soapy water thru the clothes; it washes with more than human care; it keeps water hot; it cannot rust or mark clothes; its full cushion rolls eliminate breaking or tearing of buttons.

Prove all of this and more in your own home on your own washing. Phone us for a demonstration and if the Zenith don't prove itself on these, we must send it back

Pyle to Stage Long Foot Race in Madison Square

NEW YORK, June 1.—(AP)—C. C. Pyle, who will promote most anything, gives New York something new tonight—a 26-hour team running race with some of his transcontinental foot-racers as the competitors.

The race is scheduled to start at Madison Square Garden at 9 p. m. and close at 11 o'clock Saturday night. The makeup of the teams has not been announced, but Pyle says some of these who finished well up in the standings.

The promoter, incidentally, reiterates that Andrew Payne, of Claremore Okla., and the other nine runners in the money on the Los Angeles to New York jaunt will receive their share of the $48,500 prize money at 8 o'clock tonight. The reiteration was made necessary when the prize money which Pyle promised would be in Tex Rickard's hands yesterday afternoon failed to materialize. The promoter explained that there had been some delay in getting authorization from a mid-western bank where the money is deposited for payment to Pyle by a New York bank. He said congested wires had delayed transmission of the authorization.

Postponed Light Heavyweight Bout to Be Tonight

NEW YORK, June 1.—(AP)—Weather permitting, Tommy Loughran will put his light heavyweight crown on his head at Ebbets Field tonight and let Pete Latzo, Scranton coal miner try to knock it off in 15 rounds. The battle originally was scheduled for Wednesday but rain knocked those plans into a cocked hat.

Forced to weigh in again today, Loughran and Latzo went back to their training stunts yesterday in an effort to keep down to the class limit of 175 pounds.

The champion barely made the limit at the first weighing-in Wednesday afternoon, just scaling 175 pounds. Latzo weighed 169 1-2.

What little betting there was came on a 3 to 1 basis with the champion the favorite.

Ted Kid Lewis of England, ex-welterweight champion, injured his hands in an automobile accident last night and will be unable to meet K. O. Phil Kaplan, New York middleweight, in the 8-round semi-final.

W. L. Woodward and C. E. Kingsbery of Santa Anna and Plainview were business visitors in Pampa Thursday.

Mrs. J. R. Roberts, Mrs. Douglas Witt and children, and W. T. Coble of Amarillo visited relatives in Pampa Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Merten left today for a two-month trip to Morganville, Kas., and Humbolt, Neb.

The Club Mayfair will meet Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Clyde Fatheree.

Fine Juicy Watermelons? No, Not Yet!

That summer vacation? No, not yet. Rich with millions? No, not yet. In love? No, not yet. An angel? No, not yet. Most of all these things will come to pass by and by. But why think only what we desire, not yet possible? Think about and love the things of the present, for if you don't there will come bad humor—wrinkles and sourness. Then when those fairy tales come true what a sorry mess you'll be not to have kept happy and jubilant before that time!

Mystery Man Is Thrown—Kopecky Beats Collegian

Joe Parelli had a rather successful evening, last night at the Pla-Mor, throwing the Mystery Man of Denver in two straight falls, the first in 22 minutes and the second in 10. Kopecky took a fall from Bob Roy of T. C. U., who substituted for Carlin, the Swedish champion, in 14 minutes.

Parelli weighed in at 158 and the Mystery man at 165. They met in the center of the ring, and after a few preliminaries, dropped into an armlock with the Mystery man on the business end of it. The Italian had considerable difficulty in breaking it, but followed it up with a punishing toe-hold on the Denver man. The big man finally managed to wiggle out of it and put another armlock on Parelli that forced the ex-champion to crawl for the ropes.

Many Holds Exchanged
Returning to the middle of the ring, Parelli slipped on a headlock that the other man was able to break, finally, with an armlock. Slipping away from the big fellow as he was trying to get at the Italian's feet, Parelli put on another punishing headlock, but without much effect. For the next couple of minutes, it looked as though the match was the private property of the Mystery Man, as he put hold after hold on the smaller one, starting with a body scissors, shifting to a toe-hold, and from that to an armlock and finally back to a toe-hold that made Parelli crawl for the edge of the mat.

Almost as soon as they hit the canvas in the middle of the ring, the Irishman locked up the ex-champ's foot between his legs, grabbed the other in both hands and started stretching him out in great style, but this ended rather disastrously for him when Parelli was finally able to get at his feet. This he converted into a step-over toe-hold, and at the end of 22 minutes from the calling of time, the mystery man conceded the first fall.

During the intermission, "Moke" and "Soak," both 12-year-olds, gave an exhibition for a silver shower, the boy being characterized by head-locks and Kopecky tactics.

Long Range Work
At the start of the second fall, the Mystery Man did not seem particularly enthusiastic about coming out of his corner, and seemed inclined to meet Parelli at long range. When they finally hit the mat, however, he caught Parelli's arm and head in a punishing scissor which he finally switched to a toe-hold. The bare-foot boy then turned the tables by using the scissors himself. The Mystery Man flipped out of it and put a headlock on that made Parelli squirm—but not for long. They broke clean, and, after looking for an opening, Parelli went over the Irishman's flying feet and put on a headlock that slipped into a strangle-hold. Referee Gordon mad-

That's a Record!

Despite the rain at the Intercollegiate Track and Field Championships at Harvard Stadium, Cambridge, Mass., several records were lowered, and one of them is strikingly pictured here. Eric Krenz, Stanford, is tossing the hot for a new mark of 50 feet 1 inch.

boy, but a series of punishing holds took them again to the edge of the mat. Kopecky kicked the younger man in the back of the head and a moment later jumped on his face and neck with both feet while the crowd boo-ed. The little fellow seemed to have trouble getting his eyes open and Kopecky threw him over on his back two or three times, finally pinning the college man, who was almost unconscious when the referee declared the fall. Time 14 minutes.

Roy challenges Kopecky for another match, to be held under the same conditions; that is, with nothing barred except the strangle-hold, and the youngster predicts a different finish to the match from that of last night. He is strong and clever, and more than held his own against the older wrestler until the rough business began.

LEWIS WINS AGAIN

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, June 1.—(AP)—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, world's heavyweight wrestling champion, won a decision last night over Ira Dern, Salt Lake heavyweight, when Dern failed to return after the first fall. Lewis took the fall in one hour 12 minutes.

Everything Went
In the first match between Kopecky and Bob Roy, the fans saw a match in which nothing was barred except the strangle-hold, almost every other thing known to man being used. Kopecky came out of his corner and got himself mixed up in a body scissors that he finally broke by putting a vicious armlock on the college man. He entailed with an armlock on the fighting Bohemian that made Kopecky crawl for the edge of the mat. Roy mixed readily with the big

Scores of Youths Ready for Track Meet at S. M. U.

DALLAS, June 1.—(AP)—A typical June day and a cinder path which cost $10,000 were among the favorable conditions today for the opening of a two-day track and field carnival at the stadium of Southern Methodist University.

Scores of youngsters from Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, and Texas were ready for a start at 2 p. m. in the Southwestern Junior A. A. U. championships, preliminary to tomorrow's Olympic tryouts.

Today's contestants included many good men with chances for bettering records. But the field was limited to non-winners of first places in this season's A. A. U. and Collegiate meets. They represented high schools and colleges with a liberal springing of club athletes and unattached men.

Federal Judge Rufus E. Foster of New Orleans, former dean of Tulane University and as fourth vice-president of the American Olympic committee, the ranking officer of the Southwestern Olympic committee, was named as one of the honorary referees at the two day carnival. Knute Rockne, coach at Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind., was listed as an active official.

Texas Hitters Go on Rampage When Pitching Slows Up

(By The Associated Press.)

After several days of bewilderment before the slants of pitchers, Texas league hitters have found their batting eyes and gone on a rampage. Without exception contests Thursday found the batsmen in good clouting form and the hurlers with little on the ball.

The high mark in hitting was registered at Fort Worth where the Panthers hammered three Beaumont pitchers for sixteen safeties and won, 14 to 6. Although he yielded twelve hits, Wachtel went the route and recorded his eighth straight victory.

The Houston Buffs maintained their hold on first place by defeating the Wichita Falls Spudders, 10 to 5, in a game in which extra base hits were features. For the Buffs, Barnes and Selph hit circuit clouts, while Watkins delivered two. Jenkins and J. Cobb contributed homers for the Spudders.

Seas' double with the bases full in the sixth inning scored three runs and was the big factor in Shreveport's victory over the San Antonio Bears by a 6 to 4 score.

The Dallas Steers defeated the Waco Cubs, 7 to 6, in ten innings in the first game of their series. Waco got two runs in the first frame and by dint of eighth and ninth inning rallies tied the lead, which Dallas acquired in the fourth and seventh. In the tenth, O'Brien drove Kohler home from second with the winning run.

Ruth's Ledger Is Well Filled—No. 19 Homer Ends May

NEW YORK, June 1.—(AP)—Babe Ruth has closed his books for May with nineteen home runs to his credit, more than he ever has had at this stage of the season.

Homer No. 19—a high fly that dropped just inside the right field barrier—was propelled at the Yankee stadium yesterday with Hadley of Washington as the victim. The drive put Ruth ten games and twelve days ahead of his 1927 pace when he hit 60 for a new record. He did not smash his 19th homer last year until June 11 in his 52nd game. Yesterday's was his 42nd contest of the season.

Walter Varner to Meet Page Next Monday Evening

Monday night local fans will get to see Walter Varner in action again, this time against Walter Page, the Dodge City, Kas., flash. The Roxana boy is in splendid condition and should show up well. He has fought Whittington twice, the last time to a draw, and is looked on as one of the best boys in the Southwest. He is a hard hitter as well as a clever boxer, and is particularly popular with the local fans as a fighter that will mix. Page also... found Whittington to a draw in the local ring. The boys are well matched and should give a show that will keep the fans up in their seats.

Art Yilton of Mexico City will meet Billie Springfield at 140 pounds. The Mexican is a clever boxer and a hard hitter. Some time ago, he held his own against Duff Stanley, Springfield is originally from San Francisco, and is a veteran fighter. He has fought Jack Doss, Risty Cahill, and others of the boys that have been seen in the local arena.

In the six-round preliminary, Jack Morrison of Borger, well known to the local fans, meets Ed Roberts, a new man to the followers of this sport in Pampa. He met Frankie Farrell in an interesting bout in Borger some time ago and should be a good match for the flashy Borger high school boy.

In addition to these events, there will be a 4-round match between a couple of colored boys and a good curtain raiser.

Last week's bill was probably the best that has ever been shown in the arena, and this next bill should be equally interesting, as the boys appear to be equally as well matched.

When A Girl Loves by RUTH DEWEY GROVES NEA Service Fiction © 1928 by RUTH DEWEY GROVES THIS HAS HAPPENED VIRGINIA BREWSTER, upon the sudden death of her father after losing his fortune, goes to live with a distant friend, ELA HESSA DEAN, and her father, in spite of the objections of her uncle, NATHANIEL DEAN, who distrusts DEAN's motives, thinking she might be her new home. VIRGINIA phones to NATHANIEL and tells him she is in a new home. NATHANIEL is angry and tells her she is not to go there. VIRGINIA goes to her new home and lives there. CHAPTER VIII

A lump rose in her throat, and fear, ghastly, paralyzing fear, froze it there.

"As much as you will give me," he told him simply, with no idea of bargaining, but because she did not know the exact value of the gem. "One hundred." "Only a hundred!" she echoed in alarm. "Why I thought..." he stopped short, averse to tell him that she had believed it worth many hundred dollars, but she would know her ignorance. "Yes!" he urged eagerly. "I thought you would give me at least two hundred," she said. "One hundred," he said dejectedly. But when Virginia left her shop a few minutes later she had $125 more than she had when she entered it. She was glad she had received the driver's advice but her pleasure would have been short-lived if she had heard the pawnbroker congratulating himself upon his end of the bargain. "He's resetting it," she told the waiting driver, with a wry smile. "And thanks to you I got the 25 percent increase."

"And do we go back to the little?" he inquired gayly. "Yes, but tell me first, are you absolutely certain any ring will be safe here?" Virginia worried. "You can take my word and my number too, lady, and if anything goes wrong just go to my company and complain," the man assured her earnestly, and Virginia decided that his word would do. For the first time in her life she inquired about rates before taking accommodations in a hotel, and when she was at last alone in the cheapest room the little had to offer she locked the door and turned to survey her new quarters and her new life. She had been in humbler chambers in obscure stopping places when traveling in out-of-the-way villages and towns with her father. But that had all been adventurous, romantic, while this was commonplace—a first visible result of her change from the petted daughter of wealth to a penniless girl with a bitter, stinging undertaking ahead of her, blocking off her happiness if she failed in it! A lump rose in her throat and fear, ghastly, paralyzing fear, froze it there. What a mad life she had done to make such a rash bargain with Frederick Deane! She had told him she'd rather die than marry him, but that came words but never her father's name! She could visualize grave, white-haired, venerable men sitting in club windows whispering over the stories Deane would set afoot. She couldn't bear it. The lump in her throat was torn away on a strangled cry and she dropped into a heap on the floor, where she lay for a long time, heart beat almost stopped with the shock and grief that had come upon her in such a swiftly moving succession of misfortunes. Dick had given way to night before Virginia stirred and breathe sobbingly. Wastily she brushed her hair off her forehead and dragged herself to her feet. She was faint with lack of food, but it did not occur to her to order anything to eat. There were only two things that seemed of any importance to her. To find out from her father's lawyer if she could hope for any money from the estate, and to see Nathaniel—to tell him...

You may bring your care to a garden,
You may bring your grief,
The garden knows the touch of frost,
And the falling leaf.

The garden knows the beating wind
And the bitter rain.
You may come to a garden
With your pain.

But when you come to a garden
You will always find Something that you have carried
Is left behind.

For there is hope in a garden,
And every garden knows
There is a time for iris,
And hour for the rose.

The trip was made by automobile. Pipes states that East Texas is in fine condition recent rains having assured good crops.

Natives Riot in Africa as New Flag Is Shown

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, June 1—(AP)—Police reinforcements from all parts of the peninsula were called into Cape Town today to meet a threatening situation which developed from several ugly incidents occurring in connection with the unfurling of the new national flag. The flag was flown for the first time yesterday along with the Union Jack in celebration of the 18th anniversary of the establishment of the Union of South Africa. The demonstrations were believed to have originated from unrest among native black laborers who took a prominent part in the disorder.

Automobiles carrying miniatures of the new union flag were partially wrecked, but those which carried the Union Jack were not touched. Police charged the mob several times and the crowd stoned the police. A large number of natives and a dozen policemen were injured. Ninety persons were arrested.

A large crowd marched in a procession through the streets, headed by the band of the native's organization, the Independent Colored Workers' Union. They carried banners inscribed: "Africans, arise," "away with slavery," "down with anti-native laws," and similar sentiments.

DRUG STORE OPENS

The Richards Drug Company, Inc. of Panhandle, has opened a new store on Foster street near the post office to be called the Post Office Drug Store.

At present the management does not intend to give prescription service, but will carry a full line of sundries, candies, tobaccos, drugs, and fountain drinks.

The Richards Drug Co., Inc. is owned by F. P. Shaw, Jr., and F. P. Shaw III. F. P. Shaw III will have charge of the new store here.

"I like Pampa," stated Mr. Shaw this morning, adding, "It is the best town I have observed so far. One of the outstanding things I have noticed about Pampa is that there are no knockers here."

CLUB WOMEN FROLIC

SAN ANTONIO, June 1—(AP)—Delegates to the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, in session here forgot about politics, prohibition, elections and all of the other weighty problems that have occupied their time to spend Friday in unadulterated play.

The fun started at 9 o'clock in the morning when the second division from Fort Sam Houston, the division that bore the brunt of Chateau Thierry and many other offensives, paraded for the first time in its history before a feminine reviewing officer.

Mrs. John D. Sherman of Estes Park, Colo., president of the Federation, acted as reviewing officer. Delegates then went on an extended tour of the old Spanish missions, the Alamo and other points of interest around the city before preparing to an open air park where a frontier barbecue prepared by an old range expert awaited them. Mexican dishes also were served. Cowboy songs and negro spirituals furnished the program for the open air meal.
