KANSAS CITY GETTING READY FOR MEETING

Every Job About Hall In Demand From All Classes

GREAT PARADE TO BE MONDAY

Nomination of Hoover Is Regarded as Almost Certain

KANSAS CITY, June 7.—(P)—Jobless gentleman from who's who seeking work as doorkeeper; favorite son lieutenants with statements; women delegates, committee members and hostesses everywhere; miles of hunting, hundreds of flags and the local "corps of hospitality" functioning, today added to the rush of the Republican national convention preliminaries.

Among the scores ready to serve as doorkeeper, or perhaps as assistant sergeant-at-arms—just to get inside Convention hall—was Jones Parker, St. Louis millionaire. But only 40-odd doors have been discovered.

The "Ask Me" force of 5,000 Kansas Citizens will go on duty Sunday wearing buttons bearing the legend, "Ask Me; I Live Here."

Twenty-three band and drum corps will march in the parade Monday night, replacing in a measure any blare that may have been lost when Wild West stage coach hold-ups were banned for psychological reasons. Hoover, Curtis Lowden, is the order in which the organizations of those candidates will march.

KANSAS CITY, June 7.—(P)—The opposition to Herbert Hoover settled down to serious thinking today in the belief that unless the drift towards him can be stemmed his nomination is inevitable.

Stop Hoover or It's Hoover—that slogan-like phrase expressed the sentiments of delegates and party leaders already on the ground. Five days in advance of the Republican convention.

Having lost all hope of checking the commerce secretary rapid accumulation of delegates in contests before the national committee—where Hoover supporters numbering more than 60 won seats unopposed and hostile delegations—the cabinet member's foes began counting up their combined strength. The hoped to find a block sufficiently large to prevent Hoover from amassing the necessary 545 to win the nomination.

Everything in Secrecy
With that end in view, Lowden supporters met with those of Senator Watson, the Indiana favorite son, in Watson's hotel room last night in a long parley. The usual political meeting secrecy hedged the gathering and if any decisions were reached they were kept in confidence.

Similarly, two Hoover strategy meetings were held during the night and because they concerned strategy nothing was divulged. Quietly confident after checking over Hoover's delegate strength, his managers are reserving their fire until the balloting begins.

The Lowden forces look to many delegations yet to arrive—including the powerful Pennsylvania contingent—in the hope that new alignments may be created in favor of their candidate. The Hoover opposition likewise is convinced that President Coolidge will receive a considerable acknowledgment on the first ballot which might contribute to holding Hoover off.

Can't Eliminate Coolidge
Many conflicting factors entered into the discussion at this stage, one of them is the "draft Coolidge" movement which refuses to die even though there exists a general state of mind among the delegates that such a plan is futile. Another is the fact that while the Hoover forces seem to be solid. There appears to be no similar co-

THE WEATHER

WEST TEXAS—Tonight and Friday generally fair.

Southern Cross to Resume Trip Soon NOW IT'S RACE TO EUROPE

Americans Will Accompany It to Australia, Asserts Commander

SUVA, Fiji, June 8.—(P)—The monoplane Southern Cross rested on the sands of Naselai beach today, awaiting the ebb of tide to hop off toward Australia, the last sea leg of its trans-Pacific flight. The plane was expected to start at 2 p. m. Friday. (6 p. m. Pacific coast time.)

An unruly surf prevented the plan from starting Thursday afternoon. When the government steamer Pioneer arrived at Naselai with 800 gallons of gasoline the work of transporting the drums to shore was slowed by a rough sea.

Dusk found the plane only partially fueled and the tide coming in. It was decided that the Southern Cross would have to wait another day and the plane was hauled above the high water line and made safe for the night.

The arrangements made before the flight started in California were understood here to have Lyon and Warner drop out of the expedition at Suva, permitting the two Australians to continue on to their homeland alone. But since arriving in the finish, Captain Kingsford-Smith changed his mind and announced that as a mark of appreciation for the skill of the two Americans he wanted them to accompany him on to Brisbane as guests of the Australians.

Prof. Glass Taking College Summer Work

CANYON, June 7.—(Special)—Enrollment for the summer session of the West Texas State Teachers college is nearing completion with approximately a thousand students registered for the summer term. During the next few days quite a number of delayed students will enter, possibly bringing the total to 1250.

The student body will be tendered an informal reception by the college faculty on the beautiful campus Saturday night. During the reception amusements, games, refreshments etc. will be provided by the faculty for the pleasure of the students. This will be an informal "get-acquainted" occasion for the faculty and students.

Three Trains Are Attacked in Mexico By Insurgent Bands

MEXICO CITY, June 7.—(P)—El Universal today said three trains had been attacked by insurgents in Western Mexico.
A group derailed a passenger train near the station Porfirio Diaz in Guanajuato, and fired upon it. The military escort fought off the attacking party. Three soldiers and one passenger were wounded.

A freight train enroute to the port of Manzanillo from Guadalajara was derailed at Cotimatlan, Colima, and the crew carried off into the mountains.

A dispatch from San Luis Potosi said outlaws attacked a fast train near Obregon station and captured the train crew. They uncoupled the engine and started it running wild down the track presumably to wreck a passenger train. The engine jumped the track and the passenger train was not damaged.

Dispatches from Guanajuato said that after the attack on the passenger train at Posos federal troops were rushed to reinforce the train guards and killed five insurgents. One of the men killed was the Chieftain Francisco Vargas. The remainder of the band was driven off.

Three men were captured trying to blow up a railroad bridge on the Colima-Guadalajara railroad. They were executed.

Lion Governor Is Speaker and Guest of Pampa Club

The remarkable progress of Texas Lionism during recent years was graphically told here today by N. N. Rosenquest of Eastland, district governor of Lions International.

Mr. Rosenquest, who is credited with being the most valuable member Texas Lionism ever had, spoke inspirationally on club work. He told of the goal of 60 new clubs which it is hoped to reach before the coming international convention in Omaha, Texas is the birthplace of Lionism, and it now ranks second in the nation in number of new members and clubs secured during the last year.

Lion G. G. McBride, former president of the Berger club, was among the visitors at the luncheon today. Other guests included Mrs. Tom Brabham, Joe Smith, and C. S. Boston, of Pampa; Odus Mitchell, new Harvester coach; and Arthur Denby and Art Langberg from the Western Harvester company plant at Stockton, Calif.

Mrs. C. C. Cook has returned from an extended visit to Dallas.

The Friendship Is Ready as Miss Boll Hops Off

TREPASSEY, June 7.—(P)—The monoplane Friendship made three unsuccessful attempts this forenoon to take off from the harbor here for its projected flight across the Atlantic. The plane was apparently too heavily loaded and the wind too light to enable it to rise.

TREPASSEY, N. F., June 7.—(P)—The work of completing the fueling of the trans-Atlantic destined Fokker, monoplane, Friendship, was stated at 7:30 o'clock (local time) this morning.

The wind which had held the flier here since early in the week had shifted to a light and favoring north-east breeze and although the sky was cloudy, the water was smooth.

Despite advices of unfavorable weather near Europe, it seemed possible that the fliers might get away to an early start.

CURTISS FIELD, N. Y., June 7.—(P)—After six hours in the air, during part of which time it was in the fog, the monoplane Columbia returned to Curtiss field today, having been unable to find its way to Old Orchard, Me., on the first leg of a trans-Atlantic flight.

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., June 7.—(P)—The single motored monoplane Columbia took the air today on the first leg of another trans-Atlantic flight and this time it carried a woman as passenger.

Last summer the Columbia sprang into fame as a trans-Atlantic passenger plane when Clarence Chamberlin flew it to Germany with Charles A. Levine as a passenger.

On the present flight there are two pilots, Oliver le Boutillier and Arthur Argles, and Miss Mabel Boll is the passenger.

The Columbia took the air on its latest venture at 6:15 daylight time this morning with Old Orchard, 270 miles away, as its immediate destination.

There the tanks will be fueled to capacity and a take-off for Europe made as weather permits.

Miss Boll hopes to beat Miss Amelia Earhart, now waiting in Newfoundland to make a similar attempt.

Mrs. Josephine Boll, elderly mother of "The Queen of Diamonds," as Miss Boll to the air and expressed confidence in the success of the flight.

Notables Escape Cafe Explosion in Hollywood District

LOS ANGELES, June 7.—(P)—Shortly after a party of film luminaries had left a fashionable Russian cafe in Hollywood at midnight, a terrific blast wrecked the place. Fire, believed by investigators from the county fire warden's and sheriff's office to have originated in an arson plot, preceded the blast.

Ten persons were injured in the explosion, two of whom may die. These are the former Russian general Theodore Nodjensky, 50, and Irving Strother, 34.

Among the guests whose timely departure probably saved them from injuries were Charles Chaplin, the Marquis de La Falaise, Colleen Moore and her husband, John McCormack, Renee Adoree, and Jack Dempsey and his wife, Estelle Taylor.

The theory of a leaky gas pipe was scouted by county investigators. After questioning Jacques Neradoff, the manager, officials pointed out that his gas theory was implausible because the fire started nearly an hour before the explosion.

They believed that leaky gas pipes would have caused the detonation soon after the fire started. Officers intimated that arrests might be made.

Heads Meeting

Kiwanis clubs all over the country will hold simultaneous meetings on the night of June 18, during the national convention in Seattle, to pay a united expression of tribute to the unselfish service of Kiwanis members. Harry C. Heinz (above), of Atlanta, will preside. The observances will be attended by 100,000 members.

HOUSE NUMBER PLAN IS READY

Joint Session of City Commission and C. C. Is Planned

Pampa's house numbering and street marking project, generally regarded as one of the most needed improvements, is nearing the point where a city ordinance can be drafted.

George W. Briggs and Scott Barcus with assistants, have been working on a plan for some time, and have it tentatively completed. Owing to the fact that the original townsite followed the railroad—as did nearly all Panhandle towns when laid out—and later additions have been squared to the compass, confusion has arisen and the same streets in many instances have different names on each side of the angles.

Correctional streets have been designated, and a number of continuations in the additions would, if the plan is adopted, bear the same name as the street they join in the old townsite. It is believed that in the interest of accuracy and convenience property owners will consent to these changes.

A meeting of the city commission with the directors of the Chamber of Commerce will be held soon to discuss the plan and start definite action.

Texas Williams No. 2 Reported Spraying at Location in Sec. 6

Reports to The News this afternoon were that the Texas company's No. 2 Williams, section 6, block 1, A. C. H. & B. survey, has picked up the big gas and is spraying some oil from the Magee pool pay. The depth could not be learned at press time.

This is about 1 3/4 miles south of the LeFors Petroleum company's No. 2 J. M. Shaw, which is making a steady 55 barrels an hour at 2,648 feet.

OFFICERS ARE STRUCK WITH MANY STONES

Attempted Assault Upon Girl Precipitates Trouble

JAIL STORMED BY 250 MEN

Blacks of Town Are Widely Scattered After Affair

LUBBOCK, June 7.—(P)—A mob of 250 persons, which attempted to storm the jail at O'Donnell, 30 miles from here, Tuesday night, in an effort to get custody of Andrew Forraine, negro, arrested on a charge of attempted assault upon a 12-year-old girl, was repulsed by officers from O'Donnell, Tahoka, and Lamesa after a fight in which the officers were showered with stones, sticks, and other missiles.

The negro later was taken to Tahoka, Lynn county, and lodged in jail. The entire negro population of O'Donnell has scattered to nearby towns.

New Post Office Addition Will Be Ready by July 15

The new post office addition will be ready for occupancy sometime between July 1 and 15, stated Postmaster William Crawford. The arrival of the new fixtures is expected momentarily which will be installed as soon as they arrive.

Relative to the service that the postoffice is now giving, Crawford explained that all local mail placed in the office before 4 p. m. is put up the same day, and all mail placed in the office before 8 p. m. is made up and mailed on the night trains.

"The trouble with most persons who do not get the service they expect of the postoffice is that their mail does no have accurate addresses," Crawford said.

May receipts at the postoffice show a gain of $300 over the preceding year of $300 over the preceding 1927 Crawford said.

Legion Rodeo Final Events Are Completed

Final contests in the American Legion rodeo which were scheduled for last Sunday but were rained out, were held yesterday afternoon at the rodeo grounds.

The program began at 1 o'clock and ended at 5, and included all events that were scheduled in previous programs, with trick roping, trick riding, and cowboy clown antics.

In spite of serious handicaps, especially big rains which interrupted half of Saturday night's program and all of the grand finals Sunday, the rodeo was a success from the standpoint of entertainment.

Famous rodeo performers and contestants, totaling approximately one hundred, were attracted to the three day program. Large cash prizes are awarded the winners in each event.

PAMPA'S SCHOOL SYSTEM with a money value of $427,000, more than 60 employes, and more than 2,000 pupils, is one of the biggest institutions this community has.

A report to the state department of education, just prepared by Supt. R. C. Campbell, reveals the steady growth of the system during the last year. The enrollment totaled 2,080 pupils, of whom 1,081 were boys and 999 were girls.

In the high school were 458 students, divided as to grades as follows: Eighth, 161; ninth, 144; tenth, 67; eleventh, 86. By next fall a natural increase of 20 per cent is expected.

Pampa has buildings and grounds in the independent district valued at $394,000 and equipment worth $33,000. To this will be added $125,000 through the bond issue.

There is always a danger that development of independent school systems may result in the impoverishment of the rural schools not so favored.

Not long ago it appeared that Gray county would not reach the necessary 3,000 scholastic enrollment to obtain a county superintendent. Now, however, it seems more than likely that we shall pass that mark that it shall become mandatory upon the county commissioners to create the office.

The county judges have plenty of work in a county such as Gray without having to fill the office of county superintendent.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER
WASHINGTON - Sometimes the hand of fate stretches out from a smoke-filled hotel room in the early morning hours and picks an obscure third-rater to lead his party, perhaps to victory, in a presidential campaign.

It's not a year for the Favorite Sons—the men nobody knows. If a Republican victory in November was already assured, the situation might be different.

For that reason there will be less wire pulling than the electorate has been led to expect at national conventions.

In past years, furthermore, everyone knew just who would control a convention—especially a Republican convention.

This year there is less subterranean work going on than ever. It's nearly all on the surface and the Kansas City convention will resemble the election of officers of a large high school class.

There will be, no doubt, some surprises. There will be a great deal of pressure brought on some leaders whose petition is not clearcut.

There is always a danger that development of independent school systems may result in the impoverishment of the rural schools not so favored.

Not only are county rural schools better managed under the direction of a specialist in rural education, who can give his time to these schools and frequently visit them, but it is impossible for the county judges to give necessary time and attention to the work.

sent itself. Most of the political leaders present will be working for their own best interests and the interests of the party will more often than not coincide with theirs.

The most important and most interesting of these political personalities is Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon. This frail but active septuagenarian is enjoying his position of power, for, as everyone knows, the unstructured Pennsylvania delegation will probably be able to decide whether Hoover can have the nomination or not.

The Mellon fun is doubtless cloyed by the fact that he can't make much of any move without the approval of Boss Vare of Philadelphia, who shares control of Pennsylvania with him, but the Keystone states doubtless will function together this year as they have in the past.

Consecration Prayer

We open here our treasures and our gifts;
 And some of it is gold,
 And some is frankincense,
 And some is myrrh;
 For some has come from plenty,
 Some from joy,
 And some from deepest sorrow of the soul.
 But Thou, O God, dost know the gift is love.
 Our pledge of peace, our promise of good will,
 Accept the gift and all the life we bring.

by RUTH DEWEY GROVES

THIS HAS HAPPENED VIRGINIA BREWSTER, upon the sudden death of her father, goes to live with a friend, CLARINA BROWN, and her father, her name, NATHANIEL DANN, objects to this for he mistrusts CLARINA's motives. One evening VIRGINIA is surprised when his model, CHIRI, appears. This causes a quarrel which is later reconciled.

Hoping to get NIEL away, DEAN arranges to have him offered a position in San Francisco. NIEL begs VIRGINIA to marry him and go west, but she refuses to let him sacrifice his art.

CLARINA becomes jealous of VIRGINIA, and the latter resolves to leave her. DEAN opposes her departure and asks her to marry him. When she refuses, he threatens to reveal the fact that her father cheated him out of $100,000 in a deal. Hecklester, VIRGINIA pledges to marry him if she fails to earn the money to repay him in one year's time.

Thus she leaves one of her rings and finds a quiet hotel in which to live. She goes to NIEL's studio, but her joy at seeing him is clouded for she does not dare reveal the compact she has made. NIEL takes her out to dinner.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXI

THEY had happened upon the place where Chiri was dining, and Virginia had seen her as soon as they entered the room. She was sitting at a corner table with a thin-faced, alert-eyed young man who stared coldly at Nathaniel.

Chiri's presence annoyed Virginia. Couldn't she ever see Nathaniel without having to come in contact with his model?

Virginia worried over it until the waiter brought the clam juice cocktail. Then she put it out of her mind to devote herself to being agreeable.

She wanted to know about the charcoal drawings on the wall and Niel told her of the artists who had frequented the place until fame had come to them and they'd moved uptown.

Virginia sighed. "Why do artists have to be poor?" she asked.

"Because money makes so many demands upon time and energy, and creative art requires all that's in a person if it is to amount to anything," Nathaniel replied.

"But . . ." Virginia's remark was interrupted by Chiri's coming to their table. Nathaniel started to rise but she pushed him back in his chair and stood with an arm thrown carelessly around his neck while she asked him if he'd brought any of his Russian cigarettes along.

Nathaniel fished out a package and handed it to her. She leaned down quickly and planted a grateful kiss on his forehead and then started back to her own table. Her companion glared at her.

Virginia was not any less displeased, for Chiri's conduct had served to answer her perplexing question. She was becoming jealous of this temptuous creature.

Afraid of her in fact. That was why she was glad to have a reason to give Niel for postponing their wedding—a reason that he had helped to build up. He would have to agree now that everyone has a right to make sure of his own strength, to prove his ability to justify his existence before consenting to accept protection from another individual.

Virginia knew that if she had no reason at all to give him Nathaniel would question her love and . . . that would be another girl's chance, if there was anyone to "understand" and sympathize with him when he felt himself disillusioned.

Virginia glanced across the table where Chiri, small face cupped in her hands, blew smoke into the air and smiled indifferently at the eager young man who was talking to her in low, excited tones, apparently expostulating with her over some offense.

"Who is he?" she asked, turning back to Nathaniel.

"Hugo Misse. She's got him hipped. Poor devil!"

"Why do you call him poor devil?"

"Not a chance with Chiri."

"How do you know?"

"Chiri changes her boy friends with the seasons. If she's wearing black she gets a blond to go with it, but if it's a red vogue he's got to be dark and she'd kill a red-head who looked at her then."

Virginia was silent for a moment. "I wonder if you aren't mistaken about her," she said finally.

"I don't believe she's so shallow. It may amuse her to play with men's affections but I imagine when her own are concerned she would be very intense."

"She'd sizzle a fellow all right if she really loved him, but luckily she isn't capable of it."

"Do you know her so very well, Niel?"

"I know her well enough to understand that she tried to make a fool of me, along with others," Nathaniel declared.

"It's ridiculous for me to feel this way," she scolded herself. "Most likely she isn't interested in Niel at all."

But, take herself to task as she would, the rest of the dinner lost its savor, and she was glad enough to leave as soon as they'd had their black coffee.

For a while they walked around, nosing in and out of book shops and looking in windows filled with antique jewelry.

Nathaniel suggested going back to the studio. The idea was impossible to Virginia in her present state of mind. He'd be certain to renew his pleadings and she dared not trust herself to refuse him. It seemed that her burden grew heavier with every passing hour, and the temptation to lay it aside was not one she wanted to resist in Nathaniel's arms. So she told him she was tired and wanted to go back to her hotel.

They drove uptown in a taxicab and Virginia was conscious all the way of Nathaniel's disappointment.

His sulkiness seemed to vanish, however, when he kissed her good-night in the cab. Virginia went up to her room with at least a splinter knocked off the "cross" she was bearing.

The next morning she was up early. As soon as there was anyone to answer the telephone in Mr. Gardner's office she was asking for information about the list she had left with him. He was not in but his secretary assured her there was no question of her ownership, and she was free to make whatever disposition she liked of the things.

Virginia packed them all back in her suitcases, batting her eyes furiously as she went about the task, and it must be said that only a very few tears got past the vigilance of her silky lashes and spattered down into the bags.

When the straps were buckled she got her handbag and fished for the pawn ticket to get the broker's address.

He greeted her affably when she arrived at his shop and had her things carried in by the taxicab driver. His first glimpse of the suitcases told him a very old story. This girl was on her uppers. He dealt as fairly with her as any other would under the circumstances and she seemed satisfied.

"From his shop she went straight to a young broker she knew on Wall Street, but this person dealt in stocks and bonds and not in jewelry. She was admitted to his presence as soon as her name was taken in to him. He came toward the door of his private office to greet her.

"Virginia, this is a pleasure," he exclaimed warmly. "I was one of those who tried several times to see you," he added and then waited until she had taken the chair he placed for her before he went on to tell her of his sympathy in her bereavement.

Virginia struggled to restrain her emotion when he spoke of her father. Tears seemed to come so terribly easy to her! And she was there purely on business. Grieving would have to be kept for her solitary hours.

"Everyone was so very kind," she said, dabbing at her eyes with a black-bordered handkerchief. "I'm afraid I haven't thanked you all properly, but you see it was such a shock to me. Father's death, and then finding out that I hadn't any money!"

"You didn't know that before?" he exclaimed in astonishment. "I hadn't the faintest idea. Oliver, if father had told me, I might have found some way to help him. At least I wouldn't have kept on spending money as I had always done."

"Of course you wouldn't! Unforgivable of me not to have thought of that. I did wonder a little why anyone should have thought it worthwhile to keep right on until everything blew up. It looked like that, you know," he added in self-defense.

"I suppose it did," Virginia admitted tolerantly, "but you mustn't blame father. I'm sure he was trying to spare me from knowing it as long as he could."

"Very likely, but it's too bad he didn't realize how much harder it would be for you eventually."

"Oh, I'm sure he expected to live long enough to see me happily married and he knew money wouldn't mean so much to me then."

"You aren't breaking your engagement are you?" he asked with an eagerness that startled Virginia. Until then she had actually forgotten that Oliver Cutter had once begged her to marry him.

No Disorder Seen as Nationalists Take Charge of Peking

PEKING, June 7.—(AP)—With travel impracticable, Americans remained in Peking today and the legation had no intention of evacuating to other points which some might consider safer.

Nationalist flags were flying, signaling the change of the regime from the dictatorship of Marshal Chang Tso-lin to the Kuomintang. There was no disorder and evacuation was regarded as unnecessary.

Peking was isolated by railway, no trains were running to Tientsin and for three days there have been no mails from the outside to exclude deserters from the Chinese armies all the city gates, except one were closed. The automobile route to Tientsin was regarded as risky since nondescript soldiers were roaming the countryside without leaders.

If Japanese reports from Mukden were to be relied upon, Chang Tso-lin injured in a bomb outrage when he fled there, was alive and improving. The official Japanese report stated that although the former northern dictator's condition was showing signs of improvement, his Chinese physician would not permit visitors.

Mukden has been under martial law since the morning of June 4 when Chang train was bombed.

Rotarians Asked to Become Associate Scout Members

Request that each of the 37 members become at least $10 associate members of the Boy Scout council was made at the Rotary club luncheon Wednesday noon at the Schneider hotel by Rev. Tom B. Brabham, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Dr. J. A. Odum and City Manager F. M. Gwin were introduced as new members. The latter also spoke on the Boy Scout movement.

Prof. J. J. Yoder of McPherson college, McPherson, Kas., told of visiting Rotary clubs in Japan and China.

Service Station Is Sold to Partners

The Pampa Service Station, Inc., formerly managed by R. C. Blackburn, has been bought by J. W. Graham and G. W. Gill. The new owners took charge of the business June 1.

J. W. Graham is local distribution agent for the Texas company and will continue in that capacity with the company.

Graham stated that the business would be called the Pampa Service Station and would continue to sell Texaco products and Firestone tires.

The tire repair shop also was included in the deal.

Two More "Fast" Terrapins Entered

Two prominent motor companies, Biggs-Horn Nash company and Culbertson-Smalling Chevrolet company, have decided to enter their favorite terrapins in the terrapin derby at the Pla-Mor June 12 it was announced today.

"Chevrolet" and the "New Nash" are the names that will be pasted on the backs of the two terrapins, and a lively race is expected.

With the entering of the "Chevrolet" and the "New Nash" the total number in the race is now five. Perry Hodges and his racing terrapin, "H. & H." started the wheels to rolling when a challenge was issued Sunday to all terrapin derby fans to a race.

Two others besides the ones entering today have answered the challenge. James Wheeler, White Deer, with his "Dixie Flash," and Jim King with his "Betty Lou" were the first to answer the challenge.

Blind Pastor Will Preach For Coolidge on Vacation

Rev. John Taylor, blind minister, who will be President Coolidge's pastor during the latter's vacation this summer.

DULUTH, Minn., June 7.—For 35 years John Taylor of Duluth has acted as a lay minister in the Congregational church going about the northland preaching to congregations in small village churches unnoticed by the world.

This summer his work at last, will come to public attention. For among his hearers will be President Calvin Coolidge, who will worship in the little frame church at Brule Wis.

Yet the Rev. Taylor will never see his distinguished parishioner. For he is blind—has been, for the past six years.

Every other Sunday the Rev. Taylor's circuit takes him to Brule, where he preaches at afternoon services. His home is in Duluth and during week days he studies out his texts and sermons by the Braille system.

The church at Brule is a modest wooden building, painted white, with a steep roof and a small steeple. It can hold about 100 people; normally there are about 40 in a Sunday gathering. This summer it is expected the little church will be crowded; it is not often so small a church has the honor of according a pew to the president of the United States.

Anti-Japanese Feeling in Manchuria Causes Considerable Worry

TOYON, June 7.—(AP)—The Japanese newspapers are filled with alarming stories and predictions about anti-Japanese feeling in Manchuria, movements of troops and Soviet intrigues.

The foreign office discounted the press reports as without foundation and profess to be unperturbed. There were reports however, that the government was more worried than it was ready to admit.

It was realized that should it prove necessary, it would be difficult to find a successor to Chang Tso-lin, Manchurian war leader.

The Japanese government was principally concerned with the situation in Tientsin. It was stated that even the Japanese consul general was unable to send a definite summary of the situation.

Pope Pius Will Review Conditions in Mexico Soon

ROME, June 7.—(AP)—The Mexican religious situation will be reviewed exhaustively during the next few days by all competent officials of the Roman Curia, it was announced today by the Vatican.

The announcement followed an audience granted by Pope Pius last night to Monsignor Ruiz y Flores, archbishop of Michoacan, who brought the Pontiff latest word of the situation in Mexico.

A semi-official communique said that Archbishop Ruiz had presented the Pontiff with a "report." This was not characterized flatly as the basis for a possible settlement of the controversy which settlement of the controversy in Mexico for the past two years, but its importance was evident from the fact that the pontiff was closeted with the Mexican prelate for more than an hour and a half.

Archbishop Ruiz, on leaving the Vatican, said that the Pope Pius showed himself extraordinarily well informed on the situation south of the Rio Grande.

"He knows Mexican matters better than I," exclaimed the archbishop, who said he was eminently satisfied with the results of his visit to Rome thus far, particularly because of the Pontiff's extreme interest in his communication.

The Pontiff had the highest praise for the courage and long suffering of the Mexican faithful, telling the archbishop that he had a special predilection for Mexico as a father feels for his own son, particularly for one who is harassed.

The attitude of the Holy See, he indicated to his visitor, would be to await the opportune moment with that patience and courage of which Mexico already had given the world and the church such an eloquent example."

Italian Embassy in Berlin Is Damaged in Demonstration

BERLIN, June 7.—(AP)—Witnesses of a window smashing episode at the Italian embassy today described it as an anti-Mussolini demonstration.

Stones were thrown from an automobile as it passed in front of the building and five windows were broken. One of the shattered windows was in the Ambassador's study, which the Ambassador had just entered.

Shouts of "down with Mussolini" accompanied the missiles.

The communist organ Rote Fahne attributed the attack to a protest against the recent sentencing of Communist leaders in Rome to the penitentiary.

Caveat emptor

A few years ago "Let the buyer beware" was not so far from being the motto of American business. If a man set out to buy a razor he might get a very excellent one—and, again, he might not. There were some very fine products. And some very poor. And there was no way of choosing the good from the bad, except by test.

Today that condition hardly exists. In every line of merchandise there are trade-marked, standardized products. Products that are unvarying in quality and performance—that can be depended upon year in and year out. When you buy them you know what they are, what they'll do, and what they cost. . . . They're advertised products!

To take full advantage of this—to protect yourself—to save money—watch the advertisements! When you need anything turn to the advertising columns of this paper. Read about the things listed there. When you find the article you need, buy it—not haphazardly, but by name!

The advertisements protect your interests—read them

Spudgers Start on Way Back to Top of Column

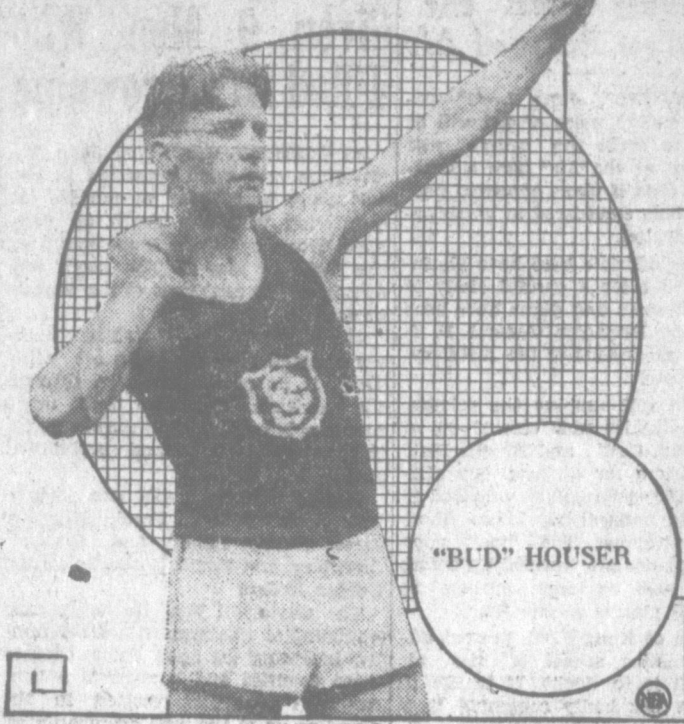

(By The Associated Press)
The Wichita Falls Spudgers are making desperate efforts to get back into the Texas league pennant chase which recently has showed signs of progressing merrily without them. Spurred on by a series of reverses that dropped them out of first place and threatened to push them into the second division, the Spudgers came to life Wednesday and defeated the third place San Antonio Bears.

Stengrafe's great hurling that held the Bears to five scattered safeties and the Spudgers lusty slugging that recorded twelve hits were the features of the game. Newman went the route for the Bears but was in trouble much of the time. Lyman Lamb, Spudder outfielder, started at the bat with a home run and two singles in three times up. His efforts were seconded by Tuggeon, who contributed three singles in four trips to the plate.

Behind the good pitching of Penner, the Houston Buffs defeated the Shreveport Sports, 7 to 3, and won their ninth consecutive game.

The Fort Worth Panthers, deeply entrenched in second place, kept pace with the league leaders by winning from the Waco Cubs by a 6 to 4 score as a result of their timely hitting and excellent twirling of Pate in early innings. After Pate had been hit by a batted ball in the eighth frame, the Cubs jumped on Burns, who relieved Pate, drove in three runs, and threw a scare into Jake Atz Machine.

OLYMPIC HOPES

Clarence "Bud" Houser, holder of the Olympic championship in the discus throw with a mark of 151 feet 5-16 inches, will be a member of the 1928 Olympic team at Amsterdam this summer. He is a product of Dean Cromwell at Southern California, and has been one of the most consistent performers in the discus and the javelin in the world the past few years. He scored 20 points at the 1924 Olympic with a first in the discus and the javelin. He graduated from Southern California in 1926.

Bad Weather Is Blamed for Tight Race in National

(By The Associated Press)
The National league race is a bit tighter as the result of a let-up in inclement weather.

Brooklyn enjoyed a fine batting afternoon Wednesday against Ray Kolp, Carl Mays and Jim Edwards as Douglas McWeeny turned back Cincinnati's monotonously for seven innings. Something cracked in McWeeny's service at this point, and the Reds piled up five purely decorative runs in two innings as Rube Ehrhardt rushed to the rescue. The damage already had been done, however, and the Robins were able to stand on their eight runs.

Brooklyn's winning margin was furnished by Del Blissonette's tenth home run of the season, off Edwards in the seventh with two on base. Blissonette went into the league lead ahead of Hack Wilson and Jim Bottomley. The score was 8 to 5.

The fighting Cardinals are thankful for whatever success they can register on the field, but they are able to take only slight comfort from their 11 to 6 victory over the Giants at the Polo Grounds. McKenchie's men rallied gamely to win, but the showing of Grover Cleveland Alexander in the first two innings convinced the baseball sharps that the veteran right hander will be useless to the St. Louis club for a few weeks more at the least.

Old Pete was cuffed for five runs by the Giants in the first two innings, and turned the reins voluntarily over to Clarence Mitchell, the recently signed southpaw spitballer. Alex again was troubled with a sore elbow. Mitchell, in his first effort for his new club, performed nobly as the Cards rallied against Aldridge and Faulkner to win, but Clarence always was quite a Giant killer.

The Cubs improved their position somewhat at defeating the Phils, 5 to 3, but Joe McCarthy, in panic as the home team began to hit in the seventh, used up Malone, Bush, and Jones in turning in the victory.

The first game of the Pittsburgh-Boston series was rained out, as were two American league fixtures, Washington at Chicago, and Boston at Detroit.

Herb Pennek, obtained revenge against the Indians for the game they won from him at the Yankee stadium last month. He clicked off his ninth victory of the season 8 to 3 as George Uhle took another beating.

Howard Ehmke and Eddie Romphel of the Athletics failed to halt the young sluggers of Dan Howley, who won 3 to 2 behind the good pitching of Sam Gray. The Yanks lead by a mere nine games.

Doss, in Great Condition, Gets Bout in Fourth When Thoms' Seconds Throw Sponge—Springfield Is Winner

The main event of the boxing card at the Pampa Athletic Arena last night came to an abrupt close when Andy Thoms' seconds flipped a towel into the ring in the latter part of the fourth round, after Doss had dropped the Coffeyville veteran twice and he was on his hands and knees for the third time. The bout was scheduled to go ten rounds.

Thoms opened cautiously with a couple of left leads to the head and beat a retreat before a volley of rights and lefts to the head. This practically gives a complete history of the entire fight. Doss was in better condition than he has been seen in this ring up to the present time, and was fighting like a wildcat against the heavier boy Thoms was out of condition due to lack of training facilities, and should not have been matched in a 10-round go with anybody at this time. He was covering well, but lacked the necessary steam in the punches. By the end of the third round, he seemed very tired, and in the latter part of that round was missing frequently. In the fourth, Doss dropped him with a wicked right to the jaw for a count of nine, followed a moment later with a fusillade of rights and lefts that again put the boy on the canvas, his face bleeding from several cuts around the nose and mouth. Thoms had difficulty getting to his feet and was dropped again when the towel was thrown into the ring.

When in condition Thoms is a cool heady fighter with plenty of dynamite in either hand, but due to lack of condition, he could not make any impression on the elusive Jack Doss. This was by long odds the best bit of fighting that the Fort Worth boy has shown since his arrival in Pampa. He seemed to be much faster than he was in his battle with Kid Granite here last week.

The semi-windup was a 3-round go between Billy Springfield of Borger, and Art Vitton of Mexico City, formerly, and now of Amarillo. In spite of many predictions to the contrary, the fight went all the way, and ended in a marginal victory for Springfield. Vitton looked as though he could stand a lot more punishment than Springfield could give him, but could not seem to make a dent in the iron jaw of the Borger boy. The Mexican put up a hard, game fight, and would look good against a boy that could not take the tremendous amount of punishment that Springfield seems to be able to absorb. Springfield weighed 137 and Vitton 135.

The fairest fight of the evening was the event featuring Jack Morrison of Borger and Lefty Roberts of Amarillo. The boys tangled up like a couple of young wildcats at the opening bell, and kept boring in until the final gong. Morrison had piled up a comfortable margin on points, but Roberts never let him forget that he was in a fight.

It was another match between a slugger and a boxer with the slugger getting the short end of it. Morrison was boxing superbly, and at the same time was putting plenty of power in his wallops. Both boys are fast and aggressive, and can furnish an interesting fight at any time.

Kid Ritchie, of Borger, fought a draw with Lloyd Moore of Isom in a 4-round go, the Kid giving Moore a little boxing lesson while he was dodging the swings of the heavier Moore. At the same time, he was absorbing a considerable amount of punishment from the hard-hitting Isomite.

In the first preliminary, the formidable Dogface of Amarillo took the

Matt, a Mighty Man Was He

Matt McGrath had plenty of pounds to put behind his hammer throw, but his 52 years proved too much of a handicap in the New York Athletic Club tryouts for the Olympic Games this summer. So Matt, who has been of four American teams, won't get to go to Holland to defend the record he already holds.

Two Big Matches on Grappling Card of This Evening

A double bill at the Pla Mor tonight will present four of the leading grapplers making the season in this section.

Joe Kepceky is the drawing card chiefly because the fans are still hoping to see someone break him in two. Joe just won't lose if he can murder the other fellow first. Against most of his opponents however, he finds body slams and his old reliable rolling toe hold effective. Tonight he will tackle Joe Parelli, the bare-footed man who beat the Mystery Man last week. Parelli is calculated to give Joe about the roughest evening the latter has had recently.

The Mystery man was on even terms with Parelli last week until the latter started using step-over toe holds. He will meet a comparatively stranger to tonight in John Carlin, reputed champion of Sweden. Much has been claimed for Carlin, who is being matched in experienced Mystery Man ought to give Amarillo also, and the tough and ex-him a good gork-out.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Malone and baby left today for Hillsboro, where they will spend a ten-day vacation.

Federation Meeting Is Quiet Following Yesterday's Election

SAN ANTONIO, June 7.—(AP)—Delegates to the nineteenth biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's clubs put their house in order, today, and closed one of the quietest conventions the Federation has ever known.

With the election of officers yesterday, the only issue which has caused even a suggestion of conflict was settled.

Mrs. John E. Sippel of Baltimore heads the federation for the next two years by virtue of her victory over Mrs. Edward Franklin White.

Little resolutions on the program today. Four resolutions will be considered and a few unimportant amendments to the by-laws will be taken up.

Governor Dan Moody was given an enthusiastic reception last night when he told the convention that prohibition was the greatest accomplishment of a century in public welfare.

Legality Questioned in Stewart Trial

WASHINGTON, June 7.—(AP)—Arguments of the government's motion to strike out defense testimony intended to show that the Senate oil investigating committee which questioned Robert W. Stewart was not composed of a quorum were continued today in the oil man's trial for refusing to answer questions asked by the committee.

District attorney Leo A. Rover sought to eliminate the testimony of Edward J. Bullock, vice-president of the Standard oil company of Indiana, that only three senators were present when Stewart refused to answer. The defense contended the lack of a quorum deprived the examination of its legality.

Before the arguments started, Inham Mac, assistant clerk of the Senate committee, testified over Rover's objection that he did not know how many senators were present when Stewart refused to answer. He also said that the minutes of the committee meeting were not transcribed until after he had been subpoenaed as a witness in the trial, nearly four months after Stewart testified. He said the minutes were written from his "original notes" of the hearings.

to abandon their fields to emphasize the demands to be made by their leaders. These members believe those reports are exaggerated and that the demonstration will not develop.

Another issue of conflict concerns candidates themselves. There are as many opinions as to who could beat Hoover to the nomination as there are candidates and so far no single dominant personality has been able to weld all the anti-Hoover delegates into a manageable weapon.

Thaw Likely to Get No Aid From American Embassy

LONDON, June 7.—(AP)—Harry K. Thaw, barred out of England by the British immigration authorities, is not likely to get much help from official quarters in his desire to enter the country.

Various official quarters which might act in his behalf had not indicated any intentions of doing so today. The incident has not been brought to the attention of the home office. It would only come before the foreign office if the American embassy should raise the question and this is understood to be extremely unlikely.

The home office confirmed previous statements that Thaw was barred under the alien restriction law an undesirable and that seems to end the matter as far as Whitehall is concerned. The immigration authorities refused to let him step off the liner Aquitania and his only glimpse of England will be what he gets from the steamer's deck.

The home secretary's order of exclusion was based on an act providing that a person might be allowed to enter England only if he had not been sentenced in a foreign country for some crime for which he might be extradited from England.

Wilbur Says Navy Kept in Repair as New Policy

ANNAPOLIS, Md., June 7.—(AP)—The American government has changed its attitude toward Navy preparedness and believes in the maintenance of a permanent force of officers and efficient equipment. Secretary Wilbur today told the graduating class at the United States Naval academy.

Secretary Wilbur said that when he came into contact with the Navy the policy was to permit the Navy to deteriorate in equipment and personnel, except during the time of war, but today the policy is to maintain ships in a high state of efficiency and to make continuous effort to eradicate any weakness.

"It is a matter upon which you can be congratulated that you enter your service as officers in the Navy at a time when the policy of constant repair and of major improvements to naval ships has become the fixed policy of the government," the secretary said.

He said the nation, like the Naval service, "depends for its perpetuation and its successful operation upon the cumulative results of the wisdom of those who have gone before us, but also by the actual phraseology of the rules and documents which control our every day action."

"If you are true to our traditions, if you are diligent in your work; if you are faithful to the flag and to the constitution and the nation it symbolizes you will have justified the faith that the nation has in you as evidence by the diploma and commission I am about to bestow upon you."

SHOPS REMOVAL FOUGHT

Dustless Flying Field Is Army Plan for West Point of Air

SAN ANTONIO, June 7.—(AP)—Almost four square miles of sod will be employed to make the army's new "West Point of the Air" here a dustless flying field if plans approved here and now being considered in Washington are adopted.

Air Corps officials here have planned the field after a careful study of all flying factors and plans have been approved by Brigadier General F. P. Laham, commandant of the Air Corps training center.

The field will combine the primary training activities now carried on at March Field, Calif., and Brooks Field here. Quarters for at least 300 officers and 5,000 men will be provided in addition to hangars to house more than 200 airplanes. The "line" upon which airplanes are warmed up before taking off will be large enough to service 200 planes at one time.

The fate of Kelly Field present advanced training school of the air corps, still is in doubt. If traffic in the air is not badly congested it is possible that the advanced school also will be moved to the new field. Space for the necessary buildings has been left, but Kelly Field for several years will not be moved.

The building plans for the field have been arranged to leave the maximum flying space and at the same time keep them as far as possible from the dust which airplanes throw up upon landing. They also have been arranged with an eye to beauty from above, as well as appearance from the ground.

All of the power lines will be underground in order to avoid flying hazards.

its Falls, Ranger and Fort Worth railroad shops from that city to Breckenridge, as planned by officials of the road, it was reported here today.

Life Imprisonment Given 9 Men Who Killed Mrs. Browning

SHEPHERDSVILLE, Ky., June 7.—(AP)—Nine men were convicted in circuit court here today of murder in connection with the death of Mrs. Kate Browning, whose home was fired the night of May 4. The jury's verdict fixed the sentences at life imprisonment.

The doors of the Browning home were barred and the cabin set afire. Then, it its occupants broke through the barricade, they were fired upon presumably by men seeking revenge for information given federal prohibition agents.

The men found guilty are magistrate John Bolton, Frank Kluefeg, James Harris, Elmer and Clarence Crenshaw, and Frank, Leslie, Selby and Golden Hodge.

The slaying of Mrs. Browning and wounding of five members of her family, including an aged sister, aroused three counties and occasioned a two-day man hunt that resulted in the rounding up of the nine defendants, all of whom denied any connection with the crime.

PRISON SHOOTING PROBED

HOUSTON, June 7.—(AP)—Additional evidence was being gathered today in the fatal shooting of K. M. Stone, 56, trustee at the Blue Ridge state prison farm Saturday night during an attempted escape, following the discharge last night of Wm. J. Davis, guard.

John Luckenbacker, manager of the farm, said Davis' discharge did not mean that he fired the shot which killed the trustee, but that his conduct during the attempted break led to the action.
