Water plan public hearing tonight

"We have the draft plan out," said C.E. Williams, who heads the Panhandle Water Planning Group.

He said, according to the proposed plan, there are 28 communities that could face shortages in the next 50 years.

"Those are mainly on the North Plains," Williams said.

By DAVID BOWSER Staff Writer

WHITE DEER — A public hearing on the panhandle portion of a state-mandated water plan will be this evening at the Texas A&M research center in Amarillo.

"We have the draft plan out," said C.E. Williams, who heads the Panhandle Water Planning Group.

Williams said, according to the proposed plan, there are 28 communities that could face shortages in the next 50 years.

"Some of them are quite far out," Williams said. "The closest one was 10 or 12 years out."

Six counties, he said, show need for irrigation water during the next half century. "Those are mainly on the North Plains," Williams said.

He said that the presentation tonight in Amarillo will cover the plan and the needs that the planning group has found.

A state water plan was mandated by the Texas Legislature following a drought in the 1990s. Regional water plans are to be developed in each part of the state covering the next 50 years. The regional water plans will then submitted to the Texas Water Development Board and be used to form a state water plan.

"We'll go through the plan," Williams said of tonight's meeting, "and then take public comments."

He said he expects the presentation of the plan to take about 35 to 40 minutes. One area that could prove to be a point of contention is a reservoir project that was planned in the 1980s on Sweetwater Creek. That has been on the books," Williams said. "They did not build the project, but they did do the engineering studies." There was a provision in an interstate compact with Oklahoma that the project could be built for municipal and industrial use until Jan. 1, 2000. After Jan. 1, 2000, the project could be used for anything including recreation and irrigation.

Irrigation districts in Oklahoma, however, are concerned that building such a reservoir would dry up some Western Oklahoima water resources.

Williams said, however, that building the reservoir is not in the plan, but they did reserve the project.

"From my perspective, I think you need to look at it and see what needs to be done so you can figure out a win-win deal for everybody," Williams said.

He said that all the planning group did was reserve the right to build the reservoir. They didn't say they would do it.

The meeting will begin at 6:30 p.m. today at the Texas A&M Regional Research and Extension Center, 6500 Amarillo Blvd. West, in Amarillo.

Body identified as former Pampan Found in Amarillo warehouse

By DEE DEE LARAMORE Staff Writer

AMARILLO — Police have identified a woman's body found in an old warehouse on Harrison Street last week as that of a former Pampa resident.

Sgt. Rudy Montano of Amarillo Police Department Special Crimes Division said today the body found on Sept. 14 is that of Kelly Cave, 38, formerly of Pampa.

Montano said during his investigation he learned that workers first had gone to an old warehouse at 105 S. Harrison, near the railroad tracks downtown, on Saturday, Sept. 9. They had smelled a strong odor of decay at that time, he said, but did not go into the building_

The workers returned to inspect the building the following

Searchers find drowned man

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) - Searchers have recovered the body of a Dallas man believed to have drowned while swimming.

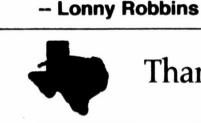

The body of John Black, 54, was recovered from Joe Pool Lake on Monday. Authorities said Black jumped from a pontoon boat early Sunday to retrieve a hat.

"They thought he would be found in the middle of the lake because apparently that's where witnesses said he went down," said Detective John Brimmer, a spokesman for the Grand Prairie police.

Thursday and found the stench was even stronger, the detective said. "They opened the overhead door and let the light in and that's when they saw the body laying there," he said.

Since the fully-clothed body was badly decomposed, police were not certain at first if it was a man or a woman. The body was sent to Lubbock for autopsy and detectives began the search for an identity.

Adding insult to injury Hurt woman theft victim

While a Pampa woman lay in an Amarillo hospital suffering severe head wounds from a beating, burglaries helped themselves to her barbecue grill.

Neighbors reported seeing two men taking a barbecue grill from the backyard Monday afternoon at 345 Miami.

Stephanie Lynn Nunley, 26, who lived at the home with her boyfriend, Michael Anthony Moreno, 27, was in Northwest Texas Hospital today with head injuries suffered in a beating Sept. 13. Moreno is in Gray County jail accused of aggravated assault.

Authorities said today that burglars apparently tried to break into the home at 345 Miami by cutting into a back window, but nothing inside the house appeared to have been disturbed.

Neighbors, however, said they saw two men carrying off a barbecue grill from the backyard between 6 p.m. and 8 p.m. Monday.

Carrie Darnell stands at the spot where her boyfriend found a mysterious stone while tearing down a termite-riddled porch on an old home at 700 S. Reid. Darnell said Eric Ballew was tearing the porch away when he found what appears to be a gravestone underneath. The stone (inset), is etched with the name Joe E. Thomas and the dates 1911-1931. It also contains the words: "Erected by (unreadable) Moore". Darnell and Ballew bought the property from John M. English who said his parents had owned it since the 1940s. "Joe E. Thomas" is not listed in any Gray County death records. If anyone has any information about the stone, call Darnell at 662-5200.

"I went down to the Resource Center a couple of blocks away where the transients go and talked to a lady there," Montano said.

He was told that a regular visitor to the Resource Center, a woman, had stopped coming about two weeks earlier. The woman's boyfriend also told police he had not seen her since Labor Day, Sept. 4.

Montano said police identified the body as Kelly Cave after tattoos found on the body during the autopsy matched tattoos Cave was known to have. A single thumb print investigators were able to obtain from the body also matched Cave's, he added.

"(The boyfriend) said she had complained about not feeling well," the detective said, adding that Cave had a "long history of health problems probably related to her lifestyle." He said she was known to abuse to drugs.

Police are awaiting further tests to help them determine how Cave died and whether or not a crime had been committed. No obvious trauma was found in the initial autopsy, he said, but further tests are being conducted.

"We aren't closing the case," Montano said. "It's still a suspicious death."

The report says the department should "eliminate face-to-face interview requirements" for Medicaid recipients.

Half of all food stamp recipients in Texas are children. But according to the report, fewer of them are being signed up. Last year, 59 percent of poor children received food stamps, down from

One reason for the decline is that poor families often spend hours in a welfare office for 'recertification" interviews designed to ensure full compliance with the law, the study said. Another part of the problem is a 1995 law that causes shorter and shorter intervals between those interviews, the report said.

In 1994, for example, only 7 percent of food stamp recipients had to undergo a recertification interview within three months. In PAMPA The Pa meets th month Church Starkwei For furth Anderse Walker a Deputies find woman beheaded, naked son covered with blood

Lange lying on the bathroom floor, her decapitated town and asked deputies to check her mother, sayhead by her side. Her teen-age son was nearby, naked, covered in blood and reading a Bible.

Investigators believe David Lange cut off his mother's head with a kitchen knife, but they don't know why.

This is really weird because there's no history (of violence) on this guy at all," Assistant Merced County Sheriff Henry Strength said Monday. "We have no idea why this thing happened."

Lange, an 18-year-old house painter, was being held without bail on suspicion of murdering his 50year-old mother. He had been on probation in the past, but probation officials said his file was sealed.

Relatives could not shed much light on the slaying last Friday at Delhi, a town of 7,700 people in farmland about 110 miles south of San Francisco. Last month, the same county was shaken after two hol. children were killed with pitchforks by an assailant who entered their farmhouse.

SUV object of burglars

Almost $1,500 in car stereo equipment, tools and instruments were reported taken from a sports utility vehicle in the 300 block of North Christy.

Pampa police officers said today that someone broke into a blue 1991 Isuzu Amigo belonging to David Kyle Weller, 19, of 320 N. Christy, sometime between 9 p.m. Sunday and 11 a.m. Monday and took a number of items valued at $1,458.

Officers said the back window of the vehicle was broken out. The items were apparently taken out the passenger door.

Stolen were a 12 volt water pump valued at $150, an AM-FM cassette player valued at $195, vehicle speakers valued at $50, an amp gauge valued at $40, a Pioneer AM-FM CD player valued at $169, a CD of Pearl America valued at $13 and a red Honda 1500 volt generator with handles and rollers valued at $850.

Pampa police seek vandals

Pampa police were searching for vandals today that caused several hundred dollars worth of damage to a car and two vans.

Police said about $300 damage was done to the hood of a new Chevrolet Monte Carlo belonging to Jeanette Griego, 51, that was parked in the Pampa Middle School parking lot Friday afternoon. About $150 damage was done to the hood of a forest green 1999 Plymouth Voyager van belonging to Mary Hunt, 56, also parked in the Pampa Middle School parking lot Friday afternoon.

A forest green 1998 Plymouth Voyager van belonging to Jacque Haddock, 40, that was parked in the Pampa Middle School parking lot also sustained about $150 damage to the hood.

Officers said the damage to the vehicles apparently occured between 7:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. Friday.

Next UW check-in luncheon slated

According to executive director of Pampa United Way, Katrina Bigham, a total of $27,000 has been received towards the 2000 "Lead the Way" UW campaign following the first Kick-off Luncheon last week. The next luncheon will be at 12 noon, Thursday, Sept. 21 in the large meeting room in Pampa Community Building, 200 N. Ballard. Bigham reported: United Supermarkets completed its employee pledges and its corporate pledge is forthcoming. NBC Bank gave its presentation and Williams Energy Service is working on its employee programs. Remember to double any individual pledges or small businesses with the Williams Energy raffle ticket which includes two tickets to either a Denver or a Dallas game, one night's lodging and a meal ticket. M&H Leasing has turned it its final packet. Finished pledge cards and money should be turned in at the Thursday luncheon. Anyone working cards for Commercial, Special Gifts and Professional need to work their cards in two weeks. For more information, call the UW office at 669-1001. Sponsor of this week's check-in luncheon will be: CASA of the High Plains, The Bridge, High Plains Epilepsy and Tralee Crisis Center.

Opinion Clinton trips the 'might' fantastic Playing army is serious stuff!

Clinton should spend more time at home.

No one begrudges a president a little overseas travel to bolster his image and promote U.S. interests. But, as a general rule, a president should keep the number of trips within reason and trip-related expenses shouldn't rival the gross national product of the countries he visits.

Based on a report requested by GOP senators and obtained by The Washington Post, President Clinton has fallen woefully short of those rules. Since 1997, the president, vice president, first lady and other members of his administration have taken 159 trips abroad.

The cost: $292 million, and that doesn't include lodging, Secret Service-related expenses and other costs. As the Post points out, the level of travel is astounding given that one of Clinton's 1992 campaign themes criticized President George Bush's decision to travel the world in a statesmanlike manner. President Clinton, however, has elevated the practice to a new level.

To cover the president's journey to India, the Middle East and Switzerland, taxpayers had to cough up $46.5 million just in transportation. Costs included "146 cargo flights to ferry everything from trucks and communications equipment to the did. presidential limousine," according to the Post. And the president typically brings along a king-like entourage: The Post explained that the 1998 Africa trip, which cost nearly $43 million, "involved more than 1,300 government officials who accompanied Clinton or preceded him as advance teams." The White House defends the trips as essen-Force. tial to U.S. security, freedom and the promotion of human rights across the globe. But one has to wonder the value of spending this kind of money to make perfunctory visits to places such as Botswana, Oman, Tanzania, Bangladesh and other nations in which the United States has few interests, few alliances, few reasons to be paying high-falutin' state visits.

I have entered a world that's quite alien to me. It's the world of the U.S. Army. Through the years, my life has briefly brushed the military, but for the most part, such matters had little to do with me.

Up until recently, the closest I'd come was in 1971 when my older sister Diana married a young man who had drawn a low number in the draft. He decided to join the Air Force and they decided to get married. They lived apart for months while he went through basic training. Then she moved to Aurora, Colo., and they were able to be together for a few more months before he was shipped to Okinawa, Japan. She came back home and worked almost a year to make enough money to fly to Okinawa and be with him

I remember making "letters on tape" to send to them. Back then, there was still "Air Mail," too. I also remember being so jealous of Diana because she became a When they came back to the States, they were stationed in Phoenix, Ariz. I spent part of one summer and several weeks after I graduated from high school with them there which gave me a little taste of what life was like in the Air Now, though, it has hit close to home. Our son Dave just completed nine weeks of basic training in the U.S. Army at Fort Benning, Ga. I could write a book about all it took for him to get to that point, including a helicopter trip to a burn center in Augusta, Ga., for chemical burns from laundry soap. Vic and I borrowed his parents' van, stopped in Vernon to pick up our daughter Angel and grandbabies Kaitlyn and Brendan, and headed for Georgia. I felt confident that Kaitlyn could handle four days of nine- and 10-hour drives to cross the South and back, but I wondered how 16-month old Brendan would tale spending that long in a car seat.

That little boy was a trooper! His morning and afternoon naps helped a lot. His momma is a whiz at knowing the right things to do to entertain her children. We also learned to stop every couple of hours and let him run around for a few minutes

The day we drove into Columbus, Ga., he had reached the end of his rope. It had been 10 long, hot hours and he was ready to get out. We tried singing, and playing, and everything we could think of. Angel kept saying, "MiMi," the kids' name for me. She'd say, "MiMi" and he'd say guns. And they were firing those guns at us! An APC (armored personnel carrier) tore across the tarmac, skidded to a stop, and another group of Rastafarian - looking guys jumped out and shot at us.

I looked at everyone else. Is this normal? No one else ran, so I decided to stay, too.

The only way I can describe these soldiers is this – they were dressed in camouflage and their helmets were covered with dred locks of camouflage. Their faces were painted, too. Talk about scary looking! Surprisingly, Brendan and Kaitlyn checked them out with intense interest but no fear. I can't say the same for their grandmother.

As it turned out, this was a demonstration of what Dave had been learning the past few weeks. It was impressive, but it also drove home the fact that Dave isn't "playing" army. This is serious stuff!

Then the military band strikes up a march and out of the trees, straight and true, come the grad-

Today is Tuesday, Sept. 19, the 263rd day of 2000. There are 103 days left in the year.

Immigration contributes to traffic jams

I don't know which is funnier: People getting excited because airports are crowded and airlines are running late during the height of the travel season, or people thinking government can fix it.

Hey, ever heard of traveling during the offseason?

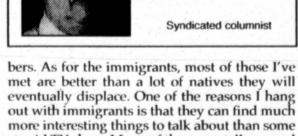

Hey, ever heard of limiting immigration?

Hey, ever heard of government fixing anything? The federal government today couldn't manage a three-car funeral, much less the complex private transportation system that, despite its faults, moves millions of people safely hither and yon.

Most of what people complain about - traffic jams in the air and on the ground, not to mention pollution — are all direct results of too many people.

Next time you're cooling your heels at an airport or sitting in traffic, just remember that your wonderful elected officials in Washington believe that adding a million legal immigrants and another quarter of a million illegal immigrants each and every year is a very good thing to do.

After all, the officials are enlightened and progressive, and those of us who suggest that the number of immigrants be limited are, of course, nativists, racists, etc. and so forth. But, hey, if you're going to leave the doors wide open, then don't complain about the crowds. My only problem with immigration is num-stupid TV show. Many of them can tell you real survival stories.

But in addition to increasing pollution and creating traffic jams on land and in the air, the Smiley Folk in Congress are also creating potential social explosions. These time bombs consist of the following elements:

1. Continued export of manufacturing jobs under the false flag of free trade. The end result will be an economy in which only those with above-average IQs will be able to find a job that pays a wage that will support dignity. The rest will have to fight for the low-pay service jobs. 2. The continued open-door policy that will force the native-born to compete with people who, coming from countries where the alternative to hard work is starvation, can work rings around them and therefore will soon have all the service jobs locked up.

racial and ethnic groups that fans resentment, rivalry and hostility.

4. The electronic-communications industry that can take any small incident and magnify and distort it into national or global ersatz crisis. For the first time, the power to create a lynch mob now rests with TV moguls and their flunkies

That's your powder. The ignition can be anything from the inevitable economic recession to some incident of real or imagined injustice.

The reshaping of the American economy is much more important than most politicians seem to think.

There's a big difference in an economy in which a young man, flipping hamburgers, can see that as merely a steppingstone to a better life, and an economy in which a middle-age man realizes that there is no steppingstone available, that what he has now is all he will ever have. Hopeless people with nothing to lose can be very dangerous folks.

I would advise people to develop an Oriental philosophy of fatalism, buy a gun and be careful where you live.

The Smiley Folk in Washington are preparing a future in which the lethargic are going to have a hard time enjoying their lethargy.

3. The continuing political pandering to

Ad for Grave Marker's Maker Should Not Be Set in Stone

DEAR ABBY: My dear father passed away recently. My mother ordered a headstone in my father's memory from a local business.

By coincidence, my children and I went to visit my father's place of rest in the late afternoon on the day that the headstone was installed. While saying some prayers for my father, my 9-yearold daughter noticed a tag on the headstone. Upon taking a closer look. I discovered that it was a metal business card that had been wedged into the concrete between the base of the headstone and the top portion. The business card had the name and telephone number of the "monument designer" on it.

I immediately pulled the metal business card out of the drying concrete. Had we come to visit my father's place of rest a day later. that advertisement would have been cemented into eternity along with my father's memory.

How dare anyone attempt to take advantage of such a solemn and personal situation to further his business interests! Your comments, please

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)-The widow of NFL running back Fred Lane was held without bail on bank larceny charges after documents in federal court suggested she might have killed her husband to stop him from reporting the theft.

At a later hearing, the pros-ecutor told the judge that the state intends to seek the death penalty if Deidra Lane is convicted of murder.

The prosecutor told the judge that Deidra Lane killed the Indianapolis Colts running back to collect on a $5 million life insurance policy taken out shortly before his death. Judge James Lanning then revoked Deidra Lane's $100,000 bail on the murder charge.

In federal court, Judge Carl Horn referred to an FBI agent's affidavit before he told a sobbing Deidra Lane --wearing an orange jail jump-suit and leg shackles — that she would not get bail any time soon.

CASTLE ROCK, Colo. (AP) Denver Broncos linebacker Bill Romanowski stood silently in court as a judge scheduled a hearing on charges he used a prescription drug prescribed for someone else.

Romanowski did not speak in his brief appearance in Douglas County District Court. He stood stoically in a neat suit as District Judge Thomas Curry scheduled a Nov. 6 hearing on motions and possible arraignment.

The Harvesters are now 4-0 in district.

Pampa started the dual, capturing 6 of 7 doubles matches. Freshman Britton White and sophomore Helen Brooks won the mixed doubles 6-3, 6-1.

"Britton is doing a great job, recently stepping up to varsity and filling a spot on the team," said Pampa coach Carolyn Quarles.

The Lady Harvesters faced a tough Caprock team, winning 5 of 10 matches.

Team captains Ashlei Jordan and Michell Lee, both juniors, won No. 2 doubles.

Freshman Tara Jordan and sophomore Abby Bradley fought hard to win No. 3 girls doubles 7-6 (12-10), 6-3. In singles, Ashlei Jordan and Tara Jordan won in straight sets as did Helen Brooks at No. 7 singles. "I am proud of our entire girls team. They are young and lacking in experience at the top positions, but they are showing improvement each week, coach Quarles said.

Pampa's Brittany Kindle took Jennifer Massey, last spring's district runnerup, to three sets before losing 6-3 in the third set. Michelle Lee played Sarah Czuratis, a foreign exchange student, to three sets at the No. 3 position before losing 6-0 in the third set.

The boys team continues to dominate in district play, remaining undefeated at 36-0 in four district matches.

These seven guys work so hard and are extremely determined to win," Quarles said.

stumbled - not rumbled through the first two games, including a disappointing 13 yards on 28 attempts in a 27-24 loss at Stanford. And in doing so, the Longhorns (1-1) tumbled from No. 5 to No. 15 in the national rankings.

"When you look at our offense, it was inconsistent the whole game," coach Mack Brown said Monday. "We totally stunk in the third quarter."

For two games, Texas has struggled to move the ball on the ground. In a 52-10 rout of Louisiana-Lafayette, the running game was pretty much ignored as the Longhorns dominated by passing for 403 yards.

But the problem stood out against Stanford, which took a 20-9 lead into the fourth quarter before Texas rallied on the arm of quarterback Major Applewhite.

Blame part of the problem on Stanford's defense, which threw a steady of diet of blitzes into the backfield. With the Cardinal rushing more defenders than the Longhorns could block, Texas backs had a hard time getting started.

"Blitzing hurt the running game

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) - Texas Rangers manager Johnny Oates is surprised at the way his team's defense has deserted him.

The Rangers botched an important rundown, and Joe Mays pitched 5 1-3 solid innings as the Minnesota Twins beat Texas 3-1 Monday night.

"The worst part of our game is defense, and not just catching the ball," Oates said. "There's more to this game than swinging the bat."

Minnesota led 2-1 in the fourth when Torii Hunter led off with a walk and reached third on Jacque Jones' single. Rangers starter Rick Helling made a nice move to third, then wheeled to first and caught Jones leaning. But while the Rangers retired Jones in a rundown, Hunter came in to score.

"We did rundowns perfect in spring training, and now this is the second time this has happened to us this year," Oates said.

Underdog Cowboys defeat high-priced Redskins

By DAVID GINSBURG AP Sports Writer

LANDOVER, Md. (AP) - Even after a $100 million makeover, the Washington Redskins once again looked ugly against the Dallas Cowboys.

Randall Cunningham threw two touchdown passes and Emmitt Smith ran for 83 yards and a score as the previously winless Cowboys beat the haughty Redskins 27-21 Monday night, their sixth straight victory over their arch rivals.

Redskins owner Daniel Snyder spent $100 million during the offseason in an effort to reach the Cowboys star Deion Sanders and defensive tackle Bruce Smith.

At this point, however, the Redskins (1-2) can't even beat a Dallas team that is clearly in a rebuilding mode under new coach Dave Campo. The Cowboys, in danger of falling to 0-3 for the first time since 1989, instead recorded another satisfying win against their NFC East adversaries.

Olympic roundup

his place as an Olympic hero Tuesday, bouncing back from defeat in the 200-meter freestyle to lead a world record-breaking 800-meter relay and win his third gold medal.

The Aussies' time of 7 minutes, 7.05 seconds capped another night of records at the pool, including the new Olympic mark Tom Malchow set as he won the United States' sixth swimming gold.

United States something to cheer about on a day when some U.S. teams took a dive and an American medal favorite pulled out of the 100 meters at the Sydney Games.

The U.S. women's gymnastics team went from gold medalists to no medalists. Winners in Atlanta four years ago, the women finished fourth in the team competition.

A few hours earlier, Japan had snapped the American softball team's 112-game winning streak.

More bad news: A spokeswoman for Inger Miller's track club said the world's secondranked sprinter will miss at least the 100 meters — and maybe the 200 and 400 relay - because of an injury.

At the aquatic center, Malchow shouted, pumped his arms furiously and pointed at to make it to the medal round. the crowd after swimming 1:55.35 to beat the Olympic mark he set in prelims.

Australia was second in the medal count at the end of competition Tuesday. The Australian swimmer Ian Thorpe solidified United States was first with 18 medals (7 gold, 6 silver, 5 bronze), Australia had 17 (6-5-6) and China was third with 15 (6-2-7).

> GYMNASTICS: The U.S. women's team finally performed with some fire, but it wasn't enough to recapture the glory of Atlanta. The squad that won gold four years ago, wound up fourth in the team competition on Tuesday.

World champion Romania won with Malchow's individual glory gave the 154.608 points. Russia won the silver and China took the bronze.

SOFTBALL: Snap!

The U.S. softball team had won 112 games in a row, but a frustrating 2-1 loss to Japan in 11 innings broke the streak.

The Japanese beat the United States for the first time ever and halted a run of U.S. victories that dated back to the 1998 world championships.

Star second baseman Dot Richardson committed two errors that allowed both Japanese runs to score in the top of the 11th. The United States lacked offensive punch, too. The Americans stranded 20 runners and loaded the bases in the seventh, eighth and ninth innings but couldn't get anyone home. Despite the loss, the United States is likely

- TRACK AND FIELD: The woman said.

- BOXING: Now the American boxers are 8-for-8.

Jose Navarro won his first Olympic fight at 112 pounds to keep the United States boxers unbeaten at the Sydney Games. He outpointed Hermensen Ballo of Indonesia 16-

Jermain Taylor in the 156-pound class also got through his first bout, beating Dimitriy sagin of Bulgaria. U.S. boxers have won all their fights so far at the Olympics.

- TENNIS: No problems for the U.S. women but lots of trouble for the U.S. men. Second-ranked Venus Williams beat Henrieta Nagyova of Slovakia, 6-2, 6-2, while third-seeded Monica Seles made quick work of Hungarian Katalin Marosi-Aracama on the first day of the women's singles tournament. Seles won 6-0, 6-1 in a match that took just 48 minutes.

The tournament's already over for Vince padea and Todd Martin. Australian Pat Rafter beat Spadea in straight sets, 6-4, 6-3, while German Rainer Schuttler defeated Martin 6-2, 6-0.

- WATER POLO: Their Australian surroundings must be rubbing off on the U.S. women's water polo team. Their reaction to their first defeat of the Olympics: no worries

"For four years, I've wanted that moment," he said.

Dutchman Pieter van den Hoogenband, the man who shocked Thorpe - and about every other Aussie - by winning the 200 free Monday, also set another world record Tuesday. He swam 47.84 seconds in semifinals of the 100 free.

Thorpe, just 17, became Australia's mostcelebrated citizen Saturday night when he won the 400-meter freestyle and then relay victory over the United States.

After settling for silver Monday, Thorpe made sure his next race didn't turn out the same way. He led off for the Australian relay, effortlessly cut through the water and staked his team to an insurmountable lead over the United States.

By the time William Kirby finished the final lap, it wasn't a question of whether on winning. Australia would beat its own record of 7:08.79, but rather just how much it would lower the mark.

The relay was supposed to Thorpe's last event, but the Aussies liked his performance so much they're going to give him another Antonio McDyess highlighted a 14-0, secchance to swim in the 400 medley relay ond-half run that put the game away. starting Friday.

ranked second in the world in the 100 and 200 meters behind Marion Jones is definitely out for the Olympic 100 and may miss the rest of her events, a spokesman for her track club said. Miller, second in the 100 and 200 at the U.S. trials, is hurt and may have to scrap her plans to challenge Jones in Sydney, said Karyn Nguyen, a spokeswoman for the HSI track club for which Miller runs.

 SOCCER: Move over, ladies. The U.S. touched the wall first in an epic 400-free men's soccer team is out for glory, too. Sometimes overshadowed by the worldchampion women's team, the men beat Kuwait 3-1 to advance to the quarterfinals of the Olympic tournament for the first time. Landon Donovan's goal in the 89th minute sealed the win.

A few hours after the U.S. softball lost for the first time in two years, the men's basketball team continued to dominate the Olympic tournament, routing Italy 93-61. Spectacular dunks by Ray Allen and Australian Bridgette Gusterson scored the game-winner as the Aussies beat the United States 7-6.

EQUESTRIAN: A bad break for New Zealand, a lucky one for the United States equestrian squad.

The Americans started Tuesday in fourth place but moved up to third and took the pronze medal in the three-day team event. New Zealand had been in third place, but two of its horses pulled up lame, so it couldn't complete the event.

Australia won the gold medal and Britain took the silver.

BEACH VOLLEYBALL: Rob Heidger and Kevin Wong split two consolation matches but still wound up making the final 16 of the men's tournament based on point differential. Heidger and Wong play the Mexican duo of Juan Ibarra and Joel Sotelo on Friday.

BASEBALL: Ernie Young doubled home two runs and hit a solo homer as the United States stayed unbeaten with a 6-2 win over the Netherlands.

Cleveland Indians stuck with strange twin bill; playing two teams

NEW YORK (AP) - Over their objections, the Cleveland Indians Sportsman's Park. are stuck with a strange twinbill — against the Twins and White Sox. Baseball decided the Indians must play an odd doubleheader on Sept. 25 at Jacobs Field, facing Chicago in the daytime and Minnesota at night.

Since 1900, only once has there been a three-team doubleheader at the same ballpark. The St. Louis Cardinals beat the New York Giants 6-4, then lost to the Boston Braves 2-0 on Sept. 13, 1951, at EDT. The game against the Twins will start at 7:05 p.m.

With the Indians in the wild card chase and no off-days left, the split doubleheader was deemed the best way to make up a rainout ept. 10 between Cleveland and the White Sox.

After returning to Cleveland from a 12-game, 10-day road trip that includes consecutive day-night doubleheaders in Boston, the Indians will play the AL Central-leading White Sox next Monday at 1:05 p.m.

AMARILLO — Employees from the U.S. Department of Energy's Pantex Plant recently broke ground on two Habitat for Humanity houses on at 501 and 503 N. Hayes in Amarillo.

Day & Zimmermann, Inc., parent company of plant contractor Mason & Hanger Corp., presented a $25,000 matching gift to Amarillo Habitat for Humanity.

"Day & Zimmermann agreed to match an employee gift of up to $25,000," said Pantex General Manager Ben Pellegrini. "As usual, our employees went above and beyond and have raised more than $30,000, and the number is still rising.

Dr. Pellegrini said, "A major component of Day & Zimmermann's corporate philosophy is community involvement. We're thrilled to be able to make a real difference in our community by building these two homes."

At the ground-breaking, the Day & Zimmermann check was present-ed by Pellegrini. A check for the initial installment of funds collected from employee pledges was presented by Pantex's Metal Trades Council President Frank George and Pantex Guards Union President Mike Stumbo.

In addition to raising funds for the homes, more than 100 volunteers from the plant will build the two houses.

PRCA rodeo to be part of Fair week festivities

AMARILLO - Once again, the time has come to dust off your This prestigious honor will be given to an individual who is recogboots and spurs and put your cowboy hats on straight. The Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association comes to the 77th annual Tri-State Fair Sept. 22-23. In two performances, rodeo fans will be thrilled by some of the rankest broncs, meanest bulls and toughest cowboys in the nation.

Over 300 cowboys and cowgirls are expected to vie for over $50,000 in prize money, the largest purse offered in the history of the rodeo.

Featured stars in this year's lineup include PRCA rodeo stock contractor of the year Beutler and Gaylord Rodeo Co. of Elk City, Okla.; three-time pro-rodeo announcer of the year, Hadley Barett of Kersey, Colo.; five-time world champion bullfighter, Rob Smets of Shamrock; and three-time world champion clown, Butch Lehmkuhler of North Platte, Neb. Miss Rodeo America, Brandy DeJongh of Leona Valley, Calif., will also be on hand to welcome rodeo visitors.

The Tri-State Fair cowboy or cowgirl of the year award for 2000 will be presented during the first performance of the rodeo, Sept. 22. 7767.

nized for his or her dedication to the western lifestyle of the panhandle, community and youth programs.

Single steer roping, one of the eight rodeo events, will be held at 9 a.m., Saturday, Sept. 23. All other rodeo performances will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Friday and Saturday. Sponsored locally by Coors of Amarillo, Cellular One, Texas Dodge and Southwestern Public Service, Rodeo Amarillo is supported by such national sponsors as Justin Sports Medicine, Cope/Skoal rodeo and Dodge rodeo series.

Just prior to Saturday night's rodeo performance will be the selection of the Grand Champion Steer for the Tri-State Fair. This selection will be made from 4-H and FFA beef projects judges earlier in the day. Tickets for the two performances are $12 (reserved seating) and $6 (general admission). Jury convicts Tommy Lynn Sells on capital murder charge

DEL RIO, Texas (AP) — The father of a slain 13year-old girl said he hopes Tommy Lynn Sells gets the death penalty instead of a life prison sentence when the punishment phase of his murder trial begins. "He took my baby. It's hard to explain the rage," said Terry Harris, the father of Kaylene Harris, who was killed in their home on New Year's Eve. "Hopefully he'll get what's coming to him."

A jury convicted Sells of capital murder and attempted murder after 70 minutes of deliberating Monday.

Sells, a 36-year-old former carnival worker, was accused of breaking into the Harris family's mobile home near Del Rio around 4:30 a.m. on Dec. 31 and slitting the necks of Kaylene and a young friend, who survived the attack and testified against Sells.

Frio sheriff admits theft, marijuana sale

SAN ANTONIO (AP) - Frio County Sheriff Carl Henry Burris intends to plead guilty to one count of conspiring to distribute more than 100 kilograms of marijuana and one count of stealing from a federally funded agency, according to court documents.

In a signed plea agreement, the 21-year veteran law enforcement officer admits he stole money confiscated in a traffic stop and sold marijuana seized from smugglers, the San Antonio Express-News reported in Tuesday's editions.

The agreement, filed Friday in federal court, will likely end a career in law enforcement that includes two election victories and an acquittal on state charges of soliciting a bribe.

Burris was arrested by FBI agents Dec. 8, 1998 and although agents accompanied the arrest with a detailed affidavit alleging Burris pocketed seized money and peddled seized marijuana, no indictment ever followed.

Instead, Burris posted bond and went back to work, although he was forbidden to carry a gun as a condition of his release.

Critics hold talks for fluoride war

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Fluoride foes say they will arm themselves to the teeth if San Antonio voters support an upcoming ballot measure that would add the element to the city's water supply.

"We are drawing a line in the dirt like they did at the Alamo," said longtime fluoride critic Kay Turner. "And win, lose or draw, none of us can stop fighting."

The San Antonio fluoride issue comes to a head Nov. 7, when the measure appears on the ballot. The vote will mark the third time since 1966 that San Antonio voters have been asked whether to fluoridate the city's drinking water.

The move failed twice, most recently in 1985.

Mayor Howard Peak, who supports the fluoride movement for its dental health benefits, said San Antonio is the country's largest city without fluoridation.

Now a star, Armstrong rolls into Sydney fit and ready for gold

Two months later, he was diagnosed with testicular cancer that had spread to his lungs and brain. Doctors gave him about a 50 percent chance of surviving.

The story of Armstrong's recovery was stunning enough. Then there was his remarkable victory in the 1999 Tour de France, one of the most grueling events in all sports. And then, as if to show it was no fluke, he repeated that victory this year.

UT considers standardized testing

DALLAS (AP) — In an effort to gauge how well students are learning, the nine-campus University of Texas system is considering standardized tests similar to the Texas Assessment of Academic Skills taken by public school students.

The plan, to be discussed before the board of regents Oct. 2, would issue standardized tests on some subjects beginning in the 2002-03 school year, followed by tests in all core subjects by 2004-05.

We have to have some measure to say how we're doing," UT regent Charles Miller, chair of the UT regents' Academic Affairs Committee, said in Tuesday's editions of The Dallas Morning News.

"I don't think it has to mimic or copy the public schools. The whole issue of accountability is on the table for education," Miller said.

College presidents were notified of the proposal two weeks ago, and faculty presidents received letters Friday. In addition to the main campus in Austin, UT has satellite schools in Arlington, Brownsville, Dallas, Edinburgh, El Paso, Odessa, San Antonio and Tyler.

Atlantis crew packing up for landing

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) - Near the end of a jam-packed 12-day mission to outfit the expanding international space station, the crew of space shuttle Atlantis closed up their spacecraft Tuesday for a planned return home.

Atlantis and its seven-man crew will have two shots to land at Kennedy Space Center on Wednesday, both coming before daybreak. The orbiter has enough fuel to stay up for two extra days if needed.

Mission managers decided not to call up Edwards Air Force Base as a backup landing site, given the favorable weather forecast for Cape anaveral. There was a minor possibility of some low clouds and showers, NASA said.

During their orbital ride, Atlantis's crew outfitted and equipped the space station, slated to get its first permanent resident crew in just six weeks.

CON MEN QUESTIONED: One of two brothers who helped federal authorities in New Orleans build their corruption case against former Louisiana Gov. Edwin Edwards said Monday he could not remember details of the immunity agreement he received in exchange for his assistance. ... ALCOHOL USE FALLS: Alcohol and drug use has declined among Texas teen-agers, according to results of a state survey released Monday, but the drop isn't enough to satisfy a coalition of groups battling teen drinking. "Parents have to understand that (alcohol) is not the lesser of two evils," said Jay Kimbrough, director of the Texas Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse. "This is a killer." ... AGENCY CRITICIZED: Despite pleas to offer solutions rather than criticism, the Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission got an earful Monday as the agency began a weeklong series of hearings on proposals designed to end the Houston area's dubious distinction as the nation's smog capital. Under a plan that must be submitted to the federal Environmental Protection Agency before the end of the year, Harris County, which includes Houston, and the seven counties surrounding the nation's fourth-largest city would be brought into compliance with federal clean air standards.

LA-Z-BOY

imagine being Armstrong's teammate. You give a news conference and nobody even asks you a question — unless it's about Lance.

But that's what happens nowadays when The Lance Show rolls into town.

Armstrong is back at the Olympics, for the third time. But this time, things are oh so different. In the intervening four years, he has become a star - one of those stars whose fame transcends their sport.

Four years ago in Atlanta, the Texan cyclist finished way out of medal contention. Known as a good rider, but not necessarily a great one, he left Atlanta not knowing that he was ill - very ill.

Leg with Nike shoe washes ashore in South Texas
