PAMPA FAIR ASSURED FOR THIS FALL

Twelve Counties Plan Formation of All-Panhandle Highway Body

BETTER ROADS DISCUSSED AT MEETING HERE

Committees Appointed To Draw Up Detail Plans TO MEET AGAIN AT EARLY DATE Organization to Work For Good General Program

Formation of an all-Panhandle highway body to work as a unit for the welfare of this region was decided upon at a meeting of 125 persons Monday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce. Representatives from a dozen counties were here and opinion was general that the organization should be constructive and not antagonistic to the State Highway Commission.

J. H. Lavender, vice president of the Chamber of Commerce, presided. Geo. W. Briggs, secretary, and Mr. Lavender outlined the purpose of the meeting. Following a general discussion, it was decided to select a committee composed of one member from each of the 12 counties represented. This committee in turn selected nominating and constitution and by-laws committees of five members each.

When these committees are ready to report, another meeting will be held. It is probable that when the meeting is held, a meeting will be called in the morning that day to discuss plans for a state and federal highway running from Elk City, Wheeler, Pampa, Skellytown, Borger, Sneed, Dumas, and Dalhart.

The committee named to select the nominating and by-laws committees was: Tom Black, Higgins, Lipscomb county; S. B. Hale, Spearman, Hansford county; D. A. Endsley, Dumas, Moore county; E. H. Richey, Miami, Roberts county; S. E. Allison, Canadian, Hemphill county; S. P. Cox, Mobeetie, Wheeler county; George W. Briggs, Pampa, Gray county; J. W. Knorrp, Groom, Carson county; H. H. Halnes, Amarillo, Potter county; G. L. Boykin, Clarendon, Donley county; J. L. Bagwell, Claude, Armstrong county, and C. T. Matkin, Memphis, Hall county.

This committee selected the nominating committee as follows: L. A. McAdams, Canadian, J. W. Knorrp, Groom, C. H. Walker, Dalhart, S. B. Hale, Spearman, W. W. Ohlton, Amarillo.

The constitution and by-laws committee was named as follows: Judge A. A. Callahan, Fannin, J. L. Bagwell, Claude, G. G. Granville, Borger, Judge J. R. Porter, Clarendon, J. B. Clark, Shamrock.

Speakers brought out information that nearly all the counties had local complaints, but it was emphasized that these things should be submerged as much as possible and that the proposed organization should work for a general highway program.

However, when local communities are being done an injustice by proposed routings, it was mentioned that the body as a whole would be more effective than the single county that is affected.

Deputy Killed By Unidentified Man

DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 28.—(P)—Clarence E. James, 38, special deputy constable and night watchman at a country club here, was shot and killed last night by an unidentified man responsible for several recent robberies in the neighborhood. James fell victim to his own trap to catch the suspect. Using Mrs. Charles Anderson, 34, as a decoy the couple went to the golf course to await the bandit. Seeing a man creeping toward them in the darkness James opened fire. The robber suspect emptied his gun and James fell wounded. He died two hours after reaching a hospital. A blood-stained hospital pencil led officers to believe the slayer was wounded by a bullet fired by the night watchman.

Bandits Shoot Man and Kidnap Two Companions

ABILENE, Tex., Aug. 28.—(P)—A police dragnet was thrown out today in an effort to apprehend two bandits who last night shot and probably fatally wounded E. H. Johnson, 30, kidnaped Harry Demetral, wrestler, and a girl companion, and robbed four other couples two miles south of here on the Tuscola highway. Johnson shot three times, was near death today in a local hospital. He attempted to reach for his gun after being accosted by the pair on the highway.

Lecturer Sought For Violation of An Old Statute

BOSTON, Aug. 28.—(P)—Police were seeking Dr. Horace M. Kallen, former Harvard lecturer and now on the staff of a New York school of social research whom they charge with violation of a blasphemy statute 231 years old.

The police say that during a Sacco-Vanzetti memorial meeting here last Thursday Dr. Kallen declared Jesus Christ was an Anarchist. A police sergeant attended the meeting and took a stenographic report of the speeches.

Anony Bimba of Brooklyn, N. Y., editor of a Lithuanian paper, was the first man in recent years to be prosecuted under the ancient blue law, during a Brockton address in 1926 he of a personal God. He was acquitted when the judge ruled that Bimba had merely given his personal opinion in a manner allowed by law after a decision in a test case many years before.

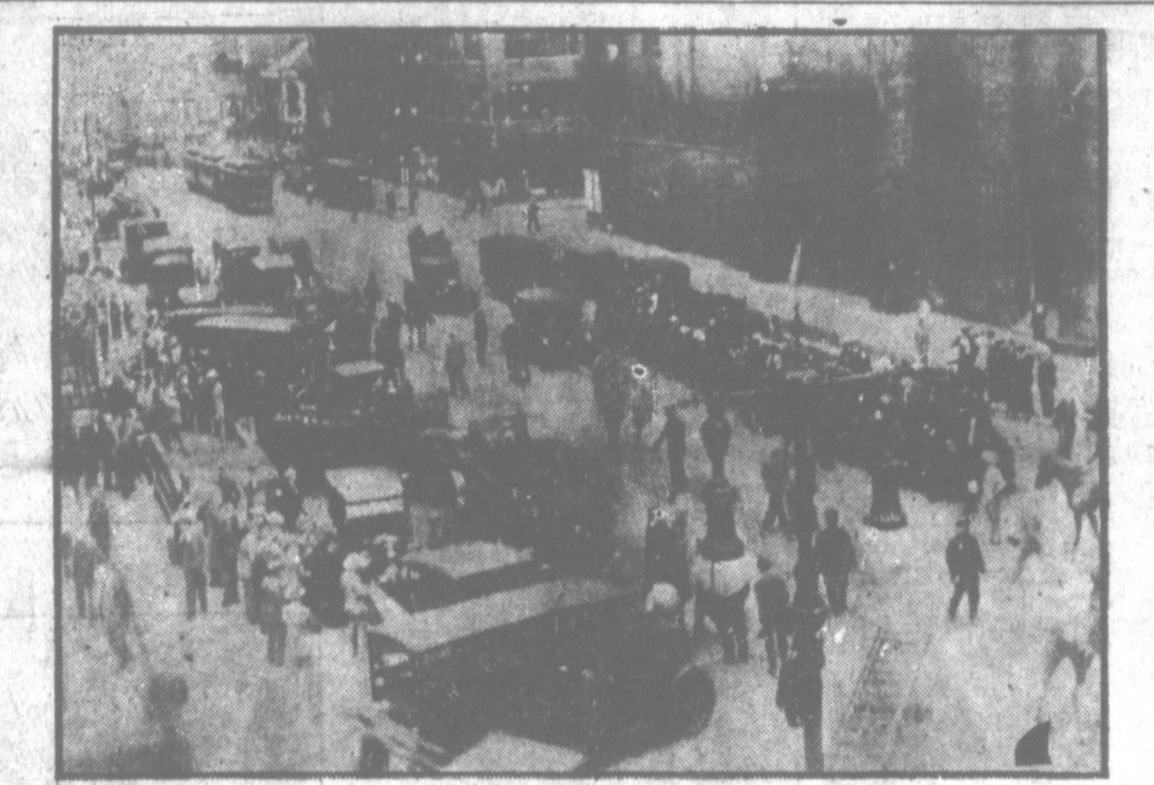

Warrent for Dr. Kallen's arrest was sworn out last Friday, but it did not become known until police visited the headquarters of the Sacco-Vanzetti defense committee in search of him.

The law regarding blasphemy was enacted in 1697 and provided for a fine of not more than $300 or imprisonment up to a year. It superseded an act of 1646 which made death the sole penalty. Bimba was the first person to be prosecuted under it in more than 100 years.

Election Results

DALLAS, Aug. 28.—(P)—Returns to the Texas election bureau at 11 a. m. from 236 out of 232 counties of the state's 253 which held a run-off primary last Saturday, including 125 complete, gave the following totals: For United States Senator: Connally, 302,772; Mayfield, 246,667. Superintendent of Public Instruction: Garner, 225,690; Marrs, 301,454. Land Commissioner: Robinson, 228,933; Terrell, 185,648. Civil Appeals, District 11: Funderburk, 24,578; Patterson, 212,203. Congress, district 17: Callaway, 20,999; Lee, 25,971.

Subway Disaster Claims Big Toll

The Times Square entrance to the New York subway where 17 were killed and 150 injured, according to early reports, when a crowded express train was wrecked is shown here as ambulances waited for the victims to be brought up from below. Police lines held back thousands who thronged to the scene of the disaster which was caused by one of the coaches splitting a switch at high speed. Observe the equipment of firemen, police and discuss squads who had just descended into the subway when this picture was taken by a photographer for this newspaper and NEA Service.

Scouts Holding Field Day Meet At Davis Ranch

Boy Scouts of the Adobe Walls council are today vying for honors in a field track and scoutcraft meet on the Mel Davis ranch south of Lefors. Boys from Borger, Phillips, Panhandle, White Deer, Canadian and Pampa are taking part in the first field day of the newly formed council. An important feature of the day's program will be at 7 o'clock tonight when the president of the Washita Valley area council of Oklahoma will present the Adobe Walls council charter. E. E. Voss, deputy regional executive of Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico will be the representative of the regional office.

HEAT FATAL TO FIREMEN

HOUSTON, Texas, Aug. 28.—(P)—David M. Reynolds, overcome by heat three weeks ago, died last night in a hospital here. He was fireman at an oil refinery.

Mrs. Curtis Crouch of Tahoka is visiting relatives in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Foster and family of Liberty, Kas., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Patton and other relatives.

Mrs. A. B. Zahn and Mrs. A. D. McNamara returned home yesterday from a week's visit in Elk City, Okla.

Four Killed When Buildings Collapse

SHELBY, N. C., Aug. 28.—(P)—Four people were known to have been killed and an undetermined number injured today when three buildings collapsed. The dead are Miss Ora Eskridge, clerk in the First National bank; one unidentified white man and two unidentified negro laborers.

The buildings that collapsed were the First National bank, a temporary quarters; Goodies Grocery store, and a tailor shop. No cause for the collapse was given although workmen were said to have been excavating under the building.

George Blanton, acting vice president of the bank, escaped with minor injuries, as did Forest Eskridge, cashier. Clarence Mull, assistant cashier, received a broken leg and arm and cuts about the head. His injuries were said by physicians to be serious.

Two other clerks were said to have been buried in the debris. The proprietor of the tailor shop was missing and was reported to have been buried in the ruins of his shop.

Four bank clerks were unaccounted for but it was thought possible that they were in the crowds about the scene. A physician climbed through dangerous overhanging walls to treat a woman bank clerk who was pinned under twisted steel and brick.

DRIVER DIES OF INJURIES

SAN ANGELO, Texas, Aug. 28.—(P)—Burt Bonar, truck driver, died today of injuries received yesterday when he was struck by a train here.

His wife survives.

Curtis Clem returned this morning from a business trip to Dallas.

To Investigate Death of Geary, Oklahoma Youth

EMPORIA, Kas., Aug. 28.—(P)—An inquest was set for today into the death Sunday night of Wilbur Franklin, 17, Geary, Okla., whose body was found near the Missouri Pacific railroad tracks near Miller, Kas. Franklin was found with his head crushed and his right arm broken. Velton McMin, 19, Olney, Texas, companion of Franklin, is in a hospital here with minor injuries.

McMin told officers he and Franklin had gone to sleep near the tracks and he awoke to find Franklin dead and blood issuing from a wound in his head.

Charles McClintock and V. H. Holden, both of Joplin, Mo., who were with Franklin and McMin prior to the death, are being held here for investigation.

McMin said the four had been put off a Missouri Pacific freight train at Miller late Sunday afternoon. After which the party separated.

McClintock and Holden deny any knowledge of how Franklin met death.

Butcher Boy Lover Reveals Letters In Murder Trial

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 28.—(P)—Three letters containing fervid expressions of affection, written to Mrs. Myrtle Mellus by Leo F. Kelley, her butcher boy lover, shortly before her death, today held attention of the prosecution and defense in his trial for her murder.

The letters together with a photograph of Kelley, were found secreted in false bottoms of drawers of Mrs. Mellus' dressing table when the entire court went to the Mellus home. Kelley pointed out the secret compartments to court with the comment they contained "something interesting."

Men Charged With Statutory Offense

COESIGANA, Tex., Aug. 28.—(P)—Three white men were in the Navarro County jail today charged with a statutory offense in an alleged attack on a 14-year-old white girl near Blooming Grove Friday.

Two men were arrested in Groesbeck yesterday, while the third was taken in custody in Ellis county.

Arkansas To Honor Senator Robinson

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Aug. 28.—(P)—Arkansas will go on holiday Thursday for the formal notification of senator Joe. T. Robinson as Democratic Vice-Pridential nominee.

Governor Harvey Parnell, by proclamation has declared the notification day a special holiday as the state's tributes to the nominee and has called out several units of the National Guard for the twofold purpose of a parade in honor of the Senator and to assist in handling the crowd which will attend the ceremony. Many agencies of the state government have been placed by the Governor at the disposal of the Hot Springs committee on arrangements.

Officials are making plans to accommodate a crowd of 40,000, which would be the largest of any city of the state ever has attempted to accommodate.

Rangers To Aid Investigations In Wink Bombing

WINK, Aug. 28.—(P)—State and county officers today were pushing investigations into gambling and bootlegging activities in this county, climaxed yesterday by the bombing of a garage here, the owners of which are under indictment in Pecos for operating a gambling hall.

Two men, one a former deputy sheriff and another whose name was not made public, have been charged in connection with the explosion. Police said a box of dynamite was used to destroy a corner of the building, largest structure in town.

Local officials will be aided by four state rangers who arrived yesterday.

Question of Freight Before Commission

AUSTIN, Aug. 28.—(P)—Hearing the Texas railroads' petition to apply new southwestern interstate freight rates to interstate traffic, the state railroad commission expected today to reach the troublesome question of whether the Galveston-Texas City rate grouping with Houston shall be retained or extended if the new mileage scale is adopted.

Under the present groupings, applying to bagging ties, wire and kindred commodities, Galveston and Texas City now enjoy Houston rates to points 100 miles beyond Houston. Within 100 miles, of course, Houston has cheaper rates.

The railroads' application to adopt the mileage scale proposes to do away with the groupings and make the charges from Galveston and Texas City strictly according to mileage.

E. H. Thornton of the Galveston Chamber of Commerce, came down to Austin to resist that very thing, and to move, that the rate grouping be extended to all commodities embraced in the list affected by the new rates, which went into effect July 14 on interstate traffic by order of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Egg shippers agreed not to resist the new scale for Texas on condition that a current 39 cent rate to Laredo be continued in effect. W. D. Jordan of the Mayhew Produce company, shipping from Brady and San Saba, testified that from 400 to 600 carloads of eggs are shipped annually to Laredo. He said any substantial rate increase would have to be borne by producers if reduced prices, since Texas shippers now have to undersell their Kansas and Nebraska competitors because the latter offer Texas markets better quality eggs.

Youth Repudiates Murder Confession

HOUSTON, Aug. 28.—(P)—Frank J. Foltin has repudiated a confession that he killed and robbed William Leary here in March, said a telegram received today from Seattle, Wash. police, to whom Foltin surrendered.

Foltin's mother, who lives in the outskirts of Houston, has maintained from the first her son was not guilty of the slaying. But that, without funds, taining transportation to Houston.

BUSINESS MEN MEET TO MAKE ARRANGEMENTS

Farmers Are Anxious To Aid In Every Way SALE OF STOCK IS CONTINUED Attempt To Complete Quota This Week

Pampa was assured a fair this fall when about 50 business men gathered at the Chamber of Commerce rooms this morning and decided to back the Pampa Fair association in every way. Thirty acres of land has been tentatively purchased from the White Deer Land company by the fair association and the school bond to be used as a fair grounds and an athletic field.

Following stirring talks and recommendations by I. E. Duncan, Mayor Dave Osborne, J. P. York, J. L. Lester, J. G. Christie and George Briggs, fifteen men volunteered some of their time to get busy selling stock and making arrangements for the holding of the fair. These men, with those already at work, will try to complete the sale of stock in the enterprise this week while others are getting the catalogue prepared and the grounds in condition.

Application blanks for stock will be placed in several stores and the Pampa Daily News will carry a full page ad Sunday with a blank application blank that may be filled in and mailed to the Chamber of Commerce. The ad will also carry the names of all those who have subscribed for stock in the Pampa Fair association.

The farmers in the territory have been showing a keen interest in the fair and subscribing liberally for stock. With two exceptions the committee visiting the rural districts have met with instant approval of the plan. Two farmers residing near here called at the Chamber of Commerce rooms and asked if they could buy stock in the Pampa Fair association.

The association is endeavoring to raise $6,000 to commence fair activities in earnest. One thousand dollars has been subscribed and the committees will endeavor to complete the quota this week.

Denies Connection In Oregon Murder

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 28.—(P)—Emphatic denial that Catholic Prelates of Friends had anything to do with the assassination of General Obregon has been made by Monsignor Miguel Maria de la Mora, bishop of San Luis Potosi who came out of hiding to talk with a group of American correspondents.

Monsignor De La Mora, who is spokesman for the Catholic Bishops living in hiding in Mexico, expressed opinion that Obregon's assassination has only delayed, not defeated, efforts to settle the Mexican religious controversy. He met the correspondents by arrangement at a rendezvous near Mexico City.

He said not more than twelve Catholic priests had participated in military movements against the government and they had done so entirely of their own initiative.

Mrs. J. J. Denebeim and her mother, Mrs. H. Raabbaum of Kansas City, A. Denebeim, and A. Gordon went to Amarillo yesterday. A Denebeim, who has spent several weeks here with his daughter, Mrs. A. Gordon, and his son, J. J. Denebeim, will return to his home in Kansas City today.

Says the Higgins News:
'Take care of the boy and the man will take care of himself.'

The motto at the head of the Higgins News was put there for a definite purpose. It was put there at a time when some of our lads were in hard straits and the community had been set to thinking.

Every so often some boy or boys go wrong and we all wonder just how it all came about and why such things happen in a well ordered community, and so on and so forth. And each and all of us go at once into the matter without stopping to think how we vowed the last time trouble came to boys that we would be big brothers and sisters to the lads and do something to help them to grow up into decent, law abiding citizens.

In order to get in full 8 months, schools in Collingsworth county school opened one week ago. It is a good sign - this determination to put the schools and the children first despite all economic considerations.

The community exhibit is the basis for a well developed fair, just as the encouragement of community effort is one of the best things fair does. Seven Hall county communities have pledged to take exhibits to the county fair.

McLean News:
'If there is any way in which local citizens could help in getting work under way on Highway 66, it is high time something was done. Tourists are being routed over other roads on account of the torn-up condition of the road where preparations are being made for paving, and if our paving is started later, we will face the same conditions. It would be better to get as much of this work as possible out of the way at the same time.'

Dangers to Children
Recent newspaper accounts of accidents to children playing in the streets by passing automobiles, brings more forcibly to one's mind the danger of allowing children to play in the streets or even on the sidewalks near a street where there is much traffic.

The average motorist is not looking for children to run over, and most of them will go to any extreme rather than be responsible for taking a human life. But it is not always the fault of the driver. Small children become so accustomed to the passing of cars and to the dodging of them, that they take chances which older persons would not take.

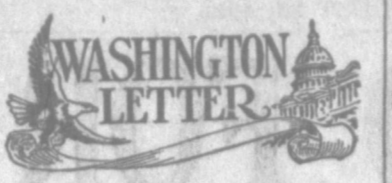

In some instances there is another danger of allowing children to play on the streets. They are promiscuous in their associations with other children and become impudent toward the occupants of passing cars, sometimes even going so far as to throw stones or other missiles at the cars. The law-abiding citizen has a right to resent such actions, and should report them to the proper authorities.

The safe thing, both from the standpoint of safety and morals, is to keep children off the streets.—Columbia Missourian.

An Easy Question
One of the easiest questions to answer is that which thousands of young people are asking themselves these days as the new school term nears. The question is: 'Should I go back to school or go right out and earn some money and become self-made and successful?' The answer is: 'Go to school!'

If a chance to go to school is offered a young man or young woman these days, they should snatch at it, if for no other reason because it is 'the easiest way.' More often than not it is the most efficient and surst way, too.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28—Up to election time the politicians feel that nothing is too good for the women. After that it seems to be different.

As long as there are votes to be corralled, their sex, with its 25 or 30 million possible ballots, is the equal of the male in every respect.

This will be the third presidential election in which the ladies have been permitted to function. Meanwhile, they have been put on a more or less equal footing on both the Republican and Democratic national committees with one woman member for every man member, given vice-chairmanships and had special jobs created for them to encourage them to round up their sisters under the party standard.

The candidates never neglect to make soulful appeals to American womanhood and the party platforms continue to felicitate all concerned on the fact that the sexes now have equal rights. Many earnest gals go out and work their heads off in every state for one state of candidates or the other. Isn't it wonderful the way women are playing a bigger and bigger part in national affairs?

But after the votes are counted and all the male politicians prepare to line up for places, the ladies generally are taken for a sleigh ride and dumped into a deep snowbank. If a single one happens to get a finger into the gray boat it becomes a national sensation and everybody beats the drum in celebration of this new recognition of the way American women are forging ahead and taking their places beside the men.

Your correspondent can think of just about three women in the government service occupying really large and important jobs. They are: Mabel Walker Willebrandt, one of several assistant attorney generals; Civil Service Commissioner Jessie Dell and Chairman Bessie Parker Bruggeman of the United States Employees' Compensation Commission. Except for these women and perhaps a few holding minor positions the plums of the national patronage orchard appear to be regarded as forbidden fruit for their sex.

One hears vague rumors that Smith or Hoover would appoint the first woman cabinet member, but they're quite unsubstantiated. After looking over the roster of the executive departments as now constituted, one almost wonders how the government gets along with so few women.

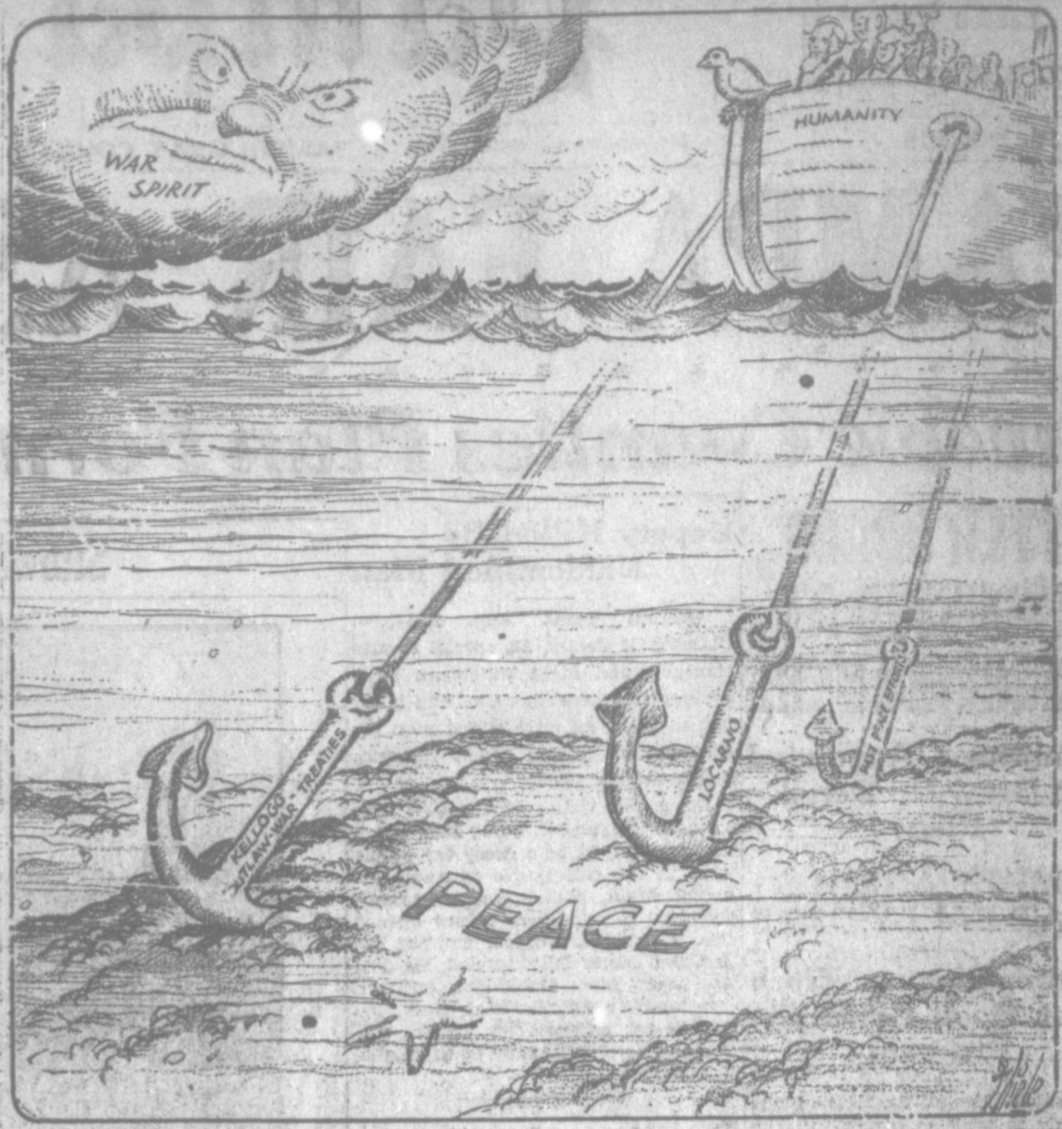

The president's three secretaries and his executive clerk are all men. Owing to the tradition of feminine tact and diplomacy one might expect to find a few women in State Department jobs, but of about 50 such jobs considered important enough to list in the Congressional Directory one finds only two women to be among 20 or more assistants to the solicitor.

So many women these days handle the family budget that there ought to be a few in the Treasury Department, but there aren't. Clerks and stenographers, of course, as in all the departments, but we're not thinking of those. Of 115 administrative or executive jobs listed for the Treasury and its numerous subsidiary bureaus—internal revenue, customs, budget, public health and so on—we find that Mrs. Brownie Kerr is chief clerk of the Budget Bureau and that Mary M. O'Reilly is assistant director of the Bureau of the Mint.

A new theory of weight reduction is that talking makes people thin. Maybe it refers to those who have to listen, too.

Jealous Husband Kills Three Men and Wounds Two

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Three men are dead and two wounded, one perhaps fatally, as the result of what police described as a shooting orgy here by a man jealous of his estranged wife.

Percy T. Barnes, 35, railroad employe, was under arrest. He denied any connection with the slayings.

The dead were Charles E. Curtis and Charles Klein, brothers-in-law of Barnes, and Len Gerhardt, cousin by marriage.

The wounded were Clarence Muncy, said to have been visiting at the home of Mrs. Barnes, and M. H. Larkin, president of the Larkin Transportation company of Sacramento. There was little hope for Muncy's recovery. So quickly did the shootings occur that while police were investigating the wounding of Muncy, numerous reports were received at headquarters of the discovery of two dead men and the shooting of Larkin.

Police attributed the triple slaying to Barnes' jealousy of his wife and his desire to regain custody of their four year old child.

Florence Vidor Marries Famous Jascha Heifetz

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Florence Vidor, motion picture star whose marriage to another film star ended in the divorce courts because she said too much talent in one family interfered with the careers of her husband and wife, has been married to Jascha Heifetz, world famous violinist.

The marriage was performed secretly by Alfred Frankenthaler, supreme court justice at the Mayfield house on August 23, and the news of the event was withheld by the principles until last night when Heifetz surprised his manager with the announcement as he and his bride departed for California.

Their romance has not been entirely a secret, however. Their names have been linked several times in late, and Europe two weeks ago neither would deny reports they were planning to marry. They met in California two years ago.

The bride, who is the mother of a 9-year-old girl, was born in Houston and is 33 years old. Heifetz who is 37, was born in Vilna, Russia.

Miss Mary Jo Harmon returned yesterday from a three-weeks visit in Mineral Wells.

Commencement Address Made By Dean Taylor

AUSTIN, Aug. 28.—(Special)—Carry on!

That was the flaming message flung to the men and women who stood Monday night in the Texas Memorial Stadium to receive degrees from the University of Texas in the August commencement of that institution.

Dean T. U. Taylor for forty years the standardbearer of the University College of Engineering, in delivering the commencement address reviewing from its inception eulogized the men and women who molded the ideals of our graduating class of 1928 into the school and welcomed the summae that bear aloft the snow white parchment of University men and parchment of your well-earned honors.

The text of Dean Taylor's address follows:

FELLOW TEXANS: Tonight you will receive the reward of your labors in the University of your state. The University of Texas is a university of ideals. Around your parchment diploma and woven into its fabric are the ideals of the century of Texas civilization and of nearly half a century of active University life. Many good men and great women have molded the ideals that guide the University in its manifold destiny. At this hour its influence is felt in Texas from the night courts to the shortest corn row. Mirabeau B. Lamar expressed in cryptic phrases in the days of the Republic the mission of a university—that its influence was the guardian genius of democracy, the only dictator that free men desire. The University of Texas thus has a triple function of being a guardian genius a dictator and has adhered through its university life. For this purpose was it born and for this purpose came it into the world of universities.

From Robert E. Lee we obtain that anthem that we will sing at the close of this convocation. William L. Prather crystallized this into our Grand Old Song. The life of James B. Clark was a benediction to the University of Texas and the life and influence of Helen Marr Kirby was a guiding star and an influence that will hold its sway in the life of her University children and of her University children's children. These immortals occupy conspicuous niches in the hall of fame of the University and the deals they have left behind will act as a pillar of cloud by day and a pillar of fire by night to guide the University into that promised land of a university of the first class. The university was dreamed of by the fathers of the Texas Israel in the days of our republic. It was a part of the civilization that was yet to come and of which you are active agents. The university's foundation were laid deep in the faith of Texas heroes.

Our Father's Faith may you keep till death Like men who stand for the fatherland and die—but ne'er surrender. I welcome you tonight into that sisterhood of University men and women that bear aloft the snow white parchment of your well earned honors. I give to you the ideals of Lamar of Lee, of Prather of Gould and of Helen Marr Kirby. These immortal regents of the university have left their name and in the name of the State of Texas I bid you one and all: CARRY ON.

PRISON FARM FIRE

HOUSTON, Texas, Aug. 28.—Death toll in the Blue Ridge prison farm movie fire of July 28 today had increased to four with the death of Frank Monroe, 28.

One month ago the convicts were attending a movie in the prison farm dining hall. One lit a cigarette and threw the match into a box of movie film, which exploded.

Eighteen convicts were burned and three died within a few days, but Monroe, for whom doctors held no hope from the first examination, lingered on. He died late last night.

ESTATE OVER-ESTIMATED

WACO, Aug. 28.—(P)—A reputed $3,000 estate claimed by Lewis Davis or Dave Lewis itinerant jeweler peddler who died yesterday in Abilene, has turned out to be a mere $589.00. It was revealed here today on inquiry at a local bank where the salesman had his account.

He was known as a recluse, and inquiry at various hotels and boarding houses where he stopped revealed no intimate friends.

COPYRIGHT 1928 BY NEA SERVICE INC.

THIS HAS HAPPENED SYBILL THORNE, Boston society girl, weary with disillusionment and disappointed in love, comes from her adored brother, TAD, the story of his love for VALERIE WEST. Valerie, pink and white and blond, completely wins the approval of Tad's mother, who longs to see both her children married and settled down. But Sybill, gaily and carelessly, has a vamping, to be brief, of Valerie's baby ways.

"Anyhow," said Craig, "I don't like painted little dolls. Your kind wear better. Sybill, I'm crazy about you. What do you say, dear?"

Now go on with the story CHAPTER IV BEFORE his visit to the great diagnostician, Mr. Thorne, after his daisy spells, invariably observed that he was not as young as he used to be.

"Nothing to worry about," he insisted and consoled Mrs. Thorne, hovering about with pills and hot water bags. "Just a bit of indigestion. Mother. Cabbage or peas' knuckles—or something."

Baked beans, roast pork, red meats, pastries—the poor man grew wretchedly abstemious. And still the daisy spells persisted, more frightening as they became constantly recurrent. From the beginning he refused to give his heart even passing consideration, blaming pains and vertigo alike on something he might have eaten.

Golf, poker, a good cigar, a square meal and the Follies—when a man states death in its empty sockets he has no joy in them. From all life's pleasant things he turned away and sat with a shawl over his knees, staring with mild blue eyes from the window of his bedroom. While in the dining room below the family gathered in gloomy conference.

"We should never have sent him to Dr. Foadick," groaned Sybill. "What he didn't know wouldn't have hurt him the way this dreadful knowledge is hurting."

The attacks came more frequently. Mr. Thorne gave up work and became semi-invalid. He drew up a will and talked of what he wished them to do after his death.

"You'd better give up the house," he told Sybill and her mother. "It will be a lonesome place, when Tad gets married, and both of us are gone."

"Oh, Father!" implored Sybill. THEIR family talks were always mournful.

"We must have the library papered this Spring," Mrs. Thorne might remark.

And Mr. Thorne, sighing deeply, would opine that he'd be dead and in his grave before that was done.

Or Tad would be making plans for his marriage.

"We'll name our first child for you, Dad," he proposed, "and then you'll have to start a handsome bank account for him."

Tears came to his father's eyes. "I'll never live to see a grand child of mine," he predicted darkly.

As spring approached, Sybill gaily anticipated a summer at Wilano. "The crocuses will be coming up soon, Daddy," she cried, "and all the darling tulips, and those lovely purple hyacinths we put in last fall. I think we could be moving down in a few weeks now."

"Why, sure," he approved. "That would be fine." His loving cheerfulness hurt Sybill more than all his dire predictions, for she knew that in his heart he felt he would never see their house by the sea again. Nor live to touch a crocus, nor smell the purple hyacinth. He wanted her with him constantly. And Tad, too, and their mother. Sybill gave up work to humor him and Tad hurried home each night.

"Don't leave me, dear," he begged his daughter. "I don't want to be alone."

He clung to her more than he did to his wife. She had always been his favorite.

"I'M NOT afraid to die," he told her. "Don't ever think, Sybill, that your father was afraid to die. But I want fearfully to live. I want to see you happily married. And my grandchildren growing up around me. I've worked hard all my life. Things are just getting so that I could have a good time."

"Don't think I haven't been happy," he assured her, trying desperately to atone for the tears he brought to her eyes. "You've been a good daughter to me, Sybill. And Tad's a fine boy. Your mother and I have been happier than most. We've had our little ups and downs together—but I guess Mother always understood. She's a good woman, Sybill. You'll be good to her when I'm gone? It's going to be hard for your mother—"

"Oh, Daddy, DADDY!" "All right, dear. It's all right. Don't you go feeling bad." "Please don't talk that way," she begged. "You just break my heart."

CRAIG NEWHALL 'phoned one afternoon. "See here, Sybill, you've got to think of yourself, you know. You're sticking around the house altogether too much. Let me drive you out in the country somewhere, only an hour or two. I'll have you back for dinner."

"Oh, I can't, Craig, really. Thank you just the same. But I don't want to leave Daddy."

Her father heard her at the telephone. "Go ahead," he urged. "You ought to get out more. I'm a regular old bear, keeping you cooped up here all the time. Run along and have a good time."

"You owe it to yourself, dear," interposed her mother mildly. "Of all the selfish, stupid expressions," Sybill thought to herself, "that one takes the prize. More than any fends on earth, I hate the people who tell the world 'they owe it to themselves.'"

Sybill and her mother grated on each other constantly. Mrs. Thorne resented her husband's preference for Sybill's companionship. Sybill chafed under her mother's irritating little admonitions: "Edward, your medicine, dear. . . Edward, don't do that! . . . My goodness, haven't you finished your milk yet? . . . Now then, take your soup while it's nice and hot. . . . She knew habitual nagging was the curse of her father's life.

"Do go, Sybill," her mother was saying. "Perhaps your father would like to be alone with me, for a little change."

"All right, Craig," she agreed. "I'll go."

He was there in half an hour in a shiny new sport car, with trick accessories, and a tuxedo horn.

"Now there's a nice young man," approved Mrs. Thorne. "Do you suppose he'll ever ask you to marry him, Sybill?"

MRS. THORNE worked on the assumption that girls merely waited to be asked. She could see no reason for not jumping at any good opportunity to catch a "nice young man." It would have been such a comfort to her to have Sybill "all nicely married and settled down."

Mr. Thorne smiled sympathetically over his wife's head, but Sybill read in his eyes an echo to her mother's question.

"Goodby, daddy dear. I'll be home in no time at all. And I'm going to find some nice asparagus for you and strawberries, too."

"They'll be awfully expensive," remonstrated Mrs. Thorne. "Asparagus is just out of sight. And hot-house fruit! We never knew about such things when I was young."

Sybill kissed her father on his bald spot. "The best is none too good for Mr. Edward A. Thorne," she assured them.

"Let's go out Commonwealth avenue and through Wellesley, up to the back roads," she suggested as Craig tucked her in beside him. "I'd like to feel a bit of Spring time."

"It's good to see you again, Sybill," he told her gravely. "I've missed you a lot."

PRESENTLY he began again. "My dear, I'm not much on making pretty speeches. But you know I'm crazy about you, Sybill. We get along pretty well, don't we? I understand you better than any other man ever would. What do you say, Sybill?"

"Craig Newhall!" she gasped. "Is that a proposal?"

"Nothing else but," he assured her. "Well, that's awfully sweet of you, Craigie, but we'd never hit it off."

"Yes, we would," he protested. "Better than most. We know each other pretty darn well. People make a botch of marriage because they don't know each other, usually. Incompatibility is back of all the failures. Back of infidelity, and everything else. You like me all right, don't you, Sybill?"

"You know I do. But, Craig, you old materialist! It isn't reason enough to marry you simply because I LIKE you. I suppose I even love you a little, now that you mention it. Though I'd never thought of it before. But I'm not cut out for matrimony. You want to find yourself a girl like Valerie West. One of those nice little things with a lot of illusions."

"Hey!" he protested. "What's the big idea—wishing something like that on me? Empty-headed little clothes horse! Don't you think I know what I want. Brains go for further than peroxide these days."

"Valerie doesn't use peroxide. She's a natural blond."

"Natural! Persuaded you mean. Anyhow I don't like 'em bossy. Painted little dolls—the world's full of them. Your kind wear better. Sybill, I'm crazy about you. What do you say, dear?"

And what DID Sybill say? . . . I'm a bit wild, Craigie—and folks . . . and hard as nails. . . . It's all in the next chapter.

Only Eight Runs Allowed By Pampa Pitchers In Five Games Played During the Amarillo Tournament

Fighting against odds all through the Pampa Grays yesterday cinched first money in the Amarillo tournament when they humbled the Erick crew 13 to 1.

The Grays, playing brilliant baseball, went to the field yesterday after Erick's scalp and they came home with it. They registered thirteen runs and sixteen hits off the delivery of three Erick hurlers while French was turning them with four bingles, one a homer and a triple by Close.

Seitz was the big noise in the Grays line-up when he got four for five. One was a three bagger but he was out trying to stretch it into a home run. Long also had a big day at bat with three out of four, one a fluke home run inside the park. Parkson hit two for four and Clayton made two three-baggers.

Score by innings:
Pampa 021 300 043-13
Erick 000 001 000-1
Summary: Stolen base—Nell. Sacrifice—Parkson, French. Two-base hit—French. Three-base hit—Seitz. Parkson, Clayton 2, Close. Home runs—Long. Double plays—Bell to Hines to Nell 2, Williamson to Hines to Nell, Stubbs to Hartman to Close. Hartman to Cornellson to Close—Hits and runs—Newcome, 7 and 5 in 5 innings; Smith 3 and 3 in 1 inning. Struck out by—Newcome 2, Masterson 2, French 4. Bases on balls off Masterson 1, Smith 1, French 2. Hit by pitched ball—by French (L. Douglas, Cornellson.) Losing pitcher—Newcome. Time of game 1:48. Umpires—McClements and Morgan.

Three more were added in the fourth when Seitz singled, Parkson tripled and Long hit a home run inside the park. That ended the scoring until the seventh when the Grays hopped on Masterson who had relieved Newcome in the fourth. Nell beat out an infield hit. Seitz singled over second for his third consecutive hit. Parkson sacrificed and Bell went out but with two away Clayton hit his second triple of the game to score Nell and Seitz. Clayton scored on Long's single over short. French, a hitter of no mean ability, then singled bringing in Long.

The ninth inning with the veteran Ed Smith in the box for Erick netted the Grays three more when Hines walked and Nell beat out his second infield hit down the third base line. Seitz got his fourth, a single over second to score Hines, and Nell, he advancing on the play. Parkson scored Seitz with a single to end the Grays runs.

The lone Erick run came in the sixth inning when Close hit a home run over the short right field wall. That was the only time an Erick runner got passed first base excepting in the first inning when Close died coming home. Three fast double plays by the Grays cut off chances to score. The most sensational play of the day was Williamson's one handed stab of Masterson's burner down the third base line for a double play to Hines and Nell.

In the five games played by the Grays only eleven men got at bat at third base and only eight of them scored. The Pampa fielding was perfect and the offensive all that could be expected of a ball team. The boys worked together like old timers and wielded the willow hard and often.

At the opening of the seventh inning of yesterday's game Gus Ketchum, king of the pitchers at the tournament, was presented with a silver cup emblematic of the most valuable member of his team. The trophy was presented by the Amarillo News-Globe. The presentation was made by Wesley Hazard sports editor of the News-Globe. At the same time the Pampa hurler was presented with a purse made up by Pampa fans in appreciation of the great work done by Ketchum in the tournament. This presentation was made by Harry Hoare, sports editor of the Pampa Daily News.

The local boys came in for their share of the prizes offered by Amarillo business houses. Ketchum won four prizes and Seitz two.

FOREST HILLS N. Y., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Helen Hills made two National tennis championships grow where but one grew before.

Her straight set victory over Miss Helen Jacobs of Santa Barbara, Calif., yesterday 6-2 6-1, in successful defense of her National singles crown was surprising only because of her overwhelming one sidedness. But the victory in the doubles championship paired with Mrs. Hotchkiss Wightman, of Boston, was more unexpected. Not for three years had Miss Hills been able to carry off both titles.

New With Nats

Playing caddy for Goose Goslin got the best of Bobby Reeves, Washington shortstop and the Nat management had to get Joe Cronon above, from the American Association to give Reeves a rest. He's quite a snappy fielder.

Cards and Yanks Leading the Two Major Leagues

BY HERBERT W. BARKER

The St. Louis Cardinals and New York Yankees at last can take time for a breath without endangering their hold on the leadership in the two major leagues.

Boostered by the return of Bottomley, the Cards have won four straight games their last triumph coming at the expense of the contending Chicago Cubs yesterday, 11 to 3.

The Cards now lead the National procession by four games but that advantage may dwindle considerably or disappear entirely during the next 18 days when St. Louis' opposition comes not only from the Cubs but from the other two Western contenders as well—Pittsburgh and Cincinnati.

While the Cards thus were consolidating their position at the top of the senior circuit, the Yankees were doing the same thing in the American. A double-barreled triumph over Detroit set the world's champions four full games ahead of the Athletics who were idle at Philadelphia.

In the only other National league battle, Pittsburgh downed Cincinnati, 9 to 4, gained an even break in the two-day series and advanced to within one game of the Reds who hold fourth place in the standings.

The double triumph of the Yankees was featured by the first appearance of Zachary, in a Yankee uniform. Pitted against him in the opener was Earl Whitehill. With better control Whitehill might have bested Zachary but four walks in the fourth inning gave the champions two runs and put them in a position to win, 4 to 3.

Pipiras showed a return to form when he pitched the Yanks to a 5 to 2 victory in the nightcap. At Boston, the St. Louis Browns beat the Red Sox twice, 8 to 6 and 4 to 0. Uhle's effective pitching gave Cleveland a triumph over Washington, 5 to 3, and an even break in the four game series.

The Grays to meet the winners of the Oklahoma City tournament completed Sunday. A telegram was sent to the tournament officials yesterday stating that the Grays were ready. The local team also plans a trip to Denver this fall.

Ed Gober wished to thank the baseball fans of Pampa for their support of the Pampa Grays in the Amarillo tournament and their attendance of the games to root for the home team. He also wishes to thank "Hootie" Harrah, the White Deer roofer.

The Reverend and Mrs. T. W. Brabham have as their guests, Mrs. Brabham's mother, Mrs. A. M. Vinlog of Rusk, who arrived last night, and her aunt, Mrs. W. F. Causey of Houston, who has been here the past few days.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Sloan and Mr. and Mrs. J. Harold Kratzer spent Sunday at the Mel Taylor ranch, south-east of LeFors.

Bobby Jones Has Set New Record

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Bobby Jones the golfing wizard from Atlanta has handed "old man par" probably the worst licking he has ever received.

In three successive 18 hole rounds over the long Chicago Golf Club course where he is practicing for the Walker Cup matches this week, Bobby has averaged just 67 2-3 strokes or a total of 203 strokes which for 54 holes carries a total par of 213.

His first record-breaking round was scored Sunday when he carried a 68 or three under par for a new course record. Then yesterday morning, he bettered that with a 67 and in the afternoon it wasn't all a mistake by turning in another 68.

While members of the British and American Walker cup teams have been practicing over the Chicago Golf club course for two or more days none of them have equalled even one of Bobby's rounds. The closest was that score carried by Harrison Johnson of St. Paul, who shot a 70 or one under par on Sunday.

About the Game

BY HARRY E. HOARE

Gus Ketchum of the Pampa pitching staff was the chief prize winner in the Amarillo tournament. Gus is the proud possessor of the News-Globe cup for being the most valuable member of a team in the tournament. Besides winning the cup Ketchum won a pen and pencil set for being the best pitcher in the tournament, a flower vase and basket for having the most strike outs, and several meal tickets.

Other boys on the Pampa team who came in for prizes were: Seitz, pair golf hose for last run scored, Clayton, picture for best catcher in the tournament, Bell and Williamson, fountain pen each, tied for starting the most double plays.

Grover Seitz, local outfielder, garnered himself a number of hits and a few sensational catches during the tournament, especially yesterday when he got four hits out of five times at bat. Long is the second leading batter on the Grays roster with Parkson a close third.

Williamson and Gibson were so close in the race for the best fielders in the tournament that each one should have received a prize. Williamson made by far the more sensational plays but one error marred his perfect performance.

If there had been prizes given for three baggers Tom Clayton would have won easily. The local catcher poked out four during his weeks sojourn in Amarillo.

Although kicking, Ed Gober is the happiest man in Pampa today. He realized his ambition yesterday in winning the Amarillo tournament by eliminating both Amarillo teams and Erick, during the play. On to Oklahoma City is the cry of

CLARENCE SAUNDERS SOLE OWNER OF MY NAME WHY DO WE SELL CHEAP WE'LL TELL YOU WHY Just one reason—that's all. It's our nature and we can't get away from nature. Besides we don't want to change. We have a set policy with all our stores which requires that we sell every article in our store at as low a price as we can. It's not the price of some other store in this town that regulates our prices. All of Pampa can see that it's OUR PRICES that make all other stores cut theirs and they can see if we were out of business, how high all of these same prices would be. The more you trade with the Clarence Saunders Store the cheaper will be the prices in Pampa all the time. Robbers Slug Man and Get $263 Cash

HOUSTON, Aug. 28.—(P)—Two unmasked robbers rushed into the Yellow Cab company office here today, slugged the superintendent and escaped with $263 in cash. C. Compton, superintendent and C. R. Grant, driver, were alone in the office when the man appeared, drew guns and ordered their victims to "stick 'em up." Both complied, but the robbers struck Compton on the head with a revolver. Compton was not severely injured. The robbers took $198.55 from the cash register and $65 from two change boxes and fled.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 28.—(P)—A requisition from Gov. Dan Moody of Texas for the return to Harris county of Jack Walker, who will be released from the state penitentiary at McAlester September 8, was honored today by Gov. Henry S. Johnston. Walker is wanted in Texas on a burglary charge.

Dr. Hunt Addresses Large Audience

Before a Monday evening audience that practically filled the main auditorium at the Methodist church last night Dr. Hunt spoke in part as follows: "The text is found in the second division and the fifteenth stanza of the Songs of Solomon: 'Take us the foxes, the little foxes that spoil the vines, for our vines have tender grapes,' and suggests the subject, the so-called little sins of life—the usual sins of omission and commission. The processes of spiritual fruition are very delicate, and the small negligence and practices of our daily life make or mar us for eternity. 'The prayer life of the average church member is such a haphazard hit or miss affair that one wonders how he expects to grow in grace and the knowledge of God, when he cultivates the Divine companionship so little. All the men who have moved the world have been men of prayer. Washington on his knees at Valley Forge bombarding the gates of Paradise with his prayers when his frozen annion could no longer fire on the throats of the enemy is an unforgettable picture in history—an example and an inspiration to American manhood forever. 'Is Church attendance a regular habit with you? 'Christ also loved the Church and gave himself for it.' It is in the high and holy privilege of our Christian life to love the Church and give ourselves to it. The services will continue with the evening service promptly at 8 o'clock. The subject of the evening address is 'A Fighting Man's Experience with an Ancient Flapper.' Plenty of dynamite is promised by the preacher in his message. (Reported)

DEMAND ACCOUNTING OF $10,000,000 BY DIRECTORS

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 28.—(P)—Edward L. Doheny and directors of the Pan American Petroleum Transport company, today faced a bill of complaint demanding an accounting of $10,000,000 stockholders allege they lost in the fraudulent lease of the Elk Hills Naval Oil Reserve. The complaint, filed in behalf of Frank H. Kinkel, Cincinnati, and other shareholders, declares, the loss resulted from the cancellation of the lease by a decision of the United States Supreme Court after the company had spent million dollars in the development of the field. The lease was negotiated for the government by Albert F. Fall, then secretary of the interior. The $10,000,000 delivered to Fall by E. L. Doheny, Jr. in the much discussed "Little black satchel" was declared in the suit to have been given by the stockholders and used as a bribe. An accounting of this exchange also is asked.

OIL TRIAL DOCKETED

FORT STOCKTON, Aug. 28.—(P)—Litigation involving valuable oil properties in this section is docketed for district court convening here Sept. 3. Most of the actions center around properties of Mrs. M. A. (Monroe) While in which seventeen suits seek to declare vacancies in the Yates field. Seventy-six suits originally were filed by W. H. Colquitt, receiver for the Smith oil lands. Only one of these has been tried, but a number have been settled by agreed judgment.
