QUICK SMITH VICTORY IS PREDICTED

Pampa's First Refinery Will Have Formal Opening Next Monday

LUNCHEON TO BE SERVED ON THIS OCCASION

Local Citizenship Asked to See Plant West of City

OFFICIALS TO BE PRESENT

2,100 Barrels Daily of Products Now Being Made

In order that the citizens of this city may become better acquainted with Pampa's newest industry, the Chamber of Commerce is cooperating with the Pampa Refining company in a formal opening of the refinery next Monday night at 7:30.

The citizenship of Pampa is urged to attend this opening at the plant, two and one-half miles west of the city on the Amarillo road, on the property of the British American Oil company. The entire staff of the refinery have become citizens of the Pampa and will be formally welcomed at this time.

Following a luncheon served to all present, a short program will be given. It will include numbers by the Pampa band, under the direction of Pete Bradford, and other numbers not yet announced. Local men and officials of the company will make short talks.

At that time the $25 prize for the naming of the new Pampa gasoline will be awarded. Everyone is invited to the welcoming of the new industry to Pampa.

More than 2,100 barrels of finished products are being manufactured daily at the plant. These include gasoline, kerosene, gas oil, naphtha, and fuel oil. The latest process of manufacture is being used and is under the personal supervision of the discoverer, G. L. Rowley.

Among the officials of the company who will be present will be Reece S. Allen, Dr. A. McClory, and G. L. Rowley.

Borger Lad Is Killed by Auto—Driver Is Arrested

BORGER, June 26.—(Special)—Harold Poltz, 14 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Poltz of Isom, was run down at 5 p. m., yesterday and he died a few hours later in a local hospital.

He was struck and dragged 90 feet by a sedan driver by N. F. Salamy of Amarillo, who was arrested and held under a charge of reckless driving until released on $500 bond, then was re-arrested after the boy's death at midnight and released on $3,000 bond on a charge of negligent homicide.

Salamy's car struck a car driven by P. B. Bartle, then swerved across the Isom street to strike the boy. Salamy filed charges of reckless driving against Bartle before officers arrested him.

The boy was carrying a basket of eggs, and when hit was standing near the curb.

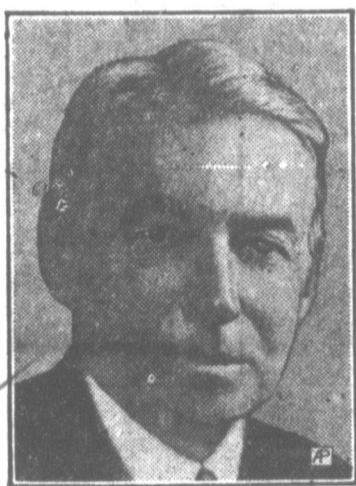

BYRD TO TEST FLYING AROUND MEXICO CITY

MEXICO CITY, June 26.—(P)—El Universal says the foreign office has granted Commander Richard E. Byrd permission to fly to Mexico City to test the airplane he intends to use in his south polar expedition. Byrd wants to study flying conditions in a high altitude such as Mexico City has.

To Clem Shaver, chairman of the Democratic national committee, fell the duty at noon today of opening the big Houston convention. Claude G. Bowers, New York newspaper man, will be temporary chairman, and at 7 o'clock will make the keynote address. Franklin D. Roosevelt will nominate Al Smith. Ultra-dryers are looking to Dan Moody for leadership, while John W. Davis, who failed as a Democratic standard bearer, is strongly contending for party harmony.

DAMAGE SUIT IS SPEEDED UP

Night Session Held to Introduce Lengthy Testimony

More testimony into the lengthy suit of Miss Della Todd against the City of Pampa was introduced today, but only two witnesses had been heard when court recessed at noon until 1:30 o'clock.

Much of the morning was consumed with a continuation of the testimony of L. G. Lunsford at the former trial. This reading was begun last night at an evening session.

Dr. R. A. Webb, who examined Miss Todd, testified that in his belief her injuries were of more or less permanent character.

Roy B. Graves, employe at the Wilcox gasoline plant, told how he aided the accident victims and helped take the plaintiff to a physician. He said he smelled no liquor as he helped the injured young people, and testified at length as to the positions of the car and occupants when he approached the scene of the accident.

Pictures of the scene, taken by Lunsford, were admitted as evidence showing how, in the opinion of witnesses, the street and car looked at daylight. Yesterday much of the day was consumed by direct examination of the plaintiff for the purpose of determining the extent of injuries to her shoulder and knee.

Dr. W. W. Beach of Shamrock, who had made two examinations of the girl, testified that when he had first seen her a few weeks after the accident she seemed nervous and complained of pain. Asked if an alleged accident suffered prior to the one on which the suit is based might have caused or aggravated the trouble, Dr. Beach answered in the affirmative. He also said there might be a fracture in the shoulder, but that only an x-ray examination would make sure. On cross examination he said Miss Todd likely would be able to work as a waitress within a short time, although a permanent limp was indicated.

He was followed by L. J. Starkey, who testified that he had seen the ditch at the intersection of Barnes and Cuyler streets, where the accident took place, and said that in his opinion it was about 18 inches deep.

The last witness yesterday was Leo Parker, who was in the car at the time of the accident. Other occupants were his cousin, L. G. Lunsford, driver of the Ford coupe; Della Todd, the plaintiff; and Mickey Todd, his companion, who was killed. The accident was at about 3 a. m. May 25, 1927.

Parker said he and Lunsford called for the girls at the Shuffield hotel at 9 p. m., drove a block west from Barnes to Cuyler, and left town by way of Cuyler street to attend a dance at Amerada.

They left the dance some time after

Laudreth Company Pays $60,000 For Rich Oil Lease

For a reported sum of $15,000 cash and $45,000 in oil the Landreth Petroleum company has completed the purchase of the east half of the north-east quarter of section 1, block B-2, owned by M. L. Langham and leased to L. C. Hedrick.

This important piece of property is situated west of the block containing the LeFors Petroleum company's gusher. A location has been made by the company to drill a northwest diagonal offset to the LeFors Petroleum company's well and material is arriving for the rig.

The LeFors Petroleum company's No. 1 Leech, LeFors townsite well, came in for a 1,300 gusher two weeks ago and opened a new territory thought to be a gas territory.

Theft Ring Is Broken at Borger

BORGER, June 26.—(P)—An Oil equipment theft ring was believed broken up with the arrest here today of C. G. Winsor and Jim Hodges, who were charged with having disposed of several thousand dollars worth of stolen equipment.

Hodges was released under $3,000 bond, while Winsor was held pending preliminary trial.

STOLEN CAR RECOVERED

A Hudson Brougham owned by Billie Earl, who is with the company playing at the Rex theatre, left on Somerville street last evening, was stolen. Police and sheriff's officers were notified and a search immediately began.

About 1 o'clock this morning the missing automobile was found nine miles south of here on the Clarendon road. The car was minus gas and had been abandoned. It was learned from a farmer that the occupants of the car had started back for Pampa on foot and had taken shelter in his barn during the storm. An umbrella had been left at the farm, but up to this time no arrests have been made.

STEWART TRIAL SET

WASHINGTON, June 26.—(P)—Robert W. Stewart, arraigned in the District of Columbia supreme court on charges of perjury, today pleaded not guilty and his trial was set for October 8.

Frank J. Hogan, Stewart's counsel, insisted that the chairman of the board of the Indiana Standard Oil company be placed on trial tomorrow, saying his client was innocent, and court was adjourning for a summer recess and adjourned for a summer recess and adjourned for a summer recess and adjourned for a summer recess.

STATE WINS IN OIL SUIT

AUSTIN, June 26.—(P)—The contention of the State of Texas that a large area of oil land in Hutchinson county was vacant was apparently upheld in a verdict returned in the district court here this afternoon.

The suit, aimed at the Phillips Petroleum company and others, was submitted on special issues dealing with a survey made in 1889. The land involved was valued at more than $50,000,000.

ON THE SIDE

Little Angles on Big Doings at Democratic Convention

The Democratic chieftains who decided on night sessions for the national convention already are hearing from evening newspapers back home, but they place all of the blame on the evolution of the radio.

By holding short sessions in midday, when many of the nation's millions are at home for noon luncheons they assert that they will reach the voters over the broadcasting chain, and then again, with night sessions they believe literally millions will listen to the lambasting of the Republican party.

These leaders are depending on the newspapers to carry the all-important printed word, but they are overlooking no bet in getting their case across. Unless there is a change in plans there will be several night sessions of the convention, although no day will be altogether neglected.

Both Kansas City and Houston have turned up prospective big time salesmen in their newsboys. While a fire was being attended to in one of the big hotels in the Republican convention city, and even before the engines had arrived, a newsie started yelling: "Paper, just out, all about the big fire!"

This only got a laugh from the wise ones at the scene, but the kid on the corner of the Rice hotel in Houston last night had better luck when he started the cry: "Senator Hefflin turns to Al Smith." He soon sold out.

"You can't go wrong on my initials—they are as simple as A B C," says Arthur B. Clark, the brown-dressed delegate from Altoona, Pa.

The gentleman from Maine was doubted. So he made his sworn statement: "I, Allen L. Oliver, swear that I voluntarily slept under a blanket after midnight on June 25, 1928, at my apartment, 602 West Gray."

Democrats Have Little Action on Today's Program

HOUSTON, June 26.—(P)—Here is the way the Democratic national convention will proceed today at its opening session:

Music from 11 a. m., until noon. Convention called to order at noon by Clem Shaver, chairman of the Democratic national committee.

Prayer by Bishop S. R. Hay of the Methodist Episcopal church, south.

Installation of Claude G. Bowers, New York, as temporary chairman.

Election of resolutions, credentials, rules, permanent organization and other committees.

Recess until 7 p. m., when keynote speech will be made by Temporary Chairman Bowers.

German Aviatrix Ready to Begin Flight to Berlin

THREE RIVERS, Que., June 26.—(P)—Miss Thea Rasche and the monoplane North Star, purchased for her by Mrs. James A. Stillman, were at Cap de La Madeline flying field near here today awaiting favorable weather for a flight to Europe.

The plane was flown here from Hadley Field, N. J., yesterday by Ulrich Koerner, Miss Rasche's German mechanic who is to be her copilot on the flight. The German aviatrix came by train and was at the field when her plane arrived.

Officials of the airport stated that arrangements had been made to fuel the plane here fully for a trans-Atlantic flight and they believed she would make no stop once she took off until she reached her destination which probably would be Berlin.

The take-off from Hadley Field was made while the temporary injunction brought by her former backers, Howard W. Harwell and the Hollis Corporation, was being argued in a New York court. The injunction was dismissed but Miss Rasche was ordered to post a $10,000 bond to protect her former backers in case they win their threatened suit for breach of contract.

DIRECTORS TO MEET

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce will have a postponed dinner meeting at the New Schneider hotel at 7:30 o'clock this evening. This session was to have been held a week ago, but was delayed owing to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Eagleton of South Pampa entertained at dinner guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Fred LeGrande and Mr. Smith of Orreille, California. After the meal, the party motored to Roxana and spent the afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sears.

NEWSPAPER IS ROBBED TODAY

San Antonio Light Is Loser of $6,000 Payroll

SAN ANTONIO, June 26.—(P)—Three men held up a messenger here today and obtained $6,000, the payroll of the San Antonio Light.

The robbery occurred at the entrance to the Light building. George Farmer, paymaster for the newspaper, was returning from the bank with the payroll in a bag.

At the building entrance he was confronted by a revolver in the hands of a large man who leaped to the sidewalk from a car parked in front of the building. Two other men were in the car.

Many persons were passing on the street and there were a number of newsboys at the entrance. The bandit backed Farmer into an alley beside the building, seized the money bag and leaped into the car, which sped away and was lost in the traffic.

Wildcat Wells in Gray Getting Oil

Unofficial reports from the Gray county oil fields state that two wildcats have struck oil this week and are likely to open up several miles of new and unproven territory.

The Tobias Oil company's No. 1 Taylor in section 10, block B-2, is said to be making a few barrels a day following a huge shot yesterday. The shot was placed from 2,780 feet to 2,995 feet and bridged but after cleaning out commenced it began to spray.

This well is located about half way between the Bowers-McGee pool and Alandred and is about 8 miles south of LeFors Petroleum company's gusher. The other well reported to have reached pay this morning is the Par-tan Oil company's No. 1 Morse in section 5, block 26, about six miles southeast of LeFors and a mile north of the Nabob Oil company's No. 1 Morse in section 68, block 25.

The Alco Oil company's No. 1 Finley in the B. E. Chaney survey about two miles north of LeFors is pumping 44 barrels a day bottomed at 2,951 feet. The well is North of LeFors Petroleum company's gusher and may be drilled deeper.

TO SPEAK IN SHAMROCK

George W. Briggs, manager of the local Chamber of Commerce, has been invited to speak at a luncheon of the Shamrock Chamber of Commerce tomorrow noon. Mr. Briggs will speak on the subject of agriculture, one which he has studied and been interested in for many years.

Mrs. N. A. Taylor had as her guest this week-end her niece, Mrs. John Nest, and daughter of Wellington.

FIRST SESSION OF 29 MINUTES

Scathing Keynote Speech to Be Made at 7 Tonight

BY BYRON PRICE
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

SAM HOUSTON HALL, Houston, June 26.—(P)—A Democratic national convention whose major decisions were all but made before it ever convened began here today in an opening session so brief that it was over before the delegates got settled in their seats.

Leaving the keynote speech, the usual magnet of opening day interest, for an evening session, the convention merely went through the motions of getting itself legally afoot, and then after a session of one minute less than a half hour, recessed until 7:30 p. m.

The only convention hall thrill was not a part of the session itself. It was a short demonstration for Al Smith, put on impromptu by Democrats from Herbert Hoover's home state of California. The solid Smith California delegation raised a big picture of their man high above their place in the convention floor and a cheer went up to rafters from the legion of linen-suited Smith men on the sweltering convention floor and their summery clad women companions of the Smith delegations.

Late Getting Started
The convention was late getting underway while chairman Shaver of the national committee, conferred with other leaders regarding the program.

Five minutes past the hour set for convening all the seats on the floor were filled and the aisles were packed and jammed with a jostling, moving crowd, but the galleries were nowhere near filled.

Just before noon John W. Davis, who was nominated for president on the 103rd ballot at Madison Square Garden four years ago, edged his way through the slowly moving crowd massed before the platform to his place with the New York delegation. He paused for a moment to greet Joseph Daniels, former secretary of the navy and a delegate from North Carolina.

A cheer went up as "Jimmy" Walker, New York's dapper mayor, pushed through the crowd to the empire state section. It was a little after the noon hour but Walker found that he wasn't late. With him arrived George R. Van Namee, Smith pre-convention manager who was on hand to watch developments although he is not a delegate.

Shaver Appears
At 12:12 p. m., chairman Shaver stepped up in front of the silver " mike" and began to hammer with his gavel the three inch plank placed beside the speaker's stand, at the extreme front of the little flag draped pier.

He had no luck, for the hall remained anything but orderly as delegate greeted delegate and thousands of late spectators were shown to their places in the bleachers.

Even a real grand daddy gavel, three times as large as the one first used by the chairman, and big enough to be dignified by the name of Mallet without indulging in a figure of speech, failed for a time to get results. Then, as the little grey haired, grey suited head of the national committee launched into a tattoo and a convention band placed on the floor itself just down in front of the chairman, blew "attention" the babble of talk began to die out slowly.

Silence for Prayer
Finally chairman Shaver got silence by bringing to the front of the platform Bishop S. R. Hay of the Methodist Episcopal church South, who pronounced the opening invocation. While the delegates and spectators stood and a batter of blinding photographers' light played on the little platform an unusually severe series of tornadoes and hail storms this spring and early summer. Such phenomena followed, however, rains which had practically saved the crops, and we have not heard much complaint.

People of this territory are normally religious, but they neither sit back and pray for rain nor criticize the Almighty when the storms come. They have learned that the universe has certain laws of nature, and that combinations of natural factors result in storms just as simply as two plus two equals four. They know that similar laws affect the growing of crops, and that plenty of work plus efficient methods will largely overcome the periodical dry spells which just will happen. The same force which planned the watering of the earth also gave man the faculty of overcoming the whimsicalities of nature. To blame that Creator is to imply that His highest creation does not have sufficient ability to possess the earth. The divine right of every man to think himself out of difficulties is one of his chief claims to rank above the other animals.

It is strange how adversity spurs people to better things of times. No more inspiring messages have come over the telegraph wires than those telling of the rehabilitation plans of the storm-stricken areas of Oklahoma. Neighbors are helping neighbors, brick buildings are replacing shacks, and the general tone of the work is permanency. The Southwesterner is not an expressive fellow, but arouse his sympathy and his expression in terms of genuine aid is eloquent. Adversity often points the way to better things; at least, in this region, it never retards or discourages a community.

Kellogg's Proposals

The average person likely is more interested now in national politics than international relations, yet the fact is that Secretary Kellogg's proposals for the outlawry of war are being drafted and submitted quietly, making history which will be more noticed a decade from now than at the present time.

About fourteen nations are due to take some action on the proposals within a short time. Briefly, it is to be officially recognized that war is a poor way to settle difficulties, with agreement on methods more humane, conclusive, and in keeping with modern thought.

The London Morning Post remarked sarcastically that the poets would do more to promote hypocrisy than to promote peace. If so, it is a step in the right direction; for hypocrisy often is the midway post between two extremes. Nothing is gained overnight.

Paris and London newspapers are generally in harmony in the discussion. The Daily Telegraph, Daily News, Westminster Gazette, and Daily Chronicle in London welcomed the plan heartily.

War grows out of the common people, who are goaded into wrath—on the continent at least—by ambitious rulers or statesmen, abetted by the

CAPITOL News

HOUSTON—Vice presidential candidates are always picked geographically and possibly the nomination of them sometimes has a slight moral effect on their sections, but they seldom if ever exert any influence on an election result.

Sometimes their tickets carries their own state and sometimes not. Generally it depends on how the state feels about the nominee for first place. The Republicans at Kansas City put Senator Charlie Curtis of Kansas on the front seat alongside Hoover as so much recognition for the agricultural states, hoping that there might be some moral effect to be gained. But if there was any farm state the Republicans had a right to be sure of it was Kansas, and if Hoover can't carry Kansas he can't carry much of anything.

None of the dirt farmers your correspondent has seen since the Republican nominations were thinking in terms of Curtis—they were talking about Hoover. If Jim Reed were the Democratic vice presidential candidate Missouri would seem fairly certain for the Democrats, but he's an unusual case.

Nomination of Governor Charlie Bryan of Nebraska to run with Davis in 1924 had as much effect in the west as the naming of an Eskimo. Senator Wheeler of Montana was regarded as likely to carry Montana for La Follette, but didn't quite, although he did some dandy campaigning. Dawes, roaring about the "Red menace", undoubtedly attracted votes to Coolidge, but there was never any question about Illinois.

Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York was sunk with Cox in his own state as badly as anywhere else in 1920; even the Roosevelt name apparently failed to get any votes. Everyone knows that Massachusetts would vote for Harding, even without her own Cal Coolidge on the ticket.

The two vice presidential candidates of 1916 were both Hoosiers, Thomas R. Marshall running again with Wilson and Charles W. Fairbanks tied to Hughes. Indiana was distinctly a doubtful state and both parties wanted it. Hughes and Fairbanks won by only 7000 votes.

Of the second place men in economic urge for room to expand. If the people outlaw war in their own minds, realizing that only the war-made millionaires profit by carnage, then war will cease.

It should be outlawed in the minds of the people, recognized as inhuman diplomacy, and ruled out of human relations. War is an outlaw practice.

1912, Hiram Johnson seems to get credit for holding his home state of California for Roosevelt. Wilson and Marshall had a set-up in Indiana with the Republican split and Taft's mate, Sherman, of New York sank in home waters for similar reasons.

In 1908 Kern of Indiana, running with Bryan, probably helped bring the ticket within shooting distance of victory in that state, though it lost. The Taft-Sherman ticket held New York easily.

In 1904 the aged Henry G. Davis couldn't deliver his own West Virginia for Parker, while Fairbanks, running with Roosevelt, rode to a big victory in Indiana. Roosevelt helped McKinley carry New York in 1900, but Adlai Stevenson and Bryan lost Stevenson's Illinois.

Hobart and McKinley won New York in 1896, while Bryan's mate, Sewall, of Maine, lost on the home grounds. Adlai Stevenson, running with Cleveland, helped win Illinois in 1892, while Whitelaw Reid couldn't save New York, which was also Cleveland's state.

Small Airplanes Asked by Nobile For Rescue Work

KINGS BAY, Spitzbergen, June 26.—(AP)—With two injured men of the crew of the Italia rescued from their perilous position on an ice floe by airplanes, preparations went forward today to search for seven men who drifted to the east in the balloon part of the dirigible.

Pilots of two large Italian seaplanes and a Swedish seaplane were summoned to meet aboard the base ship Citta di Milano at Virgo Bay to perfect searching plans. They will be guided by the advice of General Umberto Nobile, who was injured in the Italia crash. Nobile, although prevented from flying in search of his comrades, was aiding in plans for their rescue by his knowledge of ice conditions and observations made by him on the voyage of the Italia to Lenin land of the area toward which the balloon drifted.

Natale Ceccioni, motor chief of the Italia, was picked up by an airplane and brought to safety. His broken leg was receiving medical attention today.

Swedish airmen aboard their base steamer the quest in Hinlopen strait were particularly anxious to bring their fellow countrymen to safety, a small Finnish plane was having its skill landing gear adjusted at Virgo bay to join the expedition aboard the quest.

General Nobile requested that two small airplanes be sent from England to join in the work as the small type of plane has twice provided its practicability in rescuing stranded men from the ice. These will be used to supplement the Swedish planes.

KINGS BAY, Spitzbergen, June 26.—(AP)—At least one of the seven men who were in the bag of the dirigible Italia and were carried off on May 25 without trace, is believed to have been killed in falling from a forward compartment.

This was Vincenzo Pomella, motor attendant. Latest advices indicate that he was undoubtedly killed in the fall. The fate of his six companions in the bag which was swept away from the Nobile group on the ice is unknown.

(Hitherto there have been no reports stating definitely that any of the crew of the Italia were killed. The seven men who were carried away in the gas bag have not been heard from and confirmation as to Pomella's death is unobtainable.)

Coolidge Paddles as Convention Opens

SUPERIOR, Wis., June 26.—(AP)—The opening of the national Democratic convention in Houston today caused no ripples in the ordinary White House routine here. President Coolidge quiet and sunny life on the Brule river disposed to continue without interruption, with attention being devoted to what business was at hand but with the natural beauty and the open air recreations of Cedar Island lodge claiming first place in the day's activities.

Mr. Coolidge had no closer contact with events at Houston than the average voter, the daily press and the radio being his only sources of information. The radio at the lodge, however, has proved very unsatisfactory so far owing to the interference caused by the little power station on the estate itself.

Mr. Coolidge was said to be outwardly at least, far more interested at present in learning how to paddle a canoe than in watching the actions of the Democratic party. John Larock, his Chippewa guide, has been taking the chief executive out on the Brule teaching him to hold the paddle and how to keep the fragile craft on the course without shifting from side to side.

Supreme Court Upholds Laws On University Lands

AUSTIN, June 26.—(AP)—Legal clouds which for years have hung over state school and Texas University oil lands worth billions were dissolved late yesterday by the Supreme Court in a special sitting.

In a series of opinions the court upheld, against widespread assault, all major laws governing administration, sale and lease of the areas.

"The relinquishment, under terms of which many owners of poor 'state land' have become millionaires due to the discovery of oil was held unconstitutional and seven mandamus actions questioning it were denied. The statute gives to buyers of state lands fifteen-sixteenths of mineral found thereon. Perhaps more than 5,000,000 acres, including some of the greatest oil producing territory in Texas is involved.

CONOCO + ETHYL = Knockless Miles

CONOCO ETHYL
The YARDSTICK
for COMPARING MOTOR FUELS

THE quickest way to appreciate the superiority of Conoco Ethyl Gasoline is by direct comparison. You know the results you get from ordinary gasoline. So the next time the tank is empty fill up with Conoco Ethyl and note particularly these outstanding points of superiority:

1. No knocks.
2. Smooth, even flow of power.
3. Quicker acceleration.
4. Greater speed and pulling power on the long, hard hills.
5. Practically no vibration and no overheating of the motor.

Conoco Ethyl Gasoline is a combination of Conoco, the extra miles gasoline, and Ethyl brand of Anti-Knock compound—developed by General Motors. It is the standard—the yardstick for comparing motor fuels. A gasoline better than Conoco Ethyl has yet to be made.

Fill at the Conoco Ethyl pump.

Reds Can't Stop Cellar Motion in Recent Tussles

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

A second division berth looms for the Cincinnati Reds unless Jack Hendricks can pull his faltering crew together within the next few days.

The Reds went east leading the National league parade a few weeks ago, managed to hold up during most of the Eastern invasion despite injuries that laid low several regulars, and then ran into a slump in the most unlikely place in the circuit—Philadelphia. Since that time they have lost 10 games in 12 starts and now are only three points to the good of the fifth place Brooklyn Robins.

The Reds lost ground they ill could afford Monday when the Cardinal steam-roller crunched its way to a 5 to 2 triumph in 11 innings. The steam roller was a bit late getting into operation, mainly because Eppa Rixey, elongated left-hander of the Reds, was having one of his periodical good days. He pitched on even terms with Jess Haines until the 11th when the storm broke. Jim Bottomley, mainspring of the Cardinal attack, started the rally with his 23rd double of the season. Soon the bases were filled and Chick Hafel did a Frank Merriwell with a sack-clearing triple, scoring himself when Val Picinich let the throw-in roll through his legs. Cincinnati got one of these four runs back in their half but it did nothing more than prove that Cincinnati's head may be bloody but still unbowed.

While the Chicago Cubs and Pittsburgh Pirates were idle, the New York Giants moved into undisputed possession of second place with a double win over the Phils, 12 to 4 and 8 to 2. Larry Benton chalked up his 12th victory in 15 starts, all complete games, in the first contest. Bill Walker, Denver southpaw, was an easy victor in the nightcap.

The Dodgers hit Ben Cantwell hard and chalked up their fourth straight victory at the expense of the Boston Braves, 5 to 3. Del Bissonette went in to a tie with Bottomley for home run leadership with his 15th of the year. Howard Freigau changed from a Robin to a Brave before the game via the waiver route.

The Washington Senators, now playing the kind of baseball that had been expected of them, knocked off the Philadelphia Athletics twice at the capitol, 3 to 2, and 7 to 2.

The Tigers again moved into the cellar while Chicago was moving out when the Sox battered out an 8 to 6 victory at Detroit.

Morgan's home run, one of five hit during the game, gave the Cleveland Indians a 7 to 4 win over the Browns at St. Louis. Heinie Manush hit twice for the circuit. Lou Blue and Luke Sewell got one apiece.

Houston Buffs Continue Brilliant Baseball Strides

(By The Associated Press)

Although they have the championship of the first half of the Texas league tucked away, the Houston Buffs continue to play the great baseball that swept them into first place and kept them there.

Behind the good pitching of Whitworth and by virtue of their lusty clouting the Buffs defeated Fort Worth Monday, 7 to 1, to sweep the three game series.

The victory gave the Buffs a margin of ten full games over the second-place Cats.

Wichita Falls made up some of the ground it lost in bunches recently when it defeated Beaumont, 7 to 2, largely as a result of the air tight hurling of Cobb and the Spudders ability to hit when it meant runs.

San Antonio defeated Dallas, 11 to 6 in a game featured by the great fielding of the Bear infield and the sorry playing all around of the Steers.

Shreveport hammered the offerings of three Waco pitchers, Freeze, Shelton and Shires, for 20 hits, including three home runs, and easily won, 16 to 5.

OLYMPIC HOPES

J. JES F. QUINN

Two outstanding performances this year make Jimmy Quinn, Holy Cross sprinter, stand out prominently in a field of candidates that is very strong. Quinn gave one of the outstanding performances of the winter months when he won the 60-yard event at the New York A. C. games in the record time of 6.1-5 seconds, equalling the world's record. That one might not think this was just a flash, he entered the I. C. 4-A meet at Harvard several weeks ago and led the parade of brilliant sprinters in the 100-yard dash. His time in this was 9.9. Although he faces most strenuous competition in the final trials at Harvard, Quinn is confident he will be able to gain one of the four places for sprinters on the Olympic squad.

Uneven Battles Are Presented at Athletic Arena

A small gathering of fight fans last night saw three hectic battles at the Pampa Athletic club. The boys were unevenly matched all the way through the night and failed to arouse any excitement. Kid Cable the young Kansas City heavyweight, was not in the same class as Pat Keener, the Tulsa veteran, and after a few of the veteran's blows had passed his chin he quit, but came back again.

Cable took a count of seven early in the first round from a right to the head but came back and hung on until the end of the round, when he was saved by the bell, having taken one of the Irishman's rights to the body. He came out in the second round trying to use footwork to keep away, but to no avail and after taking two counts down and out for good from a right to the jaw.

In the absence of Jack Morrison of Berger, who was called to Oklahoma City by the illness of his father, Kid Buster went in with Frankie Farrell. He outweighed the Pampa flash fifteen pounds, but couldn't put the fast stepping Farrell away. The bout was slow. Because of the weight handicap Farrell could not display his wares and

New Champion in Mississippi Area Is Believed Sure

DES MOINES, Ia., June 26—(AP)—After a gruelling struggle in the first qualifying round for the trans-Mississippi golf championship, most of it in a gale, the remnants of the blast shattered cohorts seeking Johnny Goodwin's title went forth today to renew the battle of Wakonda links.

A goodly chance existed to take the royal ermine from the shoulders of the Omaha youth, for he could do no better than 82 in the first round and need to improve his game materially to assume himself of admission to match play. He was six strokes behind the leader, W. S. Medart of St Louis and there were 17 others with better scores besides the nine who were tied with him.

New Orleans Girl One of Favorites of Eastern Tourney

MINNEAPOLIS, June 26—(AP)—With a medal round of 84 to her credit, Miss Marion Turpie of New Orleans, entered her first match play today in the women's trans-Mississippi golf tournament at Minikahda club as one of the favorites.

Her score in the qualifying round yesterday was one stroke over woman's par at Minikahda and was seven better than turned in by the champion, Mrs. Mirion Burns Horn of Kansas City, who had a card of 91 to finish third.

Misc Turpie drew Mrs. F. N. Davis of St. Paul, in match play today. Mrs. Davis shot 105 yesterday. Mrs. Horn's opponent was Mrs. M. Wittmer of Minneapolis, whose score was 105.

Mrs. O. S. Hill of Kansas City, north and south titleholder, finished second yesterday.

used nice footwork to keep out of the way of a haymaker.

The bout was a good draw even though the two boys were not evenly matched.

The best bout of the evening as far as it went was between Art Vitton, the hard hitting Berger Mexican, and Hatling Edd, one of Pampa's negro aspirants to ring fame. The Pampa boy gave the Mexican the hardest fight he rounds, then Vitton landed a hard right to the body and the Kid was unable to answer the bell for the fourth round.

Chicago Spaniard Far Ahead of His Famous Rivals

KANSAS CITY, June 26—(AP)—Stroking on untroubled by the galleries who swarmed other fairways to see the champions dub their way along, Al Espinosa stole a march on his more illustrious golfing mates in the mid-American open golf tournament at Lakewood yesterday and was in prime position today to Hannex the $1,500 first prize.

Six strokes ahead of the field, following a 145-yard ace and a trio of birdies, the little Spaniard from Chicago did not even need par golf on the final 36 holes today to sweep the field.

His score of 142 was two under par for the rough and difficult course, and 6 strokes below Leo Diegel of White Plains, N. Y., in second place.

Far behind and almost ready to concede defeat, were Johnny Farrell, national open champion, trying the impossible of playing four continuous scorching days of 36-hole tournament golf; Walter Hagen, the British open champion, again struggling against the British ace, Archie Compson, and Gene Sarazen, runner-up in the British open.

Industrial League Members Will Be Guests of Pla-Mor

The officials, managers, and players of the eight teams in the Industrial baseball league will be the guests of the Pla-Mor auditorium at a smoker tonight. The players of the teams are asked to see their respective managers and receive passes for the gathering.

The smoker will commence at 8 o'clock and following the luncheon a short program will be given. The managers of the different teams are anxious that all players will attend the smoker and revive interest in the league.

Women Are Ready to Press Demands At Meeting

By MARTHA DALRYMPLE Associated Press Staff Writer HOUSTON, June 26.—(AP)—The initial round of the gavel on the platform of Sam Houston hall today was a set southern fashions in their prettiest and feminine heads alert for the words that open the quadrennial Democratic convention.

The women had done a week's work preparatory to the party convocation today, and they were not to be outdone at the opening moment.

All the national committee women will be in their places on the platform, both those in office during the past four years and those newly elected ones who are to take office immediately after the nomination.

Representatives of a women's organization, who have plans to insert through the secretive doors of the resolutions committee, are ready for the appointments that will shot them their best bits.

Distinguished women guests have arrived, have been met, and have been invited to the proper social functions.

And the convention is ready to begin as far as the women are concerned.

Esidon Mrs. Alfred E. Smith, wife of the rosiest presidential candidate, and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, much feted widow of the war time president, Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham presents the most unique feminine figure to take an official part in convention activities.

She has suspended activity in her Texas campaign for the Democratic nomination for the United States Senate to come from her Texas ranch to Houston to relieve Mrs. Emily Newell Blair, vice-chairman of the Democratic national committee, and president of the National Democratic women's club of her duties as welcome of the women members of the club.

The imminent approach of Mrs. Jimmie Walker, wife of the effervescent mayor is awaited with eagerness by all those interested in personality.

Al Smith Forecasts Women's Equality

ALBANY, N. Y., June 26.—(AP)—Governor Smith visualizes the day when his own present position as chief executive of the empire state will be held by a woman.

"The chief difference I notice between exercises like this now and thirty years ago," he said in an address at the graduation of his youngest son from the academy of the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, "is that both boys and girls take part now together."

"In my youth there were exercises for the boys of the class one day and the girls the next. The reason for that was that the things you'd tell the boys in that day you wouldn't tell the girls. You'd advise the boys so that they might train themselves to be captains of industry, professional men, or statesmen. You never would have thought of telling that to the girls. Not then. But now you tell them both the same things."

He turned with a smile to a plump class-mate of his son who had won several prizes for scholarship, Mary McManus.

"It is not outside the realm of possibility," he said, "that one of these days we'll be hearing 'Mary McManus for Governor.'"

LeFors Dance Hall to Open Wednesday

Mrs. Mattie Castlebury, owner and manager of the Tokio club at Borger, will formally open a dance hall at LeFors Wednesday night. The Tokio club was one of the first established in the oil fields.

The new LeFors hall, recently completed, has a hardwood maple floor, 45 by 50 feet. The sides are open, and it has rainproof roof. It is located across the street east of the swimming pool.

The Dixie Serenaders, nine-piece orchestra, will entertain in North Texas, will furnish the music for the summer dance.

Mrs. McCormick Is Student Actress in Disguise—Admits It

CINCINNATI, June 26.—(AP)—Mrs. Cyrus McCormick, Jr., of Chicago, wife of the president of the International Harvester Company, has been a student actress with a local stock company for six weeks under an assumed name, it has been learned.

Recently, under the name of "Mary Butler," Mrs. McCormick played a minor role in "Crime." She was not recognized by members of the regular cast or by the audience.

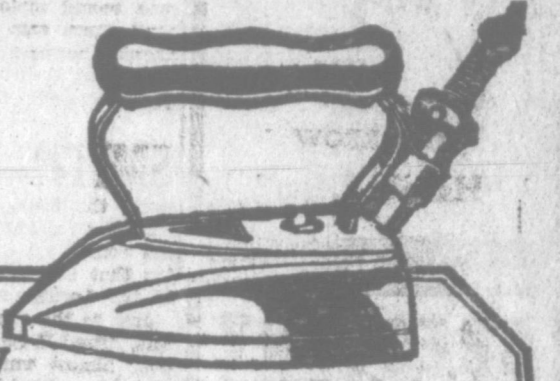

Yesterday, when she admitted she was Mrs. McCormick, amusement was expressed by members of the stock company, who thought she was only a student, or "disciple," a neophyte who each summer attends rehearsals and assumes minor roles in productions of the Stuart Walker company.

Mrs. McCormick said she took the name "Mary Butler" to escape social obligations so that she could give her full time and effort to the study of dramatic art, in which she is keenly interested. She is especially interested in the production of children's plays and wishes to study direction. Her original plan did not contemplate going any further amateur theatricals, she said.

Sam Fenberg and Ed Gobar were Shamrock visitors yesterday.

When A Girl Loves

© 1928 by NEA Service. RUTH DEWEY GROVES

THIS HAS HAPPENED VIRGINIA BREWSTER is in love with an artist, NATHANIEL DEAN, but she is irked by his promising to marry FREDERICK DEAN in one year if she fails to earn $100,000 that he alleges her father cheated him out of.

BREWSTER had lost his fortune in speculation before his death and VIRGINIA is left destitute. She pays some of her jewelry and OLIVER CUTLER promises to invest the money for her.

She seeks work, but without success. She discovers that she is being shadowed and suspects that DEAN has bribed the agencies not to help her. OLIVER CUTLER gains her confidence and shows her attentions which NIEL resents, but then she realizes she does not like the familiarity with which his model, CHIRI, treats her.

DEAN sends VIRGINIA an evening wrap which she returns, telling him how contemptible she thinks his spying tactics are. He threatens to ruin CUTLER financially. VIRGINIA and OLIVER CUTLER agree to get a position which she likes.

The summer passes and in early September she is amazed when she is asked to marry NATHANIEL DEAN. She is overjoyed and she thinks his spying tactics are.

He sends VIRGINIA an evening wrap which she returns, telling him how contemptible she thinks his spying tactics are. He threatens to ruin CUTLER financially. VIRGINIA and OLIVER CUTLER agree to get a position which she likes.

Now on with the story CHAPTER XXXVIII VIRGINIA submitted unreluctantly to Oliver's embrace. Her mind was blurred with shock and despair. The fine spirit that had flamed against her father's trader was quelled. She lay quiescent, a broken crusader.

Over her head Oliver's face took on an expression of amazement, so thoroughly had he been convinced a moment before that he had had her.

He relaxed a hold, to help her to a chair. A great, struggling sob wrenched herself suddenly from her lips as her mind broke loose from the paralyzing talons of fear.

She thrust out her hands and freed herself with one vigorous shove. Oliver staggered away from her, tripped on the edge of a thick rug and fell flat on the floor.

Virginia laughed, a strange laugh that sounded weird in the prosaic surroundings. It was mingled hysteria and ridicule.

Oliver's face burned hotly as he scrambled up, all dignity lost. "You little devil," he shouted, believing that she had fooled him deliberately, though for what purpose he did not stop to ask.

Virginia did not answer him. She had turned toward the door and saw that it was opening slowly. But she was past caring who might witness the scene she was leaving.

West Indies, would have thrilled any of the Blue Capella's employees. Apparently Mr. Welkins expected her to be delighted.

Her silence puzzled him. "You will be glad to go, won't you, Miss Brewster?" he asked uncertainly. "We want someone as hostess who will know how to make the passengers feel as though they were our guests on the ship. Bring them together; see that everyone has a good time."

"Why, I don't know," Virginia began hesitatingly. "There are a number of things I'd have to think about before I could decide, Mr. Welkins. But if you will give me a few days . . . I'd want to talk to Mr. Dean about it . . ."

"Of course, of course. Well, let's meet your new assistant and see if she will do."

Virginia went out to send in Miss Evans. Presently the latter returned to say that she had been given the position.

By refusing to say in the manner of her usual give and take.

"You never will believe that I'm true in every part, will you?" Stacy laughed back. "Just the same I am way down low. Ran into some bad news concerning an old friend of mine in Haiti, Chas called Oddy. Name's O. D. D. Leigh. Great character all through the West Indies. Well, here's a sewer for you. Shameful, how he takes gifts from me and never gives a thing in return."

He tossed a bracelet made of shiny brown seeds on Virginia's desk with an air of being helplessly exploited. Virginia admired it and thanked him, but he noticed a detached note in her voice.

A slight frown crossed her brow and she appeared to be thinking of something that troubled her. "Oddy, Oddy," she murmured softly, then to Stacy. "I'm sure I've heard that name before."

"No doubt you have," he replied complacently. "Fellow's well known to a lot of people. Anyone coming back from Haiti would be likely to speak of him."

"No, it wasn't recently, if you mean you think I've heard of him here in the office," Virginia said. "I can't remember when I heard his name before, but I'm positive it was long ago."

"Well, he's been in the public eye for years, ever since he first started bucking the sugar trust in the islands. So you won't date me?"

That was always his closing line and Virginia smiled him away.

She continued to ponder over the reason why the name of O. D. D. Leigh had struck her on some forgotten memory, and only put it out of her mind when she lifted the new brass-knocker on Nathaniel's door.

They were having dinner in the Village, and when they did that she came directly from her office to his studio.

There was no response to her knock, and thinking that he was out she opened the door and stepped inside. As she did so a voice called out from the kitchen. It was Chiri's high-pitched laughing.

midnight, according to Parker, drove toward Pampa to the intersection with the LeFors road, then went two miles toward the county seat. Returning, they approached the intersection of Barnes and Cuyler, intending to drive up Barnes to the Sheffield hotel.

The car struck the ditch made by the city grader on the previous day, breaking the radius rods and turning over on the front right fender and top. Mickey Todd was killed, Parker's right arm broken, and Della Todd received purported permanent injuries. Parker denied that the party had been drinking liquor and on cross-examination denied that the crowded condition of the car hampered efficient driving. Questions of the defense pointed to the idea that a careful driver might have avoided the accident. Parker said Lunsford swerved to the left to avoid the ditch but that the right front wheel slipped into it somewhat to the left of the center of the street.

Lunsford returned to the scene of the accident after daylight and took pictures which were offered as evidence under protest of the defense. Judge Willis deferred his ruling until today.

Dr. R. A. Webb, who gave emergency treatment to Miss Todd after the accident, was to have testified last night, but was called away when one of his patients gave birth to a child. Most of the night session was used in reading into the record the testimony of L. G. Lunsford at the former trial.

Lunsford and Parker at the time of the accident were working at a blacksmith shop 3 miles south of Pampa.

KIDNAPERS SURROUNDED

QUADALAJARA, Jalisco, Mex. June 2. (P)—Colonel Bobadilla, chief of staff of the military commandant announced today that the insurgents who kidnaped the American mining men, W. M. Mitchell and John F. Hooper, had been located at El Salvador, near Tequila.

Troops were concentrated in the district and today were throwing a cordon around it. It was hoped they would be able to rescue the prisoners, paying the $1,500 ransom de-

Markets

CHICAGO, June 26 (P)—Influenced by persistent damp weather south-west causing further delays to the harvest, wheat values took an early swing upward today. Opening 3-8c off to 1-8c up, what soon scored material advances all around. Corn, oats and provisions were likewise stronger with corn starting unchanged to 3-4c higher and subsequently making a general advance.

group the bishop prayed that divine wisdom should guide the decisions of the convention and finished by asking that the audience join with him in the Lord's prayer.

Just as the convention was opening, Mrs. Alfred E. Smith entered by a side door almost unnoticed and was escorted to a front box on the left, about half way back. She was wearing an ecru lace two piece dress, a big black hat, with straw brim. She fanned herself violently with a large many colored fan.

Houston Woman Sings The prayer finished, Miss Melvina Passmore of Houston led the crowd in the Star Spangled Banner, America, and then Dixie. As the last words died out the hall rang with the first real cheering of the convention. Charles A. Greathouse, of Indiana, secretary of the Democratic national committee, then was presented to the convention and read the call for the convention. The Democrats finally had settled down with most of the delegates in their seats awaiting for the welcoming address by Mayor Oscar P. Holcombe of Houston.

BY BRIAN BELL (Associated Press Staff Writer)

HOUSTON, June 26.—(P)—That Governor Alfred E. Smith will be nominated on the first ballot was suggested today by George R. Van Namee, manager of his pre-convention activities. It was Mr. Van Namee's first effort to forecast specifically the action of the Democratic convention.

"The logic of events at Houston and the general good feeling that prevails," said the Smith manager, "indicates that Governor Smith's popularity is so great that it is doubtful even if his managers wished that they could delay his nomination beyond the first ballot."

No Serious Contest

Mr. Van Namee was confident, he said, that there will be no serious contest at the convention over the platform or any other subject. "Such harmony as exists there has never been known in a Democratic convention before," he said. "Every delegate here knows that the party has a great chance to win and no chance will be taken of placing that opportunity in jeopardy. Any Democrat who wants his party to be successful knows that we must leave here with good feeling prevailing."

Asked as to his idea of the time for the start of balloting, Mr. Van Namee said he believed the balloting would start Thursday. "Immediately after that," he said. "The campaign for Gov. Smith will be started with the enthusiasm attached to everything with which he is connected."

The convention should end sometime Friday, he thought. "The choice of a candidate for vice-president is very important," he said, "and certainly the convention will not hurry through this nomination."

No Special Choice

The candidate might come from any section of the country, he replied to a query as to the possibility of the choice falling of a southern man. "The candidate might come from the South as well as any other section but not for the reason that he would be needed to carry his state or any group of states."

Mr. Van Namee said he had not heard that a seconding speech for Gov. Smith might be made by Mrs. Woodrow Wilson. "It would be very gracious of Mrs. Wilson to second the governor's nomination," he said.

"but we have not been advised that she will do so. There will be about six brief seconding speeches."

The Smith managers thought the platform would be worked out without great difficulty and no fight. Senator Robert F. Wagner, New York's representative on the resolutions committee, will hold a number of conferences today with offers interested in framing the platform.

BY PAUL F. HAUPERT (Associated Press Staff Writer)

HOUSTON, June 26.—(P)—Alfred E. Smith enters the Democratic national convention today with first ballot votes definitely in line for him nearly fifty short of the nominating mark, but he is assured of so many more whenever he needs them that his friends and many of his political foes regard his nomination as inevitable.

Although his managers had given no indication that they were trying to bring about the New York governor's selection on the first roll call, there were predictions that this would happen. They were based on a belief that Smith would be so near the nomination as the initial ballot nears an end that many delegates, having discharged obligations by voting for favorites, would shift to his standard before announcement of the result.

From some quarters, however, came forecasts that two or more ballots would be required, and here and there bitter-end opponents of the New Yorker clung to the belief that in some way he could be headed off.

More Favorite Sons

Overnight, several new favorite-son candidates had sprung up to claim the support of some delegate on at least the first ballot. Senator Pat Harrison was put in the field by the Mississippi delegation. The forty delegates from Texas mustered under the banner of Jesse H. Jones, Chief Justice Waits of South Carolina was brought out as the favorite of the 18 delegates from that state.

In addition, at caucusses, the Indiana delegation decided to stand by Woolen, the Kansas delegate by Ayres and he two dozen Tennesseans by Hull, and the Alabama delegates decided to split their votes among George, Hull, Donahay, Jones, and Woolen.

These developments encouraged some of the Smith opponents, who have been striving to keep enough votes away from the leading candidate to wear his strength after a few ballots. They also have been hoping that the Arkansas and Oklahoma delegates, at caucusses still to be held, would remain aloof from the Smith camp, at least at the outset of balloting.

But the leaders of the movement to make Smith the presidential nominee looked forward with confidence, certain that the Oklahoma and Arkansas delegates would be ready to board a Smith bandwagon just as readily as they believe those from favorite-son states will be when it passes by.

Smith Nearly Over

As it shaped up today, with the balloting for a presidential nominee still 48 hours away, the first ballot votes which have been announced as committed to Smith, either through instructions or by definite pledges given by individual delegates or by authorized spokesmen totaled 687 or 46 1-3 votes short of enough to put him over. Here they are:

- Arizona, 6; California, 26; Colorado, 12; Connecticut, 14; Delaware, 6; Idaho, 8; Illinois, 53; Iowa, 26; Kentucky, 26; Louisiana, 20 (contest still pending); Maine, 12; Maryland, 16; Massachusetts, 36; Michigan, 30; Minnesota, 24; Montana, 8; Nevada, 6; New Hampshire, 8; New Jersey, 28; New Mexico, 6; New York, 90; North Carolina, 41-2; North Dakota, 10; Oregon, 10; Pennsylvania, 65; Rhode Island, 10; South Dakota, 10; Utah, 8; Vermont, 8; Virginia, 10; Washington, 14; West Virginia, 10 1-2; Wisconsin, 26; Wyoming, 6; Alaska, 6; D. C. 6; Hawaii, 6; Philippines, 6; Porto Rico, 6; Canal Zone, 6; Virgin Islands, 2.

The Smith managers expect to pick up before the windup more than enough votes to put their candidate over the 733 1-3 nominating mark from such states as Arkansas, Indiana, Kansas, Mississippi, Nebraska, Ohio, Oklahoma and Texas. The final lineup of the delegations from these states which have a combined voting power of 212, has not been determined.

Insurgents Wreck Train in Mexico

MEXICO CITY, June 26.—(P)—Wrecking of a passenger train running from Laredo to Mexico City was attributed to insurgents by railroad officials today.

Andrew H. Robinson, 60-year-old American engineer who has served the Mexican national lines for forty years, was crushed to death when the train was derailed. His body was brought to Mexico City for burial. The fireman was killed also and several passenger injured.

The train usually carries a number of Americans but since these generally travel in the rear coaches it was believed that none of them was injured. Passenger coaches remained on the track, the locomotive, express car and mail car overturning.

Rails were torn up at a curve near Vivorrillas, a few miles east of Queretaro. The engineer did not notice the damage in the darkness and the train plunged down the rails.

Two bombs were planted near the point where the train was derailed to blow up the relief trains. One of these exploded prematurely near Aragon before a relief train traveling toward Laredo arrived. The second bomb was discovered by track workers shortly afterwards and removed.

A guard of federal soldiers accompanying the train deployed at once and this show of force apparently intimidated the wreckers since no attempt was made to attack the train.

QUARTER INCH RAIN

Last evening's sudden rain storm, brief but heavy, amounted to more than an inch. Severe lightning accompanied the rain, but no damage was reported.

DAMAGE BY WATER

Smoke issuing from the home of Mrs. Mary Purvice on Kingsmill avenue, yesterday at noon, gave every indication of a bad fire but after considerable water had been used the smoke was found to be coming from a fire between the walls in the kitchen. The blaze apparently started behind some sheet rock near the gas range and was blazing in the wall without breaking out.

The damage by fire was light, but water and smoke raised the loss considerable. The department encountered difficulties in the smoke and had to cut holes in the roof to get at the seat of the flames.
