CLINTON LINE TO BE IMPROVED

Construction Must Be Completed by June
30, 1929

In keeping with Santa Fe policies and standards, the new 81-mile railroad now under construction between Pampa and Cheyenne, Okla., is to have standard equipment, enabling it to serve the virgin territory in the way characterizing its main lines, it was said officially today.

In addition to the 81 miles of new road, the 58 miles of old road, formerly the Clinton and Oklahoma Western, is to be rebuilt. The grade will be raised, widened, and 90-pound rails laid. This plan will enable the road to give uniform service at all points on the line, it was said.

Because of a late ruling of the Interstate Commerce Commission, the road must be completed on or before June 30, 1929. In order to complete the road within the time limit, the Flick Construction company, contractor, is rushing every available resource in the way of equipment to the ground.

Five townsites equally distributed along the new line between Pampa and Cheyenne will be surveyed by the Santa Fe engineers just as soon as the road is completed. Two of these townsites have already been purchased and definitely located. The first one is 20 miles east of Pampa with the northwest corner across the road from a filling station on the Ft. Elliott highway. The land, 135 acres, was purchased from Judge W. R. Ewing at a price of $100 an acre.

Two 80-acre plots have been purchased for a townsite 2 miles north of Rankin, Okla., and the new town will be located in a fertile, diversified farming district. It is said that this particular district will derive unlimited benefit from the new road, since it will give an outlet to a wide variety of farm and ranch products.

Another townsite will be located 7 miles north of Mobeetie. It is understood that two plots are now under consideration for purchase, and for that reason the exact location cannot be ascertained at present.

The laying of rails will begin in about another month. A supply engine will be used in carrying material to the line as soon as track is laid. Teams began hauling out bridge material Sunday.

Employment More Plentiful in Pampa Now, Nurse Says

Mrs. M. P. Downs, community nurse of the Public Welfare association, has moved her office from the city hall to the west cottage on the Central high school campus, where she will continue the work of the association for the summer. Her telephone number is 605, and all persons wishing to see her are requested to call for an appointment. Since the nature of her work requires that she be away from the office at irregular times it is often necessary to make appointments, she said.

Mrs. Downs reports that fewer cases are coming under the observation of the association recently because of an increase of employment. A woman with two children are now being cared for until the mother can be placed in her son's home, she said. The work also includes school and community nursing.

Daily Production in United States Shows an Increase

TULSA, Okla., June 19—(AP)—Daily average production of crude oil in the United States increased more than 8,000 barrels during the week ending June 16, with Northern Oklahoma and West Texas fields setting the pace, the Oil and Gas Journal will say in its current issue.

Total production for Oklahoma increased from 996,350 barrels during the week ending June 9 to 598,860 barrels last week. The northern fields, exclusive of Tonkawa, Burbank and Osage, had a daily average increase of slightly less than 9,000 barrels. Seminole production dropped about 4500 barrels.

West Texas again went above the 300,000 barrel mark, with the Hendricks field production jumping about 5,000 barrels. The north Central Texas and Gulf Coast fields also had small increases, while most of the other Oklahoma and Texas areas had small losses. The increases in the two states, however, were large enough to hike the total daily production of light crude oil in the Mid-Continent fields about 11,000 barrels. This was partly offset by a reduction of 3,000 barrels in daily heavy crude production.

California production of light crude increased slightly during the period, but the increase was more than offset by a loss in heavy crude.

Mother England Welcomes Amelia Earhart to Nation

LONDON, June 19—(AP)—England, mother of intrepid air-women, today took to her heart a fair-haired American who was the first woman to fly across the Atlantic.

Two Englishwomen, Princess Lowenstein-Wertheim and the honorable Elsie Mackay, have flown to their death in attempting the feat which Miss Amelia Earhart, Boston social worker, accomplished.

King George and Queen Mary are to receive the heroine. Lady Heath, the former Mrs. Elliott Lynn, who last month completed a 10,000 mile solo flight from Capetown, is to be one of Miss Earhart's hostesses. It is expected that she will meet the 62-year-old Duchess of Bedford, who took up flying only a few years ago and is now on a round trip flight to India. Sir Alan Cobham, who has earned the title of Britain's aerial taxi-man by his flights throughout the British Empire, will greet her. She will be entertained by the American-born Lady Astor and Mrs. Frederick Guest, the former Amy Phipps of Pittsburgh who backed the flight.

Back Home July 4
After a dash to the continent, she will sail from Europe on June 27 arriving in New York on July 4—a date which is held especially fitting for America to acclaim a woman who has brought new glory to her country and has tightened the bond of friendship between English speaking peoples.

As to the future, Miss Earhart said at Burry Port, where she passed the night preparatory to flying to Southampton: "When this holiday is over I am going back to Boston and continue my ordinary work."
Two oranges and a few tablets of malted milk were her only food during the flight. She did not take the controls once during the adventure because she was too excited. Most of the piloting was done by Stultz with Gordon relieving him occasionally.

Amelia Is Poet
NEW YORK, June 19—(AP)—In the current number of The Survey Graphic, Marion Perkins, who employed Amelia Earhart at Denison House, Boston, writes that last year after a discussion of lectures on "The Challenge of Life", Miss Earhart handed her some verses. Here they are:
Courage is the price that life exacts

Coolidges Reach Pine Island

Here is pictured the arrival of President and Mrs. Coolidge at Pine Island Lodge on the Brule river near Superior, Wis., where they will spend their summer vacation. Mrs. Coolidge, who had been ill before the party left Washington, was reported improved upon reaching Pine Island, but was warned by physicians to rest. Secret service men and White House employees are shown with the President and Mrs. Coolidge, crossing the rustic bridge that leads to the island.

BOY ACQUITTED OF KILLING SISTER'S ALLEGED BETRAYER

PITTSBURGH, June 19—(AP)—Censured by the court for taking the law into his own hands, Peter Cirigliano, 16, today stood acquitted of the murder of Ross Ficaro, 28, alleged betrayer of his sister.
A jury freed the boy after deliberating 73 hours. The judge told the defendant "you had no right to take the law into your own hands," and said he was very fortunate as the jury could have found him guilty of some crime for the shooting.

The boy admitted shooting Ficaro saying he fired to defend his mother when the victim choked her. Ficaro was said to have gone to the Cirigliano home to demand withdrawal of a suit instituted against him in behalf of the girl he was said to have wronged.

Moody's Chief Interest Now Is in His Own and Opponents' Progress

AUSTIN, June 19—(AP)—Governor for the National Democratic convention at Houston.

He is not sure when the Texas delegation, of which he is chairman, will meet to organize, but thinks it probably will be Monday, the day before the convention opens. Although the governor himself had nothing to say about organization of the delegation, he is being mentioned as the logical choice for membership on the national committee on platform and resolutions, so he can urge the strong "dry" declaration which he feels the state wants.

Governor Moody seemed more interested Tuesday in progress of his and his opponents' races for the governor's chair, than in national politics, in which he has been prominently mentioned as a potential vice-president.

Firemen Learn Much at State Convention

Valuable information concerning the care of fire fighting equipment, fire prevention, and first aid were derived by the delegates and visitors who attended the State Volunteer Firemen's convention held last week at Denton, stated Chief Ben White, who with Marshal J. V. Andrews, Young Cockerell, E. J. Pafford, and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Pussell, has returned from the four-day session.
Classes were held in the mornings from 8 to 12 o'clock, and in the afternoon from 1 to 4 o'clock.
More than 1,200 delegates and visitors registered for the convention, and Coleman had the greatest number of representatives of any individual town. Coleman put in her bid for the 1929 convention, but Galveston won out in the final vote.

34 INDICTMENTS ARE RETURNED

Law Violations Do Not Alarm Gray Grand Jury

The grand jury report for the June term of 84th district court, submitted to Judge Newton P. Willis yesterday reveals that 34 felony indictments were returned. It follows:

We, the grand jurors at the duly convened and impaneled for the June term of the 84th district court for Gray county, Texas, submit to your Honor the following report:

We have returned into court 34 indictments covering various law violations of the felony grade. Among these violations were indictments for violation of prohibition law, burglary, thefts and assault with intention to murder. We have diligently inquired into every matter presented before our body and have tried at all times to faithfully discharge our duties without fear or favor. We have inspected the county jail and although we find the space inadequate, we feel that our sheriff is doing everything possible under the existing conditions.

Our investigation reveals that the law is being enforced in Gray county as good as could be expected and although there are many law violations we realize that this is a condition with naturally follows communities where oil fields have been discovered. Our officers are to be commended for the efficient and trustworthy service which they have rendered in behalf of law enforcement.

We wish to thank our sheriff, E. S. Graves, for the service he has rendered this county in behalf of law enforcement and we feel that he and his department are to be highly commended.

We appreciate very much the interest shown by the Ministerial alliance of Pampa, Texas, in behalf of law enforcement and we feel that they are rendering the community at large a great service, in furthering the strict enforcement of the law.

We wish to thank our county attorney, John F. Studer, and Clifford Braley, district attorney of the 31st district and Curtis Douglas, district attorney of the 84th district, for the assistance they have rendered us during our deliberations.

We would suggest that our officers use the utmost care in the issuance and presentation of all search warrants and affidavits and they also be careful in the drafting and preparation of all bail bonds taken.

Having no further business before us we beg leave of the court for final adjournment.

Elmer C. Barrett, Foreman.

SLAYER GIVES UP TO DEPUTY

Preliminary Hearing Is to be Held at Stinnett

BORGER, June 19—Special—Charges of murder were filed against H. A. "Brownie" Brown, cook at a local cafe this morning following the fatal shooting of Bert Crider, 35 years old, last night in a rooming house on North Harvey street.

Brown surrendered to Deputy Jim Crane and Sheriff Joe Ownbey a few minutes after the shooting. He told the officers that he and Crider had quarreled and that the killing was during a short scuffle.

Crider, a Phillips Petroleum company driller, died almost instantly from a bullet wound near the heart.

Deputy Crider said he was walking up Main street when he heard an ambulance siren. A moment afterward he met Brown, who hailed him and said that he "had killed a man." Sheriff Ownbey joined the two and shortly afterward it was stated by Dr. L. F. Dodd that Crider had died almost instantly.

Brown surrendered his .38 caliber revolver, which showed that only one shot had been fired. He was taken to Stinnett, where a preliminary hearing will be held this afternoon. J. A. Holmes has been retained as defense attorney.

Crider's body is at a funeral home, and attempts are being made to locate relatives.

Reed's Manager Claims He Can Block Al Smith

HOUSTON, June 19—(AP)—Sudden withdrawal of Governor Albert C. Ritchie as a presidential candidate in favor of Governor Alfred Smith Monday night threw a bombshell into presidential circles here and brought the assertion from Jim Reed's camp that the Missourian would prove a stumbling block in plans for nomination of Governor Smith.

As hotel lobbies buzzed with news of Governor Ritchie's dramatic withdrawal and as Clem Shaver, chairman of the national Democratic committee, conferring behind closed doors with other leaders, refused to comment, Ed S. Willmore, Reed's campaign manager, declared the Missouri Senator controls sufficient votes to block Smith.

TRIUMPHANT WEST TEXAS

AS is again milling about in the annual West Texas Chamber of Commerce. President Haynie remarked on opening day that the people attending seemed to prefer being on the streets to sitting through formal sessions.

The regional convention is more of pageantry than of deliberation, and should be so considered. It is worthwhile through the interest it creates. Those who do not attend the meetings, or many of them, get the discussions from the newspapers.

The work of the regional Chamber is through its executives and bureaus to a great extent. Special sessions of these bodies at the conventions perhaps constitute the most serious work of the period.

However, ideas contained in the messages delivered are given publicity of value. For instance, President Haynie recommended creation of an aviation committee to encourage building of airports in West Texas cities.

Then came Supt. S. M. N. Marrs with his talk on appointment of county superintendents. It so happens that Gray county is soon to have a superintendent and the topic is timely.

Supt. Marrs, like nearly all school men, is for the appointive system. The reason for election of men to this office is historical, not logical. The plan carried over from the election of county judges, who handle the work until the county has 3,000 school children.

The public is accustomed to the appointive power of school trustees, and any proposal to elect a city or district superintendent would be considered absurd.

County residents should have a wider field from which executives are to be picked than that offered by the ballot. Their will is best carried out through the judgment of county trustees.

Service is what a local man got whose flat tire was fixed by parties unknown when he left the car on a local street.

"How to Fly" at last means the air, not society, in the self culture ads.

We eat a dozen barrels of air annually, writes a well known physician in a current magazine. And some people store up their supply for four years.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Two great rebels stand large in the historical panorama of politics in this century. Both led this nation toward a new high ground of social progress, both are now dead and both gave their illustrious names to sons who followed their footsteps into national politics.

Two rebels were Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin and Col. Theodore Roosevelt of New York.

Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin and Col. Theodore Roosevelt of New York have been conspicuous at this Republican convention. They are known as Young Bob and Young Teddy. One of them is a rebel and the other is not.

One of them is taking up more and more room in the large shoes left by his father and the other has failed after desperate attempts.

Young Bob has taken his father's seat in the Senate and has never stopped fighting for the La Follette principles. Young Teddy, with a head start, apparently can't quite live up to the Roosevelt traditions. He failed to capture his father's old job as governor of New York and will never get within shooting distance of the White House, no matter how hard he tries.

Young Bob is 33 years old. Young Teddy is 42. Let's take a look at these two boys in the convention hall. La Follette is just being introduced to the convention by Chairman Geo. Moses. He wears short black sideburns, is quite short and would pass for a college boy, for he has youth's appearance and exuberance.

He is there to present the minority progressive platform of Wisconsin as it was presented in the days of Old Bob from 1908 to 1924. But this is the first time a La Follette platform ever has been presented by a La Follette. The Wisconsin delegation always used to vote for Old Bob for president, and such jobs are not delegated to candidates.

The great crowd looks at Young Bob and feels almost assured that such a young man will stumble and falter. Perhaps from its sympathy, he gets a large round of applause and much of the ovation comes from the galleries.

Then the convention suddenly learns that Old Bob handed down to Young Bob his gift of oratory. And it engages in several more outbursts as he hits his high spots, which is a considerable tribute to the young senator, considering the sour attitude of the convention toward Wisconsin men since Henry Allen Copper was booed, hissed and told to "throw it out the window" when he brought the first of the Wisconsin platform series in 1908.

Young Bob throws himself into his preliminary address with all Old Bob's fire and sincerity. Everyone listens. Most of the delegates hate those ideas and ideals.

As the old man forced their admiration, son now it appears does the same. Young Bob explains why Wisconsin and its platform are here, which is interesting, since the convention won't consider this minority platform for a minute. Of the 36 planks in the 1908 platform 33 have since been adopted by Congress.

Where Bob maintained his father's fight for principles, Teddy fought only to emulate him in obtaining office and popularity.

Teddy undertook to emulate the elder Roosevelt's physical characteristics. Thus far he has mastered a fair imitation of the late T. R.

We find Teddy outside the convention auditorium, talking to ex-Senator Jimmy Wadsworth.

While the son of La Follette makes his gallant effort from the platform, becoming its center of attention and admiration, the son of Roosevelt is a mere spectator at the party's big show. True, he paraded about Kansas City for several days and it was understood that he sought the vice presidential nomination—one which led his father into the White House.

No one else took the idea

TWINKLES

Hoover "will go to his friends" for advice. He should go to the people for votes; we predict his defeat, advisedly.

A lot of people would feel better about fighting for the prohibition amendment if it didn't put them on the same side as the bootleggers. The moonshine's on the just and the unjust.

Before they go handing out aid to the farmer, perhaps it would be well to look in his cow lots and machinery shed. The hard working farmer who uses his head isn't yelling much, and when he does he should be heard. Every man is entitled to a fair price in exchange for his labor.

Ah, tis proved it's an old man's game—an English champ didn't take up golf until after 35.

The charge that men cannot fall truly in love after 30 was written by one who wasn't thinking of the game golf.

Judging from the number of re-marriages, the first one is hardly enough or long enough for the participants to really know each other.

seriously except Alice Longworth, his sister, who plugged for him loyally while the convention barely noticed.

Boxers Serious in Training for Bouts of Next Thursday

With the excellent training by the cards an the serious attitude the fighters are taking towards their physical condition, boxing is fast gaining in popularity among the Pampa fans. This was evidenced by the large attendance of the fight last Thursday night and the favorite comments heard by the fans.

Next Thursday night the Pampa fans will have another opportunity of seeing some fast, hard hitting fighters in action. "Rusty" Cahill, matchmaker states that all their fighters are reporting daily at the Pampa for workouts and are taking their tasks seriously. Each is fast whipping into shape and will be able to go through the schedule with plenty of reserve power.

Heading the lists of bouts is Kid Granite, Pampa, and Jack Daugherty, San Antonio, in a ten-round affair that promises plenty of action and aggressive fighting. Both these boys enjoy the reputations of never-give-up, never-back-up combatants.

Kid Granite returned recently from Wichita, where he and Art Gamar won the best fight ever seen in that city. The Kid won the fight and is in fine shape, physically and confidently, to take off the laurels here Thursday night.

Jack Daugherty comes here fresh from a knockout victory over Dummy Mahan and is said to have brought his strong will with him. From reports of the training headquarters, the Kid will have to take some hard blows when he meets this one boy from San Antonio.

Another 10-round go is scheduled between "Rusty" Cahill, Pampa, and Art Villition, Old Mexico. Rusty enjoys lots of popularity among the Pampa fans because of his aggressive spirit in the ring. He is a fighter at heart, enjoys the game and always stays in the ring fighting to the last.

Art Villition won over Billy Springsfield here a short time ago and knocked out Farrell at the athletic arena week before last. He has plenty of kick in his punch and will no doubt make it lively for Rusty.

In the preliminaries, Lloyd Moore, Elmer, and Roy Welch, Amarillo, will fight a 6-round bout that promises to be interesting. A four-round affair will be fought by O. D. the Newsboy and Battling Simmons, both of Pampa. Two other preliminaries are promised, in addition to lots of good music by the Pampa orchestra.

Reds Halt Cards Winning Streak in Impressive Fashion

(By The Associated Press.) After riding roughshod over all opposition for three weeks, the high-gear advance of Bill McKechnie's pennant-bound St. Louis Cardinals has struck a snag.

The Cincinnati Reds, recovering from the slump that cost them first place in the National league's bitter pennant chase, took the Cardinals measure, 3 to 2, in a thrilling 14-inning battle at Cincinnati Monday. The defeat snapped the St. Louis winning streak of eight games straight and marked the league leader's fourth reverse in their last 19 games. On the other hand it was the Red's first victory in five contests and left them two full games back of the pace-makers.

Ray Kulp was the hero of the day among the Redland fans. The big right-hander relieved Dolf Luque in the eleventh inning, held the Cards to two hits in four innings and drove Charlie Dresen across the plate with the winning run with a single after two were out in the fourteenth. Luque pitched great ball for the Reds and would have won in regulation time had not Jim Bottomley poked his 14th homer of the year in the ninth to tie the score.

Cloudy Weather Greeted Regatta Fans

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 19.—(AP)—Cool and cloudy weather greeted the thousands of visitors here for the Intercollegiate Rowing association's annual regatta today.

After a night of heavy rain, the skies had cleared up somewhat this morning but there was more than a hint of showers to come later in the day. There was a slight breeze—enough to ripple the surface of the Hudson—but rippling conditions appeared favorable.

Southern Golfers Have Tough Course For Their Tourney

DALLAS, June 19.—(AP)—The battle for the 1928 golf crown of Dixie began here today with approximately 200 links stars entered for their qualifying Southern Golf championship.

From Tennessee, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Georgia, Alabama, Oklahoma and all sections of Texas this amateur experts came here to compete for the Adair cup which is symbolic of southern golf supremacy.

Brook Hollow country club is the scene of the tournament and the course is acclaimed one of the toughest in all the South. Par is 70 but during the past week when strong winds were blowing few attained this figure. Many believed an 80 would qualify in the championship flight of 32.

Watts Gunn, the Atlanta star, made the course in 70 on his first trip around the course several days ago, and was immediately claimed as a favorite to win the tournament. Since, however, he has gone around in the 75s.

Others expected to be in the end include Harry Ehle of Asheville, N. C., who is defending his title; C. L. Decatur of Dallas, champion in 1915; Glenn Crisman of Alabama, 1925 title holder, and Emmet Spicer, Jr., of Memphis, champion in 1927.

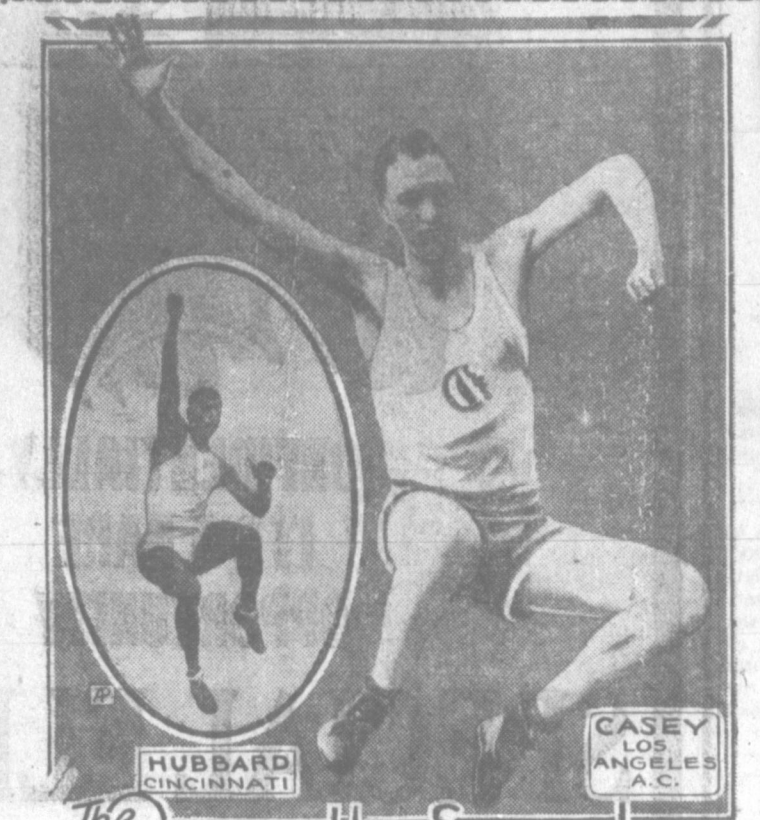

If numbers help, the Memphis delegation will carry home the cup for it has one of their largest entry lists outside their State. It includes such stars, in addition to Spicer, as Frank Dyer, M. J. Condon, Will Condon, T. J. White, J. E. Harwood, and Percy Parker.

The tournament is in charge of H. P. Smith of Nashville, president of the Southern Golf association, who will be assisted by W. G. Shreve, Memphis country club professional. Smith presided over the draw for pairings last night.

First-round match play in three divisions of 32 players each will be held tomorrow, and winners from these will form the first, third, and fifth flights with losers composing the second, fourth, and sixth flights. A thirty-six hole medal play consolation tournament will be held tomorrow for those failing to qualify.

U. S. Stars May Win Hop-Step-Jump Title After 24-Year Lapse

Fortified with the experience gained in the 1924 Olympics, DeHart Hubbard, Cincinnati Negro, goes into the 1928 Games strongly backed to crack another world's record. Four years ago Hubbard set a new broad jump mark. This year he is conceded a good chance of topping the hop, step and jump record. Hamm, Casey and Bowman are among the leading U. S. candidates.

NEW YORK, (AP)—The hopes that the Olympic hop, step and jump championship will be brought back to the United States, after a lapse of 24 years, and the world's record with it, rest chiefly upon the ability of the great negro athlete, DeHart Hubbard, to Hubbard, along with Ed Hamm of Georgia Tech, will lead the American broad jumping brigade. Four years ago the famous Cincinnati negro won the Olympic broad jump crown but a foot injury kept him out of the triple jump, in which he is regarded by Eddie Farrell, Harvard and Olympic coach, as superior to any rival, when in form.

"I am positive Hubbard can break the world's record any time he desires," Farrell says. "But it is a difficult event, a three-in-one performance, and only a rugged jumper can be successful. The hop, step and jumpers must start off on their right foot, make their hop, then step off and, after landing again, make a broad jump. Most of the jumpers outside this country can do but 45 feet in this event. They hop 18 feet, step 9 and jump 18 for a total of 45. I have watched Hubbard many times in this event and an optimistic he can break the world's record by hopping 18 feet, stepping 15 and then jumping 19 for a total of 52."

Any such performance by Hubbard or any other performer would surpass by more than a foot the mark set by A. W. Winter, the Australian, in winning the Olympic title four years ago. Winter negotiated 50 feet, 11 5-16 inches, while Bruneto of Argentina and Tuulos of Finland, the 1920 Olympic champion, also cleared 50 feet all better than the former Olympic record.

Although the previous world's record had been held in America, by Dan Ahern since 1909, no representative of this country has scored in the Olympic since 1904, when Myer Prinstein, Syracuse star, registered a "double" in the flat jumps. Ahern did not compete in the 1908 or 1912 Olympics, and in 1920, when past his prime, did no better than sixth. He won the national championship eight times in the colors of the Illinois Athletic Club.

Five separate countries have produced triple jump champions in the Olympics since America won the first three titles but Sweden has had the best record. The Swedes finished 1-2-3 in the 1912 games and 2-3-4 in 1920.

Winter will make the long trip from Australia to defend the championship this year but reports are that he has not been in as good form as he was in 1924. Finland and Sweden also will be well represented. While

Walker is already under the championship limit of 160 pounds, his trainer reported.

Holland has a potential champion in Peters, credited with surpassing the world's record with a mark of 51 feet 2 inches.

While Hubbard is considered the main American hope, Levi Casey of Los Angeles, national champion for the past two years, may be just as formidable a threat. Casey's 1928 championship mark of 49 feet, 4 1-4 inches is the best since Ahern was in the top of his form. Hubbard won the national title in 1922-23, his best mark being 48 feet, 1 1-2 inches, but he has done 50 feet in other competition.

Absence of the triple jump from the college meets has handicapped development of specialists in this event but Cecil Bowman, Louisiana school boy, just out of junior competition, looks like a coming champion.

In the Dallas Olympic tryouts he led the field with a mark of 49 feet 1 inch. Martin and Ralph Christofferson of the Illinois A. C. together with two Los Angeles A. C. stars, Louis Minter and Robert Patton, will be among the other Olympic team candidates.

Fort Worth Hopes to Stop Houston's Rush for Pennant

(By The Associated Press.) Hopes are high in the camp of the Fort Worth Panthers that the swift course of the Houston Buffs might be checked and that a pennant for the first half of the season might yet be brought to the North Texas city.

The optimism following Monday's stunning 12 to 5 victory over the Shreveport Sports that broke the Panther's seven-game losing streak and showed them again the Cats of Dixie series and Texas league championship form.

Joe Fats was his old, invincible self as he allowed ten hits, but only after he was safe in front with a nearly unbeatable lead, and the Panthers showed all their former vicious slugging and snappy fielding, gathering eighteen safeties and exhibiting several brilliant plays afield.

The Cats gained nothing in the percentage column, however, for the Houston clan won from the San Antonio Bears, 7 to 4, in a game featured by the Bears six and the Buffs five errors. Only two earned runs were recorded, and those came to the Buffs.

Playing at Dallas as a result of a transfer from Wichita Falls to enable both clubs to make better train connections for the South, the Steers defeated the Spudders, 6 to 5, and shattered the champions' winning streak of seven games. The Steers won by virtue of two big rallies in the third and fourth innings, each of which netted three runs and which were at the expense of Steengrabe, one of the Wichita pitching aces. Wichita Falls staged a game comeback in the final frame that brought in three runs, but Blankenship put on more steam and checked the Spudders just in time.

It was an off-day for Waco and Beaumont.

Miss Boll May Fly East to West From Europe

HARBOR GRACE, N. F., June 19.—(AP)—The plans of Miss Mabel Boll for future flying, trans-Atlantic or otherwise, seemed clouded by indecision today.

The disappointed loser in a race to the first of her sex to fly across the ocean was reported to be considering a flight direct to Rome and a return trip in July.

She also was said to be contemplating taking her monoplane, The Columbia, to Europe by steamer and then essaying the difficult east to west flight back.

The plan for a flight to Rome is believed to have been presented in a message from New York, presumably from Charles A. Levine, owner of the Columbia, which the "Queen of Diamonds" was supposed to have received late yesterday.

At any rate the aviatrix, who had previously announced her intention of returning by air to New York today late last night reversed her decision and with her three companions motorized to St. John's.

Miss Boll, however, declined to discuss her plans and Oliver Leboutillier and Arthur Argles, her co-pilots, were equally reticent. News of the safe arrival in Wales of Miss Amelia Earhart and the monoplane Friendship brought to light differences in the Boll camp, on questions of policy.

Leboutillier favored completing the flight regardless of the fact that Miss Earhart had blazed the way, while Miss Boll declined to trail her successful competitor. Argles and Andrew Surrin, mechanic, took no sides in the controversy.

Coolidge Works at White House on Brule River

SUPERIOR, Wis., June 19.—(AP)—President Coolidge had sufficient documents to work on at his Brule river residence today not to need to come to his executive office to be busy.

Apparently abandoning his policy of previous years of relegating work exclusively to his office, Mr. Coolidge yesterday ordered the files of some of the more pressing matters awaiting his action to be brought out to Cedar Island lodge. On these he spent considerable time yesterday leaving, however, ample work for today.

The poor state of the roads into Superior from the executive residence, still half flooded from the rains of the past days, caused Everett Sanders, his secretary, to advise Mr. Coolidge not to leave the lodge today. The chief executive was therefore prepared to stay away from his office one more day—the fifth since his arrival—shut to mingle work with what open air exercise and relaxation the variable weather would permit.

CARRANZA AT WEST POINT

MITCHELL FIELD, N. Y., June 19.—Captain Emilio Carranza, Mexico's Lindbergh, flew today to West Point. He will present the compliments of the Mexican military academy to officials of the United States Military Academy.

Carranza arrived here yesterday from Washington. After today's ceremonies at West Point and a few other engagements in this city he plans a non-stop flight from New York to Mexico City.

PLAYER'S KNEE FAILS

DALLAS, June 19.—(AP)—Billy Mullen, third baseman, obtained by the Dallas Steers a week ago on option from the Chicago White Sox, has been turned back to the latter club, according to Bob Tarrion, Dallas business manager. Local officials decided Mullen's "trick knee" would not stand the grind.

It was reported the Dallas club had asked waivers on Pitcher Tiny Owens.

The Republican song at Kansas City has been sung, but the melody lingers on. Here are two of the farm delegation that protested Hoover's nomination, and they're singing a song entitled "Let's Make Al Smith Our President in 1929", just before proceeding on to Houston.

Tilden Is Winner Without Losing a Single Game

LONDON, June 19.—(AP)—William T. Tilden, captain of the American Davis cup team, today won his second successive match in the London championships at the queens club without the loss of a game, defeating J. C. Peacock, former New Zealand champion, 6-0, 6-0.

Two other members of the American ranking, lost only two games in four sets. After taking his first match from R. Hylton, of England, 6-1, 6-1, Hunter defeated another player, P. Marsden, in love sets in a third round match.

Wilbur F. (Junior) Coen, the youngest member of the American team, had a harder struggle to win from E. P. Matejka, Austrian Davis cup star. Coen barely pulled out the first set, 4-6, then won the second, 6-4.

Tilden has not lost a game to his two opponents in the tournament, and British tennis experts say that he is playing a better game than he has ever displayed in England.

Kiwanis Meeting Opens in Seattle

SEATTLE, June 19.—(AP)—Faced by a long program of convention business and group discussions, delegates to the twelfth annual convention of Kiwanis International early today were meeting for informal talks across the breakfast table.

The feature of the meeting last night was the "Zero Hour" when 100,000 Kiwanians scattered from Canada to Mexico and from the Atlantic to the Pacific met with their local clubs at the moment president Henry C. Heinz's gavel fell upon the table on the platform of the Seattle civic auditorium. A telegraph line running across the continent with operators waiting at their keys, enabled the various local clubs to exchange greetings with the speakers platform at the international convention.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED VIRGINIA BREWSTER is in love with a poor artist, NATHANIEL DEAN, but she is being urged to marry PHILIP CUTLER, a rich man. She is torn between the two men.

"See here," Oliver said; "I think all this miserable mixing up with the world you're indulging in is doing something to you, Virginia. You act as if I'd picked you up on the street corner."

Days she hardly speaks to me except she has to. Virginia looked relieved. "I'd hate to believe I was looking for trouble," she said. "It's an easy habit to fall into when trouble begins to look for you," he said sententiously.

The thought strengthened her confidence. He had said it would not be hard to acquire it. How lucky she was to have his help! And how terribly, terribly unjust she had been to him! Of course he knew how impossible it would be for her to succeed unaided.

OLIVER was smiling, but not too modest to tell her. "I don't think it's very flattering to me to worry so much about it. You might make an effort to enjoy yourself."

"Well, I'm not in a mood to cheer anyone," Virginia said truthfully. "It was a mistake for me to come with you, Oliver. I'm not in a mood to cheer anyone."

Virginia seized the chance he purposefully offered her to say she was too tired to think of going any where, and Oliver consented to take her home. He hoped his thoughtfulness would completely wipe out any remnants of suspicion that might remain in her mind in regard to the true measure of his friendship.

"Time! Oliver, every minute until the day you tell me I have all of it will be an eternity to me." "Bosh! I've given you my word you will have it."

Another Attempt to Sight Nobile From Air Fails

ROME, June 19.—(AP)—Major Maddalena, Italian flier, made an unsuccessful reconnaissance in search for the Nobile party this morning and returned to King's Bay, Spitzbergen. He is planning another flight shortly in his Savoia-Marchetti 55.

KINGS BAY, Spitzbergen, June 19.—(AP)—After two futile attempts of fliers to find General Umberto Nobile and his party of survivors on the ice north East Land, it was felt at Kings Bay today that rescue by air was likely to prove a difficult task. Hope for immediate relief turned to dog teams.

A fast patrol commanded by Captain Sora of the Italian Alpine troops was making its way over the ice today toward Nobile's position. The patrol consisted of two guides, two sledges and nine dogs. It was to travel past Beverly Island, Scoresby Island, Cape Lovren, Cape Platen, and Dove Bay to Foyen Island, near which point Nobile is awaiting rescue.

Another patrol was getting ready to start in search of three men who have been missing since they left the Nobile party on May 30. This patrol consisted of two students of the Alpine club and two members of the Alpine troops. It will follow the coast of Beverly Island as far as Cape Lovren.

Twice Nobile's hopes have been raised to a high point on seeing the sea-planes approach him. Twice they have been dashed as they disappeared again in the direction from which they came without sighting the marooned men on the vast white expanse of ice and snow. Nobile apparently realized that it would be difficult for them to see him, for before the first search was made he painted a tent which had been saved from the Italia red to guide them.

Markets

CHICAGO, June 19.—(AP)—Wheat developed rallying power today after early declines. Continued adverse weather in the southwest and reports of severe damage there attracted more notice, offsetting weakness of the Liverpool market and soils counter balancing favorable crop conditions northwest. Opening 1-8 to 1c down, Chicago wheat afterwards scored slight general gains. Corn was weak, starting 518 to 1 1-8 off, and subsequently showing a decided further setback. Oats were easy. Provisions went ungraded.

Foster Damage Suit Under Way in District Court

Legal discussions and rulings on bills of exception, amending of petitions, and selection of jurors to the point of challenging twelve of the final 24 had carried through the noon hour the suit of O. E. Foster, formerly of McLean, against Mrs. Ted Glass and nearly a score of other McLean residents.

Mr. Foster is asking $5,000 actual damages and $25,000 exemplary damages, alleging that the defendants conspired to ruin the business, the publication of the McLean Record. The suit grew out of a subscription campaign, in which disagreement arose over the terms of the contest and it is alleged the defendants circulated a paper damaging to The Record, which was discontinued. A Ford car was offered the winner of the subscription contest, and Mrs. Glass was one of the leading nominees in the campaign.

Attorneys for the plaintiff are J. W. Aynesworth and C. C. Cook. The plaintiffs are represented by R. E. Underwood and E. A. Simpson of Amarillo and W. S. White of McLean, with A. V. Lonsdale, one of the defendants, assisting.

Many Trips Are Arranged for Students at Teachers College

CANYON, June 19.—Among the special recreational features which have been planned for the summer students and faculty of the West Texas State Teachers college are the numbers of mountain tours, industrial excursions, and trips to the Palo Duro Canyon which may be taken.

Arrangements have been made whereby students in groups of six, accompanied by a guide and chaperone, make these trips at a nominal expense. Many students who come to West Texas for the summer to study, on account of the delightful climate, have never been in this part of the state previously. Thus these trips are especially planned in order that students may become acquainted with the features of the region in which the college is located. Students who wish to go on these trips may make all arrangements through the Bureau of Public Service. The trips are arranged for the week-end when little or no time will be lost from the regular school work.

the Palo Duro canyon will be arranged for students in large or small parties. The Y. W. C. A. will conduct a number of these and any group of students may make arrangements to go.
