NATIONAL JERSEY association went hunting for statistics on the whereabouts of the popular cow, and found her chiefly in Texas and the Jersey Isle.

Texas leads the country in number of thorough-bred Jersey cattle, heading the list with 7,282. Other states follow in this order: Ohio, Tennessee, Missouri, Indiana, and Mississippi.

A Texas man, J. W. Ridgeway of Fort Worth, has been named president of the American Jersey Cattle club. It remained for a North Carolina man, however, to own the cow with the best record.

R. L. Suford of Newton owns "Red Lady", which gave 1,028 pounds of butter fat in 360 days. But Texas, with her immense acreage, will head the Jersey list.

The Wheat Crop

What are the wheat crop prospects in the Southwest? Here is what a Santa Fe communication to The News says following a survey of states served by the company: "The condition of the winter wheat crop as it approaches harvest is in the main satisfactory."

In the immediate Pampa vicinity, fields not abandoned are looking good as far as the stands go. The wheat is thin in spots, but is heading out well and will be well toward rope in twenty or twenty-five days.

WASHINGTON LETTER

women delegates above 75 or 80 at the most, or the alternates to 250, so that women will have less than the 10 per cent voting voice they had in 1924.

In 1924 there were 120 Republican women delegates and 279 alternates. A dozen or two women had fractional votes, however, and the same will be true this year.

On the Republican national committee, of course, there are one man and one woman from each state, with equal voting powers.

Of the officers, only one of the three vice-chairmanships is held by a woman, Mrs. Alvin T. Hert of Kentucky. But six of the twelve other members of the executive committee are Miss Bina M. West of Michigan, Mrs. Charles H. Sabin of New York, Mrs. Barclay Warburton of Pennsylvania, Mrs. Jeanette A. Hyde of Utah, Mrs. George Orvis of Vermont and Mrs. Bryant B. Brooks of Wyoming.

The acknowledged queen of the women politicians will be a Lowden leader. This is Mrs. Medill McCormick, a delegate-at-large from Illinois and recently nominated for congresswoman-at-large. She is a better politician than many of the male brand and a distinct asset to Lowden.

Of the three Republican congresswomen, only Mrs. Katherine Langley of Kentucky is a delegate. Mrs. Florence Kahn of California and Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers of Massachusetts have been active in the Hoover pre-convention fight.

Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth will be at the convention, but only as a spectator. Mrs. Longworth dotes on national conventions and probably will get as much of a kick out of this one as anyone else except the nominee.

New York will send two of her best women politicians. Mrs. Sabin is a delegate-at-large and Miss Sarah Schuyler Butler, daughter of Nicholas Murray Butler, is an alternate. An interesting angle developed lately when Miss Florence Wardwell, the other feminine delegate-at-large from New York, came out for Hoover despite efforts of organization leaders to preserve the delegation uninstructed.

Miss Butler's support led to Miss Wardwell's selection as delegate-at-large and both Miss Butler and Mrs. Sabin were hopping mad when they learned that Miss Wardwell had decided to defy the organization by voting for Hoover on the first ballot.

Other substantial politicians at the convention will include Mrs. West and Mrs. Isobel Hurst of Michigan, Mrs. Worthington Scranton of Pennsylvania, Mrs. Hert of Kentucky and Mrs. Hugh Clark of Ohio. Senator Curtis of Kansas will have a devoted daughter

TWINKLES

There are many things we do not understand, among them being how it is likely to pay a man to steal bee hives. But it's done.

Little countries are somewhat like little men—eager to get a perfectly good specimen of republic into a monarchy.

Like the farmer said of his daughter in college, a lot of people of extreme garrulousness need a finishing course in electrocution.

It is a great American failing that when a committee or club gets together and talks about doing something they report "substantial progress."

Pampa needs the Boy Scouts, and also the dads as a rule need to hitch themselves up to be the dads a real Scout is proud of.

and sister working for him. The first will be Mrs. Leona Curtis Knight, a delegate from Rhode Island, and the second Mrs. Edward E. Gann, always an active politician and the senator's hostess in Washington.

WOMEN VOLTS FOR... WASHINGTON... a number are planned of prohibitions against the announced...

Women Opposing Volstead Act Will Form Organization

WASHINGTON, June 8.—(AP)—While a number of women's organizations are planning drives for incorporation of prohibition enforcement planks in the Kansas City and Houston conventions platforms, the Association against the Prohibition Amendment announced today the formation of a women's national volunteer committee which includes the names of two senators' wives and two of the four members of Congress.

Before the resolutions committees of both the Republican and Democratic parties, the association plans to present pleas for planks urging modification of the Volstead act. The organization's representatives appear before the committees probably will include women members under plans of the association's officials.

The membership of the committee, made public today, includes prominent women from nearly every section of the country. Among them were:

Representatives Florence Kahn, Republican California; Mary T. Norton, Democrat, New Jersey; two Senators' wives, Mrs. Williams Cabell Bruce of Maryland, and Mrs. Thomas F. Bayard of Delaware; Mrs. Henry B. Joy of Detroit, chairman of the resolutions committee of the recent Daughters of the American Revolution congress; Mrs. W. K. Dupont of Wilmington, Del., delegate to the Republican convention; Mrs. Elizabeth Marbury of New York; Mrs. Charles S. Sabiu, Republican National committeewoman from New York; Miss Julia Worthington of Cincinnati and Mrs. Spencer Penrose of Colorado Springs.

"These women are frankly supporting modification of the Volstead act as a step toward ultimate repeal of the prohibition amendment," Miss E. Livingston, assistant to the association's national chairman, declared. "They argue that the introduction of such a temporary law is contrary to the spirit of the constitution and that after ten years' trial, it was proved a dismal failure from the point of view of any real control of liquor traffic in the country."

Texas U. Student Graduated Abroad

AUSTIN, June 7.—Agnes Kolaja of Needville, who has just received a scholarship from Prague university of Czechoslovakia, is the first Texas student ever to be awarded that honor and is one of five in the United States to receive the scholarship, according to Dr. Edmund Micek, instructor in Germanic languages at the University of Texas.

Miss Kolaja was graduated from the University in 1927 and has been teaching school at Welmar during the past year.

ROAD WORK RUSHED

HOUSTON, June 8.—(AP)—Work on the new Galveston-Houston highway is being pushed so as to complete it in time for the Democratic national convention.

It has taken two and a half years to construct the road which is said by road builders to be one of the finest constructed roads in the country.

SPINNING FACTS GIVEN

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The Department of Commerce announced that, according to preliminary census figures, 276,736 cotton spinning spindles were in place in Texas on April 30, 1927, of which 249,947 were operated at some time during the month.

The aggregate number of active spinning hours reported in the stats for the month was 61,341,240.

When A Girl Loves

© 1928 by NEA Service Fiction by RUTH DEWEY GROVES

THIS HAS HAPPENED
 VIRGINIA BREWSTER, upon being both father and son, goes to live with CLARA DEAN and her father. Her niece, NATHANIEL DEAN, objects to this for he mistrusts DEAN's motives. A misunderstanding between the lovers occurs when VIRGINIA phones NATHANIEL late one night and his model, CHIRL, answers.
 Meanwhile, DEAN plots to get NATHANIEL sent away from VIRGINIA.
 CLARISSA becomes jealous of VIRGINIA and she later resolves to leave but DEAN insists that she marry him. When she refuses, he threatens to reveal that her father cheated him out of $10,000 in a deal. Recklessly, VIRGINIA decides that she will earn the money to pay him in one year and marry him if she fails.
 Realization of her plight comes to VIRGINIA when she discovers her bank balance overdrawn, and she has to give up her job before finding a reasonable hotel in which to live. She goes to NATHANIEL and tells him of her break with the DEANS, but she does not give reveal her compact for NATHANIEL's money. He is surprised, but once NATHANIEL takes her out to dinner to the "Village" but they happen upon a place where his model is dining with another man, and there NATHANIEL tells her to return VIRGINIA. Next day she tells her father, OLIVER, who is a successful broker.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXII
 "Of course not," Virginia said emphatically. "I'm surprised you ask me that, Oliver. It seems that everyone doubts my sincerity," she complained with a touch of exasperation.
 "I'm sorry, Virginia. Misunderstanding," he apologized shortly. "It makes me think none of you have ever been in love," she said reproachfully.
 "That's hardly fair," he protested, "coming from you, because it's entirely your fault that I've never lived for that much-talked-of emotion."
 "Oliver, don't talk nonsense. You might remember you're married."
 He smiled. "I would amuse Jeanie to hear that. She's quite aware that our friends all know we've never mentioned love to each other. She wouldn't mind my admitting it to you. In fact I think she rather boasts of it. It's about all the claim either of us has to distinction, I fear."
 "It's a decidedly unworthy distinction," she told him with an edge on her voice. "But I don't believe you mean what you say."
 "Well, never mind," he replied placatingly. "It doesn't matter so much does it? It's apparent that you still believe in Santa Claus, and let me tell you I'm glad of it. When you jumped on me so hard a moment ago for my hasty conclusion I was just going to tell you how disappointed I'd be if you suddenly turned out to have feet of clay. I always did worship you a bit, you know, Virginia."
 "I wish you wouldn't say such things, Oliver! It isn't decent, especially in a business office."
 "Ah, so the cat's out of the bag. This is a business call!"
 "Of course. What did you think it was?"
 "Now you know you don't want me to answer that one. Watch your step, Virginia, especially in a business office."
 "A fair hit," she agreed and laughed with him.
 "But seriously, if there is anything in the world I can do for you, Virginia, just let me do it."
 "You know how to make money, don't you?" she returned directly.
 "At times, yes. Is that what you wish to do? Make money?"
 She nodded wordlessly but her eyes spoke volumes.
 "It's always a risky game making money on the Street," he pointed out discouragingly. "And I thought you said you wouldn't need money to be happy with the man you're going to marry."

 A long moment elapsed before Virginia answered.
 "I must have it to pay an obligation that father left," she said.
 "I'll help you, if I can," he promised as quietly. It was as though both were aware of some invisible but powerful force that subdued their voices and made speaking difficult. He had caught the feelings from Virginia, who was completely in the grip of suppressed excitement. To obtain Oliver's aid had been her one big, her only hope to make the money she must have.
 "Thank you," she tried to say, but the distance between them increased with the speed of thought and the next thing she knew she was prone on the floor while his secretary was wiping her feet with a wet towel and Oliver Cutler, prominent broker, was on his knees, chafing her hands.
 "Too stupid," she murmured apologetically. Then her white lips parted in a heart-wrenching smile. "You were overwhelmingly kind," she whispered.
 "Come out of it Virginia," he begged in great distress. "I'm going to send you home in my car."
 Virginia struggled to sit up. Between them, the secretary and Oliver, they got her back in her chair.
 "Don't bother, please," she urged. "I'll be all right in a moment. I want to go on with our business now."
 "Indeed we will not. I'll come up and see you this evening, or this afternoon, if you prefer. Staying with the Deans, aren't you?"
 Virginia shook her head. "Not any more," she said; then to the secretary who was standing by with a glass of water, "It won't happen again."
 "That's all, Miss Evans, thank you," Oliver said in dismissal. "Now Virginia, out with it. What went wrong at the Deans," he demanded when they were alone. "I heard you were with them."
 "You don't expect me to talk about it, Oliver! Clarissa and I seem to have drifted away from each other. Please let it go at that."

 "All right, if you say so, but I've an opinion of my own. Where are you now?" he asked abruptly.
 "In a hotel." She thought it best not to name it at the moment.
 "You ought to go to someone," he advised her. "If Jeanie were back from Alton I'd invite you to put up at her place. I could move over to the club," he suggested on second thought.
 "That would be a topic for bridge table conversation," Virginia exclaimed, laughing a little.
 "I suppose so. Pity we can't do as we please."
 "Well, I please to stay where I am, Oliver, with all appreciation of your kindness, but I'd rather have you help me in another way. I've got three hundred dollars and I want you to make it a hundred thousand."
 "Oh good lord! Do I look like John D.? If I were an alchemist would I be here or would I be fishing in Maine?"
 "You have a year to do it."
 "All of that? Well, that does make a difference. I think, though, it would save a lot of time if I lent you the money."
 "I'll never have a hundred thousand dollars, Oliver, unless I make it, so it's out of the question to borrow."
 "Well, let's see your three hundred. I suppose you brought it with you?" He was teasing but Virginia opened her bag and handed him the money she had gotten from "Uncle Simon."
 "Poor little babes in the deep black woods of Wall Street," he sympathized over the bills. Then catching sight of Virginia's forlorn expression, he laughed. "But I'll be their papa and bring them up right," he promised heartily. "Don't you worry, mama. Come in day after tomorrow and I'll have news for you."
 He was at the door with her before the thought struck him that this might be all the money she had.
 "I believe I could do as well with two hundred," he said and started to separate $100 to give back to her.

Cincinnati Falters Before Slants of Old Bill Doak

(By The Associated Press.)
Raked by Brooklyn rifle-fire, the Cincinnati Reds Friday found most of the National league pack yelping uncomfortably close upon their heels.

Old Bill Doak, who gave up baseball to dabble in real estate and then decided it was a mistake, pitched the Dodgers to a sensational 11-inning 1 to 0 victory over the Reds at Brooklyn Thursday. Meanwhile the New York Giants nosed out the St. Louis Cardinals, 4 to 3, at the Polo Grounds and moved up to within a game and a half of the league leaders.

Doak and Pete Donohue hooked up in one of the prettiest pitching duels of the season before the final break came. In the eleventh with one out, Hendrick was hit by a pitched ball and scored the winning run after successive singles by Herman and Bressler. Doak allowed but six hits, issued no passes but hit two batsmen. Donohue was touched for only five safeties, walked three and hit two.

Jack Cummings' pinch hit in the ninth enabled the Giants to beat the Cardinals, as Larry Benton recorded his ninth victory in 11 starts, all of them complete games. Cummings was batting for Benton when he drove in Terry with the winning run.

Pete Scott's home run, a single by Sparky Adams and Lloyd Waner's double gave the Pittsburgh Pirates two runs in the twelfth inning and an 8 to 6 triumph over the Boston Braves.

The Philadelphia Nationals broke their nine game losing streak at the expense of the Chicago Cubs, Ray Bengt turning in a 4 to 2, six-hit victory. Hack Wilson hit his tenth homer of the season and went into a tie with Del Bissonette of Brooklyn for league leadership.

The New York Yankees stretched their American league lead to 10 full games by defeating the Cleveland Indians, 8 to 2. Babe Ruth hit his twentieth homer of the season and Lou Gehrig his 12th.

Alvin Crowder allowed but four hits as the Browns defeated the Philadelphia Athletics at St. Louis, 4 to 1.

The Boston Red Sox found Owen Carroll a puzzle and Detroit took a 5 to 2 win at Navin field.

Chicago fell into last place in the standing when the Sox bowed to Washington, 7 to 5. Buck Harris returned to the line-up.

Houston Invincible in First Half of League Season

(By The Associated Press.)

Houston is turning the race for the Texas league pennant into a one-ring circus as it thunders down the stretch of the season's first half with unfaltering swiftness. The Buffs ran their string of consecutive victories to ten Thursday by defeating Shreveport, 12 to 7, and gained a game in the percentage column over their closest pursuers when Fort Worth lost to Waco, 3 to 7.

The slugging that proved the undoing of teams which have faced them recently swept the Buffs to an easy victory that left the Sports wondering what it was all about. Houston hammered out eighteen safeties including two homers each by Snyder and Peel while the Sports got twelve hits that were well scattered.

Wichita Falls continued its efforts to get back into the race by defeating San Antonio, 3 to 2, in a game featured by the good pitching of Payne and Messenger and the timely hitting of the Spudgers.

Waco won from Fort Worth despite errors that helped the Panthers to all their runs. The game started with each club getting three runs in the first inning, but the hurlers tightened up and exhibited some first class pitching. The Cubs had the edge in hitting, getting seven safeties to the Cats five.

A ninth-inning rally that netted three runs pulled a game out of the fire for Dallas and the Steers defeated Beaumont the second straight time, 4 to 3.

Mrs. J. M. McDonald left today for an extended visit with relatives in Chico and Dallas.

Old Mike McTigue Loses Decision to Brilliant Youngster

NEW YORK, June 8.—(P)—Old Mike McTigue demonstrated here last night that he still has ability to stand the racket, plenty of sting in his right hand, and plenty of grey matter under his thinning that.

For the benefit of Armand Emanuel, latest light heavyweight sensation last night in Madison Square Garden, although he lost the decision in ten rounds to the clever, strong youngster who fought him a draw several weeks ago. Mike thrilled 8,000 customers with a stirring display of ringmanship and punching power that had Emanuel on the floor for a count of nine in the first round.

McTigue mixed and took chances with a youngster who was yearning to walk when Mike fought his first professional battle. The ringworn Irishman, carrying his 40 years heavily at times, still had enough to win four of the rounds while grudgingly conceding six to the fast-stepping young lawyer from the Pacific coast.

Before the bout was well under way Mike coaxed Armand into leading with his chin. The old one promptly hung a right on it that deposited Armand for a count of nine.

Thereafter Emanuel was careful, watchful of that right, and Mike took full advantage.

But the legs that have carried Mike into ring battles for almost 20 years tired as the pace grew hot.

Emanuel, with a two-pound advantage over McTigue at 77, rallied after the first round to win the next five. Mike battered his way to an edge in the next three, but lost all chance of victory when Emanuel rocked him about the ring in the final session.

HAPPINESS SATURDAY!

If You Can't Laugh You Ought to be Choked

If you can't smile you ought to be squeezed. If you do laugh you ought to be hugged. If you do smile you ought to be kissed. A little "bunky" you say?

Now, listen, old man, there's enough seriousness hanging on the lips of friends already. Don't add any more to it by any doleful tune of your own.

This is Happiness Saturday in Pampa. "Sole Owner" says so. Now, don't you think it's time to be happy yourself, even if it lasts only for Saturday.

Parelli Too Much for Carlin, Tough Swedish Wrestler

The affair between Joe Parelli, erstwhile world's welterweight champ and John Carlin, Swedish champion, was rather brief, the Italian requiring only 9 minutes to pin the Swede's shoulders to the mat after a series of some five flying headlocks that had him groggy. The second fall took 20 minutes, but again the San Angelo man succumbed to a headlock.

In spite of the apparent one-sidedness of the results, the match looked as though it belonged to either wrestler most of the time. Every now and then the Swede would twine his fingers around Parelli's toes, and Joe would protest "Hay, Meestaire Referee, he break-a my feet," but about the time that he wanted to break the hold, he seemed to do it easily. Nor did Carlin's feet seem to be very tender, as he broke one of Parelli's toe-holds after another. During the first part of the match, the Swede seemed to handle the ex-champ almost at will, but the rapid pace seemed to be too much for him, coupled with the punishing headlocks. He is by long odds the best man that Parelli has met on the local mat.

It required just 2 minutes per fall for Kopecky, the scowling Bohemian, to take two straight sessions from Young Sampson, who submitted for the Mystery Man. The youngster threw Kopecky all over the ring, and forced him to crawl for the edge of the mat. The end came when Sampson slammed the Bohemian to the mat and had him apparently, but doubtfully, groggy. The big fellow shot out of the corner and slapped on a flying toe-hold that was too much for the other boy.

The second fall was a repetition of the first, Sampson handling Kopecky until Kopecky put on a headlock that put Sampson out, and then pinned his shoulders to the mat. The Bohemian went through his usual repertoire of rough and tumble tactics, angling from attempting to choke his opponent on the ropes to jumping on his face. Kopecky can throw his man all right, but does not seem to be overly particular as to the way he does it.

The management of the Pia-Mor announced that this was the last wrestling match to be held in the auditorium, and that next Thursday night, Sid Young of Tulsa would meet Walter Varner, the Roxana speed demon, in a ten-round affair, the card to be under the management of Rusty Cahill and Jack Doss, local scrappers. A good card is promised for that date.

Granite Wins Great Wichita Slugging Tilt

Kid Granite, local fighter, won an eight-round fight in Wichita, Kansas, Monday night. The Wichita Eagle has the following to say about the bout: "Mel Gahman and Kid Granite fought one of the greatest bouts ever put on in the state of Kansas in the special eight. Standing toe to toe for nearly all the eight rounds they slugged and battered each other throughout the fight. Not once did they spar or box. Their stock in trade was to sock an dthe harder socker broke up every exchange. Usually it was Granite who had an edge on the fight, but not by a big margin. Granite won perhaps four rounds with two to Gahman and two even."

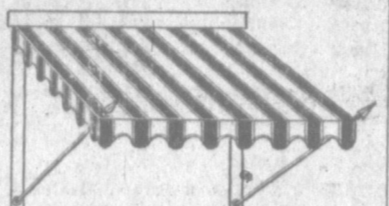

GERMAN MARINES KILLED

KIEL, Germany, June 8.—(AP)—Six Marines were killed today when a mine exploded on board a mine layer. Four others were injured. The explosion occurred during mine laying maneuvers in Kiel harbor.

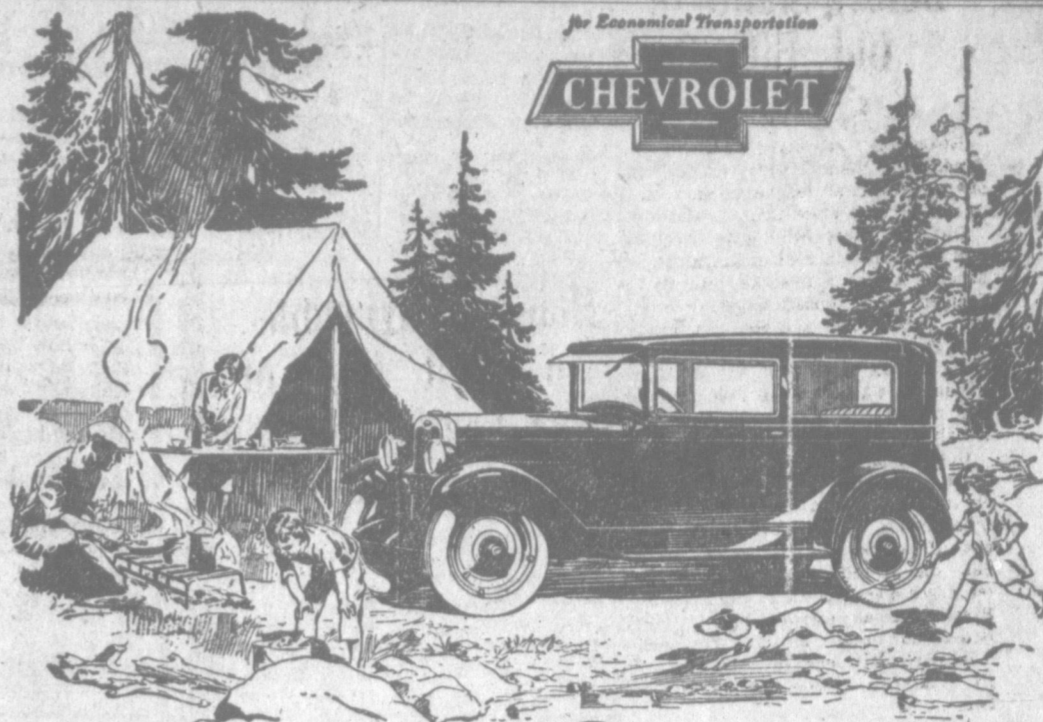

HOMERS DON'T HELP

CHICAGO, June 8.—(AP)—Hack Wilson, Cub outfielder, fears his home runs carry a jinx for his mates. He has clouted ten of them so far this season and only three times did they help the Cubs win a baseball game. His last four have been wasted the last coming yesterday as the Cubs lost to the Phillies.

Miss Wilma Chapman left Wednesday with friends on a noverland trip to Ft. Smith and Winslow, Ark., where she will spend several weeks.

West Texans to Be Prominent in State Fire Meeting

DENTON, June 8.—(Special)—West Texas will have large representation at the annual convention of the Texas Firemen's association to be held here June 12, 13, and 14, which event, it is predicted, will be the most largely attended meeting ever held.

A West Texas leader will be on the program; a West Texas city is campaigning for next year's convention; West Texas men are candidates for executive offices, and West Texas teams are defending champions in the annual racing events.

For several months, committees representing the Denton Fire Department and the Denton Chamber of Commerce have been at work on plans for entertaining the thousands of visiting firemen, and a full round of pleasurable events has been arranged. The State Fire Insurance Commission, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and other important agencies are assisting in convention arrangements.

The opening night will be featured by an exhibition drill by the Fort Worth Fire Department on the public square of Denton. A man will leap from the top story of the four story Godwin Hotel into a life net held by the Fort Worth firemen, as colored fire plays to give the spectacle the appearance of actual fire conditions. The fifty piece McKinney Band will give a concert and furnish music for the street dance to be held following the drill. McKinney is bringing fifty cars of people to the premier college city in an effort to win the cup offered for the heaviest attendance at the convention.

Equally full programs are arranged for the other days of the convention. The second day will see more than three thousand uniformed visiting firemen in parade. Students of the two local colleges, the North Texas State Teachers College, and the College of Industrial Arts, will also participate in the line of march. One of Denton's famed barbecues will be served on the third day, to be followed in the evening by an oldtime country square dance, with old time fiddlers furnishing the music. Fifteen thousand people are expected to view and participate in this gaiety.

West Texas will show itself in the important business sessions to be held in the auditorium of the First Baptist church, Denton. Manager Homer D. Wade of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will speak in the interest of the fire prevention campaign being advanced by the regional organization.

Prominent West Texas firemen will be candidates in the lively election of officers. And Coleman, a West Texas town, will eliminate her aggressive fight to be named 1929 convention city.

In the annual races, the most popular part of the three days program West Texas teams will take a leading part. Brownwood is defending champion in the reel races, in which seventeen towns have entered teams to compete for prize money which amounts to approximately one thousand dollars. Names of numerous West Texas towns are entered in the events.

An unusual opportunity will be afforded those attending the Denton convention, as a three day school in fire prevention and fire fighting will be conducted by Leon Wolfe of Cincinnati, assisted by fire experts of Oklahoma and New York. West Texas firemen have announced that they will participate in this feature as well as all other phases of the annual meeting.

Motor Bus Mail Delivery Starts

AUSTIN, June 8.—(P)—Motor bus mail service, designed to hasten deliveries and collections in Central Texas and to make the air mail service worth more to the smaller towns, will be put in operation out of here this week under a temporary contract to be supplanted by a permanent one August 1.

The routes goes from Austin to Gonzales by way of Lockhart and Luling. Mail from Gonzales will leave for Austin daily at 12:30 p. m. It will arrive here at 3:30 p. m., in plenty of time to make the northbound air mail plane and the north and south trains.

Mail will leave here daily at 12:15 p. m. This is late enough to catch the northbound air mail arriving on the southbound plane in the morning.

Preserving Game Is Great Problem

GRAESBECK, June 8.—(P)—Hunting and fishing, which once provided sustenance for primitive races, has taken a new role of providing recreation against the grind of modern industry. J. G. Burr of the state game, fish and oyster department, told students in a speech at the high school Thursday.

"There is not now enough game in the world to keep the race alive a week, and the problem now is how the race can keep game alive," he said. "Who would want to live in a world of fishless rivers and lakes, and the forests without game and the song birds. The desire to kill and destroy is the oldest instinct in the race. The toys of the little toddler are quickly smashed, and these are followed soon by the air gun and 'nigger shooter'. Bird nests are raided and a good beginning is made in the career of a game hog."

"The best time to train sportsmen is right in the school days of boys and girls. The girls may not become hunters but they will become the mothers of hunters. In these days, they have little contact with the larger game, but the lesson of conservation can be studied in the value of birds which destroy insects and fill the world with song."

Credit in Physical Training Is Allowed

AUSTIN, June 8.—(P)—For the first time University credit in physical training will be offered at the University of Texas as to students enrolled in summer school during the 1928 summer session according to directors of the men's and women's departments.

Hitherto, instruction in various forms of physical training has been given but no credit has been offered. Swimming, tennis, golf and folk and clog dancing will be open to women students, Miss Thelma Dillingham, director of Women's physical training during the summer, has announced.

Courses in tennis and swimming will be taught in the men's department, which will be in the charge of Berry M. Whitaker, instructor in physical training for men at the University.

SOUVENIR MEN BUSY

HOUSTON, June 8.—(P)—Souvenir vendors are getting their wares in shape for the opening of the National Democratic convention here June 26.

Plaster of paris plaques, carrying in base relief the Democratic donkey in various poses are the most popular. One which has had the greatest popularity so far pictures of the donkey with heels straightened out finishing a kick and the famous G. O. P. elephant whirling through the air like a football.

Convention songs have also been in the limelight. A Houston man has composed one which boasts Jesse H. Jones, Texas' favorite son, for the presidency.

City Manager George Wood said that he had over 750 applications for vendors' licenses for the convention. Only one-third were granted, he said.

Besides the vendors license applications, Woods office has been flooded with applications for beggars licenses. Co-operation with the police department, however, Woods said that this evil would be kept at a minimum.

NOTICE TO PARENTS OF SCHOOL CHILDREN

There seems to be a general misunderstanding as to the territorial limits of the Summer school. In order that we may meet this situation we have been given special permission to enroll students Monday, June 11th, and permits them to do the required amount of work and receive full credit. Students from any school in this city or any students who may find it convenient to attend are entitled to this work, subject to the conditions and limitations imposed upon all other students.

Into the woods I went, to find
The message of the Spring
There's comfort in those dim, sweet paths,
In every growing thing,
And heart-break lessons when one hears
The wise trees whispering,
"Courage, my child" The old pines crooned,
"To faith's kind hand hold fast"
The oak said: "Sorrow's sea is deep,
But heaven's won at last"
And tenderly the birches touched
My bent head as I passed.
The little voices of the woods
Breathed sympathy, the breeze Dried tear-wet eyes—and oh, the calm
Communion of the trees;
Let human friends do all they will—
Can they give more than these?

Methodist Society Meets at the Home Of Mrs. Barnhart

The Methodist Missionary Society met Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. H. F. Barnhart with Mrs. George Walstad, Mrs. Lewis Robinson, and Mrs. J. G. Burgess as assistant hostesses.

The Bible lesson was studied with Mrs. C. T. Nicholson in charge. It was voted, during the business meeting, that the society serve dinner on election day, which occurs during July.

The hostesses served the 15 members present a delicious refreshment

Girls' Circle Meets Wednesday With Mrs. Taylor

The Girls' Circle of the Christian church met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Billy Taylor. This circle is growing rapidly and wishes to invite all the young women who are interested in this kind of work to be present at the next meeting which will be held at the home of Miss Hazel Campbell the first Wednesday evening in July at 8 o'clock.

Scrap books were made this month to send to children in Africa and next month old clothes and toys will be sent to the children at Tibet. It is planned to take up the study of foreign missions in the near future and at the next meeting Miss Macie Gester, a new member of the circle, will give a report on "The Christ of the Indian Road" by E. Stanley Jones.

The evening was thoroughly enjoyed, and following the business meeting fresh strawberry ice cream and cake were served those present.

Ranger Scouts Enjoy Outing at LeFors Thursday

The Ranger Scouts troop of the Methodist church, including boys from 8 to 12 years of age, spent last night at LeFors. The camp was made in true Scout fashion, and the outing was thoroughly enjoyed. C. N. Melton and the Rev. Tom Brabham were in supervision of the trip.

Japanese Premier Escapes Attack of Would-Be Assassin

TOKYO, June 8.—(AP)—Alert members of his bodyguard today frustrated an attempt to assassinate Baron Gichi Tanaka, premier of Japan.
When the premier arrived at Ueno station a man in the clothes of a laborer tried to stab him with a dagger. The bodyguard prevented the attempt and arrested the would-be assassin. Baron Tanaka was not hurt.

A member of the diet named Matsumura was stabbed in the leg and a detective slightly injured in attempting to overpower the premier's assailant, named Okamura, who said he had been seeking the Boron for weeks seeking an opportunity to attack him because Baron Tanaka had asked that he resign in connection with his alleged mismanagement of the reorganization of the cabinet.

After an investigation home office officials said that no political importance was attached to the attack. It was expected the assailant would be arraigned as a common criminal on a charge of having attempted to commit murder.

Baron Tanaka in which an American car woman was killed, was made at Shanghai, China, on March 28, 1922.

The Baron, who had recently retired as minister of war, was walking down the gangplank of a ship from Manila, when two Koreans fired at him. Mrs. W. J. Snyder of Brazil, Indiana, who was a few paces behind him, was killed and four persons were wounded. Baron Tanaka was not hit and the Koreans confessed that the shots were intended for him.

Dick Hughes, local life insurance agent, spent three days in Amarillo this week.

Markets

CHICAGO, June 8.—(AP)—Further rains northwest offset the influence of higher cables today and caused wheat prices early to average lower. With a government crop report due after the close, some evening-up was in progress and selling was restricted.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Snior and Miss Hazel Snyder returned Wednesday from Elk City, Okla., where they were called Friday to the bedside of Snior's brother, Bobbie Dean, age 7, who died Monday.

Mrs. F. N. Shriver of Wichita Falls is visiting this week in the home of her mother, Mrs. Lee Ledrick. Mrs. Shriver is on her way home after visiting with Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Baker in Woodward, Okla.

Miss Cleo Olive has returned to Pampa after a pleasant visit with relatives and friends in Kirkland.

S. Wortman, Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Hobart, and Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Reid attended the Mobeete celebration yesterday.

Coleman Gulley, dean of men at Texas Christian university, is here looking after oil interests.

School Children Executed in China as "Red" Plotters

CANTON, China, June 8.—(AP)—Fourteen girls and three schoolboys, all arrested in Communist raids and described as confessed "Reds" were executed today.

The group died bravely, firmly announcing their belief that the future success of Communism would be aided by their martyrdom.

A group of 30 students and teachers near Swatow also was arrested at a communist meeting. The police heard of the gathering from a panic-stricken student informer who was said to have drawn a lot to kill his parents and instead ran to police headquarters.

South China has been the scene of bitter clashes in recent months between Communists and the police authorities.

Emmett Gaffin, life insurance agent of Miami, is in Pampa today.

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Heare, F. P. Heare, Jr., and Mary Bell Heare accompanied Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Reid from the Mobeete celebration yesterday and will visit in the home of F. P. Reid for a few days. Mary Bell and F. P. Jr. are grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Reid.
