NEGRO HOSPITAL PATIENT IS LYNCHED

Nobile and His Five Companions Are Located by Italian Aviator

STRANDED MEN RECEIVE HELP FROM PLANE Provisions Will Keep Party Alive Until Rescued MUCH REJOICING AT BASE SHIP Fear Held for Now Overdue Amundsen Group

(Copyrighted, 1928, by the Associated Press.)

KINGS BAY, Spitzbergen, June 20.—(P)—Umberto Nobile and his five stranded companions from the north pole dirigible Italia have been located off Northeast Land by Major Maddelena, Italian aviator. The flier, who took off from Kings Bay at 6 o'clock this morning on a second reconnaissance of Northeast Land, dropped provisions from his hydroplane for the stranded crew. Major Maddelena returned to Kings Bay at 1:50 o'clock this afternoon and reported that all appeared well with the men who have been held in the grim grip of the polar sea ever since May 25 when the Italia was dashed to the ground and the control cabin was torn loose, spilling Nobile and eight men on the ice. He said that he had dropped everything necessary for the relief of the men. His report stirred the utmost enthusiasm and optimism aboard the base ship Citta di Milano which had stood by in Kohns Bay day after day in touch with the Nobile party by means of the radio.

PARIS, June 20.—(P)—The fate of Captain Rene Guilbaud's seaplane, carrying uneasiness in French aeronautic and naval circles. Although they are still optimistic that the party is safe, the plane is 36 hours overdue at Spitzbergen from Tromsø. It is hoped in Paris that Guilbaud and Amundsen steered a direct course for Cape Leigh Smith, where probably a landing would be made.

KINGS BAY, Spitzbergen, June 20.—(P)—Major Maddelena, crack Italian pilot, took off for Foynes island at 6 o'clock this morning on a second attempt to find the stranded party of General Umberto Nobile. Major Maddelena failed in a reconnaissance of six hours yesterday to locate the missing men, but hoped to find them today as he had arranged for the Nobile party to attempt to communicate with him by wireless in order to indicate their exact position.

KINGS BAY, Spitzbergen, June 20.—(P)—Roald Amundsen, Lieutenant Lief Dietrichsen and Rene Guilbaud, who left Tromsø, Norway, Monday night in a French seaplane to join in the Nobile rescue work, were long overdue at Kings Bay today. There were many rumors concerning them but all lacked confirmation. One report was that the fliers had continued on to the north of North East land and were engaged in searching for the survivors of the dirigible Italia there. It was thought probable, however, that the airmen might have gone to Advent Bay instead of Kings Bay and established a base there. This is to the south of Kings Bay and it was likely that they could reach there without Kings Bay being informed.

Rumors Not Proved Rumors in Oslo that Amundsen and his companions had found general Umberto Nobile has subsided when neither the Norwegian government nor the French or Italian legation nor Amundsen's family could confirm them. Radio stations in Spitzbergen and Northern Norway had received nothing. Official quarters in Rome which are in communication with Nobile through the base ship Citta di Milano had no such report.

TORONTO BANDITS GET $100,000

Three Mail Pouches Taken at Union Station Have Valuable Contents

TORONTO, Ont., June 20.—(P)—Six armed men who in a daring midnight holdup escaped with registered mail valued as high as $100,000 from an express car of the Canadian National Railways at the union station here were being sought throughout Western Ontario today.

Entrance to the car was gained on the pretence that the men wanted to sell a sedan which they had backed up to the car. They quickly covered the express messengers and selecting three registered mail pouches, tossed the bags into their car and sped away. Police arrived on the scene just as the robbers' car disappeared around a corner about 100 yards away.

Postal authorities immediately started a check of the contents of the missing pouches. Although no official estimate of the loot was given out, it was reported it might reach $100,000. One bag contained cash and the other two registered mail. The car was destined for Windsor and was attached to a Chicago-bound train.

Early arrival of the police was due to William Venton, assistant night agent of the Canadian National Railways' express, who defied the bandits. Ordered by the robbers to lie down on the platform and jabbed in the stomach with a sawed off shotgun and a revolver, he got free, dodged around mail trucks, rushed into the express office and telephoned police.

Miss Earhart Insists On Not Becoming Object of Worship

LONDON, June 20.—(P)—Miss Emalia Earhart, Boston social worker and first woman ever to fly the Atlantic, faced the world today, just as Lindbergh once did, in borrowed clothes. The American girl, who arrived in London yesterday with Wilmer Stultz and Louis Gordon, her companions in the trans-Atlantic flight of the monoplane Friendship, was wearing a loose-fitting flowered dress this morning when she held a little reception in the sitting room of her hotel suite which was rapidly becoming a bower of flowers sent by friends and admirers.

"Everything I've got to wear at present, is borrowed, but then I'm not vain," she said and her hearers agreed that she wasn't. Miss Earhart was greatly refreshed after her night's rest. Her gray eyes were lustrous and there was color in her pale cheeks. This morning she began filling her engagement book and it will keep her busy. On Saturday she will be the guest of Mrs. Alanson B. Boughton, wife of the American ambassador, at a luncheon, while on Monday the woman's section of the Air League of the British empire will give a public luncheon for her.

Today's program includes a luncheon with Mrs. Frederick Guest, sponsor of the flight, and then will go on a shopping tour. Wants No Worship Talking to London's assembled newspaper men today, Miss Earhart declared firmly and emphatically that during her brief stay in England she did not want to be the subject of "hero worship."

"I have done nothing to merit it," she said. Captain H. H. Railey, who made the London arrangements for the flight then interposed the remark that Miss Earhart was distressed that she was occupying the limelight at the expense of Pilot Stultz.

"That's just the point," Miss Earhart interrupted. "It is because I am a woman that I have been forced into the spotlight. The credit for the success of the flight is due Stultz. He controlled the plane practically throughout and was just splendid." She denied that her flight had been a race with Mabel Boll to see which would cross the ocean first. She stated emphatically that she did not intend to capitalize on her adventure.

Vernon Farmer Chosen as President of West Texas Chamber Today

City Limits Will Be Marked With Signs, Gwin Says

Five new city limits markers were received yesterday by the city manager R. M. Gwin and will be placed at the city limits of the five main roads leading into Pampa.

The circular markers are of steel and are attached to posts of the same material. "City Limits. Slow to 20 miles. Pampa, Texas" is printed on each marker.

Strict Attention to Parking Near Fire Plugs Asked

"No parking within 10 feet" are the new signs to be placed on the water week. City officials received the signs yesterday.

It was said at the fire department that very often it is necessary to move cars from the plugs when the firemen are called out to fight fires. When the warnings are placed on the plugs, a stricter observance of the plug parking ordinance will be enforced by the officials, it was said.

City Commission to Attend Session of Chamber Directors

Owing to the absence of Manager George Briggs, who is in Fort Worth attending the annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, the regular monthly dinner meeting of directors of the local Chamber has been postponed to June 25.

Members of the city commission will meet with the directors at the session of next Tuesday, and a number of important matters are to be considered. One of these will be street numbering—a project which has been under discussion for several months.

Speculation Rife After Al Smith Is Visited by Pomerene

NEW YORK, June 20.—(P)—Political circles today were speculating on what took place when Senator Allee Pomerene of Ohio called on Governor Smith here yesterday.

Andy Bourland Is Honored by Big Convention—Reid Again Is a Vice-President

FORT WORTH, June 20.—(P)—Andy Bourland, farmer and rancher of Vernon, was elected president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, to succeed R. W. Haynie, Abilene, at close of the Wednesday morning session of the tenth annual convention here.

Bourland was proposed for the presidency by the nominating committee and was elected unanimously. He had been selected by the committee from four prospective candidates. Judge C. C. Small, Wellington, withdrew before the final report of the committee was compiled. Other proposed candidates were Dr. P. C. Coleman, Colorado, and Colonel John Perkins.

The list was narrowed to two when the committee made its sixth ballot, voting for Bourland over Doctor Coleman. Vice-presidents elected are: Walter D. Cline, Wichita Falls; M. K. Graham, A. Wheat, Seymour, Huron; Wright, Sweetwater; J. W. Thompson Breckenridge; Carlton Couch, Haskell; R. L. Penick, Stamford; Houston Harte, San Angelo; Leon L. Shield, Coleman; W. P. Murphy, Brownwood; V. A. Robinson, Post; W. W. Flenniken, Amarillo; O. P. Thrane, Snyder; R. A. Underwood, Plainview; H. E. Hoover, Canadian; F. P. Reid, Pampa; J. A. Kemp, Wichita Falls; Small, Coleman, and Perkins.

Eighty-one directors were selected also by the convention. The new president has been a farmer and rancher of Vernon for 22 years. Intensive farming in West Texas was made one of the major planks in his platform when he was proposed by his friends for the Chamber of Commerce presidency.

He has stated on several occasions since his nomination that to grow more and better agricultural products per acre is his ambition for West Texas. "Agriculture will be the principal developer of West Texas," he said. "Oil and other products have played a big part in the advancement of the section, but farming is the most important thing."

BLACK KILLED A DETECTIVE

Moody Orders Hamer to Investigate Affairs

AUSTIN, June 20.—(P)—Governor Moody today posted a reward of $250 for each man convicted of participation in the lynching of Robert Powell, negro, at Houston. HOUSTON, June 20.—(P)—Robert Powell, Negro, 24, abducted from the Jefferson Davis hospital here early today by an unmasked band of eight men, was found hanging from a bridge eight miles out of Houston on the West Heimer road at 6:30 o'clock this morning.

Powell was in the hospital, seriously wounded, after a gunshot Sunday in which City Detective A. W. Davis was mortally wounded. The eight men entered the hospital about 2 o'clock, overpowered Deputy Sheriff S. Y. Q. Brizentine, seized the negro, and departed in two automobiles. The negro shouted, "O Lord, have mercy" as one of the men rushed to his bed and placed a rope around his neck. Brizentine said. The men quickly lifted him out of bed and carried the black downstairs where the machines were waiting.

Deputy Is Disarmed The deputy sheriff was sitting in a small ante-room adjoining the negro ward when three of the men walked up and held guns on him. "Keep quiet," the deputy said they commanded, "and stand up. Don't make a move."

The officer obeyed, and one of the men took his gun from him. Then they marched him a short distance down the hall. As the men left with their captive, the officer saw a rope trailing behind the negro on the floor, he said. District Attorney Horace Soule assumed direct charge of the investigation. An appeal by Soule to Governor Dan Moody brought a promise of additional Rangers to add to the two now here.

Negro Was Slugged The negro's body was found by city detectives John Gambill and Ira Nix. A rope, tied in a hangman's noose, was about his neck, and the officers said he apparently had been thrown from the bridge. His feet barely touched the bottom of the gully underneath the bridge, and there was a wound on his head which officers said apparently was inflicted by the butt of a pistol. Shortly after the negro's body was found, word was received from Austin that Governor Dan Moody had ordered three Texas Rangers headed by Ranger Captain Frank Hamer, to come to Houston immediately to investigate the lynching.

Detective Davis was fatally wounded Sunday in a gun fight following his efforts to disperse a crowd of negroes. Powell, with a bullet wound in his stomach, was arrested a few hours later, charged with murder and taken to the hospital. Attorney Gets Facts Three hospital attendants, all negroes, made statements to George Andrews, special investigator for District Attorney Soule, one of them, Jackson McCarter, an orderly, was in the room with Powell, when the eight men arrived. One of them, McCarter said, stuck a pistol under McCarter's nose and told him to keep quiet. The eight men then tied Powell's hands and feet, McCarter said. As they did so, the wounded negro said: "Oh Lord, have mercy." When the raiders had tied Powell, one turned to the other and asked: "Are you going to take him, George?" McCarter's statement said. "Yes," was the answer. One Called "George" The man addressed as "George" (See—LYNCHING, Page 6)

CANDIDACIES ARE BEING

Pushed with extreme vigor throughout the nation as the primaries or conventions near. Personal attacks in the Southwest have been rather conspicuous for their absence. The newspapers are espousing few candidates and attempting to block few others.

Getting one's candidacy across at a reasonable expense is a real problem. Attention is best attracted by stage play and abuse of the opponents, but this blustery style too has degenerated, rightfully.

A few candidates are "telling the world" about the failings of in-office politicians. Wardlaw is hitting Dan Moody with the inevitable comparisons of campaign promises and administration records.

The Public's Money

To what types of uses should tax money be put? The old traditional limitations are being slowly expanded. Cities are using funds for special purposes following voting of assessments for such things as auditoriums, bands, nursing services, and the like.

It is axiomatic that the public's money, paid through taxes, should be carefully used for tangible purposes. Yet it should be equally axiomatic that the will of the people should be expressed by their public officials.

Publicity problems are giving many cities difficulties. Advertising of a city or town is highly important if the other factors are right. Since advertising is expensive, taxation would lighten the individual burden.

The South Texas Chamber of Commerce says yes. It has started a movement for the creation of a state law to provide that cities and counties may appropriate tax money for publicity purposes.

and advertising by California and Florida has been tax money. It is fairly apparent that the desire of Texas business men to advertise the state is general. Always, however, when the matter of financing such advertising and publicity has arisen, securing such finances by solicitation has proven an obstacle which could not be surmounted.

Within reason, this plan is a good one. It should not, of course, result in waste of tax money or raising of taxes beyond the bounds of good government.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER

KANSAS CITY—What the farmers do to the Republican party in November after having their presidential candidates and farm relief planks flattened at the convention will probably be determined by crop conditions.

Some farm states seem to be prosperous as compared with other farm states. Winter wheat, one heard, was in fine condition this year and Kansas and Nebraska were happy about it.

General Jacob S. Coxey is a candidate for the Republican nomination in Ohio to succeed the late Senator Frank B. Willis.

During the Republican convention in Kansas City eight men robbed the Home Trust Company offices near Convention Hall. Some of the farm newspaper men wrote it up as part of the Hoover demonstration.

Much will probably be heard from Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, the assistant attorney general, during the campaign. This rather good-looking widow was used during the convention with good effect by the Hoover forces,

TWINKLES

A Philadelphia law allows a dog one bite before it can be classed as vicious. And it's cruelty to animals to limit any he-dog to one bite per tramp.

Over in sunny Scotland highland ministers are trying to stop Sunday excursions and outings. If our ministers would keep half of them off the highways it would help a lot.

One thing we have to be thankful for on the Plains is that pebbles and nigger-shooters are relatively scarce.

Gratitude is often a thing of development, such as some people feel eventually toward persons who have prevented a voluntary drowning.

If Wordsworth could have gone up in an airplane he would have achieved literacy in the piece which begins: "My heart leaps up when I behold a rainbow in the sky."

The average man may be happiest, if he doesn't know he is at the average and is striving desperately to be something else.

Time helps many things, and lets us get out from under that load of G. O. P. news that hogged the wires lately.

Thrift isn't always so pleasant. Consider the man who slings to his dead cigar in the street car.

During the Republican convention it was brought out that William Jennings Bryan was especially when she insisted on the admission of the Hoover delegation from Texas instead of Congressman Wurzbach's contestants.

Later the Hoover camp allowed a story to seep out that Hoover was seriously considering Mrs. Willebrandt as his attorney general after his election.

One suspects that Mrs. Willebrandt's dry sentiments and strong efforts on behalf of prohibition enforcement will increase her value as a campaign speaker. She may be expected to appeal to women to vote for "Hoover and law enforcement" instead of "Smith and nullification."

nominated in the Convention Hall there. If he wasn't nominated at Houston, too, that's one of the few cities that didn't have that honor.

What this country needs is fewer endurance contests on telephone lines.

We have been looking over the Republican platform and must confess disappointment. Not a word was said about rainfall.

Now that the Democrats are getting ready to hop to it, do you suppose that Keynote Claude G. Bowers will talk only on party lines?

And did you hear about the two Democrats who stopped off in Kansas City on their way to Houston and, seeing the Hoover banners all around, thought the town was entertaining a convention of vacuum cleaner agents?

But then some of the Republicans who go to Houston, if any, probably will think there's a sales meeting of cough-drop people.

Probably the International Union of Ladies' Garment Workers wants a five-day week because it takes them three days every week to find something more to leave out.

A blurb on the jacket of a recent book calls it "a search for an answer to the riddle of the universe." We were disappointed, though, as the book really doesn't say a thing about national conventions.

Four lions were offered for sale by a New York zoo the other day. There's a chance to get even with your neighbor's chickens.

The most successful politicians-in-making are those who never run for office, but believe they would swing all the votes if they did.

Bridge Picnics Enjoyed in Home of Mrs. E. A. Shackleton

The most novel parties of the season, and ones of unusual entertainment were the bridge picnics given Monday and Tuesday afternoons in the country home of Mrs. E. A. Shackleton. Yellow and white roses and honey suckle formed the setting for the interesting bridge games, and the harmonizing color scheme of yellow and white was used in the favors of dainty umbrellas given.

The prizes, which caused unusual interest among those winning them, were awarded Monday afternoon to Mrs. M. A. Finney, receiving high score, and Mrs. Ivan Kullman, receiving low; and Tuesday afternoon to Mrs. J. D. Sugg, high score, and Mrs. Bert Isbell, low score. At each table numbers were drawn, and those drawing the lucky number were presented a large basket of fruit. Those receiving the baskets were then informed that it was their privilege to act as maids to their table in the serving of a delicious six o'clock dinner in cafeteria style.

The guest list Monday afternoon included Mrs. Ivey Duncan, Mrs. Ivan Kullman, Mrs. Joe Smith, Mrs. George Rainouard, Mrs. Alex Schneider, Mrs. Ed Gober, Mrs. H. Aires, Mrs. L. N. McCullough, Mrs. Hugh Isbell, Mrs. M. A. Finney, Mrs. J. M. Dodson, Mrs. H. W. Hickman, Mrs. Joe Lewis, Mrs.

Highway Body to Let More Road Contracts June 21

AUSTIN, June 20.—(AP)—Its summer improvement plan already well under way, the state highway commission will let additional road contracts, to cost several hundred thousand dollars, for eight counties here June 21.

Work to be provided: Hardeman county, concrete pavement on 15.6 miles of highway No. 5 from Quannah to Wilbarger county line.

Anderson and Cherokee, 1.4 miles of grading and drainage structures across Neches river, bottom, between Palestine and Jacksonville, on No. 43.

Port Bend, grading and drainage and concrete pavement on 14 miles of No. 3 between Wharton county line and Rosenberg.

Austin, grading and drainage on 1.4 miles of No. 36 from Bellville to Sealy.

Coleman, grading and drainage on one mile of No. 7 from Taylor county line to Novice.

Montgomery, grading and drainage on 8.5 miles of No. 105 from Montgomery to Grimes county line.

Falls, concrete pavement on 7.5 miles of No. 108—a from intersection with No. 44, near Rosebud, to Bell county line.

Prizes Offered for E. T. C. C. Activity

LONGVIEW, June 20.—(AP)—Forty-one prizes with a cash value of approximately $4,000 are to be distributed among workers showing best results in the annual membership campaign of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, which began June 15 and closes at midnight of July 1.

Not taken into account in the estimate of the cash value are page write-ups of leading counties, to appear in six of the leading newspapers of the state. The first three counties in group A classification, which have quotas of 100 or more memberships, and the first three counties in Group B, classification, which have quotas of less than 100 memberships, will receive such write-ups by staff correspondents of the respective newspapers.

For the purpose of the campaign, the sixty-seven counties served by the organization have been divided into districts comprised of two or three counties, with a member of the board of directors over each district. Directly in charge of the work in each county is a county councilor, and under him several deputy councilors. Local chamber of commerce agents also are assisting.

R. M. Kelly of Longview, past president, is in charge of the membership campaign.

Germany not only presents Fraulein Lilly Aussem with pride as her national woman tennis champion but boasts of her as a candidate for international beauty honors. The pretty miss has shown that she cannot compete with Helen Wills, the American darling, on the tennis court, but in a contest for looks the decision will be left to the reader.

AMUSEMENTS

Thrills and laughter are promised when "Square Crooks" has its showing at the Crescent tomorrow and Friday. This picture is a comedy drama based on the stage hit of the same name. A cast of screen favorites are in the featured roles.

"Circus Rookies" which shows at the Rex tomorrow promises many ticklish circumstances as the two "rubes," George K. Arthur and Karl Dane, attend the circus and see the sights. They seem to always be at the wrong place at the wrong time.

Wallace Berry and Raymond Hatton are playing in "The Big Killing" at the Rex today. William Bayd in "Sky-scraper" is showing at the Crescent today.

NOTED LAWYER DIES

WASHINGTON, June 20.—(AP)—Philander R. Stansbury, deputy clerk of the United States Supreme Court, who had been connected with it since 1883 and is known to all lawyers who have had business with the court since that time died suddenly at his home near Rockville, Md., today.

Bad Roads Keep President at His Summer Lodge

SUPERIOR, Wis., June 20.—(AP)—Another day of seclusion at his Cedar Island lodge—the sixth consecutive one since his arrival here—was the prospect before President Coolidge today.

The President was advised that the roads leading from Cedar Island lodge to Superior, where the "summer capital" offices are located were still in bad shape from the rains that have plagued this region since Friday.

In addition, the temperature has been so depressing that it was feared the long drive might cause Mr. Coolidge to contract cold, as has been the case with several members of his staff.

The experience yesterday evening of William M. Butler, chairman of the National Republican committee on his way from an overnight stay at the lodge to the Superior station to catch train back to Oshkosh, was not encouraging to the chief executive.

Chairman Butler's automobile was trapped for some time in a mud puddle caused by the rains. A team rescued the former senator's car, and he caught his train.

Despite the bad weather which has held him to his residence, the president was represented as enjoying his vacation. Chairman Butler said the chief executive and he had enjoyed fishing together, finding consolation in their good luck for the unfavorable sides. Generally, he added, Mr. Coolidge appears to appreciate the solitude among the wild life and their trees of the Brule river estate.

Baby Is Killed by Tornado in Kansas

INDEPENDENCE, Kas., June 20.—(AP)—The six-months daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe McKibben was killed and several persons injured early today when a tornado demolished the house occupied by the families of McKibben and Krank Woodruff, near South Coffeyville, Okla. Woodruff suffered a broken shoulder.

Sixteen persons besides the baby were in the house, and it was understood all suffered injuries. Telephone communication between here and South Coffeyville was bad and details of the storm could not be learned.

The destroyed house was half a mile from South Coffeyville.

Markets

CHICAGO, June 20.—(AP)—Fears of black rust northwest, with a sharp advance in Liverpool quotations, had a decided bullish effect early today on the wheat market here. Unfavorable crop developments southwest continued also to attract notice.

Opening 11-8c to 13-4c up, Chicago wheat held near the initial range. Corn and oats were likewise firmer, with corn starting 3-8c to 11-8c gain, but subsequently reacting somewhat. Provisions showed little change.

WHEAT YIELD SURPRISING

CANYON, June 20.—Reports from the farming district west of Canyon indicate that there is a large acreage of wheat that will make as high as 25 bushels to the acre. A still greater acreage is expected to yield as much as ten bushels per acre.

One farmer states that he has some wheat which he thought was dead and was preparing to plow it up, but the rains came and now he is convinced that it will make around ten bushels.

When A Girl Loves © 1928 by NEA Service RUTH DEWY GROVES THIS HAS HAPPENED VIRGINIA BREWSTER is to love with a poor artist, NATHANIEL DANN, but she is tricked into promising to marry FREDERICK DEAN in one year if she fails to earn $100,000 which she inherits from her father. DEAN has a broken shoulder. OLIVER'S distaste for gratitude does not disturb Virginia. He always had been impatient of most accepted standards of conduct and conventions, she remembered tolerantly. It would be like him to get her out of this appalling situation in which she found herself and attempt to pass it off with a negligent wave of his hand. She smiled over the thought of how she would startle him with the truth when she dared tell it. He would know then how much she owed him. She unlocked the door and entered the small dark room with her mind filled with pictures of the future. Pleasant pictures. Automatically she switched on the light and took off her hat, still half-dreaming over the assurance of success she had received from Oliver. It was several minutes before she noticed a box on the bed. Her first impression was that Frederick Dean had sent more flowers, and she decided not to open the box. But a second glance revealed that it was not from a florist. The label was that of a famous modiste. Virginia was curious to know why anything from that shop should be sent her. Perhaps it was something she had ordered before her father's death, she reflected. Often weeks were required to bring made-to-order gingers and garments from Italy or France to America. She'd better see what it was. It would have to be returned unless it had been included in the bills already presented to the estate. Better send it back anyhow, if the shop would credit it. Virginia thought as she untied the

CORDELL HULL IS IN HOUSTON

Smith Nomination and Election Predicted and Denied

HOUSTON, June 20.—(P)—Cordell Hull, of Tennessee, first of the candidates for the Democratic nomination as president or vice-president to appear in the convention city, arrived Tuesday night.
Arrival of the former chairman of the national committee and author of important legislation during the Wilson administration created a flurry in pre-convention circles and brought forth speculation as to the possible anti-Smith strength when the convention opens Tuesday.
Waving interviewers aside, Mr. Hull said it was too early to make campaign predictions and asserted he arrived early because of his duties as a member of the convention committee on arrangements and national committee for Tennessee.
Hull headquarters will be established today, the second presidential camp for the convention. Reed forces already have opened offices and leaders of the national staff of nine are in charge.
George R. Van Namee, pre-convention manager for Governor Alfred Smith is expected to arrive tonight and place in operation machinery of the Smith organization. He will be accompanied by Norman E. Mack, Buffalo publisher and national committee member for New York, another former national chairman.
Hundreds of other notables are expected early next week to augment the early arrivals, which include important members of the national committee and other notables from all parts of the United States.
One of the questionable factors, the farm situation, already is raising itself in hotel lobby discussions and informal political caucuses.
The agrarians have been invited to air their grievances before the convention and Clem Shaver, chairman of the national committee, is wondering how many of the farmers will take advantage of the bid and how important the agrarian upheaval will be when the quadrennial parley swings under way.
Charles Greathouse, of Indiana, secretary of the national committee, will arrive today to establish headquarters. He will bring with him thousands of tickets to the convention hall which will be distributed to visitors.

Two definite early developments were seen by political observers in pre-convention statements of national committeemen and committeewomen, the first a swing toward Smith on the early ballots similar to the Hoover landslide at Kansas City and a threatened bolt of the women of the party in the event Smith is nominated.

Governor Smith will be named on the first or second ballot, and will defeat Herbert Hoover decisively, J. Bruce Kremer, national committeeman of Montana, floor leader for W. G. McAduff in his death struggle against Smith at Madison Square Garden, said today.
The opposition of the women in some quarters to Smith was explained by Mrs. Belle Kearney of Mississippi, who said if he is nominated and hinted at a bolt.

by entering the motion pictures or going on the vaudeville stage.
Was it true, asked one reporter, that she made the flight to obtain funds to lift the mortgage on the family homestead in America.
"No," said Miss Earhart, "that's absurd."
"My profession is social work. This is my vacation."
"But since you have prohibition in America, you should have no social problems," another reporter said.
"Unfortunately, we still have a few," she replied.

Mexico Man Is New Rotary Head

MINNEAPOLIS, June 20.—(P)—I. B. Sutton of Tampico, Mexico, third vice-president, was elected president of Rotary International today as the organization discarded its usual machinery for balloting and named him by acclamation.
When Mr. Sutton's name was the only one placed in nomination, the convention decided to restrict balloting Thursday to naming three vice-presidents and a number of directors.

Mr. Sutton, a native of Michigan, is in the hardware jobbing business in Mexico. He was a founder of the American Chamber of Commerce at Tampico, and served as its president in 1918.
In 1923 he was made governor of the third Rotary district, comprising Mexico and in 1926 international director. He was elected vice-president last year.

Lynching---
Lydia Branch, a negro nurse, was on duty at the desk when the eight men arrived. One of them pointed a gun at her and told her to "sit still."
At a meeting of the city council, an ordinance was passed authorizing Mayor Oscar Holcombe to appoint a committee of six to conduct an investigation of the lynching. Ten thousand dollars was appropriated for expenses incident to the investigation of this committee, which will report to the city council and not to police.
The committee comprised four white men and two negroes.
The Harris county grand jury when it convened was told to drop all other investigations and study the lynching.
"There are two criminal district courts in this county and there is absolutely no excuse for mob law," Judge Langston King told the jurors. Ranger Captain Hamer, arrived before noon to lead the investigation.
