The new Methodist church, recently completed at a cost of seventy-five thousand dollars and Pampa's most beautiful church building, was dedicated yesterday in an impressive service at 11 o'clock. Members of other churches and friends joined the congregation of the Methodist church in filling the auditorium for the important occasion. The Rev. Tom Brabham, pastor, was in charge and was assisted by the church officers.

The address of the day was delivered by Dr. J. W. Hunt, president of McMurry College of Abilene, who is conducting an evangelistic meeting here. The theme of his sermon was "Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God", the words of Jesus found in the Gospel of St. Matthew, 4:4, upon which he based his address, "Eighty per cent of Life". He spoke in part as follows:

"Some men needs to write a book on the Gospel for the age of progress. This is the most prosperous nation ever known in the history of the world. Our national wealth is estimated between three hundred and twenty and four hundred billion dollars. We are richer than any other eight nations combined. Christ Jesus preached more on the dangers of wealth and the right use of money than any other subject, and yet the people to whom He preached were so poor compared to the United States, that they were like Lazarus lying at Dives gate. "If He preached to them so much on this question, how much more should an awakened ministry preach to this age and this nation on the dangers of material prosperity and the utter apothecosis of the material."

"In the word 'Bread' the saviour embraced the whole physical economy of life—food, shelter, clothing, position, power. He assured us our Heavenly Father knoweth we have need of these things, but warned us against the utter exclusion of life's higher demands. The entire pressure of this age is on the acquisitive instinct. The magazines are advertising, 'Cultivate your personality—make fifty thousand dollars a year.' When Professor Stenbeck discovered Vitamine D, and refused to sell the secret to a corporation for two millions of dollars, preferring to give the secret to suffering humanity without price he lost a great opportunity, according to this money, graft-mad age to cultivate his personality to the tune of two million dollars."

"I cannot repeat all words God has spoken, but four will suffice for this morning's lesson—Beauty, Knowledge, Love and Worship. "Money can buy great pipe organs, grand pianos and glorious violins, but all the money in the world cannot buy one scintilla of the artistic sense of enjoyment." "Knowledge is power. To it belongs the keys of life and death. The Bible says: 'Our God is a God of Knowledge. By His knowledge the depths are broken up and the clouds drop down the dew.' "Is not love worth something? The little fingers that tangle themselves in your heart? The tender light in a good woman's eyes a wife or a mother, or a sister—calm and saint like pools of paradise, speaking of love undying, real and true. Can money buy that? "The divinest moment in life is the moment of the worship and adoration of God. Beyond all earthly values, it lifts one to celestial realms, and to a fellowship and communion, like that of Heaven."

"Lord if to me thy Voice has spoken If that dread whisper all my soul has stirred— I dare not keep the silence thou has broken; Henceforth I yearn and strive to tell thy word. What if I give my all to this endeavor— Youth fade, strength perish, life itself be spent. I shall have heard the Voice that speaks forever And dying to obey—I did Content."

The musical program was an important part of the service. The large and well trained choir of the church, directed by R. B. Fisher, sang two very beautiful anthems, in addition to the more familiar hymns. These were "The Church's One Foundation" and "Hark Hark My Soul." Mrs. L. N. McCullough, contralto, and Mrs. Lewis Williams, soprano, carried the solo parts of the latter. Mrs. R. R. Jones, mezzo soprano, sang the one other vocal solo of the morning, "O, Divine Redeemer."

A last perfect detail to the musical program and, indeed, to the service itself, were the full-voted notes from the church's splendid organ. Joe Simpson played the accompaniment to all vocal numbers and two solos. Handel's "Largo" was played as a prelude to the service and Gounod's "La Chanson," as the offertory. Many heard the organ for the first time in the dedication program, and for them the instrumental music was not the least impressive portion of the service.

At the conclusion of the sermon, sixteen persons became members of the church.

Prairie Chickens Not as Abundant As Was Expected

Local nimrods who have returned from a two-day hunt in the haunts of the prairie chickens report excellent hunting but not as abundant as expected. Because of the fact that Pampa merchants are not closing their places of business today many enthusiastic hunters will be unable to spend a day afield.

The limit on prairie chickens is ten during the season which closes September 10. Four Panhandle counties are closed this season.

Doves are just arriving in droves and within a few days it will not be difficult to bag the limit which is fifteen in one day and 45 a week.

Game wardens announce the shooting from automobiles and with an artificial light is against the law and that offenders will be prosecuted. Several extra game wardens have been placed in the fields in the Panhandle to see that the law is not violated.

Ship Goes Down After Ten-Foot Cruise Is Made

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—(P)—The good ship Fish Pans Club, fairly good, at least, almost put to sea yesterday, to Lake Michigan, anyway. She'd have made it, except she sank after a 10 foot cruise.

It was the ship's first voyage in the six years, since she entered Belmont Harbor and the political arena via William Hale Thompson's mayoralty campaign. Her jolly crew of 1,700 enlisted with the avowed intent of putting fish back in Illinois streams and Thompson back in the city hall. Of late the ship hasn't been what she used to be. The park commissioners called her an eyesore and ordered her out of the harbor. Yesterday the craft tried to obey the order, but the keel fell off and water rushed into the hold.

State representative Thomas A. O'Grady, who is president of the fish fans' club, said: "Did she sink? Let her stay sunk. Our creditors can have her."

Pampa Men Elected To State 40 and 8 Offices

At the left is Dr. R. A. Webb, commander of the local post 334 of the American Legion, who was elected Grand Conductor of the state 40 and 8. Then center figure is J. A. Pearson, raised to the office of Grand Chief de Train. On the right is Thos. E. Darby appointed Grand Alternate of the 40 and 8.

Three members of Locale Vulture 953, 40 and 8, were elected to high office in the state organization at the American Legion convention just ended in Texarkana. Eleven members of the local post made the trip to Texarkana and members of the 40 and 8 were the official state Wrecking crew at the convention.

The local men who were elected to office were J. A. Pearson, who was raised from the office of Sous Grand Chef de Train to that of Grand Chef de Train, Dr. R. A. Webb who was appointed Grand Conductor of the state

40 and 8, and Thomas E. Darby who was given the honorary office of Grand Alternate at the National Conventions.

Mrs. W. H. Lang, president of the local post made the trip to Texarkana and members of the 40 and 8 were the official state Wrecking crew at the convention.

E. M. Ladd of Fort Worth, state officer of the 40 and 8 stated that never in his experience as a delegate at a division convention had he seen more publicity given and courtesy treatment afforded than given by the Pampa Daily News at the 9th Division convention recently held in Pampa.

Local delegates were: Dr. R. A. Webb, J. A. Pearson, T. E. Darby, R. E. Zogg, L. P. Sills, A. C. Sailor, C. G. Otterback, O. F. McConnell, Frank Horner, L. B. Prohart, and R. E. Gilbert. Mrs. R. A. Webb and Mrs. J. A. Pearson represented the local auxiliary.

County Tax Rate Raised 70 Cents For Road Bonds

The Gray county tax rate and levy for 1928 has been calculated and adjusted by the county commissioners in session last week and was set at $1.65 on each $100. The state levy is 3 cents lower this year or a reduction from 47 to 64 cents.

It is expected that the county valuations will far exceed that of last year. The valuation report will be ready about October 1. F. E. Leech, tax assessor says.

General Fund	25	25
Jury tax levy	15	15
Road and bridges	15	15
Court house and jail	25	25
Special roads	15	15
Road bonds	70	70
TOTAL	205	95

The tax levy is the same as last year with the exception of the 70 cents addition to care for the special road bonds voted in the county during the past year.

One Hurt When Engine Tender And Cars Derail

HOUSTON, Sept. 3.—(P)—An engine tender and two baggage cars of a Missouri Pacific train were overturned between Riviera and Ricardo at 5:15 a. m. today, reports to executive vice president H. R. Safford of the railroad.

Heavy rains softened the track bed, and the train jumped the rails near a bridge. About 500 feet of track was torn up and E. J. Esell, express messenger, was slightly cut and bruised. A sleeper and a chair car also were derailed and five pullman cars were left on the track.

All Missouri passenger trains to the Rio Grande Valley today were being routed via Robstown, over the Texas-Mexico line to Alice, thence over the Southern Pacific to the valley.

It was known that so many attractive offers had been received by the boy that his problem was chiefly which job to take. The only certainty in this connection was that John expected to be busy in New York very soon.

Wealthy New York Silk Manufacturer Commits Suicide

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—(P)—Charles K. Eagle, wealthy silk merchant and Sportsman, was found dead yesterday with a bullet wound in his left temple in the gymnasium of his beautiful penthouse villa on the roof of an upper west apartment house he owned and had built. Police said he committed suicide.

From his physician it was learned he had been suffering from insomnia, and police believed the long protracted illness of his wife also might have been a contributory cause of his suicide.

Mr. Eagle was 51 years old, the head of C. K. Eagle and company, which operated silk mills in Pennsylvania.

John Coolidge Off To New York Where He Plans To Work

SUPERIOR, Wis., Sept. 3.—(P)—Preparations for what may be John Coolidge's permanent separation from the home of his parents, cast a shadow of gloom over the summer White House today and accounted for most of the activities there, where bags and trunks were being packed for his journey east tonight.

Anticipating with great sorrow the departure of her son, on his way to find a job and to work out his own future, Mrs. Coolidge watched and helped in the packing of his luggage. As early as yesterday noon, at the church services at Brule, her eyes had glistened with tears when she had told John Taylor, blind preacher at the church, that after tomorrow her son would no longer be with her.

President Coolidge himself, although outwardly carrying out his usual daily routine, betrayed enough interest in arrangements for his son's departure to show how deeply he felt the oncoming separation.

The White House had refused to reveal exactly what John's destination would be and what plans for the immediate future he entertained. It was reported, however, that he would go first to Hartford, Conn., on his way to meet Miss Florence Trumbull, daughter of the governor of Connecticut, who is due back in a few days from a trip to Europe.

It was known that so many attractive offers had been received by the boy that his problem was chiefly which job to take. The only certainty in this connection was that John expected to be busy in New York very soon.

Theory Advanced That Explorers Might Be Alive

AGGUAISEPT, 3.—(P)—Reported sighting by Norwegian sealers of a bonfire in Edge Island, one of the Spitzbergen group, has raised the question here whether Ronald Amundsen and his five companions might not be alive. A float from the plane in which they flew to join in the Italia rescue work was brought to Tromsø, Norway, on Saturday leading to belief the men had perished.

Sealers who saw the bonfire a fortnight ago were quoted in a dispatch from Tromsø as expressing belief that the fire might be connected with the missing six men who drifted away in the balloon part of the Italia after the fatal crash on May 25.

2,000 Prisoners Set Free By New King

TIRANA, Albania, Sept. 3.—(P)—The doors of jail cells swung wide today and 2,000 prisoners were free by the first decree handed down by Albania's king, Ahmed Bey Zogu.

Having depopulated the jails, the monarch of a day then ordered bonuses of a month's salary to all state employees.

Albania ceased to be a republic Saturday.

Italy has recognized the new regime, being the first power to do so. The Italian government sent its minister at Tirana to congratulate Zogu in the name of Victor Emmanuel, King of Italy, Premier Mussolini and the Italian people. Other foreign diplomats have asked their governments for new credentials.

As the new monarch is single there are rumors of who will share his throne with him as queen. Among those mentioned are Princess Giovanna, daughter of the king of Italy, and the 19-year-old Princess Ileana of Rumania. Zogu is a Mohammedan.

Record Crowd Is Expected Here At C. of C. Convention

J. E. Biggs, assistant manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, now residing in Amarillo, was a visitor here Saturday. Mr. Biggs is visiting the towns and communities in the Panhandle territory of the W. T. C. C. in the interest of the Panhandle Plains convention to be held here September 10.

He predicts that one of the largest crowds ever attending a territory convention will be in Pampa. Some of the ablest speakers in the Panhandle will be here to make short addresses at both the morning and afternoon sessions.

Local registration will take place September 8 to save congestion the opening morning of the convention. The registration fee will be one dollar and will include the luncheon at the Pla-Mor auditorium.

Registration of Students Begins Here Thursday

The following is a statement issued by R. B. Fisher, principal of high school, regarding registration, chapel and the opening of school.

Registration of students in the Central high school will commence Thursday morning at 9 o'clock in the high school building.

1. The program of enrollment is as follows and must be strictly adhered to: Thursday—9 a. m. to noon, seniors. 1 p. m. to 4 p. m., juniors.

Friday—9 a. m. to noon, sophomores. 1 p. m. to 4 p. m., freshmen.

2. All new students should bring a transcript from their last school attended.

3. A. B. C. and C— are passing grades provided the final examination grade is not less than 60. A indicates 90 to 100, B, 80 to 90, C, 70 to 80. F is a failure. No condition grade will be given for a semester grade. If the subject is failed it must be repeated.

4. No credit will be given for less than two years of Spanish or Latin.

5. No pupil will be allowed to continue any extra curricular activity unless he is passing in three solid subjects.

6. A pupil may not classify in any subject more than one year above or below his classification without special permission from the principal.

7. Please remember that it takes a long time to change your program after school begins so think seriously of what you need and stick to it to the end.

8. Every high school student should study from one to two hours each night for five nights each week and leave social engagements for other times. Only the parents can compel the pupil to remain at home for study at night. Seventy-five percent of failures are traceable to laxity in home study.

12. All work missed due to absence of any kind must be made up without exception.

13. Inexcusable absence or tardiness will not be tolerated. Such pupils will be asked to withdraw.

14. Parents are kindly asked to help keep all children in regular attendance. The business of the world demands it so we must strain youth to meet the demand.

15. First chapel exercises will be held in the new First Methodist church Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock. All pupils in grades 8, 7, 8, 9, 10, and 11 must be present. Parents are cordially invited to attend.

Afternoon

Pampa's big Labor Day celebration started off with a bang this morning when the big parade left the labor union headquarters promptly at 9:30 o'clock. Led by the fire truck and the Groom Boys Band, resplendent in purple uniforms, the parade moved west on Foster avenue returning by way of Kingsmill, avenue, Ballard street and Cuyler street to the labor hall.

Following the band came American Legion members, representatives of the Pampa Business Men's association, Chamber of Commerce officials, carpenters union, plumbers union, painters union, cooks and waiters union, cleaners and pressers, barbers union, Eastern Star members, mechanics union and local merchants.

The Pampa band gave a smart concert on the grounds of the American Legion during the morning that was appreciated by a large crowd. Pete Bradford has gathered a talented number of musicians around him and with more practice will have a band that the city should be proud of.

The union organizations looked neat in their uniforms following their banners. The carpenters and painters were dressed in white overalls, the carpenters in black caps and the painters in white caps. The cooks and waiters in white uniforms were neat and snappy as were members of the cleaning and pressing profession.

At noon hundreds of local citizens and guests of labor unions gathered at the Pla-Mor auditorium where a big free barbecue was served.

The afternoon events began with speaking at the Pla-Mor auditorium to be followed by athletic events.

Beginning at 9 o'clock tonight a big free dance will be held in the Pla-Mor auditorium under the auspices of organized labor.

Musicians May Go Out In Chicago's Outlying Theatres

CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—(P)—Musicians in 300 outlying moving picture theatres had the word of Clarence Darrow, famous for his defense of Loeb-Leopold and Darwinism, that they were at liberty to quit work today, a federal injunction obtained by the theatre owners notwithstanding.

"Courts," Darrow said in an opinion prepared for the Chicago federation of musicians, "have no authority to compel anyone to work against his will, and this present order should not be construed as directing anyone to work against his will in the absence of a satisfactory contract of employment."

The contract under which approximately 750 musicians have been working expired last midnight. Orchestras and organists in downtown theatres are not affected, their contract still having a year to run.

James Pettilo, president of the musicians' union, issued no strike call, but he directed attention of union members to the Darrow opinion.

The temporary restraining order, issued last week by Federal Judge Wilkerson on petition of theatre owners, would restrict the musicians from "leaving or threatening to leave the employment of said complainant, either by way of strike or otherwise, unless with the consent of said complainant, for the purpose of forcing or coercing said complainant to agree to acquiesce in or comply with said demands or any of them."

Vacation Notes

JUAREZ, Old Mexico—A side from their inability to comprehend perfectly good college Spanish and their desire to butcher our English tongue if any language is to be mistreated, these Mexicans are a genial and interesting people. Invariably we address them in Spanish, and as often they reply in English.

Those who do not condescend to understand our Spanish and take it for granted we have the normal American predilections and point out the nearest bar. This usually is not a distinguished service, for these liquor dispensaries are in about every other building and each is plainly marked. Moreover, practically all of the cafes display signs reading "all drinks served".

The Mexican equivalent of Chamber of Commerce in Juarez has complete charge of the economic situation. Aside from a 25-cent toll at the Rio Grande bridge, there is no red tape concerned with driving into Mexico. Once there, every place is seen to evidence a desire to cater to visitors. Every article is marked in American terms, and American girls work in many of the shops. Clean cut young Mexicans speak English fluently, but many languages are apt to be heard in a few moments.

Wet Juarez is something of a novelty, as well as utility, to visiting Americans. Most of those who cross the border taste of the forbidden beverages, but if the business men are to be believed, the amount taken by each visitor is rather small. Drunkenness, with the exception of all-night drinking or dancing parties, is not prevalent.

Post card shops display the subtle suggestion: "While you are sober, write a post card home." Many do. You can mail a card anywhere and each shop has Mexican stamps for the convenience of patrons.

Of the Americans seen in Juarez, most of them were in family or larger groups, from widely separated points, and most of them were in the cafes and curio shops into which the writ sauntered. They were the average, good natured types, out for a good time and having plenty of success. The business section seemed to have the greatest attraction for all, although sightseeing trips about the city evoked much interest and not a few questions.

Juarez, despite its being a suburb of El Paso, is distinctively foreign. The historic old mission, built in 1659, the bull ring, Pancho Villa's headquarters, the market place, and the municipal buildings bring up vagrant memories of Southwestern history, and one wishes he had given more attention to school accounts of our neighbor to the south.

Not less interesting than El Paso, the verdant Rio Grande valley, so different from the desert to the northeast, and historic places about Juarez are the little things—such as the slow-pacing Mexican policemen and the ragged newsboy shouting the evening Spanish daily newspaper.

CAPITOL News

WASHINGTON — One of the things that now seems pretty obvious in this presidential campaign is that the professionals are going to keep away from the Tammany issue.

It's all right for the guerrillas, the camp followers and the unofficial spokesmen to yell blue murder because the Democratic candidate is a grand sachem of Tammany Hall, but the boys who occupy official positions of responsibility will find other subjects to discuss.

Apparently there is something almost like a gentleman's agreement in effect, based on the theory that pots which live in black shouldn't call kettles black.

For the sad truth is that despite the unquestionable probity of the two presidential candidates and despite the undeniable noble sentiments expressed in both major party platforms, both tickets must depend very importantly on the support of political machines which, if they are not corrupt, are commonly supposed to be.

However firmly they may be convinced of the wickedness of Tammany, the Republican campaigners are faced by the painful fact that in recent years it has been the wickedness of Republican machines in big cities which has been getting all the publicity.

It is quite true that one cannot go many years back into Tammany history without being forced to call for oxygen tanks, but it is also true that Tammany in recent years has kept its face washed regardless of what anyone might suggest about its neck.

One hears some funny things about Tammany's habits in presidential years, about the late George Brannan's tactics in Chicago, about Tom Taggart in Indiana and about the Democrats in Boston, but it has remained for the Republicans to prove themselves definitely as bad as painted.

All this, of course, does not indicate any downright iniquity on the part of the national political organizations, nor does it mean that the candidates are responsible for the nature of the support they have to have. But it does show why the Republicans probably will continue to go right on Tammany Hall and why the Democrats, in turn, will not go publicly poking into the sewers of its rivals.

Both candidates are on record against some of the worst features which figure in the strength of their own parties. Governor Al Smith, if he has not completely renovatgiven credit for fearless measures which have wiped off considerable mud and strengthened its self-respect.

For many decades Tammany engaged in the unholy alliance with the New York saloons, but now Smith has come out most emphatically against a return of the saloon under any condition.

Hoover, meanwhile, is reported to have decided to clean up the scandalous state of the Republican party in the south, which lives only on patronage—bought and sold—and is useful only to supply delegates of more or less easy virtue for manipulation at national conventions.

BARBS (By N.W.A. Service Inc.)

The scientist who bought cannibal mosquitoes to bring to this country to eat up the other mosquitoes has been forbidden to bring them, because "after they had aten the other mosquitoes they might begin attacking human beings for want of anything better to eat." Better, or worse.

Many a cute little cottage these days is covered not only with vines but plastered with mortgages.

The French minister of war wants the title of his department changed, "war" being too rough a word. Why not call him the Minister of Uncordial Relations?

An Ancient Street

There surely can be no more interesting study than that of civilizations never before touched upon by white man. Intriguing indeed is the report of the finding of an ancient Inca city in the dense forests of Peru.

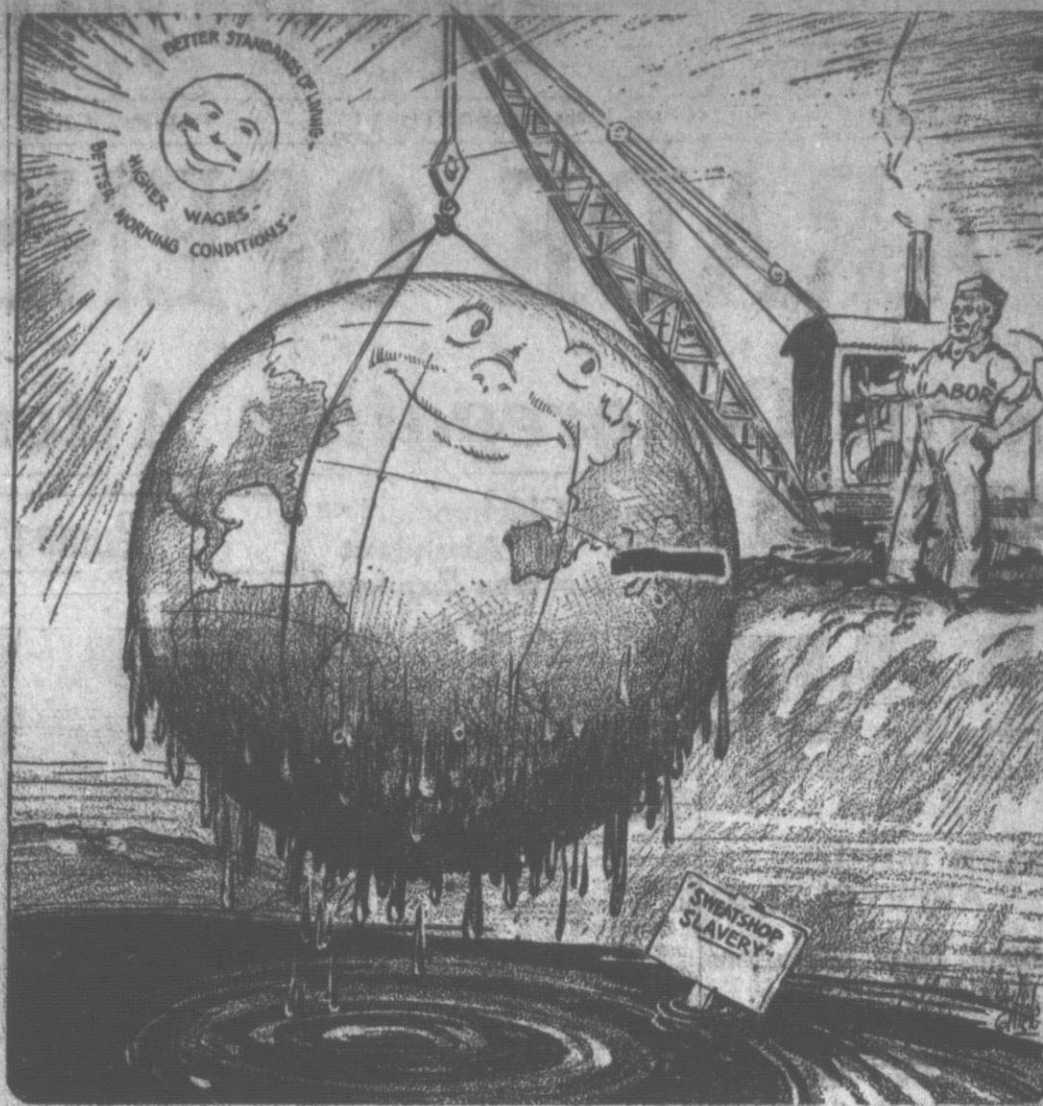

Although Francisco Pizarro and his little band of Spaniards conquered that area hundreds of years ago, it was a nominal conquest, and it is doubtful that Pizarro went far into the jungles. But now the Peruvian flag floats over a mountain city hitherto unknown.

Explorers, having swam a river, found a stone stairway leading up to the walls of a fortified town seen from a distance with binoculars. Fittingly enough, the observation was made from an Inca astronomical observatory. Inside the new city were found buildings of stone. Typical Inca architecture was everywhere apparent. It had been a well ordered city, and further explorations will no doubt be of great scientific and historical value.

We speak of the wonders and possibilities of North America, but we too little realize the importance from every aspect of the land to the south.

Panthers Win In Freak Ninth Inning Finish
(By The Associated Press.)
Galloway's Spudders, after running up a winning streak of eleven straight, saw Fort Worth scratch out on them yesterday in a sensational ninth inning finish. The Panthers, coming up in the last half of the ninth, faced a 4-0 handicap, but an error followed by an avalanche of base hits, allowed them to finish on the long end of a 5-4 count. The defeat reduced the Spudders lead to 7 1/2 games since the Houston Buffs split a double header with the San Antonio Beavers.
