PRICE FIVE CENTS

NEGRO SHOTS ANOTHER HERE

E. C. Cosey In Hospital Probably Fatally Wounded

E. C. Cosey, negro, said to live in Ardmore, Okla., is in the hospital probably fatally wounded as the result of a shooting affray in the west part of the city about 2 o'clock this afternoon. C. W. Williams, pastor of the negro Macedonia Baptist church here, gave himself up after the shooting saying that the Oklahoma negro broke up his home.

The wounded man received both barrels of a shot gun in the back at close range and attending physicians at the Pampa hospital where he was taken state that he will not recover as he is literally riddled with small shot.

The quarrel has been brewing for some time, officers of the police department say, and that this morning the parties concerned appeared before the justice of the peace.

Charges have been filed against Williams pending the result of Cosey's injuries.

Ruth Elder Sued For Divorce By "Abused" Husband

BALBOA, Canal Zone, Sept. 7.—(P)—Lyle Womack hopes to obtain an interdictory decree of divorce in December from Ruth Elder, who "chose a career rather than be a housewife."

Her failure to kiss him upon her return to New York after almost flying across the Atlantic is cited in his petition for divorce as a cause of much unhappiness. He charges that at this time she said to him in an undertone: "Don't be a fool."

Gravely injured in the petition and Womack understands the suit will not be contested. Although an interdictory decree may be obtained in December under the laws a full divorce cannot be granted before next June.

Womack's petition says his weight has been reduced, efficiency for work and health and reason endangered. He charges his wife's trans-Atlantic flight attempt caused him many sleepless nights. In a statement after the petition was filed he said:

"I would be delighted if she would return to me. But I begged her many times and she always refused. Nothing would have delighted me more than to love her dearly but now I see there is nothing else to be done than that which I am doing."

Ruth chose a career rather than be a housewife, and I have no other course."

The business at the local office is being handled by the same number of clerks as formerly.

McClesky Contests August 25 Primary In Precinct Three

H. C. McClesky, candidate for commissioner of precinct 3 in the recent Democratic primaries, yesterday filed notice of a contest of the second Democratic primary August 25 with the Democratic Executive committee attacking the validity and regularity of the nomination of Theo. O. Kirby as commissioner of that precinct. The successful candidate received nine votes majority over Mr. McClesky.

In his contest Mr. McClesky states that 43 ballots will be contested and the validity of the Hopkins box questioned as he claims in his petition that the election judge of that box failed to place his name on the back of the ballots.

He further states that two ballots were mutilated but counted for his opponent and that a certain number of unqualified voters were allowed to cast ballots in the election.

Second Anti-Smith Meeting Dismissed By Shower of Eggs

FORT PAYNE, Ala., Sept. 7.—(P)—The second north Alabama anti-Smith meeting within three days to be thus interrupted, a gathering here last night adjourned in confusion amid a barrage of eggs.

Addition of oranges to the supply of missiles and a fist fight served to enliven the proceedings.

Four deputy sheriffs restored order after escorting Henry Price, candidate for alderman, to his home. Price is said to have struck Raleigh Monroe, son of a prominent merchant, when Monroe cheered for Smith. Monroe, with an injured eye, was the only reported casualty.

R. H. Pegues, of Jackson county, was speaking at the time the first eggs were thrown. He struck the wall over his shoulder and Pegues retired immediately.

Dr. John R. Turner, presiding elder of the Albertville district, Methodist Episcopal church, the next speaker brought forth the main attack by Smith supporters when he asserted that "prohibitionists should vote for Hoover." Greens for Smith drowned his voice and he was prevented from completing his address by a shower of eggs and oranges.

On Tuesday night, Rev. George W. Wilburn, of Little Rock, Ark., was the target of egg tossers when he delivered an Anti-Smith speech at a meeting in Florence.

"Trails That Lead To The Alkali Bog" Subject Tonight

"Trails that lead to the Alkali Bog" will be the subject of Dr. J. W. Hunt, president of McMurry college, at the First Methodist church tonight at 8 o'clock. It is the story of a cowboy's experience on the plains of Texas and is the real interesting. A special invitation is tendered all cowboys or ex-cowboys in this territory to be present for this interesting address.

A section of the church has been reserved for members of the Pampa Daily News staff who will attend the lecture in a body.

There will be special music by Joe Chenot at the pipe organ and the choir under the leadership of George Chenot.

WHERE ROCKFORD FLYERS LANDED

Making their way over a 50-mile stretch of icy Greenland waste, the Rockford-to-Greenland flyers, Bert Hassell and Parker Cramer, were saved when they found a party of the University of Michigan's Greenland expedition near Mount Evans. The expedition, in the far north seeking the causes of storms and other weather data, took Hassell and Cramer to Mount Evans Observatory. A picture of the Michigan men at work, giving an idea of the kind of "landing field" the Rockford, Ill., flyers had, is shown above, with a map of the region where they landed, and Professor W. H. Hoobs, head of the university expedition, whose radio dispatch told the world of the flyers' safety after hope had practically been abandoned.

Greys Invited To Play Texon Team 3 Games

Manager Ed Gober of the Pampa Grays baseball club received a letter from the manager of the Texon Ball club, winners of the Denver tournament, asking that three game series between the two teams be arranged. He offered the local team $250 and supply rooms and board or the team during the three day stay in the Big Lake Oil town. The local team would have to provide their own transportation.

If there are three local baseball fans who will supply three large cars to take the club to Texon, for expenses, Gober will accept the challenge. It would mean much to the city of Pampa in publicity to meet the Texon team that has just defeated the Palestine Pals, winners of the East Texas league and the play-off with the San Angelo nine.

The local manager has a fast team and with Gus Eckthum, Slim French and Lefty Ward for box duty he is optimistic that his nine can win two of the three games and take 60 percent of the gate receipts.

The proposition received was to play September 14, 15 and 16.

Stories of the games played by the Texon team are appearing in all the leading Texas papers.

Gober is anxious to hear from anyone who is willing to help "put Pampa on the map" and willing to supply a car to take some of the boys to the games. Gober may be reached at the Pampa Athletic and Amusement club in the Brunow building.

All-Masonic Ball To Be At Pla-Mor Next Wednesday

An All-Masonic ball, sponsored by the Pampa Spring club, will be given at the Pla-Mor auditorium next Wednesday night, commencing at 8 o'clock.

An invitation is extended to all masons and members of their families to attend the biggest Masonic affair of the season. A $100 Spanish shawl will be given away during the evening.

Music will be furnished by Fody Austin and his recording band from Ft. Worth with soloists, quartet and feature numbers.

Committees Are Named To Help C. of C. Visitors

With the Panhandle-Plains division of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention meeting here Monday, day committee chairmen have been appointed to look after duties of the day, Mrs. J. M. McDonald has been appointed as chairman of the registration committee and assisted by a number of local ladies will have registration booths at the Chamber of Commerce rooms, the Rex theatre and in front of the Gray County State bank building.

Local citizens are requested to register at the Chamber of Commerce rooms Monday when delegates begin to arrive. The registration fee is $1 and entitles the registrant to attend the noon banquet at the Pla-Mor auditorium and to vote.

Mrs. J. M. Dodson has been appointed chairwoman of the entertainment committee to arrange entertainment during the banquet hour.

J. H. Laverder, I. E. Duncan and T. F. Smalling have been named as the committee in charge of the banquet at noon.

The reception committee, of about twenty men, will be headed by F. P. Reid, vice-president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. His committee has not yet been named.

Letters are being received daily from different towns in the district stating that large delegations would attend the convention here Monday.

The local Chamber is anxious that all the merchants in the city decorate their stores and windows for the occasion and place their flags in front of their places of business early Monday morning.

Speakers including Dr. J. A. Hill of Canyon, Judge W. R. Ely of Abilene, A. M. Bourland will be present.

Nation-Wide Rum Ring Uncovered In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.—(P)—Nation-wide ramifications of a Philadelphia rum ring were revealed by district attorney Monaghan today.

He said he had evidence ready for presentation to the grand jury investigating the activities of bootleggers and gangsters showing that within the last two years the bootleg ring of which Ma "Boo Boy" Hoff is alleged to be the head, had diverted more than 350,000 gallons of alcohol from a single distillery in this city "to all parts of the country." Hoff is a manager of prize fighters.

The prosecutor's announcement sharing interest with an eight-page statement alleged to have been made by Edward S. Goldberg, dealer in machine guns and ammunition, declaring Hoff had purchased from him three machine guns and a number of bullet-proof vests such as were used by bootleggers and gangsters.

Goldberg was released in $10,000 bail on a charge of perjury after he had dictated and signed the statement.

The perjury charge was lodged against him after his first appearance before the jury on Wednesday. Assistant district Attorney Schofield, speaking for his chief, said Goldberg had "lied because he was afraid of gang revenge."

"We have evidence," Mr. Monaghan said today, "of bootlegging on an immense scale, of enormous sums paid for corruption of policemen and police officials. And we now have further evidence that violence, machine guns, bullet-proof vests and intimidation go hand-in-hand with alcohol and murders on the highways."

"Documents in this office disclose diversion of more than 350,000 gallons of pure alcohol from a distilling plant in this city. It was shipped by railroad and truck to all parts of the United States, and this diversion was carried on by the bootleg ring which has been named throughout the grand jury investigation."

Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Hughes and daughter, Miss Fern, are visiting in Amarillo today.

Rivers In Three States Threaten Crops and Roads

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 7.—(P)—Rivers in Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina today were mounting above their banks to wreck destruction to highways and crops.

Worst conditions obtained probably in North Carolina, where hundreds of square miles of farm land were reported inundated, and thousands of bales of cotton damaged in flooded warehouses at Rockingham and elsewhere.

All main thoroughfares of the state were declared impassable in long stretches, while the Cape Fear river was 45 feet deep or 13 feet above its banks at Fayetteville, with indications of a 52 foot stage in the next 36 hours.

While more rain was expected today, conditions in North Carolina were not so serious, although 46 state highways were impassable, and many small dams were washed away in the Chesapeake county section. A total of 7.29 inches of rain fell was reported at Columbia during the last two days.

ROWLAND LEADS PILOTS TO FORT WORTH IN THIRD LAP TRANS-CONTINENTAL RACE

Several Airmen Drop Out Of Race Because Of Trouble—One Slightly Injured When Engine Explodes

FORT WORTH, Texas, Sept. 7.—(P)—Earl Rowland of Wichita, Kansas, flying a Cessna A. Monoplane, led trans-continental air racers into Fort Worth today from Kansas City. He landed at the municipal airport at 10:07 p. m.

Robert Duke of Pittsburgh, Pa., flying an American Moth, arrived second at 1:32:36 p. m.

City Inspector Reports Health Condition Good

Dr. T. J. Worrell, city inspector, has completed his second report since taking office and states that he is well pleased with the courteous response his efforts are receiving. "The persons with whom I have dealings are responding readily to suggestions made and the city is fast becoming clean and sanitary," Dr. Worrell stated this morning.

"Weeds have been cut in many instances where requested but many persons are tardy along that line. We have cut one tract of nearly 40 acres which has made a decided improvement in the looks of that section. The sooner that work is done the better our city will look and the more beautiful the homes made," Dr. Worrell continued.

He also announced that oil would be poured on all pools of stagnant water within the city limits unless drained by property owners. The pools are breeding places for swarms of mosquitoes which are infesting the residential sections and are carrying fever germs, he said.

Four cases of typhoid fever were reported during last month and an investigation made by the health officer. He reported that three of the cases originated in other cities, the fourth source of infection was untraceable. Sanitary conditions were recommended and those exposed provided with cavine and vaccinated.

Dairy herds numbering 147 were inspected and only two showed signs of tuberculosis. Two hundred head remain to be inspected this month.

All restaurants, butcher shops, etc., here were inspected twice during the past month and found in excellent condition.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 7.—(P)—Earl Rowland, Wichita, Kans., again set the race for the class A trans-continental fliers on the Wichita-Oklahoma City, leg, bringing his Cessna A. monoplane across the finish line at the Municipal air field at 10:47 a. m., today.

Robert Duke of Pittsburgh, Pa., flying an American Moth, continued to hold second position, landing at 11:13 a. m.

Rowland took off for Fort Worth the night control point, four minutes after Duke's landing.

WICHITA, KANS., Sept. 7.—(P)—Earl Rowland, Wichita pilot, led the class A fliers in the trans-continental air derby into his home airport here today, landing at 8:36 a. m.

Following Rowland and Duke came W. N. Emery, Jr., Bradford, Penn., in a traveler and Theodore W. Kenyon, Boston, in a challenger, maintaining the positions they have held since early in the race.

The position of other arrivals has changed, with some who were far back improving their places materially.

Dale G. Jackson, St. Louis, who left Columbus yesterday in his swallow plane in seventeenth position, arrived here in eighth. George W. Hopkins, Detroit, in a Stinson, who was forced down Wednesday by engine trouble, passed twenty planes on the way from Columbus to move up from twenty-ninth place to ninth. Arthur Phillips, Chicago, in a Waco came in twelfth after starting twenty fourth.

Four more of the original field of thirty-seven planes were forced out of the race yesterday.

The Crusis Robin plane piloted by D. R. Robertson, Anglum, Mo., crashed near Garbage, Ind., when the engine exploded and the ship caught fire. Robertson was injured slightly. J. W. Hunt, Moundsville, W. Va., flying a Lone Eagle, was forced by engine trouble to remain at Indianapolis. Harry Smedley and George Bennett, Kansas City, in an Eagle Rock, were halted by engine trouble at Shelbyville, Ind., eighty miles out of St. Louis. L. H. Connel, Wichita, Kans., landed his swallow in a stubble field, because of engine trouble.

Six planes were forced out of the race the first day.

Two Prisoners Meet Death In Electric Chair

HUNTSVILLE, Sept. 7.—(P)—Convicted of having attacked a San Antonio high school girl, Clemente Rodriguez and Esquel Servin calmly walked to the electric chair here early today in explanation of their crime.

Rodriguez, first to be electrocuted, was the calmer of the two. Smoking a cigar, he bade goodbye to other convicts along "death row." Just before he was seated in the chair he put his cigar on the small railing which separated the spectators from the chair and said: "I am sacrificing my life and trusting in God."

He kissed a crucifix held by Father M. P. Moriarty of San Antonio, at 12:26 a. m., he was pronounced dead, seven minutes after he was strapped in the chair.

Servin also bade other prisoners farewell and just before he was strapped in the chair said: "I am dying innocent. I am sacrificing my life and am trusting to God for mercy."

The prison physician pronounced him dead at 12:39 a. m.

Rodriguez is to be buried in the prison cemetery, while efforts are being made to locate relatives of Servin.

The men pleaded guilty to criminal assault in July, 1927, after three attacks on San Antonio high school girls and were sentenced to death. A third suspect, Enrique Mendosa, pleaded guilty to robbery and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Four Men Held For Murder Of 6-Year Old Boy

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—(P)—Four men under arrest today in investigation of the kidnaping and strangling of a six-year-old boy at Coney Island.

The body of Salvatore Santomaro was found in the rear of his brother-in-law's house wrapped in a burlap bag and covered with stones.

Four men were charged with homicide, including Luigi Panorella, husband of the boy's sister, a 15-year-old Panorella, police said, admitted kidnaping the boy in an effort to force his estranged wife to return to him, but blamed the other three men, Jerry Perino, John Marisco and Pasquale Borella, for the killing. The three denied the story.

Police said Panorella enticed Salvatore and his eight-year-old brother Thomas, to his home, intending to hold them hostage for his wife's affections. Thomas was allowed to return home but Salvatore was placed under the care of Panorella's three friends. Panorella said the three murdered the boy and then gave him the body to dispose of.

Al Hatcher and Lafa Casey were business visitors in Canadian yesterday.

Three Believed Buried Under a Coat of Hot Tar

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—(P)—Three workmen were believed to have perished under blazing hot tar spread over a portion of San Francisco bay last night by an explosion. Three others were injured and the woodwork of a $2,000,000 pier under construction was badly damaged.

The explosion occurred while a crew of about 20 men was applying the tar to the pier. A blow torch ignited a canister of tar and the ensuing blast threw the mixture in every direction.

Four men on a barge were forced to dive into the bay. Only one of these had been accounted for.

O. E. Binkley of Timewell, Ill., is attending to business in Pampa today.

WACO, Sept. 7.—(P)—Godfrey Burger, 67, who disappeared 30 years ago and was thought dead, returned this week to his old home at Burlington, Milan county.

His only surviving relatives are nieces and nephews, who had thought for more than a quarter of a century their uncle was dead.

Burger revealed he has been living on a ranch near Brady, Texas, for many years.

CARLSBAD, N. M.—Carlsbad cavern is so overwhelming in its immensity and beauty that one emerges from it as from another world.

Yet withal the writer was not so much affected by the formations as by the hugeness of the subterranean chambers. Take the Big Room for instance, and picture mentally, if you can, an irregular auditorium nearly a block wide or wider, a block high, and three quarters of a mile long.

The eerie beams from a score of lanterns, augmented by the glare of spotlights focused on particularly interesting spots, bring from darkness a picture very unreal to the longtime Plainsman.

visitors are now allowed to patrol. Two hours is required to see the Big Room alone. The last half is far prettier, and it effectively silences natural-born critics who feign to see no superiorities but size prior to that portion.

The King's Palace is the writer's idea of all that a cave could possibly be. Possibly 250 feet in diameter, with a perfectly oval dome ceiling, level floor, and few columns, it is the jewel room of sparkling colors and formations.

Frears appearing in the formations suggest many things which arouse interest and amusement as the long line of sightseers snake their way through the cavern.

Having seen all their minds could contain and their tired bodies move to survey, several hundred of the writer's party withdrew and assembled in a natural auditorium balcony several hundred feet above.

The songs ended, the now weary pilgrims of the deep welcome the sight of stairways, even though a dozen long flights of fatiguing climbs are awaiting before the crater-like entrance is reached and the bright shaft of light breaks the sense of reality in one's imagination.

Lest some Pagan carry a relic, a government agent searches the visitors as they file slowly upward, and heavy fines are assessed for violations of warnings not to touch or remove anything.

Whence came Carlsbad cavern? The United States Geological Survey has a theory embodying the mechanical and chemical power of water. Millions of years ago, great quantities of water had to escape somehow.

Not being able to support itself, the ceiling began to cave off, blocks of stone weighing hundreds of tons falling to the floor or the caves.

Where the bulk of the water went is a mystery that may be solved when the remote ends of the cavern are found.

Carlsbad cavern has no ingenious rocks or other evidences of volcanic action. It is the product of unknown ages, when water was more plentiful in the Southwest than it is now.

WHIRLWIND BY ELEANOR EARLY

THIS HAS HAPPENED SYBIL THORNE, who knows a good deal about men, meets RICHARD EUSTIS, an astounding person, who proceeds to make immediate and passionate love. They are on their way to Cuba, where Sybil has planned to settle quietly concerning her matrimonial marriage with CRAIG NEWELL.

"Come in," she called. And when he opened the door—"Well, if it isn't God's little gift to women!"

CHAPTER XIII EUSTIS was making frantic love to Sybil, and everyone aboard was watching the progress of the affair with the avid interest of people who have nothing else to do.

"Don't think," besought Mabel, "that it's just a case of sour grapes—but, honestly, Sib, I think you'd be an awful chump if you threw Craig over."

"Who said I was going to? Anyhow, you thought Rich was pretty special yourself."

"I know I did, dear. And I do think he's absolutely fascinating. But he hasn't Craig's stability, Sybil. He's a sort of drifter. Oh, please don't misunderstand me, honey. I think as a lover he's a perfect knockout. But as a husband—well, you know yourself. Sybil, how perfectly wonderful Craig would be. Do you think Richard would be as dependable?"

"If you think Craig's so wonderful why don't you try and get him yourself?"

Mabel flushed darkly and instantly Sybil was contrite.

"Oh, Mabel, I didn't mean that. Please forgive me. You're not angry, Mabel?"

"Yes, I am. I'm darn good and sore. But you needn't worry. I'll mind my own business after this."

Mabel picked up a book and stalked from their stateroom in outraged dignity.

"There's one thing certain," she reflected grimly, "I'm in for a devil of a trip. Serves me right, running around with flappers. A love-sick kid on my hands—God help me!"

EUSTIS knocked on Sybil's door. "Come in," she called. And when he opened the door—"Well, if it isn't God's little gift to women! And how's my blue-eyed baby this morning?"

"Sybil, be serious. Where's Mabel?"

"Out on the deck, with a book and a crutch."

to you, away from all the good ladies and holy men. "Go read your little book on etiquette. Don't you know gentlemen never invade a lady's boudoir? Besides, I haven't my mouth on yet."

He kissed her on the lips. "There—that's better for them than a lip stick. How much longer are you going to kid me along, Sybil?"

"How inelegantly the gentleman talks!" She nestled against his shoulder. "If Mabel comes in, she'll have a fit. If the steward shows up, you'll be fit to tip him. This is outrageous."

"You like it, don't you?" He held her very close. "Love it... Oh, my dear, you'll choke me!"

ALWAYS, from love and kisses, their conversation turned to marriage. Richard, in laughing, modernistic fashion, condemned it soundly.

"But, my darling," he told her now, releasing her lips lingeringly. "I'd almost marry you—I swear I would."

"I suppose," she hazarded lightly. "If it was the only way you could have me, you might be induced to consider it."

"Exactly," he agreed. "A man will do anything if he wants a woman badly enough."

"And you want me that bad?" she taunted. "I want you," he told her solemnly, "so much that it's an ache in my bones. A hungry gnat eats me at night and day."

He took her in his arms, and when she clung to him trembling, he whispered softly: "It's holding you, dear—like this—it's enough to make me or any man drunk. Don't you know that?"

She drew herself away, and pouring water from the decanter, drank it slowly. When she put the glass down her voice was steady.

"No man ever made love like this to me before who didn't want to marry me," she remarked slowly. "You make me feel sort of defiled. I don't like it."

Deliberately she powdered her nose and touched her lips. When she had inspected herself critically in the mirror, she pulled on a small felt hat.

"Come up on deck," she invited. "Bedrooms, all heavy with powder and scent, nauseate me. It's almost eleven. They'll be serving broth in a few minutes."

They found their chairs, and when he had slipped a pillow beneath her head, he stretched indolently beside her.

"You mustn't think," she began acidly, continuing their conversation where they had left it off, "that I'm trying to worm a proposal out of you. Because I wouldn't marry you for the world."

He reached for her fingers. "You know," he told her, "that you possess me entirely."

"Fiddlesticks!" she retorted, and snatched her hand away. "I never did ask a girl to marry me," he remarked ruminatively. "I've always thought of marriage as a sort of a trap. And of course it's desire that springs the thing."

SHE said nothing. "I'd make such a rotten husband," he continued speculatively. "I'm much too brilliant."

And when she flashed him a look of withering scorn, he rallied his defenses humorously. "Morons makes the best husbands, you know, Sybil. I've always said so. Look at the awful things marriage does to clever people. I've seen lots of fine, promising fellows—"

"I hold no brief for marriage," she interrupted him primly. "And your views don't interest me a bit."

"But they ought to!" he protested. "Everyone's interested in marriage. To marry happily one needs a single track mind—now I know what I'm talking about, Sybil. You'd better listen."

"I won't!" she snapped, and put her fingers in her ears.

"Oh, well," Richard shrugged indifferently. And when she had taken her hands away, remarked casually, "You'd make a rotten wife yourself you know, darling."

"Why?" she demanded. "You're not stupid enough," he told her cheerfully. "Gente, fruitful women make the best wives."

"I'm gentle," she told him. "And I must be dreadfully stupid, or I wouldn't put up with you."

"Oh, no," he contradicted gently. "You're not stupid, Sybil. You are a very highly strung, sensitized bit of organism, utterly unsuited for anything so tranquil as matrimony. You ought to be clever enough to see that, my dear. If you must get married, cultivate placidity."

"Oh, please!" she besought. "I don't want to get married. Let's talk about something else."

LAZY days, and tropical nights. Cocktails and kisses. Love on a painted ocean. Moon and stars. And darkness all about.

They stood on the boat deck, deserted at midnight; and leaning over the rail, watched the phosphorescent water gleam like molten silver.

"It's magical!" Sybil cried. "It's the loveliest thing I ever saw. Every blessed wave has turned to silver! What made them, Richard?"

"The water," he informed her, "emits light without sensible heat. The chemical properties—"

"I told you!" she interrupted gaily. "Of course it's magic. There's no such thing as light without heat. It's only make-believe. It's water sprites weaving tapestries for Neptune. Or maybe it's the ocean turned upside down, and that's its silver carpet."

"Anyhow it's enchanted. It's the loveliest light in the world. Oh, Rich, I feel bewitched! It's full of sorcery. Lovely, lovely night."

"My dear," he answered, "you make me think of a beautiful poem. It must have been written for a girl like you on a night like this. He repeated the lines softly.

"She walks in beauty, like the night Of cloudless climes and starry skies; And all that's best of dark and bright Meet in her aspect and her eyes: Thus mellow'd to that tender light Which Heaven to gaudy day denies."

When he had finished, there was that thick, heavy silence that closes about lovers everywhere, who stand beneath the moon. And when he spoke again he whispered, as lovers always do at midnight, "Only a few more hours!"

"If we could make life stand still!" she murmured. "It's been so wonderful."

"We're docking before noon," he replied. His voice was dull with misery. "And I'll never, never see you again!" She tried to say it lightly. (To Be Continued)

(Richard actually asks Sybil to marry him! And that is not the only surprising thing that happens in the next chapter.)

Cards Win From The 1927 Champs In Tenth Inning

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

To their own impotence against the St. Louis Cardinals, as much as to any other one factor, can the Pittsburgh Pirates blame their fifth place standing in the national league where they were ranked 1-2-3 by virtually every baseball expert in the country before the 1928 campaign opened.

Donie Bush's 1927 champions engaged the league-leaders in mortal combat yesterday for the 19th time and for the 14th time had only a defeat to show for their efforts.

Grimes, who ran up a string of 22 victories without a whole lot of trouble, is finding No. 23 his jinx. He tried for it again yesterday and apparently had it when Harper, a pinch hitter, socked the ball into the right field stands in the last half of the tenth, and scored behind Jimmy Wilson with the run that gave the Cards the game, 4 to 3.

With all other National league teams idle, St. Louis increased its lead over the second place New York Giants to four and a half games.

In the only American league contest, Alphonse Thomas pitched the Chicago White Sox to a 2 to 1 victory over the Detroit Tigers. All the scoring was done in the first inning. After that, Thomas and Johnny Miljus were invincible. The Sox, by virtue of their triumph, moved back into a fourth place tie with the Washington Senators.

Rain halted the Yankee-Senator game at the Yankee stadium but it couldn't prevent 5,000 fans from lining up outside Yankee headquarters in search of tickets for the crucial New York-Philadelphia series which starts with a double-header here Sunday. Most of these dyed-in-the-wool fans got nothing for their pains but the information that all the reserved seats already had been disposed of and that they could do some more waiting at the stadium Sunday when 40,000 tickets go on sale.

Young Stribling Is Bidding Strong For Vacant Throne

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—(AP)—W. L. (Young) Stribling, of Georgia, has taken the first step on the long trail that leads to the now vacant heavyweight title. He made his debut as a heavyweight at Madison Square Garden last night by battering Johnny Squires, of South Africa, in technical knockout defeat in less than two rounds of fighting.

With a few sharp punches Stribling had Squires groggy in the first round, only the bell saving the South African from the ignominy of a one-round knockout. In the second round, Stribling sailed into his virtually helpless opponent and beat him down for good after only 44 seconds of fighting in that stanza.

Spuders Take Two Games From Dallas Steers

(By The Associated Press.)

Wichita Falls won two ball games and a day of rest from Dallas yesterday while Houston, which will meet the Spuders in the Texas league playoff, saw their star hurler beaten by a rookie college pitcher at Waco.

The Spuders, supposedly weak against a left hander, got six hits, four walks, and a wild pitch, and had one man hit by the pitcher in the two official innings Ray Pierce worked for Dallas. He was taken out in the third with none out, but the Spuders had sufficient lead to win 9 to 2. Galerla, a rookie from the West Texas League allowed only five hits in the second game, and Wichita Falls won 5 to 0.

Hallahan gave eight hits and six walks to the Wacoans while Ace Elliot, University of Michigan rookie, held Houston to three hits. Waco won 4 to 0.

Shreveport manufactured three runs out of eight hits and Fort Worth was able to make only one run from the three hits that they gleaned from Pitcher Brown.

Beaumont shut San Antonio out, 6 to 0, scoring six hits off of Glasser in the ninth inning.

His Neck Broken But Grid Player To Try For Team

LEXINGTON, Ky., (AP)—Ben Riley Martin refuses to allow a broken neck to interfere with his athletic career.

The former Denver, Colo., high school athlete, now a student at the University of Kentucky, expects to play on the Wildcat football team this season.

During scrimmage on the freshman team last fall he cracked two vertebrae of his neck and was forced to wear a plaster cast for two months. He played basketball during the past winter.

On the day Martin was relieved of his cast, Frank Phipps, varsity full-back, received a similar injury and survived.

Martin won eight letters during his scholastic career.

CHURCHES

CHURCH OF CHRIST

We had reasons to be pleased with the revival which closed Aug. 29th. There were nine additions to the congregation. We had the largest audience ever attending and they were on the increase to the close with the exception of the three unfavorable evenings.

Now, for better things in our general work! We should be more attentive to all the work of the church than ever.

Special subjects for Sept. 9th are: "How I May Know I am a Christian" and "How Others May Know I am a Christian." These are vital subjects and we hope not only to have all the members out but that we may have all others who are interested to be with us for both these sermons.

Are you losing interest in your profession? Do you wish to plunge into the darkness of unbelief, and "renounce God to the face" as Satan tried to get you to do? Then call a halt now and turn your heart back to God. Religion is lost by slipping. Some day you will be surprised to awaken to the discovery that your faith is completely gone. Remember the admonition of the Lord: "For it is impossible for those who were once enlightened, and have tasted of the heavenly gift, and were made partakers of the Holy Spirit, and have tasted the good word of God, and the power of the age to come, if they shall fall away, to renew them again unto repentance: seeing they crucify to themselves the Son of God afresh, and put Him to an open shame."

"How shall we escape if we neglect so great a salvation?" Let us have a record crowd to both meetings Sunday.

C. C. MERRITT, Minister.

Republican's Past 8-Year Record Is Directly Attacked

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 7.—(AP)—The eight-year record of Republicanism at Washington came in for attack by Senator Robinson in opening a three-day speaking drive through Tennessee—the one Southern state so far selected by Herbert Hoover for a campaign address.

Using direct phraseology as was employed at Dallas and Cisco, Texas, the Democratic vice presidential nominee said he did not claim "sole credit" for all that was done by his party during the Wilson administration, but that it had conducted the government "far better, more honestly and more efficiently" than the Republicans had under Harding and Coolidge.

After a journey to the hermitage, home of Andrew Jackson and one of the shrines of democracy, Mr. Robinson here declared last night that Governor Smith, the party's 1924 presidential nominee, by his "utterances and official acts" was entitled to mention among the great leaders of the party once leader by Jackson.

The Senator said that, while making "no attack on the personal character" of either Harding or Coolidge, he doubted if an "unprejudiced and reliable survey of the last eight years will fail to arouse enthusiasm in any patriotic bosom because the method in which the details of the government's business has been transacted."

The vice presidential nominee left today for Chattanooga where tonight he will deliver the second address scheduled for Tennessee. The third and last speech will be at Knoxville Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Sailor left yesterday for their home in Palacios, after a visit here with Mrs. Sailor's mother, Mrs. C. P. Woodward.

Canadian Children Give Their Blood To Aid Paralysis

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 7.—(AP)—Children of two cities in Canada have come to the aid of the infantile paralysis sufferers in Manitoba.

After the disease had claimed 13 lives from among 116 cases reported since mid-July, sufferers today awaited arrival of a special train from Toronto and a train from Edmonton bearing serum made from the blood of former sufferers in those two cities. The aid follows requests by Winnipeg health authorities.

The train from Toronto was engaged to carry sufficient serum to treat 25 cases, and with the assistance from Edmonton the authorities hoped to speed an already noticeable decrease in the number of cases.

The disease has broken out in Saskatchewan, and one death has already been reported from the Rocheglen district where a one-year old girl died after an illness of four days.

Mrs. Gertrude Dial and daughter, Miss Elizabeth, and Miss Flora Sieber of Miami chopped in Pampa yesterday.

Hoover Prepares Four Addresses Very Carefully

Associated Press Staff Writer
 WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Business and economic conditions, the tariff, water power, industrial problems and labor will be the central themes of the four speeches that Herbert Hoover will deliver in his campaigning in the East and South.

Prohibition, generally regarded as the outstanding issue of the presidential contest, may be treated in one of the addresses which the Republican candidate will deliver in his final drive as he swings back across the continent to his California home.

Meantime, a series of statements dealing with this subject will be issued through Republican national headquarters here. The first of these will be made public this week under present plans.

Hoover's decision to limit to four the number of his speeches on the Atlantic seaboard has puzzled his party leaders and the public alike, but to those who know the man and his methods the explanation is comparatively simple.

It is not that he is adverse to public speaking and facing crowds; the answer is found in the time he devotes to the preparation of each address and his abiding conviction that it is better to speak infrequently and well than it is to speak frequently and not so well.

Since starting out in quest of his first elective office, the Republican candidate has developed a literary style peculiarly his own and in some respects as unique as some of the ideas he has brought to the conduct of the campaign, ideas that have shocked some of the old timers in the game of politics.

His vehicles of expression rather delight his advisors and when they are called upon to review the results of his efforts they are careful to leave intact the somewhat peculiar but nevertheless forceful phrases he evolves as he works in the quiet night hours in his study.

Perhaps few candidates for the presidency within the last generation have devoted more time and pains to the preparation of addresses than Hoover. He writes and rewrites, edits, and edits until each sentence and each phrase is entirely to his liking.

Extensive Hunt Is Made For Missing Mission Treasurer

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 7.—(AP)—Detectives today were hoarding information which they hoped would lead to a trace of Clinton S. Carnes, missing treasurer of the Southern Baptist home mission board, whose disappearance led to the discovery of a $1,000,000 shortage in missions funds. Although there were revealed publicly no actual clues to his whereabouts, Atlanta police and private operatives were believed to be centering their investigation of Carnes' whereabouts in the vicinity of Richmond.

From Raleigh, N. C., came a statement that actual assets of the board as tentatively established by a hasty audit of the books were $2,500,000 against liabilities of $2,425,231. The statement was issued by Dr. Charles E. Madry, general secretary of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina on his return from the joint church committee meeting in Atlanta. Assets set up in the books Mr. Madry said were $4,278,549.68.

Reorganization of the board proceeded yesterday with the release of Dr. Arch C. Cree, secretary of the Georgia Baptist Convention from his state duties, to act for 60 days as executive secretary of the home board. Dr. B. D. Gray, who held that position for 25 years, has been made treasurer succeeding Carnes for 60 days, and secretary emeritus of the board, without responsibilities.

Dr. T. J. Worrell, city inspector, made a business trip to Amarillo today. Mrs. Leonard Wiegman and Mrs. G. E. Dull are in Amarillo today.

Use of Gas May Make Two Crops For One Season

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Having passed lilacs into blooming before their time, Dr. F. E. Denny, research director of the Boyce Thompson institute at Yonkers, believes it possible to produce two crops a season.

Dr. Denny told members of the society of chemical industry that chemical treatment of certain plants during the annual dormancy or "rest period" had almost the effect of an alarm clock upon a sleeping person. The plants, he said, were thus awakened almost immediately to vigorous growth during the several months nature had set aside as time for their relaxation.

By placing lilacs in a room filled with chemical vapors for 24 to 48 hours he caused them to bloom before Christmas, he said, something they had never done before in this part of the country. He expects this season to produce a second crop of Irish potatoes from the red potatoes of the first crop.

Dr. Denny asserted that if these methods prove worthy of general adoption it would mean material gain for the farmer through two crops in a season, would enable the horticulturist to meet the Christmas demand for certain flowers not now obtainable at this season, and provide more liberal supplies of food and flowers for the public.

Potatoes, he said could be treated for 5 to 10 cents a bushel and plant for one to five cents a plant.

Mrs. A. R. Harolson of Denver, who has been here for the past three weeks as the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Ward, and her sister Mrs. Robert Morris, left Wednesday for her home. She was accompanied by Amarillo by Mr. and Mrs. Ward.

Ace High Club is Entertained at Pretty Bridge Party

One of the most enjoyable club meetings of recent date was the party given by Mrs. F. A. Hollenbeck, yesterday afternoon, when she entertained the Ace High bridge club. She included in her guest list a number of friends outside the club, whose presence gave the occasion added interest.

The rooms in which the card tables were placed were profusely decorated with sun-flowers and various colored zinnias. A rainbow color scheme of orchids, pink, green, and yellow, was developed in the prettily decorated bridge accessories, in the gift packages, and in two dainty refreshment courses.

Special guests at the party were Mrs. C. M. Carlock, Mrs. Paul Kaalsh, Mrs. Rogers, and Mrs. Hollenbeck's mother, Mrs. Shannahan of Kansas City. The following club members were present: Mrs. W. J. Lang, Mrs. M. D. Eden, Mrs. Jesse Stalls, Mrs. W. A. Trav, Mrs. Carl Taylor, Mrs. Henry Lemons, Mrs. Douglass Day, and Mrs. Robert Chafin. High scores were made by Mrs. Carlock and Mrs. Stalls. Each received a charming favor, as did Mrs. Chafin, who made second high. Mrs. Eden was consoled for low score.

Smith and Robinson Described As "Wet Head" and "Dry Tail"

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 7.—(AP)—Dr. John Stratton, pastor of Calvary Baptist church, New York City, carried his anti-Smith campaign deeper into the Southland here last night, reiterating his stand that the New York Governor "is the deadliest foe to the moral forces in America today."

Speaking to an audience which filled the city's largest auditorium, Dr. Stratton urged voters to cast their ballots for Hoover. Once, while reading a lengthy synopsis of Gov. Smith's public record, the speaker was interrupted by an elderly woman who rose from her seat in the front row to shout: "You're just giving scandal, and it won't go here."

Dr. Stratton asked her to be seated, but she was escorted from the hall by members of the audience.

Gov. Smith was described as the "wet head," and Senator Robinson, Democratic vice presidential nominee, as the "dry tail," of the "Tammany and donkey," by the speaker, who added that he hoped to visit southeastern states and debate with Senator Robinson.
