POISON TRACE FOUND DURING EXAMINATION

CHEMISTS AT BAYLOR REPORT

Mysterious Mexia Case Is Second During Last Five Months

GATESVILLE, Sept. 18.—(P)—Formal charges of murder face Mrs. Willie Frazer of this city, whose step-daughter Adeline Frazer, died in Mexia Friday under mysterious circumstances just five months after her sister Callie had died of a strange ailment in Texarkana.

Mrs. Frazer has denied repeatedly that she had any connection with the death. In the meantime, chemists at Baylor university, Waco, have reported finding traces of poison in preliminary examination of the organs of the dead girl, sent them for analysis, but have not made a final report.

The first of the sisters to die succumbed to an unexplained illness which lasted only four days. She was living with an uncle near Texarkana. Physicians advised an autopsy at the time, but relatives demurred because of the expense and the coroner did not consider the evidences of poison were sufficient to warrant such an examination.

Adeline Frazer died Friday while staying with an aunt in Mexia. Mrs. Frazer, formerly Miss Willie Terrell, came here from Tennessee about a year ago and married the Leon Junction agent of the Cotton Belt railroad.

New Structure of Christian Church Goes Up Rapidly

Work on the Christian church educational building is progressing rapidly with the basement completed and carpenters laying the first floor forms today. The brick-layers will return to work tomorrow to start work on the first floor of the building. White facel brick will be used in the entire structure.

The educational building when completed will be three-stories high, including the basement, and will be 40 feet wide by 75 feet long. The basement will be used as a dining room and recreational room. The other two floors will have Sunday school and Bible class rooms, with an assembly hall on each floor.

Until the auditorium will be completed, services will be conducted in the large basement of the educational building.

The auditorium planned will be 40 feet wide by 90 feet long and will be built of white brick of the same type the educational building. The board plans to take a loan on the building and erect the church building immediately, repaying the loan as the present site is sold.

According to the Rev. Jas. Todd, pastor of the church, a mass of the same material as the church buildings will be erected beside the church after its completion.

H. W. Hickman is the contractor in charge of construction.

J. S. Carricker left yesterday to spend his vacation in Detroit. Mrs. Carricker, Mrs. Les Porter, and the latter's daughter, Miss Ruth Barnhardt, will spend a few days in Carlsbad, N. M.

TURBINE PUMP OUT OF ORDER IN WELL NO. 6

Failure Cuts Production Plant Almost 50 Per Cent

REPAIRS WILL BE MADE AT ONCE

Sprinkling of Lawns to Be Halted for Few Days

Cooperation of the Pampa citizenship in curtailing use of city water for a few days until repairs can be made in pumping equipment was asked by City Manager F. M. Gwin.

Due to a yet undetermined cause, the submerged working parts of the turbine pump in Well No. 6 ceased to function last night. It will be necessary to lift this equipment to locate the trouble and make repairs. Well No. 3 temporarily out of commission while tubing is being pulled to make a slight repair. Failure of the two wells at the same time makes it necessary to cut down consumption until the equipment is again functioning.

Citizens are asked to cease sprinkling lawns or using water for any purpose not absolutely necessary. Well No. 6 has been furnishing nearly 50 per cent of the city's water, and when it is again working there will be ample water for all purposes.

Manager Gwin emphasized the fact that there is no shortage of water supply, but merely break-downs in equipment. The rapidly increasing demands of the city have cut down the reserve pumping capacity which obtained for a short time after the new wells were drilled last year.

D. L. McDonald, drilling the huge new well which he guarantees will furnish an abundant reserve supply, is still fishing for dropped casing. He will divert part of his efforts now to making repairs in pumping equipment. The older wells are being pumped day and night, and should, it is believed, furnish plenty of water for ordinary domestic use.

Childress Girl Killed as Picnic Car Turns Over

CHILDRESS, Sept. 18.—(P)—Florence Ivey, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Ivey of Childress, was killed here last night when an automobile in which she and five other girls were returning from a picnic overturned a mile from the city.

CITIZENS PROTEST LOWERING OF PAVING BELOW WALKS

Residents of North Frost street last night asked the city commission to run a new survey of a portion of the street, where the paving level is 30 inches or more below the ground level.

The original grade was raised 4 inches, and the city engineer declares it is impractical to raise it more. The curb and gutter work has been completed and the fine grading done on part of the street for immediate paving. The commission took the petition under advisement.

MASSACHUSETTS VOTING

BOSTON, Sept. 18.—(P)—An unusually heavy vote was expected at the polls today as members of both major parties reacted to the most active primary campaign Massachusetts has seen in years.

Mrs. Ciritha McConnell, who underwent a major operation at the Baylor hospital, Dallas, is reported to be well on the way to recovery.

BLOOD-STAINED AXES DUG UP BY OFFICERS

RIVERSIDE, Cal., Sept. 18.—(P)—A complaint charging Stuart G. Northcott, 29, with murder, was issued by the district attorney's office here after evidence substantiating further the story that four boys had been slain on the Northcott farm was furnished to Alfred Ford, district attorney.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 18.—(P)—Two more axes, stained with what police said was blood, were found on the Northcott farm near Riverside today, it was announced by diggers spading up the ground.

While spades of officers probed the three-acre farm uncovering evidence which alternately tended to support and disprove Sanford Clark's story, the lad piled on the already heavy load of accusations against his uncle the account of a plot to do away with a whole family.

This story gained quick corroboration. Young Clark told officers that Northcott last summer planned to kill a man named Dahl and his wife and lure them to the farm, last July. Clark said Northcott's plan was to add their four sons to his list of alleged torture and murder victims.

Among the bones found, police reported, was the knee cap of a small boy.

Place of America in Divine Plan Is Moore's Topic

"This country of ours has a responsibility of giving to the world a revelation of the divine. Are we aware of the opportunity? Are we building up in this world of today a consciousness of the leadership of God? Are the Christian prophets creating in America the sense of responsibility as a God-revealing nation?"

These are some of the searching questions asked by Bishop John M. Moore in his address at the First Methodist church this morning.

Fifteen verses of the poetical and richly colored sixth chapter of Isaiah were the scriptural inspiration of the address, in which Bishop Moore showed the positions of Israel in its day and the United States of America in this day as a chosen people, a nation through which the will of God should be interpreted to man and the kingdom of God established on earth.

"Arise, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee," is as applicable to America today as it was to ancient Israel, the preacher said. America with her almost unlimited wealth and unparalleled position of power among the nations has an opportunity as great as that of Israel for interpreting God to man, he said.

He pleaded that a sense of responsibility, of obligation, and of appreciation for the opportunity he fostered in America, as it was among the Israelites, who looked upon themselves as a nation whose sole purpose of existence was to reveal through their lives the will of God. In closing he asked, "What message are we delivering to the world? Do other nations look upon America as a nation that will do right, through the heaven Do they depend upon us for decent human honesty in our economic dealings? Can they?"

A large crowd of preachers and laymen from all parts of the Clarendon district of the Northwest conference, and local people heard the eminent bishop's sermon, which was delivered as the principal address of the Clarendon district institute in session here today.

Grover Malone, Neil McCullough, Don Wakeman, and J. O. Christie returned yesterday from a fishing trip to Red River.

Oklahoma Production Increases Over 20,000 Barrels Despite Proration

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 18.—(P)—Despite the conservation program in effect in Oklahoma, flush areas the current daily oil report for the United States during the week ending September 15, revealed Oklahoma with an increase of 20,565 barrels daily over that reported for the week September 8.

Nominal increases in practically all other areas, excepting West Texas and a few others, brought a total increase of 2,122 barrels over that of the preceding week. General decrease in heavy oil production is blamed for the nominal increase.

But little divergence was found in California and Western areas. According to the Oil and Gas journal's report, the total daily production for the week was 2,504,954 barrels.

TOPEKA, Sept. 18.—(P)—In failing to appear for its scheduled three-game series with Amarillo, the Omaha club forfeited the games, Dale Gear, president of the league, said today.

While he had not been advised officially of the Omaha club's failure to appear, Gear said action probably would be taken at a meeting of the club owners to be held at an unannounced city next week. He said the owners might decide to fine the club.

Injured Men Are Much Better Now

The conditions of George Lorton and Charlie Gott who were seriously burned in different explosions Sunday is much improved today, according to reports from the Pampa hospital where the men were taken.

Lorton was burned when the derrick on the Wilcox Oil and Gas company's No. 29 Worley-Reynolds in section 61, block 3, was burned to the ground. Gott was burned attempting to save the life of Lester Bell working for the Phillips Petroleum company on its No. 1 Johns in section 66, block 3.

ABANDONED WELL WAS NOT INITIALLY DRY HOLE

The Empire Gas and Fuel company's No. 1 J. M. Saunders in section 40, block 3, which is being plugged, was not a dry hole as reported yesterday, but came in early last fall for 160 barrels a day. The well flowed natural for some time but following a 400-quart shot bridged and never regained its flow.

Show of Oil Is Found West of Bowers-McGee Pool

A show of oil was picked up at 5 o'clock last night in the Edwards et al's No. 2 E. J. Case, 410 feet from the north line and 330 feet from the east line of section 182, block B-2, H and G. N. survey. The show was encountered while drilling ahead at 3,180 feet on top of lime. The well is shut down today awaiting orders.

More than 50,000,000 feet of gas was cased off from 2,500 to 2,710 feet. The 8-inch casing was set at 2,715 feet and drilling ahead carried on.

This location is five miles west of production in the Bowers-McGee pool. The same company has a 60,000,000-foot gas well in the same section.

The South Bend Oil company's No. 1 E. J. Case in section 180, block B-2, is drilling ahead at 3,300 feet without a show of oil. This location is a few hundred feet northeast of the Edwards et al's location.

Whoa, These Dog Stories Are Getting Wilder Each Day

Another dog story has been brought to the attention of the News but the authenticity of this one is questioned. The story follows:

Sam Fenners, well known local sportsman, has a small German police puppy recently purchased. Last week Sam had occasion to be out of town with no one to leave the dog in charge of it. It is said that Sam got seven plates on which he placed one day's food for said pup. On each plate he placed a card with the day of the week and the pup is alleged to have eaten only from the plate with the correct day marked upon it. No matter how hungry the pup was he did not eat from the plate marked for the following day.

WINKLER PLAN RETAINED BY RAILROAD COMMISSION

Low, his attorney, Major J. H. Clark of Windsor reported to local police, was kidnaped September 8, near Windsor and held prisoner for $35,000 ransom, shackled to a bed in a house near Thameville, Ont.

The brewer gained his liberty Sunday without paying the ransom but after guarantees had been executed that he would raise the money.

Tax-Dodging

The theory of taxation is to distribute the assessments among the property holders in proportion to the amount of real and personal property possessed. An examination of the tax renditions will show that the theory is not followed very closely, that equalization is only roughly approximate, and that many of the so-called prominent citizens of the country are hiding their assets.

Tangible property falls under the full scrutiny of the tax assessor, and therefore owners of this class of goods pay their just proportion of the expense of government. Intangible goods do not reveal the real status of the owner, and hence much personal property goes unrendered. Look over the personal property list some day. Take a few prominent names—of persons whose belongings you know fairly well—and see how much of their personal property is listed. The farmer, the owner of a place of business, and the average type of business man cannot hide their assets, and they have learned that it pays to keep their taxes paid and make the best settlement possible on the renditions. But it is not so of the man who has greater accumulations, some of which are invested in bonds, deposits, stocks, and other securities which may be kept secret.

This inequality of taxation will some day be remedied. There ought to be a law requiring all persons to list their personal property, with a penalty for hiding assets from tax assessors. Until this is done, the burden will continue to fall heaviest upon those who are least able to bear it.

Boards of equalization sometimes are criticized for favoritism, discrimination with regard to small and large property owners, and classes of property. It is imperative therefore, that members of such boards keep their findings clear of such charges and be able to defend their figures before any individual or group which may make comparisons. Tax dodging can grow out of this body, as well as through hiding of personal assets.

Taxes should not be considered as impositions upon the holders of property. The advantages of good government cannot be obtained free. The founders of this government determined upon taxation of property as the best basis for distributing the costs of governmental activities. Despite the progress that has been

WASHINGTON—Of all the unusual angles in the current presidential campaign, there is probably no more curious spectacle than that of each major political party being forced to carry water on both shoulders while walking the same tight-rope, with penalties for awkwardness.

While large numbers of voters are undoubtedly perplexed at the spectacle and many are as yet unable to decide how to vote, it is rather to be feared that some persons who do not take their politics very seriously are finding the campaign a source of amusement.

The lay citizen might feel somewhat embarrassed if he were to find himself in the seemingly awkward situation of either party, but successful politicians are notoriously and necessarily thick-skinned, and also experienced in the art of making one appeal to one segment of the electorate and an exactly opposite appeal to the rest.

There is a touch of the bizarre in a situation which finds the Republican vice-presidential candidate and a large number of eastern Republican newspapers and politicians in the east urging the voters to defeat Smith because he can't change the prohibition laws and at the same time reveals many Democratic spellbinders assuring voters that they can afford to vote for Smith—because he can't change the prohibition laws!

The answer is, of course, that it is good politics for the Republicans to tell the wets that Al offers no hope, and to tell the dries that he's a serious menace. It is equally good politics for the Democrats to tell the wets that Al will lead them out of the desert and to tell the dries that he would be hogtied.

None of Al's followers is trying to prove that he is actually a dry, after his unequivocal acceptance speech, but some of Herbert's wet friends have certainly tried to prove that he was one of them.

But if Al's forthrightness should seem to give him any moral edge on the prohibition issue, it may be offset by the fact that it's the Democrats who have had to hedge on made since that time, the basis of taxation has changed little. The peculiarities of modern business make tax revision expedient, yet changes in the fundamental law must be made slowly and cautiously. More complete enforcement of present statutes governing tax collection would improve matters.

farm relief. For, while the Republican leaders have boldly and unequivocally eschewed the McNary-Haugen bill and although that measure's strongest Republican supporters among office-holders have fallen back into the regular lines with promises to the farmers that Hoover can be depended on to help them, Smith and National Chairman Raskob have seemed to be flirting with the equalization fee as much as they dared.

The trouble is, of course, that while the Democrats are anxious to break into the agricultural states, any outright espousal of the McNary-Haugen plan would probably be ruinous in the large eastern cities, where Smith is especially strong. At the same time it is good politics for both parties to promise the farmers all they can afford to promise them. Mindful of 1932, it is a safe bet that whichever party is elected will undertake to effect some sort of farm relief.

Prince George, youngest son of the king of England, has been visiting in California. The movie press agents seem to have overlooked the important matter of offering him a contract.

It is feared recent rains destroyed the cherry trees along the Potomac in Washington. Most people who visit the national capital, however, are there seeking some sort of plums.

TWINKLES

Fun fer nothin'—Watching a Negro boy trying to think of his promised one's name to put on the marriage license, and on not being able to do so, having to hunt up the girl and bring her to County Clerk Charlie Thut.

Seen—young father holding up first-born son by fingers and remarking that said offspring was at tree-climbing age and that he came from monkey on daddy's side, but possibly not on mother's.

Look before you shoot, girls. A Texas man, killed by a California woman, was the "wrong man", but he'll never know it. Men do not crave that type of innocence.

We claim no merit for writing these things, but at least we have yet to break out into verse.

It looks to us as if prohibition is really no national issue, but what your theory on the subject is. Few seem worried over actual enforcement problems, which we hold more vital.

University and College Club Study Group Hears Lecture

Present day conditions in France were described by the Rev. E. Gaston Foote of White Deer at a meeting of the Study club of the Pampa branch of A. A. U. W. and College club yesterday afternoon. After briefly sketching the physical aspect of the country since the World War and the effect of the war upon the character of the French people, he explained the stand the nation has taken upon the several peace pacts that have been offered since the Armistice and told of France's great eagerness for an effective treaty whereby world peace will be assured. Mr. Foote said that in his recent studies in France he found that the French considered Woodrow Wilson's famous fourteen points as too binding to be practical or acceptable. The Kellogg pact they have greeted with open arms as the most hopeful solution of the international problem, regarding the idealization of peace which it embodies as more practical than hard and fast rules to maintain peace.

Rev. Foote returned a short time ago from a lengthy sojourn in Europe, during which he studied economic conditions and international relations. His address of yesterday was the first of a series by well known speakers which will be the special feature of the Study Club's three-month course in international relations.

Reading and musical numbers added to the interest of the meeting. Mrs. Foote, who is gifted in dramatic art, gave a clever character reading. Mrs. Earl Lewis sang a solo, for which Mrs. W. C. Upton played the piano accompaniment. Two other readings were given by Mrs. W. T. Fraser. The meeting was held at the Schneider hotel, with between twenty-five and thirty members present.

Grays Hold Cats to 8-4 Score at Borger Monday

Playing snappy baseball after the first inning behind sensational pitching of Slim French, the Pampa Grays held the Fort Worth Cats to an 8 to 4 score yesterday afternoon in Borger before a record crowd. Following a fatal first inning, when the Cats scored four runs after two men had been retired, French had the Panthers tamed with his shoots.

Because of absence of Sled Allen the veteran Buffalo Birds went behind the bat and caught a real game for Gopher clan. He also started at bat again with two safeties out of four trips to the plate. Rusty Cahill and Cherry both had a pair of hits off the slants of Lefty Johns, who was nipped for 12 hits during his stay on the mound.

In the field Seitz, playing the short-stop position, was easily the best man of both teams. The local flash was all over the diamond after hot drives and once went into left field to pull a sure hit out of the air. Cahill and Ketchum also played nice ball.

As in Sunday's encounter, short-stop Newton was the star of the Cats' win and was ably assisted by Jim Riley at first. Moore again did some heavy hitting.

The Cats left Borger for a series in Lubbock, to be followed by a three-game series with Texon, winner of the Denver tournament. The Cats are anxious to meet the Grays again and hope to arrange games in several cities at a later date. If the Grays make the trip to Paxton they will meet the Cats enroute.

The line-up for yesterday's game: Fort Worth Cats: Moore cf, Rawlins 3b, Riley 1b, Bonowitz lf, Herrington 2b, Newton ss, Walkup rf, Bischoff c, Johns p.

Pampa Grays: Hines c, Cherry 3b, Parkson lf, Seitz ss, Cahill 2b, Ayres rf, Stockton cf, Ketchum 1b, French p.

Wayland College Has Evidence of Greatest Year

PLAINVIEW, Sept. 17.—(Special)—Wayland has entered upon one of the best years in the history of the institution. The high type of students enrolled and the increase in number over former years indicate progress for Wayland in the future. The student enrollment has now passed the two hundred mark, with new students enrolling daily. There are still a number of former students who will return this week.

That Wayland's worth as a religious institution of the highest character is rapidly spreading is manifest in the fact that three students are enrolled from California and came all this distance expressly to attend Wayland. Students are enrolled from thirty different counties in Texas and from the states of Oklahoma, Kansas, Indiana, New Mexico, and California.

The dormitories are being filled to capacity and many classes have had to be divided and readjusted that the teachers could render most efficient service. All details have been worked out by Dean Z. T. Huff and the school is now making rapid progress on the fall term work. President McDonald is delighted with the increased interest in Wayland and is looking forward to a much larger enrollment during the year.

The Philo and Euglo literary societies have given receptions for the new students. New men have joined the football squad, and under the strenuous training of coach Kimbrough, Wayland is predicting an undefeated season in football.

Varner Matched in First Card of the Fall Season

Boxing will be revived here next Monday night with probably the greatest card that has ever been introduced. The first preliminary will commence at 8:15 at the Pla-Mor auditorium and will be between two local midlets.

The main event of the evening will see the veteran favorite of the Pampa ring, Walter Varner, stacked up against Eddie Gilmore of Chicago, Gilmore's first appearance in the south-west and it was with great difficulty that local matchmakers got him to meet Varner.

The local boy needs no introduction to a Pampa audience, as he is a favorite here. His opponent from the big ring has been in the game for many years and will be a worthy opponent. Gilmore met and defeated Jack Britton before that boy became champion of the world, Duke Trammell, and a number of other contenders for the crown.

The semi-final of the 32-round card will bring together Frankie Farrell, the Pampa flash, and Jack Morrison, the Borger bulldog. These two have met before in two of the fastest bouts of last season.

Before the Farrell-Morrison bout Kid Roberts of Amarillo and Kid Nicolson of Borger will tangle in six rounds. Roberts is well known here and Nicolson comes well recommended.

NOTICE WATER CUSTOMERS

Due to a break in some part of the underground working pipe of the city pump that supplies about fifty per cent of the city water supply it will be necessary to curtail consumption of water all possible until further repairs can be made.

Three or four days is the time expected to be necessary to get this pump back in operation and all citizens are asked to temporarily cease sprinkling lawns or using water for any purpose not absolutely necessary until this pump is again in service.

The old plant, operating day and night, will supply sufficient water for strictly domestic use and if all citizens will co-operate over a three or four day period a serious situation may be averted.

WHIRLWIND

SYBIL contemplated the ring on her left hand thoughtfully. "Why not?" she demanded. Gently Mabel drew her closer. "It's so horrible," she shivered. "And—perhaps—perhaps Richard didn't go there. Maybe he just found the card."

Sybil sat up very straight, and shaking Mabel's arm away, turned her level gaze upon her friend. "Don't be a dumb-bell, Mab," she admonished.

Moore shifted his incredulous glance from one girl to the other. "Perhaps," he offered lamely, "I'd better go over and talk to him."

"Good Lord, not leave him alone. What good does talking do?" Sybil was angrily determined. "I don't mean to be rude, but you'll have to let me handle this my own way. Are you coming with me, Mab—or aren't you?"

Mabel turned to her saucer. "Could you come too, Jack?"

"Not a chance, dear. I have to make Santiago from here. But why don't you go ahead with Sybil? We'll let Eustis sleep until you get out. Then tonight I could drop over there, and tell him that Sybil is through. I suppose he knows how to reach you at home, Sybil?"

Sybil wrinkled her forehead perplexedly.

"Honestly, Jack, I don't know. He knows I'm from Boston, of course, but I don't believe he knows that the family is at Wichita. If I ever mentioned it, he has probably forgotten it."

"Oh, if he wanted to come to Boston, he could find me. Directories and phone books, you know."

"Anyhow, I've planned exactly what I shall do. Nobody need know I've been married at all. If Richard, or tries to get in touch with me so that Mother would know, I can tell her he's just a crazy man we met on the trip that I don't care a bit about. And you'll stick with me, won't you, Mab?"

"You know I will, Sib."

"Well then—I guess that's settled. Will you grab a ferrigno, Jack, and bustle down to the steamship office and get us a stateroom? We have round-trip tickets. Mab's coming along like a good girl—aren't you, dear?"

"Oh, I suppose so," Mabel murmured dubiously.

"Angel!" approved Sybil, and turned briskly to Jack.

"I'll help Mabel pack," she told him, "and if you'll come to take us to the boat after you make the reservations, we'll be all ready."

WHEN Jack had gone she turned helplessly, to hide the tears that stung her searching lids. Pounding in the depths of a big bedded bag, she found a handkerchief, and pressing it to her trembling lips, began to bite its lacey edge, until it became a tattered little rag. Her bravado had vanished, and all her crisp, efficient manner.

"Oh, Mab!" she whispered, and it was such a warty, defeated little whisper. "Oh, my dear—my dear—whatever shall I do?"

Sybil sits for hours. And, in the next chapter, an unlooked-for possibility confronts her.

Next Harvester Game Is Moved Up to Thursday

The Harvesters game with the Clarendon Junior college eleven has been advanced to Thursday afternoon instead of Friday afternoon as first scheduled. The change has been made because of the local boys' meeting Texhoma in Amarillo next Monday morning at the Tri-State Fair grounds. The game here will commence at 3:30 p. m. Thursday.

According to information received here the Clarendon college has a heavy football team and should give the local boys a hard battle. The college team has fast been rounding into shape for the opening battle with the Harvesters, who won their opening game from Quannah 30 to 0 here Saturday afternoon.

Passing and physical exercise was featured by Coach Odus Mitchell and his assistant, A. M. Fox, at yesterday's practice.

The coaches are anxious that their team be in the best of condition, as speed and endurance comes from condition in the belief of the coaches.

The team has not been drilled much in forward passing this season, but will be put through their paces this week. The team looked good last night passing and receiving and with a week's experience should be able to put forward passes into the next game.

Whom Mitchell will use as passers has not yet been determined, as he has at least five boys who are showing up nicely. Walstad, Lard, Tracy, Maness, and Chastain are in line for passing positions on the team. They have speed and direction down to a nicety and with the good receivers should make many yards over the line.

Smith to Amplify Farm Position in Speech Tonight

GOVERNOR SMITH'S TRAIN EN ROUTE TO OMAHA, Sept. 18.—(P)—Having had his first taste of presidential campaigning by the hand shaking method, Gov. Smith today entered the midwest corn belt to open his drive for the White House in a more formal manner with a speech tonight in Omaha on farm relief.

The address set for 9 o'clock Central Standard time in the auditorium will be the first formal political speech the Democratic presidential nominee has delivered since his notification nearly a month ago at Albany. In it he announced he would treat the agricultural question more exhaustively than he did in his speech of acceptance and probably amplify his position on the surplus crop problem.

Mystery Man Is Coming to Pampa

"Le Mont," mystery man lately with the Webber circuit of Denver, is coming to Pampa Sept. 21 and 22.

Besides giving mystery bills at the Crescent theatre, Le Mont will stage driving exhibitions while blindfolded. He will appear at the Culbertson-Smalling Chevrolet company headquarters at 5 p. m., Sept. 22, and will give a free show before making a series of drives, blindfolded, accompanied by committee of local people. The magician will drive a new Chevrolet coach or sedan.

Le Mont has appeared in many cities of Texas and large crowds everywhere have marveled at his performances.

Prize List Is Announced in Golf Tournery by Club

A portion of the prize list for the Open golf tournament to commence over the Pampa Golf course next Sunday has been announced by the committee in charge of the tournament. The grounds are open to entrants mornings in order that they may practice for the coming event.

The tournament will be a handicap event and will be open to residents of Gray county. The handicap committee of the club will set each player's handicap before the opening of the first flight next Sunday afternoon.

A list of the prizes announced to date follows: Silver loving cup, Diamond shop; half dozen golf balls, Vade's store; household articles, Mahe Furniture company; automobile necessary McGarrity Motor company, tanhaitan shirt, Gordon Stores; sporting goods, Thompson Hardware company; electric article, Southwest Public Service company; McGregg golf club, Pampa Drug; article to be selected, Quality Jewellery.

MUSIC PLANS FORMING

ROSEBUD, Sept. 18.—(P)—Damage estimated at $150,000 resulted from fire which started in the Fireman's Union warehouse, destroying 1,700 bales of cotton, and spread to a railroad siding, where three car loads of bales were burned. Origin of the fire has not been determined.

Free Gate for Tri-State Fair Brings Favor

AMARILLO, Sept. 18.—(Special)—With all exhibit halls reported virtually full or running over, with plans and preparations days ahead of previous years indications are that the big 1928 Tri-State exposition with a free gate will open on September 22 one of the greatest fairs in the Southwest from every standpoint.

All department heads report greater interest and a larger number and better class of entries than ever before. Concession and exhibit spaces are at a premium and the fair association has arranged for one of the greatest entertainment programs ever offered in this section.

Leonard Stroud's rodeo will furnish the major afternoon attraction, Schooley & Collins 1928 Winter Garden revue will be the feature evening offering. A group of Taos Pueblo Indians, fireworks, the Lackman-Carson carnival and score of other attractions are scheduled.

Five football games, three of them inter-sectional clashes, have been arranged. Amarillo high school meets Norman, and Oklahoma City, Panhandle and Claude. Tulla and Dalhart and Pampa and Texhoma have gridiron tilts scheduled.

Dr. S. P. Brooks, president of Baylor university, will deliver the principal address at the big religious service to be held Sunday evening, September 23, at the fair grandstand, with Amarillo and Panhandle churches having charge of the free program.

Amplifiers are being placed on the stage in front of the grandstand so all attending can hear without any trouble.

An attendance of 300,000 persons is expected as a result of the major entertainment attractions and the free gate from Sept. 22 to 29.
