HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Aug. 30.—(P)—Threatening skies hung over this little mountain city today as thousands of persons gathered for the ceremonies formally notifying Senator Robinson of Arkansas, of his selection as the party's vice presidential nominee.

Rain which began in the early morning, caused apprehension that this evening's ceremonies—like those for Gov. Smith in Albany, N. Y.—might be forced indoors. By noon however, there were prospects that the weather would clear shortly.

Among the first to reach the city today were John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic national committee and Claude G. Powers, New York, chosen to advise the Senator of his selection. Other arrivals included Mrs. John B. Warner, eldest daughter of the Democratic presidential nominee, and Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, a former governor of Wyoming and one of the vice chairwomen of the national committee in campaign.

On reaching here Mr. Raskob went into conference with Senator Robinson.

After talking with Mr. Raskob for some time, Mr. Robinson called Senator Peter G. Gerry of Rhode Island, Vincent M. Miles, Democratic national committee man from Arkansas and several others into the conference.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Aug. 30.—(P)—From the four corners of the nation Democrats were trooping today into this valley in the Ozarks for the formal notification of a southerner, Senator Joe T. Robinson of Arkansas, of his selection as party's vice presidential nominee.

"They found a city bedecked for the occasion, and nearly every one expressed surprise at the natural beauty of the little amphitheater in which the ceremonies will be held tonight."

"The Senator, in order to greet personally as many of the visitors as possible, had arranged to be up early and also had disposed of his business so as to have the day free to devote himself to welcoming friends."

Preparations for the ceremonies were completed last night. Before retiring the Senator spent a few minutes testing out the amplifiers which have been installed to carry his voice to the distant corners of the amphitheater and also well up the mountain sides where many are expected to gather.

From every hotel, bath house and office building floated red, white and blue streamers while the street was decked at intervals with banners, among them several bearing the inscription: "Our Joe, next Vice President."

Mrs. Robinson, to whom the Senator gives much credit for his political success, also had arranged a program to keep her busy to virtually the notification hour. She was up late last night welcoming many of the first arrivals, and finally separated herself from a group of friends in the Arlington lobby with the remark: "I must go see that my husband is in bed."

EAST TEXAS—Tonight and Friday partly cloudy, local thunder-showers in east portion; cooler tonight in north-west portion.

WEST TEXAS—Tonight and Friday, mostly cloudy, local thunder-showers in southwest portion; cooler tonight in north portion.

Hits High Notes

Maximilian Bradoc, 33, of Fayette City, Pa., who aspires to be an opera singer, ought to be able to hit the high notes because he practices singing while at work as a structural iron worker on skyscrapers. In Pittsburgh recently he sang before the Kiwanis club and since that time he has broadcast over station KDKA.

Welfare Society Discusses Street Beggar Problem

The street-beggar nuisance in Pampa is still a serious one, if complaints received by the Pampa Welfare Association mean anything. What the Association can do to relieve the situation was discussed at a meeting of the executive committee Tuesday. All members of the executive group are of the opinion that the problem must be solved largely by the citizenship of the town, or rather, by the citizenship co-operating with the Welfare Association.

"It is the business of the Association to investigate cases recommended to it and to give assistance in deserving cases," says Mrs. M. P. Downs, public health nurse and member of the committee, "but the organization cannot be constantly on the look-out for unfortunate nor can it force them off the streets."

In asking the co-operation of the citizenship in this problem, members of the committee suggest that every one who is approached by a beggar refuse alms and refer the beggar to the Welfare Association, where his case can be investigated. The committee suggests also that every citizen make it his business to report the presence of beggars on the street to the Association. Mrs. Downs says that in many instances beggars will leave town rather than carry their cases to an association or have them investigated. The greater number of street-beggars do not want assistance from an organization, preferring public begging as a more lucrative business she said.

The number of beggars on the streets of Pampa has been greatly reduced in the last year, and members of the executive committee of the Welfare Association believe that co-operation of the citizenship with its social service organization can still further decrease the annoyance.

Routine business of the meeting yesterday afternoon included the reading of the treasurer's report by J. O. Gilliam and Mrs. Downs' case report. In addition to the cases carried over from last month for further assistance, there were eleven families receiving aid from the association during the last month, the case report showed.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Stone and children and Mrs. H. H. Heiskell are in Sayre, Okla., today, to attend funeral services for Mrs. Stone's sister-in-law, Mrs. Stotts, who died at 12 o'clock yesterday.

Mangled Bodies of Fliers Found In Woods Today

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—(P)—The mangled bodies of M. M. Merrill and Edwin M. Ronne, missing commercial fliers, were found 80 feet from the wrecked plane at daybreak today, according to word received by F. H. Russell, one of the Curtiss flying service.

Their plane—a Curtiss Falcon owned by Colonel Charles Lindbergh—crashed and exploded in the wilderness six miles from the Pennsylvania town of Milford.

The wreck was sighted by fellow fliers yesterday after the greatest airplane search ever known in the United States. There was no place for a plane to make a landing near the spot, so some of the searchers flew to Milford while others made their way to Fort Jervis, N. Y., where foot parties were organized.

Starting before daybreak, a party led by Charles "Casey" Jones, seaman commercial pilot and associate of Merrill, reached the wreck at 6:30 a. m. An airplane piloted by Raymond L. Kitcherman of the Curtiss flying service flying overhead guided them to the place.

Kitcherman in his report said the bodies were found 80 feet from the wreck. They were not burned, he said. The plane was a total wreck and had evidently crashed into the trees at a terrific speed and was dashed to bits.

A Fairchild pilot who flew over the scene reported the ground and trees for several feet around the wreck had been burned, indicating that the plane had caught fire after crashing.

The spot is inaccessible except by foot and the bodies will be packed out today, Mr. Russell said. Ronne's body will be shipped to Buffalo, where he was manager of the municipal airport. Merrill's body will be brought to New York by train.

Boxers Entertain Cooks and Waiters

An added attraction at the Cops and Waiters ball at the Pla-Mor auditorium last night was a short boxing card featuring local newboys. A large crowd attended the dance and excellent music was supplied by Dennis Comar and his orchestra.

An incident which caused some excitement and enjoyment to the crowd was a three round boxing exhibition between Rip Blake, the Shamrock flash, and Frankie Farrell, local boy, who stepped into the ring in street clothes and put up a real exhibition. These two will be matched at a later date in eight rounds.

Two Death House Prisoners Given Time Extension

AUSTIN, Aug. 30.—(P)—Two death house prisoners were removed from the immediate proximity of the electric chair by action of Governor Moody late yesterday.

He moved up the execution date of J. R. Silver from September 3 to Sept. 21, so the prison board can have additional time to work on a recommendation as to his plea for commutation of the death sentence to life imprisonment for participation in a Fort Worth theatre holdup in which the cashier was killed.

Juan Flores, San Antonio Mexican, sentenced to death in connection with a store holdup in which Manuel Hernandez, 15, was fatally stabbed, was granted a two months reprieve. He was to have been electrocuted this morning. The stay is to give authorities time to search for another Mexican in the holdup whom Flores claims killed the boy.

Mother Who Reared Son By Mail Sees Him After 49 Years

NEW ORLEANS, La., —(P)—Separated 49 years by the wide gulf of the Atlantic, a mother and the son she reared by mail now are reunited. Mrs. Mary Ann Tierman Moonan has seen her son, George A. Moonan, Dublin barrister, for the first time since he was seven years old.

Although related by the closest of blood bonds, they met virtually as strangers. The man barely remembered the mother who had left him with relatives in Ireland when she left that country to visit her father and mother who had migrated to New Orleans.

Moonan's mother never returned. She kept constantly in touch and directed his rearing by mail. On numerous occasions she planned to go back to her native land but as time sped on, the old ties weakened and the new ties strengthened.

It was tomorrow for her and tomorrow never came. But now this slender woman of 82 is planning to sail for Ireland under the protecting arm of her 56-year-old son.

She would not come to him so he came to her. The mother had turned deaf ears to his cabled and written pleas to return to her native shores so Moonan came to plead his case in person.

With the picture of her relatives waiting to receive her in old Ireland, she capitulated, packed her belongings and is ready for the journey.

"Old scenes, old songs, old friends again," is the thought that is carrying Mrs. Moonan over the ocean.

Four Cases Tried In District Court

Only four cases have been tried in the 84th district court which convened August 30 with Judge Newton P. Willis presiding. The first case heard was J. R. McGlauffin versus Dr. V. E. Brunow which took the first week of the term and Monday of the following week. After a deliberation of four hours the jury returned a partial verdict in favor of the plaintiff.

McGlauffin asked for $3,334.59 for work done on the Brunow building. The jury gave judgment but deducted 7 per cent for damages giving the plaintiff $2,105.

The second case heard was the Last Chance Gas company versus a number of persons including W. T. section of land in section 201, block 3, Carson county. The court instructed the jury to find a verdict in favor of the defendant giving him an undivided 7/32nd interest in the lease but subject his interest to a lien in favor of W. L. Woodward.

A forgery case was dismissed as was a forgery case. Judge Ben S. Baldwin, local attorney, was appointed by the court to act as district attorney until J. A. Holmes, recently appointed, takes office.

Equalization Board Hearing Complaints

The county board of equalization composed of Judge T. M. Wolfe and County Commissioners, Clarence Bowers, W. A. Taylor, Tom Kirby and M. M. Newman are in session today, hearing complaints on county assessments and making adjustments. There are numerous oil companies and supply houses represented and the session will probably last until tomorrow.

The Gray county tax rate and levy for 1929 will be set by the commissioners tomorrow.

Three Believed To Be Drowned In Ohio River

ALIQUIPPA, Pa., Aug. 30.—(P)—Three persons are missing and are believed drowned, while twenty others, members of the crew of the towboat Aliquippa of the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation were rescued when the towboat turned over in the Ohio river today.

The accident occurred directly opposite the Aliquippa plant of the steel corporation as the towboat was maneuvering to pick up a tow of ten barges on which was 5,000 tons of steel to be transported to Memphis, Tenn., today.

The missing are: Christina Danlock, chamber maid; William Atkins, deckhand, and James Gordon, deckhand.

16-month-old Boy Lives After Fall From Windmill

SWEETWATER, Aug. 30.—(P)—Tom Wallace Duvall, 16-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Duvall was released today from a Sweetwater hospital after an operation for injuries received in one of the most unusual accidents that ever befell a child.

A week ago the baby's mother heard screams and rushed from the door of the farm house near Roscoe to see the infant knocked from the platform of a 26-foot windmill by the fan.

The child had climbed up to the windmill, when a gust of wind started the fan, the blade striking him in the head and knocking the baby into a pear tree from which he fell to the ground.

The child's skull was fractured and one side of his body was paralyzed.

Plans for W. T. C. C. Convention Here Near Completion

Plans are being completed for the holding of the district convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce here September 10. The program will be out in a few days.

The morning session will be held in the Rex theatre when F. M. Gwin, city manager, will make the welcoming address. The chief speaker of the morning will be Judge Ely of Abilene. Other good speakers will also be on the program. The noon-day luncheon will be held at 12:30 in the Pla-Mor auditorium and will be followed by the business meeting.

In order to save confusion the morning of the convention, local citizens will register Saturday at the Chamber of Commerce. The registration fee will be $1 and will include the luncheon.

LONE BANDIT DISARMED BY TWO OF CREW

M-K-T Passenger No. 22 Was Bound For Kansas City

MAN BELIEVED TO BE DRUNK

Entered Engine Cab at Point Between Erie and Kimball

PARSONS, Kas., Aug. 30.—(P)—An apparent attempt to halt and rob Missouri-Kansas-Texas passenger train No. 22, bound for Kansas City, was frustrated between Erie and Kimball, Kas., today when an armed and unidentified man boarded the engine and was overpowered.

Whether the man had accomplices was not determined. He was taken in charge by William Baxley, Katy special agent, and placed in jail at Noran, Kas. The chief of police at Noran said the man either was too intoxicated or too dazed from the beating he received to tell his name.

Information received here was that the man, believed to have boarded the train at Parsons, climbed into the cab of the locomotive at a point between Erie and Kimball, 25 miles north of here, and covered engineer Ward and fireman Lewis with his gun.

He was knocked down and disarmed, and Baxley was called to take him in charge.

Council of League Of Nations Opens In Geneva Today

GENEVA, Aug. 30.—(P)—The fifty-first session of the council of the League of Nations opened today. Members gathered at a private meeting to discuss various agenda questions.

The warmth of welcome extended to premier MacKenzie King of Canada, first Canadian Prime Minister ever to attend a council session, was one of the features of the opening today. All the members of the council extended cordial greetings to Mr. King.

Another feature of this session was the appearance for the first time of a representative of the new Chinese nationalist government. In accepting Wang King-Ki, Chinese minister at Brussels, as the Chinese member of the council, the league gave official recognition to the new Chinese regime.

Three leading figures in previous councils were missing at today's session. Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign secretary, is taking a long voyage for his health; Dr. Gustav Stresemann, German Foreign Minister was advised by his physicians not to risk his health by further strain such as would be entailed by a council meeting, while Foreign Minister Briand of France will not be in Geneva Monday when the league assembly opens.

Report Shows Texas Crops Above Average

DALLAS, Aug. 30.—(P)—Improvement in the condition of growing crops, a good wheat crop harvested and marketed at fair prices, cotton in fair to good shape in all sections except South Texas and in isolated localities elsewhere, and a material change for the better in the livestock industry are noted in the Monthly Business Review of the Federal Reserve bank of Dallas, dated Sept. 1 and issued today.

The indicated yield of corn in the eleventh reserve district, which embraces Texas and parts of Louisiana, Arizona, Oklahoma and New Mexico, while less than in 1927, is substantially above the average production, says the report. Most minor crops promise fair to good yields.

AUTO SALESMAN INJURED

DALLAS, Aug. 30.—(P)—E. A. Fox, 33, automobile salesman, was probably fatally injured last night when his automobile was demolished by the backing of a box car on a siding in south Dallas. Hospital attendants held little hope for his recovery.

RUTHERFORD REPORTED TO BE IMPROVED TODAY

H. E. Rutherford, an employe of the Flick Construction company, was brought to Pampa late yesterday afternoon when an examination showed he was suffering from a fractured skull. The injured man was at work on a Santa Fe water well at Lakeston when the accident occurred.

With other workmen he was setting pipe when the boiler slipped the elevator striking him on the head. Late reports today state he is doing nicely.

RAILROAD DIRECTORS TO MEET

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—(P)—Directors of the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe railroads will meet in New York early next month to decide upon financing the proposed extension of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient. A stock offering is regarded as a probability.

Girls at Work

Perhaps one of the reasons why working girls wear few clothes is because they haven't money to buy more. At least such is the finding of 24 co-eds who worked in Chicago's large industrial concerns during the summer.

"I made friends with one girl," a co-ed reports, "who made $13 a week standing over a hot mangle for nine hours a day. Ten dollars of this went to her family and out of the remaining $3 she bought her lunches, her clothes and amusements. Yet she always smiles. She's used to it."

"The clothes bought out of that $3 must be scanty. Luckily, fashion sets the same decree for rich and poor, but in an event the factory girl would be forced to limit her attire to a minimum."

Another girl told of working for six weeks in an ice cream container factory. Her weekly pay-check ran from $12.75 to $14.05. The majority of the girls worked overtime, adding a few cents to their wages.

"Parties, dates, friends, these means a lot to every girl," this co-ed writes. "They are a part of every girl's life. But how do the working girls meet their friends? They all have boy friends and the way they get them is by easy approachability. Flirting is not only an amusement, it's necessity."

It is no new fact that the condition of the purse often governs the conduct, but here the influence is presented in a new way.

He Loved His Life

He loved his life so well that he allowed his two babies to drown to save it. Or is it that this man is so little removed from the beast that in his hour of peril, the veneer of civilization fell off and the law of self preservation was the only law he knew? At any rate, a father in Ontario, Albert Lafrenier, did just that when the motor boat he and his family were riding in burst into flames and sank.

This father struck out to swim ashore with his two babies, one aged two years the other an infant of one month. This father thought the task too great to reach shore with the two little ones, so he left them to a water death and saved himself.

Such conduct is not that of a loving parent. What matters life when that of your child is at stake. Fortunately, we believe there are few parents who would prefer saving their own lives to that of making a desperate attempt to save all or go down in the attempt. And now that he has his life, can that father ever have a sane thought again? Won't the trusting smile of that little two year old haunt him to his dying day? Will not the thought of the helplessness of that cooing infant drive him mad? Such will be the result if there is a spark of manhood left in this father.

Men don't abandon even their fellowmen in a crisis and the laws of comradeship demand that they go the limit.

even giving their life for each other. Man abandoning man to death is unpardonable when there is hope but to abandon two little lives to the waves is downright bestial.

God's sweetest gift to man is his children and man owes it to his children and his God to give all for this gift. There are no halfway measures acceptable to God or man when the life of the child is at stake and any man who will sacrifice the child, his child, to save himself is beyond human power to understand.

Heaven forbid that the world witness many such examples of utter selfishness as just displayed in Ontario.—Altus Times-Democrat.

Baby Shows

Among the baby shows that might be promoted is that of the baby industries of this community. The idea is suggested by the Sweetwater Reporter, which speaks of its dairy business as an infant industry. One year ago a creamery promoted there was begging for milk and cream. Today it is such a healthy infant that it is looking abroad over the territory for bigger markets. It is being well supplied from the farms upon which many dairy cows were placed. Not much over a year ago Sweetwater was shipping in creamery products.

The birth of such an industry in Pampa finds a situation not so very different, in that a bigger market would be welcome with respects to some manufactured products, but the potential capacity of this immediate territory in milk production is tremendous. Pampa ought to boost her creamery and dairies and help them broaden their markets. Dairying can become the leading cash industry in this county. Poultry can be perhaps of similar importance.

What is being done? Figures do not tell the story half so well as exhibits—baby shows. That's where our fair comes in. It will show what the baby industries are doing.

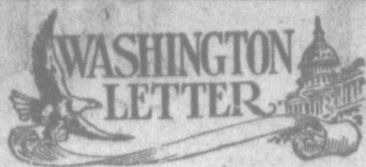

Let's have a baby show. It would include just about all the big businesses and industries.

Get ready to show your products at the fair.

Swift Endorsement

A few West Texas editors have endorsed the proposed $350,000 bond issue for a state system of highways. The brief comment on so big a question is indicative of our belief that these writers have not given the matter sufficient study.

West Texas too long has said "yes" when it should have said, "Whoa, whose foot is this bill made to fit, and where do I come in?" Let's think the matter through and exploit West Texas needs before we endorse projects of such tremendous importance to growing, expanding, undeveloped West Texas.

WASHINGTON — Mrs. Eugene O. Sykes, wife of the vice chairman of the Federal Radio Commission, has become an inventor.

Recently she was granted a patent on a device which may become as common in American homes as radio sets. She calls it a "handy picture hanger" and expects to market it. With this contraption, pictures may be taken off or placed on the wall without the necessity of standing on a step-ladder, chair or piano and without a hammer. Also, says Mrs. Sykes, it can be used to suspend or remove bird cages, curtains, mirrors and other articles.

It appears that in Mrs. Sykes' Mississippi home there are many pictures which have to be taken down and cleaned twice a year. A friend, helping her clean the pictures, fell and was injured. An idea subsequently came to Mrs. Sykes in the middle of the night and she arose and sketched it. Next day she made a cardboard model which a blacksmith used to make the first "handy hanger."

Senator Robert Beecher Howell, now running for reelection in Nebraska, is incorrigible in his constant study of the possibility of using various plants for food which are not now so used. For some years he has been investigating the possibilities of artichokes for producing sugar and for use as substitutes for potatoes and other vegetables. Extensive experiments are being made at the Bureau of Standards to determine their sugar value. More recently the senator began to figure how the United States could raise its own crop, pioneering in a new field.

Just now he is interested in dahlias tubers as a possible source of sugar and is closely following experiments along that line by Dr. B. S. Norton at the Maryland State Agricultural College. It is known that dahlias have considerable sugar content and both Norton and Howell are confident that a type may be bred much more, easily collectible.

Howell's secretary, Wilson C. Hefner, planted a bunch of dahlias in his home garden so that he and his boss might study the plant's peculiarities.

Mrs. Gertrude Bowler of Sheboygan, until recently Democratic national committeewoman from Wisconsin, has been out soliciting funds for the Democratic state central committee, with conspicuous success. Not long ago she drove into Wausau, looking for money, at a speed of about 40 miles an hour. A motorcycle cop picked her up. She paid her fine without argument. Then she asked the judge if he was for Al Smith. He was.

With her eye on the fine just paid, Mrs. Bowler demanded a contribution for the cause which had brought her to town. "For political reasons", the judge couldn't see it.

Mrs. Bowler had the last word. "I don't think", she said as she left the court, "that you're a good sport at all."

Candidates Are Silent About a Speaking Tour

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer
SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 30.—(AP)—After his second speech since he was named of his selection as Democratic presidential candidate, Gov. Smith today was the central figure of a gathering of state politicians here to name a new party chairman and also of the daily throng that is turning out for the New York state fair.

A meeting of the Democratic state committee was called to ratify the selection of M. William Bray, of Utica, as chairman to succeed Lieutenant Gov. Edwin Corning, resigned. Gov. Smith said he would have nothing to say on state politics.

After an appearance at the State Fair later, with a brief non-political speech the Governor returns to Albany tonight to spend the rest of the week and some of next on state business. His presidential campaign plans are indefinite and he insists he will have nothing to reveal about his speech-making tour until one of three district routes mapped out for him is finally chosen.

BY JAMES L. WEST
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover is resisting efforts to have him map out an extensive speaking program during the remaining nine weeks of his campaign for the presidency.

Deferring his next excursion from Washington until around the middle of September, he has reiterated to advisers his own desire to limit his public platform appearances to three or four between that time and his next westward trek late in October.

From his experiences during his last journey to his California home, the Republican candidate realizes he will be obliged to make a number of addresses when he sets out for home to vote and will reserve his energies for a vigorous drive at that time.

Unofficial in his own efforts and expenses, Hoover also is adhering to his originally announced plan to have the whole Republican campaign conducted on as small a budget as is possible.

To that end those in charge of financial affairs have initiated conferences with chiefs of the various divisions for study of expense estimates and a paying down wherever possible.

Confessed Slayer Will Be Brought Back to Houston

HOUSTON, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Sheriff T. Binford expected to leave Houston today for Seattle, Wash., to return to Texas Frank Joe Foltin who confessed to the slaying of a Houston man last March.

Foltin was indicted yesterday for murder, the indictment being based upon a statement Foltin made in Seattle police and later repeated.

Sheriff Binford said attempts would be made to obtain a second indictment from the grand jury for the sale of a stolen automobile in El Paso.

The sheriff was to stop in Austin to obtain a requisition from Governor Moody.

WEST TEXAS CITIES TO DISCUSS CITY PLANNING
COLEMAN, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Representatives from eleven West Texas cities and towns were here today at the invitation of the Coleman Chamber of Commerce to discuss city planning with John E. Surratt, of Dallas, secretary of the Kessler plan association.

Two day's conference will be held by the representatives and the Dallas Chamber of Commerce.

Prices represented are Brownwood, Santa Anna, Brady, Ballinger, San Antonio, Winters, Cisco, Abilene, Cross Plains and Rising Star.

Mrs. J. F. Luther of Fort Worth, who has been the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Dick Walzer, the past few weeks, was here today. Mrs. Luther will join her father, and they will celebrate their fortieth wedding anniversary in the home of their daughter.

Dog Catcher Is Too Good—So They Fired Him

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 30.—(AP)—As a dog catcher Clarence Skinner was very good. So they fired him.

"If you weren't stopped," said police chief Freeman to Skinner, "you'd make Evanston dogless. And that would be too doggone bad."

The chief told Skinner the dog catcher's records showed 1,336 dogs had been captured since March 1.

That's a lot of dogs," the police chief said in informing Skinner his dog catching duties were about to terminate. "You caught all kinds, muzzled and unmuzzled, licensed and unlicensed, thoroughbred and just plain dog. The humane society complains you also shot several that you couldn't catch."

"It appears you are altogether too good at catching dogs to be a good dog-catcher."

Gene Deservi was appointed to succeed Skinner. Upon his appointment Deservi issued a statement.

"No dog," he said, "need fear that I will take undue advantage of my authority. Every dog will have its day and every day its dog."

Legion Selects Port Arthur For Next Convention

TEXARKANA, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Calm that follows a storm hung over Texarkana today as its citizens bade farewell to several thousand delegates to the joint convention of Arkansas and Texas legionnaires.

Streets that for three days and nights echoed to the strains of martial music and happy shouting men seemed strangely silent, and hotel lobbies appeared deserted in comparison to their mad rush for 72 hours. Employees of the city were busy clearing the streets of an accumulation of litter and the populace was preparing to make up for lost sleep.

At the close of the session of the two were elected and sites selected for next year's conventions. Rufe Scott of Paris, was elected state commander for Texas. Port Arthur was chosen the 1929 Lone Star convention city.

The Arkansas delegates elected Dr. L. J. Kosminsky, of Texarkana, to the office of commander, and named Blytheville their next meeting place.

The Arkansas delegation, weary from their three days' activity and anxious to get home, rushed through their closing session in record time, but the Texans put in the entire day wrangling over proposed resolutions and constitutional amendments. The Longhorns finally decided after a wordy argument to retain the present staff of state officers until after the national convention at San Antonio.

Leonard Whittington of Fort Worth, sponsor of the measure, successfully contend that new staff taking charge at this time would be seriously handicapped in arranging for the big convention.

NOTICE OF SALE
All household goods and wearing apparel belonging to Mrs. R. E. Jones, left at La Fonda Tourist Court about five months ago, will be sold at public auction, Saturday, September 15, 1928, between the hours of two and three in the afternoon, to defray storage charges. The sale will occur at La Fonda Court.

Palestine Pals Have Good Lead Toward Victory

PALISTINE, Aug. 30.—By their winning ways the Palestine Pals had a good start today for further baseball honors. The Pals title holders in the Lone Star League, defeated the San Angelo Snappers, winners in the West Texas League, here yesterday, 8 to 3 in their series for the championship of class D baseball in Texas.

The game was a pitchers' battle between Betts for the locals and Clements for the visitors. Betts gave up on ten hits but managed to keep them well scattered. Clements, on the other hand, was in trouble in almost every inning. The Pals got to him for 13 safeties.

Comeaux, second baseman for the Snappers, led the West Texas club in hitting with three hits in four times at bat. Coor, with a single, double and a triple starred for the Pals. Palestine made two errors to one for their opponents.

More than 1,000 fans saw the game. The second game of the series will be played here this afternoon.

Baptist W. M. S. Entertained at Amusing Party

One of the most cleverly planned parties of the season was given yesterday afternoon in the form of an indoor "Labor Day" picnic, by the Baptist Women's Missionary Society. Mrs. L. Wells Smith's home was the scene of this unique affair.

Each of the four circles of the society represented a trade union and had a booth similar to a carnival "concession," where the wares of the trade were exhibited. All members of the society were appropriately costumed.

Members of Circle No. 1 were seamstresses. Their booth offered a real surprise to members of other circles, for, instead of the brief feminine toggery one might expect to see in a modern modiste's shop, there were on display the elegant and elaborate gowns of twenty years ago. A number of fashion sheets of that period were scattered about the booth for atmosphere. Needles were given as souvenirs at this booth.

A beauty parlor, owned and operated by members of Circle No. 2, was equally amusing. Ballyhoo artists in this booth loudly and solemnly praised the beautifying powers of their favorite cosmetics, axle grease vanishing cream and lye soap, and offered to give manicures with a dainty carpenter's file.

Circle No. 3 represented the musicians union, and as the "Wildcat Band," furnished music for the afternoon. Their costumes of red and white, carrying the wildcat insignia, would have struck envy to the heart of any drum major. The band opened its program with a parade about the picnic grounds. A group of stunt songs added much to the gaiety of the afternoon. Sheet music was given away at the booth.

The bakers' union, represented by Circle No. 4, had an attractive booth, where cakes, bread, dough-nuts, and cookies were on exhibit. Refreshments were served from the bakery in true picnic style. Pink lemonade was served with animal cookies. Members of Circle 4 today expressed their appreciation for the cookies and a decorated cake donated by the Pampa Bakery.

Amusing games and contests added to the pleasures of the party. Forty members of the society attended.

DAUGHTER BORN MONDAY

Christian Endeavor Enjoys Swimming Party and Picnic

A delightful swimming party and picnic at LeFors was enjoyed last evening by members of the Christian Endeavor and their friends. A dip in the pool was followed by a watermelon feast. Games and story-telling completed the evening's program.

The following were present: Mrs. James Todd, Jr. Misses Macie and Reth Lester, Miss Deva Dean, Miss Hazel Campbell, Miss Mary Jo Harmon, Miss Grace Chambers, Miss Emil Brewer, Miss Adeline Grumpke, Miss Elizabeth Proctor, Herman C. Plattor, Willis Collins, John Lester, Milton Rush, Desmond Dean, Robert Montgomery, and John Strange.

Postmaster W. A. Crawford announced this morning that the local post-office would be closed from 6 o'clock Saturday night until 8 o'clock Tuesday morning because of Sunday and Labor Day. He stated that he and four sub-clerks would sort the mail and place it in the boxes but that no windows would be open during that time.

He received notification from the postmaster general that all post-offices would be closed Labor Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kasishki returned yesterday from a vacation trip through Colorado. Mr. and Mrs. Barnell of Tonkawa, Okla., who accompanied them on their trip left for their home today. The party visited Pike's peak on their trip.

...Social Calendar...

There will be a called meeting of the women of the First Christian church at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The meeting will be held in the church.

Mrs. L. M. Holbert underwent a minor operation at the Pampa hospital this morning.

Miss Irene Coffin of Kingsmill underwent a minor operation in the Pampa hospital this morning.

Mrs. J. B. Hodge of Groom was brought to the hospital here yesterday in a serious condition.

Roy Chambers of the Rex theatre staff is in the hospital seriously ill with typhoid fever.

Eugene Johnson, pressman with the Pampa Daily News, is doing nicely in the Pampa hospital following an accident last Saturday night when he caught his arm in a roller on the large press.

Chicago Gunmen Linked With War In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 30.—(AP)—A grand jury's investigation of bootlegging gangster slayings and quick fortunes in Philadelphia today involved "Scarface" Al Capone of Chicago.

Capone was named by the prosecutor as an ally of Max "Boo Boo" Hoff, wealthy sportsman and fight manager, who is charged by the prosecutor with being the leader of an alcohol ring and with directing attempts to intimidate witnesses, remained under subpoena.

Louis R. Eifman, former chauffeur for Hoff, before the grand jury yesterday linked Hoff with the rum ring and asserted he had been beaten by Sallor Freedman, former Chicago prize fighter, and threatened with death if he testified against his former employer. A warrant has been issued for Freedman's arrest.

Eifman's disclosures, district attorney John Monaghan said, show that Hoff has a close alliance with the notorious "Scarface" Al Capone of Chicago, and had been instrumental in bringing to Philadelphia gunmen from Chicago to intimidate witnesses in the investigation.

After a long session with the grand jury Eifman sat in the district attorney's office while the prosecutor said to newspapermen, "we are now going to open up on these murderers and bootleggers."

In his efforts to trace the ownership of $10,000,000 said to have been deposited here under fictitious names by wealthy racket men, the district attorney has seized the books and records of Marks, Weinberg and Company, public accountants.

Scout Executive To Attend Conference

THIS HAS HAPPENED

SYBIL THORNE, spoiled and petted, tells CRAIG NEWHALL, when he asks her to marry him, of her romance with JOHN LAWRENCE, who went to France with the A. E. F. and never returned. "Do you," she asks Craig, "want to marry me now?"

And Newhall, refusing to be jealous of a dead man, takes her in his arms and kisses her devoutly, little dreaming that Sybil will marry him to please her dying father, whose happiness she desired more than anything in the world.

They drive home to the big house on the hill, and Sybil, who had been bit from top to bottom by the sun, is leaving by the front door.

"I'm dead," shrieks Sybil, and crumples in Craig's arms.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER VI

Her father's name was on her lips when she fainted. Craig carried her in and called Dr. Parker.

CRAIG lifted Sybil to the ground. "Pull yourself together, darling," he counseled. "Dr. Parker hasn't come out yet. Perhaps it was only another consultation. Here, let me carry you."

He took her in his arms and she clung to him, sobbing, like a child. "And I wasn't home, Craig! I left him—and he died. And I wasn't there. Oh—oh, Craig!"

He felt her tears on his cheek, and the convulsive sobs that racked her body.

"There, there, baby," he cradled her tenderly. "We won't go in, honey, until you're feeling better. Just try to stop that crying. You'll make yourself sick, baby."

He leaned against the garden wall, still holding her to him, so that she seemed to get comfort from his quiet, strong body. In a few minutes she grew still, and only her limbs trembled, and her breath came in sobbing tremors.

"I'll call to him," she said. "If Daddy were alive, I wouldn't call. It might startle him. But you can't wake the dead, Craig."

Her voice rang shrill and sweet. "Oh, Daddy! . . . Daddy!"

His name was on her lips, when she fainted. Craig carried her in, and they laid her on the broad window seat in the hall, and called Dr. Parker.

He came from the death chamber with his little bag and his stethoscope.

"It's her heart," he said, and prepared a hypodermic, while Tad rushed for brandy, and Mrs. Thorne wrung her hands wretchedly, and called on God to witness her grief.

"First my husband—and now my daughter. Oh, God. God . . ."

It was Craig who took her away, and coated her, presently, to take a drink of brandy herself. Tad was sobbing like a baby.

Then Sybil opened her eyes. And, lucidly, she spoke strange words, clear as tinkling bells.

"You thought I fainted," she said, "but I died instead, and talked with Daddy. He said . . ."

"Oh, merciful God!"

Mrs. Thorne shrieked her terror.

"Sybil! Sybil! Edward! COME BACK TO ME . . ."

She crumpled at their feet—such a piteous little gray thing. Her gray hair in loosened wisps about her face, all old and gray. And her dress of drab, gray stuff clinging in unladylike fashion to her poor little body.

Irrelevantly Craig thought of ashes. Ashes of desire, of youth, and beauty. Nothing left of them, but a little old woman, anguishing.

VALERIE was coming home for the wedding.

"I suppose," she wrote, "that it wouldn't be the thing to have a big wedding now. I'm absolutely heartbroken about it—about your father I mean. Did he suffer much? I suppose I can wear my wedding dress just the same. You see I've everything all bought, Tad. Mother thinks it would be quite unnecessary to change our plans completely. Though, of course, we sympathize so much with your poor mother.

"Was it an awful shock? He's been falling for so long, I suppose you sort of knew. But, then, it's dreadfully hard to realize. I remember when my Aunt Emma died it was like that. Such a shock, though we really ought to have been prepared. Did your poor father know? It's so complicated afterward if they don't have time to make a will. When Uncle Robert died, there was such a lot of trouble. Aunt Mary brought suit, and the lawyers got it all. Ever so long. But, my goodness, of course there won't be any trouble in your family.

"I suppose you'll all get a third. I always thought it was awfully unfair for the widow to have two thirds. And then, if there's a daughter, she seems to get all that's left. But Sybil wouldn't be like that, of course. She would want you to have your share, I know. She's so broadminded, and then she works, too. Business women love to be self-supporting, I've noticed. I wonder if you'd love me any more, Tad, if I knew more about business. I'm awfully dumb about figures and things. Mother says I never did realize the value of money, and Daddy says you'd think it grew on bushes the way I spend it. But then, that's the way they brought me up. I tell Daddy he has only himself to blame.

"I'm just crazy to see you, Tad. There are millions of men over here—lots of rich Americans—but I've never seen anyone half as handsome as my Tad. . . . How is Sybil? I hope she's better now. Brain fever sounds so horrible. But perhaps that was only a false alarm. And don't forget to tell me how your mother is. You don't suppose she'd feel badly do you, Tad, if I were a veil?"

"Probably Sybil won't want to be a bridesmaid, but I thought I might have a maid of honor, anyhow. A wedding without ANY attendants is so mournful, somehow. And I think we ought to try to keep smiling, even if our hearts ARE broken, don't you, Tad?"

"Tad did not intend that his mother and Sybil should see Valerie's letter. It was on his plate at dinner time.

"A letter from Val," Sybil told him. "We're dying for the news." She and her mother made a great pretense of cheerfulness before each other. Sometimes Sybil thought the effort was more wearing than natural grief would have been. Emotions repressed during the day have a way, she discovered, of bursting forth at night.

She used to lie on her back, after she had gone to bed, with her arms crossed over her face, to smother the sobs. During the day she preserved an assumed gaiety, so successful that sometimes her mother, looking at her mournfully, would declare: "Sakes alive, Sybil, no one would ever guess your poor father hasn't been in his grave a month. The way you go on, child! Talking and laughing—my goodness. It doesn't seem right!"

Her little tirades annoyed Sybil, who had grown to treat her mother like an irritable child. The unfortunate woman took very little interest in life.

"The least I can do," thought

Valerie didn't elope with a count, but, on the eve of her marriage, accepts a diamond ring from a certain Lord Montford. And Tad, furious with rage—but it's all in the next chapter.

Giants and Yanks Slipping In The Major Leagues

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN, Associated Press Sports Writer

The Athletics persist at their task of blasting away the remnants of the Yankees' lead, but National League contenders are coming upon rocky paths after overpowering the White Sox by 6 to 2 at Shibe Park, yesterday, the rampant Mackmen found themselves only two and one-half games behind the idle Yanks while the Cardinals rained out in Chicago, heard tidings of defeat for two of their challengers—the Pirates and the Giants.

The men of McKechnie led by a new five and one-half game over Chicago as they moved into Pittsburgh to take the lead in the National League which the Athletics will carry off in the coming fortnight if not the next four weeks.

The Athletics defeated the White Sox yesterday by slugging Lyons hard in ever crisis. Walberg seemed unscathed at the start permitting the White Sox to score two runs on five hits, including Hunnefeld's homer, in the first four rounds. Connie took the rubber out to let Cobb bat in the fourth, as Eddie Rommel held Chicago hitters over the rest of the route.

Lyons took this game as an example to prove it is possible to be thrown out at home in an attempt to score from third on a single—even with two out and no force play at the plate. Al Simmons hurried Hunnefeld's second hit to Cochrane in time to retire Mr. Lyons on a close play, Lena Blackburne and cabinet dissenting. Lena talked his way to an afternoon off.

In other American league engagements, the Browns made it four straight over the Red Sox, winning by 4 to 3, and the Indians slammed the Tigers, 9 to 5. Burns got two homers, and McManus one.

The Cardinals and the Cubs made every effort to play the gala game of the National League afternoon, but a torrent descending upon Wrigley Field made this impossible. Plans are under way to play this one off in Chicago on September 5 when both teams have an open date.

Ben Cantwell, traded to Boston in Genesee deal, came back to the Polo Grounds to lead other former Giants in making it three straight over the home boys, 6 to 3.

The defeat was the seventh straight for the Giants, and their ninth in their last ten games. It dropped them a fraction of a point behind the Cubs who moved up into second place by half a game without playing.

Even though shut-out by the Phillies by 4 to 0 at Pittsburgh yesterday, the Pirates are only half a game behind the Giants and the Reds, one full contest worse than the Cubs, and five and one-half to the rear of the Cards.

ROBERTI AND GROGAN TOP RING PROSPECTS IN NEW YORK CIRCLES

A pair of good-natured, hard hitting boxers in the persons of Roberto Roberti (left) and Tommy Grogan (right), is spicing up fistie affairs in the metropolitan area. Roberti won wide favor for his showing against Johnny Risko and so did Grogan with his one-minute knockout of a New York lightweight.

NEW YORK—(P)—A couple of new arrivals in New York's plugging ranks of box fighters has helped to stimulate interests in the fistie game hereabouts.

They are Roberto Roberti six foot, four-inch, heavyweight hope, and Tommy Grogan the dashing young Omaha lightweight with a heavyweight walk-up.

Roberti won on a foul from Johnny Risko, the banging banker from Cleveland. That victory meant no more to boxing men than any other victory from a foul blow, but Roberti's improvement as a fighter did mean something to them, and they have been praising him ever since.

The Italian cloutier did nothing during that fight that bothered Risko then but he showed enough promise to indicate he might prove hard for Risko or any other fighter to beat in a few months hence.

Metropolitan fans remembered Roberti as just another preliminary fighter of a year ago. Now they are talking of him as championship material.

Grogan's debut was decidedly more impressive when it comes to rating on the basis of what he did instead of what he might do. Flashing a deadly left hook, Tommy stopped Fernando Fiorello, a tough local boy, before the sound of the opening gong had died out.

The victory placed alongside a technical knockout of the rugged Billy Petrolle gives Tommy quite a record. So the moguls are hoping for an opening to match him with Jimmy McLarnin.

But Grogan's handlers are backing up on that for the same reason that Roberti's manager is juggling offers of a match with Jack Sharkey. They don't want to pit their young proteges against men of such overwhelmingly greater experience.

Matching Roberti with George Godfrey and Grogan with Rey Miller, Chicago slugger, has been suggested as the best step in this direction.

At any rate, everything is coming their way as the big fall and winter program gets under way and these newcomers appear likely to capitalize handsomely on the lucrative indoor season.

Golf Tourney Continues On A Wet Course

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO GOLF CLUB, CHICAGO, Aug. 30—(P)—On a rain-drenched battlefield Great Britain and the United States today renewed their battle for the Walker cup.

It really is a war for good will. While the opponents fight with all their golfing acumen to win the victory, there is a marvelous fraternity between the two teams of eight men.

In the first clash there were to be four-ball foursomes over 36 holes. In each foursome, two Americans had to play one ball between them against two Britons, alternating in stroking a single rubber pellet in match competition. A point goes to whichever partner wins in the 36 hole match, and in case of a tie match, each pair gets a half point.

To complete the tourney the men will play 8 single matches at 36 holes the second day, each victory counts a point as in the foursomes, and the team gaining the most points out of a maximum of 12 will get the Walker Cup, offered by George H. Walker.

When Captain Jones and Captain William Tweedell of the British team selected their teams, the line-up for the foursomes stood:

George von Elm and Jess Sweetser, both former American amateur champions, against T. P. Perkins, British champion and Dr. Tweedell, a former British titleholder.

Bobby Jones, national amateur champion, and Chick Evans, formerly national amateur and open champion against Major C. O. Heald, long a leader in British golf, and W. L. Hope, Jimmy Johnson, long driving Minneapolis player, and Francis Quimet, who has been both amateur and open king, against Eustace Storey and T. A. Torrance, stalwart Britons.

Roland MacKenzie and Watt Gunn, brilliant youths, against John B. Beck and Dr. A. E. MacCallum, selected when two former British champions were unable to take in the matches.

Fight Results

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON—Johnny Hill, Scotland, defeated Newsboy Brown, New York, (15). Johnny Curley, England, beat Sammy Schack, United States, foul, (7).

DAYTON, O.—Roy Wallace, Indianapolis, defeated Johnny Mason, Pittsburgh, (10).

WEST NEW YORK, N. J.—Man Mountain, Minneapolis, knocked out Frank Zarate Newark, (1).

DAYTON, Ky.—Mike Dundee, Rock Island, Ill., knocked out Tony Escalantes, Los Angeles, (10). Fred Mahan, Los Angeles, won over Meyer Grace, Chicago, (10). Joe Lucas, Detroit, defeated Bobby Hermann, Los Angeles, (10). Otto Atterson, Terre Haute, won from Lon Lovelace, Terre Haute, (6).

MONTREAL—Eleanor Rioux, French-Canadian heavyweight, knocked out Romero Rojas, Chile, (3).

SAN FRANCISCO—Speedy Dado, Filipino, knocked out Pinky, George, Des Moines, (2).

Tunney Is Guest Of Harry Preston At Dinner Party

LONDON, Aug. 30—(P)—Landing once Tunney's hearing at last night's dinner given in his honor by Harry Preston, noted British sportsman, the Express refers to the ex-champion as "the embodiment of his man decency."

Tunney scored one of the greatest knockouts of his life, the paper says, by gracefully knocking with the literary celebrities and other notables attending the party.

In a toast to the guests of honor Lord Decies called Gene a "great gentleman" and hoped he would have such success in his chosen field of literature.

The young marquis of Clydesdale followed with a brief speech, and the ex-champion replied with graceful phrases of appreciation.

"I don't know why you make this fuss over me," Gene said. "What is boxing? The ability to coordinate mind and muscle at a critical moment, that is all."

"Yet you receive me with all this acclaim. If I had been a great painter I would have been met by a couple of long-haired men and have been left to posterity."

He denounced the "killer" type as a menace to boxing, declaring the only joy to be obtained in a fight is by facing a man of physical and intellectual equality.

Gene's speech is declared as a triumph of sincerity that carried all before it.

Among the distinguished men present at the dinner, perhaps thirty in all, none had a chance after Tunney's telling remarks, the scribe continues, but Arnold Bennett, the novelist, topped off the occasion with a graceful touch.

"A friend asked me to dinner," he said, "but I told him I was going to dine with Tunney. 'You are a liar,' the friend retorted, 'you are boasting.'"

Bronco Busting Cow Puncher Is Promoted Again

DENVER, Aug. 30—Louis F. Swift, bronco busting cow puncher of the Swift family of packers fame, who is learning the meat business from the cow up, has reached another ladder rung in the climb, with his appointment as general manager of the Swift and company plant here.

Swift, whose father presented him with a large cattle ranch near Denver that he might learn the business from the humble beginning as valet to a flock of potential beefsteaks, long has been a well known figure in and about the stockyards here, where he has acted in every capacity from drover to buyer.

L. A. Gilbert, former general manager of the plant, has been transferred to the swift plant at Milwaukee, of fields here announced.

Spudders Lead While Houston Bids For Place

The bat-song of Wichita Falls pealed forth again yesterday while the Houston Buffs second in the standing and almost certain to contest with the Spuds to see who warbles the victory melody in the split season playoff, gnawed their nails when rain for the second time in two days prevented their playing.

Upon Shreveport Wichita Falls descended like a windstorm to win 10 to 2 in a game not so one-sided as the score indicates. The Spudders outfit shreveport by only three taps, and each team erred twice, but Wichita Falls not only tired out four opposition pitchers but bumped out frequent extra base blows.

A group of Waco Cub youngsters in training for the big league starts beat the San Antonio Bears, 3 to 0.

The Bears connected only six times in the little matter of hitting the Dallas Stears topped Fort Worth by the Cats swept the series 2 to 1 after putting to rest ctainu ctainu shrdtu putting to rest several Dallas spirts. Houston was to have played Beaumont.

Military Movement By Communists Is Reported From East

PEKING, Aug. 30.—(AP)—An anti-foreign military movement led by communists was reported today from Tainan-Fu, seat of the Shantung Province government since the Japanese occupied Tsinan.

Official dispatches said troops occupied the American and English mission buildings.

A letter received by the Methodist Episcopal mission here said the Tainan-Fu missions were occupied last week by Nationalist troops but three American mission workers were there not disturbed.

The American legation has received no report in regard to the movement.

Delivery Boys Are Robbed By Bandits

DALLAS, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Police today were seeking a pretty woman bandit and her male escort who last night robbed two drug store delivery boys here. In each instance the couple, driving a green roadster, accompanied their purpose without the use of firearms.

After ordering a small package of merchandise and requesting that change be sent for a $10 bill, the pair sat in front of the designated residence in their automobile. When the boy appeared, they took the package and change as the woman held out the bill to the boy. Before he could seize the bill, the driver started the car and sped away.

SUFFRAGE LEADER DEAD

Symonds To Build Six Brick Houses

Chas. A. Symonds, local building contractor, who erected the Pampa Daily News model home, yesterday took out $52,000 worth of building permits to build six large brick homes, five in the Cook-Adams addition and one in the East End addition. Mr. Symonds has erected several beautiful homes in the city, modeled by himself, and is now starting on the greatest building program of beautiful homes in the history of the city.

The homes he has contracted to build are for:

Jack Mason, manager of the Biggs Horn Nash company, a $7,500 brick home with large garage in the Cook-Adams addition.

F. M. Culberson, of the Culberson-Smalling Motor company, a $9,000 brick home with garage in the Cook-Adams addition.

Chas. A. Symonds' model home in the wately $12,500.

J. D. Sugg, of the Pampa Times, a $7,500 brick home in the Cook-Adams addition.

W. O. Gatton, with the Gatton Tire Service company, an $8,000 brick home in the Cook-Adams addition.

Roy Sewell, with the Rose Motor company, a $7,500 brick home in the east End addition on East Kingsmill avenue.

J. W. Gordon and Judge J. L. Bain of Clarendon are in the city today. Judge Bain is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Carl Eoston, and his son, Gordon Bain.

Miss Zaida Williams left last night for her home in Portland, Ore., after a pleasant visit here in the home of her sister, Mrs. Jack Griffith. She will go by way of Grand Canyon.

Miss Cleora Stanard left this morning for an extended visit in Austin.

Irish Free State Welcomes Kellogg

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Aug. 30.—(AP)—All classes in the Irish Free State joined in a hearty welcome to Secretary of State Kellogg when he arrived today for his Irish visit fresh from the signing at Paris of the Kellogg-Briand renunciation of war pact.

The enthusiasm broke loose from the moment the cruiser Detroit, bearing Secretary Kellogg and his party, steamed into Kingstown Harbor. A great crowd which had been gathering on the sea front at Dunlaoghaire for hours cheered the arrival of the cruiser while a salute of eighteen guns of the free state army which had been mounted for the occasion boomed out.

When the cruiser was first sighted, a small boat containing Vice President Blythe and members of the cabinet accompanied by Frederick A. Sterling, American minister. Mrs. Sterling, and Washington Abbott, secretary of the American legation, sailed out to meet her. The pinnace brought back Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg and President Cosgrave who had accompanied them from Paris.

William Fleischmidt, manager of the K. C. store, who has been seriously ill for the past two weeks, is reported to be much improved. He is now in Wichita Falls, where he was taken after becoming ill in St. Louis.

J. R. Roby of Amarillo is attending to business in this city today.

Election Results

DALLAS, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Returns to the Texas election bureau from 232 out of 253 counties in the state, including 194 complete, showed the following totals for candidates in Saturday's Democratic primary election.

United States Senator: Connally, 315,187; Mayfield, 265,708.

Superintendent of Instruction: Garner, 235,004; Marrs, 314,518.

Land Commissioner: Robinson, 343,019; Terrell, 193,406.

Civil Appeals, 11th district: Funderburk, 25,252; Patterson, 22,359.

Miss Margaret Buckler and her house-guest, Miss Nellie Dial of Sherman, are in Amarillo today. Miss Dial will visit her brother, J. J. Dial, of that city.
