DEVELOPMENT IS PERMANENT

Several Large Business Houses Now Under Construction

The month of August broke all records for building permits issued at the city hall, for one month for this year. With Chas. Symonds, local building contractor, starting a building program in the Cook-Adams addition with five large brick homes, the total permits for the month amounted to $121,300 or $34,350 more than the month of July.

With such buildings as the Curtis Glen, J. S. Wynne, W. C. Bradford, L. N. McCullough and J. E. Murfee and the A. A. Gordon store buildings under construction or about to commence one of the biggest building programs in the history of the city is under way. Residences are also rapidly rising in all the residential districts to meet the demands of the ever increasing population.

Three permits were issued the last day of the month to the following citizens:

- A. Dentebeim a $6,000 brick store building at the rear of the corner lot at Cuyler and Foster streets. The building will be erected by day labor in charge of H. V. Friedman.
- A. L. McDaniel a $3,500 residence in the Cook-Adams addition to be erected by H. V. Friedman.
- A. P. Stark, a $3,000 home in the Pried addition to be built by himself.

Police Alleged To Be Landlords In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 1.—(P)—Records ordered seized by the grand jury investigating activities of Philadelphia gangsters and bootleggers from the offices of Marks, Weinberg and Company, public accountants, contain the accounts of a syndicate, which, district attorney John Monaghan said today, controlled all the alcohol distilleries in the city and from which huge quantities of alcohol had been drawn by bootleggers.

Each distillery had its payroll, Mr. Monaghan said, "which covered the corruption of police and police officials in the district in which it operated and through which its cargoes of alcohol were run." In one ledger, alone, he declared, notations were found showing that more than $20,000 had been paid to two men.

The district attorney said tonight that in the process of unearthing the alleged bond between the bootleggers and the police he was having an investigation made regarding reported land holdings by police.

"Information has come to me," he declared, "that some of these men own valuable properties in Atlantic City, Wildwood, Cape May, N. J., and in some of the Florida resorts. When we find that policemen are landlords outside their own cities it is worth while under any condition to look into the matter."

Mrs. S. F. Wanser and small daughters of Amarillo will arrive tomorrow to spend a week with Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Turner.

The Weather Vane

Settlement Out of Court Likely In Damage Suit

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 1.—(P)—Indications that settlements out of court might be made in damage suits growing out of the Lake Tahoe land alleged fraud deal, in which Almer Sample McPherson, pastor of Angulus Temple, was involved by civil suits, was seen today in the offer by H. L. Henry, sub-divider, to recompense owners. The district attorney's office announced Henry had stated during a conference he intended to "adjust the matter" and that if the real estate man did so no new complaints would be issued.

Attorneys for the complainants said their clients would be satisfied if an adjustment was made and would dismiss their suits.

The two suits filed charged Mrs. McPherson with entering into an agreement with sub-dividers of the Lake Tahoe property whereby she was to receive a commission on all sales of lots and that she failed to keep a promise to build a "lighthouse" or temple branch and a huge outdoor bowl on the property.

A court order directing Mrs. McPherson to make a deposition a week from yesterday at the office of attorneys for the complainants, caused the pastor to postpone a projected trip to Europe.

After today's conference with Henry, who has not yet been served with a complaint, Deputy District Attorney McInaacs said he would continue his investigation of records and telegrams said to have been exchanged between parties in the deal.

McInaacs said Henry had assured him that there had been no intent of fraud, but that he would make good the amount of money put into the Tahoe project.

Bringing with him from committee headquarters in New York information received there through numerous sources he placed it before Senators Fletcher of Florida and Glass and Swanson of Virginia, receiving in exchange reports on conditions based on information which had reached them.

"The situation in the south is improving every day," Senator Harrison stated after the conference. "The Democrats are now organizing and fighting. Conditions will continue to improve. The situation over the country from reports coming to Democratic headquarters in New York are most encouraging."

The bureau also announced restrictions placed on oil production on ten-acre tracts of land, comprising about 25,000 acres, sold in March, had been removed by Secretary West.

The decision to sell followed a request of the Osage tribal council, Aug. 13, and favorable recommendation by J. George Wright, superintendent of the Osage Indian agency.

There are nearly 10,000 oil producing wells in the district to be leased, which produce a total of 53,000 barrels daily.

Conceded Death of Amundsen Is Mark In History

OSLO, Norway, Sept. 1.—(P)—Much of the mystery surrounding the disappearance of Roald Amundsen, Capt. Rene Billaud, and four others while flying from Tromsø to Spitzbergen on their mission of mercy last June had cleared tonight.

But with its clearing faded slim hopes held that the famous explorer and his mates were still alive.

The discovery last night of the Fuglove Islands, rock group near Tromsø, one of the floats of their seaplane, the "Latham" constituted first definite word of the fliers since their radio signals ceased shortly after leaving Tromsø June 18. Since then, and ned the seas vainly for some clue as to since their non-appearance at Spitzbergen, Norwegian fishermen had scanned the fate of their countrymen—all their search, however, being unavailing until the little steamer Brood last night picked up the float, thought at first to be an oil barrel, then recognized as the pontoon of the missing seaplane.

Boat Sinks in Detroit River at Speed Classic

DETROIT, Sept. 1.—(P)—The lone foreign challenge to the British International (Harmsworth) trophy for speed boats—premier award for power boats racing—rested at the bottom of the Detroit River tonight, probably lost forever, her mechanic injured and her pilot, Marian Barbara Carstairs, plucky British sportswoman, grieving but unhurt after the initial heat of the race classic held here today.

Gar Wood, veteran and holder of the Harmsworth trophy for the past five years, roared down the Detroit River's power boat course in his latest phantom boat, Miss America, VII, to win the heat and set a new Harmsworth record for a single heat of 68.41 statute miles per hour, over a course of 30 nautical miles. To again secure possession of the trophy, Wood must race his boat one more heat, Monday.

Joe Harris, England, Miss Carstairs' mechanic, is suffering from two broken ribs and possible internal injuries after the spectacular upset of the British boat, while speeding up the course at a 60-mile clip. The Estelle II, a pigmy when compared to the other Harmsworth entries, divided high into the air then nosed into the water when it struck a swell toward the end of the first lap.

Pilot and mechanic were thrown from the boat, which sank immediately.

Miss Carstairs, uninjured shocked from being thrown into the water, accepted the loss of her boat philosophically.

Commander Greening of Hamilton Ontario, driving the rainbow VI won the first heat of the North American championship race when his only opponent of New York sank when driftwood wrenched off a propeller, piercing the hull.

Final heats in the two leading races, together with the other power boats events, will be run off Monday.

SHOT DOWN ON STREET AMONG LARGE CROWD

Angry Farmer Gives Up Smoking Gun to Officers

FORGED LETTERS START TROUBLE

Teeth of Passerby Are Knocked Out By a Stray Bullet

DALLAS, Texas, Sept. 1.—(P)—Orville L. Mathews, National bank executive paid an election bet with his life here today when he was shot down on Dallas' busiest street corner amidst a throng of pedestrians as a result of a forgery, or of a tragic misunderstanding.

Scores of people saw V. R. Adams, Bartlett, Texas farmer, who later was charged with murder, hand his smoking gun to a traffic officer, after he had pursued Mathews across the street, shooting as gaps in the crowd offered opportunity, and had fired at least one bullet into the banker's body. The latter wilted to the pavement.

Victor Poisson, passerby, escaped death when one of the .45 calibre bullets from Adams' gun struck him in his mouth, shattering his teeth. Silver bridge work in the front of his mouth stopped the bullet, Poisson did not know what had happened to him until he spat the bullet and broken teeth about two months.

Mathews had held $2,000 in stakes on a bet which Adams and some friends had made on the recent U. S. senatorial run-off primary. In the only statement he made Adams told police Mathews had "beaten" him out of $2,000 and had threatened him when he retorted about it. Adams W. T. Ramsey of Belton, and two others had made a pot of $2,000 to bet on Congressman Tom Connally, who defeated Senator Earle B. Mayfield for the senatorial nomination.

The prisoner is understood to have told police the bet was made with Ben C. Richards, a Dallas insurance man. Richards, however, denied today he had made any wager and said that he had merely advised a friend in the matter and had taken the men to Mathews, after refusing to hold the stakes himself.

Adams told newspaper men that the stakes, two $100 cashiers checks, were handed to Mathews with the understanding that the winner would collect Thursday in the presence of Adams and Richards.

When he appeared Thursday, Adams said Mathews told him he had paid the money to a Clyde R. West who gave his home as Waco, on the strength of a telegram signed with Ramsey's name and a letter, signed with Ramsey's name and witnessed by a notary. Ramsey said today the signatures were forgeries.

A conference had been arranged for today and Adams apparently met Mathews at a drug store next to the bank. The bank had just opened and a number of officials and employees were at the doors of the institution when Adams followed closely behind Mathews as the latter dodged through the traffic and fired at least two more bullets as the two crossed the street. Mathews sank to the pavement, but staggered to his feet and lurched to the sidewalk where he again fell as Adams fired the final bullet in his prime figure.

Adams was excited for a time, but after a brief description of the events leading to the shooting refused to talk except through his attorneys. He was held without bond.

Mrs. Mathews and her two children, Jack 11, and Anita, 8, had just finished breakfast and bid Mathews goodbye half an hour before they received news of the tragedy.

Two and three-Party Series Proving Popular With Pampa Hostesses Who Entertain for Friends and Visitors

The pleasant custom of entertaining with a series of parties is being followed by some of Pampa's most gracious and popular hostesses who thus extend their hospitality to a wide circle of friends and at the same time retain for their affairs the charm of the smaller, less formal function. The series plan is a particularly happy means of entertaining for an honor guest, as it affords the honoree and others in attendance an opportunity for more than a passing greeting.

Mrs. McDonald Honors Mrs. W. W. Merten.

Mrs. J. W. McDonald was hostess this week at three parties complimenting Mrs. W. W. Merten, a popular matron of the city who will leave within a few weeks to make her home in Santa Ana, Calif. More than sixty friends of the honoree were entertained at this trio of delightful gatherings.

Bridge was played on each occasion in a setting made more attractive by bouquets of orchid and yellow garden flowers. The color scheme denoted in the floral decorations was developed in the game accessories and repeated in the ice course which was served late each afternoon. Sweet peas formed centerpieces for the tables at the tea hour.

Missionary Society Has Important Part in Building M. E. Church

The great role played by the Women's Missionary Society in the life and progress of the Methodist church and in the life of the community at large is brought vividly before the public today as Pampa's beautiful new church is dedicated.

Through benefit teas, luncheons, and dinners, and an unusual campaign within the society, itself, the Missionary society has raised $1,250 toward the building and furnishing fund of the church.

Meanwhile, the organization has carried on its service within the church; it has borne its full share of the conference expense, quota; and has continued its commendable social service work within the community.

The work is carried on under the leadership of a well organized staff of officers, committee leaders, and superintendents. The officers are as follows: President, Mrs. W. Purviance; vice-president, Mrs. S. A. Hurst; recording secretary, Mrs. Joe Shelton; corresponding secretary, Mrs. I. W. ## Modes of the Moment

PARIS (AP)—There is much suede cloth in the winter fashion collection. A gray suede cloth coat at Douillet-Doucet's is cut with overlapping panels, loose below the hips. The effect is that of a petal skirt in tailored material. Shawl collar and deep-gauntlet cuffs, placed an inch or so above the end of the sleeve, are of gray broadtail.

COLEMAN, Aug. 30.—(AP)—The Coleman welfare league has received its first legacy. Under terms of the will of Mrs. J. S. Barnard, filed for probate, the league will receive $6,000 interest from which will be used in carrying on work of the charitable home. The residue of the estate, value of which was not given, is bequeathed to the Methodist's orphan's home at Waco.

Perhaps the nurse who swam the English Channel the other day was only trying to be a wet nurse.

Seventy-Five Guests Entertained at First Fraternity Club Dance

An event of outstanding interest was the dance given by the newly organized fraternity club at the Schneider hotel Friday evening, at which seventy-five members and guests were entertained. As the opening affair of the fall season and as the initial function of a group which is expected to add much to the social life of the city, the dance was an affair of importance. Excellent music added much to the pleasure of the occasion.

Readers' Forum

To The Pampa News: Pampa is getting to be a city of considerable growth and there is much development which is commendable on the part of the citizens of Pampa such as the building of public buildings, grading and paving of streets, etc. Still there are some small things that are neglected which would not be inviting to a new comer seeking a place to make his home. These are trash piles and weeds. The entire city is growing over in weeds and is an eyesore that does not speak well of the citizens. Another lack of public pride or an unparadise oversight is the cemetery. Even the family lots, with some exceptions, are neglected.

Most of the grounds are overgrown with wild grass and weeds. The cemetery association seems to have no interest in the upkeep of the grounds. There should be something done about the cemetery. The people who have family lots or graves that they wished cleaned and tended to may make it known at the Malone Furniture Co. or see the undersigned.

LUNCHEON—Salmon salad, whole wheat bread and butter sandwiches, blueberry bread pudding, milk tea.
DINNER—Shoulder of veal braised with vegetables, tomato and cucumber salad, apple sauce with ginger bread, milk, coffee.

Almost any kind of fruit can be used in place of blueberries. Large fruits, such as peaches or apples, must be cut in small pieces, but berries can be substituted and used in exactly the same fashion.

Blueberry Bread Pudding
One quart berries, 1 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon cinnamon, 1 cup water, few grains salt, bread, butter.

Wash and pick over berries. Combine with sugar, salt, cinnamon and water. Mix well and cook ten minutes. Cut several slices of bread and remove crusts. Spread with butter and cut in half inch cubes. Put a layer of hot berry mixture into a buttered mold. Fill with bread cubes. Press down until mold is half full and add more berry mixture. Fill again with buttered bread cubes and again press down. The mold should be packed full of bread saturated with the berry mixture. Place in the refrigerator to become cold and firm. Turn out of mold and cut in slices to serve. Serve with hard sauce.

Young Players Capture Tennis Doubles Today

FROOKLINE, Mass., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Futures of American tennis took on a rosy hue today when George M. Lott, Jr., and John Hennessy, young players, became international doubles champions by overwhelming Gerald Patterson and Jack Hawkes, Australian Davis cup players 6-2, 6-4, in 42 minutes.

Lott, for the second consecutive day was the hero of the afternoon. He made 15 earned points and had but 15 errors. Hennessy was not outclassed much, having nine earned points to his credit and only 15 mistakes.

Patterson, usually steady, had a wretched day. He made 3 errors during the three sets and had his service broken four times out of five tries. Hawkes had 16 errors. The Australians made only 15 earned points in the match.

By their victory the Americans gained the doubles title which Tilden and Francis T. Hunter, last year's winners, were forced to let undefended when the executive committee of the U. S. L. T. A., barred the player-writer for his Wimbledon articles.

Helen Wills, holding most of the world's tennis titles open to women players, captured her third national title in a week by winning the mixed doubles final with Hawkes as her partner. They defeated Edith Cross, San Francisco, and E. P. Moon, another Australian, 6-0, 6-4.

The mixed doubles title, won last year by Miss E. B. Bennet of England and Henri Cochet of France was not defended this year.

J. D. E. Jones and Arnold Jones of Providence, gained the national father and son doubles championship by easily defeating D. M. Hill and Malcolm Hill of Newton, 6-0, 6-1, in the final match of that tourney.

The national veterans doubles championship was awarded Irving O. Wright and H. V. Johnson of Boston when last year's champions, Dr. William Rossybaum and Fred Baggs, both of New York were forced to forfeit the second set after Dr. Rosenbaum tore a ligament in his shoulder.

OUT OUR WAY

Speer Proves His Golf Superiority In Matches Today

PORT WORTH, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Jack Speer, Houston, has again established himself as supreme among Texas golfers. The Texas amateur champion added another championship to his list by overwhelming Lafayette Franks, 16, Dallas, 8 and 6 in 36 hole finals of the tenth annual River Crest Invitation and second annual Southwestern golf Association combined tournament today.

Speer shot par golf to subdue the Dallas high school lad for the joint championship. After going two down through the first three holes, Speer fought back to square the match on the twelfth hole, to ahead on the fourteenth and win it on the thirteenth.

It was an erratic game that Speer started shooting.

Franks turned in a birdie three to take the first hole and par four won him the fourth to send him two up. They battled through the first nine holes, Franks coming in with a 35, one under par, while Speer was one over.

At the start of the incoming nine Speer began playing his shots to the best advantage, while Franks began slipping. The latter turned in a 42, five over par on the back nine, going three down to Speer when the morning play ended. Another 37 was the efforts of Speer.

In the afternoon round Speer was master.

The third hole was a flnx for Speer on each round. He picked up each time, conceding the hole to Franks.

TYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Ray Keech, who attained a speed of 208 miles an hour at Florida last winter, today wrested the 100 mile dirt track championship from Russell Snowberger, brother Philadelphia, before a crowd 70,000. His time was 1 hour 19 minutes, 40.55 seconds.

For more than half of the century snowberger, piloting Ira Vail's speedy Miller special appeared a sure victor but after a thrilling battle the veteran Keech cut in ahead of him and rapidly widened the gap. Snowberger was nearly half a mile behind when the race ended.

The huge crowd was treated to a thrill early in the race when three of the speeding machines crashed near the three quarter pole. No one was injured.

Dave Evans, San Antonio, driving a Miller, finished in 1:30:06.48, fifth.

Mountain Chief Now King of His Native Albania

TIRANA, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Church bells, frenzied popular acclaim, thunderous cannon fire and one tense moment of triumph today marked the final step in the rise of Ahmed Zogu from a mountain chieftain taking of his native Albania.

The National assembly, without a dissenting voice, had proclaimed him king of Albanians. Deputies, government officials and prominent civilians who packed the tiny legislative hall of the smallest state in the Balkans arose in a body and greeted the announcement with cries of "Long Live Our King!"

They left the hall and marched to the palace where President Zogu was waiting for them.

The salvo of 101 guns scarcely signaled elevation of a Plebian president to the kingship when the new ruler started his triumphal journey from the palace to the assembly hall. He rode through densely thronged streets while Albanian and Italian guards formed a barrier against the possibility of a hostile act.

He appeared profoundly moved. Falteringly, he raised his right hand and swore to rule the country with wisdom and justice and to support the constitution.

He made no attempt to speak. Representatives of the Mohammedan, Greek and Roman Catholic churches were present to signalize unanimity with which various religious groups in Albania regard the establishment of a monarchy.

An earlier dispatch from Belgrade said that the central committee warned all European chancelleries that force would be used to prevent the enthronement of Zogu.

The new sovereign took a double oath, once on the Bible and once on the Koran. He is a Mohammedan but had guaranteed freedom of worship.

Charles C. Hart, American minister, was cheered.

Governor Smith Enjoying Quiet Week at Mansion

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Convinced there's no place like home, Governor Smith settled down today to enjoy a quiet week-end at the executive mansion.

He placed a ban on politics and work for a few days.

Before he became a Democratic presidential nominee, Mr. Smith was able, even though governor, to slip away for a vacation with some degree of seclusion. But he has found that those days are over. His last week end in New Jersey, where he continuously was the center of crowds, convinced him of that.

More than anything now, the Democratic standard bearer is looking for rest and sleep.

For the week-end the family circle has been expanded to include the governor's cronies, William F. Kenny, New York millionaire, on whose special car the nominee will travel during the campaign.

Kenny brought along his golf sticks and with the weather ideal the governor and he today got some exercise.

Governor Smith sent word today to newspapermen that he had no news, and particularly that he had no comment to make at this time on the cable from Europe of William R. Hearst, predicting his defeat and taking a line at Tammany and John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic National committee.

W-W-Who's A-Fraid?

Livestock Outlook

LOS ANGELES, Aug 31.—(Special)—The lamb crop is 8 per cent larger than that of last year, which means an increase of around 1,800,000 lambs. The increase is due both to the larger number of ewes and to the fact that sheepmen were able to save a larger percentage of their lambs. The latter is the result of improved range practices and more favorable weather and feed conditions. The full result of this year's increase in lamb production is not being felt at the markets, however, as there is still a very keen demand for ewe lambs for breeding purposes.

Wool prices over the United States averaged 14 percent higher this year than last. World demand continues good for wool despite competition from other textiles. World stocks of wool are slightly larger than last year but students of the opinion that satisfactory market conditions may be expected to prevail for some time to come.

The general trend towards the marketing of cattle at younger ages is affecting the hide business to quite an extent. Naturally there is not as much leather in a young steer's hide as in that of the aged steer. The hide market is in a strong position despite the completion of rubber heels, composition soles and other leather substitutes. The post war surplus of 20,000,000 hides has been reduced to 2,000,000 which is just about enough for current demands.

Hog prices have been very attractive to producers this summer. Choice hogs reached $13.00 a cwt. at Chicago last week and Los Angeles packers paid $14.10 for Nebraska hogs, the highest price paid at that market since last fall. It will be remembered that, the Los Angeles market is usually from $1.50 to $2.00 a cwt. higher than Missouri markets due to the shortage of hogs in the Pacific Slope country, forcing buyers to draw from distant Corn Belt Territory. There is urgent need for greater hog production throughout the Inter-Mountain and Pacific Slope territory.

It is estimated that 20 percent of the cattle slaughtered in Los Angeles is made up of dairy cows, culled from producing herds. Due to the shortage from their herds the so-called "unproductive" cows which are not giving enough milk to pay for their keep. These culled dairy cows are bringing an average of $75 to $100 per head on the open market.

Mexico has been an extensive shipper of feeder cattle into Arizona and California during the past year. It is estimated that 50,000 shudlu etaal has been imported into Arizona and California during 1928. These cattle for the most part were of an inferior breeding and of poor quality but they answer a certain demand for the plainer grade of beef. Many of these Mexican cattle too, developed into fairly desirable quality steers after a few months on California and Arizona pastures. Others of very inferior quality were utilized by California packers as bologna and canned meat material. These importations from Mexico have been the means of

Prohibition Party Nominee To Make "Lone Campaign"

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—(AP)—William F. Varney, presidential nominee of the prohibition party, decided today to conduct a lone campaign for election. This decision was reached, after the chairman of the national committee of the party, who has said four fifths of the party members favors Hoover, announced he would solicit campaign funds of $100,000 for the sole purpose of an "anti-Smith" campaign. The executive committee of the party decided yesterday to keep Varney and James Edgerton, vice presidential nominee, in the field.

Master Minds Of Both Parties Bending Efforts For Creation Of Smooth Political Machines

BY D. FIELD BRITTE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Proceeding apparently on the theory that organization is at least half the battle, master minds of Democratic and Republican presidential campaigns are bending efforts now toward creation of smooth running and efficient vote-getting machines.

Both parties earnestly are digging in, from headquarters down to the precinct, mobilizing workers to carry on with little assistance from personal appearance of the standard bearer.

Advance indications have been that candidates will restrict travels and send messages to voters largely over radio. With Hoover and Smith, now perfecting speaking itineraries, it is obvious they cannot take the stump in every state and equally certain the heaviest oratory will be concentrated in the east and in such other regions as opposing strategists designate as debatable.

Organization work in both camps rests with a capable corps of trained administrators and business executives, but even their talents are being taxed as they gather up and endeavor to weave into a solid pattern the conflicting reports from the field. Hoover, working again from Washington until he swings once more across the continent to cast his vote in California, has taken over the helm. He is conferring daily with various leaders.

One of the knots Hoover must cut is conflict of opinion as to leadership New England with the New York-New Jersey campaigns. Some New Englanders believe work in their area should be directed from some home point that particular attention might be devoted to such states as Massachusetts and Rhode Island, where Democrats have taken an aggressive stand. Others believe the best plan would be to link New England with the New York-New Jersey offensive, which also has strong Democratic opposition.

Chairman Raskob, giving the Smith campaign the administrative ability he brought from his post with General Motors, has carried his task into the middle and north west, whose Democratic leaders gave him both optimistic reports and counsel of obstacles to be overcome. Raskob met them promptly with a million dollar raise of the war chest and announced that much would be spent in the farm belt.

While raising the budget to $4,000,000 Raskob said he had heard the opposition was attempting to create a $6,000,000 fund. That was denied by chairman Work of the Republican national committee who announced at the same time that party leaders had been advised to stay within the original $3,000,000 mark. Raskob's reply was that his information came from reliable Republican sources.

Harmony Plea

The keynote of the Democratic field activities is a plea for harmony. In some states party factions have set aside their private disputes and are working as a unit for the Smith ticket. An example is New Jersey, where local leaders have buried the hatchet while they work together to roll up a Democratic majority on which Governor Smith has said he is counting.

In Minnesota, whose electoral votes the Smith people are claiming, state leaders are going about their business behalf of the state ticket while J. Mitchell, of New Jersey, representative national headquarters, is working a separate unit in formation of all-party or independent Smith clubs. The aim there is to gather in for Smith certain Democrats not in harmony with the state group and some Republicans who, while supporting their local candidates, are opposed to Mr. Hoover. ### Fire Wipes Out Homes In Resort of Pine Valley

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Fire that started yesterday near Pine Valley, thickly settled summer resort in the mountains of San Diego County, passed through Pine Valley, "burning many homes" said a message sent to San Diego late today by supervisor Elliott of the federal forest service. He also said the flames were threatening the Laguna Mountains, in which is a federal forest reserve containing many cottages and cabins.

Sheriff Acquitted of Murder Charge

BOERNE, Sept. 1.—(AP)—In two minutes of deliberation a jury acquitted E. Bierschwald, Kendall county sheriff of a murder charge.

The indictment resulted from the killing of W. B. Perry, who, testimony indicated, attempted to escape from the sheriff's custody.

NOBILITO TO RETURN TO ROME ON ACCOUNT OF ILL HEALTH

MILAN, Sept. 1.—(AP)—General Umberto Nobile, ill with fever from the arm broken in his Italia expedition, decided suddenly late today, in view of the state of his health, to leave his home here and return to Rome.

He entrained this evening, amid sympathetic demonstration of a crowd.

With the identification it appeared certain for the first time since the fliers' disappearance they had suffered the fate of other trans-Oceanic fliers—death by falling into the sea.

The apparent death of Raold Amundsen concludes a career which was packed with adventure. It was his lot to be the first man to visit the South pole in 1911. In 1926 with Lincoln Ellsworth and Col. Umberto Nobile on the dirigible Norge he was a member of the second group of men to view the North pole from the air.

From this trip grew the discord and circumstances which apparently finally ended in his death. There was an open break between Amundsen and Nobile after the flight of the Norge, taking the outward form of Amundsen's charges of Nobile's mismanagement of the dirigible, and to Nobile's contention that Amundsen had been in fact, no more than a passenger of the dirigible which he, Nobile, had commanded.

When word came last May that the second Nobile dirigible, the Italia, had fallen north of Spitzbergen, Amundsen immediately pledged himself to assist in the rescue work. After several hitches in the rescue plans, he accepted the invitation of the French ace, Rene Guilbaud, to accompany the Latham to Spitzbergen.

With Amundsen aboard the Latham, were Guilbaud, in charge of the plane, Lieut. Dietrichsen, himself an arctic explorer of considerable note, and three crew members, Lieut. Albert Cuverville, pilot; Emil Valette, radio operator, and Gilbert Braz, mechanic.

MUSICIANS THREATEN STRIKE

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—(AP)—A threatened strike of musicians in 51 outlying theaters was forestalled today when a federal judge issued temporary injunction restraining the Chicago federation of musicians from calling and enforcing the contemplated walkout.

A hearing will be held September 10 when evidence will be submitted relative to a permanent injunction.

PARTIES TO UNITE

Paris of Clinton, Mo., prohibition party candidate for president in 1924, and member of the party's national committee this year, today announced that in Missouri this year the Prohibition party will withdraw its candidates and unite with Republicans to work for defeat of Governor Smith.

BLACKMAIL CHARGE FILED

Ruth Won't Mix "Politics With His Baseball"

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Babe Ruth refused to pose today with Herbert Hoover for photographers at American League baseball park before the opening of the game between the New York Yankees and the Washington Senators.

The request that the home run king go over to the box of the Republican presidential candidate was conveyed by Clark Griffith, president of the Washington club at the request of a photographer.

"It's a matter of politics," Ruth told Griffith in stating his refusal.

Before asking that Ruth be invited the photographer inquired of Mr. Hoover's secretary if the nominee would pose and Mr. Hoover consented.

Ruth did not appear but as the game was called by the umpire a minute or so later the candidate assumed that this had prevented the Yankee star from coming to see him.

"I am at a loss to explain such unusual conduct by an American league player under such circumstances," Griffith said tonight. "It is up to Ruth to give some explanation." Griffith said Hoover had "very graciously" consented to the request of the photographer and that he (Hoover) could not understand why Ruth had refused.

Change Made In 1928 Football Rules

AUSTIN, Aug. 31.—Rules in football for the 1928 interscholastic League contests have been announced by the University League Bureau, according to Roy Bedichek, chief of the Bureau.

"Although the closing date for high schools to sign up for participation in football this year is October 1," Bedichek said, "two hundred schools have already filed acceptances. The early enrollment figures indicate a good total registration. There were 325 schools in the League last year."

Only one new rule has been added to the football plan, according to Mr. Bedichek. That rule, number 21, refers to the collection of five percent of the interdistrict receipts by the State Office to maintain a fund for investigating eligibility questions and to supplement printing, salary and office appropriations relating to football.

The State has also been divided into new districts. Mr. Bedichek said, and it is very important that each school acquaint itself with the new lines of division.

Funeral Held at New York

GARDEN CITY, N. Y., Sept. 1.—(AP)—Under a tall church spire that many times had guided him safely out of the air to his home field, M. M. Merrill, manager of Curtiss flying field, lay in death while funeral services were held for him today.

Merrill was killed Monday with E. M. Rommie, manager of the Buffalo airport, when in Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh's falcon plane, they crashed blindly through fog into the side of a mountain near the New York-Pennsylvania border.

Lindbergh expressed regret at the death of Merrill and Rommie.

"THE LITTLE YELLOW HOUSE"

From the novel by Beatrice Burton

BANK OFFICIAL

Dallas, for a breakfast hour program today heard a running eye-witness account of a murder.

Miss Vera Meade Grimes was playing "Moonlight and Roses" on the piano when Ralph Schultz, announcer, heard what he thought was an automobile tire blowing out, but he looked out of the window anyway.

Cutting "Moonlight and Roses" off unceremoniously, Schultz took the microphone and dictated an account of the shooting of Orville Mathews, a bank executive, by V. R. Adams, a farmer who had disagreed with Mathews over an election bet.

The shooting occurred at Main and Akard, the busiest corner in town. It was probably the most notable scoop the radio has ever scored over newspapers, because listeners hundreds of miles away could have gotten a narrative of the shooting before Dallas newspapers knew that there had been a murder.

WACO, Texas, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Clyde R. Vest, alleged to have been one of the contributors to the election bet over which Orville L. Mathews was slain in Dallas today, cannot be located in Waco and it is doubted if he lives here.

Neither could Ora Millican, claimed to have been the notary public who acknowledged the bet for the participants be found.

Miss Ray Swafford and Bruce Clyde Wells were united in marriage yesterday morning by C. E. Cary, Justice of the peace at his office in the court house.

Election Results

DALLAS, Sept. 1.—(AP)—Congressman Tom Connally's majority over Senator Earle B. Mayfield for the Democratic U. S. senatorial nomination in last Saturday's run-off primary was 59,137 votes according to final figures announced here tonight by the Texas election bureau.

Returns from all but five counties were tabulated. Final tabulation follows: For Senator: Connally, 317,901; Mayfield, 258,764.

Superintendent of public instruction, Marrs, 317,808; Garner, 238,023.

Land commissioner: Robinson, 348,323; Terrell, 193,756.

Civil appeals, District 11, Funderburk, 25,206; Patterson, 22,541.

Congress, 17th District, Callaway, 21,508; Lee, 26,474.

The bureau estimates that the following votes are still uncounted: Brewster county 36; Cochran 100; Edwards 100; Hardeman 100, Pecos 26.

Miners Wage Scale Reduction Permits Work for More Men

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—(AP)—A new four-year contract providing for a reduction of from 15 to 20 per cent in the wages of Illinois coal miners was agreed on today by the general joint conference of Illinois miners and operators.

The new contract, subject to a referendum vote of the state's 90,000 miners, calls for a basic wage scale of $6.10 a day for the day worker and 91 cents a ton for the tonnage miners, as compared respectively with the $7.50 day rate and $1.08 a ton rate under the Jacksonville agreement, which expired a year and a half ago.

Officials of the operators association said immediate effect of the new agreement would be re-employment of perhaps 20,000 more miners as quickly as the mines can be re-conditioned and prepared for opening.

Helen Boswell Has Followed Politics For Past 32 Years

BY LORENA A. HICKOK, Associated Press Staff Writer.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—(AP)—In 1896 the year William Jennings Bryan made his "cross of gold" speech in Chicago there attended the Republican National convention in St. Louis a diminutive young woman—she weighed only 104—with shining brown eyes and close cropped curly auburn hair.

She was not a delegate, of course, and she was conscious of many interested masculine stares as she took her seat day after day in a secluded corner of the gallery. Always she was accompanied by a chaperone.

Today at Republican headquarters in New York that woman—grey-haired now and no longer young, as years go—was establishing the eastern speakers bureau for women in the Hoover-Curtis campaign.

She is Helen Varick Boswell—who, "has seen more politics than any other woman in the Republican party."

She started right in that summer of 1896 getting her political experience, and she has been getting it ever since—32 years.

"That first summer they wouldn't let me do very much," she said today. "Probably they would never have let me inside headquarters except for the fact that my foster-mother—my own mother had died when I was a little girl—was J. Ellen Foster of Iowa. She was head of the Republican national committee's first woman's division in 1883, and was considered a remarkable speaker. That summer of 1896, when Theodore Roosevelt, as candidate for vice president, toured the middle west, while William McKinley conducted his front porch campaign in Ohio, Roosevelt asked for only two speakers to go with him, and one of them was my foster-mother, with Mr. Roosevelt and Jonathan P. Dolliver, she went barnstorming for six weeks."

New Methodist Episcopal Church One of Most Beautiful Buildings Completed in the City of Pampa

In stately, upward pointing, mission-Gothic lines of oak bank brick, with Gothic cream stone trimmings, brightened and beautified by tessellated and laced stained glass, each irradiated by memorial and other gifts, the two stately towers reflecting a classic yet restful building of worship, the First Methodist Episcopal Church South, of Pampa is not only a tribute to William H. Townes, the architect and designer, but a magnificent tribute to the co-operation and co-ordination given its pastor, Tom W. Brabham, who from the past to the present brought this devout consummation to its wondrous climax of organization by the building committee, J. N. Duncan, chairman, W. Mullinax, J. G. Noel, W. E. W. Harrah, W. R. Campbell, E. E. Reynolds, J. M. Dodson, O. W. Ferguson, the treasurer, and Roger McConnell.

The main entrance, flanked on either side by emerald lawns and beds of flowers, reached by massive stone steps, thru the arched pillars, leading to the foyer of the church, where two commodious rooms will be used for receptions, is of itself impressive but restful. The auditorium beyond the foyer carries out the main idea of the architect and builder, the building for worship. The side entrance leads to the balcony. The floorings are of oak throughout. The auditorium and the balcony will accommodate 1100 people. The pews, the doorwork, and the wood-work generally are of white pine with a stained walnut effect. This ornamental finish also gives a restful effect. A stately ceiling, cream color, is a feature that is heightened by walnut finished rafters. The walls of the church interior are tinted with a Tiffany striped blend, all contributing to the harmonious effect. The railing before the pastor's rostrum, and the choir seatings show the same restful color effects. The memorial stained windows containing the names of the church classes and societies, together with sweet memorial tributes all speak of worship, the glorious attributes of cooperation and co-ordination.

New Organ Installed
With this feature of restfulness and worship and harmony comes the work given the installation of the Wicks fourteen-stop, three manual pipe organ by the Southern Pipe Organ company of Dallas under the direct superintendency of H. A. Niver, at a cost of $10,000. The organ, controlled from the keyboard behind the pastor's rostrum, is concealed so as to give also the motive of restfulness and worship. Controlled by direct electric action, a console in the choir loft swells action above 11 pipes in sound controlled chambers above. This type of organ is the largest and finest in Texas. Joe Strother, educational director of the church and a gifted young musician who has won honors at the Southern Methodist University and at various music institutions, gave personal attention to the installation of the organ.
W. Mullinax, the builder, has carried out the design in its entirety. With him has been Ernest Gee a local interior painter and decorator, who like Mr. Mullinax has had experience on three churches. This attribute not only is seen in the main interiors, but in the pastor's study, and the secretary's room. The Tiffany blend and the walnut finish are features throughout the building. The class rooms on the upper floors have the same restful features. Each room has been built for its own class assemblies, and the side entrances provide for the amn assembly in the auditorium so that ingress and egress are comfortably assured. Below is the auditorium in the concrete basement designed for all church societies and meetings and will accommodate 750 people. The basement contains a kitchen with all appliances, a dining room, and hot and cold water. The plumbing, installed by H. L. Sullins, includes toilets on every floor, and abundance of cold and hot water.
A very fine feature of the building is the lighting arrangements installed by G. R. Hassell of the Pampa Electric company. There is a center chandeler in the auditorium which give a clear blended light. It is surrounded by a number of smaller lights, and at each corner are four candle brackets in ornamental frames. The electric lighting is a feature, not only in the main and basement auditoriums, but in every class room, entrance, and stairway. The power throughout goes 441 watts and all lights are controlled by switches.

The class rooms at present average 375 scholars in attendance, with 50 teachers. More are expected with the opening of the church. H. McBee is superintendent, Lee Harrah is general secretary, Joe Shelton is assistant general secretary, and Lorene Blanton is the librarian. The departmental superintendents are: Boys Work, W. F. Campbell; Primary and Beginners, Mrs. Dollie Barnhart; Juniors Mrs. Joe Shelton, and Intermediate, Mrs. R. C. Campbell. And what has been mentioned as to co-operation and co-ordination in the building of this beautiful church is true also of the Sunday school, for every window bears the imprint of these donors.
Other departments of the church are: The Senior Epworth League of which W. C. Williams is president, and Joe Strother, supervisor; the Epworth-El League of which Joe Kahl is president, and Miss Lottie Dumas, supervisor; the Junior Epworth League of which Mrs. Lewis Robinson is supervisor. Their gifts are imprinted on stained glass windows.
In addition to the work of the building committee, much assistance has been given by the trustees, C. B. Barnard, R. B. Thompson, C. T. Nicholson, W. W. Harrah, and Dave Osborne. The Board stewards, who also assisted are W. Mullinax, Chairman, J. M. Dodson, treasurer, J. Odell Gillham, G. N. Melton, O. W. Ferguson, Mrs. Nels Walberg, Mrs. Z. H. Mundy, E. E. Reynolds, Roger McConnell, R. C. Campbell, J. G. Burress, J. D. Sackett, J. E. Ward, S. J. McCullough, W. W. Harrah, Chris Baer, E. Gee, C. C. Dodd, Lee Harrah, and Joe Shelton.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 30.—(AP)—Free text books for the school children of Louisiana are assured for the approaching session under the terms of a loan of $500,000 negotiated between Governor Huey P. Long and fiscal agency banks during a conference in New Orleans yesterday.

UNTRIRING WORKERS SUCCESSFULLY COMPLETE CHURCH BUILDING FUND

Pioneers Orened Services In a Small Frame Building With Only A Few Members

F. P. Reid, former mayor, promoter of expansion in Pampa and the Plains territories generally, was one of the most active of the members of the First Methodist church since 1919. He was the church lay leader but on account of his health had to resign from the activities of that office two years ago. The frame pioneer building had been completed when he first joined the church. He had been an ardent worker in Canadian and Mobeetie, Texas, for 31 years. He has seen the church grow from its intermediate to its present stage. A chamber of commerce executive, he praises the efforts made to bring the building fund to a successful conclusion.

W. Mullinax has been in the contracting business for 26 years, and made his mark as a builder when he superintended the erection of the Church of Christ and the Presbyterian church in this city. As builder of the First Methodist church, and as an official of that church his work has been literally a labor of love. He was called upon to superintend the building, for the building committee knew that his conservatism was beyond reproach and that he adhered strictly to the plans and specifications.

O. W. Ferguson, merchant, Chamber of Commerce adherent, promoter for the good of the city, and treasurer of the First Methodist church, tells of the building of the basement at a cost of $10,000 as the initial effort for expansion in church activities and membership. Last August, he states, a zenith was reached when the project for a new church assumed a definite status. The response was taken up in not only a liberal, but eager manner by the building fund committee. In September orders were placed for materials including what a ready response had been made by all interested, and by citizens and countians alike, he added.

The consensus of opinion in Methodist church, and as an official of that church his work has been literally

Rev. Tom W. Brabham Has Enabled Many New Churches To Be Built And Added Hundreds Of Members

"I'm going with God's help to build one more church," says the Rev. Tom W. Brabham. "This will be a Memorial church of my life's ministry. Success has not been found within my ability, but in fact, I believe that when a project is right it needs to be accomplished. It can be done" he emphasized. "With unshaken faith I maintain this, for the betterment of humanity, the uplifting of civilization, and for the glory of the Almighty."

The pastor of the First Methodist at the city of Atlanta July 12, 1893. At church was born in Cass county, Texas, the age of 14 years he entered into public life with the firm of W. S. Stewart and Son, general merchants, at Bryan's Mill, Texas. He was two years with this firm. Employed later at Maples Texas, by C. H. Hope and Co., merchants, he conducted the gents furnishing department for 18 months. Then after this business and executive training, he entered the Lon Morris Literary college at Jacksonville, Texas, and graduated in the spring of 1917. He worked his way through this college and during summers was a professional baseball player with the Eastern Texas League.

Enlists in Army.
His premier pastorate however came in 1914 from West Texas where he took charge of the Seminole Methodist church. This was a typical West Texas cowboy and ranch town. Pastor Brabham knew nothing of ranch life. He soon fitted in with the ideas and customs of the west and became closely associated as a personal friend with the ranch boys holding meetings at their camps at night living on the trails, and during this eventful time his personality won 75 new West Texas cowboys to Christ. In August, 1917, he was exempted, but feeling it was his duty he volunteered for military service in the world war.

He was entered into the 315th Supply train, 90th division, and served until the 3rd Officers' Training School was started at which time he was transferred. He received a second lieutenant's commission from the ranks. He next served in the 360th infantry, 90th division until the time the division went overseas. He was next transferred to Washington, D. C., to the intelligence department whose duty it was to clear up camps, go after slackers and conscientious objectors, spies, et al. His duties carried him into all parts of the country, and to every port. After the armistice he was the first to apply for a discharge which was not received for a year. During this delay, he was placed in charge of demobilization at Camp Lee, Va.

In August, 1919, after his discharge he left for West Texas to take up his ministry again. His first work was in Lubbock county, known as the Lubbock circuit. He received $262.50 for his year's work, and received 275 members into the church, built a new edifice, and a parsonage. His next year's work was at Idalou, Texas. He served two years in this charge and brought this one point circuit into a full station, doubling the membership twice at Idalou he worked for a new church building and had the satisfaction of knowing that the building fund had been completed before he left Idalou to take up a new charge.

Moves to Abilene.
Rev. Brabham was transferred to the Oak Street Methodist church in Abilene as pastor after serving two years in Idalou. The church had no parsonage, was $7,500 in debt with a three years accumulated interest. He served here two years, cleared off all the indebtedness, raised a parsonage fund that accomplished the improvement. This point paid but $800 a year to its pastor. He raised the point to a $2,000 status. He took charge at Cross Plains where there was a poor church and poor equipment. He began plans for building and during his second year of his pastorate saw a modern church plant built at a cost of $25,000. This church paid $1,200 at first. He served three and a half years in this pastorate until transferred to Pampa, during which time he received into the church 300 members, and raised the salary status from $1,200 to $2,700.

Panhandle Sash and Door Co., Is Operating Here

The Panhandle Sash & Door company, of Amarillo, who furnished all the mill work for the new Methodist Church, has been serving the Texas Panhandle for more than seven years in that kind of work. It started small, serving only local needs, and its business has increased to include much work in western Oklahoma and eastern New Mexico in addition to that in the Panhandle.

W. L. Blake, manager of the company, recently expressed surprise and pleasure at the building growth of Pampa and predicts an even greater growth in the future. His company is now furnishing the mill work for the Baptist Church, the Woolworth Building, Wynne Building, and many residences in Pampa.

The company has been doing special mill work for the last five years and is now equipped to handle any kind of job.

Presiding Elder of District

The Rev. W. M. Murrell, Presiding Elder of the Clarendon District of the Methodist Church, has spent years of service in the pulpit. Great congregations have appreciated his preaching.

Tennessee has made many contributions to Texas from the days of David Crockett until now, and not the least of these, by any means, is the Presiding Elder of the Clarendon District, the Rev. W. M. Murrell, who arrived in the Lone Star State in 1905. At that time he was a local preacher of the Methodist Church and engaged in the secular pursuit of farming.

Busy, industrious, energetic, he toiled in the field all week and preached where opportunity offered on Sunday, "not slothful in business, fervent in spirit, serving the Lord."

His powers as a preacher and his zeal as a Christian worker attracted the attention of his pastor, and in 1914 he was prevailed upon to enter the traveling ministry of the Church. That fall he joined the Northwest Texas Conference.

Beginning on the little charge of Ovalo, his rise in appointments was sure and rapid. In succession they read, Clyde, three years, Merkel, three years, Crowell, one year, Chillicothe, two years, Childress, three years, and last fall he was made Presiding Elder of Clarendon District.

Wherever he has ministered, the Church has prospered and progressed along every line. Great congregations have appreciated his preaching and everyone knows that the pastor was a man of God who knew of no sacrifice too great to make in his behalf.

Himself a good business man, he brought to the Church management a practical business intelligence that made for confidence and orderly progress.

At Childress there stands as a monument to his aggressive and intelligent leadership, one of the handsomest and most commodious Church buildings in the Conference. It is a modern Church plant of brown brick, with full Sunday School equipment to meet all advanced requirements.

One year on the Clarendon District has demonstrated again his unusual qualifications. In the pulpit, on the street, in quarterly conferences, he is a man among men, keen in meeting exigencies, steady and reliable as an advisor, friend and leader. Under his direction, the District will make one of the best reports of its history this fall.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH HAS MADE GREAT PROGRESS SINCE ORGANIZATION HERE IN 1907

The first group of methodists here, a pioneer organization started by a small band of devoted men and women, inaugurated by the Miami and Pampa district, opened services here in a small frame building. The formation of a Pampa charge, then reception into the Clarendon district, then resumption to the Miami and Pampa charge, the formation of a distinct station in Pampa, the launching of a movement for a brick church and the purchase of a suitable location, the excavating of the ground for a basement, the completion of a basement story at a cost of $10,000, leading to the grand work with the co-operation and co-ordination of the officers and congregation for the completion of a $75,000 building are wondrous pointers in the history of spiritual achievement by the First Methodist Episcopal Church, South, of Pampa.

The church was organized in 1907 by Rev. A. J. Laney with the following members: Mrs. Gertrude Cousins, W. W. Harrah, Mrs. Elia Harrah, and Lee Harrah, pioneers in spirit and purpose in the prairie field of redemption and material progress, a field destined to be full of promise. W. W. Harrah at the present time is a member of the building committee, a trustee, and one of the board of stewards. Lee Harrah is a member of the board of stewards and general secretary of the Sunday school.

The Miami and Pampa circuit was formed and embodied into the Clarendon district. Rev. S. G. Huffman was the premier pastor under this charge. The first church was built in 1908, a frame building, an event of momentous interest to the pioneer congregation. During the year Pampa was cut off from the Panhandle, and the Pampa charge was formed with the Rev. W. R. McKeown as pastor—a glowing growing step towards spiritual solidity in Methodist annals, with a congregation animated to bring the gospel of peace into the prairie field.

In 1911 Pampa was again included in the Clarendon district, and placed with Miami, forming the Miami and Pampa charge, with the Rev. A. C. Smith as pastor, this movement again showing expansion in a field of effort. In 1916, Pampa was made a station, with the Rev. J. S. Hucabee as pastor, another step towards the definite goal of Methodism. During the successive pastorates this goal was sustained by co-operation until during the year 1924, while the Rev. J. M. Fuller was pastor, a movement was launched to build a brick church, another step in the history advancing from the pioneer to the intermediate stage of spiritual achievement.

The movement grew. A new location was purchased, and excavation was made for the basement, a 93 by 110-foot building, the present site of the new church at the corner of East Foster and North Ballard. Rev. R. J. Osborne was appointed, pastor whose executive kept pace with the spirit of the pioneer and congregation. During the year 1925 the basement story was completed at a cost of $10,000. This inception followed the progressive and spiritually aggressive policy of the officers and congregation, for a table had been provided in the wilderness, and advanced from the prairie times to the growing times of Pampa.

Succeeding the Rev. Osborne who with the officers and congregation laid the foundation for this spiritual advancement, Rev. J. T. Hicks was appointed pastor, and carried on the work. He suffered a physical breakdown later, and was obliged to relinquish his charge on May 15, 1927. He was succeeded by the Rev. Tom W. Brabham, the present incumbent. A man of pleasing personality, a man and pastor of equitable principles, imbued with the lowly spirit of the Christ, his executive was marked from the first by that co-operation and co-ordination of spiritual purposes that brought the work to a successful completion, the building of a First Methodist church that should be a structure, not only beautiful in its exterior and interior attributes, but a building that should index the restful, peaceful tenets of Charles Wesley and his principles.

The Rev. Tom W. Brabham, gentleman and pastor, not only carried the project to completion, commensurate with the centralized position of Pampa and its growing population providing an edifice worthy of this city of churches, but he organized the departmental branches of the church, in a thorough manner, with the co-operation of the officers, the heads of the departments and the congregation. The history of the building fund, its inception, its growth, marked by an enthusiasm that knew no obstacles, would fill a chapter. Sufficient is to say in the words of the secretary of the church, Lee Harrah, "this co-operation was perfect." This sentiment is en-

Dr. Hunt Tells of Lions Convention In Miami, Florida

Dr. J. W. Hunt, president of McMurry college, gave an interesting talk to the Lions club at their regular meeting Thursday on his visit to the Lions convention in Miami, Fla. Dr. Hunt is a charter member of the Lions club at Abilene and a great worker.

Among the interesting facts related by Rev. Hunt was the good fellowship that reigned and the lack of drunkenness. "It is seldom that 2,500 business men will gather and there not be any drunkenness and disorder but the convention showed the fact that it is possible, thus proving the Volstead Act to be satisfactory," Rev. Hunt said.

Art Glass For New Church Furnished By the Western Co.

The Western Glass Company of Wichita, Kansas, furnished all the Art Glass Windows for the new First Methodist Church, and from all reports these windows are entirely satisfactory to the pastor and the building committee.

This concern was founded in the year 1909 and has grown from a very small institution to one of the largest plants of its kind West of Kansas City.

It has furnished glass for churches of many different denominations, and makes a specialty of that kind of work. Special water color sketches are gladly furnished, and any prospective church building committee's correspondence is earnestly solicited.

HOUSTON, Aug. 30.—(AP)—In memory of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Neal have deposited $100,000 in a Houston bank as a trust fund for the Baptist hospital. Interest from the donation is to be used each year for sick and crippled children regardless of religious affiliations of themselves or their parents.

McMurry College Of Abilene Shows Rapid Expansion

McMurry College of Abilene, a class A senior college, was established by the Northwest Texas conference of the Methodist church in 1921, and following a two-year building program, opened its doors in the fall of 1923. The institution now five years old, has an excellent physical plant on a forty-acre campus, and an investment of five hundred thousand dollars, with an indebtedness of less than ten cents on the dollar.

The administration building is a beautiful edifice of gray brick and granite. It is fire proof and has the most modern equipment in classrooms, laboratories, and studios. The auditorium in this building is one of the outstanding fine features of the campus. The college owns two dormitories of modern design and equipment for women and good buildings for men students. The gymnasium and physical culture hall, has a playing floor measuring 55 by 90 feet and a seating capacity of fifteen hundred spectators. This building has complete modern locker equipment. Students and faculty point with pride to the athletic field of McMurry College.

In the brief period of five years, McMurry College has met all the requirements for a senior college of the first class. It confers the Bachelor of Arts and the Bachelor of Science degrees. The faculty is fully organized and well trained.

Students of McMurry College have won distinction for their school in literary, athletic, and forensic contests, with representatives from other colleges and universities throughout the Southwest. Religious training is stressed and special education is given for every branch of church and religious service.

RED BARN, Aug. 30—(P)—Mrs. Jack Moncrief, postmistress here, says some fun is being had at the expense of this town, named after a barn. One letter, passing through the post office had the name of the person to whom it was addressed, then Red Barn, "Hee Haw."

Rev. Brabham---

Bishop Moore of the Dallas diocese in commenting on his work at Cross Plains stated at the Methodist conference that no church in the southern field had made the progress as the Methodist church at Cross Plains during the pastorate of the Rev. Brabham. Incidental to his work may be mentioned that at Pampa last year he received into membership 225 persons. This year up to date he has received more than 100 persons in the church. During all this time of his various pastorates Rev. Brabham has trained at the Southern Methodist University in courses of study for his calling at special intervals, and also at the Emory University. In the army he received a West Point military education.

Trained in business; later conducting a merchandise department; working his way thru college by playing professional baseball; a ministry spent among cowboys and ranchers; a special training thru duty during the world war rising from the ranks to a first lieutenant; a training while waiting an honorable discharge in studying all sorts and conditions of men; then a of which were served under difficulties; succession of successful pastorates many a church and parsonage builder and pleader for more memberships, and last but not least inception of a memorial church later to commemorate his life's work and the consciousness that in the building and organization of the First Methodist church at Pampa he has reached a zenith sunshined from firmament erected by the Almighty, well may the congregation say today at the opening of the services:

"Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

Inspired by Wife.
Whenever a man accomplishes a great task, about ninety-nine times out of a hundred some good woman in a quiet way has made success possible. The work of the Rev. Tom W. Brabham is no exception to this rule.

Presiding over the destinies of his parsonage home is a young woman of such exceptional gifts and qualities that no complete story can be given without giving the story of his wife also.

Mrs. Tom W. Brabham is a native of Texas, born among the hills of Cherokee county. All her childhood and early girlhood were spent in the atmosphere of the church and the Christian College. A born musician, at the age of 14 she was the pipe organist of the Methodist church at Rusk. She graduated from Lon Morris college, later studying under teachers of national reputation. Today she is a wonderful pianist.

On April 13, 1919, she was married to Lieutenant Tom W. Brabham and shared the vicissitudes of army life immediately following the war until her husband received his honorable discharge.

When later in Houston he entered the ministry she was his constant inspiration and has been of unestimable worth in all the work of the church bringing her rare musical talent to the assistance of the church service, whether in the little mission church, country school house or the city church. To all the work of the church she has given the best, and at the same time has made a home for the man whose fortunes she follows, and whose every care and interest she shares.

The mother of three little children, she finds time to teach in the Sunday school, work in the mission society and assist in all the other activities of a great church.

Modest, unassuming, efficient, no work such as Tom Brabham is doing would be possible without her. She has the love and respect of the church membership from the least to the greatest, but not until the Great Sooner comes to enter the last record will the full extent of her contribution to the church, the home and the community be known. In the meantime she toils cheerfully on without thought of fee or reward for hers is an unselfish labor of love.

ROPER NATURAL GAS RANGES

33 1/3c Goes as Far as One Dollar!

Of course every one realizes the greater beauty of Roper Quality Ranges. Their reputation extends from coast to coast. Cooks know, too, that the ventilated oven causes more uniform cooking, and baking, and saves from 4 per cent to 8 per cent of food shrinkage.

But perhaps you may not know that the Roper open-top, high-burner, low-pressure, gas range uses only one-third the gas of old-fashioned, closed-top, types with low burners and high pressure. Think of cutting two-thirds off your gas bill!

Perhaps, too, you may not know that the Roper will cook a hot meal at 1-4-ounce pressure, when other ranges fail to cook at all.

Let us demonstrate the advantage of Roper ranges with automatic oven control. They save money—save time.

We put a Roper in your home for $5.00; twelve months to pay the balance. We will also allow ten dollars on any old stove.

This is the type of natural gas range approved by the government. The "touch-a-button" lighter does away with matches, and patented gas cocks enable you to adjust your range to high or low pressure. Don't wait—the minute you start using your Roper you begin to save, every way, every day.

Sacrificial Deaths Shown In Indian Children's Graves

AVON, Santa Catalina Island, Cal. (P)—An attempt to follow ancient trails to the long lost island temple of Chingichinich, the Sun-God, has resulted instead in the discovery of the burial place of a Spanish Indian princess of 2,000 years ago and evidences indicating that child sacrifices were made in wholesale fashion by tribes of the Channel Islands, off the coast of California.

Within a stone urn weighing 134 pounds and fashioned as skillfully as though by modern tools instead of primitive implements was found the skeleton of an Indian girl between five and seven years. Her hands apparently had clutched the rim of the urn, whose rich ornamentation of wampum bespeaks her royal lineage.

In a circle with the urn as a center were counted by Prof. Ralph Glidden, curator of the Catalina museum of Channel Island Indians, the skeletons of 64 children buried in tiers four deep with small heads touching each other. Beneath them was the skeleton of a seven-foot man. A spear blade still was fixed in the ribs.

The sand within the funer urn had parently, according to the discoverer, a sacred sand used in the burial of Indian royalty—and was far different from that which had sifted over the graves of the other children.

These finds as well as a wealth of obsidian knives, spear points and arrow-heads and hundreds of other articles of wampum, inlaid stone and bone have provided material over which Glidden has puzzled since he discovered them.

One thin piece of slate he believes to be a stone map, holes having been drilled to indicate trails to the four main burying grounds on Santa Catalina island.

"It is plausible," Glidden said, "that the strange child burial within the urn and those surrounding it were the result of a natural death of a little girl of high rank and the slaying of her 64 attendants and playmates with her. Or they all may have been killed in some religious ceremonial rite. It is even possible that the princess may have been given some potion and buried alive. The way the small hands clutched the outer rim of the bowl makes this a possibility."

Wampum inlaid in four broken circles on the rim of the urn with "gates" leading to four points of the compass lead Glidden to believe that the burial place may be near the site of the temple of Chingichinich.

Pastor of the Methodist Church

The Rev. Tom W. Brabham has aided many churches since he entered the ministry. The new Methodist Church just completed here is another big credit to his efficient work.

ABILENE, Aug. 30.—(P)—Farmers from fifteen West Texas counties are expected to leave here Saturday on a California farm study trip, sponsored by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Purpose is to investigate successful methods of poultry raising and farming in the Pacific coast state.

DES MOINES, Ia., Aug. 30.—(P)—Reorganization plans being considered by the western league, contemplating abandonment of the southern cities, Tulsa, Oklahoma City and Amarillo, and adding more northern cities in the interest of compactness, will be considered at the regular fall meeting.

The new Buick is the new Style

More than handsome... more than luxurious... a wonderful new type of motor car beauty... a thrilling turning point in body design

It will be imitated, of course! The new, the fine and the beautiful always inspire emulation. But so great is the cost of building the magnificent new Fisher bodies for the Silver Anniversary Buick that imitation will be possible only to much costlier cars, and even these will find difficulty in following where Buick leads!

$1,500,000 has been expended in manufacturing the dies alone for the new Buick bodies; and the gracefully curving side panels which form one of their distinguishing characteristics represent the most expensive steel paneling work employed on any automobile in the world!

But it is not in the matchless grace and beauty of exterior design alone that the Silver Anniversary Buick eclipses other cars. The velvet mohair upholstery in the closed models—the hardware and fittings—the many appointments of luxury and convenience—are all of the richest quality; and the bracing of the bodies, which imparts strength and durability and freedom from squeaks and rattles, is the most efficient and effective known to motor car practice.

In dashing beauty—as in fleet, powerful performance—the world holds no equal for the Silver Anniversary Buick with Masterpiece Bodies by Fisher.

It is more than handsome, more than luxurious—it marks a thrilling turning point in body design. And the motoring public, buying in such tremendous volume as to force the great Buick factories to work day and night to supply the demand, is elevating it to the prominence of a vogue!

Knights Of Pythias Being Organized by Fort Worth Officer

Past Chancellor L. A. Freeman of Ft. Worth, who has been here for the past week organizing a Knights of Pythias club, reports that he has more than the required number of signatures to open the lodge which will be officially declared Tuesday night. All the necessary paraphernalia has been ordered and the lodge will start off with more than 100 members.

Mr. Freeman has been in touch with the lodge at Perryton and Amarillo and each will send a delegation of 25 members to attend the opening of the Pampa lodge. He is very optimistic that the Pampa lodge will be one of the best in the territory.

The Knights of Pythias is the third largest fraternity in the United States having a membership of more than 1,000,000 members. There are 225 subordinate lodges in the state of Texas with about 30,000 members. The state lodge maintains a home at Weatherford for the care of widows and orphans of deceased members and is planning to construct a home for aged members. The property at Weatherford is worth approximately $300,000.

Mr. Freeman was grand chancellor of the state last year and is now working with the lodges of the state organizing new lodges.

All members who wish to join the local fraternity may notify Judge Ben S. Baldwin, room 4, First National bank building or A. B. Buchanan at the Western Union office.

Harvesters Have Daily Practice At Ayres Field

Coach Odus Mitchell has his Harvesters out for practice at Ayres field east of here every afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. The boys are fast rounding in to shape and will be ready for an exhibition game within the next two weeks, the coach says. Prospective games have been arranged with Clarendon college, Lubbock, Wichita Falls and Texoma. The Texoma game will probably be played Pampa day at the Amarillo Tri-State fair.

Twenty-five boys are turning out for practice out Coach Mitchell says there are at least ten who are not coming out and he wants to see them in uniform Monday afternoon. With several new faces out for practice the letter men of last year will have to fight for their places on the team. Raymond Tracy formerly of Sayre, Okla., is showing up as a promising half back while Lard will keep Walstad busy at the quarter position.

Football enthusiasts are invited to see the boys at work each afternoon.

Misses Ruth and Hazel Hill are spending the week-end in Stamford.

This Week Marks Our Second ANNIVERSARY

In Business In Pampa

The two past years we have spent in Pampa have been good ones and we have enjoyed your friendship and business. We take this means of expressing our appreciation for the prosperity we have enjoyed.

When the Gordon Stores company opened its store in Pampa two years ago it was on a small scale. The Jewelry, Shoe and Millinery departments were both leased and under separate management. Only two employees were necessary to take care of the business.

But the Gordon Stores company met the demand of thousands of new residents for better merchandise at lower prices and business has increased to the extent that seven employees are now necessary. The store has been departmentalized until every need of the family can be met from our stock. The jewelry, shoe and millinery departments have been taken over, the store enlarged and new departments added until we can now serve every member of the family.

We know that our success is the result of the thousands of friends we have made in Pampa trade territory through our policy of giving the best at the lowest possible price. We invite you to visit us at all times whether you come to buy or not. You are always welcome.

Teachers College Making Plans For Its Banner Year

CANYON, Sept. 2.—From all indications, the regular session which begins September 21 at the West Texas State Teachers College is going to be a banner year. Daily the authorities are receiving inquiries concerning the work of the West Texas Teachers College, and daily they are mailing college catalogs to high school graduates who have requested that they be sent. Requests are coming in from all over the state and quite a number of out of state students have signified their intentions of enrolling for next year's work in Canyon. This year, for the second time,

Freshman Week or Orientation Week will be observed in the Canyon College. It proved very satisfactory last year and will be carried out on much the same plan as before. A special edition of The Prairie, student newspaper, will be published to be given the freshmen on their arrival which will contain news and announcements of interest to Freshmen particularly. Several days will be devoted to programs and entertainments of special interest. Progress is the keynote of the West Texas State Teachers College catalog, which contains announcements for 1928 and '29 and has just come from the press. A comparative study of the catalog for this coming term and the one which closed last week is an interesting one from the standpoint of advancement and progress. Five more scholarships are listed in the new catalog than in the preceding one. The section devoted to description of the new Education Building is of great interest to every citizen of the state who is interested in educational advancement and development. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Griffin have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Lee Baker and children of Kansas City. Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Griffin are sisters. Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Brock returned Friday afternoon from a two-week vacation visit in Los Angeles. Mrs. J. R. Crawford and children of Amarillo are guests in the home of Mr. Crawford's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Wynne.

CAPITOL News

BY KIRKE L. SIMPSON.
WASHINGTON—Japan's pointed warning to Manchuria, not to throw in its lot with the Chinese nationalists who dominate China south of the Manchurian wall has yet undetermined possibilities of trouble in it for not the United States alone, but for London, Paris, Rome and other capitals where the theory of nonimpairment of Chinese territorial integrity and an open door in China for all nations on equal commercial and economic footing is given at least lip service in formulating national Chinese policy.

Just what Tokyo's insistence that Manchuria stand aloof from nationalist China may portend that could threaten that cornerstone of American Chinese policy is not clear as yet. And unless there be such a threat it is not likely that Washington will intervene.

The western powers have always recognized that Japan looked upon her Manchurian sources of raw materials, not produced in Japan itself in quantity, as vital life lines of her national economic being.

Unless Japan moved to create the accomplished fact of Japanese sovereignty, or a Japanese protectorate over Manchuria that could not be ignored, quite obviously the rest of the world has stood more or less ready to wink at the scope and nature of Japanese penetration of Manchuria for the avowed purpose of protecting Japanese nationals on legitimate business. Disorder in China has justified protection.

Old Chang's Influence.
 Under the late Chang Tso-lin, Manchurian dictator, isolation of Manchuria politically from the rest of China was more or less maintained. He was a picturesque figure, dating back to his bandit days in the Manchurian hills. It was there the Russo-Japanese war found him and from that humble start and via no greater an original post than that of chief of police in Mukden, he grew to his dictatorial power in Manchuria, presumably with Japanese aid.

It is to be doubted however, that

Tokyo statesmen must have realized that it might seriously complicate the situation for them in Manchuria, as it was, should he fall, and that all the traits of Chinese character went to joint to allure. He was a willful, autocratic leader in his later years, hard to control by advice.

Young Chang Different.
 But Old Chang is dead by an assassin's bomb. He fled from Peking and Young Chang rules in Manchuria in his stead. Young Chang and the younger commanders of his military government have all along cherished a liking for the Young China movement south of the Great Wall, built up there by men of their own age and also of westernized education and outlook. Their turning to a rapprochement with the ranking nationalists, now that the tomteering Old Chang no longer lives to block such a movement, was certainly anticipated in Washington.

For Washington and other western powers, in the event Young Chang should ignore Tokyo and carry out an alliance with Nanking, the question of what Tokyo would do about it would be highly important. The language of warning served upon him is stern. It implies almost any drastic Japanese steps of coercion. If those steps constituted any actual move toward disruption of Chinese territorial integrity, and that means Manchuria is as such a part of China as in Shantung, the international diplomatic pot would begin to simmer with a vengeance.

ILLINOIS DOLLAR TERMINAL FORMALLY OPENED TODAY
PORT ARANSAS, Sept. 1.—The new million-dollar terminal of the Humble Pipe Line company on Harbor Island was opened formally today with loading of two tankers carrying nearly 200,000 barrels of West Texas crude oil.

When shipping gets in full swing Port Aransas will become the leading oil port of the world, Humble officials said.

The turning basin here now has a depth of 22 feet minimum, 37 feet maximum, with a 33 foot depth through the pass to the gulf, said to be the deepest on the Gulf coast.

Cisco Prepares For Robinson's Welcome
DALLAS, Sept. 1.—A typical West Texas welcome awaits Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic vice-presidential nominee, when he alights from his special car for an address at Cisco September 4, state Democratic headquarters here said today with announcement of the program for the event.

In addition to the Cisco band, there will be bands from Stamford, Abilene and the Sweetwater Gypsies, and a woman's choral club will sing.

Purchase of New Road Equipment Is Still Delayed

AUSTIN, Sept. 1.—Small likelihood was evident today that differences between the state highway department and board of control over the major portion of the pending $500,000 road machinery buy will be settled until after the September 17 meeting of the highway commission.

Meantime, Roy I. Tennant, purchasing member of the control board, has ordered purchase of the estimated $200,000 portion of the recommended machinery not involved in the dispute, which relates to tractors, trucks, graders and rollers. This will allow some $60,000 surety checks deposited by unsuccessful bidders to be returned.

Tennant, who substituted the board's recommendations for those by the Highway Department as to what machinery should be bought, had not heard from the Department today before leaving for a week's trip in far West Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gould and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shepard left yesterday for Carlsbad and other points of interest in New Mexico.

SHIFTING THE BLAME

What is good for one must be good for the other. Producers of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" followed the original book with more faithfulness than usually noted.

Misrepresentation is bad, even for art's sake. It likely will be true, however, that the deletions will be made where the original would do the least harm.

STUDY OF MAN

The proper study of mankind is man. That was said long ago. The right of man to study is not, however, an old right. It has been achieved slowly and painfully.

Occasionally we hear of fantastic reports made by men who are devoting their lives to the study of man, or the parasites that injure men. The right to compare men with other animals has not been entirely won.

The study of man in relation to his fellows, and of his mind processes and moral instincts, is in its infancy.

THAT FRIENDLY TOWN. There are some towns that we have heard of that make it a point to be friendly to every person who comes in to the city.

MOMN POP. A Tight Hole. Lubbock can do no better than to welcome tourists, and prospective citizens, or even the passer-by who may never go that way again.

BY RODNEY BUTCHER, NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON.—What a grand show it would be if President Coolidge and Secretary of the Treasury Andy Mellon were to meet out on horseback at the head of a body of troops, to enforce the liquor laws in some wet city like Chicago!

That was exactly what President George Washington and Secretary of the Treasury Alexander Hamilton did in 1794, while the nation was engaged for the first time in grappling the prohibition problem.

In one form or another, the demon rum has been so long a national issue as to lend color to the idea sometimes expressed that it will be with us unto the end of time.

Liquor became a real national issue in 1791. Then, for the first time, the moral question involved was argued on the floors of Congress and many of the arguments heard in this campaign year were there given birth.

Federal tax collectors were on unpopular in distillery territory as federal prohibition agents in wet sections today. One in western Pennsylvania was tarred and feathered; others were mistreated.

"It deprives citizens of an inalienable right," one senator complained, papers claimed that an aristocratic mis-raising the personal liberty issue. News-morality was oppressing the people, about widespread disrespect for the law.

"The government has enough to do without regulating people's appetites," wrote "Sidney" in the National Gazette of Philadelphia. He complained that the law would require, for enforcement, "exercise of force, arbitrary restrictions and excessive penalties."

Apparently the south wasn't very dry lunged Congressman James Jackson in the seven-teen-nineties. The leather-Georgia, fiery Jeffersonian, called the tax "odious, unequal, unpopular and oppressive, particularly in the south."

CONGRATULATING the Methodists on the completion of their fine new Building. We are proud to see the church building activity now going on in Pampa. The New Methodist Church is indeed a welcome addition of Pampa. POST OFFICE EAT SHOP Just North of Wades Store.

WHIRLWIND by ELEANOR EARLY

THIS HAS HAPPENED. VALERIE WEST, pretty and charming—and hard as nails—was engaged to TAD THORNE, adored brother of SYBIL THORNE, notoriously lovely and indiscreet. Sybil, a Boston society girl who has had plenty of affairs of her own, distrusts Valerie from the beginning and is fearful for Tad's happiness.

A few days before the wedding Tad finds Valerie with a monocled Englishman, buying a diamond ring. She introduces him as LORD MONTFORD and tells Tad that the beautiful diamond ring she exhibits is a wedding gift from his lordship.

"So sorry," he told her, "that I shouldn't be able to. But you'll look me up when you run over to London! And remember me to your charming mother. So curious to have seen you again. Cheerio."

"Oh, I suppose so," she agreed, "but that isn't my fault, is it?" "No," he agreed quietly. "It isn't. But you don't have to marry me, you know, Val, if you don't want to."

THREE days later they were married. Valerie wore her "misty pink," and carried roses of deeper shade. She seemed more like a fairy princess than a bride, and looked as though she had risen from the heart of a rose.

Like most women, Sybil needed anchorage desperately. . . . She clung to Craig, wanting him and not wanting him.

of lavender georgette. The following week she would be quite conscious stricken about it, fearing that people might talk. Sybil had clung stubbornly to black, because she knew that Valerie disliked the idea.

Some people said she was lovelier than the bride. Craig thought her infinitely more beautiful. SYBIL had been dreadfully discontented that Spring. But melancholy, which usually makes a woman unattractive, had softened her, and tinged her expression wistfully.

Like most women, she needed anchorage desperately. Bertha's rose pink had heightened her color. She looked hot and uncomfortable, and took Craig's arm awkwardly. As they passed Sybil and her mother, Craig smiled again.

It comes untied these days, however elaborately it's knotted. MAN AND WIFE! It was over. Tad bent and kissed his bride. "Part of the act," reflected Sybil. She had inadvertently heard that, too.

"As soon as the minister blesses us," Valerie had told him, "you're to take me in your arms, Tad, like a movie lover, and kiss me very gently. Be careful not to muss me. And if you catch your buttons on my veil, I'll leave you on the spot."

They were coming up the aisle. Valerie's slim hand rested lightly on Tad's arm. She smiled to left and right, leaning prettily on her husband. Their attendants followed them. Bertha's rose pink had heightened her color. She looked hot and uncomfortable, and took Craig's arm awkwardly.

to Mr. West, as they drove home in a hired limousine afterward, "but since Mr. Thorne had to die anyway, it was the luckiest thing for us that he did it just before the wedding. Quiet weddings are comparatively reasonable, you know. My dear, I simply shudder to think what this affair would have cost us, if the Thornes weren't in mourning."

TAD and Valerie were going to drive to Montreal and Quebec, and upon their return were to visit at the Thornes' place at Wannan. They planned to start housekeeping in the fall, and wouldn't look for an apartment until mid-summer. Valerie had been quite indifferent about a place of her own.

"Oh, of course, we can get something when we get round to it, Tad," she insisted, "but why rent a place now, and start paying rent months ahead of time?" "But I should think," he ventured, "that you'd be anxious to get all your things around. We've got a raft of wedding presents. Val, guess we can fit up a pretty swell little cabin, dear. How about it?"

Mexican President Refuses His Office For Another Term

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 1—(AP)—President Plutarco Elias Calles in emphatic terms today refused to continue in office after expiration of his term November 30, solely asserting, moreover, he never at any time again will be president of Mexico.

This declaration, highly important, came in the course of the president's address on convening of the new congress in its regular four-month session today.

The president urged that only consideration of highest patriotism guide the congress in its selection of a provisional president to succeed him in December. He appealed to the army and leaders of Mexican life to conduct themselves with "sober restraint" for the best interests of the country in one of the "most solemn moments of its history."

President Calles deplored the "irreparable loss" to the country in assassination of president-elect Alvaro Obregon, and lamented the situation it had caused.

But, he said, this situation presented the opportunity for Mexico to attain new political orientation by establishing institutions and law, not one individual, as the supreme government.

Work on New Ward School Buildings Is Being Rushed

Work on the new ward school building and the gymnasium-auditorium is being rushed forward with all speed possible by Albert Randall, contractor. Brick work is almost window sill high in the east ward building and has been started on the west ward school. The foundation has been laid for the large gymnasium-auditorium on the high school campus and will be ready for the brick work this week.

These new school buildings will have sixteen rooms and will relieve the congested conditions in the red school and the cottages on the central school campus. Two class rooms and a study hall have been built in the high school where the old auditorium was located which will be a great help in that department.

Sixty-seven regular teachers and four substitutes have been appointed in the Pampa Independent school district.

National Bank, has returned from National Bank, has returned from Mapitou, Colo., where he has spent the past three months in the interest of his health. His health is much better than it was when he left here, it is said.
