Local citizens on unclaimed money listing

By NANCY YOUNG
 Managing Editor

Could you be among many Texas residents who, along with numerous businesses, collectively have $786 million in owed money sitting in state coffers?

In a listing released by Texas Comptroller Carole Keeton Rylander last week numerous Gray County residents have money, and might not know about it.

Financial institutions and businesses report to the comptroller's office unclaimed cash and valuables daily. The unclaimed property ranges from unclaimed checks, deposits, or refunds, to the contents of safe deposit boxes which may have been forgotten.

"It might be anything from a dormant bank account to a forgotten utility deposit, an uncashed check to family heirlooms in an abandoned safe deposit box," said Rylander.

She urges Texans to check the list for a previous name if there has been a name change, and to look for the names of businesses which have been previously owned by them.

Individuals, businesses, and organizations on the list reportedly have unclaimed property valued at $100 or more.

If your name is on the list, help is available by telephone and on the internet.

Rylander asks callers to be prepared to provide the following information: owner name, exactly as spelled in this list, and city under which it is listed; all previous addresses for the last five years or longer, including post office boxes; and social security number.

Gas cost hikes reflected on bills Mcf price almost doubles

By KATE B. DICKSON
 Associate Publisher

Mild temperatures are keeping down the need to use much heat but those who have turned on their natural gas systems are seeing their bills go up over last year.

The City Commission's rate increase of about $1 per month per residential customer was approved this week by the Texas Railroad Commission as part of a multi-entity settlement agreement with Energas — but that's not the real problem, said City Manager Bob Eskridge.

The culprit is the high cost of natural gas as caused by market conditions resulting from little natural gas storage nationwide as well as lack of production.

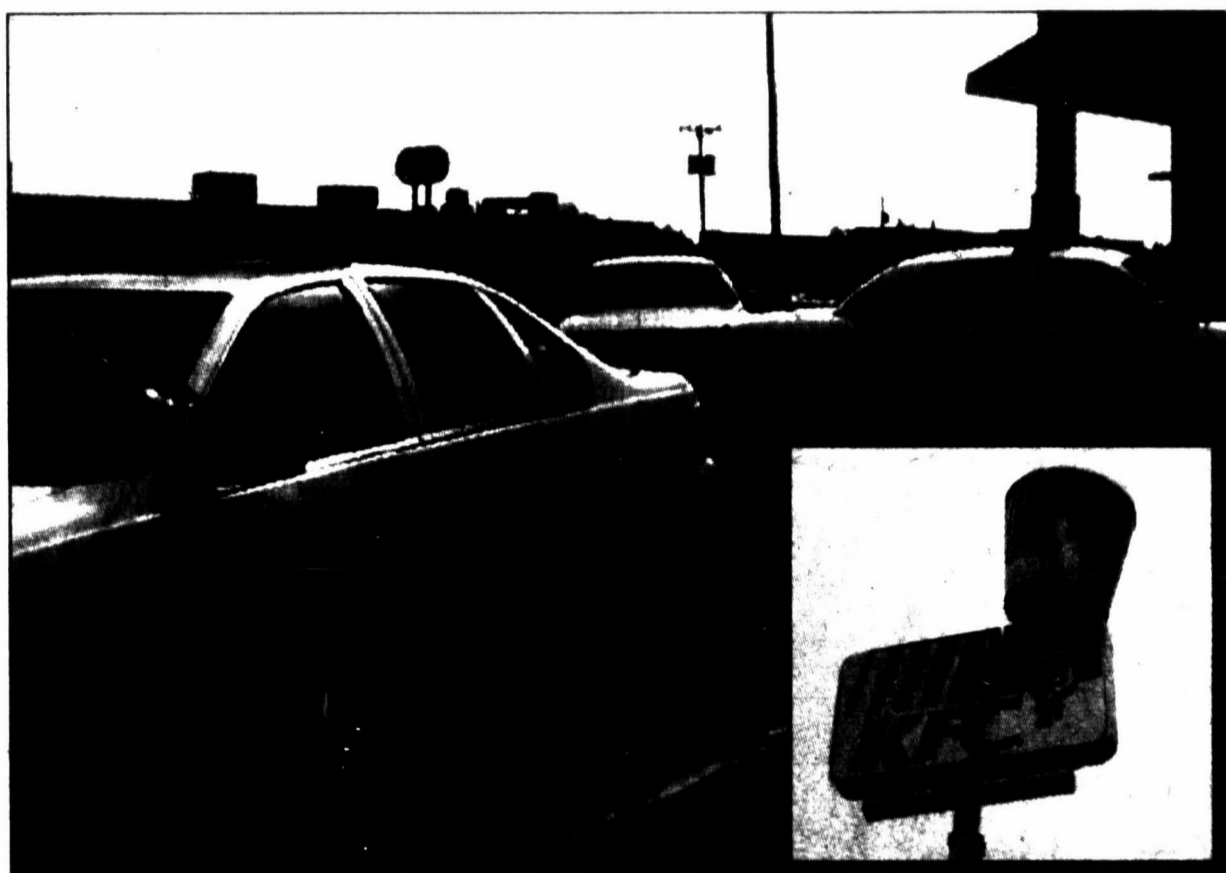

"Last year at this time natural gas cost $2.77 per mcf (1,000 cubic feet) and now the cost of the same amount of gas has gone up to $5.28 per mcf," Eskridge said Tuesday.

Built into the rates is a gas cost of $2.79 per 1,000 mcf and any gas cost amount above that amount is passed straight through, he said.

"If the cost is less [than $2.79 per 1,000 mcf], then customers get a credit ... I think that happened last year," Eskridge said. "But if the cost is more, then the difference is passed through to the customer."

Where's the Colonel?

KFC shuts doors ... Reason remains mystery today

By NANCY YOUNG
 Managing Editor

Colonel Sanders' tried chicken has not on the menu in Pampa since Wednesday night, and no one seems to know why.

Pampa Police were notified when a "potential" customer arrived at Kentucky Fried Chicken to find no employees there, but a door unlocked.

Deputy Chief Terry Young of the Pampa Police Department said attempts by his department to locate the former manager of the store were unsuccessful. Police officers manned the KFC premises until a local locksmith arrived and locked the door to the store.

Efforts by The Pampa News to locate the manager have been fruitless as well.

"Basically, the building was left unoccupied and unlocked. We had a locksmith to lock it," said Young.

Attempts to reach franchise owner Marlal Enterprises by phone in Glenpool, Okla., were met with a recorded message which stated, "As of Wednesday, Oct. 25, we are no longer a company. Thank you." The Oklahoma location has been the recent address for business matters.

The Pampa News was told this morning by a representative at Kentucky Fried Chicken's company's corporate headquarters that management would have to issue a statement. At press time no information was provided by the company.

Not knowing the restaurant had shut down, there were attempts by people to have lunch there Thursday. Numerous vehicles drove up to the drive-through to order during the noon hour

United Way drive 10% short

Pampa's United Way officials report the 2000 fund drive is slightly more than 10 percent short of its goal after the final volunteer check-in meeting Thursday.

Bob Marx reported a total of $312,489 had been pledged to the local United Way, or 89.3 percent of the $350,000 goal. Pledges from SPS, Duncan, Fraser, & Bridges Insurance Agency, and FirstBank Southwest were included in this week's total.

Of the amount, $58,052 came from the Williams

Energy raffle ticket match, he said, adding that Williams Energy gave a match to the Houston United Way of $12 million.

The next two weeks will be a "clean-up" period to collect and tally the remaining pledges, Marx said.

"As always, thanks to the community for giving to the United Way," Marx said. "If anyone has not been contacted and would like to donate, they can call the local office at 669-1001."

Pampa Mayor Bob Neslage proclaimed the month of October as National Domestic Violence Awareness Month as Ruth Chasteen, Tralee Crisis Center's Sexual Assault Advocate, watches. Over 876,000 women were victimized by domestic violence in 1998 in the country while 1,320 women were killed during that year in domestic violence incidents. Chasteen said October is one of the busiest months for domestic violence.

Saturday pancake breakfast to benefit Celebration of Lights

A pancake breakfast to benefit Pampa's Celebration of Lights, a non-profit holiday lighting group, begins bright and early Saturday morning at Chaney's Cafe, 716 W. Foster.

Kathleen Chaney, president of the group, said the benefit breakfast will feature pancakes, bacon, sausage, juice and milk. Proceeds from the donations of $3 or more for each breakfast will help pay for new light displays and to decorate trees at Recreation Park during the Thanksgiving and Christmas holiday season.

Celebration of Lights members and volunteers from the Hoover Fire Department have already begun setting up displays at Recreation Park in preparation for the holidays, said Susan Winborne, treasurer of the organization.

Sponsorships are available for the various displays. Sponsors of $2,500 are for a five-year period. Sponsorships under $2,500 are for one season.

Money raised through fund-raisers like the pancake breakfast and sponsorships help retire a loan to purchase the major lighted displays, Winborne said. Donations from visitors to the park help fund scholarships to local seniors, she added.

Sponsorships range from $25 for a dinosaur to $3,000 for a fisherman catching a whale to $5,000 to sponsor Santa feeding reindeer at the barn.

Other displays include a ski-jump Santa for $3,000, jumping frogs for $500, and a Christmas Countdown Calendar for $1,500.

For more information about becoming a sponsor for the Celebration of Lights, contact Chaney at 665-2434 or Winborne at 669-8004.

Customer service representatives are available during weekdays to answer questions about unclaimed property. A call to 1-800-654-3463 will see if your name is on a past list.

Rylander also said her Web site at <www.window.state.tx.us/up> has the listing of all names who may have unclaimed money. Online service is available 24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

Names which have been reported during the previous eight years are on the site, and can be located by searching for name or city.

She added that checking each city in which a person has lived and the list of unclaimed property owners whose addresses are unknown will help locate unclaimed money.

Rylander said residents may get their money by simply calling her office, that no commercial service is necessary. She said if a person chooses to work with someone who solicits a fee to help you locate your money, to note that Texas law limits the amount of the fee that such person may charge to ten percent of the value of the unclaimed property recovered.

She added if the property is mineral interest, the fee may not include a portion of the underlying minerals, or production payment, overriding royalty or similar payment.

GAS

"It's not something the City Commission has any control over," Eskridge said, adding, "... and I'm not sure people understand that."

So far the city manager has only had a few telephone calls from citizens who complained about their most recent Energas bills but he won't be surprised if the calls pick up once cold weather really hits.

"One elderly gentleman called and I explained to him the reasons behind the increase," Eskridge said. "When I finished, the man said, 'I only want to ask you one thing. How am I going to pay my bill?'"

Shaking his head, Eskridge said, "I didn't have any answer to that."

Court-ordered deadline for children's Medicaid plan looms

AUSTIN (AP) — The court-ordered deadline is looming for the state's attorneys to submit a plan for improving the children's Medicaid program.

Lawyers for the Texas attorney general's office told U.S. District Court Judge William Wayne Justice last month that the Legislature and state officials should be allowed to fix the program without court involvement.

Justice, in denying the request, extended the plan deadline to Friday. Justice said that the state was only being asked to do what it promised to do in a 1996 consent decree.

A federal appeals court earlier this month granted Texas' request to delay the court-ordered plan. The ruling by the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals overturns the Oct. 10 ruling by Justice that had denied the state's request to delay the corrective action plan.

It was part of Justice's Aug. 14 order that said Texas does not adequately provide dental care, regular checkups, transportation to doctors or information about what services are available to children in Medicaid, despite a 1996 agreement in which the state promised to make major improvements.

During Gov. George W. Bush's presidential race, the program has come under heavy scrutiny. Vice President Al Gore referred to the ruling when pressing Bush on Medicaid issues during the second debate between the candidates.

Texas attorneys appealed the entire Aug. 14 order. The New Orleans-based appeals court granted the delay until oral arguments are heard. A date for those arguments has not been set.

Justice had said earlier that "any delay in compliance with the Aug. 14 order will result in further deterioration of the health and welfare of the program-qualifying children."

The state, in its appeal, had said it improved Texas Health Steps and that participation in the program has increased from 29 percent in 1993 to 66 percent in 1998, exceeding the national average of 54 percent.

Alligator gobbles 65-pound Lab

BOSSIER CITY, La. (AP) — An 8-foot alligator crawled out of a pond and ate a 65-pound Labrador retriever after the dog splashed in the water while training with its owner.

Bill Jones told police he tried to grab the dog from the gator but was knocked down by the alligator's tail on Thursday.

Such an attack is not uncommon in Louisiana, where alligators frequent every major lake, river system, bayou, creek and farm pond, said Steve Hebert, a wildlife division supervisor.

Jones had been throwing a dummy into the lake in this northwest Louisiana city so the dog could retrieve it. The dog's splashing probably attracted the alligator, Hebert said.

"The gator was doing what comes natural to gators. He was feeding," he said.

Jones' cousin, Bossier City Council member David Jones, said the attack didn't surprise him.

"We don't live in Kansas," David Jones said. "Just as people in Alaska have problems with moose, we have problems with gators. It's one of those things where man butts up to a natural habitat."

Houston girl recovering after fall causes pencil to pierce heart

HOUSTON (AP) — A 6-year-old girl was recovering at a Houston hospital Friday because firefighters and teachers did not try to remove the No. 2 pencil that pierced her heart in a freak fall, doctors said.

Surgeons at Ben Taub General Hospital removed the pencil after the Thursday afternoon accident at Youens Elementary School, in far southwest Houston.

Dr. Todd Maxson, a pediatric trauma surgeon, credited teachers and the Houston Fire Department with saving Destiny Lopez's life, saying the girl likely would have bled to death had they removed the pencil.

"The pencil is the proverbial finger in the dike," Maxson said. "This is an amazingly brave young lady."

Destiny was turning in papers to her teacher at 2:20 p.m. Thursday when she tripped and fell on her pencil, which pierced the right ventricle of her heart.

The girl's mother, working across the street in another Alief Independent School District office, rushed to the scene to help teachers comfort the girl.

"I lost it," the mother, Victoria Cereceres, said.

The pencil was buried 3 inches in the little girl's chest.

Doctors performed open-heart surgery, slightly raising the organ, removing the pencil and repairing the hole with three stitches.

She was in serious but stable condition Friday and was expected to be discharged in one to two weeks.

Love Field traffic increase may prompt renovations

DALLAS (AP) — A 40-percent increase in airline flights at Dallas Love Field must prompt serious consideration by the city of massive renovations at the regional facility, say consultants.

Renovations would include demolishing and redeveloping some concourses and other construction that would enable the airport to comfortably accommodate up to 100 additional daily airline departures that are expected in the next 10 years as the result of renewed growth in airline competition.

Consultants say airlines at Love, which now operate from 22 gates, would require 32 gates as early as 2008, according to reports.

The airport has 55 gates, many of which are abandoned or obstructed. The city, by redeveloping the terminals, could better control the airport's growth by cutting the number of potential gates to 32.

Consultants told members of Dallas' Master Plan Advisory Committee that the aging airport would be able to handle much of the predicted growth without any new construction — but it would be painful.

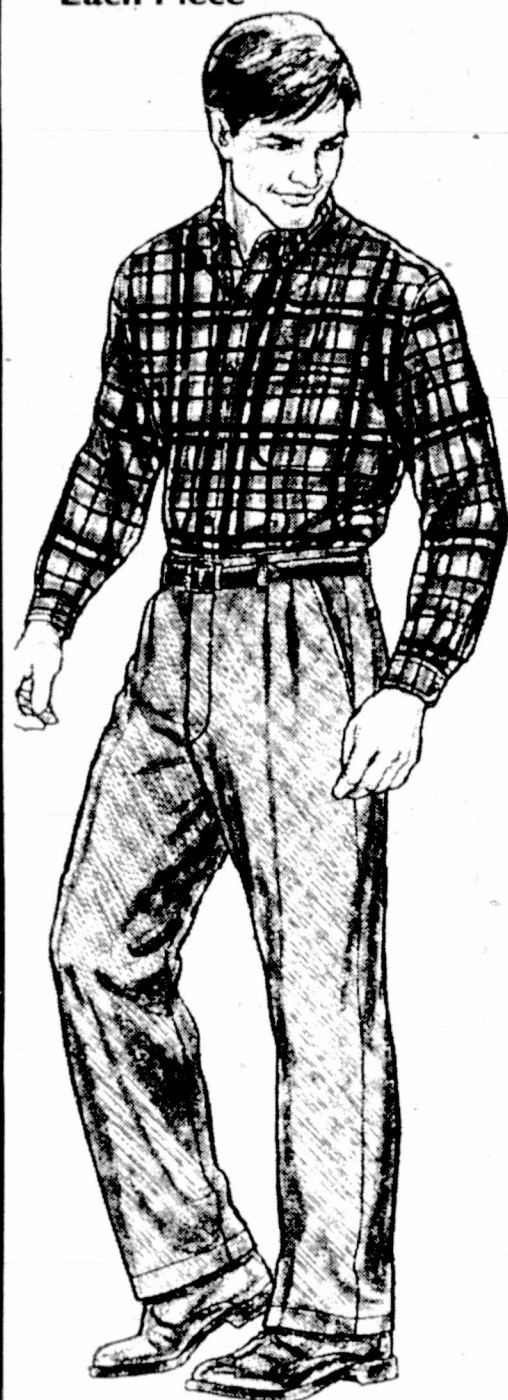

"The roads would be horrendously congested and you would run out of baggage-claim capacity to the point it would be unbearable," said architect Edward Just. "The existing building readily meets the airside needs but fails miserably everywhere else."

Minister's musing ...

How does a Christian "compromise" on the issue of murder? A murderer might defend himself by suggesting that the victim needed killing. Would that allow the Christian to "compromise"? That same murderer might even show how the victim had so intruded into his life that it affected his job performance, his future, his financial standing, everything. Would that allow the Christian to "compromise" concerning the murder?

I am amazed when people are so shocked and offended by pro-life Christians and even say that they "are so hard-headed, and just won't budge an inch". Who in their right mind would think that any Christian, pro-life or pro-abortion, could "budge an inch" on something that they believe is murder? How could they be anything but "hard-headed" on murder?

To pro-choice Christians it is an issue of personal freedom, a woman's right to control her own body or maybe a political matter. To pro-life Christians it is a capital crime issue, a matter of murder. Where is there room for a pro-life Christian to compromise on that issue?

By Rev. Mike Sublett
Hi-Land Christian Church

I have friends and even fellow ministers who differ with me on this issue. I can handle the fact that they disagree with me. But what I have a hard time understanding is how they could think that any Christian would compromise on what they believe to be murder. If you are a pro-choice Christian, you not only shouldn't be shocked, but you should "expect" your pro-life fellow Christians to be completely uncompromising on abortion. Why? Because it's such an important political issue? No! If I believed that it was just a political issue, I'd be willing to give ground all over the place. But I'm pro-life and I believe that it is Murder. And I believe that makes somebody a murderer! So why bring this up now? Well I was recently very accurately quoted in The Pampa News saying that "the position a candidate holds on abortion says a great deal about their character." Some Christians have taken issue with this and have said that they were offended that I brought up the issue of "character". Now help me understand. If a person believes with all of his heart that something is murder, how could he not believe that it said something about the murderer's character? Or about the character of the person who defended murder.

I'm not writing this article in an attempt to change anyone's mind on the issue of abortion. I just wanted to help set the record straight so that maybe a few pro-choice Christians could better understand why pro life Christians seem so unreasonable on the issue of abortion. We can't be anything else because we believe it is murder! We believe that from the moment of conception there is life and that it is obviously a human life. And how reasonable can any of us be on the murder of a another human!

Not all projects turn out perfectly ...

One blissful Sunday afternoon about a month ago when the air was crisp enough for the inaugural fire of the season, my husband and I played homeowner and cleaned the gutters.

I say we played homeowner because we've gotten so lazy - oh, did I say lazy? I mean so preoccupied with other obligations that if there's a professional service for a particular job we probably use it. There's the lawn service, the cleaning service, the carpet shampooing service ... but I digress.

On this glorious afternoon we scooped dead leaves from slightly unbalanced gutters and checked their water flow and aligned and measured until we were satisfied any rooftop runoff would be captured in the aluminum troughs which outline our house.

So when it rained Monday and I logged to my car from my office through rain in the streets deeper than the top of my navy blue Pappagallo-style flats all I could think of was the efficiency of my gutter system. Had we really tuned them perfectly? Would every drop cascading across the shingles be captured in them? Were we indeed more

One particular spot worried me because the guttering across the fascia board of our house is just above my favorite flower bed. A spot along that stretch of guttering is bent outward away from the house and when it gets full, rain water cascades across the lip and drills a muddy mess among my favorite plants. It did, that is, until I got wise to this particular imperfection. Because in theory we can have rain in the Panhandle and because it is almost never less than convul-sive in its arrival I've left the ground bare to protect some sprig of vinca or daisy or rose from the potential for drowning. In doing so there is a gap in the pattern and color just big enough to make the eye wonder why.

So as I raced home to check our repair job I dreamed about what I would plant next spring in the naked but protected spot. I careened into our back alley, tilted on two wheels into the garage and jogged to the spot where the offending gutter ran overhead.

A waterfall almost big enough to charge admission to see plastered flat my hapless flower bed. All our repairs and measurements and alignments hadn't fixed that misshapen trough and the sheer volume of rainfall overwhelmed its imperfect shape.

The gutters were prepared for everything but what felt like a 100 year rain.

As I trudged inside dripping water to look for a towel for my hair and dry clothes for my body I thought about that pesky hole in my flower bed and wondered how I could reshape aluminum with my bare hands.

Pastor cleared in dispute

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A pastor who allowed a woman to speak from the pulpit has been cleared of violating church doctrine by a judicial panel of the Presbyterian Church in America.

The conservative denomination — not to be confused with the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.), which welcomes female clergy — forbids women to preach.

In 1998 the Rev. John Wood allowed a woman on his church staff to speak on her view of ministry at two Sunday night services. A visitor from another congregation reported him.

Wealthy Sister Keeps Score For Game Sibling Won't Play

DEAR ABBY: My older sister "Jane" and I used to be close. She married 10 years ago, and her husband has done very well. Jane is a stay-at-home mom with three children. She and her husband recently purchased a million-dollar home in the wealthy area of our city. I took a different path, and now work full time in an industry I love. I enjoy life with my husband and two children. We have a lovely house in the suburbs.

Abigail Van Buren

SYNDICATED COLUMNIST

Abby, I am annoyed and frustrated. How shall I handle this in the future?

YOUNGER SIS

DEAR YOUNGER SIS: You can't change other people, but you can change the way you react to them.

Although your sister "married well," she appears to be insecure and insensitive to the feelings of others. That is pitiable, not enviable. When she starts spouting off, bear that in mind and don't take the bait. It may help you to be more tolerant of her.

DEAR ABBY: I am 11 years old and in the fifth grade. I have a problem. I have homework that sometimes I can't do. I try to ask my mom and dad, but they are unable to help. Can you tell me the best place for me and my classmates to get homework help? I need some advice.

HARD AT WORK IN FLORIDA

DEAR HARD AT WORK: I commend you for wanting help with your homework.

Ask your teacher to find an older student who has a clear understanding of the subjects with which you are having difficulty. Also, some local colleges have students who volunteer to help children who want to get ahead — like you and your classmates. Perhaps your parents or teacher can contact a college for the names of students willing to help.

The Stars Show the Kind of Day You'll Have: 5-Dynamic; 4-Positive; 3-Average; 2-So-so; 1-Difficult

ARIES (March 21-April 19)

 You might be postponing a day trip. Don't. Get up and invite a loved one to come and explore a favorite spot or a new place. In a new setting, you'll feel re-energized. Catch up on discussions. Talk about what you have avoided. Tonight: Try a new restaurant.

This week: Do your research carefully before you present ideas. Pull it all together in front of the boss.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)

 Another clearly lets you know what he wants and expects. Certainly accept an invitation or an idea that might be a bit different. Think twice about what is going on with a child or loved one. Share feelings as you get down to basics. Tonight: Go for togetherness.

This week: Work with an associate before you take off on a mental tangent. Your mind is overactive.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)

 Listen to someone who certainly has many good ideas. Together you have a wonderful day of sharing and talking. A project in which you two are involved brings you a lot closer. Check out a travel opportunity or book tickets for a getaway. Tonight: Go along with another's request.

This week: Others adore your energy. They think about mixing business and pleasure. It's your call.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)

 Consider that it might be time to get into some exercise or a new project. With the holidays around the corner, you might want to tighten your belt. Others actually might start holiday planning. Learn new ways to let go of stress. Tonight: Get a head start on tomorrow.

This week: You're heavy into the work ethic on Monday. Use the remainder of the week to network.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)

 Another knows how to bring out the kid in you. Allow greater playfulness and fun into your life. No longer question what is going on. Enjoy someone and the moment. Accept an invitation to join friends for a get-together. Tonight: Your happiness radiates.

This week: Tame your wildness if you plan to get anything done at work. You'll do it.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

* Your laughter helps others loosen up. You might have a lot of ground to cover. Listen to another's feedback. This person tells you what he wants. How about sharing the same? Meet a demanding situation head-on. Do what is needed here. Tonight: Juggle pressures.

This week: Your sense of security drives you. You incorporate or accept some dynamic ideas at work.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)

 You finally feel like you can clear your mind. First, discuss a long-term objective and how it ties in to a financial matter. Make calls to those at a distance. You might have a lot on your plate. You also have good news. Tonight: Catch up with a friend's news.

This week: Get on the horn on Monday. Make calls. Return messages. Schedule meetings. The rest of the week you'll be scoring everything out.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

* Speak your mind. Others' reactions delight you. In fact, before you know it you could be in the midst of a major celebration. A partner or dear friend is in the mood to enjoy. Let go and worry less about being realistic. A partner takes the lead. Tonight: Treat another as you like to be treated.

This week: Deal with expenses on Monday, because once you get into your work, you are unstoppable.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)

 Make the most of a special invitation. Don't hesitate to discuss more of what you want. Others bend to make you happy, as you often give so much.

Loosen up with friends. Let go of a worry, or discuss it with a close friend. Tonight: Whoop it up as if there were no tomorrow.

This week: Your personality soars and others agree with you a little too easily. Making money becomes your highest priority.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

* Listen carefully to a friend. Though this person can sometimes be blunt, he won't lie to you. Air out a problem that might be having an impact on your day-to-day work. Discussions are animated and active. Tonight: Get a good night's sleep.

This week: Step back on Monday. Gather information. You're personality plus all week. Others say yes to your requests.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)

 Follow through on some invitations. Gather with friends. You enjoy socializing to the max. However, do not forget a primary obligation, if you can take care of that first. A parent or older relative appreciates a call. Tonight: So what if tomorrow is Monday?

This week: Network on Monday. You trigger a busy week. Prepare to dig in. No socializing.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)

* Make a special effort toward a loved one. Your willingness to go to bat for this person makes a big difference. Invite a loved one to go to an art show or visit a museum. When you're out together, you can only have a good time. Tonight: Could be a late night.

This week: Take responsibility early in the week. You see the benefits all week.

GOLF

PAMPA — Both Pampa boys and girls teams close out the fall golf season Saturday in Borger. The Pampa teams won't play again until the spring season, which tees off Feb. 1.

Last weekend the Pampa boys participated in a triangular at Comanche Trails in Amarillo. They tied for first with Borger at 314. Leading Pampa was Daniel Heuston with a 74, followed by Anthony Tiedt 78, Craig Stout 79, Ryan Black 83 and Eric Wade 91.

Pampa girls went from fourth place the first round to seventh place in the Amarillo Invitational last weekend. Annie Sims led Pampa with a two-round score of 199.

FOOTBALL

NEW YORK (AP) — Derek Jeter has a Mona Lisa smile, a thin grin that makes him look as if he knows something that you don't.

It's there constantly — in the field and at bat — a look that says, "if we keep playing long enough, sooner or later I'm going to find a way to beat you."

Because he usually does, Jeter is the World Series MVP following the New York Yankees' 4-2 victory that completed a five-game triumph over the New York Mets.

He earned the award by hitting .409 (9-for-22) with two doubles, a triple and two home runs. He scored six times and played flawlessly in the field.

Jeter was modest about the trophy, paying tribute to his teammates like Jose Vizcaino, Paul O'Neill, Mike Stanton, Mariano Rivera and Luis Sojo.

Pampa wins Amarillo Junior Varsity tourney

AMARILLO — The Pampa Junior Varsity tennis team played in the Amarillo JV Team Tennis Tournament last weekend and came away with the Boys Team Trophy, the Girls Team Trophy and the Team Trophy.

Pampa dominated the doubles divisions, taking first and second in girls and boys doubles. Sophomores Josh Nachtigall and Kevin Turner won the boys doubles, defeating freshmen Adam Etchison and Zack Hucks in the finals, 6-4, 6-2. Sophomores Tiffani Neef and Julie Thompson won the girls doubles, defeating freshman Stephanie Nelson and sophomore Lauren Acker in the final, 6-0, 7-5.

In singles, Pampa sophomore Stephen Nelson placed second, losing to Tascosa's Price

Tennis

Corbin, 6-3, 7-6 (7-5), in the finals. Sophomore Tyler Howard won the consolation division after losing in the first round to Amarillo High's Hank Sarderson, 2-6, 6-2, 6-0. In girls singles, sophomore Liz West came in second, losing to Tascosa's Jennifer Taylor 6-3, 1-6, 6-1. Sophomore Bonnie Holmes won consolation 8-1 in the final, defeating Tascosa's Meghan Robertson-Baker.

In the B division, freshman Erin Norris was third in girls singles and freshman Shelly Smith placed fifth. Freshmen Natalie McVay and Katie Shaffer placed fifth in girls doubles.

MOSCOW (AP) — Top-seeded U.S. Open champion Marat Safin beat Gianluca Pozzi 6-1, 7-5 in the second round of the $2.5 million Kremlin Cup.

On the women's side, top-ranked Martina Hingis ousted Olympic silver medalist Elena Dementieva 6-0, 6-7 (5), 7-5 to advance to the semifinals. Also advancing was fourth-seeded Anna Kournikova, who beat Vera Zvonareva 7-6 (4), 6-4 to reach the tournament's quarterfinals for the first time since 1995.

Unseeded Magdalena Maleeva scored a second-round upset of third-seeded Arantxa Sanchez-Vicario 6-3, 6-2, and Amelie Mauresmo beat Lisa Raymond 6-2, 6-4.

In other second-round men's play, David Prinosil downed Harel Levy 6-3, 6-0, and Jonas Bjorkman upset sixth-seeded Max Mirnyi 6-3, 3-6, 6-1.

BASEL, Switzerland (AP) — Thomas Enqvist and Lleyton Hewitt — the top two remaining seeds — advanced to the quarterfinals of the $1 million Swiss Indoors tournament.

The second-seeded Enqvist beat Jerome Golmard 6-4, 6-2. No. 3 Hewitt eliminated Andreas Vinciguerra 6-3, 7-5.

The only top name to fall was seventh-seeded Nicolas Lapentti, who was stunned 7-6 (6), 7-6 (5) by qualifier Nicolas Thomann, ranked 184th in the world.

Heupel is key to OU success

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — The player who makes Oklahoma's flashy offense click is about as exciting as your local CPA.

Josh Heupel is more about grit than glitz. In this age of me, Heupel talks about we. He's soft-spoken and humble, almost boring. He swears he doesn't read or listen to what is written or said about him.

He doesn't exactly knock your socks off on the field, either. Plenty of quarterbacks have stronger arms, and no defensive coordinator spends much time worrying about his scrambling ability.

But Heupel's play is the biggest reason Oklahoma is 6-0 and ranked No. 3 heading into Saturday's game against top-ranked Nebraska.

"He's just exceptional," coach Bob Stoops said. "I don't think there's any other way to say it."

Heupel has completed 68.6 percent of his passes for 1,894 yards and 11 touchdowns, with just four interceptions. In the Sooners' three Big 12 games, he is even better — 75 for 107 (70 percent) for 995 yards, four touchdowns and no interceptions.

And Heupel has been at his best in the two biggest games so far. He threw for 275 yards and a touchdown against Texas, then burned Kansas State with 29-of-37 passing for 374 yards and two TDs despite being knocked down repeatedly.

"Up to this point, I haven't seen anybody better," Kansas State coach Bill Snyder said afterward. "Although I know there's a lot of great players out there, that was as fine a performance as I've seen in an awful long time."

Snyder said Heupel's demeanor and toughness remind him of Chuck Long, whom he coached while an assistant at Iowa in the 1980s. Long is now the quarterbacks coach at Oklahoma.

"They're great decision-makers, they have great poise and a tremendous ability to place the ball in a position or spot where receivers have a chance to get to it and defenders have no chance," Snyder said.

Bucs skidding, but favored

By DAVE GOLDBERG
AP Football Writer

The Tampa Bay Buccaneers have lost four straight games after a 3-0 start. The Minnesota Vikings are the only unbeaten team left in the NFL.

So how come Tampa Bay is favored when the Vikings come to town Sunday? The spread is 3 points, up from 2 1/2 to start, which means the oddsmakers figure the teams as even and give the edge to the Bucs on home field.

Law of averages. The Vikings are due to lose — they were almost beaten by Buffalo last week. Tampa Bay is too good to lose five straight. And ...

The Bucs were 3-4 last season and won eight of their last nine.

Plus ...
— The Vikings beat Tampa Bay in Minnesota three weeks ago, but the Bucs led in the third quarter and might have tied the game had Keyshawn Johnson held on to the ball on the 5-yard line in the final minute.

— Minnesota almost lost at home to Doug Flutie and the Bills last week, needing a fantastic throw and catch by Daunte Culpepper to Randy Moss to win.

Moss also made the catch that beat the Bucs in the Metrodome, taking it away from Pro Bowlers Ronnie Abraham and John Lynch. And Culpepper has done nothing but make good throws.

Law of averages and ...
Tampa Bay needs this one more.

TITANS, 15-13

Pittsburgh (plus 4 1/2) at Baltimore

Back on opening day, the Ravens won 16-0 in Pittsburgh and actually scored a touchdown on a 53-yard pass from Tony Banks to Qadry Ismail. Baltimore hasn't done anything like that (score a TD) in four games, and Trent Dilfer will play quarterback this week.

The Giants won 33-18 in Philadelphia, their best offensive output of the season. It's hard to beat a team twice, but that's not the deciding factor. Try the Giants' 2-9 record after five weeks.

World champ among horses at Lone Star Park

GRAND PRAIRIE, Texas (AP) — Two Texans with top-ranked quarter horses, including world champion Tailor Fit, are facing off in weekend competition at Lone Star Park.

More than $1 million is up for grabs in Saturday's eighth MBNA

America Challenge

Championships.
Tailor Fit, owned by Betty Jane Burlin of Navasota, Texas and conditioned by Steve Van Bebber, won five of seven starts in 1999 before earning the title of World Champion.

The championships features 13 stakes races, including six Challenge Championship races.

The MBNA Challenge has 482 horses racing in 10 regions at racetracks across the U.S., Canada and Mexico. They're racing for a starting berth in one of the six Challenge Championship events.

Competitors include Victory Defined, who is ranked No. 6 in the nation. Victory Defined, owned by Narciso Flores of Houston and trained by Bobby Martinez, is undefeated in six starts this year while racing at Texas tracks.

ANIMAL CONTROL HALLOWEEN SAFETY TIPS FOR PETS

Halloween can be a festive and fun time of year for children and families, but for family pets, it can be a stressful and even dangerous time of year. Animal Control offers pet owners some common sense tips to help pet owners keep their pets safe during this time of year.

•Don't leave your pet out in the yard on Halloween: There are plenty of stories of vicious pranksters who have teased, injured, stolen, even killed pets on this night.

•Keep your outdoor cats inside several days before and several days after Halloween; black cats in particular may be at risk from children's pranks or other cruelty-related incidents. Many shelters, do not adopt out black cats on Halloween as a safety precaution.

•Trick-or-treat candies are not for pets: Chocolate is poisonous to a lot of animals, and tin foil and cellophane candy wrappers can be hazardous if swallowed.

•Be careful of pets around a lit pumpkin: Pets may knock it over and cause a fire. Curious kittens especially run the risk of getting burned.

•Don't dress the dog or cat in costume unless you know he or she loves it. Otherwise, it puts too much stress on the animal.

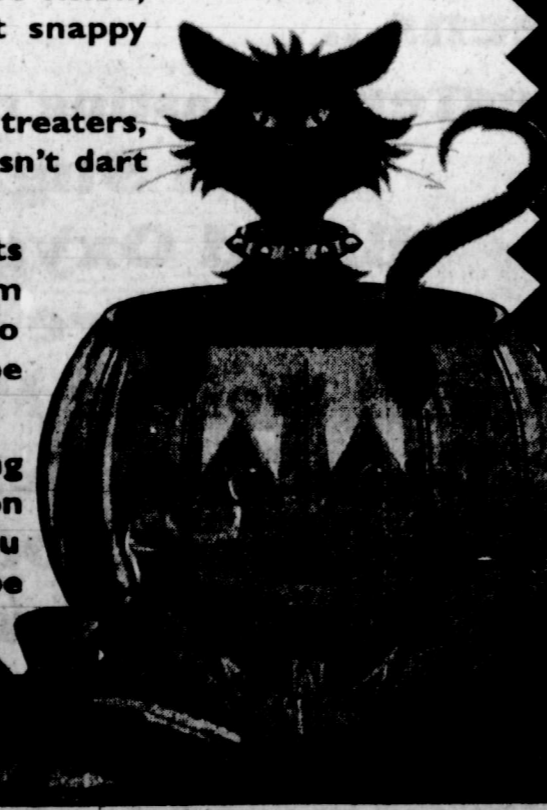

•If you do dress up your pet, make sure the costume isn't annoying or unsafe; it should not constrict her movement, hearing or ability to breathe or bark. Also, there should not be small, dangling, or easily chewed-off pieces on the costume that your pet could choke on.

• Be careful not to obstruct your pet's vision; even the sweetest animal can get snappy when he or she can't see.

•When opening the door for trick-or-treaters, be very careful your cat or dog doesn't dart outside.

•All but the most social dogs and cats should be kept in a separate room during trick-or-treat visiting hours; too many strangers in strange garb can be scary for a dog or cat.

•Make sure your dog or cat is wearing proper identification. If for any reason they escape and become lost, you increase the chances that they will be returned to you.

Yankees claim World Series title

NEW YORK (AP) — At the stroke of midnight, baseball had its champion.

And so did New York City.

The Yankees, thought to be so old and beat up that they might even miss the playoffs, became the first team in more than a quarter-century to win three straight World Series titles, beating the New York Mets 4-2 Thursday night.

Luis Sojo, one of many midseason pickups, hit a two-out, tiebreaking single off Al Leiter in the ninth inning to decide Game 5 of the Subway Series.

The win at Shea Stadium, a mere 14-minute drive from their home in the Bronx, gave the Yankees their fourth title in five years and their record 26th championship overall. The three in a row matched Oakland's mark from 1972-74, though the Athletics' achievement came before free agency made it tough to keep teams together.

"We can put our record, our dedication, our resolve up against any team that's ever played the game of baseball in my mind," Yankees manager Joe Torre said. "We may not have the best players, but we certainly have the best team."

Derek Jeter earned the MVP award, along with his fourth ring, at only 26. Along with Roger Clemens, Orlando Hernandez and other teammates, he took turns parading the World Series trophy around the field, hoisting it high for a cluster of Yankees fans to admire.

"The Mets are — in my opinion — the best team we've played in my years here," Jeter said.

It turned out to be a short ride for New Yorkers who waited 44 years for another Subway Series.

Though all of the games were close, the Yankees showed how much October experience really counts.

Only two other runs in baseball history can compare — Joe DiMaggio led the Yankees to five crowns from 1936-41, and Mickey Mantle was there for the last three of the Bronx Bombers' six titles from 1947-53.

"Whether you like us or not, we're winners," Yankees right fielder Paul O'Neill said. "Everybody was ready for the collapse. Everybody was waiting for us to lose."

And while the lasting image of this Series is certain to be Clemens throwing the bat toward Mike Piazza, this is the picture the Yankees will prefer to savor: owner George Steinbrenner grabbing another big piece of hardware for the team's trophy case.

"The Mets gave us everything we could want. It was great for the city of New York," Steinbrenner said. "I hope we don't have to go through this again for another 44 years."

Slumping Bernie Williams also homered for the Yankees. But it was Sojo, who blossomed into a good-luck charm after rejoining the Yanks from Pittsburgh on Aug. 7, who delivered the winning hit.

"It's the happiest day of my life. I don't know how to explain it," said Sojo, who entered the game in the eighth inning.

Today they gave me a chance to come through. I did and was it unbelievable."

Leiter struck out the first two batters in the ninth. Then he walked Jorge Posada and gave up a single to Scott Brosius, and Sojo followed by slapping a single up the middle on Leiter's 142nd and final pitch.

Another run scored on the play when center fielder Jay Payton's throw home hit Posada and bounced into the Mets' dugout.

Sojo's single, which came with a borrowed bat from reserve Clay Bellinger, snapped the Yankees

Southside Senior Citizen's serves over 1,000 seniors

This article is one in a series of articles of profiles on the agencies and organizations supported by Pampa United Way. This information is being provided by Pampa United Way as part of its 2000 "Lead the Way!" fund-raising campaign.

Southside Senior Citizen's Center served 1,895 individual meals last year. The center's greatest accomplishment is its Senior Citizen's mobile meals program. Southside Senior Citizen's Center provides a variety of activities for its members, including recreational activities for the elderly — and otherwise helps to meet the needs of the underprivileged in the city.

The center regularly assists individuals in its Mobile Meals Program on Saturdays, providing hot meals to Pampa residents who are homebound due to illness, physical handicap or advancing age and who cannot prepare their own meals and might otherwise not have a nutritious hot meal for the weekend.

In the Telephone Reassurance Program, these people get a phone call every day from someone at the center to reassure them that someone cares about their well-being.

Also, the center offers recreational activities. In addition to ceramics, the center offers music, dominoes, bingo, pool and other forms of recreation. There is an exercise bike and a treadmill for the fitness-minded and a Fellowship Luncheon on the last Thursday of each month. Every Friday night is Fun Night with refreshments and games.

Money from Pampa United Way plays a big part in making Southside an important part of the lives of our community's deserving elderly citizens. Without your help, the invaluable services of this and other local agencies receiving UW assistance would not be possible.

If a United Way volunteer has not contacted you, please call 669-1001 today and receive your pledge card or mail your donation to Pampa United Way, P.O. Box 2076, Pampa, TX 79065.

Symphony to perform seventh subscription concert of the 2000-01 season

AMARILLO — The Amarillo Symphony will perform the third of seven Civic Center Auditorium subscription concerts at 8 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 18. A free pre-concert lecture will be offered at 7 p.m. from the stage.

"The highlight of our Beethoven Festival and of any Symphony season is a performance of the Ninth Symphony," said James Setapen, music director and conductor. "It is considered one of the greatest works of all time. The challenge for any conductor is, 'what do you program with the Ninth Symphony?' Many conductors have chosen his First Symphony, some have programmed works with no real connection, and some select a composition that was Beethoven's experiment of joining the orchestra with singers. This work is the 'Choral Fantasy.' We thought this selection, because it enables us to perform a less frequently heard piece of Beethoven's, gives a sense of rounding out to our yearlong Festival."

The pre-concert lecture is part of a series called "The Beethoven Chronicles." The Harrington String Quartet and WTAMU's Dr. Ted DuBois will offer three lecture/demonstrations, exploring the three stages of Beethoven's creative life.

Before the November and February concerts, they will present a pre-concert talk and mini-performance using examples from Beethoven's 16 String Quartets to illuminate Beethoven's expansive artist growth. The talks begin at 7 p.m. in the Auditorium and are offered at no charge to ticket holders.

The featured soloists for the Nov. 18th performance are Janet Williams, soprano, Lindsay Boulware, soprano II, Lester Senter, mezzo-soprano, Thomas Young, tenor, Joe Bolin, tenor II, Burr Cochran Phillips, bass-baritone, and Adam Neiman, piano. In addition, the orchestra will be joined by three choruses — the Amarillo Civic Chorus, the Canterbury Choral Society and the WTAMU Choruses.

Single tickets are $22, $17 and $12 and are available from the Symphony office and are also sold on-line. General admission tickets are available on the day of the performance for $10. For more information call the Symphony office at (806) 376-8782 or visit www.amarillosymphony.org on the Internet.

Overstocked dealer faced with loss of fall allocations, forced to discount inventory $1000-$6000 off factory sticker price.

Borger, TX - Jim Humphrey, General Sales Manager of Cole Ivey Auto Plaza of Borger, was quoted this week as saying, "If I have to, I will undersell every dealer west of the Mississippi. I don't care where or who they are, I won't be undersold!"

Humphrey intends to discount everything from $1000-$6000 off the factory sticker. When asked for specific details he said, "Here is a new Buick Park Avenue, stock number 21400, MSRP $36,467. trouble in the past. We went to our banks and told them we needed help selling this huge selection of vehicles.

They agreed, and told us that for the four-day period they would finance these vehicles with zero down payment and no payment for 90 days with approved credit."

Humphrey went on to say, "Just as Lee Iacocca once said, 'You have to lead, follow, or get out of the way!' We want to lead, and we're prepared to prove it!"

So, for the next four days, Thursday, October 26 through Monday, October 30, Cole Ivey will make available every Pontiac, Cadillac, GMC Truck, Buick and Oldsmobile at huge discounts. In addition, they'll show the discounts on the windshield of every car, truck and minivan they have, so buying will be even easier.
