Summer School Closes Its Very Successful Term

The eight-week summer session of the Pampa public schools closed Friday, with an enrollment of 84 pupils. Of this number 42 were high school students and 41 were grade pupils. Seven teachers comprised the faculty. Harrison Platter was summer school director, and other members of the staff were Mrs. J. L. Lester, Mrs. J. E. Kullman, Mrs. J. B. Austin, Mrs. Anna Daniels, Miss Christine CamSpbell and Spt. R. C. Campbell.

All high school subjects usually taught during regular session, with the exception of science courses requiring laboratory work, were taught in the summer school and all grade work was given. There was a demand for every subject, Mr. Platter said. Business science courses proved to be most popular.

Both Supt. Campbell and Mr. Platter express themselves as being pleased with results obtained in this summer session. The student body, they say, was largely composed of ambitious students who desired to advance their standing or take extra courses, rather than of failures who usually make summer sessions necessary. For this reason the class of work done in the eight weeks was up to the average done in longer terms. Grades are very satisfactory, according to Mr. Platter.

Report cards are to be issued to all students within a few days, and diplomas will be delivered to two high school graduates and seven grammar school graduates. The high school graduates are Miss Edna Baird and Miss Blvin Frasher. Those completing the grammar school work are: Viola Haggard, Frances Jones, Roscoe Rich, Myrl Elsten, Barbara Camp, Etha Jones, and Hazel Harrold.

LOCAL BOY WILL BE BURIED AT SEYMOUR, MO.

The body of Lyle Lee Barnum, 11 years old, was taken overland from the Malone Funeral Home yesterday for burial at Seymour, Mo. Death came after a short illness at the home of his parents here.

He is survived by his parents Mr. and Mrs. C. Barnum, residents of Pampa only a short time where Mr. Barnum is foreman of the bridge gang on the new Santa Fe line from Pampa to Cheyenne, Okla., and a younger brother, LaVerne.

HAD FISH TO SPARE

Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Duncan and family, and Mrs. H. E. Criegler of White Deer returned Friday from a trip to Red River, N. M., and points in Colorado. They were rewarded at Red River by catching all the fish they desired.

Mr. Duncan stated that if a mess of fish and a piece of bacon were placed before him he would take the bacon because he has eaten so many fish during his trip that he cares for no more.

Willys-Overland Company Expecting Fine Year Abroad

On the eve of his departure for his home in England, Sir William Letts, managing director of the Willys-Overland Crossleys, Limited, of Stockport, England, declared that although 1928 will see a record business for the Willys-Overland Company, every indication points to 1929 as even greater.

Sir William has been the guest of John N. Willys, president of the Willys-Overland company for the past few weeks and has just completed his annual visit at the local factory. Commenting on the automobile business in England and Continental Europe, Sir William said: "The English company, the Willys-Overland Crossley Limited, which I direct, will this year see the biggest business in the company's history, and this despite the fact that we have not been able to get all the Whippets and Willys-Knights that we needed. Only today I received a cable stating that in the 24-hour reliability trial held in Ireland, and also in the open event, a Whippet won the silver cup, the highest award in its class."

"In the Export Division controlled by the English company of Willys-Overland, we have almost doubled our business this year. During Mr. Willys' visit overseas last year we arranged to put in an assembly plant in Berlin to

Another Production Record for Chevrolet Indicated for 1928

DETROIT, July 21.—Positive indication that the Chevrolet Motor Company in 1928 will again establish a new annual production record and go well beyond the million mark this year, was seen in an announcement here today by W. S. Knudsen, president, that output for the first six months of the year totaled 751,536 cars and trucks, as compared with 607,749 for the corresponding period of 1927.

Responding to the greatest demand in its history, Chevrolet established new monthly production records every month this year. Like the five preceding months, June was the best six month in the history of the company with a total of 132,704 units, as compared with 112,794 for June of 1927.

With its fourteen great factories at the peak of efficiency and precision operation, Chevrolet in the last six months produced a finished car every five seconds of each working day. Daily production over the six months period averaged 5,315 units. All daily records were broken May 28 when 7,075 finished cars and trucks were built.

In addition to the 751,536 cars and trucks built since the first of the year, 32,719 of the "Bigger and Better" models that have since won nation-wide acclaim, were built in December, bringing the total number of the present model built up to July 16 to 794,356.

Production in the first six months of the year exceeded the total output for the year of 1926 and nearly doubled the production of each preceding year.

Due to the steadily increasing popularity of the "Bigger and Better" car, production will continue at a high rate throughout the summer and fall. Mr. Knudsen announced schedules set for July, August and September call for more than 100,000 units each month, indicating that Chevrolet will reach the million mark before October first.

Coach Mitchell Puts Squad Through Light Practices Daily—Keeping Fit During Summer Emphasized to Players

Coach Odus Mitchell had several members of his 1928 football team out for a light practice last night. Punting and throwing the pig-skin, the order of the evening, will be continued until the boys are ready for practice.

With the exception of four members last year's team will be intact, and with twelve new aspirants for places on the team Coach Mitchell has the makings of one of the best teams in the conference.

The weak spot of last year's team was the punting. This year Coach Mitchell will have Doc Sawyer and Don Tate to choose from. Both have good educated toes.

Beginning Monday, short daily practices will be held south of Central high school at 7 o'clock. A proposal to attend a football training camp at Gratierville Park, Okla. is being considered. It is said the cost would be no more than a camp nearer home, and that the convenience would be much better. Teams from Wichita Falls, Lawton, Granfield, and Elk City will attend the camp and light scrimmages will be held between them. The park is near Altus.

"Boys, we can't win bi-district championships this year by training only on the football field," Coach Mitchell told his prospective players.

"Some of the best football fans in town may offer you a smoke. Just say, 'I have quit.' Your friend will think more of you and your team, and will be an even more enthusiastic fan. Let me tell you something—there will be no real fans if the report gets out that we have a smoking team and one that won't keep training off the field. I know that those who break training thing they are getting pleasure out of it. I am also sure they would get more pleasure out of being fit and knowing themselves able to give their best in every game. To fear the opposition because one is out of condition ruins players and teams. The 'yellow' player, so-called, is more often than not one who is in condition. He is merely afraid of the fellow across the line, whose stamina is evident. Confidence which comes from being in condition is what we wish, but not overconfidence.

"It was not easy for Farrell to make an 8-foot putt in his final round of golf with Bobby Jones, who was within a foot of the cup. To miss would have cost the national championship and $50,000.

"It was hard of Tunny to get up off the mat where Dempsey had sent him down for a count of eight.

"Back of these men was confidence and physical fitness. They had played the game off the field and could 'come back' if the odds momentarily went against them.

"It is well known that Waco's football teams have not been developed on the field alone. Every man who makes that team trains hard on the gridiron and takes good care of himself during the summer months.

"Let us play the game on the field and off, so that when the season ends we may be wearing the golden footballs symbolic of the bi-district championship!"

Walker Not to Meet Varner Now or Even Later

The Mickey Walker-Walter Varner fight will not be staged at the Pla-Mor auditorium now or at any time, the management announced yesterday morning. The battle was to have been staged the night of July 30, but Walker reported yesterday that he had strained his shoulder and could not be in condition to meet the veteran Varner.

The two boxers met three weeks ago and in the first round Varner was fouled and was unable to continue the fight. Both fighters agreed to another meeting and both posted forfeits. Walker's forfeit will be given to some charitable organization.

Other boxing cards are being arranged by the Pla-Mor matchmakers and a specialty card will be announced in the near future to open a new set of boxing attractions.

Yankee Hurlers Worthy Team-mates of Hitters

CHICAGO, July 21.—(P)—Statistics, the court of last resort to settle baseball arguments, so far prove the critics, who deride Yankee pitchers as weak but saved solely by heavy hitting, are all wrong.

For not only do the Yankee batsmen drive home more runs than any team in the American league, but the Huggins are the hardest to score against. And this is true despite the fact the team is sixth in fielding.

Unofficial averages for the junior circuit up to and including games of Wednesday show the Yankees have been scored against only 371 in 428 runs a game. During the season, they have showed over 6.05 runs each contest on an average. Philadelphia, which has held the league leadership for fewest opponent scores, is second with 376 runs scored against it in 86 games as against New York's 87.

Five of the leading ten pitchers in the American league thus far are Yankees. Alvin Crowder of the Browns still leads the field or hurlers, however, stacking up two more victories during the week to hike his season's record to 11 won and one lost. Waite Hoyt of the Yanks is second with 12 won and two lost.

While the leading batters slumped considerably during the week, "Goose" Goslin of Washington still led the field with an average of .304.

Young Ed Walsh Loses Game as Ruth Hits Homer

NEW YORK, July 21.—(AP)—Echoes of twenty years were sounded at the Yankee stadium today as a chunky youngster, just out of Notre Dame curved and buzzed a fine assortment of "pitching stuff" about the ears of the Yankees. Ed Walsh, Jr. was making his metropolitan debut as a member of the White Sox and a great crowd thundered its applause upon him as he turned the champions back with one tiny single in the first six innings.

Perhaps it was inevitable. The break came in the seventh when Babe Ruth lapped his thirty-ninth home run into the right field bleachers to break a scoreless deadlock with Young Walsh thus unseated the Yankees seized an opportunity to push another run home in the same round and so win by 2 to 1. Chicago 0—000 000—0—4, 1 New York 000 000 20x—2, 5, 0 Walsh, Blankenship and Crouse; Piegas and DeGough.

Seventh Straight Win
PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—(AP)—The Athletics increased their lead on second place to 10 games today by winning their seventh in a row and sweeping the five game series with St. Louis by winning today's double header. The Mackmen won the first game 8 to 2 and the second 7 to 3. Every member in the Athletics lineup hit safely in each game.

Jimmy Fox hit what was believed the longest home run ever made in Shibe Park in the first clash. Jack Quinn won this thirteenth game of the season in the afterpiece. The 43-year-old veteran has lost only four.

It was Ira Flagstead day at Fenway Park and 17,000 fans attended. Lieut. Governor Allen, on behalf of the day committee, presented the veteran outfielder $1,000 in gold and other presents were given to Flagstead and to his wife.

Sensational Hurler of Red Sox

Here is big Ed Morris, whose pitching for the Boston Red Sox this season has been one of the high spots of the American League campaign. Although this is his first year in the major leagues, Morris had won 10 games while losing only four for the newly Red Sox when the month of July got under way. He was with Mobile in the Southern Association last year, but his nice work this season leads to the prediction that he will be around the majors for some years to come.

American Tennis Team Overwhelms Italian Players

AUTHUIL, France, July 21.—(AP)—Two horsemen of the American Davis cup tennis cavalry galloped roughshod through the last Italian defenses this afternoon and clinched the right for the United States to play France in next week's challenge round.

Picking up the pace where he left off yesterday, "Smiling John" Hennessey, coupled with George Lott baffled the Italian pair of Baron Humbert de Morpurgo and Placido Gaslini whose last hopes of prolonging the inter-zone battle was extinguished in straight sets decided by scores of 6-3, 6-1, 6-2. This result gives America its third decisive victory and removes their remaining two singles matches Sunday to the realm of exhibitions.

Completion of the American sweeping triumph was accompanied by fresh prospects that Bill Tilden will yet be included in the team opposing the French in the challenge round starting here on Friday.

While declining officially to indicate whether any new course has been decided upon, Samuel H. Collom, president of the United States Lawn Tennis association, disclosed he had reserved the right to nominate Tilden for the team when the final list is submitted to the French tennis federation next Monday.

This was considered significant of a possible turn in events in view of Collom's previous admission that Tilden technically was guilty of violating the player-writer law and therefore unquestionably ineligible.

LAD IS FORTUNATE

AUSTIN, July 21.—(AP)—The fortunes of politics may result in a trip to Washington for Sumner Ramsey, 16-year-old son of S. W. Ramsey, state board of control secretary, to visit Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, widow of the war president.

Young Ramsey was Mrs. Wilson's page at the Democratic national convention at Houston. She invited him, after the convention was over, to come to see her. He says he intends to go later in the summer.

AMSTERDAM, July 21.—(AP)

Hammers, shots and javelins flew helter-skelter and scouts had to be appointed to warn the runners and hurdles lest they get hit as athletic stars of a dozen nations crowded the practice fields near the Olympic stadium today in the first general workout in preparation for the international games.

Everybody seems pleased with the colorful party, but Head Coach Lawson Robertson of the American track and field team who described it as "a very unsatisfactory workout from a coach's viewpoint."

One small practice field was so crowded, according to Robertson, that no one could do anything more than lumber up.

NO NOISE • NO MOVING PARTS

Now, an automatic refrigerator whose action is as simple as heating a kettle of water and as continuous as perpetual motion.

Heat does all the work in this new marvel. A tiny gas flame turns a refrigerating liquid to vapor. The vapor passes through coils, condenses to a liquid and comes back to its starting-point. There the freezing action starts all over again and continues endlessly, without the slightest attention on your part.

Simple as a vacuum bottle—lasting as a steel safe

There are no moving parts in the Electrolux. No mechanical action takes place—only a physical change in the vital chilling liquid. There is nothing to wear out or to cause trouble. The liquid is permanently sealed in metal. It never deteriorates, never needs replacement. There is no odor, no danger of leakage. From the walls of rust-re-

Markets

CHICAGO, July 21.—(AP)—Prospective widespread cool weather, ideal to check black rust and promote spring wheat, led to much lower prices today. Export business was slack and some future deliveries touched the lowest level this season.

Closing wheat quotations were heavy, 1 7/8c to 2 1/8c net lower. Corn finished 1-2c to 1 1/4c off, oats at 5-8c decline to 1-8c advance, and provisions unchanged to 7c down.

Cheap Canadian offerings appeared to be monopolizing whatever export outlet there was. Shippers in the Southwest were thus left with practically no foreign market while receipts proved to be again of record-breaking volume.

Corn and oats gave way with wheat. Provisions became easy, sympathizing with a decline in hog values.

Jim C. King, Former Officer, Runs for Sheriff of County

Jim C. King, for the last two years a well known figure in Pampa, is one of the strong contenders for the office of sheriff of Gray county, subject to the Democratic primaries next Saturday. "I feel that I am capable to fill the office as law enforcer in Gray county as I know conditions in the county and have had the experience being an officer in aKness," the candidate states. He has always been the first to offer his assistance to local and county officers in maintaining law and order, using his cars to assist them. He believes in the strict enforcement of the laws of the state and country and if elected states that he will fill the position as it should be.

His friends are strongly backing him for the office.

Daughter of Former Governor Living in Poverty for Art

NEW YORK, July 21.—(AP)—A determination to starve rather than give up her musical career was voiced by Miss Isobel Stone, daughter of a former governor of Pennsylvania, who with her sister recently was found living in poverty on a derelict barge off upper Manhattan.

Miss Stone said at the death of her father, the late William A. Stone, coal operator and often referred to as "the best Governor Pennsylvania ever had" it was found his estate estimated at $3,000,000 had dwindled to practically nothing through stock market speculations.

"We were left in the house," she said, "but we had no food. We had to go to work and we didn't know what work meant, for it had never entered into our lives. We imagined that money grew on trees."

Miss Stone took up her abode in the rent-free barge more than a week ago with her younger sister, Mrs. Peggy O'Neill. She is a singer studying for an operatic career while her sister is a sculptor.

She said her sister first got a job in a box factory while she obtained a place in a chorus, later becoming a singer. She has since appeared in Broadway shows and night clubs and also made her debut in opera. Sickness, however, interfered with her career. Peggy could not be seen by newspapermen and Isabel explained she had been frightened away by publicity and had gone into town to stay with friends.

"But" she said, "it won't scare me away. I had not thought of a publicity stunt when we came to live here, but I'll tell you frankly that if I can get any benefit out of that publicity, I am going to do so."

Judge Stephen Stone, a half-brother, at Pittsburgh said the plight of the two young women was due to their "strong headedness" in insisting on artistic careers, and asserted, "any time they want to break away from this art business we will be tickled pink and will listen to them."

Labor Unions to Have Benefit at Pla-Mor Auditorium

The Pla-Mor auditorium will be the scene of a benefit entertainment Wednesday night commencing at 9 o'clock. The occasion is a get-together of the labor unions of the city. A free luncheon will be served by the cooks and

The after dinner speeches will be short and interesting. A fast baking card has been arranged to be followed by dancing until 1 o'clock. Music will be furnished by Dennis Comar and his Riverview orchestra.

DOUGLASS NOW CALLED STICKER

Asks Investigation of His Ability and Record

Having accepted under the appointment of Governor Moody in March of 1927 what is regarded as the most difficult position of its kind in the state District Attorney Curtis Douglass declares he is not going to quit the task now. He offers his candidacy in the 84th district subject to the action of the Democratic primary of July 28.

Mr. Douglass took over an already congested docket at a time when crime was rampant and law enforcement had almost broken down. He assumed the prosecution of cases that had been accumulating for several years, and necessarily had to dismiss many which were consuming the taxpayers' money and obstructing procedure on the more important later cases. Dismissal was admittedly advisable in many instances through lack of evidence sufficient for a probable conviction.

One of the toughest problems was Berger, with 341 slot machines and many other gambling devices in operation, with bootleggers almost outnumbering working men, and with murders including even the slaying of officers of the law.

While in other districts assistants are provided, the district attorney of the 84th has had to work alone. He had more cases than any other docket in the state contained. His friends asserted that many have failed to grasp the true difficulty of the office, and that political enemies have made capital of the conditions.

It has been necessary for the young attorney to defend himself against the charges that have been made against him, and many times he has taken the stump to protect his name and ward off efforts to displace him. He is still on the job, which, he says, should be in the hands of an aggressive stayer.

Mr. Douglass was judge advocate-general of the American Legion department of Texas in 1923, having been elected at the Brownwood convention. He saw Army service during the war.

His legal experience includes two terms of four years as first assistant district attorney at Waco.

He is anxious to continue the work with which he is familiar and to see the docket cleared of the many big cases now pending. His platform is fearless prosecution of the lawless and the grafter, he said recently.

Our continued fight against petty crimes (drunkenness, gambling, etc.) has brought us considerable criticism and we feel that much of this has been due to misunderstanding. This course was taken and followed without malice and in simple accordance with proven principles. When criminals and the criminally inclined find petty crimes unprofitable, their larger activities are invariably checked and usually abandoned. Records of the courts reveal our work in this line, the condition of the county proves the logic of the reasoning and the criminal dockets also bear out this statement.

Inasmuch as I am making this race strictly on my own merits and on the record that I have made while serving as sheriff of this county, I shall not deal in intimations or in mud-slinging and in case these methods should be used in this campaign, I respectfully ask that you require more than mere rumors and charges to convict me in your own mind. If, in your fair and unprejudiced consideration, you are unable to satisfy your self in regard to my qualifications for this position, you will find in this issue an unsolicited letter from Mr. John W. Tyson, group head of the Prohibition department of this district. This commendation, coming as it does, from a man who is an acknowledged authority on law enforcement and who is in a position to know our work and the problems with which we have to contend, is valued highly.

The proposition is placed fairly before the voters of this county. If you want the present conditions and reputation vote say, "Good work—well done." I shall feel that you are behind me in this work, that my efforts have been fully appreciated and shall be glad to carry on with 'Fair law enforcement for Gray County.'

E. S. GRAVES.

Mr. Douglass has seen Pampa and Gray, develop from a small town into the bustling city of the present. He saw oil come and with it the good and the bad which follows oil. He has watched the prairie develop from a place for herds of cattle and a few cowboys to one dotted with oil rigs, oil camps and wealth.

Many are the stories which Mr. Andrews tells of the change in the activity of city marshal in the days when arrests were rare occurrences to the times when it was necessary to patrol the city regularly.

But he has kept pace with the development and knows what is going on in all parts of the county. He has owned a home for several years and has recently completed a new one in the east part of town.

Graves Bases Candidacy Upon County's Status

Sheriff E. S. Graves, candidate for re-election, Saturday issued the following statement:

In my personal letters to the voters of the county—mailed a few days ago—I set forth as best I could the platform on which I base my candidacy for re-election. However, I realize that some voters will not be reached in that manner and so take this means of placing myself before you. I would like to talk to each voter personally, but since the duties of this office claim my time completely, this is utterly impossible.

If you are Mr. or Mrs. Average Citizen, your contact with the Sheriff's department has, in all probability, been limited to an occasional greeting and press accounts of raids, arrests, and court news. You are interested and absorbed in your own work and so long as no sensational crimes are committed small thought is given the department. This is, of course, as should be—but the fact remains that this department is on duty or on call twenty-four hours of each day and we sincerely believe that our long hours and unceasing work have been a material factor in giving Gray county its reputation as a law abiding county.

Our continued fight against petty crimes (drunkenness, gambling, etc.) has brought us considerable criticism and we feel that much of this has been due to misunderstanding. ## Moody's Record Is Attacked by Wardlaw Men

Louis J. Wardlaw, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, is advocating an elective highway commission, with one commissioner from each of four districts into which the state should be subdivided, and a fifth member, who would serve as chairman, elected by the people at large. This, Judge Wardlaw declares, would make the commission directly responsible to the people and would avoid the partiality that has been shown in allocating funds for good roads. He also favors the reduction of auto license fees to a sum not exceeding $3 per car.

He favors the best in education for the youth of Texas and wants the instruction in lower grades made more practical and that in the institutions of higher learning the very best that can be provided.

He stands for the equal and impartial enforcement of all laws and declares that it is the duty of every good citizen to obey every law on the statute books.

He has promised to reduce the biennial appropriation bill at least eleven million dollars by the exercise of the veto power if it cannot be done otherwise. He has pledged himself to an economical and business-like administration.

Judge Wardlaw contends that Moody's record in office is one of broken pledges and neglect of duty. He charges that although Moody in his first campaign pledged himself to avoid taxation increases and stated that not one dollar more than is absolutely necessary to administer the affairs of the government honestly and efficiently should be taken from the people," he approved appropriation bills ten million dollars greater than any ever signed by any other governor and that much of this money went in an orgy of salary raising and in paying the salaries of new jobs created for Moody henchmen.

Wardlaw asserts that Moody has spent less than half the working hours in his office prior to May 15th of this year and the balance in "opening bridges and closing schools, attending fiestas, fishing, hunting and attending political confabs in Dallas, Houston and other cities."

S. A. Hurst Is Strong Believer in Existing Laws

When the development of the oil fields near Pampa brought thousands of miscellaneous residents here, I brought some who were opposed to law and order but it also brought many who were strong for law enforcement. It brought one who was for law and order strong enough to enter the race for Sheriff and tax collector of Gray County.

S. A. Hurst, now in the race for Sheriff and tax collector, came to Pampa with the avowed intention of becoming one of its progressive citizens. He bought property and is rearing his children in Pampa schools and churches. He is a member of a church and Sunday school and is strongly in favor of enforcement of the 18th Amendment.

In his work over the county, Mr. Hurst has become acquainted with the conditions in all parts. He knows the oil field workers' thoughts, desires, and needs and is interested in their welfare, as well as that of the men who live in the towns.

SMITH GIVEN BURRO

SMITH GIVEN BURRO

HOUSTON, July 21.—(P)—Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York, democratic nominee for president, has a new mascot.

The mascot, a 5-day-old burro, was sent to him by Will Horowitz, Houston showman, who received the following note of thanks:

"Mrs. Smith brought 'Baby Houston,' safely home to me. We gave her a royal welcome and installed her in my menagerie.

"I deeply appreciate your good wishes and thank you.

"Yours truly,

Scrawled in the governor's handwriting was this postscript: "Just found out it's a him, not a her."

HOLMES IS AN ABLE ATTORNEY

Has Filled Hardest Job of Its Kind in the State

J. A. Holmes, known as one of the able attorneys of the Panhandle, is a candidate for district attorney of the 84th judicial district.

Mr. Holmes is well known to the older residents of the district, having served the 31st district as district attorney before the organization of the 84th judicial district.

He lived in Miami, Roberts county, while he was district attorney of the 31st. He went to Miami in September, 1909 and left there in February, 1927, when he moved to Borger for the purpose of entering the practice of law under the firm name of Coffee and Holmes.

He is considered a very able lawyer and has a large law practice in Hutchinson and adjoining counties. He is known for his pleasing personality, which makes and holds friends. His acquaintances declare he is exceptionally well qualified for the duties of the office. They point out that he served the people acceptably for five years as district attorney of the 31st district, and is now asking for the position of district attorney of the 84th.

Mr. Holmes asks his old friends in the district to again help him with their support, and requests the newcomers to investigate his character and qualifications thoroughly, and then if they feel satisfied that he is the man for the place, to cast their ballot for him in the July primary.

Flynt Is Well Qualified For Land Office

The son of a Confederate soldier left penniless after the Civil War, E. I. Flynt came to Texas from Alabama at the age of seven. He grew to manhood in Erath county, obtaining his education in Stephenville where he specialized in mathematics and civil engineering.

In 1886 he came to Hardeman county and was County Surveyor for sixteen years—compiled an abstract of title to Hardeman county lands, and engaged in the abstract and land business for many years—sold nearly 100,000 acres of land to actual settlers in Hardeman county and has seen it change from a grazing country to one of the best farming counties in this part of the state.

His work, both as abstractor and surveyor, was accurate in the extreme and in demand in all parts of the Panhandle and West Texas. Friends of Mr. Flynt feel that his familiarity with land conditions of the state, his reputation for honesty over a long period of years, his known competence and worth, recommend him highly for such a position of trust as the State Land Office.

Mr. Flynt is the owner of several farms in Hardeman county and is at present actively engaged in managing them. If elected commissioner of the General Land office he promises an efficient and economical administration.

Deepest Well in World of Much Scientific Value

AUSTIN, July 21.—Located on the property of the University of Texas is the deepest oil well in the world, according to R. E. H. Sellards of the University bureau of economic geology. The well, Texon Oil and Land company B-1, is located in the Big Lake oil field of Reagan county in West Texas. It had reached a depth of 8,220 feet when drilling ceased a few months ago because of the fact that the derrick was damaged by fire.

An examination of drill cuttings from the well has been completed in the University bureau of economic geology, according to Dr. Sellards and the various geologic formations through which drilling has gone have been determined.

"An unusual thickness of black petroliiferous shale and limes was revealed in our study," Dr. Sellards said. "In this deep well of more than 8,000 feet, sediments passed through include several different formations. At the surface, to a depth of three or four hundred feet, are found limestones and sandstones of cretaceous age. Underneath these, for a few hundred feet, the rocks are red sandstones and sandstones of cretaceous the permian formations. The uppermost permian is constituted largely of red sands-salt, gypsum and anhydrite.

"The salt beds in this part of the section reach a thickness of from three to six hundred feet and contain more or less potash. Underneath the salt and anhydrite beds, beginning at a depth of approximately 3,000 feet, are found limestone and andolomite from 800 to 1,000 feet in thickness, underneath which are the great shale and limestone series in which the well terminates."

Notwithstanding its great depth, the well affords no evidence of having passed below the permian formations, Dr. Sellards pointed out. The well is being drilled as a test well for oil, he added, and oil has been produced from two levels, at one 3,000 feet and another at 6,000 feet.

Drilling will be resumed on the well about the middle of July, Dr. Sellards said.

"This being the deepest well in the world," Dr. Sellards continued, "the temperature measurements are of special scientific value, and arrangements have been made by which the temperature gradient at this depth will be determined. Tests will be made shortly

DALLAS, July 21.—(AP)—Realizing that they will have a mammoth task on their hands when they entertain the 1929 convention of the Rotary International, members of the local Rotary organization are planning to conduct a special convention school for the next several months.

Each Dallas delegate to the recent convention at Minneapolis has been assigned to study one particular phase of convention arrangement and entertainment and to lecture to other members. By the time the members have digested these lectures they expect to be polished in convention procedure.

At least 15,000 visitors are anticipated for the 1929 gathering.

before drilling is resumed. "As is well known, the temperature increases as the earth is penetrated. The temperature increases in that part of the state approximately one degree in 135 feet, where there are no geologic disturbances."

Gassed Soldier Is Worried Over Loss of "Peculiar" Dog

BY CLARENCE M. WRIGHT
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOUSTON, July 21.—(AP)—Another chapter is being written here in the age old saga of friendship between man and dog.

The characters in this incident are Buddy, a friendly collie dog, and Willie R. Reid of Gulfport, Miss.

Reid served through the world war, and came home, his body racked by pains and his lungs ravaged by chlorine gas. Buddy came with him.

A free lance poet, and a sort of a wandering philosopher who went from hospital to hospital in an endeavor to keep a little ahead of death, Reid came to Houston unannounced. He was found, one morning, huddled up on a fire escape at the Jefferson Davis hospital. In his hand was a dog's collar with the name "Buddy" on it.

Reid refused to talk about himself, but he asked physicians and hospital attendants to find his Buddy. So far they have been unsuccessful, and physicians say the soldier's injuries are aggravated by disappointment.

Although Reid refuses to talk, the following about Buddy was found among his notes:

"Born in Edinburg, Scotland. Served two years in English army. Peculiar way about him. Couldn't be petted. Given to U. S. Army with 14 other dogs. Buddy being sent to Hill 71 or 72. I the undersigned, sergeant at the time

"I took a liking to Buddy. He was under my command until the end of the war. Buddy was allowed to return to the states with me by special permission of the colonel of our regiment. I took him to Texas with me and he turned out to be a watchdog.

"Buddy got several habits during the war, one of which is to prick up his ears when he hears a loud noise. I grab him at such times, and he and I have traveled together at all times. He will stand for a lot of foolishness about him. When he walks away, don't follow him.

"He is about 14 years old, can listen to the conversation of anyone and apparently understand it.

"He won several prizes in different states. From January 6 until April 3 he walked nearly 6,000 miles, stopping at intervals for food and water.

"We have been so attached at times that Buddy would carry on and worry about me until we met again. At that time he was full of life and would growl if anyone came near me for fear I would leave him again."

Joe Smith Well Prepared for Office of Co. Treasurer

Joe Smith, former part owner and manager of the Pampa News for nine years, was the first candidate to announce for the office of county treasurer.

If elected, Mr. Smith proposes to fill the office in a courteous manner, offering genuine personal service. He points to his experience in public affairs and his long residence in the county as evidence of his fitness.

Mr. Smith served on the Pampa city council six years and on the school board two years. During the last eight months he has been in charge of the business affairs of the Pampa Independent school district. During this time $160,000 has passed through the office, and Cornell and Company, certified auditors, report this books in first class condition.

His friends declare a better prepared man could not have been drafted for the office, and they have heartily endorsed his announcement for the place.

Many Towns to Entertain Motorists in W. T. C. C. Motorcade

STAMFORD, July 21.—Towns along the route chosen for the third annual motorcade of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce are already at work on elaborate plans for entertainment of the party, which is expected to number 150, according to advertisements coming to the headquarters office here.

Snyder, Scurry county capital, the assembling point, is planning a sunrise breakfast, being aware that a number of the motorists will arrive in the city Sunday evening, prior to departure at 9:30 Monday morning, August 6. Secretary M. G. Evans of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce is at work arranging plans.

Carlsbad, New Mexico, the city in which the first night will be spent, is to hold an informal reception for the caravan the evening of August 6, and will assist in entertaining the party in the Carlsbad Gayen next day, where the Inter-Mountain District Convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce is to be held.

Van Horn, the little town that made such a festival for the visitors last year on the second annual motorcade is planning to repeat their cordiality this year, though but a brief stop is

Saves Three Drowning Women

Mrs. William Hackenholz, 24, of Omaha, Neb., saved three drowning women in a few minutes, and then modestly disappeared after her heroism. First, she dived after a woman companion who had fallen out of her boat. Nearing shore with her, Mrs. Hackenholz heard screams from a swimming party and found a drowning woman pulling another under water. She saved these two also and now is in line for a Carnegie medal. Mrs. Hackenholz left the scene after the rescues but was identified by the two women next day.

General Training for Home Life Is Given at Texas U.

AUSTIN, July 21.—(AP)—From presiding over a formal dinner table or serving a simple ten to cooking a nutritious meal for six on a dollar a day or keeping a lawn and yard well ordered, and attractive, the girls who are majoring in home economics at the University of Texas learn to put into practice the theories they have learned in class when they spend six weeks in the Practice House as part of their senior year's work.

Each of the six girls who are members of the practice house household at one time attends to certain duties and takes a great pride in doing them well according to Miss Jennie Wilmet, faculty supervisor. The tasks are rotated from week to week so that one girl is hostess one week, waitress another, cook a third, up-stairs maid a fourth, down-stairs maid another and yard-girl the last.

The girls do all their entertaining in the Practice House, having formal dinner parties, afternoon teas, as well as entertaining their Saturday night "dates" there.

Girls living in the house during the first term of summer term were Opal Thomas of Prairie Hill, Opal Hickman of Stephenville, Mollie Johnson of Austin, Jewell Hamilton of Austin, Juanita Speer of Mission and Agnes of Trinity.

WOULD WRITE OWN CASE

HOUSTON, July 21.—(AP)—Under a death sentence for a slaying in Coleman county, O. C. Wells believes he can establish his innocence if he is allowed to write a brief of his own case and present it to the Court of Criminal Appeals at Austin.

Wells has written to the Houston Chronicle asking that someone lend him a typewriter so he can prepare the brief. The letter, said, in part:

"I am a victim of circumstances. I know nothing of the crime for which I was convicted. No person can and will testify to my innocence. I am several hundred miles from my lawyer and have not the funds to take care of my interests. If someone with a typewriter that is about ready for discarding will loan it to me for a while I firmly believe that it would enable me to save my life and probably prove my innocence."

Wells is in the state penitentiary at Huntsville.

CANDIDATE FOR ATTORNEY of ### DOUGLASS DESERVES YOUR VOTE AND SUPPORT

At the time of accepting the appointment of the Governor in March of 1927, Attorney Curtis Douglas assumed what is believed to be the biggest undertaking any attorney has ever assumed before in the State of Texas. He was confronted with the enforcement of the law in nine counties, with three of these in the midst of an enormous oil boom. The number of criminal cases on the criminal dockets in these three counties exceeded that of any other district in the State of Texas.

In the town of Borger alone 341 slot machines and many other gambling devices were in operation; bootleggers and professional crooks outnumbered the workingmen; robberies and murder was committed in the dark hours of the night with officers of the law as the victims.

All this young Douglas undertook, without a SINGLE assistant or investigator, and has made an enviable record for his fearless prosecution of the lawless and the grafter. Attorney Douglas has been criticized for the dismissal of 160 cases in the 84th Judicial district. The records show that LESS THAN FIVE PERCENT OF THESE CASES ORIGINATED WITH DOUGLAS IN OFFICE—THAT THEY HAD BEEN ACCUMULATING ON THE COURT DOCKETS SINCE 1921! These inherited cases were dismissed from the District Court Docket because they were consuming the taxpayers money, obstructing court procedure, and LACKED SUFFICIENT EVIDENCE FOR A PROBABLE CONVICTION! Any attorney who would not have dismissed these cases should be thrown out of office for ignorantly and needlessly spending the public's money and blocking justice!

District Attorney Curtis Douglas asks your vote and support in the July 28th Democratic primary upon his record in office; upon the fair, efficient, and impartial manner in which he has performed the duties of the office.

This is What the Friends of District Attorney Curtis Douglass Say:

"District Attorney Douglass is a STAYER. Voters of this district will recall the recent cowardly political frame-up that was perpetrated upon this fearless young attorney for purely political reasons—how even the Governor of the State was induced to believe their stories for a short time. Douglass did not QUIT nor dodge the issue—he met it squarely face to face and openly defeated the POLITICAL DEMAGOGUES who sought to displace him.

"Time after time Attorney Douglas has taken the stump in this district to protect his honor, his name, and the office of District Attorney of the 84th Judicial District, and every time he has been cheered for his honest, straightforwardness in meeting every issue fairly and squarely without qualification or misrepresentation.

"The office of District Attorney of the 84th Judicial District is one that requires a "STAYER"—not a QUITTER—always on the lookout for a fat fee or an easy promotion. Attorney Douglas has served this district faithfully and efficiently and desires nothing more than to be returned to this office in order to continue this service."

Houston's Home Soon Will Be in Original State

HUNTSVILLE, July 21.—(AP)—The home of General Sam Houston, Texas' second president and hero of the Battle of San Jacinto in the Lone Star State's struggle for freedom from Mexico, soon will be restored to its original state.

This restoration of the home of the Texas hero culminates years of efforts to rebuild the shrine. For many years it changed ownership frequently, its owners having no intention of making it one of Texas' sacred spots.

In 1911, however, the home and grounds, immediately west of Sam Houston State Teachers College here, were bought by the college and presented to the state. The building had, at one time, been used as a girls' boarding house.

After the state became the owner of the building and grounds, the site was used for the agricultural department of the college until a larger tract of land was bought for that purpose. Then, in 1927, the state legislature appropriated $15,000 for beautification of the grounds and restoration of the building, the completed project to be known as Sam Houston Park.

The funds now are being expended under the direction of the board of regents of the Texas Teacher's colleges. J. L. Gribbles, a Houston landscape artist, has charge of the designing and planning of the lakes, walks and the arrangements of the shrubbery, which will be restored as nearly to its original state as possible.

During the last few months many changes have been made in the appearance of the home and grounds. Trees, which were not there when Sam Houston claimed it as his residence, have been cut down the house has been remodeled and a kitchen added; the pond has been enlarged and shrubs have been planted.

One of the difficulties similar to that in the building when Sam Houston was its owner.

First Eskimo Class To Receive Diplomas From Alaskan School

Roger Menadelock and Josephine Kalarak (left) and Isaac and Jennie Newlin (right) are the world's first Eskimo graduates. They will receive diplomas from the United States government's industrial school at White Mountain, Alaska, June 30. Radio will carry the commencement address from Seattle.

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Another milestone in educational progress will be passed on June 30 when members of the world's first Eskimo graduating class are presented their diplomas at White Mountain, Alaska.

Presentation of the diplomas will be marked by another precedent—a commencement address by radio from Seattle. The address, which John T. Tigert, United States commissioner of education, has been requested to prepare, will be read over station KOMO by Jonathan H. Wagner, chief of the Alaska division of the United States bureau of education.

To four Alaska natives falls the honor of receiving the first diplomas from the bureau of education for completing the courses at the White Mountain school in north western Alaska on Norton sound.

Isaac Newlin, his wife, Jennie Newlin, Josephine Kalarak and Roger Menadelock are the first to complete the school's grammar and industrial courses. The young men and women received their seventh and eighth grade instruction at White Mountain and studied practical courses on Alaskan industries under T. P. McCollister, director.

The presentation of the diplomas, signed by Commissioner Tigert and Mr. Wagner, will be a big event for all of the 53 native boarding pupils, drawn to the school from Point Barrow, northernmost tip of Alaska, and south of the lower Yukon. The institution, one of three maintained in Alaska by the bureau of education, opened in the fall of 1925 with five pupils and has grown until its present enrollment of 53 is all that facilities can accommodate.

The aim of the bureau, Wagner declares, is to "prepare the native boys and girls to make the best living possible in an Alaskan way in Alaska."

The three industrial schools are located in strategic points, covering all sections of the territory except the southeast, where a new school is planned. Emphasis is placed on promotion of native industries, health and sanitation, and morality in addition to the elementary subjects usually taught.

Alaska's food industries are an important part of the courses. The boys study reindeer problems, methods of

Rural Homes Are Improved by Contest

COLLEGE STATION, July 21.—(AP)—Marked improvement in the music centers of rural homes as one result of the 1928 Texas improved living room contest, conducted among members of rural women's home demonstration clubs, is indicated in the announcement of district winners by Mrs. Bernice Claytor, home improvement specialist of the Extension Service, A. & M. College of Texas.

"The most common changes brought about by the contest included the refinishing of walls and floors, installation of some kind of heat, removal of beds, renovation of old furniture and the removal of useless articles, bric-a-brac and poor pictures," Mrs. Claytor said. "It is also noticeable that much attention was given to music centers in the home by the addition of victrolas and radios and the tuning up of old pianos."

A total of 773 women in seventy-six counties participated in the contest.

The contest was divided into two classes, class No. 1 being for improvement at cash outlay of not more than $25 and class No. 2 for improvement at cost of more than $25.

County winners were selected in April by local committees and district winners were recently picked by members of the home demonstration staff of the Extension Service. State winners will be announced at the Farmers Short Course July 31, when prizes will be awarded.

First place winners in the two classes in District 1, Panhandle; Class 1, Mrs. Henry Dozier, Claremont, Route 1, Donley County; Class 2, Mrs. C. E. Taylor, Electra, Route A, Wichita county.

preparing reindeer meat for cold storage and market, cannery processes of the fishing industry, and the growing of vegetables and fruits and caring for dairy cattle.

A tannery course includes the curing of skins for furs and the manufacture of leather; in studying the ivory trade the boys make buttons, beads, carving sets and handles of knives and forks. Special consideration is given to the tailoring of native fur and leather garments.

Standard elementary instruction in commercial work is designed to train the natives as typists, stenographers, clerks and managers of cooperative stores. "Because of the urgent need of better housing conditions among Alaskans, manual training and carpentry courses are considered especially important."

Gas Heats and Cools Alike Now

Freezing by heat, with the same gas used for cooking—this is the latest development of science in the field of automatic refrigeration.

Based on the experiments of two Swedish students, American engineers have developed a refrigerator that does its job by means of a tiny gas flame. So perfected is the method, that once the little jet has been lighted, the refrigerator continues silently and efficiently without further thought or concern. As there are no moving parts there never is need for oiling or repairs. Operating on a simple chemical formula, there is never annoyance because of sounds.

Not many years have passed since the "iceless ice box" was a source of constant care and occasional worry. Science was experimenting, seeking a method of preserving food from heat and disease. When the two Swedish students had completed a model which worked, an American concern gladly bought it at a cost of more than two million dollars.

The gas refrigerator, has thermostatic control which keeps the temperature in the food compartments always constant and satisfactorily low. Its box is cork insulated and porcelain lined and comes in several colors of enamel finish to fit the new ideas in kitchen decoration.

The reason for the noiselessness of the gas refrigerator is easy to understand. The freezing is done by ammonia evaporating and condensing again within a steel compartment, sealed when the machine leaves the manufacturer. When the ammonia changes from a liquid to a gas, motivated by the tiny gas flames, it takes heat with it, just as water in evaporating from the back of the hand, gives the hand a feeling of coolness.

Inside the refrigerating system there is a container of water and one of hydrogen. The ammonia flows from one to the other, from gas to liquid, by the rule of nature's laws. The housewife has only to light the gas jet outside this hermetically sealed system to start her refrigerator working. If she plans to be away for several weeks, she turns it off. A clever little automatic safety device controls it at all times; a drip-flow of water from the household plumbing system aids in the condensing process at one point.

The refrigerator can be quickly installed, and once started never needs a visit from the repair man because there is nothing to be repaired. Engineers who have perfected the machine agree that it could be used for rough-

DALLAS, July 21.—(AP)—The Dallas baseball franchise has increased in value $240,000 during the last 11 years. In 1927 Joe Gardner transferred the Steer franchise to "Ham" Patterson and two associates for a mere $35,000.

Legion Convention In San Antonio to Afford Thrills

SAN ANTONIO, July 21.—(AP)—Red blooded war veterans who swept the fields of France in the World War will find plenty of he-man sports to entertain them when they visit the American Legion convention here in October.

The program already includes a decision prize fight, a rodeo, a number of bullfights, to be held across the Mexican border, two aid circuses, a football game and an immense sham battle.

Local fight promoters will cooperate to bring headline fighters to the city for a fight during the convention. The fighters have not been picked, but the promoters hope to obtain welterweights.

The biggest prize list of the year in the rodeo circuit will be offered at the Legion rodeo. To date the prize offered totaled about $25,000. W. T. Johnson, wealthy San Antonio cattle man, who is putting on the rodeo has lured Colorado, Kansas, New Mexico, Wyoming, Arizona, and Texas in search of outlaw horses and has collected a herd of the meanest animals he could locate in those states. These horses are now on pastures being fattened so that they will "feel their oats" when the busters start riding them.

Crack troops of the second division will engage in a sham war so laid out that the spectators may see just how everything is done. An attack will be made upon a prepared position while airplanes demonstrate the dropping of 1,000-pound bombs.

The army has promised that its best flyers will take part in the two air circuses, one of which will be held at Kelly field and the other at Ft. Sam Houston.

CAUGHT EVERY GAME

DALLAS, July 21.—(AP)—It is doubtful that the record set by Catcher Claude Berry for the Dallas club during the 1903 and 1904 Texas League seasons will ever be equaled by a backstop in the circuit.

In those two seasons Berry caught every inning of every exhibition and championship game played in Dallas.

The hardest tolling catcher in the league last year, Bill Warwick of the Houston Buffs, who donned the mask in 31 contests.

The Many friends of Jno. V. Andrews present on this page the Qualifications Which They Believe Justify His Nomination at the Democratic Primary July 28.

JNO. V. ANDREWS has been a resident of Gray County since 1915 and knows the conditions in the county. He has kept in touch with the activity and growth in every part of the county and is well able to make the proper appointments of deputies to see that law and order is preserved in the smallest town.

JNO. V. ANDREWS is asking for his first political office in this primary. He has been associated with law enforcement in Pampa for many years and was the first City Marshall of the town. When Pampa received its charter allowing the appointment of a chief of police he was given that position. He was appointed by Mayor Hobart and later under the Osborn administration. He resigned to devote his time to this campaign.

JNO. V. ANDREWS has issued this statement: "There are many new voters in the county whom I have not had time to see and, not knowing who they are, may not get to see them personally, but I want to assure them that I will appreciate their vote and if elected will give the same attention to their needs as to those who have been here much longer. I will treat the whole Gray County alike with appointments and service in the smaller towns properly cared for.

SHERIFF AND TAX COLLECTOR

Of Gray County

Subject to Democratic Primary, July 28

Ft. Worth, Texas
July 20, 1928

E. S. Graves,
Sheriff, Gray County,
Pampa, Texas

Dear Sir:

In going over some files in my office I ran across some facts in regard to prohibition enforcement in Gray county so complimentary to you and the officers working with you that I felt myself compelled to write this letter of appreciation. I have known and worked with you for several years and in that time have not been privileged to work with a more efficient officer.

In the many years I have served as a prohibition officer I have had to work in many of the big oil-towns of Texas and wish to state that for an oil town as well advertised as Pampa, by the crooks and gamblers as well as the better class of people interested in the oil and other industries, the comments of all are alike: "Don't go to Pampa if you want to deadbeat or sell booze, for the old man is entirely too tight." I know this to be true, for in my work with you I have found it so, and I know that the record of crime in your district is clearer than in any other district in Texas or Oklahoma. These facts speak more ably for the officers of Gray county than could I or any other man.

I note from the records of this office that only twice have we been called on to help in Gray county during the entire oil boom and that at your own request. It seems that everywhere I turn here in Ft. Worth recently I run into someone from that end of the state who cannot say enough for your integrity and fair-dealing. In closing let me assure you of the pleasure it gives me to give praise where the facts show it to be so richly deserved.

Sincerely yours,

(Signed) J. G. TYSON,

Federal Prohibition Agent.

Campaigners Warming Up as First Democratic Primary Approaches

MANY OFFICES ARE IN DEMAND

Sheriffs' Race One of Most Interesting in Gray County

County and district political talk superseding even the wet and dry issue in Gray county as the date of the first primary, July 28, nears.

The stage is set, the ballots are being printed, election judges are preparing to open the booths in the various voting boxes, and candidates cards are thrust at prospective voters from all sides.

First on the county division of the ballot is the office of county judge, with Ivy E. Duncan and Judge T. M. Wolfe, incumbent, listed as candidates. Both are well known, longtime residents of the county.

For county attorney the present office holder, John F. Studer, is pitted against F. A. Cary, former city attorney and long resident, and Benjamin S. Via, an experienced lawyer who came here after oil was discovered.

John B. Hessey, superintendent of the Grandview district, is the sole candidate for the recently created office of county superintendent, and he, as temporarily appointed holder of the office, is now in Austin studying his duties.

Charlie Thut has no opposition for county and district clerk, but in anticipation of the possibility of the separation of these combined duties, R. B. Thompson and Winston C. Montgomery are running for district clerk.

The race for sheriff is perhaps causing the most comment. E. S. Graves is standing on his record for re-election, while four opponents are bidding for first place in the running. John V. Andrews, former city marshal and chief of police is active, and three others, S. C. Hurst, Jim C. King, and Walt Newton are campaigning with the support of many friends. Joe M. Smith and Mabel Davis are candidates for county treasurer, but for the office of tax assessor F. E. Leach stands without opposition. Warren T. Fox, local engineer, is seeking the office long held by A. H. Doucette, that of county surveyor.

The commissioners' races are beginning to cause comment. In precinct 1 the aspirants are John B. Williams, O. M. Galpin, John R. White, and M. B. Davis. In the Pampa precinct, No. 2, Lewis O. Cox and Nels Waberg are opposing W. A. Taylor, now the commissioner. Three are in the race in precinct 3. They are Thos O. Kirby, incumbent, H. G. McCleskey, and E. C. Schaefer. M. M. Newman is opposed in Precinct 4, at McLean, by T. A. Massey.

W. A. Wharton and L. H. Schwendener are out for justice of the peace in precinct 1. A lively race is in prospect in the local precinct, where I. B. Jamison is out for re-election and J. L. Noel and C. E. Cary are seeking the office.

Another interesting race is for constable of this precinct, with O. T. Smith, G. H. Parrish, H. B. Lewis, G. C. Adams, and Herman Vachtendorf lined up as candidates. W. C. Carpenter has no opposition for the office in Precinct 5.

In addition to these officers, chairmen of the precinct and county Democratic committees must be selected.

District interest is minimized by the fact that Judge Newton P. Willis, appointed when the 84th district court was organized, has no opponent, nor does Dewey Young of Wellington for state representative. C. C. Small of Wellington likewise scared off all opposition for state senator.

Chief attention is centered on the attorneyship of the 31st and 84th districts. In the 31st, C. S. Wortman, local man, heads the ticket, with Clifford Braly, incumbent, and Walter Allen as the other office seekers. Each is campaigning enthusiastically. An earnest contest is on in the 84th between the present district attorney, Curtis Douglas, and J. A. Holmes, former district attorney in the 31st district.

Montgomery Cites Need of Separating Clerk's Offices

In speaking of his candidacy for district clerk Winston C. Montgomery stated that in an interview with several parties interested in the court matters in Gray county it was believed advisable to undertake to divide the offices of County and District clerk into two separate offices, because of the sudden influx of people in our country for the last two years, and the more or less congestion of matters pertaining to that work. So, after viewing the condition which existed and receiving encouragement that it would be a possibility, he undertook to seek the office through the voters of Gray County.

Mr. Montgomery is a native of our Panhandle of Texas, having been born in Memphis in the year of 1895, and was connected with the bank there in an official capacity for several years after finishing his education in college.

Abstracting appealed to Mr. Montgomery early in his career and in seeking a place to make his home, came to Pampa in July, 1926, and built an abstract plant here, and has been active in that business as ever since.

He stated that he felt himself well qualified for the position sought because he understands the detailed workings of court matters through having searched the records and abstracting instruments therefrom, and he stated that if elected to the office he would serve the people and the court with the best of his ability and courtesy.

This is the first public office Mr. Montgomery has ever sought, but he says that it is more than a pleasure to get out and meet the people, and that he is sorry that his duties will not permit him to shake the hands of every voter in the County.

TEXAS FARMING OUTLOOK GOOD

Acres Increase With Good Prices Is Reported

AUSTIN, July 21.—With increased acreage and no great decline in prices, the agricultural outlook in Texas is generally bright, according to Bernard Nicholas, editor of the Texas Business Review, issued monthly by the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas.

"Acreage under cultivation in the state is about two per cent greater than that of a year ago," he explained, "and farm prices have declined very little so far this year. In some districts crops have been backward because of the unfavorable weather during and just after the planting season. During June and the first part of July weather conditions have been much more favorable. As a result crops have materially improved, and farmers are greatly encouraged in the outlook."

"Acreage planted to cotton in Texas according to the United States Department of Agriculture estimated at 18,386,000 acres, or an increase of nine per cent over plantings a year ago. In most areas of the State, the crop is doing nicely, although rains are needed in the West and Southwest. Some boll weevil damage is reported, but plant diseases are causing troubles, but the loss is not serious at this time. Acreage in the United States is estimated at 46,700,000 or an increase of eleven and four-tenths per cent."

"The corn crop promises a good yield fields are maturing rapidly. Acreage was reduced this year so that the final outturn is likely to be below the 1927 harvest. Wheat harvesting is well along and the crop is expected to be larger. The oat crop is estimated at only 35,750,000 bushels against 42,000,000 bushels a year ago. A sharp

Morality to Be Insisted Upon by Soviet Russia

BY WILLIAM RESWICK

MOSCOW (P)—The abuse of power by Communists in various parts of Russia and the prevalence in official circles of drinking, gambling, licentiousness, bribery and other evils have moved the Central Communist Committee to start a vigorous housecleaning.

The campaign was launched with a vitriolic proclamation broadcast throughout Russia. This was followed by declarations from leading officials, including the one given below by Emelyan Yaroslavsky, secretary of the central control commission:

"Misbehavior in office and drunkenness go, as a rule, hand in hand. First there is a small group indulging in the evil. Then the group gradually grows, enlisting new members daily. Such drinking finally deprives its addicts not only of human but of bolshevik ideals. When their own money is exhausted, they grab for funds in the Soviet government chests."

"Money is being taken from trusts, from party and professional funds, from local government institutions. Zanchenko, of the Sochi branch of the communist party, for instance, forgot the difference between his own and decrease is estimated in the sweet potato and rice acreage.

Fruits and vegetables are moving to market at record rates, shipments of watermelons and tomatoes being especially heavy at this time. Prices declined somewhat.

"Many farm products advanced in price. Cotton gained two cents a pound, while corn and wheat went up several cents a bushel. Oats and rye held steady, but hay and feeds show a seasonal decline. The farm price index is about ten per cent above the 1927 general wholesale index."

CEMENT PLANTS KEEPING BUSY

Texas Factories Operating Now at Near Capacity

AUSTIN, July 21.—Cement plants in Texas are operating at almost capacity rate, according to Bernard Nicholas, assistant in charge of index numbers in the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas.

"During the month, 540,000 barrels were produced, compared to 469,000 barrels in June, 1927," he said. "The small increase from May to June is similar to the gain between those two months last year, whereas in the five years prior to 1927 there was a decrease in this thirty-day period. Shipments for the month were 573,000 barrels, or 106 per cent of production, and compare with 464,000 barrels, or only 96.6 per cent of production, in June, 1927. Stocks on hand declined from 389,000 barrels in May to 356,000 in June."

"During the first half of the year, a total of 3,103,000 barrels were produced against 2,644,000 barrels in the same six months of 1927. This is an increase of seventeen and four-tenths per cent. Shipments amounted to 3,154,000 barrels compared to 2,757,000 barrels for the first half a year ago. As a result of the heavy shipments, stocks at the end of June were greater by only 26,000 barrels than those on the same date last year. It must be remembered that one more mill has been in operation this year, and the increased output is due largely to production from that plant. Production of cement in the entire United States in June was slightly above output in May, but shipments fell off and stocks increased materially."

"The menace must be removed once and for all. Any party members attempting to prevent the growth of our party, simultaneously concealing its weak points and defects, must be ousted from our midst without mercy. Every new member of our party, as well as every regular communist, must be forever on the alert. They must rule over the masses. All our weak points must be definitely overcome once and for all. All members, like one man, must be enlisted in the fight. This is the only way to prevent the degenerating processes of unsteady elements in our party."

All members, like one man, must be enlisted in the fight. This is the only way to prevent the degenerating processes of unsteady elements in our party."

"The menace must be removed once and for all. Any party members attempting to prevent the growth of our party, simultaneously concealing its weak points and defects, must be ousted from our midst without mercy. Every new member of our party, as well as every regular communist, must be forever on the alert. They must rule over the masses. All our weak points must be definitely overcome once and for all. All members, like one man, must be enlisted in the fight. This is the only way to prevent the degenerating processes of unsteady elements in our party."

PRICES REDUCED!

Cleaners and Dyers Local Union No. 125 Announce a Reduction of Prices on Cleaning and Pressing Men's Suits

MEN'S SUITS, Cleaned and Pressed	• • •	$1.00
PLAIN SILKS, Cleaned and Pressed	• • •	$1.50

It is impossible to turn out superior work on other cleaning and pressing at lower prices. The price of cleaning and pressing mens suits was reduced to meet local competition only. By no means will we reduce our quality work. You are assured of getting a class of cleaning that costs $2 in the larger cities of the state. We will not resort to the "wash tub" method of cleaning, but will clean your suits with the Glover Continuous Flow System—the best system the world knows.

The three plants listed below are equipped with the Glover Continuous Flow System and are the only plants in Pampa fully equipped to take care of the fine class of cleaning that Pampa's citizenship demands.

CHURCHES

CHURCH OF CHRIST
(East Francis Street)

I have been here now the third Sunday since taking up the work with the church here. I have never seen a more encouraging and hopeful work. The members all seem ready to go forward. A decided increase has given us assurance that the work is to experience a healthy growth in every way. There has been but one Sunday out of the past four that there has not been from one to five additions to the church enrollment.

We are happy to see the Ladies' Bible class, which convenes each Thursday at 3 o'clock and Wednesday night meet with such encouragements.

Our Sunday morning Bible hour is a time of sunshine. Every face manifests that, and 9:45 is the time for all to be present. New classes are being formed and plans are being made to take care of the growth.

Sunday morning song service begins at 10:45 and the preacher is ready to begin his sermon at 11 promptly. Subject, "Luke-warm Laodises." Night services begin at 8:30. "The Good Man Barnabas."

Cary as Justice of Peace Would Study Obligations

The following is a statement made to the News by C. E. Cary, candidate for the office of justice of the peace subject to the Democratic primary:

In offering myself as a candidate for the office of justice of the peace I wish to state that:

I believe in the enforcement of every law on our statute books as long as they remain there.

I believe that just and equitable interpretation and application of our laws is conducive to better citizenship.

I believe that the home is sacred and that its sanctity should not be violated.

I believe that a public officer is a public servant.

If elected I will conduct myself and the office I seek in such a manner that no citizen need blush for shame that he cast his vote for me.

If elected I will continue the study of law that I may become better equipped for the discharge of the duties of the office.

If elected I will endeavor to interpret and apply the law applicable to cases under the jurisdiction of the justice of the peace in an intelligible and equitable manner to the end that the state and county may be saved the expense of further appeals.

I have been a resident and citizen of Gray county for almost 23 years.

I have the equivalent of two years university education over high school and college graduation.

I earnestly solicit the vote and influence of the citizens of precinct 2, Pampa, of Gray county and invite your investigation of my character and social standing in this community.

Studer Stresses Fairness, Courtesy as Co. Attorney

John F. Studer candidate for county attorney, has served the office during the period of greatest development in the history of the county. It was during his term that Pampa and Gray County grew from a small town with few people living on the ranches to a city with oil derricks spotting the prairies.

Many problems faced the county attorney peculiar to Gray County alone because of the nature of its development. The continued progress during the next two years is expected to require the best thought and experience of the attorney.

Mr. Studer moved to Pampa several years ago and has been interested in the business and professional life since. He knows the conditions in the county and keeps in touch with the activity in all parts.

He is seeking re-election on the basis of continued fair and courteous treatment of all concerned and the stressing of attention to the growing needs of the county.

This is the first public office I have sought and it has been a pleasure to meet the voters. There have been many I have not been able to see and am taking this means to express my views and qualifications to all.

I seek this office because the influx of people and increase in business of the county and district offices makes advisable a separation.

Executives Get Advanced Ideas in National School

CHICAGO, July 21.—(AP)—Executives representing Chambers of Commerce and Trade associations from all the states east of the Rockies and from Canada, recently opened the 1928 session at Northwestern university for the eighth Annual National school for commercial and trade organization executives.

The secretaries attending this summer school for commercial and trade executives at Northwestern university studied under professors picked from various universities in America for their ability to teach the fundamental courses and specialized activities of Chamber and Trade association work. They have also instructors from Chambers of Commerce and Trade associations of such cities as New York, Chicago, Cincinnati and Kansas City.

Problems which are peculiar to Chambers of Commerce and Trade associations are analyzed by these experts, and the executives return home better qualified to serve their organizations and their communities.

Classes start at 8:30 in the morning and continue until 4:00 in the afternoon with reading assignments in the evening for the next day's classes. Examinations are conducted for all students at different points during each week.

The National School is a kind of post graduate work, such as any progressive, alert, professional man is frequently taking, that he may be better qualified to serve his clients.

The National School for Commercial and Trade Executives is conducted under the auspices of the United States Chamber of Commerce, the National Association of Commercial Organization secretaries, the American Association of Trade Executives, and Northwestern University.

Over-Eating Is Summer Danger to Guard Against

DALLAS, July 21.—(AP)—Dr. Manton M. Carrick, director of public health, stresses the importance of not over-eating during the hot summer months.

"Heavy meals during hot weather are not only unnecessary but are actually harmful," Dr. Carrick declared. "The diet during hot weather may well consist chiefly of fruits, salads and vegetables. Drink plenty of cool water. There is no satisfactory substitute for water."

Dr. Carrick advises housewives to minimize the number of heavy curtains, overstuffed furniture and other such things as retain heat. Their presence makes the home much hotter than it otherwise would be, he said.

Bathers should be careful to expose their bodies for short periods of time until a protective coat of tan as been developed. Also Dr. Carrick pointed out, cool or tepid baths are more comforting than ice cold ones.

Mothers are urged to be particularly careful of their babies during the hot weather. If improperly cared for the little ones suffer greatly and often

1. Nurse your baby. Do not wean without consulting your doctor.
2. Water. Give the baby all he will take between feedings. Use cool-boiled water.
3. Don't use enough clothes to make the baby perspire. Use white clothes.
4. At first symptoms of diarrhoea or prickly heat include baking soda and corn starch in the bath water.
5. Have the baby sleep out of doors as much as possible. Protect him from flies by covering the crib with white mosquito netting.
6. At first symptoms of diarrhea stop all feeding and call your doctor. Give as much cool boiled water as baby will take, offering water every 15 minutes to 30 minutes.

Newspaper Appeal Helps Aged Couple

AUSTIN, July 21.—(AP)—A newspaper appeal to the "Good Samaritan" instincts of its readers worked a seeming miracle for an aged, exhausted semi-delirious couple who staggered into Austin harnessed to a small wagon carrying their meager earthly goods to Del Rio from Waco.

Donations which poured in after the Austin Statesmen printed the story of hardship and weary miles of dusty roads, provided a team of Jennies to pull the wagon and food, clothing and pocket money to send J. M. Wilkerson 69, and "Mag," his 62 year old Cherokee Indian wife, on their way.

Like figures in a dream, they struggled into Austin pulling their dusty wagon. Thirsty and hungry, they barely were able to tell their story. Their Jennies had been poisoned they said. Determined to reach home at Del Rio, they decided to tramp along, pushing and pulling the cart. At first they were suspicious of proffered help, but finally were induced to half and rest.

The new Jenny team was donated by the Salvation Army. Food and clothing was given by others, some driving from as far as Fredericksburg with gifts. Cash contributions totalled $42.50.

HONORS NEWSPAPER FOLK

SAN ANTONIO, July 21.—(AP)—San Antonio, which has already honored two newspaper men by naming flying fields for them, is preparing to further honor the profession by naming its projected "little auditorium" after a newspaper woman.

Mayor C. M. Chambers has approved a proposal to name the new structure, which is to be built in San Pedro Park, after the late Miss Marin B. Fenwick, who wrote for years for the San Antonio Express and New Brooks Field here is named after Sidney J. Brooks, a reporter for the San Antonio Light who was killed in an air crash while training for service in France. Winburn Field is named after Willie Winburn who was killed while covering a story in an airplane. Brookridge high school here is named after its former owner of the San Antonio Express.

Wortman Urged as Home Candidate in Attorney's Race

In the race for district attorney of the 21st judicial district, Judge C. S. Wortman of Pampa has the endorsement of his many friends.

Judge Wortman said recently that in his speech-making tours he has met more than one hundred oldtime friends who assured him of their hearty assistance. They declared that his twenty years of legal experience and his unquestioned ability and integrity make him the logical candidate.

Judge Wortman is a taxpayer of Gray county. He points out that Gray county has never had a resident district attorney. At present Carson county claims both attorneys. Gray is in the center of the district.

His friends say it behooves the voters of the county to support him as a home candidate, as against his two opponents, who live in other counties further away.

He pledges himself to fill the office, if elected, in a fair and energetic manner.

NINE WOLVES KILLED

CUERO, July 21.—(AP)—Nine wolves have fallen victim to DeWitt county's drive against predatory animals in the last three weeks. Traps captured six, all of which were red wolves, a variety distinct from the West Texas variety. Wolf hounds on the Don Nicholas ranch have run down and killed three other wolves.

Correspondence Work Appeals to Large Class of People

CANYON, July 21.—A recent study of the department of correspondence study at the West Texas State Teachers college has revealed the fact that the courses offered by the Education department are the most popular.

English is the next most popular department with correspondence students, and history ranks third. The percentage of students who finish the courses they begin runs in almost the same order—a larger percentage of education courses are finished than any other subject, English has third place, and history second.

College credit by correspondence study has been offered by the Teachers college at Canyon since the long session of 1923-24, or during five school years. During that time 1,011 courses have been given by this method.

Growth in the efficiency of this instruction is attested by the increasing percentage of courses completed. The quality of this work is kept upon an equal standard with that offered in residence and is accepted as college credit by other institutions without question.

The greater number of correspondence students is made up of teachers in the field who wish to straighten out irregularities in their work or begin a year's work to be finished during summer school. There are also housewives, business men, farmers, and busy people of many occupations who make use of leisure time by doing some correspondence work.

PREPARING FOR RACES

I seek this office on my own merits and not on the demerits of others.

I am a man of clean moral habits.

I am a citizen and taxpayer of Gray County and therefore interested in making Gray County a better place in which to live and in the development of its resources.

I want to rear and educate my children in the schools and churches of Gray county and therefore am interested in the welfare of your children as well as my own.

I believe in the strict and impartial enforcement of the law in a cool and level-headed manner, and as peacefully as possible.

I do not believe in brutal arrest or boastful authority.

I believe in the co-operation between State and County Officers, and with the citizens of the state and county. I believe without such co-operation officers are powerless.

I believe in the enforcement of the 18th Amendment and believe that it becomes the duty of every officer to do his very best in the enforcement of this particular law.

I believe in the freedom of life and the pursuit of happiness so long as it is in keeping with the laws of our country and within the constitutional rights of man.

I am a friend of UNION LABOR and believe in its principles and ideals.

Finally and most forcibly I believe in a conscientious adherence to the oath of office, believing that a public office is a place of trust and not to be used for one's own personal gain, financially, socially or politically.

There are many other things which I consider just as important as the ones mentioned and I will be glad to discuss any question that any voter may have.

POPE LOVES STRENUOUS LIFE; RARELY REQUIRES PHYSICIAN

BY SALVATORE CORTES

(Associated Press Correspondent)
ROME, July 21.—Pope Pius XI, who ranks as a sovereign, is the Dean of all European rulers, having entered his 72nd year. He is perhaps the healthiest and strongest of those who have passed 50 years of age.

After him in age come the following sovereigns: King Gustav of Sweden, 70; King George of England, 63; King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, 59; King Christian of Denmark, 58; King Haakon of Norway, 56; Queen Wilhelmina of Holland, 48; King Alphonse of Spain, 42; King Alexander of Siberia, 40; King Boris of Bulgaria, 34, and King Mihail of Rumania, 7.

Pope Pius and King Gustav are approximately in equal physical condition. Gustav could certainly beat the pope at tennis, but the latter would leave the Swedish ruler far behind in a mountain climbing contest.

All the same, the report has again circulated that the pope is ill with arteriosclerosis, but when it was known at the vatican it caused only laughter. "It is one of a series of inventions," they said, "to which by this time we are quite accustomed. They come from the usual manufactory which has its headquarters in Paris. It was only a short time ago that the same source invented the news that the pope had had an apoplectic stroke."

That of the stroke was a mistake, because it cannot be concealed, while all the many visitors whom the pope receives every day without interruption are witnesses of his perfect health. Instead, that of the arteriosclerosis was undoubtedly a better story considering the pope's age. However, those who are acquainted with what goes on inside the vatican know that Pius XI is an exception among the last few pontiffs in that he does not require medical advice as often as his predecessors did. He has even suppressed the weekly visit which, according to papal ceremonial, the archiater—as the physician of the supreme pontiff is called—should pay, following the protocol of the court of the holy see.

With regard to the arteriosclerosis they tell at the vatican a most interesting anecdote. Some five or six years ago the rumor also spread, especially in France, that Pius XI was suffering from hardening of the arteries. An old Mexican lady, living in Paris, well known for her enormous wealth and exemplary piety, through a very high personage approached the pontiff. She informed him that she had the same complaint; but, having submitted to a special treatment prescribed for her by a celebrated German professor at Munich, Bavaria, she had completely recovered.

The Mexican lady added, with great humility, that she considered the health of the head of the Catholic Church so precious for all the faithful that she would be most glad—indeed, would consider it a favor—if she were allowed to send the same professor to Rome at her own expense to visit the pope and undertake the treatment she had herself undergone.

The text of the papal answer to the very high personage who acted as go-between is not available, but it is known that it practically ran as follows: "Please thank our beloved daughter most warmly for her generous offer, which we have greatly appreciated, but tell her that, thanks to the Almighty, we have no need of the treatment she suggested, as not only are we not suffering from the complaint she mentioned, but we have not even any tendency to it."

This put an end to any talk of arteriosclerosis, but if it were not enough anyone who can have the privilege of entering the vatican garden in the late afternoon, when Pius XI takes his usual "constitutional," will be convinced that there is nothing the matter with him. His firm, rapid walk is not that of a septuagenarian, but of a man at least 15 years younger, nor is this strenuous exercise made for a few minutes, as it lasts for one hour and sometimes for one hour and a half and is carried on in winter despite the rain and wind and in summer despite the heat. In both seasons it is necessary for the pontiff to change his clothes after his walks—in winter because they are wet with rain, in the summer with perspiration.

Heavy Oil Not Necessarily Best

The motoring public has accepted many false ideas about lubrication for automobiles which are costing them in quality of service and economy of operation, according to Mr. Fred J. Bedford, Manager of the Lubricating Department of the Magnolia Petroleum Company.

"It is popularly believed," Mr. Bedford said, "that the heavier an oil is the better it lubricates. This leads many motorists to use a heavier oil in the crank cases of their car than is good for the motor. Many modern automobile motors turn 50 revolutions per second when running at high speed. This means that every piston travels the length of the cylinder 100 times each second. In order to prevent wear between the piston rings and cylinder walls the oil in such a motor must be thin enough to spread a fine film the length of the cylinder in one one-hundredth of a second. You can't do this with too heavy an oil any more than you could do it with cold molasses. "At the same time, a proper crankcase oil must have body enough to seal the fine space between the rings and the cylinder wall against the escape of the compressed and exploded gas. If it does not spread quickly and evenly, dry spots will develop on the cylinder walls and wear and heat will result, cutting the life of the cylinders, pistons and piston rings. If it does not have enough body the oil will permit the escape of compressed gas past the rings and the crankcase oil will be diluted as well as causing great losses of power."

Gray County Needs JOHN F. STUDER AS COUNTY ATTORNEY for Another Term

During the next two years Gray county will make unprecedented progress and will need an experienced, capable Attorney in the County Attorney's Office. John F. Studer has made an outstanding record in this office and it is only fair and fitting that he be re-elected to this office.

A very important reason why Attorney Studer should be re-elected to this office is that the County Attorney acts as legal advisor to the County Commissioners on all County matters. The business of operating the County Government of Gray County is daily becoming more complex, and it would be well on the part of the voters of Gray County to return John F. Studer to this office.

Since starting the practice of law a number of years ago, Attorney Studer has been a resident of Pampa, and has always been ready and eager to assist in the development of this City and County. His remarkable record in office entitles him to re-election—the County Attorney's office NEEDS him—

Subject to Democratic Primaries

Louis J. Wardlaw is a native Texan, as were both of his parents before him. He was born on a farm in Falls county and at nine years of age removed with his family to Runnels county. He worked as a farm laborer in order to secure money for his legal education.

He was admitted to the bar in 1902 in Tom Green county and the following year moved to Sonora in Sutton county where he practiced law until 1919 when he moved to Ft. Worth.

He owns and operates farms and ranches in Erath, Edwards and Val Verde counties.

His outstanding legal ability; the fact that he has made a big success of his own business and the further fact that he is in close touch with the problems and needs of the farmers and ranchmen of Texas, are the best qualifications that a candidate could have.

House of David Torn Again by Troubles Ben Left

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., July 18.—The turmoil that "King Ben" Purnell created during his life lives after him.

The House of David, much-attacked cult that the long-haired leader took through an endless round of trouble, notoriety and dissension, is still in a ferment, although Purnell himself has been in his grave for months.

Latest in the chain of rows to disturb the colony is a bitter fight between "King Ben's" widow, Mary Purnell, and H. T. Dewhurst, lawyer-member of the sect, for control of the remnants of the once-powerful organization.

Dewhurst has been gathering the reins into his hands. And now "Queen Mary," as the colonists used to call her, has filed suit in the circuit court here for an injunction to restrain Dewhurst and his aids from selling colony "literature" which does not bear her name.

When Purnell lived, all the tracts, pamphlets and doggers distributed by the colony was in the name of "Mary and Benjamin." Mary's suit is a counter-attack to an offensive originally launched by Dewhurst. The board of control, which Dewhurst controls, not long ago voted to oust Mary as a trustee.

The three or four hundred members of the colony are said to be about evenly divided on the matter. Fist fighting and rioting have marked clashes between the rival factions, and Governor Green of Michigan is considering asking the courts to appoint a temporary receiver until present litigation involving the future of the colony, now before the supreme court of the state, is decided.

Dewhurst came to the colony several years ago from California, where he had been a judge. Since his arrival he has handled the colony's legal affairs, and led in the long court fight against the state in which dissolution of the House of David was asked by the attorney general.

Annual Reunion of T-Anchor Boys to Be on August 23

CANYON, July 21.—August 23 has been set for the date of the annual T-Anchor reunion at Canyon, according to R. E. Baird, who has been assisting with the formation of the program for the annual event. John Arnet of Amarillo is president and Miss Laura V. Hamner of Amarillo is secretary of the association.

Those eligible for admission to the big round-up must show evidence that they have been engaged in the cattle game, either puncher, owner, or other wise engaged in the business of cattle up to and including the year 1895. This is NOT an old settler's picnic, and the committee has decided that cards for admission must be presented to the puncher at the gate before anyone will be allowed at the roundup. These cards will cost $2 for the head of each family, the widows of cowmen and punchers being exempted from this charge. These cards may be purchased from Miss Hamner or John Arnet, president of the punchers.

Barbecue, Firjoles, sour dough biscuits and black coffee will be the menu of the day and John Snyder, the "champion barbecuer" and John Turner, the "sour dough artist" will take charge of the punchers' wants along this line. John Arnet, general "Roustabout" will see that things go off in fine shape. These are the three "Johns" who aided in making last year's round-up a huge success.

Mr. Johnson who hails from Canadian, is the daddy of this part of the program, and he requests that all the old cowmen bring their bedding and camp out for the night. Features for the evening's program will be the sour dough biscuits at the supper hour and the old time fiddling and informal talks following.

TEXAS FRUIT SHIPPING FOUND UNUSUALLY HEAVY

AUSTIN, July 21.—(AP)—June shipments of fruits and vegetables in Texas were the heaviest ever recorded for that month, the current issue of the Texas University business research bureau, says.

Crops generally are of excellent quality and yields are good, despite unfavorable spring weather. Bernard Nichols, editor, said in a survey.

June shipments totaled 7,113 cars of fruits and vegetables, as compared to 6,409 cars in May and 5,645 cars in June of last year. The first half of the year ending with June had seen 32,001 cars of tomatoes, watermelons, onions and potatoes shipped. This is about a 30 per cent gain over the corresponding period of last year. The 6,432 cars of onions represented about a 50 per cent increase over the 1927 shipments, while cabbage, spinach, potatoes, tomatoes and carrots also showed gains. Grape fruit loadings established a new high record.

Miss Mabel Davis Seeks Office of County Treasurer

Will Gray county's next treasurer be another woman? The answer to this question will appear next Saturday in the Democratic primary. Miss Mabel Davis, charmingly mature and competent in appearance, confesses that she awaits the answer with considerable eagerness. She believes that the very efficient and satisfactory record of Miss Miriam Wilson has demonstrated beyond a doubt that the duties of the office are such as can be amply cared for by a well-trained woman.

Miss Davis, a native Texan, came to Pampa with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Davis, ten years ago. Almost all of that ten years has been spent in clerical or accounting work of some sort, including time in the local post-office, bank, city office and on tax roll work.

Miss Davis told a News reporter yesterday that, if elected, she would devote her entire time to handling the affairs of the county treasurer's office, believing, as she did, that the office was important enough to demand all of the efforts and capabilities of the incumbent.

Long Paving Stretch Soon to Be Ready

BRECKENRIDGE, Tex., July 21.—(AP)—Continuous passage over hard surface roads to Wichita Falls and northwest Texas through Eastland, to Shackelford, Taylor, Jones, Palo Pinto and Stephens counties, soon will be possible as the result of highway construction in Throckmorton, Young and Archer counties.

Contracts will be let for grade and bridge construction on the cross county highways in Throckmorton on July 16, according to A. C. Pierce of the State highway department, and George Wickline, state bridge engineer. The road building program in Young and Archer counties is on.

With the paving of the roads in Throckmorton county, the highway from Breckenridge through Throckmorton and on to Seymour will be of hard surface. With the other road in that country, continuous passage over pavement will be assured for Shackelford county.

The highway from Breckenridge to Wichita Falls will be paved throughout with the completion of the Young and Archer programs. Young has voted $1,150,000 for good road projects, and Throckmorton $1,500,000.

250,000 People Join In Vienna Festival Honoring Schubert

In the largest wooden structure in the world, shown above in final stages of construction, choral societies from all over the world are celebrating during July the centenary of the death of Franz Schubert (left), immortal musician. The choral festival has attracted 250,000 visitors, only 70,000 of whom may be accommodated in the hall at once. At the right is Schubert's grave in Vienna.

VIENNA (AP)—In honor of Franz Schubert, the centenary of whose death is being celebrated this year, 150,000 members of choral societies from all over the world are raising their voices today in song.

They are participants in the tenth German choral festival here. During four days, beginning July 19, the music of the greatest songwriter of all time will be sung by highly trained choirs representing every country in the world. The American delegation numbers 3,000. So universal is the interest in Vienna's commemoration of her illustrious son that the concert hall in the Prater, which accommodates 70,000 persons and is said to be the largest wooden structure ever built, is incapable of housing all the singers and visitors attending the Festival. For this reason a complete shift of audience and performers is

Wachtendorf Strong Candidate For Constable

In the race for Constable of Precinct No. 2 Herman Wachtendorf has been one of the most active candidates. His friends feel that he has an excellent chance to win the office. About two years experience as deputy constable in Precinct No. 2, which embraces Pampa and environs, has given him unusually good training for the office he seeks. This, with his reputation for being a "square shooter" law enforcement officer, seems to make him one of the strongest candidates in the race.

holds several times a day, concerts continuing all day long.

VIENNA (AP)—Some 250,000 persons, now gathered in Vienna to attend the celebrations, has taxed the city's transportation, hotel and restaurant capacity to its utmost. Citizens have volunteered to house 50,000 of the visitors, and several hundred temporary restaurants have been provided to feed them. The German and Polish governments have placed hundreds of locomotives and passenger coaches at the disposal of Austria, and 60,000 beds have been lent by Poland.

The success of the Schubert Centenary is in marked contrast to that accorded the composer himself during his brief life of 31 years. Born in Vienna he faced extreme poverty with gaiety, and sure of his genius, which remained unrecognized by the world, he left at his death a heritage of 600 immortal songs; a group of brilliant masses, concertos, symphonies and other instrumental pieces; a lock of faded hair and a pair of old spectacles.

The latter are preserved in an exhibition opened here in May by officials of the Austrian government. In the six rooms of the Schubert Museum are displayed landmarks of the whole pathetic history of the master's life.

Turkey Resists Western Culture Spread in Islam

By PRISCILLA RING

STAMBOUL, July 21—(P)—Turkey is bracing herself against a second great wave of westernizing reform.

Mustapha Kemal Pasha's first dose, which included the abolition of that time-honored institution, the fez, has not yet been digested by a bewildered population. "The cry is now "on with your shoes and keep them on" and a half dozen other reforms, hygienic and social, evolved by the savants of Stamboul University charged with the task of modernizing Moslem ritual.

The muezzins will not be scrapped in this scientific house-cleaning of religion to join the ghosts of veiled ladies, turbans, fezes, eunuchs, and latticed harems which haunt the graveyard of Turkey's picturesque past. The muezzins may stay, say the professors, but they must all have a thorough, up-to-date course in vocal culture so as properly to articulate and modulate their wails to prayer from the lofty minarets.

One of the most belligerently modern members of the committee even went so far as to suggest that loud-speakers be installed on the minaret balconies and that the Stamboul radio station should broadcast the daily five calls to prayer, but his suggestion was voted down, and the muezzins were saved.

"By inaugurating these reforms" the official report concludes, "the new Turkey assumes the role of guide for all Islamic peoples who still remain in the bondage of political and intellectual slavery." The old saying that Egypt is the brain of the Islamic world, India the heart and Turkey the arm, is thus to be amended now that Turkey, jauntily wearing her new western hat, stirs the Moslem world with the new workings of her long dormant brain.

The immediate result in Turkey of Kemal's drastic changes in the traditional religious ritual, will be, according to the opinion current here, empty mosques. Devout Moslems interviewed by the correspondent, declare doggedly that they will pray at home (as many already do) rather than enter a mosque desecrated by pews and organs and shoes and other Christian indecencies.

One old peasant woman from the fanatical Black Sea region even went so far as to cry out, "May those who have done these things not die till they have received a bitter punishment in this life for their deeds." And she went on with the story of how in her village when the Greeks left and the Christian churches were burned, some marble was put in the village mosque. "And the next day," she wound up with grim triumph, "we woke to find that mosque burned into ashes, Christian marble and all!"

Planes Big Gas Users
CHICAGO—The airplane is becoming a big factor in gasoline and oil consumption. In flying 23,000 miles daily over 21 routes with an average of three tons of cargo daily, air mail planes are using 60,200 gallons of gas and 3,220 gallons of oil a day, the American Air Transport association reckons.

Only Elder Waner Threatens Horns- by's Championship

NEW YORK, July 20.—(AP)—Despite the ups and downs of the Braves, Rogers Hornsby has set a withering pace for the batsmen of John Heydler's circuit that he seems in a fair way to recover the championship crown which he wore for six successive seasons as a member of the Cardinals. The latest averages, issued today and including games of last Wednesday, show the Rajah tapping the ball for a new mark of 398 in 77 engagements.

The individual title could be voted to Hornsby by acclamation at this moment if anybody but Paul (Big Poison) Waner were on the second rung of the ladder. True, the elder Waner languishes, but he has been showing a stubborn persistence in doing what he can to reduce the marking between himself and Hornsby—and with some success in the last few weeks.

Pitching honors still rest with Larry Benton of New York, who has won fifteen games and lost only four for a percentage of .789. Benton also has hurled eighteen complete games, and leads the league by an Irish mile in this respect. Burtleigh Grimes of the Pirates also has won fifteen decisions but he has lost eight, and is rated higher than .652. Grimes leads in shut-outs with four.

Carl Mays, with four victories and one defeat for .500, is the nominal leader of the pitchers, but has worked in only five games. The first Cincinnati regular again is Red Lucas, resting in his customary sport right behind Benton. Red has won nine and lost three. Flint Rhem of St. Louis and the veteran Artie Nehf, toiling for the Cubs, share third honors, each with eight victories and three defeats for .727.

With the exception of individual batting and pitching, the Cardinals have practically a monopoly upon the Unexcelled service on this fight will equal that of the metropolitan dailies. The heavyweight bout between Gene Tunney and Tom Heeneey at the Yankee stadium July 28 will be covered for The News in great detail by a staff of Associated Press sports writers at the ringside.

Edward J. Neill will handle the round by round description of the contest. Charles W. Dunkley, now at Heeneey's camp, will write the general introduction. William R. King, now with Tunney, will get first-hand information about the boxers themselves. Brian Bell will direct the ringside staff and describe the crowd. Telegraph men will flash the stories direct to The News, where the automatic telegraph instruments will grind out the "hot" report almost as fast as it happens. The News will be on the same circuit that the biggest dailies in the state.

The fight results will be megaphoned from the awning in front of the office. The main bout will start not later than 10 p. m. New York time or 8 p. m. Pampa time. Preliminary bulletins on stadium gossip will be megaphoned beginning probably an hour before various individual titles. The field breaks through only in home runs where Hack Wilson of Chicago has a clear margin with 22, and even in this useful detail the Cards present their own representative in second place—Jim Bottomley, who has twenty.

Bottomley also leads in runs scored with 81, in doubles with 30, in triples with 13, and in runs batted in with 79. His team mate, Taylor Douthitt has the greatest number of hits of any player in the league, 128, and Frank Frisch manages to hold the lead in base stealing, even though no bases whatever can be stolen on a hospital cot. Frank had 16 when laid low by his latest injury.

Following Hornsby and Paul Waner in individual batting are these regulars; Grantham, Pittsburgh, 356; Bot- New York, 353; Reese, New York, 351; tomley, St. Louis, 350; Lindstrom, Douthitt, St. Louis, 345; Slater, Boston, 342; Rootger, St. Louis, 341 and Her- man, Brooklyn, 340.

As a team the Cardinals are a fair second in batting with .298 and are tied with the Reds for the lead in fielding, each showing .974. The Cubs are next with .973. The Cincinnati dou- ble play crop now has reached 111 with no signs of letting up.

The rise of the Pirates in games won and lost is reflected somewhat in the team batting where the Buccaners lead with .312.

What Others Think About the BROWN LOCK NUT

"I have been watching the performance of these nuts since they were applied and made special inspection of them Sept. 28th and found them to be holding perfectly on the bolt and no indication of the nut working loose."

(Signed) L. H. BOND, Engineer Maintenance of Way, Illinois Central System R. R.

"It is my opinion that the Brown Lock Nut fills a long felt want in the automobile industry by eliminating the use of cotter keys, lock washers, special threaded nuts etc., and at the same time by holding absolutely tight, giving that degree of safety for which automobile engineers have been striving these many years."

(Signed) E. H. NOLAND, Service Manager, Amarillo Oldsmobile Co., Inc.

AT LAST—A simple, effective and inexpensive, one piece, self-retaining nut has been invented. After thousands of patents during the past sixty years, THIS NUT has now been perfected right down here in the "Panhandle of Texas."

THE BROWN LOCK NUT made in any size, shape or thread WILL HOLD on any machinery regardless of how great the stress and vibration, and will eliminate the necessity for cotter keys, lock washers, jam nuts or any other accessory.

THE BROWN LOCK NUT has been demonstrated on automobiles, oil derricks, farm machinery, locomotives, cars, tracks, windmills, air hammers, steam shovels, etc., etc., etc. Every test has demonstrated the absolute efficiency of THIS NUT, and eventually it will be used every place that a nut is necessary. We will soon be ready to market the BROWN LOCK NUT, and we would like to start with the HOME FOLKS IN TEXAS.

over, to shoulder upon the governor full responsibility for an administration is manifestly illogical and unfair.

Moody took office when Texas was in a bad way politically and financially. What has he done to better these conditions? Take a look at the highway system. The commission has a will of its own, but it is an honest will. Inherited debt to the amount of $6,250,000 has been paid. New construction includes 1,671 miles of hard surfaced roads. Work involving $19,930,145 has been started. The confidence and cooperation of the federal government have been restored.

The common schools are getting $15 per capita apportionments long asked but never before received. Counties are to get more gasoline tax money for lateral roads. Institutions of the state are being better supported. The ad valorem tax rate has been lowered and a treasury surplus saved back. Prisoners are being kept in confinement and the prison system has been lifted out of a $653,703 loss for 1925-26 to a self-supporting basis. In such matters as boll worm control, banking administration, more liberal laws, remedial laws for ex-service men, and reforming the judiciary, the Moody administration has shown a progressive policy. True, not all of the Moody ideas have been enacted into law. But on the basis of his record his growing political stature, and his untiring work for the welfare of the State, he is deserving of another term.

City planning and zoning is a growing engineering science. In its legal phases, however, the subject is not so surely susceptible to definition. Enabling acts, such as there are, remain to be fully interpreted. A meeting which opened Friday in Fort Worth had for its purpose the consideration of the legal portion of the problem.

Attorneys from 35 Texas cities were present to go into the matter. More and more cities are making use of the authority justly theirs in guiding the destinies of their communities. The citizen who builds a home or opens a subdivision has certain obligations to the entire social group surrounding him. Just how far his personal privileges are involved is the province of the city attorney in his interpretations of existing laws and those which may be passed.

now on", is an awful thing, much more awful than those over-enthusiastic about capital punishment will admit. The desperation of one who was impressed with the inconveniences of being forever condemned to routine imprisonment was illustrated this week in New York when a 25-year-old habitual criminal killed two keepers in a desperate attempt to escape, then shot himself. He was convicted for a fourth offense, a felony, and thus, under a new law, drew the life term. This Baumes law is rightly more feared by the habitual criminal than are all other dangers connected with crime. It is harsh, perhaps too interminably harsh, but it is growing more useful as it takes effect. The prisoner mentioned had a criminal record dating back fourteen years. He had forfeited his right to live unfettered in society.

'SWEET' CRUDE GREAT ASSET

Demand for Product Is Stimulating Wildcat Activities

Oil operations in Gray county hold the spotlight, not only in drilling wells but producers, because of the grade of the oil produced. Oil found in this county is known as "sweet" oil of high gravity which brings a premium on all markets.

With 43 wells drilling Gray county has more than half the drilling wells in the entire Panhandle, the total being 79 wells. Practically all the locations made during the last month have been in Gray county. The number was fourteen. Eight wells were completed as producers and only three were abandoned as dry holes. Three were completed as gasers.

Many are Wildcats

Activities in the county as a whole are wildcat or time-wildcat and offsets. The chief drilling spurt during the past 30 days is in LeFors district where the LeFors Petroleum company's No. 1 Shaw, in the Travis Leech survey, came in for about 2,000 barrels and has since increased to 2,300 barrels a day. Six offsets to this gusher have been made and the town of LeFors is a hive of business.

The other field of interest in Gray county is in block 25, where several wells are topping pay. Chief among these are the Travis and Smith's No. 1 Webb and Chapman six miles apart in semi-wildcat territory. Both have struck a show of oil and will be drilled in immediately.

No new locations have been made in the Wilcox, McConnell or Bowers-McGee pools in some time but several wells are drilling ahead in those sections. Two deep tests are being sunk in the Bowers-McGee pool in an effort to pick up a new pay at a greater depth. In that territory is the sensation well of Gray county. It is the Texas company's No. 1 Bowers in section 89, block B-2, in the Bowers-McGee pool, which has flowed nearly 800,000 barrels of high grade crude oil since being brought in last October.

Two Interesting Tests

Two wells being watched with interest are the Travis, Smith's two locations in block 25. The Travis-Smith's No. 1 Webb in section 43, block 25, picked up a showing of oil at 2,817 feet and will be drilled in as soon as storage is erected. The same company's No. 1 Chapman in section 50, block 25, is making a barrel an hour from 2,800 feet and drilling in.

Another location being watched in the Texas company's No. 3 Chapman in section 51, block 25, which picked up a show of oil Thursday at 2,997 feet, and will be drilled in today. This well is a mile north of the Travis, Smith location.

West of the Bowers-McGee pool the South Bend Oil company's No. 1 Case in section 160, block B-2, picked up 40,000,000 cubic feet of gas at 2,840 feet.

Brown Lock Nut Hailed as Invention of Unusual Merit

There is an old, old story about the man who lived far into the wilderness who invented the best mouse trap and how the people of those times beat a pathway to his door in order to buy from him. Although times have changed, and while it is now necessary to advertise in order to introduce widely any new article, nevertheless the old story still holds good to this extent; that any article of common use and superior merit will, as in the old story, bring many to the maker's door by virtue only of the par excellence of the article.

This fact is demonstrated by the Brown Lock Nut, which originates in the Panhandle of Texas and is being put on the market by the Brown Lock Nut company of Amarillo.

Many of the largest manufacturers of bolts and nuts in the United States have sent representatives to Amarillo to investigate the new lock nut and practically every large manufacturer of automobiles, farm machinery, oil field equipment, and many other lines, has asked that samples be sent for demonstration purposes.

The Brown Lock Nut has been tested and found absolutely efficient on every conceivable class of machinery and equipment; and the company is now preparing to advertise the merits of its product far and wide, expecting that eventually a Brown Lock Nut will

Thrift of Old Quaker Guardian Helped Hoover Through Early Life

WEST BRANCH, Iowa, July 21.—(AP)—Lawrie Tatum, old Quaker who was Herbert Hoover's guardian when he was a boy, predicted the success of his orphan charge when Hoover was only 21.

"He will succeed," Tatum forecast, "because he is frugal, industrious and energetic."

The example of his guardian, in making the tiny nest egg left by Hoovers' mother grow each year by the alchemy of thrift and shrewdness, was a sterling one for the orphaned lad to follow.

On the rumpled and much-thumbed pages of the old records in the Cedar county courthouse at Tipton may be traced the story of how Lawrie Tatum's strict economy and careful investments made the original sum of $304.63, with which Hoover faced the world in 1885, grow to $222.67 in 1891, when the future republican presidential nominee had reached 18.

Tatum's first annual report as guardian of Herbert Hoover was made in 1885. It showed that $1.50 a week was being paid for the boy's board with an aunt and uncle. When Hulda Hoover died she left $1,000 and a house and lot in West Branch. Herbert's share of the small fortune was $322.13 1-2, according to the concise report of Tatum. But $15 for a suit of clothes and railroad fare to the home of his uncle in Kingsley, Iowa, reduced the amount to $304.62.

Through the courthouse records may be traced the progress of the boy from his mother's death until he was ready to enter Leland Stanford University. It was the firm and kindly hand of Lawrie Tatum, the understanding old Quaker, which shaped his early fortunes—making his original heritage grow by sale of the house, by investments which brought eight percent, and by careful expenditure which enabled Hoover to enter college with a nice sum still saved up.

Lawrie Tatum has long since passed from earth, but his orphan ward has more than fulfilled his prediction. In 1894 Mr. Tatum made his final report to the clerk of the court in Cedar county, Iowa, with these optimistic words:

"Herbert C. Hoover is making excellent progress at Leland Stanford University, California. Although his funds in my care are about exhausted, yet he is ambitious to complete his course in the university."

Texas Building in Small Decline but Thought Improving

AUSTIN, July 21.—"Building activities in Texas during June registered a large seasonal decline from the record month of May," said Bervard Nichols, assistant in charge of index numbers in the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas.

"Compared with June a year ago," he continued, "the showing is favorable, especially when allowance is made for the excellent record during the first half of the year. While it is true that the larger cities have made excellent growth, many of the smaller and medium sized communities have experienced an unusually large building program.

"Thirty-two cities of the State reporting to the Bureau of Business Research granted building permits in June amounting to $9,319,566, compared to $13,579,160 in May and $9,889,763 in June, 1927. Only seven cities report gains over May, whereas there were decreases ranging from less than one percent to as much as 85 per cent in the other 25 cities."

"The record for the first half of the year is much more encouraging and shows that the building industry in Texas has been very active this year. Permits for the past six months in the 32 cities reporting amounted to $69,719,222, compared to $63,583,292 for the first half of 1927, or an increase of eight and six-tenths per cent. Losses and gains were about evenly divided but gains in most cases were larger than the losses resulting in a net gain for the State."

"Houston, with permits totaling $21,132,924 for the first half of the year, shows an increase of 33.2 per cent over the same six months of 1927. Moreover, permits in this city alone were 30 per cent of the entire State total. San Antonio is second with total permits of $3,863,801 and Fort Worth is third with $3,764,911. The outstanding percentage increase is in Del Rio; permits for the half were $514,568, against only $101,905 in the first half of last year, or a gain of 404.9 per cent. Lubbock with an increase of 224.7 per cent and Austin with a gain of 193.6 per cent show exceptional development. Increases of more than 100 per cent were reported in Corpus Christi, El Paso, Sherman, Sweetwater and Waco. On the other hand, large losses were shown in Amarillo, Corsicana, Laredo, McAllen, Paris and Wichita Falls. "Contracts let on building and engineering projects during June totaled $26,000,000, or the largest amount during any June on record. This brings the total contracts for the first half of the year up to $129,000,000, which is an increase of twelve per cent over the same period last year. "Contemplated projects in June were reported at $28,000,000. These reports show that the building situation in Texas is healthy and considerable activity is expected over the next few months."

peas planted between rows for September chicken feed, and fifth is in cotton. Her small vegetable garden contains potatoes, beans, cabbage, lettuce, radishes, cucumbers, squash, beets, carrots and onions.

In making her model farm Mrs. Vogt has not overlooked the artistic, for her house sits in the center of a well kept, flower-bordered lawn.

Labor Situation in Texas Improves But Surplus of Unskilled Workers Exists—Textile Mills are Slow

AUSTIN, July 21.—(P)—Employment has increased somewhat throughout Texas during the past 30 days, the federal department of labor says in a review of conditions received here, but there is still a labor surplus.

Textile mills reported part-time operations leaving many workers in this line out of work. A slight decrease also was noticeable in lumber mill forces, but only a few mills reported part-time schedules. Additional workers were employed in the iron and steel industries, department stores, food and kindred products plants, leather tanneries, furniture factories, oil well supply manufacturing plants, chemical establishments and cotton compresses.

Building in the larger cities increased somewhat, but some unemployment still exists in that line. Farm help is reported as adequate for the demand.

Following is a detailed summary of conditions in the larger cities:

Summary by Cities
Dallas—Although there was an increase in employment during the month several plants reported part-time schedules and a surplus of labor exists. Employment gains were reported in the iron and steel industry. Some idleness was apparent among the building-trades men. New projects to be started in the near future should absorb these craftsmen. A surplus of farm help was reported.

Houston—The major industries operated on full-time schedules except those plants seasonally closed and a foundry which worked on a part-time basis. Chemical establishments reported a slight seasonal decrease in their forces which was offset by an increase in the volume of employment in the textile mills. Activities in connection with the oil industry were somewhat curtailed. The surplus of labor apparent consists principally of unskilled workers. Sufficient building is under way to employ the local craftsmen.

Fort Worth—Employment gains reported in the food and kindred products plants and several other miscellaneous industries were offset by reductions in the forces employed in the lumber mills and iron and steel industries. Most plants operated on full-time schedules except lumber mills, food and kindred-products plants and beverage plants which reported part-time. New building projects amounting to $1,100,000 were started during the month, with the local supply of building-trades men quite equal to all demands. The demand for harvest workers has been met.

Much Labor Unskilled
San Antonio—Most plants operated on satisfactory schedules with a slight increase in employment reported. The only part-time operation reported were in the food and kindred-products plants and a leather tannery. What surplus of labor exists consists chiefly of small number of unskilled workers. The textile mills increased their forces. Satisfactory volume of building is under way with resident craftsmen well employed.

Waco—Employment increased during the month and practically all plants reporting were on full-time schedules. There was, however, a small surplus of labor apparent at the close of the month. Employment gains were reported in the iron and steel industry, department stores, lumber mills and several other miscellaneous industries. The leather industries released some workers. With the building permits which have been issued and with work already under way the resident building-trades men will be well employed for some time to come. There was a large demand for farm help in this vicinity throughout the month with a supply available.

Galveston—Several plants reported part-time schedules and a slight decrease in employment occurred during the month. The shipping of cotton will afford employment to many of those now idle. Building-trades men appear to be fairly well employed as a good volume of building and construction are under way.

Texarkana—All plants reporting from this vicinity were in operation during June, several curtailing their forces and reporting part-time schedules. Chemical establishments, textile mills, lumber mills and beverage plants on curtailed schedules. Construction of a new water reservoir is giving employment to approximately 100 men. Other building projects are employing the local supply of skilled building-trades men. A surplus of labor was reported at the close of the month, principally unskilled workers.

Beckham—The industrial employment situation improved somewhat during the past 30 days as practically all plants reported full-time schedules and employment increased in several industries. What surplus of labor still exists consists principally of unskilled workers. An increase in the oil industry trend is expected to continue. Furniture factories, textile mills, food and kindred products plants and plants manufacturing oil well supplies employed additional workers. Forces employed in the chemical establishments and several other miscellaneous industries were curtailed somewhat. Many large building projects are under way including a $200,000 business structure, $1,000,000 hotel and a number of apartment houses. This work is employing a large number of skilled and unskilled laborers with an ample supply available.

El Paso—Employment gains were reported in the leather tanneries, lumber mills, and textile factories during June. The majority of the local plants operated on satisfactory schedules and the resident labor supply and demand were well balanced. The volume of building is growing and skilled craftsmen are steadily engaged.

Chambers to Unite on Highway Work

VERNON, July 21.—President A. M. Bourland, Manager Homer D. Wade, and the highway committee of five of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be in Austin Monday to co-operate with East and South Texas Chamber of Commerce officials in formulating a general legislative road and highway policy.

The conference is being held at the initiation of the West Texas regional commerce body as a result of a resolution passed at its tenth annual convention in Fort Worth asking that the three regional chambers unite in such work.

A preliminary meeting will convene in the Stephen P. Austin hotel at 10 a. m., July 23, to perfect an organization and to agree upon a program for future procedures.

West Texas' representatives, besides President Bourland and Manager Wade will be J. D. Hamlin, Farwell; J. S. Birdwell, Wichita Falls; W. A. Hemphill, San Angelo; John Perkins, Alpine, and J. P. Williams, Mineral Wells.

President O. W. Killian and Manager Ray Leeman of the South Texas Chamber of Commerce will be on hand with their five committeemen consisting of: Geo. C. Rehmet, Alice; V. J. Grunder, Curo; Leonard Tillotson, Sealy; G. R. Sanders, Pearsall, and E. B. Neiswanger, San Antonio. John D. Middleton, Greenville, president of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, W. M. Blanton, manager of the organization, are expected to accompany the East Texas highway committee whose personnel is to consist of representatives from five major businesses and professions of the section.

Members of the Texas highway commission have indicated a willingness to cooperate with the three regional commercial organizations of the State in this concerted movement and it is thought may be interviewed while the committees are in Austin.

THREE AMENDMENTS PROPOSED

AUSTIN, July 21.—(P)—Three constitutional amendments proposed by the 40th legislature will be on the November 6 Texas general election ballot for voters' acceptance or rejection.

One would liberalize terms under which indigent Confederate veterans and their wives and widows obtain state compensations; another would exempt parsonages from taxation and the third would lengthen terms of all school officers to six years and create a new state board of education.

Governor Moody is preparing the election call.

"Dodge City" In Detroit Is Unit on Municipal Plan

"A city within a city within a city." That's what they have in Detroit. It has a population of approximately 18,500, operates its own police and fire departments, postoffice, railways, restaurants, schools and hospitals, and manufactures products valued at millions of dollars monthly which are shipped to every corner of the world.

The city enclosed in two other is "Dodge City" within the city limits of Hamtramck, a separate city within the limits of Detroit. The area of this city is reckoned by acres, approximately 218, yet nearly every function performed by municipal governments, can be duplicated within its boundaries. Here more than 2,000,000 Dodge Brothers automobiles have been built in the 14 years of the city's existence.

Back in 1914, Hamtramck was an unincorporated neighbor of Detroit, dotted with swamps and fields. In the open spaces of the village, the present site of the Dodge Brothers plant was selected, because it was near enough to Detroit for utility connections but far enough away to escape the disadvantages of a city location. Since then, Hamtramck has incorporated as a town and later as a city. Now it is an "island" completely surrounded by Detroit.

Fifty-seven different nationalities are citizens of "Dodge City," a factory community with a definite industrial personality. Within its limits, 120 police on day and night duty to patrol the gates and protect property. Fifteen firemen and complete fire apparatus compose an efficient fire fighting force. A factory tailor sees that police and firemen's uniforms are kept in first class condition.

One main hospital and six branch units throughout the plants employ thirty-three trained medical attendants, including physicians and nurses.

Injuries to employes are treated carefully and promptly, and in more serious cases an ambulance is always available.

A postoffice handling 11,000 pieces of incoming first class mail and 25,000 pieces of outgoing first class mail daily is required to transact the business of this factory settlement. In addition, outgoing parcel post alone amounts to half a freight car daily. The plants also have their own telegraph offices and special messengers.

They are wanted at Galveston's beach on August 5 to help celebrate "Smith Day," which is expected to be about the biggest and most unique event staged down that way in many years.

While the event has no political significance, it will be in the nature of a celebration by the Smiths in honor of that most distinguished member of the Smith clan, Governor Al.

The Galveston Beach Association and Chamber of Commerce are behind the project and an elaborate entertainment program is being completed. Governor Smith has been invited to attend and Hugh Reilly, secretary of the New York State Democratic Committee has assured Willett L. Delays in Road Building Lose Much Money for People

BY E. E. DUFFY Speed in the actual process of building roads is now expected. Road builders can easily construct a concrete highway from five to ten times as fast as they could fifteen years ago.

Short-sighted policies in road building have been costly in many states in the past, and negligent of the road problem is right now permitting vast numbers of good round road building dollars to escape through that hole in the sack—the bad road.

In the thoroughly modern road building program adopted a short time ago in North Carolina, one important item was slashed that other states are still somewhat unconsciously combatting. This is the item of time.

He replied: "I don't know. We never tried it because the waste in time would have cost us more than the interest on bonds."

To say that the motorists of this nation collectively travel 100 billion miles yearly does not mean a great deal to the individual in this age of big figures. But let each person ascertain the mileage made each year in his own community by multiplying the number of cars by 5,000, the expected yearly mileage. A community with 10,000 motor vehicles will pile up a mileage of 50 million miles in twelve months.

Firemen Plead for Unimpeded Chance to Work Efficiently

The Pampa Volunteer Fire department wishes to call the attention of the public in general to a few city ordinances, general laws and common usages in connection with the operation of the apparatus and fighting fires.

We wish to state here that in the past we have received some very timely and valiant assistance from some of the public and we certainly appreciate those efforts and herewith extend our thanks to all who have assisted us in the past.

When the alarm sounds stay a moment at the place you are, and if the love of Mike, stay away from the scene of the fire for at least the first 10 minutes.

If you see in your car, or driving when the alarm sounds, pull up to the curb immediately and park until the fire trucks have gone by.

Do not get on the truck unless commanded to do so by a fireman. Do not take the nozzle of the hose unless requested to do so by a fireman, you are subject to heavy fine for doing either of the above.

If you are needed, the firemen will call on you, otherwise stand back. To you who dash madly to fires in your cars, will say it takes the City Marshall and a half dozen firemen to keep you from over the hose, and to run your vehicles over the fire hose.

PANHANDLE, July 21.—Carson county has received $123,991.36 in aid from the State on the Panhandle-Borger highway, according to records.

A payment of $87,991.36 was received from the State a few weeks ago. At the time work was started on the highway, no state funds were available; and $500 was all the State appropriated for its part of the expense until recently. This $500 was mostly a pledge of future assistance from the State. When funds became available, a few weeks ago the Highway department appropriated $87,991.36. This was followed by another appropriation last week of over $36,000. This brings the total amount received from or appropriated by the State of $123,991.36, according to Acting County Treasurer Frank Elston.

On State aid projects the State can participate to a small or large extent but cannot pay more than half the cost of the road.

For Guns—Stith-Swain Hdw. Co. is a heavy fine. Be reasonable. Be sensible. Keep out of the way. Stay away from fires.

If you and your friends, you will help. If you are a citizen, you will need. If you are the others, you will be there in our way.—Pampa Fire Department.

The Entre Nous bridge club will meet Tuesday afternoon, in the home of Mrs. Charles Elston. The game will begin at 2 o'clock.
