Work On Pampa-Cheyenne Railroad Rushed as Winter Nears

CREW OF 500 BEING USED ON NEW LINE NOW

Bridge Work Is Being Completed to Allow Steel Laying

LAKETON NOW TAKING FORM

Difficult Crossing Near Mobeetie Next on Program

In an effort to get as much work possible done before winter sets in, more than 500 men are being used on the new Clinton and Oklahoma Western railway, a branch of the Santa Fe, from Pampa to Cheyenne, Okla. Crews of men are at work along the entire line grading, filling, laying steel, and erecting bridges.

Work on the line began May 1 when the interstate Commerce Commission granted the Santa Fe permission to take over and complete the Kell railroad. Frank Kell and son, Joe Kell, were the originators of the line.

Twenty miles of track has been completed, placing the steel beyond Laketon, which will be the first station after leaving Pampa. Laying of steel has been held up on account of bridge work, but this difficulty has been overcome and the work will begin again Thursday, W. H. Rochester, engineer in charge of construction, says.

More than 60 per cent of the entire grade has been completed, and crews of men are working between Mobeetie and Cheyenne throwing up the grade. Five drivers completed the work of crossing Sweetwater creek yesterday. The crossing of Russell creek east of Mobeetie will begin immediately. The crossing at that point will be 200 feet long and 40 feet high. It is the most difficult piece of work on the Texas end of the line, the engineers say.

Both underpasses for highway 33-A have been completed with the exception of steel work, which will be done later.

Laketon, the first town on the line, will begin to take form soon. The large water well has been completed and will be put into operation immediately. Frame work is under construction for the new depot and the station agent's house. This station yard has been graded and four sidings have been laid.

Mobeetie, the oldest town in the Panhandle, which will become the newest, will be next in line. Grading of the station yard is nearing completion at the new townsite.

Bridge crews are working seven days a week in an effort to keep ahead of the track laying machine, capable of placing more than a mile of rails daily.

BILLS ON FESTIVAL ACCOUNTS WISHED AT ONCE

Two Small Pupils Injured in Blast as Nebraska Schoolhouse Is Bombed

VERDIERE, Neb., Oct. 17.—(AP)—A country school dynamiting similar to that which occurred near Ottawa Ill., a year ago, had the Verdriere countryside aroused today. Two small children, injured in the explosion, were in a hospital, painfully though not seriously hurt.

The dynamite, as was the case in the Illinois bombing, was planted in the schoolhouse stove. Only the fact that the children had gone outside to play just before the explosion rocked the building prevented a heavy casualty list.

The stove was blown to pieces and a large hole was blown in the roof. Mr. Agnes Motica, the teacher, had walked to the schoolhouse door to call the children back to their classes when the dynamite exploded, escaping harm.

Is This a Cabinet Romance?

If there isn't a romance between these two "children" of prominent cabinet officials, at least there is always a chance. To the left is Miss Alice Davis, daughter of the secretary of war; to the right, Allan Hoover, son of the former secretary of commerce and Republican presidential candidate. The picture was taken at Aberdeen, Md., where both attended an army exhibition.

NO DECISION IN APPEAL OF COUNTY SEAT ELECTION GIVEN

Gray county will have to wait at least another week for the decision in the county seat election appeal. Decisions handed down in the Amarillo Court of Civil Appeals today did not include the Gray county suit, for which a hearing was held one week ago. The court is believed to be working on its brief, and it is considered likely that it will have the opinion ready next Wednesday.

The Appeals Court has been overcrowded with suits recently, the clerk informed The News today.

Two Unmasked Men Rob Arkansas Bank of Over $23,000

McGEHEE, Ark., Oct. 17.—(AP)—Two men, unmasked, but wearing smoked glasses, locked five employees of the Citizens bank here in the vault and escaped with $23,300 in cash today.

Posses of citizens and officers from adjoining cities were organized and immediately started the search for the bandits.

The men both wearing khaki suits had been seen in town several days. They entered the bank through a rear door, covered employees who were preparing to open the bank, with pistols and forced them into the vault.

A man working next door saw the bandits leave and released the bank employees from the vault.

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 17.—(AP)—Three men robbed a bank at Prague of between $3,000 and $4,000 today and fled with J. L. Urban, assistant cashier, as their prisoner. Urban was alone in the bank at the time.

Local Persons Are Injured When Auto Turns Over Today

Mrs. O. P. Erwin, her son, Billy, 4 years old, and daughter, Lucille, 14 months, and Mrs. C. E. Arms were severely bruised when a coupe turned over this morning near Kingsmill.

Mrs. Erwin was driving the car when it appeared that the steering wheel locked. The party was en route to Berger to spend the day visiting friends. Mrs. Erwin was the most seriously injured of the party.

NEWS' BIG CAR CAMPAIGN SLOW GETTING START

Small Number of Entrants Is Surprising, Says Manager

MANY NEEDED TO START WORK

Indications Are Race to Be Easy One For All

Let's Go!
The Daily News Contest Manager wants to get in touch with those who are planning to enter the big subscription contest. Time is flying and those who want in should get in now while the votes are easiest to get. The Contest Manager is at the Daily News office every day from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. If you want a new Buick, a Whippet or Chevrolet, come in and have a talk with him. He delights in answering questions.

Like all good things that finish well, the Pampa News big $5,000 automobile and prize subscription drive is getting off to a slow start. While quite a number of nominations have been received they apparently have been sent in by friends who desire to see others share in the tremendous list of awards. The nominees themselves, when notified, have for the most part displayed an apathy that is amusing when the value of the prizes is considered.

"Too busy," is the excuse. Now of course, there are mighty few people in Pampa, or anywhere else, for that matter, who are too busy to make $1500 in eight weeks' time. The prize list represents some real money and to those who will sit down and figure it out, it is a business proposition that will pay better returns than anything of its kind that has been presented in this community in a long time.

Need Live Wires
What is needed is a few genuine alert live wires who will nominate themselves and start voting for themselves. Those who sit back and wait for someone else and start to nominate them will never get very far. All that is necessary to obtain a starting credit of 2,000 is to clip the "Nomination Blank" which will be found in a page advertisement elsewhere in today's paper and bring or mail it to the Contest Manager. All nominations made now will receive the 2,000 credit. It costs nothing, and there are no obligations in any way either now or later.

The Contest Manager said this morning that from present indications this is going to be one of the easiest races to win an automobile in that he has never heard of.

"Anybody could enter today, and by clipping a half dozen free vote coupons become the owner of one of the cars if the campaign were to close tonight," he said. "I don't understand why more real workers have not entered. Seems like they all want to think it over for a few days."

Time Is Flying
But right here let it be stated that those who get in now, while the votes are easiest to get, will be the ones to come out on top when the judges read off the names of the winners at the finish. The advantage of an early start is obvious. And with only two or three making any effort at all in their own behalf in the way of getting votes, it is high time that some action begin to develop.

That quite a number of people in Pampa and the surrounding territory are planning to enter, but have just put it off, is apparent from the great interest which is being manifested by the public. The campaign is a never failing topic of interest in homes, stores and offices, and elsewhere. Many subscribers are always saying their free voting coupons waiting for some workers to declare themselves and claim them.

Both men and women mean enter the race. And although the territory has been divided into two districts, yet no one is limited to their own district to get their votes. Any contestant can go anywhere. The only reason for the division of the territory is to facilitate the work.

Senator-Elect Clint Small Will Oppose Statewide Bond Issue— Urges "Pay-as-We-Go" Policy

Information and belief he is opposed to the proposed statewide road bond issue. He advocated a gasoline tax of 3 or 4 cents for building and maintenance of cardinal highways. He said he intended to give much of his time to the study of the highway problem.

Mr. Small said that as a senator he would not be for a retrenchment policy. Taxes cannot be lowered, in his opinion, if the state is to progress. Speaking on education, he said he was for its adequate support, but he opposed use of taxes on gasoline or oil for the purpose. In the matter of farm relief, he declared the greatest need of many farmers is relief from their own bad management.

Delegates were highly pleased with the way Sparmen people dismissed schools, closed business houses, and united in entertaining the convention. F. P. Reid and George Briggs were present from Pampa. Mr. Briggs spoke briefly on assets of his community.

DOG VS. DOG IN CITY CASE AT DETROIT
DETROIT, Oct. 17.—(AP)—A dog's master assumed the role of faithful friend last night and appeared before the city council of Wyandotte, a suburb, with a plea that his dog be protected from "lickings" administered by a neighbor's dog.

The plea was made by John Campbell, who explained that his dog is ten years old and no match for his neighbor's younger canine. The latter, he said, has been trouncing his veteran pet regularly of late.

In the ensuing debate on the subject, a legal question as to how far a council could go in protecting one dog from another was raised, and finally was referred to the city attorney for an opinion.

Supreme Court Denies Petition of Walter Allen

AUSTIN, Oct. 17.—(AP)—The Supreme Court held today that Walter Allen, candidate for district attorney in the 31st judicial district, cannot individually contest the nomination of Clifford Braley, alleged to be a non-resident of the district, because Allen did not receive a majority of the votes at the primary.

Allen would be suing merely as a voter, under averments of his own petition, the court found, while such contests affecting the public at large must be brought by the State.

The case came to the Supreme Court on six certified questions from the Amarillo Court of Civil Appeals. The Supreme Court answered "No" to the last one, which asked that if Braley is required to be a resident of the district, should the next highest candidate at the July primary be declared the nominee.

Noted Showman Is Here for Festival

An interesting visitor in the city during the showing of the Lachman-Carson shows is Colonel J. F. "Doc" Barry, for the last 56 years announcer with some of the largest shows and carnivals in the country. He is also a lecturer of prominence, having spoken throughout the United States and part of Europe.

"Doc" Barry is one of the oldest showmen in America. He was in Europe with Barnum-Bailey and with the Buffalo Bill Wild West shows. He also lectured in Europe during the war.

He is a man of education and handles the English language with a grace and perfection of a college professor. He will be heard here during the Fall festival which will open tomorrow night at the fair ground.

Although pinched in, the Texas company's No. 6 Saunders in section 4, block 3, A. C. H. and B. survey produced 2,491 barrels of oil yesterday. The well came in late Monday afternoon for an initial flow of 20 barrels an hour. The hole is bottomed in granite wash formation at 2,665 feet.

The flow was less than under ordinary conditions as the cold weather had a tendency to decrease production. The well is flowing natural.

LONG FLIGHT ATTEMPTED IN MOTH PLANE

Commander Mac-Donald Confident of Success

HAS FLOWN BUT 80 HOURS

Has "Hunch" All Is Right for the Take-Off

ST. JOHN'S N. F., Oct. 17.—(AP)—Commander H. C. Macdonald, English aviator, took off from Harbor Grace today in a Moth type airplane in an attempt to fly across the Atlantic ocean to England.

Macdonald, who is 28 years old, came to Newfoundland about three weeks ago and began assembling his plane in preparation for the attempt. Although he said he had had only 80 hours of flying he was confident he could make the flight alone in the small plane.

Since his arrival here the young English flier, has been awaiting favorable weather conditions. He had declared he would not take off until he had a "hunch" that everything was right.

Macdonald said the flight was being financed privately. He was assisted in preparing for the flight by A. F. Williams, a mechanic who accompanied him from England.

Flight Commander H. C. Macdonald arrived from England with his de Havilland Gypsy Moth plane on September 26 with the announced intention of attempting a trans-Atlantic flight from Harbor Grace.

Today's later he said he would take off on October 2, if weather conditions permitted. He made a series of test flights shortly after his arrival by steamer.

The takeoff was 1:21 p. m. Newfoundland time, or 11:41 Eastern Standard time.

CHARGES ARE REDUCED AND FINES ASSESSED

Following a thorough investigation by County Attorney John Stueder, charges of assault with intent to kill and assault with intent to rob, placed against M. W. Smith in justice court, last week, were reduced yesterday to assault and displaying a deadly weapon. Smith pleaded guilty to both charges and was fined $30 and costs on both charges.

Smith's bond last week was set at $2,500 in each case. He was alleged to have assaulted J. Pearson with a pistol.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lang are leaving this afternoon to attend the International Petroleum Exposition in Tulsa, Okla. Mr. Lang is district manager of the Tulsa Rig and Reed company. After attending the exposition, Mrs. Lang will spend two weeks with relatives and friends in Oklahoma.

Soon, the B. C. D.

Passage by the city commission of the ordinance outlining the organization of the Board of City Development is, in effect, the enabling act giving life to the new plan. The next step will be the selection by the present directors of the Chamber of Commerce of thirty men to recommend for membership on the Board. The city commission will then choose the fifteen of these who will serve.

The Board will meet and organize as a working body, with its own rules, officers, paid secretary, meeting place, and the like. For its support the city commission will appropriate funds out of the general revenue. To insure its support, a special levy, not exceeding two mills on the dollar valuation, may be made. The maximum levy would not provide more than $10,000 per year. It appears to The News that taxation is the only equitable way by which this character of work may be supported, and that the levy should not be less than 1 1/2 mills in the present instance. Two mills would come nearer doing away with drives and their burdensome inequalities.

However, it should not be assumed that the Chamber of Commerce will cease to exist with the inauguration of the Board of City Development. It would be unwise to turn all of this kind of public work over to a board of fifteen men. There are big issues in which the entire business structure should be represented. In other words, the Chamber (or Chambers) of Commerce may become the membership section of the Board of City Development. The Board likely will meet twice each month. The Chamber would do well to have a general membership dinner once each month, when outstanding civic problems could be discussed. We believe strongly in the presence and participation of many business men and other citizens. There must be a public forum as well as an executive function in city building.

This arrangement is peculiarly fortunate in that the Chamber may be the clearing house for ideas, good and bad, in which no question of finance is involved. The radical citizen may air his views without the least damage, for the Board members, who should be present when possible, will be listening for suggestions which they will later discuss in their more deliberative sessions.

The history of the B. C. D. movement is one of progression through the Chamber of Commerce idea. The Chamber grew to be an important institution because the city governments are not devised to build roads, encourage agriculture, move county seats, entertain conventions, and do other similar work. Yet this activity is so vital in city building that the right of the work to be supported by taxation and be connected with official government was soon recognized. So today we have the B. C. D. as a division of city government, legitimate in its scope as is the water department or the street division.

Drive Carefully

Three men are dead in Kansas as the result of an accident in which a slow-moving wagon upon a speedway, a flying motorcycle, a group of good Samaritans and a rapidly driven motor car are factors. Three groups of mourning relatives and friends. The support of three families cut off. A fourth accused of neglect in connection with the accident, legally or even morally responsible the tragedy casts a shadow over his remaining years. There is some confusion as to the details in the series of crashes but eventually, when the evidence has been sifted, we may have a clearer idea of just what occurred. But the result will be unchanged as far as the three victims and their families are concerned. Highways like the one on which the accident occurred are built for speed. In speeding vehicles there is danger. Add a slow moving wagon or buggy and there is twice the danger. Such situation result in tragedies. Some day we will have worked out plans to prevent or greatly reduce the number of such accidents. Until that time comes we must pay a fearful toll in human life. We have been equipped with machines which travel at express train speed. Pedestrians, slow moving wagons, darting motorcycles, speeding motor cars all thrown together and we wonder that death results. Only caution can reduce the number of such tragedies. Careful driving, walking and stopping on the highways will lessen the number of accidents. Safety must however, be uppermost in the minds of everyone at all times. Think and act cautiously. Avoid dangerous acts and practices. Always there is some one behind and ahead. At any moment a pedestrian may appear. Whether driving a wagon, a motor car, a motorcycle or on foot, be careful.—Lubbock Avalanche.

The School Amendments

Texas teachers are rallying to the support of the two school amendments to be offered the people of Texas in the coming general election, but unless more active work is done it appears likely that the constitutional changes will fall victim to the prevalent tendency to "kill amendments." The school amendments have the support of the State Department of education, the Texas State Teachers association, and prominent school heads of the state. They provide for a state board of education to take the place of the present ex-officio board of which the governor—strangely enough—is the head. The Teachers association suggests that the board serve without pay on a basis similar to that of the board of regents of the state university. In this way, experienced school men could be had, instead of state officials whose experience and interests are not apt to be much in line with present demands of the board. No appropriation for the purpose is contemplated, although we are unable to see why one should not be made to pay at least the expenses of those who are appointed. The other amendment would give the Legislature power to set by law the length of terms to exceed six years. The evident intent is to make possible longer terms, which, in view of the nature of the work, is highly desirable. The school amendments should be passed. Here is how they read:

"The Legislature shall fix by law the terms of all officers of the public school system and of the state institutions of higher education, inclusive, and the terms of members of the respective boards, not to exceed six years."

"The Legislature shall provide by law for a state board of education, whose members shall be appointed or elected in such manner and by such authority, and shall serve for such terms as the Legislature shall prescribe not to exceed six years. The said board shall perform such duties as may be prescribed by law."

Twinkles

There's another good thing about the B. C. D.—it fits well in most any headline.

There's more in a name than you may think. A little name has infinitely more opportunities to get into the headlines than a long one. And you almost always see Pampa in the heads, while Galveston or Indianapolis hardly ever break into single column decks.

Believe it or not—Prof. Tampke of McLeary high school informs us Gray county will likely gin more than 5,000 bales of cotton.

It sure does hurt a (supposedly—he supposing) great man for you not to know his name, birthplace, and accomplishments. And then there are those who think you should know them if they ever shook your hand when you were a kid. Perhaps the latter are right—you change more than they do.

Prejudices are queer. "I knew him when he was a kid" is an excuse for damning or lauding many a grown man, regardless of his recent career.

A circuit rider preacher strongly urged us to avoid a certain Missouri stretch of road. After long questioning, we uncovered the fact that he had not been over the road in 20 years, and that it had been paved in the interim. But he visualized that road and it seemed real, even after 20 years, including the mud holes.

Mrs. Henry Ford characterizes her husband as "easy going". Not in a Ford, but maybe she meant the New One or the Lincoln.

Diplomacy is too often little used after a man breaks off diplomatic relations with his creditors. Some day, when a stranger asks "What street is this?" we can merely point to a sign on the corner.

Barbs

Might it be said, in a casual way, that drug store clerks conduct sundae schools?

Judges' voices often carry conviction.

A tramp applying for a night's rest in a New York rescue home fled when he was ordered to take a bath. In other words, showed a clean pair of heels.

Mussolini declares he is about to inaugurate a "vigorous" policy. Tired of all this Three midwestern university professors came out for Smith the other day. Which seems to discount reports that he made a good showing on his trip west.

Who remembers the old days when father got all the blame for the ashes on the rug?

WHIRLWIND by ELEANOR EARLY

THIS HAS HAPPENED SYBIL THORNE, a young mother, begins a dangerous affair with JOHN LAWRENCE, her old sweetheart. Ten years before, Sybil and John were engaged. On the eve of their marriage he was sent to France, and later Sybil received word of his death. After mourning him frantically, she sought to mend her broken heart with another man, but her heart contracted a sorry marriage, from which TEDDY—the most adorable of babies—was born. Her husband died in a motor accident the very day her divorce case was called for trial. And, shortly, she encountered John Lawrence—back from the grave. For 10 years John has been a victim of amnesia. He has taken the name of BOGGER CHILD-WELL, and is working for a real estate firm in Houston. Upon meeting Sybil, his memory returns. He tells her that he is engaged, but, nevertheless, seeks to make love to her. MABEL MOORE, Sybil's dearest friend, begs her to have nothing to do with John, but Sybil, desperate to keep from making her husband's father, Mr. LITTLE KITTIE BURNIS, his fiancée. But Sybil provokes him beyond all endurance. And he takes her roughly in his arms. The telephone rings. It is Mabel Moore, to tell Sybil that Teddy is sick. Sybil leaves John, protesting her love for her baby, and telling him she never wants to see him again. When she reaches home, her mother and MABEL and VALERIE, her sister-in-law, are in tears. Something tells her that Teddy has died. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XLVII SYBIL sat up on the bed. She passed her hand dazedly across her forehead, and her eyes were wide with horror. Ted leaned over the footboard, and her mother sat beside her, clasping her hands. Mabel was standing beside Ted, and Valerie stood in the door with a bottle of brandy in her hand, and tears running down her pale cheeks. Her mother's eyes were red and swollen. Wildly Sybil searched their grieving faces. "He's dead," she said. "My baby's dead." Mabel came and stood beside her, and touched her gently. "Mab, do you remember... this afternoon..." Sybil raised dry, dreadful eyes and looked at Mabel like a woman bereft of her senses. "You said—if you had a child... like Teddy..." "Sybil! Don't dear. There was nothing you could do." Tenderly Mabel stroked her hair. "Tell me, Mab—what happened?" They tiptoed from the room then, quietly, as people steal from death and sorrow. And Mabel, taking Sybil's hand, told of the night's stark tragedy. "TEDDY got up, dear, after you went out—" "I want, Mab, to meet John Lawrence."

Harvesters Work Hard as Weather Turns Winter-Like

The cold weather yesterday put snap and pep into the Harvesters' practice. If the cold snap continues, the Canadian eleven is apt to get a bigger surprise than the Miami Warriors did last week. The Canadian boys will step upon the local grid Friday afternoon.

An unknown quantity, the Canadian team is not being taken too lightly by Coach Mitchell and Fox. The Harvesters are being trained to the highest pitch for the battle. The changed lineup will again take the field for the Harvesters.

The change puts Captain Bob Kahl at left end and Jones Setz in the center position. A race is on to see who will fill the gap in the line from where Setz was taken. Willis, Irwin and Mason are fighting for the position and Coach Mitchell has yet to decide who will be at that place against Canadian. Mason will probably be the choice after he learns the signals. He has been out of the line-up for the last two weeks because of sickness. He is the heaviest man trying for the position, although Willis and Irwin are solid and fast.

The game will be called at 3:30 o'clock at Fair Park, the new home of the Harvesters, north of the Cook-Adams addition on the Miami road. The field is being fenced off this week.

This will be the second conference game the Harvesters have played this season. The Miami Warriors went down to a score of 40 to 0 here last Friday before the Gold and Green onslaught. Nothing short of a bi-district championship will suit the Harvesters this year and the coaches are making the boys fight every minute they are in the game.

More Beauty, Color and Style Shown in New Floor Lamps

One of the most interesting developments in home furniture in the last few years is that of floor lamps. From a beginning with the use of crude and unattractive stands for the lamps and shades which now would be considered cheap appearing, they have grown to become a very important part of furniture. Lamps are now one of the first thoughts of the woman who is furnishing her new home. It must be the right shape and size to fit the space where it is to be used and the color and design of the shade must add charm to other objects in the room. The demand for these lamps has increased with the rise of the standard of living of the people. Homes which once had only one lamp now have one or more for each room. The man who once thought they were an expensive luxury now has an easy chair under the favorite floor lamp where he does his reading.

The increased demand for these lamps has caused furniture dealers to carry larger stocks, to get them in larger varieties of shapes, sizes and colors, and to search the market for something "different" for the home. The Pampa Furniture company has met this demand in varied stock for its display and are continually bringing in beautiful new styles and colors for Pampa women. ADV.

Triple-Knot in T. I. A. A. Will Be Broken Saturday

DALLAS, Oct. 17.—(P)—The triple knot in leadership in the T. I. A. A. football race is due to be broken as six members swing into action this week against conference opponents and three others find opposition outside the organization.

Ablene Christian College which tops the standing column with two victories and no setbacks, engages East Texas Teachers, also undefeated in the loop, and Daniel Baker, which already has clinched up a conference victory plays Sam Houston Teachers.

By virtue of its 20 to 0 triumph last week over Southwest Teachers of San Marcos, A. C. C. is picked to humble their foes for the day, while Daniel Baker, conference observers believe, should not have undue difficulty in downing Sam Houston squad.

Because of their 13 to 0 triumph last week over McMurry Indians of Abilene, last year's title holders, Daniel Baker has stamped itself as a team which probably will fight it out with Abilene Christian for conference supremacy.

North Texas Teachers college, after a tie of preliminary games, takes on its first T. I. A. A. team in Stephen F. Austin at Nacogdoches.

In non-conference meets Southwest Teachers play Trinity university at San Marcos, McMurry college lines up against Texas Technological college at Lubbock, and West Texas Teachers play host to Simmons in a home coming affair.

SAN FRANCISCO WINS SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 17.—(P)—For the seventh time in the 25 years existence of the circuit, the San Francisco Seals are champions of the Pacific Coast league. While 7,000 persons looked on here yesterday, San Francisco clinched the pennant in a smashing 9-5 victory over Sacramento.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—(P)—Lycidas, most promising of James Butler's two-year olds, has been destroyed. The winner of the east view stakes at Empire in July and the Bag handicap at Saratoga, broke a leg in a trial gallop at Empire city yesterday. Lycidas, by Valentin-Haggle by Star Shoot was valued at $30,000.

Big Competition On Program for Saturday Football

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—(P)—The "I" will have it hard and heavy in the "dads' day" game at Champaign this week-end when Indiana and Illinois meet for the first time in many years.

Indiana already has a western conference victory on the books, a 6-0 conquest of Michigan last Saturday. Illinois has not yet engaged in big ten competition this year.

For the thirteenth time in Big Ten history Purdue and Wisconsin will meet Saturday, with Wisconsin holding a big edge in the argument. Once has Purdue been victorious, in 1892, and twice the teams have tied.

Iowa and McLean played havoc with Coach Stag's Chicagoans, and the veteran coach is faced with the problem of revamping a squad beset by injuries in preparation for Minnesota's pile driving backs.

It will be Wildcat against Wildcat when Northwestern and Kentucky meet Saturday. Beaten by Ohio, Coach Dick Hanley is girding his men for the Kentucky focus as if it were a Big Ten game.

Michigan's rookie eleven, humiliated by Indiana last week, will attempt to abandon the losing column Saturday at Columbus against Ohio State.

Gives Blood to Save Mother But Wins His Fight

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 17.—(P)—After submitting to a blood transfusion early yesterday which may be the means of saving his mother's life, Freddy Penn, 18, Omaha fighter, stepped into a Council Bluffs, Ia., ring last night in the last round of his bout knocked his opponent down four times, winning the fight.

Penn gave more than a half pint of blood to his mother, who has been near death since Saturday. The transfusion cost Freddy precious pounds in his boxing match and he entered the ring 13-2 pounds lighter than Clarence Berger, his opponent. Freddy's mother was reported improved today.

Public Forum

Editor, Pampa Daily News: The congestion of traffic on the streets of Pampa has come to a stage where some attention should be called to it and some remedies provided. We have a trading center here for a wide area and are daily bringing hundreds of out-of-town shoppers to Pampa to buy. Now, why not give them an opportunity to stop their cars within at least two blocks of the store they wish to visit.

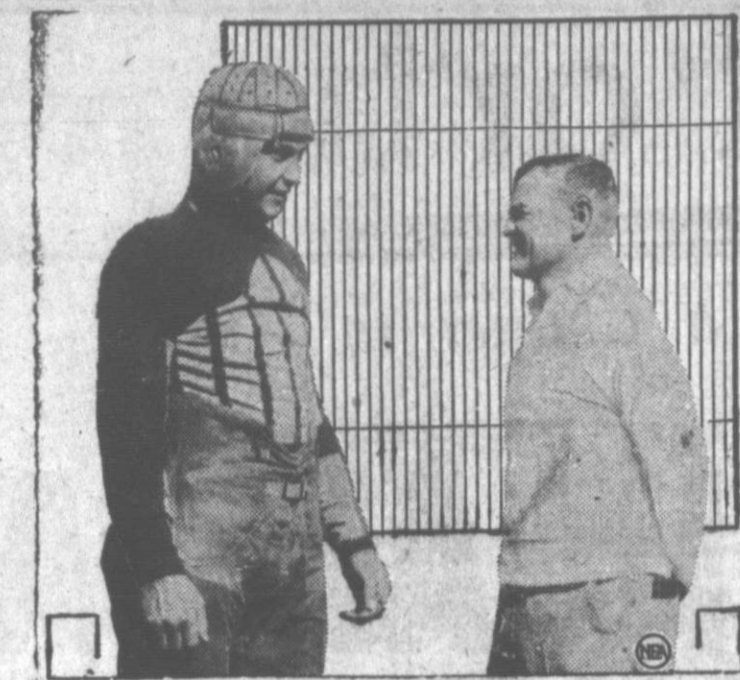

At present, the down-town streets of Pampa have every parking place occupied most of the time and the cars there belong to people who are not buying in the stores in the block. Store owners and managers do not allow parking of their cars or cars of their employees in front of their business houses but there is nothing to prevent them parking them in front of the store first, second, or third door away from the block and a great inconvenience to people who do not feel like carrying purchases all over town to get to their cars.

Other towns have provided remedies for this situation and Pampa should also take action. There should be a time limit on parking at certain sections of the busy streets. Thirty-minutes or one hour limits would be plenty of time for taking care of ordinary business and yet give opportunity for a greater number of visitors and shoppers to buy in Pampa. There should be no objection on the part of business men to the limiting of parking in front of their stores.

Heath Hatcher of the Hill store made a business trip to Panhandle today.

Mrs. John McKinney of Miami is shopping in Pampa today.

Don't Expect to Be Beaten

You will notice that both Bob Zupke, famous Illinois football coach, and Al Nowack, the Illinois captain this year, have broad smiles in this photograph. The smiles are caused, one assumes, from the fact that they don't expect to lose any football games this year. Nowack is at the left.

F. P. Reid attended to business in Amarillo today. Judge and Mrs. J. E. Southwood of Panhandle were visitors here today.

Wrigley to Buy Hornsby If Money Is Any Object

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—(P)—If money is any object, Rogers Hornsby will play with the Cubs next season, William Wrigley, principal owner of the Cubs, said today.

"If it is money the Boston Nationals want, we can give it to them, but the trouble is the amount may run in excess of $200,000," Wrigley said.

The hitch in any dealings to bring the Boston second baseman to Chicago, it was indicated by the club owner, most likely would come through the number and calibre of players the Boston club would demand.

"Doc" Stewart to Retire as Coach

EL PASO, Oct. 17.—(P)—E. J. "Doc" Stewart, football coach at the Texas College of Mines here, will close his thirty-year gridiron career at the end of the present season as announced today.

He plans to devote all of his time to private business. Mack Saxon, former Texas football star, is to become coach of the Miners.

Husband of Gilda Gray May Bare More Scandals

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17.—(AP)—A stack of documents said to contain "charges of a scandalous nature" against Gilda Gray, dancing girl of the stage and screen, today were on their way to London as the first step in marriage annulment proceedings ordered started by Gil Boag, her husband.

The documents were forwarded by Milton Golden, Los Angeles attorney, to his London agents, Cooper, King and company, at the cabled request of Boag, who declared his intention of going ahead with the case in the British courts.

Both Miss Gray and Boag are said to be in London at present. Boag, who for a time played the double role of husband and manager for Miss Gray previously had announced that the annulment suit would charge pre-nuptial fraud.

Miss Gray at the age of 15, was married to John Goretzski, a Milwaukee bartender, and became mother of a son now 14 years of age. She divorced her first husband in 1923. And the next year married Boag.

She filed a divorce complaint against her manager husband in Port Washington, Wis., last July and left for London later to appear in films there. "But believe me, this case now will be more thrilling than any 'Hula-Hula' Gilda ever gave her public," he is reported as having said later.

Smith Goes to Illinois to Make Speech at Chicago

SEDALIA, Mo., Oct. 17.—(AP)—Leaving Missouri to ponder over his triple assault on Coolidge economy, Governor Smith leaves his party's standard in Illinois today to await the signal for the seventh and last speech of his second campaign tour.

The schedule calls for his arrival at 9:45 o'clock tonight in the Lake Michigan metropolis and for stops en route, for rear platform appearances, at Springfield, Bloomington, Joliet, and possibly other Illinois cities. Smith was arrested yesterday by police but was released on his own recognizance. Placards appearing in the window of headquarters of his organization here asserting that "evolution is true; the Bible's a lie, God is a ghost," and "atheist tracts free" were taken as evidence to be used against him in his trial.

Letting of the contract for the erection of a $100,000 school building in the LeFors Independent school district has been postponed until October 27. The contract should have been let Friday, but due to the fact that the bonds had not been returned, a change in the date was announced.

The school building is to be situated in the LeFors townsite and will accommodate students in the consolidated district.

LOVE ATTACKS TAMMANY IN SHERMAN ADDRESS

SHERMAN, Oct. 17.—(AP)—State Senator Thomas E. Love of Dallas declared in an address here last night that from his viewpoint it would be "no less than a crime to vote for Governor Alfred E. Smith and spread over the United States the same sort of government that Tammany hall is now giving in New York."

The Dallas senator, recognized leader of Texas Democrats opposed to that party's presidential nominee, told his audience that the election of governor Smith would mean permanent domination of the party by Tammany Hall.

SENATOR ROBINSON PUZZLED AT WESTERN RECEPTION

EN ROUTE WITH SENATOR ROBINSON TO OGDEN, Utah, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Reluctant to form a definite opinion too hastily, Senator Joseph T. Robinson frankly is puzzled by the warmth and enthusiasm which has been accorded him in the West.

He has been trying to assess the feeling out here in states which have been in the habit of voting the Republican ticket in national elections; to determine whether it means greater sentiment for Governor Smith than he expected to find or whether it is the natural, non-partisan expression of an area of the country usually looked upon as hospitable to visitors.

Hoover Planning Last Speeches of Drive for Office

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover is to conduct a "front porch" campaign during the week intervening between his last eastern trip, that to New York City next Monday, and his departure for his California home to vote an election day.

In that period a number of delegations are expected to call on the Republican presidential candidate at his headquarters here and in his talks to them he will emphasize what he has advanced as the paramount issues of the campaign and the manner in which his party will deal with them if it is granted a further extension of the administration of government.

Between the visits of these delegations Hoover will find time to prepare the last two formal speeches he will make during the campaign, one to be delivered in the Middle West while he is en route to Palo Alto and the other over the radio from the study of his home on the afternoon of November 5.

CURTIS MOVES EAST EN ROUTE WITH CURTIS TO MARTINSBURG, W. Va., Oct. 17.—(AP)—After a day in the South, Senator Charles Curtis, Republican vice-presidential nominee, was on his way today to the East which his party regards as the vital campaign battleground. He speaks this afternoon in Martinsburg and tonight in Wilmington, Del.

High by Night RUTH DEWEY GROVES AUTHOR OF 'WHEN A GIRL LOVES' 'LOVE FOR TWO' etc. NOW, thinking over all the sacrifices she had made, the money she had wanted to send her mother and hadn't because it was to free them both from the ugly confines of poverty, Jerry felt weak and defeated. The room was stifling hot, filled with the heat of the city's masonry that even the night could not entirely release. Jerry had let her mind train itself to picture the things she wanted for her mother and herself. Smooth beaches, roof gardens, the deck of a white and mahogany yacht—she had read of them, seen photographs of them in the news papers. If such places and things existed why should she not aspire to them? Certainly the people who had them had not been content to want less, she reasoned. Her room, by contrast with the things she had dreamed of, seemed doubly hot. And how she hated it—the jaundiced wall paper and threadbare rug, the curtains that hung with a listlessness like her mother's movements. Tired. That was it—the room was tired, perhaps tired of the stream of colorless tenants who came and went, their drab-patterned lives making no imprint. Tired, as her mother was tired of the years that came without event, unheralded, unsung, flat, tedious years. Years like a gray soil that had put forth one blossom to justify its existence and then had gone on molding, drying. Saving to lift her mother, by the only way she knew, into a more gracious world than this, had not been an unadulterated hardship. It had been thrilling to watch her savings account grow. Yesterday, when she had withdrawn it from the bank because she would have no time on Saturday to attend to it, she had felt like dancing out with it. What were sodas and shows then? The risk of leaving it in her room overnight had seemed unavoidable. She was leaving on Sunday morning. She had worried a little over it... there had been a sneak thief in the house two years before, she had heard, but she was too staid before her to think much of trouble. Her new suit case was packed with lovely things. Not a faded or mended garment in it, such as filled her share of the limited drawer space in the mutually-used dresser. She could see it now, from where she lay on the bed. Well, she had that much to show for her thrift. Some pretty clothes. Too bad she hadn't bought the evening dress here that she had planned to get in Atlantic City. She had thought it would be exciting to shop there. She wondered what good the clothes would do her now. SHE was still lying on the bed, fully dressed, when Myrtle returned. Myrtle was excited over something, Jerry supposed, without giving it much thought, that George had been making love to her. "How about a little ice cream?" Myrtle asked, intending to treat. Jerry didn't want ice cream. "Well, say, listen, Jerry, I've been thinking—you'll go camping with me now, won't you?" Jerry didn't answer. "Gee, you'll like it," Myrtle went on. "I was out there last summer, you know. I've got the tent and everything. Bella sold me her half of it when she got married. We used to camp together. George stored it in a garage for me this winter, but I didn't expect to use it. No fun camping alone. What do you say let's run out to Glen Cove tomorrow and see about getting a site? Of course I should have let Mr. Barnes know before this, but he may be able to squeeze us in somewhere. A flicker of interest passed over Jerry's face. Myrtle did not see it but she was sufficiently engrossed with her plans to go on without encouragement. "There's always a swell crowd," she enthused; "and it isn't far from the beach. Come on, say yes. You'll be glad your roll was lifted when you meet some of the boys that camp there. Honestly, Jerry, you'd have had a dumb time all alone in Atlantic City." Jerry did not feel like taking issue with her about that. It was all right to argue when she had a choice. But now if she refused to camp with Myrtle she would have to spend her vacation in town with nothing to do. She hadn't enough money left to pay her fare to her home and return. Before they fell asleep she had promised to go with Myrtle. The decision eased her mind a little. She could go to Atlantic City next year. It was a long time to wait but... she was asleep. THEY drove out to Glen Cove in George's battered little car, built mostly from junked automobiles. Jerry remarked the number of fine motors that purred awfully past them on the highway. "Yeah, the North Shore of Long Island is busy with millionaires," George informed her. Myrtle gave Jerry a sidelong glance. "Not a bad hunting ground, kid," she said. "If you can get in." "How did you happen to find a camp out there?" Jerry inquired, ignoring her suggestion. "Why, this man Barnes has some land in the not-so-high-hat neighborhood that he's holding for speculation," Myrtle explained. "He rents the camp sites to pay his taxes. On a hot summer like this his place is always crowded. I hope we aren't too late." But they were. The camp sites were all taken. "Now what'll we do?" Myrtle wailed when Mr. Barnes gave her the bad news. He didn't know, but she asked him so many times, in such genuine distress, that he was driven to think it out for her. "I'll tell you what I can do for you," he said at last, speaking a bit reluctantly. "I've got a house down near the shore that's empty, been empty for years. Being a kid, you know you can let me camp there. You'll have to boil the water and you'll have to keep quiet. I don't want any trouble with Mr. Carstairs." "Who's Mr. Carstairs?" "Carstairs? Humph. He owns the place next door, and don't you go trespassing or get a gang hanging around, because Carstairs and me are going to do business about that shore property some day. I'm doing this as a favor to you, young lady, and don't you forget it. The Carstairs neighborhood is no place for campers."

Rotarians Have Playlet Showing Directors' Work

A playlet picturing the work of a Rotary directors' meeting was the principal feature of today's meeting of the Rotary club. The program was under the leadership of Neil McCullough, chairman of the Vocational Service committee.
Dr. James Odom took the principal part in the playlet, acting as chairman of the directors' meeting. Other members of the cast were: Earl Stuckey, F. M. Gwin, Joe Smith, Baker Saulsbury, Bob Campbell, Dave Osborne, and Tom Perkins. The theme of the skit, brought out in an interesting and instructive manner, was Rotary classifications. The method of selection of new members and the various requirements for approval of a classification as presented by the members named received the hearty commendation of the entire club.
Joe Strother, official pianist for the club, made a short farewell talk. Mr. Strother expressed appreciation for the opportunity of meeting with the club and inviting the member to call on him in Panhandle, where he has been named pastor of the Methodist church. After the meeting most of the club members went to the auditorium of the church where Mr. Strother entertained them with several selections on the pipe organ.

Ex-Congressman To Speak at Pla-Mor

The Smith-Robinson Club requests every man and woman voter to attend the Pla-Mor Thursday night and listen to the Honorable James Young this distinguished ex-Congressman from Texas. To you, who are still undecided whether you should vote for Hoover or Smith, we especially urge you to come. One thing, there will be no abuse of Hoover. The Smith democrats ask you to be FOR Smith and not merely against Secretary Hoover. The Smith Democrats are willing to concede that both nominees for President of the United States are big Americans. But the Smith Democrats believe that Governor Smith offers more to the average man than Hoover, and that Smith is the foremost and most dynamic political leader in America today. Come and hear Young, and for the time being listen with an open mind. Listen to Young and for the time being forget any utterance you may have heard from the lips of intolerance. Forget that you belong to any party for the time being and listen about what may be said of Governor Smith and the strong and courageous fight he is making for Jeffersonian policies.

Smith Is Strong Booster For Free Public Schools

The public school teachers of the United States are believed to be more united behind the candidacy of Governor Smith than they have ever been behind any other candidate for President excepting only when that great educator Woodrow Wilson was the candidate. And why? Why are the foremost educators of the land so preponderantly for Smith for President? Why is the Republican Frank P. Graves of New York, the State superintendent of that state, for Governor Smith? The answer is simple: Because Governor Smith has shown himself in New York to be the friendliest governor to free public schools that New York has ever had in its entire history. Governor Smith forced through a law in his State guaranteeing equal wages for men and women teachers, and he signed the largest appropriation bills for public education that any Governor of any State has ever signed. His record since he was first elected Governor there in 1918 stands out as the distinct friend of education. Governor Smith believes that every parent has the right to send his children to any private school of his own selection but that the best free public schools must be maintained.

Smith and Robinson Speak Straight from the Shoulder

The ticket of Smith and Robinson is a strong ticket from every standpoint. Both are campaigners. Both have been tried and found not wanting by the people in their home states. Both speak squarely from the shoulder.

on every public question. Neither is compelled to write his speeches three weeks in advance and then before delivery submit those speeches to high party politicians for approval through fear of splitting his party on prohibition, law enforcement or farm relief or water power site problems.

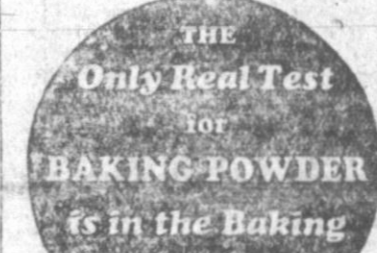

Everyone Invited

Follow the band Thursday night to the Pla-Mor and hear Congressman Young deliver a Democratic speech. The above space is reserved by the Smith-Robinson Club. Watch and react that day by day.

Mrs. Ihrig---

missed one of the biggest—certainly the most important and vital thing in her life. She has missed the happiness road altogether.
Married women who are working hearken unto Mrs. Ihrig, who emphatically states this is all wrong, unless such is an absolute necessity; for instance, where the husband is ill and cannot provide. Otherwise, woman, Mrs. Ihrig, states, is utterly failing to perform her part of what is supposed to be a 50-50 proposition.
"Marriage" Mrs. Ihrig says, "is a co-operative business. In proposing, the man in reality, is asking the woman if she will co-operate with him in this business and she, by consenting to the partnership, agrees to. The marriage business entails a 50-50 performance on the part of both.
"Man fulfills his part of the bargain when he goes out into the world and makes sufficient money to support the two. The woman lives up to her bargain, when she runs the home as it should be conducted and sees to it that the man has the proper foods, three times a day, when she prepares the bath for him; has the laundry at her finger tips; if she would do these things in a systematic way, she would find from the economy resulting that she would save more than in the effort to work and have money.
"By giving her husband the proper food, she would find that happiness would not slip out of her grasp. She would also discover that her husband was more successful in his affairs. For example, you can imagine the mood of a man returning to his work after having a cold plate of beans or something quite as useless. Of course, he would not be in a mood for any work.

"One cannot be successful without being happy and contented. One cannot work unless he is contented. It stands to reason then, that without proper food one cannot be happy and contented and therefore cannot do the work he should. It takes food to make a man contented. The man must be trained in his life's work and likewise the wife should conscientiously train herself in the art of homekeeping.
Answers to all these problems will be presented to housewives of Pampa during the course of five educational lectures which have been arranged by the Daily News. Not only does Mrs. Ihrig discuss in an interesting manner, the various topics of her program but demonstrates a practical way, taking her audience through the program step by step so that everyone may understand thoroughly.
This series of lectures is arranged for it's women readers of the Daily News commencing Monday, Nov. 5 through Friday Nov. 9, each afternoon at 2:30.
Mrs. J. E. Pafford and Mrs. Mer Nelson of Claude are in the city today

The automobile to be given, as everybody knows, are a Buick Silver Anniversary Sedan, costing $1550, a Whippet Sedan, costing $778, and a Chevrolet Coach, costing $736.50. Approximately $1000 worth of genuine diamond rings and Bulova watches will be given as district prizes, the latter being on display in the windows of the Diamond shop, these awards were purchased.
Prospective entrants are invited to view the show rooms of the automobile dealers and see for themselves, the wonderful prizes that are to be given. The average person will work at the old job for quite a while before getting together the required number of silhouettes to plank down for a Buick Sedan, but in the Daily News campaign it takes only spare time effort for a few weeks.
If you want one of the big prizes and are willing to work a little bit for it between now and December 15, fill out a "Nomination Blank" for yourself and send it in today.
