HOOVER IS WELCOMED AT LATIN-AMERICAN PORTS OF CALL

PRESIDENT TO BE SPEAKS OF COMMON GOOD

Brief Talks Made at Two Seaports of South

AT NICARAGUA TOWN TODAY

Attack on His Trip Draws Fire in Mexico

U. S. S. MARYLAND, Nov. 27. (AP)—Carrying Herbert Hoover to the third country of his South American tour, the battleship Maryland anchored two miles off Corinto, Nicaragua, at 7 a. m. today. Preparations were made to land Mr. Hoover and his party within a few hours.

Hoover, in his first speeches on this present trip, told the people of Honduras and of San Salvador, he was paying them a call of friendship in behalf of the people of the United States. Both addresses stressed the need for mutual understanding between the United States and other democracies of the American continent.

At both seaports yesterday he was given a warm welcome. The military was present in gorgeous uniforms. There were salute and return salutes, the hoisting of flags and bands playing "The Star Spangled Banner."

The president-elect spoke first at Amapala. "In our daily life good neighbors call upon each other as the evidence of solicitude for the common welfare," he said, "and to each of the circumstances and point of view of each so that there may come both understanding and respect which are the elementary forces of all enduring society."

He told his audience that the United States and Honduras were pledged through the blood of their forefathers to national independence.

"We in the United States have learned much from the experience of our Latin-American neighbors and we in turn take pride in our contributions to the common good of human advancement in these one hundred and fifty years. Therefore, I have felt that the larger personal acquaintance with both our neighboring countries and with their points of view and above all with the men who have been elected to responsibility in their governments, would be valuable in the task which lies before me."

"Those who know the United States," he declared, "know also that we have only one desire and that is to cooperate to a constantly improving understanding; to common progress and to common attainment."

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 27. (AP)—The wrath of the chamber of deputies was aroused last night when Herman Laborde, labor member, quoting the British press, launched a bitter attack against Herbert Hoover's good-will tour and Ambassador Morrow's work in Mexico. Leaders of the chamber leaped to the forefront and warmly defended both Americans.

CORINTO, Nicaragua, Nov. 27. (AP)—Corinto was gaily decorated with flags bunting and welcome signs today in honor of the visit of President-elect Hoover.

A Prize Bonehead

(Editorial)

Few times in a lifetime is one apt to see a greater error, a wider deviation from common good judgment, than that just perpetrated in the name of "Industrial Dallas, Inc."

It appears that, in attempting a piece of strategy in the fight between Dallas and Fort Worth, one or more rabid members of the Dallas industrial group has run down Fort Worth's territory in an attempt to improve the standing of Dallas. As it happens, the area left to Fort Worth on the map of "buying power" being distributed by "Industrial Dallas, Inc.", is largely in West Texas, much of which appears as "poor."

Pampa, for instance, is left in the "poor" zone. You folks of Pampa and Gray county, who boast of your assets, take it from "Industrial Dallas, Inc.," that you have "poor buying power" and mean little to Eastern capitalists looking for a good territory in which to invest. Your vaunted oil, your wheat, your growing dairy industry and cattle business are negligible.

MIDWEST GETS PRODUCTION ON NORTH EDGE OF WILCOX

Road Meeting Is Delayed by Absence of Many Officers

The meeting of the executive and legislative committees of the Panhandle Highway association to have convened here this afternoon has been postponed until sometime next week, Secretary George W. Briggs announced this morning. Important business made it impossible for several members to be present today.

Judge A. A. Callaghan, president of the association, has been called to Kansas City on business. The delegates from Canadian, Dalhart and Memphis also are absent on business.

Only California Shows Increase in Oil Production

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 27. (AP)—An increase in the total estimated daily average production of light and heavy oils in the United States but a general decrease in all fields excepting California areas was indicated by the Current Oil & Gas Journal report for the week ending November 24.

Oklahoma reported an approximate decrease in light oils of 2,000 barrels, approximately 18,000 barrels in light oils. The Mid-Continent area decreased approximately 13,000 barrels in light oils and approximately 10,000 in heavy.

Gulf Coast, Southwest Texas, Eastern and Rocky Mountain areas reported slight decreases in both heavy and light oils.

California increased approximately 21,000 barrels in light oils and decreased approximately 1,000 barrels in heavy oils.

The grand total estimated daily average production for the United States for the week was 2,508,613 as compared to 2,505,229 for the preceding week. The total increase was 3,384 barrels. The total light oil increase was 3,996 barrels.

Theft of Equipment at Well Charged

A local man is being held in the county jail awaiting a preliminary hearing on charges of theft of property valued at more than $50. The man is alleged to have stolen several valves, heaters, equipment and a boiler from a well being drilled near here.

Practically everything reported stolen has been recovered. Officers are still searching for the big boiler taken from the location.

TRUSTEES TAKE ACTION TO HALT EPIDEMIC HERE

Prevalence of Smallpox Basis of Drastic Request

STUDENT'S MUST SHOW IMMUNITY

Physicians Offer Help in Quarantine Enforcement

Drastic action taken by the school board last night to prevent a smallpox epidemic here. It was decided to make vaccination compulsory and pupils who have not been successfully vaccinated within the last five years or have not had the smallpox will not be admitted to the schools Monday morning without a doctor's certificate showing that they were vaccinated this week-end.

It will also be necessary to have a certificate showing that the student was successfully vaccinated within the last five years before that student will be admitted to school after the holiday. The epidemic is present in the city, but if precaution is not taken immediately, it may become serious, was the attitude taken by the school board at its meeting last night.

Dr. A. Cole, city health officer, stated that the medical profession of the city would assist in every way in enforcing the city quarantine law. "There is much sickness here," Dr. Cole said, "and the only way we can combat an epidemic is to be strict in the enforcement of the city ordinance."

THREAT BARED IN PROBE OF HIDALGO VOTE

M'ALLEN, Nov. 27. (AP)—Sid Hardin of Mission, testified before the congressional house election committee today that he was forced by threats of indictment for libel to withdraw his charges of excessive expenditures and illegal voting in the campaign of Congressman John Garner for re-election from the fifteenth Texas district.

M'ALLEN, Nov. 27. (AP)—An unidentified deputy of County Clerk Cam Hill, Hidalgo county, where a congressional committee is inquiring into alleged election frauds along the Texas-Mexican border, was summoned to appear before the hearing in the Baptist church today and tell what he knows about the Weslaco box returns.

He box was thrown out by the county commissioners court because returns were not sealed, as required by law, the commissioners and county judge testified yesterday. Hill testified one of his deputies had opened the returns before they went to the commissioners canvass and he did not know whether they were sealed before that. He was instructed to produce the deputy.

One major county candidate of the Citizen Republican or Independent ticket would have won if the Weslaco box had been retained. The Independents, whose charges of illegal voting, helped bring the committee here, tried unsuccessfully to overthrow the democratic administration forces, led by Sheriff A. Y. Baker.

A strenuous effort by Congressman Leving Black of New York to bring out what he styled the only evidence justifying a congressional inquiry into a local election situation, failed in a near squabble. The committee voted Black down in his quest to reveal the identity of an unrevealed source of an "outside influence" hinted at in testimony as intimidating Hidalgo Democrats voters.

Everybody Wishes Free Turkey in Daily News' Big Subscription Race; Ten-Pound Bird Award for Extra Work

She's Speeding Up

Six o'clock tomorrow night! That's the hour nearly every contestant in the Daily News' big $5,000 automobile and prize contest has up in mind. It's the zero hour for the free turkeys.

Every contestant who turns in $50 worth of subscriptions before 6 o'clock tomorrow night, gets a 10-pound Thanksgiving turkey free—extra reward for extra effort. The turkeys will be dressed or on the hoof, according to the desires of the winners.

Indications that the campaign manager would have to provide more turkeys than he originally figured on were apparent today. Nearly every contestant in Pampa, and practically all of those in District No. 2 have voiced their intention of winning one. Bu, the more the merrier. The C. M. hopes he will have to go to market with every one and produce a turkey. The fact that there is no competition in a sense, for the turkeys make the offer quite popular. Contestants know in advance just what they have to turn in to win one. Fifty dollars—more if you want to, but no less.

Turkey winners are requested to be present at the News office at 6 o'clock tomorrow night when the shopping tour will commence. Winners can pick out their own market, and their own turkeys. Also, contestants are requested to turn in early tomorrow afternoon in order that purchases can be made promptly.

Thanksgiving day will be observed in appropriate manner by all contestants, but it is anticipated that everyone will be right back on the job early Friday, because of the two extra added $50 cash prizes, which go to the two contestants, one in district No. 1, and one in district No. 2 who turn in the largest amounts in subscription money for the week beginning at 8 a. m. Monday and continuing until 9 p. m. Saturday, December 1. The winning of a cash prize will have a great bearing on one's ultimate chances of winning one of the big automobiles when the campaign comes to a final finish at 9 o'clock Saturday night, December 15.

For every $20 worth of subscriptions turned in this week, a bonus of 80,000 extra votes towards the cars is given. This offer is so large that no contestant can afford to rest on laurels previously won. Someone else might slip ahead. The 80,000 offer will never be duplicated nor repeated. It is the best remaining vote offer of the contest. Next week the vote offer will drop and the final week they take another big drop.

ELECTION OF COMMISSION IS ALSO OPPOSED

Governor Addresses Body of Representatives on Highway

COMMITTEES TO BE NAMED

Sterling Will Present Statewide Bond Issue Plan

AUSTIN, Nov. 27. (AP)—Firm opposition to any plan to divide the state into districts and elect members of the highway commission was voiced here today by Governor Moody in addressing the committee of 31, organized at his suggestion to consider and recommend highway legislation to the first legislature.

The committee's report on permanent organization was adopted making Martin chairman, J. H. Penland of Waco vice-chairman, and John V. Singleton of Waxahatchie, secretary. Members of the organization committee were O. W. Higgins, Houston, chairman; Roger Gillis, Del Rio; W. A. McCartney, Texarkana; M. K. Graham, and Will B. Marsh, Dallas.

The committee recommended the appointment of three sub-committees as suggested by the governor, each to have a membership of 10. Martin was empowered to name the committees and designate the chairman of each. The committee as a whole invited presentation of plans and ideas by anyone, and when the governor was specifically named to give his suggestions of legislation, he said he had none.

The suggestion of G. P. Webb of Sherman that the governor and members and secretary of the highway commission be made ex-officio members of the sub-committees was voted down on motion of Pat Williams of Mineral Wells, who said his understanding was the committee was to be an independent body and expressed fear adding these to the committees would destroy what good might come from the conference.

G. P. Webb of Sherman wanted to appoint a committee on order of business, but was held out of order when M. K. Graham of Graham contended that the committee already had order of business, that of listening to plans and ideas of legislation as suggested by the committee on permanent organization.

R. S. Sterling, chairman of the state highway commission, proposed a statewide bond issue, secured by the gasoline tax, as the "one way of getting a connected system of highways in a reasonable length of time." He said he hoped to present his plan to the sub-committee highway review.

But not so, of course. Gray county ranks far above many of the East Texas counties marked "good" or "best". It is a sad decay of industrial leadership in Dallas to be so far behind the times.

Such leadership is not representative of Dallas, and will certainly be repudiated by the thinking citizens of that good city.

Manager George W. Briggs of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce framed the following protest to M. J. Norrell, manager of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce:

"I was very much interested in a map published in the Star-Telegram Sunday, and issued by 'Industrial Dallas, Inc.' I note that the greater part of West Texas is rated 'poor' from the standpoint of buying power, while practically all of East Texas is rated from 'fair to best'.

"I am wondering just how these figures were obtained. In the years I have been connected with Chamber of Commerce work, I have endeavored to quote figures, not only correctly, but fairly to all sections, and I am sure that Industrial Dallas, Inc., intends to do likewise. But it puzzles me, when I see counties in East

Texas rated as best that I know, personally, are generally ranked pretty low, and then find counties in West Texas, that have far greater land values, and even industrial values, as well as crop values, rated as poor.

"For example, Gray county produced 500,000 bushels of wheat this year, besides other varieties of grain and feed crops, as well as several thousand bales of cotton. This county will have produced by the end of the year something like 9,000,000 barrels of high grade oil, besides more than 20,000,000 gallons of gasoline.

There are also seven large carbon black plants in the county. In addition, hundreds of millions of feet of gas is piped out daily to many other cities.

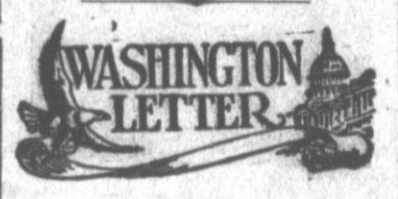

"Pampa's Independent school district ranks as the seventh richest district, per capita, in Texas.

"I could quote you other interesting figures of this county and many other West Texas counties, but I think that these are sufficient.

"It may be that I do not understand the purpose of this map, not what these figures mean, but certainly, regardless of that fact, and regardless of how these figures are obtained and applied, I consider that Industrial Dallas, Inc., has done a harm to West Texas that should be corrected so far as possible.

"It makes no difference in what manner these figures are obtained or applied; its effect upon the minds of the many people will certainly be that West Texas is a country to stay away from.

"To be frank, I think some one was asleep at the switch, for certainly it was poor judgment for Industrial Dallas, Inc., and mighty hard on West Texas to put out such a map for any purpose whatsoever."

WASHINGTON—The poor Washington correspondent gets it both in the neck and in the gullet. He is damned if he tells what he knows and damned if he doesn't.

"Why don't you fellows really write the truth, and the whole truth?" demand indignant reformers. And at the other extreme, more than one person outside these sacred precincts has remarked knowingly to your correspondent:

"I guess those fellows down in Washington have to watch their step pretty careful or you newspaper birds will be writing about their misbehaviors. Huh?"

The only correct answer to the second question, of course, is something like a loud horse-laugh. The Washington newspapermen seldom tell tales about anyone.

The other question, perhaps demands more of an explanation. It involves the local scandal, of which there is generally plenty. Your correspondent finds on his trips away from the capital that, for some reason or other, the average gentlewoman is first of all interested in the private peccadilloes and secret vices of the so-called great. Most of them are satisfied by an earful but, as hereinbefore indicated, there is a minority of earnest-minded folk who demand publication of the low-down on each and all, let the libel suits fall where they may.

Of course, the fear of libel suits is one of the restraining influences imposed upon a Washington correspondent, but it is a minor one because he probably in any event would not send to his paper any little morsels of untruth. A much more powerful factor is the average correspondent's tendency to kowtow to those upon whom he is constantly conferring valuable publicity favors. But perhaps the most important fact of all is that the average publisher and average reporter have the instincts of gentlemen.

One does not, for instance, publicly chronicle the drunkenness of a high official or member of the Senate, although such information is often demanded by the thoughtless.

The Washington News last spring promised to publish the names of any members of Congress who were palpably drunk on the floor—a warning which had a salutary effect—but even the boldest hesitant about naming the culprit because it would be difficult to prove that the senator hadn't merely had an attack of the heebie-jeebies or wasn't trying to give his friends an imitation of Jim Barton.

If a congressman gallops down the corridors of the house office building, on horseback or on foot, in close pursuit of his pretty secretary, that incident is also ignored in the public prints unless the girl prefers charges, which she doesn't. After all, the congressman may be good to his constituents.

If an official gives an exhibition of silly jealousy concerning his wife and a subordinate, the correspondents ignore the incident, if only out of consideration for the official's wife.

If a presidential candidate admits to a correspondent that the president, although leader of his party, has never given any indication that he would like to see the candidate elected, the story is not printed because the remark is given in confidence.

If a White House attaché reveals privately that a distinguished occupant of that

Perhaps some of these reasons for withholding "news" may not seem sufficient to everyone.

Occasionally someone squawks because we boys don't tell in our dispatches just how dumb and incompetent some of our officials and so-called statesmen really are. But that's a matter of opinion. In politics one man's dub is another man's hero.

Harvesters to End Season With Thanksgiving Tilt

As far as football is concerned, the Pampa Harvesters will hang their heads up for the 1928 season after the post-season game with Panhandle here Thursday afternoon. The Panhandle eleven will meet the Harvesters at Fair park Thanksgiving afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Smarting under a 31-to-19 defeat at the claws of the Canyon Eagles, the local eleven will be in a fighting mood to win the last game of the season. Panhandle has the strongest team in history. It held the Hereford White Faces to a 13 to 7 score for bi-district honors.

The two teams will weigh practically the same, with the Harvesters having the advantage in the line. Coach Mitchell is putting his boys through a stiff week's practice for the final game of the season.

The Harvesters' running backfield, Walstad, Saltzman and Lard should make long gains around the Wolves' big ends, while Roberts, Jones, Chastain and Tracy will be used to hit the line.

Of the 13 games played this year the Harvesters have won nine and lost four. They were put out of the conference by Ferryton playing for bi-district honors.

Unfair Rates to Corpus Christi Are Reported to I. C. C.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27. (AP)—The interstate commerce commission was advised today by an examiner, C. H. Mattingly, that railroad rates on cotton moving to coastwise and export routes via Corpus Christi, Texas, are now unfairly made.

Mattingly, who investigated a complaint of the port authority at Corpus Christi, concluded that other Texas ports were now enjoying rates on the export and coastwise movement of cotton from southwestern states which were much better than these given Corpus Christi. He suggested that the commission order railroads to make new schedules to Corpus Christi, giving rates, distance considered, equal to those possessed by other Texas ports. The commission itself will pass upon the finding and allow opportunity for argument and protest before taking any action.

Avery to Meet Improved Granite Next Thursday

Since that time the local boy has been making a name for himself, especially in his K. O. of Wildcat Monte, claimant of the lightweight championship of the southwest. Avery also took a victory from Monte, but by the decision route.

A return match has been arranged between Speedy Snow, local boy, and Kid Stewart of Akron, Ohio. Snow took the count in the third round of a scheduled eight-round bout when they last met but he declares he can beat the northerner this time.

Another bout that is causing some interest will be between Galvin Jones, Fort Worth negro, and Kid Norfolk, Wichita Falls negro.

Preliminaries will open the card.

Georgia Tech May Play California

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 27. (AP)—Georgia Tech, undefeated and united in a strenuous season, would be "pleased to consider" an invitation to meet California in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena on New Year's Day.

New Faces for Cleveland

That the rich owners of the Cleveland Indians are willing to spend all the money necessary to obtain the best baseball talent available, can be seen in that club's recent purchase of Earl Averill and Dick Porter, minor league outfielders, at a total sum of approximately $100,000. Averill was obtained from San Francisco for $50,000 and two players, while Porter came up from Baltimore for $40,000 and two players. Today Rev. W. S. Critchley, pastor, said if the commission refused to issue a permit, members of the church would hold classes without one.

Great Eastern Teams to Meet Visiting Elevens

NEW YORK, Nov. 27. (AP)—Three of the East's greatest elevens have picked intersectional foes for the grand finale of the season.

New York University, with as great an all-around aggregation as there is in this sector, tackles the Oregon Aggies on Thanksgiving Day at Yankee stadium. The Army, another eleven that has known defeat only once this season, meets Stanford in the big battle of the East on Saturday. On the same day Georgetown, turned back only by Carnegie Tech, goes into the West to wind up the season with a battle against Detroit, one of the very small company of unbeaten and united teams.

Sports Scribes See Hot Game at Austin Thursday

AUSTIN, Nov. 27. (AP)—It seems to be settled that Thursday's game between Texas Longhorns and the Aggies will be too close for those with heart trouble. Everybody has been guessing for a month that it will be a nip and tuck affair, and now the sports editors of the Texas newspapers confirm this suspicion.

Acting on invitation of Austin American, sport scribes of nine Texas newspapers have gone on record as giving it as their honest-to-goodness conviction there will not be more than a single touchdown between the contenders when the fourth quarter ends Thursday.

T. C. U. Is Working Hard on Defense

Carey Refused to Accept Help After S. O. S. Was Sent

NEW YORK, Nov. 27. (AP)—Testimony that Captain Carey of the British liner Vestris told a ship an hour after his S. O. S. that he did not need help was on the record of the federal inquiry into the disaster today.

The radio log of the British liner Cedric showed that at 10:55 on the morning the Vestris sank, she received the message, "Thanks, don't need your help. Proceed, Carey." It was an answer to her own message that she was 180 miles away and would come to the aid of the Vestris if needed.

"We are going to Stockholm and live where I have a flat," the count said on his arrival from Sweden with members of his wedding party. "I intend to have a radio, an electric refrigerator, and a vacuum cleaner, just like all other folks have."

Bridge Enjoyed in Colorful Setting At Party Yesterday

Lovely leaves from the woods of Pennsylvania decorated Mrs. C. M. Bryson's home yesterday for one of the most enjoyable parties of the season. The curtains were drawn and masses of the bright leaves hung on wall sconces and chandeliers gave the lights a soft glow.
Seven tables were arranged for bridge with appointments for the game featuring a Thanksgiving motif. The tallies and table markers were handpainted in oak-leaf design. Little Puritan maids and men decorated nut cups which were passed with the refreshment plates at the tea hour.

At the close of the game, favors were awarded for high, second-high and low cuts. These went to Mrs. R. R. House, Mrs. C. C. Cook, and Mrs. W. A. Bratton. To Dedicate Pampa Church

The Rt. Rev. R. A. Gerken, first bishop of the diocese of Amarillo, will be the chief figure in the dedication ceremony of Holy Souls Catholic church on Thanksgiving Day, and will deliver the sermon to a confirmation class of fifteen. One of the youngest men ever to be elevated to the office of bishop, the Rt. Rev. Gerken is recognized as one of the ablest churchmen in the Southwest. He was installed in the newly erected diocese of Amarillo on April 28, 1927.

Mrs. Phoebe K. Warner of Claude, Noted Newspaper Woman and Club Leader, Will Address A. A. U. W. and College Club

Mrs. Phoebe K. Warner, pioneer educator and club woman of the Panhandle and a newspaper writer and speaker of note throughout the Southwest, will address the A. A. U. W. and College club of Pampa at its luncheon Saturday, speaking on "Rural Education in Texas."

From the pioneering days of West Texas, Mrs. Warner has been prominently identified with educational movements in this section of the state. She was not only influential in bringing more and better rural schools, high schools and small colleges to the Panhandle, but she has been a factor in securing legislative measures which have been of benefit to the entire state.

Mrs. Warner's efforts on behalf of education in Texas have not been limited, however, to schools. Viewing education in the broader sense, she has supported other causes which aid the great cause and lead to better standards of living. She has given of both time and means to the Boy Scout movement. She is a strong advocate of rural extension work in much of her newspaper writing she stresses the importance of the work done by county agents and home demonstration agents. She is chairman of the committee on county federations of women's clubs in Texas and is nationally recognized authority on the subject.

When she addresses the luncheon club Saturday, Mrs. Warner will be speaking on a subject that has been a foremost interest with her for many years. Always an able and interesting speaker, she will perhaps throw even more of remarkable personality into the lecture than she usually does. The address will doubtless be one of the club's best offerings to its members this year and a large crowd is expected for the luncheon.

CAPITOL News

By Kirke L. Simpson
 WASHINGTON.—Informed opinion in Washington anticipates the selection of Dwight Morrow, ambassador to Mexico, as secretary of state under President Hoover.
 Many considerations will prompt that development, those in the know hold, although Mr. Hoover is declared to have gone through the campaign without having committed himself in advance in any way as to his cabinet selections.

Morrow To Succeed Kellogg?
 Among compelling reasons for Morrow's probable promotion to head the cabinet is the belief that the Hoover administration will concentrate every effort on expansion of the Latin American market for American manufactured goods. Mr. Hoover is described as realizing fully the probability that he will have to deal with an industrial surplus as well as with the farm products surplus.
 He gave indication frequently as secretary of commerce that he regarded South and Central America as the natural outlet for American manufactured goods which must find foreign consumption. And with Morrow at the helm in the state department, fresh from what amounted to his single handed success in restoring amicable relations with the Calles government in Mexico, the old cry of American imperialism cannot have any great value to anti-American agitators in the south. Morrow is a proven quantity, an anti-bolshevik diplomat, due to his Mexican experience.

Morrow-Kellogg Story
 The queer thing about nomination of Morrow to succeed Frank B. Kellogg as cabinet dean would arise from the fact that the ambassador is understood to have been opposed to the Kellogg nomination by President Coolidge. A well authenticated tale pictures Morrow as falling to reach the Coolidge car to protest against that selection only by a breakfast engagement with the president for the purpose, but reached Washington the day after Kellogg's selection was announced.
 According to this tale, Morrow was resting and waiting at a spot in the south when friends from the corn belt visited him to urge that he intercede with the president against Kellogg's nomination. Morrow finally agreed and made his breakfast date with his old college chum in the White House, but did not indicate what he wanted to talk about. The financier and his Iowa friend, accompanied by Morrow's brother, the general, traveled up to Washington in a private car, arriving very early and their car being switched out on a siding while they slept.
 It so happens that the Morrow brothers have a favored New York paper to which they largely confined their news reading at that time. The general was restless and popped out at the Washington station to get a paper while his traveling companions still slept. It was too early for the morning's New York dailies to have been distributed, so he got a day old edition and then took a stroll.
 Not until he started back to the car did he open his paper and when he did so, announcement of Kellogg's appointment stared him in the eye from the front page.
 It's easy to imagine that Morrow's objections to the Kellogg appointment got no mention at all at his breakfast talk an hour or two later with President Coolidge. What would have been the use?

Byrd's Expedition Is Assembled at New Zealand Port
 WELLINGTON, N. Z., Nov. 27. (AP)—All units of Commander Richard E. Byrd's Antarctic expedition were assembled at Dunedin today for the first time since the first contingent left the United States.
 Commander Byrd will leave for the Ross sea on Saturday aboard the Barque City of New York. The other supply ship will leave soon afterwards.
 It was announced that Richard Brophy of New York, the expedition's business manager, had been appointed second in command.
 Part of the expedition which totals 80 persons came to Dunedin aboard the supply ship Kleanor Bolling last week. The others arrived yesterday on the City of New York.
 One of the most important phases of the great adventure, namely the voyage from New Zealand to the ice barrier and the disembarkation there of a huge quantity of equipment and supplies, will be started when the Kleanor Bolling leaves a week later than the City of New York. The City of New York will carry Commander Byrd.

Visited Lindy's Mother Abroad

Miss Elizabeth Morrow, daughter of Dwight Morrow, U.S. Ambassador to Mexico, is pictured as she arrived in New York after a sojourn in the Near East. She visited Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh, mother of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh. Rumor of a romance still links the name of Miss Morrow with that of the flying hero.

Lowlands Flooded in European Storm

LONDON, Nov. 27. (AP)—Floods today followed in the wake of a four-day gale which caused the loss of a score of vessels in western European waters and possibly took a toll of 100 lives.
 From Belgium north to the Frisian island, lowlands were flooded as the sea was driven in upon them by raging winds. Dykes and sea walls gave way to the rush of waters.
 Police, soldiers and civilians were working frantically in Antwerp to repair broken dykes there and on the opposite side of the Scheldt. The city water and gas pipes were undermined and gave way. The suburbs were flooded. Industrial plants in Hoboken and elsewhere were closed. A hole 60 yards in circumference and six yards deep was made in the Grand palace at Antwerp.

Here's How Begging Problem is Handled in Fayetteville, N. C.

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C., Nov. 27. (AP)—O. Oliver is in jail for two months but when yarns about hard luck are in order he can tell his experiences here.
 Oliver, who gave his address as Norfolk, Va., was hungry when he reached Fayetteville. He approached a man and murmured something about money, coffee and doughnuts.
 "Do you know who I am?" asked the citizen.
 "I don't think I have had the honor, Mr. ar-ah—" began Oliver.
 "I am the city judge." The city judge told Oliver about the begging laws of Fayetteville.
 "My error, pardon," said Oliver and he went his way.
 He singled out another man as a kind-hearted individual and repeated the dime, coffee and doughnuts speech.
 "Do you know who I am?" came the query.
 "The mayor," hazarded Oliver.
 "No the prosecuting attorney."
 "I know all about the begging laws," laughed Oliver, "just a little joke. Good-bye."
 Oliver tried once more.
 "Do you know who I am," was the question.
 "I am not sure," said Oliver, "but I'm afraid you are the chief of police."
 "Wrong," said the citizen. "I am the mayor. Come along with me."
 With the city judge on the bench and the mayor as a witness, the prosecuting attorney was not needed. Oliver got 60 days for vagrancy.

Oil on Coast Killing Wild Fowl

BEAUMONT, Nov. 27. (AP)—Hundreds of water fowl are dying in the marshes along the coast, unable to fly because of accumulation of oil on their wings.
 Louis Welch, commissioner of Sabine Pass, said here yesterday. Large amounts of crude and waste oil are found along the beach, Welch said, and ducks and geese gradually accumulate such an amount that they are unable to fly. During the week and many people were seen in the waters about Sabine Pass killing the helpless birds.

Selecting Next Year's Captains Before Eleven

CHICAGO, Nov. 27. (AP)—The Big Ten's 1928 football championship campaign is over, but the future plans of Coach Jack Wilke of Ohio State, next season's heavy schedule, election to captains, claims for All-American and all-conference honors and the forthcoming convocation of athletic officials provided plenty of post-season chatter.
 Beyond admitting he had several "attractive offers," Coach Wilke, who resigned as Ohio State mentor following the storm of alumni criticism last year, refused to comment on reports he had been offered posts at Harvard, Nebraska, Dartmouth and even another chance at Ohio State.
 A survey of the 1922 schedules reveals an ambitious program for Big Ten teams. Four important inter-sectional games have been scheduled with eastern teams. Harvard will come west to play Michigan, the Army will invade Illinois, Coach Stagg will take his Chicago eleven to Princeton to battle the Tigers, and Colgate and Wisconsin will clash at Madison. Indiana will meet Notre Dame.

50-Acre Farm Produces 3 Million Eggs Yearly

PUBLIC FORUM

Editor, Pampa Daily News:

While in your beautiful, progressive little city on October 27, I had the misfortune to lose a purse containing $30, railroad annuals, and a black Rosary and silver medal. The money is of no consequence; it can be replaced. The railroad annuals may be renewed, though I should like to have them; but the beads and medal are treasured as a gift from the dead, and I am hoping the finder may be touched by this appeal and return them to me by mail.

By LESTER POSVAR

WICHITA FALLS, Texas (P)—Mose Johnson is wealthy because he counted his chickens before they were hatched.

Twenty-five years ago he gave up a clerical job, bought five white Leghorn hens and a rooster and moved to a 50-acre farm to raise chickens by the thousands. His neighbors couldn't see it. They said the fancy price he paid for his brood fowls was foolish. The little farm and flock exhausted his financial resources.

Johnson's wife had a little counting herself. True, all the hatching was still to be done, but she consorted to giving up the certainty of a weekly pay check because she believed her husband could make a fortune come home to roost with the chickens.

Today the Johnson farm near Wichita Falls has 15,000 Leghorn hens which lay 3,000,000 eggs a year. There are so many chickens that an investment of $100,000 is represented by the buildings and equipment needed for their care. Other wives, who buy eggs for their table, can appreciate what 3,000,000 eggs mean by way of an income for Johnson and his wife. And, there is another, although smaller, Johnson poultry farm near Bowie, Texas.

However, Johnson has not escaped trying times in the chicken business. Five years after he started his flock a tornado swept his farm, destroying a 6,000-egg incubator and almost all the hens. With 100 birds that survived the storm he started all over again.

About one-third of the egg output of the Wichita Falls farm as used for incubation of baby chicks. Johnson sold 800,000 baby chicks last spring and summer. They were shipped to Mexico, Canada, Cuba, South America, Europe, and South Africa, as well as to every state in the union.

President Calles, of Mexico, recently sent two personal representatives to Texas, to select foundation stock from the Johnson flocks for a poultry ranch he plans to establish near Mexico City immediately after he retires from office.

Johnson's love of the poultry business goes back to the time he was a little boy, scarcely able to walk, when he had a couple of chickens for pets.

ELECTION

County Judge A. W. Cameron said the Weslaco box was not counted because of unsealed returns, boycotting and intimidation of Democratic supporters and outside influence.

On second thought, he said he had rather not name the latter, since he could not swear to it himself. Black, a Democrat, wanted to know what it was—whether it was the Anti-Saloon League or the Republican national committee. Insisting "wait a minute," chairman Lehlbach, Republican, with Nelson, Republican, chiming in, contended Cameron's reluctance and vagueness precluded further questioning "along that line" by Black, who asked a vote and lost 4 to 1. The committee had an executive conference at its hotel last night. More than 150 witnesses have been summoned. Daily News' Want Ads bring results.

COOKING SCHOOL NEWS

As quick as brailing a steak

All you need is an ordinary sizzling pan, a French Fryer and a 3-pound tin of Crisco.

Put your Crisco into a cold pan and heat slowly. When a piece of bread browns in 30 seconds your Crisco is ready for frying potatoes. Don't wait for Crisco to smoke.

Fill your French Fryer half full of potatoes and lower it into the Crisco. Increase the heat as the cold potatoes naturally cool the Crisco a little.

When brown lift French Fryer out of the fat, shake lightly, drain the potatoes on brown paper and sprinkle with salt.

When you have finished strain your Crisco back into the can and set it aside to cool. Then it is ready to use over and over again for anything you want to fry. The taste of one thing will not be carried to another.

French Fried Potatoes

JUST because we eat them almost every day we are likely to think of potatoes as a homely food. Why they are banquet food! Really the flavor of the potato—particularly when French fried—is one of the most subtle and delicate of all flavors that inventive nature ever concocted.

But to bring out this delicate flavor it is essential that you use a sweet flavored cooking fat. And there's only one way to really test the flavor of your fat—taste it, just as you taste your milk; just as you taste your eggs.

Taste Crisco as it comes from the can. Isn't it easy to understand now why Crisco's fresh, sweet flavor makes fried foods taste so much better?

French Fried Potatoes

A real treat at home. When fried in Crisco they are delicious—neither even brown, no greasy outside and no smoke in your kitchen.

Allow one medium-sized potato for each person. Peel potatoes, cut in strips about one-half inch square. Let stand in cold water about an hour or they can be kept in the ice-box overnight if covered with water. When ready to fry, drain, dry in a towel, and put a few at a time into hot Crisco (395° F.), or when a bread crumb browns in 20 seconds. When brown and tender, drain on brown paper, sprinkle with salt, and serve.

Fry raw or cooked sweet potatoes the same way, but do not soak them in water.

Never wait for Crisco to smoke, as it would be too hot to fry if it were hot enough to smoke.

You taste your milk—
You test your eggs—
NOW taste your shortening

Crisco's sweet flavor will delight you

Crisco is used for Frying, for Shortening, and for Cake making

Senate Veterans, Reed and McLean Among Seven Seeing Last Session

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27. (P)—Two veterans of the senate wind up their services at this concluding session of the seventieth congress—James A. Reed of Missouri, democrat, and George P. McLean of Connecticut, republican.

Each, oddly enough, goes out of his own accord, having declined to stand for re-election, and each has served three terms—18 years. Both men occupy commanding positions in their parties in the senate by virtue of experience as well as ability. Senator Reed refused to run again when he announced his candidacy for the democratic presidential nomination last spring.

Besides these two, the senate will have at this last session of the present congress, six "lame ducks"—all democrats. "Lame duck" is an appellation applied to members of congress who have been defeated but who continue to serve by virtue of the short session of the old congress which follows election.

Continued efforts by Senator Norris of Nebraska, republican, to obtain a constitutional amendment abolishing the short session of the old congress following election, a new one have failed of approval.

Of the six senate "lame ducks" this session, all are first termers in the senate with the exception of Peter

Gerry of Rhode Island. He has served two terms. The other five democratic senators who lost out in the election are Bayard of Delaware, Bruce of Maryland, Edwards of New Jersey, Neely of West Virginia and Mayfield of Texas. The latter was defeated for the nomination and will be succeeded by another democrat, Representative Tun Connally of Texas. The others lost to republicans.

The election, however, had an immediate effect on the make-up of congress this session. There will be four new faces in the senate, all republicans, elected to fill out terms of deceased or resigned members. John Thomas of Idaho takes the place of the late Frank Gooding; Representative Burton of Ohio succeeds the late Frank Willis, whose seat was held temporarily by Cyrus Lecher, a democrat; Octavino A. Larrazolo serves out the term of the late Andrius A. Jones of New Mexico, until next March 4. This seat is held by appointment by Bronson Cutting, who was elected to succeed Jones in the next congress. Otis F. Glenn of Illinois, elected to fill the vacancy resulting from the resignation of Frank L. Smith, takes office immediately.

The terms of Glenn, Burton and Thomas will run until 1932, the original terms of their predecessors.
