By JOHN CHADWICK WASHINGTON (U) — Fifty-three Democratic congressmen today urged a plank in the Democratic party platform calling for a law that would let the people, instead of national convention delegates, name presidential candidates.

Luxury Liner Speeds Toward Another Record

ABOARD S. S. UNITED STATES AT SEA (U) — The new first lady of American shipping, the liner United States, poured on the steam today and raced for a new star in her speed crown.

On the homeward stretch of her maiden round-trip Atlantic crossing, the 53,000-ton American pride looked certain to break the Queen Mary's 14-year record for the Europe-to-America crossing early tonight.

The big new U. S. liner on her trip to Europe had cracked the Queen's west-to-east mark. Leaving New York on July 4, the United States made the 2,935-mile crossing in three days, 10 hours and 40 minutes, averaging 35.50 knots.

The American ship was not expected to better this time on the return voyage. For one thing, fog slowed her yesterday to a speed of 33.95 knots. But she appeared certain to reach Ambrose Light, off New York, late this afternoon — well ahead of the Queen Mary's 1938 east-to-west record of three days, 21 hours and 45 minutes.

Already, on her trip home, the United States had racked up still another record — the longest day's run ever made by a commercial ship. In the 25-hour period ended Saturday she covered 902 nautical miles, an average speed of 36.08 knots.

New York readied the "most colorful and elaborate" welcome in the port's history for the new American sea queen, her skipper Commodore Harry Manning and his proud crew. Manning already had announced that he would anchor in the harbor tonight and bring his 1,550 excited passengers into dock at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

Democrats Head For Chicago To Name Foe For Eisenhower

By RELMAN MORIN CHICAGO (U) — The Democrats are streaming into Chicago today to nominate a presidential candidate in a convention they forecast will be rough, rugged and wide open.

Before then, they hope a large and perplexing question will be settled — what will Adlai Stevenson do, and what will the convention do about Stevenson? The long shadow of the governor of Illinois hangs heavily over the whole party right now.

For months his name has been bandied about as the probable Democratic candidate. He is reported to be — or to have been — President Truman's personal choice for that role.

Stevenson repeatedly has insisted he doesn't want it, and that all he does want is another term in the governor's office in Springfield. Yesterday, at Camp Ripley, Minn., he told a Minnesota delegate to the Democratic National Convention: "No politician can say he would refuse a draft."

Helicopters To Make A Try At Crossing Ocean

WESTOVER AIR FORCE BASE, Mass., July 14 (AP)—Two Military Air Transport Service (MATS) helicopters, manned by war-veteran Air Force fliers, are scheduled to take off Tuesday in the first attempted trans-atlantic flight—4,000 miles to Weisbaden, Germany.

Westover Air Force Base officials said last night that the craft—the Hop-A-Long and the Whirl-O-Way—will take off at 7 a.m. (CST) weather permitting, on the longest to be attempted by helicopters.

Each craft will carry a pilot and co-pilot. Three of the four are veterans of helicopter service.

Six stops are planned enroute—Presque Isle, Me.; Goose Bay, Labrador; Narsarsuaq, Greenland; Keflavik, Iceland; Preswick, Scotland and Manson, England. The last leg of the hop will be from Manson to Weisbaden, where the helicopters will be delivered to the 9th Air Rescue Squadron.

Each craft will carry 485 gallons of gas and will weigh more than 2,300 pounds each. They will have a cruising range of about 1,000 miles. The longest hop—from Iceland to Scotland—is 817 miles.

With top speed of more than 100 miles an hour and cruising speed of about 85, the Sikorsky H-19 helicopters are expected to be in the air about 40 hours.

The flight is designed to prove the feasibility of delivering helicopters by air to Europe. Officials said it would cost more than $2,000 including labor, to crate each for shipment abroad.

Flight mechanics who will make the flight in an accompanying C-54, will include S-Sgt. Grady M. Trutt, Waco, Tex.

'Also Rans' Not In Agreement

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Some of the American girls who wound up as "also rans" in the Miss Universe Contest recently in Long Beach, Calif., do not agree with Miss Italy, who said in her native Rome yesterday that an American girl should have been crowned winner.

The Italian miss contended the contest was rigged in favor of Miss Finland, who won, as an Olympic Games publicity stunt.

The Italian contestant, Giovanna Mazzotti, a movie starlet, said she was particularly impressed with the "beauty and perfection" of Miss Louisiana, Jeanne Thompson; Miss Montana, Valerie Jackson; Miss New Jersey, Ruth Hampton, and others.

But the Louisiana entrant, Miss Thompson, of Baton Rouge, said it is her opinion "and the consensus of the American girls, I believe" that the judges picked the right girl, Armi Kusela, who is Miss Finland.

Miss Jackson concurred with her and said that while it was "most gracious" of the Italian miss to favor the American girls, she did not believe there were political considerations involved, as Miss Mazzotti declared.

Primary In Virginia To Climax Hot Race

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Virginia Democrats decide tomorrow whether to give Sen. Harry F. Byrd a new six-year lease on his seat in Congress or to nominate as his successor an ex-Army colonel who once served on Gen. Eisenhower's staff.

The state's Democratic primary election will climax a tempestuous race between Byrd and Francis Pickens Miller.

Some observers see it as the most serious challenge yet raised to Byrd's 19-year Senate career.

Miller, who served two terms in the State Legislature more than a decade ago, is predicting a vote turnout of 280,000, of which he foresees himself getting 145,000.

Byrd's campaign forces, who've been calling for a large turnout as a voice of confidence for the senator's work, forecast a ballot of 300,000. They've declined to predict the outcome.

In traditionally Democratic Virginia, no Republican candidate has been named to oppose the winner. The campaign has been lively during the past three months.

Byrd has pointed to his record as a watchdog of the nation's Treasury. He has promised to continue fighting for economy if he is re-elected.

Miller, an Intelligence officer at Eisenhower's SHAEP headquarters during World War II, has assailed Byrd's foreign policy and domestic voting record.

Miller contends especially that Byrd's farm voting record has not been in the best interests of the Virginia farmer.

Miller also says the senator's leadership of the state's ruling Democratic organization has reduced representative government in Virginia to a state of "dry rot."

Byrd has answered these attacks by saying that since he is a farmer on the side himself, he is naturally a friend of the farmer. As for Virginia being on the wane governmentally, Byrd says nothing could be further from the truth, that in reality the commonwealth is prospering as never before, and is one of relatively few debt-free states.

The senator has portrayed Miller as a "100 per cent Truman supporter" and has said he regards "Trumanism" as the main issue of the campaign.

Miller, while professing his belief that the President has been right on most major issues, has denied being in Truman's camp all the way.

Trade Barriers Hurting Allies, Truman Asserts

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman says recent U.S. curbs on foreign trade are hurting this country's efforts to build up the strength of her Allies in the free world.

Truman directed a 12-man public advisory board on Mutual Security to recommend to the White House and Congress ways of meeting the problem. He also suggested that a new study be made of America's policy of barring her friends from trading with Communist countries.

In letters to the board members, the President pointed out that the U.S. is spending substantial sums of money to build up the military and economic strength of her allies.

"This is why," Truman said, "we have urged upon them programs of increased production, trade expansion and tariff reduction so that through world trade they can expand their dollar earnings and progressively reduce their dependence on our aid."

At the same time, he said, there has sprung up more restrictive laws which reduce the number of foreign goods which can be offered in the competitive American markets. These protective moves by American industry, the President suggested, are sometimes outweighed by counter-restrictions against U.S. exports.

Truman said the United States had not thoroughly thought through its insistence that the free world not trade with Iron Curtain countries.

"What can we suggest to replace it?" he asked.

Strength Could Be Increased, General Hints

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Gen. J. Lawson Collins, U. S. Army chief of staff, today hinted that United States strength in Korea could be increased "in a pinch."

He said the U. S. Eighth Army "a general proposition" has been furnished all the "means readily available" for battle, but added:

"In a pinch if it were essential to do so, we could employ other means."

He called the mass flight of Thunderbolts bound from the U. S. to Japan an indication that "we are growing in air strength."

The four-star general is on a tour of the battlefield. He declined to make a specific statement at a news conference on the growth of United Nations power in Korea. Nor would he make a prediction about the possibility of an armistice.

But he said recently stepped-up U. N. air attacks on North Korea certainly did not decrease the chances for peace.

Without an armistice, Collins said, "the Communists can expect hard attacks from the air. If that's what they want, that's what they'll get."

The Far Eastern commander, Gen. Mark Clark, and Eighth Army commander, Gen. James A. Van Fleet, were at Collins' side.

Collins said the over-all morale and fighting condition of the Eighth Army was excellent and that a Communist offensive would fail.

"I personally am confident they would be driven off with heavy losses."

He said the U. N. forces had adequate troops to beat back the Chinese but "we would be happy if we had additional troops here."

Among some ancient peoples when a man died without sons, his brother was required to marry his widow and get a son by her which was accounted the son of the dead brother.

Nixon Believes Stevenson Is Toughest Demo

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican vice presidential nominee thinks the strongest man the Democrats can name to head their presidential ticket is Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois.

Sen. Richard M. Nixon of California, who has a vital personal interest in Democratic candidates because he will have to campaign against them from now until November, expressed his views to a reporter while flying here from Chicago.

However, he told newsmen who met his plane that no matter whom they name, "they cannot nominate anybody who can beat our candidate."

Stevenson has said he is interested only in running again for governor, but has not said flatly he would turn down the nomination if it is offered him.

Nixon plans to clean up his desk at the Senate this week and then take a brief seashore vacation with his wife and two daughters.

His first major job, he said, will be to make a thorough study of Dwight D. Eisenhower's views on major issues.

The youthful candidate said he was "generally familiar" with what the GOP presidential candidate believes in, but wants to familiarize himself thoroughly with "everything the general has said" so his own campaign could be conducted in complete harmony.

Nixon said he expects to confer with Eisenhower soon to talk over campaign strategy and other matters.

He said his own job during the campaign probably will be to make numerous talks throughout the country, freeing the general for the major radio and television addresses and giving him a chance to make a whistle-stop campaign to let people see him.

Nixon said Eisenhower has made great strides toward healing the wounds in the Republican party, and predicted a united party by November.

Yugoslavs Looking Toward Aid Step-Up

By ALEX SINGLETON

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Communist Yugoslavia looked forward today to stepped-up American military aid—including jet planes, tanks and heavy artillery. A ranking U. S. military team found Premier Marshal Tito's fighting forces in excellent shape.

The decision to greatly strengthen the American aid program to this anti-Soviet ally was announced last night at a formal dinner given by Tito at his summer palace here for the U. S. mission headed by Frank C. Nash, special assistant to Defense Secretary Robert Lovett.

Four U. S. generals present gave a highly favorable report of their first-hand inspection of Yugoslav forces and their use of the limited aid already received. The American officers were Maj. Gen. George Almsied, director for military assistance; Maj. Gen. Clyde D. Edleman, deputy chief of staff; Maj. Gen. George J. Richards, chief of the military assistance group in Paris, and Brig. Gen. John W. Harmony, head of the military assistance program in Yugoslavia.

The generals reported that the Yugoslavs' greatest needs were planes and heavy armor. Their supply of small arms was reported as adequate, and the training, conditions and morale of troops was described as excellent.

The Yugoslavs were told they would be furnished equipment that would enable them to fight an offensive as well as a defensive war if attacked. Previous aid in light equipment had been extended on the theory that Yugoslavia's role against a future aggressor would be limited chiefly to holding actions and guerrilla warfare.

The mission's findings showed a new high in U. S. confidence in the Tito regime and its readiness and ability to resist aggression.

Particularly important was the decision to build up the Yugoslav

Air Force with modern jet planes. Tito was informed, also, that he will be given American dollars to expand his own munitions industry.

CIO Predicting Depression In '53

WASHINGTON (AP)—The CIO believes an economic recession is likely in 1953 and 1954 unless something is done to head it off.

Among other things, it recommended in the current issue of Economic Outlook that business lower its profits to help stimulate sales.

The article said if consumer spending does not rise enough to make up for the leveling off of defense spending and the drop in building of new plants and equipment, production and employment will fall off.

"There is no widespread backlog of pent-up consumer demand now as there was after World War II," the CIO said. "Consumers do not have any substantial liquid savings as they did on V-J Day."

Congress Passes 18 Bills For Vets

All have been signed into law but one. And that—the new GI Bill of Rights for Korean veterans—is expected to get President Truman's signature within a day or two.

New List Released

WASHINGTON (U)—The Defense Department today identified 118 battle casualties in a new Korean War list (No. 605). It reported 29 dead, 81 wounded, one missing and two injured.

West Coasts. But the Air Force said it urgently needs another 350,000 civilians to do the job properly.

President Truman backed up the air watcher recruiting drive during the week end with the statement that every citizen who co-operates "is helping to prevent the war none of us wants to happen."

The President said it was a common sense precaution "in this new age in which hostile forces are known to possess long-range bombers and atomic weapons."

The human lookouts are needed, the Air Force explained, to make up for the scientific weakness of radar. For one thing its tentacles cannot reach beyond the earth's curvature...

The Army said this precaution had no special significance other than "an increased state of operational readiness."

The air watchers, using binoculars, will report suspicious or unidentified aircraft to 32 filter stations. The information will be passed along and checked in a co-operative network set up by the Air Force and the Air Defense Command.

Jet interceptors are ready on a 24-hour alert to meet any verified threat.

Iran's House Takes Up Plea For New Power

TEHRAN, Iran (U)—Iran's lower house of Parliament, the Majlis, tomorrow is expected to take up a request by Premier Mohammed Mossadegh for sweeping new emergency powers.

A pro-Mossadegh deputy told reporters the aged Nationalist leader put his unprecedented proposal to rule for six months by decree before the Majlis at a five-hour closed session yesterday.

Stiff opposition appeared likely to confront the proposal, which Mossadegh said was necessary to halt the nation's present slide toward bankruptcy. The lawmakers — mostly wealthy men and big landowners — have supported him in his past programs but may balk at his proposed scheme for stiff levies on higher incomes, redistribution of labor, austerity controls and land reforms.

The deputy said Mossadegh asked for authority to initiate and enforce rigid economic measures for six months. The Premier reportedly promised that he would let both houses of Parliament pass on his program at the end of the period.

Mossadegh's appearance before the lower house was his first official act since he accepted resignation for another term as the government chief last week.

FEW ARE SUCCESSFUL

Some People Continue Trying To Find Way To Beat Meters

People still put themselves to a lot of trouble trying to beat the parking meter — and some apparently succeed.

But whatever the meter beaters gain by stuffing homemade coins, chewing gum and modified nickels and pennies in the machines is more than offset by the good coins they and other motorists lose.

Tommy Malone, meter guardian and repairman, says that about two-thirds of the attempts to "jam" meters result in red flags. Too, when an honest motorist parks on one of the jammed meters, his legitimate coin is apt to draw him no parking time.

Of course, if the first man manages to jam the meter's clockwork, he may gain a whole day of free parking. After he's gone, some other driver also may find parking space with the white flag showing.

Malone doesn't believe the jamming efforts pay off though, especially if you consider the trouble they cause him when it comes time to clean out sticky chewing gum or put the meter's wheels back in their sockets.

Consequently, the meter expert mixes a little detective work with his other chores, and has "cured" a few motorists who used to tamper with the parking clocks. Malone thinks he knows the identity of some others who hate to put money in meters.

"I've got one fellow who once or twice a week puts a chewing-gummed penny in a meter, then pushes another in on top of it," Malone reports. "He sometimes gets a red flag, but when he 'wins' he parks free all day."

The meter technician also knows about the guy who trips the meter with a knife blade, but that practice is doomed to a short future. Malone is fixing the clocks so that operation by anything but a coin will result in a red flag.

The meter man also has some other complaints, like the meters in front of certain stores (where the same cars are parked every day) that pay off with about 35 cents worth of pennies while adjacent meters take in $2.50 a week. And he knows about the man that burrs the edges of his coins in hopes they will hang the clockwork.

The fact that the latter practice doesn't pay is evidenced in the collection of defective coins Malone displays. You can tell that a number of them have been worked on by the same pocketknife, and mostly they slide through the meters like the clockwork they were intended to jam.

Actually, the "black" variety of pennies cause the meter repairman more headaches than all the intentionally-defaced coins. The zinc pennies often are rusty or pitted and don't fall into the meter with enough momentum to trip the flag. As a result, some motorist has a legitimate complaint for not getting his money's worth.

With all the difficulties Malone encounters, he still manages to keep the meters paying off for the city. Average weekly "take" from the parking meters is altogether more than $800.

Estimate Is Made On World's Cotton

WASHINGTON, July 14 (U)—The International Cotton Advisory Committee estimated yesterday the world production of cotton during the 1951-52 season at 34,800,000 bales.

The committee, an intergovernmental group of 27 cotton producing and consuming countries, figured world consumption at about 32 million bales. This means, the committee said, that end season stocks on Aug. 1 should be increased by at least 2 1/2 million bales over the stocks a year ago.

Consideration Should Be Given To Sites For Schools And Parks

As Big Spring grows larger—and it is steadily as witness the recent moves to extend the corporate limits—some serious thought should be given by all concerned toward the provision of sites for parks and schools. Most of the recent annexations or proposed annexations have been in proximity to areas which have school sites that will lend themselves to expansion. Consequently, there was no urgent need for action on this score, except that the school has needed to enlarge some areas to meet potential growth. The park possibilities were not so well provided. But the time is coming when they should, yes, when they must be looked after.

not be applied with the privilege of a waiver in event dedication of such acreage would not fit into an over-all plan. If the city can require paving, water and sewer lines of a developer, then is it not equally logical to make the other requirement when it contributes even more than utilities to the livability of a city? To talk about parks in the teeth of a drought may seem a most inappropriate time. But in reality droughts are transitory; living conveniently, comfortably and happily in a community is a permanent consideration. For one reason and another, mostly financial, the park program here has not kept pace with other progressive steps. Water and sewer lines and even pavement became items of immediate necessity. Therefore appropriations for some recreational facility were held back in favor of the more pressing things. There is danger, however, that this expedience may become habitual. This would, we believe, be detrimental to the best interests of a balanced community.

Natural Forces To Have Inning In Holding Inflationary Line

The effect of one "economy" measure imposed by Congress began to be felt last week when 17,000 employes of various stabilization agencies got their notices. They have 30 days to find other jobs. Congress provided only $60 million for operation of controls as against the requested $103 million. Economic Stabilizer Roger L. Putnam thinks that this forbodes new inflationary threat. The dollar is now worth about 53 cents in terms of purchasing power. Its cheapness has been one of the main topics of conversation, and a great many people associated it with the huge national debt, heavy expenditures, waste, extravagance and other factors. The dollar is cheap because prices are inflated. Its purchasing power is weakened every time the price index rises. The theory of economic controls is that by holding down prices the buying power of the dollar can be kept up. Opponents of controls assert they merely hamstring and abort the normal processes of economic stability, and are worse than no remedy at all. That is the theory Congress acted on in weakening controls almost to the point of paralysis. That theory, which is now the decree of Congress, is about to be tested. If prices go through the ceiling, if the dollar sinks and sinks in purchasing power, Congress will have a hard time explaining to the people why it weakened rather than strengthened controls. If prices remain stable or actually decline, Congress will have been justified. We shall have to wait and see. Biggest inflationary force in this country today is the unsettled steel strike and its chain of reactions.

Truman Has List Of Candidates He Would Accept—And Wouldn't

WASHINGTON. — While the Republicans were picking their candidate in Chicago, President Truman finally decided on some candidates of his own. And while he doesn't want to run himself, he has decided that he may change his mind—under certain circumstances. These circumstances are if any one of the following Democrats appear likely to get the nomination: 1. Sen. Russell of Georgia—The President has the highest personal regard for Russell, considers him one of the ablest men in the Senate, has remarked privately that if it wasn't for the race issue he could be the best candidate for the Democratic party. But the president knows that Russell would lose most of the Northern votes, and he is determined to see the Democrats win. 2. Sen. Bob Kerr of Oklahoma—Again, Truman is fond of Kerr personally, but he is also fully aware of Kerr's intimate links with the big oil and gas lobbies and knows the wires Kerr pulled to hike the price of gas to most of the nation. 3. Vice President Barkley—If it wasn't for his age, the President would probably be for him. Barkley has stuck to the basic liberalism of the Democratic party more faithfully than any other Southern leader. But Truman is realistic and doesn't think the American people would ever elect a man 74 years old, and, again, the President is determined to win. 4. Speaker Sam Rayburn—The same applies for Rayburn. "Mr. Democrat," as Sam is called in Washington, has authored some of the cornerstones of the New Deal, but, at the age of 70, he simply couldn't get elected. Therefore, if the Democratic convention meeting in Chicago a week from today begins veering in the direction of any of these four candidates, the President is ready to reverse himself and throw his hat back in the ring. The above will probably be denied. Nevertheless it is what the President has discussed with some of his highest party counselors. What it boils down to is that the President, within limits, will have the veto power over who is to be the Democratic nominee.

On the other hand he has also picked three Democrats he will support for the nomination at Chicago. They are: 1. Senator Kefauver—Though Truman started out with a large lack of enthusiasm for the Tennessee senator, he has come to realize that Kefauver talks like a winner, acts like a winner, and has all the earmarks of being a winner. In his many months of campaigning, Kefauver hasn't pulled a single bone, whereas Eisenhower's recent crack about the French will not only cost him the French-Candian vote in Rhode Island, Massachusetts and New Hampshire in November, but undid whatever build-up Eisenhower gave the North Atlantic Pact while in Paris. Furthermore, Kefauver has supported the Roosevelt-Truman program more than any other Southern senator. 2. Governor Stevenson of Illinois—While the President has been slightly miffed over the way Stevenson has played coy and tried to divorce himself from any association with Truman, nevertheless, the President thinks he would be a strong liberal candidate with a real chance to win. 3. Averell Harriman—Truman started

Republicans Served As Guinea Pigs In Putting Their Convention On TV

WASHINGTON. — Since the Republicans provided the first coast-to-coast televised convention, they were guinea pigs for the Democrats, who had a team of muckrakers glued to TV screens in Chicago taking notes. So at least in a technical way—for instance, camera shots of the speakers—televising the Democratic convention, which opens next Monday, should be a little smoother than the Republican. But in a technical way only. Conventions have followed the same pattern for generations—some plain, some boring, some old-fashioned, and some full of hokum and fantasy—and the politicians who run them cling to tradition like a hungry man to a jug of jam.

Finally, in the last explosive sentence, almost choked with enthusiasm, he gives out with the name of so-and-so. Mentioning the name pulls the trigger which releases the pent-up frenzy of so-and-so's worshippers (more or less), sending them screaming and jogging around the floor in what, to a social scientist from Mars, might look like a primitive tribal dance or, if he got around enough, like a New Orleans Mardi Gras.

More College Students Are Turning To Religion

IOWA CITY, La. — College students today are getting more God-minded. That is the conclusion of a pioneer religious educator at the University of Iowa here. "Interest in religion on the part of college students is rising," said Dr. M. Willard Lampe. "It is a questioning interest—a genuinely yearning interest. "It doesn't take the form of a mass movement. It is more on an individual basis. "Young people are searching for a philosophy of life that can give an inner peace and security against the outward confusion and turmoil of the times. The cynical point of view, as compared to a generation ago, has declined both among students and professors."

Helped by a $35,000 Rockefeller grant, Dr. Lampe worked for several years to get churches of different denominations to provide faculty members for his new school and underwrite their salaries. His idea was that in addition to stock courses in the history of comparative religions students at state colleges should be able to study the specific faith of their choice. Today the school has a seven-man faculty, including four Protestant, two Jewish and one Roman Catholic clergyman. It has become so popular that in a recent year more than 2,000 students—one fifth of the enrollment in the college of liberal arts—elected to attend religious classes. "Many of our students go on to become clergymen themselves," said Dr. Lampe. "But that is not our primary goal. "There is a real interest on the part of students in finding out about the faiths of others as well as their own. Often they are less interested in orthodox forms of religion, however, than they are in finding the meaning of life in satisfying ways. "But to Dr. Lampe this eager student quest for a basic meaning to existence is a sure sign of the religious instinct. Since he quietly instituted the "Iowa Plan" other tax-supported educational institutions across the country have adopted it as a pattern for their religious schools. He likes to feel that it has been a formula that has encouraged religious tolerance.

This Day In Texas

By CURTIS BISHOP

The blazing guns of Lincoln County Sheriff Pat Garrett finally ended William Bonney's career of outlawry on this day in 1881. Billy the Kid, as Bonney was better known, was only twenty-one years old at the time—a good-looking, though rather effeminate youngster who played both the piano and the violin with surprising skill and has a lovely tenor voice. But these virtues could not offset his record as a killer. Most accounts state that at the time of his death Bonney had killed twenty-one men, one for every year of his life. (A friend claimed, however, that the total was only nine, including Mexicans and Indians, which killers usually didn't count.) Bonney started out early. When twelve he used his pocket knife to kill a man who had supposedly insulted his mother. After some small-scale outlawry in Texas he fought the Lincoln County war in New Mexico and then resumed his life of crime. Captured by a posse, mostly Texans, he was imprisoned but escaped by killing his jailer.

Around The Rim—The Herald Staff

File For Future Reference: Hints On Watering Your Lawn

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note. In order to get into the mood and humor for this item, you'll have to dream a bit. You'll have to picture Big Spring with plenty of water (which could be the case as early as 1953) and the man of the family grown complacent about keeping the lawn alive by spraying it regularly with water. If he protests about overdoing it, don't be too critical, because he may have a point. Some of the authorities on the subject, and they have lent the problem quite a bit of study, say possibly that lawns are watered too often. Furthermore, if the 'old man' rebels at the thought of covering the turf with garden hose and a nozzle and insists the job can be better done with a mechanical sprayer, he may have a point there, too. Research has been underway some time now to determine the water requirements of various turf grasses used in various sports arenas, city parks and, of course, family lawns. It is suspected by more than a few that all-grasses are watered too frequently and that much of the irrigation goes to waste. One authority said that the ritual of watering a lawn every day is an American habit which serves no useful purpose. The man with a garden hose in his hand, it was added, tends to get bored with his job and water the area unevenly. Light watering daily, it is believed, does the lawn a disservice, because it causes the roots to grow nearer the surface, where thorough watering at less frequent intervals encourages the roots to go down as deep as 30 inches, making for stronger growth. The depth of rooting is a true measure of turf quality. Superficial sprinkling five minutes a day never gives the grass a chance to explore the earth. Once Big Spring does have the water again, the wives are probably going to have to watch the over-zealous husbands who want to make swimming pools of their front lawns, for a while. Going from one extreme to the other, from very little watering to too much of it, is bad, too. So say the fellows who are supposed to know. —TOMMY HART.

Struggle May Have Meant A New GOP Movement Is Born

In closing for the Taft side in the Georgia delegate debate on Wednesday evening, Sen. Dirksen made his main argument that the issue was whether the convention would publicly repudiate the men who control the national organization of the party. The two great committees, the official authoritative organs of the party, had, said Sen. Dirksen, heard the Georgia dispute and they had rendered judgment. If now the convention voted to reverse these committees on a question of law and morality, then the convention would be declaring that it had no confidence in the judgment and the justice of the central party organization. After that, how could the party ask for the confidence of the country? Sen. Dirksen, who is a seasoned politician as well as an attractive and gifted speaker, was almost certainly aware that his cause was lost when he made that argument. He looked and he sounded, I thought, as though he felt there was nothing more to be lost by blurring out the bitter truth. So in effect he declared that the stakes in Georgia and Texas were only secondarily the contested delegates. What was really at stake was the control of the Old Guard of the national machinery of the party. By their handling of the contests, and their use of television the Eisenhower managers succeeded in demonstrating how much the central control of the party organization depends on politicians from states and territories where the Republicans are not in fact a political party at all. There has been a devastating exposure of an old skeleton in the cupboard, namely that the party bureaucracy and management do not rest on a popular basis. The real party strength of Taft in the midwest would not have been nearly enough to control the party machinery, and to win all the preliminary contests for delegates. To do that, the Taft faction needed the Southern states, the border states and the territories. They had to use the politicians who have no party behind them in order to defeat the politicians who have not only a party behind them, but a party that has won elections. This control was challenged in the convention, and was broken by a coalition of the Republican parties from a large number of states. The hard core of this coalition's strength has been in the industrial Northeast and on the Pacific Coast. Gen. Eisenhower has been the rallying point, rather than the organizer or leader, of this coalition. The elements of the coalition are in the main the same as those which supported Wilkie in 1940 and have twice brought about the nomination of Gov. Dewey. The Taft men are right in recognizing the Eisenhower movement today as the successor and heir of Wilkie and Dewey. They are very bitter about this, about what they hold has been the capture of the party by men who are not orthodox Republicans, and they make much of the fact that these interlopers, so to speak, have all gone down to defeat. Sen. Taft believes intensely that the reason for their defeat was that Wilkie and Dewey did not offer the voters a true alternative to Roosevelt and Truman, and that the voters were bound to prefer the genuine Democratic goods to the Republican imitation. This is a plausible theory and I can imagine circumstances in which it might be the true theory. But I do not believe the theory is true for the past three elections or likely to be true for the coming one. It is most probably not true, that is to say, that a popular majority would have formed around the Republicans had they taken a position in foreign policy which was deeply opposed first to the war and then to the cold war policies of the administration—or had they in domestic affairs demanded the repeal and dismantling of the New Deal. The strongest reason for thinking that the Taft theory is not true lies in the fact that three times in succession, and now probably for the fourth time, Taft has not been able to carry his own party using the kind of campaign issue with which he thinks he could carry the country. After all, the Republican party are a very big sample of the American people. If they do not in the end decide to follow Sen. Taft, why should he suppose that he could do better with the independents and the discontented Democrats? They are not likely to be more orthodoxly Republican than the registered Republican voters and the elected delegates of the Republican party.

Army Officers Develop Polo

Many years ago I read about a man who was asked, "Have you ever played polo?" "No," he replied, "but I fell off a clothesline once while I was trying to fix a chandelier!" That man was speaking playfully, but it is true that falls take place from time to time in the sport of polo. In the original form of the game, men ride about and use long, thin-handled mallets to strike a ball and try to drive it across a goal line. This sport seems to have had its start in southern Asia. Ninety years ago several British army officers in India watched some wild-riding native tribesmen strike at wooden balls with long sticks. The balls were called "pulus," later "polos." Those officers decided to set the rules for a contest in which they could count score when a wooden ball was driven across a line. As time went on, the rules were changed. Returning to Great Britain, the army officers played "pulu" or "polo," and their friends became interested. Soon there were polo matches in many places. James Gordon Bennett, a wealthy American, watched several British contests, then returned to the United States and introduced the sport. In following years, a British-American series of polo matches took place. Most of the early ones were won by Great Britain, but the United States has been the usual winner since 1909. Polo became a feature of the Olympic games in 1900. British teams were champions of three Olympics. Then polo teams of Argentina came to the front, and were champions twice before the sport was dropped from the Olympic program after 1936. Argentina, by the way, has produced

"polo ponies" of the highest order. Argentine ponies have brought top market prices. John Hay Whitney, an American, paid $14,500 for Chingolo, a seven-year-old Argentine pony. In 1928 Laddie Sanford paid $22,000 for another Argentine pony, known as Jupiter. For GENERAL INTEREST section of your scrapbook. Tomorrow: Water Polo. Pastors Say Church Attendance Increasing

Solomon once wrote that God is a shield unto them that put their trust in him.

Today more and more people are looking for that shield in the churches of their choice.

Since the outbreak of the Korean War in 1950, church attendance in the United States has picked up sharply.

Big Spring churches are no exception to the fact.

Mrs. Russell Lawrence, secretary of the First Presbyterian Church, believes that more people are attending church there than ever before. Capacity crowds are overflowing the sanctuary and extra chairs are needed at each Sunday service.

In fact, in every phase of the church work, attendance has increased," she stated.

Officials of the First Baptist Church think that the increase there has been steady rather than sharp. This, they reason, is caused by the added population plus the war factor.

Gaylon Cothran, educational director here, says that the group is expecting a substantial increase in attendance in the early fall months.

The last Sunday in September will find the Baptist promoting their Sunday School students and electing class officers. Following this will be a kick-off banquet to promote interest and, ultimately, add new members.

Mrs. Dick Davis, secretary at the E. 4th Baptist Church, believes that even though the membership of that church has been divided three times within the past year, attendance has picked up.

"The trend is in a rather leveling off period now," she said. "But attendance will pick up again in the fall."

Attendance statistics were available at only the First Methodist Church. According to Lucille Hester, educational director, 119 people have been added to the Sunday School Class rolls since 1949. Church attendance has increased about 225 per Sunday and 244 have become members of the church.

All Sunday School Class attendance records were broken Easter Sunday this year when 636 attended.

Miss Hester thinks that when the congregation moves into the new building, that attendance will increase even more.

The Rev. Marvin Fisher, pastor of the Wesley Memorial Methodist Church, explained that attendance reached its peak at that church during the all-state revival held this year. An enrollment period is being planned for the last week in August.

Lloyd Thompson, minister of the First Christian Church, believes that the new building that the congregation now occupies has something to do with increased attendance. Congregations there are about 33 1-3 per cent greater than before the outbreak of the Korean War, he said. Attendance will show an even greater increase in the fall and then in the spring during the Easter season, he commented.

A fall meeting is being planned at the Church of Christ, E. 4th and Benton, according to T. H. Tarbet, minister. Attendance there has shown a steady increase in the past two years, but Tarbet has no accurate account of just how great the increase has been.

The Rev. Cecil Rhodes, pastor of the West Side Baptist Church, announced that a Youth Revival began Sunday at the church as part of an enrollment period.

Attendance has picked up sharply in recent years and now is approximately one-third greater than before. The congregation is currently making church history by having the best attendance during the summer months than can ever be remembered.

The Big Spring Pastors' Association will endeavor to give an added push to local church attendance in October, when the group stages Round-Up Month.

This will be the time for pastors, ministers and congregations to have a simultaneous enrollment period and extensive visitation.

Hide Ugly Radiator With Screen That Holds Plants

BY ELIZABETH HILLYER

Here's an idea for blocking out an ugly radiator for the summer, and good riddance to that useless, unhappy reminder of heat. Try a two-purpose trick, one that hides away the radiator and makes a good looking background for leafy green plants. Build a screen the height of the radiator of plywood or composition board. Panels should be 3 to 4 inches wide and there should be enough of them to put up a concealing front. The screen need not be made to fold. Paint it the color of the curtains or draperies

Eight New Cars Are Pressed In Service For City Cab Co.

City transportation that is economical, convenient, prompt, and courteous is that which is supplied by the City Cab Company. Telephones 33 and 77, and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Carr at Second and Scurry, directly across Scurry and on the corner, from the Petroleum Building.

Cabs avoids parking problems and parking meter worries. City Cabs take the passenger directly to the store or building to which they want to go—there's no hunting for parking space and then walking two or three blocks, or maybe even farther these hot, dry days.

Many mothers show their confidence in City Cab service by telephoning 33 or 77 to arrange transportation for their children to school, parties, picture shows, the swimming pool and other places. Many people going to see their doctor or dentist prefer using City Cabs to using their own car in order that they may go directly to the office or hospital, free of parking worries, and because they know that when they wish to return home, City Cab transportation will be as convenient and prompt in returning them and such return transportation can be arranged by an appointment in advance if wished.

But you don't have to go there to get a ride in one of their eight new cabs, seven Plymouths and a Dodge, because a City Cab is just as near as your telephone. These cabs are dispatched by most modern radio facilities and there's nearly always one in your neighborhood (because your neighbors use City Cabs, too) that can be sent by radio to answer your call.

City Cab drivers know the city. They are trained in rendering prompt, courteous and considerate service. City transportation by City

Local Dairy Herds Supplying Banner

"Banner" is the brand of what is finest in liquid milk and other dairy products, and there are no foods more important to the complete nourishment of the people than milk, butter, cheese, ice cream and other foods basically derived from milk.

Also to be considered is the fact that Banner Creameries is an organization that is helping to build West Texas. A dozen Howard County farmers milking approximately 500 fine dairy cows find a market for their raw milk at the Big Spring plant of Banner Creameries.

Banner also handles ice which is in heavy demand by many businesses and homes. The name "Banner" on a bottle or carton is an assurance that the contents are pure, wholesome, nourishing and safe for even the youngest baby or elderly invalid. All plants of this organization meet the highest sanitary specifications set up by both state and federal food and health laws and regulations, and are regularly inspected, not only by government representatives but by the organization's own staff. Banner management insists on the greatest possible cleanliness.

While milk and its products have become the most important food in the diet of the American people, it is also recognized that no food is subject to quicker contamination. In the Banner plants this possible spoilage is carefully guarded against with the most modern milk-handling and processing equipment. From the time the milk is received by Banner from the dairymen, no human ever touches it until the bottle or carton is opened in the consumer's home, and these bottles and cartons are available at the plant, by motor delivery or in your favorite grocery store.

Banner milk is sold either Pasteurized or homogenized, as the customer may prefer, and in either state has been processed through equipment so clean and sterile that all possibility of the presence of bacteria has been completely eliminated.

The process for making eye-glasses is believed to have been discovered late in the 13th Century.

Truman Signs New FHA Act

WASHINGTON, July 14 (AP)—President Truman today signed an act opening the way for the government to boost its operations in financing home mortgages. The new law puts up $1,395,000,000 for the purchase of federally guaranteed home mortgages. It also provides additional mortgage insurance under the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) and veterans housing programs.

The program includes an additional 900 million dollars of purchasing power for the Federal National Mortgage Association, a government owned corporation which buys mortgages from lending institutions and thus establishes a secondary mortgage market for private home buyers.

The association—popularly known as “Fannie May” because of its initials—has now been given $3,650,000,000 of purchasing authority since it was set up. The act also gives the FHA an additional 400 million dollars of home insurance authorization, an additional 50 million dollars for housing in critical defense areas, 40 million for community facilities and service and five million for housing loans in Korea.

Under the new law savings and loan associations will be permitted to purchase mortgages on property more than 50 miles from their offices. The amendment, introduced by Rep. Harrison (D-Va.), specifically exempted “drugs and vegetables in fresh or processed form from price control.”

The exemption actually became effective July 15 but OPS officials had been studying the field to determine how broad the exemption should be. An OPS official estimated the exemption applies to at least 90 per cent of all processed fruits and vegetables.

He added that the exemption “clearly and unequivocally” applies to fruit and vegetable juices, canned and frozen fruits and vegetables, including baby or junior foods; potato chips and dried fruits.

Negro Escapes Still At Large

PORT WORTH, July 14 (AP)—Three Negro jail-breakers, described by police as “desperate and dangerous,” remained at large today after a daring Saturday night escape from the Tarrant County jail.

The trio tried one end of their escape rope—a woven mattress ticking—to a pipe on the roof, six stories high, and climbed down the flimsy affair to the second floor. Two of the escapees were reported in the Joshua area of Johnson County Sunday by Sheriff Earl H. King of Cleburne. They were Johnny (Jump Up) Henderson, 29, held on a murder charge, and Harvey Bell Tuit, 27, charged in five cases of burglary and robbery.

The escaped prisoners overpowered Guard C. B. Brewster, 50, as he prepared to lock the men in their cells, Sheriff Sully Montgomery of Tarrant County reported.

Crash Survivors Are Recovering

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—All seven survivors of a B-17 crash in the mountain wilderness near the Alaska-Yukon border were reported by the Air Force today to be recovering satisfactorily here.

Names of the seven men and their fellow crewman who died in the Friday morning crash were to be released later in the day. The B-17 bomber crashed and burned while hunting for a missing Canadian Air Force plane. The survivors were ferried from the crash scene by helicopter.

Auto Executive Killed in Crash

LAPEER, Mich. (AP)—General Motors Vice President Arnold W. Lenz, 64, general manager of GM's Pontiac Division, was killed with his wife Amelia in a train-car crash yesterday.

Their car skidded 100 feet into the side of a Michigan Central passenger train at an unprotected grade crossing near here.

Review Of Costello Case To Be Sought

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank Costello's attorneys are going to Washington today to make a preliminary move for possible U. S. Supreme Court review of the gambler's conviction for contempt of the U. S. Senate.

U. S. Atty. Myles J. Lane's office announced that Costello's counsel will ask Supreme Court Justice Robert H. Jackson in Washington to continue Costello's $5,000 bail pending appeal.

Col. Dodd Arrives At Brooke Hospital

SAN ANTONIO, July 14 (AP)—Col. Francis T. Dodd, Koje prison camp commander who was seized and held hostage by Red prisoners, arrived at Brooke Army Hospital here yesterday after being evacuated by air from a U. S. hospital in Japan.

He is hospitalized for a recurrent illness incurred before he was sent to the Far East, hospital authorities said. No interviews were allowed newsmen.

Ike Tool Of Greedy Men, Democratic Hopeful Says

SYRACUSE, N. Y., July 14 (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver said today that Dwight Eisenhower “is the unwitting tool of the few greedy men who have long sought to control this country's economy.”

“The Republican Party may have put on an amiable smile,” he told a Syracuse luncheon meeting, “but it looks like the same old party to me.”

The Tennessee Democrat concentrated his attack on the men who boosted Eisenhower to the Republican presidential nomination and on the platform approved unanimously by the GOP convention.

“The GOP has done it again,” said Kefauver in his prepared address. “Three times the faithful old elephant has tried to hide behind the attractive mask of an apparently independent candidate.”

“And it is no reflection of the candidate that the beast shows call on Eisenhower after the election ‘for further service in the military field in which he is a specialist.’”

Also receiving the Honorary Lone Star Farmer degree at the banquet will be: Truett Vines, vocational agriculture instructor in the Big Spring High School, and Ed Robnett of Stanton, former VA teacher here who was succeeded in the post by Vines. These two will receive the degree under a program providing for it to be awarded to teachers and former teachers who have rendered outstanding service to the vocational agriculture projects.

Two Draw Fines In County Court

Antonio Torres Martinez entered a plea of guilty in County Court this morning to the charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicants and was fined $100 and costs.

Willie Ed Haynes, a Negro, entered a guilty plea to the charge of theft and was fined $50 and expenses. He was charged with stealing a pair of shoes from J. D. Smith, another Negro.

Haynes, caught after a long and spirited chase in Martin County Sunday, was also charged with driving while under the influence of intoxicants. He elected to fight the case and his bond was set at $500 by the court.

Jessie Lee Seale, also charged with D. I., entered a “not guilty” plea. His bond was also set at $500.

Fire Damages Stolen Auto

A stolen 1941 Ford sedan was badly damaged by fire on Scenic Mountain early Sunday morning about five hours after it was found abandoned and stripped of wheels, motor parts and accessories.

The fire occurred about 3:30 a. m. Sunday, according to police reports. The car had been found about 10 p. m. where it had been pushed off the mountain road into a ravine and stripped.

Owner of the vehicle was Gray and Abernathy Used Car Lot, 400 Johnson. Roscoe Gray, partner in the firm, said he reported theft of the vehicle to police after it was stolen from the car lot Friday night.

Troy Berry discovered the abandoned car Saturday night and notified police who informed Gray the vehicle had been found. Berry and Gray then drove to the ravine on the south side of Scenic Mountain to identify the machine.

Gray said two boys drove hurriedly away from the scene, almost running over Gray and Berry, as the two men approached the car. He said he secured a portion of the license number of the 1951 Ford the boys were driving.

The used car dealer said he was unable to secure a wrecker to remove the vehicle Saturday night and decided to leave it on the mountain until Sunday. It burned about 3:30 a. m.

Kaplan's Body Is Flown To Tel Aviv

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—The body of Elieser Kaplan, Israel's late deputy premier, was flown back today from Genoa, Italy. He died there yesterday of a heart attack.

Flags were lowered to half-staff throughout Israel for the 61-year-old leader, who had launched this young country's financial and economic programs. He was minister of finance from 1948 until last month, when he resigned because of ill health.

En route to Switzerland with his wife and daughter for a rest, he was stricken Saturday aboard ship and was taken to the hospital in Genoa, where he died.

Civil Defense Funds Suffer

By W. JOYNE MACFARLAN WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal civil defense officials believe the records will show Congress has been stingy with funds for the national civil defense program than for any other major program.

And they said today they wonder why. They point to these figures: Budget request for the year which started July 1, 600 million dollars; voted by Congress, 43 million, or little more than 7 per cent.

Requested for the year 1951-52, 535 million; voted by Congress, 674,900,000. Budget request for 1950-51, after Congress authorized a comprehensive national civil defense program, 403 million; Congress voted 31 million.

Civil defense officials say that when the 1950-51 appropriation was being considered in the House, approved $186 1/2 million and the Senate 85 million but a Senate-House conference committee, without explanation, reduced the funds to 31 million.

President Truman and Civil Defense Administrator Millard Caldwell have repeatedly appealed to Congress for more money for a strong civilian defense program.

“We simply cannot afford a penny-wise — pound — foolish attitude about the cost of adequate civil defense,” Truman told Congress April 24.

Truce Talks Recess Again

MUNSAN, Korea, July 14 (AP)—Secret Korean armistice talks were recessed today at Communist request, raising speculation that the Redback over prisoner exchange was nearing a climax.

The Red request for a two-day recess was made 2 1/2 hours before the truce delegates were to meet at Panmunjon for their 11th consecutive session.

No reason for the recess was announced. The Communists last asked for a recess July 2 after listening to a lengthy review of the U. N. Command position. The next day the Reds proposed a new plan for settling the prisoner controversy and asked that it be discussed in the secret sessions which began July 4.

The full truce delegations will meet again at 11 a. m. Wednesday (7 p. m. Tuesday EST). Two Communist letters were delivered to the U. N. Command by Red liaison officers. One protested the killing of seven officers in a POW camp in South Korea last week.

The second letter demanded an accounting of 4,391 captured Reds listed by the International Committee for the Red Cross but which did not appear on the U. N. Command Dec. 18 list of prisoners.

A U. N. spokesman said it will take considerable time to determine whether the 4,391 were captured since prisoner lists were exchanged last December.

Snakes Invading Dalhart District

DALHART, July 14 (AP)—Dalhart citizens are getting genuinely concerned about why so many snakes are being found in the downtown business district or on its edges.

From 1912 until this spring only one snake was ever killed in the business district so far as anyone can remember. Then this spring a four-foot unidentified kind of snake was killed at Fourth and Denrock Ave., which is the town's main stem. A short while later a bullsnake was killed on Denrock between Fifth and Sixth Streets.

Then Dick Peck, who runs a ranching advisory service, found what he believed to have been a garter snake in his house. And this week end two rattlesnakes were killed in the downtown area—an 18-inch one and a three-footer.

Polio Attacks Still Gaining

By The Associated Press Almost every daylight hour counted another case of polio as the deadly epidemic took its toll in the disease continued Monday in Texas.

In Houston, where the crippling malady has hit the hardest, only one case was reported Sunday, but there may have been more. Four possible polio cases entered Fort Worth hospitals Sunday, bringing the two-day week-end total there to 11. None of the Fort Worth cases were classed as critical and definite diagnosis of the cases were to be made Monday.

El Paso reported its fifth polio death of the year and two new cases Sunday. Four-year-old Maurine Turley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Turley of El Paso, became the far West Texas city's fifth victim.

A new polio patient was reported in Dallas Sunday. Houston's Jeff Davis Hospital said it had no new cases Sunday. Hedgcock Clinic, however, had no information and said it would give none without authorization from its executive director, who could not be located.

The one Houston case reported was at Hermann Hospital. Meanwhile, researchers awaited the results of inoculation of 33,000 small children in Houston. Half of the lots, aged one to six years, received shots of gamma globulin, a blood fraction substance, doctors hope will tell them the secret of polio. The rest of the children got a harmless substitute.

The researchers hope to prove that injection of gamma globulin will prevent polio from paralyzing its victims. Early next year, the results of the shots can be evaluated.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis will keep a close check on the children inoculated.

Polio Total Here Reaches 10 Cases

Howard County's 1952 polio total climbed to 10 cases Sunday with admission of Jim Cooper, 7, to a local hospital.

Diagnosis of the polio infection was completed Sunday. Jim, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cooper, 106 Jefferson, had “a fair night” Sunday night.

The youngster first became ill late Saturday as the family prepared to leave on vacation. His admission to the hospital cancelled plans for the trip. Jim became Howard County's 10th polio victim for 1952. He is the first to contract the disease since A. I. and Mrs. Arvill Miller, 121 Madison, were found to have polio a week ago. The Millers and their 16-month-old son are in Brooke Hospital, San Antonio where they were flown from Webb AFB hospital July 5.

Burglars Enter Liquor Store Here

Burglars ripped a hole in a wall of the Drop In Liquor Store, 406 1/2 N. W. 3rd, to steal more than 20 pints of liquor Saturday night, police reported.

A plank was torn off the side of the building and a small hole cut through interior wall lining. The thieves apparently reached through the hole to secure the whiskey. Stolen were 20 pint containers and seven half-pint bottles, officers said.

Two Cars Collide

Claude Joseph Hearn, 163 N. W. 8th, and Jimmie O. Smith, 951 Runnels, were drivers of autos involved in a minor traffic mishap at Gregg and Marcy Drive Sunday. No one was injured.

Biggs Air Force Base, El Paso, was killed Sunday when the car in which he was riding overturned near El Paso.

Will A. Barnett, 53-year-old Negro of Sput, was killed Sunday in the collision of a pickup truck and a car about seven miles north-east of Plainview. Three others were injured.

Mrs. Raymond Fickensen, Galveston, was fatally shot Saturday in the bedroom of her home. A charge of murder was filed against her 34-year-old husband.

Ben Burton, 24, Lubbock, was killed Saturday when struck by a freight train as he sat on a rail at a Lubbock crossing.

Two men were burned to death in a flash fire and explosion at the Texas Company Refinery in Port Arthur Saturday. Killed were John M. Hicks, 54, and Henry H. Vostal, 41. The victims were trapped in a control room by flaming crude oil.

Stella Griffin, 25-year-old Negro woman, died Saturday morning when fire swept a rooming house in Fort Worth.

Mrs. Pawnee Hornaby Powell, 45, Fort Worth, was fatally injured Saturday in an automobile accident 15 miles northeast of Fort Worth.

Dudley Glenn Schultz, Waco, was killed Saturday when the crop-dusting plane he was piloting crashed into a clump of trees 10 miles south of Waco.

Peggy Landers, 16, Fort Worth, was killed Saturday night when the car in which she was riding overturned near Fort Worth.

Seven-year-old Ruby June Burns, was fatally injured Saturday in a truck-car collision in Haltom City, a suburb of Fort Worth.

Janice Tigner, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Tigner, died early Monday in Fort Worth of injuries received in a three-car accident Sunday night.

Johnnie Lee Cochran, 19, of Buchanan Dam was killed early Sunday in a car wreck north of Del Rio. Cochran was stationed at Webb Air Force Base.

Broncs Home For One Game; Meet San Angelo Tonight

Locals To Head For New Mexico

Four and a half games off the pace and getting nowhere fast in their drive toward the top, the Big Spring Broncs host the San Angelo Colts in a single game tonight before striking out for New Mexico. The strange Longhorn League schedule, designed to save Big Spring and other circuit teams unnecessary travel, will bring the Colts back into town for a two-game set beginning Saturday night. The Broncs will be in New Mexico for four nights, two in Artesia and two in Roswell. Oscar Reguera may twirl for Big Spring tonight, unless Manager Pat Stacey elects to go along with Pancho Perez, Reguera had a 2-6 won-lost record. He's beaten Midland and Vernon on five hiters. Perez's five-day look ends today and Stacey must decide what to do with him. This is San Angelo's first visit here since May 11. The Colts are one of the few teams to hold an edge in season's play against the Broncs. They've won six, lost four to the Steeds. Odessa picked up ground in the race Sunday, simply by not playing. The Oilers meet Midland in a twin bill tonight in Midland.

Savitt Beaten By Art Larsen

CHICAGO—Take your eye off unpredictable Art Larsen and he does something smashing, like winning the National Clay Courts singles and doubles titles yesterday. The 27-year-old Larsen, from San Leandro, Calif., gave the Davis Cup Committee of the USLTA something to think about as it met in New York today to line up the newest American court squad. In winning his first clay court crown in four years of trying, Larsen caught fire for a 4-6, 6-4, 6-2, 6-4 victory over top-seeded Dick Savitt of Orange, N.J., out-ranked nationally only by Vic Seixas. Larsen, a spidey guy who will kill you with anything but politeness on the courts, also teamed with Grant Godden of Wilmette, Ill., to whip NCAA Champion Hugh Stewart of San Marino, Calif., and Noel Brown, Los Angeles, 6-2, 6-4, 8-6, for the doubles title. Larsen, sixth-ranked nationally, was second-seeded in the clay courts test at River-Forest Tennis Club. He came up this time with a British-style, full blonde mustache and his usual display of temperament. In the semi-finals, he refused to continue until a photographer was shooved away from the sidelines. There are reports that Savitt wants no part of the Davis Cup play, which begins against Japan at Cincinnati later this month.

Maxwell Entered In Trans-Miss

DENVER, July 14 (AP)—Championship flight qualifying rounds for the 1952 Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament was set today for Lakewood Country Club course. Charles Coe of Ardmore, Okla., made the favorite's role with two burning practice rounds yesterday, touring the 6,711-yard layout in five-under-par 65 and a record-setting 62. Previously the record had been 62. The list of entries includes defending champion L. M. Crannell Jr. of Dallas and Billy Maxwell, National Amateur champ from Odessa, Tex.

Middlecoff Gains St. Paul Trophy

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—The dentist's office in Memphis with Cary Middlecoff's name on the door is going to stay empty a while longer. About 10 days ago Middlecoff, feeling stale, considered deserting the tournament golf circuit for a while to go back to his office. He changed his mind and, as a result is $4,800 richer today. His play during the first couple of days of the Motor City Open in

Lamesa Trails By 16 Games

Gaining on Clovis in its wild parade at the head of the West Texas-New Mexico League is almost an impossibility. The Pioneers have such a lead something terrible would have to happen to keep them from finishing first. Sunday Lamesa passed Berger and moved into third place by beating Berger, 10-8. But Lamesa, still is 16 games behind Clovis. Albuquerque which dropped a half-game back by losing to Pampa, 15-11, is 11 games away. Clovis split a double-header with Lubbock. Ray Machado pitched Lubbock to a 2-4 win in the first game. In the nightcap Jack Gaines set the Hubbers down with three hits and Clovis won, 9-0. Amarillo smashed Abilene, 18-5, with a 20-hit attack. Bill Potter, new head tennis coach at the University of Florida, is a graduate of Pomona College, Calif.

Bryant Beaten At San Angelo

SAN ANGELO—Weldon Bryant, Big Spring, was defeated in the finals of second flight play in the San Angelo Invitational Golf Tournament here Sunday. Bryant's conquerer was Charles Wood, San Angelo, who prevailed, 4 and 2. Lee Pinkston, Abilene, copped the tournament's top honor by beating Dick Stovall, Abilene, 7 and 5, in the finals. Pinkston was 2-up at the end of 18 holes.

McAlester Gains Lead In League

The surging McAlester Rockets swept a two-game series from Chickasha Sunday night and assumed undisputed possession of first place in the Sooner State League standings. The Rockets, behind the four-hit hurling of Charles Seymour, coasted to an easy 4-0 victory over their closest competitors. Paul Valley split its week-end series with Sherman, losing a close, 11-10 decision to the Twins. Shawnee took on Ada at the Herford's home park and the score looked like a football game, 19-16, with Shawnee in front. The last-place Ardmore Indians swept the second of a two-game series from Lawton, 14-8.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

There's a good chance Snyder will be in the Longhorn League in 1953. Overtures have already been made to the Snyder people by some club, most probably Vernon. And the Snyder people are supposed to be very interested. Snyder doesn't have a park out likely will build one during the winter, unless building materials become even harder to get. Snyder is not booming like it once did but it would probably support a ball club more enthusiastically than Vernon, which has never warmed to baseball. During the past three seasons, the Dusters have played to a total attendance at home of 133,171. That averages out to about 613 a game, which is good for a city that size (15,000). Vernon bosses claim they've been losing money the past two seasons, however. Snyder possibly might or might not do better. The point in their favor is that other Longhorn League teams would have to do less traveling. The switch would help Big Spring, perhaps, more than any other club because Snyder is only 46 miles removed from the city limits here and connected with a through highway in Our Town. With the passing of the years, the Pacific Coast League becomes more than ever an old folks' home. The New York Giants purchased Hal Gregg for two hurlers and some $35,000 in green goods. The two hurlers were George Bamberger and Roger Bowman. Gregg is not a major league material, which the Giants discovered. Bamberger and Bowman won six starts without a loss between them after joining their new employers, the Oakland Oaks. A lot of humor occurs in a baseball game which, regrettably, most of the fans are in no position to catch. A case in point was the middle game of the Vernon-Big Spring set here recently, when Oscar Reguera, the Big Spring hurler, four times struck out to end an inning. On each occasion, Catcher Joe Neldson and the Vernons walked over and handed him the ball, without cracking a smile. Deep inside, he was chuckling, though. Billy Tidwell, the fine Texas A & M halfback, is so certain he's going into military service he hasn't bothered to return a contract proffered by the San Francisco 49ers. Tidwell would be a whiz in pro ball, they say. They say Dick Hoerner, acquired by the Dallas Texans from the Los Angeles Rams in a trade, is tickled pink to be with the Dallas bunch. He plans to work in the oil business between seasons. Old Tom Sharkey, the box-fighter of a by-gone era, is again in a bad way. He left the hospital in San Francisco recently but had another heart attack. Caldwell Wins Gulf Coast Go

Colts Decision Cayuses, 6-5, In San Angelo

SAN ANGELO—Reggi Corrales weakened badly in the eighth and the San Angelo Colts gathered their forces to defeat the Big Spring Broncs, 6-5, before Aramis Arcebia could be rushed to the rescue. Arcebia arrived on the scene with the score tied and runners at first and second. A fielding mis-play by Al Costa on Tony Guerrero's ground ball enabled Clarence Tinkler to come home from second base. Ronald Dacko singled with two out in that inning. Tinkler walked and Marty Dooley crashed out a single off Corrales to plate Dacko. Whitty Quintana hit his 13th and 14th home runs for Big Spring, along with a double. He drove in three tallies and scored thrice himself. The Colts got away to a great start, getting three runs in the first off Corrales. Quintana's first inning four-master had opened the scoring. Quintana hit his second homer in the third but the Angelo club came right back to get another on successive doubles by Glenn Burns and Ken Kowalik to run the tally to 4-2. Big Spring tied it up in the sixth on successive doubles by Oslie Alvarez and Quintana and singles by Juan Visteur and Buddy Grimes. The Broncs went out in front in the seventh on a walk, a fielder's choice and Alvarez's second two-baser. The loss was Corrales' seventh, against seven wins.

Bobby Shantz, midget southpaw of the Philadelphia Athletics, can become the first second-division hurler in the past 50 years to lead his league in won-and-lost percentage — provided, of course, the Athletics don't finish above their present 115th-place berth. 1. Become the first second-division hurler in the past 50 years to lead his league in won-and-lost percentage — provided, of course, the Athletics don't finish above their present 115th-place berth. 2. Become the first 30-game McDermott winner in the majors in 19 years and the first American League pitcher to reach that total in 21 years. Shantz spun a seven-hit 6-0 shut-out yesterday as the Athletics split a double-header with the Chicago White Sox. The Sox took the second, 7-4. It was Bobby's third shut-out and his 18th complete game in 18 starts. He has won 15 and lost three. The 57 lightweight from Pottsville, Pa., is shooting at the 21-victory Philadelphia pitching record jointly held by Jack Coombs of the 1910 Athletics and Lefty Grove of the 1931 club. The Athletics have played only 73 games, four fewer than half their season's schedule. Grove was the last of eight American League hurlers to win 30 or more in one season. Dizzy Dean was the last major leaguer to accomplish it. He won 30 for the 1934 St. Louis Cardinals. Only one pitcher, hurling for a second-division club, ever led the American circuit on a won-and-lost basis. He was Bill Bernhard, who won 12 and lost five for the fifth-place Cleveland Indians in 1907. Shantz was not the only pitcher to shine yesterday. Vic Raschi came within four outs of pitching a no-run, no-hit game for New York as the Yankees twice overwhelmed the Detroit Tigers, 11-1 and 13-2. Raschi had two out and two strikes on Myron (Joe) Ginzberg in the eighth inning when the weak-hitting Tiger catcher blasted a 350-foot home run into the right field stands. It was the only hit in the game for the Tigers. In the meantime, the Yankees rapped four Tiger pitchers for 31 hits, 18 in the first game to win their eighth and ninth games in their last 12. It was Raschi's eighth straight. Mike Garcia turned in a brilliant two-hitter for Cleveland as the In-

Cook's Appliance Wins Twin Bill

COLORADO CITY — Cook's Appliance came through with two gamblers here Saturday night, dropping the Col-Tex nine in both ends of a double-header 6-5 and 5-3. The first contest was a regularly scheduled nine-inning battle but the second — slated for seven — went eight before Cook's could gain an edge. Cotton Mize pitched the first game for the winners and Franklin went the distance in the nightcap. The Cook's team went into the last of the ninth in the first game with a seemingly safe 4-3 lead. But before they looked up Col-Tex had scored two runs to pull them within one run of a tie ball game before Cook's could retire the side. Ben Kirkland sparked the Cook's nine at the plate in both games. TYLER, June 14 (AP)—Tyler Swimming Club won the College Station Invitational swimming meet with a total of 295 points here last night. College Station was second with 217, and Georgetown of Houston was third with 163.

Hamby Wins One
COLORADO CITY, — Raymond Hamby of Big Spring copped the second race here Sunday night in the weekly stock car races. Seven races were run on the slate. In seven seasons of pro football, Bob Waterfield has completed 763 passes and gained 11,238 yards.

Mal Whitfield Could Run In Three Olympic Events

By WILL GRIMSLEY
HELSINKI (AP)—The 15th modern Olympics veered sharply from ceremony to preliminary competition today, six days before the official opening, and the United States primed Mal Whitfield for a possible iron man triple in the ancient games. Coach Brutus Hamilton of the American track and field forces said he planned to use Whitfield in the 1,600-meter relay if the Ohio State star's leg muscle is healed. "He is a tireless runner and gets better the more he works," said Hamilton as he watched rain wash out a scheduled Sunday practice. "He is also a fine competitor and wants to run in everything possible. It's quite a load to carry but if Mal's leg is okay, he'll probably go in the relay. I don't plan to pick out the relay teams until after the Olympic sports." Whitfield, an Air Force sergeant who has flown numerous missions in the Korean campaign, already is entered in the 400 meters and the 800 meters. He won the 800-

Eagles Bashed In Twin Bill

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor
The Dallas Eagles, who have had a habit in the immediate past seasons of leading the Texas League with a flourish then slumping down the stretch, may be up to their old tricks. The Eagles were riding high, wide and handsome on July 5 but since then they've had the worst record in the circuit—they've lost six of their last eight games. Sunday, Dallas took a double drubbing from San Antonio, 4-2 and 8-1, while Beaumont was trimming Tulsa 5-1. Fort Worth clipped Houston, 4-0, to move into third place ahead of the cooling Shreveport Sports. Oklahoma City whipped Shreveport 8-4 with a home run volley.

PREPARE FOR BIG DRIVE

Texas GOPs Happy Over Deal; Daniel Mentioned As Nominee

By The Associated Press
State candidates counted the days to the First Democratic Primary...

out their reserves and watched Chicago, where the Democratic National Convention was about to start.

Senate Candidates Price Daniel and Lindley Beckworth turned more steam on their already hot race and prepared for a driving finish to the wire.

The attorney general's (Daniel) friends were coming out with speeches for him. The congressman's (Beckworth) family and friends re-doubled their efforts for him.

Republicans returning from the Chicago convention that nominated Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for President, hailed their selection and promised an all-out drive to carry Texas for their nominees.

Orville Bullington of Wichita Falls, state GOP Executive Committee chairman, Sunday night called a meeting of the committee and all the alternates and delegates who attended the Chicago convention.

It was understood that invitations went to delegates named at Mineral Wells for factions supporting both Eisenhower and Senator Robert Taft of Ohio. It was an obvious move at harmony.

"I want the delegates to get together so we can build a solid front for the November election," the Wichita Falls man said. He set the meeting for Saturday in Dallas.

Returning Republicans who de-trained at Fort Worth and Dallas Sunday night had rousing welcomes by about 200 greeters at each place. H. J. (Jack) Porter of Houston, new GOP national committeeman from Texas and Eisenhower's state campaign manager, and Alvin Lane, Porter's first lieutenant in the Texas-for-Ike drive, were buried in confetti as they stepped from a train at Fort Worth.

A band blared and cowbells jangled as Porter, his face wreathed in smiles, said: "The only thing we lost was a straw hat of mine."

"Fortunately," he continued, "Texas had a great hand in naming the Republican nominee for President. And I'm certain he'll be the next President of the United States."

That called for the "Eyes of Texas" from the three-piece band and cheers and more confetti from the crowd.

"This Republican National Convention," Porter told the cheering greeters, "opened the doors to the people of the South to come into the Republican Party. The days of the patronage clubs in the South are over."

Lane said, "we took control from the Old Guard bosses. The Republican party is the people's party now."

In Dallas, it was State Rep. Edward T. Dicker, Texas' only GOP state legislator, and Mrs. Allie Mae Currie, who were greeted at the Union Terminal.

Lane told reporters it was too late this year to do much about finding candidates to oppose Texas Democrats, but Mrs. Currie and Dicker had other ideas.

Mrs. Currie said she thought an effort should be made to "oppose inefficient Democrats." Dicker said an all-out drive to elect Eisenhower was most important. But he added that local and state offices should be fought for also.

"We told the state and national conventions we are fighting for a two-party system in Texas," Dicker said. "To do that you must have candidates. . . You must run a candidate to establish your identity."

The white-haired, youngish Dicker—holding his first elective office—said he would be glad to run for the U. S. Senate against the Democratic nominee if the State GOP Convention in San Antonio next month should nominate him.

Dicker also said he had no objection to cross-filing with Republicans to run on the Democratic ballot and vice versa.

The Dallas Republican also said he would be happy to nominate Atty. Gen. Price Daniel—Democratic candidate for the Senate nomination—if Daniel would accept GOP nomination.

But Lane said whatever the state GOP decides to do about local and state candidates would be decided after the Democrats chose their Presidential nominee.

This apparently meant that if a Democratic nominee believed unpalatable to Texas were nominated, that the Republicans would put candidates up for most major state offices.

Nickel, Cobalt Are Still On Scarce List

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nickel and cobalt are still scarce and the international materials conference said yesterday they will have to be rationed among free nations for an indefinite time.

The IMC is a 28-nation organization which allocates scarce materials on a voluntary basis. The United States is receiving by far the largest amount of scarce allocations: of the total of 2,475 metric tons of cobalt shared by 35 countries over a three-month period, the U. S. gets 1,583; of the 36,580 metric tons of nickel divided among 38 nations, the U. S. gets 24,626.

Ike Could Be First In Several Things

WASHINGTON (AP)—George Washington may have been first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen, but if Dwight D. Eisenhower is elected President he'll be first in a lot of things, too.

The records show he would be the first President whose first name had only one syllable, his last as many as four; the first whose first name began with the letter D and his last with E.

Not only that, he would be the first President born in Texas, and the first general elected to the chief executive's post in the 20th Century.

Man Dead, Brother Hurt In Mishap

SULPHUR, Okla., July 14 (AP)—Ray David Reed, 26, of Lockney, Tex., remained in a hospital here today following an auto accident that killed his brother, Arvil J. Reed, 29, also of Lockney.

The brothers, who had been employed as carpenters at Lawton, Okla., were in a car that went out of control yesterday on a curve southeast of here. Arvil died at the scene of the accident after he was thrown from the rolling auto.
