PINEVILLE, Ky., Nov. 19.—(P)—The Cumberland river, swollen by 36 hours of rain, went on a rampage in this vicinity today, causing the deaths of three men, driving families living in the lowlands of four communities from their homes, and inundating parts of the business district of Middlesboro, Ky. The men were on a bridge when it was swept down stream.

Old Sol was a welcomed early morning caller in the North Plains firmament today, and relief from nearly a week of rain, snow, and hard freezes was welcomed by residents of this community. Clear, but cold weather in the forecast for the next few days. Almost impassable roads constitute the greatest inconvenience, but bus men said this morning that by tomorrow they should be going through regularly. The highway department promised immediate re-conditioning of the dirt highways. School buses did not go after the pupils today.

Bursting radiators testify to the freeze of last night. The Santa Fe reported temperature of 22 degrees at 5 o'clock this morning. Snow fell to seven inches in depth last Sunday morning.

Trains have been many hours behind schedule from the east, owing to floods in Kansas.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 19.—(P)—Snow fell generally over the flooded areas of Kansas, Missouri, and Oklahoma today, intensifying the suffering and hardship of thousands of persons driven from their homes by overflows which followed an unprecedented November downpour.

With the known toll of dead and missing standing at a dozen, additional lives were endangered by possible outbreaks of disease expected to follow the severe climatic change which held the temperature in the lower thirties.

National and local relief agencies throughout the flooded section have joined to combat the now menace and to aid in rehabilitation of the victims.

The property damage runs into the millions, the principal loss being to crops, livestock and flooded homes and business buildings in widely scattered sections. Railroad companies suffered heavily through damage, roadbeds and bridges.

Danger Is Increased
With the crest of the flood passing from central and north eastern Kansas uplands the danger was increased in southeastern Kansas where much of the turbulent overflow will leave the state in a few large streams.

The biggest toll of life at a single point came at Ottawa, Kans., Saturday night when swirling waters capsized a motorboat in which Dr. Ralph Shiras and Dr. J. Ward Smith had heroically carried on rescue operations. The other victims were Mrs. C. C. Jones and her two small daughters, whom the physicians had removed from their flooded home in the Marais Des Cygnes lowlands.

EDUCATED BRAINS FAIL PROF—HE IS KILLED

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—(P)—An absent-minded professor plunged to his death down an elevator shaft yesterday, and the following notation was made in the coroner's records:

"Daniel J. Ellingsen, 41, 241 Smalley court; fell down elevator shaft; Chicago Avenue police."

Ellingsen was the elevator man of an apartment at 14 Elm street. It wasn't much of a job for a man who had been graduated from three colleges in Norway, who was a post graduate alumnus of the University of Chicago, the holder of M. S. and M. A. degrees, a teacher of languages and an authority on the Bible. Not much of a job for a college professor; but even professors must eat, and in Ellingsen's case there were three motherless youngsters to be thought of, too.

Prof. Ellingsen got the elevator job four days ago. He had been an instructor of languages at Father College, Decatur, Ill., until the courses he taught were discontinued last year. He also taught at Clifton Lutheran College, Clifton, Tex.

When his professorial position at Father college was abolished, Ellingsen came to Chicago, seeking a new educational concession. His three children were sent to live with relatives while he sought employment. Finding nothing in his line, Prof. Ellingsen got the job as elevator man last week. He reported at the apartment building for work punctually yesterday. It wasn't a job that seemed to require much thought. Absent-mindedly, Prof. Ellingsen opened the elevator door and stepped through.

The elevator was not there.

Shamrock Will Play Harvesters Here Tomorrow

The Pampa Harvesters will meet the Shamrock Irishmen at Fair Park here tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, according to Coach Odus Mitchell who received word from Shamrock at press time today, that the team would rather play here.

The field will be wet but the locals need the practice for the big game here next Saturday afternoon with the Canyon Eagles.

The Irishmen are strong and will give the local squad a tough battle. The Shamrock team is built around the last of the Close family of football stars. The last of the boys is the smallest but by no means the weakest in the game. He is a dynamo of strength and will be the man the Harvesters will have to watch tomorrow.

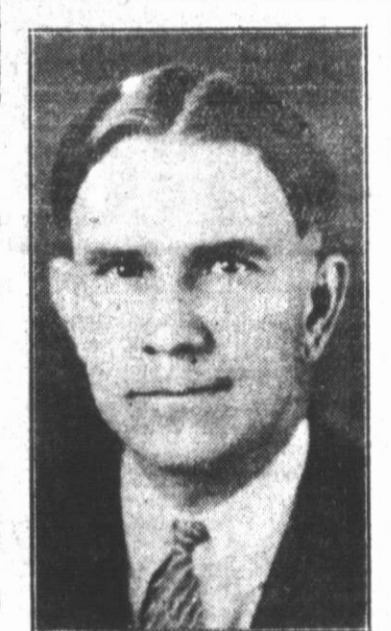

Vestris' Owners Deny Receipt of Early Messages

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—(P)—Denial in behalf of the owners of the British steamship Vestris that they caused the captain to delay SOS calls focused attention today on radio messages obtained by Federal Attorney Charles H. Tuttle, who is conducting an inquiry into the disaster.

David Cook, vice-president of Sanderson and son, American agents for Lampert and Holt, issued this statement:

Mrs. Leona Rusk Ihrig this week is conducting a cooking school in Roswell, N. W., under the auspices of The Roswell Morning Dispatch, after having held a successful school in Childress. Mrs. Ihrig conducted The Pampa Daily News cooking school, Nov. 5 to 8, and made many friends in the city.

BUSINESS MEN ARE GATHERING

Special Trains to Move Over New Rail Line

DALLAS, Nov. 19.—(P)—Hopes of a large section of the Texas South Plains country for rail connection with the outside world neared realization today as plans were completed for inauguration Thursday of traffic on a 205-mile extension into that area by the Fort Worth and Denver City railway.

Business men from Dallas, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls, Childress, Lubbock, Amarillo and other cities as well as high railroad officials from many sections of the country, traveling on special trains, tomorrow and Wednesday will make a tour of celebration in the territory hitherto untouched by rails.

Starting at Estelina, the extension reaches Sterley Junction, formerly a mere speck on the plans just above the caprock, then branches into three separate routes, one extending north-east to Silverton, another north through Plainview to Dimmitt, in Castro county and the third terminating at Lubbock.

Silverton, Turkey, Quitaque, Dimmitt, Petersburg, Becton and a number of smaller towns previously were not served by a railway, the only line through that area being an extension of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe from Plainview to Floydada which contests with the recently completed branch of the Quanah, Acme and Pacific line from McBain to Floydada.

The first regular passenger train from Dallas to Lubbock and Plainview on the South Plains line will be operated Thursday night and the initial train into Dallas will depart from Lubbock Friday night. New all-steel equipment is to be used.

Frank Clarity, general manager of the Fort Worth and Denver, announcing plans for the tour of celebration, said six special trains would be operated, all to assemble at Childress tomorrow morning. They will leave Childress at ten-minute intervals early in the day, making stops at all towns, many of which have arranged elaborate receptions.

Passengers aboard these trains will find not only prosperous cities and farms along the new road, but some of the most scenic spots in Texas, Mr. Clarity said.

Tom Rose returned yesterday from Dallas. He reports that Mrs. Rose, who recently underwent an operation, is improving rapidly.

STROKE FATAL TO AGED MAN EARLY TODAY

Had Lately Gone to California for Winter

CAME FROM GOOD FAMILY

Was Baptist, Whose Views Were Very Liberal

SANTA ANA, Cal., Nov. 19.—(P)—Dr. George Harding, father of the late President Warren G. Harding, died here this morning as the result of a paralytic stroke last Friday. He was 85 years old. Dr. Harding came here two weeks ago from Marion, O., to spend the winter.

Dr. Harding, who had looked forward to a season among some of his old comrades, civil war veterans whom he sometimes treated, was unconscious much of the time after the stroke. He was unable to speak.

Mrs. Harding and a daughter, Mrs. Carl Votaw, of Washington, D. C., were at the bedside, as was Mrs. E. E. Remsburg, a sister at whose home he had been staying.

Burial in Ohio
It was announced that funeral services would be held here and that the body would be sent to Ohio tomorrow for burial.

Dr. Harding traced his ancestral record back many generations. The original name was Harodene. On the maternal side the Crawfords and the Davises were connected. Dr. Harding's maternal grandfather being a first cousin of Jefferson Davis. His grandmother was a first cousin of Alexander Stephens, a leading statesman for the southern cause.

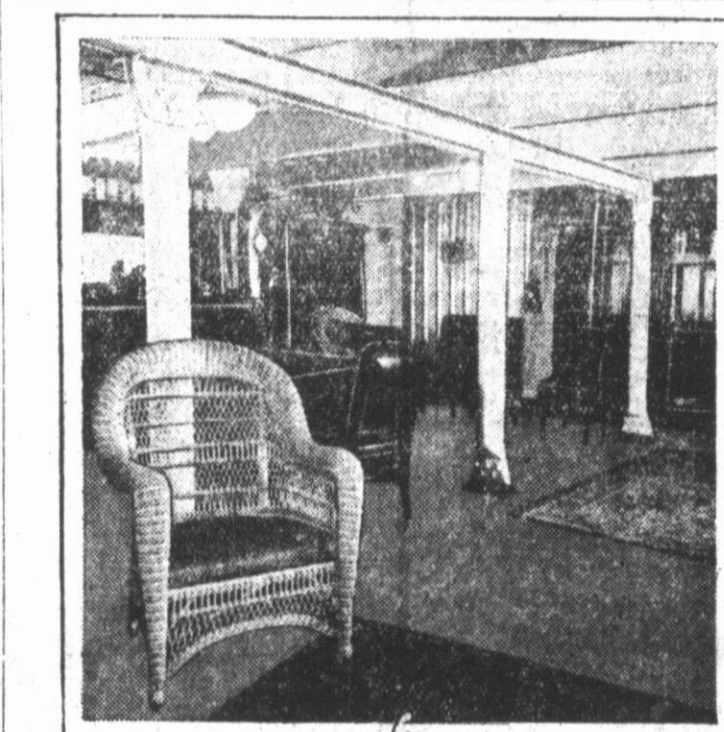

Dr. Harding bore the name of his great-great-grandfather, Governor Tyrone of Connecticut. He was educated in Morrow county, attending the rural school at Bloominggrove, old Ohio Central college at Iberia, Ohio, and the Cleveland Homeopathic college. He was graduated from the medical school in 1873, following which he continued to practice at Caledonia until 182, when he moved to Marion, He built the Star office block on East Center street. Marion and occupied an upstairs corner room for more than 40 years. For many years he was an active member of the national and state homoeopathic societies and of the Round Table Homeopathic Medical Society in Columbus.

He also was conspicuous in national and state G. A. R. circles, serving as surgeon general at one time of the national body of Civil War veterans.

Was Married Twice
In 1864, Dr. Harding was married to Miss Phoebe Elizabeth Dickerson, of Morrow county. She died in 1909 in Marion. To them the following children were born: Almira and Charles, both of whom died when children and are buried at Caledonia; Warren G. Harding, who was nominated for the presidency of the United States by the Chicago Republican convention in 1920 on his father's birthday and was elected on his own birthday; Charity Harding, who was called "Chat," and who is the wife of E. E. Rosenberg, of Santa Ana, California; Mary Harding, who was named after Dr. Harding's mother and who died after teaching for many years in the state school for the blind at Columbus, Ohio; Miss Abigail V. Harding, known to her intimate friends as Daisy, a teacher in the Marion public schools; Caroline Harding, who is the wife of the Rev. Heber Votaw, superintendent of federal prisons and for 15 years a missionary in India, and Dr. Geo. Tyrone Harding, Jr., called "Deacon" by his

Oil Field Work Is Severely Cut by Cold Wave

Oil field activities are almost at a standstill in Gray county because of the heavy snow and freezing weather. The only wells not affected are those on the pump. Drilling is being carried on at some locations, but the majority of drilling wells are shut down.

Wells, flowing natural, are handicapped by the cold weather and production this week will be lighter according to oil men. The cold weather has a tendency to chill the oil, interfere with the gas, and in general decrease production.

The roads leading to the fields have been almost impassable for the last two days. The Edick test in section 84, block B-2, on the Maggie Hopkins lease, was puddled in Saturday and is drilling ahead today at 50 feet. This test is a wildcat almost four miles south of production in the Bowers-McGee pool.

City Builder

Another of those "City Improvement" editions of the Canyon News has been received—40 well illustrated pages devoted to people, civic assets, and institutions.

Paved streets, fine public utilities, good schools, live Chamber of Commerce, wide-awake merchants, active young Rotary club—these are some of the things the edition shows forcefully.

It is true that our entire legal system suffers from a superabundance of red tape; that complicated and unnecessary laws often allow criminal cases to be drawn out, through the medium of delay and appeals, and in many instances prove the undoing of justice.

Regarding the big edition, Editor Clyde Warwick says: "The only thing we don't like about these annual city improvement editions is that in reviewing the yesterdays it makes us realize that time is flying, that one of these days they will be calling us "Old Man Warwick." That would be awful.

But as an editor who has gone into politics and got elected, too—the Canyon scribe probably has been and will be called worse things than "Old Man Warwick," in the spirit usually connected with the use of the term.

A New Pastor

The Rev. A. A. Hyde, opening his pastorate at the Presbyterian church yesterday, chose the old theme of "Love One Another" for his first text.

It is a good text, and one that is as close to the general theme of Christianity as any other in the Scriptures. There are times when the temple must be cleared, but the essential theme of Christianity—disregarding denominational lines—is Scriptural love.

Pampa welcomes the new minister. Pampa folk believe in Christianity, and that strongly enough to sacrifice in order to build churches well above the average in this section, as measured by the size of the congregations. Churches, as organizations, have difficulties, dissensions, hypocrisies, and other liabilities, but as instruments for good they are highly essential to the welfare of any community. There are such things as great churches. They are made of great people. Since Pampa has many fine folks, her churches should be good too, and prosper. It is all right to criticize the actions of churchmen, but not of the church as an institution.

The community which minimizes the worth and influence of its churches is taking a reckless attitude that is sure to be damaging. Indeed, churches are instruments to be used by civic leaders in furtherance of legitimate community enterprises.

Criminal Tolerance

The apathetic attitude of the responsible for the increase in public toward crime is largely crime, we believe. The reduction of crime does not depend so much on prosecution and the courts as it does the attitude of the public. If the courts and the prosecuting attorneys and the juries know that the public sentiment is with them in the enforcement of the laws of the country they will go a long way further in trying to enforce it. Our argument then places the responsibility upon the people rather than upon the prosecutors and the courts. Too many good men fail to accept jury service, and will not even stand pat and express themselves favorable to the enforcement of some of the laws and that is the reason that courts and juries and prosecutors and peace officers are sometimes rather indifferent about the conviction of criminals. There is not an outspoken endorsement of the actions of peace officers that there should be. Too often people take the part of the offender rather than the officer, when something is done that is a bit out of the ordinary. We are of the opinion that court records will lead us out in the statement that where there is a live interest in the enforcement of the laws the laws are pretty well enforced, and criminals hailed before the bar of justice are given their just deserts.

It is true that our entire legal system suffers from a superabundance of red tape; that complicated and unnecessary laws often allow criminal cases to be drawn out, through the medium of delay and appeals, and in many instances prove the undoing of justice. This, also, is due to public apathy in regard to the making of laws, and the failure of the public to demand a more efficient system.

If convicted, the criminal always has recourse to parole boards, pardon laws, good conduct reductions of sentence, appeals and other means to effect his liberty, with the aid of well meaning, but often misguided reformers, who likewise prey upon public apathy. According to Mr. Strawn "life imprisonment" means, on the average about five years, and there are few criminals who actually pay the penalties assessed.

Reformers cry out against the laws and "systems" which permit this condition; but so long as the public is willing to condone crime or maintain the apathetic attitude; any effort to suppress crime or prevent its gradual expansion will prove fruitless.—Lubbock Avalanche.

Football will soon be over and we can devote more space to other kinds of violence.

Mapologists are showing the Republican part of the nation as black, but after reading of that Demo deficit it looks like the southern portion should be red.

WASHINGTON — Hoover may turn out to be a better or worse president than Coolidge, but it is pretty certain that he is going to be different. His forthcoming South American visit encourages those who believe he will make a new type of chief executive and the change will be all to the good.

Few things could do more to strengthen our interests in this hemisphere than Hoover's trip. It is a master stroke. Latin America is an important prop to our prosperity, and the least resistant field in our war for world trade. Hoover now appears to have meant what he said when he insisted during the campaign that there were some things a president could do about prosperity.

Some time between now and inauguration a brief check-up on the sort of president Hoover is likely to make, based on past performance, may be in order. Now that the embers of partisanship are only smoldering, this may be as good a time as any. Let's enumerate, first for better and then for worse, in a thumbnail analysis:

1. Hoover will enter the White House with greater potentialities than any president within memory. His background of achievement goes far outside that of Harding or Coolidge. It transcends that of the cloistered, scholarly Wilson. It affords high hope that Hoover will always put the interests of the nation above that of party.

2. There have been innumerable instances of a personal humanity about Hoover which suggest that he isn't going to forget all about the underdog; that although he may not antagonize Big Business he will at least attempt to see that the "masses" don't get all the bad breaks.

3. Hoover has initiative. His administration promises progress—in what direction one cannot predict, but we are not in for a period of standstill. He ought to be able to guide and guard American prosperity at least as successfully, and perhaps more so, than any other man mentioned for the presidency in 1928 could have done.

4. He is well equipped to put the machinery of government on a more efficient basis than it ever has operated on.

So much for Hoover the engineer. Hoover the administrator, Hoover the organizer and Hoover the humanitarian. On the other side of the picture here are his visible flaws: 1. Politically speaking, he is not entirely scrupulous.

That does not mean that his personal character is not spotless or that any other successful politician has such things as scruples. The charge is made that he permitted important members of his political machine to circulate religious propaganda during the recent campaign.

2. Hoover has seldom been bold except when there was and nothing to lose. He has everything to gain by boldness been a burning crusader against such unpopular institutions as bolshevism and in favor of prosperity and the American home. He has seldom engaged in any fight until victory was as good as won. His campaign tactics seemed to be typical of him, although they were also undeniably good politics. He has been even more silent than Coolidge on Republican scandals.

3. He has often been accused of timidity.

TWINKLES

No student is a full-fledged graduate unless he has learned the great American pastime of passing the buck—but the coaches' example ought to teach him that.

It looks like we have plenty of mud as it is, but several local men differed rectly to the extent of abandonir their automobiles out on the highways and walking to town with considerable real estate on each foot.

is probably true that the highway pedestrians carried into Pampa on each foot more ground than many a big city youngster ever saw.

Raskob sliced many a melon, but evidently his luck changed when he tackled one beginning with Mr.

Sex equality will be here when the sob sisters start calling a criminal of feminine gender "culprit" too.

Pre-election promises go by the board, but pre-matrimonial promises are aired in the divorce courts.

BARBS

"The Ladder", a lesson play, has closed up shop in New York with losses of $1,500,000. It certainly did prove to be a lesson for somebody.

Maybe Hoover is riding on a warship on the South American trip to defend himself against the aspirants for postmaster.

Strange things are happening in this presidential year. Yesterday we saw the headline: "EGGS RALLY AFTER BREAK."

Six Big Titles Undecided in Grid World of Nation

BY ALAN J. GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—(AP)—The college football campaign approaches its big climax within the next two or three weeks with six of the seven major championship races undecided.

In recent seasons have the contests for sectional, as well as national honors, been as wide open affairs as this year with a dizzy succession of upsets to keep spectators scrambling in the East, South, and West.

Today, with the end of the gridiron grapple in sight, only Nebraska appears to have a firm hold on any sectional title. The Cornhuskers have been tied by Pittsburgh and play the Army this week in their quest for honors over a wider stretch of territory but they need only to beat the Kansas Aggies to finish their Big Six conference schedule with a clean slate of five victories.

The other sectional chases are so close that most any upset will shift the standings.

Carnegie, fresh from a sensational victory over Notre Dame, heads the eastern parade, with only Boston college to rival the Tartans' unblemished record, but Carnegie must hurdle New York university this week to stay on top. Anyone who has seen the N. Y. U. seasoner lately will testify this is quite an obstacle.

Army and Princeton, neither beaten nor tied by any Eastern team, are prepared to enter into the argument while Pennsylvania is also ready to step up with a claim for recognition of anything should happen to Carnegie or Boston college.

Wisconsin has sealed the big ten peak over the prostrate forms of Iowa but the badgers have their old foe, Minnesota, to play this week before they can make any definite claim.

Georgia Tech, Florida and Tennessee, all victorious in their latest tests and all with spotless slates, hold their edge on southern conference rivals but Tennessee alone of the three to play this week, must beat Kentucky to stay in the running.

Texas had displaced Southern Methodist in the Southwestern conference free-for-all but it will take the concluding battles of the season to settle this issue.

California and Southern California are deadlocked in the lead for the Pacific coast conference title but California risks its position this week in the annual classic with Stanford.

Utah has shown signs of slipping since taking a commanding lead in the Rocky Mountain conference. The Utes were tied by Brigham Young in an upset Saturday and must trim the Utah Aggies to stand off a strong closing challenge by Colorado university.

Several of these scrambles may be decided this week, with Tennessee, Carnegie, Wisconsin, and California all facing the severest sort of tests.

No team in the country will have any stronger claim to national title honors than Carnegie if the Tartans overcome the violets of New York university. The New Yorkers, despite their one setback at the hands of George town, have a sensational record and represent about the strongest test Carnegie's clan has had.

From the spectacular viewpoint next Saturday's program will be featured, on opposite sides of the continent by the California-Stanford game at Berkeley, before 90,000 or more, and the Yale-Harvard contest at New Haven, where these ancient eastern rivals will meet before upwards of 75,000 spectators.

Nebraska's invasion of West Point and the renewal of the Navy-Princeton rivalry add lustre to the Eastern list while the traditional theme will be uppermost in such contests as Missouri-Kansas, Indiana-Purdue, Ohio state-Illinois, and Iowa-Michigan.

Texas University May Grab First Title in Decade

(By The Associated Press.)

Texas university's gridiron juggernaut has swept the stragglers in the Southwest conference race and apparently is headed for the first championship the Orange and White has achieved in almost 10 years.

From the first day of training conference critics have insisted the Longhorns had the material to win a title. Coach Littlefield found the assemblage of talent unwieldy at first, but he finally molded it into a smooth working unit that has overpowered the field.

Only a decided reversal of form could sidetrack the Texas machine from an undisputed hold on the 1928 Southwest crown. It has become a proverb that no one can foretell what will happen when the Longhorns and Aggies clash in their annual Thanksgiving Day spectacle, but the odds will be on the side of the Orange when they meet 10 days hence at Austin.

The Arkansas Razorbacks, who completed their conference schedule three weeks ago and have been marking time since, are the only ones with an outside chance of beating out the Longhorns. Should the Aggies accomplish the miracle and win Thanksgiving Day, the porkers would finish in front with three victories and one loss.

Southern Methodist university, Texas Christian university, Baylor university, Rice institute and the Aggies are out of it. The Methodists could finish second if they conquered the Christians in their turkey day fray at Dallas and the Aggies beat Texas, but their high hopes for the championship departed when they were beaten, 2 to 0, by the Baylor Bears Saturday at Waco.

To complete the Thanksgiving day program, the Baylor Bears and Rice Owls will bang together at Houston. Their tussle will be devoid of the championship atmosphere. Baylor conceivably could finish third on the conference ladder by winning, and it will give the Owls their fifth and last chance to get an entry on the winning side of the ledger. In view of the Owls' 19 to 0 trouncing by the Aggies last week, they scarcely will be expected to hold the Golden Bears even.

Of the two decisive games the past week-end, that between the Bears and Mustangs on the Cotton Palace gridiron at Waco was the most spectacular. The crippled Ponies, bereft of the power and polish that marked their play with Hume in the backfield, fought doggedly and carried the battle to the Baptists all the way, only to slip up and lose just before the game's end.

Reed, Mustang quarterback, tried to pass from behind his own goal line and was pounced upon by three charging Baylor linemen. As the ball left his hand it was batted down and recovered by Choc Sanders, Mustang guard. With that play went the Methodists' chances at the title.

Whittington Holds Edge in Dope on Thursday Bout

Walter Varner and Freddy Whittington will head the big boxing card at the Pla-Mor auditorium Thursday night in a ten-round bout. These two boys have met twice before with Whittington winning the first bout and Varner making a draw out of the second. Both boxers will step into the ring at about 154 pounds.

The semi-final will be a six-round event between the fast local boy, Speedy Snow, and Kid Stewart of Dayton, Ohio, fresh from several sensational wins in the east. It should be a rare battle, as Snow has also been up with the best in the 142-pound class.

Two negroes will put on the other feature bout of the card. Black Cloud

Goldie, local mitt artist, will clash with Calvin Jones, the Fort Worth negro. The Fort Worth boxer will outweigh the local boxer by about eight pounds.

Good preliminaries will open the feature card.

Vital Second Period in News $5000 Automobile Prize Contest Is On!

Only Six Days More of Golden Opportunity!

YOU
Can win or lose on this big new offer.

The votes you obtain between now and the close of this offer, Saturday, November 24 at 9 p. m., will probably be the deciding ones when the judges meet to make the final count three weeks from next Saturday night. There will never be another vote offer as good as this one. This is no time to hesitate or temporize. Make up your mind to get MORE on this offer than you ever have before. That's the way to win. Strike "I can't" out of your mind and make it "I will". Now is the time when effort counts big and when the final test begins. See to it that this offer finds you with TWICE as many votes as you ever had before. Get second payments of subscriptions you have already taken. Those who have taken for 6 months will now undoubtedly extend their subscriptions for a year, or even more. Subscription can be extended as far as three years, but no farther.

EVERYTHING
Depends on what you do in the next six days.

90,000 EXTRA VOTES!

DON'T FORGET
Keeping everlastingly at it brings success.

The contestant who is on the job, out after votes EVERY day, is the one who realizes what it takes to win. You can't win an automobile in this campaign by working today and laying off tomorrow and then trying to work the next day. While you are home "resting" some contestant is forging ahead towards the prize that might have been yours at the rate of 90,000 extra votes for every $20 worth. The race will soon be over and then you can look back and see where you might have won or lost an advantage. The struggling finish is but a short distance ahead now. Decide to make every one of the next six days a banner one. Set a quota of perhaps a "club a day" and try to live up to it. See ALL your friends about their subscription to The News. There is no limit to the number of times you can earn the 90,000 bonus—it comes with every $20 worth of subscriptions.

father, and who is now conducting a rest home and sanitarium at Worthington, Ohio.

At the age of 77, Dr. Harding was married again to Miss Alice Severns. Dr. Harding's fraternal associations were with the Odd Fellows and Knights of Pythias. He had been supreme commander and supreme medical director of the Order of the Red Cross. Always he was a friend of all religious work, identifying himself with the Baptist church, although he often said he was a "liberal" in his theological views. "I regarded a man for what he is and not for his particular religious connections or church relation," he frequently said.

CONTEST—

days count as much as possible. Only during the present week will 90,000 extra votes be given for $20 clubs of subscriptions and after 9 o'clock Saturday night, November 24, the schedule will be slashed again and the best remaining chance to obtain the winning votes will have passed.

The two special prizes of $25 each, for the two who lead their districts in points for the week, are expected to bring forth some real effort. Also the letting down of the bars to 3 and 6-month subscriptions will enable contestants to secure many votes otherwise unavailable.

This is the vital period of the entire contest. Those who lag behind now will have no chance at all at the Bulck Whipplet and the Chevrolet. Now is when the real test of mettle begins.

Contestants in both districts, from reports, are delighted with the new offer of 90,000 and are planning on getting more extra votes this week alone than they did during the first four weeks. Real campaign methods are being instilled into the merry vote gathering.

November 24 looms up as the all important date on the horizon. Today's count of votes of course does not include reserves. Wise contestants are building these reserves as large as possible not caring to let their competitors know just how they stand.

Contestants today were mapping out careful lists of friends whom they intend to call on this week. Hap-hazard methods—the hit and miss system—are not productive of votes as many have discovered.

After all, chance plays little or no part in this campaign. Obviously, contestants are not misled into the belief that they will get something for nothing. It isn't being done these days. But contestants can get something in the way of magnificent automobiles in return for sufficient industry and effort.

Thoroughness then, and industry, are the qualities one may expect to win with. To work industriously in the race, never hesitating a minute until a prize is won is the slogan which contestants have adopted. Encouraged by the splendid success they have achieved of late, several late starters are proceeding to further enhance their chances of winning by not leaving a stone unturned that might yield their votes.

The race from now on will become intensely swifter. And it is best to be prepared for any emergencies that may arise by having a comfortable reserve of votes that may save you from being overtaken. Nearly every contestant has signified intention of adding to reserves already built. A still further advantage is that one does not display their full strength.

Second Payments

The man who made two blades of grass grow where but one grew before thoroughly knew his onions. The same process can be applied to great advantage in the contest by simply going over ground you have previously covered and obtaining extensions, or covering second payments on subscriptions already received. Many subscribers who have taken the News for only six months or a year will now gladly extend their subscriptions by additional payments. A six months subscription on which $2.25 was paid may now be extended to a year by the payment of an additional $2.75 and the contestant obtaining the second payment get the DIFFERENCE, or 4,000 regular votes on the second payment. A year's subscription at $6.00 may now be extended to two years by the payment of an additional $6.00 and the contestant turning in the second payment will receive 15,000 regular votes. A year's subscription at $6.00 now extended to three years on the additional payment of $12.00 gains 45,000 regular votes. On the second payment plan, the contestant obtaining the second payment gets the difference between what was first issued and what the second payment makes the entire subscription for.

In the county, a $5 subscription on which another $5 is paid, count 10,000 regular votes, and a $5 subscription extended to three years by the payment of $10 counts, 35,000.

No subscription may be extended for more than 3 years. Also, it makes no difference who obtained the first payment—the contestant turning in the second payment gets the bigger vote. You can cover not only your own ground but that of your friendly competitors also!

The same contestant in many instances will receive both the first and second payments. In any event, it is the one who is on the alert and out after votes every day.

New contestants who desire to enter should fill out and bring or mail in a Nomination Blank today. After this 90,000 offer is over, there will not be much chance to win, but right now, especially if you live in Skellytown or McLean you have a fine chance to jump in and win. A contestant starting in from McLean for instance, would find it just as easy to win as if she had started on the very first day, for the good reason that nearly all the votes are still there and available.

The nomination counts 2,000 free votes as a starter.

Communist Banner Display at Hoover's Leaving Causes Stir

PALO ALTO, Cal., Nov. 19.—(P)—Two middle aged men and a University of California student were in jail here today charged with disturbing the peace by displaying communist banners at the railroad station while President-Elect Herbert Hoover was waiting to board a train for San Pedro last night.

Officials said they doubted if Mr. Hoover saw either the men or their banners because at the moment of their arrest he faced a battery of cameramen for flashlight pictures. They said he looked around over the cheering crowd after the flashlights were exploded but whether attracted by the small flurry caused by the arrest or whether he was absorbed in taking a farewell look at his fellow townsmen, they were unable to say.

The prisoners were hustled away to jail and held without bail.

Police exhibited two captured banners, one reading "Down With Imperialism," and the other marked "Communism."

The prisoners were V. V. Dart of Oakland; James Arnett of Redwood City, and James Jones, who police said, claimed to be a university student registered from Pasadena.

Woman, 40, Slays Another, Age 65

WICKLIFFE, Ky., Nov. 19.—(P)—Mrs. Lizzie Eudreaux, 40, in jail here today on a charge of murder, has admitted to authorities that she was responsible for the death yesterday of Mrs. Annie Thornton, 65, whose body was found mutilated with an ax, and says she would do it again, but refuses to assign a motive for the crime.

The body of the aged woman was found about 3 o'clock in the afternoon by Henry Leach, her son, and less than half an hour later Mrs. Bourdeaux was arrested while attempting to board a boat for Cairo, Ill.

NEGRO WOMAN BELIEVED TO HAVE STABBED MAN

DALLAS, Nov. 19.—(P)—Officers today were seeking two negro women, one of whom was believed to have stabbed J. R. Ferguson, 28, to death while he was engaged in an affray with a negro man here last night. Ferguson's heart was pierced, probably by an ice pick.

W. T. Ferguson brother of the dead man, was uninjured. He said he and his brother were walking along the sidewalk when someone hurled a brick, striking J. R. on the head. In the fight which followed, he said, two negro women participated.

Itaska Brothers Charged in Killing at Memphis Sunday

MEMPHIS, Nov. 19.—(P)—C. W. Knick and A. D. Knick, brothers, of Itaska, Texas, were charged with murder here yesterday for the death of Sam Boyd, cafe owner, who died after being knocked to the sidewalk in front of his place of business.

Boyd's head struck the cement, fracturing his skull.

Claude Boyd, brother of the dead man, told officers the blow that caused his brother's death was struck after the Knicks had made an unsuccessful effort to purchase the cafe.

Barcus Is Head of Roll Call for Pampa Red Cross

The Rev. Tom W. Brabham, chairman of the Pampa chapter of the American Red Cross, has announced the appointment of Scott Barcus as chairman of the Twelfth Annual Red Cross Roll Call following an Executive Committee Meeting of the Chapter. Mr. Barcus has pledged his services in the organization of a Roll Call which will extend the membership appeal to all citizens. He further stated, "The annual Roll Call of the Red Cross is primarily an enrollment of members. The success of the Red Cross is dependent in a large degree upon the representative nature of its membership and the moral support which such membership provides. All of our citizens can well afford to contribute $1.00 for an annual membership for this great organization, which enjoys the respect and confidence of the American people. I will do my best to see that everyone is given an opportunity to join." Plans have already been considered for the conduct of the Roll Call and sub-committees will be appointed to reach all parts of the Local Chapter's jurisdiction.

The local roll call will be held on next Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

Engineer Hasie Is New Citizen Here

C. L. Hasie, engineer in charge of road construction in Gray county, has moved his offices from Memphis to Pampa. He has secured offices in the Smith building. The move was made so that Mr. Hasie could be near the center of activity in the county and where he could meet with county commissioners at any time.

The engineer has been in charge of road construction here since the road bond issue was voted. Activities will open early in the spring with the paving of the south oil-field road and the Miami road. Grading of the Borger road is under way at the present time and a contract will be awarded for the grading of the LeFors road in the near future.

HARLINGEN MAN KILLED ACCIDENTALLY BY GUN

HARLINGEN, Nov. 19.—(P)—Receiving a charge of buckshot in his heart from a gun he had leaned against some bushes while he lighted a cigar, Eddie W. Lloyd, 49, pioneer farmer of the Rio Hondo community, was killed instantly yesterday while hunting rabbits 30 miles north of Point Isabel.

Katherine Snell Honored on Her Tenth Birthday

Little Miss Katherine Snell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Snell, was honored on her tenth birthday with a prettily appointed party given by her aunt, Miss Mabel Davis. The delightful event took place Saturday afternoon at the Davis home.

The rooms where the children were entertained with contests and games were decorated in Thanksgiving motif with paper cut-outs of pumpkins and turkeys ornamenting the walls and curtains. Refreshments were served in dining room. Ten pink candles burned on the white cake that centered the table, and four pink tapers, tied with tulle bows, stood on the corners of the table. Butterfly lollypops were given as favors.

Mrs. Snell assisted Miss Davis in entertaining the children. The following of Katherine's friends were present: Mary and Martha Price, Edith and Leah Lane, Ruth Wiley, Claudia Atterberry, Norma Jean McKinney, Lillian Rice, Glen Twiford, W. L. Davis, Elizabeth Mullinax, and Billie Davis. They presented lovely gifts to the honoree.
