Extensive and generally effective work of the Chamber of Commerce in 1928 was outlined yesterday afternoon to the directors in a joint re-port by Scott Barcus and George W. Briggs. Mr. Barcus retired as manager of the chamber last May to enter private business here. The report covers only the major activities of the chamber. Summarized, it is as follows:

The success of these projects will be, as have the others mentioned, dependent upon the hearty co-operation of the citizens of Pampa and this community. What Circulation Means To Christmas Business Circulation means business for Pampa merchants. The recent circulation campaign of the Pampa Daily News has greatly increased the number of readers in this trade territory. It may be safely said that 95 per cent of the people of Pampa who can read the English language—and hat is nearly all—are readers today of The Daily News.

Substantial lists have been built up in LeFors, Miami, Mobeetie, Groom, White Deer and Skellytown. These lists mean that Pampa merchants can reach the people of this territory at one cost, through Daily News adver-

The Daily News covers this territory so thoroughly now that other forms of advertising are practically a waste for business firms. The News has a job printing department and is glad to print circulars, but the management believes that your appropriation spent in Daily News advertising will bring far greater results. Business firms should not be tempted to squander their money in other mediums. If you buy advertising in other mediums to reach the people of this territory, you should charge it to charity, not to good business.

Let the advertising department tell you about The Daily News and what it can mean to your business. Rural routes in this trade territory are reached just as thoroughly as is the city by The Daily News.

Make your plans to get your share of the Christmas business and consider your appropriations for 1929. More money is spent in Daily News advertising in 1929 will mean bigger profits to you.

"It's Like This-"

HIGHWAY ENTHUSIASTS no doubt will learn with surprise that back in September the commisioners' court of Gray county pledged its cooperation with the state highway department in construction of roads "on any route selected by the highway commission.

The full meaning of this action has just come to light through publication of a letter by Gibb Gilchrist, state engineer, bearing the name of W. A. Taylor, local commissioner, court. The letter, given when permission was granted by the highway commission to a public address and it is grade the highway north from understood that she is never Pampa for paving, says: "It quoted directly any more than ing to be aboard till I'm on is understood by the commissis the White House spokesman. sioners' court that this location But she mingles with the will not be the final location crowd and, the girls say, can of highway 33, which WILL tell a story awfully well. In short, the commissioners by their action repudiated the will, as we see it, of the citizens who voted the road bonds, gave the highway department an instrument which leads to the conclusion that opponents of the route approved by the Gray county commissioners are trouble makers, and surrendered further claim to influence as to where the paying would be placed and whom it would serve.

This "sell out" to obtain permission to grade a few miles northward cannot but place the entire blame, if such there is or may be, upon the commissioners the mselves. Until the commissioners rescind this action, any efforts of local citizens to get the route placed where it will serve the taxpayers, and where it will not injure Pampa or Miami, will seem contrary to the court's will and therefore of doubtful weight before the highway commission.

The county commissioners by their action have assumed full responsibility for the highway developments in Gray county. Let the blame fall on no other shoulders unless other official action is taken at once

My Dear Madam:

Are you wearing down pencils and wearing out wits trying to decide upon appropriate Christmas gifts for your friends?

May we, your Bakers, then put in a suggestion?

For a few of our customers we have made a special Christmas baking of a delicious fruit cake of oldtime yuletide goodness.

We have used plenty of fresh eggs, creamy milk and rich shortening. We have fairly crammed the cake full of fruit and nuts, luscious ripe red cherries, plump raisins, and piquant citron. Each cake is tightly wrapped and sealed in cellophane paper for protection and attractiveness and then placed in an attractive metal box, insuring its

The result is a Christmas cake that you will be as proud to give as we are proud to sell.

The cake costs only $2.00 and weighs two full pounds, really less than it would cost you to bake them yourself. And you are spared the bother and time. We have been making these cakes for sixteen years and we are sure that you will be pleased.

Please drop in and look at these attractive and delicious Holiday Fruit Cakes that we have baked, before you seek further for a gift for that particular friend.

We also have a variety of fine cakes without boxes that are cheaper. Ask your grocer, he has them.
