Oklahoma Is Setting Pace for Country in Scorching Campaigns

DAILY NEWS' BIG PRIZE CONTEST REAL HIT

SEVERAL ENTRIES RECEIVED IN COMPETITION FOR MANY CARS AND OTHER BIG GIFTS

Those Who Start Early Will Have Best Chance to Win Largest Rewards, Declares Campaign Manager

OUT-OF-TOWN PEOPLE ARE INTERESTED IN THAT PHASE

Energetic Persons Willing to Exchange Spare Time for New Automobile Should See Director at News

With expressions of approval and delight coming from every side, entry lists in the Pampa Daily News big $5,000 automobile and prize voting contest were open this morning. A couple of entries were received before noon, and it was expected that there would be several more during the day. While the rush to enter the big competition for the wonderful prizes was not as great as was anticipated, yet from the number of callers and questions asked at the campaign department, it was not difficult to estimate the huge interest the public is beginning to take in the big drive for circulation.

For the benefit of those who did not see it Sunday, the big doublepage advertisement containing rules, regulations, etc., is printed again today.

Never before has such a gigantic enterprise been launched by any newspaper in this section of Texas. The public saw, read and became convinced that liberality was never before so lavishly expended. With a broad and generous hand that sweeps in every direction from Pampa, the Daily News will distribute these prizes broadcast. It is seldom that in a campaign of this kind that a car of the class and character of the Buick Anniversary sedan is offered. That costs just $1550. Yet the Daily News is going to give it away on the night of December 15.

Of course, everybody wants an automobile of his own, and now that the News is going to GIVE AWAY three of them, all in return for only a few weeks, part time effort, those with pep and ambition will lose no time in getting busy and getting in touch with the campaign manager.

Entering by Mail
The mail today contained several nominations from out-of-town people. The fact that one of the cars has been set aside for out-of-Pampa competitors is expected to cause quite a number from White Deer, LeFors, Skellytown, Kingsmill, McLean and Alanreed and the rural routes to plunge in and get their share of the good things. One car and a full set of the district prizes must go outside Pampa.

It is expected that before long every community and town within a radius of many miles of Pampa in Gray County and beyond will have one or there are fifteen awards altogether, two contenders for the big prizes, besides to provide for the payment of cash commissions for all who participate who do not win regular awards. It is impossible to lose in the Daily News campaign—you've got to win something. It costs nothing to try, either now or later.

Her Questions Answered

"How in the world can the News do it?" asked one young woman who brought her nomination in bright and early today. The Campaign Manager explained to her that the News had hit upon this plan to increase its large family of readers and is giving the prizes to men and women who assist in the work.

She had a lot of other questions she wanted answered, too, and the Campaign Manager explained everything.

The geography adoption alone is reported to be worth $1,000,000 to the successful bidder.

Bids on renewal of the adoption of an arithmetic text, another book involving a big expenditure, are before the Commission this time.

STATE ROW IS ADDING FIRE TO POLITICAL POT

Klan May Be Used Before Election Is Over

WORKERS BUSY OVER ISSUES

Religion Tammany, and Records of Nominees Being Cited

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 15.—(P)—If anyone is longing for a taste of the good old-fashioned brand of scorching politics, he has but to come to Oklahoma in the final weeks of this campaign.

The state is in the grip of the vast dispute over Smith and Hoover, running to issues of the most peppery character, and embracing many recognized uncertainties. Although in mid-October both sides are predicting victory, they both talk of shifting tides and a still silent vote, which is another way of saying that no one has been quiet able to fathom all that may be going on beneath the surface.

The inquirers who asked at Democratic headquarters what this was all about was answered with the single word "Religion." The answer to the same question across the street at Republican headquarters was: "Prohibition, immigration, the Coolidge policies, the records of the candidates." When the inquiry was transferred to the anti-Smith headquarters around the corner, the head of that organization replied that, so far as he was concerned, the outstanding issue was "Tammany."

The net effect of all this, plus a complicated state row over the attempt to impeach Governor Johnson, and plus also an effort to revive the once-powerful Klan, was to greatly encourage the Republicans and to lead some Democratic politicians to look up on Oklahoma with much misgiving.

Daily News to Give Free School of Cooking Beginning November 5— Woman Expert Will Be Brought Here

Here's a treat for the women of Pampa and surrounding territory. The News has been fortunate enough to secure the services of Mrs. Leona Wask Ibrig, nationally famous home economist, to conduct a free Cooking School beginning Nov. 5. The lectures will be held at the Methodist church basement beginning each afternoon at 2:30.

Every woman who can possibly attend these lectures should do so, for Mrs. Ibrig will bring many new methods of making the home more attractive and her revelations on the art and science of preparing new dishes—as well as old dishes in a new way—will amaze and please the women attending. Mrs. Ibrig has years of experience obtained in Northern and Eastern cities as well as throughout the Middle West, which, combined with her pleasing personality, makes her particularly well suited for this type of work.

She has scientific knowledge gained in laboratory work as well as practical experience in her own kitchen, but her lectures are not the dry discussions of calories, proteins and carbohydrates. She knows what a balanced ration should be but she also knows that foods should be appetizingly prepared and daintily served in order to be eaten with relish. Her appeal is to the eyes and the palate as

SLAYERS OF TWO MEN WILL GO TO TRIAL

EASTLAND, Oct. 15.—(P)—Charged with having killed two men in Learsay, oil boom town, Clyde Thomson 18, was to go to trial here today for murder.

Thomson and Thomas Davis were indicted for the slayings of Lucius and Leon Shook in the latter's cabin, and although both cases were set for today, J. Frank Sparks, county attorney, said Thomson would be tried first.

Sparks said the death penalty would be asked for both the accused, and it was indicated that Woodrow Wilson Davis, 12, brother of Thomas Davis, who also has been indicted for murder in the killings, might be a state witness.

Thomson's counsel intimated a continuance or change of venue possibly would be sought.

ARRIVAL AT LAKEHURST TO BE ABOUT 4 O'CLOCK, PILOT SAYS

Much Fabric Requested for Mending Large Rent in Torn Fin—Hole Plainly Seen— Hanger Made Ready

By the Associated Press
The dirigible Graf Zeppelin, bringing the first trans-Atlantic air passengers to the United States, today was showing them some of the chief sights of the mid-Atlantic seaboard and at the same time satisfying the throngs who had awaited her coming from Friedrichshafen.

The biggest airship of the day first passed over American ground after her long ocean voyage at about 10 o'clock this morning, near Cape Charles, the northern sentinel of Chesapeake Bay.

A radio message from her said she would visit Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia and would reach the waiting hanger at Lakehurst at about 4 p. m.

To supplement the radio, which with occasional stops had provided the only information on her whereabouts for days, there came frequent reports of her progress from Virginia and Maryland towns as she passed up Chesapeake bay toward Washington.

Berthing is Ready

All was in readiness for her arrival and berthing beside America's own dirigible, Los Angeles, and fast airplane were on the mark to give her escort or the last few miles of her journey.

The dirigible will have been in flight for 110 hours at 4 o'clock this afternoon and will have covered approximately 8,500 miles. The previous Zeppelin record of 101 cruising hours had been passed at 7 o'clock this morning and the world dirigible record of 10-flight hours made by the ill-fated french dixeude.

At 11:12 a. m., today a message was received at the naval air station from Commander Rosendahl, stating that 900 square meters of inter-lined fabric would be needed to resurface the lower port horizontal fin of the Graf Zeppelin. Officers sent word to him that the fabric was in stock here. The covering of the fin was torn Saturday, according to radio messages at that time when the Zeppelin hit a squall.

As the zeppelin circled over the capital, a large hole in the port horizontal stabilizer was plainly visible. Experts said the hole in the port horizontal was about 30 feet long and 15 feet wide.

The big aircraft was sighted from the East and approached the city over the capitol building. The sky was overcast.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—(P)—President Coolidge today radioc his congratulations to Dr. Hugo Eckener on the successful crossing of the Atlantic. Simultaneously he cabled congratulations to President von Hindenburg of Germany. Dr. Eckener had, upon reaching to American coast line, radioc greetings to Mr. Coolidge.

Let's Dedicate Right

Pampa has three new school buildings nearing completion. Each of these serves some especial need or district of the city. In view of the fact that community pride and activities will center around these buildings, why not dedicate each with appropriate ceremony, speeches, visitors, and the like.

The Dead Initiated

Miss Margaret Praeger of St. Petersburg, Fla., died before she could be initiated into the Pi Beta Phi sorority at Indiana University; so they held the initiation before the funeral and pinned the sorority badge upon her dead bosom. It must have been the most solemn initiation a sorority chapter ever held.

Here is a subject for the critics. Let them flay the sorority and fraternity system, attack the false status it gives, and ridicule the solemnity of such an occasion. Let them. The girl's mother had been a member of the sorority. Worthy or not, it had meant something to her. She looked forward to the day when her daughter should also belong. The young girl was as eager. Her loyalty, born of her mother, went out to the organization and its members. Such loyalty is no trifle, and a ceremony to it is beyond criticism. True loyalty is no false god.

Little Humanities

Greatness is not made up of great elements, but of good little ones. A great talent may hide in a "little" individual, from the standpoint of true worth.

Comes M. Poincare, head of the French government, with the declaration that he has unclassical tastes. That is, if you define the classical as the highbrows do. Like all Frenchmen, he studied classical languages and literatures in school, and they helped to refine his impulses and make him the great man that he is. But out of class—that is a different matter. Jules Verne was his favorite author. Tales of adventure stirred his ambitions and made him world-minded.

He is quoted, in a rather too literal translation, as saying: To tell you whether the classics read in class or the tales adventure read out of class influenced me most is a problem I have never been able to solve.

Lack of humanity cost Charles E. Hughes the presidency. The more humanized Hughes of today is a more popular man. Too stiff necks tempt the persons holding a ripe tomato—or even a vote.

Aviation vs. Motoring

The modern airplane, with its lines as attuned to principles of flying as the wings of a bird, and with its motor highly dependable in all kinds of weather, is nearly as standard in travel as the automobile.

In fact, from a mileage standpoint, the statistical tables are beginning to favor the transport plane. Do not make the mistake of thinking largely of the casualties of student flying, battle tactics, and long distance flights. Safe flying that is, in reasonably good weather by good pilots without overloading the ships, is a mode of transportation which is going to appeal more and more to the traveling public. Any safe plan for speeding up long distance travel is not going to be long without patronage.

Flying is hazardous, just as any fast travel is hazardous. Pilots have responsibilities of an unusual character, therefore they should be compelled to prove their skill and to follow a rigid code of safety. This the government will continue to do, although automobile travel is not so regulated. Is it not logical to assume that air travel may become safer than land travel?

May not the aviator and his passengers, looking down upon the myriads of cars weaving their way along a narrow, dusty thoroughfare, pity the poor motorist who is apt to be bumped into a ditch at any minute? May not the traveler soaring over our level plains feel a security—in ability to land most anywhere in daytime if necessary—he would not feel if he were in a speeding automobile? He would, if he were air-minded.

Air travel is going to be a matter of navigation, meaning that trips will be charted by known ports—airports—where facilities for repair, refueling, storage, and personal comfort are obtainable. Moreover, the city known to have an airport where night landings are possible is going to be an especially favorite. The possibility for popularity is much greater in connection with airports than with tourist camps and hotels.

Air-minded Pampa has a big and interesting future in aviation.

WASHINGTON—Senator J. Boonboom McWhorter, friend of the people and champion of their rights every four years, has thrown himself into the presidential campaign and is busily engaged in organizing Hoover glee clubs.

Forced to employ his inventive genius along with his artistic talents the senator has produced a brand-new set of Hoover campaign songs. He explains, himself, that he found a menacing shortage of Hoover songs. He found, in fact, only one and invariably

Twinkles

Honeymooning was the couple who landed at our airport yesterday, but there were no reports of tin cans, shoes, or rice, and "just married" has not yet been applied to the plane. This manner of honeymooning should prove popular.

Tell us, do the flying school freshmen bedeck their air flippers with choice mottoes like the land lubbers do? The most uppish couple in the world, we imagine, will be the pair looking down upon the land lovers.

How is your civic blood pressure? Do not censure the student for cramming—look how much of it the presidential candidates are doing!

The worm turns: Wood alcohol is killing a lot of block heads. Considering how practiced up the political orators are getting in vituperation and abuse, it would be a lively time if they should start talking that way to everyone who disagreed with them—at home in the office, in Sunday school, etc.

Nevertheless, there is no denying that McWhorter's Hoover songs are as good as any of the Smith songs and lower above the numerous songs made up for vice presidential candidates at Houston and Kansas City.

Take "H-O-O-V-E-R," which goes to the tune of the famous song, "M-O-T-H-E-R." H is for the hell he'll give the enemy, O is for the oil, but we don't care, O is also for our opportunity, V is for his virtues—not Bill Vare! E is for efficiency, that's him all over, R is for Republicans, that's we. Put them 'all together, they spell HOO-OO-VER, He'll lead us on to victoree!

The tune of this one is that of "The Sidewalks of New York": Herbert Hoover is our candidate; We'll all vote next November To give Al Smith the gate. Dries will stand together To hush the popping cork. We'll trample the old brown derby

On the Sidewalks of New York! And if you remember "Two Little Girls in Blue", you can sing this: Two little boys in blue, Herbie and Charlie, too. Please don't reject 'em! We must elect 'em! They mean a lot to you. Two little boys in blue Who lead the G. O. P. Charlie and Herbie will beat the Brown Derby And save our prosperitee!

St. Louis people are glad the series is over with, anyway. They can walk past the ball park now without having to dodge Babe Ruth's home runs.

Barbs

Herr Ellenberger of Berlin, who talked for several days, set a new marathon elocution record. The show must have been for men only.

Two new biographies of presidents are called "This Man Adams" and "Meet General Grant". The smart literary gentlemen of the day should go a step farther. How about such titles as "Van, Van the President Man", "Hey, Hey, Hayes", and perhaps "Getting Grover's Goat"?

It would be a pleasure if some of the fair ones who ride in stuffy street cars had better scents. Or none at all!

Shows Arrive for Engagement of Week at the Fairgrounds

The Lachman-Carson shows unloaded here Sunday and today are ready to entertain visitors to the fairgrounds. Among the eight rides are some that never have been in Pampa. One of these is the buggy ride, a sensational drive originated from the circus. Thinkers for the buggy ride. It is the first portable ride of its kind. Other midway attractions include the hey-day, glory of death, fun on the fars, the water circus, the whip, the whirling, the Ferris wheel, the New Orleans minarets, and the midgeet circus with many others.

The water carnival with the Lachman-Carson shows is a headliner, in which "suicide" Lincoln and "Daredevil" Mickey dive from the top of a 90-foot ladder into a shallow tank of water 16 feet in circumference. At Amarillo, the dive was made although a gale of wind was blowing that made the top of the ladder weave more than three feet.

Another of the attractions is an educated chimpanzee that eats with a knife and fork, drives his own automobile, uses a napkin and smokes cigars.

The Lachman-Carson shows have recently shown in Amarillo, Memphis, Newell, and Childress. It takes 30 cars to carry this show.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lavender visited their son, Laverne, at Shamrock yesterday.

Oil Outlook Is Favorable, Asserts Texas U. Man

AUSTIN, Oct. 15.—Despite the fact that the statistical position of the petroleum industry is a little weaker than it was two months ago, the outlook is generally favorable, according to Bernard Nichols, assistant in charge of the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Texas.

"Consumption of gasoline continues in large volume, markets are firm and crude stocks are slowly decreasing," he said. "On the other hand daily production of crude in the United States shows gradual gains, whereas a declining trend was in evidence a year ago at this time. Moreover, the peak for gasoline consumption has possibly been passed, and a further seasonal falling off is to be expected during the next few months. An encouraging feature is the well sustained market for Texas crude, even though production is heavy."

"During September, 21,979,000 barrels of petroleum were gathered in Texas against 22,801,000 in August and 18,565,000 in September, 1927. The slight decrease from August figures is due almost entirely to the fact that the September calendar shows one day less than the August calendar. Daily averages flow totaled 733,000 barrels, compared to 735,000 barrels in August. Production in West Texas fields was especially heavy. In third quarter, production amounted to 67,395,000 barrels, whereas 56,034,000 barrels were gathered in the same quarter a year ago.

"Field work was stimulated by the completion of several large producers in West Texas fields. A total of 534 new wells were completed in September, of which 301 were producers; last year in September, of the 476 new wells drilled, 237 were successful. During the third quarter, 1,671 wells were drilled, of which 961 struck oil, compared to 1,425 completions in the same quarter of 1927, 709 being successful.

There were very few price changes during the month. A few small increases were put into effect in the Pennsylvania fields, but these advances have not been extended to Texas, although higher quotations are not unlikely before winter. Crude stocks in the three states of Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas on October 1 were estimated at approximately 120,000,000 barrels.

"Gasoline prices were about unchanged to slightly lower. Markets are generally firm as a result of smaller stocks and the unusually heavy demand. Fuel oil markets are showing a weakening tendency."

LULING IS ENJOYING ITS SECOND OIL ACTIVITY

LULING, Oct. 15.—(P)—Luling, for the second time in its history, is an oil boom town and more than a million dollars is said to have exchanged hands recently for leases in the new Joe Bruner field.

The boom was started with the bringing in of Sun Oil company's No. 1 Malone in the Bruner field. The well is said to be producing 750 barrels of high grade oil daily at a depth of 2,741 feet. It is the first producer from Edwards lime in the field. Oil men hope that the field will be as productive as the old Luling field which produced 35 million barrels of oil and is still producing.

COTTON CONSUMPTION LESS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—(P)—Cotton consumed during September totaled 492,221 bales of lint and 68,562 bales of linters compared with 526,729 of lint and 68,165 of linters in August this year and 627,784 and 80,365 in September last year, the census bureau announced today.

Legion Men Are Denounced While Visiting in Mexico

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 15.—(P)—Posters denouncing them as "assassins, Strike-Breakers, and American Fascists" today stayed down upon 100 members of the American Legion from the walls of various buildings. Even the walls of the American consulate had been placarded with the denunciation when the Legionnaires arrived for a visit of several days.

The posters bore the signature of Diego Rivera, an artist who is secretary general of the Mexican section of the Anti-Imperialist League of America.

"Oblige the assassins and strike-breakers of the Legion to abandon our territory as soon as possible," the posters read in part. "Away with the Fascist North American Legionnaires. Down with the man who tried but failed to conquer Mexico—General Pershing."

The poster said that there could be no friendship until the United States took its hands off Latin America, despite the goodwill visit of Colonel Lindbergh and the endeavors of Ambassador Morrow. Mexicans were urged to refrain from greeting the visitors.

The Legionnaires are guests at the home of Thomas R. Robinson, son-in-law of President Calles and a member of the executive committee of the American Legion for Mexico.

NEGRO SHOTS WHITE MAN

AUSTIN, Oct. 15.—(P)—Jack Lee, 23-year-old farmer was killed and Geo Meeks, negro, was wounded, probably fatally in a shooting here yesterday. A third negro is in jail and charges will be sworn against him as soon as the outcome of Meek's wounds are known. The shooting occurred at the home of C. A. Piper, negro.

Arthur Teed spent the week-end in Amarillo visiting his parents.

Games of This Week-End to Set Conference Status

DALLAS, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Six of the seven football teams in the Southwestern conference are familiar with the taste of defeat today as they enter the final week of practice before the battle for conference supremacy assumes general proportions.

Saturday saw three hitherto undefeated conference teams on the short end of the score. Arkansas gave Baylor an unexpected 14 to 0 setback. The game makes the two teams the only ones who really have a standing in the conference—Arkansas at the top and Baylor at the bottom.

Centenary's Gentlemen surprised A. & M.'s Farmers by displaying a superior knowledge of pigskins and won the contest against the conference champions, 6 to 0. Texas lost a heart-breaker before a state fair crowd at Dallas when the Longhorn's failure to kick a goal gave Vanderbilt a 13 to 12 decision.

Texas Christian university, the only undefeated team in the conference kept up their record for consistency by scoring their third straight three-touchdown victory. The Christian's goal line remains unbreached. Southern Methodist university checked out a 4 to 0 victory over Simmons university and Rice Institute displayed unexpected punch in downing Austin college, 20 to 6.

Saturday the fur will fly at the end of the day every team in the conference will have either a good, or a bad mark in the standings. Arkansas is maintain her place at the top must take Texas at Austin, and Texas Christian university will risk her perfect season's record against A. & M. at College Station. Last year T. C. U. held the Farmers to a scoreless tie. Rice faces a big assignment in Dallas, where Southern Methodist university will do the entertaining. Baylor is the only conference team that will not play a conference game. The Bears face Centenary at Shreveport.

Star at Iowa

Here's Mays McLain, the big 220-pound fullback around whom Iowa is building her football team this fall. He formerly played with the Haskell Indians. The young man is expected to be one of the best at his position in the entire country this fall.

Early Football Season Upsets Put Most of Country's Mighty in Ranks Of Defeated, Including Notre Dame

BY ALAN J. GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—(AP)—With a startling succession of upsets already in its wake, although the season is only a few weeks old, the 1928 college gridiron campaign seems certain to witness a record turn-over.

The ranks of the ordinary mighty have been unusually hard hit in the October onslaught. Any Gridiron Rip Van Winkle who snoozed off only a month ago would be amazed to wake up at this early stage of the game and find such stalwarts as the Navy and Michigan yet to win a single contest, with Pittsburgh, Penn State, the Texas Aggies, Notre Dame, and Stanford also among the ranks of the beaten clan.

The Navy, which has not scored a point in three successive games against Davis and Elkins, Boston College, and Notre Dame, will make a desperate attempt to check its losing streak against Duke university this Saturday. But the midshipmen, if they are to turn back the Southerners, must put together a much smoother working attack than they exhibited to the gaze of a record crowd of 122,000 at Soldier Field Saturday in dropping a 7-0 decision to Notre Dame.

Michigan, experiencing the most disastrous start any Wolverine eleven has known under the guidance of coach "Hurricane" Yost, faces Ohio State this week without much solace in sight. This is the last season for the Buckeyes under the coaching of Jack Wilce and they are out to atone for the 21-0 setback administered by Michigan last year. To judge from the way they beat Northwestern Saturday, 10-0, they probably will do so.

Notre Dame regained some presence by defeating the Navy, following its walloping at the hands of Wisconsin, but the Hoosiers have not yet acquired the usual polish of Rockne-coached elevens. They have another battle on their hands this week, playing Georgia Tech at Atlanta.

The intersectional tangle has another bright spot in the clash of Syracuse and Nebraska, two unbeaten and powerful outfits, at Lincoln, while Colgate roams westward to encounter Michigan state.

In the East, Army's strong eleven after easily disposing of Providence, moves down East to resume a rivalry with Harvard that was left off 18 years ago. The Crimson, after some impressive victories over Springfield and North Carolina, figures to give the Cadets a real battle.

Yale is not likely to have much difficulty beating Brown, but Lafayette finds its patch impeded by Bucknell, which surprised by trimming Penn State Saturday.

The big game in the far west this week brings together California and Southern California in the big arena at Berkeley.

The Kansas Jayhawkers, after being tied by Washington, move against the Kansas Aggies this week as Missouri and Iowa State, two other members of the new Missouri Valley "Big Six," also clash.

The Southern Spotlight, aside from the Georgia Tech-Notre Dame event, turns on Alabama's attempt to move along at the expense of Tennessee and Vanderbilt's drive against Tulane after two noteworthy intersectional triumphs. The Centenary "Gentlemen," with the seal of the famous Texas Aggies at their belts, have their tomahawks out for another Southwestern conference team, Baylor.

gram that is as much a part of building for health and endurance as the class room program is pointed to mental preparation.

To answer the question, what is best for the boy it is the building up of a body and mind that will give him the greatest service and happiness in the years following school days.

If the high school program includes football, and few at present are without it, the coach can take up the problems of the individuals and the team boys differ so much in the "teen" years. Youngsters who will attain the same physical stature at maturity are radically unlike at fourteen. Size is not so much a factor as endurance and ruggedness. Boys are "tough as pine knots" and "brittle as pie crust." The high school coach's first duty is to find out into which class his charges belong or whether they occupy the middle ground with bodies capable of steady development.

It is a mistake to think it necessary that either high school or college men be trained for football by hard physical contacts. Running and passing and what are known as "grass drills" are good preparation for the hard blocking and tackling of games. Light blocking and light tackling will establish in the youngster the "know how" necessary for the game.

High school coaches should work their charges easily and slowly in the beginning, watching for speed, deftness, and aggressiveness. It is needless to drive the boy to exhaustion to find out whether he has the courage to play or not. If he likes the game there is no question of how far he will go in contests. I would call it one of the great mistakes of education to continue a boy playing football who does not like and love the game. Somewhere in our wide range of games there is a sport that will appeal to every youth.

It has been liking and loving of the game of football that has made it the unusual game of the United States. Football is a ruthless master of individuals—because of this it is a great game. High schools must make it the willing and obedient servant of its young devotees.

Many Teams of Texas Conference Not Eligible

WAXAHACHIE, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Trinity and Southwestern universities are the only two institutions in the Texas conference eligible for football championship honors this year according to rules of the organization. Dr. Thomas B. Simms, president of the college organization and faculty chairman of athletics at Trinity, said today.

"The constitution of the Texas conference states that a team must meet five other conference opponents. This eliminates Austin college and St. Edwards, since they have scheduled no game," Dr. Simms declared.

Provision also is made in the constitution for awarding the football championship at a conference meeting set for Dec. 6. Howard Payne and Simmons are scheduled to play Dec. 7 or 8, and will not have engaged other members of the Texas conference until the championship is awarded.

This disputes whatever claim they may make to the mythical title, according to Dr. Simms.

Mrs. McLendon and her daughter and Miss Lola Henson spent the weekend in Lubbock.

Young Players Should Not Be Pressed, Believes Fielding Yost

ANN ARBOR, Mich., —(AP)—Oct. 15. Abraham Lincoln said that the Supreme Being must love the common people because of his creation of the great masses—a saying warmly applauded at the time but possibly questioned by the scientific world today.

Stretching points to reach analogy I am inclined to remark that the master spirit of youth in the United States must approve of football because so many high school teams play the game. Statisticians have not yet numbered the intercollegiate players but if Major John L. Griffith's total of ten thousand teams is correct, individual players number a third of a million or more.

More so than the college player who has attained a greater physical growth and has been slightly disciplined by play on high school teams, each high school boy is a problem to his coach. For this reason the high school athletic program should have a foundation of thought; a background thoroughly worked out by the administration and the coach to determine for that individual school the necessity, the place, and the importance of physical education.

Thank You---

People of Gray county, for your kind and steadily increasing patronage. Since we opened our modern bakery in Pampa on South Cuyler street, September 1, 1928, we have been working constantly to improve the standards of the plant we took over and the quality of its products. From the day our ownership became effective we have noted a nice healthy increase in business; we accept this as a token that our efforts have found favor with you.

Operating as we do at present, the only wholesale bakery in Gray county, it is a source of satisfaction to find that the people of this county evidently believe in patronizing an industry which will, as it builds, help to build Gray county.

Our "True Milk Bread" contains all the ingredients we can put into it to make that fine flavored tasting loaf. True Milk Bread means truly made from milk.

Your attention is called to our clean sanitary retail shop. When shopping on South Cuyler drop in and look over our very complete line of fancy pastries.
