ORCHESTRA TO ASSIST CHOIR

Dinner at Schneider
Will Be Given
Monday

Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of Texas Tech and one of the noted educators in the Southwest, who will make the address at the Armistice Day services at the Methodist church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, will speak on "Out-living War."

Dr. Horn was for many years president of Rice Institute at Houston and of Southwestern University, Georgetown, when Texas Tech was founded. Dr. Horn was chosen as its first president.

A section of the church will be reserved for the American Legion Auxiliary membership. All ex-service men and Auxiliary members will meet at the Legion home, West Foster avenue at 10:30 a. m. and march to the church.

Efforts are being made to secure Judge Newton P. Willis of Canadian to speak at the evening services at the Methodist church.

On Monday evening at 8:30 there will be a dinner and program for ex-service men and their families at the Schneider hotel. An excellent program is being arranged. "Tanlac" Strange of Lubbock has been secured for the occasion.

The annual American Red Cross roll call will not be made Sunday morning as announced, but Scott Barcus, who has been appointed chairman of the drive, states that it will probably get under way November 19.

Program:
March—Mrs. F. L. Elliott.
Star Spangled Banner—Orchestra.
America—Congregation.
Prayer—Rev. James Todd, Jr.
Anthem—America the Beautiful, choir.
Scripture Reading—Rev. D. H. Truhitt.
Selection—Keep the Home Fires Burning, choir.
Offering—Orchestra.
Male Quartet—God Save America, Lions Club quartet.
Address—"Out-living War", Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of Texas Technological college, Lubbock.
Hymn—457.
Benediction—Rev. Tom W. Brabham.
Postlude—Mrs. F. L. Elliott and Orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Carlson and Dr. and Mrs. Roy Webb left this afternoon for Norman, Okla., to attend the Oklahoma university home coming.

Special $25 Cash Prize Offer In News' Big Contest to Close Promptly at 7 Tomorrow Evening

The special cash prize offer will end promptly on the stroke of 7 o'clock p. m. tomorrow; not one minute later. You must have your subscriptions to apply on the offer in the News office by that time. None will be counted for points which is brought in later. Now don't be late, anybody!

Seven o'clock tomorrow night! That's the hour every contestant in the Pampa Daily News' big $5,000 automobile and prize voting campaign is battling against.

For, until that hour, every yearly subscription turned in at Contest Headquarters on the second floor of the News building, gains a point on the special $25 cash prize, given for effort during the present week only. Only today and tomorrow until 7 p. m., do subscriptions count on these points. Two 6 months subscriptions count one point. One 2-year subscription counts 2 points, and so on.

Best of all, while they are winning points to take down the $25 cash prize, contestants are also building further an farther on their $20 clubs, which a week from tomorrow night each will 100,000 extra votes towards the automobiles and other handsome prizes to be given away when the campaign ends on December 15. The 100,000 prize, of course, is the feature event of the entire campaign, and the $25 cash prize is just something extra, devised by the Contest Manager to help contestants to work harder and get more votes during the present week. Someone will be $25 richer tomorrow night, and all contestants will be just that much closer to the big automobiles and other prizes.

Subscriptions turned in today and tomorrow have a three-fold value. First they win the usual regular votes. Second, they count in on the $20 clubs for the 100,000 extras, and third they win points towards the $25 cash prize. Subscribers who wish to help their contestant friends can help them MORE by paying their subscription today or tomorrow before 7 p. m. than they even will later. The points offer will not be extended nor will it be duplicated. It was only put on because of the bad weather and inactivity of the previous week, in order to make up for time that was lost and to take up the slack.

New contestants and late starters in the race are beginning to take hold of vote getting in a manner that bids fair to make all contestants sit up and take notice. The campaign is fast developing into a real race—a thrilling, exciting competition that will be complete with breathless moment. With a $1,500 Buick Silver Anniversary Sedan as the ultimate reward, and with only five weeks remaining to win it, the race is tightening up all along the line.

While $20 clubs to win the extra votes were of course, uppermost in the minds of contestants, yet everyone is striving to outdo the other for the week and annex the extra $25. It is not often in a campaign of this kind that the opportunity comes along to pick up an extra $25 in cash while doing something else. The automobiles

Mr. Duncan Expects To Survive Despite His Election Guess

The good humor engendered by the general election accounts for the availability of the following for publication: (TELEGRAM)

Panhandle, Texas
November 7.
Mr. J. N. Duncan,
Pampa, Texas,
"You have my heartfelt sympathy in your recent loss. Life with its trials and tribulations is hard to understand sometimes; however, feel sure you have a better understanding of some things today than yesterday. Am hoping for your complete recovery."
Mrs. JEAN M. HIGGINS.

Dear Mrs. Higgins:
I appreciate your consoling wire message. I sat at the radio Tuesday night listening in at the election returns and the dose was so awful I went into convulsions. But with application of camphor and hot towels I survived and was able to sit up and eat breakfast. And I believe now that unless I have a relapse that I will be able to be on deck again in 1930.

Routing of Cars South of Railroad Draws Criticism

Evident determination of the state highway department to change the Pampa-Miami road to a route south of the Santa Fe is seen in the order of Gibb Gilchrist, state engineer, to make a detour along this route instead of using a north detour just completed by Commissioner W. A. Taylor. The contract has been let for the grading of Highway 33 north from Pampa to the Roberts county line. While Mr. Taylor was in Austin a few weeks ago, Mr. Gilchrist told him to law out a detour paralleling the road to be graded. Now, however, the order has been changed, and District Engineer ranch has indicated that through traffic should not be sent over this detour, but should be directed along the route south of the railroad, the exact way not being known here. Miami citizens, learning of the change, are protesting and wish the Panhandle Highway association to investigate the matter.

The ultimate result, unless prevented, may be to leave Miami off the new route of Highway 33. Pampa is joining Miami people in opposing such a move.

PENNSYLVANIA OIL GOES UP IN SOME GRADES

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 9.—(P)—An increase of 15 cents a barrel in several of the leading grades of Pennsylvania crude oil was announced here today by purchasing agencies.
The new prices are: Pennsylvania grade in New York transit lines and Bradford district oil in national transit lines $3.60; Pennsylvania grade in national transit lines and Pennsylvania grade in Southwest Pennsylvania lines $3.50; Pennsylvania grade in Eureka lines $3.40; Pennsylvania grade in Buckeye lines $3.25. Other grades unchanged.

DALLAS, Nov. 9.—(P)—Holding his own as returns from out-lying counties, which had been expected to give Gov. Alfred E. Smith a big majority, came in, Herbert Hoover today had a 19,437 lead over the Democratic nominee.

The Texas Election Bureau's last tabulation gave Hoover 352,763 and Smith 334,326, with complete returns from 175 counties and reports from all but one of the 253.

DALLAS, Nov. 9.—(P)—A stupendous advertising campaign by the Republicans and Anti-Smith Democrats while the straight-out Democrats pursued their old system of permitting nature to take its course was pointed to from some quarters today as having played a great part in placing Texas twenty electoral votes in the Republican column for the first time.

Six million pieces of literature were mailed from Anti-Smith headquarters and the campaign of education included printing a specimen ballot in 138 Texas newspapers and, in the closing days of the campaign, paid advertising in 43 daily newspapers.

"In many counties the local Hoover supporters placed advertising unknown to headquarters until copies of the papers were received," said Fred L. Haskett, publicity manager. "It was the greatest advertised political campaign in Texas and proves that advertising pays, even in an adverse press."

Mr. Haskett formerly was a Childress newspaper man.

LAST DAY OF SCHOOL GREAT

Daily News' Event Is Largest in Entire State

The fifth and last day of the Pampa Daily News' cooking school in the basement of the Methodist church found the hall crowded today. The extraordinary interest that has grown from day to day was at its height this afternoon, and the class at this final lecture was the largest of the week.

Mrs. Leona Rusk Ihrig, culinary expert who was in charge of the school, says that the Pampa school has had the largest attendance and the best show of interest of any school she has conducted this year, and adds that several of them in the larger cities of the state. She is highly pleased with the cooperation of the women of the city and was especially gratified at having such an excellent attendance at her last class.

Today's demonstration was on meat cutting. Mrs. Ihrig was ably assisted by John J. Calhoun of the W. E. Coffee meat market. While Mr. Calhoun deftly demonstrated the various cuts of beef, pork and lamb, Mrs. Ihrig gave recipes and suggestions for cooking of each. She told her class how to make the less expensive cuts as appetizing as the portions generally considered more choice. Her new methods of preparing liver, heart and sweet-breads were particularly interesting.

Two of the recipes were novelties to the greater part of the audience and created much interest. Ham Havana

Christmas Cheer Will Be Plentiful for All in Pampa—Lions Club Offered Much Cooperation in Its Annual Drive

To Speak Here

Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of Texas Technological college of Lubbock, will be the principal speaker at the Armistice Day services at the local Methodist church.

Christmas in Pampa promises to be a great occasion for the poor children of the city. Determined that no child shall be without Christmas cheer, several organizations have offered their cooperation to the Lions club, which last year established the policy of sponsoring a toy drive.

The Association of University Women and College club of Pampa tendered its services, President Ivy Duncan of the Lions club announced yesterday, and the club went on record as heartily welcoming this cooperation. Scout Executive E. D. McIver was applauded when he said the Boy Scouts would also be glad to help. W. F. Wilson of Amarillo, a guest of the club, joined in the move by donating a 20-foot Christmas tree for the occasion.

The Lions club also took further steps to assure the crippled children's clinic to be held here next Monday. Chairman W. A. Bratton of the Lions committee helping to make preparations announced that the presence of all members at some time during the clinic was desired. Many Lions have been assigned to help with the clinic arrangements. The clinic will be held on the first floor of the Methodist church.

Scout Executive McIver urged the attendance of Lions at the Boy Scout council meeting to be held at the New Schneider hotel Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. Many delegates from other towns of the council will be present.

Short talks were made by Guy Hutchinson of Arkansas City, Kans., and Lion Lewis Levine of Childress. Young Billy Bratton was another guest.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Kiser and Mrs. Hoffman are in LeFors today.

Miss Jane Singleton will spend the week-end with home folks in Amarillo.

will doubtless appear on many dinner-party tables in the future. The meat is broiled and garnished with sliced pineapple. A most delicious meat dish for which Mrs. Ihrig gave the recipe is candied tongue. The recipe is as follows:

One medium sized tongue, 1-2 cup of sugar, 1-2 cup vinegar, 1-2 cup corn syrup, 1-4 teaspoon allspice, 1-4 teaspoon cloves, 1-1-2 cup seeded raisins, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon Eagle brand chili powder. Place the tongue in a kettle and cover with cold water, add salt and bring to the boiling point, then reduce the heat and cook until the tongue is tender. Remove the skin while the tongue is still hot, return to the kettle and allow it to cool in the liquor. Mix together the vinegar, corn syrup, raisins, and spices. Place the tongue in a roasting pan or skillet, pour over it the sauce, and let simmer for 45 minutes. Turn the tongue twice while simmering. Garnish with watercress when ready to serve.

Other Towns Invited to Bring Their Crippled Children to Clinic Here

The incomparable service of making little deformed limbs straight, of making it possible for children to romp and play as do normal youngsters, is fully realized by members of the Lions and Rotary clubs who are making possible the free clinic to be held at the Methodist church Monday, November 12.

The coming of Dr. Earl McBride and his staff of Oklahoma City is a clinical event of great importance; otherwise each cripple would have to make the trip to Oklahoma hospital furthermore, the clinic will offer no restrictions, being free of expenses or obligations of any kind. It is intended largely to determine the curative measures which are possible. Only instances of crippled chil-

BULLET WOUND PROVES FATAL LAST EVENING

G. B. Landers Served in

OFFICER CHARGED WITH MURDER

Funeral Awaits Word
From Cafe Man's
Father

Following the death early last night of Grover B. "Blackie" Landers of wounds received when he was shot yesterday morning, City Officer Jeff Guthrie was arraigned on a charge of murder and his bond was fixed at $2,500 today.

Guthrie, who claims to have shot at Landers' wrist as the latter was drawing a pistol during a heated argument with the officer, yesterday waived examining trial on a charge of assault with intent to kill and was released under $1,000 bond.

The city officer, accompanied by Bud Cottrell, a brother policeman, went to Landers' Day and Night cafe about 2 o'clock yesterday morning following notification of trouble at the South Cuyler restaurant. They placed Landers under arrest and told him to accompany them to the police station, intending to file a misdemeanor complaint. Landers, who was armed, is said to have drawn an automatic from a hip pocket. Thinking he was about to be shot, Guthrie fired from the hip. The bullet struck the cafe man in the abdomen, cutting several intestines.

The dead man's father, Huff W. Landers of Minden, La., has been notified of his son's death, and the body is resting at Malone's awaiting burial instructions.

Landers was born in Homer, La., in 1869. In July, 1915, he joined Company K of the 17th infantry and was stationed at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., where he remained until discharged in October of 1919.

He came to Pampa several months ago to manage the Night and Day cafe. He formerly was proprietor of the Silver Spoon cafe in Amarillo.

Hoover-Curtis Club Will Have Session Tonight

The club will open its session at 8 jubilee session at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium at 8 o'clock tonight, Chairman Ben S. Baldwin announced today.

The club will open its session at 8 o'clock, and Judge Baldwin said everyone is invited. Short talks on the recent election, in which Gray county gave Herbert Hoover a heavy majority, will be made.

School Amendments Declared to Mean Great Progress in Texas Education

FORT WORTH, Nov. 9.—(P)—Passage of the two amendments to the Texas constitution dealing with administration of public school systems was the most important step forward in education made by the state in 56 years in the opinion of R. T. Ellis, executive secretary of the Texas State Teachers association.

One of the amendments gives the legislature power to set the terms of office and determine the size of boards of trustees and regents. Heretofore these stipulations have been contained in the constitution itself. The legislature at its next session will be asked to utilize its new authority by passing a law with the following provisions, according to Ellis:

- 1—Election of only one-third of the members of any educational board trustees in rural schools; boards of education independent district or boards of regents at one time; thus providing for overlapping terms that will keep constantly in power an experienced majority.
- 2—In the case of rural school trustees, one member shall be elected each year; the term should be three years.
- 3—In the case of boards of education in independent districts, two members should be elected in each of two years and three in the third year. Terms should be three years.
- 4—Terms of regents should be lengthened, but not to exceed six years.

Fast Bout to Draw Adds to Varner Victories

Walter Varner, pride of the Roxana Oil company, won a sensational ten-round decision from Speedy Sparks, Lawton, Okla. boy at the Pla-Mor auditorium last night. The local boy had the ex-champion in difficulty in the sixth and the last rounds.

The semi-final was short and snappy with Speedy Snow winning over Joe Lamb by knocking in the third round. Snow looked better than he did against Cahill in the previous fight. "Dog Face" Ed, local negro, apparently heard that Calvin Jones, of Fort Worth was a smart boxer and he failed to how up for the scheduled match.

Good preliminaries opened the fight card. The first bout was between Young Wade and Kid Carter. The second saw Young Simpson slugging it out for three rounds.

Varner entered the ring at 156 and Sparks at 158 pounds. At the gong, Varner stepped into the ring and slapped Sparks one on the nose and from then on it was a hectic affair with Varner doing all the leading but missing frequently.

The local boy failed to hurt Sparks until the sixth round when a right and left to the head rocked the former challenger on his heels and only his experience kept him from kissing the canvass. Varner took the first two rounds with sharp rights to the head but failed to do any damage.

Rounds three and four were even with Varner doing the leading but no damage. Sparks seemed to be playing with the local boy slapping him repeatedly with an open glove. In the fifth round Varner opened up and played heavily to the head with the result of opening a cut over Sparks' eye in the sixth.

The visitor came back strong in the seventh but faded again in the eighth and by the gong in the tenth round was groggy from a steady pounding to the head.

Sparks is clever. He is a veteran of 256 battles and an old man to be in the ring. In his day he has met and beaten the best in his class.

A challenge was received from Freddie Whittington stating that he would meet the winner of last night's fight. The bout will be matched for November 22 at the Pla-Mor auditorium.

Speedy Snow stepped into the ring and proved to local fans that it was no accident that he kayoed Rusty Cahill in their first encounter this year. He took Lamb to the showers early in the third round after the Houston boy had been on the canvass four times in the second round.

Entertainment of the evening was centered around "Slim" Anderson, who is one of the greatest fight fans in this territory. He kept the house in an uproar during the entire evening with

Many Arrests Are Made Overnight

A ten-foot steel wire fence topped with barbed wire has been erected around the jail and from now on prisoners will be "aired" every day. The fence also will act as a safeguard in case of any attempted jail break. There are from fifteen to twenty permanent prisoners in the jail most of the time awaiting the action of the grand jury.

Officers of the sheriff's department had a busy evening yesterday arresting several who had imbibed too freely. They raged several poker and "crap" games. In all, eleven players were arrested and several "drunks" spent the night in the jail.

Fleet Iowa Soph Chief Worry of Ohio State Now

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—(P)—A tow-headed sophomore, Oran Pape, who can run the length of the gridiron in less than 10 seconds, and not that Giant Indian line crusher, Maves McLain, worries Ohio State as it marshals its forces for its championship elimination combat with Iowa tomorrow.

Pape, who in about 40 minutes of work all season has taken the lead in individual scoring in the Big Ten by making eight touchdowns, has been the subject of long lectures by coach Jack Wilce of Ohio all week.

Upward of 82,000 spectators are expected to jam Ohio stadium for the battle between the two undefeated eleven, the winner of which will have undisputed possession of first place in the conference standings.

Minus the services of "Dynamite Joe" Gemblis, its crashing fullback and field goal expert who was stricken with an attack of appendicitis, a squad of 28 Michigan players was en route to Baltimore today where they tackle the Navy in the only inter-sectional game on the Big Ten's card tomorrow.

The crippled list at Chicago is growing again, and the outlook was dark for an upset over Wisconsin.

Northwesterns second serious injury of the season was reported yesterday when Lerry Oliphant, sophomore end, was definitely taken off the team because of a bad leg.

The Minnesota-Indiana game at Minneapolis will be a contest of cripples. Each team badly battered although Bronko Nagurski of the Gophers may start at tackle instead of fullback.

Illinois leaves for Indianapolis and the Butler game tomorrow, but the reserves are expected to do most of the work.

His advice to the fighters. He is a mate of Varner and Snow with the Roxana Petroleum company.

Harvesters Not in Best Condition to Meet Perryton

Coach Odus Mitchell is having his troubles getting his team whipped into shape for the crucial game with Perryton here Monday afternoon. Chastain and Tracy failed to appear on the field in uniform last night and as a result Coach Mitchell has pulled Carson out of the line and put him in the backfield.

Carson, as one of the stars on the Texhons, backfield last season and in practice showing up nicely. He is the fastest man on the team, being a ten-knot "matt." He runs low and hits the line hard.

Walstad will be in the line-up but will be unable to do much ball carrying because of a broken finger, received in the Clinton game. It was not known that the finger was broken until last Saturday after the Wheeler game. Lard is also on the crippled list but will be in the game at the safety position. He has an injured knee, but he has failed to curb his speed.

The rest of the team is in excellent condition and will give the fast Perryton eleven a battle from the first whistle. The game has been called for 2:30 o'clock in order to let the Perryton team leave for home early. All the stores will close and it is expected that a record crowd will be in attendance.

With a line as heavy as that of the Harvesters and a backfield that will outweigh the Fleet Harvesters, Perryton is a team to be feared. Coaches Mitchell and Fox saw the games played between Perryton and Pollett and are working hard getting the local defense perfected to meet the tide from the north.

The Harvesters third team is playing the White Deer eleven here this afternoon at 3:45 o'clock. The midgets held the White Deer eleven to a 13 to 0 victory Monday afternoon in their home town.

The game to be played here Monday has been brought at considerable expense, and Perryton business men tried to get it moved back to that city after the arrangement had been made. It will be necessary to place the admission charge at $1 in order to pay expenses in connection with the game.

Pampa business houses likely will close for the day, or at least for the game. Business men are being consulted on the matter and will have an announcement before Monday.

Aggie Coaches to Show Much Altered Line-up Saturday

DALLAS, Nov. 9.—(P)—Hopeful of better fortune than the team has encountered against Centenary, T. C. U. and Arkansas, Texas Aggie coaches began the first lap today of their trip to Dallas where the team meets S. M. U. at Ownby stadium tomorrow.

The Farmers will lumber up at Corsicana and spend the night there before proceeding to their destination. Coach D. X. Bible has not definitely announced his line-up because of numerous shifts in an attempt to bolster the squad but the revamped team that buried North Teachers college under a mass of touchdowns is likely to start it includes Petty and Aisabrook at ends, Delery and Captain Bartlett at tackles, Richter and Van Zandt at guards, Brown at center, Davis at quarter back, Conover and Zaratofanis at half backs and Burgess at full back.

Undefeated Teams to Meet Tomorrow and Reduce List

By HERBERT W. BARKER Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—(P)—Four of the five undefeated and united eastern eleven's swing into action tomorrow. Boston college waiting until Monday to battle Fordham, Georgetown and Carnegie Tech stage at Albany, N. Y., the only game of the day between teams neither beaten nor tied.

Army, heading for an eastern and perhaps a national championship, will need to be at its best to subdue Notre Dame at the Yankee stadium, Villanova, fifth on the list of leaders, tackles Temple.

Among the teams tied but not beaten only the college of the City of New York seems in particular danger. The New Yorkers must take on Norwich, and find a way to stop Grey Coane star end of the Vermont eleven.

Princeton, tied twice, should win decisively from Washington and Lee. All the rest of those who so far have obtained no worse than a draw should win—Lowell Textile, Grove City, Calistis, and the Connecticut Aggies.

One of the feature battles of the day, incidentally, brings together Navy and Michigan which have shared seven defeats between them.

Harvard entertains Pennsylvania in another outstanding battle while the other member of the one-time "Big Three," Yale and Princeton are taking on Maryland and Washington and Lee respectively.

Dartmouth trounced Brown by 19 to 7 last season but may find the going more difficult this year. Jesse Hawly will have most of his regulars back in the lineup but Tuss McLaughry has a much better team at Brown than he had last year. The Oklahoma Aggies-West Virginia and Syracuse-Ohio Wesleyan games complete the inter-sectional card.

LATE START PLANNED

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—(P)—Under present plans, the major league baseball campaigns will start a week later in 1929 than they did this year. John League, said it was expected to open Heydler, president of the National the season in both leagues on April 16 and close on September 29. The 1928 season opened on April 10 and closed September 29 but weather conditions, especially in the east, cancelled any advantages there might have been in the early opening.

Mount Etna Lava Flow Is Slowing

ROME, Nov. 9.—(P)—Advices from Sicily today said that activity of Mount Etna was continuing to diminish in intensity.

Trains were still running between Catania and Messina which had been threatened by the flow of the lava.

Giarrè has become the general headquarters for relief work and numerous Catholic priests under the orders of the Archbishop of Catania were actively assisting in this work.

The central stream of lava had advanced about ten miles in a week. The length of the front over which it and two subsidiary streams were advancing was just under one mile.

HILL ASKED TO SPEAK

CANYON, Nov. 9.—The Sorosis Club of Paducah will have charge of the Armistice Day Program at that place. This will be a community service participated in by town and rural people, and President J. A. Hill of the West Texas State Teachers college has been invited to be the principal speaker. The program will be given Sunday November 11.

Future of Southern G. O. P. Movement in Hands of Hoover

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal. Nov. 9.—(P)—Assessing the effect of the tidal wave which swept him into the presidency, Herbert Hoover finds that victory has brought him new problems quite apart from those he must shoulder as the chief executive.

These are political in character, and as the head of his party the decision as to dealing with them rests with him. Foremost among them is the future organization in the southern states, involving extensive expansion and some realignments south of the Mason and Dixon line.

As a leader that he is, the president-elect has been fully aware of the factors contributing to the political revolution there—a revolution which surprised him as much as it did the country as a whole. However, latest returns show that in some of the states which threw their electoral votes to him, the Republican trend extended into the congressional field, with the election of candidates of his own party in districts which heretofore have been strongly Democratic.

One of the high hopes Hoover entertained during the campaign was that sectional lines might be broken down, and consequently his friends look upon it as only a natural consequence of the election that he should take steps to consolidate as far as possible the ground that has been gained. The creation of a more extensive organization in the southern states was one of the first concerns in his campaign, and under his personal direction a southern division of the Republican national organization was set up under the direction of Horace A. Mann.

Biscuits... and what Mrs. Johnston found out about the taste of cooking fats!

"WHEN I first saw the Crisco advertisement which said, 'Taste your Cooking Fat,'" wrote Mrs. W. L. Johnston, "I, being a woman and curious, opened the Crisco can and took a very little upon a spoon. I received such a surprise—and such a pleasant one! No wonder my biscuits, pies and cakes are so much better since I have been using this pleasant, sweet tasting shortening, Crisco."

Have you yourself ever tasted Crisco? Put a little Crisco on the tip of a spoon; on the tip of another a little of any other shortening. Taste first Crisco, then the other fat. Isn't the difference astonishing?

Crisco will make just as much improvement in your cooking results as its sweet, fresh taste would lead you to expect. Just try the recipes given below and you'll know exactly what we mean.

Master Recipe

for both "Drop" and "Rolled" Biscuits
2 cups bread flour ¼ cup milk or water
4 teaspoons baking powder (for "drop" biscuits)
½ teaspoon salt ½ cup milk or water
4 tablespoons Crisco (for "rolled" biscuits)

Sift dry ingredients together 3 times. Work Crisco in with fork. Add liquid gradually.

FOR "DROP" (Emergency) BISCUITS: drop by spoonfuls on Criscoed baking pan. Brush top of biscuits with melted Crisco or milk. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) 10 to 15 minutes.

FOR ROLLED BISCUITS: form dough into shape, roll ¼ inch thick, cut. For round-shaped biscuits, cut squares, then diagonally in half. Brush top of biscuits with melted Crisco or milk. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Makes about 42 biscuits.

To use buttermilk or sour milk beat in ¼ teaspoon soda for each cup of milk. (If milk is very thick, use a little more milk.) Use same amount of baking powder and follow method for either "drop" or "rolled" biscuits.

Mrs. Wilkerson is Hostess to Lone Star Bridge Club

Members of the Lone Star bridge club yesterday spent a pleasant afternoon in the home of Mrs. Catherine Wilkerson. Players at the three tables arranged for the game were as follows: Mrs. J. H. Lutz, Mrs. J. H. Lavender, Mrs. G. M. Carlock, Mrs. L. M. Williams, Mrs. F. A. Smith, Mrs. R. P. Conroy, Mrs. Frank Seal, Mrs. Henry Lemons, Mrs. J. W. Vasey, and Mrs. Robert Gilchrist, Jr. and Mrs. E. H. Harriott.

Mrs. Lavender scored high and received a lovely favor. Consolation went to Mrs. Gilchrist. After presenting the favors, the hostess served a delicious refreshment course. Mrs. was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Robert Gilchrist, Sr.

Dallas Girl Back From Brief Trip as Young Bride

DALLAS, Nov. 8 (AP)—A 14-year-old girl, pretty Marion Sherman, returned home yesterday from her honeymoon trip, sadder but wiser for the interval since she married E. C. Edwards and started out with him afoot on the marital trail.

For Marion the last several months have been eventful to say the least. First she lost her husband; either he deserted her, as she tells it, or she was taken from him by two men in a roadster, as the youthful bridegroom has related it in his jail cell here.

After wandering about for weeks, Marion said, she was picked up by an agent for a welfare association, who found a job for her at Helena, Ark. She was working there when located after a southward search.

Armistice Day Program Given By Coterie Club

The Coterie club had an interesting program yesterday in observance of Armistice Day. Nationalism was discussed by Mrs. W. E. Todd, who also gave a reading appropriate to the occasion. Mrs. Tom Miller read a paper, "With Our Nurses in the A. E. F." One of the popular songs of war-time days, "Somewhere in France, In Daddy," was played on the Victrola. As the final number to the program Mrs. M. L. Downs read "In Flanders Field."

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Lundy Stalls, with eight members and two visitors present. An hour of pleasant conversation followed the program and at the tea hour dainty refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Dowd are spending the week-end with Mrs. Dowd's parents in Lawton, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Beatty of Topeka, Kans., are visiting their daughter, Mrs. A. L. Jones.

Mrs. Mary Stocking will spend the week-end in Clarendon.

Entre Nous Bridge Club Meeting is Delightful Event

Mrs. P. T. McNamara was hostess yesterday to Entre Nous club members and other friends. Three tables were arranged for bridge, and the following participated in the game: Mrs. F. A. Hollenbeck, Mrs. S. A. Burns, Mrs. Harry Marbaugh, Mrs. Charles Ellison, Mrs. Carl Taylor, Mrs. H. W. Hickman, Mrs. C. E. Hutchins, Mrs. Rodgers, Mrs. G. E. Duckworth, Mrs. A. G. Post, Mrs. R. P. Shields, and Mrs. J. P. Reid.

Mrs. Shields held high score for special guests, and Mrs. Hollenbeck scored high for members. Each received a dainty linen handkerchief as a trophy. Mrs. Taylor, who made low score, received a linen dresser cover. A two course luncheon was served.

Decorations for Christmas Will Be Placed Here

Pampa will be in gala dress for Christmas this year, the merchants of the city streets and stores for the occasion. Plans are being formulated to decorate city streets and stores for the occasion. W. F. Wilson of Amarillo and Lewis Levine of Childress are here cooperating with the Chamber of Commerce and the Pampa Business Men's association in preparing plans to dress the city for Christmas.

M. Wilson and Mr. Levine decorated Dallas and Wichita Falls last Christmas and were highly complimented. They plan to decorate the city and store fronts fifteen days before Christmas day. Evergreen trees are being imported from the state of Washington and will be used throughout the city. Colored lights will be strung across the streets and lighted Christmas trees will be placed on the four corners of each intersection in the business district.

The Chamber of Commerce and Business Men's association desire that local merchants cooperate with Mr. Wilson and Mr. Levine when they call to arrange decorations for store fronts.

The two men will donate a large Christmas tree and colored lights for a local Christmas tree. The club gathers toys each Christmas and give them to children whose parents are unable to buy their children toys.

Dick Marmon Has Good Night But Suffers Headache

Looking gaunt but suffering no ill effects except the headaches which he says pass after the first day or so Dick Marmon, endurance driver, was in Pampa today at the end of his first journey through nearby towns. He started a 125-hour non-motor-stop drive yesterday afternoon from in front of the Culberson-Smalling Chevrolet company, and will end his drive Monday night at 7 o'clock.

At the end of the endurance test, Marmon will sleep from 7:15 to 8:30 in a Malaga Furniture company window, then he will be taken in the Malaga ambulance to the Rex theatre for a brief appearance from 8:45 to 8:50 p. m.

Marmon said the drive had started off well, that he had not had a puncture, and that he went through rain much of the night. He had the Chevrolet coach Alented and the oil changed at 7:45 a. m. and refilled with Grayco gasoline. This Pampa-made gasoline gave an average of 27 miles per gallon, it was estimated.

alone are regarded by most contestants as sufficient reward for their efforts, and many expressions of approval at the liberality of the management in providing the extra prize have been forthcoming.

Prospective entrants who are "on the fence" so to speak, will never have a better chance to get busy than they have now. If they enter today or tomorrow, they have a splendid chance to win the cash prize, and a full week more to devote to the gathering of subscriptions under the provisions of the 100,000 offer. Entry lists will remain open throughout next week, in order to accommodate other late starters who may wish to get busy.

A few contestants have accomplished nothing whatsoever this week. The campaign manager was reluctant to remove their names from the list today, which is the reason the list does not appear today. These contestants know who they are, and they are hereby fairly well warned that unless they get busy this week and make a report of their intentions to the manager, either with or without subscriptions, their names will be removed from the list. The News has no desire to urge anyone to work in this contest who does not want to work. It takes work to win in this campaign—you may as well know that—and unless you are willing to put out some effort, there is no use in bothering about it.

There is a "Nomination Blank" good for 2,000 free starting votes in today's paper. If you want to get in the face, and are willing to help us get subscribers for the next five weeks, with a $1,500 automobile as your greatest possible reward, send it in today.

won a narrow victory in the fourteenth district after a hard raising battle in which he and his Democratic opponent, Augustus McCloskey of San Antonio traded the lead back and forth a dozen times. McCloskey refused to admit defeat until the official canvass Monday. The most accurate figures available gave Wurzback 29,538, McCloskey 29,316.

In Hidalgo county on the Rio Grande where the Republicans fought, on a smaller scale, a battle very much like the fight which split the Democratic party, everything was quiet, though the interest aroused by the campaign threatened to keep politics to the fore for some time.

"APPAREL FOR WOMEN"

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic:—Peace and Good Will Among Men.
Scripture Lesson:—Romans 12:1, 2, 9-21.

1. I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, to present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable to God, which is your spiritual service.
2. And be not fashioned according to this world; but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is the good and acceptable and perfect will of God.
3. Let love be without hypocrisy. Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good.
4. In love of the brethren be tenderly affectionate one to another; in honor preferring one another;
5. In diligence not slothful; fervent in spirit; serving the Lord.
6. Rejoicing in hope; patient in tribulation; continuing steadfastly in prayer;
7. Communicating to the necessities of the saints; given to hospitality.
8. Bless them that persecute you; bless, and curse not.
9. Rejoice with them that rejoice; weep with them that weep.
10. Be of the same mind one toward another. Set not your mind on high things, but condescend to things that are lowly. Be not wise in your own conceits.
11. Render to no man evil for evil. Take thought for things honorable in the sight of all men.
12. If it be possible, as, as much as in you lieth, be at peace with all men.
13. Avenge not yourselves, beloved, but give place unto the wrath of God: for it is written, Vengeance belongeth unto me; I will recompense, saith the Lord.
14. But if thine enemy hunger, feed him, if he be athirst, give him to drink; for in so doing thou shalt heap coals of fire upon his head.
15. Be not overcome of evil, but overcome with good.
TIME: The Epistle to the Romans was probably written in A. D. 57.
PLACE: It was written in Corinth.
GOLDEN TEXT: Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good.—Rom. 12:21.

Introduction
With this twelfth chapter begins the second, or practical part, of the Epistle to the Romans, as distinguished from the doctrinal, theological part, chapters 1-11. The matter of "getting along with people" is first taken up. It is discussed here in this chapter in a very general way, in many relations. Verse 18 might be regarded as the chapter's keynote.
"Peaceableness may not be one of the most admired, but it is certainly one of the most Christlike of all the Christian character. For Jesus was such a peaceable man! A song of peace celebrates his nativity and peace was his parting benediction. It is a consequence and sequence of the love that he teaches and inspires. Hate resents almost any injury, and therefore makes for fighting; love "beareth all things" and therefore makes for peace."
"Be Not Conformed"
"I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God." "Therefore" goes back to the whole of the preceding argument: in view of God's mercy shown in Christ to a sinful world, I beseech you. "To present your bodies a living sacrifice." Now that Christ, the perfect Sacrifice, has been offered up for sin, we need no sacrifices of animals on an altar; but there is a sacrifice that is required of us, our bodies, that is, our lives.
"And be not fashioned according to this world." Literally "this age," the transitory period of our mortal life, subject to sin and death. "This world is transitory period of our mortal life, subject to sin and death. "This world is but an empty show;" do not let it take possession of you and determine the shape of your life. "But be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind." Whoever is "in Christ" is "a new creation," "a new man." His mind or soul has become metamorphosed, and that has transformed his entire being.
"Indiligence Not Slothful"
"In diligence not slothful; fervent in spirit; serving the Lord." "In (the matter of) diligence, not slothful." The true follower of Christ will be industrious, doing more than his full share of the world's work; and he will show the same zeal in "his father's business." "In (the matter of) spirit, fervent." Industry is not enough; the spirit in which we work determines the value of our labor. The Christian enjoys his work as zealous in it, "boiling" in it—which is what "fervent" means in the Greek. "Serving" here implies bond service, the service of a slave. All our industry and fervor are consecrated to our Master, Jesus Christ. Because we are His servant, proud to be His slaves, we are diligent and fervent. This twelfth chapter of Romans has been chosen, very appropriately, as "the Christian Endeavor Chapter" of the Bible.

"Rejoicing in hope; patient in tribulation; continuing steadfastly in prayer." Christians can rejoice always, for a sure hope is set before them. They can endure patiently the trials which are certain to come to them, knowing that their Saviour, Who bore so much heavier trials, will furnish all needed strength. They can "pray without ceasing," for prayer is talking with Christ and Christ is ever by their side; how can they keep from the joy of converse with their Friend?

"Weep with them that weep."
"Rejoice with them that rejoice; weep with them that weep." Thus Christ at the feast at Cana rejoiced with the rejoicers, and at the grave of Lazarus wept with the mourners, even though he was about to bring back the dead from the grave. Paul's letters are full of joy in the happiness and goodness of his fellow Christians, and we have seen how often he speaks of weeping over his fellow Christians, and we have seen how he speaks of weeping over the private serenity, and this sympathy will show itself as freely and beautifully in rejoicing over their good fortune as in grieving over their misfortune.

"Live Peaceably."
Our apostle, enjoining peace with all men (ver. 18) seems to realize how exceedingly difficult it's going to be, for the most of us, to carry out his command: "if it be possible, as much as in you lieth," he qualifies. Paul himself found it no easy matter to be a peaceable man. Read verse 12: "continuing steadfastly in prayer." That

Police Chief of Coffeyville, Kans. Kidnaped Today

COFFEYVILLE, Kas., Nov. 9.—(P)—Earl Hackney, chief of police and W. H. McMurtry, plain clothes policeman, were kidnaped today by several men when they answered a call to the south part of the city to arrest chicken thieves.

The officers answered the call of a woman who reported she had seen the men hiding half a dozen sacks of chickens. When the chief and his companion appeared, the woman reported, the men covered them with their guns, forced them into a motor car, and drove away.

Police immediately started a search for the missing officers.

Presbyterian Choir to Meet Tonight

Members of the Presbyterian church choir will practice at the church tonight at 7:30 o'clock. George W. Briggs announced this morning. He hopes that many attend as he wishes to practice anthems just received.

The Rev. A. A. Hyde of Deport will be here to take charge of the church a week from next Sunday. Mr. Hyde was called after he had preached two services in the local church. The Presbyterians have been without a pastor for two months.

Miss Mable Gene Campbell will spend the week-end in Oklahoma City.

J. W. Brumley returned this afternoon from a week's business visit in Memphis.

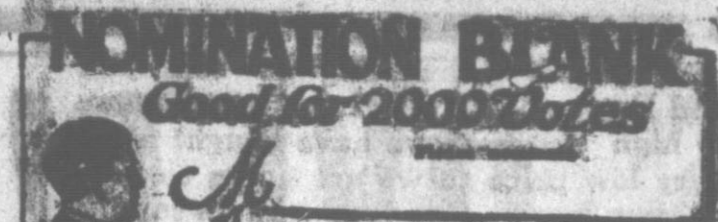

Dick Cooke and Weldon Jolly will spend the week-end at their homes in Clarendon.

Miss Bonnie Lee Coleman of Clarendon has accepted a position with the Mitchell beauty parlor.

Come to the school this week and learn many new things about preparing and serving wholesome foods. There is a reason WHY bakings are soggy, tough or lack quality — improper leavening is generally responsible.

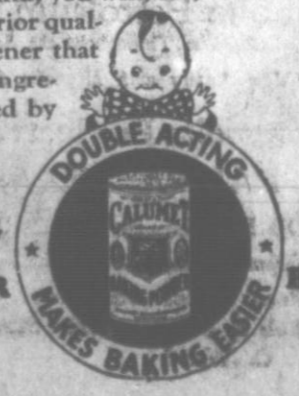

MRS. LEONA RUSK IHRIG will explain, in an interesting and instructive way, just how every woman can avoid baking disappointments and supply her family with the most tempting and nutritious of foods. The methods she uses and shows you how to use, are the same that are employed by the world's greatest cooks. She gives you scientific facts—reveals the most advanced baking methods—instructs you exactly HOW to improve your bakings in a way that will surprise you. Of course, she uses will help. I can do the impossible, even says the apostle in another place, "thru the Christ which strengtheneth me" (Phil. 4:13). And his Lord's confirmation is echoed back. Yes, my grace suffices! (Cor. 12:9). Anyhow, the Christian is not to be "fashioned according to this world," is not to be "overcome of evil."

Oneness of the Human Family
 While Paul's figure of the many-membered body applies directly to the church, we are justified in extending it to the whole human race. Humanity has a oneness in God the Creator comparable to that of the church of Christ. The creation story of Genesis, taken either literally or figuratively, compels us to regard every member of the human species as our brother or sister. Paul stated the truth biologically to the Athenians: "hath made of one blood all nations of men" (Acts 17:26). How true the figure is socially we are coming to recognize more and more clearly every day, as modern discoveries and inventions are bringing the four corners of the earth into one little corner.

The League of Nations
 In four years the League of Nations has snuffed out, or headed off, six wars, any one of which might otherwise have developed into another World War. These were: Sweden versus Finland, Yugoslavia versus Albania, Germany versus Poland, Poland versus Lithuania—all over disputed territory, Bulgaria versus Roumania over a question of refugees, and Italy versus Greece over certain murders and the occupation of Austria. The League has resuscitated Austria, and this resuscitation became the economic miracle of Europe. Today it is doing the same thing for Hungary and Albania. The League has many wonderful humanitarian accomplishments to its credit. It has stopped the spread of disease from one country to another, such as typhus from Poland; it has limited the opium trade and reduced the white slave traffic."—Prof. Irving Fisher.

The Day of Peace
 "The day of peace is coming. Which shall it be, the Peace of Force or the Peace of Law? We may work for either. We cannot have both. Every man has some influence in forming public opinion, and, at the last, the world is ruled by what its people think. You have a vote in world affairs. Its weight depends on your intelligence and your integrity. How should your vote be cast?"—David Starr Jordan.

"Were half the power that fills the world with terror, Were half the wealth bestowed on camps and courts, Given to redeem the human mind from error, There were no need of arsenals or forts."—Henry W. Longfellow.

Former Texan Kills Self After Shooting His Estranged Wife

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Found by his estranged wife in company with another woman, Lee Vernon Simmons, 29-year-old police officer, last night shot and wounded his wife and a friend and then committed suicide when brother officers attempted to arrest him.

did not expect her to live, while her wife, Mrs. Quinlin Simmons, 23, was so seriously injured that physicians friend, Mrs. Juliette Meiers, 27, was expected to recover. The two had gone to the Simmons home, police were told, to obtain Mrs. Simmons wedding ring and a radio set. When they found Simmons and the woman there a quarrel ensued that resulted in the shooting. Simmons' parents live in Sherman, Texas. Officers said he had a divorced wife and child in Dallas. His father Lee Simmons, is manager of the Sherman Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Texas prison board.

ANOTHER VICTIM KILLED BY A FALLING TREE

TEXARKANA, Nov. 9.—(AP)—Claude Young of Texarkana is dead today, the third victim of falling trees in this vicinity in a week. He was killed yesterday while trying to trap a squirrel which had run into a hole in the tree. While Young's companion sawed the tree down, Young watched the hole, so intently that he was unable to get out of the way when the tree crashed.

A few days ago a young woman was killed at Maude, near here, when a tree she and her sister were sawing split unexpectedly. Her father died of heart failure while trying to rescue her.

Speaking of Food

The News has been pleased with the evident success of the free cooking school. The work of Mrs. Leona Rusk Ihrig has been faithful, inspiring, and unusually skilled.

The general public, accustomed to taking its food "on the run," with more digestive thought than is given to the digestion of news often taken at the same time, does not enough realize the importance of proper nutrition.

Dr. George Walker, a Baltimore physician, has made public the first study of the eating habits of 750 families, including the very poor and the very rich.

The importance of the proper preparation of food hinges around the making of the varied diet palatable. Selection of the right foods and their cooking so as to retain their vitamin content and natural chemistry is an exact science.

The Fee System
Those who read into the dispatch about the Appeals Court finding the justice court fee system unconstitutional in certain cases the meaning that the system was due for the scrap heap will be disappointed.

The constitution of Texas provides that "no judge shall sit in any case wherein he may be interested." Where the fee goes to a judge or justice only in case of conviction, it is evident that the presiding officer does have an interest and is therefore disqualified.

the place of the public prosecutor in the development of the evidence... and places in the power of the justice of the peace the right to control the introduction of evidence, including the right to rule on the relevancy and materiality of questions propounded by himself.

The chief other abuse of the fee system is the method of making salaries depend upon the number of misdemeanor arrests. Not many of those arrested care to ask for a jury when they may pay their fine on a plea of guilty and hope for no more arrests.

The opinion covers little of the fee system, yet there is so much needing revision that the court commented that "these several matters furnish the background of a situation so clearly at variance with constitutional guarantees given the accused that it is remarkable chiefly because it has remained unchallenged for so many decades."

The court suggests remedial legislation, which is of course the better plan. The enforcement of law and the judicial procedure should not and need not be sacrificed in order to hue to a legal point.

The next legislature should do all in its power to revise the fee system and abolish it wherever possible without constitutional amendment.

BARBS

The British scientist who tried to send a message to a woman in Mars has discontinued the effort. His wife brought him down to earth.

A monument to the taxpayers is proposed by a Filipino legislator. We suggest a statue showing two corporation lawyers figuring up a big firm's income tax.

Bernard Shaw told an interviewer he would consider becoming emperor of America. Al Capone would have something to say about that.

WASHINGTON—The campaign passed with a great deal of talk about prosperity, but with an astonishing dearth of any new constructive suggestions as to how it might be maintained.

It was commonly recognized that the country had passed through a period of some depression with an unusual volume of unemployment, but no one arose on the political platform to explain how a recurrence of the condition could be prevented.

Probably no one expected the unveiling of a cure-all which would guarantee happiness and employment for each and all, beginning March 4, 1929. But it did seem as if the politicians might have done a little better than merely dust off some of the old stock.

Wandering off the political arena in search of a new idea on prosperity, your correspondent encounters a pamphlet called "Progress and Plenty" by William Trufant Foster and Waddill Catchings, published by the Pollak Foundation for Economic Research.

The Foster-Catchings theory seems to be that prosperity is a haphazard, uneven sort of thing. The authors, and, in a fabulously wealthy nation, tens of thousands of poverty-stricken families and millions more "struggling anxiously on the edge of want".

Increased output per unit of labor steadily decreases employment—"nobody knows where the blessing of increased knowledge will next bring the curse of unemployment."

The authors join in discrediting John Stuart Mill's hoary theory that economics was concerned only with production and that consumption took care of itself. Production does not finance consumption. Money distributed to consumers in connection with making a product in a given year isn't enough to enable consumers to buy the product at a profit to the producers.

Yet, they must do that with the products of industry as a whole or bring on depression. Producers must make profits and save money; consumers must also save. These profits and thrifts cause a dangerous hiatus, which Foster and Catchings call "the dilemma of thrift."

"The deficit has been made up at certain times in the past, largely by chance", they say. "Largely by planning, it can be made up at all times in the future". But new money must also flow into consumers' hands to match the constantly increasing output of consumers' goods.

They contend that a right flow of money is possible; that with enough knowledge concerning flow of goods in relation to flow of income, money can be put in the hands of consumers to enable them to buy. Increase of flow of money to consumers has for brief periods been contrived by construction of new capital facilities such as factories, power plants and railroads and through construction of new public works.

TWINKLES

This nation would soon be full of Will Rogers if election came very often. The ratio of wisecracks to votes must be about 50-50, for every voter we have met has attempted one or more.

Somebody ought to gather up election jokes and publish a volume. We heard this one: "No, I was not surprised at the way Gray county went; where there is oil, you are sure to find the Republican party."

"CHICAGO TODAY—News and Views of the City in Action", is the latest magazine to reach the editorial desk, and its surely needs a live city editor—there's not a line in it about the gangsters.

One doesn't have to look far into the election returns to see looming large the figure of Mrs. America, and she is seen to be carrying water in one hand and a ballot in the other.

Another war is over. The Denver Post and its opponent, The News, have quit chewing each others ears by dropping one publication each per day, leaving that city with only one morning newspaper and one evening newspaper. Even Sherman said about wars in general.

The Way to Win Made Easy

Daily News $5000 Prize Voting Contest

CAMPAIGN JUST STARTING

The great race for the three big automobiles and other handsome prizes just starting, just beginning, just commencing. A few contestants have already begun to gather subscription votes, but the majority of them are starting, out now determined to make this offer count as much as possible for them. There is absolutely no limit to the number of times any contestant may earn the bonus. Two $20 clubs would mean 200,000 extra bonus votes and so on. Subscriptions may be of any length, just so the total amount in cash is $20. All portions of a club will receive pro rata number of extra votes.

Thus far no one has accomplished anything that YOU couldn't duplicate in just a few moments of your spare time. The weather has been too bad. But realizing that after Saturday night, November 17, only four weeks remain of the race, contestants are planning to get busy and accomplish everything possible before the clock strikes 9 Saturday night, Nov. 17. More new entries are wanted everywhere. There are lots and lots of towns not yet represented in the published list of contestants. The automobiles MUST be won by subscription votes secured anywhere.

No matter where you live, your chance to win is as good as anybody else's right now. Don't let this opportunity slip by without TRYING it, anyway. It costs nothing to enter, nor will it cost anything later. If you want a big brand new automobile for EFFORT, send in your entry today. You will find entry blank elsewhere in today's paper. Besides bringing you full and complete information, it counts 2,000 free votes as a starter.

—is the time to get busy!

YOU
Can Enter Now And Win Big

The Biggest Offer

This great offer is positively the biggest and best vote offer that will ever be made during the entire campaign. After Saturday night, November 17, at 9 o'clock, subscriptions will positively count LESS in votes, so it behooves the ambitious ones to accomplish everything possible before that time. The offer will not be duplicated nor repeated in any way. Subscriptions will count MORE in votes between now and 9 o'clock Saturday night, November 17, than they ever will later. Contestants who expect to get a bigger offer to come later will be disappointed. The offer will close promptly on the stroke of 9. The door of the campaign office on the second floor of the building will be locked at that time, and no one will be allowed to enter with subscription votes to be applied on the offer after that. However, all those inside the main office at that time will be waited upon, and the subscriptions they turn in counted.

Curtis Credits Grandmothers for Influences Shaping His Career

TOPEKA, Kas., Nov. 7.—The career of Senator Charles Curtis has been shaped largely by the two grandmothers, and he acknowledges his debt to both of them.

Julie Pappan, the Indian grandmother, who had taken care of him since the death of his own mother when he was 3 years old, caused him to leave the Kaw Indians and seek greater opportunities among white men. As a descendant of Chief White Plume, Curtis probably would have become the head of the tribe of several hundred Kaws if he had stayed with them.

In 1874, when the Kaws were waiting to be moved from Kansas to their present reservation in Oklahoma, Charlie, after an absence of many months, returned to the tribe, so he could accompany his grandmother and her people to their new home.

A few nights before the exodus, Julie Pappan led her grandson away from the other Indians, and talked to him about the great things awaiting him in the white man's world. She reminded the 14-year-old-boy he would be a man—more of a white man than a red man, as his father and husband had been Frenchmen. It would be best she said, if he would abandon the ways of his Indians and take up those of the white people. The boy went to the home of his father's mother, Pamela Hubbard Curtis, in Topeka. She put him in school but Charlie, partly because of the Indian's innate love for horses and partly because of anxiety not to be a burden to his widowed grandmother, turned to the race track for a livelihood. Slender and courageous, he became a good jockey, much sought by owners of racing horses, and he was so happy riding that Mrs. Curtis feared her grandson would be content to spend his life on the track.

High of Light RUTH DEWEY GROVES AUTHOR OF "WHEN A GIRL LOVES LOVE FOR TWO"

THIS HAS HAPPENED Fate introduced JERRY RAY, a chauffeur to wealthy ALESTER "AL" STAYERS when he crashed his airplane into the camp she is sharing with her roommate SYLVIA. Her heart responds to his pilot, DAN HARVEY, but ALESTER is struck by her beauty and she reveals her true identity. A letter from her mother revealing poverty and illness, attracts Jerry's attention. Unable to buy a new gown for the party, ALESTER has invited her to Jerry's home for the evening—leading to a big scandal next morning. At the party, LEONETTE LESTER, who is infatuated with ALESTER, is responsible for the dress being ruined.

Jerry turned limp in Alester's arms. In the silliness he, too, heard the intruder's gay little tune.

JERRY leaned forward and stared with lashed breath at the ring Alester had disclosed. She had never seen anything more beautiful. It was a square-cut emerald set in a band of carved jade—green jade. "To match your eyes," Alester said, holding it out to her on the palm of his hand. "Only your eyes are more beautiful, Jerry, with their golden lights that set my heart on fire."

Jerry's fingers trembled as she took the ring. She had been called yellow-eyed, green-eyed, cat-eyed, but never golden-eyed or emerald-eyed. She could not help thrilling to flattery so different from any she had ever received before. "Let me put it on, with a wish," Alester said, coming round the table to her. Jerry lifted her left hand, a little ashamed that it had browned so during her vacation. Alester seemed to find it satisfactory for he raised it, palm upward, to his lips. After a lingering caress he lowered it and picked up the ring that Jerry had laid on the table. "If my wish comes true," he said, slipping it over her third finger, "you'll get a bracelet to match it; the jeweler is holding it until . . . until I know if you love me, Jerry!"

His words, begun softly, had risen in a swift crescendo, until he reached dramatic utterance. He seemed to be carried away by his own emotion for he swept Jerry into his arms and crushed her to him while he covered her face with kisses.

SHE did not resist. She felt as if she belonged to him. A pang of dismay came to her with the realization that his embrace left her cold.

But she would not let her reaction influence her. Older, wiser, people had said that love comes after marriage. Such fleeting joy as she had known in Dan's arms was no more to be thought of as the foundation for a lasting marriage than a rainbow as a guide to a ship or a fleecy white cloud as a roof for your home.

Some such thoughts were Jerry's, but she did not put them into words, not even to herself. It was not necessary. All her adolescent thinking culminated at this moment in a fervid desire to get her soul that did not require words.

Jerry had come to the point where nothing but a love so great that it would completely overwhelm her could eradicate the effects of the fallacies she had taken to herself as truths. Such a love she would not succumb to without a struggle. Dan Harvey's image was thrust resolutely out of her mind.

"Jerry, won't you kiss me, won't you say you love me?" Alester was pleading.

Jerry stirred in an effort to move and he relaxed his embrace. "Jerry, we will be so happy," he went on when she did not speak. "You will have everything you want. I'll put you where you belong, in a charming little apartment with nothing to do all day but think of me, Jerry, don't hate me because I can't offer marriage to you. We'd be wretched trying to stand out against my family . . . this way we can be happy without the whole world looking on, waiting for us to go on the rocks."

ROCKS! The word came through the fog in Jerry's mind with an impact that was almost of physical force. Had he dashed her violently against a stone wall he could not have wounded her more. She felt bruised and battered.

Words came to her now, a veritable torrent of words, but even as she parted her lips to utter them Alester kissed her again. He was fighting for time, for time in which Jerry might recover from the shock he knew she had suffered.

When he lifted his face she was white and still with horror. Words seemed to her, suddenly, useless, futile things with which to attempt to say as she wanted to say that the man who had so earnestly led her into a degrading position.

He had known she was not to be bought, this way—that she was not even a cheap little gold digger . . . there was no excuse for him.

With the strength born of a fury that followed close on her momentary helplessness, she flung herself out of Alester's arms and staggered back against the swinging hammock.

"Why make such a fuss about a simple little ceremony? What are the few words a minister might speak compared to the adoration of luxury I can give you?" He opened, for breath, and Jerry stretched her hands away from him.

"Why do you talk to me like that?" she cried. "You say I won't listen to you. But do you really want so much that I say that a girl doesn't need to a million years old to know at those few words you think so much of mean to her!"

Alester essayed a smile. "What a charming little sophisticated you are," he taunted her, "but you know so much about life, you know what a hell of a as some girls get themselves as just through those few words."

"Yes," Jerry agreed. "I know," she told him. "That's why I'm not going to marry a poor man. Oh, you might as well know she hurried on, stung by his lie. "I'd marry you if you asked . . . even now, and I'm sure, I won't. But it's a lot easier to unhappy with money than with it, and no one's happy anyway . . . she stopped, because her in quivered alarmingly.

"You're adorable, when you cry," Alester assured her. "So few girls do that."

"Do you go around making them just to find that?" Jerry asked caustically. "No, just to kiss their tears away," he answered, and again Jerry found herself imprisoned in his arms. This time she resisted, a her resistance fired Alester to vice desire.

"I'll fear came to Jerry then, because dead to her pleasure, he himself utterly to prime instincts. She sought desperately, frantically, to free herself. Breath was too precious to waste in calling for help—no one was within hearing distance even if she screamed at the top of her voice, she knew, but she would try it soon, as a last resort—before her strength failed her entirely.

SHE heard it before Alester did—coming from down near the beach and growing louder as it approached the house. It was a cheerful whistle, the tune a ragabond's devil-may-care air.

Jerry turned limp, a dead weight in Alester's arms. In the silliness that accompanied his surprise, he, too, heard the intruder's gay little tune. And he recognized the whistler.

He shook Jerry vigorously. She opened her eyes. "Come out of it, Jerry," he pleaded.

She half raised her hand to brush away the hair that had fallen into them but it dropped back weakly upon the hammock. Alester left her and dashed into the house to see if Marsh had left anything in the cocktail shaker.

When he came back, the empty shaker in his hand, Jerry was sitting erect. Alester glanced anxiously down the path to the beach. He could see someone coming up Jerry's line of vision was obscured by the table. He wondered if she knew there was someone about.

If she'd heard the whistle, she'd quickly be picked up by a glass of water and took it over to her. Jerry slipped it thankfully. Her throat was dry from gasping for breath.

"Fix your hair and powder your nose," Alester said to her with a falsely cheerful note. "We're going to have unexpected company."

Dallas Specialist Thinks Dr. McDonald Was Unbalanced

PARIS, Nov. 8.—(P)—A summary of testimony offered by contestants in the present trial of the William J. McDonald will case has convinced Dr. Guy F. Witt, of Dallas, specialist in nervous diseases, that the aged Paris capitalist was of unsound mind when he prepared his will leaving more than $1,000,000 to Texas University for an astronomical observatory. Dr. Witt declared on the witness stand yesterday.

The fact that McDonald was said to have discussed with a negro barber the possibility of "looking into Heaven" with improved telescopes but had not broached the subject to his associates and friends strengthened his belief that the university benefactor was suffering from "senile dementia", Dr. Witt said.

He explained that a person suffering from that type of mental disorder would conceal any delusions of abnormal character from his friends for fear of being laughed at and humiliated, but would select a person who he regarded as mentally inferior to tell of his beliefs.

Dr. Witt said his fee for testifying was $10 a day.

Missouri to Get Pampa Field Gas

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., Nov. 8.—(Special)—Work started October 25 on the construction of the Cities Service Gas company's 12-inch natural gas pipeline from Fort Leavenworth, Kan. to St. Joseph, Mo. The St. Joseph extension will connect with the company's 12-inch line, recently completed to a point on the U. S. military reservation, cross the Government bridge at Fort Leavenworth and traverse a direct route to the Missouri city. The present section of the line is being used to supply the reservation, gas having been turned into the Fort Leavenworth distribution system October 1.

The contract was awarded to Kelly-Dempsey and company, of Tulsa, who sublet the construction over the bridges to the Chicago Bridge and Iron Works. The entire line will be of welded construction and it is estimated this work will be completed about January 1.

The site has been purchased for the new town border measuring station which will be located about one-quarter of a mile south of the city limits of St. Joseph on Kingsmill avenue. The Gas Service company recently acquired the distribution property of the St. Joseph Gas company and the latter company will construct approximately 2,500 feet of 16-inch main line connecting the present distribution system with the new main line supply of the Cities Service company.

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., Nov. 8.—(Special)—Work has been completed on the reconditioning of the 8-inch oil line of the Empire Pipeline company from the Butler county fields, near El Dorado, Kansas, to Ponca City, Okla., a distance of 68 miles. This work was started early in the spring of 1927 and progressed to a point near Winfield, Kansas, that fall, covering a distance of about 30 miles to the company's Walnut pump station.

CHURCHES

CHURCH OF CHRIST

Subject for Sunday morning (The sermon begins at 11 o'clock sharp): "The Reason for the Gospel."

God speaking to those who are saved through Christ, ask them to "be ready always to give a reason for the hope that is within you, yet with meekness and fear." There is implied in this that whatever the reason is for our hope of salvation it gives us boldness to speak. There is a certainty that comes with it that makes us sure of eternal salvation. There is implied in it also that even though this is true we are unworthy of such assurance with boldness. Sin condemned us unto an eternal hell. But there is a reason for our having this judgement reversed and we are appointed unto eternal life. But let us be wary for sin can even yet cast us out if we do not hold tightly on to that reason for our justification. That "reason"—which gives us great boldness—is "Christ in us the hope of glory."

Now come. Let us reason together. I will rejoice for the opportunity to show any and all the reason "The Good News and Glad Tidings" was announced from heaven by the angelic chorus. Remember, 11 o'clock sharp Sunday morning.

Subject for Sunday evening: "A Bitter Weeper—Peter"

Bible study begins at 9:45. Prayer meeting, 7:30 each Wednesday. Ladies Bible Class, 3:00 p. m. each Thursday.

Old Snuff Boxes Make Modern Vanity Cases

PARIS (P)—Old fashioned patch boxes, for several generations of interest only to collectors, now are being sought by modern French women as containers for lip rouge.

The tiny boxes are small enough to slip easily into a handbag.

Some of the exclusive jewelry shops dealing in antiques are equipping old snuff boxes with modern vanity inter-lors for compacts of rouge and powder with small mirrors fitted in the under side of the box lid.

Homing Pigeon Finds Home

WAYN...SBORO, Va. (P)—A homing pigeon attended the Pleasant View Methodist church here, and is now staying with the pastor pending instructions from its owner. The Rev. C. E. Smallwood is feeding it at his residence. A band on the pigeon's leg is marked "TF 28 B 56262"

Monument Made Useful

FAIRVIEW, Ky. (P)—Jefferson Davis monument, said by residents here to be the tallest in the United States except Washington monument, soon will be combination of sentiment and utility. The tall marker above the birthplace of the Confederate president will be surmounted with a beacon light for aviators.

A tablet marks the site of Jeremy Addams Tavern in Hartford, Conn., in which a Colonial Court sat for 50 years.
