AIRSHIP REPORTS TO MAURETANIA

At Dawn Ship Was 620 Miles From Cape Race

LONDON, Oct. 30.—(P)—The steamship Mauretania reported the position of the Graf Zeppelin at 12 noon Greenwich meridian time 7 a. m. Eastern Standard Time at 52.30 north and 40.30 west. The position indicated that the Zeppelin was about 620 miles northeast of Cape Race, Newfoundland.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—(P)—The giant air liner Graf Zeppelin today was apparently well over the North Atlantic ocean racing for her home port of Friedrichshafen, Germany, with a gale howling behind her and increasing her speed. It was estimated that she would be berthed in her hangar near Lake Constance sometime tomorrow afternoon.

The gale which at times approached hurricane force, was accompanied by rain squalls, and possibly interfered with the passengers enjoyment of their mid-Atlantic breakfast this morning.

Weather forecasts indicated that there was every chance that the rough weather would continue throughout the ocean voyage of some 3000 miles. Radio advices from ships to London stated that it was very rough in the Eastern Atlantic. The win reached a gale force of about 100 miles an hour off the French and Irish coasts.

The German birthplace of the Zeppelins made preparations to welcome the largest airship built, racing home to complete the first commercial air voyage to America and return. The huge air liner is expected to arrive home tomorrow afternoon. Her flight is viewed as an acid test to the dirigible's claim to be received as a medium of ocean air travel which would definitely remove such craft from the realm of legend and experiment.

As soon as the town fathers learned that the Graf Zeppelin had left Lakehurst, N. J., they decreed the erection of a rostrum on the airfield. There Dr. Hugo Eckener, builder and commander of the airship, and his chiefs of staff will be welcomed on their arrival. At night an enormous torchlight parade will be held in honor of the new conquerors of the Atlantic.

Grapes are now being harvested along the vine clad shores of Lake Constance and the triumphant home coming of Graf Zeppelin is expected to enliven the traditional convivial spirits and sentiments of the Saubian populace.

COTTON PICKER SHOT

HILLSBORO, Oct. 30.—(P)—One man is dead and another in the county jail here as a result of a shooting last night. Earl Adams, about 26, of Houston, a cotton picker, was shot through the neck. He walked nearly two blocks before he collapsed. An arrest was made but no charges have been filed.

JEWELS ARE STOLEN

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—(P)—Two men attacked Abner S. Blumfield, a jewelry salesman, in the hallway of his Bronx home today, knocked him down with a blow on the head and escaped with jewelry he told police was worth $17,000.

When Lieutenant Commander H. C. McDonald hopped off from Newfoundland in a tiny plane, bent on flying home to London, his wife and son, Ian, pictured here, kept a long and hopeful vigil. LITTLE ACTION IN BIG CONTEST

Bad Weather Prevents Vote Getting in Country

The following towns and communities are still unrepresented by active workers in the News campaign: White Deer, Roxana, Skellytown, Kingsmill, McLean, Alarwood, and Miami. Won't SOMEBODY get busy in each of these towns? Winning an automobile will be easy for them if they try.

Also, there is plenty of room for four or five more in District No. 1. Come in and see the Contest Manager about it.

Contrary to expectations, the anticipated rush of new entrants in the Daily News' $5,000 automobile and prize subscription contest failed to materialize. It was believed there would be a large number of new entrants from District No. 2 yesterday. Following the publication of the first list of nominations, but there was absolutely no action whatever. In fact only two or three contestants visited the office yesterday. But you couldn't blame them much at that on account of the rain and mud and cold weather and everything.

However, one lady was a visitor yesterday reported she had the best day yet.

"This is just the kind of weather to find folks home in," she said. "I'm awaiting a march or two on the others by getting around and finding my prospective subscribers at home."

The campaign manager predicts that lady will be well paid for her efforts when the campaign ends on December.

WAGE INCREASE BASIS OUTLINED AS A SOLUTION

Western Hike of 6 1/2 Per Cent Suggested by Board

WITHOUT RULES FIGURE HIGHER

Groups Must Not Act on Plan for 30 Days

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—(P)—The emergency board appointed by President Coolidge to investigate the wage dispute on western railroads has recommended a 6 1/2 per cent increase in wages without change of rules, or alternatively, a 7 1/2 per cent increase if certain rules are eliminated.

Further, the arbitration board proposed that whichever alternative the railroads and train service unions accepted should go into effect retroactively, and the terms made to apply as of May 1, 1928, a date on which the controversy developed.

The solution of the controversy suggested dealt with the elimination of complicated rules governing the application of wage scales proposed to be agreed upon between the brotherhoods and the railroads. These have long blocked a settlement of the controversy. A number of these rules, upheld by the brotherhoods, have been viewed by railroad executives as unnecessarily hampering the efficiency of railroad service.

Rule Changes Suggested

In consequence, the arbitration board suggested that the conductors and trainmen take either the 6 1/2 per cent increase in wages, keeping the present form of contract and rules, or that they obtain a 7 1/2 per cent increase, conceding certain alterations in the standard rules. Specifically, the board mentioned the elimination of the present rule limiting the tonnage of freight or a single train.

Additional recommendations were made as to modification of other rules, affecting the operation of trains where additional locomotives are attached to "boost" trains over short stretches, and where the number of cars are limited.

Under the railroad labor board procedure, the arbitration report made to President Coolidge must be considered by both the carriers and brotherhoods during a period of 30 days. Neither side may legally produce a situation resulting in suspension of operations during that period. In case they accept the findings, differences will be completely settled.

Other Increases Noted

The report said that "considering the increases granted to other train service employees in the Eastern, Southwestern and Western districts, and despite the award of June, 1927, the carriers would not have been justified in refusing an increase similar to that granted the engineers and firemen of the Western district."

It added that the carriers "were justified in offering an increase of 6 1/2 per cent to the standard rates, containing, in addition, to the rates so increased, the existing differentials for mountain and other special services."

"Considering the purpose and intent of the railway labor act and the evidence presented," the report continued, "the question of the wage increase demanded and the differences arising thereon during the negotiations are proper questions or arbitration, if the spirit of the law is to guide the action of carriers and employees."

Dispute Not Justified

"If conductors and trainmen are to receive wages which are to place them on a level level to engineers and firemen, such a change should be divorced from the present controversy and considered on its own merits, entirely apart from the present dispute."

KILLER GETS 20 YEARS

VICTORIA, Oct. 30.—Convicted of the murder of his brother-in-law, Alexander West, Arthur Upton today was sentenced to 20 years in prison. Upton's attorneys first entered a plea of insanity, and the trial of the murder charge proceeded after a jury had found him sane.

A Modern Cinderella

Here's the department store Cinderella of Albany, N. Y., whose engagement has been announced to a socially prominent English millionaire. Betty McCormick, 20, was a salesgirl and model before she met John Robert Lawson-Johnston. He soon will come to America, reports say, and they will be married in Albany within a month. Lawson-Johnston, 28, was divorced a year ago by the former Barbara Guggenheim, heiress to the huge Guggenheim copper fortune.

FALLS UNDER TRAIN AND IS FATALLY HURT

A. C. Clinton Was Try- ing to Board Pullman

DIES AT 6:40 AT HOSPITAL

Funeral Arrangements Await Arrival of Father-in-Law

A. C. Clinton, of Amarillo, 32 years old, died in the Pampa hospital at 6:40 last evening from injuries received when he fell between the Santa Fe platform and a moving passenger train at 4:30 yesterday afternoon. He was badly crushed and mangled by the "journal boxes" and break shoes of the cars.

He was rushed to the hospital in a Malone ambulance but attending physicians were unable to save his life. His back was broken, several ribs crushed, his head battered and there were internal injuries.

Immediately after the accident, Mrs. Clinton of Amarillo was notified, but because of the muddy condition of the roads she could not reach Pampa until about 10 o'clock. The body was taken to the Malone Funeral home, where it is at rest awaiting the arrival of Mrs. Clinton's father, D. C. Price, from Mexico.

Mr. Clinton was a bus driver for the C. A. Hale Bus company of Amarillo. He operated the bus between Amarillo and Enid, Okla.

According to witnesses, Mr. Clinton was late to catch the Santa Fe train for Amarillo, which had already gathered speed. As one of the Pullman cars passed, Mr. Clinton took hold of the "grab irons" but in some manner his hold slipped and he was thrown between the platform and the rails.

Trainmen were unaware of the accident, until notified at White Deer, the next stop the passenger made after leaving Pampa.

Mr. Clinton was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Clinton of Cloverdale, Ala. Besides his father and step-mother, he is survived by his wife and three children by a former marriage. He had two brothers, Reeder, of Cloverdale, Ala., and Archie, some place in Tennessee, and one sister, Vina, also in Tennessee.

D. C. Price, father of Mrs. Clinton is on his way here from Mexico. He will arrive here early tomorrow morning, when funeral arrangements will be made.

Duffield Given Contract for Two City Culverts

J. B. Duffield, local contractor, was awarded the contract to build two concrete culverts in the city in connection with the third paving program. The commissioners let the contract at a regular meeting last night in the city hall. L. W. Smith was second low bid.

One of the bridges is on West Foster avenue and the other on East Francis avenue. The Foster avenue bridge will be 3 by 8 by 60 feet, and the Francis avenue bridge 4 by 4 by 65 feet. The contract price for the job was $1,674.12.

A contract was also signed with the Gulf Production company to supply the oil and gas to be used by the city for the coming year. There were nineteen items on the list and the Gulf bid was low.

C. C. Sloan is manager of the local Gulf agency.

Scouting Drive Is Under Way

Twenty members of the Lions and Rotary clubs are at work today on a drive to raise $1,500 for use in the Boy Scout movement in this territory. This is the completion of a drive begun last spring but never completed.

The members of the committees started out to visit those who were not called upon in the former drive. Up to noon, the response was gratifying and the committees are enthusiastic about the result of the drive.

AMERICAN BOOK COMPANY IS UNABLE TO LAND STATE JOB

AUSTIN, Oct. 30.—(P)—Forty-four textbooks for 33 public school courses were adopted here today by the State Textbook Commission for contract, ranging from 3 to 6 years duration, to cost close to $2,000,000 ultimately.

The American Book company holder of the expiring geography text contract, involved for a year in litigation brought by the State on claims of excessive prices, failed to get a contract this time, either on its geographical or readers.

The commission rejected all bids on English and American literature finding an insufficient number of suitable texts at satisfactory prices.

Twenty-one supplementary reading texts were adopted, ranging in price from 36 1/2 to 75 cents in price.

The coveted geography contract went to MacMillan company, 90 cents, complete elementary geography, and Rand-McNally company, $1.15, complete advance geography with Texas supplement. The State has been paying $1.19 and $1.68 for geography texts.

There is no definite estimate as to what the book will cost. They are ordered under contract only as the school need them. In several of the courses, multiple lists are adopted. This gives the accredited high school their choice between two or three texts for some given course.

The arithmetic contract, one of the most important made, goes to The Benjamin H. Sanborn company of Stone's five books series, ranging from 36 to 35 cents a book, for five years.

Other important contracts are for history texts. The basal text adopted for six years is Fite's History of the United States, Henry Holt and company, $1.47.

A School History of Texas by Barker, Poole, and Ramsdell, was adopted for four years on Row, Peterson and company's price of 63 cents.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC. Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing, or reputation of any individual, firm, or corporation...

Productive of Tragedy. The American Automobile Association, or A. A. A., is renewing its efforts to bring about something corrective in regard to headlight glare.

With night driving becoming more popular than ever, and congestion of the highways approaching the point where one-way traffic on double roads seems a matter for serious consideration...

Not every car that passes sends out a glare that for an instant nearly blinds a driver, but a great many do. In that instant one may crash into a stopped car, a bridge, a culvert, or perhaps a man or animal walking on the road.

Some lights are faulty in their make-up, despite state regulations. Others are imperfectly focused. Some have the wrong type of bulbs. Many have dirty lens with intermittent glare.

Moreover, mist, fog, or dust particles in the air make headlight glare much worse. Recently Highway 33 toward Amarillo has had detours where dust became so thick drivers could scarcely see their motormeters.

The terrible collision of cars filled with Texas Tech students further illustrates the danger of driving in mist with glare blinding the vision. Slower speeds and extra caution are imperative necessities now, but a solution of the headlight glare still goes begging.

Where You From? Human nature is foolish. For instance, the man "from Chicago" is apt to live fifty miles from that Metropolis. The woman "from Dallas," but now of Pampa, may have lived in Mesquite.

We heard recently of a Pampa man who answered "yes" while he was in the East and someone asked him if he were "from Amarillo." Shame on him; how will his home town ever achieve the name it deserves unless he admits he is from there?

"Be 'from Pampa and proud of it!"

Or Education. Canyon Teachers college announces the enrollment of a student direct from Germany—a 24-year-old youth who speaks five languages, including English, and has a prodigious knowledge of the fine arts.

An unusual young man he is, from our viewpoint, but in his own country he would not be so outstanding. Our education has no reason, except the formally cultural, for the presentation of many languages.

But the principal factor is the spirit of study, the home environment, and the enjoyment of fine art for its own sake. Home study through ineerest is sadly lacking even in much of our college education. The European child is usually further advanced culturally than his American contemporary—it is his heritage. We have more money invested in school equipment and buildings than all the rest of the bigger nations combined, but money cannot buy the spirit of cultural education. But our education is meeting most of our needs and is progressing rapidly in recent years.

WASHINGTON—Tennessee has 12 electoral votes, North Carolina 12, Kentucky 13, Missouri 18, Oklahoma 10, Virginia 12 and West Virginia 8. Broadly speaking, they all come under the category of "doubtful" states. By almost any method of computation, Governor Smith needs at least four of them to win the election. On the other hand, it is more conceivable these seven states might go to Hoover.

In 1924 Coolidge carried West Virginia by 31,000, Kentucky by 24,000, and Missouri by 76,000. Davis carried Oklahoma by 29,000, Tennessee by 26,000, North Carolina by 93,000 and Virginia by 66,000.

In these states prohibition and religion seem to be the most important issues, with some difference of opinion as to which is swaying the most voters.

Democrats have been worrying about Oklahoma ever since the Houston convention. Oklahoma votes Republican whenever it likes. It is dry and Protestant. It appears to be sour this year on the Democratic state administration and the Hoover organization has functioned more smoothly than Smith's which has been alarmed by numerous bolts such as those of Ex-Senator Owen and the Tulsa Tribune.

Smith went to Oklahoma to deliver his speech on intolerance and nearly all reports agree that it had no great effect. Some trend back toward Smith lately has been claimed, but Republicans are claiming the state by from 50,000 to 75,000.

Both Hoover and Smith made speeches in Tennessee and Smith's chances were subsequently thought to have improved. Here the Republicans are divided factionally, the Democrats have an effective organization and the racial issue has been dragged in against Hoover to meet the religious issue. Governor Horton and Senator McKellar, both dry and both renominated this year, are leading the fight for Smith. The result is likely to be close.

In Kentucky, which also has a religious issue, both parties are exploiting the race problem. Dry Senator Barkley and the state ticket are warring for Smith, but the Republicans are confident and the Democrats only hopeful.

Two or three months ago it was commonly said in Virginia that the state would go for Hoover if the election were held then. Virginia still may be considered doubtful, but there has been a trend toward Smith, according to observers on the ground. Bishop Cannon has been the principal Hoover campaigner, but has been bitterly fought by Senator Glass and Governor Byrd. The religious issue has been worked overtime against Smith and a reaction to it is said to have developed. Many Virginia politicians expect the election there to be the closest within their memory.

TWINKLES

Here is an advance nomination for the Laugh It Off club—those to whom such tricks as above illustrated aren't funny, but who never-the-less should laugh it off.

Two more members of The News staff just would break into the L. I. O. club: Harry E. Hoare, who went into a ditch north of here Sunday night, and "Bing" Trimble, who had no business trying to make a car swim anyway.

Now while the roads are pliable, why can't we get some machinery assembled for action on the LeFors road? Or are they waiting for snow?

It is not just a thrill that these killers wish, but the thrill of offending society without suffering the consequences. The thrill of impending punishment is not included in the category of acceptable desires.

Splatters of mud on silk hose look awful, but we wonder if those of the without-style can stop and wash the splatters off right handily? Well, if they take all the straw vote men, mix 'em up with the mud that has been thrown at them, and apply the heat of the night before election they ought to have some fine bricks to throw at the bunch which gets into office.

Heard: A man say he and his wife were going to be of one mind on politics, even if he had to agree with her. Most any vain person will crawl aboard your band wagon if you will give him a horn to toot.

Perhaps what is lacking in solving the traffic problem these days is a little horse sense. Interesting developments in the manufacture of lightning may be expected soon. Chicago gangsters are said to be disgusted with the old-fashioned bombs.

BARBS

Perhaps it's just as well from a humanitarian standpoint that no device has been invented whereby the "radio talent" can hear its own voice through a receiving set. An author predicts an end to the "debunking" trend in American literature, classifying it as a modern whim. In this respect, your old friend Socrates probably is a 20th century undergrad. Speaking of modern collegiate degrees, a bachelor just has to have arts these days.

CHEVROLET IS STOLEN

cheap—and your pe-told him he could keep it. I carried water for a few days but my dizzy spells came on again and I had to give it up.

"But I was fortunate to get a chance to take care of Mrs. Shears' children while she went over to Miller's Ferry to visit her sister Alice who had an operation."

JERRY crumpled the letter with a sudden passion of fury. Her father's lumbago! Did her mother still believe in that old bromide! And Frank taking the hose—he'd always taken things.

"Oh, Mom," she cried under her breath. "How do you abuse you! And I was going to do so much for you—and all I've done is to add to your worries while I had a swell time playing around with a man who could give me enough to make life easy for you."

Jerry reached into her bag and got out a handkerchief to dab at her brimming eyes.

Myrtle, waiting for her in the coffee house, looked anxiously at the clock on the wall, and finished her second doughnut in haste. She couldn't wait any longer. No sense in both of them being late.

Jerry went to her job without breakfast. She had lost her appetite and her cheerfulness. Her mother's letter had taken her back to Mississippi, to the sordid conditions that had driven her away from home. And being away she had nearly forgotten. She had never been on the verge of letting her golden opportunity slip by because no man could buy her a dress and yes, because she had dreamed had the night about a young man she had dined with on a starry roof garden.

Jerry smiled a hard little smile she must stop thinking about Dan Harvey now and forever. And somehow, somehow she must get a dress. Leontine Lebaudy must not outshine her—not on that one night. She would light her eyes with the stars of hope and brush her hair until it became a golden snare to catch a man's heart. If her lips were not red enough she would color them with the brightest carmine.

It was all very easy to declare these things. To accomplish them—well, that was something different. All that day Jerry racked her brain in vain.

She considered many expedients. She thought of sending a message to Alester telling him that she needed him. When he came in answer to her summons she could explain—make up some plausible story—to obtain enough money for that dress.

No, it wouldn't do! She hadn't made herself cheap. It had been her pride before; it was a matter of calculating policy now. There must be some other way!

"Gee, we've got a big sale on tomorrow," the head of her department announced just before closing time. "Be sure and read our ad in the papers."

At the newstand where they bought their papers, Myrtle grimaced about the sale.

"Some imported hats," she muttered; "they'll move like a ton of bricks with everybody wearing printed materials."

Tunic! Women wore them like dresses!

Jerry had a staggering thought. She wouldn't be poor! She wouldn't!

Poverty was for those who wanted it!

Smith Says Klan and Anti-Saloon League for G. O. P.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—(P)—Home again after a flying campaign visit to Maryland, Governor Smith was on record today with the blunt charge that the Anti-Saloon League and the Ku Klux Klan were forces working hand in hand with the Republican party to bring about his defeat.

Addressing one of the most demonstrative and colorful audiences of his presidential drive in the fifth armory in Baltimore last night, the Democratic presidential nominee vigorously assailed the League and the Klan and contended that Republican leaders, including Herbert Hoover, were "wiggling and wobbling" on the question of prohibition because their party was "held right down to earth by the power and the influence of the forces of intolerance."

Speaking in the same building where Woodrow Wilson was nominated 16 years ago and with the war president's widow on the platform, the governor devoted a large part of his speech to the argument that the Republican party stood for "the old order of things" and stand-patism as opposed to the Democratic stand for "progressive" treatment of the big questions facing the country. Foreign policy, waterpower, the tariff, government reorganization—all were dealt with in detail before prohibition and intolerance were reached.

The Anti-Saloon League, the nominee charged, had flooded the country with propaganda "in an effort to make God-fearing men and women believe that the Eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act are dogmas of religion."

Detective Held in Murder Case

Harvey L. Smith, former private detective and evangelist, is charged with first degree murder in the death of Mrs. Genevieve Stuits, beauty parlor proprietor of South Bend, Ind. Smith says, according to police, that Mrs. Charles Reyher paid him $50 to get Mrs. Stuits out of town because she was infatuated with Mr. Reyher. Smith asserts he hired two strangers to take Mrs. Stuits away, but did not intend for them to harm her. Smith is shown, right, with Police Chief James J. Hatt of South Bend, who traced the former detective to Atlanta, Ga., where he was arrested.

Youthful Dallas Robber Halted in Nightly Career

DALLAS, Oct. 30.—(P)—Having robbed 22 homes within a few blocks of his own residence, a Dallas high school graduate, 16, has been halted in his career as a burglar.

Needing money to spend in college, although his father intended to pay the youth's expenses, the lad said he turned to robbery. After he had looted 22 homes, taking only money, he was captured.

A diary he had kept showed exact dates and times of the robberies as well as the amount of money he got. One entry said: "Got shot at but no valuables."

All persons whose homes the youth had robbed refused to prosecute.

INDIAN JUST REPAYS WHITES THRU LOOTING

LOCKHART, Oct. 30.—(P)—Joe Revis, 27-year-old Indian from Jamaica, Va., who is under several indictments charging him with the looting of Fentress, Friday night, was only repaying the white man who plundered the properties of the Indians this was Revis' explanation for the wholesale looting of the town.

"White people robbed and killed my people and took their land away from them, and I don't believe I did any wrong in returning to dead," Revis said after his examining trial yesterday.

An Indian woman who claims to own four oil wells in Oklahoma, who has been here since midnight Sunday told sheriff W. E. Ellison that she would do anything she could to help Revis. She said that she could lay her hands on $50,000 at once to help Revis if necessary.

Editor, Pampa Daily News: Enclose you will find a check for $5 to move up my subscription for another year. I could hardly get along without your paper. Without it I would soon get out of touch with your part of the country.

It looks like you've got a real political fight on hand to hold the state for Gov. Smith. It would be a great thing if we could have bi-partisan government in the South as we do in the North and West.

At this time it looks like Hoover is going over big. If the Literary Digest "poll" is anywhere nearly as indicative as it was four years ago, that is what will happen. We have never had a chance to elect so great a man before and I hope we will not throw away this opportunity. The foolish stories that are being told on him by politicians who are careless with the truth, like Governor Bible of Mississippi, will have weight with ignorant people, but no one with sense will be fooled thereby. I look for a great many dirty falsehoods to be turned loose just before the election when it is too late to disprove them. I hope that any hard feelings the campaign has engendered will die out as soon as the election is over. This is intended to apply only to the South. People elsewhere forget as soon as the thing is done, as if it were a ball game.

ROUGING NOW ADDS FOURTH R TO "THREE R'S"

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—(P)—To the three "R's" there has been added a fourth, and it now is "reading, writing and rouging."

The course in the art of make-up has been installed in Chicago continuation school with the approval of the board of education.

"Since the girls simply will make up," explained Miss Nellie Ryan, principal of the North Side Continuation school, "we have decided to try to initiate them in the correct and artistic application of make-up."

The first lesson was given yesterday, and it started off with soap and water. There was a facial massage, an ice rub, the laying of a cold cream powder base, and then instruction on how properly to apply the powder.

Many Towns Are Entering Girls for "Miss Chevrolet"

Who will be Miss Chevrolet? There has not been an entry from Pampa turned into the Daily News for Miss Chevrolet. Numerous young ladies from Berger, Panhandle, White Deer, Mobeetie, Wheeler, Canadian, Miami, and other towns in the territory will be here Thursday night, but so far Pampa has no one entered.

Miss Chevrolet will be crowned and presented with prizes at the Rex theater Thursday night in a special program. Judges will be six local men not yet named.

Besides the crowning of Miss Chevrolet, the team of Frasier and Frasier will be one of a number in vaudeville acts.

The crowning of Miss Chevrolet is in connection with the marathon non-stop drive to be made by Dick Marmon, internationally known endurance and speed driver. Marmon will start his 125-hour grind from in front of the Culbertson-Smalling headquarters Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock and will drive, hand-coupled to the steering wheel, until his time has elapsed.

During the time of the drive, Marmon will visit all towns within a radius of 60 miles of Pampa. A week from Wednesday night, a cabaret dance will be given at the Pla-Mor auditorium. Marmon will drive around the ring in the auditorium for 45 minutes during the evening. There will be special vaudeville acts during the evening.

McConkey's Iowans orchestra will play at the opening of the drive at the Culbertson-Smalling headquarters.

Kansas City Livestock Exchange in Heart of Large Cattle Market

The Kansas City Livestock Exchange (above), with five acres of floor area, is the largest building in the world devoted to livestock trading. Transactions take place in the stockyards and a wave of a whip often consummates the sale of a herd of cattle worth $100,000 or more. Bryant Poole (insert), former cowboy, is president of the exchange.

By LESTER POSVAE Associated Press Feature Editor KANSAS CITY (P)—East meets west in Kansas City through the medium of the livestock exchange.

From the western ranges, even those in California, come ranchmen to sell cattle and sheep which must be fattened before they are ready for the beef and mutton consumer.

From Atlantic coast states come owners of rugged lands to buy livestock for fattening on the grass that mats the rocky hills.

Then there are the farmers of the corn growing states in the middle west, wanting sters and lambs so the grain can be marketed "on the hoof."

Nature, making much of the west an southwest semi-arid, encourages bulk production of livestock in these regions, while in the central and eastern states it favors the growth of grasses and grains needed for finishing the animals. The result is a linear movement of livestock, especially cattle, from the west to the east.

Animals marketed for further development instead of immediate slaughter are known as "stockers and feeders", and Kansas City, largely because of its location, is the leading stocker and feeder livestock market in the world. Stocker and feeder sales in Kansas City exceed those of any three other markets in the country.

Between 2,000,000 and 2,500,000 cattle and 1,500,000 to 2,250,000 sheep are marketed here annually and about three-fourths of them are stockers and feeders. The market also receives 2,250,000 to 4,000,000 hogs in a year.

The Kansas City livestock exchange carries out the transactions. Its 281 members, connected with 60 commission firms, represent the ranchmen and farmers who have cattle to sell. They are bonded to put the seller's interest first, and if the exchange's code of honor is violated, B. C. Biggers, staff, the secretary, can immediately forfeit the offending member's bond.

Never since the organization of the exchange in 1884 has any shipper failed to get a bid for livestock brought to Kansas City.

The Kansas City Livestock Exchange is the largest building in the world devoted to the livestock business. It is the second largest building in Kansas City, having a floor area of five acres.

Transactions take place in the stockyards, which surround the exchange and cover an area of 238 acres. Sounds emanating from the cattle pens suggest the market is always bullish.

Every deal is on a cash basis. No written contracts are made. A wave of a whip frequently consummates the sale of a herd of cattle for $100,000 or more. Total sales average $460,000,000 annually.

The yards, the exchange building and other physical property connected with the market are owned by the Kansas City Stockyards Company, a Maine corporation, which was founded by the late Charles Francis Adams of Boston, scion of the family of presidents.

Bryant Poole, former cowboy, is president of the exchange. The presidency is passed to another member every year, because it is an office of great honor, much work and no pay.

FREAK BALLOT IS PRESENTED IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—(P)—Advocates of the "Short Ballot" will—eke small satisfaction from the freak ballot that will confront Chicago voters at the polls next week. The slip of paper on which the voters will mark down their choice for municipal judges will be only six inches long but four feet one inch wide.

The reason for the unusual shape was the large number of independent candidates for the bench, each of whom must be allotted a separate column headed by the ("party" name or slogan he chooses.

HARVESTERS WILL PLAY WHEELER HIGH HERE FRIDAY

Important Game Brought to City by Coach Mitchell

Coach Odus Mitchell announced this morning that the Wheeler-Harvester high school conference game would be played on the local field Friday afternoon. Final arrangements for the game were made by telephone this morning.

He stated that he would rather bring the team here at a greater expense than take the Harvesters to Wheeler to play on a rough field.

The entire Harvester team will be ready for action in the Friday game. Those who have been out with injuries are back again and Barnard and Seltz, who have been ill, are ready.

The local team is not looking for an easy victory, as Wheeler has the greatest team in the history of the school. The Wheeler eleven took Miami to a 36 to 0 defeat and held Memphis 19 to 6. Memphis won from Shamrock by one point.

Coaches Mitchell and Fox are putting their stalwarts through a hard grind this week in preparation for what is expected to be the toughest battle of the season. Providing the Harvesters defeat Wheeler they will meet either Perryton or Fellett the following Friday in the first of the district championship this Friday afternoon.

Mitchell's Harvesters have been going good this season. They have seven wins and two defeats to their credit. One defeat was by a college team and the other by a class A eleven. The team has scored 308 points in the nine games played thus far and have only had 64 points against them.

The team has the scoring punch and blocking ability and should go far in the conference.

Georgetown and N. Y. U. Clash Is Crucial Battle

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—(AP)—There are a half dozen games on this week's eastern football calendar to give plenty of thrills but only one of them will give much bearing on the sectional championship fight.

At the moment it appears that in an event Army's dashing power will eventually meet defeat, the clash of Georgetown and New York University at the Yankee stadium next Saturday will go far toward deciding here the mythical Eastern title.

It will not be all-decisive, for both must meet another good team before the final curtain is rung down. Carnegie Tech, as yet undefeated and undefeated, meets Georgetown Nov. 10 and N. Y. U. on Nov. 24.

The championship struggle thus far is to be among these four—Army, N. Y. U., Georgetown and Carnegie Tech—but if the cadets march thru rest of their schedule as successfully they have to date, there will be to dispute their right not only to claim but national honors as well. Army gets a breathing spell this week, lacking an inter-sectional foe. Depauw at West Point, Princeton, even but tied by Virginia, will get biggest test of the season at Columbus, Ohio, where rugged Ohio state is to be encountered. Notre Dame is east to tangle with Penn State state college. Each has been beaten by Navy, goes west to meet one more or less of a doormat in Big Ten this season. Colgate, which has played Vanderbilt, Virginia Poly and Michigan state, takes either inter-sectional opponent in last.

Though both teams have suffered in the Yale-Dartmouth clash at Haven will not lack for interest. Dartmouth by a similar margin to Yale but that is not another way they have weak teams. Army watch for any one and it appears Harvard may be the same. Harvard no one harder than Leigh at Saturday.

Ill and Columbia, victims of Penn and Dartmouth respectively, are preparing for a duel of their own on the field. A strong Syracuse again nosed out by Nebraska and Penn State, takes on Pittsburgh already has lost to West Virginia through Tech.

It is hard put to beat little Tufts, but may find Holy Cross even but Navy, now apparently on the right direction, should of West Virginia Wesleyan.

Wakeman was transacting business in Amarillo yesterday.

Local Football Fans Start Teams and Issue Challenges

Fifteen local football enthusiasts met last night in the Lavender and Lavender office and decided to organize a city football club to play teams of any nearby town. There are many college players here, as well as local stars who can step with the best who carry a pickin'.

The team will hold its first practice at Fair park, the home of the Harvesters, tomorrow afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. Coach Odus Mitchell of the high school has offered his services to put the boys through their first workouts and may get into a uniform himself.

Challenges will be issued to teams in Shamrock, Wheeler, Amarillo, Borger, McLean, and Clarendon. The team is desirous of playing the first game here a week from Sunday afternoon. The boys plan to go through some stiff practices to get in shape for some hard games this season.

Another meeting will be called next week to elect officers and arrange games. Any team in the community wanting a game with the local squad is asked to write the Sports Editor of the Daily News.

Those whose names have been turned in and who plan to be out for practice, are: Jack Brunker, Bill Williams, Jeff Lewter, E. L. Norman, Wayne Eversole, G. S. Thompson, C. E. Walker, Buck Tschirhart, Harry Wilson, Palmer Harrod, Roy Lard, Bert Howell, T. B. Robinson, Johnnie Hudson.

Art Swanson, W. E. Smith, H. M. Walker, L. M. Atcheson, Fritz Thompson, Laverna Lavender, Troy Maness, Elmer Hardin, Weldon Wilson, Carl Stone, D. B. Jameson, Clarence Barrett, Clarence Kennedy, Charlie Duemel, Rusty Cahill, Jimmie Olson, Bob Rose, Oscar Dial, Otto Studer, H. H. Hicks, Harry Cooper, Jack Griffith. There are many others whose names are not available.

Those whose names are not in this list are asked to be at the football park tomorrow afternoon and get in the practice. Every man will get a real chance to make the team. It is likely that 30 men will be carried on the regular roster.

J. A. Yearling Are Delivered to Joyce Interests Sunday

The Joyce Land and Cattle company, with ranch headquarters north of here, unloaded 750 head of fine yearlings at the local stock pens yesterday. The yearlings were received from the J. A. Ranch, southeast of Clarendon. They were landed at the J. A. ranch loading station at Ashtola Saturday.

According to T. D. Hobart, manager of the J. A. Ranch, the price paid for the yearlings was $51,750. He said the stock was in excellent condition and well-bred.

JONES BONDS CARRY

ANSON, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Jones county voters, yesterday, approved a $750,000 highway bond issue by more than two to one. In spite of the chilly blasts more than 1,000 friends of the bond issue went to the polls and not more than 400 enemies of the measure appeared.

It is believed that the open discussion of the subject at the November meeting will be the first step in establishing the fact that pecan trees on any given tract constitutes a tangible and definite asset.

WURLITZER'S SON DIES

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Howard E. E. Wurlitzer, 37, of Cincinnati, former chairman of the board of the Rudolph Wurlitzer company, piano manufacturers, died early today at the Ritz Carlton hotel. Mr. Wurlitzer had been ill two days with influenza.

Gridiron Sneed Save Baylor Star, Also a Fireman

WACO, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Jake Wilson, whose speed in a broken field makes him the outstanding quarter back on Baylor university's football squad, probably was saved from death in a fire here today by the same fleetness of foot he exhibited on the gridiron.

The athlete, who works as a fireman to defray his expenses through the university, and Wilbur Thomas, another fire fighter, were pinned near a wall by falling timbers and rescuers worked 15 minutes liberating them. Firemen were extinguishing minor blazes in the exchange hotel, which was razed by an early morning fire at an estimated loss of $100,000, when the second floor of the structure collapsed. Warned by the crackling of timbers, Wilson, directly under the falling embers, dashed for safety.

He received severe bruises and a scalp injury. Thomas was more severely hurt.

Comaruru

Transmitted by telepathy from the planet Mars to the psychic mind of Dr. Mansfield Robinson, of London, these relayed by his description into reproduction at the hands of a sculptor and an artist, two likenesses of this (or perhaps Madame) Comaruru are pictured. The Martian woman has huge ears, a great shock of hair and Oriental features, says Dr. Robinson, who is trying to communicate with her planet by radio. Above is a sculptor's impression of Comaruru; below a sketch showing her listening for signals from the earth.

Hughes, Lindbergh And Chapman Honored

The Roosevelt medal for distinguished service will be presented October 27 to Charles Evans Hughes (right), Charles Lindbergh (center) and Frank M. Chapman (left), ornithologist, in New York. Lindbergh is the first aviator to receive the award. Both sides of the medal are shown.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—A scientist in a field in which Theodore Roosevelt found one of his chief enjoyments is, with a jurist and an aviator, to be honored October 27 with the Roosevelt medal for distinguished service.

Charles Evans Hughes, recently named to the world court; Charles A. Lindbergh, pilot and technical aviator; and Frank M. Chapman, curator of ornithology at the American Museum of Natural History, New York, since 1908, are those who will receive the medals from James R. Garfield, president of the Roosevelt Memorial association.

The awards will be made at a banquet in the old Roosevelt residence in East 20th street, where 79 years ago the late president was born. He was a lover of wild life, an explorer and historian.

It is no new thing for a jurist to receive the medal. John Bassett Moore, authority on international law and predecessor of Mr. Hughes on the world court, received it last year, and in 1925 Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes was the recipient.

It also has men concerned with wild life won the award. Among them have been Dan Beard, whose mission has been to introduce boys to wild life and the cut-of-deers; George Bird Grinnell, author, hunter and friend to Indians; and Gifford Pinchot, leader in the national movement for conservation of forests.

Captain Lindbergh, however, will be the first aviator to receive the Roosevelt medal. Of him Mr. Garfield says, "To a generation bearing on all sides that money is the standard of success, and that the way to achievement and fame lies through aggressive self-seeking, publicity and the cultivation of the public view, Charles Lindbergh, living clearly, scornful publicity, putting aside offers of untold wealth came and achieved such a triumph as no young man in the world's history ever achieved before."

The medals, awarded annually, are three inches in diameter and of solid gold. They show the head of Roosevelt on one side and on the other a flaming sword with the motto, "If I must choose between righteousness and power, I choose righteousness." James Earl Fraser designed them.

Specifically, Lindbergh is to be honored for his example to modern youth; Hughes for his administration of public office and development of public and international law, and Chapman for his studies of American bird life, which have taken him tirelessly through North and Central America.

Markets

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—(P)—Wheat values sagged today after an opening advance. Revised estimates of the wheat crop in the northern hemisphere indicated a total world crop of 2,296,000,000 bushels more than last year.

Opening unchanged to 5-8c up, wheat prices hardened a little more and then receded, all around to below yesterday's finish. Corn and oats were firm, both starting 1-8 to 5-8c up, and then holding near to initial figures. Provisions were steady.

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—(P)—Wheat: No. 1 hard 1.18; No. 3 Northern Spring 1.13-4.

Oats: No. 3 white 41¢; No. 4 white 38 1/2¢.

Mr. Johnson made a brief survey of the city and conferred with Chamber of Commerce officials on the subject.

Although Mr. Johnson made no definite statement regarding free mail delivery for Pampa, he spoke encouragingly of local conditions.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—(P)—The E. Smith family can outvote Herbert Hoover family two to one Tuesday as there are ten of vote in the immediate family of Democratic presidential candidate only five in that of the Republican.

Marland Steps Down, Favoring Younger Officer

PONCA CITY, Okla., Oct. 30.—(P)—E. W. Marland, whose spectacular rise to national financial power in a comparatively short time is one of the romances of Oklahoma oil, is stepping aside from leadership of the company bearing his name in favor of a younger man. Physical inability to continue his work was given as his reason for retirement.

Mr. Marland's resignation as president of the Marland Oil company was presented and accepted yesterday at a meeting of the directors in New York. Daniel J. Moran was elected president, effective November 1. Mr. Moran resigned as vice-president of the Texas corporation to accept the position. Resignation of W. H. McPadden as a member of the board of directors and the executive committee and succession of Moran to these positions was announced simultaneously.

Reorganization and retrenchment within the Marland company started about a year ago, after the organization had shown a series of financial reverses. It was explained, however, that these were merely paper losses caused by the institution of an "intangible drilling reserve" and did not mean a direct drain on the finances of the company.

Starting with a borrowed drilling outfit, Marland entered the oil game in Oklahoma fifteen years ago in the Ponca City area.

Hoover's Speech at St. Louis to Be Important One

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—(P)—Aside from his speech of acceptance perhaps no address Herbert Hoover has made in this campaign has aroused keener advance interest than the one he will deliver next Friday night at St. Louis.

Dealing almost entirely with farm relief, the speech not only will be the last word of the Republican nominee before election day on this outstanding issue, but it is likely to furnish the pattern after which his first message to Congress will be fashioned if he is successful in his quest of the presidency.

While the contents of the address are being closely guarded, it is believed that Hoover has followed the suggestions of his advisers to discuss in rather complete detail the manner in which he believes his formula for farm aid will work out and elaborate upon the various quotations in that formula.

Has Monopoly on Pears

Several years ago the United States closed all ports to importation of trees from the Orient, to protect American orchards from the Mediterranean fruit fly. But Dr. Henry Wong Him, San Francisco physician, got in under the line with a Chinese pear tree. Today he has the only Chinese pear orchard in the country and is reaping a fortune from it. He's shown holding this precious fruit, beside one of his trees, in his orchard near Agnew, Calif.

Better Weather Is Indicated in Forecasts Today

Weather forecasts of cloudy but warmer for tomorrow had slight basis in local conditions early today, but with no continuation of the rainfall which totaled more than an inch over the week-end, the roads are drying off and becoming more passable, but rough.

CHILDRESS, Oct. 30.—(P)—A new low temperature mark for the season was set here last night when the mercury dropped to 39 degrees. A light rain fell early in the night, and the skies remained overcast today.

BROWNWOOD, Oct. 30.—(P)—About two tenths of an inch of rain fell here last night, and the temperature dropped to 43 degrees, heavy hanging clouds to day indicated more rain.

FIVE DIE WHEN BOILER EXPLODES

ETHEL, Miss., Oct. 30.—(P)—Five men were killed and a heavy steam boiler was hurled 200 yards into a store building here today when the boiler exploded at the McDaniel Planing mill.

Apparently out of water, the steam box on the mill's engine cracked open with a mighty roar, destroyed the building in which it was located and sailed through space into Askin's store across the road, demolishing that structure and damaging the post office next door with small bits of steel and wood.

L. O. Lord and a machinist named Peten, age about 45, were killed instantly. Both were in the boiler room. Three others died later. They were Peten's 19-year-old son, employed elsewhere in the mill, but visiting his father near the boiler at the time of the tragedy; Wilbourne Raspberry fireman, and Ed Carr, a negro helper.

START OF COLUMBIA TO BERMUDA DELAYED

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., Oct. 30.—(P)—Departure of the Monoplane Columbia on an attempted trans-Atlantic flight to Rome was postponed today because of unfavorable weather.

Roger Q. Williams, pilot of the plane, decided on the delay after receiving a weather report shortly after 3 o'clock.

Damage Suits Added to Youths' Murder Charges

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 30.—(P)—Hardly 72 hours after their arrest Geo. Harsh and Richard Gallogy, erstwhile college students, were under joint indictment today, charging murder in two holdups and faced damage suits asking a total of $150,000.

A confession signed by Harsh recounted a three-week career of crime during which seven robberies were staged, but police said they had enough evidence without asking robbery indictments.

Meanwhile wealthy relatives of the two youth, through attorneys, announced that they were considering plans to retain Clarence Darrow, Chicago criminal attorney, to join the defense.

Mrs. Mary Belle Smith, 19-year-old widow of Willard A. Smith, drug store manager who was fatally wounded in a holdup on October 16, filed suit for $100,000 against the pair, citing the confession by Harsh, L. V. Ellis, manager of the chain store in which E. H. Meeks was fatally shot on October 6, during a holdup, asked $50,000 in a suit. Ellis was wounded during the robbery.
