Butte, Mont. Reports
Her Cold Goes to

The lowest temperatures of the year was recorded at the Santa Fe station this morning at 8:30 o'clock when the thermometer dropped to 12 degrees above zero. In other parts of the city residents reported a 10-degree reading. At 5 a. m. the Santa Fe reading was 22 degrees above.

The cold snap was accompanied by a northeast wind bringing snow flurries which made driving dangerous. A heavy fog and mist arose during the night, but no accidents were reported this morning.

At Canadian, the thermometer was at 12 degrees, while LeFors reported a temperature of 16 degrees. The same conditions existed up and down the Santa Fe, it was announced this morning.

CHICAGO, Jan. 24. (AP)—Warm north east winds, which will blow away the severe cold that has cost 11 lives in the middle west, was today's promise to storm bound states suffering the worst rigors of the winter.

Absence of snow here was in contrast to the intense cold and heavy snow that paralyzed traffic in parts of Michigan, Minnesota, and Wisconsin. Trains were delayed and highways were blocked.

The storm approached blizzard proportions in Michigan, where the cold accounted for five lives. Minnesota had four dead and two deaths were attributed to the weather.

The coldest temperature of the day yesterday was registered at Butte Mont., where the mercury recorded 55 degrees below.

GAS TAX OF 3 CENTS IS HELD FOR MAXIMUM

Gross Receipts Plan Is

"CURRENT PAY BASIS POOR"

Legislature No Nearer
Solution After Hearing

AUSTIN, Jan. 24. (AP)—The legislature today considered anew plan for a 3-cent, 4-cent and 5-cent gasoline tax, advanced in a hearing last night before four senate and house committees.

Along with these petitions it was weighing the merits of a $300,000,000 road bond issue, a 2 per cent gross receipts tax on common carriers, return of a larger share of the automobile registration fees to the counties, reduction of those fees, and refunds to counties for state highway work.

The governor's committee of seven, each member of which has a different opinion on highway legislation, planned to meet again to formulate a recommendation to the legislature after failing to agree yesterday.

W. B. Hamilton of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, outlined the organization's stand on highway legislation at the meeting last night.

He said the West Texas body favored the Sterling road bond program "in toto." He espoused a maximum gasoline tax of 3 cents, endorsed the proposed gross receipts tax and favored leaving the registration fees on the present basis, in distribution as well as amount.

"You can't build an adequate highway system on a 'pay-as-you-go' basis," the Wichita Falls man warned the committee.

The common carriers were represented by Richard Hahner of Fort Worth, bus operator, and Neil H. Bannister of Houston, secretary of the Texas Warehouse association.

They contended that truck and bus companies were not making an excessive profit, that they were giving a valuable public service, and were now bearing their share of the expenses of road construction and maintenance.

AUSTIN, Jan. 24. (AP)—A statewide bond issue of $175,000,000 was decided on today by Governor Moody's committee of seven, appointed to co-ordinate the several highway-financing bills which have been proposed to give Texas a permanent and adequate system of highways and provide a program of construction over several years in the future.

The newest plan will be transmitted to the governor with the suggestion that he present it to a joint session of both houses. It was suggested also that Cone Johnson, member of the highway commission, and chairman of the special committee, make a statement before the legislators at the same time.

Negro Will Be Charged Today in Shooting Affair

Walling was rushed to a local hospital, where it was thought for a time his injuries would prove fatal. Reports from the hospital this morning said that he may recover. The bullet, from a .32 calibre automatic, entered a half inch above the heart and passed through the body. Jackson was arrested some time after the shooting and lodged in the county jail.

Family troubles are said to have been the cause of the shooting.

CHILDRESS JURY HANGS IN MURDER TRIAL

CHILDRESS, Jan. 24. (AP)—Unable to agree, a jury which had heard testimony in the trial of G. H. Gossett for murder in the slaying of Hardy Brown, was discharged last night.

Brown, it was charged, was shot to death on Gossett's farm near here last November 7. Gossett's son, Howard, was jointly charged in the slaying, but no date has been set for his trial.

Lee Roy Merriman was given death yesterday. He pleaded insanity. Benjie Aldridge, his companion in the attacks, drew a similar penalty last week. Aldridge pleaded guilty.

Attorneys have filed notice of appeal. They are doing it "on their own," however, as neither of the convicted men has displayed any interest in his case. Merriman sat sullenly through the three days of his trial, refusing contact with his counsel, appointed by the court.

PLAINS TEST AT LEFORS IS GOING STRONG

Is 2,400 Barrels

NO. 2 SAUNDERS OFFSETS TEXAS

Water Encroachment
Not Bothering at
New Depth

Another good producer in the LeFors pool yesterday was added to those already drilled in this month. The Plains Drilling company's No. 2 Saunders, in the southeast corner of the east half of the southeast quarter of section 4, block 1, A. C. H. & B. survey, picked up the big pay early yesterday morning and a pipe line test the first 24 hours showed 2,400 barrels. Production is free from water so common in the LeFors pool.

The big pay was encountered at 2,558 feet in the high pay encountered in three previous wells in the LeFors pool. Wells at a deeper pay are fighting water encroachment, but the new high pay has thus far been free from water.

The Plains well is a west offset to the Texas company's big low pay well brought in last week, which has been cut down by water encroachment. The Plains company has another well in the same section making 122 barrels an hour. The test was drilled in last week from the high pay.

Plains Drilling company's No. 2 was drilled to top pay, but the hole was lost and the derrick was skidded 60 feet north, where the new producer was brought in.

The Texas company is taking the oil from the new producer.

New City Water Well Is Being Drilled Now

After shifting his derrick 50 feet east, D. L. McDonald has begun operations on the new city water well. The 14-inch hole has been sunk 600 feet and work begun yesterday drilling the 32-inch hole.

The first well was drilled to total depth and almost completed when a string of pipe was lost and the hole had to be abandoned, after a two-month fishing job. Water is encountered here at about 400 feet.

When completed the new well, to be operated by a turbine pump, will end the critical water situation. The new well will have a capacity of 750 gallons a minute. A 500-gallon pump will be installed, according to Andy Crocker, water superintendent.

Electric Chair Awaits Two Men After Short Trials

DALLAS, Jan. 24. (AP)—The electric chair confronted two men today, six weeks after they abducted three 17-year-old girls from their escorts and assaulted them near Dallas.

Lee Roy Merriman was given death yesterday. He pleaded insanity. Benjie Aldridge, his companion in the attacks, drew a similar penalty last week. Aldridge pleaded guilty.

Attorneys have filed notice of appeal. They are doing it "on their own," however, as neither of the convicted men has displayed any interest in his case. Merriman sat sullenly through the three days of his trial, refusing contact with his counsel, appointed by the court.

"It's Like This"

PAMPA'S LIBRARY association has reached a point where community cooperation is necessary to bring about a workable program.

The association needed a room, and that has been provided by the Methodist church. It needed funds, and Godfrey Cabot of Boston donated a substantial sum.

It will be necessary to add many books and periodicals from time to time. There must be a librarian in charge. It will take the interest of the entire community over a considerable period of time to build a library such as Pampa needs.

Nearly every household boasts volumes hardly ever used. These could be given to the library without sacrifice since the books would still be available.

With the oil riches pouring into local bank accounts, it would seem that some of the fortunate citizens would consider the library as a sound object for philanthropy.

The Library association solicits the interest and support of the community. There is no more constructive cause.

CATTLE MARKETING is not an exact science; indeed, perusal of the steps in the process reveals much to be desired.

"Producers raise the cattle, railroads transport them, feeders fatten them, commission agents sell them, financial agencies finance them, packers process and distribute them, and meat retailers sell the edible products to consumers.

"Ordinarily producers consider the sale of their cattle complete when they sell them to some buyer, but the marketing process is not ended until the beef reaches the final buyers—the consumers. The desire and the ability of consumers to buy beef largely determines the prices.

"In addition to producing the best type of cattle and of adjusting the supply to the demand, producers should select the most advantageous market outlet."

Marketing cattle is more competitive than usually considered. Proper marketing is more competitive than usually considered.

REBECCA ROGERS probably will go free under suspended sentence or draw a lighter sentence as the result of her case being remanded by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Disregarding the merits of the case, the technicality under which the case was reversed is of interest. The court held that the district attorney was over zealous in his prosecution in asking why the girl into probate court for sending to an insane asylum if they really believed her insane as they argued.

Psychologically and sentimentally, Buenos Aires looks across to Madrid, Rome, Paris and even London, rather than to New York and Washington.

As colonists, we Yanks are far down on the list numerically. There are no more than 4000 Americans here as compared to between 50,000 and 80,000 British or Anglo-Argentines.

The conclusion of the opinion states rather clearly the line of reasoning out of which many reversals grow: "Insanity is recognized in all civilized countries as a disease, and not a crime. The right to an acquittal upon the grounds of insanity is one given and guaranteed by direct legislative enactment and it cannot be taken from her or abridged by the failure of her counsel to institute proceedings in probate court for her confinement in a lunatic asylum. No such duty involved upon them or her."

While Texas recognizes insanity as a disease to be rated as a defense in trials, the penal system has no acceptable remedial procedure. It is like recognizing an evil while at the moment acknowledging inability to do anything about it.

Along Hoover's Trail SOUTH AMERICA

BY RODNEY DUTCHEE. WASHINGTON — Buenos Aires is as European as any city of the old world and no more Americanized, from our point of view, than the South Sea-islands.

This third largest city in the western hemisphere is willing to accept North American innovations making for more comfort, convenience or efficiency, but that's all. The people have the American brand of progressiveness, but they hang on proudly to their European habits and culture.

Americans assured your correspondent that Buenos Aires was becoming "Americanized", but your correspondent couldn't see it. It is true that Argentine business men are adopting our methods of efficiency and that American types of architecture are being copied for big new office buildings, but that only proves that Argentine business men are smart.

Everyone drives an American automobile, but this is one South American city where traffic keeps to the left instead of to the right as in the United States. And instead of trying to change the local custom, our automobile firms manufacture cars with right-hand drives to meet it.

Ten detectives guarded Whitey Walker and Nave when they started west from Buffalo. It would have been cheaper to have sent for a Texas Ranger.

Hoover may get the Marines out of Nicaragua by Christmas, but he'd better do it before the big rains. Next thing we know they'll be asking for the Marines to enforce prohibition.

If that auto driver license goes into effect, some of the maddest people in this world are going to be women—and men.

Captain William Frost, having ferried across the Hudson 465,536 times, has retired. "Only one more river to cross, etc."

The total number of autos increased only 7 per cent last year. Guess the rest of the increase was smashed at railroad crossings.

The fourth group contains the "town English" within the city, who aren't regarded as socially important.

The Irish have fraternized with the Argentines more than any other nationalities. They came early and some became rich through ranching or marriage. There are native families with Irish surnames who can't speak a word of English.

British residents accuse the Americans of trying to nighat the Argentines and Americans accuse the British of the same. In any event, it doesn't work. The Argentines, they high-hat everybody.

This is the largest Spanish-speaking city in the world, and an American doing business here simply has to know the language. English gets by fairly well in some Latin-American countries, but not here.

Any foreigner is much more at home with a command of Italian—or French or German for that matter—than with English.

SHERMAN PREACHER TO GET BRAVERY AWARD

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 24. (AP)—Bravery shown by the Rev. Grover C. Brewer of Sherman, Texas, in grabbing a rabid dog as it was approaching three children has won for him a bronze medal awarded by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission.

The Rev. Brewer, according to the citation, first saw the dog snap at a child and pursued it until a policeman took up the chase. A while later he again saw the animal as it was approaching three children playing in an alley and at once attacked it. The dog sprang on him and snapped his left wrist, but the pastor managed to hold the dog by the throat until a man arrived and shot it. The event occurred on January 22, 1928, the citation said.

The vote, taken at an executive session, was eight to three against the bill. Proponents of the measure are undecided whether it would be brought to the floor on a minority report.

About New York

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK
NEW YORK—If you happen to be a young woman who wishes to go to the Beaux Arts ball as a lady at the court of Empress Jane Cowl-Josephine, it is not too late.
For $500 or more you can buy a suitable dress of real old lace with a velvet train, or a hand-brocaded gown the material of which the maker says cannot be duplicated anywhere. Some creations, designed by foremost costume artists and executed by exclusive society dressmakers, cost several thousand dollars, but they are not "carried in stock," as are peasant dresses, which sell for $75.

ULTRA-EXCLUSIVE

Even if you live in California and have to fly to the ball, which will be given at the Astor hotel the night of January 25, you may rent, for as little as $10, a costume at the door. But, however, you come, your gown must be from the Napoleonic period in France. Modern dress, and smocks robes, dominoes, decorations or ribbons worn over modern clothes, are barred, however expensive they may be. So, too, are the modern uniforms of the military, convicts, sailors, huntmen, and chefs.

THE BLACK PIGEON

AS they gathered around the murdered man, an eerie sound came from the window. Satan, the black pigeon, was trying to get in the room.
Insignificant as the incident appeared at the time, it was nevertheless the most important clew to the murder of Harry Borden. For the black pigeon gave the police a new angle to work on.
If you are looking for a good old-fashioned thrill, by all means read "The Black Pigeon", Anne Austin's great mystery serial. Follow every installment. See if you can work out the solution to this baffling mystery.

Screen Life Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Cal.—The aftermath of the holidays in Hollywood is a collection of Christmas cards as unique in its way as any other manifestation of life in this film center. Something of the spirit of St. Valentine's day enters into the exchange of greetings. Certainly no one ever received valentines more gorgeous than the Yuletide missives specially designed and executed for some of the stars. And the "breezy" jocularity of the numerous "spoofing" cards reminds one strongly of the old-fashioned comic valentine.

CIRCUS BALL

Another notable event took place recently when Mr. and Mrs. William May Wright gave their annual circus ball. Four rooms in a hotel were taken over for the occasion, which is reported to have cost the host at least $10,000, and there were horses and dogs and sideshow acts to lend the proper atmosphere.

The guests of honor were Arthur Honegger, the modern Swiss composer, and his wife. The hostess, who is Colina Wright, soprano, will be their soloist on tour.

HATLESS HONEGGER

Honegger, 37-year-old sports fan that he is, will make probably the first bareheaded musical tour in this country. He never wears hats; he does not even own a headpiece. He and his wife do own, however, a trunk full of fine furs. Honegger recently was in Russia, and, thinking it advisable to make a good will investment, he spent some of his box office money for milk coats and sables.

After directing the Philharmonic-Symphonic orchestra here in the playing of his "Pacific 231," which glorifies the locomotive, and the American premiere of his "Rugby," which glorifies football, he will go as far as Seattle, and Portland, and Houston, Texas, under the auspices of the Pro-Musical society. Among his selections will be "Paritta," a suite for two pianos, written especially for the tour. His wife, Andree Vaurabourg Honegger, will play the other piano.

ABOUT NAMES
There were some very formal cards, too, bearing famous names in fuller form than one is accustomed seeing them in electric lights out in front of the theatre. For instance, the severely plain card with white embossed crest signed "Richard Semlar Barthelmeis." Tom Mix sent a pen-and-ink portrait of himself in western costume, with a gold seal in the lower right-hand corner. Rod LaRocque wrote his greetings boldly in red ink on white bristol-board.

Pitchers to Worry A. & M. Coach in Baseball Season

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 24. (Special)—When this year's squad of more than 40 candidates turns out for baseball at the A. & M. college of Texas February 1, the date fixed by conference rules as the earliest upon which baseball training may be started, Coach Bob Countryman will find comparatively few veterans at his command. In addition, he will be faced with the problem of developing an almost entirely new twirling staff.

However, a pre-season survey of the candidates shows a very promising array of potential sluggers and indicates that Countryman will have a line-up of bat artists who promise to offset to a great extent what may be found lacking in other departments.

Among batsmen expected to sweeten the Aggie hitting average during the season might be mentioned Captain Byron Lackey, Fort Worth; Jerome Harris, San Antonio; R. A. Cody, Coldest; E. K. Martin, Houston; R. C. Bell, Bellville, and Pete Wendt, Brenham. Three of these, Martin and Bell, were freshmen last year. Lackey and Wendt were letter men. Cody a squadman and Harris is back in college after a year's absence.

Last year, his first as coach of the Texas Aggies, Countryman turned out a team of sluggers that dealt misery to opposing pitchers throughout the season and closed their schedule with a team batting average of .301. Six of the Aggie sluggers hit for more than .300 during the season and one, Blount, all-Southwestern second baseman, clouted the ball for the lofty average of .465. His nearest competitor was Joel Hunt, brilliant short stop, who hit .307. Neither of these men is with the Aggies this year. Hunt is the property of the Houston (Texas league) team and Blount played last summer with the Laurel (Mississippi) nine. Despite the loss of these sluggers, however, and others who did much to keep the team's average above the .300 mark, Countryman has a large number of candidates for the new season who boast good records in past seasons.

Behind the bat will be Captain Byron Lackey, who was slow in getting into batting form last season but who finished the college season clouting the ball at a merry pace and who swatted the horsehide to all corners of the parks in the fast South Coast semi-pro league after the close of the college season last summer. Not only is Lackey adept with the bat but he is one of the most aggressive maskmen in the Southwest conference, and he bids well to be an outstanding contender for all-conference honors this year. Outstanding among the other candidates for the catcher's job is Jerome Harris, San Antonio, lanky backstop, who was not in school last year. He has had considerable amateur experience and was a sterling performer with the mit and bat on A. & M. freshman team of the past.

In the infield, where the services of every one of last year's letter men have been lost, Countryman has two squadmen and a promising group of youngsters from last year's freshman squad. Homer Childers, Houston, surefielding first baseman who did not get his batting eye until after the close of the college season last year when he was playing amateur ball, and R. A. Cody, utility second baseman, who hit for an average of .333 last season, are the two squadmen. The newcomers from last year's freshman team are E. K. Martin, Houston, and C. T. Hoke, Shiro, first basemen; V. C. Pompell, Fort Worth, second baseman; R. C. Bell, Bellville, and T. A. Henderson, McKinney, third basemen; and Gill Johns, Fort Worth, short stop.

It is in the outfield that Coach Countryman has the largest amount of veteran material. Pete Wendt, Brenham, a consistent hitter last year, and Brooks Conover, Dallas, probably the outstanding ball hawk of the conference, are the two letter men returning. Both are strong contenders for all-Southwestern honors this year. Austin Bray, Dallas, a squadman last year, is also outstanding candidate for a garden berth, and with both Martin and Bell ready to shift from the infield, Countryman has little to fear in this section.

It is in developing his pitching staff that Countryman faces his major problem, however, for only one letter man, Max Kasprovicz, Brenham, a speed-ball artist who performed admirably for the Aggies last season, is available this year. Not a southpaw is to be found on the Aggie roster, although Countryman is attempting to develop one in Pete Wendt, whose regular role is in the outfield. Wendt pitched in relief role for the Aggies last year and was a pitcher-outfielder on a fast amateur team last summer, meeting with much success on both clubs. He has lots of steam and curves and if he develops greater control will probably prove a valuable asset to Countryman's staff of moundsmen.

Other twirlers are Eddie Gorman, Gilmer, a squadman last year with speed, control and form, who promises to go strong for the Aggies this year; Ed Durban, Diboll; A. T. Harvey, Calveston, and C. T. Hoke, all from last year's freshman team; Tommie Mills, Groesbeck, another speed-ball merchant from last year's squad; and Joe Brown, college flinger, an art at which he was particularly adept in high school. From these men it is likely Countryman will be able to select a capable regular hurling staff.

Golf Has Some Spartans, Too

Jess Sweetser who won the British amateur championship 1926 - a fine example of grim, stubborn courage while forcing a disabled body to do its best

By O. B. KEELE

They were talking about feats of courage and endurance, and play on the gridiron after ribs had been broken—the gallant tales of derring-do in football. And somebody asked me if I knew any instances of such things in golf, adding that, of course, it was unlikely that the golfer's stoicism would be called on, as in football and other games of personal contact.

Well, I shouldn't say that. My mind slipped back to Jess Sweetser in 1926; winning the British amateur championship at Muirfield; playing gamely through the international match next week at St. Andrews; sickening all the time with a malady that scarcely six hours after the final round of international match cost him two hemorrhages in my room at the Grand hotel. . . . I know of nothing in sport that is a finer example of grim, stubborn courage and Spartan endurance of suffering and illness, while forcing a disabled body to do its best.

And there was a memory, too, of Bobby Jones, back in his younger days of 1922.

Bobby had been suffering from varicose veins in his left leg, and finally went to a hospital and had them operated on and removed. Four incisions, each four inches long, were made. Bobby was in the hospital two weeks. A week after he left the hospital he started in the 1922 southern amateur championship at East Lake. His practice for that event consisted of 9 holes of play and about an hour in short spells on the practice tee. His left leg was swathed in bandages. The wounds were by no means healed.

Between rounds in the final match a physician had to re-dress the incisions, two of which were discharging. And he had been out of bed only a week.

Yet I venture to say that not a dozen people outside Bobby's more intimate friends knew that the boy was suffering, or was playing under any handicap at all. There was nothing about it in the papers.

As to the outcome, Bobby won. His aggregate score for the qualifying round and five matches was 10 strokes below 4's. It was the last southern amateur he has played in.

Phillies Feeling Optimistic as Weak Gaps Are Closed

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 24. (P)—With new and sparkling material and most of the weak gaps apparently plugged up, the Phillies look toward the 1929 National league pennant race through rose-tinted glasses.

New blood has been brought into nearly every position. The pitching staff has been strengthened and the Phillies have a great short stop in Tommy Thevenow. One of Manager Burt Shotton's moves was to cast aside two veterans, Jimmy Ring, pitcher, and John Schulte.

Don Hurst, who hit 18 home runs last season, will be on first base and Fresco Thompson on second, with Thevenow at short stop. Pinkey Whitney, who batted over .300 last year, will be at third. As infield reservists Manager Shotton has Terry Lyons, from the sandlots of St. Louis; Friberg, and Joe O'Rourke, son of the Phillies' chief scout.

The outfield will be composed of Lefty O'Doul, obtained from the New York Giants; Danny Southern, a youngster; Homer Peel, from Houston Texas, and Chuck Klein, with Cy Williams, home run slugger, as the leading reservist.

Leo says he could almost beat the two together, so now it is a three-cornered proposition with McKee as starter of the little world war of the mat. McKee, ugly, red-headed and confident, says that he has been trying to get a match with Oscar Dotson, local blacksmith, but has been unsuccessful. The Pampa man says that Red is crazy and that he will meet him at any time.

After a few more verbal slams have been executed, the two will probably take the mat to try a series of slams.

Raving Grapplers May Yet Get to Mat in Argument

With McKee and Dotson, unfriendly ear-pullers, hurling written and verbal challenges and insinuations at one another, it is likely that the two maulers will be matched in the near future. Both claim to be able to beat anything that comes along and if they are successfully matched the winner will likely meet Leo Chase, the Roxana Petroleum company's wrestler.

Sharkey Must Beat Christner in Decisive Fashion

NEW YORK, Jan. 24. (P)—There was an abundance of confidence to-day at the training quarters of Jack Sharkey of Boston and K. O. Christner, graduate of the Akron rubber plants, who meet in a 10-round clash in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

The gob can see nothing in the scrap but a good warm-up for his battle with Young Stribling at Miami Beach, while the 34-year-old Ohioan, who sprang into prominence of punching Knute Hansen out of the heavyweight picture a couple of months ago, has told the world he expects to tag Sharkey with the same wallop he used on the melancholy Dane.

Realizing he must make a better than ordinary showing tomorrow if the Stribling fight is to meet with any financial success, Sharkey says he will end the affair in short order.

Future Mrs. Lind

The attendance figure at Dunn Field in Cleveland will be swelled by one at each game this year, but that won't mean dough for the Indians. The extra will be Miss Elmor Rooney, of New Orleans, who on Jan. 30, will become Mrs. Carl Lind. Lind is the star second-sacker of the Indians.

LAZZERI THINKS SORE WING IS RECOVERED

NEW YORK, Jan. 24. (P)—Tony Lazzeri reports through Manager Miller Huggins that he no longer is bothered by a lame salary wing. A letter from Huggins yesterday said he had received word from the Yankees' second baseman that the arm no longer bothered him, even when he subjected it to the severe test of playing a game in a short time ago.

Miami Invasion Tomorrow Night Is Crucial One

Eager to take the scalp from the Harvesters, the Miami Warriors will invade Pampa tomorrow night, both boys and girls. The local boys won their first conference game of the season from the Warriors in the Miami gymnasium last Tuesday night. In the past the Warriors have usually had everything their own way on the courts.

But with Coach Odus Mitchell expounding his knowledge of the game, and he was one of the best in the Southwest in his college days, the Harvesters have snapped out of it and have been playing stellar basketball all this season. Tomorrow night's battle will be the first for the Miami boys on the local gymnasium.

The two girls' teams have met twice with the Miami sextet coming out on top both times. "The local girls have won their last two games and are confident they will break the Miami jinx tomorrow night."

TAYLOR WILL FIGHT AL SINGER FEB. 8

NEW YORK, Jan. 24. (P)—Bud Taylor of Terre Haute, Ind., former National Boxing association bantamweight champion, and Al Singer, young New York scrapper, have been signed for a 10-round bout in Madison Square Garden February 8. Hymie Caplan completed the arrangements yesterday by signing Singer's contract.

"I light a Lucky and go light on the sweets"

That's how I keep in good shape and always feel peppy."

Al Jolson, Famous comedian and star of song.

Reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet.

Al Jolson as he appears in Warner Bros. Vitaphone success, "The Singing Fool."

Something sensible. "Better to light a Lucky whenever you crave fattening sweets." It brings to men the health and vigor that come with avoiding overweight. To women it offers a slender, fashionable figure.

20,679 physicians have stated that Lucky Strike is less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes. Very likely this is due to toasting which removes impurities. This same process, toasting, improves and develops the flavor of the world's finest tobaccos. This means that there is a flavor in Luckies which is a delightful alternative for the things that make you fat. That's why "It's Toasted" is your assurance that there's real health in Luckies—they're good for you!

Keep fit—reach for a Lucky instead of a fattening sweet. That's what many men have been doing for years. They know the evidence of prominent athletes whose favorite cigarette is Lucky Strike and who say Luckies steady their nerves and do not impair their physical condition.

A reasonable proportion of sugar in the diet is recommended, but the authorities are overwhelming that too many fattening sweets are harmful and that too many such are eaten by the American people. So, for moderation's sake we say:—

"REACH FOR A LUCKY INSTEAD OF A SWEET."

Morrow Likely to Stay in Mexico

BELLE ISLE, Miami, Fla., Kan., Jan. 24. (AP)—A conference with Dwight V. Morrow, ambassador to Mexico, and departure for a three-day deep sea fishing trip had been arranged for President-elect Hoover today.

While the Morrow visit has been described as a courtesy call, there seemed little doubt that Ambassador and Mr. Hoover would discuss relations with Mexico in detail.

While Mr. Morrow has been urged for appointment as secretary of state by Senator Walter E. Edge of New Jersey, the president-elect has indicated he does not regard the cabinet post as important as the improvement in relations between the countries since the former banker undertook the delicate diplomatic mission below the Rio Grande.

Hale Denies He Urged Convict to Make Getaway

PAWHUSKA, Okla., Jan. 24. (AP)—Called back to the witness stand today, W. K. Hale, Osage county cattle king, on trial the third time on a charge of complicity in the killing of Henry Roan, Osage Indian, denied he suggested a jail break to Blackie Thompson or Hugh Washburn while the three were confined in the Osage county jail here last fall.

Washburn, a government witness, previously had testified Hale sought to have him and Thompson make their getaway so that they might get Ernest Burkhardt, Hale's nephew, "out of the country."

Burkhardt, under life sentence for the killing of W. E. ## Cold Weather Is Felt in Oil Work

WICHITA, Kas., Jan. 24. (AP)—Activity in Kansas oil fields suffered another set-back due to freezing temperatures and snow. Frozen water lines and treacherous roads forced many drilling tests to be shut down temporarily awaiting more favorable weather.

In Sedgwick county the Broer No. 1 in the NE SE of 5-26-2 east was reported to be making 15 barrels an hour late last night. The well will be deepened as soon as operators are satisfied with the test at present depth of 3,920 feet. The Barnsdall company's No. 1 Samuels in the NE NW of 24-25-1 east, which had a strong showing of oil early in the week, is shut down awaiting arrival of the company's production superintendent.

TRACE OF EARLY MAN FOUND IN GRAVEL PIT NEAR OKLAHOMA RIVER

A gravel pit in Oklahoma having strata believed at least 500,000 years old is yielding traces of prehistoric man. Among the specimens are arrowheads and objects resembling a human hand and a human foot (upper right). A. H. Holloman (left), owner of the pit (below), which is on a bank of the Red river near Frederick, co-operates with scientists while he exploits the property commercially.

FREDERICK, Okla. (AP)—Granting that Asia was the cradle of man, southwest Oklahoma asserts it provided his first toddling ground.

Out of a gravel pit near here have come what are declared by scientists to be unmistakable human artifacts. These have been found in strata declared by geologists to belong to the Pleistocene age, or between 500,000 and 750,000 years old.

If the antiquity of the evidence of human habitation were proved, it would alter the definition of the Pleistocene era, which is given by Webster as that "immediately preceding man."

The pit, although a veritable treasury of paleontological and geological specimens, is in daily commercial use. It is owned by A. H. Holloman, Frederick contractor and real estate dealer.

The most conclusive proofs of human habitation found are arrowheads, pronounced by Harold J. Cook, curator of the Colorado Museum of Natural History, as undoubtedly manufactured by man. In addition, numerous stones suggesting the heads of war clubs, spears and hammers; pottery trays and vessels; and clay tablets suggesting crude attempts at writing, have been unearthed.

Many scientists have visited the pit and most of the specimens are now in the possession of the Colorado museum, the Smithsonian Institution in Washington and the University of Oklahoma Museum in Norman. Other finds, many of which have not been viewed by experts, are stored away by Holloman.

Among the most interesting of these are two clay tablets. On one is carved an unmistakable fish; on the other the form of a man.

Two small objects closely resembling the hand and foot of an infant were found close together. The fingers and toes are well-defined.
