

Full Automatic
Leased Wire
of AP

Pampa Daily News

'The Newspaper of The New
Pampa'

VOL. 2, NO. 275

(P)—Means Associated Press

PAMPA, GRAY COUNTY, TEXAS, MONDAY EVENING, JANUARY 28, 1929

PRICE FIVE CENTS

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT RAPPED

JOHNSTON GIVEN TILL THURSDAY TO PREPARE CASE

ABILENE CHRISTIAN COLLEGE BUILDING DESTROYED BY FIRE

FIRE IS SEEN TOO LATE FOR SAVING PLANT

Cause Is Undetermined
—Loss Is Estimated
Over $100,000

CLASSES WILL BE CONTINUED

New Campus Will Not Be Ready Until Next Fall

ABILENE, Jan. 28. (P)—The administration building of the Abilene Christian college burned between 1 and 2 a. m., today.

The fire was discovered by Paul Southern, who had arrived at the college from a visit to his home, in the front part of the building. He turned in an alarm, but too late to save the building.

Nothing in the building was saved except a portion of the library and all the records. Loss is estimated at $100,000, or more.

The building will not be replaced for the reason that the college is erecting a new administration building in the new location and the college site is to be moved at the opening of school next fall. Temporary quarters will be used until the closing of the school in June.

Origin of the fire is undetermined. Students who lived in three dormitories, helped firemen save furniture and supplies from the building.

Firemen kept the flames from spreading to two dormitories, one on either side of the administration building.

At a meeting, the school's trustees decided that classes would be held in dormitories until temporary repairs could be made, if they are decided upon. The college is building a complete new plant two miles east of the present campus, for occupancy next fall. The three buildings now under construction include a $150,000 administration hall.

The building destroyed by today's fire was erected in 1906, and annexes were attached in 1919. It was of brick construction, two stories high. The walls were still standing today.

FIRE PREVENTION WORK IN SCHOOLS LOWERS KEY RATE

As the result of acceptable fire prevention work in the local schools the city key rate for fire insurance retains a cut of 3 cents, according to a letter from the state fire insurance commissioner to Supt. R. C. Campbell. The prescribed work includes instruction and drills from the third to the eighth grades, with compositions on fire prevention in the seventh and eighth grades.

AUSTIN WOMAN KILLED

AUSTIN, Jan. 28. (P)—Mrs. F. B. Lacey, member of a prominent Austin family, was fatally injured when struck by an automobile while returning from church services last night. Rev. W. L. Hankla, assistant pastor of the First Methodist church, was driving the car that struck Mrs. Lacey.

THE WEATHER VANE

WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy to unsettled tonight and Tuesday, probably snow in north and rain in south-east portion; much colder in north portion Tuesday and Tuesday night. Livestock warnings in north portion.

—AND A SMILE

RIGNAT, France. (P)—This village of 262 inhabitants is known as the "place where nobody marries." Wedding bells have not been heard here for four years. The population, composed almost entirely of spinsters and bachelors, is rapidly dying out.

Sunday's Forecast Rather Off But Signs of Recurring Wintry Weather More Apparent Today

Unlike the forecast of colder weather, Sunday was pleasantly fair and warmer after the severe cold of the earlier portion of last week.

An overcast sky and chilling wind early today were more up to predictions, however. A temperature that did not go far below the freezing point was, on the basis of reports from Denver and other points, slated to drop considerably by tonight.

DENVER, Jan. 28. (P)—As another severe cold wave swept into the Northwest today, heroic rescue stories filtered in from snowbound sections.

Jack Worth, old faithful inn winter keeper, was under a physician's care in Livingston, Mont., today after a battle in the deep snows of Yellowstone Park. The last stage of a trip out for medical attention was from Gardiner to Livingston, and when an ambulance was unable to break through, the Northern Pacific ran a special train to pick up the man, stricken with heart disease.

Worth was attended last week by his wife and a ranger. When the medicine gave out, rescue parties went to his relief. He was hauled by toboggan to Norris. A four-horse team and a tractor took him to Golden Gate where an ambulance replaced the bedded sleigh in which Worth had made the 52-mile journey.

A band of stockmen pushed their way back home through 10-foot snowdrifts from Cottonwood today after assurances that Narcie Aram, 11-year-old daughter of their friend, Jim Aram, was recovering from an operation for appendicitis.

The cowboys struggled through a blizzard and drifted snow for many hours, driving a band of horses before them to break the trail, as they fought to clear the path for the sleigh carrying the suffering girl, stricken last Thursday at her father's ranch.

Her father bundled her into a sleigh and started for Cottonwood, but after an all-day battle, was forced back. He called neighbors by telephone for assistance, and the response was immediate.

Scores of trucks and automobiles were weather bound in isolated Colorado and Wyoming sections today.

Most of the small towns and villages of Idaho which lacked railroad communications were isolated. Eastern Washington and Oregon were little better off.

Ed Bailey Held at Big Spring in Shreveport Case

SHREVEPORT, La., Jan. 28. (P)—Ed Bailey, alleged member of the trio of bandits who attempted the robbery of the avenue bank and seriously wounded William Funnell, teller, has been captured at Big Springs, Texas, according to a message received by Sheriff T. R. Hughes from A. G. Griffin, special detective for the sheriff.

Bailey, with Ace Pendleton, who was brought here Saturday afternoon from El Paso, Texas, and Owen Edwards, who is held at Eldorado, Ark., are alleged to have made up the trio who figured in the local attempted robbery. The telegram from Griffin stated Bailey refused to return without requisition. Extradition papers were mailed to Griffin at Big Springs and he was instructed to take them to Governor Moody at Austin to be honored.

Contemplating Bailey's early arrest in Texas, papers for his extradition were obtained a few days ago and have already been honored by Governor Long.

Bailey is charged with attempted robbery and shooting to murder.

Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Downs were called to Navasota this morning by the sudden death of Mrs. Downs' father. Mrs. Downs is public welfare and school nurse here.

Heads Realtors

Harry H. Culver, founder and builder of Culver City, Calif., was installed as the 1929 president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards at the recent convention in Birmingham, Ala. Mr. and Mrs. Culver flew from California to Birmingham in their private plane.

NEW ISLAND IS BYRD DISCOVERY DISPATCH SAYS

NEW YORK, Jan. 28. (P)—Commander Richard E. Byrd in a flight over King Edward VIII land yesterday discovered a new island and 14 peaks, according to a radio message from the Byrd south pole expedition, copyrighted by the New York Times and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Dr. Purviance Is Hospital Head

Dr. W. Purviance was elected president of Pampa Hospital, Inc., at a meeting of stockholders Saturday evening. Other officers are C. P. Buckler, secretary-treasurer, and a board of directors composed of Dr. W. Purviance, C. P. Buckler, Dr. A. Cole, Dave Osborne and Henry Lovett.

The financial report showed the hospital to be in excellent condition with a prosperous year just completed. A total of 473 patients were treated during the last year. Included in the list of cases were 208 operations, 22 medical cases, 20 fractures and 23 obstetrical cases.

BRIGGS IS CHOSEN

George W. Briggs, manager of the Pampa Board of City Development, received word this morning that he had been chosen as a member of the publicity committee of the Panhandle-Plains of Texas, Inc. Other members of the committee are Sam Braswell of Clarendon, chairman; Seth Holman of Hereford, Claude Holley of Quitaque, and Horace Russell of Amarillo.

BOY BADLY INJURED

Little Harley Riebow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Riebow, is confined to his bed with a fractured skull sustained last night about 8 o'clock. The little lad while playing fell about 20 feet. He is reported to be resting well today and is out of danger.

All those wishing to make reservations for the A. A. U. W. and College club banquet must do so by February 11. Phone Mrs. George Wolfe, 199-W.

DEMURRER TO ALL ARTICLES TO BE READY

Charges Consolidated on Assent of Court of Impeachment

TWO ATTORNEYS HANDLE DEFENSE

Rules of Procedure to Be Like Those of Walton Trial

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 28. (P)—Pleadings of Henry S. Johnston, suspended governor of Oklahoma, to five articles of impeachment before the Senate court of impeachment, were deferred today on motion of Johnston's attorneys until Thursday, when, counsel indicated, a demurrer will be entered to eight articles voted by the House.

Thomas H. Owen and Ned Looney Oklahoma City attorneys, appeared for Johnston, who was on the floor of the senate chamber.

John Head, chairman of the board of managers of the House of Representatives, assented to the proposal for consolidation of the charges immediately after Owen had made it.

The court of impeachment voted its assent unanimously, and was adjourned by Chief Justice Charles W. Mason, of the State Supreme Court, who presided, until Thursday.

Rules, almost identical to those governing the court of impeachment which discharged Governor Jack Walton, were adopted. They differed from the rules of the Walton trial only in the absence of an article providing that any question from senators in the course of the proceedings be submitted in writing. The senators will be permitted to question witnesses therefore from the floor of the court.

LeBouef Decree Without Authority Court Declares

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 28. (P)—By a vote of five to two, the Louisiana State Supreme Court held today that Chief Justice Charles A. O'Neill was without authority in granting a stay of execution for Mrs. Ada Bonner LeBouef and Dr. Thomas E. Dreher, sentenced to hang for the murder of James LeBouef. Chief Justice O'Neill dissented along with Associate Justice Thompson. The court held that after the majority of the court had refused a stay the chief justice was without power to stop the executions.

Scout Training Class to Meet

The third meeting of the Boy Scout leadership training school will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the basement of the Methodist church and an even larger attendance than last week is expected.

Under the leadership of Scott Barcus, scout commissioner of the Adobe Walls council, 35 men are taking an extensive course on boy leadership with the view of organizing numerous Boy Scout troops in Pampa. In all, eight sessions will be conducted.

UNDERWOOD IS BURIED WITH LITTLE CEREMONY

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 28. (P)—The soil of his adoption today claimed the body of former United States Senator Oscar W. Underwood, who for 32 years represented Alabama in congress.

Simple but impressive ceremonies marked the funeral in the independent Presbyterian church where he worshipped as a citizen of Birmingham.

Firemen Rescue Pilot From Tree

Thomas Hatton student pilot of Scranton, Pa., was pinned in the wreckage of his plane for more than two hours after the craft dropped into a tree in a Cincinnati street. Witnesses said he apparently kicked the wrong rudder in attempting a vertical bank and dived into the tree from an altitude of 200 feet. First rescue workers found Hatton unconscious, but he revived later and helped to direct a fire department life-saving squad in their efforts to free him. Hatton's right leg was badly crushed. Arrows indicate Hatton (right) and one of his rescuers (left).

CONDITIONS FOR DELIVERY SERVICE HERE NOT PLEASING AT PRESENT, OFFICIAL SAYS

Immediate granting of free mail delivery here is improbable, in view of present conditions, according to a letter received by George Briggs today from John H. Bartlett, first assistant postmaster general. Mr. Bartlett's letter: "Referring to your letter of January 18, concerning the establishment of city delivery service at Pampa, you are informed that the recent investigation by Inspector Johnson at that office developed that conditions are not favorable for city delivery, in that continuous sidewalks are lacking and street lights, street signs, and house numbers are only partly provided.

"It was further ascertained that there is no congestion in the Pampa post office and the present service appears entirely satisfactory. "In view of the facts stated, it does not appear that favorable action should be taken at this time."

Only 563 Poll Taxes Have Been Paid Here—3,400 Paid in 1928

There is a big margin between 3,400 and 563, but that is the difference between the number of poll tax receipts issued last year and the number taken out so far this year. With Thursday the last day to buy them a rush is expected at the courthouses. "Residents of Pampa do not seem to realize that some important issue

Captain Fried and Shipmates to Face Blizzard of Broadway Tape

NEW YORK, Jan. 28. (P)—Captains George Fried and his mates of the Florida rescue were headed into another storm today—a gale of cheers and a blizzard of ticker tape. Their course lay over the famous hero's trail from the Battery up Broadway to the city hall to permit the city's thousands to voice their admiration for the skill and daring which saved 32 lives from the sinking Italian freighter 700 miles off the Virginia capes last Wednesday.

The program for the parade and reception called for the bringing of Captain Fried and his men from Hoboken to the battery on the city tug, Macon, at noon. An escort composed of regulars from Governor's Island and sailors from the navy yard was ordered for the march up Broadway. LOCAL COUPLE MARRIED Miss Janie Lynne Hartson and Jack Roy Steele, both of Pampa, were married Saturday evening by Justice C. E. Cary in his office in the court house. Mr. Steele is an employee of the Jones-Everett Machine company. The couple will make their home here. T. D. Hobart went to Amarillo yesterday to meet O. H. Shoup, Sr., former governor of Colorado, and O. H. Shoup, Jr. The party then planned to visit the J. A. ranch.

HOUSE VOTES FOR THOROUGH INVESTIGATION

Twenty-Two Allegations Made by Member of Waxahachie

CONTROL BOARD ALSO INVOLVED

Extravagance Is Chief Item of Purported Misconduct

AUSTIN, Jan. 28. (P)—The house voted 105 to 24 today to investigate 22 charges of alleged misconduct against the highway commission and four against the board of control, preferred in a resolution offered by Representative Elwood Gerron of Waxahachie.

AUSTIN, Jan. 28. (P)—Citing 22 charges of alleged misconduct against the state highway department during the past two years and four against the state board of control, Representative Elwood Gerron of Waxahachie, today introduced a house concurrent resolution asking for an investigation of the two departments by a committee of seven legislative members.

Four of the probes would be appointed by the Speaker of the House and three by the president of the Sen-

ABILENE, Jan. 28. (P)—W. R. Ely, Abilene, highway commissioner, said today that he would welcome an investigation of the department, as proposed in the legislature.

"I am very happy to have the legislature make the investigation inasmuch as these charges have been made for the past several months," Mr. Ely said. "The people are entitled to know the truth and the proponents of the resolution to investigate are commended, so far as I am concerned, for their patriotic zeal in what they deem best for the public welfare."

ate. Under Gerron's resolution, they would be authorized to check transactions of the general land office, a duty with which a joint committee of five already has been vested.

Extravagance Chief Charges which Representative Gerron asserts have been directed against the highway department during the past two years in a purported controversy with the board of control relative to the purchase of road equipment machinery are: Usurpation of authority by highway and maintenance engineers in recommending buying of machinery, inexcusable extravagance in the purchase of $150,000 of road machinery in 1927, illegal waste of $10,389 worth of wheels without competitive bids by Maintenance Engineer Leo Ehlinger in September, 1927, improper leasing of road machinery, extravagance in buying two rock crushers in 1928, when the state is alleged to have had three crushers, leased to private concerns; insistence of the department that a

(See CHARGES, Page 8)

THE POLL TAX

An Editorial This should be Poll Tax Payment Week in Pampa and Gray county. Only three more days remain in which citizen may arm themselves with the privilege to vote.

In giving Gray county, it cannot be said that there will be no important elections this year—there are apt to be several in this vicinity. To pay the poll tax is a duty, but more than that, it is the only safe procedure for the men and women who claim to be fully enfranchised American citizens.

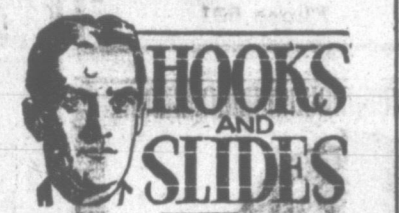

Think it over—pay that poll tax immediately and avoid the last minute rush.

Aggie Quintet to Have New Men

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 28. (Special)—Two more men will be added to Coach Chuck Bassett's already promising group of forwards on the Aggie cage team with the beginning of the second semester Feb. 1.

Pay "Mule" Wilson of Honey Grove former Texas Aggie backfield and track star, has been a visitor on the A. & M. campus for several days.

After overwhelming the Navasota high school cagers in their first game of the season, Coach Roswell Higginbotham's freshmen cagers lost their second game of the season to the Bryan high school cagers last week.

HOOKS AND SLIDES

SMOORED UP THE PARTY Ace Hudkins laments to his friends back home that he has been given the silent count by the New York Boxing Commission.

Hudkins says the crowd went out when William Muldoon turned him in to his colleagues as a "common bar-room brawler" who did not fit in with the scheme in these days of society prize fighting.

The Ace, according to the story, blundered in making a bloody mess out of his fight with Rene De Vos.

ON THE FASTEST TRAIN, TOO Myle Thomas, the college pitcher, who had to serve a year for playing and signing a contract under a phoney name, is back in the big leagues.

GOLD FOOTBALLS DON'T WORK Pat Page, four letter man at Chicago in his university days and now football coach at Indiana University, was showing a Chicago newspaperman a trunk full of gold footballs and track medals he had won when he was attending.

FORMER WIFE OF THAW UNDER ARREST NEW YORK, Jan. 28. (P)—Evelyn Nesbit, former wife of Harry K. Thaw, was at liberty under bond today after her arrest in a liquor raid on a Harlem night club.

STUDENT DRINKING PROBED BALTIMORE, Jan. 28. (P)—Following the suspension of three students in the eastern high school for girls for alleged intoxication in class last week, Dr. David E. Weglein, superintendent of public instruction, sought today to determine whether liquor can be purchased by students from neighborhood speakeasies as has been reported.

PRUETT GETS CONTINUANCE DALLAS, Jan. 28. (P)—William (Dagger) Pruett, who was to have been tried today on the first of five robbery-with-firearms indictments, was granted a continuance until February 18.

EIGHT PRISONERS ESCAPE WETUMPREA, Ala., Jan. 28. (P)—Eight prisoners overpowered the night watchman at the state penitentiary here about 2 a. m. and escaped.

BRUSHING UP SPORTS By Laufer

HE'S CALLED BACK TO HIS OLD LOVE, BASEBALL.

"Greasy" Neale, outfielder for the Cincinnati Reds when they were champions of the baseball world and later a successful college football coach, is back to his old game.

Weaker Teams Strengthened, While Leaders Are Not Hampered Much Thru Trades—Yankees Get Young Hurlers

By ORLO L. ROBERTSON Associated Press Sports Writer CHICAGO, Jan. 28. (P)—With revamped infields, more or less uncertain outfields and likely looking new comers among battery men, the American league this year assumes the aspect of a one-ring circus with the New York Yankees the ringmaster.

Although the off-season was productive of deals designed to improve the various clubs it remains to be seen whether the changes have been for the better. On paper the trades seem to have struck a more even balance among the entries.

LE FORTS MAN ESCAPES AS CAR OVERTURNS Guy Teel of LeFors received only minor injuries yesterday morning when his new Ford roadster overturned on the Amarillo road, two miles west of Kingsmill.

STUDENT DRINKING PROBED BALTIMORE, Jan. 28. (P)—Following the suspension of three students in the eastern high school for girls for alleged intoxication in class last week, Dr. David E. Weglein, superintendent of public instruction, sought today to determine whether liquor can be purchased by students from neighborhood speakeasies as has been reported.

PRUETT GETS CONTINUANCE DALLAS, Jan. 28. (P)—William (Dagger) Pruett, who was to have been tried today on the first of five robbery-with-firearms indictments, was granted a continuance until February 18.

Airplane Victim Was Great Athlete

FORT WORTH, Jan. 28. (Special)—Don Frazee, who was killed in an airplane crash at San Angelo Friday, was one of the best fullbacks ever to play for Texas Christian university.

"He was one of the best fullbacks I ever coached," said Matty Bell, Frog mentor. Frazee was especially adept at backing up the line and was considered as one of the best defensive backs in the Southwestern loop.

"He was one of the best defensive men I have ever seen anywhere," said Ed Kubale, Frog line coach.

Old Timers

These men will be the leading lights at the 25th anniversary of the founding of agricultural extension to be held at Houston, Texas, February 5 to 7.

DEMOCRATS TO FIGHT HOOVER SESSION PLAN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (P)—Herbert Hoover is going to bump into a fight with the democrats on his proposal to limit the intended extra session of the new congress this spring to the consideration of tariff and farm legislation.

IF YOU MISS YOUR PAPER!

The Pampa Daily News is anxious to make its daily delivery service perfect, that no one miss a copy. Your co-operation by following these suggestions will make that possible.

For 25 years Osgood's Memorials have been the selection of families throughout the Panhandle for their departed loved ones.

Brothers—All Grid Players

Speaking of your brother acts in sports, what about the Gills of California? There are four of them, all football players, studying at Berkeley at this time and they say two more are coming along in a year or two.

VIADUCT CONTRACT IS LET TO SHERMAN FIRM

CANYON, Jan. 28. (Special)—Contract has been let for a viaduct under the tracks of the Santa Fe railway north of Canyon on Highway 33. The contract went to Womack-Hennings Construction company of Sherman.

STEAMERS COLLIDE

LONDON, Jan. 28. (P)—Two steamship collisions were reported from coastal points of England today in thick weather. The British freighter, Ravelstone, collided with the Greek steamer, Neion, south of Dungeness.

CLOTHING DONATED

WACO, Jan. 28. (P)—Women students at Baylor university here yesterday sent a huge bundle of clothing to their sister-students at Baylor college, Belton, whose personal belongings were destroyed in a fire which burned Luther hall dormitory Saturday morning.

THIEF ONE-LEGGED

EAGLE, Pass, Jan. 28. (P)—A one-legged negro, who said his name was Earl Antwine, and he had escaped from the penitentiary at Baton Rouge, La., was arrested here last night.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Capital, Surplus and Undivided Profits over $85,000.00

Officers: B. E. FINLEY, President J. R. HENRY, Vice-President DELEA VICARS, Vice-President EDWIN S. VICARS, Cashier J. O. GILLHAM, Asst. Cashier B. D. ROBINSON, Asst. Cashier

IF YOU MISS YOUR PAPER! The Pampa Daily News is anxious to make its daily delivery service perfect, that no one miss a copy.

CIRCULATION DEPARTMENT PAMPA DAILY NEWS Stop in, phone, or write for new illustrated folder: "How to Select a Memorial," sent free on request.

Runner-Up Honors at Stake While Razorbacks Rest

DALLAS, Jan. 28. (P)—Once more the Arkansas university cagers are to remain on the top step of the Southwestern conference ladder as three other conference teams meet in two games this week.

With only their short trunks and thin jerseys to protect them against possibly freezing weather, the University of Texas Longhorns are to participate in both games.

Arkansas' unchallenged lead won't be hurt this week, but either of the two games might have considerable bearing on runner-up honors.

The Oldest and Youngest Groceryman in Pampa. W. E. Coffe, Phone 625. We Deliver.

Miss Francis McKenzie spent the week-end with friends in Clarendon.

PHONE the Repairman

GENERAL AUTOMOBILE REPAIRING On all makes of automobiles. Repairing, Reconditioning, Re-boring cylinders of all makes. Reasonable Prices THUT-SAUNDERS MOTOR CO. Phone 511

BOILERS For boiler repair work and welding call

Economy Boiler & Welding Works Phone 225 West Foster Ave., opposite Schafer Hotel

BROKEN GLASS replaced by

PAMPA GLASS WORKS Glass for every purpose PHONE 142 Residence Phone 656

FURNITURE REPAIRING

Refinishing Upholstering Old Furniture made new by expert workmen. Phone 181 G. C. Malone Furniture Co.

GREASING, Pampa's most modern High Pressure

Greasing Service. Puts the grease where it should be. Federal Tires Guaranteed Tire Repairing Pampa Lubrication (Opposite Corner Pampa Daily News Building)

PIPE THREADING, General Machine Work

24-hour Service when You Need It. PHONE 243 JONES-EVERETT MACHINE CO.

OIL NEWS and NOTES

Heavy Wet Gas at Eslick Test Is Encountered

An additional three and one-half million feet of wet gas was picked up in the Eslick & McKinney's No. 1 Magie Hopkins, in the northeast corner of the east half of the northeast quarter of section 84, block B-2, H. & G. N. survey, yesterday while drilling ahead at 2,720 feet. Drilling was continued this morning with the well logging with other good producers on the Bowers-McGee pool.

This important wildcat being drilled by Ernest Eslick, local man, is situated three miles south of proved territory in the Bowers-McGee pool. If brought in it will be another boost to new territory in the South Pampa field.

Human Interest in Drilling Tests

FORT STOCKTON, Jan. 28. (AP)—In the background of every oil well drilled in the expansive acres of the Trans-Pecos country is said to lie a human interest story.

The most recent of the romances surrounds Levi Scott, who 40 years ago helped dig an irrigation ditch from the Pecos river to the adjacent semi-arid land. He wanted to settle down and farm on four sections. Unable to obtain all the land in one tract, he acquired three sections in one plot and one section several miles distant. On the latter he farmed by irrigation.

Scott died. The property went to heirs and recently passed into the hands of Hal Cochran. A company was organized to drill the land. A rig first was placed on the section where Scott had lived as a farmer. Later the rig was moved to one of the other three sections and a strike made. The well, at last reports, was making more than 100 barrels of oil a day and the bit had barely pierced the sand.

The new pole is a short distance from the Miracle well, which gushed thousands of barrels of petroleum daily from a depth of 96 feet for several days, then quit, and became a graveyard for abandoned drilling tools and derricks. The Miracle now spouts foul-odored sulphur water, but still attracts attention, as a lighted match will ignite gas coming from the gushing water that rolls off to form a marsh.

Brown-Finley Test Drilling Rapidly

One of the interesting semi-wildcat operations in Gray county is Marland's No. 1 Brown-Finley, 330 feet south and west of the northeast corner of section 22, block B-2, H. & G. N. survey.

Good progress has been made by the drillers despite the inclement weather, and the bit yesterday was going ahead at 1,900 feet. Nearly midway between the Bowers-McGee and LeFors areas, and a little south of the river, this test is being closely watched by oil men.

Seminole Has 316 Wells Drilling Now

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 28. (AP)—Three hundred and sixteen wells are under way at present in the greater Seminole area, with 257 wells actually drilling.

Maud pool reports 122 operations with 48 standardized and due for completion within the next week or two. Mission has 88 operations, with 63 standardized. Six new locations were staked at Maud this past week and 13 rigs are up; Mission had six new locations and has 12 rigs up. There are 19 inactive wells in the Mission pool and three at Maud.

New Carbon Plant Permit Is Asked

The Shell Oil company has made application to the oil and gas division of the railroad commission for permission to erect and operate a carbon black plant in section 107, block 4, Carson county. A hearing has been set for February 4, in Austin.

The request states that the plant would use 10,000,000 cubic feet of residue gas a day. The site is about 12 miles west and a little north of Pampa, adjacent to Roxana.

3300 Nabbed in Chicago Crime Roundup

Detectives are shown quizzing a few of the 3394 criminal suspects seized suddenly in Chicago by a mass roundup by the entire police force. Crowds battled for admission to the "showup," the most extensive ever under taken by Chicago authorities.

MOST WEST TEXAS CITIES AND TOWNS HAVE AIRPORTS BUILT OR PLANS WELL UNDER WAY

STAMFORD, Jan. 28. (Special)—There is no question mark in the minds of the people of West Texas as to whether aviation is going to be the leading means of transportation in the future.

Almost every town in the western section of Texas is either maintaining an airport, building one, or doing its best to get the proper people interested in designating one, regardless of the fact that in the majority of cases the operation of an airport will be an expense for a number of years.

Various methods are used to get the people "air-minded." In Sweetwater where a 260-acre plot for an airport has recently been purchased at $70 an acre the Chamber of Commerce induced two government airport men to visit the city and talk aviation. Commercial fliers and aviation enthusiasts were asked to speak at civic luncheon club meetings in the effort to sell the idea of a municipally owned airport to the public, and the Sweetwater paper conducted a news and editorial campaign keeping the people informed as to advancement of aviation in other sections. The result is that a hangar and standard markers are to be erected.

Donations Help
In Ranger every club indorsed the movement to get an airport and each appointed a committee to look after a specific thing such as grounds, hangar, etc. Robert Hazen of the department of commerce came to Ranger and approved one of several sites that had been picked out. The city bought the land, and the improvements were made by public donations.

In this way a 60x60 all-steel hangar was placed on the field and equipped with telephone, electric lights, water, aviation gas, and oil for servicing of planes. A 200-foot circle standard marker was placed in the field. All fence posts and nearby telephone and telegraph poles which constituted an obstruction or menace to landing were painted with alternate bands of chrome yellow and black.

Commercial Port
Snyder's new airport will be entirely a commercial port, probably the first of its kind in West Texas, and in addition to landing fields and hangar will have a modern filling station, restaurant, camp grounds with rooms running from 50c and $2.50 a night, natural gas, water, electricity, and sewage disposal. Snyder expects to spend $50,000, on its recently purchased 200-acre port.

At Waco, bonds amounting to $75,000 were voted to buy Richfield, which had not been used since the war, for an airport. It now has on its 258 acres of ground three wooden hangars, a beacon light, and boundary lights; and $23,400 of the bonds left to spend on providing gravel runways, another hangar and floodlights.

The airport at Midland, where from 40 to 60 planes land each month, is a kind of monument to the late Sam Sloan. The field has a four-plane hangar, administration building, home for the chief pilot, and a 18,000-gallon aviation gas tank from which 22 gallons of fuel is electrically pumped per minute. Midland's port is one of the most popular in the state with trans-continental fliers.

Six-ship Hangar
Kinsolving field, Abilene's airport, has hangar accommodations for six ships, is lighted and has fuel and oil. A stock of spare parts are kept available. A $100,000 bond issue to give Abilene a larger hangar, offices, and a lighting system that will meet all government requirements is expected to be voted by a large majority.

Two Ford tri-motored all-metal 12-passenger airliners make their home at the El Paso modern airport. A new Consolidate "Hushy" has been purchased for training purposes. Several long trips by plane have been inaugurated by the Chamber of Commerce over an itinerary which included Pecos, Fort Stockton, McCamey, Odessa, Wink, Pyote and Carlsbad. Another trip had Mexico City as its objective.

Lubbock has a temporary airport equipped with markers, and available to transportation, refueling, and other similar accommodations. Several pilots live in the city, and others spend weeks there because of the good landing field. The city has an option on sites for a permanent airport, and expects to have a municipally owned class A airport within the next 60 days.

The Following Blank Forms are Available at the Pampa Daily News:

- Mechanic's Lien Notes
- Deed of Trust Notes
- Vendor's Lien Notes—Installment.
- Installment Notes—Chattel Mortgage.
- Vendor's Lien Note—Single.
- Mechanic's Lien Contract.
- Release of Vendor's Lien.
- Quit Claim Deeds.
- Chattel Mortgage—General Form.
- Bill of Sale—General.
- Bill of Sale—Automobile.
- Warranty Deed with Vendor's Lien.
- Lease—City Property.
- Warranty Deed.
- Assignment of Oil and Gas Lease.
- Oil and Gas Lease—88 Revised.
- Chattel Mortgage—Automobile.
- Installment Note—Automobile.

PAMPA DAILY NEWS

Corner West Foster and Somerville

AMUSEMENTS

PIRATES ARE HERE

The Jazz Pirates returned to the Rex theatre today to start another four-day engagement. The vaudeville program will be changed daily with new specialties by the Mahavier sisters.

"Anybody Here Seen Kelly" is the feature picture for today and tomorrow "Floating College" will be on the screen Wednesday and Thursday.

The Jazz Pirates will complete this week's engagement with another midnite show starting at 11:45 o'clock Thursday night.

WINGS IS THRILLER

A capacity audience greeted the opening yesterday at the Crescent theatre of "Wings," Adolph Zukor's and Jesse equipped with 3,000 feet runways will some day be one of the most used ports in the state.

Frank Shelton, the licensed pilot at Denton, and Ray Hudley, the only citizen who owns a plane, are not the only ones interested in aviation there since these men are kept busy carrying up local thrill seekers, and using their planes in trips to other cities, and in advertising campaigns.

Oil Planes at Pecos

Pecos, which was one of the control stops for the national air races last year, at which time the world's most noted woman flier was entertained in the city for five days, is the home of oil companies who keep Spartan and Travelair planes to commute with offices in other states.

Cisco is rapidly preparing a 200-acre plot of ground to meet first-class requirements. The field will be sodded this summer.

For fear some bewildered aviator flying at night might alight on some of her buildings, Canadian has a remarkable marker in the way of illuminated light.

Plainview Has Plans

Plainview has an emergency port of 80 acres which is used when planes wish to land there. The interest in aviation is intense and two citizens, G. A. Lowery and Theo Brown own planes. William J. McKenzie, airport specialist of the department of commerce of the United States visited Plainview in an official capacity recently and outlined the requirements of a modern airport. The city intends to act on his suggestions during the year.

Pampa has leased a 160-acre landing field, with Ray Shifflet, licensed pilot of Mangum, Okla., conducting a flying school on it. Fifteen local citizens have been students.

Civic organizations in Breckenridge were responsible for the visit of Harry Weddington of the United States air corps, who officially approved two locations for airports, one of which will be chosen and improved in the near future.

Although Coleman does not have a landing field at this time the interest of the citizenship in the subject is shown by the fact that they sent the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce to the aviation school of the Texas Air Transport, Inc., in Fort Worth.

Eastland Field Ideal
Eastland is establishing a strictly modern aviation field on the Bankhead highway just past the Bell Hurst poultry farm towards Ranger on a location that has natural drainage and a soil that will not bag, enabling landing and take-off regardless of wind direction.

Since Big Spring is strategically located as an operating center for West Texas oil fields, the 160-acre port located two miles west of the city on the Broadway of America which is being

JOB PRINTING

Whatever your job printing needs may be, we can take care of them and turn out a job that will be a delight to the eye. The importance of good printing cannot be over estimated. It increases the value of your business tenfold. We can take care of both big and small jobs at exceptionally moderate prices. Work turned out promptly—no waiting. Come in and consult us on your printing problems! Estimates cheerfully furnished!

"Here Since 1907"

Pampa Daily News

Menus of the Day

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE

Cakes for Children

Cakes for the children's school lunch should be simple and easily digested. Cake, however, is not complete to the child without some kind of frosting. Chopped nuts, raisins, dates, figs, coconut or prunes, sprinkled over the cake batter after it has been poured into the pan, will suffice for a frosting, which will appeal to the child.

Dinner

- Salmon Loaf
- Stuffed Baked Potatoes
- Cabbage Salad
- Bread
- Butter
- Cottage Pudding
- Swiss Chocolate Sauce
- Coffee

Salmon Loaf, Serving Six

1 cup salmon, flaked with a silver fork, 1 cup cracker crumbs, 2 tablespoons chopped celery, 2 tablespoons finely chopped sweet pickles, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley (this may be omitted), 1 egg, 2-3 cup milk, 2 tablespoons butter, melted.

Mix all the ingredients and pack into a buttered loaf pan. Bake in a moderate oven. Unmold and surround with a thick cream sauce. Serve cut in slices.

Cabbage Salad, Serving Six

3 cups chopped cabbage, 1-4 cup chopped pimientos, 1-4 cup chopped celery, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon paprika, 1-3 cup salad, 1-3 cup salad dressing.

Chill the ingredients. Combine and serve at once. Cabbage salad will discolor if allowed to stand, so it should be served soon after it has been made.

Swiss Chocolate Sauce

(This may be served on ice creams or baked puddings.)

2-3 cup light brown sugar, 2 squares chocolate melted, 1-8 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 1-2 cups water, 1 teaspoon butter, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Mix the sugar and flour. Blend well and add the chocolate, cut in small pieces, and the salt and water. Cook slowly and stir constantly until the sauce thickens. Add the rest of the ingredients. Mix well and serve hot or cold.

Christian Science Society
Room 2, First National Bank Bldg.
Sunday School 9:45 a. m.
Sunday service, 11 a. m.
Subject, "TRUTH".
Wednesday evening, Testimonies meeting, 8 p. m.
The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

Hoover Is Poultry Raiser of Skill

Herbert Hoover, president-elect, who has the distinction of holding more honorary college degrees than any other man in the country—26 in fact—has also won the right to two additional degrees from the school of practical experience. These are Practical Farmer and Experienced Poultry Raiser, according to C. C. Dodd, local hatcheryman, who operates the Dodd's hatchery.

Although little was said about it during the pre-election campaign, Mr. Hoover, in partnership with Ralph Merritt, owns a 1,313-acre farm 250 miles from San Francisco. Here he raises crops valued at hundreds of thousands of dollars each year. In addition, the farm has 2,500 laying hens, 200 sows and 150 cows.

Hatchery chicks are the nucleus from which the Hoover farm poultry flock was built, according to Mr. Dodd. In accordance with the most modern farm poultry methods, and in the interests of economy and profits, the Hoover stock is replenished each year with baby chicks from hatcheries. Eggs are marketed regularly, the income from this source proving considerable, since only the best high egg-laying stock is used to make up the laying flocks. The usual culling, and marketing of broilers adds another source of profit, and removes the "laster hen" from the flocks, thus giving increased egg production at less feed cost.

Mrs. M. A. Finney underwent a tonsillectomy in a local hospital yesterday.

Same Price FOR OVER 38 YEARS 25 ounces for 25¢

KC BAKING POWDER

Guaranteed Pure Use KC for fine texture and large volume in your bakings

Millions of pounds used by our Government

Pampa Daily News CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING

Rates and Information
Phone Your Want Ad to

All Want Ads are cash in advance. They must be paid before they will be inserted. Want Ads may be telephoned to the office before 12 o'clock on the day of insertion and a collector will call.

Rates: Two cents per word per insertion; three insertions for five cents; minimum, twenty-five cents per insertion.

One of town advertising cash with order.

The Daily News reserves the right to classify all Want Ads under appropriate headings and to revise or withhold from publication any copy deemed objectionable or misleading. Notice of any error must be given in time for correction before second insertion.

Pampa Social News
BY MISS RUTH RITTENHOUSE. PHONE 666

Mrs. Taylor Driving News Prize Chevrolet

Mrs. L. R. Taylor is the proud possessor of a 1929 model Chevrolet sedan, which she won in connection with the Pampa Daily News subscription campaign.

Mrs. Taylor won a coach, but preferred to pay the $80 difference and get a sedan. Through the courtesy of the Culberson-Small Chevrolet company, she was allowed to receive the new model.

For Rent

FOR RENT—Two neatly furnished front light housekeeping rooms, with bath. Apply 3 doors north of Grace Street Grocery. 73-1c

FOR RENT—Three room apartment block east of west ward school. Phone 166-W. 73-3p

FOR RENT—Furnished apartment over Coco Cola Bottling Co. 73-3c

FOR RENT—Six room modern house two blocks south of depot. South Ballard. See Owen. 73-3p

For Rent

Dandy modern home unfurnished in Talley Addition, two blocks west of Foster street. Five big nice rooms, good decorations, edge grain floors, double garage. Good corner lot. Screened in big back porch. To desirable tenants with no small children; $50.

Nice modern three room duplex unfurnished in Talley Addition, two blocks north Ward's Market. $30.

Decent three room unfurnished Talley Addition, West side, rent to good tenant. $20.

TRADES

Improved and unimproved Pampa property up to $20,000 to trade for good wheat land in Panhandle. Also might suit in half section or section and half good Panhandle land with above property on larger tract. We own this property so no commissions to pay to deal with us.

Want extra good light car, will trade malt house or vacant lots.

J. G. CHRISTY or PAMPA DEVELOPMENT COMPANY

PHONE 231, P. O. BOX 774
TALLEY ADDITION BUILDING
PAMPA, TEXAS

WHY PAY RENT

Pampa Home Builder will plan your home; sell you the lot; loan you the money; build your house. See A. P. STARK, 427 S. Faulkner or Phone 393.

FOR RENT—One 2 room modern apartment also sleeping room in private home. Call 384 or Owl Drug store. 74-3p

FOR RENT—Modern 3 room furnished duplex close in, on pavement. Call 356-J. 74-3p

FOR RENT—Two room furnished house. All bills paid. See Morrow, Gray County bank. 74-3p

FOR RENT—Nice bedroom next to bath in new modern home. See Nathan Jones, Phone 666. 74-1c

FOR RENT—Furnished bedroom in modern home. Close in. Gentlemen preferred. Phone Cobl 169. 74-3p

FOR RENT—A new modern house 5 rooms and bath, fairly close in, good neighborhood. Basement with hot and cold water and gas. $50 month in advance. See J. M. Turner at News office. 75-1c

FOR RENT—One large housekeeping room, bath, $40 paid. Sidewalk, close in. Mrs. Latus, Phone 244. 75-1c

FOR RENT—Three room apartment and garage. Close in. All bills paid. Phone 471-J. 75-3p

FOR RENT—Nice clean restaurant, including living quarters. Good location for right party. Inquire at Pampa Bakery. 75-6p

FOR RENT—Stucco garage, 215 Gillispie. Block east of Texan hotel. 75-1p

FOR RENT—Three room furnished apartment, private bath. Phone 263 Dr. Mann. 75-1c

Wanted

WANTED—Good female canary. Phone 656. 73-3c

WANTED—Woman or girl who has had some experience in collections and typing. Box L M News. 72-3p

WANT TO buy good milk cow. Call Regier at Pampa Motor. 70-6p

WANTED—Plumbing & repair work. Let us insulate your pipes to prevent freezing, estimate given on all plumbing work. Phone 399-J, 210 Starkweather. R. C. Storey. 74-3p

WANTED—Milk cows for their care and feed to milk, also sheep on halves. Have good grass and barn near town. Write Box 485, Pampa. 74-6p

Money to Loan

Ten years to pay. Thirteen Dollars per month No stock to buy. WHY PAY MORE?

Also write LIFE AND ACCIDENT Insurance. Pay you to see us for either.

List your property with us and we will do our darndest to sell it. Room 13, Duncan bldg. L. J. STARKEY, Manager.

F. C. WORKMAN MORIS DRUG STORE BALCONY NEXT TO WOLWORTHS PHONE 271

TO THE STOCKHOLDERS OF CLINTON - OKLAHOMA - WESTERN RAILROAD COMPANY OF TEXAS:

You are hereby notified that the Board of Directors has called a meeting of the stockholders to be held in the City of Wichita Falls, County of Wichita, State of Texas, at the principal office of the Company, on the 15th day of March, 1929, between the hours of 2 o'clock p. m., and 8 o'clock p. m., to consider and act upon a proposition to authorize the execution by the Company of a mortgage on all of its railroad properties now owned or hereafter acquired, to secure bonds to be hereafter issued in series, so much of such bonds as may be necessary, not exceeding Two Million Four Hundred Thousand Dollars, to be used in paying or exchange for the present indebtedness of the Company, other bonds to be issued to be used for the acquisition, construction or extension of railroads, additions and betterments to such railroads and properties now or hereafter owned, and for other lawful corporate purposes; and for series of bonds to be provided for the payment of such lawful rate of interest, to be taxfree or not taxfree, to be convertible or not convertible into shares of capital stock, as may be determined

FRANK E. BUCKINGHAM AND DANIEL E. BOONE

Rooms 328 and 329, Amarillo Building—Phone 4729
Amarillo, Texas

Tax Consultants, Income and Estate Tax Specialists. Members ENROLLED TO PRACTICE BEFORE UNITED STATES TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

Twenty years' experience in handling tax matters. Accounting, Auditing, Systematizing and Bookkeeping.

by the Board of Directors, and to contain such other terms and conditions as may be determined or prescribed by said Board; and such mortgage to contain such terms and conditions as may be prescribed or authorized by the stockholders at said proposed meeting.

O. B. WOMACK, Secretary. 2-15

THE BUSINESS, PROFESSIONAL AND COMMERCIAL DIRECTORY OF THE CITY OF PAMPA

PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS ARCHIE COLE, M. D. PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON Office over First National Bank Office Hours 10 to 12-3 to 5 Residence Phone 8 Office Phone 55 DR. W. PURVIANCE Office over First National Bank PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON Office Hours: 9 to 12-1 to 5 Office Phone 107 Residence 45 DR. EARL THOMASON Dentist First National Bank Building PAMPA, TEXAS BARBERS SCHNEIDER BARBER SHOP Open 7 A. M. to 9 P. M. Saturday 11 P. M. Specializing in Ladies Hair Cuts BILL HULSEY, Prop. PALACE BARBER SHOP We are responsible for 50c Ladies' Hair Cuts Johnson Hotel Bldg. Tub and Shower Baths PIANO INSTRUCTIONS Mrs. Charles Boles Private and Class Instruction Phone 345-W. 715 W. Francis	LAWYERS STUDER, STENNIS & STUDER LAWYERS Phone 777 First National Bank Building CONTRACTORS HENRY L. LEMONS General Oil Field Contracting Office: New Schneider Hotel Office Phone 300—Res. Phone 407-J H. L. Case & Co. General Contracting Phone 162 George E. May Artistic Home Builder and Contractor Box 971 Phone 374 TRANSFER PAMPA TRANSFER & STORAGE CO. Moving, Shipping, Storage Phone 586 "Reliable Service" TAXIDERMIST VERNON E. MOORE Taxidermist Specimens guaranteed to be mounted true to life. P. O. Box 2024 Pampa, Tex. Phone 566-M	EYE SPECIALIST DR. T. M. MONTGOMERY Eye Sight Specialist In Pampa Every Saturday Office in Fathesse Drug Store ARCHITECTS W. R. KAUFMAN Architect White Deer Bldg. Phone 599 INSURANCE R. G. "DICK" HUGHES Life Underwriter Brunow Building Phone 531 CHIROPRACTOR DR. A. W. MANN Chiropractor Rooms 20, 21, Smith Bldg. Office Phone 263 Residence Phone 293 PICTURE FRAMING PICTURE FRAMING By an expert Large Assortment of Mouldings THOMPSON HARDWARE COMPANY Phone 43
---	--	---

Orchid
by ELEANOR FARLEY
COPYRIGHT 1928 BY NEA SERVICE INC.

THIS HAS HAPPENED

All sorts of things are happening to ASHTORETH ASH. First, she gets herself engaged to a multi-millionaire—the famous HOLIS HART. Then an ex-sweetheart, MONTY ENGLISH, appears upon the scene. Ashtoreth leaves him in New York, following their arrival in America from a cruise to the West Indies. Hollis means to fly to Boston. Ashtoreth reaches home, she learns that Monty is also flying that night to Boston, determined to see her on an important matter.

Ashtoreth and her mother, with SADIE HORTON, are listening to the radio when the broadcaster of the BOSTON NEWS announces that a plane, in flight from New York to Boston, has been lost. Mrs. Ashe telephones the paper for further information, and learns something else from the city editor.

The news has received information about Hollis Hart and Ashtoreth. There has been a scandalous story already printed in late afternoon papers in New York. The Boston papers will have it next morning.

Mrs. Ashe, heartbroken and sad, says to her daughter, "It isn't true, what she says! It isn't true, Ashtoreth!"

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXVIII

ASHTORETH faced them like an outraged goddess. Tall and slim, and white as marble. "No, no, of course," she said. "Was Hollis there?" demanded Sadie shrewdly.

"Yes, he was there." Ashtoreth turned on her defiantly. "But you know perfectly well, Sadie, that everything was all right."

"Yeah!" Sadie jeered roughly. "I know you're a dam' sight smarter than I am—that's what I know. And not a dam' bit better. Just smarter, that's all."

Maizie turned on her like a ter-magant.

"None of that!" she ordered. "None of your cheap talk, Sadie Morton."

But Sadie would not be silenced. "Ask her about the tropical island love nest!" she taunted. "Ask your lily white daughter that, Mrs. Ashe."

"See here!" Ashtoreth turned on them proudly. "Hollis and I are engaged. We're going to be married. . . . Suddenly she grew tense, and her chin dropped in a frightened sort of way. . . . He's flying over from New York," she said. "That's why I was so worried, Mums. He—he—may be dead!"

"Maybe!" Sadie was still and unfeeling. And her voice pierced like a cruel shaft. "That would be a good break, wouldn't it, Ash? Dead men tell no tales. Ash? You'd better wait, though—he might be alive, you know. Maybe it was only Monty that got killed. The poor sucker!"

Maizie clucked her hand roughly over the girl's painted mouth. "No more of that from you, young lady! You're a guest in my house, and I don't want to have to put you out."

Sadie subsided, with a final shot. . . . "Where's your ring, Ash? I never knew a millionaire that didn't give a girl a diamond!"

MAIZIE was quieter now.

"Mr. Burton is going to call back in 10 minutes," she said. "I told him we'd have a statement for him. Is it true, Ashtoreth, that Mr. Hart has asked you to marry him?"

"Of course it is, Mother. But we weren't going to say anything about it."

"I bet you weren't!" interrupted Sadie.

"I wanted to tell you first," continued Ashtoreth. "Hollis said there'd be an awful lot of publicity, and we would both hate that. We didn't mean to make any announcement at all."

"Do you love him, Ashtoreth? No—we've absolutely nothing to say. Miss Ashe refuses to be interviewed. . . . Well, that's different. Wait a minute. They're all right, you say? No body hurt? Oh, the pilot—that's terrible. Who was the other passenger, Mr. Burton? A Mr. English?"

Maizie's color was returning. She glanced over her shoulder at Ashtoreth. And she kept nodding to the telephone, smiling. Her voice changed and became soft and cozy again.

"Well, that's all right, Mr. Burton. No—no—I understand. It was your duty, of course. Oh, I know all about the things newspapermen have to do. Wasn't my Joe on the paper for 15 years? Well, of course anything Mr. Hart says is all right. No, she just took a little trip. For her health, Mr. Burton. Oh, no—it's very sudden. Love at first sight?—well, I suppose you might."

"But listen, Mr. Burton—just as a favor to Joe's wife and little girl—don't say anything about a love nest, will you, Mr. Burton? It sounds so cheap, don't it? Oh, awful. Pictures? I don't know as we have any. Oh, not tonight—she's too tired. Well, maybe. No—I don't know. I'm sorry, Mr. Burton—I don't like to be rude—but my little girl's right here. Oh, that's all right. No harm done. Yes—yes. All right, Mr. Burton."

Maizie slipped the receiver on its hook. Her face was glowing.

"It's all right, honey. Mr. Hart's all right. And Monty. They took the same plane, Mr. Burton says it got lost in the fog. They were flying somewhere over Connecticut, when the motor died. The ship went into a nose dive, he says, and crashed down through the trees. They were over a woods, I guess. The poor pilot got hurt. But the passengers only got shaken up."

"Mr. Burton says they hiked through the woods, out on to a road, and stopped an automobile, that went back and got the pilot. They sent him to a hospital. And the reporters down there talked with Mr. Hart and Monty. Of course Mr. Burton don't know about Monty. He just said there was another passenger—a Mr. English. They just got a flash on it."

"Oh, thank God!"

Ashtoreth's lips moved in soundless prayer. . . . Sadie had buried her head on the arm of the divan, and was crying softly.

"Sadie!" Ashtoreth's tone was threatening. "If you caused a thing like that to be published, Mr. Hart could send you to jail for the rest of your life."

"He could not!"

"Oh, yes he could," insisted Ashtoreth. "You haven't any case against him, and you know it. You'll never be able to get a lawyer to bring suit, and Mr. Hart could have you arrested for threatening."

"I bet you weren't!" interrupted Sadie.

"THERE'S the telephone! . . . Maizie had the receiver off before it stopped ringing. . . . Hello. Yes, Mr. Burton. My daughter and I have been talking things over, Mr. Burton, and we have decided to make no statement. No—we've absolutely nothing to say. Miss Ashe refuses to be interviewed. . . . Well, that's different. Wait a minute. They're all right, you say? No body hurt? Oh, the pilot—that's terrible. Who was the other passenger, Mr. Burton? A Mr. English?"

Maizie's color was returning. She glanced over her shoulder at Ashtoreth. And she kept nodding to the telephone, smiling. Her voice changed and became soft and cozy again.

"Well, that's all right, Mr. Burton. No—no—I understand. It was your duty, of course. Oh, I know all about the things newspapermen have to do. Wasn't my Joe on the paper for 15 years? Well, of course anything Mr. Hart says is all right. No, she just took a little trip. For her health, Mr. Burton. Oh, no—it's very sudden. Love at first sight?—well, I suppose you might."

"But listen, Mr. Burton—just as a favor to Joe's wife and little girl—don't say anything about a love nest, will you, Mr. Burton? It sounds so cheap, don't it? Oh, awful. Pictures? I don't know as we have any. Oh, not tonight—she's too tired. Well, maybe. No—I don't know. I'm sorry, Mr. Burton—I don't like to be rude—but my little girl's right here. Oh, that's all right. No harm done. Yes—yes. All right, Mr. Burton."

Maizie slipped the receiver on its hook. Her face was glowing.

"It's all right, honey. Mr. Hart's all right. And Monty. They took the same plane, Mr. Burton says it got lost in the fog. They were flying somewhere over Connecticut, when the motor died. The ship went into a nose dive, he says, and crashed down through the trees. They were over a woods, I guess. The poor pilot got hurt. But the passengers only got shaken up."

"Mr. Burton says they hiked through the woods, out on to a road, and stopped an automobile, that went back and got the pilot. They sent him to a hospital. And the reporters down there talked with Mr. Hart and Monty. Of course Mr. Burton don't know about Monty. He just said there was another passenger—a Mr. English. They just got a flash on it."

"Oh, thank God!"

Ashtoreth's lips moved in soundless prayer. . . . Sadie had buried her head on the arm of the divan, and was crying softly.

"Sadie!" Ashtoreth's tone was threatening. "If you caused a thing like that to be published, Mr. Hart could send you to jail for the rest of your life."

"He could not!"

"Oh, yes he could," insisted Ashtoreth. "You haven't any case against him, and you know it. You'll never be able to get a lawyer to bring suit, and Mr. Hart could have you arrested for threatening."

"I bet you weren't!" interrupted Sadie.

"THERE'S the telephone! . . . Maizie had the receiver off before it stopped ringing. . . . Hello. Yes, Mr. Burton. My daughter and I have been talking things over, Mr. Burton, and we have decided to make no statement. No—we've absolutely nothing to say. Miss Ashe refuses to be interviewed. . . . Well, that's different. Wait a minute. They're all right, you say? No body hurt? Oh, the pilot—that's terrible. Who was the other passenger, Mr. Burton? A Mr. English?"

Maizie's color was returning. She glanced over her shoulder at Ashtoreth. And she kept nodding to the telephone, smiling. Her voice changed and became soft and cozy again.

"Well, that's all right, Mr. Burton. No—no—I understand. It was your duty, of course. Oh, I know all about the things newspapermen have to do. Wasn't my Joe on the paper for 15 years? Well, of course anything Mr. Hart says is all right. No, she just took a little trip. For her health, Mr. Burton. Oh, no—it's very sudden. Love at first sight?—well, I suppose you might."

"But listen, Mr. Burton—just as a favor to Joe's wife and little girl—don't say anything about a love nest, will you, Mr. Burton? It sounds so cheap, don't it? Oh, awful. Pictures? I don't know as we have any. Oh, not tonight—she's too tired. Well, maybe. No—I don't know. I'm sorry, Mr. Burton—I don't like to be rude—but my little girl's right here. Oh, that's all right. No harm done. Yes—yes. All right, Mr. Burton."

Maizie slipped the receiver on its hook. Her face was glowing.

"It's all right, honey. Mr. Hart's all right. And Monty. They took the same plane, Mr. Burton says it got lost in the fog. They were flying somewhere over Connecticut, when the motor died. The ship went into a nose dive, he says, and crashed down through the trees. They were over a woods, I guess. The poor pilot got hurt. But the passengers only got shaken up."

"Mr. Burton says they hiked through the woods, out on to a road, and stopped an automobile, that went back and got the pilot. They sent him to a hospital. And the reporters down there talked with Mr. Hart and Monty. Of course Mr. Burton don't know about Monty. He just said there was another passenger—a Mr. English. They just got a flash on it."

"Oh, thank God!"

Ashtoreth's lips moved in soundless prayer. . . . Sadie had buried her head on the arm of the divan, and was crying softly.

"Sadie!" Ashtoreth's tone was threatening. "If you caused a thing like that to be published, Mr. Hart could send you to jail for the rest of your life."

"He could not!"

"Oh, yes he could," insisted Ashtoreth. "You haven't any case against him, and you know it. You'll never be able to get a lawyer to bring suit, and Mr. Hart could have you arrested for threatening."

"I bet you weren't!" interrupted Sadie.

"THERE'S the telephone! . . . Maizie had the receiver off before it stopped ringing. . . . Hello. Yes, Mr. Burton. My daughter and I have been talking things over, Mr. Burton, and we have decided to make no statement. No—we've absolutely nothing to say. Miss Ashe refuses to be interviewed. . . . Well, that's different. Wait a minute. They're all right, you say? No body hurt? Oh, the pilot—that's terrible. Who was the other passenger, Mr. Burton? A Mr. English?"

Maizie's color was returning. She glanced over her shoulder at Ashtoreth. And she kept nodding to the telephone, smiling. Her voice changed and became soft and cozy again.

"Well, that's all right, Mr. Burton. No—no—I understand. It was your duty, of course. Oh, I know all about the things newspapermen have to do. Wasn't my Joe on the paper for 15 years? Well, of course anything Mr. Hart says is all right. No, she just took a little trip. For her health, Mr. Burton. Oh, no—it's very sudden. Love at first sight?—well, I suppose you might."

"But listen, Mr. Burton—just as a favor to Joe's wife and little girl—don't say anything about a love nest, will you, Mr. Burton? It sounds so cheap, don't it? Oh, awful. Pictures? I don't know as we have any. Oh, not tonight—she's too tired. Well, maybe. No—I don't know. I'm sorry, Mr. Burton—I don't like to be rude—but my little girl's right here. Oh, that's all right. No harm done. Yes—yes. All right, Mr. Burton."

Maizie slipped the receiver on its hook. Her face was glowing.

"It's all right, honey. Mr. Hart's all right. And Monty. They took the same plane, Mr. Burton says it got lost in the fog. They were flying somewhere over Connecticut, when the motor died. The ship went into a nose dive, he says, and crashed down through the trees. They were over a woods, I guess. The poor pilot got hurt. But the passengers only got shaken up."

"Mr. Burton says they hiked through the woods, out on to a road, and stopped an automobile, that went back and got the pilot. They sent him to a hospital. And the reporters down there talked with Mr. Hart and Monty. Of course Mr. Burton don't know about Monty. He just said there was another passenger—a Mr. English. They just got a flash on it."

"Oh, thank God!"

Ashtoreth's lips moved in soundless prayer. . . . Sadie had buried her head on the arm of the divan, and was crying softly.

"Sadie!" Ashtoreth's tone was threatening. "If you caused a thing like that to be published, Mr. Hart could send you to jail for the rest of your life."

"He could not!"

"Oh, yes he could," insisted Ashtoreth. "You haven't any case against him, and you know it. You'll never be able to get a lawyer to bring suit, and Mr. Hart could have you arrested for threatening."

"I bet you weren't!" interrupted Sadie.

"THERE'S the telephone! . . . Maizie had the receiver off before it stopped ringing. . . . Hello. Yes, Mr. Burton. My daughter and I have been talking things over, Mr. Burton, and we have decided to make no statement. No—we've absolutely nothing to say. Miss Ashe refuses to be interviewed. . . . Well, that's different. Wait a minute. They're all right, you say? No body hurt? Oh, the pilot—that's terrible. Who was the other passenger, Mr. Burton? A Mr. English?"

Maizie's color was returning. She glanced over her shoulder at Ashtoreth. And she kept nodding to the telephone, smiling. Her voice changed and became soft and cozy again.

"Well, that's all right, Mr. Burton. No—no—I understand. It was your duty, of course. Oh, I know all about the things newspapermen have to do. Wasn't my Joe on the paper for 15 years? Well, of course anything Mr. Hart says is all right. No, she just took a little trip. For her health, Mr. Burton. Oh, no—it's very sudden. Love at first sight?—well, I suppose you might."

"But listen, Mr. Burton—just as a favor to Joe's wife and little girl—don't say anything about a love nest, will you, Mr. Burton? It sounds so cheap, don't it? Oh, awful. Pictures? I don't know as we have any. Oh, not tonight—she's too tired. Well, maybe. No—I don't know. I'm sorry, Mr. Burton—I don't like to be rude—but my little girl's right here. Oh, that's all right. No harm done. Yes—yes. All right, Mr. Burton."

Maizie slipped the receiver on its hook. Her face was glowing.

"It's all right, honey. Mr. Hart's all right. And Monty. They took the same plane, Mr. Burton says it got lost in the fog. They were flying somewhere over Connecticut, when the motor died. The ship went into a nose dive, he says, and crashed down through the trees. They were over a woods, I guess. The poor pilot got hurt. But the passengers only got shaken up."

"Mr. Burton says they hiked through the woods, out on to a road, and stopped an automobile, that went back and got the pilot. They sent him to a hospital. And the reporters down there talked with Mr. Hart and Monty. Of course Mr. Burton don't know about Monty. He just said there was another passenger—a Mr. English. They just got a flash on it."

"Oh, thank God!"

Ashtoreth's lips moved in soundless prayer. . . . Sadie had buried her head on the arm of the divan, and was crying softly.

"Sadie!" Ashtoreth's tone was threatening. "If you caused a thing like that to be published, Mr. Hart could send you to jail for the rest of your life."

"He could not!"

"Oh, yes he could," insisted Ashtoreth. "You haven't any case against him, and you know it. You'll never be able to get a lawyer to bring suit, and Mr. Hart could have you arrested for threatening."

"I bet you weren't!" interrupted Sadie.

"THERE'S the telephone! . . . Maizie had the receiver off before it stopped ringing. . . . Hello. Yes, Mr. Burton. My daughter and I have been talking things over, Mr. Burton, and we have decided to make no statement. No—we've absolutely nothing to say. Miss Ashe refuses to be interviewed. . . . Well, that's different. Wait a minute. They're all right, you say? No body hurt? Oh, the pilot—that's terrible. Who was the other passenger, Mr. Burton? A Mr. English?"

Maizie's color was returning. She glanced over her shoulder at Ashtoreth. And she kept nodding to the telephone, smiling. Her voice changed and became soft and cozy again.

"Well, that's all right, Mr. Burton. No—no—I understand. It was your duty, of course. Oh, I know all about the things newspapermen have to do. Wasn't my Joe on the paper for 15 years? Well, of course anything Mr. Hart says is all right. No, she just took a little trip. For her health, Mr. Burton. Oh, no—it's very sudden. Love at first sight?—well, I suppose you might."

"But listen, Mr. Burton—just as a favor to Joe's wife and little girl—don't say anything about a love nest, will you, Mr. Burton? It sounds so cheap, don't it? Oh, awful. Pictures? I don't know as we have any. Oh, not tonight—she's too tired. Well, maybe. No—I don't know. I'm sorry, Mr. Burton—I don't like to be rude—but my little girl's right here. Oh, that's all right. No harm done. Yes—yes. All right, Mr. Burton."

Maizie slipped the receiver on its hook. Her face was glowing.

"It's all right, honey. Mr. Hart's all right. And Monty. They took the same plane, Mr. Burton says it got lost in the fog. They were flying somewhere over Connecticut, when the motor died. The ship went into a nose dive, he says, and crashed down through the trees. They were over a woods, I guess. The poor pilot got hurt. But the passengers only got shaken up."

"Mr. Burton says they hiked through the woods, out on to a road, and stopped an automobile, that went back and got the pilot. They sent him to a hospital. And the reporters down there talked with Mr. Hart and Monty. Of course Mr. Burton don't know about Monty. He just said there was another passenger—a Mr. English. They just got a flash on it."

"Oh, thank God!"

Ashtoreth's lips moved in soundless prayer. . . . Sadie had buried her head on the arm of the divan, and was crying softly.

"Sadie!" Ashtoreth's tone was threatening. "If you caused a thing like that to be published, Mr. Hart could send you to jail for the rest of your life."

"He could not!"

"Oh, yes he could," insisted Ashtoreth. "You haven't any case against him, and you know it. You'll never be able to get a lawyer to bring suit, and Mr. Hart could have you arrested for threatening."

"I bet you weren't!" interrupted Sadie.

"THERE'S the telephone! . . . Maizie had the receiver off before it stopped ringing. . . . Hello. Yes, Mr. Burton. My daughter and I have been talking things over, Mr. Burton, and we have decided to make no statement. No—we've absolutely nothing to say. Miss Ashe refuses to be interviewed. . . . Well, that's different. Wait a minute. They're all right, you say? No body hurt? Oh, the pilot—that's terrible. Who was the other passenger, Mr. Burton? A Mr. English?"

Maizie's color was returning. She glanced over her shoulder at Ashtoreth. And she kept nodding to the telephone, smiling. Her voice changed and became soft and cozy again.

"Well, that's all right, Mr. Burton. No—no—I understand. It was your duty, of course. Oh, I know all about the things newspapermen have to do. Wasn't my Joe on the paper for 15 years? Well, of course anything Mr. Hart says is all right. No, she just took a little trip. For her health, Mr. Burton. Oh, no—it's very sudden. Love at first sight?—well, I suppose you might."

"But listen, Mr. Burton—just as a favor to Joe's wife and little girl—don't say anything about a love nest, will you, Mr. Burton? It sounds so cheap, don't it? Oh, awful. Pictures? I don't know as we have any. Oh, not tonight—she's too tired. Well, maybe. No—I don't know. I'm sorry, Mr. Burton—I don't like to be rude—but my little girl's right here. Oh, that's all right. No harm done. Yes—yes. All right, Mr. Burton."

Maizie slipped the receiver on its hook. Her face was glowing.

"It's all right, honey. Mr. Hart's all right. And Monty. They took the same plane, Mr. Burton says it got lost in the fog. They were flying somewhere over Connecticut, when the motor died. The ship went into a nose dive, he says, and crashed down through the trees. They were over a woods, I guess. The poor pilot got hurt. But the passengers only got shaken up."

"Mr. Burton says they hiked through the woods, out on to a road, and stopped an automobile, that went back and got the pilot. They sent him to a hospital. And the reporters down there talked with Mr. Hart and Monty. Of course Mr. Burton don't know about Monty. He just said there was another passenger—a Mr. English. They just got a flash on it."

"Oh, thank God!"

Ashtoreth's lips moved in soundless prayer. . . . Sadie had buried her head on the arm of the divan, and was crying softly.

"Sadie!" Ashtoreth's tone was threatening. "If you caused a thing like that to be published, Mr. Hart could send you to jail for the rest of your life."

"He could not!"

"Oh, yes he could," insisted Ashtoreth. "You haven't any case against him, and you know it. You'll never be able to get a lawyer to bring suit, and Mr. Hart could have you arrested for threatening."

"I bet you weren't!" interrupted Sadie.

"THERE'S the telephone! . . . Maizie had the receiver off before it stopped ringing. . . . Hello. Yes, Mr. Burton. My daughter and I have been talking things over, Mr. Burton, and we have decided to make no statement. No—we've absolutely nothing to say. Miss Ashe refuses to be interviewed. . . . Well, that's different. Wait a minute. They're all right, you say? No body hurt? Oh, the pilot—that's terrible. Who was the other passenger, Mr. Burton? A Mr. English?"

Maizie's color was returning. She glanced over her shoulder at Ashtoreth. And she kept nodding to the telephone, smiling. Her voice changed and became soft and cozy again.

"Well, that's all right, Mr. Burton. No—no—I understand. It was your duty, of course. Oh, I know all about the things newspapermen have to do. Wasn't my Joe on the paper for 15 years? Well, of course anything Mr. Hart says is all right. No, she just took a little trip. For her health, Mr. Burton. Oh, no—it's very sudden. Love at first sight?—well, I suppose you might."

"But listen, Mr. Burton—just as a favor to Joe's wife and little girl—don't say anything about a love nest, will you, Mr. Burton? It sounds so cheap, don't it? Oh, awful. Pictures? I don't know as we have any. Oh, not tonight—she's too tired. Well, maybe. No—I don't know. I'm sorry, Mr. Burton—I don't like to be rude—but my little girl's right here. Oh, that's all right. No harm done. Yes—yes. All right, Mr. Burton."

Maizie slipped the receiver on its hook. Her face was glowing.

"It's all right, honey. Mr. Hart's all right. And Monty. They took the same plane, Mr. Burton says it got lost in the fog. They were flying somewhere over Connecticut, when the motor died. The ship went into a nose dive, he says, and crashed down through the trees. They were over a woods, I guess. The poor pilot got hurt. But the passengers only got shaken up."

"Mr. Burton says they hiked through the woods, out on to a road, and stopped an automobile, that went back and got the pilot. They sent him to a hospital. And the reporters down there talked with Mr. Hart and Monty. Of course Mr. Burton don't know about Monty. He just said there was another passenger—a Mr. English. They just got a flash on it."

"Oh, thank God!"

Ashtoreth's lips moved in soundless prayer. . . . Sadie had buried her head on the arm of the divan, and was crying softly.

"Sadie!" Ashtoreth's tone was threatening. "If you caused a thing like that to be published, Mr. Hart could send you to jail for the rest of your life."

"He could not!"

"Oh, yes he could," insisted Ashtoreth. "You haven't any case against him, and you know it. You'll never be able to get a lawyer to bring suit, and Mr. Hart could have you arrested for threatening."

"I bet you weren't!" interrupted Sadie.

"THERE'S the telephone! . . . Maizie had the receiver off before it stopped ringing. . . . Hello. Yes, Mr. Burton. My daughter and I have been talking things over, Mr. Burton, and we have decided to make no statement. No—we've absolutely nothing to say. Miss Ashe refuses to be interviewed. . . . Well, that's different. Wait a minute. They're all right, you say? No body hurt? Oh, the pilot—that's terrible. Who was the other passenger, Mr. Burton? A Mr. English?"

Maizie's color was returning. She glanced over her shoulder at Ashtoreth. And she kept nodding to the telephone, smiling. Her voice changed and became soft and cozy again.

"Well, that's all right, Mr. Burton. No—no—I understand. It was your duty, of course. Oh, I know all about the things newspapermen have to do. Wasn't my Joe on the paper for 15 years? Well, of course anything Mr. Hart says is all right. No, she just took a little trip. For her health, Mr. Burton. Oh, no—it's very sudden. Love at first sight?—well, I suppose you might."

"But listen, Mr. Burton—just as a favor to Joe's wife and little girl—don't say anything about a love nest, will you, Mr. Burton? It sounds so cheap, don't it? Oh, awful. Pictures? I don't know as we have any. Oh, not tonight—she's too tired. Well, maybe. No—I don't know. I'm sorry, Mr. Burton—I don't like to be rude—but my little girl's right here. Oh, that's all right. No harm done. Yes—yes. All right, Mr. Burton."

Maizie slipped the receiver on its hook. Her face was glowing.

"It's all right, honey. Mr. Hart's all right. And Monty. They took the same plane, Mr. Burton says it got lost in the fog. They were flying somewhere over Connecticut, when the motor died. The ship went into a nose dive, he says, and crashed down through the trees. They were over a woods, I guess. The poor pilot got hurt. But the passengers only got shaken up."

"Mr. Burton says they hiked through the woods, out on to a road, and stopped an automobile, that went back and got the pilot. They sent him to a hospital. And the reporters down there talked with Mr. Hart and Monty. Of course Mr. Burton don't know about Monty. He just said there was another passenger—a Mr. English. They just got a flash on it."

"Oh, thank God!"

Ashtoreth's lips moved in soundless prayer. . . . Sadie had buried her head on the arm of the divan, and was crying softly.

"Sadie!" Ashtoreth's tone was threatening. "If you caused a thing like that to be published, Mr. Hart could send you to jail for the rest of your life."

"He could not!"

"Oh, yes he could," insisted Ashtoreth. "You haven't any case against him, and you know it. You'll never be able to get a lawyer to bring suit, and Mr. Hart could have you arrested for threatening."

"I bet you weren't!" interrupted Sadie.

"THERE'S the telephone! . . . Maizie had the receiver off before it stopped ringing. . . . Hello. Yes, Mr. Burton. My daughter and I have been talking things over, Mr. Burton, and we have decided to make no statement. No—we've absolutely nothing to say. Miss Ashe refuses to be interviewed. . . . Well, that's different. Wait a minute. They're all right, you say? No body hurt? Oh, the pilot—that's terrible. Who was the other passenger, Mr. Burton? A Mr. English?"

Maizie's color was returning. She glanced over her shoulder at Ashtoreth. And she kept nodding to the telephone, smiling. Her voice changed and became soft and cozy again.

"Well, that's all right, Mr. Burton. No—no—I understand. It was your duty, of course. Oh, I know all about the things newspapermen have to do. Wasn't my Joe on the paper for 15 years? Well, of course anything Mr. Hart says is all right. No, she just took a little trip. For her health, Mr. Burton. Oh, no—it's very sudden. Love at first sight?—well, I suppose you might."

"But listen, Mr. Burton—just as a favor to Joe's wife and little girl—don't say anything about a love nest, will you, Mr. Burton? It sounds so cheap, don't it? Oh, awful. Pictures? I don't know as we have any. Oh, not tonight—she's too tired. Well, maybe. No—I don't know. I'm sorry, Mr. Burton—I don't like to be rude—but my little girl's right here. Oh, that's all right. No harm done. Yes—yes. All right, Mr. Burton."

Maizie slipped the receiver on its hook. Her face was glowing.

"It's all right, honey. Mr. Hart's all right. And Monty. They took the same plane, Mr. Burton says it got lost in the fog. They were flying somewhere over Connecticut, when the motor died. The ship went into a nose dive, he says, and crashed down through the trees. They were over a woods, I guess. The poor pilot got hurt. But the passengers only got shaken up."

"Mr. Burton says they hiked through the woods, out on to a road, and stopped an automobile, that went back and got the pilot. They sent him to a hospital. And the reporters down there talked with Mr. Hart and Monty. Of course Mr. Burton don't know about Monty. He just said there was another passenger—a Mr. English. They just got a flash on it."

"Oh, thank God!"

Ashtoreth's lips moved in soundless prayer. . . . Sadie had buried her head on the arm of the divan, and was crying softly.

"Sadie!" Ashtoreth's tone was threatening. "If you caused a thing like that to be published, Mr. Hart could send you to jail for the rest of your life."

"He could not!"

"Oh, yes he could," insisted Ashtoreth. "You haven't any case against him, and you know it. You'll never be able to get a lawyer to bring suit, and Mr. Hart could have you arrested for threatening."

"I bet you weren't!" interrupted Sadie.

"THERE'S the telephone! . . . Maizie had the receiver off before it stopped ringing. . . . Hello.

CRESCENT
"Pampa's Leading Playhouse"
The Home of Paramount Pictures

WINGS
WITH CLARA BOW
CHARIS (DUBOIS) ROGERS
RICHARD ARLEN
GARY COOPER

Today and Tomorrow

A PARAMOUNT PICTURE

REX

BACK AGAIN!
THE JAZZ PIRATES

The fastest presentation on the road.

ON THE SCREEN—
"Anybody Here See Kelly"
with Tom Moore Bessie Love

MIDNIGHT SHOW THURSDAY

CHARGES—
(Continued from Page 1)

contract be made with an oil company for purchase of gasoline and oil much in excess of that of a competing organization, and rank favoritism in allotting more than $6,200,000 to Harris county and 10 adjacent counties covering an 18-month period in 1927-28 when 242 others received contract allotments little more than $15,000,000.

Gerron also charges an "apparent conspiracy" between R. A. Thompson, former highway engineer, and member of a Dallas engineering firm at the time of his hiring, and another engineering interest, whereby Thompson served as highway engineer pending securing of contracts as county engineers by the second engineering firm.

"Borrowed" Engineer
The eleventh charge recited that an engineer was "borrowed" from a material concern at the time Thompson was highway engineer, and that he continued at the post under Gibb Gilchrist, present engineer, "at a reputed salary of $4,800." The material concern for which the man previously worked has secured large contracts from the "party who is in reality a salesman for the concern," the resolution states.

Re-employment of an employee who was discharged for padding his expense account, incompetency in buying road rollers at an exorbitant price, excessive prices paid for crushed rock and an attempt to award a gravel contract amounting to $70,000 on only one bid also are charged.

The Board of Control is alleged to have permitted purchase of worthless machinery at unfair prices, allowed two months salary to be paid the relative of a member of the board of control when the former was confined in the insane asylum at San Antonio, permitting insane patients to work land owned by an asylum official without pay, and purchasing a fire escape at the Austin state hospital not according to contract.

Markets

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK
KANSAS CITY, Jan. 28. (P)—Hogs: Receipts 11,000; 35¢45¢ higher; top $9.65 on 220-240 pounds; packing sows $7.85@8.60.
Cattle: Receipts 10,000; calves 1,500; fed steers and yearlings strong to 25¢ higher; slaughter steers, good and choice 1,300-1,500 pounds $11.25@14.75; 1,100-1,300 pounds $11.50@15.00; 950-1,100 pounds $11.50@15.25; fed yearlings, good and choice 750-950 pounds $11.50@13.50; heifers, good and choice 850 pounds down $10.00@13.25; cows, good and choice $8.00@10.50; vealers (milk-fed), medium to choice $9.00@16.00.
Sheep: Receipts 10,000; steady; lambs good and choice (92 pounds down) $15.50@16.50; ewes, medium to choice (150 pounds down) $7.50@9.75.

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, Jan. 28. (P)—Wheat: No. 1 hard $1.28; No. 4 northern spring $1.17.
Corn: No. 4 mixed 94¢95¢; No. 3 yellow 97¢97 3/4¢.
Oats: No. 2 white 55 3/4¢56 1/4¢; sample grade 49¢50¢.

STOCKS IN DEMAND
NEW YORK, Jan. 28. (P)—A heavy week-end accumulation of buying orders carried prices generally higher at the opening of today's stock market. Johns-Manville jumped 3 points and the new Radio stock mounted 2 5/8 with a transaction of 10,000 shares. A block of 15,000 shares of Electric Auto Lite was taken at 167-3/4, up 1 3/4. Coxy, Gillette Safety Razor and Erie mounted a point and more. International Nickel and Woolworth were soft spots, losing 1 and 2 points respectively.

POULTRY MARKET
CHICAGO, Jan. 28. (P)—Poultry steady; fowls 27 1/2¢28¢; springs 31¢; roosters 23¢; turkeys 25¢; ducks 30¢; geese 22¢.

WHEAT AVERAGES LOWER
CHICAGO, Jan. 28. (P)—Influenced by weakness of Liverpool quotations and by foreign selling, Chicago wheat averaged lower, but also showed power to rally. Forecasts of a new cold wave in domestic winter wheat territory west attracted attention.

Opening at 1-4 off to 1-4 up, Chicago wheat underwent a general setback, and then turned up grade. Corn, oats and provisions were firm, with corn starting unchanged to 3-8@1-2¢ higher and subsequently holding near to the initial figures.

ADD—WALL STREET MARKET
Rails quickly joined in the upturn under the leadership of New York Central, which opened with a block of 8,000 shares at 198 and quickly rose to 199 1/2, up 5 5/8 to a new peak.

Trading was carried on at a wild pace during the first hour, a number of blocks of 10,000 to 20,000 shares changing hands.

National Power & Light opened up 2 points with an initial transaction of 20,000 shares. Radio (old) quickly mounted 10 points, Commercial Investment Trust 6, Union Carbide 4 3/4, and Goodyear 2. Mack Truck, Nash, Chrysler, Hudson, Electric Power & Light, American Telephone, Gardner Motors, and Indian Refining advanced a point or so.

Foreign exchanges opened steady with sterling at $4.84 29-32.

Bartlesville Boy Confesses Slaying Former Classmate
BARTLESVILLE, Okla., Jan. 28. (P)—Paul Locke, 19, oil company clerk, confessed slayer of Forrester Bennett, 20, Oklahoma A. & M. college student in an attempted hold-up here Saturday night, was charged with murder in a complaint filed today.

The youths were classmates when they attended high school here. Locke told officers he did not recognize Bennett until they grappled when Bennett attempted to wrest Locke's pistol from him. Locke said he was "broke" and thought the hold-up would be "easy money." He asserted the shooting was accidental.

IN CONGRESS
MONDAY
Senate goes ahead with debate of cruiser construction bill; calendar day in house.
Agricultural tariffs before house ways and means committee.
House merchant marine committee continues with bill to prolong life of radio commission.
Senate public lands committee considers Walsh report on Sinclair lease of Salt Creek royalty oil.

BRITAIN WILL RATIFY KELLOGG PACT VERY SOON
LONDON, Jan. 28. (P)—Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign secretary, told the house of commons today the British government proposes to deposit its ratification of the Kellogg pact as soon as the dominion governments are in a position to do likewise.
Sir Austen said specific ratification by parliament was unnecessary since opinion in both houses from the first has been so strongly in favor of the pact.

Cabinet Deb

One of the few cabinet debutantes at Washington this season is Miss Marian Jardine, daughter of the Secretary of Agriculture and Mrs. William M. Jardine. She was presented recently at a tea dance at the Mayflower hotel.

Men Must Learn to Select Colors

NEW YORK, Jan. 28. (Special)—Can you as a man distinguish between a delft blue and a turquoise? Could an enterprising clerk sell you taupe or straw when your color scheme clearly calls for beige? What kind of a mark would you get, if you were called upon to identify such shades of green as heather, bottle, forest, holly, reseda, myrtle, emerald and olive?

These are just a few of the color discriminations which the 1929 Beau Brummel is to be called on to make, according to the dicta of the National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers, whose members are going to get together and talk things over in Atlantic City March 3 to 8. The man who has been trained to buy his wife's stockings will probably be adept at recognizing exact shades, but the rest of mankind is going to have a lot to learn, if he wants to be up to the minute in his appearance.

COMMITTEES GIVE "ONCE OVER" TO PRISON FARMS

AUSTIN, Jan. 28. (P)—The house and senate committees on penitentiaries returned today from their regular biennial visit to the penitentiary at Huntsville, and farms in Southwest Texas.
Because of the limited time, the committees were riding most of the period and merely had an opportunity to give the properties the "once over." Representative King of Throckmorton, chairman of the house committee, stated.

Baby Is Born to Seattle Girl Who Married Indian

PARIS, Jan. 28. (P)—Maharane Devi Sharmista Holkar, who was Nancy Ann Miller of Seattle, gave birth to a girl Saturday night. Both the mother and the baby are doing well.
The Maharane has been living at Saint-Germain-En-Laye outside of Paris with her husband, Sir Tukoji Rao, former Maharajah of Indore. She and the former Maharajah were married last March at Barwaha, India.

CANYON BANK CASHIER TO MANAGE ESTATE

CANYON, Jan. 28. (Special)—O. W. H. Cook, who has been cashier of the First National bank of Canyon for the past four years, has resigned that position, and it is understood that he will become manager of the C. O. Keiser estate, taking up his new duties February 1.
Ex-senator J. E. Reid, president of the First National bank, states that Mr. Cook's successor has not been named.
Directors of the bank are G. E. Nance, Representative Clyde W. Warwick, W. A. Warren, Oscar Hunt, J. W. Green, Wallace H. Clark and J. W. Reid.

FROM GLEN ROSE

Dr. Ferrington, the healing magnetic masseur, is here from his sanitarium, to demonstrate and give treatments to show the people what great work he can do. They bring people on stretchers to his sanitarium and in a few days they go away on their feet.
Don't fail to see him about your health while he is in town. For appointment call 58 from 1 until 5 p. m. Free examination. Located at 403 Sommerville street.

HOOVER WOULD "BE HAPPY" TO GREET AL SMITH

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 28. (P)—President-Elect Hoover said today he would be "most happy" to see former Governor Alfred E. Smith who is spending part of his vacation time at Coral Gables, a short distance from the Hoover home on Belle Isle.
Mr. Hoover's statement, made in reply to a question from a newspaper correspondent, follows:
"By all means I should be glad if Governor Smith has the time to call. I should be most happy to see him."
Advised of Mr. Hoover's statement by telephone, the former New York Governor said he had no statement to make.
"Will you see Mr. Hoover?" he was asked.
"I said there was no statement," the Democratic leader replied.

OIL PRICE CUTS ARE BEING MET BY MANY FIRMS

SHREVEPORT, La., Jan. 28. (P)—All local oil companies today had met the reduction in the price of Eldorado, Rainbow City, Homer, Haynesville, Desoto, Crichton, and Bull Bayou crude.
New companies meeting the new schedule are: Louisiana Oil Refining corporation, Gulf Refining company, Magnolia Petroleum company, The Shreveport-Eldorado Pipe Line company, and the Texas company.
The price of Bellevue crude was cut five cents to $1.20.

EQUAL PAY URGED

AUSTIN, Jan. 28. (P)—A bill providing that women teachers shall receive the same pay as men, everything else equal, and authorizing school trustees to determine the salaries, was finally passed by the senate this morning. It was advocated by Senator Margie E. Neal of Panola.

Wayland Endowment Is Pledged—Goal Set at $250,000

PLAINVIEW, Jan. 28. (Special)—Without a vision the people perish, but with a vision defeat is unknown. Although a norther swept the Panhandle on the opening day of the two-day Conference held at Wayland college Thursday and Friday, to cut the attendance in half—yet the Wayland spirit was prevalent and a high note prevailed throughout the entire program. Panhandle-Plains Baptists present caught the spirit of progress and a new vision of the great work Wayland is doing manifest itself in the united pledge of every pastor and layman present to help make possible a new day for the institution by placing Wayland in the church budget.
The climax of the two-day meeting was reached Friday morning in the meeting of the Board of Trustees when they unanimously adopted a goal of $250,000 for an endowment for Wayland college. Dr. J. E. Nunn of Amarillo is the instigator of the endowment fund movement and pledged himself to give his check for $5,000 for every $25,000 raised up to the $100,000 mark and stated he might give more. A committee is being appointed to arrange for trusteeship, a depository and other details preparatory to pushing the movement.

Kaiser Saluted as "His Majesty"

DOORN, Holland, Jan. 28. (P)—After a day of memories of imperial glory, Wilhelm Hohenzollern today reassumed the role of a royal exile.
In his seventieth birthday yesterday, the former kaiser stood resplendent in a field marshal's uniform of the first Royal Guards. Male participants in the celebration, garbed in uniforms of their military ranks, saluted him as "His Majesty, the Kaiser and King."
Princess Hermine, whom the kaiser married in exile, was not present to be addressed as "Empress."

Potato Bread

Made from pure whole-some potato flour.
ASK FOR IT at Your Grocer
THE DILLEY BAKERIES
Herington, Kansas
Borger and Pampa, Texas
"Buy Bread Baked in Pampa"

Argentine Students May Be Sent to A. & M. College

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 28. (Special)—Prospect of some of the young men of Argentina being sent to the United States to specialize in agricultural courses is seen in recent requests received by President T. O. Walton of the A. & M. college of Texas for information regarding the policy of the Texas institution in regard to foreign students, entrance requirements and facilities for study. Complete information along the lines desired was furnished James E. McGrath, sub-manager of the Buenos Aires branch of the First National bank of Boston from whom the request was received.
"If the opportunities for advanced vocational education in the United States could be made known among teachers and others interested in educational work in Argentina, it might result in some of the more ambitious and qualified young men of college age being sent to the United States and the advantages of such contacts in creating better understanding between the two countries are too obvious to need mention," it was set forth in the request.

Married Teacher Is Sought as Kidnap of Young Pupil

ELLAVILLE, Ga., Jan. 28. (P)—A search was in prospect today for Mrs. M. M. Wellons, 35-year-old school teacher, and Edwin Chapman her 17-year-old pupil, following a formal charge of kidnaping lodged against the woman yesterday. The couple disappeared Sunday a week ago.
The kidnaping warrant was sworn out by W. C. Chapman, father of the boy.
Mrs. Wellons left behind a husband and an 11-year-old son, but took the family automobile, according to Sheriff E. C. Rigby. The search was particularly directed toward industrial cities of Ohio and toward Detroit, the sheriff said.

WANTED

Used Furniture of all kinds, gas stoves and floor coverings.

PHONE 181
And our buyers will call

UNITED CIGAR STORE

First Door West of K. C. Store Corner
SHINES 10c
Special Attention to Ladies' Shoes
Coupons Given With Every Purchase

Dog Pack Leader Escapes Posses

MERCED, Cal., Jan. 28. (P)—A ferocious wolf dog, leader of a huge pack of dogs and coyotes in nocturnal raids on livestock, had vanished today after shotguns and pistols had killed half his followers.
The "Hound of Silman," named from the ranch where he made his first raid on cattle, was believed to have retreated to his lair with his hungry followers.
Posses of ranchmen, organized to kill the big dog, admitted failure in their hunt, but said they had killed more than twenty members of his pack.

CHILD KEPT ALIVE BY BLOOD TRANSFUSIONS

PERRY, Kan., Jan. 28. (P)—Aided by blood transfusions given by her father and mother, Margaret Brown, 7, fought on desperately today to keep her distance with death.

WILL DOCKET CASES

Today is appearance day in justice court and Justice of the Peace C. E. Cary says there are a number of cases to be docketed.
STATE OF TEXAS, COUNTY OF GRAY. Notice is hereby given that the Gray County State bank of Pampa, Texas, a corporation organized under the general laws of the State of Texas, intends to change its system of banking from that provided by the laws of the State of Texas to the laws of the United States relative to National Banks, and that such proposed change will take place on or about March 1, 1929, and after said change is effective said corporation will be operated under the laws of the United States relative to National Banks.
GRAY COUNTY STATE BANK.
By J. M. DODSON, Vice-president.
(Attest):
A. J. McALISTER, Cashier. 28-4-11-18

THE SERVICE OF THIS ORGANIZATION MUST ALWAYS REFLECT A SPIRIT OF HOSPITALITY THAT DOES NOT FLUCTUATE WITH THE SIZE OF THE BUSINESS TRANSACTION!

G. C. MALONE
"COURTESY WITH CASH OR CREDIT"

Buck BRAND WORK CLOTHES FIT AND WEAR

Diamond C

Taking The Country By Storm

The New Heraldryne Radio
All Electric Eight Tubes

The first time an All Electric, eight tube radio was ever offered with such guarantee and such easy payment plan. Prices range from—
$150 to $300

Only 10 Per Cent Down --- You Set Terms on the Balance!

PHONE 105
(WATCH THE DAILY NEWS TOMORROW FOR COMPLETE DETAILS)