Cards Win By 4-3 Score To Even Series

Table with columns for R, H, E and rows for Yankees and Cardinals scores.

YANKEE STADIUM, NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (AP)—Burdened by news of the sudden death of his father, Mort Cooper pitched with his arm and his heart in a great competitive exhibition today to hurl the St. Louis Cardinals to a 4 to 3 victory over the New York Yankees and square the 1943 world series at one game apiece.

Cooper yielded seven hits, but kept them scattered. It was safely his game until the last inning, when the Yankees came in with two runs, but he headed this American league rally to whip the jinx that has kept him from a victory over the junior loopers heretofore.

Meanwhile, Cooper's mates fired their big guns early on Ernie Bonham's fork-ball, and paced by homers by Slats Marion and Ray Sanders, took a lead after four innings of the game.

A crowd of 68,578 witnessed the game. A double by Johnson and a triple by Kellar accounted for the Yankees' two runs in the final stanza.

Marion got his homer in the third, on the first pitch.

The Cards hopped on Bonham for three bingles in the fourth, Musial getting a single and scoring on a line drive by Kuroski. Then came Sanders' homer to climax the attack.

Bombardier School Graduation Class To Hear Dr. Richardson

Dr. Rupert N. Richardson, acting president of Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene, will be the speaker at 9:30 a. m. Thursday when class 43-14—the 15th for the Big Spring Bombardier School—is graduated in exercises at the post theatre.

Wings will be presented by Col. R. Warren, commanding, to the new flight officers who have successfully completed a difficult 12-weeks course in precision bombing.

Support War Fund, Is Roosevelt Plea

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—The nation was asked today to provide a $125,000,000 war fund to help American service agencies "wherever help is needed—enough and on time."

In a radio broadcast from the White House, President Roosevelt last night appealed to the public to remember that "a share in the national war fund is a share in winning the war, and in winning the right of free men to live in a better world."

Campaigns for all welfare and relief organizations except the American Red Cross are being consolidated this year in the national war fund. It will include monies for community chests, United Service Organizations, war prisoners aid, United Seamen's Service and foreign relief agencies.

Allies Cross Volturno River

Aussies Enter Ramu Valley Near Madang

American Blockade Increases Price Enemy Must Pay

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTH-WEST PACIFIC, Oct. 6 (AP)—Australian troops have fought their way into New Guinea's Ramu valley, 60 miles from the Japanese coastal base of Madang, and the tightening American air and sea blockade in the central Solomons has increased the price the enemy is paying in ships and men to evacuate Kolombangara island.

The new successes were announced today by headquarters which also acknowledged receipt of congratulations by Gen. Douglas MacArthur from Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, for the tactics and speed which have won MacArthur new air bases from the Japanese in north-eastern New Guinea.

(An indication that major developments in the Pacific offensive may be in the offing was given last night at Honolulu. There it was disclosed that Adm. Ernest J. King, commander-in-chief of the United States fleet, had visited the Pacific area for the first time since the war's outbreak to confer with Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet, and Adm. William F. Halsey, commander of the South Pacific force.

(Admirals King and Halsey since have returned to their headquarters after a conference which undoubtedly concerned plans to step up the Pacific offensive.)

On New Guinea, Australians have crossed the divide between the Markham and Ramu valleys and ousted the Japanese from the village of Kaigulin, 60 miles south of Madang. Madang is the next enemy base of importance up the coast from captured Finschhafen.

On Kolombangara, where the Japanese are trying to pull out their isolated garrison at Vila by means of self-propelled barges, today's communique reported that on Saturday and Sunday, American army and navy planes sank six barges. There was no elaboration but many other such barges sunk recently were loaded with enemy troops.

The Japanese air force sent 50 fighters against Vella Lavella, Corsairs intercepted the formation and shot down six at a cost of one interceptor, whose pilot was saved.

The senate previously, with administration approval, wrote into the substitute Wheeler's amendment requiring written explanations to draft boards for all requests for industrial deferments.

Final action on the measure, awaited disposition of a pending amendment by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) to restrict occupational deferments for men under 30 and set up a series of classifications for induction of fathers.

The revised substitute, offered by Senators Bailey (D-N. C.) and Clark (D-Mo.), also included an amendment setting up a medical commission to consider lowering army and navy physical standards to permit induction of many of the men now classified as 4-Fs.

At Least Five Dead In Shipyard Blast

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 6 (AP)—At least five persons were killed and an undetermined number injured today in the explosion of a small gasoline barge at the Gibbs shipyard, building various types of vessels for the navy.

Lieut. Kenneth Gregory, assistant public relations officer for the sixth naval district, said: "Scores of others were injured, said first reports, and numerous ambulances rushed to the scene along with doctors to render first aid.

The cause of the blast was not immediately learned. All available downtown fire-fighting equipment was rushed to the shipyard.

The blast was heard over a radius of several miles. Start New Terms

AUSTIN, Oct. 6 (AP)—The supreme court and court of criminal appeals, highest state tribunals in their respective fields, today open dockets for new cycles of activity.

Each court will receive submissions of cases for the first time since a summer recess began and opinions of importance will be given in coming weeks.

New 'Chin Turret'—Newest weapon to give Flying Fortress bombers greater protection against enemy fighter planes is this power-operated chin turret, shown on a Vega-built B-17, with two .50 caliber guns to give the nose gunner the same accurate firepower that protects the Fortress' belly, top and tail.

FDR Asks Congress To Grant Philippine Independence Soon

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—President Roosevelt asked congress today for authority to "proclaim the legal independence of the Philippines as a separate and self-governing nation as soon as feasible."

July 4, 1946, is the date for independence now set by law and by votes of the Filipinos, but Mr. Roosevelt told congress in a special message it was possible that fortunes of war will permit an earlier consummation of this joint will of the American and Filipino peoples.

The Japanese have held the Philippines since early 1942 and have taken steps themselves which they say are intended to give the islands independence.

President Roosevelt said not only an advance in the date for independence but also three other steps were due the Filipino people in recognition of their heroic role in the war, their political ties with this country and bonds of future friendship.

He recommended that congress make provisions for: 1. The president and President Quezon of the Philippines to "enter into immediate negotiations and take the necessary steps to provide for full security for the Philippines, for the mutual protection of the islands and of the United States, and for the future maintenance of peace in the Pacific."

2. Determining the necessary adjustment in laws pertaining to American-Philippine economic relations so as to assist in making the islands, as an independent nation, economically secure wherever possible.

3. Physical and economical rehabilitation of the Philippines "such action by the war."

"Such action by the part of the congress," Mr. Roosevelt said, "would assure the Philippine people again of our sincerity of purpose and of our resolution to accord them as feasible the legal status of complete freedom, independence, and nationhood to which, as a member of the United Nations, they are entitled."

CONVICTS ESCAPE HUNTSVILLE, Oct. 6 (AP)—Four convicts escaped late yesterday from Harlem prison farm, cutting through a dormitory building and taking a car belonging to B. D. Kinney, brick plant foreman.

Fugitives From Guardhouse Slain

BRENNHAM, Oct. 6 (AP)—Two men identified as fugitives from the Camp Bowie guardhouse were shot fatally here last night after allegedly attempting to overpower their two captors.

The sheriff's office here said the men were members of a group of eight who fled Camp Bowie Monday. The other six were captured.

Deputy Sheriff Walter Schoenmann, according to his office, fired the shots after one of the captives grabbed him around the neck. Policeman L. H. Landus of Brenham, driving the car taking the men to jail, also got in a shot which helped break their resistance.

The wounded men died early this morning. FIRE UNDER CONTROL

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Oct. 6 (AP)—Fire-fighters finally have brought under control a brush and timber fire which blackened 17,000 acres of watershed and caused eight deaths.

Red Activity May Mean New Major Drive

Growing Mobile Columns Seen At Both Ends Of Front

LONDON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Reports of growing activity of Russian mobile columns on both ends of the long, rain-soaked eastern front suggested the possibility today that Red army forces were preparing a new drive in force to turn the flanks of the Germans in one or both of these widely separated sectors.

The central front, on which the rival armies stood massed on either side of the Dnieper river line from Kiev south to Dnepropetrovsk, remained quiet.

Despite almost impassable roads and German counterattacks, the Red army apparently was keeping the initiative in the soggy marshlands of White Russia. Yesterday Russian forces captured 48 towns and villages in the Vitebsk sector, to anchor their spearheads only 30 miles from that important Nazi bastion, a Soviet communique broadcast from Moscow said.

Around Gomel, to the south of Vitebsk, the war bulletin reported the capture of an important rail line and said that here, too, enemy counter attacks were repulsed with losses. More than 1,150 German soldiers were killed in the Vitebsk and Gomel fighting, the communique said.

Berlin reported that Russian forces were deploying in strength around Lake Ilmen, far to the north, and at the southern end of the front just north of the Sea of Azov.

Outside of the gains in White Russia, Moscow dispatches reported that German counter-blows were increasing in number and strength, but that the front as a whole was relatively inactive.

Berlin indicated that the Germans would probably make a stand on the Dnieper river. Capt. Ludwig Sertorius, Nazi military commentator asserted: "The German command has obviously decided upon the Dnieper line as a general line for the end of the disengaging movements."

Nazi Supply Lines Hit By U.S. Planes

LONDON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Planes from a U. S. aircraft carrier, teamed up with units of the British home fleet, have struck a sharp surprise blow at Nazi supply lines off the coast of Norway in bold defiance of strong German naval forces reported concentrated in that area.

The daring foray, which failed to draw the Nazi warships from their hiding places in the Norwegian fjords, was disclosed in an admiralty communique which said that a number of U. S. vessels, including an aircraft carrier had participated.

The raid was carried out early Monday in the Bodoe area north of the Arctic Circle, the bulletin said. It declared that only preliminary reports on the operation had been received, but added:

"It is clear that United States carrier-borne aircraft obtained hits with bombs on a number of large enemy merchant ships, including an 8,000-ton tanker."

PROTECTION FOR POPE

LONDON, Oct. 6 (AP)—The Berlin radio, quoting the Vatican newspaper Osservatore Romano today, said the Holy See has taken a number of security measures "in view of a possible renewal of hostilities in Rome."

Private Meets Monkey In Battle Shell Hole

DALLAS, Oct. 6 (AP)—They met in a shell hole during the heat of battle, campaigned together afterwards, and today Pvt. Floyd Stewart and his tiny 9-month-old female monkey from North Africa were on their way to Stewart's home in Villisca, Iowa.

Boudgie is the monkey's name—in Arabic, Boudgie means "wonderful" and Stewart said she's really wonderful.

Sgt. Stewart's story: "The two met during the roar of battle near Kasserine Pass in Tunisia.

A member of the air-borne engineers, private Stewart dived into a hole when the going got hot. There he found the monkey already in possession, but willing to share the shelter with

Two Towns North Of Naples Taken By Fifth Army

By EDWARD KENNEDY ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, ALGIERS, Oct. 6 (AP)—The Allied Fifth Army has forced a crossing of the Volturno river, the Germans' strategic first line of defense on the road to Rome, it was announced today, and captured the towns of Aversa and Maddaloni north of Naples.

One unit crossed the Volturno, which runs 20 miles above Naples, at an unspecified point. The river, flowing into the coastal plain on the west side of Italy, had been expected to be the scene of a delaying action by the Nazis.

Reserves of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's troops were thrown into action because of stubborn German resistance.

On the Adriatic side, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's Eighth army engaged the Germans in heavy fighting along the Biferno river line near Termoli as the enemy attempted a strong delaying action there.

The Germans have thrown four to five divisions (up to 60,000 or 75,000 troops) into the Italian battleline.

Coursing far ahead of land troops, four waves of Flying Fortresses rained hundreds of tons of bombs on Bologna, rail center on the Brenner Pass line 180 miles below the German border, in "one of the most accurate and successful attacks" ever made by the Northwest African air force. Other planes hammered Nazi communications elsewhere in a wide area.

The Volturno river crossing probably was made inland in the mountain areas where the river is a tortuous stream.

Aversa, seized in the steady Allied thrust northward in the face of heavy road demolitions, is an important rail junction 8 miles north of Naples, and was much bombed by the Allies. Maddaloni is 14 miles northeast of Naples.

The Germans are using tanks in their battle with the Eighth army in the Biferno river area, and livey artillery duels took place yesterday along the river, which British units have crossed in some places.

Bologna, one of the strategic links in the Nazi rail supply system, is a heavily-defended area, and the Fortresses met strong opposition.

Bombs ripped into freight yards, locomotive sheds, workshops, buildings, warehouses, oil tank, and a sugar factory in Bologna, focal point of heavy rail traffic, setting huge fires. The Fortresses sent down eight of 30 to 35 opposing enemy planes.

This attack followed an assault Monday on Bolzano on the same rail line 35 miles below Brenner Pass.

Ask Hoover's Advice On Post-War Relief

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Striking out ahead of post-war planning, a senate sub-committee on foreign affairs today asked former President Herbert Hoover to draw on his World War Belgian relief experience and help devise a plan to feed some of Europe's starving millions now.

The former president, chairman of the commission for relief in Belgium from 1915 to 1919, was invited to testify Nov. 4 on a resolution calling for immediate action to avert "the impending tragedy of mass starvation" in Belgium, the Netherlands, Czechoslovakia, Norway, Poland, Greece and Yugoslavia.

Several U. S. Senators, on a tour of the war zones, recently added their voices to public clamor for greater allocation of war tools to the New Guinea-Solomons sector.

Mr. Roosevelt singled out the plight of the Japanese on the Kolombangara, noting that they are fleeing by small barges, many of which have been sunk by Allied airmen. Obviously, U. S. naval forces have drawn such a tight ring around the Solomons that the Tokyo admirals are afraid of risk protective warships in the action.

Evacuation of the Solomons—like at Kiska—itsself is a new blow to Japanese prestige. The whole Allied campaign there is much more important than the public attention it has been getting, the president added.

Coast Guard Patrol Ship Lost In Storm

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Loss of the coast guard patrol craft Wilcox in a storm off the Atlantic coast was announced today by the navy.

One crew member was lost when the former fishing vessel founded in a storm Sept. 30. He was Harry Stephens Dennis, seaman first class, whose widow is Mrs. Thelma Dennis, Bogota, N. E.

The 147-ton vessel, formerly the Rowland Wilcox, registered out of Redfield, Va., was commanded by Lieut. (jg) P. Smyser, of Southampton, N. Y.

Congressional Bloc Demands Oil Increase

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—A congressional bloc of more than 100 members, most of them from petroleum producing states, demanded today an immediate increase of at least 35 cents a barrel in crude oil prices.

Meeting in the house caucus room, they heard various members sound a warning that a serious shortage of petroleum threatens the war effort and the civilian economy.

By shouting votes, they adopted two resolutions. In one, addressed to Economic Stabilization Director Fred Vinson and Price Administrator Prentiss Brown, they urged that immediate and favorable action be taken on a recommendation of the Petroleum Administration for War that crude oil prices be increased at least 35 cents a barrel.

The other called upon the house banking committee to report favorably and immediately a resolution (HR 2887) by Representative Disney (D-Okla) which would transfer from the Office of Price Administration to the PAW authority to fix prices on crude oil and petroleum products.

The following committee was selected to confer with Vinson: Representatives Lea (D-Calif), Vinson (D-Ga), Rees (R-Kas) and Bates (R-Mass).

Rep. Gossett (D-Tex) offered the resolutions after numerous congressmen had denounced OPA for refusing to grant a crude oil price increase.

"A 35-cent increase, said Disney, would mean an increase to the consumer of only 8/10 of a cent a gallon of gasoline.

FDR Backs Up Pacific Policy

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—President Roosevelt's assertion that the Japanese are being beaten in the south Pacific was regarded today as possibly an indirect reproof to those critics demanding more aid for the forces of General MacArthur.

The President left the impression by his remarks at a press-radio conference yesterday that MacArthur is doing very well with what he has, and it is the Japanese in fact who are unable to get enough material and men into the area.

Several U. S. Senators, on a tour of the war zones, recently added their voices to public clamor for greater allocation of war tools to the New Guinea-Solomons sector.

Mr. Roosevelt singled out the plight of the Japanese on the Kolombangara, noting that they are fleeing by small barges, many of which have been sunk by Allied airmen. Obviously, U. S. naval forces have drawn such a tight ring around the Solomons that the Tokyo admirals are afraid of risk protective warships in the action.

Evacuation of the Solomons—like at Kiska—itsself is a new blow to Japanese prestige. The whole Allied campaign there is much more important than the public attention it has been getting, the president added.

Mrs. H. Borden Elected Vice President Of The Officers' Wives Club

Major Wheeler Speaks On Army Relief Fund

Officers' wives met in the Officers' club at the Big Spring Bombardier School Tuesday afternoon for a semi-monthly business session and bridge-luncheon. Hostesses for the day were Mrs. D. F. Partello, chairman, Mrs. W. L. Devlin, Mrs. R. D. Poston and Mrs. J. W. Woffington.

During a business session, Mrs. Horace Borden was elected vice president succeeding Mrs. Joe Robnett who has moved out of town, and women were urged to join the "army swing shift" for work at the Red Cross surgical dressing room. The group works at the volunteer service headquarters Thursday and Friday of each week from 9 to 12 a. m. and from 2 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

Maj. Harry Wheeler, special service officer, spoke to the club on the Army Relief Fund drive which is being sponsored here and asked the volunteers to sell tickets to the movie "This Is the Evening."

Luncheon was served at 1:30 o'clock and bridge was entertainment for the afternoon. Prizes went to Mrs. Roy B. Davis, Jr., Mrs. Ross Faulkner, Mrs. H. W. Penny and Mrs. Elizabeth Ross. Hostesses for the next meeting will be Mrs. Joe Luby, chairman, Mrs. Samuel Howe, Mrs. Ralph Alworth and Mrs. Martin Wisoff.

New Amendment For Rent Control

A new amendment to the Rent Control regulations regarding registration of new rental units was announced Wednesday by Charlie Sullivan, area director.

According to the amendment, new units not previously registered must be reported to the rent control office within 30 days after rental. An inspector must make his inspection and pass his ruling on the amount of rent. If the new unit is not registered within the 30 day period and the inspector rules that the rent should be lower than that charged by the landlord, then the landlord must refund any rent paid over the set price to the tenant.

The new amendment became effective on October 1st.

Two simple steps to amazing New STRENGTH... better LOOKS!

Activities at the USO

Thursday— Formal dance in game room. GSO hostesses.

Friday— 8:00 Ballroom class.

Saturday— 4:00 - 9:00 Canteen open. Coffee and coffee.

8:00 Recording hour.

8:30 p. m. Prizes for letter writing week.

Approximately 40 persons, including service men from the Big Spring Bombardier School, members of the GSO club and the B. & P. W. club attended a wiener roast which was sponsored by the USO Monday evening on Scenic Mountain.

Apples, wieners, marshmallows were roasted over an open fire, and highlight of the evening's entertainment was readings by a professional fortune teller. Dancing in the concession house was entertainment.

V. W. A. No host or hostess should serve themselves first! A host who serves himself first to untouched dishes and then passes the remains on to his guests is discourteous. Dishes are always passed to left and it is much better if plates are removed from the left. Drinking glasses are poured and additional knives placed at the right with forks at the left.

At a woman's luncheon, the guest of honor who sits at the right, is served first.

Q. Even though it was not originally considered proper for a girl to powder her nose in public, isn't it permissible now? The other evening when our party was leaving the football game I looked terrible with shiny nose and wind blown hair. One of the fellows kidded me about taking time to make repairs. Was it O. K. that I powdered my nose?

H. A. It would be just as proper for your friend to have produced a shaving mug and razor and prepared to shave his face, as it was for you to powder your nose.

Never under any circumstance is it proper for a girl to make facial repairs in public.

DOWNTOWN STROLLER

And now comes this story of the labor shortage. At one of the local hotels, the night switchboard operator, whose husband is in the service, has a little baby boy. Since school has started she can't get anybody to stay all night with the baby. So the other morning when the manager peered in his office there was a fine infant, sound asleep in its basket on his desk. He can't get help either so the baby stays. Everybody might not be satisfied, but then, this is war!

Back from the hospital in Dallas is Mrs. EUGENE McNALLEN, who is at home at 509 Nolan. She is in a plaster cast following an operation on her spine and can't get about, but that doesn't keep her from wanting to see her chums for visits during the day. Mrs. RAY LAWRENCE, who dropped in on her yesterday, claims she is looking fine in spite of the cast.

Visited the other day with Ensign BECKER and Yeoman BAKER, both recruiters for the WAVES. The similarity of their names and the fact it is sort of hard to call a cute looking gal ensign or yeoman sort of threw us for awhile. However, they are both good natured and didn't seem to be alarmed at our ignorance.

Apparently, if you don't have a cold these days, you just aren't in the social swim, or would it be better to say social sniffles? Anyway, we are right out in front with the rest of the early fall cold catchers. Ain't it awful!

Local Club To Observe National B & P W Week

Open House And Tea To Be Held Sunday Afternoon

A series of programs was planned Tuesday night by members of the Business and Professional Women's club in observance of national B & P W week, October 10th through October 16th.

The club will hold an open house and tea Sunday, October 10th, from 3 o'clock to 5 o'clock in the home of rs. L. A. Eubanks. Tuesday night a banquet will be given at the Settles hotel at 7:45 o'clock. In addition, a radio program will be given over KBST Thursday night from 7:30 o'clock to 7:45 o'clock.

Details of the events were discussed in the business session, and the club was also reminded that hostesses should be at the USO each onday night at 7:30 o'clock.

USO Sponsoring National Letter Writing Week Here

Every hour of the day—24 hours a day—between 20,000 and 25,000 men and women in uniform write letters to their families and friends on USO stationery. Large purchases of USO writing paper and postcards will be made during the coming year with funds made available in the National War Fund drive.

That is why E. C. Nicodemus, associate regional executive, who visited the Big Spring USO club, explained, the USO will participate in the National Letter Writing Week which began today.

"Every effort will be made to encourage men and women in uniform to write to their families and friends during this week," Nicodemus said. "USO is glad to be able to serve by providing the writing materials and a comfortable place where servicemen can sit down in peace and quiet and take care of their correspondence. Letter writing is almost an occupation for those who frequent these clubs. More than 17,000,000 letters are written every month in the 2,375 USO clubs and units in the United States and throughout the western hemisphere."

Each letter deposited in the mail box during the week will be recorded, the name of the sender being put on a slip of paper and deposited in a box. At the end of the week, prize winners will be drawn. The winners will receive free telephone calls to their homes or other prizes, which include fountain pens and books of stamps for air mail or parcels.

Landowner Removes Cow From Church

DALLAS, Oct. 6, (AP) — Trustees of the Cedar Hill Nazarene church have come to terms with Newt Williams, who ran a fence through the open tabernacle built by the church during a property dispute.

Williams had used what he claimed was his side of the property for his jersey heifer, "Baby." The church charged Williams with "violating the sanctity of church property" but trial was postponed until Oct. 9 when assistant District Attorney Bob Allen said he was unable to get a jury in justice court at Duncanville that was not strictly a "family affair."

Immediately after the agreement, Williams took down the fence and the congregation moved to withdraw charges.

Truants Have Many And Varying Alibis

SALT LAKE CITY — Police picked up 30 youngsters on downtown streets during school hours. Among the stories they heard: Four said they were enroute to a funeral. Two said it was strictly business. Eleven said it was "all a horrible mistake."

—And three said they were enroute to report to truant officers —for staying away from school last week.

Irving Berlin In Film Debut

Irving Berlin may have twenty odd years of song-writing and show business behind him, but he has just made his debut as a motion picture actor. He sang a song for his own "This Is the Army" which will show Friday evening at 8:30 at the Ritz theatre in a benefit show for Army Emergency Relief.

At 1:30 in the afternoon, he reported on Stage 9, to make a recording of his song "Oh How I Hate to Get Up in the Morning." To say he was nervous would be the understatement of the year.

Berlin is always nervous. Even though he has sung the song 200 times or more since the opening of "This Is the Army" in July, 1942, the job of recording his thin, ready-like voice, lifted high in song, presented a tremendous obstacle to him.

The musicians finished their rehearsing. Helndorf spotted Berlin. "We're ready, Irving," he announced. "Are you?"

With the look of a trapped man, Berlin advanced to the microphone. The sound stage was quiet. The few spectators made no sound. Helndorf tapped with his baton. "Let's run through it once, to see if it sounds all right."

They went through it. When they came to Berlin's cue, he began to sing. So small was the voice that you could hardly hear it six feet away. It was reminiscent of the time when Joe Frisco said, of Berlin's singing, "you have to hug him to hear him."

When they finished, the sound man said "O. K., but move Mr. Berlin away from the microphone. He sounds too big against the orchestra." The day of miracles is not yet over.

Must Reach War Food Goal For FSA Loans

Farm families may secure Farm Security Administration loans this year contingent only upon the acceptance of goals of war food production, FSA committeemen and supervisors were told at a sub-district parley held in the post-office basement Wednesday.

Committeemen, for whom the meeting was primarily designed, were impressed with their responsibility in encouraging families which take out rural rehabilitation loans to share in the increasing of milk production another five per cent to show a 25 per cent increase over 1941. Other objective per centage increases since war include: Potatoes 10 to a total of 40 per cent; beans, peas, etc. 125 per cent to a total of 200 per cent; vegetables 10 to 50 per cent; and meat, eggs, etc. to 50 per cent to a total of 100 per cent.

Last year, Marvin Wilson, Sweetwater, district supervisor, told the group, FSA loaned to 465,000 farm families. These accounted for 7.6 per cent of the total farm population, yet were responsible for 38 per cent of the total increase in milk production, 27 per cent of the total increase in dried beans, etc. and 10 per cent of the increase in milk, chickens and peanut production.

During the afternoon session, H. B. McGrady, Amarillo, pointed out that for the first time the counties in this immediate area are included in the farm ownership or tenant purchase program for the first time, and that farmers can now submit applications to FSA offices for Midland, Martin, Howard, Dawson, Gaines, Glasscock and Mitchell counties. He also explained mechanics of the program to committeemen.

Attending were these committee members: Dwight McDonald, Jim Baker, Sherwood O'Neal and Ed Lewis, Midland county; J. S. Folk and Paul Stuart, Gaines county; H. E. Blocker, Martin county; L. H. Thomas, Ed Carpenter, C. T. DeVaney, Howard county; C. A. Echols, Dawson county; Luther Anders and O. L. Simpson, Mitchell county; and these supervisors: O. M. Fowler, Midland, Ur D. Kindrick, Big Spring, W. H. Fowler, Colorado City, Orville W. Richardson, Lamesa, and Roberta E. Martin, Sweetwater, assistant district supervisor.

Post-War Crime Wave Predicted

Peace officers are going to need all the encouragement they can get from the public in order to successfully combat an inevitable crime wave after the war ends, a group of state guardsmen and peace officers were told Tuesday evening.

Burt Haynie, state highway patrolman, declared "that the handwriting is on the wall" because there has been an alarming increase in juvenile delinquency and in women arrests.

Capt. J. O. Musick of the state highway patrol safety division enlarged on this, observing that not only had women arrests jumped by 18.4 per cent during the past year, but that the number of run-away girls was increasing by leaps and bounds and that prostitution under 21 years of age had soared by 65 per cent.

Moreover, he pointed out that money came so freely from defense jobs that a considerable portion of the criminal element currently did not have to rob or steal to get the money to satisfy their desires. "But," he warned, the day is coming at the end of the war when many of them will return to making their living at the point of a gun."

Frequently officers are shackled by failure of citizens to testify as witnesses and draw criticism which rightfully belongs to the delinquent citizen, said District Attorney McDonald. He urged that officers be commended when they do good work as well as criticized if and when they deserve it. "The officer succeeds in direct ratio to your confidence in him," he said. Capt. Musick, who also projected a safety picture for the group, paid tribute to the Texas State Guard for its assistance in handling civil disturbances which prove too much for limited law enforcement personnel. Officers were here from Midland and Big Spring, including firemen, policemen, sheriffs and army officers.

Supervisors Are Returned In Soil District Voting

At least three of the existing supervisors were returned as members of the board as the initial board of supervisors for the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation district was set up by convention method Tuesday evening.

Previously, members had been elected by secret ballot and on a district basis.

At the Coahoma meeting Gene O'Daniel was returned for a three year term on the board. R. L. Warren was returned to the board at the Knott convention for two years, and Gordon Stone, Howard-Glasscock rancher and farmer, was selected at Lomax for a five year term on the board.

No reports had come in from the meetings at Stanton and at Valley View community in Midland county.

Henceforth, election of supervisors will be held annually. However, there will be a convention in only one zone each year and the term will

History Repeats As Yankees Take The Series Opener

By SID FEDER
NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (AP)—One up and three to go, the New York Yankees today were just where they were a year ago in their world series battle with the St. Louis Cardinals, but this time they had Joe Gordon in good working order and that took a lot of the knocks out of the motor.

Victors in yesterday's 4-2 comedy of errors opener that produced some of the weirdest fielding ever seen in any kind of baseball, the American league champions sent Ernie (Tiny) Bonham, their ample right-hander, out in today's second game to follow up Spud Chandler's fancy seven-hitter. If he can come anywhere close to a carbon copy with some of the same kind of offensive and defensive aid from Gordon, the Yanks will be halfway to the target of a four-straight series at which they're aiming as revenge for last year when they dropped four in a row after getting in the first punch.

As for the Cards' curver for today, Manager Billy (The Kid) Southworth was psyching the boys and refused to choose between rookie left-hander Alpha (Bet) Brazle, or fireball right-hander Mort Cooper until early game time at 12:30 p. m. (RWT), when another tremendous turnout, possibly approaching yesterday's 68,676, was expected. He was doing this, Southworth explained carefully, because he wanted the Yanks "to worry about it a while."

Just what it was Billy the Kid thought would fret the Yanks in this respect wasn't quite clear. They practically raised lumps on Cooper the two times he faced them in '42 and since they'd already knocked off the Cards' leading lefty in Max Lanier, they couldn't figure out how Brazle could be any tougher. The only concession they planned to make was that if right-hander Mort goes to the post, Bud Metheny, a left-handed batter, would get a spot in the picket line in place of Tuck Stainback. And this couldn't do much harm, because,

The Big Spring Steers can expect a wall of interference to rise up and form a human steamroller for Odessa ball carriers when they invade the Bronchos' corral Friday.

That's the nature of the Odessa attack, which functions very efficiently from the single wing. It's going to be no easy matter to gum the attack, Steers found out Tuesday when the reserves ran a few basic Odessa plays against the starters.

When they cut off tackle, there always were two men on the end, another pair on the tackle and at least one left to crack down on the line backer while others sifted through to roll the secondary. It was largely the same story inside tackle, and around end it looked as if half the reserves had pulled out to cut in the end and sweep away defenders. Although simply itself, a couple of the Odessa reserves packed plenty of power with that same old mass blocking power.

Considering that the second stringers were able to punch out some gains with the Bronco plays against the best Steer defense, it appeared that considerable remains to be done before the Friday invasion is launched by the Steers.

The scrimmage got plenty rough, and Ray Thomas, first line guard, came up with a couple of tooth holes through his lip. However, he is expected to be in good shape for the Bronco tilt. After he caught the lick, Coach John Dibrrell toned his workout down a bit and spent the remainder of the afternoon in dummy scrimmage to study Odessa blocking and in brushing up on the Steer attack.

In spots the Big Spring passing looked good, for Bobby Barron rifled them to receivers on the dead run a good percentage of the time. Occasionally, the Steer line lashed badly and he was rushed, and too, Barron had his wild streaks. Receiving seemed to be about as much a problem as passing, for ends and backs dropped some mighty pretty shots.

Line men appeared to be doing a pretty good job of checking their men on pass plays, and Barkley Wood, center, looked exceptionally well on these maneuvers. He was downright rough.

The Steer running game looked fair to good, and it became more apparent that Odessa better not give Dewey Stevenson, fullback, a start through that line or he'll be mighty hard to head. Better than he was at the end of last season—when he was looking good—Stevie now runs with power and a whale of a lot of deception.

Hugh Cochran, because not too many hear about his work, may worm loose, and if he does, it'll take something faster than Big Spring has to head him. Odessa may learn what an earthquake feels like when they catch a few jolts from Leo Rusk. The big quarterback daily picks up more steam and surprisingly becomes more nimble-footed.

Walker Cooper and Max Lanier, between them, set up the Yanks' winning rally in the sixth, when with two on, Max turned loose a wild pitch. The ball rolled to ward first base and Cooper went looking for it toward third. One run scored while Cooper rode the merry-go-round and another was set up.

And in the fourth, the Yanks got their first run without a hit being hit out of the infield when Frankie Crossetti was safe on Lanier's bobble, stole second on Walker Cooper's high throw, went to third on Johnson's scratch single—and a pair he posted in the game—and pranced home on Charley Keller's double play grounder. It was immediately afterward that Gordon hit the jackpot, and if it hadn't been for the hocus-pocus put on earlier, he wouldn't even have come to bat in that frame. The blow was the most solid of all the eight Yankee hits during the shindig, seven of which Lanier gave up in his seven-inning trick. Max also whiffed seven.

Not to be outdone in the comedy department, the Yanks had some laughs and patter of their own. In the second, after Walker Cooper had scratched a hit to third, Marty Marion sliced a liner over first and into the right field corner. Stainback spent so much time fumbling with it that a number of the folks thought he was carrying on a conversation with the ball. Before he tossed it in, Cooper had scored and Marion was sitting on second.

Topping this for chuckles, however, was the little stunt first sacker Nick Etten, the fugitive from the Phillies, came up with in the fifth. Ray Sanders connected for his first of two hits by barely beating out an infield grounder. Etten, burned up because the Cardinal was called safe, tossed the ball across the infield and it rolled nearly to the Yankee dugout. Sanders lit out for second and made it in a gallop, from where he was brought around by Lanier's looping single to center. All in all, what with a couple of four-motored bombers virtually scraping the stadium roof, it was quite a production.

Yearlings Meet Midland Thurs.

The Yearlings, understudies for the Steers, will play their first game of the season here Thursday at 8 p. m. with the Midland Bullpups as the opposition.

John Dibrrell, athletic director, said that Midland had been booked Tuesday after negotiations with Colorado City Juniors struck a snag. However, he hoped to get in a game for the Yearlings against the Colorado lads.

Wayne Matthews, Yearling coach, said that he had not yet picked his starters from the squad of more than 60 youngsters, but naturally, these berths will go to the more experienced of the boys. Many of those out have had only two weeks of football experience to their credit.

NTAC Tapes Bruises For Fannin Tilt Sat.

ARLINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—Next game for the much improved North Texas Aggies, who beat Southern Methodist last Saturday 20-6, will be played at Tyler Saturday night with Camp Fannin.

Camp Fannin's lineup is composed of officers of the 15th training regiment and is coached by Lieutenant Bill Nash, former University of Pennsylvania player and varsity mentor.

Guard Doyle Caraway, fullback John Bond and Quarterback Pete Stout received injuries in the S.M.U. game but are expected to be ready to play against the soldiers. Howard Maley, star back who got in little time against the Methodists because of a sprained leg-muscle, also is rounding-into shape.

Bookies Set Odds On Today's Game

NEW YORK, Oct. 6 (AP)—As a result of the New York Yankees' opening game win over the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday, local bookmakers boosted the odds on the Bombers today to 1 to 2 to win the set. They were only 5 to 6-1-2 choices before yesterday's tussle.

The bookies had two sets of prices for today's game, depending on which pitcher starts for the Cards against Tiny Bonham. It's right-hander Mort Cooper, the thing is rated a toss-up at 6 to 5 and pick 'em." If rookie left-hander Alpha Brazle gets the Cards' call, the Yanks are favored at 6-1-2 to 5.

Memphis Game With SMU Is Called Off

DALLAS, Oct. 6 (AP)—The scheduled Southern Methodist-Naval Air Technical Training Center football game at Memphis Saturday night was called off Tuesday. James H. Stewart, coach of Southern Methodist announced.

An order issued in Washington by the navy department banning any off-base activity by the Memphis navy team was the reason for cancellation, Stewart said. The municipal stadium, proposed site of the game, is inside the limit in miles that a navy team is allowed to travel for a game.

New Scale Listed In Benefit Action

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6 (AP)—A liberalized scale of benefit payments to the dependent wives, husbands and children of service men and women was headed today toward house action, probably next week.

Here is the proposed new monthly scale—revised upward to meet higher living costs: $50 for a wife; $72 for a wife and one child; $90 for a wife and two children, and $16 extra for each additional child.

Existing law provides $50 for the wife, $62 for a wife and one child, and $10 extra for each additional child.

Ration Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP)—Walker Cooper likely will be elected to the exclusive schmozzle society (re-member Lombardi's swoon at the plate in the '39 series?) as a result of losing sight of that wild pitch yesterday, but in our book Nick Etten committed a lot worse error when he protested a close decision by tossing the ball away with a runner on first. . . . All he had to do was to let himself get trapped of the bag in the same inning and Nick would have been back with the Phillies today. . . . Even though the Yanks escaped the consequences, it's a good bet that they'll spend part of the winter looking for another first baseman. . . . As for Cooper's looking the wrong way when the ball disappeared over his shoulder, Manager Billy Southworth has as good an explanation as any: "When they go that high you don't see 'em."

QUOTE, UNQUOTE
Mort Cooper (who'll surely pitch tomorrow if he doesn't get the call today): "My arm never felt better. I don't know where that sore arm stuff got started; I never had a sore arm in my life. I just had a little cold in the shoulder for about three days."

FIRST GAME FOLLIES
Just after Joe Gordon clouted his homer, the rolled-down canvas screen in front of the center field bleachers began to smoulder. . . . Looked like a Cardinal fan burny-ing up. . . . And what about the story that the Cards would run the Yanks ragged? . . . Here's how the Yanks got their first run: Crossetti reached first by running over Lanier when the Card pitcher juggled the throw; then he stole second and Walker Cooper threw a mile over the base; Johnson bunted and was safe when Sanders dived for the ball and tried to roll far enough to tag Billy because there was no one covering first; then Crossetti scored on a double play. . . . Sounds like a typical Card rally. . . . And don't overlook the fact that Rookie Bill Johnson was the only Yank to get two hits. . . . Or that "Terry Moore" running catch Harry Walker made off Chandler in the seventh.

DOG GONE GOOD CATCHER
Spud Chandler says that if his pitching has improved this season, Bill Dickey deserves the credit. . . . Every time he'd begin to tighten up, Bill would come out and talk something like this: "You're working too fast—and that reminds me of a bird dog I used to have." . . . By the time he'd heard all about the dog, Spud was ready to pitch again.

SERVICE DEPT.
Lieut. (jg) Buddy Hassett drew his first leave since he joined the navy just in time to see the series and spend some of that $500 cut the Yankees voted him. . . . Terry Moore, wearing a string of service ribbons, had to fly five days from his base in the Panama Canal Zone to get here for the series. He could hardly wait to get into his seat and "see some hitting." . . . How times change: One of the guests in Larry Landis' box was Lieut. Col. Jurg MacPhail, who never minced any words when he felt like criticizing the judge.

Pecos Peach May Be One Of TCU's Best
FORT WORTH, Oct. 6 (AP)—Jim Lucas, the Pecos peach, may develop into the best varsity ball carrier Texas Christian had since the days of Jimmy Lawrence, thinks Coach Leo (Dutch) Meyer.

Lucas, the dead-panned freshman, got his baptism in college football last Saturday at Fayetteville and proceeded to run the Arkansas Razorbacks ragged. One long gallop set up a score, another dash of 45 yards with an intercepted pass accounted for the other touchdown.

"Luke has the valuable talent of being able to follow and make use of his interference," said Meyer. "He isn't the same type of runner as the powerful Lawrence but Lucas is fast, shifty and has rare determination."

Players Surprised To Learn No Game
LIBERTY, Mo., Oct. 6 (AP)—William Jewell College football players, ready for a trip to Fayetteville to play the Arkansas Razorbacks Oct. 9, were a bit surprised to learn the Razorbacks will play Monticello A. and M. Marine-Neval Trainees that day.

It was the fourth try for Arkansas, which had tentatively scheduled the Monticello game, then substituted the Albuquerque, N. M., army team, the substituted William Jewell—and finally reverted to Monticello.

Bob Brumley May Again Be Texas Jonah

DALLAS, Oct. 6 (AP)—Battering Bob Brumley climaxes his personal feud with the University of Texas here Saturday when Texas meets Oklahoma. At the present time the score is two-all.

Those who direct football at the state university had figured they were rid of the rugged young man from Edinburg. Four times he had played against their teams while wearing the livery of the Rice Owls and twice he proved an acute pain to the Longhorns.

As a freshman at Rice in 1938 Brumley kicked a field goal to beat the Texas Yearlings 3-0. As a sophomore, however, Brumley was on the losing team.

Came 1940 and Texas had an eleven figured as a definite championship contender. Brumley scored done touchdown, ran 30 yards and lateraled for another and Rice downed the Longhorns 13-0. It knocked Texas out of at least a tie for the title.

In 1941 Brumley was injured and didn't see much action when Texas rolled over Rice 40-0.

Brumley had finished up his eligibility and wasn't around when the 1942 season opened. Texas won the championship.

But now, as the Longhorns prepare to meet Oklahoma in the thirty-seventh renewal of this ancient southwestern rivalry, Brumley turns up again to play for Oklahoma.

Bob is a chief specialist in the navy trainee physical education program there.

He's still one of the greatest line plungers in football—and he can kick that pigskin from here to yonder.

Oh well, Texas; maybe this will be the last time.

Odessa Lineman Kicks Bare-Footed

ODESSA, Oct. 6 (AP)—Eugene (Blue Eyes) Clark, 16-year-old guard on the Odessa high school football team, kicks off to opposing teams and converts after touchdown—bare-footed.

It's not just a stunt. Blue eyes proves that by kicking field goals from the 45-yard line.

"When I was a kid," he said, "I always played barefooted. I learned to kick that way and now I just can't kick with shoes on."

Clark opens the game with one shoe on and one shoe off, kicks the ball and sometimes plays for several minutes before he finds a chance to get that shoe on again.

The youngster is a member of a line that has held three opponents—Lubbock, El Paso and Lamesa—to a total of 167-yards and has thrown those same three teams for a loss of 167.

Although Lubbock downed the Broncos 18 to 6 in the season opener, Odessa held the Westerners to 63 yards gained on the ground and threw them for a combined loss of 72.

The Broncos have overcome inexperience with blocking that reminds one of the Masonic home teams of other years. The lads have gained 810 yards rushing in the three games.

The line is made up of a group of lightweights.

Clark's running mate is Pat Kelly, 120-pound guard who the Broncos say is the roughest man on the team.

Editorial -- Republicans Must Look Toward 1948

Following Wendell Willkie's announcement that he was ready to serve either as nominee or in the ranks of the Republican party next year (or words that have that meaning) some of the bell-wethers in the party are saying that he is too "close to FDR for the making of a successful candidate." They add that the recent pronouncement of the group leaders, which did not include Willkie or Hoover, at Mackinac Island, cleared the party of isolationists, and that therefore Willkie's known position as a One World man is not so potent as it might have been had the Republican leaders continued their defense of isolationism.

It would be reversal of every present indication should the Republican party be able to nominate and elect a candidate for the presidency who could defeat

President Roosevelt for a fourth term. Every possible argument against a third term was advanced and proved its failure to stop the breaking of precedent as to presidential terms. Nothing more could be offered against a fourth term, and unless conditions and personal views of voters change before the election next year, the best the Republican party can expect to do will be to elect some possibly enough to gain control of legislation, either by a majority, or by having enough votes to compel the Democrats to abandon some of the harebrained plans that are being proposed for governing the people.

If that be done the Republicans will have opportunity to show the people whether a change is advisable, and it will then be easy to make it in 1948.

Washington Daybook— Baruch May Be One To Solve Manpower Worry

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON — Is it possible that the man who straightened out our rubber muddle is going to straighten out our manpower muddle, too?

I mean the veteran Bernard M. Baruch, who is holding more conferences on the benches of Lafayette Park these autumn days than ever he holds in his office. Recently, the war Cabinet's dean of advisors has laid it on the line in two red-tape slashing declarations. In one he told Congress either to give Gen. George C. Marshall everything he asks in the way of manpower or fire him. This is very much in line with Baruch's idea of occupational deferments first and dependency deferments second. But even more than the statements of General Marshall and other military and Selective Service leaders, it put Congress on the spot by making the father-draft vote a vote of confidence for our military leaders.

and out of the hands of the worker the right to work wherever he chooses. The Baruch plan suggests that WPB determine, on a basis of production needs, what factories should hire and which might even have to turn loose some workers they now have.

However, Washington would only determine the factory priority ratings. The actual details would be worked out by local committees, for Baruch is an apostle of decentralization.

Baruch also would have a more positive policy on essential labor deferments and suggests even returning to essential industry men now in service. He opposes the system of temporary deferments (all of which are supposed to expire the last of November).

He suggests that some part-time schooling system be worked out to give back to industry at least a portion of the more than 1,800,000 youngsters who have been contributing to the war production effort but who now are returning to school.

He wants all war production communities to wage a real battle against labor turnover (more than 100 per cent in some areas) by improving housing, transportation, day nurseries for the children of working mothers, a maximum enforcement of price and rent ceilings, adjusted shopping and personal service schedules.

He favors wage incentives but thinks they should be determined locally, not by a blanket policy. He wants a re-examination of the farm labor deferments to be sure farms don't become hideaways for unessential workers.

And he prefers a change in the costly cost-plus system of letting contracts — a system that many others also feel opens the door to waste, extravagance and labor hoarding.

His second and more extensive statement of manpower policy was a report to War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes, recommending ways and means of breaking the manpower bottleneck in West Coast airplane factories.

The important thing is that if this Baruch plan is successful, it will become a blueprint for the entire country and would forestall national service legislation which almost everyone agrees is a necessary evil if other efforts fail.

In view of this, some of the salient points of the Baruch plan are well worth recording.

Most important is the suggested system of labor priorities, which would take out of the hands of the individual employer the right to hire, fire or hoard employees.

In the Wake of MURDER

By ADELINE McELFRESH

Chapter 9

Jane stared at the piece of blue silk, rubbing its clinging softness between her fingers. Somehow, it had not occurred to her that one of her own sex could be involved in such a plot.

"I'll call the police," she said, thinking, Brad must know.

Evelyn Billingsley rose. "I wish you would, dear," she agreed. "I... well, frankly, I've had about all I can stand."

Of course, you have, Jane thought. Aloud she said: "Shall I drive you home?"

"Oh, no. My sister is with me. I asked her to wait downstairs. I wanted to see you alone. It's so much easier."

"Of course," Jane wondered if she knew that her husband had been working with Brad.

Mrs. Billingsley paused at the door. "You'll come... tomorrow?" Her eyes were pleading.

"I'll be there."

Still clutching the blue silk, Jane tried to call Brad but he was not at the office or his apartment. Then she called Ed Black.

"Yes, Jane?"

"Uncle Ed?" She hesitated, wondering just how to tell him. "Listen closely, now."

When she finished, he swore softly. "That's an outrage," he declared. "As if that poor soul hadn't had enough hell already."

"Shall I call the police, Uncle Ed?"

There was a tiny silence. I'll do it, Jane, the editor offered. "I'll send a messenger over for the material and take it to Thompson myself. I want to talk to him anyhow."

Jane sighed thankfully. She hadn't wanted to see Jim Thompson. It reminded her too much of what had happened.

Jennifer Brown arrived in a few minutes. "Hi, Jane," she gushed. "How thrilling! A murder."

"Yes, isn't it?" Jane murmured, wishing that Uncle Ed had sent someone else. She never had liked the plump assistant auditor, whose affections ranged the length and breadth of the Chronicle office. There had been a time when Jennifer cast sheep's eyes at Joe Masters. Probably now she was planning Brad's future to suit her own tastes.

"Why, Jane," Jennifer pouted. "I wish I were in your shoes."

"You're welcome to them, I'm sure. You'd like the evidence, I suppose?"

There, she had said it. Admitted that the piece of silk was evidence.

Jennifer plumped herself down in a chair. With one expert toe, she slipped the other pump off. She sighed. "What a relief."

She left finally, the silk tucked away in her purse, and Jane felt herself relax. Uncle Ed would take care of everything.

Sam Alton came in then and Jane found herself involved in another discussion of Billingsley's death. Her discovery of the body had been played up in the paper—the telephone call had not been mentioned, though, due to Brad's influence—and the attorney insisted on talking of it. Jane thought he seemed to suspect her of knowing more than she was telling.

When he had gone, she crossed the hall to talk to the girl in that office.

"Come in, kid," Helen Evans, the county sheriff's daughter, understood some of the strain under which Jane had been working. She motioned to the box of fudge on her desk. "Have some."

They sat there, munching fudge and talking, for an hour or more. Helen assured her guest that she had all the time in the world since her boss was out of town for the day. As proof, she held up the book she had been reading.

Tactfully steering the conversation clear of the subject of murder, Miss Evans drew Jane out, made her talk of other things until some of the tension relaxed.

"You're what the doctor ordered, Helen," Jane said when she rose to leave. "I feel much, much better."

Helen smiled ruefully. "I'm glad. You looked kind of sick when you first came in. Oh-oh, some funny little guy just went in."

Jane hurried across the hall. The 'funny little guy' was surveying the office. Jane got the impression that his close-set black eyes missed nothing, especially when they shifted to her.

"Howdy," the stranger grunted. "I'm Brandt, from the Emerson Daily News."

"Yes?" Jane didn't like those eyes. They were much too roving. "Yep. We'd like to have a story from your angle. Plus pictures."

"My angle?" Jane was puzzled. "I didn't know I had an angle."

The man's laugh had a nasty edge to it. He deposited his camera on the desk.

"Oh, lady, but you have! Sob stuff. Human interest. The public

Capital Comment-- FD's Views On Commentators

By GEORGE STIMSON
Rerald Staff Correspondent

"I am one of those who believe," says Congressman R. Ewing Thomason, of El Paso, "if Woodrow Wilson had realized his dream and hope, we would not now be in this war."

Says Senator W. Lee O'Daniel: "One thing we must realize if we expect to maintain free government is that a free democratic system of government cannot be maintained when all of the decisions are made in Washington and when all of the power of government is vested in a strong centralized bunch of boards and bureaus and most of these boards and bureaus presided over by those who have distinct communistic leanings... All that we have and all that we may hope for in the future is dependent upon maintaining in America a government where the people are the masters and the public officials are the servants. Without democratic government, we sink to the level of the beasts of the field that think only of food and water, a place to eat and a place to sleep. The greatest need of this nation today is a thorough house cleaning in Washington."

"It is easy to criticize or condemn price fixing and other arbitrary rules and regimentation methods that are tolerated in wartime only, but we should stop and consider what the alternative would be in the event these laws were repealed." Congressman Wright Patman.

Ad. in Washington newspaper: "I must find an apartment or leave Washington. My wife threatens to move to Reno. I love my wife more than my boss and I'll pay $150 a month."

Food Administrator Marvin Jones has called Texas farm meeting at College Station for October 7-9; representatives of state agriculture war board, farm organizations, war food administration, will be present; meeting will formulate 1944 crop goals and consider problems relating to farm labor, machinery, supplies, conservation practices, prices, and other production factors.

I don't want to descend to a low level in my musings, but today I observed a curious thing at the Capitol. In the underground passage-way between the House Office building and the Capitol, the route taken by Representatives between their offices and the House chamber, the spittoons are spaced about a hundred spaces apart: in the corridors of the Senate Office building these receptacles are much closer together. I imagine this is because the senators are generally older men than the representatives and are not physically able to travel so far between expectorations.

The President's radio-press conference this afternoon almost reached mass meeting proportions. There were two reasons for this, possibly three. It was a beautiful day, the President had not had a conference for two weeks, and word had passed around the press rooms of the Capitol that "the Chief" would probably have something to say about the General Marshall stories. Anyhow, the whole world and his brother turned up at the conference and the oval room was jammed to capacity.

President Roosevelt started off by announcing the latest lend-lease figures acting just as if there was nothing unusual in the air. Then he told us how important the capture of Gorizia was from the strategic standpoint. He was asked to comment about taxes, Sumner Well's resignation, the appointment of Edward Stittinus, a successor to the resigned internal revenue collector, etc., etc., but he shook his head each time. The General Marshall question was popped and the President was ready for it. But I thought he was pretty mild. After reading a few paragraphs of one of the dope stories, which I admit, was nothing to be proud of, he read two editorials from a New York newspaper condemning that sort of Journalism. What he said added up to about this: About ninety percent of you correspondents and radio commentators are pretty good eggs, and the less said about the other ten percent the better.

During the First World War Congressman Sam Russell, of Stephenville, spent about six months in training at Camp Sheppard near Montgomery, Ala. When Sam came back to Wash-

Hollywood Sights And Sounds— Prayer Helps An Actor

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — The handsomest man in pictures, a chap who once made $2,500 a week and then learned what it was to be hungry, is making a comeback. But he's not the same old Neil Hamilton.

In looks, yes, he's about the same; still handsome, still paunchless and athletic, he says cheerfully that he has just turned 44 and has never been happier in his life. Not only about the comeback, for which David O. Selznick has signed him for seven years, but about the "bigger thing" of which he considers the comeback a part. He'll play in "Since You Went Away."

"It's all a demonstration," he says with fervor, "of the power of prayer."

And this is his story:

Neil Hamilton, who got into pictures in 1925, and made a hit in "Beau Geste," soon got to thinking that Neil Hamilton was pretty big stuff. His salary went up and up, he had two houses and a boat and all that money could buy.

"So I forgot about God and became a law unto myself," he says. "I was a great fool, didn't need help from anywhere."

In 1935 he went to England for two years to make pictures. When he came back, a lot of people remembered him—as a has-been. He finally got a deal for four pictures at $1,750 a week, and then drew another long enforced vacation. After this he was glad to play in a serial, at $350 a week—the former romantic hero playing a Nazi spy. He was beginning really to worry.

Then he got a proposition to share in a Hollywood show at the San Francisco world's fair. His share was the loss of all his savings, all his wife Elsa's jewels and a debt of $28,000.

It was his daughter Patricia, now 12, who really accounted for his "return to God." One Sunday it struck him that she might wonder why she should go to church while her dad slept Sunday mornings. That Sunday he didn't sleep. At church that day, he says, he became a new man.

He had new hope, but still no work. There were days when the Hamiltons weren't sure of their next meal.

"I had faith, and the more I read of my religion the stronger my faith became," he says. "If my faith was strong, Elsa's was stronger. I got down on my knees and prayed. One morning while shaving I heard a voice. Call it imagination if you will, but to me it was a voice. It told me to go see Dan Kelly, the casting director at Universal. Elsa said, Why not?"

"The last time I'd seen Dan I'd been pretty nasty, feeling my oats as a big shot. I apologized, and he said to forget it. He sent me over to Bernard Burton, the producer, and Burton had a job for me in 'All by Myself.' For $650 a week. He said he'd been looking through the casting directories to fill this role, and why wasn't I in them? I hadn't the $15 it takes to be in."

Heroes Enrolled In Naval School

AUSTIN, Oct. 6 (AP)—Men with a goodly taste of battle are training for more of it at the U. S. naval flight preparatory school at the University of Texas.

Numbered among the aviation cadets in the school are several with decorations and citations for exploits which preceded their transfer from other types of naval service to aviation training.

A partial lineup: L. H. Bouette, Abbeville, La., earned air medal for participating in the rescue of Capt. Eddie Rick-enbacker.

E. E. Buck, Fort Smith, Ark., Air Medal winner for helping land troops at Amchaka and Attu.

B. M. Griffin, Phillips, Wis., and G. W. Chapman, Harriman, Tenn., participants in seven major engagements.

Authorities Delve Into WAC's Death

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Oct. 6 (AP)—Military and civil authorities today sought to piece together events that led to the death of a pretty, brunette 25-year-old officer of the Women's Army Corps whose body was found near a railroad overpass here last night.

Officers of the technical school, army air forces training command here identified the dead WAC officer as Second Lieutenant Naomi Kathleen Cheney, Jasper, Ala.

Lieut. Cheney, who was commissioned June 5, was assistant personnel officer of a school group at the radio school here.

First Lieut. Luther Evans, assistant public relations officer at the school said Lieut. Cheney was "a very attractive brunette." He said there was evidence of a struggle at the spot where the body was found. Lieut. Cheney was last seen when she left Monday night after visiting another WAC officer in the hospital at the army school. No other details were disclosed by army officers.

OAKY DOAKES: GENTLEMEN, WE HAVE MET TO CONSIDER THE SHOCKING CONDUCT OF SIR OAKY DOAKS. I NOW ASK DR. MERLIN, PH.D., M.D., D.S.C., TO GIVE US HIS DIAGNOSIS OF SIR OAKY'S CASE.

YOUR MAJESTY, SIR OAKY IS—ER, DRUGGED! DRUGGED?

MORGANA LE FEY GAVE HIM ONE OF MY POWERFUL POTIONS WHICH WAS MADE FOR SOMEONE ELSE! IT'S EFFECT ON SIR OAKY HAS MADE HIM HATE WOMEN AND, ER—WANT TO CHASTISE 'EM!

ISN'T THERE AN ANTI-DOTE? YES—ONLY ONE! IF OAKY SHOULD SEE THE FACE OF THE GIRL HE LOVES, HE'D SNAP OUT OF IT!

DICKY DARE: HEY, WHAT'S THAT? A FAINT DRONIN' SOUND COMIN' NEARER.

LOOK UP THERE—A PLANE!

CATCH ME IF YA CAN, YOU DUMMIES

MEAD'S fine BREAD

SUPERMAN: THANK HEAVEN I REALIZED BEFORE TOO LATE THAT THE LOIS LANE WHO PERSUADED ME TO DESTROY THIS VITAL BRIDGE WAS AN IMPOSTER! BUT I SAW IT! HE WELDED THAT HUGE CABLE WITH HIS BARE HANDS! THAT'S IMPOSSIBLE! BUT I THINK I SAW IT TOO! LOOK, FELLAS—GOT AN IDEA! ...THERE'S ONLY A FEW OF US. LET'S JUST FORGET THE WHOLE BUSINESS! RIGHT...THEY'D SURE PUT US IN THE PSYCHO WARD FOR OBSERVATION IF WE TOLD THIS! BROTHERS! I DIDN'T SEE A THING! NO DOUBT THE BOGUS LOIS IS AN ENEMY AGENT WHICH MAKES ME ANXIOUS TO MEET HER AGAIN! I'VE STILL GOT TO FIND THE REAL LOIS LANE!

SCORCHY SMITH: OX!... AND THIS IS THE INN OF THE OX! GOLLY! SO THAT'S WHAT THE MARKS ON THE MAP MEANT!... IT'S DOUBLY CLEVER BECAUSE IN GERMAN IT'S "OCHS"... IF O'DAY HADN'T SEEN THAT PICTURE OUTSIDE...!... AND THE O MARKS THE DISTRICT TOO... GREAT GUNS! IF THIS IS THE SPOT WE'RE SEARCHING FOR... SCORCHY... MAY BE HERE...
