STRIKERS DUE TO EVACUATE AUTO PLANTS

WORKERS EXPECTED TO VOTE FAVORABLY ON PROPOSAL

By The Associated Press. Strikers in first two of eight Chrysler plants to vote on evacuation of plants agree to leave after 47-day stay-in. Officials of United Automobile Workers of America submit evacuation agreement by John L. Lewis, strike director-general, to strikers for ratification or rejection. Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan announces agreement after day's conference with Lewis, Walter F. Chrysler, corporation board chairman, and others. Negotiations to continue today if evacuation approved and completed. Chrysler agrees not to operate plants or remove equipment during negotiations. President Roosevelt and Secretary of Labor Perkins express pleasure over agreement. DETROIT, March 25 (AP)—More than 6,000 striking automobile workers marched in swirling snow today from eight Chrysler Corp. plants they have held since March 8, but prepared to establish picket lines until their strike for exclusive bargaining rights is settled. The sit-downers in the Chrysler Keweenaw plant, the last to vote on the peaceful evacuation agreement, gave their approval about 12:40 p. m. and in a few minutes began to leave the factory. Word of the Keweenaw vote was telephoned to the big Dodge plant and 5,000 strikers there marched at once from the plant. About 1,400 strikers in the Keweenaw plant cheered the announcement.

COURT OF HONOR TO BE HELD ON MONDAY NIGHT

The monthly Boy Scout Court of Honor will be held Monday evening in the district courtroom in the courthouse. The program will begin at 7:30 o'clock. Due to the fact that only a few boys came up for advancement or merit badges at the last court which was held at a local theater, the Monday night court should be larger than usual. Four boys from troop 80 which will have charge of the program, will make application for the rank of Eagle Scout. They will not be awarded Eagle badges until the April Court. The entertainment program will include a trial with members of troop 80 taking the roles of judge, jurors, attorneys, witnesses. The "indictment" charges four boys with conspiring to kill and with the murder of a pet crow which had acquired the aggravating habit of flying off with their ping pong balls.

Strip Tease 'Art' Banned in England

LONDON, March 25 (AP)—Geo. Black, the English producer who "doesn't want any strip-tease dancers here," fled into hiding today from Diane Raye, the American dancer who wants to demonstrate undressing to music to British audiences. "I have been looking for Mr. Black all day to get this crazy report about my act being banned straightened out. And I shall go on trying. 'I shall appear on the stage Monday—or there will be fireworks.' Anyway, Miss Raye pointed out, 'My act is not vulgarly but art.' It is about that point that Black has decided doubts. Black took a preview look at Diane's Broadway specialty and, with a startled gasp, 'It's too hot for England,' fled. He had imported Diane without having seen her act. Diane, frankly, is more bewildered than hurt. 'What are they mad about?' she pleaded demurely. 'I wear beads, don't I?'

I Heard . . .

That a recently married young Pampa man walked home from a train ride the other day. It seems that his wife took the train for Wichita, Kas., to visit relatives and that she and hubby in making farewells failed to notice that the train had started until it cleared the city limits. The kindly conductor stopped the train about two miles east to allow the young man to alight.

COUNTY SELLS 2,500 PLATES DURING MONTH

APRIL 1 IS DEADLINE; NO EXTENSION TO BE GRANTED

Approximately 2,500 automobile licenses have been sold in Gray county since March 1 and an average of 800 a day will have to be maintained at the tax collector's office from now until the April 1 deadline. If the county's approximately 7,000 autos and trucks get in under the wire. Tax Collector Ewing Leech stated today that day before yesterday was the heaviest day since the tags went on sale here. More than 95,700 in license fees was taken in on Tuesday. Farris Vaughn, of Pampa, is on the job for the State Highway department listing information at the tax collector's office from auto-licensers as they call to take out their 1937 license plates. The information to be used in planning a road system, is collected on franked postcards that are being handed to car owners as they pay their 1937 fees at the office of County Tax Collector Ewing Leech, in the Gray county court house. The cards are self-addressed and require no return. Vehicle owners are asked to fill them in and mail them at once. The information collected in this manner will be used by the Highway Department in designating the secondary road system which is to be established soon.

STRIP PLANTING URGED AS DROUTH INSURANCE

NORMAN, Okla., March 25 (AP)—Alternating strips of wheat and grass in contour pattern were advanced today as one point of a proposal for a long time assault on crop-destrifying "black blizzards." Soil moisture tests and fallowing of land during dry years were also in the program urged by Dr. Paul B. Sears, noted soil conservation authority and botany professor at the University of Oklahoma. "We've got to get accustomed to drouths as normal farm hazards," Dr. Sears said. "Drouths are just the same thing to the farmer as traffic accidents are to the driver. An insurance company farmer should make allowances for them just as the insurance company does." The strip planting was described as one form of "insurance" against drouths. He said it now is being done with alfalfa on certain farms at Goodwell, Okla., in the dust bowl, and in some places in Texas. "There should always be strip planting to follow the land contours," he said. "Where that's done, it has resulted in increased yields and doubled penetration of soil moisture."

CRASH VICTIM JESTS JUST BEFORE DEATH

SALEM, Ill., March 25 (AP)—Ted Mullen, 35, Portland, Ore., announcer, jested with a doctor at the Salem hospital today just before he died of injuries suffered yesterday in the crash near here of a bus carrying a roller-skating troupe. "Do you think I'll ever be able to skate?" he asked, his parched lips forming the words with great difficulty. The doctor assured him that he never would be. "Funny," Mullen whispered. "I never was able to before."

LEGION SONS TO MEET

The regular meeting of Kerley-Crossman Post 334 Squadron of the Sons of the American Legion will be held at the Legion hall Friday night, March 26 at 7:30 o'clock. All members are urged to be present and bring a prospective member. An outline of the program for the coming year will be given.

BRITAIN AND FRANCE WILL GUARD SPAIN

WILL KEEP ITALIANS FROM FIGHTING IN WAR

LONDON, March 25 (AP)—Great Britain and France agreed today they must prevent further landing of foreign volunteers—especially Italians—in warring Spain. Representatives of the two powers discussed the possibility of using warships to halt troop transports en route to Spain but postponed any decision, pending the outcome of the international non-intervention committee's control plan. The Franco-British accord, as discussed, would go farther than the neutrality scheme, under which the movements of troop transports merely are to be reported to neutrality headquarters by patrolling warships of Britain, France, Germany and Italy. Diplomats said Paris and London, however, are in accord that the "machinery of the neutrality committee shall be tried out thoroughly in regard to the problems relating to Spain." The big "if" in the entire situation was the future course of those governments which have been accused of sending military assistance to both sides of the Spanish civil war. PARIS, March 25 (AP)—France rallied her European allies about her today in a move to erect a naval blockade against the possibility of Italy's waging an undeclared war against the Republican government in Spain. Great Britain, a foreign office spokesman declared, has pledged aid to France in blocking Italian landings if more troops were dispatched to the war-torn peninsula. Fearing that Premier Mussolini of Italy might scrap the London non-intervention agreement to isolate the civil conflict, France assured herself the support of her own central European allies, should she feel action necessary by a series of extraordinary diplomatic conferences. Diplomatic circles considered France's stern attitude against any break in the international neutrality line as the gravest crisis in troubled Europe since Germany gave assurances of her peaceful intentions in the face of a similar French warning to keep out of Spanish Morocco. In the present situation, Germany promised an early reply to France's two-fold purpose to bolster the London agreement by: 1. Withdrawal of all foreign troops from Spain. 2. Prevention of further influx by force.

WPA SUPERINTENDENT FOR PARK JOB NAMED

W. T. Williams has been named project superintendent of the Works Progress Administration fair ground park job. He is not a stranger to Pampa. Mr. Williams was inspector and resident engineer on the Pampa high school auditorium, recently completed. He was transferred from PWA to WPA to take over the fair park project. Many pictures of the unfinished park project are being mailed to Washington so that WPA officials there will get a first-hand idea of the need for action in finishing its contract.

GIANT CLIPPER SHIP LANDS AT PAGO PAGO

PAGO PAGO, American Samoa, March 25 (AP)—(Via Pan American Airways Radio)—South Sea Islanders gazed in wonder at the Giant American Clipper, which gracefully glided into land-locked Tutula harbor today after a tempestuous 1,546-mile cross from Kingman Reef. The four-motored flying boat, the first ever seen by the Samoan natives, landed after 10 hours and 35 minutes of almost continuous "blind flying" on the third leg of a pioneering trip from Oakland, Calif., to Auckland, N. Z.

Cat Comes Home But Steals Ride

LUBBOCK, March 25 (AP)—The modern cat comes home—but he rides. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Adair of Lubbock carried John Thomas, a Maltese tom cat, to Mrs. J. A. Wimberly at Friona Tuesday morning. When the Adairs returned to Lubbock last night they found John Thomas beneath the car. He had clung to a rear axle during the 125-mile trip in a blinding dust storm. "We'll buy your car license with the purchase of 2 tires; no interest on tires, 5 months to pay on tires and the license. Motor Inn."

School Superintendent Testifies

Supt. W. C. Shaw of New London school, where the lives of 455 students and teachers were snuffed out last week in a gas explosion that shattered the school, tells the military board of inquiry the connection of the school gas line to the nearby main of an oil company was neither unauthorized nor was permission granted—the company just didn't object when the connection was made. It was an accumulation of the highly explosive "wet" gas that exploded, the board decided. The others in the picture are members of the board and a stenographer. A few minutes later, Shaw collapsed and was carried from the room.

Circus Here To Benefit Baker School Children

Children who are unable to stay in school without aid for necessary supplies will be benefited when B. M. Baker school and Parent-Teacher association present the Flying Dutchman circus in high school gymnasium tomorrow evening at 8. Pampa residents are familiar with the needs of numerous pupils in Baker school, and have contributed generously in past years to their assistance. Principal J. A. Meek says. He reminds these same residents that no appeals have been made from the school this year, and no benefits given by the Parent-Teacher association. Tickets for the circus are on sale by women of the association, and all proceeds will go to the school funds. The entertainment will be presented by a cast from Amarillo, directed by Carl Farley. They will receive no part of the proceeds, but will be guests of the Parent-Teacher association at dinner at 7 o'clock. The circus features athletic feats and humorous stunts. It offers a fast-moving program two hours in length, with quarter-hour intermission. Soda pop, ice cream, and candy will be on sale in circus style. Mr. Meek, Ira Pearson, Mrs. Roy Holt, and Mrs. Cecil Lunsford will have charge of ticket sales at the door of the gymnasium. Committees in charge of concessions, asked to meet at the gymnasium at 7 p. m., are as follows: Ice cream, Mmes. L. H. Anderson and Claude Lard; soda pop, Mmes. E. L. Holmes and Lane; candy, Mmes. Roy Van Winkle and W. B. Boudry. BEST DRESSED FDR NEW YORK, March 25 (AP)—President Roosevelt will be among the nation's best dressed men in the Easter parade Sunday in his black cutaway, striped trousers, stiff wing collar and black top hat.

SNOWSTORM IN MIDDLE WEST CALLED WORST

(By The Associated Press) Freezing weather in Texas early tomorrow, in the wake of dust clouds which were rolling westward, was the forecast by the weather bureau today. Freezing temperatures were expected in the northern part of East Texas, with frost in the southwest portion of East Texas if the wind subsided. Rising temperatures were seen for the state generally. The cold wave was expected to dissipate sand and dust. Longview and Corsicana reported the sun obscured by dust. On the South Plains a fine silt was falling—an aftermath of two days and a night of dust. CHICAGO, March 25 (AP)—Crippled communication lines, isolated communities and paralyzed highway transportation provided evidence today of the winter's worst snowstorm in this section of the middle west. While winds whipped snow into big drifts in Minnesota and the Dakotas, rain, sleet, hail, dust, tornadoes and freezing temperatures plagued a wide expanse of the midcontinent. A 22 inch snowfall deluged Brookings, Watertown, and the Black Hills. See NO. 2, Page 6

TRAILER ADVENTURE

Chapter I Flat on her stomach, Martha Brittain opened the newspaper to the help-wanted advertisements and began ranning a magenta nail slowly down the first column. Betty Haynes, as blond as Martha was dark, and as attractive, regarded her cynically from the comfort of the davenport. "You're certainly an optimist if you think we're going to pop right out and get a job when we don't know a soul in San Diego," she told Martha. "Besides, you'll catch cold lying on the floor. All we'd need to make our trip complete would be you in bed with influenza." "This is the best way in the world to read a newspaper," Martha said imperturbably. "I found it out at the age of seven when I started to read the funnies." "I can't see anything very funny about a help-wanted column." Martha leaned over on one elbow to look at her companion. "Want to weaken and wire home that we spent too much money on our vacation?" "I do not!" Betty sat straighter and her blue eyes snapped with determination. "We talked about a trip to California for so long that they practically shipped us off to stop hearing about it. Imagine what they'd say if they found out we were stranded! And I'd never hear the last of it from the family!" "Neither would I," said Martha returning her attention to the newspaper. "So the only thing to do is find a job and work at it long enough for the fare back home." "Okay. Count me in. After all, it was my idea to go down to Tia Juana and Ensenada. If we'd stayed out of Mexico we might not be broke." Betty sighed, reached into the pocket of her jacket for a cigarette. "I don't know though. There's something about the climate out here that makes you forget about saving enough to get home. Even if we had gone to Mexico we'd probably be broke. I always—" "Listen to this," Martha interrupted. "Wanted—Two attractive, dependable young women to take Air-speed Trailer and small coupe up the coast for advertising purposes. MOTION LASTS MANY SECONDS AT SAN DIEGO

IMPERIAL VALLEY IS SHAKEN; DAMAGE IS NIL

SAN DIEGO, Calif., March 25 (AP)—A series of three earthquake shocks was felt here at 8:50 a. m. today. Doors and windows rattled in office buildings in the downtown area. Persons in the streets did not feel the shocks. It was a double shock, felt strongly through a large area in southern California, but no damage was reported. Buildings shook in downtown Los Angeles, Glendale, Santa Monica, and Anaheim reported the strong tremor immediately, but observers said it was not enough to cause damage in those areas. The motion was an east-west motion, starting with a slight sway and continuing with increasing intensity, lasting many seconds. Long Beach felt the shock, considerably different than the 1933 shock, which was a heavy jolt, while this, a much milder one and doing no damage here, was a swaying, swinging motion. EL CENTRO, Calif., March 25 (AP)—A strong earthquake shook the Imperial valley today but Sgt. Jack Stork of the El Centro police said he did not believe there was any damage. The jolt came at about 8:50 a. m., and lasted "about one minute and a half," said the officer. People ran from buildings in the downtown district and gathered in little groups on the street. "It was a pretty good shake," said Sgt. Stork. "It rocked one way and then turned around and rocked the other way." The head of the Gulf of California, 50 miles south of here, is a region of considerable earth activity. Two years ago it was the center of a severe shock that caused damage in Mexicali and broke windows at a few points in the Imperial valley.

INSURGENT BOMBS RAIN ON MADRID FIVE HOURS

MADRID, March 25 (AP)—Insurgent bombers rained explosives on Madrid for five hours today, halting their sky attacks only when artillery batteries took up the battle and began to pour shells into the beleaguered capital. The insurgent assault began shortly before midnight and lasted until dawn. In bright moonlight, the aerial raiders—usually single planes—circled the city, losing heavy bombs on the central districts. As one plane finished its deadly task, another appeared to take up the assault. Government militiamen scored the sky with huge searchlights. Defense troops directed a stream of anti-aircraft shells and rifle bullets at the night raiders. Observers watching the bombing from rooftops were not able to compute damage to the capital immediately.

COMMISSIONER FRASER SLIGHTLY IMPROVED

Slight improvement in the condition of William T. Fraser was reported by attending physicians at Pampa-Jarratt hospital at noon today. Mr. Fraser was taken to the hospital early yesterday morning with a brain infection. His condition is critical. Mr. Fraser's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Fraser Sr. of Boydston, left early yesterday for Los Angeles, unaware that their son had suddenly developed a critical illness. They were located at Clovis, N. M., and arrived in Pampa yesterday afternoon. Serum for treatment of Mr. Fraser's condition is being rushed here from Kansas City by airplane. Some of the serum was in stock at local drug stores, and an additional amount was received from Amarillo last night. MAY WED IN FRANCE VIENNA, March 25 (AP)—Belief that the Duke of Windsor and Wallis Warfield Simpson would wed in France and honeymoon in Garinthis spread today on the report that the former king had obtained a permit to take his pet terrier, "Slippers," to France.

LATE NEWS

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—Senator Burke (D., Neb.), opponent of the Roosevelt court bill, announced today he would introduce a constitutional amendment for compulsory retirement for judges at 75 years of age. It would be submitted to state conventions called by Congress to meet within six months. Burke said his amendment also would fix the size of the court permanently at nine members. AUSTIN, March 25 (AP)—The house passed to the governor today a bill to remit for ten years half of the state ad valorem taxes collected in Harris county. The money would be used for flood control. Many believed the bill was headed for a veto since Governor Alfred said yesterday he intended to veto water conservation district proposals containing a tax remission feature. A large delegation from Houston urged him to approve it.

GRANGE HEAD ASSAILS FOR COURT BILL

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—Fred Breckman, Washington representative of the National Grange, denounced the Roosevelt court bill today as "an attempt to intimidate and coerce the Supreme Court."

"Aside from the objections to packing the Supreme Court in order to influence its decisions, against which millions of patriotic citizens are rising in revolt," he said, "it is clear that the real issue is one which involves a redistribution of power as between the federal government and the states."

Breckman, called as the day's first witness before the Senate judiciary committee, said in a prepared statement:

"Let proposal to amend the constitution be submitted to the states. Let the people read and study it, so they may know what it all means."

"If this measure should be enacted, those who give it their support will be placed in imminent peril of standing accused at the bar of history with having supinely acquiesced in a step resulting in the overthrow of our constitutional form of government."

Breckman agreed with the position of Louis J. Taber, master of the National Grange, who testified yesterday. The suggested enlargement of the Supreme Court, Taber insisted, might set a precedent which eventually could endanger rights guaranteed by the constitution.

Breckman commended the Supreme Court for its invalidation of the National Recovery Act. He said the blue eagle thwarted the purpose of the agricultural adjustment act to give farmers "price parity."

The pending bill, he said, should be divided to separate the Supreme Court question from that of expediting justice in the lower courts. He supported the latter objective.

Declaring the constitution had proved adequate for every emergency, Breckman called that document the only bulwark "between us and that dread doctrine of tyranny and dictatorship, that man is the creature of the state."

PAMPA STUDENTS ARE PRAISED BY SPEAKER

The afternoon session was attended by the full vocational agricultural class and other classes. The night session was open to farmers of the community.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of migraines, backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 million of kidney filters flush out poisonous wastes from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

HEATING SYSTEM TO BE CHECKED BY TRUSTEES

NEW LONDON, March 25 (AP)—Before grade school children return to their classes Monday in what remains of the London consolidated school, officials will make certain its heating system is safe. Grave school trustees trying to restore a smooth-functioning system torn asunder last week by the school explosion which killed 455 children and teachers called in U. S. Bureau of Mine engineers to check the untouched grammar school.

It appeared unlikely there would be need for further heating this term but the trustees said the system would be disconnected if the slightest cause for concern was discovered. The blast, which wrecked the main building of the school, was blamed on accumulation of gas probably escaping from a break in the heating system.

Yesterday the board voted to rebuild the school as quickly as possible and decided the few remaining high school students should resume their classes Monday in the grammar school building.

FARLEY PREDICTS FOR COURT PLAN WILL WIN

HOUSTON, March 25 (AP)—Postmaster General James A. Farley ended his Texas tour last night on the confident note adherents of President Roosevelt's court reform would win "with votes to spare," and then traveled on toward New Orleans.

During a one-hour stop here he told Houston Democrats that despite the upsurge from the opposition the President's proposal for altering the Supreme Court membership would win in Congress.

Earlier he had made the same assertion in San Antonio, where he dedicated a new postoffice and federal building. His Texas trip also included speeches at Waco and Austin.

GAS HEARING SET.
AUSTIN, March 25 (AP)—The railroad commission today called a hearing for April 13 in Austin on conditions in the East Panhandle gas field preparatory to writing a new gas proration order for the state to replace one recently held invalid by the United States Supreme Court. The East Panhandle field is composed of Wheeler and Gray counties.

The 1936 census estimates the population of Paris proper at 2,800,000. With the suburbs, it is more than 4,000,000.

BATTLE OVER GREEN ESTATE BEGINS AGAIN

DALLAS, March 25 (AP)—Litigants lined up "expert witnesses" today for a continuation of the battle over the $50,000,000 Edward H. R. Green estate, temporarily shifted from New York to Texas.

Texas Attorney General William McCraw, his Austin office said, expected to attend a hearing before Raymond C. Prime, Lake Placid, N. Y., lawyer appointed as special commissioner in the case.

Purpose of the hearing was to develop depositions which New York Surrogate Harold E. Owen ordered should be returned to him before May 1. The testimony of the witnesses was designed to throw more light on the legality of a pre-nuptial agreement signed by Mrs. Mabel H. Green, widow of the railroad magnate.

Mrs. Green contended she signed the agreement believing it was a life allowance of "pin money" and that she did not know she was signing away rights to her husband's vast properties.

Col. Green's sister, Mrs. Sylvia Wilks, New York, maintained Mrs. Green waived all legal claim to the estate by the agreement. Col. Green willed his estate to Mrs. Wilks. Mrs. Green's suit alleged pre-nuptial agreements under Texas law are not valid.

Prime said today's hearing was exceedingly important because it bore on the vital factor of domicile. Texas laws on this point differing from those of the other three states seeking a tax share of the estate. New York, Florida and Massachusetts also have claimed a share of the fortune, appraised variously from $50,000,000 to $80,000,000.

Mrs. Green is seeking to break the alleged pre-nuptial agreement under which she was given $1,500 monthly.

Col. Green spent much of his time in Texas during the years he was adding to the fortune left him by his mother, Hetty Green. Texas officials claimed he thus established a residence in Texas and in so doing made his estate taxable in this state.

Three Arrested In Safe Lootings

WAXAHACHIE, March 25 (AP)— Guards watched over an injured suspect today while Ellis county authorities investigating the Farmersville safe lootings griled two other men.

The injured man, identified as an ex-convict, was captured after three men bludgeoned their way out of the Venus, Johnson county, jail with nitro-glycerin and crashed into a ditch while fleeing in a stolen car.

Constable Jake Wells of Venus said the injured man was arrested as he tried to thumb a ride after the crash. His head had been cut in the wreck. His companions fled into the brush, but officers here believed one of the pair captured later was implicated in the Venus jail break and in the Farmersville lootings.

Wells said three men were arrested while trying to move a car stuck in a bog in Waxahachie. Shortly after they were placed in jail, Wells said, there was an explosion. He found the prisoners gone, their cell door blasted open.

The fugitives apparently used nitro-glycerin they employed yesterday in blowing safes in Farmersville which yielded them about $150.

Government Can Do Little About Sit-Down Strikes

WASHINGTON, March 25 (AP)—Administration leaders in Congress, who expect to discuss the labor situation with President Roosevelt this week-end, said today they believed the government could do little now about sit-down strikes.

"There is no constitutional power for interposition of the federal government," said Speaker Bankhead (D-Ala.), "unless there should be a state of insurrection which a state could not handle. That seems highly improbable."

Rep. Rayburn (D-Tex), House majority leader, agreed that the federal government had little power unless a state asked for assistance.

Senator Robinson (D-Ark), leader of the Senate majority, said a solution of the strike situation would be difficult until the Supreme Court decides whether the Wagner Labor Relations act is constitutional.

TEX'S TOPICS

True to a promise, we parked at Cuyler and Kingsmill for 15 minutes this afternoon to jot down a quarter-hour diary of what a man on the street sees from a given point at a given time. . . . The time was from 1:30 to 1:45 o'clock. . . . If you wish to know who and what passed and happened—you'll have to come back to this space in tomorrow afternoon's paper.

Paul West, Pampa movie operator, had a young brother who attended the New London school which was visited by disaster last week. . . . On the day of the tragic blast this brother played what is known as "hokey." . . . His name, of course, was not among the victims. . . . Joe Bryant, ex-KPDr, is in town, dropping in on old acquaintances. . . . Bryant now is with KGGM in Albuquerque, N. M.

Mel Marshall takes almost daily walks, hoping for a girlish figure. . . . Marvin Lewis, the city dad, soon will have his pitcher published in the paper. . . . Frank (Insurance) Hill is going to move his place of business before long. . . . Perhaps you noticed that all of a sudden it got dusty in Pampa yesterday afternoon. . . . The dust came in as if somebody turned off the lights. . . . Visibility here got down plenty too much. . . . Clarence Kennedy has a new story about a chisler at the cafe bar.

We were intrigued by that Californian who wrote a 50,000-word novel without using the letter "E" once. . . . But, after thinking it over, it isn't such a much of an accomplishment. . . . For instance, you will not find the letters "Z" and "Q" in this column today. . . . We had a friend who wrote a column for an entire year and ended every paragraph with a proper noun. . . . And he never missed once. . . . Readers used to watch and tried to catch him up—but they no could do.

Perhaps you've seen that masked man peering at you from the posters. . . . It serves as a reminder that no organization since the Ku Klux Klan has proved so devastating in its influence as the Black Legion. . . . It stood for all that is un-American. . . . Fortunately, outraged citizens and an indignant government soon put an end to it.

A Pampa woman, so goes the story, got a bit of a thrill the other day when she reached into her mail-box at the local postoffice and found a human hand. . . . Her reach into the box was timed perfectly with the postal clerk, behind the scenes, who was putting mail into the receptacle. . . . The woman, it is said, screamed a bit at her discovery.

America's Statue of Liberty has a sister. . . . It is the French Statue of Liberty in Paris. . . . As a friendly gesture officials of the Paris International Expo have decided to turn the 58-foot bronze around on its base so that the French Miss Liberty is facing the American Miss Liberty, so they can look at each other instead of giving one another the cold shoulder.

In line with the Pampa Kiwanis' club safety campaign, it may surprise you to know that you are not as safe in your homes as you would be out wandering along a heavily-trafficked highway. . . . The National Safety Council has just revealed that for the first time in eight years accidents in the home caused more deaths in 1936 than did automobiles. . . . Approximately 39,000 persons were killed indoors and 38,500 by motor cars.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY: Sometimes the best gain is to lose.—Herbert.

Yesteryear In Pampa

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY
A census of the city was completed, showing 6,607 residents within the city limits. Many residents were predicting a population of 10,000 by the end of the year.

Twenty-one boys were out for spring football training. Ed Herliacher was captain-elect of the team.

Double tracks over much of the line near Pampa had been completed by the Santa Fe railroad. . . . The Santa Fe announced plans for beautifying its station yard here, filling in and leveling the ground, planting trees, shrubbery, and grass to form a small park.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY
The week preceding Easter saw religious services that included revivals in three churches. . . . tiny chickens dyed pastel colors in store windows with bright-colored eggs. . . . egg hunts for children of many neighborhoods and Sunday school classes. . . . enticing advertisements of new clothes for Easter.

Parties celebrated the fifth birthday of Henry Buster Walker, the tenth birthday of Camilla Ferrett.

SEQUEL TO THE SITDOWNS

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Here is a story that illustrates the other side of that old axiom—viz: If you stand at 42nd street and Broadway long enough, everybody you know will pass by. This story I know to be true, for I was there when it happened, and if you insist, I will even furnish the names.
There's an artist in town who likes to plaster his studio with enlarged photographs. Not portraits of celebrities; they're informal snapshots of just anybody, of friends and of people he doesn't even know.
Not long ago a half-dozen people were lounging about the studio, talking of flora and fauna, when suddenly a girl who lived across the hall (she was one of the guests) gave a cry. She stepped close to an enlarged snapshot of two men walking down Fifth Avenue. For a moment it seemed as if she would faint—that's how excited she was.
"Who is this?" she cried. "Why?" said the artist, "he's a friend of mine."
"Where is he? . . . Do you know, I used to be engaged to him. I have not seen him in five years, not since he left Sweetwater, Tenn., where we both lived. We used to live next door to each other."
"You did!" ejaculated her host. "Then you ought to see each other. He lives upstairs, in the apartment over this one. He's lived here for years."
And that's what I mean. It is true that you can stand on Broadway and encounter almost anybody you've ever known. But it is equally true that, in New York, you can live in the same apartment building for years with people you have known all your life and never see them.
Epilog: They're married now. It took him just a couple of weeks to get back where he left off five years ago. This I also know to be true. I was best man.

People You Know

By ARCHER FULINGM

"This is the room," the boy said proudly, and it was as if he were taking you into a secret shared only with a chosen few, and he led the way into the room.
There was a double-decker bed in the corner and on top was a piece of leather-work, not yet finished. Above were two man-of-war medals, framed and on the opposite wall was an old-time football nose-guard, and in other places were pictures of a summer camp—high mountains and deep forests and roaring streams and trails. Then he fingered a loving cup which was given to the best camper. Soon his mother came in and apologized for the pile of things on the floor. "There was such an accumulation in the closet and I have been trying to establish order in there." And the boy's eyes ran rapidly over the things until they came to an article that held his fixed gaze, and for an instant he lost sense of time and place as he stood and looked at the not significant trifle, and the look in his eyes was not domestic, but was far away centered around a lonely place he had known—and would know again!

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD—Barbara Stanwyck was doing a scene with Robert Taylor. She looked very slim and fetching in a black sequined party gown of the 'nineties, all frilly and fluttery.
After the scene Taylor went to his dressing room, and Stanwyck stood around talking and laughing with the hired help and raising her very feminine dress to reveal that beneath it she wore a pair of very modern, mannish slacks.
That reminded William Seiter, the director of "This Is My Affair," of the time he directed Margaret Sullavan in "The Moon's Our Home." Margaret was playing a temperamental movie star, and in one scene she had an interview with a fan magazine writer. For the interview she wore a lacy negligee, but when the interviewer had gone the star threw off the kimono and revealed herself in slacks and hiking shoes.
Well, it seemed Margaret had no notions that this character wasn't her type, and for four days she wouldn't go near the projection room to see her horribly miscast self. On the fourth day she went—and after that Seiter had trouble keeping her out. She now felt that she wasn't doing the character broadly enough! As it turned out, it was one of Sullivan's best pictures—and Seiter had good words for the way she buckled down to work nursing the flu victims during that two weeks on snowy location at Truckee.
Hates Desert Taxi
Henry Wilcoxon, writing from Cairo, Egypt, where he's making the British film "Jericho," reports that camels are the chief means of transport when the company goes into the sands for desert locations.
The camel, he declared, is a "four-legged desert taxi with solid tires and knee-action wheels all the way 'round. As for me, I'd rather walk a mile than ride one!"
Another bit of information he relays is that the Mohammedans, who do a great deal of the labor, require a separate commissary because they refuse to eat with "infidels"—including, obviously, Wilcoxon.

REDUCING WITHOUT HUNGER
When a physician advises his patient to reduce, he is quite likely to be met with the protest, "Doctor, I don't like to go hungry."
This protest, however, is based on a misconception.
Hunger is mainly appeased by the bulk, not by the caloric content of the foods eaten, and it is possible to devise a filling diet which is very low in nutriment. The real task in reduction lies not in going hungry but in abstaining from those favorite foods which are rich in calories.
Let us for example take two teaspoonfuls of sugar and see their equivalent in other foods. The caloric value of the sugar is 120. This is the equivalent of each of the following:
One and two-thirds eggs; two slices of medium fat roast lamb, each one-eighth inch thick, 4-1-2 by 2-1-2 in size; one piece of medium fat sirloin steak 2-1-2 by 2-1-2 by 1 inch; 2 apples or 2-3 cup of applesauce (without sugar); one banana; two large artichokes; one medium-sized baked potato; two slices of white or rye bread; one average glass of whole milk.
Half a small head of lettuce contains 32 calories, but it adds substantial bulk to a meal. A cupful of spinach, of summer squash, or of Brussels sprouts is worth no more than 20 calories, but each will go far to help "fill" a hungry person.
Now let us contrast with the above a few "luxury foods." Fifteen almonds or 20 peanuts, or 3 English walnuts contain approximately 100 calories. One tablespoonful of mayonnaise contains 135 calories. An ordinary square of chocolate is worth corn syrup, of honey, or of maple syrup averages approximately 100 calories.
From all these comparisons it must be evident that "hunger is no bar to reduction." No one needs to hunger.

One does, however, need to eschew sugar, starch and fats—the very foods the overweight person is likely to relish most.
"Meet and eat with the stars," wouldn't work there.
Loyal To Partner
In Jane Withers' picture, "Angel's Holiday," is a veteran vaudeville act, Al Lydell, who works under one of the oddest contracts on record.
The contract calls for the services of Milt Wood, at an equal salary, although Wood does nothing in the picture.
Lydell and Wood have been a vaudeville team these many years, singing and dancing over the circuits. Now in their fifties, the boys are in Hollywood and available for films. But Lydell won't work unless his partner is signed up, too. It was the same way when the studio called him for "Way Down East."
Marlene Dietrich's turning U. S. Citizen is rather a surprise—wasn't so long ago she was talking about the "high" income taxes, and the kidnapers, and other inconveniences, over here.
Tyrene Power had a reservation—secret—on the plane that was to have taken Sonja Henie back to Detroit until she found she couldn't go. . . . and then he found he couldn't go, either. . . .

Dr. William D. Lee, soil conservation specialist at North Carolina State college, says American lives and property never will be free from the danger of floods until the main water sheds are adequately protected by forests and close-growing crops.

This, That and Everything

BY WILLIAM HUSLEY CLARK.

The international re-armament race is on. Britain has built two new battleships this year, and their plans call for three more. Of course other nations, including the United States, will try to keep pace with Britain. Treaties these days, what are left of them now, seem to have little meaning. Previous attempts made by organizations for peace have proved so impotent that nations have evidently lost confidence in conferences.
When we see how nations of the world are spending billions of dollars and an endless amount of technical effort in the preparation of war, it seems almost inevitable that the tragic economic and social conditions which plague nations are giving so much technical and scientific effort toward the preparation of war, yet spend so little on the cause of peace. It is logical to conclude that we shall never have any security for peace until as much earnest and expert attention has been given to the cause of peace as has been, and is continuing to be given to war.
This appalling disparity between the degree of efficiency in peace negotiations and that of military effectiveness is due to the difference between scientific advancement and political handicaps. The scientist in his laboratory has no impediments from politicians to thwart his development of death-producing implements, but when men strive to negotiate peace policies, too often they become involved in a political puzzle.

BY WILL E. MAYES.

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. Send all inquiries to: Let's Know Texas, 512 West Foster Street, Pampa, Texas.
Q. For what is Uvalde most noted?
A. Uvalde, on the Southern Pacific Railroad, about 100 miles west of San Antonio, is noted as one of the largest honey-producing sections of the world, for its extensive asphalt fields, and as the home of Vice President John Nance Garner.
Q. To what was most of the forest fires of Texas attributed?
A. Statistics for 1936, which are now a fair average for all years, show that careless smokers cause 25 per cent of forest fires; incendiary 50 per cent; debris burning, 14 per cent; the remaining 11 per cent being attributable to campers, railroads, lumbering operations, lightning, and miscellaneous causes.
Q. What are the heights of perpendicular walls of the Rio Grande river in the proposed Big Bend International Park?
A. In places these river canyon walls reach a height of 2,000 feet with the river at the bottom in exactly the same position as the Colorado in the cradle of Grand Canyon.
Q. What probably would be the most distinguishing characteristics of the Big Bend International Park as compared with other National Parks in the United States?
A. The fact that it would be in two nations, that it would have varied scenery of kinds not to be found in other parks of this country, and that that mild weather would render it attractive to visitors at all seasons of the year.
Q. Where is the largest rice package plant in the world?
A. At Beaumont, Texas.

Striking Glimpse Of Batting Power

If Arnold (Mickey) Owens had connected with the ball that balances toward the glove of catcher Bruce Ogdowski in a St. Louis Cardinals practice session at Daytona Beach, Fla., there's no telling where it would have gone. The unusual picture provides a vivid illustration of the power batters put into their drives. While the ball traveled three or four feet from the plate to the catcher, the tip of the bat has moved in a circle nearly 15 feet in circumference.

farmhand from Newark, as Babe Phelps' assistant. LAKELAND, Fla.—Paul (Dizzy) Trout, Detroit rookie right hander who held the Boston Red Sox hitless in a three-inning trial Sunday, got a more extensive chance to prove his worth again today. # FELLER WILL BE BACKBONE OF CLEVELAND

NEW ORLEANS, March 25 (AP)—Even the slickest crystal ball gazer would toss up his hands and retire when it came to forecasting the Cleveland Indians of 1937. The team, led by the sensational Bob Feller, can win the American League pennant, or it can fall right back into the wilderness of second division without causing the flutter of any eyebrow.

GIRLS BATTLE IN BASKETBALL SEMI-FINALS

WICHITA, Kas., March 25 (AP)—Four teams from four states will answer four questions when the semi-final round of the women's national A. A. U. basketball tournament tonight.

The three champion Tulsa Stenoes will meet the pre-tournament favorite Galveston, Tex., Anko sextet and the Wichita Thorstons will battle the Little Rock Flyers for the right to move to the title round.

The four questions:
1. Will the strong Wichita defense line of Corrine Smith, Alpha Shook and Mildred Pederson be able to stop the equally as strong Little Rock front line of Hazel Walker, Lucille Thurman and Vera Durnford?

2. Will All-America Frances Williams, Galveston guard, be able to stop All-America Sonny Dunlap of Tulsa?

3. Will potential All-America Nora Cain, Galveston center, be able to check All-America Alberta Beck?

4. Will the Stenoes sweep on to their fourth consecutive title?

The Tulsa-Galveston game looms as a tartar, Galveston has the great array of stars in the game, veterans whose very size makes them formidable.

Tulsa advanced last night with a 22 to 11 victory over the clever Des Moines A. I. B. sextet. Galveston defeated Houston 26 to 14. Wichita ousted Nashville 24 to 15. Little Rock edged out Lehigh of College of Jackson, Tenn., 26 to 22.

HARRY COOPER CLAIMS HE'S CALMED TEMPER

PINEHURST, N. C., March 25 (AP)—Harry Cooper, the fidgety little Chicago golfer, got quiet fighting himself and that's bad news for rival professional cash-shooters. Cooper said today mental tantrums had cost him quite a bit of golf pay, but he announced, "I'm as calm as a zephyr now, and you can bet that temper won't beat me now in any tournament."

Cooper started the final 36 holes of the North and South golf tournament today, along with 62 others, in pursuit of boyish Byron Nelson, the Reading, Pa., pro, whose 68-61—139 led the field at the half way mark.

The slender, pale Chicagoan was tied for third place with three others at 142, two blows behind Horton Smith, Chicago, the runnerup. Bracketed with him were Bobby Cruikshank, Richmond, Va., Paul Runyan, White Plains, N. Y., and Craig Wood, New York.

CINCINNATI REDS TO HAVE BOXING MENTOR

SEBRING, Fla., March 25 (AP)—Brooklyn's Dodgers have a track coach and Manager Chuck Drosen said today he was considering a boxing mentor for the Cincinnati Reds as an "aid" to their base running.

He added that Mike Gibbons, former claimant to the world middle-weight title, may be the man. Orders to last year's fifth place to "hit the dirt and go in with spikes flashing" have brought squawks from every team the Reds have met thus far, Drosen said, adding:

"It looks like we're in for a lot of trouble all along the line this season and that's all right with me. . . . I want my boys to run hard and fight to the last ditch. We'll probably have plenty of battles and I can think of no better guy in the world than Mike Gibbons to teach them the art of self defense."

SPITBALL BACK IN MAJORS; GRIMES FINDS PLACE FOR IT

BY CHARLES GRUMICH, AP Feature Service Writer.
CLEARWATER, Fla.—The outlawed spitball is back in the major—but don't be alarmed. It will be used legally by the old master, Burleigh Grimes, who slobbered his way to pitching fame. . . . Manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers in a new regime that he earnestly insists will amount to a Great Reformation from the old days of the wayward and slapstick daffies of Flatbush, "Bolly" now intends to resurrect his famous spitter when he takes the mound as the batting practice server-upper.

timings he was the old Burleigh. Grimes is not deluding himself about the Brooklyn. He knows what he wants and doesn't think he'll do much better this year than last, when the team finished seventh.

He ranks the St. Louis Cardinals as favorites (on paper) to win the National league and thinks the New York Giants are decidedly problematical in their efforts to repeat as champions because Bill Terry's bat will be missed and Lou Chiozza is an "X" at third base, from which Travis Jackson retired to Jersey City's management at the same time Terry made another somewhat tentative give-up on active service.

BRITISH REFUSE.
LONDON, March 25 (AP)—The British board of boxing control today declined to interfere with Max Baer's bout with Tommy Farr, Welsh holder of the British heavyweight championship, to be held April 15. The New York state athletic commission had asked British authorities to use their influence to prevent Baer from fighting in Farr's manor on the grounds that he had run out of a contract to fight Bob Pastor for Madison Square Garden.

The new plot of the club that once starred him as a pitcher and made him the hero of Ebbetts field figures that, with his control, batting practice will be about one-third more effective. He holds that with a young hurler in there chucking the apple before game time at least 33 1/3 per cent of the pitches will be bad. . . . Likewise, any young apple-knockers who can hit the spitball that Grimes threw to the end of his active days, by virtue of a special dispensation allowed for breadwinners who relied on the spitter for their means, are apt to become fairly versatile batsmen.

Grimes pitched four innings in a practice game, while the other hurlers went only one inning each, and the old boy didn't do so bad, at that. They batted around on him in one inning (with one error) and he walked three, including a pass that forced in a run. But the other three

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, March 25 (AP)—Signs of the Chrysler labor armistice and evacuation of sit-downers from the company's plants acted as a mild early tonic for the stock market today but failed as a lasting stimulant.

Chrysler pushed up briefly at the start only to be thrown for a loss in later proceedings. General Motors also was unsuccessful in making the grade. Turnover of around 1,400,000 shares was the smallest in months.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, March 25 (AP)—Pre-holiday realigning and liquidation entered the market during the morning, but was absorbed on set-backs of about 50 cents a bale.

Reports from cotton goods markets said second hand business continued to dominate trading and that prices were slightly lower.

These reports also brought out that cotton goods manufacturers next week would restore the 48-hour week to the industry in place of the 45-hour week now in effect.

Advices from Washington indicated that while the Commodity Credit corporation has not decided whether to suspend reposition operations beyond April 1, officials expressed belief that one million bales of loan cotton would be released by May.

of plans to end the sit-down phase of the strike, but asked for a speech from Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers Union, before they gave final assent.

Gov. Frank Murphy at Lansing received word at 12:45 p. m. that the evacuation had started, and said the negotiations between Walter P. Chrysler, corporation chairman, and John L. Lewis, head of the Committee for Industrial Organization, on the union's demands, would resume this afternoon.

DETROIT, March 25 — A union officials' agreement to direct strikers to evacuate eight Chrysler plants here went before the sit-downers themselves today for acceptance or rejection, and the first two groups ratified it.

Richard T. Frankenstein, organizational director for the United Automobile Workers of America, said the strikers who have held the corporation's DeSoto plant 17 days voted without dissent to vacate the premises.

The second vote was taken at the Dodge division's big main plant in Hamtramck Union leaders said there were 5,000 strikers there and that, after a three-hour discussion, "only about 20" voted against evacuation.

Martin Agrees
Homer Martin, U. A. W. A. president, and other union leaders came to Detroit from Lansing, where the agreement was reached last night, to submit the proposition to the 6,000 men who sat down March 8.

Gov. Frank Murphy, at Lansing, announced the agreement at the conclusion of a day of conferences with Martin, John L. Lewis, chairman of the committee for industrial organization and director-general of the strike, Walter P. Chrysler, chairman of the corporation's board, and other representatives of both sides.

Michigan's chief executive said the C. I. O. chief had said the evacuation and that the company promises not to resume operations until the conference has reached a definite conclusion upon the union's demand for recognition as the sole collective bargaining agency of the 87,000 Chrysler workers.

The conference was to reconvene in the governor's office at 10 a. m. (EST), provided the evacuation had been carried out.

FDR Pleased
The agreement provided also that the firm would remove no dies, tools or equipment from the plants during the negotiations.

Gov. Murphy, calling the conference "a triumph of reason," said "there is no reason why the men should not be withdrawn."

He said the question of bargaining rights was the only major issue remaining before the conference.

For more than a week the strikers have held the plants in defiance of an injunction. Warrants for their arrest, based upon the disregard of the circuit court order, have been issued but no attempt has been made to serve them.

commended by a House committee. The bill included a 2 to 6 per cent levy on corporate income starting at $1,000.

The committee also reported favorably a bill to tax the working stock of pipe line companies on an ad-valorem basis.

School children, from the grades through college, would be taught the harmful effects of alcohol and narcotics by a bill approved by the House education committee.

The House state affairs group indicated it would favorably recommend a separate division under the board of control for welfare agencies instead of the original plan which would set up a public welfare department.

Appropriations of $1,000,000 and $817,000 received approval of the Senate finance committee for new state insane hospitals, one in east and another in West Texas.

The Texas State College for Women would receive a $67,000 emergency appropriation under a bill by Senator Grady Woodruff of Decatur.

The committee reduced the original request of $96,000 to that amount.

Trailer ADVENTURE

BY NARD JONES
©1937, NEA Service, Inc.

"I only hope," Betty said prayerfully, "that we do get inside. That dizzy-looking platinum number in front of the door now is the type that could sell a male ice cream in Alaska."

But if the platinum blond had impressed Mr. Sloss he wasn't, apparently going to let her know about it today. For the line did move on—and eventually Martha and Betty found themselves seated before a big mahogany desk. Arnold Sloss was fat and round and slightly red, but he owned a friendly smile.

"Well," he began a little wearily, like a man who has gone over his story many times, "I'm interested financially in a company manufacturing the Airspeed Trailer. No doubt you girls are familiar with the popularity of the automobile trailer. We think we have the best trailer on the market and we want a couple of young girls to take one up the coast as an advertising stunt. It sounds easy, but it'll be real work for whoever gets the job. The pay is $35 a week and expenses for the car."

"That would be satisfactory," said Martha quickly. "And Miss Haynes and I would like the job. You see," she added, "we've known each other a long time and we know we can get along together."

Sloss nodded. "That's a good point, all right. I rather like the appearance of you two. There've been some lookers in here this morning that would attract attention for the trailer, but they've been kind of flashy." He gazed at Martha and Betty in turn. "Yes, sir, you two ought to sell trailers or I'm a Chinaman. One of them is a girl, the other a boy. I've reached for a small pad of paper. I'm going to send you down to see Mr. Carrington. He's Airspeed's advertising manager, and he'll give you an advance of salary and expenses and an itinerary. And naturally there'll be a little driving test."

As he ushered Martha and Betty out the door he announced to the waiting line, "The position is taken. I'm sorry—and I thank you for coming."

Betty whispered to Martha, "Let's take the stairs. I don't feel like going down in the elevator with all those disappointed gals. And I wish you'd pinch me on the way down."

Martha laughed, but she did not reply until they were outside under the bright blue bow of San Diego sky. "I'm sort of worried about this thing," Betty said. "We ought to go ahead with it?"

"Go ahead with it?" Betty exclaimed. "Should we accept $35 a week to make a pleasure trip up the Pacific coast? Don't be silly, Mart!"

"I know. But there's something queer about it. Mr. Sloss didn't ask for any bond—and we're driving all that expensive equipment clear to Seattle from San Diego. He didn't ask for references, either."

"Well," Betty laughed, "we probably have nice open faces. He knows we couldn't get away with his trailer and car. My dad used to drive all over the place in the month!"

And believe me, Mart, this is a gift horse."

They went immediately to see Mr. Carrington, the advertising manager. Using the address which Sloss had given them, they found him in the back room of a small shed on the outskirts of the city, near Balboa Park. In the shed stood one of the Airspeed Trailers—a veritable land yacht. It had cushioned seats which made up into berths for sleeping.

There was a cabinet which included a wash basin, and a shower compartment with a small water tank above. At the back end was a tiny stove and sink, with shelves for cooking utensils and dishes.

Carrington's first move was to invite Martha to take the driver's seat in his own car which he attached to the trailer. In the trial spin, circling several blocks, Martha at first found the driving awkward with the trailer behind the automobile. But she quickly caught the idea of making allowances for the vehicle behind them. All the while, Betty was in the alert and when her turn came she was even more adroit than Martha. "You'll do," Carrington announced as they returned to the curb. "The main thing to watch is that you don't cut in too quickly when you're passing another car—and watch the curves, too."

Carrington then explained the trailer's features to them and gave them a package of printed folders. Oddly, he looked very much like Arnold Sloss. But he was extremely cordial, and seemed delighted at Sloss' selection. "You ought to start out tomorrow," he told them. "We want to be in plenty of time for the tourist season. I'll have a new light coupe here ready for you. And I suggest you get some touring outfits, if you haven't them already. You know, leather jackets and boots—maybe some shorts. Our idea is to make trailer traveling as smart as yachting—to sell the idea of buying and using a trailer."

In the street car on the way back to town Martha said, "I'm still suspicious. Where's the Airspeed factory? It seems to me that Sloss and Carrington are moving pretty fast."

Betty groaned. "When you die and go to heaven you'll pull Saint Peter's whiskers to see if they're false! They have probably made only one trailer, and won't make more until they get some orders. That Carrington talks a salesman's language—and all salesmen are a little crazy—but perfectly harmless and nice. You're seeing things in the dark. It looks like a swell job to me—and it looks like adventure ahead for little Martha and Betty."

"I'm game to go through with it," Martha replied. "But I'm wondering what kind of adventure it'll be."

In another half hour they debar-

ed from the "help-yourself" elevator and walked down the hallway to their apartment. A slender young man was vainly attempting to turn a key in their lock!

"I'm afraid there's a mistake," Martha said.

The young man straightened suddenly, looked at them and then at the number on the door. "I'm frightfully sorry," he stammered, removing his hat. "Apparently I got off at the wrong floor. My name is Gerry Neal and I've just moved into the apartment on the next floor up. Please forgive me."

"It's quite all right," Martha said. But when she and Betty were inside their apartment she added, "I wonder if it is?"

Betty looked at her. "Mart, what's wrong with you, anyhow? Three hours ago we didn't know how to pay the rent. Now we've a job and a whole new addition to our vacation. On top of that we have a look at the handsomest stranger we could find outside of Hollywood—and you are kicking!"

"All right," Martha laughed. "Forget it." Then: "Did he say his name was Neal?"

Chapter II

Later that day Martha and Betty found themselves with plenty to do. Their first move was to write letters home, explaining that they were extending their trip to take in the whole of the Pacific coast. After consultation they decided it would be best not to explain just how they were managing it.

"They'd only worry," Martha said. "And we can tell them all about it when we get back home. After it's over, they'll think it's a right thing. You don't know my aunt!" Betty laughed. "If she realized that we two girls were planning to gallivant up the coast with a car and a trailer, and shellaligag—that's what she'd call it—shellaligag around trailer camps in shorts she'd drive dad and mother insane. I'll never hear the last of it, even when it's over. So you can bet I'm not telling the folks now!" Betty chewed her pen, apparently in the throes of composition. But after a few moments she said, surprisingly and irrelevantly, "That Neal person was handsome, wasn't he?"

Martha looked at her. "Sorry we're moving out?"

"Well, he might have had the consideration to move in a week ago."

Their letters finished, they went out to mail them and to have a lunch at the corner drug store counter. "If we're going to buy some clothes we'd better cash the advance check that Carrington gave us," Betty said. "They probably know us here well enough to do it."

"Nothing doing, darling! I'm taking Mr. Carrington's check right to his own bank for cashing. If it's going to bounce I don't want to be on the receiving end."

Betty sighed. "Still suspicious, are you? Gosh, I hope when you get the money you'll change your tune."

And when they reached the bank the teller cashed Carrington's check without a moment's hesitation. Martha did have to admit that she felt much better. "But let's don't crowd our luck," she cautioned. "When we've bought a few clothes and paid the landlady we want to save our salary. We don't know just how long it'll keep coming."

Martha wasn't a pessimist by nature, and her suspicion was refreshing to the girl who had known her since roller-skate days. Betty was vastly amused by Martha's distrust of their good fortune.

"I'm not going to let you be a killjoy, Mart. At least I'm going to have the fun of paying the rent. The landlady has been mighty watchful, the last couple of days and I want to see her face when I hand her the money."

Martha laughed, and soon fell into Betty's spirit. Shopping for what Carrington had called a "tourist's outfit" was fun. "I wonder what he meant," Martha said, when he mentioned tourist's clothes. I thought of an old snapshot my father has, showing him and mother with their fun. And you were throwing cold water!"

Lunch over, they put everything shipshape in the Airspeed's compartments, and started to climb back into the coupe. Just then Betty clutched Martha's arm and whispered, "Look . . ."

A young man, carrying a suitcase, was approaching, obviously intent on hooking a ride. Martha was about to slide behind the wheel and ignore him when she recognized him as Neal, the same man they had found attempting to enter their apartment the afternoon before! He had missed his morning shave, and he seemed a little the worse for tramping. But, unmistakably, he was Gerry Neal.

Finish Fight Between Henry Ford And Union Labor Expected Soon

By WILLIS THORNTON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
DETROIT, March 25.—Some time in the late summer or early fall, the "irresistible force" of John Lewis' unionization drive is going to meet the "immovable body" of Henry Ford's rugged individualism.

Before this happens, a big job of "consolidation" and organizing must be done. Getting 100,000 men to sign union cards in the wave of sitdown strikes, and converting those men into dues-paying, disciplined union are two different things. Before the "Ford Next" slogan becomes a reality, much organization work must be done.

John Lewis, perhaps remembering Ford's one-time proposal to "get the boys out of the trenches by Christmas," has said that Ford will be on the dotted line by Christmas. Local union leaders on the spot say the active drive to get enough members to approach Ford with authority will begin this summer.

John Brophy, Lewis' right-hand man in Detroit, puts it this way: "Organization at Ford's is inevitable. Now that organization is the spirit of the time, the tempo of today's life, it is idle for Ford to think he can build bulkheads around a single motor company that will keep out the tide."

"That tide is rising so fast and so high that it will either break through or overflow any bulkheads he can build."

"If Ford will only employ the same industrial statesmanship or intuition that led him to discard his model T when it was outmoded, then we can hope that an outmoded labor policy can be discarded just as peacefully and easily. But organization is inevitable."

The Other Side
Against this stands Ford's long record of open-shop operation, Ford's long record of struggles against outside influence of bankers, or even of government thru the NRA.

Against it stands Ford's recent public statement that "laborers should never join unions" because they are selfishly run by leaders influenced by international bankers in the interest of monopoly.

Against it is Ford's present weapon—a policy of watching closely every strike settlement in the Detroit area, and seeing to it that the pay at Ford's in any classification is at least as high, and when possible, higher than men have been able to obtain by strikes anywhere else.

Against it, too, stands Harry Bennett, Ford's erstwhile chief of police and present personnel manager, running, union leaders say, the most ruthless spy and policing system ever seen in industry.

Union organizers like veteran Bill McKie will tell you that Bennett has devised a vigilante system of 7,000 men within the Rouge plant, made up of straw bosses and specially favored workers, and trained to spring instantly to the aid of plant guards at the first sign of a sitdown to throw out the sitdowners.

Bennett simply laughs at the story and denies it completely. He denies just as completely rumors that the Ford "service men" or plant personnel, police, and watchmen employees have been augmented from 400 to more than 1,000 and denies that there is any patrolling of the plant beyond the absolute minimum of watchmen required in any plant as protection against fire risk.

That a new screen of heavy wire mesh 10 feet tall has been installed some 18 inches inside windows of the plant along Miller avenue is apparent to any passerby. This is the approach to the plant nearest the main Detroit roads, where the riot of 1932 took place.

"Dearborn Law Enforced"
It must be kept in mind that the Ford plant at River Rouge is not in Detroit. It is in Dearborn, a city completely dominated by the vast sprawling plant where 90,000 men keep the cars rolling off the assembly line at a dizzy pace.

The "hot corner" of the Ford Motor Company's vast plant at River Rouge, Dearborn, Mich. Here the main roads from Detroit approach the plant, and near here there was a bad rioting in 1932. All plant windows facing this road have recently been reinforced by heavy wire screening.

When United Auto Workers members, jubilant at the General Motors settlement, tried to distribute to Ford employes handbills describing the settlement, they were stopped by police auto squads at the border between Dearborn and Detroit. They had to distribute them to such employes as crossed into Detroit on their way from work, they will tell you.

Bennett also laughs at this. "Practically every town has an anti-handbill ordinance," he says. "Only we enforce it here. And you'll find that anyone stopped has usually been doing more than that; he has been disorderly or something."

That Ford "service men" have had a hand in settling some of the labor disputes in nearby parts plants supplying material to Ford, there seems no doubt. The great Rouge plant, despite its glass factory, steel mills, coke ovens, foundry, paper mill and cement plant, is not independent.

With 80 plants in the Detroit area making parts or supplies for Ford, union leaders like Walter Reuther, head of the west side local, believe it might be possible to shut Ford down even without penetrating to any great extent into the Rouge plant.

Denies Prejudice
Reuther claims the UAW already has a considerable membership at Ford's, but there is no Ford local as such. Members at Ford's are affiliated only with the general west side headquarters, he says. Union buttons are not allowed at Ford's, Reuther says.

Bennett directly contradicts this, claiming employes with rows of union dues buttons may be seen in the plant at any time, and that they incur no penalty.

Bennett also denies any prejudice against union men at Ford's. Mechanics Education Society unions, with many members in the power plant, tool and die departments, and maintenance staffs, could, if they wished, come closer to shutting down the Rouge plant than the UAW.

Reuther, the organizer charged with penetrating Ford's, is a former Ford employe. He has no personal grievance, he says. For he was a foreman drawing $4000 a year. But the policies he had to enforce against men under him, speedups, relentless efficiency standards and the like, led him to take up union organization, Reuther says. He became a Socialist, and was graduated from Brookwood Labor College, the Harvard of the organized labor movement.

He hints at some sudden, melodramatic gesture that will win a quick victory over the traditional Ford position, once the union is ready. All union leaders are agreed that an open shop at Ford's would be continual danger to their position in other plants, and that therefore it must be overcome.

Like an island in a tumultuous sea that rises daily higher and higher, the great Ford plant crouches defiantly in its haze of smoke and murk on the banks of the River Rouge. It will hold the spotlight as soon as the present wave of sitdowns subsides.

Under the patronage of King Gustaf V more than 100 chess players from 25 countries will meet in Stockholm this summer in an international chess congress, the seventh ever held.

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, March 25 (AP)—The advent of Sam Houston Allred was attended by much more publicity than usually accompanies the birth of a baby.

Several hours before he was born, the capital press room was receiving "preparedness" data, his arrival was bulletined over wires of press that, he has been disorderly or something."

CONCRETE IS THE REAL LOW-COST PAVEMENT

Governor Backs Chicago Plans

CHICAGO, March 25 (AP)—Chicago's title fight camp bounced back into action today after being pushed on the ropes by a series of litigation rights and legislative lefts.

Joe Foley, promoter for the scheduled championship bout June 22 at Comiskey Park between Titleholder James J. Braddock and Challenger Joe Louis, was ready to meet the champion and his manager, Joe Gould, when they arrive late today or Friday to select a training site.

A ray of sunshine in the form of a statement by Governor Henry Horner had dispersed most of the promoters' gloom engendered by the Illinois Senate's passage of a bill for a $10 top on seats for a bout expected to have a $3.30 to $27.50 ticket sale. Enactment of such a law, Foley contended, would drive the fight out of Chicago.

"I seriously doubt that action of the Senate will have any effect on the holding of the contest. . . Nor do I expect the House to concur in the action of the Senate."

OIL TEST WILL BE DRILLED AT WHEELER
WHEELER, March 25.—Material is being moved in for a wildcat oil test north of Wheeler where H. C. Robinson et al will drill their No. 1 S. T. Morgan in the southeast corner of the southeast quarter of section 35, block A-4, H&GN survey. The operators plan to spud in about April 1.

The rank wildcat will be two and a half miles north of the Wheeler city limits and about 10 miles northeast of nearest production in the Magic City field. Water will be taken from nearby Sweetwater creek. The Wheeler Gas company will supply gas from a line a few hundred feet from the test.

Promotion of the test has been under way for several years. Plans call for drilling to 4,000 feet or deeper if formations appear favorable and higher pay has not been found.

ALARM SYSTEM URGED.
DALLAS, March 25 (AP)—Dr. David J. Price, federal engineer who examined the explosion-torn New London school, urged safety engineers today to devise an alarm system for escaping combustible gases.

GOLD PRICE HIKE RE-OPENS MINES IN BLACK HILLS.
KEYSTONE, S. D. (AP)—With the price of gold still more than $35 an ounce, many small gold mines in the Black Hills of South Dakota have been reopened after being abandoned for more than a score of years.

Typical of the workings coming back to life is a small mine near Keystone, closed since 1907 because of the low grade of the ore and the comparatively small fixed price of the precious metal made mining a doubtful venture.

When the government hiked the price of gold, however, many of the smaller shafts were put in shape for operation. The one near here is undergoing extensive repairs and will have a small stamp mill to crush the ore.

Samples from the mine show the vein assays $5 to $25 a ton. Owners envision a profitable enterprise in view of the high price.

THE WHOLE NEIGHBORHOOD LOOKS BETTER SINCE WE PAVED WITH CONCRETE

"I WISH we had put concrete on our streets long ago. Aside from being the best to drive on, it keeps itself clean, looks better, and has made our neighborhood more desirable. Property values are up."

That's not half the story. Your own experience tells you that concrete helps you to drive safely; that it effectively checks skidding; that its light-grey surface helps you see at night.

And concrete saves you money because it is moderate in first cost, low in upkeep and long lasting.

Be guided by your experience and observation. When your streets come up for paving—insist on concrete.

Boake Carter speaking: "Luckies don't catch your throat—they're easy and smooth"

"The thing I prize most is my reputation for saying what I think. Here's what I sincerely think about smoking—it's one of the greatest pleasures in the world, but it can be utterly spoiled by throat irritation. My job's tough on the throat and I have to be careful to keep my voice clear. Long ago I found that Luckies are easy and smooth and don't catch your throat. That means everything in a job like mine. Next time you hear the usual 'Cheerio' at the end of my broadcast, you can picture me reaching for a Lucky an instant later."

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Mr. Carter verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on the throat.
