Sheriff E. S. Graves, state and county tax collector, will keep his office open until 9 o'clock to receive last minute remittances.

Joe M. Smith, said this morning that school tax payments were well ahead of last year and that he is gratified with the response. Mr. Busby also stated that city taxes were being met and paid and that he was sure there would be very few delinquent taxes this year.

Only the state and county taxes seem to be slow as a result the 10 per cent penalty will meet almost half the taxpayers in Gray county after tomorrow "I don't believe half the taxes have been paid," Sheriff E. S. Graves, tax collector, declared this morning. "The penalty goes on Friday morning," he said.

Robison Suit to Be Ruled on by Judge Tomorrow

AUSTIN, Jan. 30. (P)—A decision in the Robison land suit will be handed down by Judge J. D. Moore of the Travis county district court tomorrow. It was announced today.

J. T. Robison, land commissioner, and several intervenors are resisting a permanent injunction sought by the state, joined by the regents of the University of Texas, to prevent sale of oil and gas rights in university lands advertised for last January 2.

Constitutionality of the law passed by the present legislature on January 11 taking all mineral rights off the market is involved.

HENRY THUT IS PRESIDENT OF AUTOMOBILE DEALERS—WILL BE DIRECTING HEAD OF AUTO SHOW

M'CLOSKEY HAS 319-VOTE MARGIN IN NEW RETURNS

AUSTIN, Jan. 30. (P)—Correction in the returns from Guadalupe county and inclusion of the vote from Bee county in the 14th congressional district race were authorized by the state canvassing board today, the new totals showing Judge Augustus McCloskey of San Antonio with 319 votes more than Congressman Harry M. Wurzbach of Seguin.

Counsel for Wurzbach did not urge that the Guadalupe county correction be made giving the congressman 725 more votes than he was accredited with in the returns to the state to the exclusion of the Bee county returns which gave McCloskey a majority of 417, admitting that if either was permitted both should be considered.

Hugh Robertson, counsel for Wurzbach, made an effort to have the board reconsider the Bexar county returns, alleging that they were illegal and fraudulent and did not show the true result there.

The board decided it had no authority to go behind the returns as certified to it by the Bexar county commissioners.

It was decided that Judge McCloskey should return the conditional certificate of election he received some time ago and have it replaced with a new one showing the new totals and setting out the facts with reference to the matters which caused the case to be reopened.

Hubert Harrison Is Authority in His Field

Hubert Harrison, manager of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce will address directors of the Board of City Development, committee members and local citizens in the B. C. D. rooms Tuesday evening. The meeting will take the form of a smoker. Manager George W. Briggs announced this morning. The meeting has been called for 7:30 o'clock.

The speaker has been conducted with the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce for the last seven years. He is an able speaker and an authority along his line.

Chairmen of the various committees announced a short time ago by F. M. Keim, president of the B. C. D., will make short talks on committee undertakings. A general discussion will follow the addresses.

Members of the board will meet after the general gatherings has adjourned to take up committee reports. Mr. Briggs says.

"Everyone is invited to attend the opening meeting of the new B. C. D.," Mr. Briggs said this morning. "There will be room for everyone and the meeting will be interesting."

Albert Square to Be Planted With Bermuda Grass

Albert Square and center parkways on boulevard streets of the city will be seeded this spring, F. M. Gwin, city manager, announced this morning. Mr. Gwin said that he has already sent in an order for 100 pounds of Bermuda grass seed and that planting will begin as soon as weather conditions prove favorable.

Automatic sprinklers will be installed before the grass seed is sown, he says. Plans are being worked out for the system. At a later date, trees, shrubs, and flowers will be planted along the center parkways to beautify the streets.

"I am planning a constructive program for beautifying the city," Mr. Gwin said, "and in the near future will announce a plan which I believe will meet the approval of every citizen in Pampa."

There are eight blocks with the center parkway, four on North Somerville street and four on West Francis avenue.

Neff Is Defended By Missouri Solon

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. (P)—The senate interstate commerce committee devoted several hours again today to hearings on the nomination of Pat M. Neff, former governor of Texas, to be a member of the railroad board of mediation but no decision was reached. Senator Hawes, democrat, Missouri, said he believed the opposition to Neff was based largely upon misunderstandings.

"Some of those who have brought charges against the governor do not seem to have the proper background on the workings of the board," Hawes declared.

BLANTON FAILS IN QUESTIONING ATTEMPT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. (P)—Efforts of Congressman Tom Blanton of Texas to question Captain Guy E. Burlingame of the Washington police department regarding charges against the captain failed here today when Burlingame refused flatly to answer any queries propounded by the Texan.

Captain Burlingame was examined before a section of the house committee on District of Columbia affairs, on charges filed by Mrs. Helen Blalock, a palmitist, that the captain had given her a diamond ring and attempted to persuade her to make a will in his favor and then commit suicide.

Ira Bacon of Amarillo was a business visitor here today.

Fingers Tell

When officers at Salt Lake City, Utah, checked on the fingerprints of a man arrested in a stolen automobile they found it was Roy Dickerson, one of the most noted bank bandits in the south's history, who led a daring escape from the Alabama penitentiary, at Montgomery last October. Dickerson, serving a 25-year sentence, once tried to blow up an Alabama convict mine where he was imprisoned.

B. C. D. GROUPS VERY ACTIVE IN SPECIAL WORK

Board of City Development committees are beginning to function manager George W. Briggs said this morning, following meetings of the publicity, civic and agricultural committees.

The civic committee went on record as favoring the Board taking action to join with other Texas cities in a city planning program, and bring a member of the United States Chamber of Commerce, now touring Texas, here He assists in zoning, beautifying and systemizing conditions in cities.

The committee is also in favor of assisting the American Legion in its park activities. A proposed two-hour parking limit in the business section also is being studied by the committee. E. F. Thomas is chairman of the committee.

Members of the publicity committee made plans for the broadcast over W DAG through the courtesy of the Panhandle Lumber company. A tentative program was arranged at the meeting yesterday. Olin E. Hinkle is chairman of the committee.

It was unanimously agreed that the Pampa B. C. D. should support the bill presented by Clyde Warwick and C. C. Small that $50,000 be set aside for an experimental farm in the Panhandle. The agricultural committee believes that such a farm would be of much help in the Panhandle. The committee also decided that a dairy and poultry school should be conducted here this spring, and that a county agent and home demonstrator would be beneficial to the county. Roy McMullen is chairman of this group.

ED BAILEY IS CLOSELY GUARDED IN PECOS JAIL

PECOS, Jan. 30. (P)—Fearing friends of Ed Bailey, alleged accomplice of Asa G. "Ace" Pendleton, might attempt to deliver him, authorities posted a strong guard about the Reeves county jail last night.

Bailey was arrested yesterday at Wink, oil town, on a forgery charge, but will be taken to Shreveport, La., for investigation in connection with an attempted bank hold-up.

JOHNSTON HAD MUCH TO SAY IN BID TAKING

Objected to Several Men He Thought Drunk

LOW FIGURES OFTEN BARRED

His Opposition Not Always Accepted by Commission

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 30. (P)—Henry W. Leininger, chairman of the Oklahoma highway commission, told the house of representatives investigating committee today that all bids on several paving projects in a recent contract letting were rejected because Henry S. Johnston, suspended governor, did not like the appearance of a representative of a low bidder.

The American Paving corporation of Omaha made the lowest bids on the contracts, Leininger testified, and the commission rejected them after the governor had called the commissioners and the organization's representative for a conference. Leininger did not name the representative.

Later the same corporation was low bidder on three projects, but received only one contract, the commission chairman said. He explained this was due to a practice of awarding only small projects to contractors new to the state.

On another occasion, Leininger testified, Johnston opposed the letting of a contract to McGuire & Cavander, an Oklahoma company, because "he thought the contractor had been drunk." Leininger did not name a particular person.

The chairman said the commission in one instance awarded a contract in Noble county, Johnston's home, to Tom Green, Oklahoma City contractor, over the governor's opposition, because of the insistence of the county commissioners. Leininger denied knowledge of whether Johnston instigated an injunction suit which prevented Green from carrying out the contract.

Hawaiian Aviator Is Attempting an Endurance Test

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., Jan. 30. (P)—Martin Jensen, Hawaii air racer, took off at 10:14:39 a. m., in an effort to beat the solo endurance flight record of 35 hours and 25 minutes established by the late Royal W. Thomas.

He barely got up from the end of the long runway and missed the telephone wires at the edge of Curtiss field by inches. He disappeared over the Sound to begin shuttling back and forth between Boston and Washington.

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., Jan. 30. (P)—Unable to gain altitude in an attempt to establish a new solo endurance flight in which he was using automobile gasoline, Martin Jensen, Hawaii flier, made a forced landing on the beach of the north shore of Long Island today.

CHEVROLET CAR STOLEN

A Chevrolet coupe owned by F. L. Haller, who lives 7 miles southeast of LeFors, was stolen from in front of a store on South Cuyler street last night between 7 and 10 o'clock. The theft was reported to the sheriff's department but no trace of the missing car has been found.

A meeting of the Central P. T. A. will be held Friday at 3:15 p. m. in Mrs. Daniels' room at the Central school. All members are urged to be present.

Special Committee Meeting Called at Borger Tomorrow

A meeting of a special committee from the Oilfield Highway association No. 41 will convene in Borger tomorrow to discuss advertising and plan maps. George W. Briggs, manager of the Pampa B. C. D., is chairman of the committee. Other members are G. G. Granville of Borger and J. H. Walker of Dalhart.

The association was organized in October with F. P. Reid of Pampa as president. It is planned to route the proposed highway from Oklahoma City to Colorado by way of Sayre, Okla., Pampa, Borger, Dalhart, and other towns along the way. This route would mean a saving of many miles between the two points.

Minister Moves to New Manse

The Rev. A. A. Hyde, pastor the first Presbyterian church, and family have moved into the new manse on the church lot west of the church building. The new manse is a five room frame bungalow. "It's Like This—"

POOR DOGS, theirs is going to be a hard life in Pampa, evidently. There is a close parallel between a good, well-meaning, down and out dog and a man in the same condition. But a man can ask for a hand-out, and, if it comes to that, he can understand instructions to get out of town.

The dog can't. He is a trusting beast, and inclined to give his tormenters the benefit of a doubt. He must believe humans are temporarily insane at times, else how could he be so forgiving?

It will cost from $5 up to $25 to own a dog in Pampa—far too much for some children of the community—and some grown-ups, too—to own pets. Previously, a lower price was put upon the heads of the animals. As it worked out, many people, and even strangers, would volunteer to buy dog tags when they saw the animals about to be hauled away to be shot.

The purpose of a rather stiff tax is two-fold—to bring about fewer dogs and to be sure the animals are being properly owned and cared for. A dog pack without supervision is as bad as a boy gang under the same conditions. When one dog gets sick, he may have no master and no doctor. Lacking proper care and food, he may develop rabies. Unintentionally, of course, he may bite a fellow dog, or several dogs. They in turn run wild. Within a short time the dread disease is a public menace—all because of unvouched-for dogs.

Last year about a score of local people had to take the serum treatment to prevent development of the terrible disease that might have been communicated to them through the bites of dogs.

Every effort must be taken to prevent a recurrence of this situation. One life of a human is worth that of many dogs, regardless of what you may think of the latter. In fact, the death caused by rabies is so horrible that it cannot be compared to the value of canines.

It may be hard on dog owners to pay the tax. If there were any better way to get the same result we would favor a lesser fee, but the effect must be accomplished. If it is true that we have 500 dogs, it must follow that scores of them are tramps. We hope the dog catcher is humane—dog lovers have the right to ask that.

The old comparison of a boy and his dog with less satisfactory combinations remains one of the most appealing. Well do we recall our own Kino, Rover, Three Legs, and the rest. Three Legs came unbidden—a mongrel, half hound, half Shepherd, apparently, with an obscure past and an unexplained absence of the left rear leg. But mentally he was worth a dozen ordinary dogs and as a companion while "going after the cows" he was almost indispensable.

In the days when the rattlesnakes were rattlesnakes, he had a morbid hatred of the reptiles and could smell one a block away. That this faculty saved us many a scare, and on not a few occasions a probable bite we have little doubt. And one day, when there was no doubt, and the writer walked into rattlesnake paradise, it was the leaping body of awkward Three Legs that stopped the striking rattler which lay coiled under a giant sage bush. Only a drop of blood near the dog's left eye showed any indication that he had been struck before tearing into the snake's body. Within a short time Three Legs' head was twice its normal size. The dog went mad and a merciful bullet ended his misery and the danger of his biting one.

To kill a pet arouses suffering in anyone who would be called a human being who would not sacrifice a pet in the interest of safety? Yes, many dogs must be killed, but which are owned and for can be saved through the kindness of the tax. Some kindhearted, wealthy man will volunteer to help lads and lassies whose pets are in danger. This is a sob story, but are going to be plenty after February 1.

TODAY'S COMMENT

roads is to endorse the that the people of should have the right side whether they bond themselves to their paved roads in the decade or two. This endorsing any specific plan, but is a statement of general principle.

We do favor building by a levy upon the traffic favor taking the burden of the land and property, theory that the traffic do the work in a more equitable manner and less property tax for county. We realize the inevitable having to refund a portion of the money Brazil put into state roads which will not be duplicated by counties which get in the future. We reserve opinion the plan that may be ed for getting a safe equitable distribution bond money in the portions of the state. bitter opponents of the plan we ask a better that will accomplish the mum requirements abgested. And there rests until the Legislatmit the constitutional ment, if it does.

Along Hoover's Trail SOUTH AMERICA

WASHINGTON — Brazilian and Argentinians, on the basis of their undeniably great agricultural possibilities, each claim that theirs is the coming nation of South America. Each nation looks forward to days of enormous prosperity, believing North American food demands will increase greatly.

Argentina's hopes of establishing a great market for her wheat and meat in the United States seem rather far-fetched, while Brazil has all-important commercial stakes in various staple crops—such as sugar, cocoa, cotton and rubber—and has repeatedly been beaten from her position by competitive production elsewhere.

Argentine-Brazilian war sooner or later. At any rate, there is a marked contrast in the attitude of these two big republics toward the United States.

We buy and drink most of Brazil's coffee and are far and away her best customer. But Brazil buys less from us, proportionately, than Argentina, whose big customer is Great Britain.

Our exports to Brazil vary in value with coffee conditions. They dropped 7 per cent in 1927 and increased 10 per cent in 1928.

TWINKLES

Two things are seriously wrong with this world: It is a habit to appoint committees (that never function) to do everything, and everytime a body of men get together they start an investigation.

When women meet they can rap the absent, pull their hair a few minutes, and get down to work. With men it is otherwise. How can you expect farm relief from members of Congress who are using all their time finding how the opposite party collected its campaign funds and who got the most out of the utility companies?

If someone will offer a prize for the best plan to aid the country, we would submit the idea of creating in every nation, state, and county a permanent inquisitorial board, so that the people and the news agencies could get their fill of investigations.

People used to say "there ought to be a law", now they say "it ought to be investigated".

If judges, prosecuting attorneys, and other public servants would do their duty instead of following the dictates of political expediency, we would need fewer "probes". As it is, probing is always in open season and to pry into the goings on and it is wise to pry into the goings on of the judges, prosecuting attorneys, and other officials.

It used to require a shyster lawyer to handle some of the dirtiest cases on the dockets, then Darrow made such popular and now such fiends as Northcott do their own defending.

Mrs. W. C. Mitchell is leaving today for Chicago, where she will join Dr. Mitchell. They will attend the spring opening of the Eastern markets.

By HERBERT C. PLUMMER

WASHINGTON.—Three pretty young women emerged from a door of the executive offices at the White House flushed and excited.

"He doesn't shake hands nicely at all," one exclaimed.

"I was all set," another said, "to tell him we were returning his visit to Charlottesville, but they pushed me by so fast I didn't have a chance."

"Pushed?" queried the third. "I was fairly shoved through."

They had just been introduced and had shaken hands with the president—three of the 225 others who had filed past the chief executive that morning at the daily public reception.

Keep Moving

It is an easy matter to meet the president of the United States. All that is necessary is a letter from a member of congress. These gentlemen jump at the opportunity. More than one has made his seat in congress a bit more secure by making it possible for his constituents to shake the president's hand.

Armed with his letter, the next step is to see Pat McKenna, the veteran doorkeeper to the executive offices. He looks you over and assigns you a place in line.

If the president is not behind with his daily schedule the door to his office is opened at 12:30 p. m. The line files through quickly and silently guided on one side by the doorkeeper, on the other by a secret service man.

The president stands at the door, just inside, apparently glad to see everyone. He wears a benign smile as he varies his greeting from "I am pleased" to "I am delighted, I assure you." Even as he greets you his eye has wandered to the person behind. There is nothing to do except keep moving. One feels he would have gotten the same satisfaction had he seen the president motor by on Pennsylvania avenue.

They Like It

But they like it—these visitors. Invariably they emerge by the other door, their faces wreathed in smiles. It is easy to see that they are greatly satisfied with themselves. The stories they will tell the home folks are written all over their faces. For most of them it is apparently one of the greatest days of their lives.

Occasionally the president will consent to pose for a picture with some delegation. That is rare.

If a party from some foreign country is formally presented, then enough time is spared to say a word of welcome.

Usually, however, the line keeps moving.

Desperado From Everglades Finally Killed by Officers

WEST PALM BEACH, Jan. 30. (AP)—When Haywood Register fell mortally wounded yesterday under a leaden hail from an ambush of officers, Sheriff "Bob" Baker finished a job he undertook four years ago when he set out to exterminate the notorious Ashley gang.

Register died with his boots on and with his guns blazing defiance at the officers who attempted to return him to the state penitentiary and a life sentence for murder.

The last member of the gang of desperados who from their hidden retreats deep in the swamps of the Everglades preyed for years on the villages along the Florida east coast, escaped last December from the state penitentiary at Raiford.

Yesterday he walked into an ambush arranged with the aid of a friend of Register whom the outlaw last Saturday held up and relieved of $2,000.

Alcohol Used as Anaesthetic Is of Immense Value

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 30. (AP)—Alcohol applied by an intravenous injection has been successfully used as an anaesthetic by Dr. Miguel Garcia. The doctor removed a kidney without the patient showing the least pain during an operation which lasted more than an hour.

Medical authorities said the advantage of the use of alcohol was that it simulated the functioning of the heart and that dangers attendant upon the administration of other anaesthetics were removed.

Truck Drivers Beaten by Seconds

Second-string men at Central proved too strong for the truck drivers of the Independent district last night, the former winning by a 15-3 score.

The girls of Central high will go into action Saturday evening prior to the final game of the big tournament. Wheeler girls will furnish the opposition.

On February 8, Shamrock girls will come here for a game.

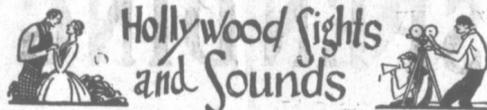

These tilts are due to schedule changes. It was said last night by L. K. Maxcy, coach.

Forest Rebuilt in 16 Years

Progress in reforestation of the Pacific northwest has gone so far that already signs are appearing of new young growth of forests. Here, for instance, are two views of the same tract of land on Mt. Hebo in the Siuslaw national forests, Tillamook county, Oregon. Upper view shows the scene 16 years ago after a series of forest fires. Lower photo shows the forest rebuilt by the U. S. Forest Service.

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD.—With the imminent departure of the wild-and-woolies from the American screen, for a time at least, suggested in the dropping of westerns from the production schedules of certain Hollywood studios, many of today's favorite heroines, established or up-and-coming in the preferred types of film drama, must be indulging in reminiscences of their own "days when"

Days not so long ago, either, for any number of youthful stars and featured players among the colony's feminine contingent have trod desert and mountain trails as part of the rocky road to fame.

Laura LaPlante, for one, just four years ago was being rescued periodically from bandits and villains by the doughty Hoot Gibson—one of the few among the hard-riding, two gun clan who apparently is standing by those guns and continuing to ride, despite other producers' ideas as to what the public wants.

They served as an excellent course in her school of hard knocks before the stellar diploma was her own.

Looking at random over the field of other stars who at one time or another have played cowgirl Julietts to sagbrush Romeos, it appears that the fading of the westerns may rob the movies of a training school that has its good points.

Certainly, for one thing, learning to eat sand-spiced food from tin plates and to like it—to cite only one of the frequent rigors of cowboy "location" work—is not conducive to development of temperament in budding headlines.

Former Cowgirls

Joan Crawford, whose name is box-office gold now, served her turn in six-shooter drama, as have little Dorothy Janis and Dorothy Sebastian—all now doing well, thank you, at M-G-M. And at Paramount, Jean Arthur, Mary Brian, Doris Hill, Esther Ralston and Fay Wray are among those familiar with the tactics of western heroes as practiced for the camera.

Polly Moran, of course, knows more about this western life than any of them. Her "Sheriff Nell," riding rough shod and hilariously over the hills comedienne.

Hoover Asks for Extra Secretary

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 30. (AP)—Close contact with the more than half a hundred independent agencies of the federal government is planned by President-elect Hoover during his administration.

This explains the pending request before congress for an emergency appropriation of $10,000 for an additional White House secretary. This official will be the liaison officer between the president and the independent organizations which include the veterans' bureau, the shipping board, the federal water power commission and many others.

Condemned Pair Wish Lunacy Hearing

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 30. (AP)—With the moose waiting to claim their lives Friday, Mrs. Ada Bonner LeBoeuf and Dr. T. F. Dreher, convicted of the slaying of the woman's husband, today pinned their hopes for escape from death on a habeas corpus application in federal court.

Counsel for the condemned pair planned to apply for the habeas corpus writ before Judge Wayne G. Borah in federal district court today and to appeal to the fifth United States court of appeals in case the writs are denied. The defense seeks appointment of a lunacy commission.

Famous Detective Mysteriously Killed

WILLIMANTIC, Conn., Jan. 30. (AP)—The slaying of County Detective William E. Jackson, widely known criminal investigator and former Rough-Rider, puzzled the police today.

The body was found by his wife and daughter when they returned from a store last night less than 40 minutes after they had left him reading a paper.

A bullet had entered his head. Death was said by physicians to have been instantaneous.

Wales Astounded By Poverty Seen

LONDON, Jan. 30. (AP)—Brought face to face with scenes of sorrow and suffering such as he had never encountered before, the Prince of Wales sometimes has had difficulty in finding words to express his sympathy in his tour of the northern coal fields.

This was illustrated by an incident at Winton where he was visiting the cottage of a miner who had been without work for three years. The prince was struck by the evidences of extreme poverty.

"You must find it very difficult to live," he said to the miner's wife. Describing the visit afterward, she said: "He didn't seem able to say much. He just looked around and his voice sounded broken-like."

Winters We Used to Have Return

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 3. (AP)—The conversation broom, "we aren't having the winters we used to have," that is buried under tons of snow in the Wisconsin and Michigan northland.

Kewaunee, Wis., was one of the oldest residents were ready to admit that never before, had there been such a winter.

Oxygen May Yet Save Girl's Life

PERRY, Kan., Jan. 30. (AP)—Margaret Brown, the little 7-year-old school girl of Perry, will have her fight for life won if the improvement in her condition continues two days more, her physician announced today.

The child spent a restful night and today her temperature was down another degree to 99, five degrees lower than yesterday. Natural breathing which began last night after 11 days of administration of oxygen, continued as the infection in her lungs, drained of fluid resulting from a complication following pneumonia, submitted to treatment. The oxygen, however, still was being administered occasionally to help the little patient gain strength.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brown, parents, have never given up hope for the recovery of their little girl.

Censor Suppresses News of Rebellion

MADRID, Jan. 30. (AP)—Rumors from Ciudad Real today were that several sentences of death had been passed after a summary court martial inquired into yesterday's artillery mutiny there. An artillery general who was the ringleader in the whole affair was believed to have escaped over the Portuguese frontier.

The city has been occupied by troops from Madrid under command of General Orbaz. The general took all possible measures to maintain order. Some troops which left Madrid were returning to the capital.

Censorship prevents further details, and a large number of dispatches have been suppressed.

MATTER OF TWINS

BURLINGTON, Wis., Jan. 30. (AP)—Will Lehr, who has two brothers who are twins, and Mrs. Lehr, who is herself a twin, having a twin brother, are now the parents of twin sons, born to them Tuesday. Mr. Lehr's mother also is a twin.

Talks To Parents

THUMB-SUCKING
By Alice Peale

By many mothers thumb-sucking is considered a sinister habit, resulting not only in malformation of the mouth, but in some mysterious malformation of character as well.

In their anxiety to free their children of this habit, parents resort to all sorts of harmful methods. Muffling of the hands, aluminum mitts, the tying of the hands to the mattress, whipping, frightening, scolding and nagging are all used in a frantic effort to stop the practice.

As a matter of fact, thumb-sucking when the child is sleepy is so common that it may be considered a normal satisfaction of childhood, and safely disregarded by the most conscientious parent. When, however, the child regularly sucks his thumb after meals, it usually is an indication that there is something wrong with his nutrition. In this case medical advice rather than discipline is needed.

By the time the child is three years old he should have outgrown the habit.

Mehlhorn Favored to Win Tournery at Hot Springs

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Jan. 30. (AP)— Practically all participants in the Texas open at San Antonio were here today for the south central open golf championship tournament which opens tomorrow. The tournament committee last night announced 106 entries, professional and amateur.

An 18-hole medal amateur-pro event and a driving contest are on the card for Thursday. The $5,000 championship match, a 72-hole event, medal play, starts Friday with a qualifying round.

It is understood MacDonald Smith, title holder, will not enter.
"Wild Bill" Mehlhorn, who set a world's record for a 72-par course in El Paso and won the Texas open, is favored to win. Mehlhorn won the 1926 south central title.

HOOKS AND SLIDES

ANOTHER BIG TALK GUY

Willie Stribling was in New Orleans recently to fight that clown, Ralph Smith, who Willie said, was "the biggest, tallest, heaviest man" he ever fought. But he didn't add that he was if possible, one of the worst also.

While he was in New Orleans he had a lot of things to say to the newspaper boys. And in his conversations he scooped the whole country on the real reason Gene Tunney had in retiring.

TUNNEY FLED IN FRIGHT

"I sure wish I could get a crack at Gene Tunney," he said. "I sure wish I could. But I don't think Gene Tunney wants any of it. They say he decided to retire when he decided to get married. But that's all wrong. He made up his mind to retire when he saw me knock out Martin Burke in Miami. He didn't announce it then,
But he decided just the same.

"Tunney wasn't a great fighter and he got a lot of breaks. I saw him fight Spalla in New York. Spalla picked him up and slammed him down on the floor and a little later they gave Tunney the decision to save Spalla from punishment and because he was so weak. Spalla was so weak that all he could do was throw Tunney around like a kid slamming a teddy bear on the floor."

WHOO UP THERE, FELLA

Willie hasn't a high regard for the fighting qualities of the Dempsey fellow. Even when Dempsey was in his prime. He would like to have fought Dempsey when Dempsey was real good.
"I guess I'll never get to fight Dempsey," he told the boys. "I'm afraid he's out of the ring for good. I certainly would like to have fought him when he was the way he was in the Firpo fight and the way I'm feeling now. It would have been a fight."

BETTER TELEPHONE HIM THAT

He arrived in New Orleans on a train and when he was asked if he left his plane behind because Jack Dempsey had ordered him to quit flying until his Sharkey fight had been put on he had more words to say.

"I'm having my two planes overhauled. Dempsey gave me direct orders not to fly until after the Sharkey fight. I should worry about Jack Dempsey's orders. He's not my boss.
He can jump off the dock. I'm going to fly to West Palm Beach and fly into Miami the day of the fight. I'm going to have the stick myself. Tunney always had someone pilot him. Evidently Tunney liked to fight about as well as he liked to fly a plane himself."

COMMISSIONS ARE HEARTLESS

Willie, for the first time, also gave the inside reason for the terrible fight he made against Paul Berlenbach in New York. His wife was sick.

"All I could see in the ring that night was my wife's face all flushed up and burning with fever. I wanted the fight postponed, but the commission wouldn't allow it," he said.

THE END OF SHARKEY

Willie is going to knock out the Sharkey fella. He promises it.

"What will I do to this Sharkey man?" he talked. "I'm going to knock him out, sub, of course.

"Yes, sub, I kinda think I'm going to be the next heavyweight champion
I'm not swell-headed about it."

Sande Fights Fat in Come-Back Try

NEW YORK, Jan. 30. (AP)—Earl Sande, once America's greatest jockey, may attempt a come-back this year.
Reports from Maryland say Sande is training strenuously in an effort to cut down the weight that forced him to announce his retirement last summer. According to these reports, Sande will ride in the Gifford handicap, possibly for Gifford A. Cochran, provided his battle against weight is successful.

HOW MUCH ARE YOU SPENDING TO ADVERTISE YOUR BUSINESS?

The Harvard School of Business Research recently made a survey of the representative retail businesses of the United States to determine what per cent of the total sales the most successful merchants were spending for DAILY NEWSPAPER AD-VERTISING.

HERE IS WHAT THEY FOUND:

Business	Per Cent For Advertising
Department Stores	3.87
Furniture Stores	3.72
Men's Furniture Stores	3.16
Jewelry Stores	3.10
Drug Stores	2.76
Shoe Stores	2.65
Grocery Stores	1.83
Hardware Stores	1.12

Which means that a proprietor of a Dry Goods Store with average monthly sales of $10,000 should spend $387 per month for advertising which is 3.87 per cent of the sales.

These figures were not arrived at by any guess work!
A large crew of experts were engaged for more than a year getting data direct from representative business men throughout the United States. It was found that the less successful business men spent but little for advertising, and a few were found who were "spasmodic" advertisers trying to increase their business with an "occasional" advertisement in the paper.

Estimate your sales for February—Look at the above chart and classify your business—figure up the per cent and set it aside for Pampa Daily News advertising for the coming month.

Six Elimination Battles Planned For Heavyweights

NEW YORK, Jan. 30. (AP)—With the signing of Paulino Uzcudun for a bout on February 22 with K. O. Christner, Madison Square Garden has revealed plans for six heavyweight elimination battles during the coming year. The wind-up will come in September with Jack Dempsey in his old role of gladiator.

The Garden's plans, as outlined by Col. John S. Hammond, acting general manager of the corporation are:

Paulino-Christner, February 22; winner to meet Tom Heeney.
Max Schmelling-Johnny Risko, February 1; winner to meet survivor of Heeney and Paulino or Christner battle.

Survivor of these matches to clash with the winner of the Jack Sharkey-Young Stribling bout in Miami Beach,
February 27.

Ultimate survivor to battle Jack Dempsey probably in one of New York's ball parks in September.

Two Boxers Are Suspended After Monday's Battle

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 30. (AP)—Phil
Zwick, Cleveland boxer, and Sammy Shack of New York, who defeated him in a bout here Monday night, have been suspended by the Wisconsin state athletic commission—Zwick indefinitely and Shack for 60 days.

The suspension of Zwick will be effective, the commission announced,
"until he appears before the commission for an explanation relative to the use of the kidney and rabbit punches during his contest with Shack." The ban upon Shack was due to his being overweight and to his "poor showing against Zwick."

THIS HAS HAPPENED MAIZE ASHE, married for 15 years to a newspaper man, warns her daughter and HOLLES HART of the ways of reporters.

ASHTORETH, her only child, is marrying Holles Hart. A triumphant marriage, from a worldly point of view, the Harfs are one of the oldest families in Boston, and Holles is a multi-millionaire.

The story is meant for the press. Particularly in view of the fact that Holles, flying from New York to his home in Boston, has figured in an airplane accident, with him at the time, was MONTY ENGLISH, an old sweetheart of Ashtoreth's.

Monty was also hurrying to her, because he had read that day in a New York paper a story, which implied that the "well known woman" the rich and famous Mr. Hart had become involved in a rather lurid romance with a young lady of unusual beauty, said to have been a stenographer in his employ.

Hollis, naturally angry, meant to get at the facts of the story. Following the crash, he learns the identity of his traveling companion, and ascertains that he means to marry Ashtoreth in the morning.

Hollis motors from Connecticut, where the accident took place, to the Ashe flat in Boston. Meantime, the Boston papers have been busy, but the story that was printed in New York. They began to talk about the "rich and famous" and Maize warns the lovers, "You'll never escape them. Don't let them get you. There's an outwitting pack."

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XL MAIZE was right. There was no fooling the pack. They camped all night on the door steps. Hollis left the apartment as day began to break. Then the reporters divided forces. Half of them followed him in taxis to his club. The other were waiting there. Engaging interviews. Demanding statements. There were photographers with flashlights. And Miss Fannie Drown of the Trumpet, who never went to bed.

"Oh, Mr. Hart," begged Fannie, clutching him by the coat sleeve. "There's just one little thing I want to ask you. Tell me, Mr. Hart, if it is your belief that stenographers make better wives than society girls."

Fannie was running up the broad steps after him, whipping a dog-eared notebook from her pocket. "There's a gentleman what says 's a personal friend, sir, waiting in your bedchamber, sir. He's my own opinion, 's a news 'ound, if I may say so, sir."

A suave young man rose from the club chair in the sitting room of Hollis' suite. "Sorry to intrude this way," he apologized pleasantly. "But business is business, Mr. Hart. There's a rumor around town that Dan Corum is filing suit for breach of promise against you. Stories from Dan's office indicate that he'll be on the job first thing in the morning. He's made no statement himself, but the News wanted to give you an even break, so I came directly to you, Mr. Hart. Rather rotten, busting in on you this way, I know. But you understand how it is."

that if he pulls any of his dirty stuff, I'll give him a punch in the nose. And I'll sue his whole damn firm for defamation of character."

"The suave young man smiled. "Then there's nothing to it, Mr. Hart?"

"It's blackmail," Hollis told him shortly. "That's Corum's specialty, isn't it? It's the sort of stuff they pull on Babe Ruth and Red Grange, and on poor devil that happens in the limelight. And half of the suckers pay, and the other half let them take it to court. Well, I'm not going to give Corum a cent, and I'm not going to let him take it to court either. I'm going to knock his head off, instead. Now you might take him that little message, and see what sort of a come-back he has for that."

The reporter smiled disarmingly. "That's the way to handle those guys," he approved. "And all the skirts that make the trouble, too, I'll tell him what you said, Mr. Hart. And, take it from me, there won't be another squawk out of Dan... By the way, congratulations are in order, aren't they?"

The suave young man extended his hand. HOLLIS shook his head. "You'd better save your felicitations for a while."

The other looked surprised. Grieved, in fact. "You're not going to be married in the morning?" he exclaimed. "Why, the News heard..."

"The News," interrupted Hollis, "heard nothing of the kind."

"Then you're not to be married in the morning? Shall I quote that, Mr. Hart, as coming from you?"

Hollis' shoulders sagged wearily. He looked desperately tired. And a little old.

"Good lord!" he appealed. "Have you no respect for a man's private affairs? What if I should ask you if it was true that you beat your wife? Or meant to elope with the red-haired waitress at Child's? Can't you see it wouldn't be any more presumptuous or absurd?"

The man chuckled. "That is the price of greatness," he said. "If I had a few million, Mr. Hart, I wouldn't care what you asked me. No—nor what you said about me, either. I'd thumb my nose at the cockeyed world. And I'd tell the tabloids to go to the devil!"

We print in the corner 'Photograph by So-and-So,' and they count it good advertising. There are several profiles and a beautiful full face.

"As a matter of fact, one of the artists was painting on a veil and wedding gown, when I left the office. You'll see it in the first edition, Mr. Hart. Four-column front page lay-out."

Hollis choked angrily. "It may be all in the day's work," he sputtered, "but it's a hell of a way to earn a living."

"His caller bowed. "If I had inherited a few millions, I should not," he murmured politely, "be engaged in such a nefarious occupation. Our motto, Mr. Hart, is 'Give the people what they want.' Presidents get elected on that platform. So I guess it's good enough for the News."

He withdrew. And, slipping out a back way, took a taxi to the office.

"Nothing," he mused, "to set the world afire, but a pretty good story at that." And, in his mind's eye, he saw a banner line in the first edition.

MILLIONAIRE HART THREATENS ATTORNEY CORUM.

MEANTIME, Fannie Drown had hurried to Maize's flat. Now, Fannie was rated the most ingenious sob sister in Boston. She offered the taxi driver double fare, and told him to step on it.

"I'll bet," she moaned, "they've beaten me to it—Babe Bailey and Vina Adams. I never should have played anything but the girl end!"

Fannie was right. Maize, who couldn't bear to refuse anybody anything, had been persuaded to admit a chosen few, selected as spokesmen for the group. When Fannie found that out, she bribed the janitor, and waited in the hall, while he delivered a note.

Maize read it, and admitted Fannie. Belle and Vina and Johnny Mahoney smiled when they saw her. They knew Fannie's favorite ruse. For 10 years she had been getting away with it.

your eyes—oh, me-oh my!" "But, Mums, how can it! There's too much to do."

"I'm going to draw a nice warm bath for you, Baby Lamb, and you're to take a little nap. Mr. Hart told me you'd get straight to New York, and you can get whatever clothes you need there."

"Mother! You mustn't call him Mr. Hart... Why, Mums, he's just about your son-in-law already," Ashtoreth laughed hysterically.

"Did you know, darling, he wants to go to Paris? And he says you're to move right down to the Copley Plaza, Mother. And stay there—or anywhere in the world you want—until we come back again. Then we're going to take a house, Mums—and you're to live with us, forever and ever."

Maize—because she was moved, most likely—snorted. Maize never was a gracious person.

"Me at the Copley Plaza!" she scoffed. "Say, wouldn't that be swell?"

"Mums—Mumsie, dear... did you like him?"... Ashtoreth stroked her mother's hand. "Don't you think he's sweet, Mother?"

"Sweet! Humph... He'd better be sweet!"

Maize scowled belligerently. "What's that he's keeping calling you... 'Orchid'? What does he mean—'Orchid'?"

"Oh, he says I remind him of orchids, Mother. It's so darling of him. He says I'm exquisite, and chaste—and all the jowelliest things you ever heard. Like an orchid, you see—sort of cool and remote... Oh, of course it's just too silly, dear... But isn't it adorable!"... Ashtoreth smiled rapturously.

AND Maize, holding her daughter's face between her plump pink palms, prayed in her heart that life—and Hollis—should always be kind to Ashtoreth. Because, though Maize, there aren't many such beautiful smiles in the world, and fate would be cruel, indeed, if the most beautiful smile of them all should perish.

Mrs. Ruth's Child Was Only Ward Her Will Reveals

NEW YORK, Jan. 30. (P)—The true relationship of the "mystery child" to Babe Ruth's late wife was established today in Mrs. Ruth's will.

The document filed in surrogate's court left the bulk of a $50,000 estate to "my beloved charge and ward, Dorothy Helen Ruth, at one time known as Marie Harrington."

Babe Ruth was cut off with a bequest of five dollars. The same amount was left to Mrs. Ruth's mother and to each of her four brothers and three sisters.

At the time of Mrs. Ruth's death in a fire which destroyed the home of Dr. E. H. Klinder, dentist of Water-town, Mass., January 11, conflicting reports were in circulation regarding whether Dorothy was the off-spring of the ball player and his wife or a foster child.

STOCKS ARE STRONG

NEW YORK, Jan. 30. (P)—The stock market opened buoyantly today, with utilities again the lead. A block of 15,000 shares of utilities power and light was taken at 46 7/8, up 2 points to a new high. Brooklyn Manhattan Transit moved up 2 points, United Fruit 2 3/8, Commercial Investment Trust and Rio Grande Oil a point and more. U. S. Steel was heavy, however, opening a point lower.

The market quickly turned irregular, however, as the heaviness of U. S. Steel, which extended its loss to 2 points, caused some uneasiness, and tighter money was feared.

International Telephone lost more than 2 points, while American Telephone, Electric Power & Light, Mexican Seaboard, National Cash Register, Underwood Elliott Fisher, Greene Cananea and Atlas Power receded 1 to 1 1/2 points.

Most of the utilities continued strong, Columbia Gas and Consolidated Gas gaining a point and more. New Haven Railroad rose 1 1/2 points to 89 7/8, while Bloomingdale Bros., Safe-way Stores, Eaton Axle, International Paper company and By-Products Coke sold a point and more higher. Sterling cables opened unchanged.

Mellon Stresses Opposition to Big Prohibition Fund

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. (P)—Secretary Mellon in a letter to Chairman Anthony of the house appropriations committee today reiterated his opinion that the proposal to appropriate an additional $24,000,000 to enforce prohibition would not accomplish the purpose intended.

The secretary said that under the terms of the amendment the fund would not be available for any purpose except that of increasing the personnel of the bureau of prohibition and the department of justice. It could not be used for an educational campaign, he declared, and even such essential incidental expenses as rent, office equipment, supplies and traveling expenses could not be paid from it.

Suicide Pact Is Under Scrutiny

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 30. (P)—A perfume salesman's story of his survival of a suicide pact in which a woman was drowned was under scrutiny today.

As floating ice and low temperatures hampered efforts to retrieve the body of Miss Verma Kling, 30, from the Susquehanna river, police contemplated making a formal charge of murder against Harry Bowman, 39.

Bowman said that by agreement he and Miss Kling had jumped into the river, that the woman was drowned, but that the icy water had brought him to his senses and he had climbed to safety.

The salesman was arrested with Miss Ethel Miller, 30. She was accused of carrying concealed weapons.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 30. (P)—Filing by the State of perjury charges against at least two witnesses in the trial of former district attorney Asa Keyes, Ben Getzoff, and Ed Rosenberg, loomed as a possibility today as the case approached its end. The three men are charged with conspiracy and bribery.

SMALL'S LAND BILL REACHED BY SENATE

AUSTIN, Jan. 30. (P)—The senate today reached the first of the four "anti-land jumper" bills offered by Senator Small of Wellington, the one providing for the validation of patents in streams now held legally navigable.

Senator Small contended the gradient line theory extending the boundaries and broadening the character of navigable streams made such legislation imperative.

Senator Hyer of Fort Worth opposed the taking up of the Small bill out of its regular order and asked that it be tabled until the land office investigation body finished its inquiry.

OIL NEWS and NOTES

Water Trouble Found in Wilcox Oil Formations

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 30. (P)—Late Tuesday Tom Slick, Inc., encountered salt water at three feet in the Wilcox sand topped at 4,554 feet, in number 1 Wyetha, west of the Allen pool of Pon-totoc county. This wild cat has been heading up twice daily and putting between 180 and 200 barrels of Simpson lime oil into the tanks each 24 hours.

A performance of completion in both the Maud and Mission pools are showing salt water in the lower horizons of late. Indian Territory Illuminating Oil company has an apparent failure in number 1 Tully in 10-8-5. It swabbed 90 barrels of oil from the Simpson formation and when the oil swabbed down the hole filled up 1,500 feet with salt water. Wilcox sand has been penetrated from 4,356 to 4,349 feet. This test is two locations west of production.

WICHITA, Kas., Jan. 30. (P)—Interest of oil men for the next week is expected to be centered in Sedgwick and Harvey counties, where 11 wells are nearing the pay sand, all drilling around the 3,000 foot mark.

Oil Scout Who Was Wounded by Posse Is Suing

DALLAS, Jan. 30. (P)—Believing he was being held up, E. V. Hall, Tom Green county oil scout, speeded up his automobile when a posse attempted to stop him on the highway near Justiceburg, Garza county, a year ago and received 37 gunshot wounds in his legs, he sets out in a petition for $51,000 damages against two Garza county peace officers and others.

A bank had been robbed at Syl-vester, Fisher county, the day Hall was shot, defendants have said in their answering petition, and when Hall refused to stop and crouched down in his machine it was supposed he was one of the bank bandits. Several members of the posse were alleged to have fired into the automobile.

Extension Well in Chambers County Is Large Gusher

DALLAS, Jan. 30. (P)—An extension in the deep producing area in chambers county of about a mile and a half south of the discovery well has resulted in the bringing of the Young-Lee Oil company's Chambers county No. 1 well at Barbers Hill. The well came in at a depth of 5,260 feet, flowing 4,000 barrels a day through a half inch choker. At least five offset wells to the new producer will be started immediately.

Production in the Joe Bruner-Salt Flat field in Caldwell county has reached 17,875 barrels, gauged on Sunday, the highest on record. Completion of a number of wells by the Humble Oil and Refining company and the Shell Petroleum corporation helped to swell the output.
