OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 22. (P)—Questioned as to the origin of published rumors that money figured in the sudden adjournment by senate members of the attempted impeachment session of the Oklahoma legislature in 1927, Carl C. Magee, Oklahoma City editor, today gave a senate investigating committee a list of suggested witnesses.

Magee said he did not know personally that any person received money in connection with the adjournment. He suggested, however, that the senate committee summon as a witness W. B. Graham, a citizen of Oklahoma City, who, he said, he thought would supply the name of another witness who could testify that C. S. Beckman, Oklahoma City road contractor, had given money for distribution.

A subpoena was issued for H. Tom Kight, leader of impeachment activities in the house of representatives, after Magee testified Kight had told him he thought he could produce witnesses who could tell that money was expended and into whose hands it fell.

Magee, who published in his editorial column a rumor that $100,000 had been used to influence the votes of state senators in adjourning the attempted impeachment session, named among persons with whom he said he had talked, Eugene Lorton, Tulsa publisher; John Harden, Oklahoma City real estate operator; W. C. Fidler of Oklahoma City, state senator; R. C. Graham of Oklahoma City, anti-administration representative, and Kight.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 22. (P)—An officer of the Oklahoma national guard today was in charge of the office of Gov. Henry S. Johnston, who was suspended late yesterday by the state senate pending trial on impeachment charges voted by the house of representatives.

The officer, Maj. C. D. Keller, was stationed at the executive office by W. J. Holloway, acting governor. Major Keller explained there was no military significance in his presence. "I am here as a co-ordinator between the governor and the acting governor," the major said. "I am in charge of the records and of course I shall supply the acting governor whatever he requires."

Governor Johnston, who was invited by Acting Governor Holloway yesterday to continue use of the executive offices, arrived at his office late this morning, to find it deserted except for the officer, one stenographer and H. E. Sullivan, secretary to the governor.

AND A SMILE

NEW YORK—A keg of whiskey was rolled into federal court as evidence against two clubs. "Get that out of here," ordered Judge Julian W. Mack. "It might make someone thirsty." He added that there was no need of a dramatic performance; the defense had admitted having liquor but denied the conspiracy charged. The prosecutor wished to show Canadian markings on the keg.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22. (P)—A report exonerating Senator Pine, republican of Oklahoma of the charge made by Commissioner Burke of the Indian bureau, that Pine was seeking to "destroy" Burke was adopted today by the senate Indian committee.

COUNCIL HEAD VIEWS TRAINING COURSE IN CITY

J. Sid O'Keefe of Panhandle, president of the Adobe Walls council of Boy Scouts, attended the leadership training class here last night. Thirty-five local men are attending the course, which will last for eight weeks under the direction of Scott Barcus, scout commissioner of the council.

In a short talk to the men taking the course, Mr. O'Keefe said that he was sure that the future of the Boy Scout movement in this territory is assured. He said that men in all towns in the council are answering the call to service.

"This course is to teach the man to be a boy agent and to know what a boy wants and needs," the president said.

LAREDO, Jan. 22. (P)—Nuevo Laredo, the Mexican town across the Rio Grande from here, has two strikes against unpopular taxes on its hands today. Sometime ago telephone subscribers who objected to a toll on calls to Laredo removed their receivers from the hooks.

Now taxi drivers and the pilots of the picturesque hansom cabs which creep about the streets of the Mexican city, have struck against the new license fees imposed by the government.

DREW 99 YEARS AND WON APPEAL

Krum Bank Loot Was Found at Home
by Ranger

MARLIN, Jan. 22. (P)—Yancy Story today was convicted of robbery of the Krum bank. The jury recommended a minimum sentence of five years.

The jury began deliberations late yesterday, but it was not until after midnight that it reached a verdict.

Story had been charged with robbery with firearms for the looting of the Krum bank, in Denton county, on June 9, 1925. He had been tried twice previously on the charge. In Dallas he was convicted and sentenced to 99 years imprisonment. The case was reversed and remanded, and in a new trial at Sherman a jury was unable to agree.

In the trial here, the state contended Story and at least one companion robbed the bank after telling an official it would be looted and after inquiring as to whether a cashier still had a pistol he had kept in a drawer.

About two months after the robbery, Ranger Captain Tom Hickman and a group of officers searched Story's home and found a roll of nickels, wrapped in a Krum bank check, and other evidence which was introduced against him.

CHURCH DRIVES ARE PLANNED IN SESSION TODAY

Further plans for the enlargement of the church memberships of Pampa by the Ministerial Alliance were discussed at a called meeting of the ministers this morning. The Rev. Jas. Todd, Jr., occupied the chair.

Each evening, beginning February 3 and closing February 10, special services will be conducted in all churches in the city. A general theme will be taken each night and discussed by the minister in his church. A religious survey will be taken during the same week.

Several Courts to Hold Trials
for More Than 3,000
Prisoners

CHICAGO, Jan. 22. (P)—Police sweepings—the 4,000 men and women arrested in a crook clean-up without post-war precedent—were sifted today by police, prosecutors, and the courts.

Analysis of the results of the raids were far from complete, for every jail in the city was crowded and the task of making a complete check was necessarily slow.

Trial of more than 3,000 of those arrested were started today, the cases being distributed among the various police courts, charges in most cases being disorderly conduct or vagrancy.

ALLEY PAVING BEGINS

Merchants whose stores go back to the alley west of Cuyler street between Acheson and Foster avenues looked out their rear doors with pleasure this morning. The Stuckey Construction company began laying concrete on the alley this morning, hoping that the weather would continue favorable until tomorrow at least. Four alleys will be paved with concrete.

CHICAGO, Jan. 22. (P)—Apparently becoming suddenly insane, a negro prisoner at the detective bureau today rushed upon a group of policemen and stabbed three with a pocket knife before he was shot five times and probably fatally wounded.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22. (P)—Two freighters were in distress off the Virginia coast today, the Florida and the Danndiake. The Florida, an Italian freighter of 3,500 gross tons, sent out an S O S from about 800 miles off Cape Hatteras, reporting a broken rudder. The Danndiake, an American ship of 2,520 tons, was reported in a relayed wireless message to be in need of immediate assistance not far from the Florida coast.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22. (P)—Organization of a $5,000,000 corporation to finance sales of airplanes on the installment plan was announced today by Howard L. Wynegar, president of the commercial credit corporation of New York, who will be president.

CHICAGO, Jan. 22. (P)—A gas explosion which blew out the rear walls of a three-story brick rooming house in West Superior street killed one man and seriously injured two others today. One man was saved from being trapped in the debris by firemen.

COURTROOM, Riverside, Cal., Jan. 22. (P)—The trial of Gordon Stewart Northcott for the murder of three boys was continued today until Thursday because of illness of the defendant. Superior Judge George R. Freeman granted the continuance after hearing testimony of Dr. H. L. Ratcliff, who examined Northcott.

The Royal Neighbors society will meet at the hall Tuesday evening at 7:30. All members are requested to be present.

Legislature Is Studying
Hard on Highways
Proposals

AUSTIN, Jan. 22. (P)—The house and senate were on the verge of open hostilities today as a result of the house committee's action yesterday in killing the senate judiciary bill, appropriating money to support the courts for the next biennium.

Senator Tom Pollard, chairman of the senate finance committee, said he believed the senate would be more determined than ever to pass all money bills and send them across the hall to the house in spite of the house's announced opposition to their consideration until a special session next spring.

"We can send them over there and then refuse to adjourn sine die when the regular 60 days are up," Senator Pollard said.

AUSTIN, Jan. 22. (P)—Members of the 41st legislature today considered the task of solving the highway problem, after listening to an expression of views last night.

Three speakers, Lynch Davidson, former lieutenant governor; Cone Johnson, state highway commissioner, and Clarence Ousley of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, spoke and were called upon to answer questions concerning highway proposals.

They addressed an audience made up not only of joint committees on highways, constitutional amendments and revenue and taxation, but also of Gov. Dan Moody, Lieutenant-Governor Barry Miller, and other legislators and persons interested in highway affairs.

Neither of the three speakers espoused any specific plan of legislation, but Ousley and Johnson mentioned several things which they thought should be included in the program, and Davidson attacked the proposal of a state bond issue.

Sees Bad Precedent
Davidson said that if a constitutional amendment were passed allowing the legislature to authorize the issuance of bonds, a dangerous precedent would be established. Counseling against haste in road construction, Davidson reviewed the highway accomplishments of the past 10 years.

The millionaire Houston lumberman was questioned frequently near the end of his talk. In response to a question from Representative Adrain Pool of El Paso, he admitted that he had supported several bond issues in Harris county but said he thought there was a distinction between state and county bond issues.

Ousley scored what he termed the injustice of taxing counties to help build state highways. He asked the legislature to stop this practice and to repay the counties for what they had contributed to the state highway system. He suggested an increase in the gross receipts tax on common carriers and a 4-cent gasoline tax.

Local Aid Unsatisfactory
Johnson discussed the inadvisability of the present local aid policy from the standpoint of a member of the highway commission. He characterized it as false both in principle and practice.

"The highway commission cannot enter on the construction of a network of state roads because the counties and not the commission determines where the state's money shall be spent," he asserted.

Mrs. G. B. Griffith Hurt Accidentally

Word was received here yesterday that Mrs. G. B. Griffith, formerly of Pampa but now living in Longview, is slowly recovering from a gunshot wound on her head. According to the letter received here, Mrs. Griffith had driven to the negro section of Longview after laundry when the accident occurred.

Mrs. Griffith had just entered her car when she was struck on the back of the head by a 22-calibre bullet. She was rushed to a hospital, where her wound was treated. It was later discovered that some boys were shooting at a target and a stray bullet had hit Mrs. Griffith.

Mr. Griffith was connected with the Jones-Griffith Plumbing company here for some time.

CITY BUYS CAR

The city commission last night purchased from the Rose Motor company a 1928 Ford coupe to be used by the water works department. Several local dealers placed bids with the commission.

SECRETARY MELLON is taking a step now that he most certainly would not have taken before the election—that of opposing an increase in the appropriation for liquor law enforcement.

Mr. Mellon presumes to pass upon the appropriation as a principle of government, although it would seem that his advisory capacity should be limited to matters of finance and taxation. The cryptic remarks attributed to him have not justified the very evident intent to prevent the increase, which is held essential to more efficient enforcement.

The secretary's attitude, in the absence of more definite reasons, will be interpreted as supporting the oft-heard charge that he does not want rigid enforcement. Certainly such an official cannot be looked to for energetic enforcement of the Eighteenth amendment, and his willingness to properly use the additional funds if available may be doubted.

Mellon is a great man in the financial world. It has been frankly stated that Mr. Hoover would find it difficult to remove him should he choose to do so. But not to secure a new secretary of the treasury, would, after the current discussion, cast a cloud of doubt upon the new administration, at the outset. Mellon is not a "Hoover man", in the sense that he is himself an oracle, and not given to listening to a "chief".

LAND COMMISSIONER Robison has been a popular official. Not until very recently have we ever heard his ability or his motives challenged.

The land suits, however, have come home to the landowners in a very personal way. Perhaps Mr. Robison's repeated efforts to follow prescribed procedure may be attributed to extreme conscientiousness. But Representative Petsch questions the ability which allowed those methods of procedure to develop against the wishes and welfare of the people.

The attorney-general's department should be as sharply criticized, and the motives in that department should be even more closely scrutinized. The fee system, under which the attorney-general gets a percentage for land recovered, again comes to the fore.

Handling of big sums, big land tracts, and the like usually result in abuses worth investigating. Be it remembered that in placing $225,000,000 in the hands of three men for highway building the State would be taking a big risk. The motives of a small group may be good, but unless there are methods of controlling such immense expenditures the people are not properly protected. In government, it is sometimes wise to expect the best but prepare for the worst.

SECOND DEGREE murder is the charge placed against of-

Along Hoover's Trail SOUTH AMERICA

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON—Argentina might almost be called sport crazy. Once the Argentines have laughed at foreign sports. Now the whole country boasts of the improved health with which they are endowing the younger generation.

The British introduced cricket and soccer here at a time when the only Argentine recreation was sitting on coat-tails and drinking. The country never has picked up cricket, but it has gone mad over soccer.

There's a terrific soccer rivalry between the Argentines and Uruguay; the two nations get almost unbelievably hot over the outcome, and meanwhile this imported national game is played the length and breadth of the land. Every factory has a team and every hamlet. Every three or four tiny communities have a league. Each province has its own team.

The players, who have something of a camera complex, pay meticulous attention to their uniforms. Sometimes 35,000 spectators see a game in the River Plate stadium and the kids all talk about soccer even more than our kids talk about big league baseball at home.

Alvear, the last president, is said often to have kicked out the ball at important games, though President Irigoyen has not yet condescended to do so. Umpires are mobbed on occasion and pop bottles—or beer bottles—hurled. Dirty playing is not unknown, for the losing side frequently becomes so excited as to kick, scratch and bite in order to win. At least, so one is told.

Tennis is the next most popular game. Buenos Aires is covered with courts and squash tennis is widely played. That's a Basque game and there are many palota leagues.

Officials of the state girls' home in New Mexico, Quackery, or certainly unscientific and dangerous administration of drugs, is indicated.

This is but another example of the poor penal methods in use in this country. The girls were roughly treated before they ran away. Brought back, they were given drugs to keep them quiet. Without abundance of water to drink, the drug given is dangerous. Death resulted.

Every state would do well to have frequent inspections of the methods of criminology employed. In several recent instances, district judges have refused to sentence juvenile offenders to institutions which only intensify their criminal traits. Medieval methods have not yet disappeared.

Swimming is popular, so is fencing with the upper classes, and basketball has lately been gaining favor.

The rise of Senor Luis Angel Firpo, the "wild bull of the pampas", encouraged amateur boxing, especially in Buenos Aires. Firpo, by the way, is highly successful as an automobile salesman. He had a contract providing that he sell 65 Buick cars last year, and he is said to have doubled the figure. He may be no great salesman, but the car and the market are good.

Competitors claim unfair competition from Firpo in that he makes extravagant allowances on the purchaser's old car when turned in, but one hears that Luis Angel cleans up about 2500 pesos on every sale.

Buenos Aires also boasts one of the world's best race courses and some of the best available horse flesh, though racing is confined to Sunday afternoons and holidays. Sixty thousand persons show up for a good race, including half as many peons in pajama coats. More than 500,000 pesos have been bet, parimutuel, on a big race. One hears that many of the races are "fixed", but your correspondent has had no experience with them.

President Irigoyen is against horse race betting. Once Buenos Aires had regular Thursday afternoon races, too, but Irigoyen stopped those.

TWINKLES

Northcott came near proving his own insanity when he chose to be his own attorney, but perhaps he knows those California lawyers.

They are going to do something for the farmer and about the boll worm, but nothing is on the horizon for the benefit of the scribes.

Helen Wills is to be married in 1930. Perhaps she doesn't have a divorce from tennis yet.

The talkies caused the extras' salaries to slump $300,000 in 1928, but conversation probably showed an increase. Speak gently, you may be called into the profession some day. This ought to be a hint to teachers of English.

Our water is too hard—not speaking of ice, either.

Mr. Mellon seems to think it would not be according to principles of good government to forcibly take home brew away from the people. He apparently wants only enough money spent to worry the rum runners. That's local option for you.

Henry Ford carries a jeep. We didn't know the New Ford needed such accessories in an emergency.

Probably few of these "thrill" slayers ever had the thrills of the oldtime woodshed.

After looking at some of the excuses for student marriages, and hearing the arguments against the procedure, we are inclined to favor the former.

If the legislature doesn't hurry up and get our pet bills passed we will be cross-eyed trying to watch the Austin and also keep an eye on the Oklahoma side show.

It is noticeable that most of those who endeavor never to miss anything never passed up the flu either.

BARBS

Outstanding in the day's news is the advertisement in the Clinton (Mass.) Daily Item of a "Scotch Concert and Ball", at which the entertainment was to be given by "a singer with two voices".

New biographies are aimed at the debunking of Buffalo Bill. Those old yarns about the plainsman probably were just a lot of bear stories.

A Pullman porter was robbed the other day. Maybe there's something to Emerson's law of compensation after all.

It's a high pressure age. If you can make a better mousetrap than another man, the world will beat a path to your door suggesting improvements.

The Los Angeles cruised over Florida for a couple of days recently. Now what this country needs is a dirigible named Miami, St. Petersburg or Jacksonville to cruise over California.

It is proposed to make false teeth from steel. Suppose now all the dentists will be installing riveting hammers.

A robber was arrested after holding up a crowd entering a night club. Still, you'd hardly expect him to wait until they came out.

They use machine guns against wolf packs in Russia, but don't let the police see you carrying a machine gun down Wall Street.

Maybe those witches down in Pennsylvania aren't the worst people in the world. Most of their offenses seem merely those of hex appeal.

Club President Writes of Pampa District Meeting

(From the Amarillo News.)

Mrs. J. M. Crain, Eighth district president, presided at a meeting of district officers Tuesday in the Potter county library when a tentative program was planned for the district meeting at Pampa in April.

Mrs. Crain sends a letter of greeting to the clubs in the 26 counties comprising eighth district. Excerpts are as follows:

"It is the purpose of the present administration to send you a monthly letter and I am hoping that in turn you will forward me a resume of your monthly report. Our district report will be a tabulated summary of the 113 local Parent-Teacher associations comprising it. And after all should not our locals be a summary of the activities of every member, our county councils a summary of every local, our districts a summary of all the counties, our state a summary of the 15 districts, and our national a summary of each state's activities?"

"More than 1,400 women in Texas are studying the Parent-Teacher correspondence course. We are planning a graduation class at Pampa and are eager that many of you be ready for your diploma at that time."

AMARILLO IS GIVEN EPISCOPAL SESSION

LUBBOCK, Jan. 22. (P)—The problem of framing a program for 1929 and the question of obtaining funds to train a worker to carry on the work of the church in North Texas were the chief items of business facing the 19th annual convocation of the North Texas missionary district of the Protestant Episcopal church as it convened today for the third and final session.

The woman's auxiliary to the national council was to elect officers today.

At the morning session, Amarillo was selected for the next annual convocation.

Meeting of Public Library Body Is Held Monday

A called meeting of the Pampa Library association was held at 7:30 Monday evening in the reading room of the Methodist church. The meeting was called to order by the Chairman, Rev. Todd, with Mrs. C. M. Bryson as acting secretary.

About sixteen members were present. A brief review of what had occurred at the last meeting was taken up with making plans for this one. D. E. Cecil, treasurer, reported that he had received $399.05 from Godfrey Cabot. There has been only $5 donated by the folks of Pampa toward their public library.

There are close to $1,000 worth of books on the shelves at the present time.

Rev. Todd asked for a report from the committee on the Constitution and by-laws. These were read as drawn up by the committee, amended, and accepted. The forming of the constitution occupied most of the time for the meeting.

A motion was made that a silver tea be held some time during the second week in February, and the library will be formally opened at that time.

P. T. A. Executive Committee Meets Meeting of Royal

A meeting of the executive committee to arrange for the P. T. A. convention was held yesterday afternoon. Mrs. C. E. Hutchins was elected permanent chairman and it was decided to hold over the same committees from both P. T. A.'s.

Another meeting will be held next week to formulate more definite plans for taking care of the details of the convention.

FUNERAL FOR LAGRAVE WILL BE WEDNESDAY

FORT WORTH, Jan. 22. (P)—Funeral services for Paul LaGrave, business manager and part owner of the Fort Worth club of the Texas League, who died yesterday in El Paso, will be held here Wednesday. Mrs. LaGrave, with the body, was to arrive here today.

Mr. and Mrs. Siler Hopkins Entertain

Mr. and Mrs. Siler Hopkins entertained at the home of Mrs. Maggie Hopkins last night. Twenty couples from surrounding territory, and Pampa and McLean, enjoyed dancing.

The square dance was the favorite diversion of the evening, music being furnished by a stringed orchestra. Refreshments were enjoyed by the guests at a late hour.

Birthday Party Given to Honor Josephine Lane

Mrs. R. W. Lane entertained at her home from 3 to 5 Saturday afternoon. The occasion of the event was her daughter, Josephine's, twelfth birthday and there were 12 young friends present at the party.

The afternoon was spent in games and contests, after which dainty refreshments were served.

Those present were: Mary Catherine and Frances Clark, Ruth and Aleta Barnard, Myrtle Fay Gilbert, Lorene Doyle, Florence Sue Dodson, Evelyn Graham, Flora Dean Finley, Eva May Moore, Edna Dunaway and Hildred Brake.

Negro's Place in Modern Art Is Meeting Subject

The A. A. U. W. and College club met in the parlors of the Methodist church at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon. Mrs. H. H. Hicks was the leader of the program, which was entitled "The Negro's Place in Modern Art."

The first number on the program was a vocal solo by Mrs. J. M. Dodson, a negro spiritual, "Standing in the Need of Prayer."

The second item was a paper by Mrs. Marion Howard, "Negro Art." In this she showed that the mentality of the negro is much different from the white people and the difference shows up in his art. In anything the negro undertakes, his imagination is foremost, and he lets his instinct guide him in his actions. The negro's art has been a revelation to the white man, inasmuch as Africanism is the most modern as well as the most ancient of arts.

The third number for the afternoon was a discussion by Mrs. H. H. Hicks. She brought out that the negro has three obstacles to overcome: (1) Ignorance, (2) superstition, (3) racial contempt. Figures show the progress the negro has made since the time of the Civil war up until the present time. There are more educated negroes yearly and some of them are recognized nationally in different lines. She mentioned, as examples, negro tilters, agricultural chemists, and doctors. It is interesting to note that among the most highly educated and widely known negroes, one finds that some of them are females of the race. The fact was also brought out that the negro was of great help to the U. S. during the World war. He took his place with other residents of this country in the ranks. The most interesting feature about the negro is the fact that those who do rise to a place where they can be of help, they are all anxious to help their race in general and bend all their efforts in that direction, to encourage them.

The fourth number on the program was a discussion by Mrs. J. M. Dodson. She talked of the different negroes that have become nationally known and famous for their work. She stated that she believed that the main thing to consider, after the negro has been educated, is the fact that he likes to do things the white people do and not as the negroes do. In her opinion, this is the barrier that the white people will have to break down—to teach the negro that he has a sphere all his own, that he cannot be like the white people in all things but he can do much to raise the standard of his own race and make it one that he can be proud of.

About 10 members were present to enjoy the interesting and instructive program.

BOSTON BRAVES COLLECT ALL AVAILABLE VETERANS

Manager Knows Little of What Material Offers

By WILLIAM R. KING, Associated Press Sports Writer.

BOSTON, Jan. 22. (AP)—President-manager Emil Fuchs of the Boston Braves hasn't been worrying about his club lately. He hasn't had time. The genial magnate, who started the baseball world when he sold Rogers Hornsby and then announced he would manage the club himself, does not even know how many players he will have when his squad gathers at St. Petersburg, Fla., several weeks hence.

During the last few weeks, when he would have been perfecting his pre-season plans, Fuchs has been kept on the jump explaining his club's connection with the passage of the Sunday sports referendum and his efforts to obtain a Sunday baseball permit from Boston city council.

Fuchs is positive about one thing, however. He is going to have plenty of assistance managing his 1929 edition of the Braves. After trading Hornsby, he retained Johnny Evers and Frank Gowdy, who played for the club back in the happy days, as his understudies.

He is also going to have many veteran ball players, for he has claimed or bought every aging star waivered or put up for sale since last October. Among them are Joe Dugan, who helped the Yankees win five world series, and Rabbit Maranville, who played for the inspired Braves of 1914.

It is more than likely Dugan will be holding down third base with Rabbit at short stop when the season starts. Freddy Maguire, who came from the Cubs in the Hornsby deal, is the logical choice for second base, and George Sisler will probably be able to retain his first base berth.

The others on the infield list are Lester Bell, Eddie Farrell and Walter Gautreau, all with the club last season; Glen Messner, purchased from Toledo, and a youth named James, coming up from the Omaha club in the Western league.

The catching department appears strong, comprising Zack Taylor, Al Spohrer and Bill Cronin, veterans, Pat Collins, another ex-Yankee, and two rookies, Dick Smith, drafted from Montreal, and Louis Leggett, purchased from Reading.

Fuchs thinks he has 14 pitchers but he is not sure that several more won't appear when the squad assembles in Florida.

The veterans are Ed Brandt, Ben Cantwell, Johnnie Cooney, Arthur Delaney, Kent Greenfield, Elmer Hearn, Herman Holshouer, Bob Smith and Henry Wirtz. The newcomers are Percy Jones, another player of the Hornsby trade; George Leverett, with Indianapolis last season; Bill Cunningham, who performed in Los Angeles last year; Harry Seibold, considered the best minor league pitcher of last year, when he played for Reading, and George Perry, late of Wichita, Kan.

Paulino Is Not Eager to Fight "Black Menace"

NEW YORK, Jan. 22. (AP)—Meeting opposition from Jack Dempsey, the Madison Square Garden corporation has abandoned its efforts to match George Godfrey, the current "Black Menace," with Paulino Uzcudun, at Havana, Feb. 18.

Dempsey, now in Miami Beach, Fla., arranging the setting for the Sharkey-Stribling match there on Feb. 27, wired the Garden officials the proposed Havana fight would interfere seriously with his Miami Beach plans.

As a matter of fact, Dempsey's expression of disapproval might not have been needed. The Garden found itself confronted with many matchmaking difficulties in connection with the suggested Havana extravaganza. Godfrey, more or less shunned by the heavy weights, was ready to sign for the match, but Paulino was quite coy about the matter.

GLORY IN 5 COLLEGE SPORTS GOES TO OKLAHOMA ATHLETE

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—The University of Oklahoma needs only to win the Big Six championship next fall to fill Tom Churchill's cup of joy.

For this would allow this genial giant to add a gold football to the large collection of medals won in track, basketball, boxing and wrestling.

But Churchill already has distinguished himself on the gridiron as well as in the other four sports. He was the choice of coaches, officials and sports writers for left end on the 1928 all-Big Six eleven, selected by The Associated Press this year.

Churchill's latest medal is a miniature world given him as a token of appreciation for representing the United States in the decathlon competition at the 1928 Olympics.

Churchill first entered sportdom's hall of fame in 1925, when he was a member of the Wichita, Kas., basketball team which won the national championship. The next year he attended Central high school in Oklahoma City, and carrying its colors, he won the title of the best all-round athlete in the state track meet.

In the school year of 1926-27, Churchill was a freshman at the University of Oklahoma and forced to forego varsity competition, but he won the school title in heavyweight boxing and wrestling. He placed on the football team in 1927, playing guard, tackle, end or halfback, as exigencies of the season demanded. A few months later he was a member of the undefeated basketball team which won the last title in the old Missouri Valley circuit. Then he helped Oklahoma annex the conference indoor track championship with his broad-jumping and shot-putting.

After a strenuous campaign in outdoor track, Churchill won the decathlon championship at the Kansas relays, placed near the top in the Penn relays and won a place on the Olympic team.

Returning from Amsterdam, Churchill went out for football again, hoping he would get a gold ball. Oklahoma tied with Missouri, however, for the conference championship. But the outlook for him to realize his ambition next year, is rosy, for the Sooners will lose only four regulars because of graduation.

HOOKS AND SLIDES Henry L. Farrell

DEAR TO HIS HEART

It would have been dear to the Rickard heart to have had a big row about the man who is to referee the Sharkey-Stribling fight. It would have made the fellers talk and with a lot of sectional and partisan feelings involved it would have been natural ballyhoo for the customers.

Sharkey, perhaps without first degree intent, always lent himself to the kind of ballyhoo material that Rickard lived. When he was calling Dempsey names before their fight and saying things that couldn't be printed about Tunney, Rickard came as close to laughing out loud as he ever did in his life.

Rickard had a very warm spot in his heart for Sharkey because he had such a genius. If it might be called that, for getting himself in print. When he came to New York from Boston Rickard would get him steamed up by saying nice things about Dempsey and Tunney and Jim Maloney. And when he spread the salve about Maloney Sharkey would go through the roof.

HEAT BEGINS TO WORK

One afternoon the newspaper bunch had gathered, as customary, in his office for the daily conference. Sharkey had been in to see him and went down to Jess McMahon's office boiling after Rickard had burnt him up talking about what a great fighter Maloney was.

Rickard called his secretary and told her to send down to McMahon's office.

"Tell him to send Sharkey up here. The boys want to talk to him."

Sharkey stormed into the office and without greeting the boys stormed at Rickard:

"What the hell do you want now? If you're going to blow off any more about that Dempsey and that dirty suchandsuch of a Maloney, I'm going to blow the joint."

Turning to the newspapermen he shouted: "Do you know what he's been trying to tell me about Dempsey and Maloney?" And then he went on to repeat the steaming-up conversation, finishing with: "He's in love with that suchandsuch Dempsey."

Similar incidents occurred almost every time Sharkey visited the Garden, and it is quite certain that Sharkey's part was not an act. He was sincere and meant it. If he was talking purely for publicity he would have used language that didn't have to be censored.

THEY HAD THEIR SIDE

There will not be any trouble about the referee. If there is a controversy it will be ballyhoo. Sharkey is smart enough to know that he would get a raw deal in the south because he is a northerner and belongs to a certain church. Mike McTigue did have some kind of an experience in Georgia but, in justice to Stribling and the men who are charged with responsibility for the demonstration, it must be recalled that the people down there were aroused when McTigue claimed a broken hand would not allow him to

Mandell Not to Risk Title When Meeting Gillespie

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 22. (AP)—Sammy Mandell, world's lightweight champion, tonight will return to the boxing ring after a four months' layoff, meeting Jack Gillespie of Detroit in a 10-round contest. The title will not be involved, the men boxing at catchweights.

Gillespie was substituted for Joe Azarilla of Milwaukee whose hand was broken while training. The bout will be one of several "warm-up" contests Mandell will engage in before risking his title, also it will give him a chance to test the strength of his collarbone which he fractured last September in a bout with Jimmy Goodrich, in Flint, Mich.

fight. And they didn't think his hand was broken and wanted a show for their money. Stribling came north later and beat the ears of Mike in Jersey.

Rickard did have a real referee fight on his hands before the Johnson-Jeffries fight, and he had to step in and referee the fight himself.

When Colonel Carey, Rickard's successor at the Garden, was asked if he might do the same thing in Miami he was horrified.

"Good Lord, not me!" he said.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Fessler, in his first year as a varsity basketball player at Ohio State, was named captain before several of the big games. . . . He's the fellow who played some end last fall for the Otilos. . . . Hans Wagner is getting seven smacks a day. . . . As assistant sergeant-at-arms in the Pennsylvania house of representatives. . . . Jack Curley and Strangler Lewis have made up. . . . And Lewis has gone back to work for Curley. . . . The Garden people will have to take in 300 grand in Miami before they can see any light. . . . The Yankee catchers had 100 bases stolen on them last year. . . . Maybe some of the pitchers gave big leads. . . . The New York boxing commission won't stand for any more masked marvels.

Ruth Will Try to Forget Grief and Lose Fat

NEW YORK, Jan. 22. (AP)—Babe Ruth has come back to New York to resume his war on old man avoirdupois.

His morale shaken by the tragic death of his wife, Ruth will seek to forget his troubles by close application to the task of preparing himself for another American league campaign. The Babe weighed 234 pounds before he left New York for Boston when appraised of his wife's death. He hopes to get down to 223 pounds before he leaves for the South with the vanguard of the New York Yankees on February 23.

Harvesters Will Invade Miami for Game Tonight

The Harvesters are scheduled to meet the Miami Warriors in the Miami gymnasium tonight at 8 o'clock. Coach Mitchell's boys are feeling proud of their cup won in the Panhandle tournament, and will enter the home of the Warriors to take another scalp.

A return game will be played Friday night. The Miami girls will meet the Pampa sextet on the same evening.

February 1 and 2 are the dates of the big tournament here. Coach Mitchell has received fifteen acceptances to invitations sent out early this month.

The Pampa girls high school basketball team has been officially invited to attend the West Texas girls high school basketball tournament that will be held at Snyder February 14, 15 and 16 under the sponsorship of the Snyder Lions club. Plans are being laid to entertain more than 50 girls' teams during the three days.

R. H. Schulze, Dallas, southern commissioner for the A. A. U., was in Snyder recently to complete preliminary plans and expressed satisfaction for the fine basketball floor and gymnasium that will be provided during the visit in Snyder of West Texas girls teams.

Six huge loving cups of solid gold and silver, one of which is the actual size of a basketball made of gold is first prize; a silver ball of the same dimensions is second prize; and the four other major prizes are huge loving cups standing well high. In addition there are three sets of small gold and silver basketballs.

Visitors to Snyder will be privileged to visit the new $10,000 athletic stadium only recently dedicated by Snyder high school which is said to be the finest outside of college fields in the state of Texas.

Snyder is located in Scurry county on the main line of the Santa Fe railroad and on state highways Nos. 83, 7 and 101. Teams coming over the Broadway of America should turn off at either Colorado, Roscoe or Sweetwater. Snyder is easily accessible from all points in West Texas.

Arrangements for the entertainment of teams and visitors will be in charge of a committee of the Federated Clubs and Parent-Teachers association, backed by the entire citizenship of Snyder.

Housing for anywhere between five and eight hundred girls with their coaches and escorts will be completed by a special committee whose headquarters will be with the Scurry county Chamber of Commerce.

Officials for the games which will start in early Thursday morning, continuing game after game into the night, will be entirely picked and selected by state officials of the A. A. U.

"We know our Luckies That's how we stay slender"

EVERY woman who fears overweight finds keen interest in new-day and common-sense ways to keep a slender, fashionable figure. Overweight must be avoided. "Better to light a Lucky whenever you crave fattening sweets."

Toasting does it. Toasting develops and improves the flavor of the world's finest tobaccos. Lucky Strike satisfies the longing for things that make you fat, without interfering with a normal appetite for healthful foods. That's why Luckies are good to smoke. Toasting makes Lucky Strike the healthy cigarette for you to smoke.

Many men who carefully watch their health discovered this years ago. They know that Luckies steady their nerves and do not slow up their physical vigor—prominent athletes have gone on record that this is so. They know that 20,679 physicians have stated that Luckies are less irritating to the throat than other cigarettes.

A reasonable proportion of sugar in the diet is recommended, but the authorities are overwhelming that too many fattening sweets are harmful and that too many such are eaten by the American people. So, for moderation's sake we say:—

"REACH FOR A LUCKY INSTEAD OF A SWEET."

Coast to coast radio hook-up every Saturday night through the National Broadcasting Company's network. The Lucky Strike Dance Orchestra in "The Tunes that made Broadway, Broadway."

Jazz Pirates to Be Among Most Popular Troupes

With beauty in place of brawn, music in place of battle, and dancing instead of marching, the Jazz Pirates played to three full houses at the Rex theatre yesterday. The Mahavier sisters took the fancy of Pampa theatre fans, and the four-day stay of the Pirates gives promise of being a very popular one.

The crew of beautiful girls can play, dance and sing cleverly. A more versatile or colorful group has not made an appearance here in some time. Each member is an artist in her line.

Following the Mahavier sisters, who are in a class by themselves comes Hazel Rose, beautiful blues singer. Leo Francis, bucking dancer, is a little baldheaded man but when it comes to making his feet act he is second to none.

The orchestra is flashing and plays some of the latest music.

Suffered for 10 Years; Then She Turns to Sargon

"Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills are the most wonderful medicines I have ever used. I say this because they have brought back my health after I had been trying for ten years to find something that would relieve me of my suffering. My principal trouble was with my liver, for my complexion was always sallow and I often said my color was as yellow as gold. I believe my entire system was filled with poison, resulting from chronic constipation and liver trouble. I became dreadfully nervous. I did not sleep well and was losing my strength and energy rapidly.

I also suffered terribly with intestinal indigestion and had to be very careful about my diet, but I would suffer with indigestion just the same. Gas would form and extend up around my heart and cause severe palpitation. I also had severe pains in my abdomen. These attacks would generally come on after meal time. Pains in my chest and shoulder also bothered me a great deal and I was in a badly run-down and weakened condition.

"After taking two bottles of Sargon and one bottle of Sargon Soft Mass Pills I noticed a remarkable improvement in my condition. My appetite is splendid. I can now digest and assimilate food I hadn't dared touch before in months. I no longer suffer from those indigestion spells but the greatest blessing of all has been the relief from constipation from which I suffered for so many years. My complexion is now clear and healthy. I have gained some weight and feel greatly strengthened in every way.

"The Sargon Soft Mass Pills are wonderful. They are so gentle and yet so thorough and cause no bad after effects whatever."

The above statement was made by Mrs. Alexander Malcott, 1405 West 8th Street, Oklahoma City. Mrs. Malcott goes to the Methodist church and is highly respected by a large circle of friends.

Sargon may be obtained in Pampa from Fathere Drug Co., and in McLean from Erwin Drug Co.—ADV.

"That," he told her, "is because you've never seen the Holy Lady of Notre Dame. She's my favorite girl, so you'd better like her. She's a little bit of a thing, Orchid, and she doesn't look particularly holy. As a matter of fact, she's a young modern mother—and God knows how many centuries old she is. A little slim thing, with tiny features. Holding her baby in a frightened sort of way, and not complacent at all, like the other Madonnas. No body knows who fashioned her, nor when. Nor where she came from."

"Well, of course, we'll go and see her," she agreed. "But you'll take me to see Josephine Baker too, won't you, Holly? And I want to go to the Holy, and the Casino and Montmartre. And all the dress-makers. And every single blessed cafe in Paris."

She squeezed his hand ecstatically. "Oh, my goodness, dearest, I'm glad you're rich! You don't mind my bragging, do you?"

"Not a bit," he assured her. "Sometimes I'm glad myself."

"Well," she said, "it's certainly wonderful, the things money will do! I'd never have believed people could change like the women on this boat. When I was with Mona, they snubbed me outrageously. Because Mona wasn't anybody. And I wasn't anybody either. And they felt a million times better than either of us."

"But now! My dear, they're simply falling over their feet selves, trying to make up, if I'm good enough for you, I'm good enough for them. The old hypocrites! Why, Holly, do you realize that I might be the most unmarriageable thing in the world. What do they know? I left the boat at Dominica, and was away for a whole week."

"Just because you've got money, you can buy their good opinion of you. They don't snub me, because they wouldn't offend you. And I think the way they fawn is perfectly sickening! They'd give anything in the world to be friendly with you. Why, darling, they'll even swallow me!"

HER vehemence amused him. "It is pretty raw," he admitted. "But what do we care, Orchid?"

"Oh, I don't care," she retorted airily. "It just makes me sick, that's all."

"The Dunks want to have a dinner party for us tonight," he told her.

Ashtoreth sputtered wrathfully. "I hope," she declared, "you told them to go to the devil."

"Well, not exactly," he admitted. "It was Mrs. Dunks, you see, who asked me. But I sort of implied something of the sort. I told them we had another engagement."

She giggled happily. "And we'll sit right beside them," she cried, "all by ourselves!"

"Exactly," he agreed.

"The Simpsons asked this morning if we were engaged," she told him. "I informed them that our relations were an entirely personal matter."

"You did?" he chuckled. "And what do you suppose they're going to say now? You shouldn't talk that way, darling. I shan't have my silly maid detained. But if she's a foolish little girl, and talks ab-

But modern novelists have sensed that the plot is only just beginning there. The drama and the tragedy these days follow the marriage. And it's very, very seldom that anybody lives happily ever after."

SHE pressed his hand warmly. "But we will!" she cried. "We'll be different, won't we, Holly?"

"Of course we will," he told her. "We are different, aren't we, dear?"

"Oh, my goodness, yes!" she exclaimed. "Just as different as can be."

Hollis smiled at the wise old moon. And the wise old moon twinkled back again. Probably that was because the moon had heard so many lovers make the same pretensions.

"Let's talk some more about our wedding trip," she suggested, and snuggled cozily against his shoulder.

"We might go around the world," he proposed, "and stop off at the places we liked."

"For how long?" she asked.

"Oh, a month, or a year, or forever."

She shivered delightedly. "Oh, Holly, isn't it just too wonderful—being rich!"

"You'd like Africa," he told her. "And the Garden of Allah, where roses and jasmine grow in the desert."

"Oh, I saw the movie!" she exclaimed. "Is it like that?"

"It's lovelier," he pronounced solemnly. "You can't see the colors on the screen. Sunset, and moonlight, and the dawning. . . . You'll love the bazaars, too, Orchid. And I'll buy you all the eastern jewelry, and perfumes in Constantinople."

"Have you been to Turkey, too?" she asked. "I heard a Turkish lady lecture once in Boston. Madame Halide Edib. She told all about the harems—but, my goodness, I never dreamed I could see the heavenly things she talked about. The mosques and minarets, and the beauty of old Stambul."

"I had a strange adventure there," he told her. "The Arabs, you know, are a strangely emotional race. Well, I heard a group of dark-skinned sons of the desert talking once in a Turkish coffee house. There was an Anatolian girl dancing for them. A seductive creature. And the Arabs, intoxicated by her beauty, asked her to die. Mad with the loveliness of her voice and person, they declared they could not bear the idea of so much perfection existing on earth."

Ashtoreth shivered. "Were they drunk?" she asked.

"Oh, no—quite sober," he said. "Emotional—that's all. The world, my love, is full of the strangest people."

"And we're going to see them all!" she cried. "Oh, Holly, I'm thrilled to death!"

A cabin boy came hurrying down the deck.

"Wireless for Miss Ashe," he said, and handed her a white envelope. (To Be Continued)

Had you forgotten about Money English, Ashtoreth's boy friend from Boston? (To tell the truth, she had almost forgotten him herself.) There'll be more about him in the next chapter.

OIL NEWS and NOTES

Oil Production Record Again Is Broken in Nation

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 22. (AP)—For the third time in three weeks, the daily average light and heavy crude oil production in the United States reached a new peak breaking all records in the petroleum industry when the daily average production for the week ending Jan. 19, reached a total of 2,649,537 barrels, a total increase over the week ending Jan. 12, of 44,868 barrels, according to the Oil and Gas Journal.

This record was mostly due to deep test production in the Santa Fe Springs fields in California. Estimated daily average production for the week ending Jan. 5, was 2,559,791 Jan. 12, 2,604,862. Previous to that time the highest record was set during the week ending July 30, 1927, when 2,587,105 barrels was reported.

Seminole area during the past week crept to the front again to aid in the new record by reporting an approximate increase of 9,000 barrels daily. The total Oklahoma increase reported was 5,385 barrels. All other areas, excepting the eastern, reported increases.

West Texas areas increased approximately 10,000 barrels; midcontinenta approximately 14,308 barrels; Gulf coast heavy 1,248 barrels; Rocky Mountain 1,000 barrels; California 29,000 barrels; Southwest Texas heavy, as well as other heavy crude oil production remained virtually constant with less than 1,000 barrels difference in the total production for the entire country.

The total estimated daily production of light oil in the United States during the week was 2,216,309 barrels as compared to 2,172,602 during the week ending Jan. 12. The total daily average production of heavy oils was 433,221 as compared to 432,260.

Hopkins Test In Gas Formation

After logging with some of the best producers in the Bowers-McGee pool, Eslick & McKinney's No. 1 Maggie Hopkins, in northeast corner of the east half of the northeast quarter of section 84, block B-2, H. & G. N. survey, picked up the gas last evening while drilling at 2,632 feet. This important test is being watched with interest and if brought as a producer will open up considerable unproved territory.

The test is located three miles south of production in the Bowers-McGee pool. There are two tests two miles north that have picked up the pay but were never completed for noticeable producers.

In the LeFors field the Texas company's No. 8 Saunders, in the southwest corner of section 3, B. & B. survey, encountered pay yesterday afternoon while drilling at 2,755 feet. This test is three miles east of LeFors.

The test was placed on the swab this morning and at latest report was making four barrels an hour. There is very little gas.

Dotson Answers Challenge From McKee Eloquently

"That big red-headed mauler that calls himself Red McKee is only a second rater in my opinion and I am going to take him to a cleaning if he will stand behind his windy talk," Oscar Dotson, local wrestler said this morning to The News. "That windy challenge of his got my goat and I am going to beat him good. I want it to be soon so that I can get back to work," the local blacksmith raved on.

Red McKee, who claims to have wrestled some of the best men in the country, says that he has been trying to get the Pampa mauler to meet him but has been unable to do so. Dotson comes back and says that he has never had a challenge from the ugly one but that he will accept the public challenge any time or place.

SMALL'S BILLS ON OIL MATTERS SUBMITTED TODAY

AUSTIN, Jan. 22. (AP)—The senate today heard a favorable committee report on four land bills offered by Senator Small of Wellington.

Senator Small's measures would permit persons in possession of land and claiming it by patent prior right to purchase fee title and to prospect for mineral rights.

Senator Small's proposals also would provide for the validation of patents crossing streams which have been termed legally navigable.

Obituary

On January 18, 1929, the Death Angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip L. Allen and plucked one of the lilies that bloom in their home, little L. Z. Allen. He filled his mission here on earth in one year and our blessed Jesus knew that this dear little baby was too dear and sweet for this sin-tossed world and plucked His lily and has transplanted him in Heaven where there is no disappointment, no crepe on the doors, no funeral trains and no grave yards on the Hillside of Glory.

He leaves his parents, one brother, one sister, his grandmother, seven aunts, three uncles and a host of friends to mourn his leaving and may God fill little L. Z.'s vacant place with His great love.

Mr. Allen is employed by the Pampa Ice Manufacturing company and has been with them for two years.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. John T. Mahoney, pastor of the Pentecostal church. The little body of L. Z. Allen was laid to rest in the Fairview cemetery. (Contributed).

Mr. Brooks of Mitchell's Beauty Parlor is in Berger today moving her furniture to Pampa, where she will make her home.

Johnson agreed with Ousley that the state should assume the obligations which counties had incurred for help in building state highways, but said he doubted the constitutionality of that procedure without a constitutional amendment.

The highway commissioner asserted that the maximum of efficiency in the road program could not be reached until the commission knew for more than two years at a time, how much money it could spend. He urged that some system be devised whereby at least a four-year program could be mapped out.

Wants Big Annual Fund

Johnson asked for $35,000,000 for highway purposes for each of the next two years. He said that a 4-cent gasoline tax, if properly enforced, would bring in $20,000,000, asserted that under the present method of distribution the state should receive $10,000,000 from automobile license fees and said that the federal aid last year aggregated nearly the remaining $5,000,000.

Later, in reply to Davidson, Johnson said he saw no harm in a bond issue, which, he asserted, would permit the reduction of the license tax, the extension of a larger share of that tax to the counties for the construction of lateral roads and the refunding, over a period of years, of the money spent by the counties on state roads.

Will Meet Again

The committee recessed the hearing until tomorrow night, at which time R. S. Sterling, chairman of the highway commission, is expected to appear, and Judge W. O. Huggins of Houston, was invited to give the report of the governor's special road committee of 31. Sterling is the father of the $300,000,000 bond issue proposal. The Sterling plan, if approved by the legislature and the people, would permit the legislature to authorize the issuance of bonds to be used in building a network of state highways within the near future and in returning the $75,000,000 which the counties have spent on state roads.
