SITDOWNERS HOLD PLANT

CONCILIATION BOARD IS FORMED BY GOVERNOR

DETROIT, March 18. (AP)—Pickets watched warily in a drizzle of snow and rain today for any attempts to eject 6,000 strikers defying a court injunction by occupying eight Chrysler Corp. plants, while a plan for curbing Michigan's epidemic of sit-down strikes by conciliation took form.

Since 9 a. m. yesterday, the strikers and high officials of the United Automobile Workers of America and the Committee for Industrial Organization have been in violation of an injunction signed by Circuit Judge Allan Campbell.

There was, however, no indication when—or if—the Chrysler corporation would take the final legal steps preliminary to forcible eviction, petitioning for writs of attachment for the injunction respondents.

The reply of Homer Martin, president of the U. A. W. A., to a statement by Governor Frank Murphy that the state might use force to evict the strikers, was a suggestion that "force be used on the employers to make them obey the law."

"Injunctions ought to work both ways, if the courts are free and fair," Martin said.

The U. A. W. A. has contended that the Chrysler Corp. is violating the Wagner labor act by refusing to grant the union exclusive bargaining rights. The union claims a great majority of Chrysler production workers are U. A. W. A. members.

Union and corporation conferees resumed this morning their negotiations on a strike settlement.

Belief was expressed in some quarters here that federal authorities would attempt to bring Walter P. Chrysler, chairman of the board, and John L. Lewis, chairman of the C. I. O., together in New York in an attempt to settle the strike.

A civic board to conciliate labor disputes began to take form today. The board was the first tangible outgrowth of a conference, called by Gov. Frank Murphy, which ended a one-day session last night with the drafting of plans for mediating, conciliating and arbitrating existing or threatened differences between employers and employees.

AMELIA BREAKS RECORD TO HONOLULU

DOMINO WAR BIG NEWS AT COURTHOUSE

FRIDAY BRANDON TRIES TO CLAIM TITLE IN GAMES

It's quiet around the courthouse these days, what with no district court and little if any activity in the county courtroom.

Sheriff's officers report an unusually quiet week and Buford Reed, desk officer, is inclined to go along with the old, old superstition in the world of the "law" and in newspaper circles that when there is a noticeable lull, it will not be many days before a storm breaks.

Most excitement that can be stirred up now in court house circles, it seems, is an occasional domino game which breaks out on the long table in Jess Hatcher's fingerprint department almost nightly.

These county domino games really are something to watch, providing one enjoys rough-house sport and athletic games where players are likely to come off the field of combat with a broken arm or leg, or something.

"Friday" Brandon, Gray county's unofficial all-around assistant on all jobs, for the time being is attempting to claim the county domino championship, although there was many to dispute his claim to the title.

Among the domino players who talk a good game, according to Mr. Brandon, are Lon Blanscet, Bud Cottrell, Buford Reed, O. T. Lindsey, R. A. Smith, George Inman, Ewing Leech, Doug Wilson, Jack Back, etc., etc.

It is suggested that this prolonged argument be settled by a regulation tournament.

Mr. Brandon, say his fans, still will be on top when it is over—if ever.

Denworth Woman Injured in Fall

DENWORTH, March 18.—Mrs. R. L. Marshall, Denworth postmistress, is recovering from serious bruises and cuts she received in a fall downstairs at the home of her sister, Mrs. Jack Tigg, at Clovis, N. M., the first of the week.

She and her granddaughter, Wantha Ann, found no one at home when they arrived for a visit at the Tigg home, and planning to surprise the family, she told the little girl to remain in one room while she stepped into another.

The door she stepped through hurriedly, opened onto the cellar stairs, and Mrs. Marshall fell down an entire flight of steps.

OLD-TIME DANCE WILL BE HELD ON MARCH 29

A conflicting program caused a change in date of the old time dance originally set for March 26 by the Panhandle Centennial committee. The committee in charge today announced that the dance would be on the night of March 29 in the high school gymnasium.

Admission to the dance will be 40 cents per person. Dancing will begin about 7 o'clock and last until the old timers have danced the youngsters off the floor. Homer Ratliff and his orchestra will furnish the music.

Wage Hikes Of Magnolia, Gulf Are Announced

Magnolia Petroleum company employees in the Panhandle field today received the glad news that a hike in wages had been announced by their company, effective March 16.

Wages of men working on an hourly basis were increased seven cents an hour with employees on monthly pay receiving a 10 per cent increase, the notice revealed.

More than 700 men in the Panhandle will be effected. About 300 company employees in the Pampa area will be given the increase.

Gulf Production company employees here had not received word of a salary increase although workers in the East Texas field had been notified.

Phillips company spokesmen at Bartlesville said that company had not posted a hike.

No Funds Are Available To Complete Park

Wind Delays Water Tank Dismantling

Continued strong wind has delayed dismantling the city's new water storage tank on a Magnolia Petroleum company lease near LeFors. Because of the wind, workmen have been unable to battle the large sheets of iron nearly 50 feet above the ground. The huge tank, which will hold 3,360 gallons of water is 41 feet 7 inches high and 117 feet in diameter, and the steel weighs 400 tons. Water to fill the tank will weigh 12,600 tons which will give a pressure of 13,000 tons on the bottom sheets of steel.

The tank will be placed on city property near the water wells in northwest Pampa. The Panhandle Tank company of Kilgore is moving the tank.

Present water storage, including overhead towers, is only 955,000 gallons. When the new storage is available, city commissioners believe danger of water shortage even in hot summer months will be remote.

Following recent treatment, the city's three water wells are capable of producing 2,100 gallons of water a minute or 126,000 gallons per hour, distributed as follows: well No. 1—750 gallons a minute; well No. 2, 700 gallons a minute; well No. 3—650 gallons a minute.

The city recently purchased the huge tank from the Magnolia Petroleum company at a cost of $6,000. The tank had never been used for any purpose since being constructed. Cost of moving and rebuilding will be slightly in excess of $40,000.

Blanton Woman Is Beaten by Two Men

SAN PERLITA, March 18 (AP)—Several fingerprints and an automobile tire track were clues on which Rangers and other officers worked today in an effort to unravel the mystery of a brutal attack on Mrs. Frank Blanton, daughter-in-law of the missing Luther Blanton, here Tuesday night.

Mrs. Blanton, was beaten about the head and face by two men who jumped upon her car as she was driving home. Although she said one of the men wore gloves, fingerprint expert, Pete Bouis of Brownsville, found several prints on the car and they are being checked today with fingerprints of suspects.

An automobile track of a vehicle which apparently was parked nearby at the time of the attack is a matter of interest to the police. The attack also may be a clue.

Luther Blanton and his son, John, disappeared into the King ranch on November 18. No trace of them has been found since, and it is generally believed they were murdered and their bodies buried in some lonely spot where they have never been found.

Wanted: 3 Little Words For Queen City's Fete

Who will have the honor of naming Pampa's June celebration and incidentally win the $10 cash prize that has been offered by the Junior Chamber of Commerce for the title of not more than three words that best describes the annual event?

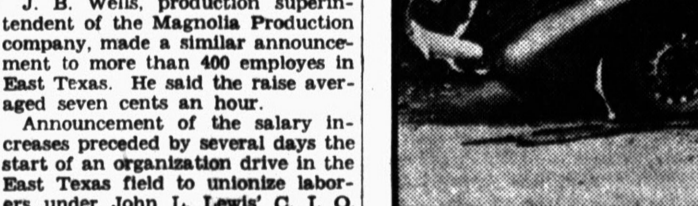

It must be a name that can be used down through the years. The Jaycees hope to get a name for the celebration that will become known throughout the state as being synonymous with Pampa.

The contest is open to all. The Jaycees are asking contestants to send in a name and with it a letter of 25 or 50 words suggesting some unusual and different attractions that can be incorporated into this year's celebration.

Contestants are urged to keep in mind that the celebration background will maintain the pioneer angle for the Panhandle cattleman and oil man.

Ten dollars for an idea and a name. Send yours along, now, to the Pampa Daily News. The contest will close on April 10.

PAMPA NEEDS AN UNDERPASS SAYS McCARTY

WRITER CITES FIGURES AND SAYS PROJECT IS 'MUST'

EDITOR'S NOTE—John McCarty, editor of the Amarillo News, spent a day in Pampa yesterday, and when he got back home last night sat down at his typewriter and put his findings into words. Here is what he had to say about Pampa in this morning's Amarillo paper:

PAMPA, March 17.—Pampa needs and must have an underpass. Amarillo, the whole Panhandle country, and every individual and organization should help Pampa in its underpass problem.

Then Pampa will have a big ribbon cutting spree at its grand opening.

Heading the crowd at the opening should be the 1,167 school children who at least twice each day make a dangerous trek across two main line and one switch railroad tracks.

Back of the children should be the anxious parents. Then would come the 487 trucks that cross the road each day and behind them about 14,000 autos and other vehicles.

Yesterday afternoon this writer saw traffic jammed behind the crossing for better than two blocks and included in the traffic were six loaded school buses. A freight train held the crossing only two minutes.

Pampa citizens have been working for years on the underpass plan. They are bewildered. There has been so much buck passing, so a small committee of business leaders said yesterday, that many have given up hope.

Shippers Strike However, Pampa has organized a quiet little form of "sit down" strike only this is a withheld tonnage proposition. The "don't ship" involves one railroad. Pampans claim that if the railroad would raise its grade two feet the underpass could be built without destroying much valuable business property.

They point out that whether the highway traffic is so or not the tourist traffic is coming right down Pampa's main streets and over the three-line railroad crossing.

No Funds Available "I don't see how the city can raise the money to buy materials to complete these jobs," Mayor W. A. Bratton told Mr. Meredith. "There are no funds available."

The original fairgrounds park project was set up and approved for $104,000. It was intended that a crew of 265 men would be put to work on it. However, labor conditions here were such that not nearly that many workers were available.

As a result, the job dragged along with never more than 65 men assigned to the job and scarcely ever more than 40 or 50 actually at work on it.

For the time being, efforts will be centered on getting the park dam completed to save what work already has been done on it. Meanwhile officials will endeavor to work out some plan whereby other projects at the park can be finished.

Judges From Plains Towns Invited Here

Judging teams from vocational agricultural classes in several Panhandle high schools will be in Pampa Saturday to judge dairy cattle, livestock and poultry. Invitations were extended by the local agricultural department and the Pampa chamber of commerce.

Each judging team will consist of three members. An alternate team, made of three members, will be allowed to judge in each class. Eighteen boys will be the maximum number of contestants each school may enter.

Judges will be Frank Phillips of Canyon, dairy cattle; Ralph Thomas of Pampa, livestock; and T. M. Moore of Canyon, poultry.

The following persons will supply stock and poultry for judging: Holstein and Jersey cattle—Taylor Farm Dairy and T. B. Solomon.

Hogs—B. R. Mitchell. Sheep—E. W. Hogan. Draft horses—J. W. Spangler. Hereford cattle—Combs-Worley and Talley ranches.

Rhode Island Reds, poultry—Raymond E. Bennett and Bert Benton. Barred Rocks—Irvin Cole and C. C. Dodd.

White Leghorns—R. A. Smith and H. B. Taylor.

WORKERS TRAINED WITH RIFLES AND TEAR GAS

WASHINGTON, March 18 (AP)—A former Goodyear Tire Company employee informed a Senate committee today that rubber workers in the Akron Goodyear plant were trained with rifles and tear gas in 1935 as a measure of protecting company property "in case trouble arose."

Testifying before the LaFollette Civil Liberties committee, Charles B. Lesley of Toronto, Canada, organizer for the United Rubber Workers, said about 400 workers received the training which he said was military in nature.

Lesley said he assisted in the training because he had had national guard experience.

HULL EXPLAINS HE CAN NOT HALT FREE SPEECH

WASHINGTON, March 18 (AP)—Secretary Hull called today for an end to the international controversy over anti-Hitler remarks of Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia of New York.

The state department head issued a brief statement after making a second apology to German Ambassador Hans Luther, who protested against LaGuardia's designation of Reichsfuehrer Hitler as "a man without honor at a New York anti-Nazi mass meeting."

"I am personally hopeful," Hull's statement said, "that all who are participating in the present controversy, which is marked by bitter and vituperative utterances in this country and in Germany, may soon reach the conclusion that it would be to the best interests of both countries for them to find other subjects which can be discussed more temperately."

"In view of the limitation upon the power of this government with respect to freedom of speech, which is universally known, nothing can be profitably added to what already has been said."

LaGuardia said in New York last night after learning of Hull's apology:

"Again I am pleased that Hitler was so quick to recognize himself. The translation by the German government of the term satisfaction-fahig ('man without honor') is absolutely correct."

BAKERY BOILER BLOWS UP AND INJURES MAN

The day of miracles has not passed. At least that is the belief of employees at the Burrow Bakery on West Foster avenue, who last night escaped serious injury when a heavy boiler was hurled about 50 feet following an explosion.

Walt Anderson, employe who had just arrived at the plant, was standing beside the boiler when it exploded. A connection struck him in the face, inflicting a severe gash on his upper lip and knocking out two teeth. He was stunned by the explosion but suffered no serious injury.

The large boiler, about six feet high and weighing about 250 pounds, instead of crashing through the roof or side of the building, was hurled toward the front where it tore a large hole in the partition and landed at the feet of Mrs. Fred Burrow and Mrs. Ruby Adams, who were standing beside a counter. The boiler bounced and rolled but missed striking the two women by inches. Not even a glass in one of the show cases was broken.

FASTEST TIME TURNED IN BY GLOBE-BIRDLER

SLOWER CLIPPERS ARE OVERTAKEN BY EARHART

HONOLULU, March 18 (AP)—Amelia Earhart landed her big plane here at 8:29 a. m. (PST) today after flying the 2,400 miles from Oakland, Calif., in 15 hours, 51½ minutes. The speedy trip was first leg of her globe circling flight.

Miss Earhart's $80,000 "flying laboratory" arrived over the city at an altitude of 1,500 feet at 8:17 a. m.

The aviatrix, accompanied by three men aides, made the trans-Pacific hop at an average speed of 150 miles an hour.

"All's well" was broadcast through the night by the woman flyer, who had crossed both the Atlantic and Pacific oceans in previous flights.

There was a slight drizzle of rain falling and dark clouds overhung Wheeler field, the army airport at Schofield Barracks, as the plane came to a graceful landing.

The plane arrived shortly after daylight and several hundreds of spectators, including some still in evening dress, were at the field.

Miss Earhart had throttled down her twin engines to save them for subsequent stages of her world flight but her speedy transport ship overtook the two slower Clippers over the ocean yesterday evening and easily won an unofficial trans-Pacific air race.

The flight was the fastest ever made in the westerly direction. The record made by the Hawaii Clipper last December was 16 hours, 56 minutes.

Miss Earhart was well in the van of two American flying boats that left Alameda, on San Francisco bay next to Oakland, a short while ahead of her.

The speedier monoplane passed both Clippers last night, one bound for New Zealand on a pioneering trip, the other en route here on regular schedule to Manila.

It was the first time in history three such great civilian planes were in the air between the mainland and here at the same time.

Accompanying the aviatrix are Paul Mantz, her technical advisor, who will leave the plane at Honolulu; Fred J. Noonan, former Pan-American pilot, who will go as far as Howland Island; first of the pair; Honolulu, and Capt. Harry Manning, who will act as navigator to Port Darwin, Australia. From there Miss Earhart will continue alone.

For Miss Earhart the trip was a climax in her aviation accomplishments which include a pair of trans-Atlantic flights in addition to the Honolulu-Oakland voyage.

The aviatrix, who had flown most of the night, admitted she was "terribly tired."

She turned the controls over to Paul Mantz, her technical advisor, just before the eight-ton plane landed.

Mantz was the first out of the ship, followed by Miss Earhart. She wore a brown leather jacket and brown slacks.

Then came the other crew members in their own planes, Paul Mantz and Captain Harry Manning.

Army officers presented flower leis and Miss Earhart then was whisked to the home of Lieut. Colonel John McDonnell, commander at Wheeler field.

LOVE BETRAYED, FRENCH BEAUTY SHOOTS COUNT

PARIS, March 18 (AP)—Beautiful Madeline La Perriere declared today she shot and wounded Count Charles de Chambrun, former ambassador to Italy, because he "betrayed my love" for a man "too famous to let me speak his name."

The striking brunette involved the unwritten code of diplomatic honor as her defense, claiming the French envoy had betrayed her confidence.

On her many trips between Paris and Rome, where she was received in diplomatic society, she was known to have been granted several interviews by Premier Benito Mussolini.

FEDERATED CLUBS TO ENTERTAIN DISTRICT PRESIDENT HERE

MRS. WALKER IS SCHEDULED FOR TALK TUESDAY

Five Clubs to Join In Welcoming Visitor

Mrs. J. W. Walker of Plainview, president of seventh district federated clubs, will be honor guest of all federated clubs here Tuesday afternoon, when a joint meeting at city club room is scheduled at 2 o'clock.

This will be Mrs. Walker's first official visit to Pampa clubs. A program is being arranged for the meeting, featuring an address by the visitor.

Hostesses for regular meetings of the five federated clubs will serve as hostesses for the meeting, with Mrs. J. M. McDonald of El Progreso club as chairman. Other hostesses are Mrs. Joe Berry of Civic culture, Mrs. R. G. Allen of Twentieth Century Forum, Mrs. F. E. Leech of Twentieth Century Culture, Mrs. J. W. Foster of Child Study, and Mrs. J. E. Lyons of Twentieth Century.

The program for the regular meeting day of four of the five clubs, and will replace their meetings. No club business will be transacted at the meeting, but each secretary will call her club roll.

Girl to Benefit By Style Show For Scholarship

Not until the last month of school will this year's recipient of the A. A. U. W. scholarship be known, but a substantial part of that scholarship fund is expected to be raised by the proceeds of a style show which the A. A. U. W. will sponsor tomorrow evening at LaNora theater.

Girls who have received the scholarship in past years are now studying in college or taking their part in the business or professional world. Edythe Shearer, winner last year, is an honor student in West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon this term.

The girl to be chosen this spring by a committee from the club and the high school faculty, will be selected for her intelligence, character, and ability.

Miss Kathleen Milam, A. A. U. W. scholarship chairman, and Mrs. Allen Hodges, president, are in charge of the style show, in which Pampa shops will present the latest in fashions for men, women and children.

Three attractive scenes will be arranged, with special music and lighting to add to their appeal.

An addition to the list of models was announced this morning by the friendly store, for which Weldon Wilson will model.

Club Plans All-day Meeting at McLean

McLEAN, March 18 (NC)—Home demonstration club members here won several awards in the meat show at Amarillo last week. Mrs. J. H. Wade took first place on ground chicken, and Mrs. J. A. Fowler second on American cheese.

Mrs. Sam McClellan and Miss Rella Sharp entered cakes in a special contest, in which results have not been announced.

The club will discuss Emergency Food Shelves in an all-day meeting Friday with Mrs. Wade.

PAST YEAR HAS BEEN ONE OF STUDY FOR PAMPA BPW CLUB

Activities of the past year in the Business and Professional Women's club here are reviewed in the following summary by Frances Stark, publicity chairman. The year's work is dedicated to international peace, and the theme for this month is "Teamwork for Social Progress." The public relations committee, Hazel Bechtelheimer and Grace Pool, are in charge for the month. This week the club is observing national business woman's week.

The Pampa Business and Professional Women's club was federated in 1929 and since that time has made history for Pampa in club work. During the past year the club has held regular meetings three times each month and has accomplished constructive work.

In September 1936 the club year opened with a "Fall Round Up" given for all the old members and prospective members. Grace Pool was in charge of the program and everyone came dressed in typical coquettish costumes. Featured on the program were C. P. Sloan, J. S. Wynne and Mrs. Mel Davis.

In October the publicity chairman, Frances Stark, was hostess at a publicity party. Mrs. F. Morton addressed the group with an interesting discussion on "How we can train more women for public office." Lending to the fun of the evening, Mrs. R. B. Fisher and Mrs. Frank Culbertson debated the subject: "Resolved that the rolling pin is more useful than the dish rag." Music and group songs were by Mrs. W. L. Brummett and Roy Tinsley.

The education committee with Lola Carroll as chairman gave an interesting evening of entertainment at the Schneider hotel when all the guests and members were served with a delicious Thanksgiving banquet. L. L. Sone spoke on the subject, "Education for All," and Lester Aldrich, baritone soloist, sang several well-loved selections.

The research committee with Mary Lou Downs chairman planned a delightful Christmas party and presented Archer Fullingim, who spoke on "Labor unions and their effect on living standards." Christmas readings and solos were presented by Mrs. David Dodge. An annual custom of the club to reveal mystery pals to the Christmas party contributed to the entertainment.

The legislative committee with Ruth Walstead as chairman took charge of the January program and presented a debate on "Resolved that national legislation for minimum wage and limitation of hours of work is desirable for women and men alike."

In February the international relations committee presented Russ Allen who addressed the group on "What is the connection between trade and world peace?" The entire program was given in International theme and a number of Kathryn Vincent Steele's pupils were presented in dances of the different

WOMEN REVIEW AMUSING BOOK

Study Is Conducted At Presbyterian Church

Amusing as well as profitable, a new book, "Laughing Stewardship Through," was reviewed on the annual stewardship program of Presbyterian Women's Auxiliary yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Tom Sweetman was in charge of the program, and discussed the book after a devotional talk by Miss Mae Blair.

Mrs. George Pfau and Mrs. W. S. Dixon were hostesses, and served tea after the program to 24 members and a guest, Mrs. Fred Roberts.

In the business meeting, the committee reported proceeds of $16 from a recent food sale. Plans were made for installation of new officers at the next meeting, April 5.

Pastor of Seventh Day Adventists to Preach Here Twice

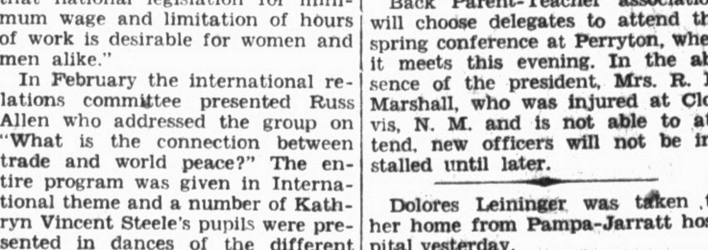

G. A. Lagrone, pastor of the Seventh Day Adventist church at Amarillo, will speak at the Pampa church, 320 N. Purviance, tomorrow evening at 7:30. The song service will begin at 7 o'clock.

The visiting pastor, will also preach at the 11 o'clock service Saturday morning. Members of the church invite the public to hear him.

BACK P-TA TO MEET

Back Parent-Teacher association will choose delegates to attend the spring conference at Perryton, when it meets this evening. In the absence of the president, Mrs. R. L. Marshall, who was injured at Clovis, N. M. and is not able to attend, new officers will not be installed until later.

Dolores Leininger was taken to her home from Pampa-Jarratt hospital yesterday.

MRS. LILLY IS CLUB HOSTESS AT BREAKFAST

Extra Table Added To Queen of Clubs Party

Easter lilies added their beauty to tables at the Schneider hotel, where Queen of Clubs was entertained by Mrs. B. O. Lilly with a breakfast and bridge yesterday morning.

An extra table of guests, Mmes. Charles Alford, Mack Graham, W. B. Hoover, and Miss Fern Hughey, played with the members. Mrs. Bert Curry scored high at bridge. Mrs. L. N. McCullough second high, and Mrs. Alford cut high.

Other members present were Mmes. H. D. Keys, Carl Boston, Max Mahoney, I. B. Hughey, Howard Buckingham, Raymond Harrah, W. V. Jarratt, P. A. Howard, R. S. Lawrence, and Carl M. Smith.

Irish songs and St. Patrick games entertained 28 members of the Woodrow Wilson Girl Scout troop yesterday at the Little House.

Hostesses at the party were patrol leaders: Evelyn Kidwell, Sara Anne Russell, and Doris Jean Caldwell; and Mmes. J. L. McCarty, L. D. Blanton, Caldwell, and F. W. Shottwell. They served a dessert course with shamrock boxes of mints after the games.

A short business session opened the meeting.

NEW TROOP MEETS TOMORROW AFTERNOON

The new Horace Mann troop of Girl Scouts will have its second meeting tomorrow afternoon at 4 at the Little House. All girls who were present for the first meeting and others in the school who are of scout age, are urged to attend.

Troop committee members, Mrs. F. H. Sitton and Mrs. J. K. Longacre, Mrs. E. L. Emerson, captain, and Mrs. E. L. Husband, lieutenant, are making arrangements to furnish transportation for the girls from school to the Little House.

TROOP ONE HAS AN ELECTION

Officers were elected by Girl Scouts of troop one in a special meeting yesterday at the home of the troop, Mrs. Ralph Thomas. Thelma Jo Thompson was chosen scribe and Alma Watkins treasurer, while Blanche Day was elected as patrol leader.

Plans were made for a Girl Scout birthday party, celebrating the 25th anniversary of the organization, Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Little House. Mrs. R. K. Douglas will be in charge.

Fourteen Scouts, Mmes. K. A. Day, Douglas, and Thomas were present.

Game Tournney Is To Have Various Entertainment

Games and amusements for both adults and children at the benefit game tournament which Horace Mann Parent-Teacher association will sponsor tomorrow evening have been planned by the committee which met Monday and again this morning.

Mrs. T. H. Henry is chairman and Mrs. C. E. Cary assistant. In addition to the tournament games, a program will be presented for adults and a movie for children.

The accordion band directed by Arthur Nezzi will be one program feature, and a skit will be presented by Mrs. H. M. Cone, Mrs. Roy Dyson; Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Cary, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Phillips.

Mrs. Buri Graham is in charge of the movie show. Committees for refreshments are: Pie and coffee, Mmes. B. A. Davis and H. E. Steves; candy and popcorn, Mmes. Emory Noblitt and Johnson; hamburgers, the Band Parents club, with Mrs. H. H. Boynton, president, in charge.

Irish Party Given For Nephenthe Club By Mrs. Brinkman

Mrs. Otis Brinkman entertained Nephenthe bridge club at her home yesterday, decorating two tables in St. Patrick's favored green. Mmes. C. R. Landress and C. M. Nicholson were special guests.

Mrs. R. S. Walker made high score, Mrs. H. A. Seibles second high for members. Others playing were Mmes. Roy Sullivan, W. A. Spoonmore, and Hub Burrow. Mrs. Nicholson made guest high.

MIND your MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usages by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. How would you address a business letter to a lawyer?
2. Is "Rev. John James" the way to address a letter to a protestant clergyman?
3. Is it correct to address an envelope "John Smith"?
4. Is "Thanking you in advance" correct usage?
5. Is "Sincerely yours" too informal a close for a business letter? What would you do if—
You must answer a business letter which has been signed only "Louise Wright Goodman." You are not certain whether she is married or single.
(a) Address her as "Mrs. Louise Wright Goodman"?"
(b) Address her as "Miss—?"
(c) Address her as "Louise Wright Goodman"?

Answers:
1. Mr. John Henry Brown, attorney-at-law.
2. No. "The Rev. John James."
3. No, a title should always be used.
4. No, it is fast replacing "Yours very truly" and other more formal closes.
5. Best "What Would You Do" solution—(b), since there was no indication that she was married. (Copyright, 1937, NEA Service, Inc.)

Box Supper With Old-Time Fun on Program Tonight

Fine points of decorating boxes for a box supper are being studied today by some of the women planning to attend the old-fashioned entertainment at Sam Houston school this evening, while others are relying on the contents of their boxes rather than the outside for appeal to the bidders.

The program will start at 7:30 featuring humor and old-fashioned songs. It is sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association as the only benefit event of this year.

Everyone is invited; women are asked to bring boxes of 12-inch Adults' and children's boxes—will be auctioned separately. H. M. Cone is to be auctioneer.

Mrs. H. E. Carlson is president of the room mothers association which is in charge of arrangements. Bert Curry is to be master of ceremonies.

HUNT JUDGES MAY TESTIFY AT HEARINGS

TOM CONNALLY HOPES JUSTICES WILL APPEAR

WASHINGTON, March 18 (AP)—Senatorial opponents of the Roosevelt judicial bill declared today it would be entirely proper for members of the Supreme Court to express their views at the Senate hearings.

Senator Wheeler (D. Mont.), who contends a constitutional amendment is the only way to limit the court's powers, said:

"The President and others have quoted from Chief Justice Hughes as well as Justices Brandeis and Stone, but of course they have picked out only sentiments to suit their purpose.

"Why shouldn't the country have the benefit of the opinions of the justices themselves about the problems confronting us and how they should be met?"

Opponents, it was learned, have approached at least three justices on the question of testifying.

Chairman Ashurst (D. Ariz.) said any justice who wished to be heard would be given the opportunity.

Yesterday Prof. Edward S. Corwin of Princeton university law school advocated the Roosevelt bill on grounds that it meant "unpacking the court" to put the liberal viewpoint in the ascendancy.

Senator Connally (D. Tex.) was one of the judiciary committee members hoping that attempts to obtain the justices' consent to appear would be successful.

"They know more about the problem than anyone else," he said.

Senator Wheeler said today he was under pressure from organized labor because of his position against the Roosevelt program, but he declared he would not change.

MILITARY AT UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS OKAYED

AUSTIN, March 18 (AP)—Military training at the University of Texas, with voluntary student enlistment, stood approved today by the House of Representatives' military affairs committee.

After a hearing which lasted through midnight the committee favorably reported the bill, authored by Rep. Alfred Patsch of Fredericksburg in a vote of 7 to 3.

Advocates, who often alluded to charges of communism, included faculty members, a minister and an appellate judge. Students and other ministers opposed it.

Rep. A. T. McKinney of Huntsville said he would try to amend the proposal to make military training compulsory and universal for men students.

Four bills intended to aid the citrus industry were recommended favorably by another House group. The first would prorata sales with permission of growers and shippers; the second, impose a five-cents per box tax to advertise the Texas fruit; a third, permit destruction of abandoned orchards and the fourth, license and bond shippers.

The House labor committee approved a bill designed to stop the practice of industries discharging employees over 45 years old and sent to sub-committee a Senate proposal to prohibit in Texas the sale of goods made with child labor.

Bills which would permit the return of verdicts of 10 out of 12 in district and 5 of 6 in justice courts received 8 to 6 favorable reports in another House committee.

Appropriation of $100,000 each year of the next biennium for state library extension service was approved by a Senate sub-committee.

Methodist Merger Due for Approval

CHICAGO, March 18 (AP)—An official survey showed today that the northern branch of the Methodist Episcopal church virtually was certain to approve the proposed merger of the three divisions of Methodism, the Methodist Episcopal church (north), the Methodist Episcopal church South and the Methodist Protestant church.

In the northern division 80 of the 86 general conferences had voted on the proposal as of March 1. The survey revealed 7,734 ministers in these conferences had approved the merger. Only 380 more votes were needed.

The unified church would be known simply as the Methodist church. Its membership would be approximately 7,500,000.

ST. PATRICK'S INTERLUDE ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—In holiday mood, an Irishman hit a Dutchman, and landed not in jail, but in a hospital. Alfonso W. Shiley, 50 and Irish, explained, as best he could with a broken jaw, and that he and Joseph Weidell, 45, were having a drink together. "I hit him just in fun, and he hit me back and the next thing I knew I was lying on the floor."

AS YOU SOW SOUTH ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Two men told Otto Hanson of Scanton, N. D., they were interested in threshing and harvesting machinery. Hanson joined them in a poker game and concluded they didn't need machinery. "They harvested me for $300," he informed police.

BULL BRINGS $4,100.
PORT WORTH, March 18 (AP)—A Texas Hereford breeder paid the 1937 record price of $4,100 for a bull at the auction of Hereford bred cattle held yesterday at the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show. The animal, Don Axtell 39th, brought the high bid from G. P. Mitcham and Son, Cisco. He was consigned by J. C. Andras and Sons, of Manchester, Ill. The top 50 animals sold at auction here brought an average of $545. The 13 females averaged $401 and the entire 87 animals sold averaged $381.

VENGEANCE
HAMMONTON, N. J. (AP)—Old Dobbin had his last fling of resentment against the motor age. A 10-year old horse broke from his stable, blocked traffic, was captured, esaped and pulled the bumper off an automobile. Recaptured, he died in spasms.

A half million acorns were planted on Oklahoma farms this winter as part of the soil conservation service erosion control program.

In the middle of the nineteenth century roads and bridges were built in Rockingham county, Va., with money derived from the sale of lottery tickets.

Health department statistics reveal 38 South Carolinians died of "alcoholism" during the 12 months ended June 30.

HARVESTERS HOPE TO GET REVENGE IN GAME WITH EXES TOMORROW

NEW BOYS ON TEAM LOOKING BETTER DAILY

SICKNESS, INJURIES HAVE TAKEN TOLL OF PLAYERS

A team of green youngsters, determined to avenge a one-point defeat of a week ago, will face a veteran eleven who will not be slipped up on the blind side again, when the Harvesters of 1937 meet tomorrow afternoon at Harvester field. No admission charge will be made and fans will be welcomed at the field.

Last week when the exes eked out a 14 to 13 victory over the Harvesters, their excuse was that the difference in the score was not greater because they under-estimated the fighting ability of the Mitchellmen. The Harvesters scored two touchdowns before the veterans could scratch.

The Harvesters, who have been working hard this week on blocking, tackling and new plays, say they will be ready to go tomorrow although three of their number has been on the sick list most of the week.

Kenneth New promising tackle, is still in bed with flu. Oliver Coshov was back yesterday following an attack and Claude Heiskell was in uniform again. In a wild scrimmage session, newcomers to the ranks looked better than at any time since training started. They will probably get an opportunity to show their stuff against the exes in the absence of Cox and Carr who were not allowed to scrimmage yesterday and who may not get in the game much tomorrow.

Harry McMahan and Bob Andis will get their chance at Cox's end position with Freeman and Dunaway probably replacing Carr if he is unable to last.

Coaches would not name a starting lineup even after yesterday's scrimmage. Several changes are likely to be made but the mentors are waiting until the last minute to announce them. W. J. Brown of the 1935 team; Carl Smith and Ed Scott of the 1934 team; Ayer, Showers, Enloe, Roy Jones, Lewis Jones, Morgan, Noblitt, Rice, Maxey and others from last year's team.

Harold Gregory Will Report for Spring Training

Harold Gregory, local youth, received word yesterday to report to Tyler for spring baseball training on April 1. Gregory signed a contract with the Tyler club, a Cincinnati farm, following a baseball school of instruction last fall.

So well did Charlie Dressen, manager of the Cincinnati club, like Gregory's work that he recommended him to the makers of Louisville Slugger bats for a signature. This week he received a check and three bats, bearing his signature, from the company. The particular bat will be placed on the market.

Howard Feltner also will report soon to the Bisbee, Ariz., team where he signed a contract following a training camp.

Both Gregory and Feltner are former Harvester football stars. They started their baseball with the Pampa-Busy Indians, junior team, a few years ago.

Cunningham Wins Columbian Mile

NEW YORK, March 18 (AP)—A new streamlined model of the Kansas flyer was roaring west today. Glenn Cunningham was starting on a second career.

Just when the boys were ready to sidetrack the old flyer, the roundhouse, he changed their mind by running the classic Columbian mile in the Knights of Columbus games last night in four minutes, 8.7 seconds, three tenths of a second slower than his own world indoor record, and the fourth fastest mile ever to win a race, indoors or out.

"Now what do you say to that rumor you're going to quit?" a reporter asked.

"Say I'm just starting all over again," replied Cunningham.

Archie San Romani ran the fastest race of his career and finished second.

Other features of the K. of C. games, climax of the eastern indoor season, where Don Lash's 9:09.9 victory in the two-mile run, Eddie O'Brien's second straight triumph in the Casey 600 in 1:12.8, Dartmouth, Jack Donovan's conquest of Sam Allen of Oklahoma Baptist in the 60-yard hurdles, and Eulace Peacock's victory over Ben Johnson, of Columbia, I. C. A. A. A. champion, in the 60-yard dash.

IT'S EXTORTION
BROWNTOWN, Wis. (AP)—To resourceful housewives is suggested this adaptation of the sit-down technique: "My husband likes raisin pie," explained a member to a ladies' aid society here, "so I said to him I need a dollar. No dollar, no pie. I just sat down in the kitchen. I got the dollar in a hurry."

SPORTS

Pampa Daily News THURSDAY EVENING, MARCH 18, 1937.

Golden Miller Is Favorite In Grand National Classic

AINTREE, England, March 18 (AP)—Experts were pretty well agreed today Golden Miller would go to the post as slight favorite in the betting in tomorrow's 99th running of the grand national steeplechase.

Although tips on "sure things" were heard, the "Miller" still regarded as the best steeplechaser in the business in spite of the terrific kicking around he has given his backers in the last two years, loomed as the No. 1 choice.

The final choice in the betting probably will be made after the last callover in London tonight, with Ego and Royal Mail, the recent favorite, still getting plenty of attention, but Dorothy Page's ten-year-old jumper was getting the heaviest play.

This, despite the fact the track will be heavy from recent storms, and the "Miller" will be carrying 175 pounds over four and a half miles of slippery jumping.

Most of the 33 horses in the field were arriving or en route today as a crowd of half a million or more, including King George and Queen Elizabeth, began gathering for this afternoon's opening of the Aintree meet.

The big race tomorrow was considered more interesting than it seemed a week ago, when Golden Miller, and the recent favorite, V. Smith's Ready Cash, were uncertain starters.

Among the American-owned horses in the race, Mrs. F. Ambrose Clark's Flying minutes, a son of Flying Ebony, Kentucky derby winner 12 years ago, and Frank Gould's What Have You were considered possibilities.

Training Camp News

(By The Associated Press.)
WINTER HAVEN, Fla.—March 18 (AP)—The Phillies open their spring training exhibition season today against the Boston Bees with four rookies, Corbett, first base; Young, second; Scharen, short; and Martin, center field, in their starting lineup.

MEXICO CITY—Wally Moses joined Lou Pinyan and Bob Johnson, Philadelphia Athletics' first string outfielders as team two's fly-chasing trio in today's intra-camp game.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla.—With their "batting eyes" sharpened by long practice in the cages yesterday, the Cardinals met the New York Giants today for the third time in the Grapefruit league season.

SAN ANTONIO—Training camp "grapevine" rumored another conference today between President Donald Barnes and Beau Bell, Brown holdout, rejected a $6,000 offer to play this year.

ORLANDO, Fla.—Ed Rommel, once potent pitcher of the Athletics, visited the Washington Senators' training camp today and said he might be back in the big leagues next year—as an umpire.

LAKE LAND, Fla.—"Schoolboy" Rowe, irked by Manager Cochran's refusal to take care of the Tiger regularly Wednesday, took the mound on the rookie team, pitched to 12 batters, mostly regulars, and shut them out in four innings.

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif.—Floyd Young will have a fight to retain his job at second base for the Pittsburgh Pirates. Little Lee Handley, former Cincinnati rookie, stood out in practice and Manager Pie Traynor conceded it would be a tough job to name the winner of the post.

PASADENA, Calif.—Seven pitchers, Ted Lyons, Vernon Kennedy, Clint Brown, John Whitehead, Monty Stratton, Bill Dierich, and Thornton Lee, are certain to be with the Chicago White Sox when the season opens, according to Manager Jimmy Dykes' current plans.

AVALON, Calif.—Big Bill Lee and Southpaw Clyde Shoun were Manager Charlie Grimm's choices to work for the Chicago Cubs regulars in the second game of the intra-camp series today.

TAMPA, Fla.—Driving to St. Petersburg for the Cincinnati Reds' first exhibition game with the New York Yanks today, Manager Chuck Dressen said either Paul Deringer or Ray "Peaches" Davis would be on the mound against the Cards in the regular season opener April 20.

NEW ORLEANS—Manager Steve O'Neill plans to give his Cleveland Indians rookie, Pitcher Tom Drake, plenty of action against the New York Giants in the series which starts Saturday.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—The return of Lefty Gomez's long-lost curve ball has stamped him as No. 1 candidate for the Yankees' pitching assignment on opening day.

CLEARWATER, Fla.—The Brooklyn Dodgers had a birthday party today for Outfielder Johnny Cooney,

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 18 (AP)—Those who've seen them say the Giants look okay. . . . Owner Sam Breadon estimates Dizzy Dean has $100,000 salted away. . . . (If Diz plans to go on the retired list, Breadon and Frankie Frisch haven't heard of it). . . . Colonel Jake Ruppert swears he'll play first himself before he'll cough up 40,000 iron men for Lou Gehrig. . . . Percy Beard, Florida track coach who is trying to teach the Brooklyn outfielders how to pick up their dogs, is called "Professor" by the Dodgers.

Poll of New York writers with the Dodgers picked them to finish sixth. . . . That would satisfy Grimes, all right. . . . Joe Gordon, rookie infielder, is the talk of the Yankee camp. . . . He is expected to burn up the International league with Newark this season and eventually step into the shoes of Tony Lazzeri with the Yankees. . . . All of which has hit Don Heffner a bit low.

Paul Dean is a sucker for slot machines. . . . Lefty Gomez' curve is breaking better than ever, but he is having trouble getting it over. . . . Joe Di Maggio wanted to fly to St. Pete, but Colonel Ruppert and Ed Barrow wired "no." . . . Pictures of the Colonel arriving in Florida show him with his hands in his pockets. . . . The Colonel says he means to keep 'em there, too.

CARDS WOULD BE BLOWN UP IF DIZZY QUILTS

OBSERVERS BELIEVE DEAN THING WILL BE IRONED OUT

NEW YORK, March 18 (AP)—Depending, of course, on whether the "Dizzy one" makes it stick, the abdication of the Great Jerome Herman Dean from the St. Louis Cardinals will just about spell flowery and soft music for the 1937 pennant hopes of the gas house gang.

With Dizzy fogging 'em in, the Cards stand out as a potential one shot in the coming National league race. If he continues his holdout and goes on with his threat to retire this year, the strengthened Chicago Cubs and Pittsburgh Pirates, and New York's defending pennant holders all may pass the Dean-less outfit.

As a potential 25-game winner, Dean would bolster any club. With the Cards, who have none too many first-rate hurlers, his absence would leave Lou Warneke, obtained from the Cubs over the winter, as the only seasoned hurler.

Looking at it from another angle: Dean, by winning 24 games last season, just about single-handedly brought the Cards into a second-place tie in the final standings, only five games back of the Giants. Without these games—and it's about as sure as death and taxes that the Cards can't pull another 25-game winner out of the hat now—St. Louis may wind up ten games farther back. This conceivable could leave the Cards at the tail-end of the first division, or even in the second section.

Dean wants $50,000, says he'll quit the game if he doesn't get it. For any player that's a lot of money; for a pitcher it's twice as much. Never in all baseball history has a hurler received even close to that sum.

Most observers believe the Dean news, Want-Ads Get Results.

CLEAN-UP

Jim Ripple, New York Giants' outfielder, comes clean in this picture as the water ripples down over his manly bosom. He's just had a stiff workout under the hot Havana sun at the Giants' training camp and he's getting rid of some of the grime of his labors to prove he should be the team's clean-up man.

thing will be ironed out in the week's wash, and that Dizzy and the Gas House gang bosses are doing it either (1) to hear themselves threaten each other, or (2) to get the headlines the squawk publicity naturally brings.

BOXING TOURNAMENT TO BE HELD IN WHEELER

WHEELER, March 18.—Boxing teams from McLean, A'lanreed, Moebette and Turkey will be in Wheeler tomorrow night for an invitation tournament in the high school gymnasium. The first fight will be at 7:45 o'clock with admission 15 and 25 cents.

Interest in high school boxing has been increasing rapidly and fan interest has also been on the upgrade. Larger crowds have witnessed all matches here this season.

Date of the open tournament to be staged in Wheeler has been advanced to April 9.

BARTLESVILLE OILERS LEAD DENVER MEET

OILERS ARE PUSHED TO SUBDUDE SLATON QUINTET

BY LOUDON KELLY.
DENVER, March 18 (AP)—Chances of a major surprise were virtually wiped out today as eight crack teams pounded into the quarter-final stretch of the National A. A. U. basketball tournament.

Bartlesville's powerful and polished Oilers, Missouri Valley A. A. U. league champion and chief favorite for the title, and all other well-backed clubs still are in there for tonight's battles—the pick of the 45 teams that started the marathon Sunday. All eight sidestepped upsets in yesterday's third round games.

Three of the eight clubs represent the Rocky Mountain section and two bear Californian allegiance, compared with one each from the east, midwest and southwest.

Seven quarterfinalists are seeded—only one is a college team—the colorful, long-shooting Long Island university outfit.

The collegians have the chance of recording the only out-and-out upset tonight—if they can beat the powerful Denver Safeways.

In the other games a victory either way hardly would be labeled a major overthrow.

The Kansas City Trails and the Denver K. C. Life, both Missouri Valley league representatives, meet in the second game. Hollywood's aggregation of Olympic stars will play the fast-moving Colorado Springs Antlers, and Bartlesville will tangle with Oakland Golden State in the final battle.

Bartlesville used all of its famed players, led by "Chipper Charley" Hyatt and Joe Fortenberry, and had them hustling hard to subdue the Slaton, Texas, Oilers, a clever passing team, 57 to 39.

Other results yesterday: Hollywood Stars 40, Denver American Beauty 32.

Kansas City Trails 65, Oklahoma City university 23.

Oakland Golden State 52, Penn Athletic Club 32.

Long Island university 43, New Mexico Normal 39.

Colorado Springs Antlers 74, Walla Walla, Wash., Mitchels 43.

Denver Safeway 64, Lincoln, Neb., Woodmen 31.

IRON SHIPMENTS HEAVY.
LAREDO, March 18 (AP)—Scrap iron shipments through Laredo continue heavy, despite reports of an embargo planned by the Association of American Railroads. The embargo, according to reports from Washington, would be against scrap iron movements destined for Europe. Sixteen carloads of scrap iron crossed into Mexico here Monday.

A DAY IN LIFE OF EDWARD IS DULL, LONELY

Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of two descriptions of a day in the life of the Duke of Windsor and Wallis Warfield Simpson...

ENZESFELD, Austria, March 18.—Edward of Windsor's life in voluntary exile is one of cheerful monotony, he has confided to friends—gull but pleasant enough.

Recent visitors to Enzesfeld Castle related they were startled by "an awful noise up stairs." Mounting the steps, they discovered the former British monarch leading a two man parade with an accordion from which came strains approximating a Viennese waltz.

An average day in the exiled duke's life is something like this: 9 a. m.—Rises, takes calisthenics, bathes.

9:45—Breakfasts. 10—Scans newspapers; dictates correspondence to his secretary.

11—Takes a brisk walk around the Rothschild's park.

12:30 p. m.—Lunch. 2 to 5 p. m.—Golf, if the weather permitting, or strolling in the Rax mountains.

10:30—Reading and writing, and sometimes experiments at a movable bar.

Bedtime is anytime from then on.

ing. That involves the highway department, and Pampa is praying for relief to that department.

Official counts have shown an average of 14,027 vehicles in a 14-hour period, of which 487 are heavy duty trucks.

Fire trucks have been delayed at the railroad crossing and property has been destroyed. Accidents have occurred as a result.

Pampa has every reason to ask for the full fledged cooperation of everyone in its campaign for this underpass. Let's everybody help if we can help.

The Social Security office at Pampa has registered 5,964 employee account numbers and of this number only five had to sign their names with a mark or cross.

Among them is Tom Braly, who studied law but decided to enter the newspaper field. His record as circulation manager of the Pampa paper indicates he made the right decision.

Garnett Reeves, B. C. D. manager is busy working out publicity details for the proposed Borger-Pampa paved roads. He has fully justified the fine reputation he brought from Lubbock, say Pampa business men.

C. H. Walker promised the staff at Pampa when he became postmaster that he would do no work that he could get them to do. By unanimous vote they declare he has made good his promise.

Judge Ivy Duncan and his family are kinfolks of Congressman Fred Crawford of Michigan, and Fred Crawford is an old Panhandle boy, formerly living at Plemmons.

C. L. Stine, the city manager of Pampa, is among those engineers who are strong for terracing and soil contour work on the watershed above Panhandle lakes.

A most unusual sign in Pampa on a neat and tidy two-story building is "House of Love." It is the home of a church.

Teaser ads by a furniture company on a forthcoming "sit-down strike" created so much confusion and nervousness yesterday the company is hastening today to explain to the public that it has a big sale on and was just kidding about the "sit-down" idea.

SANTA FE VISITORS E. Kancher, division freight and passenger agent, and Richard Roberts, traveling freight and passenger agent, both of the Santa Fe railroad office at Amarillo, and Hank Smith, traveling freight and passenger agent for the Missouri-Pacific, out of Fort Worth, were Pampa visitors yesterday.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, March 18. (AP)—Selling waves knocked down leading stocks 1 to 4 more points in today's market, although automatic support restored some losses in many instances.

Wall Street's nerves apparently were jangled by spreading strikes throughout the country, leader inflationary warnings from the national capital and the belief of some analysts that prices have outstripped potential earnings in a number of cases.

Activity occasionally put the ticker tape behind, but there were some intervals. Transfers were around 2,300,000 shares.

J. S. WYNNE TO BE INTERVIEWED AT KPND TODAY

An interesting new feature on KPND's Thursday afternoon program is the 15-minute interview with local persons who have lived here over a long enough period of time to watch Pampa grow from a cattle country, to wheat farming county—then into the wealthy oil and gas area it has become.

C. P. Buckler, of the White Deer Land & Investment Co. gave an intensely interesting interview last week.

Mr. Buckler came to Pampa from London, England, when he was 19 years of age. At that time Pampa consisted of three or four residences, a general store and a freight car which was used for a depot.

One of the most difficult things for him to get accustomed to was the American barber shop where anyone passing in the street can watch the barber working on a customer.

Buckler said in England they are accustomed to as much privacy in the barber shop as in the bath at home.

Today at 5 p. m., "Uncle" Jess Wynne will be interviewed.

ject to some measure of political control," Burke asked.

"Since they are a part of the government, I can't think of them as not being subject to political control," the dean replied.

"Do you think that system is correct?"

"Asked by Burke how far he felt it was "safe and proper" to exercise that control, Green said it was reasonable for the Senate to take whatever measure was necessary to provide a fair court."

"How can you have political control and at the same time a wholly independent judiciary," Burke asked.

"They are thoroughly compatible," the witness replied, adding that, of course, Congress would not "every morning come down and reform the Supreme Court," but would only act "when a situation continues until the court has crystallized."

The Dean characterized this as "remote control" which he said Congress not only had a right but a duty to exercise to provide judges "more nearly sensitive to the day and the time."

The PEOPLES COLUMN

Pampa Daily News, Pampa, Texas. Gentlemen: I noticed in the Amarillo Daily News that Jesse Jones of Houston came out in support of the President's Supreme Court Plan.

I am fully in accord with Mr. Jones' theory on this subject. He spoke of the principal objection of this plan as coming from the lawyers of this country.

The lawyers, in my estimation, have ruled this country long enough. They, in my estimation, have caused the people of America to lose their respect for the courts more than any other set of men.

Yours very truly, L. C. MCCONNELL.

Nurse Speaks to Club on First Aid

By Mrs. W. W. Hughes SKELLETOWN, March 18.—Mrs. Nettie Kirchoff, county health nurse, spoke to Sunshine Home Demonstration club on First Aid, at a meeting with Mrs. Berry Barnes recently.

In a business meeting, plans were made for a covered dish luncheon April 6 at the home of Mrs. Richard Barnes, and for sponsoring the Flying Dutchman circus at the school auditorium April 30.

Mrs. L. Feigenson was elected vice-president to fill an office vacancy left when Mrs. E. Hatchell moved away.

Refreshments in green and white were served with Shamrocks as plate favors.

Girls Entertained

Mrs. P. H. Lamb entertained her daughter, Frances, with a lovely St. Patrick's Day party in her home at Skelly camp Friday evening. Several games were played with highest awards going to Alladeen Werth, Mary Elizabeth New and Dorothy Demoss.

A St. Patrick's day color scheme was carried out in the room decorations and in refreshments. Shamrocks filled with candy were given as plate favors.

MILLION QUIT JOBS IN PARIS

KILLING OF WORKERS IS PROTESTED BY FRENCH

PARIS, March 18 (AP)—One million workers of Paris paralyzed the capital today on a half day general strike protest against "Fascist Assassins" they charged were responsible for the killing of five workers in bloody street rioting.

All factories and most shops and offices were closed and all transportation halted by the warning of the angered workers of their power to enforce demands for destruction of "fascism" in France.

So complete was the immobilization the morning session of the chamber of deputies was postponed. A strong attack was expected against the government as a result of Tuesday's street battles in the suburb of Clichy.

The sidewalks were crowded with good-natured pedestrians, forced to walk by the transportation tie-up.

Complete calm marked the protest of the workers against organizations of their political enemies which they charged were responsible for the "massacre of Clichy," when armed police charged communist barricades.

The city assumed a holiday aspect as cheering throngs of strikers marched down the boulevards, singing the Internationale and greeting the swarms of people with their clenched fist salute.

Steel-helmeted mobile guards kept strictly out of sight in an effort to avoid precipitating any possible clash. They materialized, however, seemingly out of nowhere whenever the demonstration seemed to be getting out of hand.

One group of 100 strikers was dispersed when they took up a threatening attitude before a business house that had not closed.

The police were cheered by a quickly-assembling crowd of apparently well-to-do persons.

As the morning wore on there was some agitation along the boulevards and other central places, including North Station. These disturbances were dispersed quickly by police.

At the Bourse, workers demonstrated against the 10 o'clock market opening and several arrests were made.

Flint Shows How to Save Lives--Guide Kiddies' Play

Idle Buildings, Lots Available For Classes

Any other city in the nation may follow Flint's successful example in child welfare. Facilities are available, the plan has been outlined and tested. Read here what may be done.

By NEA Service.

FLINT, Mich., March 13.—Juvenile delinquency cut 60 per cent!

An effective barrier raised between death and children at play! Those are only the more striking of many good results obtained by the Flint plan of recreation. Scarcely two full years of its operation have been completed, and the definite results obtained have astonished even local backers of the plan, and drawn inquiries from many other cities.

Flint, recently in the lime-light of the center of auto labor disputes, is an automobile-industrial city of 160,000. Practically every family has an automobile, and in a shocking annual toll of auto victims there were always from four to ten children killed at play.

Juvenile delinquency was also a problem, and the courts handling such cases were busy all day with a flood of them.

Not a single child has been killed while playing in the streets since the recreation program was organized. Juvenile delinquency has been cut 60 per cent to a point where during last August only two such cases came before the probate court.

How was it all accomplished? Was the cost intolerable?

How could a city establish more than 1,000 playgrounds and 15 community centers?

Launch Community Move.

Interested individuals and organizations of Flint got together to see

His aim in life here is to score a hit with bow and arrow, but this boy learned many additional useful things at one of Flint's recreation centers.

gram expanded beyond even the hopes of its backers.

More than a million visits to the playgrounds were made by Flint children. Many special events, such as outdoor theater and WPA orchestra performances drew tens of thousands more.

A safety bicycle pageant at the end of the summer, promoted by the Flint Journal, had more than 1,000 decorated bicycles in line, while 25,000 people watched.

meetings, radio, child study, citizenship, English, story-telling, stamp clubs, airplane building, marionettes, singing and orchestras.

Thousands in Classes.

This winter, nearly 10,000 men, women, and children were enrolled in the work of the enlarged community centers. Some of the evening classes were divided into shifts, one from 6:30 to 8, and from 8 to 9:30, etc.

Every effort was made to provide the kind of programs and work that the individual community wishes. For instance, one wanted tap dancing instruction for children. The first night, 300 children turned out, the youngest four years old.

Flint being an industrial city, the facilities in machine shop, wood and metal working are especially

The many art of self-defense, as taught in one of the play centers, has many students. The group here is taking a brisk workout in shadow boxing.

Success of the summer program brought forth the idea: Why not in winter, too? There lay the school buildings, dark at night.

Utilize School Buildings. Charles Stewart Mott, a General Motors vice president and local philanthropist, went to the school board with a proposal. If they would make the school buildings available for winter recreational programs and activities, Mott would put up the money to conduct the program and provide trained leaders.

The board agreed. Five buildings the first winter, and 15 the second winter, were made available as community centers, where recreation and education joined hands to fight juvenile delinquency.

Local committees were formed to conduct each center, drawn from organizations such as Parent-Teacher groups in each area. They drew up programs for their respective centers, co-operating with the board of education.

Five nights a week the program went on: all phases of athletics, dramatics, handicraft training, art, music, game-room activities, dancing classes, sewing, knitting, club popular and important. The variety of the work offered may be gauged by the fact that this winter instruction for young sportsmen in flyrod and bait casting was asked for and provided, with expert fishermen as instructors.

These community center activities have the doubly beneficial result of keeping the young folks off the streets in the evenings, and of providing for them interests other than the dubious ones sometimes devised by young people when they start to run in "gangs."

When the city was virtually paralyzed during the recent auto strike, the recreational program was about the only thing that carried on in normal fashion. An emergency program was quickly drawn, to provide recreational facilities for the thousands who suddenly had nothing to do as a result of the strike.

Fashion For Infancy

An infant's garment which is a combination cover and morning robe is a time-saver for busy mothers. In summer fabrics as well as soft flannel, this is an escape-proof, wet-proof, bind-proof "anchor" that ends once and for all the nightly battle against peeping toes and Around-the-Crib-Cruises.

Baby, however, can move his arms and legs, even sit up, but he can't stand up when the garment is arranged for sleeping. The blanket-like skirt is a cover at night and a receiving blanket in the morning. The blouse slips on over the head and ties with ribbon bows at the shoulders.

This was so successful that an exhibit of handicraft work just concluding in a downtown auditorium consists of 80 per cent of work finished during the strike.

Flint has no doubt that the presence of these recreational facilities helped minimize disorders by giving thousands something better to do than roam the streets.

Scores of inquiries have come from other cities which have heard of the program and its success, and are considering similar plans to take children off the streets and give them a chance to develop abilities and interests.

Evidence of a race of giant warrior Indians which roamed the hills and plains of Texas nearly 1,000 years ago has been discovered by E. F. Fohl, archaeologist, in excavations at Cold Spring, Texas.

T. J. Ryan, Frankfort, Kas., mail carrier for 15 years, estimates he has walked 100,000 miles, or four times around the world, delivering mail.

The Tuscaloosa, Ala., police force reports that no University of Alabama student has been arrested for drinking in the past three years.

"Students just haven't been drinking," says Officer F. Robinson.

ARE YOU NERVOUS?

Most women at some period of their lives need a tonic like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Mrs. Lillie Robbins of 762 Linwood Ave., Hot Springs, Ark., said: "Any little effort made me feel tired and nervous, I felt miserable. I didn't relish my food and slept poorly at night. I used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as a tonic and I ate more, slept better, and had more strength." Buy of your druggist today.

what could be done. They concluded that there were certain facilities available which were not being used.

There were vacant lots and back yards which stood idle and unused. And the city school buildings, which stood idle summers and nights; in other words, the greater part of the time.

Pamphlets were printed outlining the plans, and distributed throughout the city. They asked for use of vacant lots and yards, for contributions of iron pipe, rope, lumber, and other salvage materials that could be used for playground equipment.

Neighbors clubbed together to find and furnish a play spot in the neighborhood to run on a cooperative basis.

Boy Scout and Girl Scout camps provided facilities for a week of training for young Safety Crusaders, who were taught to supervise and organize play, handicraft, games, story-telling, health and traffic safety.

These Safety Crusaders, sworn in and each given a card and badge of office, did yeoman service. They reported traffic hazards, got permission of owners for use of lots, laid out play-yards and equipment, took young children to and from the yards, and helped supervise operations.

Plan Goes Over—Big. Professional supervisors were provided for the 40 largest playgrounds, while other supervisors toured and kept in touch with the smaller yards where Boy Scouts, Safety Crusaders, parents, or members of socially minded organizations volunteered for service as directors.

It went over big the first summer. And in the summer of 1936, the pro-

PROFITS OUT OF WAR

A bill has been introduced into the Senate endorsed by the American Legion, known as the Legion's Universal Service Bill. It proposes to prevent prices from being higher than they were at the time war was declared.

The Legion recognizes the almost immeasurable damage done to society by inflation and they believe it is necessary to control prices in order to prevent inflation.

If prices are eliminated, regimentation of course will be necessary to determine who gets the product, if there is a shortage; or who gets the help, or the job if there is a shortage. The purpose of eliminating inflation is absolutely fundamental as inflation probably causes, in the long run, much greater financial loss and misery (death excepted), than the war.

The Legion is also of the opinion that this to prevent prices from rising higher than they were at the time war was declared.

It is undoubtedly the strong desire of the Legion to adopt any plan that will promote honorable peace which causes them to advocate this bill. They certainly are to be commended for their motive.

The Legion is right in its contention that the expense of war should be paid while the war is going on; that taxes should be high enough so that credit inflation does not raise the price level. The great problem is to get the public to consent to pay enough taxes to pay the bills of the government as they go along. It seems now to be difficult to do it, even in peace times.

The three St. Louis wives who shot their husbands are going to be sorry when carpet-beating time comes around.

Those auto union leaders, under surveillance by Pinkerton men, evidently passed up a pretty good theme song—"Me and My Shadow."

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON—The first three days of attack and counter-attack before the Senate Judiciary committee left administration generals convinced that the opposition will have to develop a more effective fire if the Roosevelt Supreme Court plan is to be defeated.

The Roosevelt case in all its strength, carefully prepared and pruned of its weak points by some of the keenest minds in government service, was laid down to the committee by Attorney-General Homer S. Cummings, Assistant Attorney-General Robert H. Jackson and Judge John Patrick Devaney, president of the National Lawyers Guild.

Weakness of opposing senators in cross-examination was commented upon by observers in all camps. Press gallery betting odds on the Roosevelt scheme went up. Veteran correspondents, who had seen hundreds of witnesses hounded and harassed by Senate committees, were surprised to find that leaders of the opposition seemed unprepared and unable to pierce the armor of the plan's advocates.

Prematurely, probably, strategists in charge of the Roosevelt court campaign were jubilant in anticipation of victory.

To all of which, the opposition grimly replies: "Just wait and see!" The mental agility of Cummings was the biggest surprise of the early hearings. Some of the attorney-general's own good friends, who had regarded him as an amiable and rather elderly gentleman, not quite fast enough for the give-and-take of such an occasion, were pleasantly astonished. Instead of being torn to pieces by Senators Borah, Burke, Van Nuys, King, Austin, O'Mahoney, Connally and Steiwer, the attorney-general registered as a nonchalant, confident, drawing Yankee who seemed to be master of the situation.

They started out to trip him up, but they just didn't seem to get anywhere. He ducked some questions, but so cleverly that no one pinned him down. He stuck to the position that he was only trying to make it possible for Congress to fulfill its function of legislating, and that he would be perfectly happy to live under the law as interpreted by Justices Brandeis, Cardozo and Stone. He was aided considerably by Austin of Vermont, whose face finally turned purple over his own mistakes, and from the comebacks from Cummings.

Jackson demonstrated, as he had on previous occasions, that he was one of the government's three or four most brilliant lawyers. The administration will stand or fall on points he made and sought to prove—that Congress is responsible for proper functioning of the Supreme Court; that the judiciary has usurped a veto power over federal legislation and is rapidly expanding its power; that the Supreme Court is impairing states' rights, and that the court had so impaired its own functioning, and prestige that only addition of new members can restore it to balance.

To O'Mahoney of Wyoming, who sought an amendment providing that only 6 to 3 votes could invalidate federal laws, he replied that the Roosevelt bill would leave judicial power exactly where it now is. To Burke of Nebraska, who asked if he would mind enlargement of the court sometime by conservatives, he replied that conservatives always sought to keep things in status quo; that the Supreme Court never initiated anything; that one branch of government was enough to stop things; that progress needed all three branches.

Devaney's big job was to try to smash the O'Mahoney amendment. In this attempt he pointed out that the devastating court decision against the A. A. A. had stood 8 to 3. He added that a requirement of a 7 to 2 vote for validation of a law would mean that a minority of three justices could preserve an act which violated civil or religious liberties; that our judicial system does not work in such a way as to permit the courts to segregate or isolate the constitutional issues in litigation brought before it.

Echoing Cummings and Jackson, Devaney said he preferred the judicial philosophy of Brandeis, Cardozo and Stone to that of those who share the views of the American Bar Association.

TEX'S TOPICS

Complaint has been received that this space has been a trifle too serious for a couple of days, discussing water conservation, Easter and such. . . . So, we turn today to a feathery subject which comes to mind after reading some of the ideas of a Metropolitan opera tenor as to just what qualities constitute a "perfect wife."

This, of course, should prove interesting to others as well as the young lady who some time ago informed this column that she had an ambition to become the perfect wife for the man she loves, if and when she finds that man. . . . The tenor's pipe dream of a "perfect wife" is one who doesn't wince when another woman kisses her husband, altho secretly she resents it deeply.

The opera star also has an idea that the perfect wife never uses force to prevent her husband from "stepping out," because if he has inclinations in that direction, he will step any way. . . . She also never belittles her husband—"to her, he's always 'tops' in the world." . . . This abstract picture of the perfect wife comes from the pen of Mario Chamlee, of the Met. . . . He listed three "main attributes or qualifications" of the "perfect wife" and then, warming up to the subject, named 18 or 20 desirable traits, among which are:

- 1. Understanding. She knows how to face problems and combat them. . . .
 - 2. Interest in her husband's work. . . .
 - 3. Faith in her husband's ability to accomplish things. . . .
 - 4. This all-important (?) question which brought about Chamlee's comment was raised in N. Y. supreme court last week when a Brooklyn school teacher took the stand in her $200,000 alienation of affections suit against "the other woman." She testified: "My lawyer husband told me I was a perfect wife, but that he didn't want a perfect wife. He wanted someone to drink and carouse with him." . . . About this, Chamlee, the tenor, says: "The perfect wife doesn't object to a very little harmless flirting any more than the perfect husband does. . . . Everyone is susceptible to little sly looks of an innocent nature and I think it's quite all right." . . . Incidentally, Chamlee has been happily married for 17 years to the former Ruth Miller, concert singer. . . . It's a match of the old-fashioned kind with neither party having "dates" on the side.
- Now, there you are. . . . We suspect that there is enough controversial material in the foregoing paragraphs to start a fairly good argument between husband and wife in the best of regulated families. . . . Let us know how you make out. . . . Further than that we'd rather not have anything more to do with it. . . . To change the subject: John McCarty, the Amarilloan, shoots left-handed golf. . . . That is, he did the last time he played the game in 1927. . . . And he never broke 100.
- A "sit-down strike" teaser ad in yesterday's NEWS caused some consternation around town. . . . But, it is all explained away in today's paper and everybody's happy again. . . . Judge and Mrs. W. R. Ewing will be among Pampans who attend Easter sunrise services atop the Wichita Mountains, near Lawton, Okla.
- Lee Waggoner insists that "I Heard" should study up on his canines, inasmuch as Waggoner says there is quite a bit of difference between a Great Dane and a St. Bernard. . . . In these days of sit-down strikes, one wonders what has become of the old-fashioned "walk out." . . . Chris Martin, the Kiwanis prexy, has a pip of a new after-dinner yarn. . . . Chuck and Bob, the Oklahoma rambling cowboys, are in town.

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY
Tag day for Pampa hospital was conducted in a drive to complete the building and furnish the city's first modern and adequate hospital.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY
C. B. Akers left for Lubbock to manage theaters after a transfer from a similar position here, and George Limerick arrived from Miami, Okla. to replace him.

Junior police, Boy Scouts, and wives of Kiwanians were guests at a Kiwanis club banquet attended by 125, Judge Newton P. Willis, toastmaster, announced that the club would sponsor an Easter egg hunt for all children in town.

"WELL, WELL—THIS IS LIKE OLD TIMES!"

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK — The mellifluous smells of New York are, if anything, far more numerous than its sounds. They hang in aromatic cascades above the skyscrapers and are wafted through windows and into cafes and drugstores so that they ascend the imagination as well as the nostrils, leaving unforgettable impressions.

Sometimes along the waterfront, if the moon is just right, and the day has not been too freighted with annoyances, you can whiff the white clipper seas that Masefield sings of, and you can smell the sky, too. It has that intangible cleanliness of bluing water you remember on wash days as a child.

Then again, if it is sultry and the night is still, the restless tossing of the big ships at anchor is quite capable of stirring up odors reminiscent of decaying vegetables and rotten eggs.

Chambers street is always a maelstrom of warring scents. This is because of its proximity to the vegetable belt, and so here one comes into a confused melange of odors given off by green cabbages, Bermuda onions, crates of tomatoes, hogheads of sauerkraut, turrets of beets, baskets of apples, peaches from South America, and the whole mountain of celery, corn, Irish potatoes and Georgia yams.

West street is approached and in the place come the scent of strange eastern stuffs—the acrid bite of spice, nutmeg, cinnamon, mace, cloves and mint. There is also a languorous, exotic bouquet of fresh parched coffee and the green steep of Ceylon tea.

Among New York's most satisfying smells, one that clings to everything it touches and permeates whole neighborhoods, is the whole-sale smell of fresh bread in the bakeries. Then there is the arid smell of merchandise in the department stores, the dry dusty odors of the civil court rooms, the turbid aromas of the barber shops, the polganant reek of leather and resin and sweat in the fight arenas.

Not to be forgotten is the sly, faint smell of fried bamboo shoots in the Chinese restaurants, the heavy musk of mosh in the breweries, the knife-like stab of antiseptic in the hospitals, the whole-roast odor of roasting chestnuts on the street corners, the sense-destroying and wholly indescribable smell of fish in the Fulton street markets.

There are, in addition, the cloyed sweetness of the floral warehouses, the smell of new leather in the luggage shops, the bite of burnt powder in the shooting galleries, the waves of fried smells which curl from restaurant doors in Sixth avenue.

These are the principal smells of New York. You might not notice them every day, when you live with them and are therefore immune to their influence. But take them away and you would be like a trout out of its favorite mountain stream. They're just those sorts of smells.

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD—They would have you believe, on the Metro lot, that Sam Wood's facial expression on the set are due to his efforts to show the Marx boys how. In other words, they tell you, he has become a fourth Marx brother.

This may be true, for the hard-working Wood likes to go through the motions with his actors. But privately I have a hunch, since boys will be boys and so will Marxes, that there is some more deeply rooted cause.

Wood had the good fortune—or hard luck—to make a hit of the last Marx film, "A Night at the Opera," and therefore was logical choice for their current essay, "A Day at the Races." With this vehicle he has lived, eaten and slept these many months, long before it hit the shooting stage, even before it went on the road for test performances in key cities.

Tense At Work
Watch him on the set, and you see a man who works tensely. This scene, for instance, wherein Groucho has been coveting on the dance floor with blonde Esther Muir while long-suffering Margaret Dumont, the Groucho stooge, looks on indignantly. Wood goes in there to trip lightly, in Groucho style, through the steps. He orders a "take" finally, and while the camera turns he crouches beside the blonde, a football tackle ready to spring. He pushes back his hat, a moment later pulls it down again, then pushes it back once more and mops his brow with his handkerchief. He alternately scowls, smiles and grimaces. The smiles are there when the scene is done perfectly, and he relaxes then, becomes the genial Sam of the days when less strenuous films were his lot.

Except for a so-called "Showboat Chapel" on the Mississippi, the traveling chapels are said to be unique in the United States.

People You Know

By ARCHER FULLINGIM

You have heard the Old Timer boast: "This generation doesn't know anything about having a hard time. . . . Why, I used to get up at 5 o'clock in the morning, shell corn and feed the hogs, horses and cattle, milk a half-dozen cows and then ride a horse 10 miles to school. . . ."

Well, there are still boys like that—except they don't think they have a hard time, and they wouldn't approve of this spare mention of them. . . . Last night, John Henry Nelson who did more than his share to make Pampans always remember Thanksgiving, 1936, walked thru the front gate of his home 16 miles east of Pampa around 6 o'clock. Because they practice football every afternoon. . . . John Henry, Norman Cox, "Admiral" Dewey, first-league prospects have to hitch-hike it home. . . . Together, they walk to the signal light on South Cuyler and then separate. John Henry, heading for Laketon and James and Norman for Phillips camp. They ride to school in the morning in a school bus, but they have to rustle a ride home at night. But don't think they are complaining. It's fun, and besides they'd rather play football than ride home in the bus and not play. They've been hitch-hiking for the most part all year, but next Nov. 11 they'll quit hitch-hiking and help their mates take Amarillo for a nice bone-crushing ride! Wait and see!

How's Your Health?

THE CHILD'S POSTURE
The child's posture is influenced by numerous conditions. Among these are body type, body proportions, muscle tone, nutrition, fatigue, eye function, hearing and bodily disabilities.

Despite this however, the temptation appears to be irresistible to nag the child who has poor posture with injunction to draw back his shoulders, pull in his abdomen, lift his head, etc. Just as commonly the child is put through exercise drills and may even be loaded with shoulder braces and other mechanical contrivances. This attack is direct, but seldom effective.

Let us assume that the child's bad posture is due to fatigue. What such a child may need is more rest, rather than more exercise.

Even in this instance the fatigue may not be due to a lack of rest, but to some low-grade chronic infectious process, such as diseased tonsils, abscessed teeth or a sinus infection. In such condition, additional rest may help somewhat, but the chronic fatigue could not be relieved until the infectious process is cured.

A near-sighted child is likely to push his head forward and thus throw its posture out of normal relation. A malnourished child, one that is anemic of suffering from rickets, may have a poor muscle tone. Such a child literally lacks the strength with which to hold up his body.

If the child hears best in one ear, it is likely to turn its head to one side. Congenital defects involving the hip joints, and other orthopedic defects, are palpable causes of bad posture.

A child suffering from poor posture should be given a thorough physical examination. Its daily habits, hygiene and otherwise, should be scrutinized carefully.

Does the child read and study in proper light? Does it carry its books to and from school in one hand? Does it sit and work in a suitable chair and at a properly adjusted table or desk? Does it have enough physical exercise out of doors, or does it overdo?

When such a study of the child has been completed, it may be desirable to institute treatment by means of corrective exercises. These should be carefully prescribed and should be scrupulously administered. Haphazard exercises are worse than none.

Most of all, one should be on guard against stigmatizing the child with its bad posture, and nagging it to stand erect.

"MISFORTUNE PAYS PROFITS"
OMAH, Wash. (AP)—When Crumbacher lake began to dry up, Phil L. Parr was downhearted. Then, as the waters gradually revealed an unusual lime formation, he grew curious. Now he's delighted. The deposit is proved to be marl, valuable as a fertilizer for over-acid soils, and Parr has leased the tract to a corporation at a good royalty.

tough, however, is not so much their offstage pranks as their proclivities for disappearing. From other sources you hear that Wood is a master at keeping the "boys" in line and on the mark. But Harpo still occasionally disappears, the unfathomable pixie, necessitating a canvass of all the telephones on the lot to discover at which he is planted in conference with his bookie.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

A reader can get the answer to any question of fact by writing The Pampa Daily News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C. Please enclose three (3) cents for reply.

Q. What lines of industry lead in newspaper advertising? N. W.
A. Among the 10 leading newspaper advertisers are three motor companies, four tobacco companies, two distillers, and a soap company.

Q. What is marijuana? L. H.
A. It is Indian hemp. There is a bill pending in Congress to make the sale or transportation of it or any of its products illegal.

Q. What was the first horse to win a Kentucky Derby? F. F.
A. Aristides won the first derby. It was run in May, 1875, and about 10,000 people saw the race. The purse was $3,100.

Q. Who is called the leader of the modern Russian school of music? J. W.
A. Peter Ilyitch Tchaikovsky (1840-93) is considered the leader of the modern Russian school of composition. He was one of the most original and powerful exponents of national spirit and color in music.

Q. I heard of a reputable nurse who was called in on a case where a man was afflicted with violent and continued vomiting. Shortly after she arrived the patient coughed up a live snake seven inches long. Would it be possible for a human being to live with a live snake in his stomach? Could a snake live inside a person? If so, what theory can be advanced for the presence of the snake in this man? N. H.
A. The Public Health Service says that there has been no authenticated case in which a true snake was ejected from a person's stomach. However, there have been cases in which roundworms of the length mentioned have been ejected; also similar cases in which the "snake" was a beef tapeworm. The roundworm is unsegmented and would be considered a snake by most unskilled observers. These worms are taken into the system as minute eggs in contaminated foods. The eggs hatch and develop in the digestive tract.

Q. Has Helen Hayes' daughter ever appeared on the stage? H. L. K.
A. Mary McArthur, the star's daughter, recently made her debut in a brief appearance in Victoria Regina.

This, That and Everything
By JESS KELLEY

Geography is confusing because of the fact that so many places have been given the same name. For example, if someone speaks of Cape Blanco, he might have reference to one of many places by that name. Even though he were talking about Africa, there would still be doubt as to which cape was meant. The most important cape by that name on the African coast is the one near the boundary between Rio de Oro and Mauritania sheltering Hervey Bay. This cape derives its name from the white sand in that vicinity. But Cape Blanco is the northernmost point of Africa and also gives name to another point on the coast of Morocco. Cape Blanco is the most western point of Oregon, is a prominent place on Majorca Island, point on coast of Peru well as other places.

When speaking of islands of the sea it is again necessary to be specific. Usually St. Helena refers to the one far off the African coast, in the Atlantic, but it may also designate an island off the coast of South Carolina. St. Paul Island may mean one of the Friesland Islands in the Bering sea or it may refer to an island by that name in the Indian Ocean; or still it might mean another island between Nova Scotia and Newfoundland. When we consider the vast number of capes and islands it is not surprising that we hear them called by such strange names as Roast Beef Islands, Plum-pudding Island, etc., and find the same name designating more than one place.

Q. What became of the San Antonio de Valero mission?
A. This mission, the building of which were mere thatched huts, was moved from a west to the east side of the river by Father Olivares at the end of 1718, and in 1724 the primitive buildings were destroyed by a hurricane. It was moved to a more convenient location in 1727 "about two gun-shots from the original site," where the Alamo now stands.

Q. Please tell something about the founding of San Antonio de Valero.
A. In 1691, the Teran Expedition found a Payava Indian rancheria called Yamaguana and Father Manu- zales erect an altar in a chapel of boughs, set up a cross and said mass. The mission was deserted in 1693 by all except Captain Joseph de Urrutia and three companions. The pueblo was named Agua de San Pedro (San Pedro Spring). In 1709, another expedition under Father Olivares and Espinosa explored the site and called it San Antonio de Padua. On Dec. 7, 1716, the mission San Antonio de Padua was officially recognized on request of Father Olivares at the site of rancheria Yamaguana and on May 1, 1718, was renamed San Antonio de Valero.

Q. When were traffic lights first used in Texas?
A. As early as 1750, Nacogdoches used lanterns suspended from poles to mark traffic intersections and barred left turns by horsemen and horse-drawn vehicles.

U. S. Almanac Still Going Strong

The new and enlarged edition of Uncle Sam's Almanac for 1937—64 pages with colored cover—is still going out in every mail.

Offered for the first time last year, Uncle Sam's Almanac proved one of the most popular publications ever to come from our Washington Information Bureau. It met with instant success. Five reprint editions were required. The demand seemed never ending.

This is a private publication, assembled mainly from governmental sources, and is conceded to be the best publication of its kind for a dime, ever offered in this country.

It is a new kind of book—no advertising, no propaganda, but a wealth of information useful to the whole family every day in the year. It has all the almanac and calendar material and a lot of new features. Send in your order now.

POPE PIUS CONDEMNS COMMUNISM IN BLAST

VATICAN CITY, March 18 (AP)—Pope Pius XI condemned communism as "the ruin of family and society" in a lengthy encyclical issued today.

The Holy Father, in a vigorous attack on the forces he has fought even throughout his recent illness, declared only the Catholic church could effectively oppose the disintegrating effect of communism.

He devoted several paragraphs to demonstrations how the Catholic religion in the family and the state was the best equipped agent to combat this "decay." The encyclical, entitled "Divini Redemptoris," accused communists of having played upon the susceptibility of the working classes with promise of alleviation of "many undeniable abuses." He urged priests throughout the world to stand in the front lines of the battle against communism and exhorted lukewarm Catholics everywhere to renew the active practice of their faith.

The pontiff pleaded with all Christians to prevent within their territories "the ravages of the anti-God campaign."

Local Resident's Sisters Describe War-Torn Spain

By Miss Helen Partridge

To have seen Spain in all its beauty, and then to have seen that beauty destroyed by the late revolution, is an experience long to be remembered by Miss Lois Beckett, now associated with the University of New Mexico, and her sister, Alice M. Beckett, who were together in Madrid, Estudios Historicos, studying Spanish when the city was bombarded. In an interview while she was visiting her sister, Mrs. C. E. Sturdevant of Phillips camp, recently, Miss Beckett related some of their experiences.

"Have you ever been near a war?" she asked. "I hope never to be again. It is a terrifying, yet a curious thing. I'd never been near a war before."

Miss Beckett and her sister left the United States June 27, 1936. They embarked at New York, docked at Cherbourg, France, thence went to Paris, Biarritz, France; San Sebastian and Burgos, Spain, and other interesting places. Their journey to Madrid was by train.

After they spent two weeks and a half in Spain, the Fascist leader, Sotelo, was assassinated. The army mutinied in Morocco, then civil war started with local fighting in Madrid.

School suspended because professors could not reach the university. Miss Beckett tells of her reaction to the first fighting:

"On Monday morning, July 20, the city of Madrid was awakened early by machine guns, cannonading and bombing. We saw the fires of eight burning buildings from the dormitory towers in one day.

"During the first hour of bombardment that Monday morning, it seemed that it could not last long, that very soon everything and all of us would be annihilated. We were too shaky to think much of what would become of us. Later in the day we became more resigned, feeling pretty helpless, and discounting rather generally the assurances of the Spanish servants that 'no pasaria nada a los Americanos'—Nothing will happen to Americans."

"Three days later things quieted somewhat and school was resumed. By this time however, only armed cars bristling with rifles and machine guns were seen on the street. On Sunday, August 19, we were stopped by soldiers at point of gun and had to identify ourselves. On the streets after that if one went out at night the communist salute had to be given every few steps.

"A few days later we (all Americans) were ordered into the American embassy for protection. There we slept on mattresses on the floor except a few aged and infirm who were given separate rooms. The men slept on bed springs in the garages. After that, the American government officials learned conditions would be getting no better and that the Spanish government could not guarantee safe evacuation of foreign nationals, thus we were advised to take our own risk and flee to Valencia where the U. S. S. Quincy, man-of-war, waited to take us away from Spain.

"Each train that went to Valencia was reported to be the last one to make it safely through. To Valencia was the only route out now.

"When we arrived in Valencia, after a harassing trip, we found the city closed up, most of the shops looted of their stock, the streets barricaded, and the cathedrals demolished.

"Out of the harbor waited the U. S. S. Quincy. We were taken aboard. Two days later we were put ashore at Marseilles. France, went to Lyons, Paris, LeHavre, and New York.

"The Spaniards did not mistrust us. One who has seen Spain is sick at the thought of the destruction of a county so filled with treasures, yet it is the people, really, of Spain who give it its charm. They were polite even during war, but it was in time of war; naturally no one was safe.

"The American government and navy were extremely good to us. We were gone 59 days."

"The trip was not Miss Beckett's first abroad.

"In 1933, my sister and I visited relatives in Ireland and England," she said. "While there we learned much of the home life of these two countries. We visited many parts of Ireland and Scotland, seeing Loch Lomond and the Trossachs, the Robinson scenes and Shakespeare county, with two weeks in London and a week in Paris."

Why Laxatives Fail In Stubborn Constipation

Twelve to 24 hours is too long to wait when relief from clogged bowels and constipation is needed, for then enormous quantities of bacteria accumulate, causing GAS, indigestion and many restless, sleepless nights.

If you want REAL, QUICK RELIEF, take a liquid compound such as Adierika. Adierika contains SEVEN cathartic and carminative ingredients that act on the stomach and BOTH bowels. Most "overnight" laxatives contain one ingredient that acts on the lower bowel only.

Adierika's DOUBLE ACTION gives your system a thorough cleansing, bringing out old poisonous waste matter that may have caused GAS pains, sour stomach, headaches and sleepless nights for months.

Adierika relieves stomach GAS at once and usually removes bowel congestion in less than two hours. No waiting for overnight results. This famous treatment has been recommended by many doctors and druggists for 35 years. Take Adierika one-half hour before breakfast or one hour before bedtime and in a short while you will feel marvelously refreshed.

THE FINANCIAL WHIRLIGIG

HUNCHES.

Despite the fact that the steel industry is active and companies are seeking lots of money there is another reason why tape readers bought the stock in the 90's. Those who make a study of the ticker tape's price actions are so experienced that they sense when a move is due in either direction. To them a short squeeze seems to be advertised on the tape. They assumed long positions to be on the play. Of course it goes without saying that their hunch was correct.

Now your correspondent learns that tape readers have another hunch. They note that copper shares are meeting with short selling on all rallies. They also note that the buying is better than the selling. This is particularly evident in Kennecott Copper and Anaconda Copper. Tape readers are buying these shares on all price dips. Of course it's too early to say whether these boys will again be successful. In any event it is certain that the new buying is not of investment character.

EXPANDING.

Ex-Cell-O Aircraft & Tool insiders confidentially disclose some interesting facts. It is expected that within the not distant future the company will announce that it has 28 of its silk container machines in operation in dairy plants in Detroit, New Jersey, Chicago and New York. It was also disclosed that for the first time since it started the company's Diesel division is operating in the black. The informants are of the opinion that royalties from the milk container machines and profits from the Diesel division will add $1 a share net this year to that shown for 1936.

OILS.

Inflation rules in all trading markets. This goes for securities as well as commodities. Of course all commodities are in demand. The problem is what shares are in the inflation category. At the moment professional traders are concentrating on the oils.

The oils are popular not only because the industry is in a favorable position but also because it is about to enter its large selling season which runs through the summer months. Those meeting with the best kind of buying are Standard Oil of New Jersey, Standard Oil of California, Standard Oil of Indiana and Texas Corporation. They are distributors as well as producers.

SOLED.

Last week's sudden price decline in the New York transit shares is regarded as a new mystery. Gossip was that the fall was due to estate selling. That was denied by the Charles Hayden estate executives. The estate should not own any traction shares.

But there's a reason for the decline. Several bills are now pending before the New York state legislature. One calls for the use of safety ests—that this kind of buying is purely speculative.

HER NAME IN LIGHTS

Chapter XX Daphne said yes, she had certainly liked San Francisco and that she would like to have seen it when there was a Barbary Coast.

She told them the story about the midget who walked up and down all night in his berth. She admired the sketch someone showed her of the town hall at Marietta.

She did her best to be the kind of a guest she should have been at Anne's annual party for her advertising agency friends.

Anne closed the door softly at her back and they were alone for the first time.

"Lovely party, Anne. Mr. Todd told me that he wanted you to do their spring book," she powered her nose.

"Let 'em scream. Oh, I wish I'd had a chance to talk to you but you know how it is."

Anne stood at her back, looking into the same mirror. "What's the matter, Daphne? You look as though the devil himself had chased you across the country?"

"It was all my fault and Jennifer is so beautiful and I guess I'd better get a grip on myself. Why shouldn't he fall for her?"

Anne pulled Daphne down on the bed beside her. "I'll tell you why, you little fool; because Jennifer isn't worth your little finger and because she is a swell, what kind of a girl is she who'd do things like this to her own sister? She knows that you were in love with Larry. You ought to teach her a lesson for her own good."

For Jennifer's good, For Larry's good, Jennifer had everything. She had no reason not to believe that she could always take what she wanted, have everything she desired no matter who it hurt.

Not by one small sign did Daphne betray the thing that had happened to her when she heard his name on her sister's lips; the swift, hot pain that smote her and retreated slowly along an aching path of memory.

She picked up the threads where she had left them off and was astonished to see how few they were. She hadn't realized how completely Larry had filled her life, how many pleasant companions she had let go when she had found Larry.

"Yes," she said gaily, and thought how artificial she was going to become. "Do come on Sunday," she said. Oh, yes, please come on Sunday because on Sunday Jennifer may say she is going up to Brett Hall. "Larry came for me and drove me up last Sunday."

"Daph, I saw Gordon Herzberg today. He's got a marvelous new show. He took me to lunch and told me about. There's a part that calls for a girl who is more your type but I'm sure I could do it and I think he's interested. So, I didn't pay any attention to the call from the Brown offices. I'd rather stay with Gordon if I can. Heavens, is that 10 of 7? I've got to fly. I've got a date." Jennifer flew.

"That hurt, too. That new habit of saying, 'I've got a date.' Not saying where or with whom. Leaving her to guess that it would be with Larry. One night Daphne allowed herself to get 'weezy.' She saw again the tender gestures that were part of Larry. Only the girl who received them was Jennifer and not herself. In the midst of her misery the telephone rang.

"Is Miss Brett in?" It was Larry. "No," she said and put the receiver back on the hook.

Oh, Jennifer, it isn't fair! You've always had everything. The best dolls when we were little. My own toys when you yelled for them and even when you didn't. Money for school when I had to work for my livelihood. Money for good times while I tapped a typewriter all the time that I wanted to be an actress.

Be an actress. Be an actress Be an actress. Daphne sat up straight and thot about the thing that the phrase had put in her mind. The thing that would teach Jennifer. Resolutely she got up and stalked into her living room and sat down at her desk. Then she opened the telephone book and drew a pad and pencil toward her. She wrote: See matre Buy paper and envelopes at Tiffany

When Jennifer came in, about midnight, with no explanations, Daphne said to her, "What's Gordon Herzberg's home address, do you know?"

BUDDHISTS PRAY AND PAY AS YOUNG ABBOTT'S WEDDING NEARS

BY JAMES A. MILLS.
TOKYO (AP)—Millions of Buddhists of the influential "pure land" sect are concentrating their prayers on the approaching wedding of their democratic young abbot, Count Koko Otani.

An elaborate three-hour ceremony will unite the 27-year-old mechanically minded count and 18-year-old, poetry-writing Yoshiko Tokuda.

The rites, which will take place in Kyoto's great Nishi-Honganji temple on March 24, will be an exact replica of those repeated many times in the last six and a half centuries when the count's family has bequeathed without interruption the regalia of chief abbot upon the eldest son.

Palace a Present.
 Hundreds of thousand dollars will be spent before the affair is over. The count will distribute more than $425,000 among the poor while his followers have contributed more than $100,000 for a wedding present—a new palace.

Now being rushed to completion so it may be purified by the priests before the couple moves in, the palace will be severely simple in keeping with Nishi-Honganji faith. It is built of unpainted wood and white plaster in the classical Japanese style. Not one of its 40 rooms has a trace of western architecture or furniture.

Engine Fitter.
 There will be two modern touches, however—a tennis court and a garage.

Both the count and his bride-to-be are fond of playing tennis. The garage, commodious and intricately equipped, will house his several automobiles and give him a chance to tinker with auto engines—his favorite hobby.

He has driven his own car since he was 18. In fact, his intense interest in engines is now credited as one reason why he did not use his great influence to gain military exemption about a year ago. He served for a year as a military chauffeur and machine shop hand. At the time, Japanese newspapers attributed his act entirely to his known democratic nature.

Americans Coming.
 He is a fan for mountain climbing, skiing, golf and swimming. He was graduated from the Imperial university and plans to write a book on Chinese history.

His future bride displayed a flair for literary work at the peeres' school in Tokyo where she completed her education last year. Her talent is in the composition of the 17-syllable Japanese poem.

She is the daughter of Prince Tokuda and the granddaughter of one of the famous statesmen who helped overthrow the military lords more than 80 years ago.

About 20 American Buddhists are expected to join the pilgrimage to Kyoto for the wedding.

Texoma to Drill Gas Test Near White Deer Limits

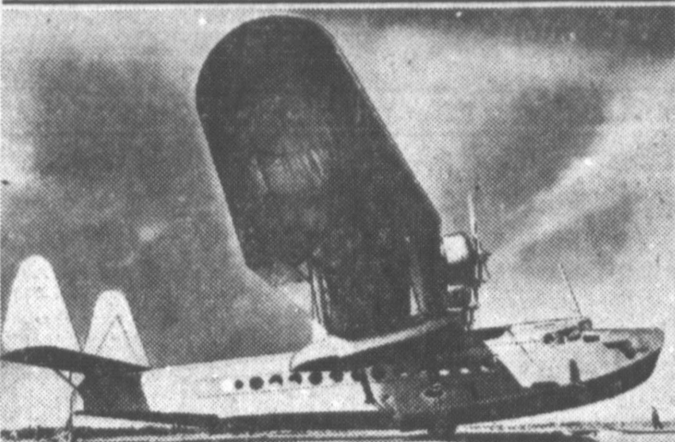

WHITE DEER, March 18—A test for gas will be drilled near the town of White Deer by the Texoma Natural Gas company.

A rig has been constructed and preparations for drilling are nearing completion for the test which will be known as the Texoma Natural Gas company's No. 1 Talley-Beard, located 1,322 feet from the south and 1,334 feet from the east lines of section 3 block 7, I&GN survey in Carson county.

Water for drilling will be furnished by the White Deer water works.

It is estimated that 6,000 workmen will be employed in the construction of the sister ship to the giant British liner Queen Mary. Approximately 40,000 tons of steel will be used.

Leviathan Trail Blazer's Route

Op a giant, four-motored Sikorsky like that shown above, the interior of which is an intricate maze of modern navigating and flying apparatus, Pan-American Airways' officials based their hopes of blazing a mail, passenger and freight route to New Zealand and Australia. The plane's speed is 163 miles an hour, its cruising radius 3500 miles. It carries automatic pilots, three compasses, wing "air brakes," two radios. Two walls and roof of the engineer's station are studded with 81 gauges and controls. The 7000-mile ocean route is shown on the map below.

PISTOL DAMAGE SUIT IS ORDERED RETRIEVED

AUSTIN, March 18 (AP)—The Supreme Court reversed itself today and agreed a damage suit from Abilene, growing out of collection of a check with a pistol, should be retried.

It affirmed the judgment of a court of civil appeals which had remanded the case of Grady Guffey against the Magnolia Petroleum Co. Previously it had rendered judgment for the company.

Court records said Guffey gave Bob Lawson, proprietor of a filling station, a check for about $6 in payment of services. Later Lawson detained Guffey at the station under threat of a six-shooter until the check was paid. Guffey sued the company, alleging false imprisonment, and recovered judgment.

The Supreme Court said the trial court erred in excluding Lawson's testimony he acted under instructions of the county attorney. It also said, however, that if it was shown Lawson acted within the scope of his employment then the company was liable for damage.

COURT RECORD
AUSTIN, March 18 (AP)—Supreme Court proceedings:
 Judgment of the trial court and Court of Civil Appeals affirmed in part, and reversed and rendered in part:

Farm & Home Savings & Loan Association of Missouri (R. E. Stevenson, receiver), vs. Mollie D. Abernathy et vir, Lubbock.

New Food Store To Be Opened

OTIS R. PUMPHREY
 Harris Food Stores will open store unit No. 6 at 306 S. Cuyler, in Pampa, tomorrow and the grand opening will extend through Saturday with a special program of entertainment on both days.

Otis R. Pumphrey, general manager of the concern's two Pampa stores, announced today that J. B. Morrow, who has been assistant manager of No. 3 store, opened here at Kingsmill and Somerville streets last Nov. 14, will be manager of the new Pampa store.

Lloyd Bennett will become assistant manager at No. 3 store. Lawrence West, of McLean, comes to Pampa to take charge of the meat department of the new store on S. Cuyler.

As special entertainment for the opening, Bob and Chuck, the Oklahoma Rambling Cowboys, formerly of KFKR, Oklahoma City, will entertain in both Harris stores on Friday and Saturday. At 10:15 a. m. each day the cowboys will broadcast over KFDN direct from the No. 3 store, Mr. Pumphrey stated.

The new Harris store on the south side is modern and up-to-the-minute in every detail carrying a full line of groceries and meats. The store is 5,500 square feet of floor space.

The Harris Food stores are owned and operated by J. H. Harris and sons, Odell and Willard, of Amarillo. Mr. Harris is the father of Mary McCormick, the opera star.

GROWTHS ARE REMOVED FROM BOY'S WINDPIPE

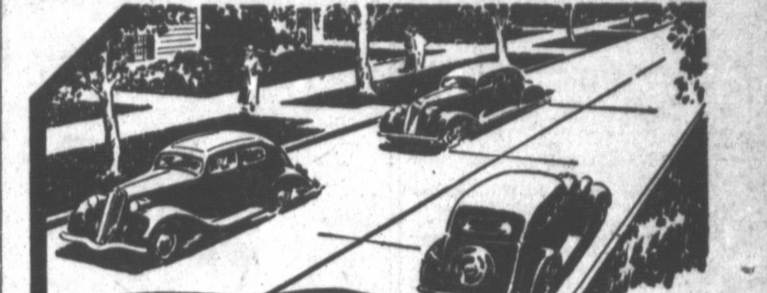

DENWORTH, March 18—In an unusual operation, two wart-like growths were removed from inside the windpipe of George Gatlin, 8-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt Gatlin, at an Amarillo hospital recently.

The growths, which impeded breathing, puzzled physicians until intensive examinations revealed the trouble. The boy was kept under an oxygen tent several days before the operation was performed. He is reported recovering nicely.

THE WHOLE NEIGHBORHOOD LOOKS BETTER SINCE WE PAVED WITH CONCRETE

"I WISH we had put concrete on our streets long ago. Aside from being the best to drive on, it keeps itself clean, looks better, and has made our neighborhood more desirable. Property values are up."

That's not half the story. Your own experience tells you that concrete helps you to drive safely; that it effectively checks skidding; that its light-grey surface helps you see at night.

And concrete saves you money because it is moderate in first cost, low in upkeep and long lasting.

Be guided by your experience and observation. When your streets come up for paving—insist on concrete.

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, March 19 (AP)—The legislature recently looked upon the peculiarity of a representative smiling because the Senate declined immediate passage of his bill.

The Representative was H. L. McKee of Port Arthur, whose bill requiring that a percentage of race track employees be five-year residents of Texas, passed by the House, was returned to a committee after hearing final approval in the upper chamber.

McKee was pleased at the recommendation because the Senate amended the bill to repeal the law legalizing wagering on horse racing. He opposed the repeal.

There were unconfirmed reports about the capital that one reason the Senate did the surprising act of sending the bill back to committee after engrossing it was that several Senators did not like Gov. Allred's forceful support of the measure.

When the amendment was offered the governor sat on the floor and sent up a special message, hastily written, submitting the subject of track regulation in an effort to overcome a point of order.

A week later when the bill was up for final passage Gov. Allred again had a seat on the floor and pointed references to his presence were made. One Senator urged members not to be influenced in their voting by it.

After the Senate had made its about-face, the governor lost no time in re-stating his views.

He said publicly he would continue to fight "for a clear-cut vote and repeal of the race track gambling law," urging an immediate hearing.

The governor has appeared in the legislature at several critical points in proceedings. At a special session last fall he sat on the speakers' rostrum while the House voted to delimit the old age assistance law, which he favored.

At this session he opposed in a speech before a House committee a bill which would have abolished the state liquor control board. The committee killed the measure. He also spoke for a constitutional amendment to classify property for taxation purposes, which the committee reported favorably.

He personally delivered a message urging the House to reject a resolution to stop revenue-raising until a pension liberalization bill had been passed and signed by him. This the House did.

The story is told that Senator Frank Rawlings of Fort Worth, anti-repeal leader, was warned to watch for the move to attach a repeal amendment to the track employees bill, but expressed confidence he could turn it aside on a point of order.

He was quoted as saying such an amendment would "not be germane" to the purpose of the bill. The constitution forbids changing the purpose of a bill by amendment.

"That," the Senator who was reported to have delivered the warning replied, "will depend on who is sitting in the chair."

So it developed. Senator Grady Woodruff, of Decatur, temporarily presiding when the issue arose, held the amendment germane.

BELIEVE DISEASE TOOK SHEEP ON PIKE'S PEAK

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Disease apparently has wiped out the band of mountain sheep that tourists occasionally saw on lofty Pike's Peak.

Clyde McReynolds, chief caretaker for the Colorado Springs water department, who makes frequent trips to the Pike's Peak region, said no trace of the sheep has been seen for months.

He believes they died of the hoof and mouth disease. The band was infested with the disease several years ago, and medicine was placed in salt in the hope it might cure the animals. The band was very wild and tourists caught only distant glimpses of it.

Leslie Howard says Luckies are "tops" with his throat

"Years ago, as an ambitious young actor, I was impressed how well my throat liked Luckies and how well they suited my idea of a perfect cigarette. That impression still stands. In my recent tour of 'Hamlet', with its many performances each week and the attendant tax on my throat, I have been convinced anew that this light smoke is both delightful to my taste and the 'top' cigarette for an actor's throat."

Leslie Howard

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Mr. Howard verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on the throat.
