Move to Probe Board of Control and Highway Body Is Tabled

INVESTIGATION OF LAND DEALS MAY BE DOUBLE

Joint Plan Is Offered and Vote to Be Monday

WARM DEBATES TAKE PLACE

"Stacking" of West Texans Charged by Seguin Man

AUSTIN, Jan. 11. (P)—An amendment to extend the proposed investigation of the land office to include the board of control and the state highway commission was tabled in the senate today after it had been introduced by Julien C. Hyer of Fort Worth. Senator Hyer offered an amendment to the concurrent resolution presented by Joe M. Moore of Greenville, and also signed by A. J. Wirtz of Seguin, asking an investigation of the land office to be conducted by a joint committee from both houses.

Vote on the Moore resolution was postponed until Monday after sharp debate between Senator Thomas B. Love of Dallas and Senator T. J. Holbrook of Galveston.

Members of the senate warmed up in the debate for the first time this term over what appeared on the surface to be an ordinary senatorial courtesy of making additions to the committee on mining, irrigation and drainage which will consider water rights legislation.

No sooner had the name of Senator W. D. MacFarlane of Graham been proposed by the chairman of the committee in a resolution than Senator A. J. Wirtz of Seguin countered by offering the names of Senator Gus Russek of Schulenburg and Senator Holbrook, charging that an effort was being made to "stack" the committee with West Texans.

Senator Love was on his feet immediately defending the right of the upper house to "stack" committees to carry out the will of the majority.

Bank Conditions Show Prosperity of This Community

Pampa's financial conditions were never better, according to statements issued by the First National and Gray County State banks. Deposits for 1928 reached a new high mark, when a total of $2,701,285.20 was placed on deposit in the two banks.

In 1927, deposits of the two banks amounted to $2,357,918.68, as compared with $2,175,585.90 for the previous year. "We have had but one better year," B. E. Finley, president of the First National bank, said this morning, "and that was in 1926 when oil activities opened up this county, and then there was only a few thousand dollars difference."

"The year just ended was our most successful," J. M. Dodson, vice-president of the Gray County State bank, said.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Wynne visited their daughter, Mrs. J. R. Crawford of Amarillo, yesterday.

—AND A SMILE

NEW YORK.—A well set-up gentleman was outside a hotel looking in vain for a taxi. He promised a truckman one buck for a ride to Madison Square Garden. On arrival the driver came to a sudden conclusion: "Gee, you're Jack Dempsey." And the truck careened on the sidewalk, having a narrow escape. The driver finally consented to accept a dollar bill when Jack signed it.

MT. CARMEL, Ill., Jan. 11. (P)—Within one hour after he had held up the First National bank at Allendale, Ill., 10 miles north of Mt. HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Jan. 11. School Principals of District Organize to Study Problems

Principals of the city ward schools, the junior high school, and the two rural schools in the Pampa Independent school district have formed an organization in which they will work on common problems and devise means of furthering the interests of the elementary schools. As a group the principals will serve as a program committee for the grade school division of the monthly institutes.

Earl W. Lewis, principal of the East ward school, was elected president of the committee. Miss Josephine Thomas of the West ward, is secretary and Mrs. Annie Daniels, principal of Lamar school, is treasurer. Other members are: Mrs. J. L. Lester, co-principal with Miss Thomas of the West ward; Royce Smith, principal of the junior high school; J. K. Burke, principal of Kingsmill; J. Aaron Meek, principal of Baker school, and Miss Ruby Speed, principal of Hoover school.

The next institute will be held January 26, Supt. R. C. Campbell has announced. The program for the high school division will be planned by the standing committee for that section, which is as follows: R. B. Fisher, Miss Bernice Whiteley, L. K. Maxcy, H. C. Platter, Miss VeLora Reed, Miss Fannie Florence Sims, and J. L. Lester.

Mrs. Wm. Fieldschmidt and Mrs. M. Zale of Wichita Falls returned home this morning, after a short visit here with their sister.

Executed

NEWTON BYRNES

HUNTSVILLE, Jan. 11. (P)—Floyd Newton Byrnes, 24, "hatchet murderer" of three women members of a family to which he was chauffeur, nonchalantly stepped into the state prison electric chair here early today, called out "Good-bye, tell my mother my last thought was of her" and eight minutes later was dead.

Bravado left him but once—when with quivering lips he kissed a crucifix.

Leaving his death cell, he said: "I have nothing against anybody and I hope nobody has anything against me." The door clanged; he added "Here goes the door. Good-bye, I'm in for the chair."

During yesterday, his last day, Byrnes, who confessed the murders, laughed, joked, smoked cigars and refused to see the prison chaplain. Later, however, he called for a Catholic priest and talked to him at length.

Young Myrna Juergens, her mother, Mrs. W. J. Juergens, and Myrna's grandmother, Mrs. Rosa Schirra, were the youth's victims. They were well-to-do San Angelo residents. In March, 1927, their bodies were found in the home by W. J. Juergens, head of the household, on his return from a week's business trip. The girl's body was impaled on a bedpost. All were murdered.

Byrnes said he was intoxicated when he killed the three.

RICKARD'S WILL MENTIONS MANY Leaves Widow $50,000 and His Personal Effects

NEW YORK, Jan. 11. (P)—The will of Tex Rickard, to be filed today by the New York Trust company, executor, does not reveal the exact valuation of the estate, which Jack Dempsey said would amount to "over a million."

The will provides bequests for Rickard's widow, daughter, mother-in-law, sisters, nieces and nephews and the income from $25,000 to Edith May Schultz, cousin of the first Mrs. Rickard.

It is dated March 13, 1928. To the widow, Mrs. Maxine Elliott Rickard, the promoter left $50,000, his real property in Florida and all his personal effects, automobiles, household goods, furniture, books, pictures and silverware.

After directing his executor to divide his stock holdings in the South American Land & Cattle company of Paraguay, into parts as near equal as possible, Mr. Rickard in his will provides that one of each such part be given to the following if they be alive: Olive J. Burke, Jessie H. Adams and Sylvian Hedman, his sisters; Merle Rickard, Ruby Rickard, and Maude M. Johnson, his nieces; William T. Jennings, Robert T. Jennings, George R. Jennings and Cyril M. Jennings, his nephews.

Friends Honor J. C. Noel at His Funeral Thursday

J. C. Noel, 75 years and 6 months old, was buried at Fairview cemetery yesterday afternoon following services at the First Methodist church conducted by the Rev. Tom W. Brabham. The auditorium of the church was filled with friends of the deceased who had been a resident of this city for 23 years. The altar of the church was banked with floral gifts from friends and relatives.

Service at the grave was in charge of the local Masonic order, of which Mr. Noel had been a charter member. He had been a Mason for more than 53 years.

Besides his wife he leaves three daughters, and five sons; also 33 grand children and eight great-grandchildren. Pallbearers were: Roger McConnell, Day Osborne, Tom W. Rose, A. C. Sallor, John Haggard, and W. C. Calhoun, all of Pampa.

Clyde Russell of Amarillo is a business visitor in Pampa today.

City Warrants Are Refunded by Investment Firm

The last of Pampa's outstanding city warrants, totaling $147,000, have been refunded into 5 1/2 per cent bonds by the Brown-Crummer company.

The saving of one-half of 1 per cent amounts to about $735 annually, or more than $14,000 over 20 years, the average retirement period. The Brown-Crummer company is assembling the warrants, which are of 1923, 1926, 1927 and 1928 issue, and buying them up for refunding.

The warrants represent expenditures for waterworks, water and sewer extensions, paving, fire equipment and street machinery.

Christian Church Reports Indicate Unusual Progress

Financial reports hitherto unequalled in the history of the First Christian church and accounts of exceptional progress in all lines of work were given by the building committee and the several organizations of the church and the church school at the annual business meeting of the congregation Wednesday night.

Looking forward to a year of even greater service and achievement in 1929, the congregation started plans for the erection of the auditorium which will adjoin the recently completed educational building, the latter being now paid for and the church entirely free of debt.

The election of the official board took place after the reports had been heard. Members of the board are as follows: Elders, Hugh Isbell, H. G. Lippold, Lee Ledrick, H. B. Lovett, C. W. Lawrence, C. W. Masters, Roy McMillen, Charles Stowell and C. L. Thomas; deacons, C. M. Bryson, I. E. Duncan, J. G. Gantz, H. W. Hickman, C. E. Hutchins, O. H. Ingram, R. E. Kinser, W. G. Kinser, Tom Lane, Joe Lewis, J. L. Lester, W. A. Taylor and W. F. Taylor.

TO BUILD RAILROAD

(P)—Construction of 10 miles of railway from Hamlin, in Jones county, into Stonewall county is authorized by the charter of the Hamlin and Northwestern Railway company, appraised yesterday. Capital stock is $10,000. The railway will be standard gauge and used exclusively for the transportation of freight.

PROHIBITION IS FARCE ASSERTS GEORGIA 'DRY'

Gets Approval for Bigger Enforcement Fund

INCREASE MAY BE 25 MILLIONS

Senate Wants to Know How Money Would Be Used

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11. (P)—An increase of $25,000,000 in the fund for prohibition enforcement was approved today by the senate appropriations committee.

The increased funds which would become available immediately to the prohibition bureau was voted on motion of Senator Harris, democrat of Georgia, who recently described enforcement as a "farce."

Since the prohibition law became effective 10 years ago, the government has been appropriating around $13,000,000, and if the proposed increase goes through the money to use in enforcement would be tripled.

The senate committee has asked the prohibition bureau for a statement showing how it would spend the proposed $25,000,000. Including the funds for the maintenance of the coast guard service, the total appropriation in connection with prohibition enforcement this year is about $15,000,000.

Senator Harris, who is a dry, attributed the "farcial" conditions in enforcement to the lack of appropriations rather than to the administration. He asked originally for $50,000,000.

Former Resident of Pampa Is Dead

Mrs. Nancy Brown of Bluefield, W. Va., who for 15 years was a resident of Pampa, died yesterday morning at her home, after an illness of but a few days. Funeral services will be held today and interment will be in Bluefield.

During her residence here, Mrs. Brown was active in the work of the Christian church. She has many friends here. Her husband, H. A. Brown, died in 1921, and her son, J. R. Brown, the following year. Both were buried here.

Mrs. Brown is survived by one daughter, Mrs. L. W. Kirby of Bluefield; a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Grace Brown of this city, and a grandson, Robert Brown, also of Pampa. At the time of her death, Mrs. Brown was 80 years of age. She died of pneumonia.

C. E. Haley Made Deputy Constable

C. E. Haley, for fourteen years a police officer in Los Angeles, and who has been a resident of Pampa for more than three years, has been appointed deputy constable of precinct 2, by the county commissioners. Mr. Haley will be assistant to Constable G. H. Parrish elected in the general election in November to replace J. W. Watson, who retired after serving two years.

Constable Parrish has been in Chickasha, Okla., where Mrs. Parrish is critically ill with pneumonia. While there, Constable Parrish became ill with influenza. He returned to Pampa this morning.

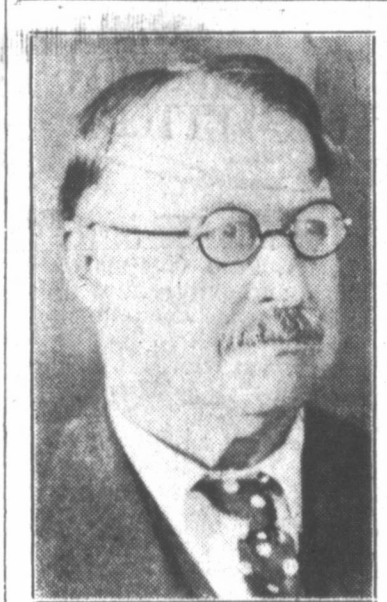

Wilbur Jackson of Dallas, factory representative of the Willis-Overland company in this territory, is among the business visitors in the city today.

Miss Pebble Casey will leave this afternoon, returning to Kidd-Key college at Sherman. An attack of influenza delayed her return to school after the Christmas holidays.

R. R. House of the Joyce ranch is seriously ill.

Morris Levine is a business visitor in Amarillo today.

Judge T. M. Wolfe, now justice of the peace at LeFors, well remembers when Pampa was a mere whistling post. It was Judge Wolfe who, as retiring county judge, broke the ground for the new Gray county courthouse.

It's Like This

THE GALLERY applauded Governor Dan Moody when the latter finished his lengthy message; the speaker urged support of the chief executive, and, generally speaking, conditions appear much more favorable to Moody than at any previous session.

If the prison system is revamped, the highway problem passed on to the people for some form of vote, the oil and gas lease controversy satisfactorily settled, the judiciary reformed, and land titles better protected, Moody will be able to point to a history-making session.

THE LECTURE method of college teaching has been attacked by Dr. Hamilton Holt of Rollins college, Florida. He says it glorifies and sets apart the professors from the students and severe that personal contact illustrated by the example of Johns Hopkins on one end of a log and a student on the other.

Right he is, in the main. The professor who enters the lecture room after the assistant has taken the roll and made the next day's assignment has the relationship of a visiting ambassador—unless by his zeal and personality he can vitalize his message. Students rarely have an opportunity to know him.

Somebody ought to knock the stiffness out of college life. But how can you do it under the present wholesale methods?

THE ROCKEFELLERS are still giving. Rockefeller, Sr. has given the Northern Baptist convention $2,000,000, and the son has given $250,000 with promise of that much more if the denomination's collections increase that figure over last year.

Philanthropy is less common in developing parts of the West, where capital is in great demand. But we need more individuals who can make fortunes and who have the public interest enough in mind to give much wisely.

It is to be hoped that some of the oil riches of the Panhandle will be returned to the section's betterment through philanthropy.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER LIMA, Peru (By mail)—Customs and culture may differ in the Americas, but human nature seems to be the same the world over.

When the Hoover party visited Lima the correspondents on the trip were treated to a large luncheon at the Zoological Gardens. It was typical of the luncheons served throughout Latin America and a most startling departure from the urban American custom of grabbing a sandwich and a malted milk at the nearest soda fountain.

Watermelon and Manhattan cocktails began the orgy, followed by conchitas, a species of shellfish called senioritas presumably because they're so hot. Then a fish chowder with floating baby lobsters, sweet potatoes and other material.

The human nature angle entered with some Peruvian dancer were introduced on the stage. The whoops grew louder as the skirts rose higher, Peruvian whoops and American whoops alike.

A good show like this one can be put on in Lima, but it is necessary to remember that Peru has an immense illiterate population. About 15 per cent of the Peruvians are white; nearly all the rest have Indian blood, 60 per cent Indian blood alone. Illiteracy is estimated at 80 per cent and no more than 5 per cent of the school age population is enrolled in government schools. Naturally, although the aristocracy contains many Peruvians of broad culture, this situation is an enormous handicap for Peru. Incidentally, it means that the vast majority of her population is made up of non-customers for American goods.

Ninety per cent of Peru's purchasing power is concentrated in the thickly populated coastal valleys, but even in the cities of this section are many thousands of the lowest class worker, whose incomes run between 40 and 60 cents a day. Before this economic restriction as with the Indians in the mountains, America's business enterprise and her efficient consular and commerce department service are powerless.

Most of Peru's sugar is produced by peons on a few large plantations. Cotton is similarly raised by peon labor, though there are thousands of small cotton farmers. Peru is so large and so climatically divided, however, that she has numerous other agricultural industries. Her wild rubber can only be shipped down the Amazon to the Atlantic from Iquitos. In temperate southern Peru the farmers go in for wool, cotton and hides.

THIS HAS HAPPENED

ASHTORETH ASHE, poor but beautiful (a stenographer from Boston), meets Death while cruising through the Caribbean.

Her roommate, MONA DE MUSSET, a beautiful and mysterious lady, dies following a hemorrhage. She has been very good to Ashtoresh and has given her many beautiful gifts. She has also protected her from the amorous advances of an Englishman named JACK SMYTHE, who writes books about the women he loves.

Ashtoresh learns that her lovely roommate was a rather notorious male bar entertainer in Paris. A few hours after Mona's beautiful body is taken ashore at Guadeloupe, the boat puts in at Dominica. Wandering alone about the streets, Ashtoresh sees a white man coming toward her and recognizes him as HOLLIS HART, her millionaire employer. They are both delighted, and exceedingly surprised.

They go to a little sea house for tea and Ashtoresh tells the exciting story of the voyage. Some passengers from the boat drop in and ignore her so pointedly that Ashtoresh is impelled to confess that they all leave her like the dirt beneath their feet.

"But why?" demands Mr. Hart in dumfounded astonishment.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXIV

ASHTORETH wrung her hands nervously.

"I'll tell you why!" she cried. "They just think they're too good for me—that's what they think!"

"But why?" he demanded. "And why do you care, my dear? They look like very dull people to me. Pious and all that. But a bit stupid. I should think, to your way of thinking."

"They are!" she cried. "That's just it. They're stupid as they can be."

"But what have you done to them?" he asked. "And what makes you think they don't like you?"

Ashtoresh controlled her voice with difficulty. They were only a few feet away.

"I haven't done a single thing," she said. "It was Mona. Poor darling Mona. I didn't tell you all about Mona, Mr. Hart. She was—well, I suppose you'd call her an adventuress. A music hall entertainer in Paris, and rather notorious. I'm afraid."

"But you see I didn't know that, and we were together all the time. Mona gave me lots of presents. Mr. Smythe said that was why I was so fond of her, but that isn't true. I'd have liked her just as much if she'd never given me a blessed thing. But, anyhow, we were together so much I suppose they thought I was like Mona, too. Anyhow they... well, what I'm trying to say is... they never so much as opened their mouths to either of us."

Mr. Hart smiled.

"I wouldn't worry too much about what other people say if I were you, Miss Ashe," he declared. "Particularly if they happen to be people you don't care about. Mona seems to have been a gay lady who died gallantly. These good souls have never lived gallantly, I am sure. I hardly think they're worth considering."

Ashtoresh sighed.

"Maybe you're right," she acknowledged. "Anyhow I hate them."

"Well, then let's talk of something else," he proposed. "I'd love to show you around a bit."

They stood up together, and he took her arm.

He looked very slim and tall and handsome in whites. Ashtoresh thought he looked as Julius Caesar might have looked if he had worn trousers and a hat. She had seen

"Sex appeal!" he exclaimed. "Well—maybe. I'm no authority on the subject. But downright feeble-mindedness, I'd call it."

"Oh, no," Ashtoresh informed him. "Sadie isn't feeble-minded. She's quite smart, really. Only it's not to your standards, Mr. Hart. That is, she doesn't know anything about conversation, or books—or news events, even. She hasn't any education, or culture, or background—or any of those things. But—you know, I should think you'd consider her rather smart—she took $11,000 away from you."

"Oh, you don't know," she exclaimed. "They've been so frigid!"

They strolled in silence for a while.

"You could never imagine how surprised I was to see you," she said finally. "Or glad," she added. "I thought you'd gone to South America. Sadie Morton told me so."

"That's where I started for," he explained. "I took a leisurely little coastwise vessel down through the islands, and meant to go on from Trinidad on one of the bigger boats. But I stopped off here at Dominica, and I don't seem to be able to get away. It is quite the loveliest place on earth—up in the mountains, I mean. Of course you don't see a thing down here in the village... By the way, how is Sadie Morton?"

Ashtoresh flushed.

"Oh, she's fine," she said. "She has some other girls living with her now, and she's still in the apartment."

"I told my attorney," he remarked carelessly, "to make whatever settlement she wanted. And then I thought I'd rather duck out for a while."

He smiled reminiscently.

"That little girl taught me a lesson," he admitted. "I'm going to be a very cautious fellow after this."

"Well—" Ashtoresh hardly knew what to say. "Sadie has such a lot of sex appeal," she finished lamely.

"That's absolutely perfect!" Ash cried. "The boat doesn't leave until midnight."

or five hours now, we can do it quite comfortably.

ASHTORETH had been thinking quietly. It was five o'clock now. The boat left at eight. There were two warning whistles—one an hour before sailing, and another a half hour before. She would miss the boat! That wretched, hateful boat, where everyone was so perfectly miserable to her. She would go with Mr. Hart to his little house on the mountain—and then—

"That's absolutely perfect!" she cried. "The boat doesn't leave until midnight. We'll have seven whole hours!"

They would be safely out of hearing, she reflected, before the warning whistles blew. Mr. Hart would never suspect. She could tell him there was some terrible mistake—that she was positively sure the purser said midnight. Oh, she could get out of it, all right. When they came down the mountain, the boat would have left!

"And what?" demanded that sobering little voice that plagues people call Conscience. "What will happen then?"

But Ashtoresh shut her ears to its tiresome questioning. She felt suddenly very gay and very young, and more adventurous than ever before. As if her soul had put away its make-believe wisdom—and all its silly little pretensions—and donned, by miracle, a jester's twinkling cap and fluttering skirts.

"I'm happy!" rejoiced her soul. "Oh, I'm so happy! And something just beautiful is going to happen!"

Mr. Hart was delighted. He called a little black boy, and spoke to him in patois.

"I've told him to get us a horse," he told Ashtoresh, "and have him ridden out to the foot of the mountain. Now we'll get a car, and I'll begin to show you the sights."

What becomes of Ashtoresh's mad impulse? Will she regret having deliberately missed the boat?

Boxing Is Facing Decline With No Leading Promoter

NEW YORK, Jan. 11. (P)—Bereft of its leader, a puzzled boxing industry looked at the world today and found nothing there to cheer about. Without Tex Rickard the market price for high-grade cauliflower threatens to decline.

At the start of the year the heavy-weight program for 1929 was rather clearly decided: The Stribling-Sharkey bout at Miami Beach February 27; a battle between two other leading contenders, probably Tom Heeney and Paulino Uscudun; a clash between the winners of these two matches, and a final round battle for the title between the ultimate survivor and Jack Dempsey.

But all that has been changed. There are indications that the Stribling-Sharkey bout will not be held, at least on its scheduled date, and that Dempsey will reconsider his decision to return to the ring.

At the same time it became rather plain Dempsey will not become head of the boxing end of the Garden's business.

Dempsey said he had not been offered that post nor any other by the Garden and that besides, he had too many other business interests to serve as an executive of the Garden. Even more pertinent to the subject perhaps was his remark:

"I don't kid myself that I could fill Tex's shoes even if they gave me the job."

The boxing world in general is inclined to believe that no one else will find that an easy task.

Los Angeles Open Draws the Elite

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 11. (P)—A select army of 130 took up their clubs today for championship play in the links classic of the west, the $10,000 Los Angeles open.

The first 18 holes of the 72-hole driver over the picturesque Riviera country club course near Santa Monica, was the day's program.

In defense of the crown strode MacDonald Smith, Bobby Cruickshank of Purchase, N. Y., who annexed the open honors and money two years back and Harry Cooper, of Buffalo, who romped off with the gold and glory of the first Los Angeles open in sensational fashion also were among the favorites.

HE THAT BUZZETH SHALL BE BUZZED OUT OF OFFICE

CHICAGO, Jan. 11. (P)—The reason Harry Stafford is no longer chief of police in Hinsdale, after three years at it, is that he pushed the buzzer too often.

The row of buzzer buttons on the chief's desk fascinated Stafford. He would press button No. 1, and a lieutenant would dash in. He would push No. 2 and a captain would come a running. By executing a glissando movement across the buttons he could produce the entire police force.

Complaint was made to the village board that the buzzer habit became so serious that the nine policemen were kept doing a jack-in-the-box much of the time. The village board buzzed last night and created a vacancy in the chief's chair.

Entire Field Is Against Sarazen

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 11. (P)—Whether Gene Sarazen makes it six in row in Miami territory loomed today as the burning question in the two day play for the Miami Beach open championship.

As 117 professionals and amateurs teed off this morning, it was clearly a case of "the field against Sarazen." Gene, whose adaptability to the "pitch and run" shots of Florida courses has fitted with his ability to put a long iron shot where it belongs, has won three Miami open trophies, and has had the championship in the Miami Beach open for two years.

Flu Epidemic in London Severe

LONDON, Jan. 11. (P)—Severe winter weather is being accompanied by gripe and influenza in Scotland, Germany and the Balkans.

Between 10 and 15 per cent of the city's police force, railway workers, and street car and motor bus employees were on the sick list.

MCLARNIN IS FIGHTING AT WELTER WEIGHT

NEW YORK, Jan. 11. (P)—Joe Glick, lightweight, from Williamsburg, battles Jimmy McLarnin in Madison Square Garden tonight.

The bout is at 138 pounds, for McLarnin no longer can make the lightweight limit and will campaign as a welterweight.

Canyon Eagles, Capable Athletic Foes of Harvesters, Coming Today For Pair of Basketball Encounters

The Canyon Eagles will drop in on Central today and attempt to take a couple of basketball games from the local quintet. But the Harvesters have hit their stride and it will take a real team to beat them.

The local boys will take the floor this afternoon at 4 o'clock smarting under a defeat handed them by the Eagles before the holidays. The second game will get under way at 7:30 o'clock.

Fresh from a 21-to-15 victory over Penhandle, the Harvesters are in the best of condition. Led by James and Capt. Troy Stalls in caging baskets, the boys will be hard to stop.

Coach Odus Mitchell, who arrived last night, announced that the Wheeler game scheduled for Saturday night had been postponed, and that he would take his locals to Canyon that evening to see the Buffaloes play Southwestern Teachers of Oklahoma.

The two Teachers' squads are among the best in the Southwest, and the Harvesters are expected to pick up some ideas as to how the game should be played.

GRANTLAND RICE TO MEET MANY GOLFERS

PALM BEACH, Fla., Jan. 11. (P)—Men who can paint and write and draw better than they can play golf will tee off January 20 in the annual artists and writers golf tournament opening the Palm Beach country club course.

Entry blanks indicate the largest field ever will be here to dispute with Grantland Rice, titleholder.

Others who have signed include Rex Beach, Rube Goldberg, Claire Briggs, Ring Lardner, Jefferson MacChamber, John Golden, Al Jolson, Charlie Williams, and John Lagatta.

President Says A. A. U. Is Guiding Body

CHICAGO, Jan. 11. (P)—The Amateur Athletic Union of the United States seeks to guide, not to control, amateur sports in this country, President Avery Brundage of Chicago explained today.

The statement was issued after a controversy with Northwestern university, which severed relationships with the A. A. U., when that organization disqualified several Northwestern swimmers from competing in a meet with the Chicago Athletic association Wednesday night.

The controversy threatens to cause a break between the A. A. U., and the Big Ten, one of the strongest athletic conferences in the United States.

Wait and See

These two young men—Larry Haar, above, and Hank Young, captain—are said by Coach Gus Tebell at North Carolina State to be the equal of any set of forwards in southern basketball. The Tebell squad expects to prove itself one of the best in the south this year mainly through the work of these two forwards.

Mrs. Ruth Johnson Taylor resumed her duties at the McKean & Connor hospital today, after being ill several days with influenza.

St. Louis Browns Are Menacing in Pre-Season Aspects

By REX NEWMAN, Associated Press Staff Writer.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 11. (P)—The same team that surprised baseball by finishing a strong third in the 1928 American league race will be virtually intact when the St. Louis Browns go into the 1929 campaign.

Manager Dan Howley not only has lost none of the first-string strength of last season, but has added what he considers to be some promising new material. He also believes the team will show improvement because of experience.

If he can develop a stronger pitching staff, and possibly do some shifting in the infield to strengthen the second base position, Howley feels confident the team will be a grave menace in the scramble for the flag.

The new flock of pitching prospects includes Warren Collins, veteran major leaguer, who is staging a comeback from Toronto; Herb Cobb, from Wichita Falls; Chad Kinsey, from Tulsa, and Oscar Estrada of Shreveport, blown in by the draft. Claude Jonnard comes up from Milwaukee for another trial in the big show. Howley has faith in the future of Dick Coffman, a youngster, and believes that George Blaeholder, Ed Strelecki and John Ogden should be more effective this year. He is counting on Sam Gray and Alvin Crowder, mainstays of last year's mound staff, for a large share of victories.

Rick Ferrell, sensational young catcher, whom Commissioner Landis declared a free agent recently, is regarded as a valuable addition to the Brownie ranks. He will aid the veteran Wally Schang and Clyde Manion.

Lu Blue, flashy first sacker, will be back at the initial bag, with Buck Stanton, from Wichita Falls, in reserve. Ovis Brannon is still available for second, but if Eddie Grimes can make good at third, it is regarded likely that Howley will send the veteran Frank O'Rourke to second. Another third base prospect is Leon Dondoro, a former football star. Red Kress, who started last season like a whirlwind, will be back at short.

Yankees Go Into "Chain" Business

NEW YORK, Jan. 11. (P)—The New York Yankees have fallen in line with the "chain store" baseball idea, extending their sphere of activity to include the Chambersburg, Pa., club of the Blue Ridge league.

The purchase of controlling interest in the club was announced yesterday. It is the Yankees' first venture into minor league ownership although Manager Miller Huggins long has advocated the system.

Moose Quintet Loses to Miami Five, 19 to 14

Pampa Moose basketballers took the short end of a 19-14 score in meeting the Miami town team last night.

About 150 persons saw the close encounter in the neighboring town.

Jameson, Sheehan, and Willard starred offensively for the locals, and Kelly, Cunningham, and Nelson for Miami.

The next Moose game will likely be at McLean next week.

Mrs. W. F. Causey of Houston is making an extended visit in the home of her niece, Mrs. Tom W. Brabham.

ly that Howley will send the veteran Frank O'Rourke to second. Another third base prospect is Leon Dondoro, a former football star. Red Kress, who started last season like a whirlwind, will be back at short.

Heinie Manush, runner-up to Goose Goslin for the league batting championship, will be at his old post in left field. Fred Schulte, Frank McGowan and Earl McNeely, of the old guard, will be back for the other garden jobs. Tom Jenkins, Wichita Falls slugger, also will make a bid for the outfield.

Al Smith May Declare Himself Head of Party

NEW YORK, Jan. 11. (AP)—The New York Times today said it was hinted in Democratic circles that Alfred E. Smith would declare himself the actual as well as the titular head of the Democratic party in a nation-wide radio speech next Wednesday evening.

The recent suggestion of Representative Box, of Texas, Democratic whip, that the Smith policies be regarded by the party was said to have caused friends of the former governor to expect a reply from him. The sentiment in the South for the displacement of John J. Raskob as national chairman also was regarded as a possible factor in inducing Mr. Smith to state his views to the people.

The former governor will speak over WEAF and a chain of 37 associated stations of the National Broadcasting company. His speech will begin at 8:30 p. m., eastern standard time.

Arrangements for the speech, were made, the Democratic national committee said, in response to thousands of requests.

New Formula Sargon Is Tonic Of Great Power

The instant and phenomenal success of Sargon is easily explained. Its effect is almost immediate. Thousands of half-sick rundown men and women who have taken it with the most astonishing and gratifying results, report that it seems to pick them right up and put them on their feet.

It is not only a powerful reconstructive tonic designed to impart tone and strength to the entire system, but it is a constitutional treatment as well and exerts a tremendous influence upon the processes of assimilation and elimination. It also contains other ingredients of recognized therapeutic value which are valuable for their influence upon the appetite and digestion.

Sargon is fulfilling its great mission. It is doing it in a new and revolutionary way. Sargon is accomplishing its results by helping Nature to correct the improper functioning of three all-important organs and fluids of the body it is designed to aid.

One of the basic ingredients in Sargon is designed to stimulate the liver to normal activity because, after years of medical research, it has been proven conclusively that seven out of every 10 people, past the age of 30, suffer from deficient bile flow caused by a sluggish liver. And unless the liver is performing its proper functions, the processes of digestion, assimilation and elimination become deranged, resulting in dyspepsia, gastro-intestinal disorders, auto-intoxication, constipation, hyperacidity and other distressing symptoms which are now so common in this modern age.

Another basic ingredient in Sargon is designed to build up the richness and vigor of the blood stream by increasing the amount of haemoglobin which the red blood corpuscles contain, and thus enable the blood to purify itself.

Still another principal ingredient in Sargon is designed to stimulate the all-important secretions of the endocrine glands, which form a network throughout the body and which science has learned govern our very outlook on life, making us either ambitious and alert or dull and depressed.

Sargon may be obtained in Pampa from Fatheree Drug Co., and in McLean from Erwin Drug Co. Copyright 1928 by G. F. Willis, Inc.—(Adv.)

WOMAN'S LIPS ARE "STOCK IN TRADE"

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 11. (AP)—A motion picture actress' lips are "stock in trade", a Los Angeles judge stated yesterday in awarding Thelma Coyman, of the movies, damages of $7,112 from Kenneth Sanderson because her upper lip was mangled in an automobile accident for which Sanderson was held responsible. Judge James H. Pope, who made the ruling, said: "In this day and age a woman's lips are her stock in trade especially if she is engaged in motion pictures."

Many See Hoover to Talk Politics

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11. (AP)—With belief in the inevitability of a special session of Congress soon after March 4 becoming more universal, a long list of congressional callers had been arranged for President-Elect Hoover today to acquaint him with the political and legislative outlook.

Difficulty of enacting suitable farm relief legislation and of revising the tariff act at the present session of Congress had already been emphasized to Mr. Hoover by a host of callers since his return from South America. No later than last night the two ranking members of the House ways and means committee had appealed to him for a special session as soon as possible after his inauguration for the purpose of amending the tariff schedules, with special reference to the ones affecting agriculture.

Suggestions for cabinet appointments also poured upon Mr. Hoover from a majority of his callers.

DINNER MENU

FRIED OYSTERS, FOR FOUR
1 1-2 pints large oysters, 2 eggs, 2 tablespoons cold water, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 3 cups rolled cracker or dried bread crumbs.

Carefully inspect the oysters by taking up in the fingers, and remove any shell particles. Beat the eggs in a bowl, add the water, salt and pepper. Sprinkle the crumbs on a paper or in a shallow dish or enameled pie pan. Place the oysters on a fork and roll in the crumbs and then dip in the egg mixture and again in the crumbs. Pat with the fingers so that the crumbs will stay on during the cooking.

The oysters may be fried in deep hot fat, until well browned or they may be browned in a small amount of fat on top of the stove in a frying pan. This latter method is called sauteing. Six tablespoons of lard, oil or substitute will be needed to saute the oysters. The fried oysters may be kept hot for 15 minutes in a moderate oven. Slices of lemon or a tart sauce should accompany them.

RELISH SAUCE
1-2 cup stiff mayonnaise, 1-4 cup finely chopped sweet pickles, 1-4 cup finely chopped pimiento stuffed olives, 2 tablespoons chopped parsley (this may be omitted), 2 tablespoons lemon juice.

Mix and chill the ingredients. Serve in a small dish.

APPLE PUDDING
2 cups sliced apples, 1 1-2 cups water, 2-3 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 1-2 cups flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons fat, 1-2 cup milk.

Mix the apples and water and cook over a moderate fire in a covered pan for 5 minutes, or until the apple are soft when tested with a fork. Add the sugar, cinnamon and butter. Mix well. Pour into a buttered baking dish. Mix the flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in the fat with a knife and add the milk. When a soft dough forms, pat it out in a floured paper or board and fit it over the apple mixture. Make 4 holes in the top and bake in a moderate oven for 25 minutes. Serve warm with cream. Hard or lemon sauce blends well with this pudding and may be served for variety.

ESSENTIALS FOR A "GOOD COOK"
Learn to plan well balanced meals. Cook vegetables and meats in several ways. Broil, braise and bake chops as well as fry them.
Learn to make a creamy, well seasoned white sauce, not a pasty, sticky mass full of lumps.
When serving mashed potatoes, have them free from lumps, well beaten and seasoned. They should be served hot, as soon as they are mashed and reheated.

International Sunday School Lesson

BY DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic: Sin.
Scripture Lesson: 1 John 1:5-2:6.
 1 John 1:5. And this is the message which we have heard from him and announce unto you, that God is light and sin in him is no darkness at all. 6. If we say that we have fellowship with him and walk in the darkness, we lie and do not know the truth: 7. But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus his Son cleanseth us from all sin. 8. If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. 9. If we confess our sins, he is faithful and righteous to forgive us our sins and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness. 10. If we say that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

1 John 2:1. My little children, these things write I unto you that ye may not sin. And if any man sin, we have an Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous: 2. And he is the propitiation for our sins; and not for ours only, but also for the whole world.

Time—John wrote his first Epistle probably near the close of his life; he died about A. D. 100.

Place—The Epistle was probably written at Ephesus, where John lived and preached for many years.

Golden Text—If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us. If we confess our sins, he is faithful and righteous to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.—1 John 1:8,9.

INTRODUCTION

"The Bible's first word is God—"It is the beginning God"—and its second sin," someone has remarked. That is, as soon as we are through with the story of God and his world, the creation, the very next chapter of Genesis, the third, tells us of man's first disobedience. The two forthcoming facts of the Old Testament are, indeed, God and sin; as Christ and salvation are the New Testament's two-fold keynote.

SIN

"The characteristic of New Testament teaching is its intense conception of sin as the one great evil in the world—as the central fact of life—around which all the powers of heaven, earth, and hell range themselves."—Geo. A. Barton.

"The Christian faith finds sin at the cause of the wrong relation between men and God and finds the root of sin in selfishness, a self-assertion of man in disregard of his true relationship to God and his fellows. It is the lower asserting itself against the higher, the narrower against the broader, the coarser against the finer."

Cleveland Boyd McAfee.
 "Sin is a clenched fist and a blow in the face of God."—Joseph Parker.

Genesis Story of Sin

The Bible's story of sin may be old but it is not old fashioned; it is very up-to-date. How clearly the sinfulness of today is reflected here in this primeval record! The devil is cunning whatever form he takes. All the more good that we should watch out. But is not practically all our wrong-doing, intelligent, deliberate? God had said "Ye shall not eat." They knew.

A denial of God's word enters in the tempter hints, "Ye shall not surely die," as God has said, "Don't believe him." The sinner deludes himself, "I'll set by with it, this time." One of the saddest items of the story is that we are forever helping one another sin and trying to shift the blame to the other's shoulders—as Eve Adam, and Adam Eve. The vision of the nakedness of sin, how we stand all guilty in God's only sight, is never long deferred; no sound of his accusing voice.

The Curse of Sin

The curse of sin rests on the whole of man in this world and the world to come, unless he is redeemed from by the grace of God. After man sinned, he slunk away from the presence of God in shame and fear (Gen. 3:8). "The account of the creation and fall would indicate that up to the time of man's sin he had free intercourse with his maker. Sin, with its attendant sense of shame and fear, always destroys one's fellowship with God. And if one sins until the sense of shame and guilt is gone, then his fellowship with God is all the more completely destroyed. This lack of fellowship with God is spiritual death.

"But there is a remedy for sin. It is a relief to turn from the black picture of sin and its curse to the redemption that God gives to his people. It is like coming out of a night of storm to a beautiful, calm morning in spring, or like the welcome light and fresh air after crawling through the darkness and smoke of a long railway tunnel.

As soon as the blighting hand of sin was laid on man, there appeared a promise of redemption. The seed of the woman should bruise the serpent's head (Gen. 3:15). The light of this coming redemption shone more and more brightly until the Saviour appeared, as recorded in the New Testament. By faith the Old Testament saints realized something of the power of this promised redemption and looked forward to its fuller manifestation.

In the fullness of time this Saviour came in the person of Jesus Christ. It is our glad privilege today to know him and to proclaim him to all men as he Saviour from sin and its curse."

"If we confess our sins." "Our confession is due chiefly to God himself, because he is most profoundly aggrieved by our offenses; but confession may be due also to those about us. Confession will clear our career from misinterpretation and assure the bystanders that we have sought cleansing rather than whitewash."—Rev. Thomas G. Selby. "If we confess our sins" means just taking the hateful things up one by one and showing them to God, saying: "I did this, and that, and that." I have observed so many times in dealing with my little son, that it is very easy to get a general confession from him that he has been doing that which is disobedient, but it is not easy to get him to tell just what he has been doing that is wrong."—Rev. C. I. Scofield, D. D.

"He is faithful and righteous to forgive us our sins." "He" refers to God, to whom our regular confession is to be made, confession before men being made as exceptional conditions may prompt and require. In forgiving our sins God is faithful, because he is keeping his promise, and yet, just and right because we are pleading the atonement for sin which satisfies infinite justice. "And to cleanse us from all unrighteousness." When God forgives us he does two vital things for us: he remits the punishment due to our sin and he cleanses us from the pollution caused by the sins. We are saved from the past, and we are introduced to a state of purity.

"We have an Advocate with the Father." The Greek word translated advocate means "called to" and signifies some one called to another in a trial to defend him, speak for him, and intercede on his behalf with the Judge. "Paradeite" is a transcription of the Greek letters. The Father, if he exercised only his sense of justice, must destroy us for our many sins; the Son continually intercedes with him for us pleading the sacrifice he has made on our behalf. "Jesus Christ the righteous." John knew Jesus well, and could testify that he was righteous. If he were not entirely righteous he could not plead with a righteous God on behalf of unrighteous men.

"And he is the propitiation for our sins." "When God forgives men, he releases them from the penalties of their sins; and the death of Christ is the ground on which he releases them."—R. W. Dale. "And not for ours only, but also for the whole world." "Nothing gives us such a wonderful impression of what Christ was to his immediate followers as that they actually saw in him as he died upon the cross a goodness that outweighed not only their sin but all sin, and could say that God was in Christ reconciling the world to himself."—Rev. James Denney, D. D.

"Christ pleads his death, and then we live, Be thou my Speaker, taintless Pleader, Unblotted Lawyer, true Proceeder! Thou giv'st salvation, even for aims, Not with a bribed lawyer's palms. This, then, is mine eternal plea, To Him that made heaven, earth and sea."—SIR WALTER RALEIGH.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY

IS IT A SQUARE DEAL?
 For you to neglect the church, when you would not live in a community without the church? If the church is the backbone of any community; the center of all our best life, thought and development; the greatest holder of private and public opinions; the best school for a character that will live through adversity; and the giver through its membership of more than 80 per cent. of all charity—is it a square deal for you to let others do all this for you—and carry your dead weight home?

AMUSEMENTS

GETTING LIV E GORILLA

Frank Norton and his own company will be on the stage at the Rex theatre at 8:30 o'clock to night playing "His Second Wife."

"Should a man of 55 marry a girl of 22?" This question is answered in the play in a very interesting manner.

"Domestic Meddler" is the feature on the screen to night. The picture is billed as a genuine domestic comedy, taking an unusual slant on married life.

The Norton players will be on the stage here tomorrow and will then go to Borger until Wednesday, when they will return here to give the first showing of "The Gorilla." A live gorilla has been obtained to be used in the play. Many thrilling moments in this play are promised by the manager of the company.

STOCKS ARE UPWARD

NEW YORK, Jan. 11. (AP)—Bullish price tendencies predominated at the opening of today's stock market. American steel foundries and Stewart-Warner established record high levels at 73 and 137, respectively, on opening sales. National Bellas Hess opened 3 5-8 points higher, and the first sale of Consolidated Gas was a block of 13,000 shares at 109-1/2, 1 up point. Initial gains of a point or so were recorded by General Motors (old), Johns Manville, Bethlehem steel and National Biscuit.

GRAIN IS ERRATIC

CHICAGO, Jan. 11. (AP)—Wheat and corn underwent early downturns in price today, wheat influenced by Liverpool quotations. Better weather for movement was a bear factor as to corn. Opening 3-8 to 1-1-8 off, Chicago wheat prices afterward held near to the initial range. Corn started 1-8 to 7-8 down and later showed but slight power to rally. Oats were easy. Provisions held about steady.

POWER MERGER SEEN

NEW YORK, Jan. 11. (AP)—State-wide grouping of eastern power systems, representing $2,000,000,000 in securities, was seen in financial circles today as the ultimate outcome of the formation of the United corporation by the Morgan interests. Announcement was made yesterday of the creation of the United corporation with a capital stock of $200,000,000 by J. P. Morgan and company, Drexel and company, and Bonright and company, Inc., to acquire minority holdings in the United Gas Improvement company, the Public Service corporation of New Jersey and the Mohawk-Hudson Power corporation.

Kellogg Pact Is Attacked by Reed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11. (AP)—Senator Reed of Missouri, famous as an irreconcilable opponent of the League of nations, today made his long awaited attack on the Kellogg treaty to renounce war as an instrument of national policy.

"What the nations of the world have not been able to accomplish in all time," Reed declared, "is now proposed to be done by the magic stroke of Mr. Kellogg's pen."

Elihu Root Sees Herbert Hoover

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11. (AP)—Elihu Root, of New York, secretary of state in the Roosevelt cabinet, had more than an hour's conference today with President-Elect Hoover.

It was understood Latin-American affairs entered into the conversation. While Mr. Root was secretary of State he made a trip to South America and delivered a number of speeches in that country.

Steamer Hits Reef Off Panama Canal

PANAMA, Jan. 11. (AP)—The steamship President Adams of the Dollar line, bound for San Francisco by way of the Panama Canal, struck a reef outside of the Cristobal breakwater today and went aground. At 9 a. m., three tugs began trying to pull her free.

Two Policemen Hurt While Killing Man

TOLEDO, Ohio, Jan. 11. (AP)—An unidentified man was killed and two policemen were wounded in a gun fight today which started after Mike Henison complained to police he had been forcefully ejected from his home by two men.

Two officers accompanied Henison to his home, and as they approached the house, one of the men tried to escape and an exchange of bullets followed. The man identified only as "Mike" died from five bullet wounds. Charley Dooly, one of the policemen, received a bullet below his heart, which may prove fatal, and the other officer, Ben Rabe, was wounded in the hand.

Four million new automobiles were purchased in 1928.

Los Angeles now has nightly sight-seeing trips by air.

Underwood Ill

Ex-Senator Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama, three times a contender for the Democratic presidential nomination, has been seriously ill at a Baltimore hospital. Underwood, one of President Wilson's chief Senate aides during the World War days, voluntarily retired from Congress a few years ago after 30 years' service. Above is a closeup. Below are two intimate snapshots.

Pistol Silencer Used by Slayer of Dallas Citizen

DALLAS, Jan. 11. (AP)—Shot by a man who attempted to commandeer his automobile last night, Ralph O. Sisson, 21, service car driver, was in a critical condition in a hospital here today.

A description of the bandit tallied with that of the man who fatally wounded William Mann, 17, high school student, in a similar struggle Sunday night.

Sisson was attacked after he had driven his passenger from the business district to East Dallas. The bandit struck Sisson over the head. Persons who witnessed the fight said they heard no shot, leading officers to believe the bandit's pistol was equipped with a silencer.

Commissioners at Bridge Location

County Judge Ivy E. Duncan and County Commissioners Lewis O. Cox, J. R. White, Thos. O. Kirby and M. M. Newman, are in LeFors today inspecting the new bridge across the Red river. The new bridge, 1,000 feet long, crosses the north fork two and a half miles southeast of LeFors and a mile east of the old Mel B. Davis crossing.

The bridge has just been completed and a jury of view is at work securing a right-of-way for a road to the bridge. The commissioners believe the bridge is not long enough and that an addition will have to be added or a fill-in constructed to join with the first abutment.

Marguerite Perkins, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Perkins, who suffered a severe attack of tonsillitis last week, is much improved.

Salvation Army Awaits Reply of General Booth

LONDON, Jan. 11. (AP)—Having recommended to General Bramwell Booth that he retire as commander-in-chief of the Salvation Army, the high council today awaited his reply.

Turbulent scenes were said by today's Daily Mail to have occurred in the high council chamber at Sunbury-On-Thames when the proposal for retiring the general was under discussion.

The commander had sent a letter to the council proposing that control of the affairs of the army should be put into the hands of a commission which would include Evangeline Booth, leader of the reform element.

The letter's sentimental appeal was understood to have touched most of those present. The council, however, was unable to agree to the plan and decided to offer the counter-proposal of retirement.

New Scarlet Fever Cases Are Reported

Three new cases of scarlet fever were reported in one family yesterday and an additional case of smallpox was also added to the several cases in the city. There have been very few new cases of contagious disease the last few weeks, which made physicians believe the slight epidemic was well under control.

"The new cases may be of a mild nature, but every precaution is being taken," Mrs. M. P. Downs, public welfare and school nurse, said this morning.
